Mr. Amstutz will tell about the insurance rates for teenagers and how they rise after an accident. He will also explain the procedures a driver should follow after an accident.

Safety Council members are asked to remind their homeroom teachers that recommendations for the Safe Driver Award are due February 15. They may be taken to Room 182 or placed in Miss Virginia Ayers' mailbox.

Office Corrects Error

Marcia Hughes, 10A, has been named to the honor roll for the first semester. Her name was not included in the list of names which appeared in the Times last week because of an omission by the general office.

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

QUICK CHICK

5213 DECATUR RD.

NOW... doubly CERTIFIED

In addition to its own emblem of excellence, every Gold Star Gas Range now bears the Good Housekeeping Guaranty Seal. This means you have double assurance that a Gold Star Gas Range is built to the highest standards of performance and modernity making it the finest cooking appliance on the market. BUY WITH CONFIDENCE—BUY A GOLD STAR GAS RANGE

The GAS Company
NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Archer Five To Host 'Flying' Tigers Tomorrow

Central Leads City Title Race, Boasts Speed, Jumping Ability

For the one hundred eighth time the Archers and the Central Tigers will battle at the Memorial Coliseum tomorrow at 8 p.m. Having won 55 of the series and 13 of the last 17, South does not seem in a position to improve this count. Due in main to Herb Banet's generosity, the last contest was a real thriller, with the Green finally dropping the match, 43-40.

However, this week, with the Bengals' chances for a City Series title hanging in the balance, Coach Banet is not likely to repeat this "Goodwill Willy" performance of three weeks ago.

Playing a terrific number of games in the City Series race, Central now boasts a fine 6-1 record with two games left to play. It is a cinch that Banet's Bengals wouldn't be jeopardizing their chances for the city title one week before the big game with Central Catholic by fooling around carelessly with South. Thus the Archers will probably receive as close to the same treatment they suffered in the first quarter of the last contest with the Blue.

Fresh from a terrific comeback victory of North Side last week in which Central unveiled their terrific potential by outpointing the 'Skins by 19 tallies in the second half to win by six, 69-63, Central will be up and ready for the South contest. Led by Senior Rod Haywood and Junior Archie Smith, the Tigers really roared in the second half.

THE JUMPING OF the front line was outstanding, reminiscent of the Attucks' game, and the ball stealing antics of Smith broke the morale of North's otherwise cocky Esterline. Central has now won nine of its last 11 games and sports a fair 10-6 record.

Behind 6-4 Haywood, the Bengals have been able to clear the boards reasonably well this season. Haywood excels as a fine defender and excellent scorer. Against North Side he tallied 19 points, shooting for a 500 percentage.

He, along with muscular 6-3 Junior Cletus Edmonds gave North Side fits off the boards. Haywood also "gave North the news" by scoring 11 of his 19 markers in the fourth period of that contest. Junior Edmonds, a sometimes erratic but all-ways dangerous competitor, scores well.

Edmonds' fine build also enables

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974 CARRY OUTS

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.

333 S. Clinton A-8411

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games:

ST. PAUL SAINTS vs. FORT WAYNE KOMETS Saturday, February 10 8:00 p.m.

INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS vs. FORT WAYNE KOMETS Tuesday, February 13 8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission Price to All High School Students 50c

Reserved Tickets from $1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

The 1961-62 high school basketball campaign is nearing its completion, and conference and city champions will be determined within the remaining two weeks of prep action. With the Sectional Tournament less than two weeks away, the teams throughout the state are readying themselves for the "big chase" which, at its completion, will name the state champion.

In the Summit City, the city title race is in the final stretch; but the '62 champion won't be named until February 16 when defending champ Central, who presently holds down the top position in the City Series, clashes against second-place Central Catholic, a team who has never won a city title on the hardwood.

The Tigers won their sixth city game in seven starts last Friday night when they staged a sensational comeback and turned the tables on a strong North Side five. Down by a 37-24 count at half-time, it appeared as if Central was in for its second City Series defeat and North was well on its way to taking over the city lead.

Herb Banet's Tigers are earning the reputation for having an unbeatable third quarter, having kept that reputation intact as they outscored North, who hit at a torrid first-half pace, 23-14, and went on to beat the hard-fighting Redskins with 22 points in the final period as compared to North's 12. Even though the Redskins are out of the city race, they have a lot to look forward to in the Sectional Tourney, which begins on February 21. From all indications, I would pick the Redskins along with the Tigers as definite tourney favorites.

C.C.'s 60-55 victory over the Trojans of Elmhurst enabled the Irish to move into the second position by themselves with a fine 5-1 series record.

This Friday evening South Side's Archers meet the Tigers for the 108th time. The Archers again can play the role of spoilers, but they will have to be playing well up to par; because the Tigers are just as strong as those Redskins from North. South will be attempting to climb out of the city cellar which they now share with Concordia. and this might be the incentive for an Archer victory. South lost a close battle to the Tigers in their first meeting by a 43-40 count.

Congratulations again to the Fort Wayne DeMolay basketball team for advancing to the state finals by ousting Muncie by a 68-56 score in the regional tourney at Peru. Al Sheldon and Dave Meek, both of South, led the local quintet.

Auburn's 91-89 victory over Bluffton was the big talk in the surrounding area as the Red Devils handed the Tigers their second big setback in eight days. Ken Robinson, ex-South Sider, also made a little noise with his record-shattering performance against Luers last week end. Robinson stripped the nets for 34 points and set a new gym record as he led his Angola squad past the Knights by an 87-73 score.

In the Boston A.A. meet last week three more world records fell. New Zealand's Peter Snell recorded his third world mark in eight days as he set the half-mile mark in 1:45.1 and bettered the previous 800-meter record of 1:45.7 with a terrific 1:44.3 clocking.

John Uelses broke the 16-foot barrier in the pole vault with a record-shattering mark of 16 feet, one-fourth inch. He hit the record at 16 feet, one-fourth inch but a passerby tipped the standard and the bar fell before the judges had a chance to re-measure the height, a must for world records. Gary Gubner, a 19-year-old boy from New York, broke Parry O'Brien's indoor shotput record of 63-1½ with a tremendous 63-10½ heave.

My predictions for this week's games are the following: Central vs. South: The Archers are hopeful of leaving the cellar in the City Series race, but the Tigers' all-around strength will prove too much for South.

Concordia vs. North: Concordia has been making a lot of noise lately, but the Redskins will have little trouble with the Cadets tomorrow evening.

C.C. vs. Hammond Morton: The Irish hope to glamorize their fine record, but the opponents should squeak out a victory.

Luers vs. Monroeville: Luers must defend its title as county champ, and Monroeville probably won't stop the Knights.

North vs. South Bend Central: The Redskins haven't been too successful in their conference, and the well-regarded Bearcats should notch a victory.

Elmhurst vs. Berne: Unless the Trojans play well up to par, Berne will find an easy victory.

Luers vs. Woodlan: The Knights ousted Woodlan from the County Tourney but will find their opponents harder to handle this time. Luers wins.

CUPP, Inc. Engineers and Contractors

For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge. Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day. FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS 5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Robert Lohman Plays Forward, Stars In Track

Nailing down one forward position on this year's Archer quintet is 6-1 Bob Lohman. His is not a new face to basketball fans; Bob has spent two seasons on the hardwood for the Archers.

Bob has participated not only in basketball but in football and track as well. On the football team, Bob occupied a starting end position. His speed made him one of the best pass receivers on the team. On defense Bob was hard to beat.

Bob Lohman

HIS GREAT SPEED is displayed in the spring as Bob takes to the track. As a sprinter he runs the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Bob's best time in the 100-yard dash is 10.4 as a sophomore.

Lohman has participated in all three sports since his freshman year. His previous experience stems from his participation at Harrison Hill in baseball, basketball, and track.

ACCORDING TO BOB, North Side looked a little weak at the start of the season but has improved steadily and looks like they'll be the team to beat in the city. Bob thought that ball handling was our greatest deficit, but with steady improvement and practice South might be a dark horse in the Sectionals again this year.

Bob's future plans include attending Duke University in preparation for a career in medicine. He is presently on the college prep course and a member of the Lettermen's Club. Last year Bob served as a sophomore class officer. During the summer months, Bob serves as a counselor at Camp Charlevoix.

Meterites To Sell Plates

License plates, selling for 79 cents, are on sale now until tournament time before and after school and during the fifth period in Rooms 104 and 116. The Meterite Club annually sponsors the sale of license plates to students. Faculty advisers for the sale of these license plates are Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, and Mrs. Florence Emswiler, English instructor and Meterite sponsor.

Boy Riflers To Exercise

The Boys' Rifle Club will meet on the range Monday at 3:30 p.m. For the past few meetings new members have been in exercise programs.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

COLONIAL Restaurant

E-2000

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR. H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

What you want

is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Varsity Harrier Squad Begins Practices For Coming Season

South Side's early track predictions look good for this coming season. The returning presence of some of last year's state competitors will add to the upcoming crop of underclassmen.

This year the team will undoubtedly be greatly aided with the return of speedster Karl Bandemer. Last year Karl did very well for the Kelly cause and holds a time of 9.9 seconds for the 100-yard dash. Most people feel Karl would have made a good showing in the 100 in state competition last year, but he was unable to run in the finals. Bob Lohman will be a boon to the squad as he will probably make a good showing in the dashes.

Rick Werling, who has been a sprinter the last two years, might be a 440-yard dash man this year; however, if his speed shows better improvement than in previous seasons, he will also be a great asset in the sprints. In the quarter mile Tom Shine as well as Tom Frazell is expected to be tough. Both of these boys should be running around a 50-second lap. Karl Schladerman will also be stalwart in the 440. Dale Hilsmer looked good during the latter part of last season and could prove valuable also. Karl Bandemer could also be run in this event.

IN THE HALF-MILE run, it looks Evert Mol has the top hand. Evert ran very well near the climax of last year's season. Evert has a very smooth easy pace that might very well place him near the top in this event. Stuart Schmitz is another of the top contenders for the lead spot in the 880. Stu, a junior, will be pushing Mol and, with this inter-competition, could come up on Mol.

The mile run will be a somewhat weaker point than it was in last year's team. The loss of miles, Al Rainbolt, who was the holder of one of the lowest times in the state last year, and Jim Porter, another fine runner, will certainly be felt.

A fine crop of underclassmen will probably fill these spots in preparation for future years. The mile will not, however, be a pushover for Archer opponents. Sophomore Ken Ellingwood looks like the best bet. Ken showed great endurance and running ability both in cross country and in the frosh mile.

Another up-and-coming young runner is Sophomore Steve Myers, who could also prove to be valuable.

Most of the Green's hopes in the hurdles look good as returnees take the limelight. Nate Norment, a very fast senior hurdler, will probably be South's biggest hope to fill state champion Carl Johnson's place on the cinders. Long-legged Jon van Oosten should take his share of races this season also. Mike Tomkinson and Dave Platz will round out the hurdle team, and they too should add points for Archer victories.

The field events should produce a stable plank, but the loss of sure-winners Jim Dawson and John Sommers will be felt. Sid Sheray will probably lead the shot putters with pushing from Don Sievert. Dave Pritchard, a senior newcomer, could also do some tricks for the Green.

JOHN WEAVER COULD come through with a number of victories in the pole vault. He looked very good toward the climax of last year's season. High jumpers Gary Probst, "The Kangaroo Kid," Tom McMahan, and Dale Hilsmer all have the makings of good jumpers.

The relays will be a composite make-up of most of the faster runners. Coach Robert Gernand will probably strive first for a tough mile team and second for a half-mile group.

It would be difficult to compare this year's team with the good record of last year. He also concluded that it is really too early to tell how the team will work, but that they have the nucleus for a strong team.

Mr. Gernand has more boys out for early practice than ever before and has to wait for early March for the rest of the team to be able to come out.

Hi-Y Installs Officers

New officers of Hi-Y for this semester were installed last Monday at a meeting in the youth assembly room of the YMCA. The officers installed were Tom McMahan, president; Karl Bandemer, vice-president; Terry Newendorp, secretary; Barton Bailey, treasurer; and Ken Davis, sergeant-at-arms. Bob Wasson has been appointed chaplain for this semester.

The officers of last semester installed the new officers. The next meeting of Hi-Y will be Monday at 7:30 p.m. Any junior or senior boy who wants to be a member should attend this meeting.

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica Custom-Built Cabinets

1013 Wells E-2565

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451

4133 New Haven Avenue

Fort Wayne, Indiana

NEW "JET FLAME"

FUEL OIL

It is pure

It is CLEAN

It's uncracked

It's more uniform

It causes less carbon

It is fresh

It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2360 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Marks CAMERA SHOPS Phone H-1197

Only a tombstone will say good things about a man when he's down.

3818 S. Calhoun

Phone: T-1141

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Feb. 14th VALENTINE'S DAY

VILLAGE BEAUTY SALON

4353 S. Anthony

H-1158

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVERS

120 W. Superior

E-0505

GREINER'S

2802 S. Calhoun

Marine Supplies

H-2124

DALE'S DRIVE-IN

U.S. 24 West at Covington Rd.

K-8451

D. O. McCOMB & SONS

1140 Lake Avenue at Tecumseh

A-2182

DOSWELL'S FLOWERS

301 West Main

A-1183

PLAZA APOTHECARY

3610 Brooklyn

H-2351

ROSS RADIO

236 West Main

A-2433

CUPP, Inc.

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

HALLMARK HOUSE

Southgate Plaza

K-1522

A young man whispered to his love,
And said please tell me
true,
Have you surveyed
the ads today
To see what's there
for you?

Babs Jones

DeREMÉR FLORISTS

7111 S. Anthony

H-3145

CLAUSER STANDARD SERVICE

1701 S. Anthony

A-0503

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Rd.

S-3146

TOM BERRY MUSIC CO.

213 West Wayne

E-1947

KLAHN FUNERAL HOME

420 West Wayne

A-0228

D. J. BRANDENBERGER, Inc.

4839 S. Lafayette

H-2245

Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home

2423 Fairfield

H-2334

THE BRIDAL SHOP

3707 S. Clinton Street

H-0477

"Where Your Beautiful Wedding Begins"

PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO.

1207 N. Harrison

A-7175

"Now It's Pepsi For Those Who Think Young!"

FLORENTINE FLORAL SHOPPE

1906 Broadway

A-7487

"Send Flowers Often, You'll Make Friends and Loved Ones Happy."

Thrifty People Patronize These Merchants

Archers Send Happy Valentine Day Greetings To Everyone

Happy Valentine's Day To Sherry and Liana.—From June.

Happy Hearts to Harrison.—From Harrod

Happy Valentine's Day to Patty and Joe.—the street lamp and a car load of passers-by.

Happy Valentine's Day to Jim, the most handsome boy in last year's fifth period class.

Happy Valentine's Day, Charlie.—"Holley" Cynthia, it's alright, "see." A very special Valentine wish to Doug.—Love, Cindy

Happy Valentine's Day to Gaynel and Jackie.—Marilyn Merry Christmas, everyone.

Happy Valentine's Day, D.S.—S.S.
Happy Valentine's Day to Tom and Jan.—Tom and Toni

Happy Valentine's Day Susie.—Dale

Happy Valentine's Day to the girl whose hair clashes with North Side's colors.

Happy Valentine's Day, Nancy.—Me

Valentines to Mr. Bussard.—From the crew in the ice box

Valentines to Mr. Gersmehl.—From your Period I "helpers."

Happy Valentine's Day to Mr. Bussard.—From Bill, Helene, and Terry.

Happy Valentine's Day to Patty.—From Nick '60 (WMU)

Happy Valentine's Day, everybody.—I have to make this add up to two dollars somehow. Rosie

Happy Valentine's Day to Lloyd Hardy.—Love, Mary

Happy Valentine's Day to Sharon from Nose

Happy Valentine's, Leslie.—Peg Lee

Happy Valentine's Day to Jane. May I talk to you some day before school?—Bill

Don't be mad because I can't afford to go to that sorority dance!—Rick

To my "Goodest Naber" on Valentine's Day, I send all my love from so far away.—Stevilee

Happy Valentine's Day, Dave.—S.L.S.

Love and kisses Dick W.—From Marcia E.

Love and kisses Dick W.—From Marcia E.

Love and kisses Dick W.—From Marcia E.

GO KOMETS!

Happy Valentine's Day, Dale Hils-mier.

Happy Valentine's Day, Dale Hills-mier.

Happy Valentine's Day, Dale Hills-mier.

Happy Valentine's Day, Dale Hills-mier.

Happy Valentine's Day, Dale Hills-mier.

Happy Valentine's Day, Dale Hills-mier.

Happy Valentine's Day to Uncle Dale.—Sue

Happy Valentine's Day, Al Purdy.—From someone who thinks you're just darling.

Happy Valentine's Day Kenny Leakey.

Happy Valentine's Day Kenny Leakey.

Happy Valentine's Day Kenny Leakey.

Happy Valentine's Day to Bob Hollo at C.C.—Cindy B.

Happy Valentine's Day, Homeroom 172.

Happy Valentine's Day, Janice Fairfield.

Happy Valentine's Day, Janice Fairfield.

GO KOMETS!

Organization, Nuh, Nuh, Nuh, Organization.—From Mr. Storey to Huntington High School.

Happy Valentine's Day to Clyde Clod.—From Clod "Roadbuster" Clyde

Happy Valentine's Day to Adolf's Karen.

True Love: Bob loves Diana.

Happy Valentine's Day, Ellen.—Jack

GO KOMETS!

Happy Valentine's Day to Skeets.—From his favorite student.

Happy Valentine's Day to my dear Soldier Boy.—Love, Sarah.

Happy Valentine's Day to my Jimmy Love.—His Bunny

Happy Valentine's Day to Turp-Stirr-and the boys.—Margie and Dianne

Happy hearts to my handsome Hank.—Love, Sally

Carloads of cupids to Carl.—Love Sandi

Happy Valentine's to the two at Luers I like best.—From Yo-Yo

Happy Valentine's Day, Fattest.—From Fatty

Happy Valentine's Day, Fattest.—From Fatty

Happy Valentine's Day, Fattest.—From Fatty

Happy Valentine's Day, Fattest.—From Fatty

Happy Valentine's Day, Fattest.—From Fatty

Happy Valentine's Day, Good-bye, Fatty

Happy Valentine's Day, Tripp.—Me

Happy Valentine's Day, Bettie and Buzz.—Me

Happy Valentine's Day, M.O.S.M. and Dad.—Love yo, Linda

Happy Valentine's Day, M.O.S.M. and Dad.—Love yo, Linda

Happy Valentine's Day, Mr. C.—Cheri

Happy Valentine's Day, Bruce Weary.—A new fan

Happy Valentine's Day to all Naus and Ferns.—Ellen

From one broken heart to another,
Ping! From one cupid to another, ch, Linda?

To all the good looking guys in school, Hello.—From a nature lover

Tom, I want you for my very own.—Sandie

Martha, Pam and Laura thank you for the cherries.

Laura and Pam, I hope you enjoyed them.

To Chip! Guess Who?—A new fan

To Doug,

Valentes are red;
Loneliness is blue;
I miss you so,
Because I love you!
Happy Valentine's Day to Tom Wolfcale.—Love, Sandy

Happy Valentine's Day, Jim.—Love, Kitten

Happy Valentine's Day to the Clan, B.J., P.T., Kenlias Jones, Honest Chico, and Demetrius Smith.—From the Beat

Happy Valentine's Day to the secretary.

Happy Valentine's Day, Mr. Cramer.—Ellen

Happy Valentine's Day to Mr. B.—Linda

Happy Valentine to Betsy and Rex.

Kay Symmonds, Happy Valentine's Day to the sweetest guy, Larry Matthews.—Kay

To Dave Platz.—Sandy

Roni, Happy Valentine's Day.—"Josie"

Happy Valentine's Day to G.P.

Happy Valentine's Day to Ritch with all my love.—Judy

I, Cheryl Lynn Krudop, would like to wish South Side High School a Happy Valentine's Day. Be good!

A Happy Valentine's Day to all junior boys, especially Sid Sheray and Gary Probst.—Two Little Freshmen

Happy Valentine's Day to David Haslup.

Hi, Vicki.—Tom

Hi, Ron.—Sherry

Happy Valentine's Day to those happy couples, Pat and Neil, Liana and Bob, Gloria and Wayne, Donna and Ray.—Cupid

Hi, Steve (North).—Sherry

Greetings, Larry?

To the sweetest, most understanding girl I know, I send this Valentine greeting and my love.—Danny

To my secret admirer.—Love, Barb

Happy February 14 to Jackie. Please remember me?!—Cowboy

To whom it may concern, Happy Valentine's Day.—P.G.

Happy Valentine's Day, April.—From Jim

Happy Valentine's Day to the growler from the child who won't grow up when she's happy.

Happy Valentine's Day to Monica.—Terry

Valentines to Kenny.

Valentines to Greg.

Valentines to Kenny.

Valentines to Greg—Susie and Barb

I love you, Londa.—Shel

I love you, Londa.—Shel

Happy Valentine's Day to Chery l LeClerc.

To Patricia Bailey.—The girl like beauty itself and a heart like an electric computer, and the crazy thing about it is I love her.—The Puppet

To Sue K. Smith, 10A.—Thank you for bringing sweetness and light into a dark and lonely life.—The K.

Happy Valentine's Day, Mr. Bus-sard.—Anonymous

To two precious boys taking Physi-ics, J. and S.

To all my friends including J.N., J.N., J.W., S.M., B.Z., and S.P.; Hil-M.L.S.

Dave Simerman—

Happy Valentine's Day

Happy Valentine's Day

Happy Valentine's Day

Love, Judy

Happy Valentine's Day, Sharon.—Gary

Happy Valentine's Day.—Borris and Morris.

To all the Morrises in the city, Happy Valentine's Day.—King Borris and Morris

Happy Valentine's Day to Bob.—Susie

Happy Valentine's Day to Brutus.—Portia

Mr. Weber, Happy Valentine's Day.—Your Fifth Period Plunkies

Happy Valentine's Day to Nell at North Side.—Love ya.

Happy Cupid's Day and more.—Di

Happy Valentines to my nutty cu-cooc, Tammie Eberle. Please forget about the cracked window, the golf club, and most of all the Alamo.—Marcia

Happy Valentines to Chuck Pony.

Happy Valentine's Day, Jim, with all my love.—Carol

Happy Valentine's Day to the most wonderful guy in the world.—Love, Carol

Happy Valentine's Day to Squirt, Shorty, Shortstuff, Freckles.—Love, Tom, Central.

Happy Valentine's Day to my "Lost Love" in Germany.—Pat

Happy Valentine's Day to Lynn Means, Leo, my "New Love".—Pat

Happy Valentine's Day to the hitch-hiking Marine, Johnny.—Patty Ann

Happy Valentine's greetings from B.S. to B.S.

Happy Valentine's Day to every-one, even the teachers.

Happy Valentine's Day to the sweet-est girl at South Side, Susie W. from Jim W.

Happy Valentine's Day, Steve.

Happy Valentine's Day, Nancy.—From Jim

Happy Valentine's Day, Connie Val-lance, Diane McClure, Joan Lambert, Sharon Snyder, Darleen McClure, Karen McClymonds, Sandy McCombs, Sue Lee.—Sandy Lamb

Happy Valentine's Day to Connie Vallance.

Happy Valentine's Day to Diane McClure.

Happy Valentine's Day to Joan Lambert.

Happy Valentine's Day to Karen McClymonds.

Happy Valentine's Day to Darleen McClure.

Happy Valentine's Day to Sandy McCombs.

Happy Valentine's Day to Sharon Snyder.

Happy Valentine's Day to Dave.—Love, Sandy

Happy Valentine's Day to me.—Sandy Lamb

Dave, can we have the car?—Linda, Cindy, Keyes, Betsy, and Ann

Happy Valentine's Day to Gary.—Carole

Happy Valentine's Day to Carole.—Gary

To all lovers everywhere, Happy Valentine's Day.—B.N.S.

Happy Valentine's Day to every-one.—Monzella

For the young at heart.—Mr. Kell
Happy Valentine's Day to Nance and Muscles.
Happy Valentine's Day, Cheri and all that jazz.—Lynn
Happy Valentine's Day to Keith (Ball State).—From Jan
—To my Duchess of Earl, Kinny B.I.
—Love Tom
Happy Valentine's Day, Hunt.—
From your lovable, adorable Julie
Happy Valentine's Day, Lyall—
Blue and Sunny
Dear Sue Karns,
Have a rotten Valentine's Day but be sure to have it with me.—
Mike
Happy Valentine's Day to John in Room 110, seventh period.—
A really big Valentine greeting for Dave Tynner.—From Sue Bradley
Happy Valentine's Day, Nancy Lougheed.—From an admirer in your history class
A special Happy Valentine to Chuck.—From someone who likes him, M.M.; and that doesn't start for Marsha Muncy. Or does it?
Happy Valentine's Day to my be-buddy, Cheryl.—Love always, Marsha
To Bob Gargett.—From someone on restriction
Happy Valentine kisses to Ginny, Jim, Mel, Jessie, the "plane-watchers" at the airport.
Valentine Greetings to all South
Side Archers.—Mrs. Emshwiller
Valentine Greetings to the guy who listens to my problems.—Sally Valentine Greetings to "the one and only" John Carnes.—Monda
Happy Valentine's Day, Nick.—
Pam
Happy Hearts to Sandy Lamb.
—From all of us "Millerites"
—To the college Carls from the high school Harries
I love you, Debby.—Steve
Bob—Steve—Bill—Debby—Luke
I'm saving Schumm for Eaton.—
John
I'm rolling spares for Norman.—
Steve
Congratulations on the eighth,
Honey-K.—John
Hearts to my little sister.—Ginger
Hearts and Flowers to all.—Tex
Valentine's Greetings to the two pizza eating Forgs of the Freshman Class.—A Junior Nauz
Happy Valentine's Day to Mike
Hemminger (Concordia).—Ginny
Kachiamenis
Happy Valentine's Day to a wonderful guy at Concordia, Jim Adair.
—Jenny
Valentine Greetings to Norman.—
Sugar
Happy Valentine's Day to Paul
Gretz.—From Sheila Eddy
Valentine Greetings to my sweet and wonderful "Big Dumb" Dave.—
Love, Marcia
Happy Valentine's Day to Dan
(Elmhurst).—From Sharon
Happy Valentine's Day to Steve
Hargan.—From "Old Pest"—Sharon
Happy Valentine's Day to Steve
Campbell.—Love, Kitten (purr)
Happy Valentine's Day to Varsity Player No. 30.—A Basketball Fan
Butch, Have a very Happy Valentine's Day.—Your future wife, Pam July 25, 1963)
To John, Chris, Pam, Butch, Dan-y, Donna, Mike, and Mart and Foby and Snoopsie.—Happy Valentine's Day.—Lynne
Neil, why don't you talk to me?—
fancy
To Jane Hatfield.—Sid
rosenary:
Dear, you've many qualities,
You draw more friends than flowers, bees.
You're sweeter than a strawberry
malt,
And you can do a somesault!
Margo
Happy Valentine's Day to Susie, ane, Pam, Sally, Betsy, Rosie, Susie
Beth, and all the rest.—Linda Happy Valentine's Day, Cathy.—
from John
Happy Valentine's Day, Louraine, huck, Tim, and Stevy.—From John and Cathy
Happy Valentine's Day, Judi.—Tom
Happy Valentine's Day to my ready, John Stump.—Nan Cy Whiteside and Ken Yackel are razy about the Komets.
Happy Valentine's Day to Bob, Deny, and Gary.—Elmhurst
Happy Valentine's Day to the Observant One.—Julie Bill, Happy Valentine's Day from NEWT who cares very much.—Sue Carole, Happy Valentine's Day to y best friend. I don't care if you n't pronounce pedestrian.—Sue Happy Valentine's Day to S.R. and C.—From C.S.
Happy Valentine's Day to Cricket
Hiller.—T.R.
Cupids to a swell soldier who's riving his "term" for Uncle Sam.
—Joy
Happy Valentine's Day, Jane.—Ken Happy Valentine's Day, Kent.— love, Jill
Hey Kitten! Happy Valentine's Day.
Love, Jim
Happy Valentine's Day, Jane.—
awthorne
Be my Valentine sweetheart.—R.V.
Valentine greetings to Connie and ern, and Steve (Arkansas)—Bella
Happy Valentine's Day, Roy, Vic, andy, and Connie.
Happy Valentine to Jerry Isch, my ppiest Valentine.—Nancy Happy Valentine's Day to a cerain sophomore at Central.—Judy
Happy Valentine's Day, Sue.—Tom Happy Valentine's Day, Michelle.—
apa
Happy Valentine's Day to Susie, ene, Linda, Betsy, Rosie, Susie S., eth, and all the rest I haven't mentioned.—Sally
Happy Valentine's Day to the same procrastinator—don't do it this me, lover.—The Destructive One
Happy Valentine's Day to Jim
(C. C. Roosevelt).—Love, Marti
Happy Hearts to the guy at Colorado State University.—Only six more peaks.
Hon. To the Sweetest Thing in Evy Way, I Would Like to Express My ove Today.—Ken
Happy Valentine's Day to all those ords that don't have hearts.—An

Happy Valentines to Susie.—Kar
Happy Valentine's Day, Hunt.
From your lovable, adorable, Julie
To Simone and the "PH" factor. the 'ole
Hearts and stuff to "Pinkie".
Shime
Happy Valentine's Day Ginny.
Claudia
Greetings to Mr. K. and Belma
Happy Valentine's Day to all citizens of Rome and friends of the Roman Senate.
Happy Valentine's Day to Ann and Jenny.—Kaylene
Big Bad John—
Happy Valentine's Day
To one who, as they say,
Is special in every way!
—Anona Mouse
Happy Valentine, Harry.—Love
Marcia
Happy Valentine's Day, Pete.—
From Mary Ellen
To all you sweethearts from the Ventures Automobile Club.
Love to Lovable Louise.—Terry
Happy Valentine's Day, Jim Dixon.
—The girl in seventh study
Happy Valentine's Day, Tom.—Love
Bev
Happy Valentine's Day, Joe.—Pat
Happy Valentine's Day to Mr. Hal
Ha! Also, Bob and Albert.—From Marva Evans
Let's be sweethearts, Sheila.—Judge
Let's be sweethearts, Sheila.—Judge
Let's be sweethearts, Sheila.—Judge
Let's be sweethearts, Sheila.—Judge
Let's be sweethearts, Sheila.—Judge
Happy Valentine's Day, Christie.
Gunter
To Elaine with all of my love.—
Gary
A very Happy Valentine's Day to Homeroom 36—the one in the sand box of Tripoli.
To our sand box hero, Happy Valen tine's Day; and we hope you like
Tripoli.—Homeroom 36
Happy, Happy Valentines to Jon.—
Susie
To Sue Smith and all my 20 other old flames.—"Lover Boy" Hunt
Many Valentines to Lynn Wilson.—
From her secret admirers
Happy Valentine's Day, Dave.—
Nancy
Happy Valentine's Day, Martin Plat
tipe.—Always, Julie
Jim Lyon, I love only you.—Karen
Happy Valentines to Ted.—Flora
Happy Valentines to Jim Barker.—
A sophomore girl who cares
Happy Valentines to Pat, Claudia,
Penny.—Flora
Happy Valentine's Day to Ann
Flickinger
Happy Valentine's Day to Ann
Flickinger
Happy Valentine's Day to Annie Flicker.
Happy Valentine's Day to Phillip
Brice.—Waltz
Happy Valentine's Day to Rick.—
Ann
Happy Valentines to Tinkerbell.—
From brother John and sister Judy
Happy Valentine's Day to Janet.
Happy Valentine's Day to Janet.
Hello Sweetheart, Hello Schatze,
Hello Walls.—Dianna?
Don't be mad;
Don't be blue;
It's all my fault;
Sweetheart, I love you.
Happy Valentine's Day.—Love, Gus
tapher Goosehelm III
To a really wonderful boy who talks too long on the phone.—Gretchen
Happy Valentine's Day to Angel.—
The Little Blue Man
Happy Valentine's Day to Angel.—
The Little Blue Man
Happy Valentine's Day to Angel.—
The Little Blue Man
Hearts to Keeps from the track team away at college.
To Rudy Vallee with all my love.—
Elvis
Happy Valentine's Day to Susie.—
Dale
To Steve Bosselman.—From a fifth period lunch fan!
Yuckie, Yuckie, Nancy.—Neil
Valentine greetings to Steve.—
From Sue Bradley
Go South, beat Ohio State.
Marie, I do wish you would be rea sonable.—Arthur Kurtz
To Allison McNutt (Muncie) with love.—Lydia
Go Komets.
Go Komets.
Cratchnikkie, Hi.—Allison McNutt
(Muncie)
Support the Committee of Youth for Americanism.
Hiya lover, I still despise ya'. So bye, bye.
Mike Lovitt, please come back. We need ya', son!—"Twitchee Sneezo"
Linda and Kaylene, Happy Valen tine's Day.—Cheri
Gus, Happy Valentine's Day.—The Slave Girl
Happy Valentine's Day, Charlie,
Carol, and Twink.
Happy Valentine's Day, Ann.—Love,
Jon
Happy Valentine's Day to Bonny,
Wang, Aesop, Hank, Morris.
Happy Valentine's Day to all the girls who made New Year's resolu tions at Bonnie's. Good luck to all of us!—Sharon
Professor, Please be my Valentine!
To all the (wacky) kids I know.—
Wacky) No. 1
Greetings, 31—24
Dave, be my Valentine.—Leslie Hearts to Mr. Hoover and "special" math class members.—Kathy (alumna)
Archers, Beat Central!!
Happy Valentine's Day to G.T.
Happy hearts and flowers to our favorite seventh period U.S. History teacher, Mr. Arnold.—From his lov ing cherubs
Happy Birthday, Diane.—Secret ad
mirer (Jim)
Happy Valentine's Day to the kids.
Happy Birthday, Diane.—Secret ad
mirer (Jim)
Dave—Roses are red; violets are re d; sugar is sweet—and fattening.—
Judy
Happy Valentine's Day, Bruce.—The girls
Happy Valentine's Day to the Du chess.—From the Duke
Happy Valentine's Day, Dave
Weeks.—Love, Sharon Stettner

To Room 150, period 6
Sure Cure for Happiness

As you're getting sentimental
And enamored head to toe,
Just think about your hour long
And hour-long to go.

Our product has a guarantee—
Relief from joy in seconds;
So if you're longing to be blue,
Just think of that which beckons.

Are you "Ghosts" in proper order?
Is "Napoleon" in rank?
Is there War or is there Peace?
You have English 8 to thank.

So if your life is much too joyful,
We advise you in this way:
Consent to this, our simple cure,
And you'll be mournful all the day
—Babette Nash and Franklin P. Summers

Hearts to Duke and Deacon.—From
Judy
Happy Valentines to F.B. and D.P. love always.—Dimples and Pretty Girl
Rick Meeks, you're a good cheer leader; keep it up. You're a doll. Happy Valentine's Day.

Happy Valentine's Day to Lynda
Susie, Suzi, Judy, Nancy, Charlotte
Dawn, Ann, Kaye, Cheryl, Cheri, and Button.—Rudolph Valentino
Dave.
Isn't life lovely, isn't life gay?
Dreaming dreamily, dreaming away.
Moon Rivers are pushing, pushing right on,
Making a sonnet, creating a song.
Shaping a dream, forgetting all wrong.
Happily, happily flowing along.
Love, Leslie

To Pan Man, Mop Flop, Buck et Woman, Sink Fink, Mother, and Deaf
Granny.—From the two Gynns
I hope Cupid darts his arrow to all.
Happy Valentine's Day to all my friends.—Doris May Cupid be good to you, Alice and Linda!—Sue
Happy Valentine's Day to Tommy.
—Love, Maggie
To my favorite Valentine.—T
Happy Valentine, Jimmy.—Sue
Happy Birthday to a certain Jim Ellingwood.
Happy hearts to 6 from 16.
Happy Valentines to Susie in the blue sweater. May we always have cherished moments.—Steve Valentine Greetings to Terry.
Loving Valentine thoughts for my future wife, Pam. Remember July 25, 1963. Love always, Butch (76)
Happy Valentine's Day stupid
cupids.—Jenny
Cupid's arrows to Kaylene and
Dave.—Jenny
Cheri, Happy Valentine's Day to my number one heart throb.—Ted Bear
Happy Valentine's Day, Ann.—
Love Tom
Happy Valentine's Day to Benny,
Wana, Aesop, Hank, and Morris.
Hi!
Al, darling, Happy Valentine's Day.—Love, Judy
To you, Al, on Valentine's Day, my love, salad, and lemonade.—
Judy
Al, you've caught my heart in your lecon trap.
To Judy and Al, Barb and Tom,
Connie and Don.
Don, darling, H. V. Day.—Connie
Happy Valentine's Day to Mary
B. from Dave P.
Happy Valentine's Day to "twist-er".—From "Lee Roy"
Happy Valentine's Day, Billy.—
From Marianne
Happy Valentine's Day to Everyone!
Happy Valentine's Day to all!
Happy Valentine's Day, Jerry.—
Happy Valentine's Day, Jerry.—
Love, Dee
Go Komet!
Happy Valentine's Day, Shelia and Pam.
Go Minneapolis!
Go Minneapolis!
Kometes are great says Yackel.
Happy Valentine's Day, Carol.—
Love, Chuck
Happy Valentine's Day to Study,
Wang, Aesop, Hanky, Lulu, Colonel,
Wayne, The Lettermen, North Side's
Babes, Verne, and the Fuzz.
Happy Valentine's Day, Janis.—
Love, Jim
Deoxyribonucleic
Happy Valentine's Day, Diana.—
Love, Art
Happy Valentine's Day, Jim.—With all my love, Carol
Happy Valentine's Day to everyone in my Junior Achievement Company, except for Ed.—Sonya
Hearts and Flowers to the gang,
Steve, Dave, and Barb.—From the Texas
Happy Valentine's Day, Sheri Graf-
fs.—Love, Dave Lipp
Happy Valentine's Day, Dave Lipp.
—Love, Sheri Grafss
Happy Valentine's Day, Sharon
Stettner.—Much love, Dave Meeks
Happy Valentine's Day Sue, Marylyn, Miriam, Steve, Mike, Danny, and Will, Terri, Donna, Elaine, Nanci,
"Neet Reet," Helene, Myra, Viv, Neil,
Steve, Freddie, Jo Ann, Toni, Mike C. and Posy, Carol, Bonnie, Caron, Sue
B., Elaine, Debbie, Harriet, Linda F., and Ellie, "Schnops," and Stu.—
"Who Else!"
Happy Valentine's Day, Gary.—
Harriet
Mike Schoen—Janis Nash
Happy Valentine's Day to my "star" basketball player.—Love, Jo
Happy Valentines, Al.—Jo
Happy Valentine's Day to Dave.—
From Rabbit
Happy Valentine's Day to Sue
Smith from her fondest admirer.
Happy Valentine's Day to my favorite cheerleader.—Admirer
Happy Valentine's Day to S.D.S.
Happy Valentines to Susan W.—
From Jim W.
Hearts and things to that old Boiler-maker, Pinky Debug.
Happy Valentine's Day to Fred
Brown.
Happy Valentine's Day to the biggest baby in the world.
Hearts and kisses to Steve.—From Linda
Hearts to little and the other girls.

Happy Valentine's Day to my Southern beau, why don't you like me?
Greetings to Fred Framis.
Happy Valentine's Day and all my love, Richard.—Connie
Happy Valentine's Day to Lisa and
Bill.—From all your friends.
Happy Valentine's Day to a real heartbreaker, Lanna, miss you a lot.
—Bob
Happy Valentine's Day, little bitty buddy.—From Bob to John Rick, I want you for my Valentine.
—Sandle
To butterball.—From your abnor-mals
Happy Valentine's Day to the moose who lost Bruce.—From Rabbit
Hi, Harry!
Happy Valentine's to all our best girlfriends at Bishop Luers, Barb, Janice, Mary Beth, and Susie.—From
????
Happy Valentine's Day to my lover
Mike T.—From D.D.
Happy Valentine's Day to Terry
Mills, (Bishop Luers).—From Judi
Happy Valentine's Day to my drinking buddies.—From Yo-Yo
Happy Valentine's Day, Jill.
Happy Valentine's Day, Jill.
Happy Valentine's Day, Jill.
Happy Valentine's Day, Jill.
Happy Valentine's Day, Jill.
Happy Valentine's Day, Jill.
Love to Thomas B. Blair.—From Linnie
Happy Valentine's Day to Jim.—
Nan
Greetings to my two loves, Arthur and Jake.
To Jon Lyons.—From a secret ad-miror in your Latin class
Will you, Sue Cox, be my Valentine?
—From your secret admirer, Kiethie Beghter
Happy Valentine's Day, Julie.—
Mike
Happy Valentine's Day to all the sophomores.—Cheryl Scott
Happy Valentine's Day to everyone.
Happy Valentines to a senior helper.—A bewildered sophomore Latin student
Happy Valentines to Barbie.—Steve Happy Valentines to a colored-paper-eater.—The receiver
Happy Valentines to all the Mickey Mouse Club singers.—Ann, Toni, B.D.,
Sally, Sue, Marcia, Janie, Kitty
Happy Valentines to the gang at cafe.—J
Happy Valentines to the L-y-n-e-
H-e-b-i-l-l singers.—Ann, Toni, Janie,
Kitty, Marcia, Sally, B.D., and Sue
We finally found a way to save money on Times greetings. Happy hearts; Happy Groundhog Day; Merry Christmas; Happy New Year; and Go Team—Win Sectional.—Ann, Janie, Kitty, Marcia, B.D., Sally, Sue
Happy Valentine's Day to Steve.—
Love, Syd
Happy hearts to that guy at I.U.
Extension—Only four more weeks.
Happy Valentine's Day to kind-hearted Mr. Berg.
To Carol Channell.—From another freshman
A very Happy Valentine to Barbie.
—Steve
Hearts and flowers to the neatest
Lambda Chi pledge at Ball State, Tom Luffa
Roses are red
Violets are blue
Widows who are true
Are ones whose boy friends are night league basketball players.
Happy hearts to Bill Kleifgen, anyway!—Jane
Happy Valentine's Day, Karen.—
Janet (orphan)
Valentine Greetings to Mr. Clark.
—From one who used to care
Valentine Greetings to Carol and Phil. Hope this time it lasts! Don't you?
Happy Valentine's Day to Mike
Koenemann (Concordia).—Love, Marge
Happy Valentine's Day to Kay Johnson (N.S.) and Steve Riggs.—Cindy
Hi, Pat, Jane, Suzanne, and Cindy.
Hi!!!
Happy Valentine's Day, R.G.
Happy Valentine's Day to Kay Symons, Jan McClain, Susie Klingnerman, Sandy Lindman, Judy Clawson, Monna Heemsoth, Sandy Meyer, and my one and only.—From me
Happy Birthday, Cupid!—From The Love
Love to Judy Handy.—Lover boy
To all boys.—From one girl
Happy Valentine's Day, Keith.—
Judy
Hi, Monna Heemsoth.—Gary
Happy Valentine's Day, Dave.—
Sandy
Happy Valentine's Day, Sandy.—
Judy
To me.—From you
To Lynn.—From Jane
Happy Valentine's Day to all Times agents and book heads who have worked so hard to sell the Times.
Love to Phil, my 6-3, blue-eyed blond.—Vicki
Happy Valentines to Vicki, Sue, Jill, Marjie, Karen, Peg, and Carol.—
Sandy
Happy Valentine's Day to Bob Cummins (Long Island).—Love, Karen
El Guncho—
May Cupid's aim be straight
So I will know my fate,
May his aim be very straight
And take my love to you. Me
Rex—
If you only knew,
How true my love could be,
You would be true, too,
And we would love for Eternity. Red
Happy Valentines to Candy.—From Jan
Happy Valentines to Lyle.
Happy Valentine's Day to Al Colvin
(Concordia).—A can collector at South
Happy Valentine's Day to Carol at Bishop Luers.—I miss you too much
Please remember, "Dreamy Eyes!"
—Chuck
Happy Valentines to Bob, the most terrific boy in the army.—Lanna
Happy Valentine's Day to Wayne, the best steady a girl ever had. No girl could think more of her guy. I love you, honey.—Yours forever,
Gloria
Happy Valentine's Day to Mary.—
Love you forever. Jerrv

FREE!

AT AMERICAN FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN

A Beautiful Chatham Blanket Is Our Gift To You . . . For Saving With Us!

IN 6 LUSCIOUS COLORS

- Pink
- Green
- White
- Blue
- Beige
- Yellow

These famous Chatham "Sundown" blankets are lightweight and soft as a cloud. Size 72x90, the practical size for twin or double beds. Woven of 94% rayon for warmth and beauty and 6% nylon for added strength. Bound with 100% acetate Duraloom for twice the wear. Machine washable, too.

HURRY --- Savings received by the 10th of the month
earn from the 1st of the month

4%

DIVIDENDS PAID
ON SAVINGS!

YOUR SAVINGS WILL EARN MORE AT AMERICAN FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN

HOW TO GET YOUR BLANKET . . . NOW!

Open your new American Federal Savings account for $100.00 or more OR add $100.00 or more to your present American Federal account. Your agreement to keep that amount at American Federal for a minimum of 6 months entitles you to a Chatham blanket . . . NOW!

Take advantage of this limited offer now! Get your FREE blanket . . . and watch your savings grow! American Federal's dividend rate of 4%, payable semi-annually, will earn more money for you.

WE'RE OPEN FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

MONDAY, TUESDAY, THURSDAY, 10 A.M. TO 5:30 P.M.

WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY, 10 A.M. TO 8:00 P.M.

SATURDAY, 10 A.M. TO 1:00 P.M.

Convenient, Free Parking . . . NEXT to Our Building

SOUTH CLINTON at RUDISILL
ACROSS FROM SEARS ROEBUCK • H 2145

AMERICAN FEDERAL
Savings and Loan

All Savings up to $10,000 Insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation

PTA To Feature Panel Discussion On Teacher's Pets, School Spirit

Dean Of Girls To Act
As Moderator; Choir
To Perform Musical

The third and final meeting in the 1962 South Side Parent-Teacher Study series will be Tuesday evening at 7:45 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The Concert Choir under the direction of Mr. Lester Hostetter, choir director, will present a short musical at the beginning of the program. Sandra Yaggy, senior, will accompany the choir.

The program, "Here's What We Think!" will feature a panel discussion by six South Side students. Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, will act as the moderator.

THE TOPICS THAT will be discussed include such pertinent problems as cheating, after-prom parties, extra-curricular program ("should a student's participation in school activities be limited?"), low morality favoritism by teachers, and school spirit.

The students participating in the panel discussion are Larry Lee, senior; Lyall Morrill, senior; Sandy Thorn, post-graduate; Barbara Uhl, senior; Ken Davis, junior; and Ricky Meeks, sophomore.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lanning will serve as chairmen for the evening. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Members of the Concert Choir who will present the music at the beginning of the meeting include Marjorie Bloom, Jo Ellen Bobay, Mary Bowman, Debby Brooke, David Brumm, Suzanne Burdick, Sharon Carrel, Mike Carter, Sam Carter, Cindy Christian.

KENNY CLAUSER, Marilyn Cole, Dennis Crill, Janet Dehl, Brenda Dull, Sharon Eitman, Elizabeth Ellis, Betty Ensley, Judy Evans, Kay Faib, Beverly Fige, Sarah Finch, Karen Finrock, Bob Garrett, Kaylene Gebert, Sue Grieser;

Margie Geris, Tim Grodrian, Mark Hagerman, Mary Jane Hake, Diane Hall, Rosie Hall, Sherrie Hall, Sue Harrod, Diane Hess, Gaylene Hilsmer, Pam Himes, Tonya Hines, Elizabeth Hostetter, Judy Hutchens, Vick Lewendowski, Steve McDonald, James Markkion, Karen Miller, Paul Mit-tiestadt, Don Nobles, Sue Penland;

Diane Petznick, Pam Punskey, Erin Rose, Jack Sanderson, Fred Schoen, Marsha Sills, Jean Simpson, Sally Smart, Phil Snyder, Aletha Staigst, Joyce Stocks, Margee Terry, Mary Jane Tobey, Roger Vorholzer, Bob Wasson, Rick Werling, and Sandra Yaggy.

Junior Heart Board To Sponsor Dance, To Get Contributions

The annual Heart Hop co-sponsored by the Junior Heart Board and WO-WO radio station will be at the Coliseum Friday from 8:30 p.m. until midnight. Tickets may be purchased for 50 cents from Susan Burlage, South Side representative or at the door.

During the evening, the WOWO Alice in Wonderland Queen will be selected from five finalists, the names of whom will be announced at the dance. After screening the more than two thousand entries in this contest, 25 semi-finalists were chosen. Among this number are Brenda Dull, post graduate; Mary Ellen Bowman, junior A; and Pat Wilson, junior A.

The semi-finalists met with the judges of the contest last Saturday for interviews. After the Alice in Wonderland Queen is crowned, she and her chaperon will be given a weekend trip to New York City by airplane. The queen and her chaperon will each receive $100 spending money.

ALSO, THE WINNER of the contest will receive a portable stereo record player and ten albums of her choice. The four runners-up will be given ten record albums of their choice.

Another featured attraction at the Heart Hop will be crowning Pat Waldrop of Elmhurst "Queen of Hearts." Pat was chosen at the fall election as queen of this year's dance.

Junior Heart Board members will act as hosts and hostesses for the dance. The heart theme will be used throughout the Coliseum arena, and light refreshments will be available.

All proceeds from this "hop" will be given to the Allen County Heart Fund. Rheumatic heart disease is one of the major research efforts at the present time and over half the funds raised during Heart month, February, go for research.

THE JUNIOR HEART Board is the active "junior" group of the Heart Association, and the hop is one of its major projects every year. Members of the Heart Board are Pat Waldrop, Bill Cutchall, Marc Smith, Janet Parkinson, Sally Fox, and Dee Northcutt, students from Elmhurst.

Also, Sandy Boneff and Ann Soso, from Central Catholic, and Susan Burlage from South Side have helped to organize and plan the dance.

Chapters announced for the event are parents of Junior Heart Board members and members of the Allen County Heart Association board of directors.

TEENAGE SUGGESTION BOXES . . . As Barbara Uhl, seated, left, writes down her topics for discussion at the next Parent-Teacher Association meeting, other members of the teenage panel, Ken Davis, seated, right, Lyall Morrill and Larry Lee, standing left to right, contribute other suggestions.—Photo by Lowden

Orators Earn Seven Ribbons, Win Manchester Speech Meet

Sweeping the Manchester Speech Meet and bringing home the first place trophy, Archers earned seven ribbons last Saturday. Three of the ribbons were for first place.

Winners were Tom Erb, first in original oratory; Pam Buzzard, first, and Pam Punskey, second in humorous; Barb Nelson, first in poetry; Sue Horth, third, and Lex Smuts, fourth in extemporaneous speaking; and Ken Davis, fifth in oratorical interpretation.

Tom gave an original speech entitled "Communist Subversion and the American People." Everyone competing in this division prepares an eight to ten minute speech before the meet. They may enter more than one meet with the same speech, but they must change speeches at least once a year. The contestants in original oratory are judged on content and delivery.

PAM BUZZARD's declamation was "The Cat Came Back." Declamations are written by other people so the judging is based on the interpretation the contestant gives to the speech. Pam Punskey's declamation, also humorous, was "At the Swimming Pool."

"The Murder of Lidice" was the title of the poem read by Barb Nelson. In this division the contestants are allowed to read the poetry and are judged on their introduction and interpretation.

Ken Davis gave "The Big Parade." In oratorical interpretation the speeches are of a serious nature usually on a controversial issue.

In extemporaneous speaking, the participants draw topics after arriving at the meet. Each person draws three topics, then selects one on which to speak. They gain their information from magazine articles.

FOR THE FIRST two rounds Sue Horth spoke on "Should a Five Hour Workday Be Advocated?" For the last round, everyone drew again and this time she spoke on "The Ties Between Red China and Russia."

Lex Smuts drew "Is a Bigger Draft Coming?" as his first topic and "Asian Warfare for the United States" as his second topic.

Other Archers participating were Diane Fredrick, Logan Smith, Peg Brase, and Aletha Staigst in dramatic; Martha Dixon and Jackie Kuhns in humorous; Margee Terry,

Two Pupils Acquire First Place Awards In Skating Derbies

Seniors Barbara Stevens and Bill Whitmer won events in the annual Ice Skating Derby at McMillen Park rink on February 6. The derby was sponsored by the Fort Wayne Recreation Department and the YMCA.

Bill entered the novice division. This is the division for those who have not won any previous derbies. Bill placed first in the men's and boys' 220-yard derby, and third in the men's and boys' 880-yard derby. This is his first time in competition. Bill has been skating for about ten or eleven years.

Barb placed in the championship division, and broke two records that she previously had made. The championship division is for those who have won awards in previous contests. Barb broke her previous record in the senior girls division in the 220-yard race with her new record of 29.5 seconds.

In the senior girls' 440-yard derby she broke her previous record with 1:03.5. This Archer lass has been in competition since 1953. In racing she has won ten gold medals, six gold cups, and 12 first place ribbons. In the ice skating derby she won a gold cup.

Miss Mary Reiff To Talk

Miss Mary Reiff, Latin teacher, will speak at the Tuesday meeting of the Societas Latina Club in Room 112 at 3:30 p.m. She will also show slides of her recent trip to Italy.

Further plans for the club's March banquet will be discussed.

Marcia Disler, and Doris Atzeff in original; Patsi Dorton and Bob Wasson in oratorical; Ann McCallister and Christine Fruechtenicht in poetry; and Rosie Capps and Kathy DeVore in extemporaneous speaking.

JUDGES FROM SOUTH were Mr. Robert Storey, speech teacher; Mr. Sam Jackson and Mr. David Fell, social studies teachers; and Miss Shelby Smith, graduate of '60.

South accumulated 25 points and took first place over the other schools in the meet. Second was Concord with 16 points. Following were Elkhart, third; Elmhurst, fourth; and Clay township, fifth. Fourteen schools participated with a total of 270 contestants.

Indiana Tech Gives Scholarship Grants

Information has been received in the Senior Guidance Office concerning five scholarships offered by Indiana Technical College of Fort Wayne.

Awarded to students who will graduate from Fort Wayne high schools this year, the scholarships will provide tuition for one academic year, three quarters, the current value of each being $672, and must be used for the 1962-63 academic year.

The scholarships are awarded on the basis of the applicant's scores on the state scholarship test, his high school academic record, and evidence of good character and leadership abilities. Evidence of need of financial assistance will also be considered.

Applications for the scholarships must be received by March 30, 1962. For further information and application forms, write to Oren B. Huffer, Registrar and Director of Admissions, Indiana Technical College, 1600 East Washington Blvd., Fort Wayne, Ind.

NISBOVA Music Winners To Plan Trip To Indianapolis For Contest

Judges To Determine
Grades On Intonation,
Interpretation, Quality

Twenty Archer musicians, having successfully performed in the regional music contest of the Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association, will proceed to the state contest in Indianapolis, Ind., Saturday. In the regional contests, students of vocal, piano, and string music participated in a contest at Central High School on January 27; all other instrumentalists played at Harrison Hill School February 3.

Pianists who received a superior rating in the regional contest are Carol Shedd, Terry Borne, Dan McCroskey, Karen Ponder, and Sue Penland. Successful string players include Jack Seigel, Clark Marquart, and Rosemary Capps.

Roger Vorholzer, Mike Carter, and the Boys' Quartet consisting of Mike Carter, Tim Grodrian, Fred Schoen, and Steve McDonald were first-place vocal participants.

IN THE BAND instrumental category, students who received superior rating are Beverly Flanigan, Jim McMahon, Thomas McMahon, Bruce Baldwin, Warren Burns, Mike Young, and Susan Seigel. Also the trombone duet of Warren Burns and Bruce Baldwin received the top rating.

All people who receive superior ratings in the regional contests except for duets are now eligible to perform in the state NISBOVA contest Saturday. The judging, although more difficult in the state contest is carried out in the same manner as in the regional contest.

There are five possible ratings which can be received by each participant. They are, in order of quality, superior, excellent, good, fair, and unsatisfactory. Each student is graded on the basis of seven factors: intonation, tone quality, interpretation and gen-

Squad Defeats Cadets 300-210 In TV Contest

By defeating the Concordia Cadets 300 to 210 Sunday at 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV's I & M "Hi-Quiz" program, the sophomore team, Judy Ruhl, Stan Black, Christine Fruechtenicht, and Stan Moreo, earned the right to compete with Bishop Luers next Sunday.

Participating for Concordia are Susan Koehlinger, John Gugel, Cheryl Badenhop, and Steve Beaver. In the contest Sunday, the first challenge and bonus questions of the first quarter were correctly answered by John Gugel for 30 points. Judy Ruhl answered the next question, and South earned 30 points.

The following question was missed by Judy Ruhl, but John Gugel scored for 30 points. Then Judy correctly answered the next challenge question, and South scored 20 points on a premium question about the Amazon River. The first quarter ended in a tie game 60 to 60.

JUDY RUHL and Stan Black answered the first two questions of the second quarter, respectively; and they compiled 55 points. The following question went unanswered. Then, on a question concerning Finland, Stan Moreo scored 20 points. Another question was answered by Christine Fruechtenicht and the Archers received 30 points on a question about the American flag.

Then Judy missed the next question, which John Gugel was able to answer; and the Cadets scored 20 points on a question regarding Ethiopia. Cheryl Badenhop scored 20 points on a question on linear measurements. Thus, the second quarter ended 165 to 100 in the Archers' favor.

Beginning the third quarter, Judy Ruhl answered the first three questions, which added 90 points to the team's total. Judy also answered the next question on the Treaty of Westphalia. Both teams missed the following question. Then John Gugel scored 30 points on a question about Marconi. The third quarter ended with South leading 225 to 210.

BOTH TEAMS MISSED the first question of the last quarter. Stan Moreo then scored 25 points. A question on the secretary general was answered by Christine Fruechtenicht, which gave South another 30 points. The last challenge question was answered by Stan Black, and the Archers received 20 points for the premium about boxing.

The Archer sophomores have defeated teams from Elmhurst, North Side, Central Catholic, and Concordia in four consecutive weeks.

Counselors Plan Dance

A Valentine dance sponsored by the counselors-in-training, CIT, group of the Shoaff Day Camp will be Saturday from 7:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. at the Shoaff River Lodge.

This dance is given annually for CIT's and their guests. The cost is 50 cents per person.

"We all look forward to this dance," stated Mike Zehendorf, junior. Mike is one of approximately ninety CIT's that will attend the dance.

Twelve Seniors Qualify As Scholarship Finalists

SUPERIOR SCHOLARS . . . Ranking with the top senior students in the country, as shown by their finalist ratings on the National Merit Test, are, front row, left to right, Jim Walker, Ann Golden, and Phil Spray and, back row, left to right, David Schele, Dan McCroskey, and Jeff Roth.—Photo by Jones

HIGH SCORERS . . . Selected as National Merit Finalists are, front row, left to right, Bill Borgmann, Babs Jones, and Everet Mol. In the back row are, left to right, Terry Newendorp, Steve Pratt, and Lyall Morrill. They were chosen on the basis of their SAT test scores.—Photo by Jones

Students In Home Economics To Design Dress-Up Fashions

Encouraging all fashion-conscious home economics students to participate, the Central Federation of Women's Clubs and Vogue Pattern Service is sponsoring the student-division competition of the 1962 Fashion-Sewing Contest.

The competition is open to students in grades 9-12 who are studying home economics at the present time or who have had at least one full year's course in home economics at South in a previous year.

Each girl entering the contest will make what she considers the "Ideal Dress-up Costume for the High School Pupil" using all her sewing skill and fashion knowledge.

The local winner will receive $5 in cash and will be eligible to represent the sponsoring club and high school at the district judging, which will be the first week of April.

SCHOOLS WILL BE notified of the exact time and place for district judging by Mrs. Fred Hagadorn, state and district chairman.

The district winners may go on to compete for state and national honors. The grand prize at the national level is a $1,000 scholarship. Additional scholarships of $500 and $250 will be awarded to the national second and third place winners, respectively.

The main purpose of this contest Mrs. Hagadorn states is, "To encourage young people to develop a deeper appreciation of homemaking skills."

The satisfaction gained from creating her own wardrobe, selecting an appropriate and becoming pattern, choosing practical yet fashionable fabrics, and using sewing skills to create her own costume will provide an important experience in a teenager's education and growth.

APPROPRIATENESS OF the costume for dress-up occasions, workmanship, fashion, effort, and becomingness to the wearer will all be considered in the judging. To illustrate these last points, student will have an opportunity to model their own clothes for the local judging.

Students desiring more information or details, should contact the home economics teacher, Mrs. Pearl Rehorts.

Mr. R. Nelson Snider To Attend Meetings

Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will participate in high level education meetings in Washington D.C. and Atlantic City, New Jersey, today and tomorrow.

Stopping first in the nation's capital, Mr. Snider will participate in a meeting of the Dependents Schools Committee of North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

This is a committee that reviews reports and decides on the accrediting of the secondary schools operated by the Armed Forces in Europe, Africa, Japan, Korea, Puerto Rico, Okinawa, Guam, Midway, and the Philippines.

Upon completion of that meeting Mr. Snider will proceed to Atlantic City where he will attend a convention of the Department of Superintendents.

Girls' Rifle Club To Meet

Girl's Rifle Club will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. on the rifle range. Shooting scores for the February 6 meeting are Jean Richter, 49; Sonya Flagg, 74; Jean Beer, 71; Sondra Stouder, 85; and Jackie Berry, 76.

National Merit, Private Groups To Give Grants

All 12 seniors who had previously qualified as semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test have been named finalists by the testing board.

Those seniors who were selected are Bill Borgmann, Ann Golden, Babbette Jones, Dan McCroskey, Everet Mol, Lyall Morrill, Terry Newendorp, Steve Pratt, Jeff Roth, Dave Schele, Phil Spray, and Jim Walker.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a test of educational development which was given in more than 1,500 schools last spring. Students who did exceptionally well on this test were named as semi-finalists.

On December 2, all semi-finalists took the Scholastic Aptitude Test. If the scores on this test substantiated their performance on the qualifying test, the semi-finalists were then named as finalists.

These students are now eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by 115 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, private individuals, and the Merit Scholastic Corporation.

ALTHOUGH THE amount of the scholarships depends upon need, students can qualify for a maximum of $1,500 a year for four years of undergraduate work. Grants of $100 are given to students with financial resources which enable them to attend the college of their choice.

Finalists who named the college of their choice and their planned course of study often receive cost-of-education grants ranging up to $500.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation is in its sixth year of operation, having been founded in 1955. Grants from the Ford Foundation, the Carnegie Corporation of New York, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and other sponsors have thus far contributed direct financial aid to nearly 4,000 students and their colleges.

Speaking for the 12 finalists Bill Borgmann stated, "We are all honored to be finalists, but more significant is the realization that we have had the opportunity to obtain an excellent education at South Side. We're greatly indebted to our teachers and administrators for giving us such a good foundation as a basis for our college education."

Duke University will claim Bill next year as he prepares for the dentistry profession. After two years Bill may

(Continued on Page 3)

Watters Sets Dates To Take Club Pix For 1962 Yearbook

Group pictures of the larger clubs of the school will be taken today and tomorrow after school in the cafeteria for the 1962 Totem. The group pictures will be one of the new features of this year's Totem. Club members have been asked to wear similar clothing.

The Lettermen's Club, with members wearing letter jackets and dark pants, will be taken today at 3:40 p.m. Y-Teens are to wear light sweaters and dark skirts for their picture today at 3:55 p.m.

MEMBERS OF THE Know-Your-City Club will be photographed at 4:10 p.m. this afternoon wearing light sweaters and dark skirts. Dark outfits are to be worn by Latin Club members for their picture at 4:25 p.m. Philathians will be photographed today at 4:40 p.m. in dark sweaters and light skirts.

Members of clubs being photographed tomorrow are to wear no special outfits. Picture of the Art Club will be taken at 3:40 p.m. Honorary Arts at 3:55 p.m., Vesta at 4:10 p.m., and Junior Red Cross at 4:25 p.m.

PICTURES OF THE members of Meterites, Hi-Y, Wranglers, Safety Council, and Masque and Gavel were taken yesterday after school.

"It is important that all members come to have their pictures taken so that the club will be full strength. Also, everybody should be five or ten minutes early in order that his group can be lined up for the picture," stated Lissa Hoffman, Totem club editor.

"Even if one is not wearing the appropriate outfit, he should come to get his picture taken; but every effort should be made to wear the designated clothing." Lissa continued.

Explorers Elect Officers

Elected officers at the January meeting of Explorer Post 2004 are president, Senior Bruce Hilby; vice-president, Sophomore Bruce Baldwin; secretary, Sophomore Ned Stewart; quarter master, Sophomore Chuck Golden; and treasurer, Sophomore John Powers.

The next meeting of the club is tentatively scheduled for February 24 when the group will go to Pokagon to participate in outdoor sports.

Yearly Preparation Aids Student In College Plans

"Sure, I plan to go to college; but I've got several years to worry about that," seems to illustrate the rather complacent attitude assumed by most underclassmen toward a significant step in their lives.

To the average high school freshman, attending college is one of the most remote thoughts that crosses his mind. The sophomore begins to realize more the significance of his high school training if he is to attend college; the prospects of college begin to phase the junior more directly.

However, it is not until the senior that the "rush" to gain college admittance hits one with its full impact.

During this period, the student is made aware of the requirements for admittance to the colleges in which he is interested and of those for scholarships which are available in the fields he wishes to pursue. Oftentimes, unfortunately, a student will find that he is ineligible for admittance at a certain school because he has not taken the courses required of applicants.

Basically, as a freshman the student should seek the advice of his parents and homeroom teacher in selecting the correct course of study. When a sophomore, he might select about four or five broad career areas, study the type of work involved, learn of the educational background required, and talk to persons currently employed in these fields.

The junior year should mark the start of selecting colleges, sending for their catalogs, and learning of their standards because some schools offer early decision plans or require certain tests during the later part of the junior year as part of their admissions procedure.

Thus, by means of a long-range planning program, the high school senior will not be flooded with a mass of information and procedures which are entirely "Greek" to him; but he will be able to make sound decisions and take advantage of opportunities as they present themselves.—By Bill Wilder

Steady Dating Handicaps Outweigh Personal Gains

Presenting itself as a seemingly unescapable problem in the process of growing up is that of going steady. Since any debatable subject can be viewed from at least two sides, it is assumed that both favorable and undesirable circumstances arise from going steady. Naturally, there are extremists who advocate one side or the other and those who are undecided.

On the side favoring going steady is the argument that one is always assured of a date. However, taking this for granted, it is easy for the couple to cease appreciating each other. Another bad point is that, if one party is away at school or elsewhere, the obligation to remain constant still exists. Thus, each person goes dateless during the separation, often not certain that his "steady" is the "real thing."

Going steady provides a chance to get to know a person better, but many other friendships are sacrificed in the meantime. Because of the way of modern society, teenagers may find themselves "trapped."

Because so much is dependent upon what one decides in his youth concerning this issue, it is important that one consider the virtues and the vices of going steady, weigh them judiciously, and then follow his convictions, using common sense as his guide.—By Janet Dinius

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Recently announced was the engagement of Sally McCollum and Robert Blackledge, '58. Sally now attends the University of Georgia where her fiancé is working toward his master's degree in chemistry. Robert is also a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army reserve.

Married recently were Joan Hattendorf, '56, and Harold Varketta, '55. Joan attended Mexico City College and was graduated from Indiana University. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and the Port Wayne Junior League. Harold attends Wash College and received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in optometry from Indiana University. He is now with the U.S. Army Medical Corps at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Dick Tipton, '59, was appointed advertising manager for the Valparaiso University school paper, "The Torch," for the new semester.

Miss Barbara Salaka, '56, in the near future is to become the bride of Paul Quinn. Paul is a student at Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., where he is studying accounting. Barbara is a graduate of Ball State Teachers College, where she was a member of Delta Zeta Social Sorority and Kappa Delta Pi, a national education honorary organization.

Nancy McCarron, '58, a senior at Ball State Teachers College, was listed in the 1962 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Nancy, who is majoring in art, is a member of Kallista Art Club and vice-president of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority. She is historian of Clavia, a women's honorary sorority, and a member of the student staff of her residence hall.

Also listed in the edition of "Who's Who" was Annette S. Berlien Sprunger, '58. Annette is enrolled in the elementary education curriculum and is a member of the Association of Childhood Education. She is a Panhellenic representative and a past president of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Wed were Annabelle Lasch, '59, and Raymond Woolridge. The couple will reside in La Mesa, Calif.

Also visiting at their parents' home were John, '61, and Jim Somers, '61. John is attending Purdue University and Jim is a student at Florida Southern University.

Engaged are Marilyn Scott, Bryan, O., and Bruce Scott, '55. Bruce is a teacher and coach in the city school system. The wedding is to be in the early spring.

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Diane Gebhard . . . age, 17 . . . hair, black . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, noodles . . . color, yellow . . . fad, red long underwear . . . sport, water skiing . . . subject, speech . . . pastime, clowning . . . activity, Wrangler . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Ku-Ku-I-Po" . . . singer, Margie Grieser . . . actor, Tony Perkins . . . future, "Angelique and the King" . . . future plans, work . . . pet peeve, bacon sandwiches on Saturday.

Vicki Adams . . . age, 17 . . . hair, dark brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, black . . . sport, skin diving . . . subject, shorthand . . . pastime, boozing Gardner's . . . activity, Times . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "I Can't Help Falling in Love With You" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Troy Donahue . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, private secretary . . . pet peeve, girls who let the air out of boys' car tires!

Hank Kernohan . . . age, 18 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, baby blue . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, olives, steak . . . color, brown . . . sport, track . . . subject, Spanish . . . pastime, someone special . . . activity, bowling . . . TV show, "Untouchables" . . . record, "Can't Help Falling in Love With You" . . . singers, Fleetwoods . . . actor, Dean Martin . . . book, "If It Moves, Salute It" . . . future plans, avoid the draft . . . pet peeve, people who hoard pictures.

Sae Bevington . . . age, 17 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, pink . . . sport, ice hockey . . . subject, typing . . . pastime, skating . . . TV show, "Bonanza" . . . record, "Yes Indeed" . . . actor, Charles Heston . . . book, "Gone With the Wind" . . . pet peeve, two-faced friends.

Mike Carter . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, hazel . . . height, five feet, nine inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . fad, pen pals . . . sport, swimming . . . subject, speech . . . pastime, a girl five feet, eight inches tall . . . activities, concert choir, Boy's Quartet . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Town Without Pity" . . . singer, Pat Boone . . . actor, Andy Griffith . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, bells that ring when I'm going to class.

AROUND KELLYLAND
by DAN MERICA

Advent Of Rocket Era Influences Educational Systems, Commerce

By Peggy Schmidt

Five . . . four . . . three . . . two . . . one . . . blast off! Another mighty Thor cuts a fiery trail across the wild blue yonder; the Cape has triumphed again! A rousing cheer follows the rocket on its journey as a multitude of onlookers rejoice in the face of another victory over the atmosphere.

The rocket's life is short, but it will be followed by many a new and more powerful successor. Each will leave its mark in the annals of aeronautics. More important, each will leave its mark on society.

The effects of the space age upon our nation in just the past decade have been profound. Newspapers, television, and radio have been filled with "spacecasts." Science fiction has crowded its way onto the bookshelves of America; motion pictures have turned to tales of space sabotage and riotous rocketry.

Industry has capitalized on space helmets, "genuine" imitation space guns, and interplanetary space maps for the junior astronaut. Youngsters have traded dreams of cowboy capers for more airborne ambitions.

THE SPACE AGE, now on its first lap, has amply rewarded its patrons for their efforts and interest.

National unity has received renewed strength from the space age. Never is our country so commonly joined as when an astronaut faces success or ruin on the launching pad. The rocket ship is not just the interest of the airline and a few scientists doing their jobs, it is of vital concern to every citizen of a year ago.

Moreover, the space age has had a great influence on the educational systems of the United States. The sciences are being stressed, better equipment supplied to the science labs, and methods of teaching science geared to more detailed study.

Individuals are being awakened to the fact that the hope of tomorrow lies only in proper education today.

Kelly Performers Assume Rolls As Dancers, Monkeys, Clowns

"Come one, come all, to the greatest show on earth," screamed ringmasters Steve Burton ('61) and Mary Jane Tobey as people entered the large tent which Louise Jackson, Ron Ziegler (Indiana Tech), Sally Bash, and Tom Turfingler had quite expertly erected earlier. After being seated by Logan Smith and Bob Neimeyer (Purdue), the ushers, everyone settled down to watch "Kelly Kapers," South Side's annual circus.

The first act was positively marvelous. Maria Habecker and Mike Ferreira did a very lovely dance called the Twist. It was so exciting, especially when Mike jumped into the air, hit his head on the trapeze, and was knocked unconscious. Claudia Adams, Bill George, Judi Smith, and Rick Kneisley ran in with a stretcher, placed poor Mike on it, and immediately galloped out.

Meanwhile, a trained animal act began. As Brenda Arnold and Gaylene Hilsmier flicked their whips around and yelled commands, Fred Schoen and Larry Gerig calmly went through all their paces! They were so well-trained that Jane McAllister (Bishop Luers) and Paul Slick awarded them with large bunches of raw beef.

NEXT A TRULY great trapeze act was presented. The group, called "The

It has become apparent that our national status depends upon our space achievements, and so, upon our educated minds.

ROCKETRY HAS scored several marks for the Free World in its conflict with Communism. It is evident to all that the country is far ahead in the space race in regard to various phases of the field. In addition, democracy is seen as superior in its whole handling of the flight attempts.

The public of America is notified far in advance of each space shot, kept posted on all progress, and permitted to follow the very flight through news media; but those behind the Iron Curtain know far less of their own space programs.

Nevertheless, rocketry has had several bad effects on America. A fierce rivalry has arisen where national space competition is concerned. The rivalry has, in some cases, caused prejudice and hate—certainly proving destructive. So much emphasis has been placed upon space achievements that citizens are losing sight of basic personal goals and morals.

MOREOVER, AMERICA has become a land of fear. Who has not been disturbed by the terrifying thought of space warfare? Who has not considered that man is on the verge of destroying himself, his entire culture and civilization?

This fear has fostered the present fads in fashion and entertainment. Trying to escape the serious aspects of the space age, Americans have disguised their apprehension by indulging in brightly colored clothes, fancy cars, and gay dances.

In view of the changes caused by a few years of space endeavors, it is awesome to imagine what dangers and glories the future may hold. It can only be hoped that America will accept the challenge laid before her, shoulder her responsibility, and use her newly-gained power for the best.

Flying Flies," was composed of Sharon Stettner, Dave Lipp, Sarah Finch, and Randy Roberts (Indiana). Boy, were they daredevils! In fact, their act was so thrilling that Janet Bund immediately fainted; and Steve Leitz picked her up and rushed out with her. Babs Jones' eyes began to roll back in her head, but Tom Merkert (Purdue) just happened to have some smelling salts with him and soon revived poor Babs!

What happened next was really quite a mess! The flyers flew out of the tent, and some monkeys swang in. They were not genuine monkeys; they just seemed to be acting that way by swinging around the poles and doing all sorts of crazy acrobatics. Instead, they were really Sydney Schinbecker, Steve Campbell, Janis Sprunger, and Jim Welty. Nancy Pfeiffer and Steve Jones ('57) finally corralled them and chased them out.

Following that episode Jan Spuller and Tom Marshall brought their trained seals into the main ring. The wonderful animals began to play "America" on their horns, and the audience liked it so much that everyone began to sing along with the seals. Tim Gordinian and Stephanie Pence (Elmhurst) led them in a truly rousing songfest, but the seals got mad and refused to play anymore.

THEREFORE, THE clowns, Karen Miller, Vaughn Correl ('61), Debby Decker, and Dick Robinson, had to entertain for awhile. What rioters! They were just fabulous! Karen and Debby turned cartwheels around the ring while the boys threw raw eggs at each other. All was fine until one of the eggs hit Karen in the face; and because she could not see where she was going, she turned a cartwheel right into Bob Sheray's ('61) lap. This was not too good because Debby Tourkew was standing right there! On this note the clowns' act ended.

It seemed as if the circus would end, too. However, Leslie Green, Dave Richards (N.S., '61), Sandy Heidbrink, and Steve Griffin saved the day. They were wizards with balls and put on an act. They did all sorts of tricks,

HOWEVER, THE next performers, an equestrian group, were ready so they entered. It looked as if Sharon Carrel and Karen Miller were having great fun as George Gilmour and Tony Zych (C.C.) galloped around on their hands and knees with the girls standing gracefully on the boys' backs. Because the boys soon collapsed, this act was rather short.

The tightrope act was next on the agenda. While Mary Ellen Hite and Bob Herzog held the rope in the air, Darlene McClure and Sam Fryback ('61) walked along it. Ginny Barnes and Jim Watson, however, stole the show when they did handstands on the rope!

The circus ended quickly when, as Leanna Morris, Jim Dawson (Colorado State University), Patty Somers, and Joe Emmerson (Hanover) ran out to do their act, Patty ran into a pole, causing it to collapse. A chain reaction began as the tent went down alone, and thus the circus closed!

Box Produces Entertainment

Television Shows Create World With Ben Casey, Perry Mason

By Sandy Thorn

The television was truly an invention. In some instances, it's a lucky thing the inventor remembered to include a knob which can conveniently be used for switching to another network or completely blackening the little box. However, in other cases, the programs are entertaining and informative, and I easily could become a "television addict."

Of course, there are always the interruptions—commonly called commercials. Whether we are at Grandma's Laundrette inspecting our "whiter than white" togs, "smoking more now but enjoying it less," or we are one of the unfortunate on the side of the class—Sandy Thorn room which used the wrong brand of toothpaste and as a result have cavities, we realize that we live in a world of commercials.

But back to the other half of the program. Actually, that's about the time left for the actual program—but then we can calm ourselves by thinking that we wouldn't see the program at all if it didn't have a sponsor. A glance at some of the weekly programs shows the variety of interests that viewers apparently have.

I am far from being an authority on entertainment, but my opinions would be important in a television or Gallup Poll; so I shall discuss television shows. Before hitting the night-time shows, I must give credit to the producers of the daily serials. It is amazing that housewives follow them day after day and become involved with the actors' lives.

I am guilty, and I won't take the Fifth Amendment. I have followed a particular serial, "As the World Turns"—CBS for five years. Because it is shown in the afternoons, I miss most of the shows. But I am able to keep up with the story just with the few vacations I have. It is possible to miss months at a time and still catch right up with the action and know what's happening. It's marvelous.

SUPPOSEDLY EVERY television fan has favorite shows and most people have a nightly favorite. So, assuming I have nothing to do (and one should assume nothing), I will become a viewer. Monday night would take the honors, with Ben Casey taking the bows. Ben, or rather Vincent Edwards, will receive my trophy as the top rookie of the year.

The rather easily-irritated Dr. Casey starts the week out on the right track. However, if I were in need of a detective agency, I wouldn't patronize the neurosurgeon, but would rather meet Van Williams, Lee Patterson, and Troy Donahue at ABC's "Surfside 6."

"Password" provides an interesting half-hour, matching wits with screen personalities and contestants guessing vocabulary words. The daily show hits the Tuesday night scene and can be particularly entertaining when the stars are witty. Two of the top stars to date are Carol Burnett and Garry Moore.

Another new show this season, on Tuesdays like "Password," is "New Breed." Leslie Nielsen and crew work in Los Angeles on the police squad tracking down all the common "big-time" rackets. The show, as in most television detective shows, is over-dramatic, but good.

CALM AND COLLECTED Perry Como brings a welcome relief on Wednesday nights with his entertaining hour. His variety show can only be topped by Garry Moore's Show. Carol Burnett and Durward Kirby add the wit to Garry's show, and Perry's new regulars help his show. Garry's "That Wonderful Year" compares to Perry's new feature on a state in the Union.

Bob Newhart follows Perry, but one has to enjoy the "telephone comedian" to appreciate his show. A Newhart fan for over a year, I prefer his monologues and guest spots to the weekly show.

David Brinkley then takes over the screen with his "Journal" and interesting personality. He has had some "off" shows, but his bright wit and humorous grin compensates. He and Chet Huntley team up nightly for their interesting news coverage.

When Thursday night approaches, I find I have an appointment with Dr. Kildare instead of Dr. Casey. However, the NBC intern will have to take a back seat to ABC's chief resident when it comes to medicine. The show is entertaining, although Dr. Kildare could "toughen up" just a bit.

THURSDAY NIGHT is a good evening for family enjoyment. "Ozzie and Harriet," "Donna Reed Show," "My Three Sons," and "Hazel" are good family viewing—all injecting humor into the evening's viewing.

Then comes the "robot man" at 10 p.m. "Sing Along With Mitch" hits the air, and many times I would sing along with the song—well, it is often a little before my time and I neither know the words nor the tune. Then, even though I don't sing, Mitch reassuringly says, "You're doing better tonight."

Friday night comes, and I have problems. "Route 66," "Robert Taylor's Detectives," and "77 Sunset Strip" all run in an hour and a half—and all are hour shows. After resorting to "TV Guide," I make the big decision—and then wish I had watched one of the others.

Steve McNally takes the journalism honors at 10 p.m. on "Target: Corruptors." As Marino, Steve uncovers many rackets and leads a more-than-glamorous life as a journalist. The show is entertaining and has the usual theme, "crime doesn't pay."

WHEN IT COMES to the courtroom, Perry Mason is hired on Saturday evenings. After all, he's never lost a case yet! One wonders when Los Angeles will get a decent District Attorney. The rest of the evening is a mad scramble with nothing impressive until "Playboy's Penthouse"—and then it's time to turn the knob and call it quits for the evening.

The free-lance writers on Sunday's "Follow the Sun" usually produce an evening's entertainment, at least for an hour. However, sometimes they miss the boat completely and should "follow the sun."

"Bus Stop," after surviving criticism on its recent "Lion" program starring Fabian, is usually interesting—although slightly over-dramatic. But then, maybe that's the way things are at the bus stop.

And then the week either begins or ends, whichever way one looks at it, with ABC's "Adventures in Paradise." Gardner McKay walks away with the ribbon as "the guy one would most like to be stranded on the Tiki with"—or something. One has to really have an imagination, but then anything's possible.

Television was quite an invention, and I will vote to keep it rather than destroy it. It creates a world in itself. It is hard to imagine going to a detective agency and not seeing Van Williams, sailing on a ship without Gardner McKay, or facing an operation without Ben Casey's reassuring brown eyes.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Have you ever heard of "magnetic" ants? How did they get their name?

Answer. The "magnetic" ant is actually not an ant at all. It is an Australian species of termites. The technical name given them is hamitermes meridionalis. They are called "magnetic" because of the way in which they build their nests. The nests are built according to the compass, with the long axis of the nest facing accurately north and south, and the broad axis, east and west.

Question. Do you know which river is the mightiest on the continent of North America?

Answer. The river is the Mississippi. The name of the river comes from the Algonquian Indian words "Missi Sipi," meaning literally "Father of Waters." Born in Lake Itasca in Clearwater County of northwestern Minnesota, the river is only 12 feet wide and 18 inches deep as it begins its winding course. The river broadens out to 4,470 feet wide at the junction of the Ohio River and has a depth of 75 to 100 feet south of the junction. Two thousand five hundred fifty-two miles long, the Mississippi River and all its tributaries, with the exception of a few small tributaries of the Missouri River, lie entirely within the continental limits of the United States.

Question. Thinking back over our history, do you remember what the early locomotives looked like? Those early engines had big, bulging smokestacks. Do you know why?

Answer. These balloon or diamond-shaped smokestacks were used on the wood-burning iron horses to catch sparks and cinders so that they would not burn down the countryside. Some of the early trains had open passenger cars, so the management felt that it would not be too good a policy to allow a gentleman to get his hair singed or to allow the ladies' dresses to catch fire.

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Port Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1910, Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Port Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager . . . . . Jenny Manth
Managing Editor . . . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Mallough, Sharyn Yeger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitchell.
News Editor . . . . . Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor . . . . . Bill Wilder
Editorial Editor . . . . . Stuart Schmidt
Boys' Sports Editor . . . . . Janice Nahrwald
Girls' Sports Editor . . . . . Sue Keller, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett
Make-Up Editor . . . . . Betsy Adams
Picture Editor . . . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Photographers . . . . . Leanna Morris
Head Printer . . . . . Barb Altevogt
Business Manager . . . . . Sue Meyer
Assistant Business Manager . . . . . Pat Bailey
Advertising Manager . . . . . Dick Parke
Circulation Manager . . . . . Marcia Kuhn
Outside Circulation Manager . . . . . Marcia Kuhn
Circulation Assistants . . . . . Liz Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twitchell, Jane Erb, Sharyn Yeger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, James Rohrbaugh
Faculty Adviser . . . . . James Rohrbaugh

MINOR STAFF

News Writers . . . . . David Flannigan, Ann Flinniger, Ann Golden, Sharon Meachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Scholow, Margie Tarry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Connor, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yeger, Reoline Mann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Karen Franks, Christine Fruehenthal, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Marjorie Johnson, Ruth Russ, Donna Soares, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenhorst, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers . . . . . Mary Graham, Sue Kilmerman, Bonnie Brehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suelen Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lannan, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Ann Mite, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Eric Ross, Vicki Sauterlin, Becky Harrah, Barb Dussard, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Rinkenberg, Mary Harretta, Sue Smith, Jeanne Braden, Marjorie Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rinkhart, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Susie Weisrub, Karen Miller, Judy McKay, Barry McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jenn Ann McDaniel, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Robinson, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Brown, Jane Kettie, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yeger, Reoline Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bude Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carole Lisle, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Jan Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schillins, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lannan, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruehenthal, Sally Adams, Mary Eossey, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Rinkbery, Sue North, Sue Kline, Carole Ladie, Paul Mittelstaedt, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Marsha Hoard, Anell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriwotow, Diane Sautfrank.
Copy Editors . . . . . Kaylene Gevert, Dave Flannigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Countsman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonva Hansen, Donz Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margie Tarry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franks.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Kliefgen, Bob Leisner, Steven Lowens, Jon Pato, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenhorst.
Typists . . . . . Jennie Braden, Martha Hoard, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Bude.
Classroom News Editor . . . . . Celeste Rivenes
Paint Recorder . . . . . Steve Leitz
Mailing Manager . . . . . Vicki Adams
Auditor . . . . . Krystyna Kriwotow
Copy Returner . . . . . Allen Purdy
Exchange Editor . . . . . Vicki Adams
Credit Manager . . . . . Charlotte Powell
Assistant Credit Manager . . . . . Sonya Place
Librarian . . . . . Sonya Place
Paper Distributor . . . . . Chuck Bodenhorst

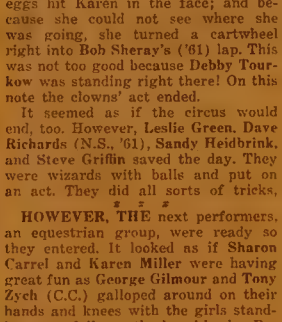

This boy at South is a senior A. The clarinet he likes to play.

Whether the tunes be moody or gay, Jazz he goes for in a big way. When he has left South Side forever, Attending business school's the next endeavor.

In pleasant, balmy or cool, crisp weather You'll find him playing with his dog, Heather.

In the Junior Achievement company Kitchko

He tries to earn a little dough. Giving vocal or physical support, Basketball is his favorite sport. If his name you haven't guessed, The ad action will end your quest.

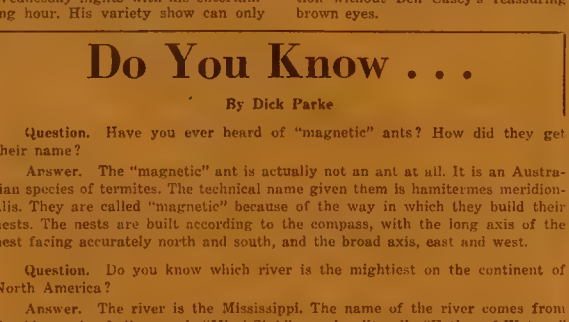

This boy at South is a senior A. The clarinet he likes to play.

Whether the tunes be moody or gay, Jazz he goes for in a big way. When he has left South Side forever, Attending business school's the next endeavor.

In pleasant, balmy or cool, crisp weather You'll find him playing with his dog, Heather.

In the Junior Achievement company Kitchko

He tries to earn a little dough. Giving vocal or physical support, Basketball is his favorite sport. If his name you haven't guessed, The ad action will end your quest.

This boy at South is a senior A. The clarinet he likes to play.

Whether the tunes be moody or gay, Jazz he goes for in a big way. When he has left South Side forever, Attending business school's the next endeavor.

In pleasant, balmy or cool, crisp weather You'll find him playing with his dog, Heather.

In the Junior Achievement company Kitchko

He tries to earn a little dough. Giving vocal or physical support, Basketball is his favorite sport. If his name you haven't guessed, The ad action will end your quest.

ANOTHER NIGHT THAT THERE IS THE TEACHER WHICH LEARNED ME ENGLISH

STILL ANOTHER NIGHT

OH, WHAT'S THE USE OF TRYING ANYMORE! AAAAAA!

Superior-Rated Archers To Pursue Top Honors

SUPERIOR MUSICIANS . . . Winners of the NISBOVA District Contest are front row, left to right, Jack Seigel, string division; Sue Penland, vocal division; and Clark Marquart, string division. In the back row, left to right, are Roger Vorholzer, vocal division; Rosie Capps, string division; and Tim Grodian, vocal division. —Photo by Lowden. (Another picture and story on Page 1.)

Jerry Young Ray Juncal, Build Model Automobiles For Contest

Fashioning wood with fiberglass fillers composes the agenda of model car designers Jerry Young, sophomore, and Ray Juncal, junior.

To carry out their interests, both are active in the Designers' Associated Club. In this club boys build model cars to enter in the annual Fisher Body contest in Detroit. The entries are judged, and cash awards or scholarships are presented.

Jerry Young, a sophomore, became interested in the Designers' Club through a friend. He has always enjoyed designing model cars. After graduating, Jerry plans to go to an architectural school to become an automotive designer.

DURING THE SUMMER, Jerry is a Shoaff Park Day Camp Counselor-in-Training, and competes on the Half Pint Racing Team. Through this team, he was able to enter an exhibit in the Rod and Customs Show at the coliseum this year which won a trophy for honorable mention.

Jerry enjoys go-cart racing, photography, and painting as outside hobbies.

Auto Collision Service
H. JEWETT, Prop.
5208 S. Hanna H-0691

Oxford Hardware
Housewares—Gifts—Paint
General Hardware
1508 Oxford St. H-3146

Self-Service or Drop-Offs
Washed, Dried, and Folded.
Finish Same Day.
1-Day Shirt Service.
Dry Cleaning
SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT
4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

Headquarters For OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS
818 CALHOUN ST.  818 CALHOUN ST.

Beaver Beauty Salon
1112 Home Avenue H-3363
MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator
Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
This week's Small Snaps is Dave Riemen.
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . 15c

Drivers Education Includes 100 Pupils For New Semester

Basic fundamentals of driving, good driving habits, and different parts of the car will be taught to the 100 students who entered drivers training classes this semester. The fee for the course is $5.

"Unless a person takes drivers training classes, he cannot get his regular license until he has kept his beginner's license for six months. Drivers licenses might be attained sooner for those who take drivers training," stated Mr. Glen Stebing, driver education instructor.

THOSE PUPILS IN the first period class are William Badders, Jean Beer, Sally Boyer, Sharon Chase, Christie Counsman, Terry Dierkes, Claudia Hullinger, Marcia Larson, Jerry McCorkle, Marsha Muncy, Nancy Nordeen, Jim Plummer, Joanne Rose, John Stirlen, Karen Swygart, Tony Trice, and Pete Tauloff.

Third period class students are James Abramson, Lynda Barnhill, Gunther Bauer, Nancy Beard, Joyce Berberich, Jerry Dunlap, Carol Harader, Tom Hetfield, John Karr, Bill Kinsey, James Markton, Barrie McCombs, Robert Osborne, Paul Pratico, David Reinhold, Rebecca Rickert, Clark Roberts, Darwin Romey, Karen Stookey, and Gwen Yordy.

Those pupils having fourth period drivers' training class are Peggy Brase, Janet Brenn, Gail Brumm, Martha Dixon, Joyce Dunlap, Greg Dunnuck, Andie Eldridge, Carol Forsgren, Mary Jo Kraus, Allan Mason, Diane McClure, Gaynell Musser, Carole Ladig, Roger Post, Sherry Powell, David Reidenbach, Ann Shilling, Karen Snively, and Gary Tinkel.

BRIAN BENNINGTON, Jacquelyn Berry, Jerome Berry, Pat Bobay, Cheri Craig, Anita Dawning, Dale Engle, Robert Englehart, Connie Fugate, Mike Hartsox, James Hughes, Sharon Karst, Paul Laclair, Nancy Libby, Mike McAllister, Dick Robinson, Hans Wanger, Julie Waddington, Jack Whitten, and Brad Zieg are learning to drive during period six.

Those pupils in class the seventh period are Dave Banet, Jeffery Bloom, Barbara Buzzard, Judy Chaudron, Ronald Cox, Martha Dinius, Beverly Emrich, Marva Evans, Dianne Friedman, Cheryl Klenzak, Linda Neff, Bill Paris, Ann Raatz, Chris Rapis, Donna Rudasky, Tom Stephan, Vicky Wismer, and Brent Zieg.

Students Receive Pins

Seventeen students received their bronze, silver, gold, or gold-jeweled pins for Times work last semester.

Pupils receiving their bronze pins, 1,500 points, are Doris Atzeff and Jean Hatfield. Silver pins, 3,000 points, have been awarded to Cindy Jackson, Karen Franks, and Bonnie Smith. Students earning their gold pin, 5,000 points, include Erin Rose, Dick Parke, and Sally Sweet. Gold-jeweled pins, 10,000 points, have been earned by Ann Flickinger, Sue Kelley, Kenny Lowden, Mike Seaman, Jenny Manth, Roberta Twitchell, Bill Wilder, Leanna Morris, and Pat Bailey.

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Ed Parrish Servicenter
Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Fort Wayne Indiana Extension To Offer New Business Course

The Fort Wayne Center of Indiana University is offering six two-year certificate courses, three in business and three in arts and sciences. The general business program is designed to give the student a well-rounded understanding of the fundamentals of modern business.

Approximately half of the required courses in the plan are in the basic fields of arts and sciences; the required courses in business provide for a broad background in the basic areas of business management.

Persons who wish to have a broad background in liberal arts and to have specialization in accounting and business management, may take the accounting course.

The secretarial science is the plan for those students who wish to prepare for professional secretarial positions. Approximately half of the required courses are in the basic field of arts and sciences.

THE REQUIRED courses in business include courses in secretarial skills as well as in the basic courses of business and office management.

The humanities certificate in the liberal arts course is designed for those who wish to concentrate in the humanities within the two-year, 60-hour semester program. The courses in this certificate meet the usual first two-year requirements for most liberal arts degrees with a major in humanities.

Persons who wish to concentrate in the social sciences within the two-year program can take the social science certificate course. The courses in this certificate meet the usual first two-year requirements for the most liberal arts degrees, with a major in one of the social sciences.

The certificate in mathematics and sciences meets the needs of students who wish to secure employment in the various technical fields requiring a knowledge of the physical sciences and mathematics such as industrial chemistry and laboratory technology.

THE PROGRAM ALSO meets the basic requirements for medical technology.

Twelve Seniors

(Continued from Page 1)

transfer to the University of Michigan to specialize. Chemistry is his favorite subject.

ANN GOLDEN is undecided as to her future school. Active in Philo, Totem, Times, Library Club, and Service Club, Ann still finds time to work on Latin, her favorite subject.

Math is Babs Jones's favorite course, and she hopes to major in it next year either at Purdue University or Michigan State. Babs is Totem Editor this year and also serves as captain of the cheerleaders.

Evert Mol plans a career in chemical engineering and will go to Purdue to pursue this course of study. Evert is active in cross country and Lettermen Club.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology will have Lyall Morrill among its student body next year. Lyall will major in math or science. Lyall was also named a semi-finalist in the General Motors contest.

Terry Nevendorp also was recently named a semi-finalist in the General Motors contest, will study engineering at Purdue. Terry is active in both the Physics Club and Math Club, branches of the Junior Academy of Science.

HAVING BEEN accepted at Wash College, Steve Pratt will study physics and philosophy next fall. Steve is active in band.

A sports car enthusiast, Jeff Roth also participates in Hi-Y and Intramurals. His most unusual hobby is playing the bagpipes. Jeff has chosen Michigan State as his future college.

Dave Schele plans to become an architect after studying at the University of Cincinnati. His favorite course at South Side is math.

Assemblies Workshop, Hi-Y, Wranglers, and DeMolay claim much of Phil Spray's time. Phil hopes to attend either Dartmouth or DePaw to study math.

An actuarial career is the goal of Jim Walker who will attend the University of Michigan.

Dan McCroskey is headed for a career in medicine and plans to study at Indiana University next fall.

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2636 South Anthony H-3381

nology, pre-pharmacy, pre-medicine, pre-dentistry, and a number of other professional degree programs.

Students completing the social sciences certificate can transfer to degree programs with majors in the sciences or in the professional areas mentioned above without the loss of credit.

A certificate is granted by the University Center at the successful completion of a two-year program. The three general requirements for all the certificate programs are admission as a regular student to Indiana University which includes all orientation test requirements;

Two Indians Tour School To Analyze Educational System

Visiting South Side last Thursday afternoon were two Indiana Technological College students, Jitendra Sanghvia and Navin Gangar, from India.

Tom McMahon, post-graduate, acted as host to the two students who have been in America since September, 1961. When they return to India, the two men plan to write articles concerning their impressions of the American education system.

AFTER A GENERAL tour of the school during fourth period, the visitors were guests of Mr. Robert Drummond, music director, and the band for fifth period.

Using English with a British accent, Mr. Sanghvi explained Indian music and education to the group. He described the various popular instruments in his country and the equivalents of them in America.

Studying chemical engineering at Indiana Tech., Mr. Sanghvi stated that many students learn as many as four languages in India. He explained how hard it is for students to obtain a college education in his country because there are only about thirty colleges.

MR. GANGAR, A student of mechanical engineering, then gave the band a sample of Indian music by playing his harmonica. He, like his colleague, is a member of the Hindu faith.

During the afternoon, Tom showed the two young men the new chemistry laboratory, the library, and the cafeteria. They also had the opportunity to see the procedure of a developmental reading class and to visit the Times and the School Press rooms.

Choir To Sing At Dinner

Performing for the twenty-first time this school year, 40 members of the concert choir will present a musical program at the Van Orman Hotel ballroom tomorrow at 8 p.m. of the Lincoln Day Dinner.

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.

333 S. Clinton A-8411

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors

1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick Camera Shop

407 West Washington Phone A-9119

Plaza Beauty Salon

H-6298

Open Evenings Till 9

Southgate

Times Circulation Staff Attains 100 Per Cent Sales In School

MONEY, MONEY! . . . Paying for the last subscription at the end of the Times campaign for this semester, left to right, Phyllis Pierson; Christie Counsman; Tom Erb, circulation assistant; and Dick Parke, circulation manager. At the end of the campaign on Friday, every homeroom had 100 per cent subscriptions for the Times.—Photo by Jones

For the sixth consecutive semester the South Side Times circulation staff has achieved 100 per cent sales in the school. Doris Atzeff's Book II was the first to attain 100 per cent.

Agents Doug Hansen, sophomore, and Barb Nelson, sophomore, were the high salesmen on the first day of the campaign and will receive $3 and $2, respectively.

All promissory notes must be paid by March 23. When all promissory notes are paid in full, those students who purchase a Times will receive candy bars.

The price of a subscription for those who are not alumni of South is $1 per semester. For alumni the subscription price is $1.50 per year. The books and the agents are listed as follows:

|                                  |      |
|----------------------------------|------|
| Book I—Liz Weikart, head         |      |
| S-1 Alice Ashton-Tamara Beaty    | 100% |
| S-2 Kaylene Gebert-Ann Golden    | 100% |
| S-4 Sandy Miller-Sue Phillips    | 100% |
| S-5 Sandy Thorn                  | 100% |
| 2 Bonnie Russell                 | 100% |
| 4 Sharyan Yergler                | 100% |
| 6 Sue Berk                       | 100% |
| 8 Sharon Bitman                  | 100% |
| 10 Joyce Lockwood-Becky Baughman | 100% |
| Book II—Doris Atzeff, head       |      |
| 12 Joyce Dunlap                  | 100% |
| 14 Nancy Stewart                 | 100% |
| 22 Celeste Rieman                | 100% |
| 24 Babette Jones                 | 100% |
| 26 Peggy Schmidt                 | 100% |
| 28 Roberta Twitchell             | 100% |
| 30 Terry Nevendorp               | 100% |
| 32 Barrie Spear                  | 100% |
| 34 Susan Robinson                | 100% |
| Book III—Roberta Twitchell, head |      |
| 36 Sue Burdick                   | 100% |
| 44 Nancy O'Connell               | 100% |
| 45 Gunther Bauer-Sharon Gaffis   | 100% |
| 46 Leanna Morris-Eileen Mayle    | 100% |
| 52 Karen Simmons                 | 100% |
| 54 Diana Ornas-Harriet Ochstein  | 100% |
| 56 Doris Hessert                 | 100% |
| 58 Susan Lawry                   | 100% |
| 60 Larry Brown-Sue Borgmann      | 100% |

Annell Hoover Cops Title

Annell Hoover, junior A, has been named Writer of the Week for her editorial in the February 8 issue of the Times. Annell will receive a 100-point bonus and will be eligible for the Time's Writing Trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

REIFF PHARMACY
Complete Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Remember To Include Town Talk BUTTER-BREAD
on your shopping list

DAN'S BARBER SHOP
1307 Oxford
QUICK SERVICE—TWO BARBERS—HAIRCUTS—Any Style For Men or Women

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP
Featuring New Fall and Winter Formals and Cocktail Dresses
K-2530 2426 S. Calhoun

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD
McDONALD'S
No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.
AND NOW—NEW NO. 3
JEFFERSON at HARRISON

Davis Beauty Salon
Tom and Marilyn Davis
Carmen Silvius
Styling • Permanent Waving
4039 S. Wayne K-9824

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Tigers Squeak By Archers 49-41, Assume Lead In City Series Race

Mart Platupe, Kenny Leakey Boost Scoring

Foes' Rod Haywood, Cletus Edmonds Push Win In Last Minutes

Once again the Archers failed to gain the good graces of Lady Luck and lost out to a hard-worked Central squad 49-41 at the Coliseum last Friday. Though ball-handling was not superior, South fought an exciting game to avenge the 43-40 squeaker that fell to the Blue just three weeks earlier.

The Tigers were taken aback by the Quiver-carriers' improvement and were unable to afford benching the first five in the second quarter, Coach Banet's usual strategy. In fact, the Striped-Cats' two big men, Cletus Edmonds and Rod Haywood, were forced to remain in nearly the entire game to fight the hard playing Bowmen off the boards and on defense.

High scorers of the evening were Haywood and long-shooting, high-flying Archie Smith of Central. Both collected 13 markers. Mart Platupe led the Archers with 12, followed by fellow-guard Ken Leakey, who sank 11, and Dale Hilsmer, who potted 10 tallies. Edmonds and Sam Kelsey, each of whom played excellently for Coach Banet, had seven points apiece.

HILSMIER, PLAYING forward for a change, lit the fuse under the Kellys with two long fielders to start the game and push the Green into a 4-0 lead. Platupe kept the Bow-benders ahead by canning three field goals and a free throw and feeding Dave Meyer for a fourth beautiful bucket. Leakey chipped in a charity shot to round out the Archer total to 14 for the first quarter. Central collected eight at Haywood and Kelsey flipped in three each, and Larry Kuhn got his only two points of the night.

The second period was just the reverse of the first stanza, with the Tigers outplaying South 14-8. Banet shook up his guards a little and inserted different combinations to get the ball moving. The result was that the Tigers began shooting over the Archers' zone and hitting with fair consistency, six of 18 on the quarter.

SMITH FIRED IN two long jumpers; and Haywood picked up a tip-in and free throw to pull Central up to a 19-15 deficit, Platupe and Leakey having connected for South. Then Kelsey and the Banks brothers, Nate and Herb, hustled the Cats into a 22-22 half time tie. Bob Lohman got the last fielder for the Arrow-men, and Gary Probst hit the first of a one-and-one opportunity before the intermission.

Haywood rammed in the first bucket of the second half, and Central was never to be behind again. Leakey did come right back to tie the count at 24-24 and latter at 29-29, but the Green could never regain the lead.

Smith singled the nets with two more long blasts, and Haywood picked up six more points besides the two opening the period. Edmonds converted two charity tosses to roll the Tiger count up to 36. Leakey got hot, sinking six points from out, and Hilsmer tallied four, three on one drive-in play with a foul.

WHEN PLATUPE CASHED in a free flip and Leakey banged in another fielder to start the final period, the margin was cut to one point. Smith slipped through the defense for a lay-up, and Nate Banks followed shortly with a bucket on a nice feed from Kelsey to carry Central to a 40-37 lead.

Platupe, having just converted two free throws, potted a long one to put the Kellys just one marker back, but Kelsey and Smith hit to give Central a 44-39 margin with barely two minutes left.

Tom McMahon collected the Reichert-men's final basket with a full 1:40 to go, but fouls gave the Tigers their final five points and the game.

Neither team shot exceptionally well. South hit 16 of 53 or .310 and nine of 16 from the foul line, while Central scored on 19 of 67 shots for a .284 percentage. The Tigers collected 11 of 19 tries from the foul line.

Defensive Specialist, Ted Rolf Aids Reserve Team In Victory

Defensive player, Ted Rolf, led South Side's reserve basketball team to a close 32-30 victory over Central on February 10 at the Coliseum.

Rolf who was very effective in both the first and second periods in breaking up Central's all-court press with some clever faking scored the Archers' only two baskets in the fourth quarter to bring them from behind to a victory.

The Archers got off to a fast start playing smooth, errorless ball and potted four field goals before the Tigers connected. Led by Don Hilsmer, who sank three field goals with his deadly jumpshot from the corner, the Archers ran up a lead of 11-4 at the end of the first quarter.

Having shown outstanding ball control in the first period, the Archers' attack completely fell apart. While the

Huntertown Whips Freshman Cagers By Score Of 50-27

Making many costly mistakes that resulted in baskets for the opposition, South Side's freshman team was defeated by Huntertown's big Wildcats by a score of 50-27 on February 5 at Huntertown.

Everyone had a bad night as the Green committed 20 errors. Missed lay-ups and close-in shots also contributed to the loss.

A bucket from the corner by Steve Freck and a quick 20-footer by Bill Hankins gave the Wildcats a quick 4-0 lead in the first quarter. Ron Van Ryn put South into the scoring column by sinking a free throw, but Huntertown came back with a charity toss by Sam Sloffer and another bucket by Freck. The two teams then traded a pair of baskets, and the quarter ended with Huntertown leading, 11-5.

SOUTH INITIATED the scoring in the second stanza on a straight-away shot by Mike Vogt. Huntertown came back on three points by Bob Yates and a basket by Dick Schilling. Lynn Hoover sank a foul shot and scored on a jumper from the key to close the gap to six points. Yates drove in for two more for the Wildcats, and Chip Bolman rounded out the scoring in the half with a 15-footer for the Green, making the score 18-12 in favor of Huntertown.

The third quarter found Huntertown outscoring the Green by 15-8 as they took a 33-20 lead. In this period, South errors began to hurt them. On some occasions, they could not get the ball across the ten-second line before being called for an infraction.

Huntertown, who used a full-court press during most of the tilt, capitalized on these opportunities and turned them into baskets. Bob Kinsey led the scoring for the Green in this quarter with four points, while Sam Sloffer paced Huntertown with five.

A TEN-POINT STREAK spanning most of the final stanza sewed it up for the 'Cats as they piled up 17 points before the final buzzer. South scored seven points in the fourth quarter.

High point men for Huntertown were Steve Freck and Bob Yates with 11, followed by Sam Sloffer and Denny Disler with eight each. Jan Doran paced the scoring for South Side with six points. Lynn Hoover and Ron Van Ryn followed with five.

Room S-4 Leads Banking

Thirty-nine homerooms banked a total of $263.53 on February 6. Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 placed first with three students banking a total of $37. Five students in Miss Mary Graham's Room 54 deposited $33 for second place, and ten students in Miss Olive Perkins' Room 90 banked $21.85 for third place.

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP
COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Intramurals are moving along at a fast pace, with eight games being played in volleyball and seven badminton matches being contested recently.

The Scrubs' volleyball team edged the Bombers in a close match, 15-12, 16-16. Leading the Scrubs was Dan Dewald with six points, and Chris Raptis and Rick Meeks, each with five. Glen Billman sparked the Bombers with eight points while Rick Kurtz chipped in seven.

The Dukes toppled the Fleas, 15-7, 15-13. Dick Robbins served for seven points and Butch Fletcher scored six to pace the victors. Leading the Fleas was Jim Mann with seven points.

The Twisters USA then routed the Flyin' Tigers, 15-12, 15-6. The Twisters were led by Ben Smith with nine points and Dave Fleming, who continually spiked the ball through the Flyin' Tigers. Phil New led the losers with six points.

The Batchelors eliminated the Natur Boys, 15-5 and 15-12. Bob Hart led the victors with seven points, and George Paris and Larry Lyman each scored five. Leading the Natur Boys was Dave Yancy with five points and Steven Jones with four.

The Bombers shaded the Fleas, 15-12, 15-12. Glen Billman fashioned seven points and Brude Fletcher and John Esslinger each scored six. Tom Wenger was practically a one-man team as he scored 11 points in a losing cause.

The Mighty Few then whipped the Bahlis, 15-4, 9-15, and 13-10. Dave Kiemer totaled 13 points on serves and Jerry Howard added seven to lead the victors. Russ Wickham led the Bahlis' squad with 13 points and Don Potter chipped in six.

The Phone-Tacks then trounced the Phoneys, 9-15, 15-9, 15-8. Dave Tipton, Dale Smith, and Bill Borgmann scored nine, eight, and seven points, respectively, for the Phone-Tacks. Don Dawson and Greg Roselli each scored seven points for the Phoneys.

The Spartans' Four, led by Gene Stier and Jim Reichard, then ran roughshod over the Leftovers, winning 15-4, 15-2. Reichard and Stier both scored eight points for the victors. Leading the Leftovers was Bob Horn with four points.

The Flyin' Tigers then shaded the Bachelors, 15-13, 15-12. Jim Hawkins scored for 11 points and Mike Tomkinson scored nine points for the Flyin' Tigers. Bob Hart, Bob Camp, and Bill Matlock each scored five points for the Bachelors.

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway
E-7671

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

"We carry all makes of portable typewriters"
Sold on the rental payment plan
See Us Before You Buy . . . And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

Pedestrian: A father whose son beat him to the garage.

3818 S. Calhoun

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—
T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford

H-2185

Kellys To Compete With Elmhurst Five In Primary Contest

From all indications it appears as though South Side's Archers will find the Fort Wayne Sectional trail a great deal harder to blaze this year. The Archers drew the Elmhurst Trojans in their first contest and will probably have to face two other city squads if they survive in the well-balanced tourney.

The Archers will play their first game in the Sectional Tourney next Thursday against the same Trojan team that they defeated on January 20 by a 52-47 count. The Green, if it wins, will play the winner of the Leo-New Haven game which will be played next Wednesday.

If the Archers stay in contention, they will probably have to defeat their arch-rivals North Side for the lower bracket championship. North will face Huntertown Thursday and will probably triumph over the Monroeville-Harlan victor. But if one remembers, North has been ousted from the tourney by county-team upsets for the past two years.

In the upper bracket it appears as though Central or C.C. should come out victorious and probably meet South or North in the final game next Saturday night. In the upper bracket Concordia plays Central. The winner of that game plays the victor of the Woodlan-C.C. game, with the surviving quintet playing the winner of the Arcola-Luers contest.

Student To Earn $5 Prize For Sectional Predictions

For the second year, The South Side Times sports staff is sponsoring a Sectional prediction contest. Participants must fill out the Sectional bracket in the brochure when it is distributed February 21, listing the score of the final game and sign his name at the bottom of the bracket. The bracket must be turned into the sports editor's desk in the Times room before 4 p.m. Wednesday.

The winner of the contest will be the person who has correctly picked the individual winners and who has listed a final score which is closest to the actual final score. First prize will be five dollars. Second and third place awards will be three and two dollars, respectively. Winners will be notified in their homerooms on the following Tuesday.

Members of the sports staff and major staff of the Times will not be eligible.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Adolph's Auto Service

4220 South Clinton H-4152

KNIPSTEIN

Pharmacy
1527 Oxford St.

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.

Ft. Wayne, Ind.

K-3305

Nate Norment, Karl Bandemer Form Nucleus Of Track Team

NECK AND NECK . . . Finishing a trial lap around the gymnasium, Nate Norment, left, and Karl Bandemer practice for the coming track season, beginning at the close of the basketball season. Mr. Robert Germand, clocking the boys, is the varsity track coach.—Photo by Jones

THE COMPTOMETER SCHOOL
Day and Night Classes Forming
305 Central Bldg. A-7217

Coney Island WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.
Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

3717 S. Clinton St.

DIGGS - H-4286

R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun
U Fountain
School Supplies
G Vitamins
S Prescription
Specialists

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY
WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

Phone: T-1141

"Fresh up"

It's practically un-American not to eat Azar's Cherry Pie in February!

Will your loyalty be questioned? Don't let it! Join the crowds at Azar's! (Super patriots ask for Cherry Pie Ala Model)

Azar's BIG BOY

2440 W. Washington
Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun
S. Calhoun at Berry

Kellys To Face Logansport In Final Tilt, Hope To Avenge Losses Before Sectionals

Berries Lack Height, Sport 11-8 Record

Opposing Five Display Deadly Ball Handling, Outside Shooting Skills

Journeying to Logansport for their last game of the season, the Archers will be attempting to snap a four-game losing streak and prepare a good combination for the fast-approaching Sectional Tourney. The contest will be played tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in the Berry Bowl at Logansport and will prove to be a severe test of the Archer strength.

Though appearing to be a lesser contest in the Archer scheme, particularly with the present conditions of the Green record, this game could be important in determining the overall attitude of the Kelly forces in the Sectional.

Lacking much overall or individual height, the Berries have had a rather bleak season along the lines of the Archers. The difference, however, is in the opponents of the two squads.

LOGANSPORT HAS met and fallen to such perennial powerhouses as Muncie Central, Kokomo, and South Bend Central. Coach Jim Jones has several experienced veterans but many of these boys are small and thus have trouble competing with bigger boys.

The most logical starters for Logansport are Wes Parmeter at center, Chuck Fiedler and Kenny Gundrum at forwards, and Fred Hillis and Larry Parmeter at guards. Wes Parmeter, at 6-1, is rather short for a center but jumps well. Not carrying too much weight, only 157 pounds, he still battles the big boys pretty well. Fiedler and Gundrum are both 6-2 but once again are very light. However, both are very speedy and are not to be taken lightly by their heavier Archer opponents. This front line has good balance in height and scoring and has spelled the difference in several of the Red and Black contests.

AT GUARDS COACH Jones has 5-9 Fred Hillis, an up-and-coming junior, and five-foot Larry Parmeter, an established senior veteran of several campaigns. Both of these boys are very short but dribble and pass very well. If given the opportunity these boys will drive hard and fast, taking advantage of lax laxity on the part of a zone defense.

Their outside shooting, particularly at home, is deadly and must be stopped if the Archers are to have any chance for victory at all. The second string is taller than the starters on the average but are not nearly so adept as the first-string quintet.

The Berries and the Archers have had only two common opponents this season, those being Mishawaka and Huntington. In the second game of the season Logansport dropped Mishawaka, 62-55. Yet only two weeks ago they were defeated by Huntington in a very hard-fought contest, 53-51.

THE GREEN DEFEATED Huntington in their own gym but lost the Mishawaka game. Logansport has lost to top-rated Muncie Central and number-one-rated Kokomo by 17 and 19 points, respectively. The Berries have also beaten Monticello, Frankfort, Wabash, Garfield Tech, Jefferson Township, Marion, and Winamac.

Though weaker than usual this year, eight wins and 11 losses, the Berries will present the Archers, now six and 13, with very stiff competition.

Club To Tour Photo Lab

A conducted tour through the Howard Photography Laboratory is on the agenda for the Camera Club meeting Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 70.

Paul Leopold, treasurer, gave a demonstration of composites at the last meeting.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Cole Realty Co.

OFFICE H-4107, H-4108

"Always Deal With a Realtor"

Service With You in Mind!

Multiple Listing Member of Trade-In Corp.

Romane Cole Res. H-2752

Paul Says:

Modern man is one who takes a bank-financed vacation driving a mortgaged car over a bond financed road on credit card gasoline.

HESS INSURANCE AGENCY

General Insurance

132 E. Berry St. (2nd Floor)
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana
Phones: E-2424-Res., H-8928

Stu's Sideline shots

By Stu Schmits

Regular-season play winds up for the 1961-62 basketball campaign this week end, and the City Series title race will be settled tomorrow evening. South wraps up their disappointing season tomorrow night when they travel to Logansport. The Berries are well-regarded in their area, and should be definite favorites. The Archers, however, have been showing steady improvement; and they could give the host squad a run for their money if they start rolling.

Last week's City Series loss to Central was far from one of the most exciting games between these rival teams. As a matter of fact, it was one of the duller Central-South games in many years partly due to the fact that it was one of the first times in several years that the Archers met the Tigers on the hardwood with nothing riding on the outcome.

Central's victory over the Archers was their fifty-third against 55 losses, and it marked the first time since the '54-'55 season that Herb Banet's Blue handed the Archers a double loss, the first loss coming last month by a 43-40 verdict.

Despite the fact that the game was error-filled, and the shooting was at a medium, the Archers performed generally much better than they have been recently. Neither team was really up for the game, and the Tigers didn't look nearly as good as they did against North the previous week.

Tomorrow evening's game between Central and C.C. will finally determine the city champion. A Tiger victory will give Coach Banet's Blue their third straight outright championship, while an Irish victory will give Terry Coonan and his squad their first title in history, a goal Coach Coonan has been after for several years. Two years ago the Irish enjoyed one of their best campaigns under Coonan, but the other city squads were also strong and that was the year the Tigers began their present title string.

On the state scene the Madison Cubs extended their win string to 58 and defended their third-place standing in the state poll by rolling over fifth-rated Evansville Bosse by a 59-51 count, which moved them within one game of an unprecedented third-straight unbeaten regular season.

That game with Lawrenceburg might put a jinx on the Cubs for the third straight years also, for the Cubs have yet to withstand the state title chase going into the tourney undefeated. Top-ranked Kokomo and second-rated East Chicago Washington don't have to worry about state basketball "superstition" because their records are already blemished with one loss.

Here are my final predictions for the 1961-62 season: Central vs. C.C.—The Irish will have to postpone their title dreams again this year. The Tigers are stronger and should win another city title.

South Bend Adams vs. North—The Redskins aren't in contention in the NIC and should find league-leader Adams too strong to handle.

Elmhurst vs. Ossian—I'll take Ossian by a slight margin.

Butler vs. Luers—This figures to be victory No. 15 for the Knights.

South vs. Logansport—An Archer victory would sure make a lot of noise, but the Berries should be victorious.

Elmhurst vs. New Haven—I'll take the Trojans in a close battle.

Concordia vs. Berne—This figures to be one of Concordia's toughest games, and they probably won't have quite enough to outplay the Bears.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2330 Fort Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA AUTO DRIVING SCHOOL . . .

- Dual Controlled Training Cars
- Manual or Automatic Transmission
- Professional Instructors
- Convenient Door-to-Door Service
- Individual Instruction

H-3303

Leakey, Baack Top Selections On Times All-City Cage Squad

South Sides' Ken Leakey and Concordia's sophomore star, Tom Baack, topped the list on The South Side Times All-City basketball team for the '61-'62 season. Dale Hilsmer was placed on the second team.

Joining Leakey at the other honored guard position is North Side's Steve Esterline. Big Rod Haywood, spark-plug on a powerful Central team, won the center position honors while Central Catholic's Steve Krull flanks Baack at forward. Thus, five different schools are represented on the All-City first team as composed by the Times staff.

On the second squad North Side's Mark Krieg captured the center spot. Central's Cleve Edmonds plays opposite Hilsmer at forward position, and Tony Zych of C.C. and Archie Smith of Central were selected for guard posts.

CENTRAL THUS PUT three men on the two honor teams. South Side, North Side, and Central Catholic

Cindermen Prepare To Vie With Culver At Indoor Contests

The track team is looking forward to a good season this year although it has been forced to work out inside the school because of weather conditions. The boys have been trying to get in shape for about two weeks and are beginning to get ready for their first meets. The first one will be an indoor meet at Culver Military Academy on March 16. The following is the schedule of the track meets for this season:

- March
16 At Culver, varsity and reserve.
- April
3 Elmhurst, here, varsity and reserve.
4 Elkhart, here, varsity and reserve.
9 At Kokomo, varsity and reserve.
13 Triangular, Central, at North, varsity.
17 At C.C., varsity and reserve.
21 North Relays, varsity.
24 At Muncie Central, varsity and reserve.
28 Delphi Relays, varsity.
30 Luers, here, varsity and reserve.
- May
3 At Central, varsity and reserve.
5 Lima Relays, varsity.
11 Sectional, varsity.
15 At North Side, reserve.
18 Regional, varsity.
22 At Huntington, varsity and reserve.
26 State, varsity.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons

Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithography
613-41 High Street A-3313

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

- Science
- Engineering
- General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

Dave Meyer Sparks Quintet, Applies Height In Rebounding

Junior Dave Meyer has assisted Archer teams for the last three years. He has starred on Kelly football teams each fall, holding a starting position on this year's varsity team. Dave was voted onto the second string all-city team though he was out of action the toughest team the Kelly five competed against this year. Dave stated that he thought the Archer squad was tops in the city. Dave continued by saying he thinks South will win Sectionals. "Central and North will be tough," Dave commented, "but South should reign victorious."

Dave thinks the team's defense could stand some improvement. He cites shooting as his own weak point but should prove a great asset to the team next week and throughout the Sectional tilts.

Dave Meyer

with a fractured wrist a great part of the season.

In his sports career, Dave has also participated in basketball. Not only did he play on the freshman and reserve squads, but he played some varsity and was on the sectional team during his sophomore year.

This year, Dave has been hampered by the broken wrist suffered in football. After the cast was removed, the wrist and arm were unusable due to the long interval. However, Dave has worked back into shape very rapidly and has seen some action in the last few games.

Dave attended James H. Smart School before coming to South. He received his hardwood experience there.

Dave feels that Michigan City was

Tickets To Go On Sale

Sectional tickets costing $3 for the 15 games played go on sale today in homerooms. Persons eligible for purchasing tickets on this date are student season-ticket holders. Homeroom teachers will have a list of the names of pupils who may buy tickets today.

Anyone who thinks his name has been accidentally omitted from the list may send a note including his name and homeroom number to the athletic office explaining why he should be permitted to order a ticket.

Ticket sales will start on Friday for the adult season-ticket holders. On Monday the remaining tickets may be purchased by the general public. At this time those students that do not have season tickets may purchase Sectional tickets.

Students buying tickets must sign their names agreeing that their tickets are to be used only by them.

COLONIAL Restaurant

E-2000

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451

4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana

NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

- It is pure
- It is CLEAN
- It's uncracked
- It's more uniform
- It causes less carbon
- It is fresh
- It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Chairs and Tables That Fold LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Haag Drug, Inc.

5016 Old Decatur Rd.

Reg. 98c

45 R.P.M. Records 84¢

Complete Selection of Long-Play Albums

Hall's Drive-Ins

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

COMPLETE PRINTING
FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your job in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-5055

Seven Pupils To Submit Articles On 'Advertising And Free World' To High School Editorial Contest

City Essayist To Get Plaque, To Compete For National Honors

Writing on the topic, "Advertising and the Free World," seven students will represent the school in the 1962 Fort Wayne High School Editorial Contest sponsored by the Fort Wayne Advertising Club.

The Archers chosen by Mr. James Rohrabugh, publications adviser, to submit essays are Jenny Manth, Roberta Twitchell, Sue Kelley, Sandy Thorn, Bill Wilder, Peggy Schmidt, and Sue Smith.

Last year Jim Carter, '61, placed third, writing on the topic, "Advertising—A Force for Democracy."

The essays, to be submitted to the local Advertising Club by March 7, may be 1,000 or less words in length; however, one word over the 1,000 mark will disqualify the entry.

POINTS WHICH the essayists may consider in their editorials as suggested by the Advertising Club are the following:

To be free is to have liberty. This involves, among other constitutional rights, equality before the courts, security of private property, freedom of opinion and expression. Denied any of these rights, an individual and the world of which he is a part, is not free.

Freedom of the press is one form of liberty. Freedom to vote for a candidate of your choice is another. And when candidates run for office they advertise, through posters, newspapers, radio, and television.

Should these candidates and, for that matter, companies which offer products and services for sale have the right and freedom to advertise? Should advertising be considered a means of "freedom of opinion and expression"? Is it a necessary adjunct of the free world?

The writers are encouraged to express their opinions on the approximately twelve billion dollars which was expended to promote the sale and acceptance of goods and services in 1960.

TO BE JUDGED by a panel of five prominent Fort Wayne individuals, the editorials will be considered on the basis of originality of thought, accuracy of information, and clarity of expression.

In the local competition the first prize will be a $50 savings bond, an individual award plaque, the inscription of the winner's name on a permanent high school plaque, and the chance to place in the competition on the national level.

A $25 savings bond and an individual award plaque will be the second prize, and the third place finisher will receive a $15 cash award and an individual award plaque.

Four honorable mention awards of $5 each plus award plaques will also be made.

THE ESSAY OF THE TOP prize contestant on the local level will be automatically entered in the national competition which is sponsored by the Advertising Federation of America with offices in New York.

Participants in the national contest will be eligible for the grand prize award of $500 and an all-expense-paid trip to the fifty-eighth annual advertising convention of the Advertising Federation of America to be conducted June 23 to 27 in Denver, Colo.

During the convention the national winner will be presented with his check and a Certificate of Award plaque.

Second prize in the national contest will consist of $250, a complete advertising course scholarship for the International Correspondence School, and a Certificate of Award plaque.

A third prize of $100 and a certificate will be awarded, as will be honorable mention awards of $50 and of certificates.

Philo Members To Write Limericks, Learn Song

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, will instruct members of Philo in the singing of "White and Gold," one of the club's songs, at the next meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

Initiation of new members and a special limerick-writing contest will be included in the program. "No advance preparation for the contest is necessary. All members will write limericks, in groups of three or four, at the meeting. The winning group will receive a prize," stated Martha Dixon, program chairman.

New members will wear green and white ribbons until Monday, then receive yellow and white ones during the initiation ceremony, which will be presided over by Erin Rose, vice-president, and Ann Gallmeyer, sergeant-at-arms.

Designers' Finish Cars

Comparing notes and working on entries for the Fisher Body Automobile designing contest, the members of the Designers' Associated Club will continue with the completion of their projects at the February 23 meeting at 3:30 p.m. in Room 129.

ADVERTISING ARTICLE AUTHORS . . . To write essays titled "Advertising and the Free World" for the Fort Wayne Editorial Contest, Sue Kelley, seated, left, and Sandy Thorn, right, read ads; while, back, left to right, Peggy Schmidt, Jenny Manth, Bill Wilder, Sue Smith, and Roberta Twitchell study rules.—Photo by Lowden

Jessi Sponsors Summer Plan To Assist Students In Science

Students who will enter grades 11 or 12 in September, 1962, and have successfully pursued at least three years, by the end of the tenth grade, to four years, by the end of the eleventh grade, of high school mathematics and science are eligible to apply for admission to JESSI, a junior engineers' and scientists' summer institute.

The purpose of JESSI is to acquaint students with the major scientific fields and to prevent students choosing the wrong field.

JESSI is to be conducted at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., and at the University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, O. The course at the University of Cincinnati will continue from June 17 to June 30 for both boys and girls. DePauw University's courses continue from June 17 to July 13 for the girls and from July 1 to July 14 for the boys.

THE FEE FOR JESSIE at the University of Cincinnati is $110 and at DePauw University, $120. This fee includes all on-campus expenses—board, lodging, field trips, tuition, notebooks, insurance, and costs incident to program activities.

Admission to JESSI is not limited only to the intellectual "cream of the crop" student; promising students of lesser intellectual abilities find JESSI experience very helpful. Rather than a sugar-coated exposure of sciences and engineering, JESSI is a sincere effort to have the students gain an understanding of: (1) What the science and engineering areas encompass. (2) The program of studies a student must and should pursue to earn a bachelor's, a master's, and a doctor's degree in the science or engineering areas of his major interest. (3) The study demands on students who pursue scientific or technical programs. (4) Career avenues for graduates in the sciences and engineering. (5) The need for a strong academic subject foundation in high school, particularly in English, mathematics, and science.

HIGH SCHOOL graduates will be admitted to JESSI providing the 11 and 12 grade enrollees do not fill the roster to capacity. However, interested twelfth graders should not delay filing their applications.

JESSI follows a set schedule Monday through Saturday. The students attend classes in groups of 25 to 30 members and are in classes six to seven hours daily. It is planned that all students will be out-of-doors following the afternoon classes. On the interim Sunday, students may attend services in the churches of their choice. An off-campus outing is planned for the day.

For further information contact Mr. Jack Weickert, senior counselor, or write to the Scientists of Tomorrow, 309 New Fliedner Building, Portland 5, Ore.

Students To Dance For Ballet Company In Regional Festival

Marla Habecker, junior; Barbie Rea, sophomore; and Alice Fruechtenicht, freshman, will dance in John Neff's original ballet, "The Ceremony of Carols," which will be performed at the Northeastern Regional Ballet Festival on Saturday, May 5, in Schenectady, N.Y.

The Fort Wayne Ballet Company was selected by Mr. Alex Ewing, adjudicator for the festival association, to stage this ballet, which had its initial performance in Fort Wayne, in December, 1960.

Mr. Ewing is the director of Ballet Society, which is making a study of the American ballet schools for the Ford Foundation. He is also chairman of the dance collection of the New York Public Library, which has the world's most comprehensive source materials on dancing.

AS THE FESTIVAL adjudicator, Mr. Ewing made his selections from the ballet organizations in the northeastern quarter of the United States. Those chosen will appear at the Northeastern Regional Ballet Festival in Schenectady, March 4, 5, and 6. The dance interpretations, as originated by Mr. Neff, will be of equal value. Marla, Barbie, and Alice will share the spotlight with at least eight dancers and nine singers from Fort Wayne. Mr. Neff hopes to recruit the remainder of the 30 necessary performers, which the choreography calls for, from dancers attending the festival.

MARLA WILL BE spotlighted in a short, feinting solo. Last December, Marla danced the alternate lead in John Neff's production of "The Red Shoes."

The host city of the festival will pay for the room and board of the ballet groups, but the groups must arrange for their own transportation.

Ten ballet companies from the northeastern region have been selected to perform at the festival, and the girls will have the opportunity to see the work that is being done by the other ballet schools of this region.

Y-Teens Plan Celebration

Centering around a theme of George Washington's birthday, Y-Teens will meet tomorrow night at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

Archers Defeat Luers, 265-175, In 'Hi-Quiz' Test

South Side Archers defeated the Bishop Luers Knights 265 to 175 Sunday on L. & M.'s "Hi-Quiz" program on WANE-TV at 5:30 p.m. The Archer participants were Judy Ruhl, Stan Black, Chris Fruechtenicht, and Stan Moreo. Participating for Bishop Luers were Alex Driessen, Margaret Still, Peter Fife, and Diana Schiber.

The first question of the first quarter was missed by both teams. The second challenge question on the painting, "Blue Boy," was answered by Chris Fruechtenicht, and South Side received 40 points. The following two questions were missed by both teams.

Then Peter Fife scored 30 points for Bishop Luers. Margaret Still scored 25 points on a question about blood vessels. Bishop Luers attained an early lead, 55 to 40. Judy Ruhl answered a question concerning the Pentagon and South Side acquired 40 points. The next two questions were missed by both teams.

ALEX DRIESSEN answered a question on the Red Cross for ten points. On a challenge question on polio, which Judy Ruhl answered, South Side received 20 points. The second quarter ended with South Side leading, 100 to 65.

Alex Driessen answered the first question of the second half to gain 30 points for his team. Then Stan Black answered the next question and the Archers received 25 points. The following question was missed by both teams.

Alex Driessen scored 35 points for Bishop Luers. South Side then received 30 points when Judy Ruhl answered the next question correctly. The third quarter ended with South Side still leading, 195 to 130.

ALEX DRIESSEN scored 20 points for Bishop Luers. Judy Ruhl answered the next two questions and South Side received 50 points. The last question of the fourth quarter was answered by Margaret Still for 25 points. The fourth quarter ended 265 to 175 with South Side sophomores again victorious.

The teams that the South Side Archers conquered in order to become the sophomore round champions were Elmhurst, 275 to 190; North Side, 265 to 245; Central Catholic, 430 to 30; Concordia, 300 to 210; and Bishop Luers, 265 to 175.

Judy Ruhl, sophomore, stated, "I am very sorry to see it all end. It has been fun and very exciting. I have learned much from this rewarding experience."

Next Sunday North Side will lead off the tournament round against Bishop Luers.

Vesta To Hear Teachers

Miss Jerry Gregg and Miss Donna Cauble, student teachers from Ball State Teachers College, will be guest speakers at the Vesta Club meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Their topic speech, "Careers and Home Economics," will give information on what home economics can do for one after college.

All girls interested in home economics are invited to attend. The official initiation of officers will also take place.

DeMolay Plans Activities

The Egyptian Room of the Masonic Temple will be the scene of the February 28 DeMolay meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Current DeMolay activities include bowling on Saturday and planning committees for the coming DeMolay Day which will be March 2 at Trinity Methodist Church.

Sixteen Pupils Earn Gold Medals, Superior Ratings At Music Contest

INGENUOUS INSTRUMENTALISTS . . . Music students who won recognition at the music competition at Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., are front row, left to right, Susan Seigel, Jim McMahan, and Bev Flanigan, and back row, left to right, Clark Marquart, Jack Seigel, Thomas McMahan, and Warren Burns. Bruce Baldwin was absent when the picture was taken.—Photo by Lowden

MUSIC MASTERS . . . Archers who received high honors at the music contest at Indianapolis, Ind., last Saturday are front row, left to right, Roger Vorholzer, Karen Ponader, and Fred Schoen, and back row, left to right, Steve McDonald, Tim Grodrian, and Dan McCroskey. Terry Borne and Mike Carter were absent when the picture was taken.—Photo by Lowden

College Scholarship Programs Offer Assistance To Students

The Miami University Pulp and Paper Foundation is offering $250 scholarships to qualified students entering the university's Paper Technology Program. In this program students are not only taught chemistry, physics, botany, and mathematics, but are also given specialized training in Paper Technology.

These specialized courses plus the summer employment provided by the paper industry give the student the equivalent of one or two years of experience. The demand for students with the background far exceeds the available supply, and even greater opportunities are open to those who continue training in graduate school.

Also at Miami University, the Music Department of the School of Fine Arts is offering three scholarships for the year of 1962-1963. Special freshman scholarships are open to any high school graduate wishing to major in the field of music.

THE STUDENTS WILL pay the cost of general tuition and music fees. A number of general music scholarships are open to high school graduates who wish to major in music in any field of concentration.

A number of grants-in-aid are open to any high school graduate, whether he wishes to major in music or not, in viola, cello, and other orchestral instruments.

Auditions for these three scholarships will be in the Oxford College Chapel in Oxford, O., on March 24. Applications must be received on or before March 1, 1962.

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS are also being offered by the Baldwin Wallace College Conservatory of Music in Berea, Ohio, to high school graduates ranking in the upper 25 per cent of their class. Six $2,000 scholarships are being offered by the Fyner H. Kulas Fund and twenty-two $100 and $1,600 scholarships are being offered by the Conservatory.

Applicants should fill in forms before February 25. A few grants-in-aid will be awarded to freshmen. Music evaluation tests will be given from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. on February 24 and March 3 in the Kulas Musical Arts Building.

Up to one hundred four-year scholarships worth $500 are to be awarded by Baldwin-Wallace College for the 1962-63 year. These scholarships are awarded for study in selected departments such as the Department of Economics, Physics, Religion, and Art.

COLBEY JUNIOR COLLEGE for Women in New London, New Hampshire, announces two $1,000 Adelaide Batterman Nichols Music Scholarships for violinists, pianists, and organists. Recipients of the scholarships are expected to add to the musical growth of the college through solo and ensemble performances and participation in other musical activities.

Auditions will be given at the college during April, 1962. Scholarship winners will be announced May 1, 1962. Applications must be received by March 5, 1962. College admission requirements must be met before scholarship applications will be considered.

Students interested in any of these scholarships may see Mr. Jack Weickert, senior guidance counselor, in Room 102 for additional information.

First Grade Period Ends

The first grade period of the second semester ends Friday, and S and U cards will be issued Tuesday. All work for this first grading period should be completed by students in order for them to receive credit for the work.

Students Select Mozart, Gould To Exhibit Skill

Judges Base Grades On Control, Volume, Accuracy, Intonation

Sixteen Archers received gold medals and superior ratings for solo or ensemble work in the Indiana Music Educators Association music auditions Saturday at Indianapolis. Two red ribbons and excellent ratings were also given to Kelly soloists.

Pianists Karen Ponader, Dan McCroskey, and Terry Borne won top honors playing, respectively, "Mazurka, Opus 7, No. 2," by Chopin; "Hill-billy," by Gould; and "Sonata in F Major," by Mozart.

"Concerto No. 5," by Mozart, was Jack Seigel's winning violin selection. The key vocal quartet, consisting of Tim Grodrian, first tenor; Fred Schoen, second tenor; Steve McDonald, baritone; and Mike Carter, bass, placed first with its rendition of "John Henry," by Ostrus and Ceyden.

OTHER WINNERS and their selections are Mike Carter, vocalist, "Sea Fever," by Andrews; Clark Marquart, cellist, "Sonata Opus 38, No. 1," by Debussy; Roger Vorholzer, vocalist, "Trees," by R. Bach; Susan Seigel, "Concerto for Flute," by Chaminade;

Jim McMahan, "Konzerte Rondo Andante" for oboe by Hayden; Warren Burns, "Bluebells of Scotland" for trombone by Pryor; Tom McMahan, "Concerto No. 1" for French horn by Hayden; Beverly Flanigan, "Intermezzo" for French horn by Gliere; and Bruce Baldwin, "The Supervisor" for trombone by Pryor.

Winning red ribbons for excellent performances are Rosemary Capps, who played "Concerto in A Major" for violin by Vivaldi, and Mike Young, who performed Schaefer's "Fancy Free" on the trumpet.

STUDENT PIANISTS who accompanied the soloists are Dennis Crill, Kathy DeVore, Fran Krandell, and Dave Flanigan.

All soloists and ensembles that received superior ratings in the district contests throughout Indiana were eligible to compete in the state auditions, with the exception of duets. Archer musicians won this right at the vocal, piano, and string contest, which took place at Central High School, January 27, and at the wind and percussion instrumental contest which was at Harrison Hill Junior High, February 3.

Competing in the classrooms of Jordan Hall, Atherton Center, or the Pharmacy at Butler University in Indianapolis, the contestants were judged in the same manner as at the district contest; however, the judges at state, specialists in the instruments they judged at many Indiana universities, were more discriminating than those at district.

CLASSIFIED IN GROUPS one through three, according to the ability of the musician and the difficulty of the selection, the contestants are judged on seven major factors: intonation; tone quality, including beauty, control, and volume; rhythmic accuracy; memorization of the selection; musical techniques in the breathing and tonguing of wind instruments, or the bowing and phrasing of string instruments; general musicianship, involving interpretation and dynamic expressions of the piece; and stage presentation.

The highest rating which can be obtained in each category is one; the lowest possible rating is five. All the points accumulated are totaled, the rating being based on the following code: superior, seven to ten points; excellent, 11 to 15 points; good, 16 to 22 points; fair, 23 to 27 points; unsatisfactory, 28 to 35 points.

The contest continued from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., with six minutes allotted for each student's performance. The participants were assigned to specific rooms and times before the contest.

Junior Red Cross Lists Schedule For Semester

The members of the Junior Red Cross Club have announced their schedule for the rest of the semester. February 28 has been set aside for the showing of a film secured from the Red Cross Council downtown.

Hospital favors will be made on March 14 for St. Patrick's Day. Discussion groups will be featured at the March 28 meeting. St. Vincent's Villa will be host to the club on April 4 for their first field trip at the orphanage.

Another field trip will be taken to West Side Center on April 18. After this trip the members are going to write accounts of the trip and send them to the Red Cross Journal for publication.

Plans for the yearly spring banquet will occupy the meetings in May.

Physicists To Study Atom

Mr. Bussard, physics teacher, will give a lecture to the Physics Club on the atom on Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Room 96. President Karl Krause stated this meeting will be an organizational meeting for new members.

TRIPPING THE LIGHT FANTASTIC . . . Seeking advice about the Junior Red Cross dance, "Tournament Twist," from center, Mr. John Arnold, club sponsor, are, left to right, Kay Carrier and Nancy Nichols, members of the decorations committee, and Alice Ashton and Jeannie Braden, ticket sales co-chairmen.—Photo by Lowden field, Pam Caley, Leslie Green, and Sherry Hall. Parents of South Side students who will chaperone the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bechtold.

The dance is one of the Council's main projects for the year. Each year the money is spent for the benefit of others. Last year wheelchairs were purchased for the Old People's Home.

The officers of the school's Junior Red Cross Club are Alice Ashton, president; Tamara Beatty, vice-president; Judy Hollister, secretary; and Kay Carrier, treasurer.

Clubs To Discuss Bombs

The Chemistry Club will meet in Room 4 Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. Bill Mueller and Dale Smith, seniors, will present a discussion on chemical bombs. The meeting is open to all interested students.

OTHERS ARE Judy Arnold, Virginia Mors, Patty Bailey, Peggy Swartz, Joyce Lockwood, Beth Brad-

Basketball Team Exhibits Courage, Sportsmanship

South Side has undergone her annual tournament turnover. Locker-room gossip has changed from bits of fad and fancy to predictions for the outcome of the Sectional. Money once used to purchase records and magazines has been diligently saved to spend on tickets for the big games.

The Kellys are waiting, speculating, and hoping for the best in this season's final basketball rally. It is only fitting that on this, the outbreak of the tournament, the student body should share its thoughts and hopes with the team.

Archers should be commended, first, because of the very fact that they are a team. It is evident that each player is an individual with personal abilities, characteristics, and goals completely different from those of his fellow sportsmen. Certainly, it would seem natural that each player strive to prove his abilities and show his own singular skill on the hardwood.

Yet, Archers have time and again sacrificed personal glory for the benefit of the team as a whole! They have planned every game-time maneuver to utilize the prowess of each player, combined individual strength into mighty group power.

They have earned praise, secondly, for being a good team and a fair team. To be sure, Archers have not conquered every foe; but they have always fought well and fought hard. Many an enemy has fallen beneath the Green's arrows; the rest have felt the sharp sting of their shafts.

Kellys have faced disheartening odds with a courage and confidence that have added acclaim to the name of the Green and White. And always they have been fair; even when the temptation was great and an example had been set by the opposition, they have maintained the highest standard of sportsmanship. They have been gracious winners and good losers, so chant, "We've got the Archers on our team, they're great!"

Moreover, Archers have been true to themselves. Most of them have lived and loved sports since the days they first organized backyard ball games. They have remained loyal to their athletic inclinations, working and practicing to better themselves. Long hours of training and stringent training rules have been undergone in the best of spirits.

Just as important, the Archers have not neglected their overall high school responsibilities. They have battled the books with as much vigor as the basket and won the right to don their uniforms through mental as well as physical efforts. Indeed, they have devoted their time and talents to develop their capabilities to their capacities. They represent South Side and represent it well.

The student body owes a special thanks to the team coaches. The coaches have built up an excellent training system as well as an excellent team. They have taken steps to advance each player according to his own capabilities and to teach him to use those capabilities to the utmost. They are more than a little responsible for the Archers' mental fortitude and tremendous spirit, plus their fine playing ability.

It is with mixed emotions that the student body gives the team a tournament send-off. Students commend and thank the team for their outstanding performances; the student body asks pardon for past failures; and they wish the team the very best of luck in the Sectional.—By Peggy Schmidt

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medallist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1102, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 13, 1922. Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager.....Jenny Manth
Managing Editor.....Susan Smith
Copy Editors Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brena, Sally Mallough, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Tschell.
News Editor Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor Peggy Schmidt
Editorial Editor Bill Wilder
Boys Sports Editor Stuart Schmitz
Girls Sports Editor Janice Nawrold
Make-Up Editor Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett
Picture Editor Marcia Kuhn
Photographers Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist Leanna Morris
Business Manager.....Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager Sue Meyer
Advertising Manager Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager Dick Parke
Circulation Assistant Liz Weikart, Doria Atzef, Roberta Twitchell, Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet.
Faculty Adviser James Rohrbough

MINOR STAFF

News Writers David Flanagan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McPherson, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Margie Terry, Bill Wilder, Betty Adams, Ellen Ranberg, Sue Horth, Sue Klehn, Doris Cooney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmeyer, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaYonne Custance, Karen Traska, Christine Froelich, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sue McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squire, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Ruelien Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wolfman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Harsch, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenber, Mary Darretta, Sue Smith, Jennie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Frank, Diana Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Shingler, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Sue Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judy McKay, Barrie McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Joan Ann McInley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubin, Doria Atzef, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Kettelle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Meyer, Mary Jane Reiff, Debby Brooke, Becky Baumbach, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janis Brunner, Alice Habegger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Froelich, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudway, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Ranberg, Sue Horth, Sue Klehn, Carol Ladig, Paul Mittlestadt, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Harrod, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Saelfrank.
Copy Readers Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanagan, Karen Minkin, Christie Gonsman, Honey-Kate Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Neave, Margie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Frank.
Boys Sports Writers Bill Kleffen, Bob Leinsinger, Steven Lowens, Jon Pato, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn.
Ad Writers Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Ringenber, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Julie Neunenschwander, Karen Finkrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Ota, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Lorraine Ford, Sue Geric, Kay Felt, Harriet Orsheim, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Pinnell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank, Cynthia Korte, Jennie Braden, Martha Harrod, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Robt, Mary Reiff.
Cartoonists Julie Washington, Judy Goldman, Diane Orms, Don Clemens, Bob Englehart, Ray Juncal.
Classroom News Editor Celeste Riemer
Photo Recorder Steve Leitz
Mailing Manager Vicki Adams
Assistant Editor Krystyna Kriworotow
Copy Returner Allen Purdy
Exchange Editor Vicki Adams
Credit Manager Charlotte Powell
Assistant Credit Manager Sonya Flegg
Librarian Sonja Flegg
Paper Distributor Chuck Bodenborn

Merrily Musing

Cars, Homework Shield Teenagers From Snow Duty

By Martha Lanning

The North Wind doth blow,
And we shall have snow,
And what can a teenager
Do then, poor thing?

He can throw down his books
And give dirty looks
To all who ask him to shovel
The snow (scowling)!

What a sad, and predicament it is to be asked to shovel the snow out in the cold, frosty, invigorating winter air. As any growing boy or girl can easily affirm, snow shoveling is very taxing to the muscles (especially arm and shoulder), to the lungs, to the heart, to the toes (frostbite), and to the nose (drip-wise).

When a young person is asked to shovel the snow, he may react in several manners. First, there is the "All right, Mom, I'll do it right away" act. Its employer hops merrily out the back door whistling a raucous tune, heads for the garage (supposedly to grab a shovel), and foils his parents by whipping out his keys and roaring away in the family car.

SECONDLY, THERE is the "Overworked, Underfed Little Student With Too Much Homework to Do in One Night Anyway" method. The user of this clever counterattack generally turns up the candle power and buries himself under a pile of books, literally, of course. Thus concealed, he may read comic books and eat apples without being discovered. This is perhaps the most clever system of all.

Third, there is the bribery method. After having been asked to shovel the snow, the teenager approaches his little brother with a honeyed smile and uses the "Hey, How'd Ya Like to Earn a Quarter?" routine. This may catch the little brother off guard. However, most often, this method carries two disadvantages. First, everyone does not have a little brother; and second, once in a while the little brother is greedy and won't settle for a quarter.

NATURALLY, THE matter is controversial and bears much discussion and thought. Some followers of the subject maintain that the easiest way is to go ahead and shovel the snow, thus eliminating the problem temporarily.

Teens in each specific locality undoubtedly have recommended plans of defense for prospective snow shovelers. A certain city in the Midwest, noted for its abundance of snow and kids, relates its strategy so:

The North Wind hath blown.
Already it hath snowed.
What have the teenagers
Done, poor things?

Why, they've hung out at Miller's,
The clever time-killers,
Eating ice cream while they Await spring.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Geri Geller, '60, has been elected as pledge trainer and vice-president of Beta Chi Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, social sorority, at Indiana University. Geri is majoring in speech and theater with a minor in English. Engaged are Patricia Forehand, '59, and David Stump, a graduate of Elmhurst. Patricia is employed at the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company as a legal secretary. David attended Indiana University and is a student now at Manchester College. The couple is to be married in August. Recently married were Susan Seibel, '60, and Emil Deister. The couple was married in Coldwater, Mich., and will reside in Evanston, Ill.

Announced was the engagement of Marjorie Silverman, '56, to Robert Kaul. Marjorie is a graduate of the School of Speech at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and is to receive her master's degree in speech therapy in June. She is a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority. Robert is a graduate of Northwestern University and is a member of Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity.

Margo Dixon, '60, is returning to the University of Iowa for further study after being at home for a semester. Molly Dixon, '61, is attending Colley College in Nevada, Mo.

To be married June 9 are Carol Mallory, C.C. graduate, and Richard Hechler, '59. Richard is employed by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. Carol is a graduate of Ravenscroft School of Beauty and is employed at Frank's Beauty Salon.

Planning a June wedding are Sandra Sieber, '61, and Charles Bentz, a graduate of New Haven High School. Sandra is employed by Great Northern Life Insurance Co. Charles is employed by Bentz Metal Products.

Joyce Brittenham, '60, will represent Indiana Central College in the student nurses' contest in the Indiana State Nurses' Association Convention in Indianapolis, Ind., February 22 to 24.

Planning an early summer wedding are Sarah Shultz and Gerald Beauchamp, '59. Gerald is employed by the Akron and Chicago Transportation Co. Sarah is a junior at Ball State Teachers College, where she is a member of Tri Kappa Sorority.

Ellis Line, '61, a student at Southwestern Bible Institute, Waxahachie, Tex., is one of 18 students and four adults chosen to take part in a movie being made about the school.

Janet Terry, '60, a former Times general manager, has been cast in the part of Gladys Antrobus, a daughter, in Thornton Wilder's play "The Skin Of Our Teeth" at Ohio Wesleyan College, Delaware, Ohio.

Planning a summer wedding are Nancy Stillwell, '55, and James Baker, '55. Nancy is a graduate of Port Wayne Commercial College and currently employed by the Lincoln National Bank and Trust Co. Jim is employed by Clark Typesetting Co.

Sectionals Slave Sleepless . . .

"Wake Janie up now, it's your turn to rest."

American Brotherhood Demands Prevention Of Prejudice, Bigotry

By Krystyna Kriworotow

The American people are called upon to practice the basic principles of democracy; and those are to learn to understand and to accept other persons regardless of race, creed, or color not only during Brotherhood Week, February 18-25, but during the entire year.

Americans must not permit the stupidity of prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, hatred, and misunderstanding to weaken the most valuable possession, democracy. Democracy has guaranteed freedom, and what is America without freedom? Upon following the narrow-minded examples of others, persons might very well revert to the uselessness and denseness of the Dark Ages or the crazed ravings of Nazism.

Americans cannot deny the fact that they live at a time of precarious balance. The choice is up to everyone—either barbarism or brotherhood. Americans cannot deny the signs of the times and indulge in fear, prejudice, and discrimination just because someone happens to look, dress, or speak differently.

Persons' differences are one of the most amazing endowments of nature. People see this in every snowflake, in every laugh, in every cry. Life means change, and if everything remained the same, the monotony would be beyond belief. Persons must learn, understand, and respect their fellow men. If they practiced the idea of brotherhood, not only would they help themselves but the country as well. President Kennedy stated, "And so, my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country." This can be done by breaking down the barriers of religious and racial prejudices which threaten to destroy democracy, and social and political relations.

The eyes of Europe, Asia, and Africa are upon the United States. The peace and freedom of the entire world may very well depend on how America accepts people of different races and of different religious backgrounds.

To accomplish unity among men requires the strength, will, and support of every American. Americans should not avoid their responsibilities; they should preserve the democratic form of government which in turn means to practice its basic principles, "One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Americans can promote this idea by re-examining themselves and their attitudes. If they can do this successfully, they can hope to help others understand the meaning of true freedom and equality, for brotherhood is democracy at work. Remember, believe, and practice Brotherhood Week, February 18-25, with the thought of Lincoln in mind, "With malice toward none; with charity for all."

The National Conference of Christians and Jews sponsors Brotherhood Week. This organization was founded in 1928 after a vicious storm of anti-Catholicism swept the country because of Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the Presidency of the United States. Since that time the NCCJ has worked with one purpose in mind: to promote brotherhood all of the time.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Let's go! Now is the time for that yell power we've been saving all year to really let go. Let's back our team and WIN SECTIONALS!

Our basketball foes sent some spies to South about a week and a half ago. Didn't you see those two dogs wandering around in the halls? One ventured into the shop rooms for homework period, but the other scouted the halls for basketball players.

Congratulations to all those who placed in the Manchester Speech Meet. Archer winners were Barb Nelson, Pam Buzzard, Pam Pansky, Sue Horth, Lex Smuts, Tom Erb, and Ken Davis. News of the Wolf and Dessauer greets the contestants as they began their return to Fort Wayne.

HOW DID YOU like the last music assembly? The red and white Valentine color scheme was carried out very well by the participants, and several Archers showed their versatility in demonstrating the percussion instruments.

Congratulations also to Archer musicians who won first division ratings in the state contest.

Heads turned and eyes popped as Bob Weiss drove past with a skirt breezing out the window of his car. You can imagine the concern of the passers-by who witnessed this shocking sight because there wasn't a girl in the car!

SOME GIRLS LOSE their purses or boy friends or lipstick, but Cindy Russell loses her car. It wouldn't have been so bad had there been dozens of cars in the parking lot downtown, but really, out of ten you just can't miss.

Out of a tiny hole a great big rip can grow—Ben Smith knows because he was very embarrassed at the Central game when his leg kept protruding through the giant rip in his pants.

Nancy Lageman, Kathy Wyss, Judy Evans, and Pat Menze were among the first to witness the Wolf and Dessauer warehouse fire. It was all very exciting until a great cloud of smoke covered them all and the entire crowd stampeded to clear air. Patty had a little more than the possible fire damage to worry about, because she knew her father was inside fighting the blaze.

ANYONE NEED any walls papered or ceilings covered? Well, if the need should arise, just call on Linda McMurtry and Susie Lohman—they are true experts. "Deck the band room with chains of paper clips. Fa la la la la la la la," sang Sally Boyer, Marilyn Parke, and Marilyn Teague as they merrily decorated the room with a string of 10,000 clips. Oh, well, they could have been wasting their time instead of doing these constructive things.

Everybody reads Stu Schmitz's sports column! They must—since Stu first wrote about Gary "the Kangaroo Kid" Probst, many other Fort Wayne sports writers have borrowed the name.

Congratulations to the Archer members of the Fort Wayne DeMolay basketball team who won the DeMolay Regional Tournament and also won the opportunity to compete in the state finals. They are Dave Meek, Bill Kleifgen, Al Sheldon, Bart Bailey, Mark Hagerman, and Denny Truitt.

TALK ABOUT skating on thin ice! Driving with a dish of unjelled Jello on the floor of the car is about as treacherous, isn't it, Sarah Finch?

Thought for the Day: Go Archers! See you at Sectionals!

Small Snaps

The girl in the snap is a junior A. Record albums she likes to play. On skis o'er the water she does glide. She also enjoys a horseback ride. Rock and roll records she thinks are great.

In Philo she does participate. A favorite hobby of this lass is collecting hores made of glass. In Junior Red Cross she does work and plan, Trying to aid her fellow man. If her name you do not know, The ad section is where to go.

Fourteen Censor Speeches

Military Leaders Gain Hearing, Dislike 'Blue-Pencil' Authorities

By Sandy Thorn

How far should U.S. military leaders be allowed to go in public expressions of views that might run contrary to civilian-controlled national policy? This is the nucleus of an inquiry by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee, chaired by John Stennis of Mississippi, which started the last week in January.

And living up to all expectations, the query is the most exciting Congressional hearing since Robert Kennedy, then counsel of a Senate subcommittee investigating labor racketeering, matched wits with Teamster president Jimmy Hoffa.

While the question remains a permanent challenge, Sandy Thorn it climbed to a new peak with the Kennedy Administration. U.S. right-wingers have tumbled the cry that the Kennedy Administration is trying to "muzzle" the military—an implication which points to governmental softness against Communism.

Stennis and his buddies are attempting to resolve a conflict that has existed throughout the life of the republic. By proclamation, freedom of speech is a basic right of every U.S. citizen. U.S. military leaders are U.S. citizens. Therefore, in accordance with deductive reasoning, military leaders should have the basic right of freedom of speech.

However, as is possible, deductive reasoning fails—there is an exception which must be considered. According to another governmental clause, there is civilian control over the military. To be effective, it must include restraint of generals and admirals in their public pronouncements.

WITH THE KENNEDY Administration came evidence that there would be a crack down on the military talkers. Chief of Naval Operations Arleigh Burke fell victim No. 1. Pentagon censors tore apart a routine anti-Communist Burke speech, on the grounds that it might roll negotiations for the release of two U.S. RB-47 flyers held prisoner in the Soviet Union. Later, lesser military leaders submitted speeches which also received the blue-pencil "changes."

Major General Edwin A. Walker, commander of the Army's 24th Infantry Division in Germany, went from the smoke to the blaze with his speeches and his troop education program. After being reassigned to another command in Hawaii, Walker resigned and contacted South Carolina's Senator Strom Thurmond. Thurmond, a reserve major general, encouraged by the Walker happening, pushed for a Senate investigation of "muzzling."

Some two months ago former President Dwight Eisenhower said, "I believe the Army officer, Navy officer, Air Force officer, should not be talking about political matters, particularly domestically and never in the international field unless he is asked to do so."

Then came the hearings and Eisenhower admittedly had "a change of heart" when he said, "I incline to the view that when responsible and respected officials feel compelled to submit to censorship, we are smothering the concept of personal responsibility under a practice of heavy handed and unjustified staff supervision."

AT THE HEARINGS, Arleigh Burke, now retired from the Navy, agreed that the civilian supervision must be imposed, but he complained that Pentagon and State Department censors had sometimes been "a little capricious."

Lieut. General Arthur Trudeau, the Army's research and development chief, agreed. He told of 91 cuts made in his speeches. In answer to Trudeau's statement that "diplomatic dealing without powerful cards is always a bluff and at best cannot stand a showdown," censors suggested that diplomacy should not be compared with a card game.

General Thomas White, who retired last June as Air Force Chief of Staff, showed no resentment at being blue-penciled by censors. He said, "The speeches are written for us by low-level personnel in the first place." He told of "personalizing" his speeches after underlings prepared the basic text.

During this last week of questioning, Marine Corps Commandant David M. Shoup said, "Not one of my speeches has been changed, even slightly, by the Department of Defense. My officers inform me that very few of their speeches have been changed in substance."

SENATORS TRIED to find which of 14 Pentagon censors had made which changes in which speeches but failed. Defense Secretary McNamara balked, "I do not see how finding that a particular military officer in a particular case exercised a mistaken judgment would advance the purpose of the inquiry. McNamara was backed by President Kennedy in the action."

McNamara had presented the Senators with the names of the 14 reviewers and background information on each man, but refused to say which one was involved with which speech. He insisted, "These individuals are acting under policies for which my senior associates and I must assume responsibility." Later, Senators met with McNamara privately in hopes of securing the information without releasing it to the press, and McNamara indicated that he would claim the legal right of executive privileges, if necessary, to shield his censors.

Arthur Sylvester, speaking for the defense, said, "The purpose of making statements by military men conform to national policy is to ensure that this country speaks not from the weakness of contradictory voices but from the strength of one."

On the term "capriciousness," Sylvester said, "There is no formula by which a speech can be reviewed. No computer can be programmed to clear one phrase and delete another. The review process must depend on the judgment and common sense of the men who deal with these problems every day."

THE CONFUSION seems to boil down to the use of the word Communism—which in present days is a powerful word which cannot be thrown around like dead weight. The word has impact and users of the word must label it "Caution—Explosive." Apparently, the military men have been making belligerent anti-Communist speeches. While this is the way that the majority of Americans would react, these anti-Communist speeches are too powerful in the hands of military men.

The United States is fighting Communism—but one doesn't have to hate to fight. A good fighter can use common sense. The Marine Corps' Shoup said that he has made more than 100 speeches and has never mentioned the word Communism. This is possible and should be suggested to those having trouble with the "blue-pencil" problem.

It is possible for the military officers to fight by presenting the "pros" about our opportunities in the U.S. It is unnecessary to tear down Communism and fight over the word. As General White of the Air Force suggested, this isn't a new discovery of the Kennedy Administration. Maybe the more highly educated men of the Cabinet see more fallacies and are able to work out more trouble-making sentences.

It is agreed that fighting over such things as where to place a comma or an exclamation point is unnecessary. However, military leaders must be subject to some limitations in their speeches. Of course, while the majority of military leaders agree with this, the controversy comes over the question, "What sort of limitations and how many?"

The subcommittee hearings seem an impractical way to find the answer.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know what the Coriolis effect is?

Answer. The Coriolis effect is a natural law governing the movement of everything over the earth. The horizontal motions of everything that moves over the surface of the earth—water, air, animals, machines, and projectiles—is diverted to the right in the Northern Hemisphere and to the left in the Southern Hemisphere due to the earth's rotation. This can be seen best by observing the movement of water as it goes down the drain: north of the equator, the water goes down in a clockwise motion; directly over the equator, the water goes straight down; while south of the equator, draining water has a counterclockwise motion. All moving objects have this motion on a greatly expanded scale.

Question. Do you know anything about the awarding of the nation's highest military honor, the Congressional Medal of Honor?

Answer. The Congressional Medal of Honor was created during the Civil War. In the early history of the medal, it was awarded for numerous other reasons in addition to that of valor above and beyond the call of duty in battle. As an example, the soldiers who guarded the body of President Lincoln on the funeral train were awarded the medal. However, in 1917, by authority of Congress, a board of generals reviewed the entire list of recipients. The names of hundreds of recipients were subsequently stricken from the official Medal of Honor list, and the requirement for receiving the medal was changed to that of exhibiting valor in combat.

Question. Was George Washington born twice? Do you know why his birthday is mentioned sometimes as February 11 and sometimes as February 22?

Answer. George Washington's birth was recorded as February 11, 1732. At this time Great Britain and her colonies were using a calendar called the Julian calendar. However, in 1752, Great Britain changed calendars. By omitting 11 days in September, the change was affected. So, Washington celebrated his twenty-first birthday on February 22, 1753. Today most calendars list his birthday as February 22. In his diary Washington mentions that later celebrations were on the old style date, February 11.

Question. Almost everyone is familiar with the history of the words to the "Star-Spangled Banner," but do you know the history of the music to which it is set?

Answer. The melody of "The Star-Spangled Banner" is that of an old song entitled "To Anacreon in Heaven" or "The Anacreon Song." Anacreon was a Greek lyric poet who wrote in praise of women and wine. He died in about 488 B.C. at the age of 85. The song, "To Anacreon in Heaven," was the constitutional song of the Anacreontic Society. This was an organization of wealthy music lovers of London who met regularly to enjoy a concert followed by informal singing. A sheet music edition of "To Anacreon in Heaven" appeared in 1779.

Mrs. Elizabeth Squires Helps Students As Library Assistant

Assisting Miss Willodeen Price in the South Side library during the morning is Mrs. Elizabeth Squires. Mrs. Squires was graduated from South Side in 1934 and attended Indiana University.

Mrs. Squires has traveled extensively in the United States, visiting all but two states. Mrs. Squires is a member of the PTA board at Kekionga Junior High School, a square dancing club called the G. E. Whizzers, and the YWCA. She is currently the leader of a Girl Scout troop and teaches Sunday School at the Grace United Church of Christ. Her interests include working with needlepoint and reading.

BEFORE ACCEPTING the job as the new library assistant, Mrs. Squires bought food for various school cafeterias. She has also worked in the Civil Service and the General Electric production department. Mrs. Squires modestly considers herself as a jack-of-all-trades but master of none.

"I love working in the library at South Side. It's a far cry from anything else I have ever done," stated Mrs. Squires.

Mrs. Elizabeth Squires

MRS. SQUIRES' DUTIES as the assistant librarian include typing check books, returning clippings to the file, and returning books to their proper places.

When at South Side during her high school years, Mrs. Squires was a member of the National Honor Society, GAA, and the Service Club.

Mrs. Squires plans to take some additional classes next fall for work on her bachelor of arts degree.

Service Workers, Piano Players Aid Dance Instructors

Service workers and piano players for Mrs. Alice Keegan's and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong's classes have been announced. Serving for Mrs. Keegan's first period classes are Joyce Berberich, Judy Koop, and Nancy Miles;

Second period, Margaret Cox, Shirley Listenberg, and Mary Jo McDonald; and third period, Martha Grimmer, Loretta Kimmel, and Cynthia Russell. Mrs. Keegan's pianists are period 4, Sue Mowery; period 6, Sue Mowery; period 7, Jim Markit; and after school, Sue Mowery.

Service workers for Mrs. Armstrong this semester are period 3, Sandra Meeks; period 4, Mary Beaudway, Jo-ellen Crumrine, and Jean Longartner; period 7, Sandy Ellis, Beth Randall, Ruth Russ; and after school, Diane Petznick and Francis Krandel.

Mrs. Armstrong's pianists are period 1, Diane Petznick; period 2, Fran Krandel; and period 3, Judy Hutchens. Doing service work after school are Mary Marker, Judy Koop, Marsha Good, Pat Abbott, Dottie Kessler, Beth Randall, Barbara Shadle, Jean Longardner, and Sue Eversman.

Girls who serve in the gym office have certain duties. These include running errands, assisting with techniques in class, refereeing and umpiring, talking roll, checking showers, and keeping records.

The duties of the pianists are playing music for the dance classes before and after school for rehearsals, special groups, and the Spring Show.

West Point Reveals 'Location' Program

February 1 to May 30, 1962 has been set as the time for a "location" program, conducted by the United States Military Academy, to locate the most outstanding high school juniors for consideration for possible appointment to West Point in 1963.

This location is conducted a year before the admission date to insure all applicants sufficient time to become informed about the academy, to be informed on the procedure for obtaining a nomination.

To be accepted, a young man must be of the highest moral and physical caliber. The most likely candidates are those who rank in the upper 20 per cent of the class academically, have won letters for participation in sports, and have displayed leadership qualities through extra-curricular activities.

Recommendations will be referred to the Army recruiter by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance director.

Rifles List Top Scorers

The Rifle Club's president, Jim Walker, has released the top shooters of the club. Out of a possible 100 points, Dan McCroskey scored 87; David Burgwall 86; and Jim Walker 66. Dan and David fired from a prone position while Jim kneeled.

Thirty-Seven Pupils Register In School For New Semester

Thirty-seven students have enrolled in South Side for the spring semester, according to an announcement by the General Office.

These students are Freshman Letha Belcher, Central; Freshman Daniel Charters, Lakeside Junior High; Senior Leroy Church, Carol Hayes High School, Birmingham, Ala.; Freshman Richard Fields, Franklin Junior High; Junior Richard Gilbreath, North Side;

FRESHMAN LUPE GOMEZ re-entered; Post-Graduate Sheryl Hall, Roswell High School, Roswell, N. M.; Sophomore Steve Hambrook, Bishop Luers; Junior Michael Hansen, re-entered; Freshman John Harmeyer, Central; Freshman Joseph Harmeyer, re-entered; Post-Graduate Richard Hoff, re-entered; Sophomore Madison Hogue, re-entered; Senior Robert Krugh, Van Wert High School, Van Wert, O.; Post-Graduate Jerry Lagemann, re-entered; Sophomore Frances Laisure, Angola High School, Angola, Ind.; Post-Graduate Jeff Marcom, re-entered; Junior Kenneth May, George Washington High School, Indianapolis, Ind.;

FRESHMAN DONNA MORRIS, Central; Junior James Ostrogna, Avon High School, Avon, O.; Senior Porter Pace, re-entered; Junior Carolyn Phillips, Junior Gloria Phillips, and Senior Wayne Phillips, all from Columbia City High School, Columbia City, Ind.;

Senior Victor Pierson, re-entered; Freshman George Powell, Little Miami High School, Monrow, O.; Freshman Linda Price, Central; Junior Donna Rogan, re-entered; Marilyn Seiple, Rarkway High School, Rockford, O.; Freshman Steven Shroyer, re-entered; Senior James TenEyck, re-entered; Junior Tony Webb, Wordsworth Secondary School, Stoke Newington, England; Sophomore Nancy Westrick, Bishop Luers; Freshman Ray Williams, Central; Sophomore Willodeen Wilson, Central; and Freshman Frances Baker, Central.

Students To Work As Locker Guards

Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director, has announced the names of the students chosen as locker guards for this semester.

Guards for the first period are Steve Chapin and Herb Fuller, boys' locker room; girls' locker room, Tamara Beatty and Nancy Nichols; bicycle court, Barrie Spear; and Room 142, Caron Fine.

Second period workers are boys' locker room, Bill Kleifgen and Frank Lewis; girls' locker room, Nancy Augspurger and Karen Miller; bicycle court, Nancy Stewart; and Room 142, Carole Ladig.

Guarding during the third period are boys' locker room, Dave Meyer and Tom Shine; bicycle court, Lola McLaughlin; and girls' locker room, Janet Davies and Mary Schilling. Henry Persons and John McMillen, boys' locker room; Sharon Eitman and Martha Jacobs, girls' locker room; and Neil Scheiman, Room 142, will be the workers during the sixth period.

Working seventh period are Frank Lewis and Bill Kleifgen, boys' locker room; Tom McMahon, bicycle court; Howard Miller, Room 142; and girls' locker room, Mikie Tieman and Cheri Nadojny.

Thirty-Three Pupils Work As Assistants In Library

Miss Willodeen Price, head librarian, has selected 33 library assistants to do service work during the day and before and after school. The duties of an assistant librarian are to check books out, shelve the returned books, send out fine and over-due book notices, and take care of the attendance slips.

Servicing Period 1 are Pam Buzzard, Ellen Lowe, and Joanne Rose. Period 2 service workers are LaVonne Gustane, Sandra McCombs, Sue McGinnis, Harriet Oebstein, and Pat Scheib.

Library assistants for Period 3 are Kay Faly, Sydney Schinbeck, and Diane Smith; and for Period 4, they are Nancy A'Hearn, Sarah Barker, Carolyn Burns, Karen Ponader, Nancy Robinson, and Rhonda Roehm.

During Period 6 Pat Cameron, Mary Crowder, Pam Orchard, Judy Ruhl, and Susie Weinraub assist Miss Price; and Betsy Adams, Cindy Christman, and Linda Newell are the library assistants the seventh period.

Girls who work in the library before or after school and do not service there during the day are Mary Barretta, Shirley Davis, Ann Golden, Dayna Harader, Pat Lee, Barb Nelson, Karen Simmons, and Mary Ruth Wilson.

Girl Rifles To Meet

The Girls' Rifle Club will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. on the rifle range. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Mildred Luse, math teacher.

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

SLICK'S
H-3232
Who Lathers Shirts Best?

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Junior Achievement Prepares Youth For Business Careers

Many individuals wonder how the generation of young people today become the businessmen of tomorrow. Through general work for local business firms, through special courses at night school, and through business courses taken in high school one may acquire knowledge of the business field. However, one of the best ways for acquiring this knowledge is through a program called Junior Achievement.

This non-profit organization is a nation-wide program with its headquarters in New York. Fort Wayne's chapter was formed in 1953 by a group of leading civic, business, and educational leaders. Mr. J. William Kennedy was elected as director of the program, his job being to get the program underway, locate a suitable center for the Fort Wayne Chapter, and to explain the Junior Achievement program to the enthused teenagers.

Thus, in September of 1953 another new chapter of Junior Achievement began its climb to success. Junior Achievement, or J.A., as it is so commonly called, is not a craft club program. It is a program based on the idea that people learn by doing; thus, Junior Achievement gives boys and girls from 15 to 19 years old the chance to run small-scale businesses of their own. It gives high school students a chance to gain experience by starting and running corporations of their own. In this way, they can learn about corporate structure and the actual operation of a business firm.

THE MINIATURE business companies of Junior Achievement are, in

Surgery As Career Provides Benefits, Assists Community

For high school students seeking a career which is beneficial to the community and deeply rewarding, surgery, a specialized field of medicine, is the answer.

Surgery is the division of medicine in which the physician's skill and knowledge are mainly connected with manual operations. Dr. John W. McCallister, a specialized surgeon in Fort Wayne, categorizes surgery into such areas as plastic surgery, thoracic surgery, urology, and neurosurgery. Dr. McCallister attended Michigan University for eight years. The first four years resembled a liberal arts course for his A.B. degree, and the last four years were spent in medical school for his M.D. degree. During this time, he took courses in psychology, foreign languages, history, English, analytical and organic chemistry, biological sciences, genetics, and other subjects related to his chosen field.

AFTER THESE EIGHT years, Dr. McCallister had one year of internship and four and one-half years of residency in a hospital, training for the specialized field of surgery.

During his first years of private practice, he took the American Board of Surgery tests in two parts to certify that he met high standards of education and skill. Each day he must study new methods, review cases, and attend scientific meetings.

In private practice, Dr. McCallister employs a secretary-receptionist and a full-time nurse. He has office hours from sixteen to twenty hours a week. His work week consists of about eighty hours, seven days a week. He sees people in the hospital as well as in the office as a consultant.

Besides private practice, a surgeon could look for work with a clinic group, a federal organization, or a public health service. The surgeon might also become a full-time teacher in a medical school.

THE ADVANTAGES of surgery are many, one of which is that there is much satisfaction in helping someone even to the extent of saving his life.

There are also disadvantages in this field. A work week consists of seven days. The cost of running an office and paying for necessary equipment such as surgical instruments is expensive.

Dr. McCallister stated that he spent one-third of his adult life preparing to go into his chosen field, not only losing income during what would be productive years, but also paying for an education. During internship, his salary was room, board, and laundry; and during residency he was paid $25 a month the first year, $50 the second, $75 the third, and $100 the fourth. Little time was spent with his family due to hospital work.

DR. McCALLISTER said, "Doctors in my field have a confining existence. For the surgeon is not free to come and go. Doctors live in a goldfish bowl; and there has been much criticism of us in the past few years, much of which is not justified."

For students interested in being surgeon or doctors in any field, Dr. McCallister suggests summer jobs in hospitals. He recommended the high school courses of science, speech, English, math, and language. He does not recommend that girls go into the field of surgery if they have plans of marriage. He feels that there are other fields for women such as pathology and radiology.

Council To Choose Driver

The announcement of the winner for this month's Safe Driver Award, sponsored by the Allen County Teenage Safety Council and presented each month to a driver from each of the 16 schools, will highlight the meeting of the Safety Council tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 178. Any student who wishes to nominate another student for the award may obtain a recommendation form from Miss Virginia Ayers in Room 182.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

every detail, a replica of large-scale American businesses. The companies are sponsored by all types of business organizations such as Magnavox, G.E., and U.S. Rubber and Trade Associations.

Each J.A. company consisting of 10 to 20 teenagers starts out by deciding on a company name and a product or a service they wish to sell. The companies meet one night a week for two hours to solve arising problems, discuss their product, and meet their responsibilities with adult business techniques.

The companies finance themselves by selling stock at 50 cents a share. When the companies liquidate at the end of the school year, they pay off the stockholders and prepare a report for the investors in their company.

EACH MEMBER OF a company serves as a member of the board of directors, a salesman, and a worker. But all is not work for the members of a Junior Achievement company. Once a year they participate in a social affair, a trade fair, and the Future Unlimited Banquet which is in May.

Fort Wayne can be proud of its chapter of Junior Achievement which has grown from 26 to 31 companies. The advantages of this Junior Achievement program are expressed by several Junior Achievement members.

Jean Hatfield: "I think Junior Achievement is a wonderful opportunity for collective and individual development of teenagers' skills. The banking experience I am now gaining will enable me to work more efficiently when I acquire a job. This experience will also make a favorable impression upon my future employer."

Marilyn Block: "Junior Achievement presents an ideal opportunity for teenagers to learn more about the way big businesses operate. Since teens from any high school can join, one is able to meet many young people. This experience obtained will help the participant to secure a good job and to do well in his chosen profession."

Sonya Plagg: "I think that Junior Achievement is an excellent way for students to learn about business even though it is on a small scale."

Three Pupils Obtain Violations In Traffic During First Month

Nine traffic violations were committed during the month of January, according to an announcement by Officer Robert Waldrop, high school liaison officer, and Lt. Roland Miller, director of school safety. Of these violations, South Side and Central each had three; North Side, two; Central Catholic, one; and Concordia, Bishop Luers, and Elmhurst had none.

Violations for not having an operators license were accredited to a South Side and a Central Catholic student.

Two Central students received violations for running a stop sign or signal. The only violation for reckless driving was attributed to an Archer.

A South Side driver made the only violation for speeding. A North Side student received a violation for failing to yield the right of way.

One violation was made by a North Side student for leaving the scene of an accident. A Central student made a violation for not having the proper registration.

"Young drivers are to be complimented on the reduction of the traffic violations. Drivers must remember that driving is a serious business; but if done in the proper manner, it can be fun," stated Officer Waldrop.

Graduate To Enter State Talent Contest

After winning over representatives of five other schools of nursing in the Indiana talent elimination contest, Miss Joyce Brittenham, '60 graduate, will compete with other Indiana district winners at the state convention of the Indiana Association of Student Nurses at the Severin Hotel in Indianapolis, tomorrow through Sunday.

Miss Brittenham sang a song for which she was awarded a gold medal. She was one of 11 student nurses of Indiana Central College of Nursing honored at a banquet of the Central League for Nursing in Indianapolis.

The state winner will enter the talent act at the Association's national convention in Detroit, May 18-21.

Bill Wilder Cops Award

"Writer of the Week" for the February 8 issue is Bill Wilder, senior A, on his editorial "Going to College." He will receive 100 extra points and be eligible for the Times trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

MORRISON DRUGS
Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories
International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

Art Pupils Display Drawings, Oils At G. S. Means Company

POLISHED PAINTERS . . . Studying the oil paintings done by Archers, Senior Mike Leaman, Junior Julie Wadlington, and Senior John Oglesbee look at the school's displays for the Art Exhibit. It is now on at the Means Bureau Cadillac Company and is open to the public.—Photo by Lowden

An art exhibit featuring the work of South Side students is on display now in the Cadillac showroom of the G. S. Means Company, 515 West Main Street. The exhibit, which began on February 2, will last until March 2.

Art students of Mrs. Ruth Fleck and Mr. Leon Smith, art teachers, are showing the work they have been doing in oils, prints, charcoal, pen and ink, melted crayon, table cloths, and scratch board.

South's art exhibit will be followed by one from North Side, March 2 to March 30, which in turn will be followed by Central's exhibit from March 30 to April 27.

THOSE ARCHERS displaying oils are Judy Godman, still life, "Bottles"; flowers, "Asters"; portrait, "Lucille"; "Landscape"; Susan Martin, still life, "Vases"; John Oglesbee, flowers, "Roses"; still life, "Teapot and Fruit"; "Bridge and Stream," portrait, "Sister";

Judy Merrill, still life, "Fruit and Dish"; "Marine," portrait of sister; Michael Leaman, still life, "Bottles"; Brenda Dull, flowers, "Orchids"; Bill Cartwright, "Flowers," street scene; Sandra Yagge, flowers, portrait; and Dave Wallace, landscape, "Hills."

Other pupils displaying prints include Brenda Dull, blackprint; Gili Perry, blackprint; Dwight Arnette, blackprint, "Bottles"; and Sandy Petrie, blackprint, "Pitchers."

ONLY ONE PERSON from South Side, Hershel Case, exhibited a melted crayon abstract design. Those students who had entries in the table cloth division are Steve Hartwig, stencil for Christmas cloth, and Sandy Petrie, blackprint, "Pitchers."

Those who had exhibits in the charcoal division are John Addington, portrait; Linda McMurtry, portrait of Barrie McCombs; and Ken Fritz, still life, "Jugs and Plants" and "Lantern."

Fifty-Three Pupils Leave School Before Semester

Fifty-three Archers withdrew before the beginning of this semester. Those who dropped out are Sandra Christlieb, Joe Disler, Robert Earls, Sandy Etzler, John Gerrard, Lupe Gomez, Sharon Jobs, Mary Joseph, Mike Lovetta, Steve Pape;

Phyllis Reack, Larry Smith, Wesley Stewart, Craig Van Gough, Andy Wood, Norma Baughman, Richard Voderan, Richard Cox, Mike Reardon, Porter Pace, and Karen Rawley.

Post grads who have withdrawn are John Schmitt, Paul Sorg, Brian Summers, Nadine Wilson, Sue Merchant, Ted Morton, Gil Perry, Mike Pratt, Bob Ramage, Diane Frump, Jim Hill; Jack Harter, Karen Guy, Sandy Fisher, Mary Fawley, Rebecca Clevenger, Judy Chapman, Russell Campbell, Bill Branning, Chuck Bowling, Sandra Bodkin, Janice Beckold, Marcia Marshand, Dave Lane, Sandy Kunkle, Steve Kearnes, and Larry Haslup.

Room S-4 Leads Banking

Three students in Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 banked $26.76 February 13 for first place. Miss Edith Crowe's Room 22 placed second with three students banking $26.00, and two students in Mr. David Fetter's Room 14 banked $20.50 for third place. Altogether 36 rooms deposited $212.95.

DON SCHMIDT ACCORDION SCHOOL
Certified by Amer. Accordion Assn.
Private Instruction & Accordion Band
RENTAL PLAN—SALES—SERVICE
828 Oxford H-9606

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2350 Fort Wayne, Indiana

FORT WAYNE BEAUTY COLLEGE
1327 S. CALHOUN E-3204
ENROLL NOW FOR SPRING AND FALL CLASSES
ADVANCED HAIR COLORING, CUTTING, AND STYLING
BUDGET PLAN

EVENTS TO COME

- Wednesday, February 21
Vesta Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.
Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.
Chemistry Section, Room 4, 3:30 p.m.
Sectional Tournament
Thursday, February 22
Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30 p.m.
Y-Teens, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Sectional Tournament
Friday, February 23
Pep Session, gym, 8:25 a.m. (if we win Thursday)
Sectional Tournament
Saturday, February 24
Sectional Tournament
Monday, February 26
Philo, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Tumbling, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Tuesday, February 27
Meterite, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
Astronomy Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.
Know Your City Club, Room 110, 3:30 p.m.
S and U cards issued
Wednesday, February 28
Art Club, Room 26, 3:30 p.m.
Red Cross Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.

Pupils Receive Grants

Scholarships for weekly classes at the Fort Wayne Art School have been awarded to three Archers. Susan Whitmer, Susan Martin, and John Oglesbee will attend sessions on Saturday mornings.

The scholarships are given on the basis of merit talent. Mrs. Ruth Fleck and Mr. Leon Smith select the students who are given the scholarships.

The course will cover several phases of art. A fee of five dollars is charged each winner for material. The scholarships cover the tuition fees.

Susan Martin and Susan Whitmer have been attending the classes for one semester on the scholarship program. John Oglesbee is using the scholarship which was originally awarded to Jim Hill. Because Jim had completed his senior year, he was no longer eligible to use the scholarship.

Meterites Plan Program

A surprise meeting of the Meterite Club will be Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Nancy Ormsby will give the "Saying of the Week," a newly formed tradition of the club; and the President, Sue Klahen, will conduct an ordinary business meeting.

"The meeting will prove to be exciting and fun for all," stated Mary Beaudway, program chairman. "All girls are urged to come."

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Real Estate & Insurance Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-3916 K-1909

Mark's CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197
Sad fact of life . . . square meals make round people.
3818 S. Calhoun
This week's Small Snaps is Linda Neff.

Business Curriculum Prepares Pupils For Secretarial Position

WHERE SPEED COUNTS . . . Typing rooms such as this one turn out an estimated twenty-five typists each semester as a part of the business program. Other activities of this department include clerical, stenographical, merchandising, and general work. Mr. Robert Kelly is the instructor of this class.—Photo by Jones

Wanted: stenographers, clerks, secretaries, and persons with merchandising knowledge—high beginning salary, regular raises, and a chance for advancement. Ads such as this may be seen daily in the "Help Wanted" section of any metropolitan newspaper.

These positions often can be filled by a graduate of the business course of South Side. Students taking the business course are being prepared for the business world. They are taught business terms, skills, and manners.

CHOICE IS GIVEN students as to fields of merchandising preparation, clerical, stenographical, or the general branch.

Students on the stenographic branch are taught the basic skills of shorthand, typing and bookkeeping. During their senior year, these students take a course called secretarial practice. In this course, they use not only typing and shorthand, but also practice in office technique and manners.

Students taking the clerical end of business can be quite confident of a future job since almost every office has at least one clerk. They may do filing, act as receptionists, or take care of the mechanical end of the office.

THOSE ON THE clerical branch take business law, business organization and management, marketing, and typing to give them a workable knowledge of office proceedings. On this branch and also on the stenographical branch, a practice session is given during the senior year as a sample of what graduates will meet in the business world.

A third specialized branch is merchandizing. Department store buyers, store managers, and other personnel who deal in purchasing may find this branch excellent.

Finally there is the general branch. Students on this branch are given more leeway.

Students on the business course

GOLLER'S
DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Phone: T-1141

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.
and
Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers
PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.
AND NOW - NEW NO. 3
JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

Advertising Stimulates Sales, Keeps Nation's Economy Alive

Advertising is considered an exciting, interesting, stimulating, and challenging career. It is seldom as glamorous as it is often portrayed in novels, movies, and on television shows. Actually, advertising is a serious, sober business—the business of applying time, talent, and money to the job of keeping sales moving and the economy alive.

One hundred fifty thousand persons are now working in the field of advertising. In another ten years, the number should increase to approximately two hundred fifty thousand. This means that advertising will continue indefinitely to need new people. It is estimated that a minimum of fifteen thousand jobs must be filled in this field each year.

The jobs in the field of advertising are in four areas. First there are the advertising agencies, 5,063 of them, which create the majority of advertisements that are seen and heard. These agencies maintain creative research, media, and marketing staffs that are at the advertisers' calls.

Next are the advertisers, big and small, manufacturers, retailers, utilities, and others over the country. The pay for and have the ultimate control over advertising that the agencies produce. Sometimes, as in the case of most department stores, these companies prepare their own advertising. The third category is comprised of the media consisting of magazines, newspapers, outdoor poster companies, television and radio stations, and networks who are all anxious to sell space, and time to advertisers.

LAST ARE THE advertising suppliers. They are the persons who help in the preparation of advertising and the materials which are used in the preparation.

The greatest conceivable assortment of jobs are available in these various areas. A young person who wants to write can have a field-day in advertising. He can do magazine and newspaper ads, television commercials, car cards, pamphlets, mailing pieces, sales letters, and many others. An artist can run the gamut from oil painting to cartoons, or he can become an art director who designs the ads and has other artists illustrate them. A person with theatrical talent can direct television and radio commercials. Musicians also can find many opportunities in this field.

Positions for researchers, statisticians, marketing and merchandising experts, psychologists, public relations men, media specialists, and sales experts are available. Administrators, accountants, secretaries, and clerks are needed to run the business offices.

People used in the preparation of the advertising field include printers, typographers, lithographers, engravers, and photographers. For smart personable young people who are willing to work there are many chances for advancement.

Are the best jobs only for men? Definitely not! Women are more than welcome in all echelons of the advertising world.

THE REQUIREMENTS are not many, but a person who does not fill them is very unhappy. First he should be imaginative, quick-thinking, and should have inclination for solving problems. He should like ideas for his own sake; because advertising's main product is ideas, and he should like all kinds of creative activity. He also should have a wide range of interests.

Above all, he must like people and be curious as to what makes them alive. "Why" should be his favorite word.

A college education does help, because most employers prefer to hire college graduates, but it is not imperative. Of those who do go to college it is advisable to take a liberal arts course, with emphasis on English, literature, history, and sociology, plus some classes in advertising, marketing, and economics.

In short, advertising can be an enjoyable career for those who are mentally and temperamentally suited for it. However, a job in advertising is no sinecure. The hours are long, the demands many, and the pressures great. It is no occupation for the man solely concerned with finding security. Men quite often move from one job to another.

Anonymity is the painful rule. Few

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

GLADIEUX
OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME"
FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It's fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

people on the outside will ever know who wrote the slogan that all Americans repeats.

WHEN A NEW PRODUCT has been developed there is a great job to do in introducing it to the American people. A slogan or other advertising is not just thought up, but it takes skill, creativity, teamwork and long, patient effort on the part of dozens, perhaps hundreds of specialists to produce effective advertising.

First, the product is pre-tested among consumers to make sure it fills a real need and is acceptable to them. Then various advertising campaigns are prepared and examined in an effort to find the single most dramatic, and convincing selling theme. Meanwhile, media specialists deliberate on how to best deliver the message.

Should it appear in national magazines or local newspapers? Would star-studded television shows or radio be better for presenting this new product, or should they combine these media and others such as outdoor posters, car cards, and the like?

Month after month they work to develop and test the campaign. Finally, it is launched from coast to coast, and they anxiously await the result. If the campaign is successful and the product sells, all are happy; but, if not, it may mean going "back to the drawing board" and starting the grueling process all over again.

Advertising plays a vital role in the economy of America. Just as the assembly line makes possible mass production, advertising gives rise to mass consumption. By holding up an image of a better, fuller life, advertising stimulates the demand that keeps the factories working.

NEW YORK CITY can testify to what would happen to the economy without advertising. Once most of its newspapers were closed by a strike for many days. The impact of this strike on business in New York City was dramatic. The sale of used cars dwindled, so did applications for jobs. The receipts of department stores fell 25 per cent. Theaters were almost empty.

Afterwards when people were asked What did you miss most in not having your newspaper? two per cent replied, "The ads."

Advertising is more than a tool for selling goods and services. It is a weapon for defending our free, democratic institutions.

For example, during World War II, the War Advertising Council, a group representing all elements in the field, had over 150 campaigns run for the government, free, to get people to buy war bonds, save fat, plant victory gardens, and do other patriotic things. Everyone of these campaigns was a success.

Since then, advertising has been equally effective in the public interest. The Advertising Council has run successful campaigns on everything from traffic safety and mental health to the need for better school and anti-polio inoculations.

Credit Cards Help Public, Raise Theft

As this modern age advances, many new inventions are being made to make life easier and more enjoyable. One of these new inventions is the credit card. Credit cards are now used for the purchase of gasoline and oil, rental of cars, and charging of meals, clothes, transportation, lodging and gifts. The modern man no longer needs to carry large amounts of money, just a few small cards.

However, in spite of the convenience, credit cards also have become the object of attention for pickpockets, sneak thieves, and amateur crooks. People have aided these crooks by being careless with their cards. They leave them in restaurants, on store counters, and in hotels.

Because of this carelessness, as much as $1,000 can be illegally charged. A card can be stolen in Florida one evening and in effective use in California the next morning. Therefore, it is evident that the crime rate has greatly increased.

Hotels, restaurants and other places honoring these cards have been doing a great deal to prevent illegal use of the cards. However, it is up to the public to prevent loss of and incorrect use of these cards. One such method is being sure that the card is signed by the owner.

It must also be made sure that the card is returned to the owner after it is used. The old credit card must be destroyed upon the issuance of a new one. If a card is lost the person must notify his creditor immediately.

As it is realized that credit cards will remain in use, the public must learn to take greater care of them, because they are very valuable property.

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 6228

Group Reappraises Americans' Ideals For Home, Abroad

National goals, what does this short but complex phrase mean? The word "goal" immediately paints a picture of achieving new and better ideals or desires. Wide interest has been spurred by the suggestion of many important people to reappraise the national aspirations of our country. It was said that such an appraisal might help to make America look better in the eyes of foreign countries.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower adopted this idea in his State-of-the-Union message in 1959, but the idea was dropped for a year because of insufficient funds. President Eisenhower then appointed a nine-member committee for the purpose of re-evaluating our national goals. This committee published a report on our goals. The committee decided that the paramount goal of the United States was "to guard the rights of the individual, ensure his development, and enlarge the opportunity." It further stated our prime goals at home as follows:

1. WORK WITH THE individual and help to better the individual's life and opportunities.
2. Equality—meaning all types of prejudices, religious, racial, and social discrimination should be stopped; and each man, woman, or child should have equal rights before the law, equal opportunity to hold office, to be educated, to get a job, to buy a home, and to participate in community affairs.
3. Education—to better each person's education and have better teachers and more fully equipped schools, and there should also be federal aid to schools.
4. Arts and Sciences—The country should strive to advance the artistic and scientific knowledge by encouraging such studies.

OTHER GOALS suggested by the committee for use at home were economic growth, living conditions, health and welfare, and agricultural changes. The committee also gave its views on goals abroad. They feel the foreign policy should be to co-operate with countries whose ideals and interests are in harmony with its own, and that all should strive to relieve tension. They also discuss foreign aid as a necessary goal to be bettered. Because of the country's social and economic standing it is only natural that it should help others in economic or military need. It must continue this program and also send Americans abroad to help.

In conclusion, the committee felt that the greatest goal of the United States was to relate the spiritual health of the people with individual rights—to give all the opportunity to seek and worship God and truth in their own way.

Archers Aid Offices By Donating Services

Archers are gaining knowledge concerning the way in which the administrative offices of the school operate by doing service work for either Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, or Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director.

Those working in Room 104 for Miss Van Gorder are Elizabeth Hostetter, before school; Alice Ashton and Jeanne Moore, first period; Peggy Schmidt and Ann Pickering, second period; Erin Rose and Ann Golden, third period; and Pat Bailey and Barbara Altevogt, fourth period. Ann McCallister and Susan Smith work fifth period; Mary Keegan and Marna Reiber, sixth period; Ann Shilling and Louise Jackson, seventh period; and Karen Ponader takes care of after-school business. Julie Breidenstein substitutes for Karen. Helping in the Guidance Office during the first period are Sharyan Yenger, Judy Arnold, and Sally Sweet; second period, Sandy Miller, Becky Baughman, Jane Ladig, and Kay Bradley; third period, Brenda Dull, Jane Ladig, and Kay Bradley; fourth period, Brenda Dull, Jane Ladig, and Sandy Miller; sixth period, Brenda Dull and Mary Jane Reiff; and seventh period, Judy Merrill and Jane Ladig.

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista
Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Four Students Show Enjoyment Of Trains By Collecting Models

THE BIG MERGER . . . Laying the tracks for their uni-railroad. Freshman Tony Trice, Junior Joe Thorpe, and Freshman Mike Comer have solved the problems of their business worlds. Each of these boys has been a model train enthusiast for approximately five years.—Photo by Jones

To accomplish something which is worth while and entertaining is the reason why Tony Trice and Michael Comer, sophomores; Joseph Thorpe, junior; and William Collins, freshman enjoy their hobby, which is model trains.

Tony Trice became interested in trains when his older brother started this hobby. It soon expanded into a family project. Tony now has four Lionel engines along with other types of cars including log rollers, cattle cars, and automatic milk cars.

Tony, who also enjoys flying, says he likes to conduct the train display. Tony said, "It is a hobby which people of all ages can enjoy."

MIKE COMER ALSO has Lionel trains. The trains are O27 gauge. This means they are of medium size or regular toy train size. One gauge is equal to one-eighth of a foot. Other parts of Mike's equipment include freight and passenger cars.

Mike states, "I have always been fascinated by trains. I enjoy building my hobby by adding accessories."

Joseph Thorpe's hobby is about five years old. Joseph has HO gauge trains, which means that they are small. Athearn and Varney are the makes of his trains. Included with his hobby are three engines that are steam, electric, and diesel.

IN 1959, JOSEPH'S display was on exhibit for the National Model Railroad Association, which had a convention here. He states, "I receive hours of enjoyment from my model trains."

The father of William Collins first started him in this train building hobby. Bill, who has had this hobby for seven years, builds his own trains from special kits. At the present time, he has four engines, 40 freight cars, and six passenger cars, all of HO gauge. He likes to assemble the display as often as possible.

Bill says that it is a very educational hobby and that he has learned much about the history of railroads. He is also interested in radios and mountain climbing.

Students Obtain Positions At First Christian Church

In the recent elections at First Christian Church, eight South Side students were elected to offices in their Christian Youth Fellowship group. Serving as the co-presidents for 1962 are Erin Rose and Louis Culbertson.

Other officers include Dave Moody, service; Debbie Love, worship; Elaine Cole, program; Judy Merrill, recreation; Jim Plummer, program; and Mary Crowder, enlistment.

Last year Erin Rose served as the enlistment chairman. Louis Culbertson is starting his second year as a co-president.

Plaza
Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN / ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET / PLATES
LETTERPRESS / PLATES
ELECTRO / DIES / MATS / STEREO'S

EMPHASIS
*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET
TELEPHONE E-0505

Kelly Fans Boost Quintet Along Sectional Trail

Phil New
Mr. F. Roland Smith
Mike Seaman
Johnny Goodwin (Komets)
Davey Richardson (Komets)
Gary Young (Komets)
Sonya Flagg
Mrs. Murphy
Barb Nelson
Ann Mol
Sue Bradley
Marda Munson
Miss Caubie
Carol McMeekin
Pat Miller
Sheila Myers
Sue Mowery
Pat North
Cherylene Nahrwold
Rae Ann Mote
Julie Neuenchwander
Barb Spiers
Bill Mueller
Anita Ferber
Barb Heinisch
Dave Pritchard
Doug Woodside
George Gosheff
Patsie Dorton
Bob Hawkins
Ventures Automobile Club
Ventures Automobile Club
Ventures Automobile Club
Terry Hoff
Dick Hirschberg
Diane Hall
Ann Golden
Jenny Manth
Jenny Manth
Mary Keegan
Dave Riemen
Jim Howard
The Schokettes
Mike Schoen
Dave West
Dave Reidenbach
Carolyn Scherer
Joanna Rose
Margee Terry
Peggy Schmidt
Mary Jane Reiff
John Wilks (Miami U.)
Rhonda Roehm
Jane Knettle
Ann Henderson
Marcia Hughes
Susie Smith III
Marsha Klaehn
Dick Parke
Hunt Knabe
Sue Smith
Steve Bill
Hunt Knabe
Julie Rhinehart
Hunt Knabe
Pat Bailey
Hunt Knabe
Barbie Rea
Hunt Knabe
Ann Mol
Hunt Knabe
Kathy DeVore
Hunt Knabe
Nancy Robinson
Hunt Knabe
Cindy Platt (Elmhurst)
Hunt Knabe
Sally Adams
Hunt Knabe
Dave Hoffman
Dan Herney
Gary Hensch
Diana Shilling
Dave Hoffman
Robert Hofherr
Mr. Stebing
Linda Newell
Kathy Knettle
Steve Chapin
Cheri Nadolny
Mike Carter
Hill Cartwright
Barbara Cleary
Steve Cook
Diane Hess
Mary Karrick
Sue Harrod
Denise Jones
Diane Hollister
Cliff Hoshaw
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Greg Rozelle
Ray Rodenbeck
Ray Rodenbeck
Ray Symmonds
Tony Trice
Tom Hollingsworth
Mike Byrd
Dave Anderson
Ross Clark
Sherry Baxter
Alice Ashton
Steve McKee (B.L.)
Marilyn Block
Karen Ann Walker
Herman Volkswagon
Nancy A'Hearn
W.D. Strout
Jean Hatfield
Diane Saalfrank
Sue Lohman
Jim Adair (Concordia)
Steve Arnold (Concordia)
Stuart Schwalm (Concordia)
John Mader (Concordia)
Mrs. Emshwiler
Mikie Tieman
Nancy Sprunger
Mike Stalter
Betsey Stephenson
Bonnie Strehlow
Vicki Suetterlin
Donna Summers
Avinell Swathwood
Richard Thompson
Dawn Trux
Monda Tucker
Margee Terry
Linda Gernand
Janet Calvert
Cindy Jackson
Gunther Bauer
Nancy Bowman
Charlie Golden
Dave Wolfe
Don Guenther
Dick Goshorn
Jenny Hammerstein

THUNDERATION! ARCHER DELEGATION . . . The Archer squadron, coached by Mr. Don Reichert, will compete with Elmhurst tomorrow at 6 p.m. The team includes, front row, left to right, Willie Files, Dave Munson, Tom Shine, Dave Banet, Mart Platupe, and Ken Leakey; and, back row, left to right, Tom McMahan, Dale Hilsmier, Tom Meyers, Dave Meyer, Gary Probst, and Bob Lohman.—Photo by Lowden.

Linda Bevington
Billie Burgo
Joyce Dunlap
Cindy Duncan
Paul Green
Dave Bacon
Sharyan Yerger
Janis Nash
Celeste Riemen
Hunt Knabe
Michael Schoen
Michael Schoen
Michael Schoen
Michael Schoen
David Rieman
Dianne Friedman
Miss E. Crowe
Hunt Knabe
Cindy Platt (Elmhurst)
Hunt Knabe
Sally Adams
Hunt Knabe
Dave Hoffman
Dan Herney
Gary Hensch
Diana Shilling
Dave Hoffman
Robert Hofherr
Mr. Stebing
Linda Newell
Kathy Knettle
Steve Chapin
Cheri Nadolny
Mike Carter
Hill Cartwright
Barbara Cleary
Steve Cook
Diane Hess
Mary Karrick
Sue Harrod
Denise Jones
Diane Hollister
Cliff Hoshaw
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Tony Rydell
Greg Rozelle
Ray Rodenbeck
Ray Rodenbeck
Ray Symmonds
Tony Trice
Tom Hollingsworth
Mike Byrd
Dave Anderson
Ross Clark
Sherry Baxter
Alice Ashton
Steve McKee (B.L.)
Marilyn Block
Karen Ann Walker
Herman Volkswagon
Nancy A'Hearn
W.D. Strout
Jean Hatfield
Diane Saalfrank
Sue Lohman
Jim Adair (Concordia)
Steve Arnold (Concordia)
Stuart Schwalm (Concordia)
John Mader (Concordia)
Mrs. Emshwiler
Mikie Tieman
Nancy Sprunger
Mike Stalter
Betsey Stephenson
Bonnie Strehlow
Vicki Suetterlin
Donna Summers
Avinell Swathwood
Richard Thompson
Dawn Trux
Monda Tucker
Margee Terry
Linda Gernand
Janet Calvert
Cindy Jackson
Gunther Bauer
Nancy Bowman
Charlie Golden
Dave Wolfe
Don Guenther
Dick Goshorn
Jenny Hammerstein

Jill Berman (S. Bend Adams)
Victor Lewandowski
Terry Fredericks (Elmhurst)
John Varner
Sue Whitmer
Rita Waikel
Ron Reynolds
Bruce Brown
Donna Brandenberger
From Homeroom 60
Central Tigers
Evelyn Brown
Connie Stuff
Elizabeth Breedlove
Dave Beecher
Stan Black
Kaylene Bleich
Nan Wallace
Paul Boergert
Alice Habegger
Mary Bowland
Borris the Morris
Ruth Sprunger
Linda Welch
Russ Wickham
Jim Watson
Ann Weber
Dick Weidke
Susie Wiedelman
Pat Wirick
Susie Weinraub
Cheryl Spangle
Jim Long
Nancy Ormsby
Russ Wickham
Dean Zimmerman
Dean Zimmerman
Lynelle Dill
Lynelle Dill
Mrs. Drummond
Kathy DeVore
Victor Churchward
Ed Kimble
Kathy Wyss
Susan Moyer
Uncle Dale
Jim Harold Linda Hake
Bill Hanke
John Grandstaff
Cindy Russell
Russell Grose
Ted Graham
Lane Hegerfeld
Brian Haycock
Jackie Heckman
Vic Meyer
Dianne Gilliom
Butch Grosheff
Marianne Harper
Marianne Harper
Marianne Harper
Mary Ann Waldrop
Mary Ann Waldrop
Sally Henderson
Sandy Reed
Bonnie Callahan
Pam Richardson
Louisa Porter
Jo Richter
Sharon Wright
Diana Nordblom
Suzanne Freeman
Susie Smith
Jim Ellingwood
Sally Sweet
Danny Schwartz
Vicki Suetterlin
Annell Hoover
Dave Tipton
Gaynel Musser
Ann Raatz
Karen Minkin
Elli Gilbert
Stuart Block
Mike Leaman
Mike Leaman
Victor Lewandowski
Glenn Linaky
Designers Club
Barrie Spear
Jim Grove (North)
Dan Schwartz
Sue Smith

Diane Smith
Varsity Cheerleaders
Roger Wendel (Ossian)
Judi Eytcheson
Bev Figel
Marilyn Engle
Marilyn Engle
Marilyn Engle
Betty Lou Ensley
Larry Ballman
Ellen Lowe
Karen McFarland
Ronald Freeman
Jo Ellen Bobay
Mike Perverda
Chuck Hohman
Sharon Eitman
Paul Pratico
Phyllis Perdue
Jim Powell
Patty Phelps
Carol Quinn
Mike Putman
Herb Seemann (Concordia)
Woody Nierman
Barbie Rea
Vicky Phillips
Bob Quick
Steve Capps
Judy MacGiehan
Karen Finfrock
Sue Gerig
Dave Blanton
Bob Camp
Pat Bailey
Beth Burnett
Mr. Furst
Larry Davis
Laura Carper
Laura Carper
Jane Augspurger
Jane Augspurger
Larry Barnett
Harb Altevogt
Bill Cupp
Kerry Nidlinger
William Hawthorne Kleifgen
Jane Ellen Ladig
Susan Horth
Mark Krieg
Mike Painter
Steve Esterline
Bob Smith
John Simpson
Jenny Slater
Sally Smart
Barb Smith
Jerry Smith
Mr. Sidell
Jan Spuller
Barb Spiers
Karen Simmons
Susie Hines
Janie Hines
Barbie Hines
Jeff Hines
Bobby Hines
Carl Hike
Barb Bussard
Carl Hike
Barb Bussard
Carl Hike
Barb Bussard
Carl Hike
Barb Bussard
Tom Galland
Tom Galland
Tom Galland
Tom Galland
Karen Franks
Lois Galmore
Christine Fruechtenicht
Ron France
Pat Franiser
Douglas Fray
Miss Mary Crowe
Dave Fairchild
Jeff Roth
Sterling Moss
Arnold Palmer
Cathy Menze
Eileen Mayle
Curtis Holley
Jean Holley

The Varsity Cheerleaders
Linda Chaney
Sandy Bates
Martha Jacobs
Oma Ake
Louise Brown
Sandy Heidbrink
Lynne Fraser
Ann Flickinger
Jim Dixon
Pat Dixon
Don Dixon
Dick Dixon
Janet Dinius
Carol Forsgren
Linda Handy
Nancy Enz
Irene Elandrois
Mike Ensley
Jan McClain
Kay Symonds
Sandy Lindeman
Marcelle Flandrois
Debby Zollinger
Jack Fanning
Sherry Fox
Valentina Harabosky
Sandra Graue
Rick Vanderford
Gretchen Brumm
Kay Carrier
Dennis Crill
Ginny Christoffer (N.S.)
Nancy Byers
Joyce J. Klaehn
Bob Piercy
Marilyn Parke
Ellen Stanbery
Gwenie Bass
Betty Gallmeyer
Dann Ornas
Dotty Dildine
Dixie Anne Dixon
Norman Mallough
Barbara Altevogt
Sue Smith
Barbara Altevogt
Sue Smith
Leanna Morris
Jean Hatfield
Cindy Miller
Jim Markiton
Bill Bergman
Jim Riddle
Sally Mallough
Robert Hawkins
Diane Smith
Jane Van Buskirk
Sue Moyer
Dianna Brown
Connie Fugate
Dick Faith
Rebecca Farver
Pat Scheib
Diane Saalfrank
Kathy Otis
Martha Lanning
Jim Leiter
Pat Lee
Nate Normont
Kathy Klas
Dale Smith
Dale Smith
Craig Miller
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Jemmenkalnen
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Jemmenkalnen
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Lommenkalnen
Hunt Knabe
Nancy Frantz
Ricky Childers
Ed Heuer
Herb Seeman
John Talarico
Pat Bailey
Susan Trier

Elli Gilbert
Marilyn Fishman
"Schnops"
Steve Gilbert
Myra Hamburg
Sharon McEachern
Mary Fredrick
Pat Nettrour
Bill Kinsey
Peggy Lee
Fred Busche
Edwin John Gaterman
Skip Gaterman
Edwin John Gaterman
Skip Gaterman
Mike Files
Anne Flottesesch
Jim Mann
Mike Hullinger
Jim Hughes
Ray Juncal
Ed Johnson
Bob Knox
Mel Kiessling
Jim Watson
Ginny Barnes
Susan Mottter
Karen Hathaway
Dave Coolman
Bonnie McDrail
Greg Lantzer
Anita Kimball
Pat Sharpin
Gwen Yordy
Linda Dollarhite
Ron Reynolds
Ron Bakalar
Jim Wolfe
Steve Kosteck
Joe Thorpe
Mr. J. F. Arnold
Mr. Gernand
Pat Wilson
Tom Wenger
Celeste Rieman
Cynthia Russell
Jean Hatfield
Joan Van Osdale
Dick Parke
Craig Miller
Judy Godman
Kathy Knettle
Jane Finnell
Ann Petrie
Sandy McCombs
Dayna Harader
Flora Reynolds
Linda Price
Sherry Baxter
Paul Cochran
Cheri Craig
Richard Leath
Pam Himes
Doris Ann Leath
Sally Franklin
Hank Kernohan
Marcia Leath
Martha Lanning
Jim Leiter
Pat Lee
Nate Normont
Kathy Klas
Dale Smith
Dale Smith
Craig Miller
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Jemmenkalnen
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Jemmenkalnen
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Lommenkalnen
Hunt Knabe
Nancy Frantz
Ricky Childers
Ed Heuer
Herb Seeman
John Talarico
Pat Bailey
Susan Trier

Carolyn Dian Marcia Kay
Leath
Bill Rastetter
Bill Rastetter
Julie Wadlington
Claudia Stennes
Jill Berman (S. Bend Adams)
Bob Hart
John "Martha Scott" Belling
Sherry Powell
Liana Hatfield
Jackie Kessler
Abcdedghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
Jean Ann McGinley
Carol Eberle
Carol McVay
Marcia Larson
Pat Dunn
Sherry Martin
Jim Ellingwood
Mrs. Grimshaw
Tom Eberle
Ron Martz
Bonnie Tescula
Sonya Flagg
Susan Mottter
Karen Hathaway
Dave Coolman
Bonnie McDrail
Greg Lantzer
Anita Kimball
Pat Sharpin
Gwen Yordy
Linda Dollarhite
Ron Reynolds
Ron Bakalar
Jim Wolfe
Steve Kosteck
Joe Thorpe
Mr. J. F. Arnold
Mr. Gernand
Pat Wilson
Tom Wenger
Celeste Rieman
Cynthia Russell
Jean Hatfield
Joan Van Osdale
Dick Parke
Craig Miller
Judy Godman
Kathy Knettle
Jane Finnell
Ann Petrie
Sandy McCombs
Dayna Harader
Flora Reynolds
Linda Price
Sherry Baxter
Paul Cochran
Cheri Craig
Richard Leath
Pam Himes
Doris Ann Leath
Sally Franklin
Hank Kernohan
Marcia Leath
Martha Lanning
Jim Leiter
Pat Lee
Nate Normont
Kathy Klas
Dale Smith
Dale Smith
Craig Miller
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Larry Lee
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Iksuckleluck McSutlebumm
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Jemmenkalnen
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Jemmenkalnen
Vainamolnem Ilmarinen
Lommenkalnen
Hunt Knabe
Nancy Frantz
Ricky Childers
Ed Heuer
Herb Seeman
John Talarico
Pat Bailey
Susan Trier

Steve Evans
Babs Fitzgerald
Jack Garrison
Bob Camp
Bart Bailey
Dean Bordner
Dan Smith
Margaret Shirley
Diana Shilling
Cheryl Scott
Gary Shank
Judy Shomo
Nila Schmidt
Paulette Schmidt
Joyce Spindler
Jean Hatfield
Leanna Morris
Liz Ellis
Jackie Berry
Sally Gilbert
Jill Leonard
Linda Chaney
Greg Arnold
Karen Klaehn
Ruth Russ
Ginny Barnes
Carol Rocke
Janice Robson
Judy Rogers
Sheila Reynolds
Ted Rolf
Dick Robinson
Jeanne Rondot
John Schmitt
Barry Jacobs (B.L.)
Tom Dunmire (B.L.)
Tom Schilling (B.L.)
Steve Boerger
Larry Brown
Karen S. Walker
Sandy Stigall
Marcia Anderson
Uncle "Mart"
Linda Miracle
Sally Morris
Margaret Sims
Barbie Rea
Debbie Decker
Mike Havlin
Dave Rodenbeck
Barry McCombs
Gary Gemmer (Central)
Pat Bobay
Tom David
Sandy Duff
John Arnold
June Blessing
Jim Bailey
Linda Becher
"Rubber Pants"
Bob Cutler
Kathy Wyss
Klem Kadiddlehopper
Frank Lewis
Courtney C. Brown
Diane Smith
Curtis Holley
Eileen Mayle
Jerry Klaehn
Gwen Fireoed
Larry Davis
Connie Spencer
Patty Somers
Cynthia Snider
Jean Holley
Beth Bradfield
Julie Breidenstein
Dimid Philtrin
Furze Philtrin
Sam Philtrin
Pazz Ruoy Ellrets
Nancy Bowman
Janl Brenn
Kay Bragalone
Carolyn Burns
Elmhurst High School
Jim Friebringer (B.L.)
Linda France
Janet Bates
L.W. Harper
Diane Dandridge
Don Merion
Sue Kelley
Honey-K Martindale
John Addington

Karen Klaehn
Cheryl Lee
Janet Kelley
Charlotte Dinius
Betsey Adams
Diane Petznik
Sharon Todd
Carol Shedron
Nancy Stauffer
Nancy Stauffer
Sandra Stouder
Jackie Kuhns
Karen Walker
"Big D"
"Big D"
Roberta Twitchell
Joan Webster
Jackie Sanders
Phil Shulze (P.U.)
Mom (Elmhurst)
Ricky Twitchell
Dad (N.S.)
E.A. Monce
Lehettwt J.R.
The Flying Horse
Robert Lee Kinsey
Cheryl Lynn Krudop
Steve Kratzman
Pat Hieber
Jane Hatfield
Doris Hessert
Maggie Long
Benita Houser
Benita Houser
Fran Hadlow
Mr. F.W. Hellman
Christine Fruechtenicht
Karen Franks
Skip Gaterman
Chuck Hager
Tom Blossom
Linda Hicks
Nancy Westrick
Anita Downing
Mike Shirk (N.S.)
Diane Wilcoxson
Steve Smith
Margaret Curtis
Carol Doerhman
Vicki Bradley
Connie Cross
Stan Dilley (C.C.)
Ron Woods
Steve Russ
Steve Russ
Steve Russ
Steve Russ
Leanna Morris
Tom McMahan
Dick Parke
Bud Lucas
Judy Doherty
George Gilmour III
Dave Blanton
Gary Cantwell
Ken Davis
Doug Yaney
Bob Weiss
Bill Joy
Mark Jones
Mr. Willard Jones
Jean Longardner
Jim Lambert
Linda Neff
Martha Cain
Billie Clark
Sally Byers
Janice Cerveris
Bob Case
Donna Coleman
Steve Leitz
Vicki Adams
Diane Saalfrank
Leanna Morris
Sandy Petrie
Sondra Stouder
Pat Somers
Joe Emmerson
Mr. Fell
Cindy Miller
Cecil B. Rabbit
Hager (Beulah Land)
Kathy Markoff
Chuck Bodenhorn
Chuck Bodenhorn
Vicki Adams
Marsha Kuhn
Charlotte Powell
Diane Saalfrank
Carolyn Scherer
Mary Lydia Robles
Mike Bustos
Steve Hartwig
Diana Hays
Margie Layman
Everett Mathieu
Tom Galland
Don Sorensen
Tom Stone
Nancy Miles
Karen Dowdy
Carol Forsgren
Kay Seling
"Scotty"
"Porky"
Mr. Clair Motz
Karl Erwin Bandemer
Henry King
Jim Howenstine
Cletus Edmonds
Harrison Lane
Bob Weiss
Tom Plesniak
Kerry Nidlinger
Carolyn Scherer
Judy Merrill
Duke Shine
Shirley Davis
Karen Niswonger
Cheri Spangle
Fred Slater
Sheila Gehring
Sheila Gehring
Miss M. Crowe
Sherry Strawser
Jim Rondot
Sherry Spencer
Robert Welsh
Dan McCroskey
Terry Smith
Bonnie Byers
Steve Russ
Linda France
Janet Gerig
L.W. Harper
Diane Dandridge
Don Merion
Sue Kelley
Honey-K Martindale
John Addington

Bowmen Lose To Berries To Complete 6-14 Season

Kellys Collapse On Foul Line, Snag 11 Of 24

Dale Hilsmier Sparks Team With 20 Points To Lead Both Squads

The Archer basketball team finished the regular season's play with a gallant effort, surely one of the year's most stirring exhibitions of the sincerity and spirit of the Archer squad. The 64-59 loss to Logansport was certainly not suffered through any fault of the Bowmen, as they clearly outplayed the Berries on the court in all but one category.

An analysis of the statistics shows the Kellys outscoring Coach Jim Jones' quintet, 48-40, from the field. The margin of victory was clearly forged at the charity stripe. Offered but 24 attempts for free shots, the Green responded with 11 weak conversions.

The Red and White, however, not only made good on 24 of 35 chances but also succeeded in getting three Archers chased on fouls, with the other two on the verge of the same fate.

THE PLAY WAS shaggy in spots, with the gym occasionally looking vaguely like a wrestling arena. The official calls, moreover, often frustrated the players so greatly that their play became even less polished, and more infractions were incurred.

High scorer for both aggregations was Reichertman Dale Hilsmier, who collected 20. He picked up 12 of those in the second half, which he played under the handicap of four fouls. Other high men for the Bowmen were Ken Leakey, 12; Dave Meyer, 11; and Tom McMahan, seven.

Chuck Fiedler, whose ten markers in the final stanza spelled defeat for the Green, led his crew with 17 points. He was followed by the Parmeter brothers, Larry and Wes, with 13 and 11, respectively, and by Fred Hillis with ten.

SOUTH FOUGHT furiously in the opening period, beating Logansport off the boards and containing their shooting fairly well with a rugged man-to-man defense. The starting lineup of Ken Leakey, Mart Platupe, Dale Hilsmier, Dave Meyer, and Gary Probst fought like demons off the boards, missing four tip-in attempts which were in and out.

Hilsmier did crack in three fielders and Meyers contributed a pair of free throws to go with his two buckets, so that these two equalled the entire Berry production. Leakey and Platupe chipped in fielders to boost the Arrowfingers to a 16-12 lead at quarter-time.

The second period was relatively low scoring, but it was of consequence because of the number of fouls which were called on both squads. Although the trouble had not yet become acute, the hard core of the Archer fans who had traveled the 72 miles to the contest saw that it would soon become a serious problem.

When Wiedler was moved to the bench for a rest, little Larry Parmeter, a 5-8 flashy guard, began driving on the Kelly defense, drawing fouls and pouring in points. When he cashed in both chances of a one-and-one opportunity, he vaulted the Berries into the lead for the first time, 19-18. He came right back with a lay-up to make it 21-19.

TOM McMAHAN CANNED a beauty to tie up the matter. Then Hilsmier and Lohman each added buckets to change the situation to 25-21. Parmeter and Lohman traded scores, with the Red guard coming out two better than the Archer to make the half-time count 27-25.

The third period was a stanza of ups and downs and strange happenings. On one occasion Dave Meyer was bestowed three chances for free throws, following a two-shot violation. He was able to convert only the final attempt. At the other end of the floor, Wes Parmeter drew a foul on a shot, but received a one-and-one chance from the charity stripe, as the foul had come after the two-pointer had left his hands.

Making good this four-point play, he brought Logansport from a 40-38 deficit, to a 42-40 advantage. Steve Heinrich flipped in a free throw for the Red, also; but Tom McMahan's lay-up gave South only a one-point disadvantage going into the last quarter.

The fourth period was disaster for the Archers. The Berries totaled 21 points, 11 on foul shots, while the Kellys pumped in 16 from the field and one from the foul line. Leakey, Meyer, and Platupe all fouled out, with Hilsmier and Probst probably saved only by the gun.

LOGANSPORT BOUNCED off to a 47-42 lead and then to a 57-46 command, with only Hilsmier's and Leakey's shots counting for South.

The Green rallied for eight out of the next ten tallies with Hilsmier potting four and Leakey four to pull the score to 59-54. Willie Files made the best of a three-point play and the Bowmen were down just 60-57.

With 57 seconds left, after a stall of one minute, the Berries cashed in on Willie Smith's one-and-one foul. Hilsmier hit to give South hope, but the Red led it in the final seconds to make the scoreboard read 64-59.

The final record shows a 6-14 slate for Coach Reichert's men, but no record book ever shows the hard work and feverish practice. The record doesn't show the hard, one-basket losses, or the choking pressure of foul shots in the dying seconds.

It only shows how many times a group of dejected boys have trudged the long lonely road to the locker room with the weight of the "world" stooping their shoulders.

Freshmen Tounce Bishop Luers, 54-37, In Season's Finale

The freshman basketball team ended the 1961-62 season on a happy note on Thursday, defeating Bishop Luers by a score of 54-37. The Archers split the game wide open in the second quarter, outscoring the Knights 19-2.

Coach Pres Brown started his second string against the Knights and they fared well, staying within a point of the first string Luers cagers. Bill Rauch got the first bucket for Luers on a good pass from Pat Pio.

The Green came blazing back with a pair of close-in scores by Chip Bolman, who played a great game for the Archers. Lynn Hoover then hit two free throws. Tom Schilling canned a close shot from behind a screen; and Hoover countered a 20-foot bank-in shot that made the score 8-6 for South.

DAN JUNK SUNK a free throw and a field goal, while Bishop Luers was scoring six markers to make the score at the end of the first stanza Bishop Luers, 12; South Side, 11.

The second period saw the turning of a close game into a rout. At the outset, Chip Bolman and Ron Van Ryn led an 11 point streak, respectively. Tom Klinger mustered the Knights' only basket on a tip-in effort. South then went on another scoring spurge, canning eight in a row before the buzzer sounded ending the half with the score standing in South Side's favor, 30-14.

Top scorers for the first half were Bolman with 10, and Van Ryn, Hoover, and Bob Kinsey with four apiece.

THE THIRD QUARTER found Bishop Luers closing the gap to nine on a seven-point string after both teams had traded baskets. However, South came back as Hoover scored a jumper from the key and Bolman converted two charity attempts. Rauch finished the scoring for the quarter with a 15-footer from the side to bring the Knights within 11 points of the 36-25 score.

In the final stanza, the Green outscored the Knights by 18-12. Three foul shots by Mike Vogt balanced out a three-point play by Klinger. Kinsey and Dave Fishbaugh followed with a bucket apiece, but Klinger canned another free throw.

Hoover countered with a foul shot and Bolman added a basket to make the score 46-29. Each team then went on to score eight points to round out the scoring in the game, 54-37. High scorers for the Archers were Chip Bolman with 16, Lynn Hoover with seven, and Bob Kinsey, Ron Van Ryn, and Jan Doran with six each. Top for Bishop Luers was Tom Klinger with 14.

Ron Heathman Captures Title At Golden Gloves Tournament

ANOTHER JOHN L. SULLIVAN???? In training for the Golden Gloves championship, Dave Wallace, left, shadow boxes with fellow contender Ron Heathman. Both boys are members of the Police Athletic League and have participated in many boxing matches in Muncie, Ind.—Photo by Jones

Seniors Ron Heathman and Dave Wallace have added greatly to the prestige of South by their recent feats in the sport of boxing. Both competed in the State Golden Gloves Tournament at Muncie last week, with Ron emerging champion of his class.

Ron became interested in boxing by competing in intramurals. Therefore, he sought information about the Police Athletic League, P.A.L. When he learned that the league was sponsoring a trip to Muncie for the State Golden Gloves Tournament, he began training, with the help of Harold Stier, a former fourth-ranked professional, and Johnny White, one of the city's most promising boxers.

RON ENTERED the tournament as a featherweight contestant for the state title. He drew a first-round bye, and then won a unanimous decision over Burnice Bolar of Kendallville. In the championship match, he scored an impressive TKO over John Mitchell of Richmond in the second round.

Dave Wallace became interested in boxing much in the same way that Ron did. He wanted to find out what he could do in boxing and tried it just for fun. Dave heard about P.A.L. from

Mural Men

Intramural teams are presently competing in volleyball, while individuals are playing badminton and wrestling.

In an exhibition volleyball game, the Sophomore Rejects edged the Teachers, 15-10, 7-15, 15-10. Members of the Teachers are Mr. Raymond Quance, Mr. Preston Brown, Mr. Glen Stebbins, Mr. David Poll, Mr. Robert Davis, Mr. Richard Ober, and Mr. Charles Holt. Leading the victors was Dick Robinson with 10 points, Dale Engle with nine, and Dave Banet and Jim Littlejohn with five points each. Mr. Ober sparked the Teachers with ten points, while Mr. Quance clipped in eight.

Faced by Dave Meek who scored ten points, the Champs shaded the Twisters, 10-15, 15-4, 10-4. Jerry Klahn scored seven points for the winners and Al Schlie served for five. Mike Laughlin led the Twisters with ten good serves, and Rick Bear added six.

The Sophomore Rejects then routed the Mighty Few, 15-7, 15-6. Tom Meyers, Ted Rolf, and Dave Banet led the Rejects, with ten, seven, and six points, respectively. Dave Riemen and Steve Putman led the Mighty Few, with four points each.

The Pals then turned back the Glads, 15-6, 14-10, 2-0. Henry Persons and Jerry Scherrer each totaled seven points, and Bill Cupp added six.

The Champs shaded the Meat-Eaters, 16-14, 12-10. Al Sheldon scored eight points, and Dave Meek added seven to the Champs' balanced attack. The Meat-Eaters were led by Gary Probst, Tom Shine, and Bob Lohman, with five tallies each.

Porky's Fans thenlobbered the Seals, 15-6, 15-4. Jim Abramson scored ten points, Dan Bercof got seven. Steve Mills added six, and Graham Grove made five points to lead the victors. James Harrold led the Seals with four points.

The Mountaineers then trounced the Tiptons, 15-3, 15-3. Jim Mann chalked up eight points, and both Rick Proctor and Jim Plummer got six points for the victors.

Reserves Win At Logansport By 38-30 Tally

Saving his best efforts for the last game of the season, Center Tom Meyers led the reserve basketball team to a 38-30 victory over Logansport at the Berries' gym Friday. Tom's free-throw shooting was flawless as he converted nine charity attempts and he added two picturesque hook shots for a total of 13 points.

The game was the finale of one of the best seasons ever experienced by a South Side reserve team. By winning this game, they compiled a nine-game winning streak and finished the season with a phenomenal 16-1 record.

Following the pattern that they have used all year, the Archers built up a large lead in the first half and traded baskets with the Berries the rest of the way to chalk up the victory.

DON HILSMIER led an opening barrage by the Archers getting five of their first seven points and seven points in the period. Five more points by three other players gave the Archers 12 points for the period while the Berries could score just four.

Showing the fine balance and bench strength of his team, Coach Porky Holt substituted a complete new unit at the beginning of the second period. The Archers continued to build up their lead steadily and, led by Meyers' seven points, had a comfortable 25-12 lead at half-time. Though the Berries played very loosely, they still managed to add eight points to their total.

The Archers opened the third period with rather poor playing. Their height advantage gave them control of the defensive boards; but each time they brought the ball into the fore-court, they were called for traveling.

IN TWO AND ONE-HALF minutes, they did not score; but since the Berries were also having problems, the Archers continued to hold a comfortable margin. Three points by Dave Banet and two foul shots by Meyers were the total Archer output in the period as the Berries closed the margin to 30-21.

The fourth quarter settled into a playoff of the verdict that had been decided in the first half. Meyers scored his final four points to lead the Archers to a 38-30 verdict.

COMPLETE Radio - TV Coverage IHSAA Basketball Tournament

Brought to you by

The House of Fine Meat Specialties

WKJG-TV

(Channel 38)

WKJG

(1880 KC Radio)

SUNDAY 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
Tournament Round
Norst Side vs. Bishop Luers

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

You're the picture of fashion in our beautiful new wools

|                                                                                |                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| WOOLSStripes—Plaids56" to 58" wideReg. $3.98Now $2.98 | CORDUROYFine Wale Prints38" wide. Reg. $1.59Now 98c |
| JERSEYRayon Matte54" wide. Reg. $1.39Now 59c               | RAYONCrepe Prints45" wide. Reg. $1.19Now 79c        |
| QUILTINGSatiny PrintsReg. $1.98Now $1.29                  | COTTONSEver Fast Prints36" wide. Reg. 98cNow 59c     |

All fabrics 54/56 inches wide.

Everything you need for successful sewing

SINGER SEWING CENTERS

124 W. Wayne • Downtown • A-1325

Listed in phone book under SINGER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

'Rover Boys' Enjoy Camping, State Harrowing Experiences

TAKING 'ROUTE 66'??? ... Mapping the journey for their next return to the wilderness are front row, Jim Hawkins, left, and Mike Weinraub, back row, Steve Bill, left, and Steve Birkenbeul. The "Rover Boys" pack their gear and leave whenever the occasion arises.—Photo by Jones

Attention girls! Do you want to know "where the boys are?" Why camping, of course. Junior Jim Hawkins, Sophomore Steve Bill, Junior Mike Weinraub, and Junior Steve Birkenbeul have found that a camper's life is the best.

The "Rover Boys" pack their gear and leave whenever the occasion arises. Each boy has his own equipment with which he can sleep comfortably at sub-zero temperatures. Among their accessories are five guns, two portable stoves, and portable lamps.

The main accessory is the will to work. Each boy has to do his own work or starve. On the first day out firewood has to be collected, tents set up, gear arranged in its proper place, and then a first started.

THIS LAST TASK IS Jim Hawkins' and Mike Weinraub's specialty. They have started fires in rain, snow, or extremely fast winds. Both boys say that they learned this art on their first trip to Canada.

The other two "Rover Boys," Steve Birkenbeul and Steve Bill, spend their time working on crude tables, chairs, and implements. Steve Bill built a hammock in the upper half of a tree, where each boy could take turns sleeping.

On the last trip it was so cold that Steve Birkenbeul buried his food to keep it from freezing. In this way the other three boys could always tell if it was time to eat for then Steve would be digging for his buried treasure. Steve said that burying his food protected it not only from the elements, but also from three hungry friends.

AFTER THEIR WORK is done, the "Rover Boys" play games and go hunting. One of the games is called "Hounds and Hares." The object is to find your opponents faster than they can find you. If the game is large, the event can take all day.

When interviewed, each admitted that camping can be rugged; but they said it was worth it in the experiences and fun gained. On their first trip meals were cooked in the rain. Also they were threatened by wild animals and bulls, who shared the same pasture with them. On the last trip the temperature reached 15 or 20 degrees below zero. However, after any trip they are more than anxious to make plans for their next excursion in the woods.

Class Rings Present Ownership Problems Of Motives, Finance

"But, Dad," Jan pleaded, "a class ring is a necessity."

Technically, Jan is stating that possessing a class ring is vitally important for the maintenance of her happiness. Most contented, well-adjusted students possess class rings.

There is no definite, conclusive answer to this controversial query. Prospective class ring owners, in order to reach sound decisions, should carefully examine both the positive and negative issues.

ONE SHOULD consider the financial wisdom of owning a class ring. Purchasing them can become relatively expensive. Though prices vary, $17 is almost the minimum one must pay.

Is the investment practical, or will one be saddled with the burden of installment payments? The money which is spent for this item might later be needed for senior pictures, prom expenses, or college tuition. However, several popular brands of trading stamps are redeemable for class rings.

The motive for possible ownership must also be analyzed. Wearing a ring because one is proud of his school is excellent. It then is a visible symbol of his pride and loyalty.

IN MODERN SOCIETY, many couples who are going steady believe they must exchange class rings as public pledges of their devotion. A danger of material pride also exists. Pompously displaying a class ring for the sake of adoration and envy is a common motive.

One must also remember that class rings are usually worn less extensively after high school graduation.

Again it should be emphasized that the ownership of class rings is a matter of individual discretion. No blanket rules may be applied. With the advice of a trusted adult, and an accurate understanding of financial situations and motives, each student must draw his own conclusions.

Americans To Send Letters In Missiles

People of the United States are approaching a new era of communication. Communications for mail have advanced from the Pony Express, coaches, trains, and planes to the new system of sending mail by guided missile.

Missiles are going to be of historic significance in the future. Mail by missile has produced extremely valuable information of far-reaching importance.

Because of missiles people will soon be getting mail even faster than at present time. Missiles will carry mail swiftly and safely. Mail can be loaded very efficiently in missiles and can reach isolated spots where ordinarily mail couldn't go.

The first official mail experiment was done aboard the U.S.S. Barbero on June 8, 1959. The missile started at Norfolk, Va. and successfully landed at Mayport, Fla. This was the first experiment involving missile mail. The flight was successful because of the united work of the Post Office Department and the crew of the Barbero.

Communications have greatly progressed from the days when Ben Franklin took the mail from horseback and put it on coaches. In 1831 the post office first used trains, and in 1858 the post office linked the nation with the Overland Mail stage service. In 1918 the airplane was first used by the Post Office.

Now it is a common belief that people of the United States will see "missile" mail develop to a significant degree before man has reached the moon. If this really is true, today's missile mail will go down in history as another saga of progress and achievement in our national heritage.

Question Of Girls In College Concerns Interests, Abilities

Should a girl go to college? This question has been answered in the affirmative and the negative many times. What are the arguments of both sides and on what points is there an agreement?

Both those for and against the fairer sex entering college agree that a girl with potential and ability should continue her studies after high school. They believe that a girl should have the same opportunity for education that a boy has, if she has a curious mind. Both sides also agree that there are many young women who are not college material and should not attend a four-year program.

This, however, is where the agreement ends. The question arises of whether or not a girl not intending to graduate from college should continue studying.

Does an education really help a girl develop character? Does the country need highly trained people? Do parents send their daughters to college merely to seek status? The group favoring higher education for women feels strongly about these questions.

YES, THE SUPPORTERS say, a girl should go to college even if she doesn't plan to finish. No matter how little time she spends at college, the girl who goes to college has gained knowledge which cannot be taken away from her by poverty or theft.

Yes, a college education does develop a woman's character. Her experiences in college help her to be a cultured individual, an intelligent leader, an efficient earner, and a successful homemaker.

The Indiana University bulletin on the college woman gives definitions of the educated woman. She is one who can use her mother tongue well; she knows about the world she lives in; she has a philosophy developed by reading and studying; she knows and appreciates the arts; she has an open mind and respects others' opinions; and she continues to learn all her life.

The University feels that a college education is the answer to meet these requirements.

AS TO STATUS seeking and husband hunting, this group answers by saying that a college education does not assure a husband or status, but an educated man is more inclined to look for a wife with a higher education.

In summary, a woman needs higher education, just as a man does, to develop a knowledge of what life is.

Local Police Force Organizes In 1863 To Insure Security

Fort Wayne's first regularly organized police force was started in 1863. The City Council named Conrad Pens as "captain of the night watch," with John Sullivan, John Philabaum, and William Shapman, patrolmen, to serve "from twilight to daybreak."

The first police station was located on Court Street, opposite the courthouse. It contained three iron cages on the main floor, with upper rooms for the reception of female law violators.

Today's police force, one of the nation's most modern, has advanced a long way from that original three-man "night watch." The police department's rolling stock has come a long way from those days when the force depended on a one-horse drawn patrol wagon to apprehend anyone breaking the law.

IN 1958 THE INVENTORY of the department's rolling stock showed 27 automobiles and 15 motorcycles, a total of 42 vehicles. Eight of these cruisers were also ambulances which could provide "on-the-spot" service within two or three minutes in the event of an emergency.

The only means a patrolman had of informing the station of an emergency in the by-gone days was the telephone in the call box. Those call boxes have been retained in the modern-day force, but the latest communication equipment has been added, such as two-way radios in all patrol cars.

The weapons of the Fort Wayne police force have kept pace with the times, along with the vehicles and communication. The department's arsenal has tear gas equipment, riot guns, and Thompson sub-machine guns. These weapons are infrequently used, but, if the occasion arises, the police department has them available, and every officer knows how to use them.

IN PREVIOUS YEARS, after his appointment to the police force, the "rookie" policeman was given a badge, a call-box key, a night stick, and then he was ready for duty. However, he had to provide his own uniform and weapon.

The Fort Wayne police department in 1948 received nation-wide recognition when it became the first city police department in the nation to work a 40-hour week. This has proved highly successful and has helped attract top-quality new officers.

Those against sending women who are not interested in a degree to college say that there is frankly a better way to meet a husband. The financial burden parents bear to send a daughter to college is too great if the girl is not serious about learning.

THE GROUP ALSO adds that colleges are overcrowded, and the girls not interested in a degree can become educated by using the public library, attending adult-education classes, attending a good business school or junior college, or by spending a year abroad in an exchange program.

This group feels that many college-educated parents automatically assume their daughters will go to college even if not for the full four years.

Another point is that girls are not serious about higher education. One often hears of a boy going to night school to earn a degree, but seldom does a girl make sacrifices for an education. Only 37 per cent of the girls entering college graduate while 55 per cent of the boys graduate.

In other words, this group contends that the average girl should not attend college unless she is serious about earning a degree.

Social Workers Aid In Solving Problems Of Families, District

Casework, groupwork, community organizations, and research are categories of the growing profession, social work. Social workers are employed by the government and agencies supported by community chests and voluntary gifts. Social workers have a variety of job settings such as psychiatric clinics, general hospitals, family and children agencies, settlement houses, and community councils.

A social worker is in close contact with people and their problems. Whatever the setting, the social worker helps people to overcome, through their own efforts and through the resources of the community, personal and family problems which stand in the way of a normal happy life.

Whether their project is planning an adoption for a baby, working out a summer camp placement, or making a survey of delinquency, it brings rewards beyond most jobs in absorbing interest and satisfaction in helping others.

WORKING FOR SOME private philanthropic agency or a local, state, or federal agency, social workers help people who are in difficulties. By skillful interviewing a social worker is able to help people see their problems and how they can be solved.

The worker must learn how to use vocational guidance and recreation effectively for the benefit of the people. Also by recognizing feelings, such as anxiety, worry, and fear, social workers help people use their own efforts for solving problems.

People who make the best social workers are those who enjoy working with people. Sympathy, an inquiring mind, a sense of humor, good health, objectivity, and unwillingness to dominate other people are other desirable traits for social working.

COLLEGE IS IMPORTANT for this profession, and for better positions one should study after college at one of the 60 professional social work schools. Opportunities for scholarships in professional education like this are good.

Because social workers are being eagerly sought for positions in agencies, a worker has a choice of many fields and areas of the country and world in which to work. New programs in rehabilitation, combating juvenile delinquency, and building community mental health agencies are being established in more and more cities.

Each of these programs calls for more social workers to help with employment and family problems, with emotional and behavior difficulties, and with the problems of living happily in a complicated society.

Social work is a young, growing profession. It is a profession that wants neither the recreational nor radical person, but the frank, straightforward person whose aims will stand the practical test of reality.

Logan Smith Joins In Speech To Develop Theater Interests

Logan Smith, senior, has always been interested in the theater and enjoys participating in all of its phases.

By examining Logan's activities in and out of school, one can readily see that speech work heads her list of activities. This semester, she is serving as president of Wranglers after a semester as vice-president. She has been active in the club and recently directed its Christmas play. Along with Wranglers, Logan has

Logan Smith

Later in the summer, Franke Park's open-air theater provided more stage experience. Logan worked behind the scenes before and during performances. During all these speech activities, Logan used her early experience from private drama lessons and theater work.

LOGAN HOPES To continue in this line of interest by taking drama and theatrical lessons in college. The remainder of her spare time is taken up by music and church work. Logan is active in the Baptist Youth Fellowship, and one summer she attended a church conference in Wisconsin with teenagers from all over the United States.

Her musical interest is the flute which she has played since she was ten. Logan took private lessons for three years and now plays in South Side's band.

First Impressions Result From Notice Of Eyes, Neatness

The majority of people are very aware of idiosyncrasies and physical aspects of others, whether strangers or close friends. Usually one feature in particular dominates their attention. The choice of this one feature may sometimes be agreed upon, but the reason for choosing it usually varies.

When the question was asked, "What one characteristic in particular is most outstanding when first seeing a person?" various opinions were expressed. Pat Schieb: "I usually look at a person's eyes first, because I feel that I can tell by his eyes what kind of a person he is."

Kent Hagerman: "I look at well-groomed hair, because it shows personal neatness."

Sharon Bass: "When I look at a person's eyes, I can tell if he is sincere or not."

Jon Poto: "If they are neatly groomed, their characters are revealed."

Susie Weinraub: "If they are neat in general appearance, they are worthwhile people."

Stu Schmitz: "I look for a smiling face because it shows that a person is not a misanthrope."

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

ERIE-HAVEN READY MIXED CONCRETE

H-2214

Rogers Friendly Markets

We Give S & H Green Stamps

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun Fort Wayne, Ind. H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS

4304 S. Fairfield Phone K-4542 1213 Wells Street Phone E-2067

Guaranteed Workmanship EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING Pick-Up and Delivery Service

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway Fort Wayne, Indiana

COLONIAL Restaurant E-2000

AllenWood Products Plywood—Doors—Formica Custom-Built Cabinets 1013 Wells E-2865

Pontiac Florist 914 E. Pontiac H-2223

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER 1213 S. Calhoun St. Phone E-2337

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.) American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells Only $34.95 SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE 3820 South Calhoun H-2100

Ravens Croft Beauty College Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using AUDIO VISUAL AIDS Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring, Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning. WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE Call A-7403 and make an appointment to visit the area's finest. 1114 So. Calhoun St. Across from the Cathedral

The Snack Bar 3236 S. CALHOUN STREET One Block North of South Side This week's Small Snaps is Dave Riemer. 7 A.M. to 10 P.M. HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Rausch 708 S. CLINTON ST. JEWELER

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

McKay Electric Co. Contractors

ELECTRIC WIRING and FIXTURES 7671 Bluffton Road S-4151

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY 4232 S. Calhoun Phone K-1864 SERVICE IN DRUGS

Haag Drug, Inc. 5016 Old Decatur Rd. Reg. 98c 45 R.P.M. Records 84¢ Complete Selection of Long-Play Albums

Troy LAUNDRY

GASS' LADIES SHOP Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

Stewardess' Life Offers Travel, Social Rewards

'WILD BLUE YONDER' . . . The two young ladies on the extreme left and far right have completed training school and are now actively engaged as stewardesses for United Air Lines. In the center is a young lady who is enrolled in the United Air Lines Training School.—Photo by Jones

A career as an airline stewardess provides young women with many interesting and rewarding opportunities. The job combines excitement, glamour, and responsibility into one. There are two basic reasons why girls are fascinated by the career. One is the enjoyment of meeting people, and the other, the desire to travel and see the world.

The requirements for becoming a stewardess are relatively simple. First, the stewardess must have a pleasant personality and high moral character. She must have a good disposition and the ability to make people feel at ease and relaxed.

Her appearance must be attractive and neat. The applicant must be single, between the ages of 20 and 27. Height qualifications are 5-3 and 5-8, weight between 105 and 135 pounds. Good physical condition and perfect vision, without glasses, is required as well as a high-school diploma. Most of the stewardesses have had at least two years of college or two years of business experience.

ONCE A CANDIDATE is selected, she is sent to a training school for four to six weeks and lives in a dormitory.

The trainees are taught approximately 60 subjects, including the theory of flight, safety of passengers, personal grooming, public relations, airline codes, navigation, passenger relations, first aid, and radio. The classes are about eight hours a day.

Once a trainee has graduated, she is ready to begin her job as a stewardess. An hour before flight departure, she goes on duty by checking into flight operations, flight conditions, the bulletin board, the cabin interiors, and the weather report.

When it is time for the passengers to board the plane she stands in the doorway and welcomes them, checks their names off of her list and directs them to seats. Then she checks to see that their is no smoking and that seat belts are fastened.

BEFORE THE PLANE takes off, the stewardess makes an announcement over the address system, welcoming the passengers aboard, giving estimated flight time and schedule route and height of the flight, and introducing the crew.

After the plane is in the air, she attends to the wishes of the passengers by serving food, giving special attention to small children, and visiting with the passengers. In general, she tries to make their trip as pleasant as possible.

There are many advantages to the job of being an airline stewardess. First, the hours are not too long. The stewardess generally flies about 85 hours a month. She flies three days a week, and is off two.

SHE HAS PLENTY of time to rest, engage in social activities, and care for her personal needs. Off-base expenses are paid by the airline. This includes hotels, meals, and taxi service for the stewardess.

Another occupational advantage is that the stewardess has many opportunities to see the world. Besides sight-seeing during weekly time off, she gets vacations, with free passage on airlines.

Thus, it is simple and inexpensive for a stewardess to see the world. A stewardess also has a chance to meet famous people.

Americans Guard Democracy By Assisting Striving Nations

"Our government is called a democracy because it is placed in the hands, not of the few, but of the many," stated the Greek statesman Pericles in the year 431 B.C. Today, in truly democratic countries, control is vested in elective officers, as representatives who may be supported or removed by the people.

But how many countries of the free world actually have a democratic system of government? Although the Communist bloc occupies a vast territory, many people have the mistaken idea that the non-Communist territories are governed under an established democratic system.

Actually, the only truly democratic territories now existing are the United States, the Scandinavian and Benelux countries, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and Ireland, Canada, Costa Rica, Chile, Uruguay, Australia, and New Zealand.

THE REMAINING countries which are not a part of the Communist bloc may have some forms of democracy but actually do not have the essential necessities for a democracy.

For example, in a true democracy not more than one out of five members of the electorate supports totalitarian parties, either Fascist or Communist. In Italy and France, a large Communist vote gives support to a totalitarian party; thus, neither country enjoys a democracy.

In a true democracy, a large amount of the population must have the right to vote. Therefore, the Union of South Africa cannot be classified as a democracy, since this African nation denies three-fourths of her citizens political participation.

Democracy in Latin America has been halted by revolutions, impoverishing conditions, and by a recent surge of Communist propaganda. Israel is the only existing country in the Middle East that might possibly be considered democratic.

THE ASIATIC countries of Burma, Pakistan, Korea, and Indonesia once possessed democracies; but this form of government diminished in these countries, leaving a military or one-man rule.

Two essential factors in a democracy are wealth and education. A lack of these two essentials is the common lot of the impoverished and uneducated people of Latin America. If their conditions are not improved, the people will be tempted to turn the system which promises them a better way of life.

The "little Castros" of Central and South America are only too eager and willing to take advantage of this situation. These conditions substantiate the fact that a democracy must develop special conditions economically, if it is to survive.

Then the question arises of how to direct the foreign policies of the United States toward these non-democratic but friendly nations which seek to improve the living standards of their people.

SHOULD AID TO INDIA and Ghana be stopped because these two countries have a non-democratic system of government, which, nevertheless, does not refute the humane values so dear to Americans?

Should aid to Central and South America be discontinued because some of these countries are not true democracies?

The test for economic aid to a free-world government should not be based on whether it practices democracy but rather on the fact that it adheres to honest practices in governing and strives to better the economic and social conditions of its people.

Democratic capitalism has come to represent the better life to the less fortunate peoples of the world. By assisting those nations which are friendly to democracy and are working for the welfare of their people, Americans will be better able to sustain their values in a world of dictatorships.

Teenagers Prefer Semester System Over Quarter Plan

Many colleges are operated on the quarter rather than the semester system. Each quarter of the school year college students receive their grades and schedules for their new classes. Should South operate on the quarter system? Here are several Archer opinions.

Julie Rhinehart: I think the semester system is better. If it were the other way, the changing of classes and books would be the cause of much confusion. It would also take up much needed time.

Chuck Bodenborn: I think it's just fine the way it is. If we had the quarter system you wouldn't get to know your teachers or get used to them.

Rosie Capps: The semester system, to me, is really better. You get to know the students and also become better adjusted with the teachers.

Sue Borgmann: I think the semester system is very good for our school. I think the quarter system would be confusing. It may be all right for colleges but not for South.

Don Sievert: I'm for the quarter system. For one thing the finals wouldn't cover much; and for another, you wouldn't have to study so hard for them. I think also that this type of system prepares you for college life.

Bill Sydnram: I think South's system is pretty good the way it is. You can see just how you're doing. You can also improve and have a better chance of passing.

Bonnie Strehlow: I think the quarter system provides a wonderful way of meeting different people. However, I don't think it would work for South.

Allen County Men Aid Yankee Cause In Conflict Of 1861

Governor Oliver P. Morton of Indiana issued a call for the formation of Volunteer Artillery batteries in the state for federal service in the late spring of 1861. The Eleventh Indiana Volunteer Artillery Battery, when mustered into Federal service in December, 1861 was comprised of 70 men, all from Allen County, Ind. It was the only Indiana Civil War unit exclusively from Allen County.

The fact that from 1862 to 1864, they received 164 recruits from other counties of the state does not deprive them of the title "Allen County's Artillery." This group left Camp Allen for Indianapolis where they drilled with guns for a year in December, 1861 under command of Arnold Sutermeister, John Otto, and William Greene.

LATER, ON FEBRUARY 6, 1862, they proceeded to Louisville where they were equipped with four and one-half inch Rodman field pieces. On February 23 they embarked on a riverboat and arrived in Nashville where they became part of the Army of the Ohio.

Next, they joined Grant at Pittsburg Landing. On April 6, they were 20 miles from the battlefield; but they were bogged down on the muddy Tennessee roads and missed the battle of Shiloh.

The battery participated in the siege of Corinth and occupied gun positions on Capital Hill in Nashville. Several of the men obtained turkey for the battery's Christmas dinner by raiding the mansion of Tennessee's Governor, Andrew Johnson, later 17th President of the United States.

ON FEBRUARY 14, 1863, the battery traded their four and one-half inch guns for 12-pounder Napoleons. For the next six months, the battery engaged in reconnaissance, skirmishes, and picket duty. Next the battery marched with Sherman to Atlanta.

During the siege of Atlanta, the battery wore out several sets of guns through incessant firing. On December 31, 1864, at Chattanooga, Tenn., the battery was ordered to return to Indianapolis to be mustered out, its three-year term having expired.

Classes To See Films

Classes of Mrs. Marcella Ellett and Mrs. Lois Murphy, home economics teachers, will see the movie "Lives of Their Own" on March 1. Mr. Clarence Murray, industrial art instructor, metal classes will see "Grinding a Parallel Bar" parts 1 and 2 on March 2.

The health classes of Miss Edith Crowe, health instructor, will see "Toward Emotional Maturity" on March 6 and 7. "Oblique Transition Developments of Cones" and "Simple Developments" will be seen on March 8 by the classes of Mr. Thomas Polite, industrial arts teacher.

Hobbies In Astronomy Provide Four Pupils With Solar Views

STAR GAZERS . . . Busy identifying the various star formations are, left to right, Jack Garrison, Linda Moody, Fred Rothert, and Doris Atzeff. Many times these astronomers see the craters of the moon, galaxies, and if they're lucky a planet or two.—Photo by Lowden

Archers Doris Atzeff, Jack Garrison, Linda Moody, and Fred Rothert have found astronomy an interesting hobby.

Doris, sophomore, began astronomy as a hobby in about the fourth grade. She had read books on the subject and as a result became interested. Doris does most of her observing in the summer when she can view the moon and Mars, her favorite astronomical interests. She has even observed craters in the moon.

"Since science is being stressed these days, I believe it is necessary to have everyone develop some interest in this field," stated Doris.

OUTSIDE OF astronomy, Doris is a news and feature writer, and a circulation assistant for the Times; and she belongs to Wranglers.

Jack Garrison, senior, also enjoys astronomy. He began to enjoy it at the age of ten when his interest was spurred by science classes. Jack observes mainly the galaxies in the winter and has also observed solar eclipses. He is a member of the Fort Wayne Astronomical Society and the Junior Academy of Science.

After Jack graduates, he intends to attend college and go into astronomy. "It is one of the things that has become more important. Any knowledge about astronomy will pay off," said Jack.

Linda Moody, also a senior, became interested in astronomy about four or five years ago. Her father had given her a book which led her to take it up as a hobby. She belongs to the Junior Academy of Science and the Astronomy Section, both of which she is secretary.

LINDA PLANS TO continue astronomy as a hobby. "It's fascinating to think that you can see things that are millions of miles away," stated Linda. Another astronomer, Fred Rothert, began an interest in astronomy in about the fourth grade. He had read books about astronomy and became interested. This freshman intends to further his career in astronomy. He would like to go into defense and study astronomy.

Fred also enjoys water skiing, swimming, and bowling. He belongs to the Astro-Physics Club.

"Astronomy is interesting because it's a science that has become more and more important. Especially now that we're sending a man to the moon, it will become more important in the future," said Fred.

Workshop Lists Schedule For Talent, Easter Show

Plans have been recently announced for this semester's program in Assemblies Workshop. The acting officers for this semester are Sue Horth, president; Rosie Capps, vice-president; Susie Bumgardner, secretary; Jane Ladig, treasurer; and Susie Phillips and Sharon Eitman, sergeants-at-arms.

On March 12 and 13, there will be try-outs at 3:30 p.m. in Mr. Lester Hostetler's room for the spring Talent Show on May 1. All those who wish to try-out must have their talent completed and wear their costumes. Judges will be Miss Ann Arber, speech, English instructor, Mr. Robert Drummond, band director, and Mr. Lester Hostetler, choir director.

On April 20, the Easter Assembly will be presented. Plans are getting underway now for this assembly.

During the coming meetings, pins will be awarded, banquet plans will be made, and next semester's officers will be installed.

BASKETBALL

SOUTH SIDE JEWELERS

2709 S. Calhoun Richard C. Kowalski H-1162

KLAERN FUNERAL HOME

430 W. Wayne A-0228

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVERS

120 W. Superior E-0505

KEEFER PRINTING

714 W. Washington A-1484

SUPERIOR FUEL CO.

919 Wells St. E-8141

JIM KELLEY BUICK

1819 S. Calhoun K-6211

PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO.

1207 N. Harrison A-7175
"Now It's Pepsi, For Those Who Think Young"

JET PARCEL DELIVERY

3505 Kirkfield T-34200

SOMERS BAKERY, Inc.

220 E. Wallace H-2261

McKA Y ELECTRIC

7671 Bluffton Rd. S-4151, H-1850, H-6250

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester S-3146

GO SOUTH! BEAT ELMHURST!

Archers Rebound From Semester End, Score In Classroom

The following students made perfect scores on tests in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class: Judy Blombach, Louise Brown, Linda Chaney, Kay Heemsoth, Sandra Horstman, Thomas Tiley, Vicki Miller, and Bob Symonds.

Terry Borne, Marian Johnson, and Janice Robson earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class on a test over the literature book unit, "Colonial Time."

Claudia Adams, Steve Campbell, and Nadine Kopynos earned high grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 1 class on a test over the literature book unit, "Designed to Inspire."

Those scoring 100 per cent on a factoring test in Mr. Cramer's Algebra 2 period 3 class are Carol Channell, Cheryl Johnson, Darla Lefevra, Neil McKay, Elizabeth Richter, and Gary Stair.

Richard Astrom, Gary Botz, and Jim Mittelstadt made perfect scores on a test covering the nervous system in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 2 class.

Receiving high scores on demonstrations speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class are Sally Boyer, Kathy DeVore, Marcia Disler, Diane Hall, and Karen McFarland.

Students getting consistently high grades in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 3 class are Susan Lohman and David Tipton. Bonnie Strehlow gave an excellent extra report in this class.

Marsha Ringle has the highest test average in Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 1 class.

A play was presented in Miss Smith's French 2 period 7 class by Tom Parrish, Mike Levy, Jerry King, and Bob Cushman.

Excellent themes written in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 4 class are by Terry Bodine, Nancy Dominy, Jane Hetfield, Steve Smethers, and Janet Stanton.

Marilyn Parke and Peggy Schmidt possess the highest averages in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 7 class. Joanne Rose turned in a superlative extra report.

Top scorers on a marketing test taken in Mr. Kelly's period 3 class are June Dominy and Karen Hathaway.

Highest averages in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 4 class belong to Sally Sweet and Scott Orum.

Nancy Byers has the highest test average in Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 4 class.

Jackie Kessler and Mary Sherlock earned perfect scores on a test covering factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 4 class.

Mrs. Keegan's gym classes have started to practice all types of rope jumping.

Ellen Stanbery has the highest test average in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 3 class.

Mary Karkick has the highest test average in Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 6 class.

Mr. Coats' English 8 period 3 and 7 classes have been giving their hour long assignments.

Marcia Larsen, Rosemary Reidenbach, Leslie Edwards, and Aileen Booty earned the highest scores on a test in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 1 class over inborn behavior.

Mike Bower received the highest score in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 2 class on a test covering lines and angles.

Mr. Quance's shop classes are demonstrating the machinery, learning safety rules, and planning projects.

Paul Boergert, Paul Cochran, Douglas Hansen, and Steve Laymon achieved high grades in Mr. Sage's special Math 4 period 2 class on a test covering similar triangles in proportion.

Susan Nettrour made the highest grade on a test in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 7 class over inborn behavior.

Lyall Morrill gave the best summary of our economic situation to Mr. Wilson's Economics 1 period 5 class.

Scoring 95 on a theory test in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 4 period 2 class are Jackie Berry, Sandy Karst, and Jeannie Davis.

Scoring high on a recent test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 7 class are Suzanne Boylan, Carol Channell, and Ron VanRyn.

Don Junk, Steve Summers, Sandra Burton, Bonnie Callahan, Tom Parrish, and Christine Reid received 100 per cent on a test on factoring in Mr. Cramer's Algebra 2 period 2 class.

Richard Clark, Carol Davis, and Avinell Swathwood made grades of 90 or above on a test in Mr. Compton's English 6 period 7 class.

Receiving perfect scores on a test given in Miss Fortney's period 1 Algebra 3 class are Victor Churchward and Gary Probst.

Receiving perfect scores on a test given in Miss Fortney's period 7 Algebra 3 class are Dave Tipton and Dave West.

High scores on an American literature test in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class were received by Alan Ferber and Marian Johnson.

Charles Golden and Marlene Ringenberg received high grades on an American literature test in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class.

Barbara Rea and Vicky Phillips received the highest grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class on a test over the French Revolution.

Receiving high scores on a test taken in Mr. Collyer's period 7 General History 2 class over Latin American countries are Valerie Evans, Janet Reynolds, and Judy Zimmera.

Working on vocabularies, the following students received the highest grades in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 6 class: Ron Bakalar, Mike Dunn, Bob Hawkins, Steve Kostek, and Mike Rogan.

The students of Mr. Cowdrey's English 7 period 2 class are making a study of the short story and novellette, and the students who received high grades on a test include Jane Augspurger, Gwen Firewood, Diane Hart, and Peggy Saalfrank.

In Mr. Motz's gym classes teams have been chosen for volleyball.

Dave Eaton, Allan Mason, Gaynel Musser, Carole Ladig, Susan Lohman, and Donna Rudasky made A's on a test on punctuation in Mr. Knigge's English 6 period 6 class.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Coats' period 3 English class on participles are Jo Ellen Bobay, Shirley Davis, Bonnie Russell, and Fred Schoen.

Receiving high scores on a chapter test in Miss Perkin's Spanish 4 period 1 class are Sue Bumgardner, Linda Nevel, Janice Robson, and Sue Hines.

Earning high grades on dictation taken in Miss Perkin's French 4 period 2 class are Lissa Hoffman, Elaine Snow, Sharon Carrel, Shirley Davis, Karen Fine, Jenny Manth, and Wanda Ripple.

Julia Hutchens and Joseph Lepley made perfect scores on a grammar test in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class.

Merlin Overman, Ralph Adkinson, Jerry Blessing, and Jim Smith have completed their line technique drawings and are working on geometric constructions in Mr. Polite's Drafting 3 period 2 class.

Gail Brumm, Susan Korte, Carol Link, Charlotte Powell, Connie Richardson, and Sharon Stettner made A's in Mrs. Murphy's period 7 home management class. Those who made an A- in this class are Rosie Kreidt and Flora Reynolds.

Claudia Bradley, Donna Brandenberg, Laura Carper, and Pat Dunn achieved A-'s in Mrs. Murphy's period 5 home management class.

Laura Graham, Vicki Mosure, Jane Prill, Susan Nettrour, Linda Arney, and Judy Doherty made A's in Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 1 period 6 class. Those who made A-'s in this class are Betsy Adams, Linda Knox, Joy Locke, Sharon Barber, Nancy Frantz, and Carol Ann Stanger.

Louraine Ford and Terry Usher have completed their second book reports for this semester in Miss Graham's English 6 period 6 class.

Dance classes, under the direction of Mrs. Keegan, are learning routines to perform at the Spring Show.

Paul Boergert, Billie Burgo, Mary Crowder, Cynthia Duncan, Ann Goebel, Ann Henderson, Kathy Kias, Jim Maxson, Stan Moreo, Bob Quick, Judy Rogers, and Ted Rolf made A's on a prepositional phrase test in Mr. Harader's English 4 period 3 class.

In Mr. Drummond's period 2 Music Appreciation class, the students are studying Beethoven's symphonies.

Achieving grades of 94 on a Home Economics 2 test in Mrs. Smith's period 6 class are Marilyn Block and Kay Falb.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service
QUICK CHICK
3213 DECATUR RD.

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Earning the highest grades on a quiz covering chapters one to three in the workbook, "About You," in Mr. Reichert's period one civics class are Pat Hieber and Tom Easton.

Ann Brase, John McMillen, and Nato Norment earned the highest grades in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 1 period 4 class on a test over basic sociological ideas.

Boys in Mr. Holt's gym classes are now playing volleyball.

Alice Fruechtenicht has the highest average in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 3 class.

Carol Doehrmann, Judith Shomo, and Sandra VanDolah scored high grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 6 class on a test over the literature book unit, "Designed to Inspire."

The outside phase of driving began last Friday in Mr. Stebing's driver training classes. Inside work thus far has consisted of studying the Drivers' Manual and the basic fundamentals of driving.

Those scoring highest on a test in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 2 period 7 class are Dick Astrom, Sue Jorgensen, Jim Mittelstadt, and Kerry Miller.

In Mrs. Welty's Latin 2 class period 3 Janet Gerig and Sharon Stettner received 95's on a fifty word vocabulary test.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 4 period 6 class who have finished their first architectural drawings are Rick Kabisch, Glen Linsky, and Don Sievert.

Two of Mr. Boling's first year typing students have won their 40 ribbons. They are Virginia Rose and Nancy Baron.

On a fifty word vocabulary test in Mrs. Welty's Latin 2 period 1 class Carol Channell, Lynette Downing, Marilyn Gerke, Boris Goshoff, Jane Hetfield, and Louisa Porter scored 95 or above. Elizabeth Richter was the only one in the class to make a perfect score.

In Miss Crowe's U.S. History 2 period 1 class Ed Freed gave a report on the richest families in the United States in the fifty years after the Civil War. Mike Levy gave a report to the same class on current inventions. Ann McCallister reported on the election of 1876, and Stu Schmitz reported on the Hayes administration.

Scoring high on a test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 2 class over pronouns are Linda Becher, Sandra Clause, Tim Easton, Mike Kruse, and Darlene Richard.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 4 period 6 class who have completed their first detailed working drawings are Fred Plothe, Robert Krugh, Ross Clark, Dave Anderson, George Townsend, and Clyde Harte.

Janet Kelly made 100 per cent and Terry Borne and Karen Franks 95 per cent in Mr. Feasel's History 2 period 2 class on a test covering the French Revolution.

Scoring high on a recent test over taxation and social security in Mr. Gernand's Math 2 period 3 class were Sandra Clouse, Suzanne Gemmill, Steve Griebel, Tonda Hume, and Carol Westerman. Brice Overman was the only one to make a perfect score.

Receiving high scores on a test over Norse Mythology in Mr. Stern's Latin 4 period 6 class are Stan Black, Paul Boergert, Sue Borgmann, Paul Cochran, Barbara Rea, Bev Flanagan, Steve Layman, and Phyllis Piereson.

Steve Campbell, Rudy Thurman, Scott Wilson, Denny Truitt, Charles Roemer, Dick Johnson, Mike Sienkiewicz, Dean Bordner, and Dick Klaehn have completed their first lettering drawing and have started on their first instrument exercise in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 4 class.

Mrs. Armstrong's dance classes have finished an exercise routine and a dance to a medley of tunes from "Oklahoma."

Babs Jones, Lyall Morrill, and Jim Walker made the highest grades in Miss Young's Math 8 period 3 class on a test over the line.

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at 631 W. Jefferson A-6371

DON STROEBEL'S OXFORD MARATHON
MOTOR TUNE-UP BRAKE SERVICE
FREE PICK-UP and DELIVERY
COURTESY CAR AVAILABLE
TIRES-TUBES-BATTERIES-ACCESSORIES
Winter and Oxford H-5243

John Stewart received the highest test grade in Mr. Feasel's History 2 period 6 class.

Nancy Westrick and Susanne Boylan made the highest grades in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 4 class.

Mary Bowland, Alice Habegger, Sue Ann Roemer, Cathy Menze, Bev Sievers, Rhonda Roehm, Virginia Rose, and Judi Smith scored 100 per cent on a test on brief forms in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 2 period 6 class.

Tom Blossom and Denise Jones received the highest grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class on a test covering the French Revolution.

Tony Trice received the highest grade in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class on a test covering the French Revolution.

The people who excelled on a recent spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class include Diane Gebhard, Kay Heemsoth, Tom Liby, Carol Link, Vicki Miller, Janice Nahrwald, and Bob Symonds.

The students who made high grades on a test in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 3 class include Pat Drake, Pam Foust, Loretta Grider, Clyde Hurte, and Jim Hawkins.

Receiving high scores on a test taken in Mr. Collyer's period 4 General History 2 class over Latin American countries is Beverly Dougherty.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Coats' period 7 English 8 class on a test over participles are Carol Fine, Kaylene Gebert, David Meek, Susan Bumgardner, Mary Jane Hake, Kathleen Knettle, Barbara Spears, and Barbara Uhl.

Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 7 class is working on the background and style of the eighteenth century, and the students with the highest grades include Dianne Ball, Gary Probst, Judy Schumm, Ellen Stanbery, and Sharyn Yerger.

The following students made grades of 90 or above in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 2 class: Steve Butz, Judy Curtis, Nancy Enz, Paul Fruse, Laura Graham, Valentina Harabosky, Larry Holtry, Clark Marquart, Nita Quinn, and Beverly Strawser.

David Allen, Paul Dolde, Dudley Wass, Nancy Sprunger, Janet Dinius, Steve Russ, Cheri Spangle, and Greg Dunnuck have all given their book reports in Miss Reiff's Latin classes.

Pupils who received grades of 90 or above on a test in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 1 class include Sandra Duff, Alice Fruechtenicht, Candace Greiner, Linda Harding, Susan Jorgensen, Ronald Koenig, Daniel Mercia, Janis Pfluger, and Mary Sherlock.

French plays were presented in Miss Smith's French 2 period 3 class by Aileen Booty, Suzanne Boylan, Kathy Branning, and Rosemary Capps.

Mr. Cramer's Algebra 2 classes are studying products and factoring.

The Pythagorean Theorem is being studied by Mr. Cramer's Geometry 2 period 6 class.

Receiving the highest grades on a test in Mrs. Luse's period 4 trigonometry class are Bob Lohman and Bill Wilder.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Receiving high scores on "Ice Breaker Speeches" given in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class are Mary Ella Braden, Marcia Disler, Janice Foreman, Diane Hall, Karen McFarland, and Karen Ponader.

Receiving high scores on a test taken in Mr. Collyer's period 2 General History 2 class over Latin American countries are Pat Bobay, John Grandstaff, Kathy Wamsley, Roberta Hoffer, and Hans Wegner.

Receiving high scores on "Ice Breaker Speeches" given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are Karl Bandemer, Jackie Kuhns, Ann Shilling, and Lydia Sutto.

Receiving high scores on "Ice Breaker Speeches" given in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class are Susan Johns, Erin Rose, Ken Leakey, and Connie Vallance.

The students in Miss Burr's English 4 period 1 class who had exceptional thought, organization, and expression on their first themes are James Powell, Doris Atzeff, Jim More, John Stewart, Steven Laymon, Carol Harader, and Tod Kubay.

Maxine Hecht, Kathy Branning, John Powers, Douglas Hansen, Mary Ann Roach, and Janet Kelley have exceptional thought, organization, and expression on their first themes in Miss Burr's English 4 period 7 class.

Top scorers on a marketing test taken in Mr. Kelly's period 2 class are Marsha Nickles and Nancy Peterson.

The highest score in Mr. Haven's Bookkeeping 2 period 3 class on a test covering chapters 17 to 19 was made by Ronald Proctor. The next highest grades on the same test were earned by Sue Eme and Sharon Karst.

Top scorers on a marketing test taken in Mr. Kelly's period 1 class are Duane Dunkin, Carolyn Burns, Sylvia Hileman, and Bonita Lufvera.

The pupils who have the highest averages in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class are Valentina Harabosky and James Mittelstadt.

Those who received the highest scores on a test in Mrs. Luse's period 6 general math class are Diane Aiken and Joe Ule.

Having the highest average over recent quizzes in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 2 class are Carol Channell and Mark Lowens.

Kay Shady received a perfect score on a test over the costs of government budgets given in Mr. Gernand's General Math 2 period 3 class. Tom Fryback and Steve Griebel also scored high with a 96 and 94 respectively.

Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 1 class are making a study of the background and style of the eighteenth century, and the following people made high grades on a test pertaining to this material: Linda Gernand, Bob Leiminger, Tonya Hines, Nancy Robinson, Dave Rodenbeck, Beverly Sievers, and Julie Wadlington.

Nina Szweczenko received a perfect score on a test over factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 1 class. Earning 96 are Bob Cushman and Jo Ellen Good.

Debby Decker, Sue Horth, Mary Keegan, Marna Reiber, Sheila Daily, David Fairchild, and Sally Franklin, have made high grades on dictation in Miss Perkin's French 4 period 7 class.

Mrs. Keegan's physical education classes are practicing and receiving grades on tumbling stunts.

Receiving perfect scores on a test taken in Miss Portney's period 3 Algebra 3 class are Ron Bultemeier, Ken Davis, Scott Orum, Steve Shambaugh, and Mike Zehender.

Mary Fremion, Karen Ponader, Sally Sweet, and Tom Wooding made A's on a punctuation test in Mr. Knigge's English 6 period 3 class.

Dave Bauserman, Andy Christon, and Mike Zerminski made grades of 90 or above in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 1 class.

The students in Mr. Drummond's period 3 music appreciation class are studying symphonies composed by Mendelssohn.

Susan Wiedleman earned the only 100 per cent on a test in the Home Economics 2 period 2 class of Mrs. Smith.

On a test covering complements and verbals, designed as a guide to future study, Warren Burns, Sarah Finch, Gene Gallaher, Mary Keegan, Vicki Miller, Bill Mueller, Marna Reiber, Bill Uhrick, Jim Walker, and Bill Wilder scored 100 per cent in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class.

Receiving high scores on a test taken in Mr. Collyer's period 6 General History 2 class over Latin American countries are Dave Banet, Dan DeWald, Marian Johnson, and Marvin Zimmerman.

The following persons received high grades for a test covering factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 4 class: Jackie Kessler, Sandra Reed, and Mary Sherlock.

Scoring high on a recent test over the parts of speech given in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 7 class are Mike Comer, Darla Lefevra, and Larry Botz.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 1 class who have completed two lettering sheets are Tom McMahon, Max Brown, Steve Boerger, and Vance Penland.

FRUIT JUICES AND PUNCHES
—Delivery Service—
Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment!"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

KOMET
MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY
Next Home Games:
MUSKEGON ZEPHYRS vs. FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Sunday, February 25 7:00 p.m.

TOLEDO MERCURYS vs. FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Wednesday, February 28 8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission Price to All High School Students
50c
Reserved Tickets from $1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon
617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

The important new look for teens . . .

11.98

It's here, and it's called the Liz Look . . . exemplified by the slim skirted dress shown . . . cotton and Cupioni that's ruffled, tucked and buttoned. Beige, navy or black, sizes 7 to 15.

W&D Hi-Shop, Second Floor

LET'S SACK SECTIONALS!

KORTE BROS.

Lafayette and Murray

K-4941

KNIPSTEIN PHARMACY

1527 Oxford

H-0777

CURTIS FLOWERS, Inc.

1109 E. State

"Distinctive Corsages"

A-2194

KEARNS DRUGS

930 S. Calhoun

A-1223

DECORATORS SUPPLY CO.

3723 S. Clinton

K-4939

Buy Paint From People Who Know Paint

SOUTH SIDE SHELL SERVICE

331 E. Rudisill

J. Moffett and R. Webber

H-5177

Boerger South Wayne Pharmacy

3004 S. Wayne

H-0481

ESHCOFF'S DOGHOUSE

3811 S. Clinton

H-5151

NANCY WAYNE WAYNE MADE FASHIONS

227 W. Main

A-7276

BRUDI'S CATERING SERVICE

3924 Lafayette

H-3206

From Dainty Petits Fours to Roasted Pigs— We Have It.

KAYE'S SHOE STORES

H-8838—Southgate Plaza and 1227 E. State—E-9191

Medium-Priced Quality Shoes

FLORENTINE FLORAL SHOPPE

1906 Broadway

A-7487

"Send Flowers Often; You'll Make Friends and Loved Ones Happy"

SUNNY SCHICK

407 W. Washington

A-9119

INDIANA & MICHIGAN

2101 Spy Run

E-0331

HARRISON HILL BARBER SHOP

3803 S. Calhoun

K-9519

VILLAGE BEAUTY SALON

4353 S. Anthony

H-1158

Stroebe's OXFORD MARATHON

3501 Winter

H-5243

Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home

2423 Fairfield

H-2334

BURNS BODY SHOP

3504 S. Calhoun

E-2413

MAIN AUTO SPORT SHOP

214 W. Berry

A-2139

PROMOTE OUR PATRONIZERS WITH YOUR PESOS — PRONTO!

The South Side Times

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

'Round Robin' Members
To Compete On 'Hi-Quiz'

Three Students To Attend
Columbia Press Conclave

Vol. XL—No. 21

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, March 1, 1962

Price Ten Cents

Three Students To Attend Convention Of Scholastic Journalism Association

Delegates To Attend Workshops; Adviser To Speak To Classes

Sue Kelley, Jenny Manth, and Sandy Thorn, journalists, have been chosen by Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser, to travel to New York City from March 14 to 17 to attend the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association convention.

The convention will be attended by about five thousand students who will meet at Columbia University to attend classes and participate in journalistic activities.

South's delegation will depart by train March 13 and will be accompanied on the trip by Mr. Dean Speicher, publications adviser at Highland High School, Highlight, Ind.; three of his students; and Miss Norma Thiele, publications adviser at North Side High School.

READY TO GO . . . New York City is the destination of, left to right, Sandy Thorn, Sue Kelley, and Jenny Manth. They will be delegates to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention March 14 to 17 for high school students interested in journalism.—Photo by Seaman

AFTER THEY ARRIVE in New York, Sue, Jenny, and Sandy will attend classes concerning the various aspects of journalism all day Thursday and Friday. While the students are in their classes, instructions and pointers will be given to the advisers in attendance.

Mr. Rohrabough will address the students on the contents of the newspaper, relating to editorial content; and he will speak to the advisers concerning staff organization on a newspaper.

The seminar will be terminated with a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, which will provide a means of looking back on the week's work.

THE ARCHER participants will reside in the Hotel Taft in Time Square during their stay in New York and will see the sights and attend several plays while they are there. "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," "Camelot," and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" top the list of Broadway and off-Broadway musicals they hope to see.

Sue Kelley, senior A, is currently serving as a make-up editor and a copy editor for the Times. She was formerly the business manager for the paper. Jenny Manth, post-grad, is currently general manager of the Times; she was formerly the Pegasus literary magazine editor-in-chief. Sandy Thorn, post grad, was formerly the general manager of the paper.

"I have chosen these three students on the basis of their previous excellent work in publications," stated Mr. Rohrabough.

Students To Obtain Scholarship Grants Of Memorial Fund

The Marion Martindale Memorial Fund was announced last Saturday with the mailing of letters to leaders in civic, educational, and community organizations. Mrs. Marion Martindale was the mother of Honey-K, a member of the Junior class, and wife of John D. Martindale. She died December 26, 1961.

Mrs. Martindale came to Fort Wayne in 1937; she was graduated from Purdue University School of Science in 1933 and won many medals for outstanding scholarship and leadership in her senior year. She was a member of the Morton Board Honorary, organized the Women's Student Government, and served as its first president.

MRS. MARTINDALE was active in many church and educational groups in Fort Wayne. She was a member of South Wayne Baptist Church, program chairman of its Women's Society, and former Sunday School superintendent. She was also a member of the Board of Christian Education and had served as that group's chairman.

A past president of the Citizens' Education Council, she was a member of three local Parent-Teacher Associations including South Side High School, Harrison Hill, and South Wayne School.

Mrs. Martindale was a member of the YWCA and League of Women Voters. As a member of the PEO Sisterhood chapter, Chapter A.B., she served as chairman of the Educational Loan Fund Committee.

HER MANY INTERESTS in the field of education and scholarship have led to the formation of the Marion Martindale Memorial Fund as a means of carrying forth her objectives and ideals.

Contributions to the fund will be used to provide revolving student loans to be administered through the Fort Wayne Educational Foundation, in which she was interested. As the fund grows, student scholarship grants may be awarded on a basis to be determined by the sponsoring committee. Gifts to the fund will be received by Mrs. L. Wade, 823 Webster Street, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dan McCroskey To Talk

A demonstration on the use of the slide rule by Dan McCroskey, senior, will feature today's meeting of the Math Section in Room 74 at 3:30 p.m. Club business concerning a bill to be paid and a field trip will also be conducted. Difficult story problems involving mathematics will be solved.

Pupils To Attend 'Neptune's Den,' Roman Banquet

"Neptune's Den" is the theme of the Latin banquet which will be March 9, from 6:30 to 8 p.m., in the cafeteria. Tickets at the price of $1.75 may be purchased from any Latin Club member.

The cafeteria will be decorated like the ocean floor. The effect of the ocean will be produced by nets, sea shells, Roman columns, and mobiles of fish hanging from the ceiling.

Deviled eggs, cottage cheese salad, fish, peas, sheet cake, nuts, apples, and grape juice constitute the menu.

THE GOD OF THE ocean, Neptune, will be portrayed by Bill Mueller, secretary-treasurer of the Latin Club, and the goddess of the ocean, Amphitrite, by Marcia Disler, president of the club.

Beginning the banquet will be the acting out of certain customs of the Romans. First, an offering will be made to the gods by Lyall Morrill to keep all evil from the gathering.

Next, the Festival of Liberalia, a formal celebration, will be conducted by Bill Mueller. The festival takes place when a boy becomes 17. He is now considered a man, and the festival is to confirm this and to make him a Roman citizen.

Last, the Rex Bibendi or King of Drinking will perform his ceremony. Paul Mittelstadt as the Rex Bibendi will decide how much water to put into the "wine."

MR. AND MRS. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, and Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis will be the honored guests.

Opening the entertainment the Five Maidens, Ellen Williams, Linda Moody, Anita Ferber, and Marcia Disler accompanied by Karen Ponader will sing the Song of Lopus. A group of boys doing acrobatics will follow the singing. Next, a group of girls will do the "Dance of the Water Carrier." Then the Duo Magi or two magicians, Larry Botz and Brad Zieg, will perform.

Mr. Davis who will be the speaker will end the banquet with his speech on the "Benefit To Be Gained from the Study of Latin."

The committee chairmen are Patsie Dorton, decorations; Maxine Hecht, food; Fran Krandle, publicity; Kathy Walsh, invitations; and LaVonne Cusance, gods and goddesses.

Hi-Y To Induct Members Monday, Discuss Dinner

The final induction of the new members of Hi-Y will be Monday at the Plymouth Church, at 7:30 p.m. The new members are called "stooges" and can be seen in school wearing green beanie and addressing Hi-Y members as "sir."

These boys include Steve Bill, Andy Christon, Kenneth Fehman, Wayne Garrison, Jim Lantz, Jim Plummer, Mike Stalter, Walt Stuelpe, Bernie Van Osdale, Dave Young, and Mike Zehender.

Hi-Y's last social event of the year, the Best Girl Banquet, will occur on April 23. Bob Weiss and Frank Lewis, seniors, are the chairmen. The tentative price is $4 per couple. This event is strictly for Hi-Y members and their dates.

March 18 is the date for the "Hi-Y go-to-church Sunday," when the members attend the president's church. This semester they will attend President Tom McMahon's church, the Plymouth Congregational Church.

Exhibits may be mounted on the floor or on a table. Stand-up exhibits must be provided with a support. Usually the tables provided for the National Science Fair will not have backs. Moreover, exhibit materials are not to be fastened to walls.

7. Construction must be durable and safe; and movable parts firmly attached.

Senior Kathy Knettle To Represent Methodist Churches At Seminar

Thirty-Five Delegates To Visit Wall Street, White House On Trip

Selected as one of 35 youth delegates from local Methodist churches throughout the northern third of Indiana, Kathy Knettle, senior A, is attending a United Nations-Washington, D.C., seminar today through March 10.

To study the United Nations and the Congress of the United States in the light of the principles of Christian citizenship is the purpose of the seminar. It is conducted for the first time by the Northern Indiana Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Kathy, sub-district secretary for Allen County, is on the district council. In her Youth Fellowship group at First Methodist Church, Kathy has been the outreach chairman and vice-president.

WHILE IN NEW YORK the group will see the United Nations, the Congress of the United States, and their relationship to Christian citizenship.

TODAY, THE DELEGATES will meet and spend the night at Epworth Forest in North Webster, Ind. All day Friday will be spent on the bus for New York. On Saturday they will arrive at Hotel Taft in New York City and visit the Battery and Staten Island and the observation deck on top of the Empire State Building.

Worship in Riverside Church and Christ Church will be on the agenda for Sunday. They will also take a bus trip to Chinatown, the Bowery, Wall Street, and Greenwich Village. On Monday they will visit United Nations films and attend United Nations official meetings. The evening will be spent attending a Broadway play, Radio City Music Hall, or the Carnegie Hall concert.

Tuesday they will again visit the UN and then board the bus for Washington, D.C. On Wednesday the delegates will arrive at the Methodist Building where a member of the staff of the Methodist General Board of Christian Social Concerns will speak on the legislative situation in Washington, D.C.

Friday, March 9, they will tour the White House and visit the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument. They will return Saturday morning to Epworth Forest.

The seminar is under the direction of Rev. Walter Russell, Jr., associate executive secretary of the Northern Indiana Conference Board of Education. Assisting Rev. Russell are Mrs. Russell and Rev. and Mrs. Edward Alley.

"I am thrilled at being offered this wonderful opportunity to study the government of the United States," stated Kathy.

Four Representatives To Compete On TV's Round Robin 'Hi-Quiz'

ROUND ROBIN REPRESENTATIVES . . . Because they will be competing in the Round Robin "Hi-Quiz," Christine Fruechtenicht and Judy Ruhl, seated, left to right, discuss law; while standing, left to right, Bill Wilder, Janet Brenn, Lex Smuts, and Lyall Morrill do research and discuss history.—Photo by Jones

Students To Register Exhibits Today In Science Competition

Registrations for the Northeastern Indiana Regional Science Fair must be in today or exhibits will not be accepted. Students may enter by contacting Mr. Robert Weber, science teacher.

All participants must follow these rules:

1. Each Regional Fair will include a Senior Division (grades 10-12) and a Junior Division (grades 7-9). A student may enter his exhibit only in the Regional Fair which is host for exhibitors from the county in which the student's school is located.

2. Science and mathematical work may be exhibited whether it has been done as a school activity or developed entirely outside of the school. However, the authenticity of each exhibit must be endorsed by a teacher.

3. Students from schools who do not have a local science fair may enter their exhibits in the Regional Fair upon recommendation of their sponsoring teachers.

4. A student may enter only one exhibit either as an individual or as a member of a group. The exhibit must not have been shown in the same form at a previous Regional Fair.

5. ENTRIES OF INDIANA students in the National Science Fair is possible only through the Regional Science Fair. Two finalists to the National Science Fair will be selected from individual entries in the Senior Division at each Regional Fair. In addition, one senior division boy will be awarded the U.S. Navy cruise.

6. Unless otherwise stated in the rules of the Regional Fair, exhibits must be limited to a space of four feet, side to side, and 30 inches front to back. There is no specific restriction on height. However, in case a display is unusually tall, heavy or fragile, permission to exhibit must be obtained from the Regional Director or the exhibit may be ruled ineligible for the national awards.

Exhibits may be mounted on the floor or on a table. Stand-up exhibits must be provided with a support. Usually the tables provided for the National Science Fair will not have backs. Moreover, exhibit materials are not to be fastened to walls.

7. Construction must be durable and safe; and movable parts firmly attached.

8. DANGEROUS chemicals, open flames, explosives, poisonous reptiles, and inhumane experiments on animals must not be exhibited.

9. Neither the Science Fair Committee nor the co-operating groups assume responsibility for loss or damage to the property of the exhibitor although reasonable care will be provided for the protection of each exhibit.

Exhibits will be judged on 30 per cent originality, 30 per cent scientific thought, ten per cent completeness and accuracy, ten per cent skill in workmanship, ten per cent clarity, and ten per cent dramatic value.

Participants may enter in any of the following categories: biological sciences, chemistry, engineering, mathematics, and physical sciences.

Regional awards for the senior division are two all-expense-paid trips to the National Science Fair, Seattle, Wash., May 2-5 and two all-expense-paid trips for teacher sponsors. Only exhibits by individuals are eligible for this award. Transportation and living expenses will be provided by newspapers, civic and industrial organizations, and educational institutions.

One tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade boy will be awarded a five-day, all-expense cruise aboard naval ships to see some of the latest science developments of the Navy.

Other awards include a set of Grolier Society Science Books in the Junior Division, American Cancer Society awards in each of the Junior and Senior Divisions, United States Air Force citations, science books from the American Library of World Literature, certificates, ribbons, and pins. Awards are given in Elementary Divisions at elementary schools.

Plans for a dinner meeting in the spring will be made at the next meeting of Honorary Arts Club Wednesday in Room 61 at 3:30 p.m. Members will also start preparations for a window display to be in a paint store at Southgate.

Artists To Plan Dinner

Plans for a dinner meeting in the spring will be made at the next meeting of Honorary Arts Club Wednesday in Room 61 at 3:30 p.m. Members will also start preparations for a window display to be in a paint store at Southgate.

Artists To Plan Dinner

Plans for a dinner meeting in the spring will be made at the next meeting of Honorary Arts Club Wednesday in Room 61 at 3:30 p.m. Members will also start preparations for a window display to be in a paint store at Southgate.

Artists To Plan Dinner

Second Match To Be Viewed On March 25

Contestants To Face Trojan Squad, Earn Points For Answers

Lyall Morrill, senior, Lex Smuts, junior, and Judy Ruhl and Christine Fruechtenicht, sophomores, have been chosen by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, to represent South on the 1 & M Round Robin "Hi-Quiz" team. Alternates are Janet Brenn, junior, and Bill Wilder, senior.

South's first round of competition will take place Sunday at 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV against Elmhurst. If the team wins its first round, it will compete against the winner of the Central Catholic and Central match on March 25. If the first round is lost, the Archers will appear on April 8 against either North Side or Bishop Luers.

The tournament rounds of "Hi-Quiz" will be a team rather than a class effort. Procedure and rules will be the same as they have been for the regular rounds. In case of a tie, the play-off will be video-taped immediately after the program to determine the winner.

"OF COURSE, I'M proud to have been chosen; and I'll work as hard as I can to make South Side proud of its team," stated Lyall Morrill.

He is taking Chemistry 2, Latin 8, Special Mathematics 8, economics, and Special English 8. Lyall is also president of the Junior Academy of Science, a copy editor for the Totem, a member of the Math Club, Physics Club, Chemistry Club, Latin Club, and Hi-Y.

Lex Smuts said that he was deeply honored and pleased to represent South Side and that he would perform to the best of his ability to give his team a championship.

A member of Wranglers and Designers' Associated, Lex is presently taking Special Mathematics 6, Special English 6, Special Physics 2, choir, U.S. History 2, and Drafting 2.

LATIN 4, ENGLISH 4, History 2, Geometry 2, and developmental reading compose Christine Fruechtenicht's curriculum. She is a member of Assemblies Workshop, Wranglers, and Meterites, in which she is presently serving as vice-president. She is also a Totem agent and a news and editorial writer for the Times.

"Aside from being so excited, I strongly wish that our team will do well in the Round Robin," stated Christine.

Sophomore Judy Ruhl says that she is very happy to be a member of the new team. She commented that she enjoyed her half-hour sessions with the sophomore team, and she is looking forward to Sunday.

Studying General History 2, Geometry 2, English 4, and Latin 4, Judy works in the library and sings with the occasional choir. A member of Meterites, she has served as its treasurer.

Junior Janet Brenn, whose extra-curricular activities include being a copy editor for the Times, editorial editor on the Pegasus, and a member of Philo, thinks "Hi-Quiz" is a very fine program; and she will be very glad to participate in any way.

Janet is studying Physics 2, French 6, Special English 6, and Government 1.

THE EDITORIAL editor of the Times, Bill Wilder, is also a member of the Publications Board, Assemblies Workshop, and a Times copy editor.

"I felt highly honored to have been selected as an alternate although I am sure there are others better qualified. I will attempt to represent South Side to the best of my ability," said Bill.

Bill takes trigonometry, economics, English 8, Chemistry 2, and calculus in an early morning class led by Mr. Richard Sage, mathematics instructor.

DeMolay Sponsors Tournament Dance

Fort Wayne DeMolay is sponsoring a dance, "Tournament Trot," tomorrow evening from 9:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, using the blue and white colors and the tiger mascot of Central High School, the winning school of the Sectional Tournament, as decorations. Tickets cost 50 cents per person.

In charge of tickets for the dance is Sam Carter. Jim Tennant is head of refreshments; Bill Branstetter, clean-up; and Al Haney, Master Counselor, is general chairman of the dance.

The Fort Wayne DeMolay Sunday will be this Sunday. More than two hundred DeMolays will attend the 9 a.m. church services at Trinity Methodist Church. Both officers and the members are urged to attend.

DeMolay officers are Al Haney, Master Counselor; Jim Tennant, Senior Counselor; Jon Roscoe Junior Counselor; Paul Boergert, Marshall; Sam Carter, Orator; Mike Shirk, Senior Deacon; Bob Quirk, Treasurer; Lynn Wible, Scribe; Dave Reidenback, Almoner;

Dave Fjandt, Sentinel; Duane Truster, Chaplain; Dudley Wass, Senior Steward; Tom Ioe, Junior Steward; and Preceptors, Matt Cornacchini, Steve Poiry, Tom Eurlington, Denny Miller, Mike Kelly, Dick McVay, and Larry Bushkill.

Fear Causes Good, Evil, Affects Democratic Nation

"We have nothing to fear but fear itself!" Franklin Roosevelt's immortal quotation is vitally significant for the maintenance of American democracy.

Fear can promote good or evil acts and decisions. Americans are constantly being warned to fear communism, socialism, and dictatorship. Mechanically, man cringes when these terms are applied to any aspects of American life.

Instinctive, mass panic could lead to the destruction of democracy. Americans shun and avoid that which they fear. They hide to escape from stimuli which cause fear. This natural response could cause a democratic society to become a dream in the souls of enslaved humanity.

To fear realistically, man must fully understand what and why he fears. When a student was asked why he feared communism, he replied that it was harmful. However, he could not explain the complex principles of this system.

To understand what and why each individual fears involves prayer, study, and evaluation of personal beliefs. When one knows what he fears, practical, precautionary measures may be adopted.

Fear is good. Fear of religious intolerance brought the Pilgrims to America. Fear of British rule resulted in the birth of the United States. Fear is an ever-present incentive which motivates man to act beneficially.

The danger of fear lies in the unthinking, follow-the-leader panic which causes one to take an issue or to act unwisely.

Intelligent, realistic fear is a mainstay for democracy.—By Diane Saalfrank

Part-Time Positions Aid, Hinder Student Progress

The concept of students who are employed on a part-time basis is really nothing new or unusual, since most of the students are of legal working age and because there is frequently some circumstance which necessitates having such employment.

Pupils are employed for several reasons: to help out their families financially, to earn money for their college educations, to earn extra spending money, and to gain experience which will be helpful in their careers.

Although the motives for having jobs are varied and different, the main problem is the same: lack of time. This lack shows up in grades. It is a known fact that employed students usually have lower averages than the non-working ones. School work becomes affected when the student finds himself running short of time. He realizes he must eat and sleep in order to live; and consequently, homework becomes the victim. It becomes increasingly easy to form the opinion that homework may be put off until a later time without penalty.

Certainly part-time jobs must not be condemned. However, before accepting one, one must think of his duties to himself and to his school and make sure that he can fulfill them. Then he should enter the business world, being alert and willing to work.—By Janet Dinius

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 15, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Competition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager.....Jenny Manth
Managing Editor.....Susan Smith
Copy Editors: Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Mallough, Sharyan Yerger, Barb Nelson, Rosetta Twitchell.
News Editor: Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor: Peggy Schmidt
Editorial Editor: Bill Wilder
Sports Editor: Janet Nahrwald
Make-Up Editor: Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett
Picture Editor: Bob Kelley
Photographers: Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist: Leanna Morris
Business Manager: Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager: Sue Meyer
Advertising Manager: Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager: Dick Parke
Outside Circulation Manager: Maria Kuehn
Circulation Assistant: Liz Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twitchell, Tom Erb, Sharyan Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Greff, Sally Sweet.
Faculty Adviser: James Mohrbaugh

MINOR STAFF

News Writers: David Flanigan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Marjorie Terry, Beth Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Bruce, Larry Brown, Pat Combs, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chance, Karen Erickson, Christine Fruehling, Sharon Hunsley, Sharon Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Soules, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debra Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Parley, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers: Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Susellen Dorsman, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marie Kuehn, Nancy Orndy, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Sutterlin, Becky Hunsley, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jess Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marlene Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rinehart, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Susie Weinsub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barry McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jean Ann McInley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miller, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubinio, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dietz, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Glynis Erb, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyan Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bae, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baumhart, Bonnie Russell, Carol Louie, Gail Brumm, Karen Seavey, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunger, Alice Hunsberger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers: Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Elizabeth Combs, Christine Fruehling, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stenberg, Sue Harrod, Sue Klineh, Carole Janic, Paul Mittlestadt, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Marcia Kuehn, Arnel Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Hunsberger, Lynn Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriewtow, Diane Saalfrank.
Copy Editors: Kaylene Gehert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Lousman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonale Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Seavey, Marjorie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franks.
Boys' Sports Writers: Bill Kilefren, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Poto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn.
Advisers: Elizabeth Combs, Christine Fruehling, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuenachwander, Karen Finck, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Gray, Cindy Jackson, Linda Solter, Laurence Ford, Sue Gerke, Kay Pelt, Harriet Orcheston, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Gladie, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Franka, Christine Fruehling, Mary Bae, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baumhart, Bonnie Russell, Carol Louie, Gail Brumm, Karen Seavey, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunger, Alice Hunsberger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.

Classroom News Editor: Celeste Riem
Point Recorder: Steve Leitz
Mailbox Manager: Vicki Adams
Auditor: Krystyna Kriewtow
Copy Returner: Allen Parley
Exchange Editor: Vicki Adams
Credit Manager: Charlotte Powell
Assistant Credit Manager: Sonya Flaz
Librarian: Sonya Flaz
Paper Disinfectant: Chuck Bodenborn

Television Programs Influence Audiences In Everyday Actions

"Yahoo! Stick your hands up! I'm Cheyenne Bodie, the famous TV cowboy. Bang! Bang!" screamed the little boy as he "jumped" his older sister who was standing in front of her mirror modeling one of Donna Reed's new hair styles and, at the same time, practicing the latest dance she had seen on "American Bandstand." This humorous family scene depicts just one effect that the television has on the lives of many people today.

The impact of television on the social scene is great and far-reaching. As shown in the preceding paragraph, imitation is promoted by a number of programs. The young boy, because he saw the famous western star on TV, enjoys pretending that he is "in Cheyenne's boots" for a while.

His sister, meanwhile, copies a hair style that she viewed on television and also practices a dance she would like to know how to do better. Most actors and actresses, whether handsome and glamorous or funny and ugly, have been imitated at some time because of the way television affects its viewers.

THEN THERE is the case of the man who is always pestering his wife to buy this kind and that kind of food or to make a certain dish, because he has seen it advertised on television and would like to try it. This may sound untrue or fantastic, but it is very true. Television does sell different types of articles, especially food. This is accomplished mainly by means of the commercials. However, many people enjoy something just because their favorite personalities use, eat, or wear it. Therefore, the sales of a number of articles have increased greatly.

Many boys have probably been greeted, "Kookie, Kookie, lend me your comb." Derived from the show, "77 Sunset Strip," this is just one of the numerous sayings commonly quoted from television programs.

Many more exist, some from cartoons and others from regular shows, which are used in everyday life. Although children and teens are the main employers of such quotes, many adults have their own pet ones also. In addition, mannerisms, as well as sayings, derived from different stars are imitated.

WHEN WALKING down the street, one sees another important result of TV watching—the clothes people are wearing. Television starts many fads in this field; because people, especially teenagers, enjoy wearing what the different stars adorn, for the styles are usually the latest and very popular. This again shows how television can sell, but it also proves that most people like to "keep up with the stars" in the clothing field.

As one kept on walking down the street, he comes upon a group of teenage girls, carrying on what might be important conversation pertaining to this subject. "Ooooooh, did you see that dreamy Troy Donahue on TV last night? Boy, is he neat. I just love him!" squeals one girl while another comments, "I didn't see him, but I sure watched that dreamboat Gardner McKay."

Infatuation and idolization are two main effects produced by viewing television. Just as these girls think two of the handsome actors are the most, many boys would love to have a date with someone like Myrna Fahley or Shelly Fabres. Friends and family are often judged accordingly to the standards set by one's TV idol.

Affected also by the impact of television are the styles of life. Jobs obtained, parties, and family life are often influenced by television shows, and what takes place on them.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Married February 2 were Patricia Sheets, '57, and Edwin J. Middaugh, '56, at the Westfield Presbyterian Church. Edwin attended Purdue University.

Engaged are Patricia Motter, '56, and Edwin Windmiller, a graduate of Central. Pat is attending the National School of Aeronautics. Her fiancé is attending the William Hood Danwoody Industrial Institute. The wedding is planned for June 24 in Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Married recently were Cheri Henry, '55, and Larry Barnes, a graduate of Lima Senior High School, Lima, O. Cheri graduated from the Lutheran Hospital School of X-ray Technology and is a technician at Memorial Hospital in Lima, Larry, educated at Johnson Bible College, Knoxville, Tenn., is employed by the Ford Motor Company.

Engaged are Kathleen Thompson, a graduate of Central Catholic High School, and Nicholas Miller, '56. Kathleen is employed by Anthony Motor Parts. Nicholas is employed by Franklin Electric Co. in Bluffton. They are to be married May 5 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

South Side's Class of 1942 is planning a reunion in June. It seems that there is trouble locating fourteen of the class members.

Members of the class whose whereabouts are unknown are Lester Budd, David Bundy, Lois Hoff, Margaret Holland, Bob Hull, Norma Keel, William Mann, Jeanne McCarty, John H. Myers, Robert Racht, Helen Schotmeyer, Rosemary Spore, Ruthann Steigler, and Margaret Henhaef.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of these graduates, he should contact Mrs. Betty Kirke or Mrs. Phyllis Rauner.

Planning a June wedding are Sally Blackledge, '64, Sally is a student at the University of Georgia. Robert is a graduate of the Citadel and is working toward a master's degree in chemistry at the University of Georgia.

The Rev. Robert Schmeding, '49, is now assistant professor in the education department at Wittenberg University, Springfield, O.

Chemistry Creates Cretin . . .

"All right, who's responsible for this?"

Music Assemblies Offer Chance To Enrich Appreciation Of Arts

Eager Archer eyes are always quick to scan the school schedule this time of year in search of the much-welcomed music assembly. Are the Kellys really this devoted to the practiced strains of the band, orchestra, and choir?

Phrases such as "Oh boy! I get out of English" would indicate otherwise; but whatever the stimulus, the Archers invariably enjoy the assemblies and give valuable experience to the musicians while receiving cultural profits themselves.

Experience is probably the greatest reward earned by the musicians for their efforts in the assembly. The experience of playing or singing before such a large audience as that of Kellyland is hardly to be equaled.

The performer learns to face stage-fright and "in the spotlight" jitters, which he will have to control if he pursues music any further. He becomes accustomed to the general attitude of the audience, feels it change, and learns to meet its demands.

HE ACQUIRES confidence and self-control. He masters various techniques employed by all entertainers to overcome such problems as distraction from viewers, disappointment

Letters To The Editor

Dear Miss Manth,

Many loyal Archer fans muttered and were disappointed after South was defeated by Elmhurst in their first game of the Sectional Tournament. However, few were critical of the team's efforts; the majority were disappointed because there was no pep session before the Sectional opener. This is not to say, in any sense, that South Side lost the basketball game because the student body didn't have a pep session last Thursday morning.

This is, on the other hand, to point out the importance of the first game and the meaning of a pep session. I was fortunate enough to attend South Side the year the Archers took the State Crown. And, unless my memory deserts me, they won the first game of the Sectional Tournament. That's the way the trophy goes—a team continues as long as it wins. That's exactly why the first game is so important. We needed to win the first one, defeat Elmhurst, before we could even begin to worry about the next day's scheduled pep session for the next night's game.

The Archers went out on the Coliseum floor without the backing which they should have received earlier in the day at a pep session, support which said "Good Luck, Archers, we're behind you all the way." Loyal fans and support are basic necessities of a championship team in any sport.

Yet, the team went into the Sectional with little notice. The only backing which they observed was the "Boost the Team" names appearing in the Times.

Pep sessions are certainly worthy of criticism and often they are merely a time which we enjoy because 15 minutes or so is cut from a class. But when Sectional comes, many fans who don't attend games regularly throughout the season back the team. "Hoosier Hysteria" hits a peak; the Indiana High School Basketball Tournament is an annual celebration throughout the state. It is important.

As unfortunate as it may be, for several weeks, basketball is the king. Basketball fans and students regard the winners highly. These winners reign over any champions in education. For example, winners of the Sectional Crown and certainly the State Championship are remembered long after one remembers who won the championship round of Hi-Quiz. Basketball is the dominant event.

It is often said, "Why cry over spilled milk?" or "The damage has been done;" this is true. The damage—as far as South's defending their Sectional Crown—is done. But, there will be Archer teams in the future. I earnestly hope that succeeding team's under the leadership of Coach Don Reichert go into their first game of the Sectional Tournament after a thunderous pep session. After the first win . . . on to state!

Sincerely,
An Irate Post Graduate

at the effect the music may produce, and personal feelings which may influence the playing.

He is given practice in melodizing with a group; he becomes versatile—perhaps an accompanist in one assembly, a soloist in another. Then too, he is made aware of the fact that he represents an entire company and must act on stage and off in a manner befitting his recognition as a member of that company.

Moreover, the student musician learns to be criticized. For who could be more critical than 2,000 of his classmates? He is keenly awake to the fact that his fellow Archers will not miss a single wrong note and will not fail to tell him about his shortcomings after the assembly.

BY A SIMILAR TOKEN, he learns to accept compliments. For these same 2,000 will be just as quick to give the musician a word of praise and thanks for a piece that has been particularly enjoyed. Thus, the musician begins to evaluate his work and to fit his playing to the mood and fancy of his listeners.

While the performers receive an important phase of their musical training in the assemblies, each Archer in the audience also receives a musical education. And certainly a high school curriculum would not be complete without some bit of music appreciation; for, in the words of Spencer, "music must take rank as the highest of the fine arts."

The Kellys become acquainted with the works and styles of the world's greatest composers. Students who come into the assemblies humming the latest twist tune often come away whistling snatches from Mozart and Bach.

BUT CLASSICAL compositions are not the only pieces to which the South Siders are exposed. Ballads, show tunes, and hits that have stood the test of time are also made known to the student body.

This music is not forced upon the Kellys. Indeed, Archers come to enjoy the musical material and take interest in it through its form of presentation. What could be more modern and more appealing than South's own version of "Sing Along with Mitch?"

Not only do the Archers gain a knowledge of good music, they are taught how to be a good audience, one that is attentive and appreciative. They soon become practiced in judging the quality of the music they hear. In addition, they become skilled in recognizing the various instruments and their classifications.

So it is that the music department accomplishes a double feat in endocinating both the musicians and listeners of South Side in the ways of melody.

Small Snaps

This girl is in the junior class. She is a domestic-minded lass. Of the Vesta Club she is secretary. Keeping books which are necessary. Hairdos with puffy ends are her fad. To wear these styles she is glad. In Assemblies' Workshop she works early and late, Helping to make the programs great. Baby Ruth is her favorite kind of candy; To guess her name this clue might be handy. Sewing she does like to do, Working with patterns that are new. If her name you cannot get, The ad section is your best bet.

Likes Chocolate Syrup

Robert Kennedy Enjoys Work, Assumes Role As 'Kid Brother'

By Sandy Thorn

To millions, he is known as "Bobby." Even the President of the United States calls him "Bobby." He, in turn, calls the President "Johnny." The man is Robert Francis Kennedy, 36, Attorney General. And, unfortunately, it is more important to some people that Bobby is the President's brother.

Young Bob has taken the limelight in more recent weeks. His travels abroad have encouraged publicity and coverage of his life. His picture appeared on the cover of "Life" magazine and then two weeks later, he was featured on the cover of "Time."

Paul O'Neill, "Life" magazine writer, described Bob as "The No. 2 Man in Washington."

His own Justice Department employees call him "Bob," "General," and at times "Mr. Kennedy." He leaves his office and he immediately assumes the role of the All-American kid brother. One of the easiest ways to cross the Attorney General—refer to him as Bobby. He becomes disgusted when he reads in a newspaper, "Bobby to Discuss Crime."

AS TOP POLICEMAN in the nation, Bob follows the practices of both labor unions and corporations, enforces the desegregation of the South, and competes in the Big Crime Battle. He also sits in the National Security Council. It is a rare day when Bob doesn't see brother Jack or talk to him via telephone.

Disregarding his life and activities as Attorney General, Bob leads an interesting day-to-day personal life. Some of the side-interests of Robert F. and his family are fascinating.

Bob and his wife, Ethel, live in a handsome old brick house in McLean, Va. Bob, in his efforts to be a successful father, has turned the home into a day camp, zoo, and dude ranch for his children.

His home has a large swimming pool and a small swimming pool with a private Coke machine, a tennis court, and a variety of swings. He has three riding horses, two Shetland ponies, and a burro which grazes under the great oaks on the home's rolling acres of lawn. Two goats are housed in a large cage beyond the pool, a hissing flock of geese and a clucking flock of chickens scatter at the appearance of the three Kennedy dogs. Bob—the zookeeper—speaks with regrets of the sea lion which had to be banished in the best interests of housekeeping.

BOB ADORES BEING with his children and misses them when he is away from home for long. He rides with them, walks them through the woods with the three dogs, invites them into his office, and walks down the streets of Washington with them in pursuit of modeling clay, bubble-blowing fluids, and similar necessities of life.

He rises early and works late. He skis, rides, swims, sails, and plays touch football with an enthusiasm bordering on mayhem. Young Bob dislikes nightclubs, the theater, and big parties. He occasionally sips a drink or smokes a cigar. But his favorite—chocolate ice cream with chocolate syrup and extra-ice-cold milk.

Since the Attorney General dislikes wasting the noon hour and eats a hamburger sandwich at his desk, the assistants in his outer office manage the same procedure. He loves to work on Saturdays, holidays, and after dark. Again, his assistants follow the trend and even report to Bob's secretary on Saturday nights before leaving for home. Just as he enjoys working 16 hours a day, he likes to see that others also work.

For example, he was so delighted to see cars parked in the Justice's parking space on Washington's birthday that he instructed an attendant to write down the license numbers and later sent each of the workers a personal note of congratulation. To the note, one person responded, "I cannot tell a lie on Washington's birthday, I used my parking space but I went to the movies." Bob replied, "With honesty like yours, our country's cherry trees are safe."

WHEN PROFESSIONALS begin to ramble, Kennedy likes to ask loaded amateur questions. A government attorney in Portland was describing a lawsuit involving reservation lands and began to wander. Kennedy queried, "How many Indians are there in Oregon?" The poor Portland man didn't know.

New York gangster Joey Gallo says, "I walk into Kennedy's office, and he gets mad at me. He says, 'So you're Joe Gallo, the Duke Box King. You don't look so tough. I'd like to fight you myself.' I hadda tell him I don't fight."

When a Seattle television reporter spoke critically of the U.S. posture in Berlin, Kennedy remarked, "Yell louder at Khrushchev? Do you have an easy solution? We could use it."

Considering the future, Bob relates, "I don't think about the future. If you start thinking about doing something else you have a tendency to charge. You start preparing for it—you can't help it. During the campaign I rarely considered doing anything in government. I thought I might travel. I thought of going back to Harvard after Election Day to study history. You can't let it change you. If you begin changing you've got to get out."

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Happy March! Orchids to all those who trekked to Logansport for the final game of the regular season. It seems the students from Logansport have a good idea—doing the Twist in the middle of the floor during the halftime.

Poor Sue Kelley had to walk to the game—so she told Will McMahon, brother of Tom and Jim. Will was horrified and offered Sue a ride back to Fort Wayne before she told him the truth.

Several girls were analyzing the players' empty plates in the restaurant where they ate after the game and decided that the licked-clean plate belonged to Gary Probst. They decided that the plate that had green beans left over belonged to Jerry Klineh. Jerry should know that he'll never get tall if he doesn't finish all of his meals.

WHILE SUE KELLEY walked to Logansport, Jon Poto, Larry Lee, and John Knight enjoyed the comforts of home—riding up in the luggage racks of the buses.

Maybe Sandy Thorn is the Number 1 Komet fan, but Sally Henderson is fast becoming the Number 1 Purdue and Terry Dischinger fan in Fort Wayne.

Congratulations to the winners of the Fort Wayne Sectional Championship.

The scene—developmental reading class.

Action—The lights go off and the projector begins flashing images on the screen. Stealthily, Vic Churchward pulls his glasses from his pocket and slips them on. Only those who watch him especially closely ever see this sly act for he puts them away again before the lights are turned back on. Your secret is out, Vic!

GOOD LUCK to participants in the Peru speech meet this Saturday. With two more speech meets left to go, South Side orators have already captured more ribbons and awards than were won last year.

For the fifth time, congratulations to the sophomore Hi-Quiz team. They defeated every team they were matched against to gain the title of Sophomore City Champs! Selected for the "Round Robin Hi-Quiz" team are Christine Fruehling, Judy Ruhl, Lex Smuts, and Lyall Morrill. Alternates for the team are Jani Brenn and Bill Wilder. Good Luck!!!

Bet you thought you'd never see Tom McMahon doing the can-can in the band room!

TALK ABOUT taking advantage of substitute teachers. When asked by a substitute teacher who usually sat in a vacant desk on the afternoon of the orbital space shot, Karl Krause replied, "John Glenn—they gave him the afternoon off."

At last Doris Atzoff was successful in getting some milk out of the milk machine. Only trouble was that it was sour.

Sure it's fun (?) to ride a motorcycle—but in a formal? Sue Gerig and Karen Finckoff tried to ruin their beautiful choir formal on some kiddie rides. For shame!

Thought for the Day: Oh well, there's always track season.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. What does a United States President do after his term of office?

Answer. Three Presidents remained in governmental activities. John Quincy Adams became a United States Representative; Andrew Johnson became a Senator; and Herbert Hoover was active on various government commissions. Ulysses Grant, Harry Truman, and Herbert Hoover devoted considerable time to writing. Mr. Truman and Mr. Hoover have also been active as public speakers. John Adams, Franklin Pierce, and James Buchanan retired from public life and avoided public appearances. Five Presidents were actively engaged as farmers or planters: George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, Andrew Jackson, and Rutherford B. Hayes. In addition, Washington was also active as commander-in-chief of the army. Benjamin Harrison was a professor of international law at Leland Stanford University. Finally, six Presidents traveled extensively after their terms. They were Martin Van Buren, Millard Fillmore, James Knox Polk, Franklin Pierce, Ulysses S. Grant, and Theodore Roosevelt.

Question. Do you know what the two flags used by the United Nations look like?

Answer. The first United Nations' flag was never an official flag of the organization; however, it was devised by a group of citizens to indicate the objectives of the United Nations and gain support for its aims throughout the world. This flag consisted of four vertical red bars, symbolizing the Four Freedoms, on a white background. The present United Nations' flag consists of a white polar map of the world embraced by twin olive branches on a field of blue. This flag was adopted in October of 1947.

Brian Bennington Plays Guitar In Small Band For Recreation

MUSICAL MUSES . . . Inspiring an audience to the mood of their performance, the combo "belts out" another number. Left to right are Brian Bennington, Dave Zimmerman, and Tom Thieme. They have played at dances and special events, including the Thanksgiving Assembly.—Photo by Jones

Brian Bennington, junior A, finds both recreation and employment while performing with his small band, consisting of Tom Thieme, Dave Zimmerman, and himself. The three boys are now playing regularly at the Terrace Gardens in Van Wert, O., on Friday nights. Ron McKay, a 1958 graduate of New Haven High School, and Denny Saylor from Central High School often participate in the group performances.

Brian and his band have been interviewed by several recording companies and may make a record in late June.

The guitar is Brian's specialty, but he also likes to compose songs for the group to perform. Brian became interested in the guitar two years ago when he was playing the bongos in a talent show. After learning to play the instrument from Tom Thieme, Brian has practiced a great deal on his own and would like to sing professionally.

HE IS A MEMBER of the South Wayne Evangelical United Brethren Church and is on the college preparatory course taking Latin, English 6,

United States History 2, and Physics 2. English is Brian's favorite subject, but he plans to direct his career into the scientific area of electronics or engineering.

Tom Thieme, also serving two roles in the group, plays the guitar and writes music. Tom is studying at Indiana University Extension and hopes to become a teacher of sociology. His spare hours are spent working on his 1961 Corvair.

Dave Zimmerman enjoys being the rhythm man of the group on the drums. Interviewing the recording stars and copying their styles are interests of Dave's. Dave is also attending classes at Indiana University Extension. He hopes to become a lawyer.

BRIAN SAYS, "I DON'T advise others to enter the music field professionally unless they have lots of time and want to become a good musician more than anything else in the world."

He also stated, "Since I have been playing my life has changed completely. I have met many interesting people and have been to many interesting places."

PTA Nominates New Officers, Donates Money For Education

Officers for the 1962-63 Parent-Teachers' Association were nominated at the February 20 PTA meeting. The slate includes Mr. and Mrs. John Rhinehart, president; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Capps, first vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kemmer, second vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Wollman, secretary; and Mrs. D. D. Robinson, treasurer.

This slate will be voted on and elected at the April 17 meeting of the PTA. The nominating committee consisted of Mrs. George T. Wright, Mrs. Delman Weaver, and Mrs. Robert Spencer.

South Side's PTA gave $500 to the Fort Wayne Educational Foundation in 1960-61. During the 1961-62 season the PTA has already given $300 to the Foundation.

THE FORT WAYNE Education Foundation provides financial aid in the form of interest-free loans to college students. Students have two years after their graduation to pay this loan. After this time a four per cent rate of interest is placed on the unpaid balance.

Students from every school in the city have been aided by the Foundation. These students have attended colleges such as Indiana University, University of Wisconsin, Marquette, St. Francis, and others.

To apply for this loan a student may obtain an application blank in the office of the principal at any one of the city high schools. A copy of the student's credits is sent by the high school principal to Mr. R. Nelson Snider, secretary-treasurer of the Foundation. There must be a recommendation by two persons outside of the student's school in addition to the recommendation of the principal. After this the student has an interview with Mr. Snider.

SOUTH SIDE'S PTA gave $25 to the Indiana State PTA Scholarship Fund in 1960-61. The PTA has given $100 during 1961-62.

In 1960-61 the Indiana State PTA Scholarship Fund gave 71 scholarships of $200 each to junior and senior students of the four state colleges. These students have indicated that they are specializing in teaching, and the $200 is used toward tuition and fees. Some recipients have been from Fort Wayne.

William Branstrator Earns Safety Award For Careful Driving

Bill Branstrator, senior A, has been named Safe Driver for the month of February. The Safe Driver Award is presented each month to a student from each of the 16 schools which participate in the Allen County Teenage Safety Council.

Because of the maturity shown while driving home from Michigan City after a basketball game, Bill was recommended for the award. On the night of this game, Indiana experienced a bad snowstorm. After contacting the State Police for road condition information and calling his parents for advice, Bill and his passengers proceeded home. It took six hours to drive from Michigan City to Fort Wayne.

"I always try to be aware of existing road conditions and drive accordingly. I am very happy to receive the award," stated Bill.

Recommendations will now be accepted for the Safe Driver Award for March. Forms may be obtained from any homeroom teacher or from Miss Ayers, Safety Council sponsor, in Room 182. Any licensed driver who has not been charged with a traffic violation during the current school year is eligible for the award which is given to a student who exhibits outstanding courtesy.

Parents, Child Fight Youth's Delinquency With 'Respect' Bond

The prevention of delinquency may appear discouraging because of the mounting statistics regarding delinquency in youth. For example, in the American cities today, every other boy will come to the attention of the police at least once before he reaches 18.

Five times as many boys as girls will tangle with the law sometime in their lives. However, the consoling factor to these occurrences is that the offenses are overall minor such as truancy, mischief, and theft.

For children in average and "superior" neighborhoods, the greatest safeguard against delinquency is a bond of affection and respect between the parents and child. However, the world around them has much influence on their lives. There has been an increasing enrollment and participation in church attendance, adult courses, and theatrical, musical, and craft activities. The adults are searching for a deeper meaning in life which will be reflected into their children eventually.

COMMUNICATION between parents and children may be listed as the most essential part in understanding each other. In the previous years, parents have shied away from talking to their offsprings of religious beliefs, patriotism, and devotion to the family.

Prevention of delinquency starts at childhood. Parents' supervision should be distinct but not dominating. Punishment should be issued, however, not without explaining what the child did wrong. Adolescents' feelings and thoughts should be listened to with an open mind, even though they may argue against the parents' way of life.

SERIOUS DELINQUENCY is quite evident in slums. Junior A, Ellen Stanbery stated, "If the children of the slums were given things to do, youth centers, better family life, the problem wouldn't be as great. These aren't easily acquired, so social workers and professional help should be aided."

Delinquency in slums comes from the background of the parents such as divorce, laziness, and alcohol addiction. The children naturally follow parents' example and delinquency results. Before this problem can be sufficiently solved, facilities for reaching the slum families must be expanded.

Richie Galbreath Studies Plans, Technique Of Movie Production

Cameras, films, studios, and pictures are all important facets to photography enthusiast Richie Galbreath, freshman. Having been surrounded by the photography profession since his early childhood, Richie is now deeply interested and engrossed in it.

Naturally Richie's first interest in photography stemmed from the fact that his father is president of his engo. One of the most interesting of his trips took place just last May when he flew to New York and then sailed to Nassau.

ON THE CRUISE, the crew photographed the ship and the surroundings of Nassau, in preparation for a film. The filming took place all around the island and lasted for one and a half weeks. At this time, Richie received his first assignment as press photographer of the studio.

In addition to taking pictures, Richie, himself, has been photographed. At the age of four, he appeared in a nationally advertised cereal commercial for television; and, he also played a role in a recent movie.

Richie stated that photography has been and is a valuable experience for him. He has increased his knowledge of the film business and met numerous people on his assignments.

BESIDES PHOTOGRAPHY, Richie is interested in water-skiing. He began this sport five years ago, and has now progressed into jumping barriers; last year he placed second in a skiing tournament.

Also, he owns both a 15-foot boat and a Model "A" Ford. He has just recently become interested in the car.

Concerning his future, Richie stated that he will continue in photography for a while, helping his father as a cameraman, and doing other related jobs. However, he said that there is a possibility of his going into medicine.

Richie Galbreath

own movie studios. So, with expert coaching from him concerning techniques and theories of picture-taking, Richie set up his own darkroom and proceeded to practice photographic methods.

Richie uses much of his father's complicated equipment in his personal practice. His actual photographic equipment includes a graphic-speed press camera, an eight-inch by ten-inch still portrait camera, four-inch by five-inch film, a Packard shutter, and studio lighting, which he is currently studying.

HIS DARKROOM equipment is small, powerful, and compact. This apparatus includes a big enlarger and stainless steel links.

On the whole, Richie prefers portrait photography to press photography, or taking news pictures. For assignments, he often copies, reprints, and enlarges pictures.

In addition to his time in local photography, Richie often journeys to other cities, including Detroit and Chicago.

School Choir To Present Concert At Local Church

Presenting its twenty-first annual concert at the South Wayne Baptist Church, the South Side Choir under the direction of Mr. Lester Hostetler will sing sacred and secular selection as well as spirituals, Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the choir featured on this program will be Mike Carter, vocal selection; Sandra Yaggy, piano solo; Dennis Crill, organist and accompanist; and a boys' quartet composed of Mike Carter, Tim Grodrian, Steve McDonald, and Fred Schoen.

Mr. Hostetler, who also directs the Scottish Rite Choir, is presenting the Scottish Rite Choir in guest appearance at this concert. The Scottish Rite Choir is a group of male voices who primarily perform the ritual music for the Scottish Rite and also do concert work in the community.

Mr. Harry Brattain, organist at the South Wayne Baptist Church, is the accompanist for the Scottish Rite Choir; and Richard Nichols is soloist.

Mr. Hostetler stated that since he has been at South Side, he has given nearly one hundred fifty church programs with school choirs. "I think this will be one of the finest," stated the director.

Television Furnishes Careers For Cameramen, Performers

'YOU'RE ON!' . . . To performers, directors, cameramen, and other television personnel, this has become a common phrase. The importance of a career in this field is shown by the Emmy Awards presented each year to the most outstanding persons in the field.—Photo by Jones

Many people today watch and listen to a piece of equipment that influences thoughts, understandings, likes and dislikes, and even manners of speech. This piece of equipment is the common television set which decorates, as a piece of furniture, almost every American home.

Television, or TV, as it is commonly known, is a modern wonder of electronics. Not often does one stop to think of the complexities that is involved in constructing the television itself, or the production of a TV show, or the way it is brought into the home.

TV has set forth a vast array of careers for people from all walks of life. Its uses are varied and many TV aids in advertising by helping the businessmen and manufacturers to sell their products to millions of people through the common commercial.

IT HAS BROUGHT political campaigns closer to voters than in former days. It plays an important part in government, business, industry, and education through closed circuits. These "closed circuit" broadcasts do not appear on home screens.

Even though all one sees in the TV scenes are the actors and actresses on the shows, the most important people are the "men behind the scenes." Probably the most important man in a television station is the producer. It is his responsibility to plan the show, choose the performers, supervise the writing of the script, and attend rehearsals.

The director is the producer's chief assistant. His job is one of putting the show on the air. Then there are the specialists and stage assistants. Some specialists in their field are casting directors, scenic designers, prop men, lighting engineers, technical directors, cameramen, and floor managers.

TO WRITERS, musicians, performers, directors, technicians, and others, television is an art. One of TV's most important contributions to the world is the play. This gives the writer the chance to let the public view his work.

Acting on television demands the

Stellhorn Hardware

2010 Fairfield
R-2337

Twenty-Four Pupils To Travel To Peru To Speak In Meet

Twenty-four students will enter the speech meet at Peru Saturday. They will leave at 6 a.m. on Saturday. One dollar is required for transportation fees.

Participating from South will be Logan Smith, Diane Fredrick, Joyce Cossairt, and Karen Ponader in dramatic; Sheri Busch, Pam Buzzard, Pam Punskey, and Jackie Kuhns in humorous;

Patsi Dorton, Bob Wasson, Ken Davis, and Vicki Miller in oratorical interpretation; Margie Terry, Tom Erb, and Phil Spray in original oratory; Barb Nelson, Ann McCallister, and Debby Decker in poetry;

Sue Horth, Diane Hall, Sally Franklin, and Rosie Capps in girls' extemporaneous speaking; and Jim Powell and Jim Bailey in boys' extemporaneous speaking.

This speech meet will include contestants from high schools within the state. Starting next week the speech tourney which is similar to the basketball tourney will take place. The sectionals will be at South, followed by regionals, semi-state, and state; and those receiving first place ribbons in state competition will compete nationally.

11A Karen Ponader Competes For Prize In Dramatic Contest

Karen Ponader, junior A, won first place in the dramatic contest at Wranglers on February 19. Her name will be engraved on the annual dramatic trophy, and she will be recognized on Recognition Day.

Placing second and third, respectively, were Martha Lanning and Logan Smith. Tom Erb, Charlotte Powell, and Joyce Cossairt also participated.

Monday's meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room will consist of an original oratory contest. Participating will be Phil Spray, Diane Saalfrank, Tom Erb, Rosemary Capps, Margie Terry, Doris Atzeff, and Barb Nelson.

This contest, like the dramatic contest, is for experienced speakers. The winner will also have his name engraved on an annual trophy.

Plans will be made for the Sectional speech meet on March 10 which will be at South Side this year. Only three Archers may participate in each division, but workers will be needed to help as messengers, and office workers.

Anyone interested in working at this meet should see Mr. Robert Storey, sponsor, in Room 190.

Editor Sets Deadline

Babs Jones, editor-in-chief of the 1962 Totem, announced that today is the last day for payments on the yearbook. After today the book and all money paid on it will be forfeited.

However, if one cannot purchase his Totem now, his name may be added to a waiting list. Names may still be put on the cover, but there will be an extra charge of 25 cents.

Daughters Plan Initiation

Jobs' Daughters will have an initiation meeting Wednesday from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. The meeting will also be a chili supper that is open to the public. Tickets cost 75 cents.

Gray Laundry

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS

4304 S. Fairfield
Phone K-4542

1213 Wells Street
Phone E-2067

Guaranteed Workmanship

EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING
ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING

Pick-Up and Delivery Service

'Push Button Learning' Assists Teachers, Improves Education

Introducing the era of "push button learning," the teaching machine, although still in the experimental stage, may prove to be one way of relieving today's pressures on American education.

Just what is a teaching machine? There are several varieties, but nearly all employ the same basic teaching method: they break down a topic into a series of questions which are presented to the student one at a time in a carefully planned sequence.

A typical machine is about the size of a portable typewriter. It will have two small windows on top, one of which contains the question, printed on a long roll of paper. The student answers the question by writing on the paper in the second opening, and then he flicks a lever on the machine. This reveals the correct answer to the student so he can compare the correct answer to his own.

Thus, the student knows at each question whether he is right or wrong, and each question requires him to apply what he has just learned.

THE SECRET to the success of these machines lies in the series of questions, called a program. Their sequence of small steps is so cleverly organized that students should be able to answer nearly every question correctly.

One advantage of teaching machines is that it enables each student to learn at his own pace. He will not lose any information because of absence, he will merely pick up where he stopped.

Teachers are attracted to this program, because it eliminates for them such tedious tasks as vocabulary drill, routine factual presentation, and numerous quizzes.

Scientists have realized that such a system could work in schools because of their experiments with laboratory animals. They can be

FRUIT JUICES AND PUNCHES—Delivery Service—

Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES E-6483
1816 Riedmiller

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-9974
CARRY OUTS

The Corner House

Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Chemists To Demonstrate

Frank Lewis, president of the Chemistry Club, announced that the meeting Wednesday in Room 6 at 3:30 p.m. will feature a chemical demonstration by Terry Newendorp and Bill Borgmann.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Maloley Brothers

Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

EVENTS TO COME

Thursday, March 1

Biology Experimenters, Room 91, 3:30 p.m.

Math Section, Room 74, 3:30 p.m.

Lettermen, Room 112, 7:30 p.m.

Friday, March 2

GAA Tumbling, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Youth for Christ, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Saturday, March 3

Regional Tournament

Monday, March 5

Wranglers, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.

Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

GAA Tumbling, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, March 6

Camera Club, Room 70, 3:30 p.m.

Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Botany Section, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, March 7

Vesta Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.

Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.

Chemistry Section, Room 4, 3:30 p.m.

Botanists To Organize

The Botany Section of the Junior Academy of Science will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 76 for a reorganizational meeting. At this meeting, officers will be elected and members will be asked to decide what activities they would like to do for the remainder of the year. Interested members of botany classes and also those not taking botany this semester are urged to attend.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
Tournament Round
South Side vs. Elmhurst

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Rausch JEWELER

708 S. CLINTON ST.

JEWELER

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun

Fort Wayne, Ind.

H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers And the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from scales to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspaper

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Basketball Squad Collapses In Sectionals Against Trojans, 51-42, In First Contest

Foes Display Balanced Attack; Dale Hilsmier Sparks Archers

Climaxing a disappointing season, the Archer basketball squad succumbed in their first Sectional contest to a surprisingly improved Elmhurst Trojan quintet, 51-42, Thursday night at the Coliseum. The winners thus avenged a 52-47 loss to the Green during the regular season.

Elmhurst, seeming to want victory more than the Archers, outthrust its opponent over the floor and outbattled the sluggish Bowmen off the boards. South could find the hoops on only 26 per cent of its shots to make the real difference in the final outcome.

Coach Bill Geyer's five launched its balanced scoring with senior guard John Gres leading both teams with 14 points. Forwards Dave Foreman and Tom Horton added 12 and 10 points, respectively; while center Bob Miller scored nine tallies.

HOWEVER, MILLER proved to be the real demon to South. The husky 6-4 pivotman pulled down numerous invaluable rebounds, especially off the defensive backboards. In addition, he played a sterling defensive game against South's Dale Hilsmier and Dave Meyer.

Horton, a struggling second-stringer for most of this season, co-operated with Miller to monopolize on rebounds in the defensive court; he connected on five of six angle shots to break the Kellys' back. Gres, a big disappointment in the regular season, rose to the occasion like Horton. His set-shooting and floor generalship were something to marvel.

The Green's only shining light was found in forward Tom McMahon, who, with teammates Ken Leakey and Mart Platup, climaxed his high school career. McMahon kept Coach Don Reichert's team in the game most of

City DeMolay Team Wins Second Place In Cage Competition

Dropping the final game of the DeMolay State Basketball Tournament to a highly confident Jeffersonville squad, the Fort Wayne DeMolay team topped second place in the annual tournament. Fort Wayne won the afternoon game going away, 66-47, in what developed into a rout in the final ten minutes of the contest.

Jeffersonville also handily won their afternoon game, doubling the score of their opponents and scoring 111 points. Bill Kleifgen led scorers in the afternoon with 17, followed by Al Sheldon with 10, Mark Hagerman with 11, and Dave Meek with 11.

THE EVENING GAME was another story for the Fort Wayne lads. Very cold in the first half from the field and reaching the foul column only on defense, they were trailing 31-21 at the mid-way. Opening the second half with a spurt, Fort Wayne narrowed the Jeffersonville lead to six points before dropping 14 points back.

With another spurge Fort Wayne pulled to within eight points going into the final stanza. Coach Mike Truitt then returned Bill Kleifgen, who had been "resting" because of foul trouble since the last three minutes of the second quarter, and Mark Hagerman to the lineup.

In the fourth quarter Fort Wayne outplayed Jeffersonville on both the offense and defense, pulling to within one point on two quick baskets, one each by Meek and Sheldon, and a pair of foul shots by Kleifgen. However, Fort Wayne couldn't match shots with the Jeffersonville boys there after and fell to a five-point deficit by the final buzzer, losing 55-50. Al Sheldon led Fort Wayne in the evening with 14 tallies.

THE FINAL GAME was a story of too much age and too much fine shooting on the part of the winners. Fort Wayne was cold during a great deal of the game and thus had trouble staying in the running. Sheldon, Meek, and Bart Bailey all played excellent games for Fort Wayne. Guards Hagerman, Larry Thompson, playing with a badly infected leg, Bob Cummins, and center Bill Kleifgen also played acceptably.

Archers on the runner-up squad are Bart Bailey, Al Sheldon, Mark Hagerman, Bill Kleifgen, and Denny Truitt. North Side's Larry Thompson, Bob Cummins, Rick McClean, and Central's John Roscoe also played on the team.

Athletes To Plan Supper, To Nominate New Officers

A planning discussion for the Lettermen's banquet and nominations for new officers will be on the agenda for today's meeting of the Lettermen's Club at 7:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. "Football," the theme for the Lettermen's Banquet, will be at 6:30 p.m. March 23 in the Plymouth Congregational Church where the Rev. Armin Oldsen, head of the religious department at Concordia High School, will be the guest speaker.

Chairmen for the event are Ken Leakey, decorations; Tom McMahon, program; Dave Meeks, invitations; John Weaver, clean-up; Jon vanOosten, door; and Larry Lee, serving.

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

QUIK CHICK

3215 DECATUR RD.

DESPERATION LEAP . . . As Elmhurst's Terry Baker, Number 34, jumps to obtain another two points for his squad, Tom McMahon, Archer forward, follows him in a desperate attempt to prevent the opposition from scoring. The Green's Gary Probst, Number 24, rushes in to assist his teammate.—Photo by Lowden

Reserves Compile 16-1 Record, Use Accurate Distance Shooting

The only bright spot in South Side's rather dismal basketball picture in the past season was the reserve team. Compiling a record of 16 wins against one loss, they were the only Archer roundballers to post a winning record.

Flashiest player on the team was undoubtedly guard Dave Munson. Munson's shooting eye was the most noticeable part of his play early in the season, as he was able to connect with his unorthodox jump shot from distances between 25 and 35 feet. His ball handling was also a source of amazement as he mixed behind-the-back dribbles with needle threading passes. His flashiness should not make him appear to be a show-off, though, for he is one of the best competitors on the team.

PROBABLY THE steadiest player on the team as the season progressed was forward Don Hilsmier. Hilsmier's main asset is his shooting ability; he is especially deadly on a ten to 15 foot jump shot from either corner. He also contributed greatly to the team's rebounding strength. Since his ball control is quite steady.

One of the most improved players as the year ended was forward Dave Banet. Riding the bench in the first few games, Banet quickly showed his ability and operated on the first string for most of the season. Owning a deadly jump shot from anywhere within 15 feet, Banet also used his height to good advantage in pulling down numerous rebounds while he was in there.

Other forwards that did not see as much action as these two were Jim Barker, Dave Blanton, and Mike Files. Barker is an average shooter whose main asset is his hustle. Blanton is

Senior Earns Writing Title

Terry Newendorp, senior A, is the "Writer of the Week" for the February 21 issue, being recognized for his article in the Sectional brochure on South Side's advance.

He will receive 100 extra points and be eligible for the Times Trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

Terry has recently been appointed sports editor for the Times staff.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments

4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129

BETTE HABIG, Owner

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"

Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451

4133 New Haven Avenue

Fort Wayne, Indiana

NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Teams Follow Trail To State In 16 Regions

The Sectional champions, paired as they will meet in the Regional tournaments Saturday (games played, opponents' offensive average, defensive average, average margin) include:

| At Columbus                |        |      |      |
|----------------------------|--------|------|------|
|                            | G OA   | DA   | AM   |
| Shelbyville . . . . .      | 3 68   | 61.3 | 6.7  |
| Greensburg . . . . .       | 3 55.3 | 46.3 | 10   |
| Madison . . . . .          | 3 76.3 | 39.3 | 37   |
| Franklin . . . . .         | 3 53.3 | 40.7 | 12.6 |
| At Connersville            |        |      |      |
| Connersville . . . . .     | 3 73.3 | 49.7 | 23.6 |
| Morristown . . . . .       | 3 68   | 57.3 | 10.7 |
| Holton . . . . .           | 3 62   | 52.7 | 9.3  |
| N. Dearborn . . . . .      | 3 63   | 46.7 | 16.3 |
| At East Chicago            |        |      |      |
| E. Chi. Wash. . . . .      | 3 83   | 61   | 22   |
| Michigan City . . . . .    | 4 78.5 | 54.3 | 24.2 |
| Gary Froebel . . . . .     | 4 81   | 50.5 | 30.5 |
| Valparaiso . . . . .       | 4 68.8 | 51.8 | 17   |
| At Elkhart                 |        |      |      |
| Bourbon . . . . .          | 3 62.7 | 54.3 | 8.4  |
| Elkhart . . . . .          | 3 85   | 47.7 | 37.3 |
| Mentone . . . . .          | 3 68   | 60   | 18   |
| S. Bend Central . . . . .  | 3 66.7 | 50.3 | 6.4  |
| At Evansville              |        |      |      |
| Fort Branch . . . . .      | 3 63.7 | 49.7 | 14   |
| Evansville Bosse . . . . . | 4 75.5 | 59.5 | 16   |
| Castle . . . . .           | 3 74.7 | 40.3 | 34.4 |
| Tell City . . . . .        | 3 79.7 | 44.7 | 35   |
| At Fort Wayne              |        |      |      |
| Angola . . . . .           | 4 65.5 | 54.8 | 10.7 |
| Berne . . . . .            | 4 75.7 | 58.3 | 17.4 |
| Ligonier . . . . .         | 4 73.5 | 48.3 | 25.2 |
| Ft. W. Central . . . . .   | 4 73.8 | 67.5 | 16.3 |
| At Greencastle             |        |      |      |
| Attica . . . . .           | 4 80.3 | 51.8 | 28.5 |
| New Ross . . . . .         | 3 77.7 | 51.3 | 26.4 |
| Rockville . . . . .        | 3 74.3 | 42   | 32.3 |
| Bainbridge . . . . .       | 3 85.7 | 66.7 | 19   |
| At Huntingburg             |        |      |      |
| Carlisle . . . . .         | 3 66.7 | 48   | 18.7 |
| Jasper . . . . .           | 4 75   | 53.3 | 21.7 |
| Vincennes . . . . .        | 3 70   | 53   | 17   |
| Logansport . . . . .       | 3 68.3 | 50.3 | 18   |
| At Indianapolis            |        |      |      |
| Ind. Attucks . . . . .     | 4 69.8 | 55   | 14.8 |
| Anderson . . . . .         | 3 77.3 | 61.3 | 16   |
| Southport . . . . .        | 4 75.5 | 58.3 | 17.2 |
| Plainfield . . . . .       | 3 62.7 | 54.7 | 8    |
| At Jeffersonville          |        |      |      |
| Bedford . . . . .          | 4 68.5 | 56.8 | 11.7 |
| Charlestown . . . . .      | 4 60   | 46   | 14   |
| Morgan Twp. . . . .        | 4 54   | 43.8 | 10.2 |
| Seymour . . . . .          | 3 75.3 | 46   | 29.3 |
| At Kokomo                  |        |      |      |
| Kokomo . . . . .           | 3 79   | 43   | 36   |
| Noble . . . . .            | 3 78.7 | 66.7 | 12   |
| Clay Twp. . . . .          | 3 63.3 | 55.5 | 8.3  |
| Noblesville . . . . .      | 3 73   | 62   | 11   |
| At Lafayette               |        |      |      |
| Rossville . . . . .        | 3 85.7 | 66   | 19.7 |
| Fowler . . . . .           | 3 62   | 56.3 | 5.7  |
| Lafayette . . . . .        | 3 92   | 42.7 | 49.3 |
| Pinell . . . . .           | 3 68   | 54.3 | 13.7 |
| At Logansport              |        |      |      |
| Logansport . . . . .       | 3 62.7 | 46.3 | 16.4 |
| Brookston . . . . .        | 3 68.3 | 49.3 | 19   |
| Knox . . . . .             | 3 62   | 53.7 | 8.3  |
| Rensselaer . . . . .       | 3 62   | 50.7 | 11.3 |
| At Marion                  |        |      |      |
| Bluffton . . . . .         | 3 72   | 60   | 12   |
| Onk Hill . . . . .         | 3 73.3 | 60.3 | 13   |
| Huntington . . . . .       | 4 70.3 | 52.3 | 18.5 |
| Pennville . . . . .        | 4 70.3 | 55.8 | 14.5 |
| At Martinsville            |        |      |      |
| T. H. Garfield . . . . .   | 3 57.3 | 47   | 10.3 |
| Eminence . . . . .         | 3 70.3 | 51   | 19.7 |
| Bloomfield . . . . .       | 3 54.3 | 47.7 | 6.6  |
| Spencer . . . . .          | 4 70.5 | 52.5 | 18   |
| At New Castle              |        |      |      |
| Middletown . . . . .       | 3 54   | 37.7 | 16.3 |
| Union City . . . . .       | 3 69   | 50.3 | 18.7 |
| Richmond . . . . .         | 3 82.7 | 58   | 24.7 |
| Muncie Central . . . . .   | 4 70.5 | 57.8 | 12.7 |

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102

4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185

2638 South Anthony H-3381

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE? GET AN EARLY START

ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School

Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government.

Classes start June 18 and end August 12.

Phone A-3171 for more details and a schedule.

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET

One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c

FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Stu's Sideline shots

By Stu Schmits

One week end down and three more to go is the key phrase for the 64 surviving teams in the Indiana high school basketball tournament. Although there were several well-regarded favorites who were eliminated in various Sectional sites, there were no top-rated teams, with the exception of tenth-ranked Evansville Rex Mundi, that were dealt losses in the first round of the annual state-wide chase.

In the Fort Wayne Sectional, Herb Banet's Blue looked like real champions in winning Central's seventeenth Sectional crown as they advanced to the Regional Tourney by ousting a fired-up Elmhurst Trojan squad.

The Tigers looked quite impressive throughout the entire tourney, easily dropping four city opponents while posting the highest offensive average—a remarkable 74 points.

In addition the Tigers had the top scorer of the tourney in their big forward, Cletus Edmonds, who compiled 84 points in four games for a tremendous 21-point overage. Teammate Rod Haywood was also high in the scoring department with 69 points for a 17-point average.

New Haven's Denny Kummer, whose squad was eliminated by Elmhurst in the second game, had a two-game average of 23.5 and was credited with the highest one-game output—a 30-point performance against Leo.

South Side's Archers as well as the Archer fans were quite disappointed after dropping their opening battle to the tourney "surpriser," Elmhurst, a loss which many considered humiliating.

They didn't feel so badly after they saw Bill Geyer's fired-up Trojans continue their revengeful ways with a victory over New Haven, a team which one week previously had dumped the Trojans; and an upset over North Side, who had massacred the Trojans twice in regular-season play.

South played a fair game but the victory enthusiasm necessary to win the tourney just wasn't there, while the Trojans' fire was unmatched in the entire tourney.

The tourney, which had an attendance of 35,857 for the six sessions, provided the fans with many exciting contests. Friday afternoon's game between Luers and Arcola and Saturday afternoon's battle between Elmhurst and North would easily qualify as the most exciting games of the tourney.

Heavy favorite Luers won a "lucky" victory over Arcola by means of Tom Blaising's two pressure shots from the charity stripe with no time left on the clock. North, the A.P.'s pick to grab the marbles in the Fort Wayne Sectional, lost a heartbreaker to Elmhurst in the last minute of playing time by a 49-46 count.

The Redskins, trailing by three points, had about four chances to whittle the lead on their last trip down their side of the floor, but the Trojans well outclassed the Redskins and took advantage of the charity line to cap the victory.

Although it is difficult to pick an all-tourney squad, I would pick Cletus Edmonds, Rod Haywood, Bob Miller, Denny Kummer, and John Gres as the top five performers.

On the state scene, perhaps the most unusual scores recorded were Lafayette's 105-44 victory over Montmorenci and their 100-37 massacre of Klondike, which marked the first and second times in Lafayette's history that they have reached the century mark. Look out for Lafayette in the state finals!

Correction: Last week I said that Logansport was the only team to defeat Kokomo. However, it was Lafayette.

Never agree with a fool; bystanders may not be able to tell who is which.

3818 S. Calhoun

DON STROEBEL'S OXFORD MARATHON

MOTOR TUNE-UP BRAKE SERVICE

FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY

COURTESY CAR AVAILABLE

TIRES—TUBES—BATTERIES—ACCESSORIES

Winter and Oxford H-5243

The proper lighting in your home is very important for reading and study . . . It protects your eyesight.

PAUL M. BURNS, MAYOR OF FORT WAYNE

Better Lighting

means better grades

Light & Power • Water Filtration • Sewage Disposal

UTILITIES T.V.

Kellys Finish Rebuilding Season With Slate Of Six Wins, 15 Losses

Kenny Leakey, Dale Hilsmier Tie For 13.6 Point Averages

South Side will have to chalk up the 1961-62 basketball season to experience and count it as a rebuilding year. No one would have predicted the astonishing 6-15 slate at the beginning of the year, but the Archers never did find themselves.

The breaks never came, and the season seemed merely to be a nightmare predecessor of happy reality. Unfortunately, that happy reality never came about even though the nightmarish ended last Thursday.

Virtually, the only bright spots in the year were the fine individual performances of several fighting Bowmen. Senior Ken Leakey and Junior Dale Hilsmier finished in nearly a dead heat in point totals in the 21 games. Leakey poured in 286 points for a 13.6 average, while Hilsmier was a mere marker back at 285, for the same average. With these outputs they finished for all practical purposes, fifth in the city in the scoring race.

THE CONSISTENT scoring for these boys always left something for the fans to talk about. Leakey's productive year started with his 23 tallies against Concordia. He potted 26 against Huntington, 20 in the Luers contest, 18 versus Columbia City, 17 against Kendallville, besides leading all scorers in the first North game with 18.

Hilsmier also hit the hoops with regularity in many battles. He tallied 24 points against Goshen, 21 versus Kendallville, 20 in the Logansport game, and 18 at Gary Froebel. Besides the offensive display, Hilsmier led the Arrow-fingers in rebounds.

Gary Probst, who tapered off at the end of the year due to an ankle injury, enjoyed enough good games to post a 7.6 average for the 20 forays. He piled up 18 in both the Luers and Columbia City clashes. To add to his list of distinctions, Probst was the second-leading rebounder for the Green this season.

SENIORS MART PLATUPE and Tom McMahan finished their high school careers creditably. Platupe rolled up 113 points in 18 games for a 6.3 average. His fine accuracy in long shots melted him 22 in the Luers fight and 13 at Gary Froebel. McMahan, seeing erratic action, excelled in defense, placed third in rebounding, and ranked fifth in scoring. He racked up 11 in both the Froebel and the second Elmhurst encounters.

Throughout the schedule the Bow-benders have faced some of the top squads of the state, including third-ranked Southport, sixth-ranked Gary Froebel, Michigan City, Logansport, and Goshen. Close losses to city fives were suffered by two points to North, three to Central, and four to Central Catholic and Concordia; so if the ball had bounced right, all four losses could conceivably be in the win column now.

NEXT YEAR, HOWEVER, if the potential is reached, the results should be vastly different. Only three players will be lost to Coach Don Reichert, his starting guards Ken Leakey and Mart Platupe, and his number one pinch-hitter, Tom McMahan. Left will be the formidable wall of Dave Meyer, Probst, and Hilsmier.

With the experience of this season under their belts, these boys will be tough on anybody on the boards, on defense, and in their shooting. Other prospects in the forefront are Willie Files, junior, and Sophomore Tom Meyers.

In the backcourt Coach Reichert will choose from Bob Lehman, Jerry Klaehn, and Tom Shine, all of whom saw much action this season, and Dave Banet, Dave Munson, and Don Hils-mier, sophomores.

Central Gains Sectional Title, Conquers Elmhurst In Finale

1962 SECTIONAL CHAMPIONS . . . Central's Tigers, who won the 1962 Fort Wayne Sectional Tournament Saturday by a 71-57 score over Elmhurst, are, front row, left to right, Pres Underwood, Rod Haywood, Cletus Edmonds, George Underwood, Archie Smith, Jim Martin, and Herb Banks, and, back row, left to right, Mike King, student manager; Bob Armstrong, assistant coach; Bob Dille, assistant coach; Rob Bean; Sam Kelsey; Herb Banet, head coach; Larry Kuhn; Jack Lock, student manager; Nate Banks; and Jim Cress.—Photo by Lowden

Central's Tigers rolled over their fourth straight city victim when they licked Elmhurst for the Sectional championship Saturday night. It was also the fourth game in a row in which the Banetmen chalked up 70 or more points, taking the finale 71-57.

Elmhurst, present by virtue of a stirring upset of North in Saturday's second afternoon game, was simply too worn out to keep up with the flying Tigers. The boys in the polka-dotted trunks had virtually unlimited control over their own backboard and usually cleared off Elmhurst's before the Trojans could chalk up their tip-ins.

Clete Edmonds of Central led all scoring action with 24 points, giving him a three-game average of over 25, and a turnover rate of 21 points per outing. Other Tiger high-pointers were Jim Martin and Rod Haywood, potting 14 and 13, respectively. Archie Smith chipped in eight points.

ELMHURST'S ATTACK was spear-headed by Tom Reinking with 16. He was aided by Dave Foreman's 14 and Terry Baker's ten.

The first quarter was close and hard-fought, with the effect of the afternoon game not yet showing on Coach Geyer's crew. Central collected 3 points right at the end of the period to pull into a 16-15 combat after a nip-and-tuck, see-saw battle in the first eight minutes.

The next period was a different story, though, as Banet's boys began to run, shoot, and jump. The Trojans were out-talied 20-9 in the second

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Volleyball and badminton are progressing rapidly and sign-ups are being taken in giant volleyball and the night league free throw tourney.

In volleyball, the Sophomore Rejects moved into the finals by edging the Meat-Eaters, 8-15, 15-8, 1-0. Dale Engle scored seven points and Dick Robinson, Jim Littlejohn, and William Joy each scored seven points to pace the Meat-Eaters.

To reach the finals of the losers' bracket, the Meat-Eaters trounced the Twisters, 15-11, 15-5. Skevos Pavlou was practically a one-man team as he served for a total of 17 points. Walt Stuelpe chipped in with six also for the Meat-Eaters. Dave Hamilton led the Twisters with five successful serves.

The Sophomore Rejects shaded the Pals, 15-12, 15-10, to reach the losers' bracket finals. Dick Robinson made 11 points for the Rejects and Ted Rolf, Dale Engle, and Jim Littlejohn each added five. Leading the Pals was Al Mitchell with six points and Henry Persons with five.

The Scrubs then captured the lightweight noon league volleyball championship by edging the Fleas, 13-15, 15-13, 5-4. John Grodrian scored nine points. Dave Hicks and Ray Tinkel each got seven. Carl Foust paced the Fleas with nine points and Garry Roby chipped in with six.

Members of the Scrubs are Doug Henschen, Ray Tinkel, John Rastetter, John Grodrian, Chris Raptis, Dan DeWald, Russell Grose, Ricky Meeks, and Dave Hicks.

In an exhibition game, the Teachers, led by Mr. Preston Brown, shaded the Champs, 1-15, 15-13, 3-2. Although Mr. Robert Davis and Mr. "Porky" Holt scored eight and six points, respectively, it was Mr. Brown's spikes that led to the Champs' defeat. Gary Tinkel served for eight points and Loren Hindren and Dave Haslup each scored six points for the Champs.

The giant volleyball tournament, which will have only two weight divisions, will be in the near future; and Mr. Motz urges everyone to sign up as early as possible. Ten to 13 men are allowed on a team. Night league giant volleyball will be single elimination and noon league will be double elimination.

Ron Bakalar, Larry Schneider, Dick Patty, Fred Plothe, Dave Ridenback, and Glen Crosier in night league heavyweight; Jim Carnahan, Jim Dunlap, Rick Meeks, and John Grodrian in noon league lightweight; and Carl Foust, Ray Rodenbeck, Bob Williams, Larry Allmandinger, Dan DeWald, and Jim Long in the noon league middle-weight division.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games:
INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Sunday, March 4
7:00 p.m.
MUSKEGON ZEPHYRS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Wednesday, March 7
8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c
Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Frosh Basketball Team Posts Season Standing Of Five-Nine

South Side's freshman team fared as well as could be expected in the past 1961-62 basketball season, owing to the fact that the current class is the smallest in many years. Posting a record of five wins and nine losses, the team coached by Mr. Preston Brown, showed tremendous improvement as the season progressed.

The teams first contest resulted in a 45-34 loss to the Leo Lions, due to poor defense. In the fourth quarter, the Archers were outscored 22-6.

On November 30, the Green faced Central Catholic for the first of two regular season meetings. In this tilt, the rebounding of the Irish defeated the Archers, 44-32. Jan Doran led South's scoring with 13 markers.

CONCORDIA WAS the next foe as they played the Green at the Tokheim Gym on December 4. South could muster only three points in the first half of play as the Cadets poured in 21. In spite of the fact, Jan Doran with his long cannons led all scorers with 13. South lost the game by 38-28.

The Archers' fourth loss in a row came at the hands of New Haven. The game was kept fairly close by the Green until a ten-point surge late in the contest iced it for the Bulldogs, to make the final score 46-42 in their favor.

The Freshman Tournament followed as did South's first victory. Improving rapidly, they mauled the Knights of Bishop Luers by a score of 46-18. A hot third stanza put it away for the Green as they outpointed the Luers 19-3. The championship game against Central Catholic found South losing, 44-34. Jan Doran and Bob Kinsey paced the scoring with 11 and seven respectively.

IN THE NEXT TILT, played December 31 against Leo, South proved that it was progressing by avenging the loss to Leo. A 17-point performance by Doran put the game out of reach as fine shooting by the Archers made the Lions cower in their dens. The final score was South Side 42, Leo, 24.

The red-hot Bowmen continued on their winning ways by trouncing Ben Geyer by 51-36. A strong second half spelled the difference for the Green. Ironically, these boys will end up on the same team as the Geyerites will become South Side reserves next year.

The next encounter was with Central's big Tigers. Center Bob Barnett and flashy forward Whitt, who scored 19, led the Bengals over the Green by the score of Central 49, South 30.

High scorers for the Archers were Mike Vogt and Dave Fishbaugh, canning nine and six points respectively.

SOUTH GOT BACK on the right side of the ledger by defeating Bishop Luers by 41-21 on January 18. Mike Vogt played his best game, contributing 14 points, and Dave Fishbaugh added ten. Luers came within two points at the half, 14-12, but South found the range and pulled away in the second 12 minutes.

Again proving their progress, the Green came within a point of avenging two earlier losses to the strongest team in the city, Central Catholic, in what was by far the most thrilling game of the year. South had lead with 51 seconds remaining but could not hang on. Doran led the Green with 12 points, followed by Bob Kinsey with 11.

Although Whitt was not playing, Central whipped South on February 1 by 49-34. Dave Fishbaugh turned in a 13-point performance for the Bowmen.

A TRIP TO Huntstown proved futile as the Wildcats trounced the Archers 50-27. Cold shooting and bad ball-handling proved to be the downfall of the Green.

In the season's finale, South Side again trounced Bishop Luers, this time by a score of 54-37. Surprise of the night was Chip Bolman, who played a magnificent game and led all scorers with 15.

Eight new records were set, five of them claimed by sharpshooter Jan Doran. They are field goals attempted, 136; field goals made, 51; field goal percentage, 37.5; free throw percentage, 82.6; total points, 121. The team record for foul shooting percentage was broken, the new mark being 60.7. Dave Fishbaugh set the other two in fouls, 84; and errors, 33. The team's offensive average was 38.7; the defensive was 39.3, leaving a deficit of only .6.

The following is a summary of the players' individual scoring for the 1961-62 basketball season:

| Player            | GP | TP  | AVG |
|-------------------|----|-----|-----|
| Jan Doran, ■      | 14 | 121 | 8.6 |
| Bob Kinsey, f     | 11 | 81  | 7.4 |
| Ron Van Ryn, ■    | 14 | 81  | 5.8 |
| Dave Fishbaugh, c | 14 | 72  | 5.1 |
| Mike Vogt, c-f    | 14 | 69  | 5.0 |
| Dan Junk, f       | 14 | 33  | 2.8 |
| Chip Bolman, f    | 14 | 32  | 2.3 |
| Greg Riley, ■     | 11 | 31  | 2.8 |
| Lynn Hoover, ■    | 5  | 16  | 3.2 |
| Steve Butz, g     | 10 | 10  | .6  |

Area Sport Car Rallies Offer Challenges To Four Students

From deciphering road directions to executing hair-pin curves, sports car enthusiasts Dave Schele, Dale Smith, Jeff Roth, and Jim Walker pattern their styles after the great British driver, Sterling Moss.

They participate in car rallies presented by the Fort Wayne Region Sports Car Club of America and the Northeastern Indiana Sports Car Club.

The rallies, which originated in England, take place on public roads all over the country. Boys, whether members of the SCCA or guests, may participate. Before registering, all cars entering, sports cars or otherwise, must have a safety check; then each car is numbered and has a driver and a navigator.

The cars are started off at two-minute intervals, and the routes are not known until the drivers are given a sheet of directions. The instruction sheet gives the average speed and the time needed to reach the given destination.

Along the routes are check points. At these points a person can tell whether the car is late or early in reaching that particular spot. One point is taken off for being late and two for being early.

THE AIM OF EACH driver is to reach the destined point in the time allowed. The navigator has the more difficult job; however, because he must determine how fast the driver must drive in the distance required.

Each rally lasts about three and a half hours, and an average distance is about one hundred miles.

There are various types of rallies, night rallies, all night rallies, transcontinental rallies, and gimmick rallies. In all of the rallies, average speeds are necessary to obey, because the rallies are not races.

In the gimmick rally, for example, sheets with questions are given to the participants in each car. These questions must be answered correctly. For instance, along the route one question may be asked, "Where is 317?" This number may be a highway number, a house number, or just about anything.

IN EVERY RALLY, the perfect score is zero. First, second, and third place trophies are presented to the winners.

The purpose of these car rallies is to give boys a chance for safe competition. It also provides a chance to have the entry calculate his own speed in order to reach his destination safely in the average time.

Dave Schele, senior, became interested in the rallies last June, after a fellow astronomer told him about them. Dave has been in about twelve rallies, and he is in the process of joining the PWRSCCA. "These rallies are complicated affairs because there is a great responsibility involved even though they are just games," commented Dave.

IN ADDITION TO cars, his other interests include astronomy, hunting, and reading.

Senior Dale Smith also participates in these rallies. He became interested through Dave Schele about six months ago. Says Dale, "Driving in rallies is fun. It also provides an opportunity to see many places." Dale, along with Senior Jeff Roth, won a first place trophy in one of the rallies.

Dale's other interests include hunting, in which he does mainly target practice, and airplanes. Dale has his flying license, and he flew his first solo on his sixteenth birthday.

ANOTHER SENIOR, Jeff Roth, also became interested in rallies through Dave Schele. Jeff has already participated in about five rallies and won, with Dale Smith, a first place trophy with a perfect score. "It's fun to get out and see other places and meet other people," said Jeff.

Jeff's other interests are playing the bagpipes and golf.

Jim Walker, senior, became interested also through Dave Schele. Jim and his father joined the NEISCC three weeks ago. "The rallies provide a challenge to the person to see if he can ride at a correct speed on a tricky course," concluded Jim.

Jim also participates in the Chemistry Club, is on the rifle team, and in his church choir.

Vesta Club Plans Tea

Members of the Vesta Club will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Grocery Room for a business meeting. The business to be discussed will concern the sale of South Side stationery. All members of Vesta Club will have the opportunity to sell this stationery to earn money for the club.

Committees will be chosen to plan for the Mother's Tea in May and candidates will be chosen for next semester's officers.

New members may join at this meeting.

SLICK'S
H-3232

Who Leanders Shirts Best?

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Pupils See School Doctor

Over a one-month period, 85 students have been referred to Dr. Elmer Singer, the school physician. At South Side during the second period, Dr. Singer sent nine ill students home and referred 14 students to their families for recommended treatment.

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, sent 41 ill students home over the one-month period. "The 85 students do not include many who have come to the dispensary or those who have had dental appointments," stated Miss Van Gorder.

Boy Riflers To Meet

The Boy's Rifle Club will have its regular meeting Monday on the rifle range at 3:30 p.m.

February 19 the club had a practice shooting session and the results are Steve Lyst, 94; Mike Schoen, 87; Dick Robins, 82; Jim Feustel, 77; and Jim Walker, 75.

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Phone: T-1141

ALLEN DAIRY

VIBRATO COFFEE HOUSE
1308 Broadway

OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY

Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches

COME AS YOU ARE

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE

4005 South Wayne
H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

CUPP, Inc. Engineers and Contractors

For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Hall's Drive-Ins

Ruth Sprunger is this week's Small Snaps.

DESIGN/ART

PHOTOGRAPHY

OFFSET PLATES

LETTERPRESS PLATES

ELECTROS

DIES MATS STEREOS

EMPRASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

CONSULTATION WITH MASTER CRAFTSMEN on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?"

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

Three Pupils Study Television, Wiring In Field Of Electronics

ELECTRIFIED ELECTRICIANS . . . Archers interested in the field of electronics are, left to right, Jim Cress, working on an oscillator for a television broadcast, and Gary Giessler and Cliff Hoshaw repairing the components of a television chassis.—Photo by Jones

Electronics—that interesting, important segment of science connected with the set-ups of radios, televisions, record players, hi-fi's, intercoms, and wiring—is a complicated field. This field of science attracts many young people; but in particular, three Archers are especially interested in electronics. They are Sophomores Cliff Hoshaw, Gary Giessler, and Jim Cress.

Jim Cress first became interested in electronics when his family obtained a tape recorder; this device fascinated him, and, after learning to operate it, his interest widened to include amplifiers, speakers, radios, and record players.

To further his interest, about one and a half years ago, Jim attended many auctions in order to purchase speakers and amplifiers, which came from old radios.

Jim stated that he particularly enjoys electronics because it is fun, and he can expand his range of interests in it to include wiring buildings and utilizing microphones, radios, and tape recorders.

JIM HAS GAINED much experience in electronics while learning new techniques and devices. In addition, Jim said that he has learned to channel and to divert his abilities.

He is undecided as to whether or not he would like to enter electronics as a career. Also being interested in photography, he said that there were equal possibilities in both fields.

Jim's other hobbies include photography, movie taking, and flying. The Cress family owns their own plane, and Jim has recently begun taking flying lessons. In addition to photography and flying, he keeps a limited coin collection.

Cliff Hoshaw is particularly interested in television repair and radio sets. Having been attracted to electronics through books and magazines, he recently built an intercom in his home which connected the basement with the upstairs. Also, he is now working on an FM radio-television station, from which he hopes he will be able to broadcast his own entertainment.

CLIFF HAS GAINED experience in the field of television repair by working as a repairman; he also repairs transistor radios. When asked if he would make electronics his career, Cliff answered that he would like to do this and would like to become an electronics technician.

Gary Giessler was attracted to electronics when he was seven years old. At the age of ten, he began working with dry cell batteries and house wiring. From that time on, he advanced into electronics rapidly.

In the seventh grade, he produced a pinball machine; and the following year, he set up an electronic testing board. Since that time he has entered his projects twice in the Northeastern Regional Science Fair.

Gary stated that electronics has aided him to a great extent in his math and science courses. Gary plans to become a technician and hopes to further his studies at DeVry Electronics College in Chicago, Ill.

Area's Postal Service Begins With Military Courier Arrival

With the arrival of a military courier at the fort built by Anthony Wayne on Independence Day, 1810, mail delivery began in Fort Wayne, Ind. And when Commandant Rhea distributed the mail, he became the first postmaster.

Records also show that in 1820 the government did establish a post office here, commissioning Benjamin B. Kercheval as postmaster.

However, Kercheval failed to open a post office. After a few months he was succeeded by Samuel Hanna who officially opened the first post office in a log cabin. He did most of the construction work on the building himself on the building which was located on Columbia and Barr streets.

MAIL IN THOSE days was delivered every two weeks from Cincinnati. By 1825 total postage collected was $123.43 which didn't reflect a great deal of correspondence. In those days postal rates were 10 to 15 times greater than today.

Communications being as they were in those days, post offices played a greater part in distributing news than did newspapers, which had to rely solely on a benevolent postal system. During elections people would gather at the post office to get the returns.

Although the first daily mail came to Fort Wayne by way of the canal (the old Toledo to Lafayette run), the railroads gave mail service a firm reliability which has retained to this day. But the stage proved a fine transitional method.

IN 1870 THE RULE stated that a city had to have a population of 20,000

'Gerdie's Group,' 'Fran Flirt' Contribute To Library Turmoil

Outwardly, I appear cold and forbidding. Through my swinging doors to knowledge, there passes daily people of every race, religion, and age. With each person, there comes a record, a picture, and a brief report. It's surprising the number or reports I have on file in my memory.

For instance, there is Jerry the Junior. Jerry has been a junior working on his research theme for the last three years, so I know him well, though I only see him three or four days a year. The pattern is the same each year. The Saturday before his paper is due, Jerry is here five minutes before closing time, expecting the librarians to look up several dozen references for him to check out.

THEN, THERE IS Gerdie the Gossip. Gerdie and her friends always travel in a group. They arrive, no less than ten strong, and settle down to "study." Their studying normally consists of running to the drinking fountain, combing their hair, putting on make-up, and laughing at some mysterious joke.

Soon I must ask Gerdie and her friends to leave, for their laughing disturbs Boswell the Bookworm. Boswell is here so often, I'm thinking of renting him a room. Every day, immediately after school is out, Boswell appears piled high with such light reading as "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."

Saturday is really Boswell's day; he can come at nine in the morning and read all day. The silence around Boswell's chair is broken only by the occasional crunch of an apple he brought for lunch.

SITTING A CHAIR away from Boswell, is Freddie the Football Player. Freddie's chair, even though made of substantial material, looks as if it might give way any moment from sheer exhaustion. Spread in front of Freddie is the latest edition of "Mickey Mouse and His Pals." Freddie doesn't come here to do research; he just comes to watch the girls study.

Freddie's counterpart is Fran the Flirt. Fran comes to the library looking as though she were going to the biggest social event of the season. From beneath her mascara-laden lashes she gazes longingly at all members of the opposite sex. In fact, here comes one now.

Oops! That's Sloppy Sarah. With her hair piled high in rollers and her tattered, shrunken blue-jeans, Sarah could be mistaken for a refugee from a flood or a wild man from Borneo.

Of course, there are many, many more who pass through my doors. Some come here for a good reason and others don't.

Fort Wayne Fire Department Protects Community Property

An average person has one chance in 635 billion of holding a perfect bridge hand, 350,000 of being killed by lightning, 19,000 of drowning, 3,400 of dying in a traffic accident, and 102 of having a fire in his house. Compared to these other percentages, the chance of having a fire in the home is not as unlikely as one would think.

Every year about twelve thousand Americans die needlessly in fires, and 3,500 people lose their lives in fires in homes, with 41 per cent of the fatalities being children. Every year in the United States there are about six hundred thousand building fires in our country.

These averages and statistics are used by the Fort Wayne Fire Department in their indoctrination of potential firemen. These figures give a distinct picture of the importance of our firemen, the Fort Wayne Fire Department, and the fire departments of our country.

The job of any organized fire department is the defense of life and property against the hazards of fire, wind, water, and other emergencies in which property and human beings may be involved. Each member of the fire department assumes an exact personal responsibility for the lives and property in his community.

THE QUALIFICATIONS of a fireman for the Chicago Fire Department in 1877, which is considered representative of other departments of that period, were three-fold.

(1) He must be a citizen of the United States.

(2) He must be able to converse understandingly in English.

(3) He must be able to write legibly his own name.

Today, Fort Wayne firemen are selected by an examination based on general intelligence and mechanical knowledge. If he has the essential mental and mechanical aptitudes, a three to four weeks' training period must be concluded before a fireman is assigned to a station.

The history of the Fort Wayne Fire Department is as old as the city itself, for the local fire department was born shortly after the city of Fort Wayne.

It was on March 1, 1833, four years after the incorporation of Fort Wayne, that a petition requesting fire protection was signed by representative citizens of the small community and presented to the town trustees.

THE TRUSTEES immediately authorized the formation of the "Fort Wayne Fire Company" to be equipped with hooks and ladders. On June 2, 1834, further action was taken to form an "engine company, a hose company, and a hook and ladder company."

Five years later, the town leased for three years, at six dollars per year, a section of lot 70, of the original plot, at the northeast corner of Clinton and Main streets, to erect Fort Wayne's first fire house. In 1856 Fort Wayne's first fire chief, L. T. Bourie, was appointed.

It was in 1861 that the city of Fort Wayne purchased its first steam engine for $4,800. It was named "The Frank Randall," in honor of Mayor

Local Organization Aids Businessmen, Improves Districts

The Chamber of Commerce has played an important part in the business of Fort Wayne since 1875. Then seven men had seen the changes that took place after the Civil War and decided that if businessmen combined their talents, time, and resources, much could be accomplished.

By the end of the first year 70 people joined the original seven. This number today has reached 3,000. The Chamber of Commerce includes many different organizations, such as labor unions, corporations, schools, civic groups, veterans' organizations, and one-man businesses.

MUCH TIME AND energy has been spent on many tasks. For instance, in 1900, improvements were made on the parks, and a few years later, the east-end industrial area was developed. World War II brought notice to manpower, mobilization, production, and transportation needs. After the war, more job opportunities and sales training were needed. Now roads and safety are being emphasized.

The Chamber acts as a clearing house for information on Fort Wayne and provides material for all types of trade and references journals. It answers thousands of questions and conducts training and orientation programs.

It sponsors many recognition programs to focus community attention on individuals and groups who have distinguished themselves. It guards the life and property of all members of the community through its extensive activities.

THE CHAMBER OF Commerce owns its own building where regular meetings of most of the city's business and civic organizations make it a center of all community progress.

It receives 80 per cent of support from dues of paying members. There is no danger of any one group running the chamber.

YFC To Hear Speaker

Bill Eakin, director of the Youth for Christ Club in the United States, will speak at tomorrow's YFC meeting in the Greeley Room at 3:30 p.m.

Also featured at the meeting will be special numbers by a mixed vocal quartet composed of Liz Ellis, Sally Boyer, Warren Burns, and Roger Vorholzer. Tricia Miller will present a vocal solo and Harold Hatcher will play the piano.

The YFC area rally will be in the Harrison Hill auditorium, Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. The 60-voice teen choir and the vocal ensemble will present special music. Bill Eakin will be the featured speaker.

Sophomore Officers Plan Party, Appoint 21 Representatives

"Mardi Gras Magnifique," was recently chosen as the theme of the Sophomore Party, which will be April 27. Ricky Meeks, president of the '64 class; Paul Cochran, vice-president; Debby Decker, secretary-treasurer; Andy Christon, social council chairman; and Dick Robinson and Dave Banet, social council members will head the various committees for the annual event.

Each homeroom representative will keep the class informed on the progress of the plans for the party. "Sheets will be sent to all the sophomore homerooms so that each student may sign up for the committees," stated Debby Decker, secretary-treasurer for the Class of '64.

Homeroom agents are Jim Barker, 162; Pat Bobay, 12; Paul Boergert, 60; Cheri Hahn, 110; LaVonne Custance, 96; Sharon Graffis, 45; Dan DeWald, 80; David Garvin, 142;

Dudley Wass, 14; Linda Hake, 92; Martha Hoard, 178; Ed Kimble, 144; Nancy Lougheed, 68; Judi McKay, 62; Patty North, 77; Vicky Phillips, 90; Julie Rhinehart, 120; Cheryl Scott, 164; Susi Steegman, 34; Barrie McCombs, 98; and Russ Wickham, 156.

Students To Enroll At Central For Summer School Classes

Summer school classes at Central High School, June 11 through August 2, are again being offered to high school students. Enrollment blanks may be obtained from Mr. David Cramer, mathematics teacher. They should be submitted to Mr. R. Nelson Snyder, principal, for approval and then turned in to Central or Mr. Cramer in Room 80 by May 21.

High school students will meet from 8 a.m. until noon, and each class will continue for two hours. Make-up sessions will be in the afternoons.

COURSES TO BE offered will include English, all classes and lanes; all high school math courses, lanes X, Y, and Z; U.S. history, world history, economics, sociology, government, lanes X, Y, Z;

General science, biology, physics, and chemistry; beginning Typing 1 and 2; Public Speaking 1 and 2; and Bookkeeping 1 and 2. A non-credit course designed to assist college-bound students in taking class notes also will be offered.

Miss Emma Adams, dean of girls at Central High School, has been appointed principal for the summer school session.

"THE PURPOSES OF the high school session," Miss Adams explained, "are to give students opportunities to take courses required for graduation in order that electives might be taken during the regular school term, and to make up courses that might have been failed."

"There are no residence requirements for enrollment in the summer school session."

Graduate Wins Trophy

Singing an aria from "Madame Butterfly," Joyce Brittenham, graduate of '60 and a nursing student at Indiana Central College, won the talent contest over six other Indiana district talent winners at the state convention of the Indiana Association of Student Nurses, at the Severin Hotel in Indianapolis, Friday.

Winning the talent traveling trophy for her singing Miss Brittenham also has earned the right to compete in the talent show of the Association's national convention in Detroit, May 18-21.

Hutner's Paris

RUDISILL CENTER • DOWNTOWN • NORTHCREST

Hi!

I'm Sue Perry, inviting you to see my friends and me in Hutner's Paris window Saturday, March 10, modeling new spring formals. Come down and look us over . . . have a free Pepsi, too!

Carol Humm
Elmhurst

Lynn Fisher
Bishop Luers

Barbara Brink
Central Catholic

Maria Jean Webster
Central

Susie Richards
North Side

Monice Roemke
Concordia

Where?

Hutner's Paris Downtown
Saturday, March 10, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

What?

Special showing of new spring "hi-school" formals, chosen especially for gals like us . . . because we asked for them!

Who's Invited?

All the high school girls in Fort Wayne and surrounding shopping areas. Hope you can all make it!

INFORMAL MODELING

by us . . . in Hutner's Paris Calhoun Street windows and on the Second Floor.

Fabulous FREE PRIZES!

Be sure to register on the Second Floor. Registration open to all high school girls in the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades. YOU may be the lucky winner of one of these:

Bobbi Ray Finishing Course

A complete 25-week course (worth $150) at the Fort Wayne Finishing School, under the direction of Bobbi Ray Reynolds. Subjects include:

- Personality and Poise
- Styling and Fashion
- Figure Improvement and Posture
- Self-Confidence and Grace
- Individual Hair Styling
- Use of Beauty Aids
- Etiquette, Business and Social
- Modeling Techniques (fashion, advertising and TV)
- Speech and Conversation
- and many others

Complete Formal Outfit

Dress, shoes, jewelry, gloves, purse!

FREE

PEPSI-COLA

Courtesy of the Pepsi-Cola Company in Fort Wayne

now it's Pepsi
for those who think young

It's a date

at Hutner's Paris Downtown
Saturday, March 10

Come one, come all . . .
We'll have a ball!

Students Burn Midnight Oil To Score High In Classrooms

Receiving high grades on a recent test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 6 class are Elizabeth Richter, Gary Stair, Mark Lowens, Bill Collins, Dick Astrom, and Lynette Downing.

The highest grades on Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 test were received by Pat Netttrour, Mary Karkrick, and Sue Gerig in the period 1 class.

Ann McCoy, Jean Ann McGinley, and Marsha Good gave reports in Miss Crowe's General History 2 classes on a talk given in the Know Your City Club. The talk concerned school reorganization and the speaker was Mrs. Pomerinck from the League of Women Voters.

Fran Krandsall, Bill Powlen, and Judy Ruhl earned high grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 1 class on a test covering the French Revolution.

Scoring 100 per cent on a test over verbals and complements in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 6 class are Cynthia Christman, Anita Ferber, Sandi Hadley, Tom Irmacher, Dian Lenth, Steve Lovens, Karen McFarland, Steve Mueller, Linda Newell, and Steve Pratt.

Those who received A's on quizzes in Miss Smith's English 1 period 5 class are Judy Miller, Ron Dunn, Jim Baumgardner, and Steve Clem.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 2 period 7 class who have completed their geometric constructions and are working on their first isometric drawings are Lex Smuts, Steve Putman, Everett Mol, John Weaver, Mike Dunn, Phil Geller, and Curt Venderly.

In Mr. Gernand's Algebra 1 period 2 class Jesse Brown, Russell Grose, Steve Kratzman, Carol Rice, Greg Riley, William Roebel, Ellen Sitianus, and Deborah Zollinger earned high grades on a test over signed numbers.

Top scorers on a marketing test taken in Mr. Kelly's period 6 class are Nancy Baron, Wanda Millrancy, and Katie Martin.

On a test over the addition and subtraction of whole numbers given in Mr. Gernand's General Math 1 period 6 class, Sharon Barker, Dan Belschner, and Gary Blauvelt scored high with 98. Scoring high with 96 per cents were Stan Beer, Val Budowski, Janet Foote, Marsha Heater, and William Bischoff.

Pupils who wrote interesting themes in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 3 class are John Wehrenberg, James Mittelstadt, and Patricia Hieber.

Receiving high scores on a test taken in Mr. Collyer's period 3 General History 2 class over Latin American countries are Doug Hansen and Steve Laymon.

Corinne Silvers, Margaret Ranso, and Loretta Kimmel earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's period 2 English class on a test covering general information about Julius Caesar.

Llana Elmore and Miriam Kubay earned the highest grades on an inborn behavior test in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 1 class.

Sally Henderson scored the highest on a test covering behavior in Miss Crowe's period 7 Health 2 class.

Sally Mallough, Patty Scheib, Don Nobles, and John Smith received the highest grades on January quizzes given in the Botany 2 period 1 class of Mr. Weber.

Sandy Harris, Anell Hoover, Karen Miller, Wayne Seele, and Jim Trulock scored the highest grades on January quizzes in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 6 class.

Herman Klingler's
WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Plaza
Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.
AND NOW — NEW NO. 3
JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

Jim Bailey, Diana Brown, Steve Evans, Tod Kubay, Marcia Larson, Nate Norment, Sherry Powell, Al Purdy, Joanne Rose, Jim Smith, and Mike Tomkinson earned the highest grades on Mr. Weber's Botany 1 period 3 class.

Linda Becher scored the highest on a test over inborn behavior in Miss Edith Crowe's Health 2 period 6 class.

Beverly Dougherty scored the highest on a test over inborn behavior in Miss Edith Crowe's Health 2 period 6 class.

Susan Jorgensen scored the highest on a test over inborn behavior given in Miss Edith Crowe's Health 2 period 4 class.

Students in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 classes are studying post-Civil War and Industrial America.

Obtaining grades of 90 or above in Mr. Smith's U.S. History 2 period 6 class over a chapter test are Pat Abbott, Janet Diehl, Sherry Powell, Allen Purdy, Lex Smuts, Rita Waikel, and Nancy Welch.

Receiving A's on a recent dictation composition in Miss Smith's French 2 period 2 class are Lynda Barnhill, Frances Hudlow, Paul Clair, and Marda Munson.

Jeffrey Bloom, Marcia Larson, Dave Reinhold, and Tania Shevchenko all made high scores on a test in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 2 class covering Anglo-Saxon literature.

The following boys in Mr. Holt's period 3 gym class have been chosen student leaders for the spring semester: Dan Berot, Jim Long, Ben Smith, Vic Seewald, Walt Halley, and Ron VanRyn.

Making high grades on a test over verb complements in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 6 class are Dick Astrom, Bonnie Callahan, Kerry Miller, Jim Evans, and Ed Warren.

Ron France and Dick Wiebe made outstanding scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class on a current events quiz.

Nancy Beard, Andy Christon, Mike Esslinger, Sharon Graffis, Bill Kinsey, Harry Luchenko, Barrie McComb, Wanda Ripple, Sue Ann Roemer, and Pam Walker earned the highest scores in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 7 class on a test over Anglo-Saxon literature.

SEAMSTRESSES STITCH, STEAM . . . As Aileen Booty works on her home economics project at the sewing machine, Ramona Cornelius shows that ironing is a part of making the garment; Leanna Morris, left, searches for a pattern; and Sandra Grave, right, cuts her material.—Photo by Jones

Jane Hetfield made the highest grade on a test in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 6 class on inborn behavior.

Jane Augspurger, Larry Davis, Karen McClymonds, Beverly Petznick, and Diane Simmers scored highest on a test in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 3 class.

Jim Mittelstadt has the highest average on recent quizzes over Protozoa and Coelenterata in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class.

Scoring A on a test over the nervous system in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 6 class is Jim Bailey.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Alice Fruechtenicht, Ralph Bolman, and Gary Stair made the highest scores on a test in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 2 period 5 class.

Receiving high scores on a unit exam given Mr. Block's period 1 U.S. History class are David Fairchild and Dan Smith.

Steve Shambaugh and Skevos Pavlou have earned a large number of research points in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 7 class. Barbara Heemsoth has the highest average in that class.

Receiving high scores on a chapter test in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 2 class are Gwen Yordy, Gary Probst, Kaye Gall, Mary Fremion, and Sue Burdick.

In Mr. Feasel's History 2 period 1 class, Robert Quick scored 100 per cent and Ruth Russ, David Jackson, and Billie Burgo scored 97.5 per cent on a recent test.

On a test covering basic sociological ideas, Ted Bocock, George Wilkin, and Johnny Smith earned the highest grades in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 2 period 6 class.

Those who have the highest averages on tests over Protozoa, Porifera, and Coelenterata are Richard Astrom and Mary Sherlock.

Students in Mr. Peirce's Economics 1 period 1 class who earned the highest grades on a test over the basic principles of economics are Linda Chaney, Stan Alfeld, and James Feustel.

Steve Bosselemann, Mark Lowens, and Gary Stair made the highest grades on a test over the nervous system in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 7 class.

Iris Smith, Elaine Cole, and Joe Lepely earned the highest grades in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 2 period 3 class on a test covering basic sociological ideas.

Rick Brown, Mike Dicker, Dave Hoffman, Jim Long, and Tom Meyers made outstanding scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 1 class on a current events quiz.

Steve Graves and Wylann McMillan made outstanding scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class on a current events quiz.

Receiving perfect scores on a factoring test in Mr. Cramer's Algebra 2 period 7 class are Kay Crozier, Jim Fletcher, and Howard Walker.

In Mr. Motz's gym classes the undefeated volleyball teams are Trice and Black's, Lump and McKinnie's, Durnell and Oberkizer's, Woods and Holloway's, Petty and Hoover's, and Littlejohn and Wizenman's teams.

Mike Files, Ron France, and Jeff Freeman earned the highest scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class on a test covering German and Italian unification.

Receiving 100 on a literature test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 3 class are Janice Cerveris, James Crenshaw, Rick Fuller, and Albert Soil.

Ann Goebel and Janice Robson earned the highest scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class of a test covering German and Italian unification.

Maxine Hecht, Paul Pratico, and Denise Jones earned the highest grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class on a test covering German and Italian unification.

Mr. Morey's English 4 classes have just completed their first book reports which they wrote as themes.

Mr. Fetter's Physical Geography 1 classes are now in the process of studying the various instruments by which the physical character of the atmosphere is measured. These include thermographs, barometers, and sling psychrometers.

Bruce Baldwin, Fran Krandsall, Bill Powlen, and Judy Ruhl earned the highest scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 1 class on a test covering German and Italian unification.

Sue Eversman, Paul LaClair, and Jessie Frost made outstanding scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class on a current events quiz.

Jim Kuter, Julia Wadlington, Sue Lohman, and Ann Shilling scored the highest grades on January quizzes in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 5 class.

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Scoring 100 per cent on a test over the Pythagorean Theorem in Mr. Cramer's Geometry 2 period 6 class are Claryn Birk, Steve Bill, Bill Hanke, John Karr, Richard McCormick, Martin Platupe, and Carol Roche.

Those who received perfect scores on a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 2 period 2 class are Barb Busard, Jean Longardner, Jim More, and Diana Shilling.

Several boys are working on various projects in Mr. Quance's Woodworking 4 class. William Bergman, James Bly, and Robert Knox are finishing drawers. Dean Bradenberger is making a record cabinet; Ralph Gallagher, a chair; William Jay, a beverage cabinet; and Robert King, a bed side table.

Scoring high on a recent test in Mrs. Luse's General Math 2 period 6 class are Nancy Dominy, Linda Freiburger, Marcella McMillan, Albert Soil, and Joe Ule.

Sophomore A students in Miss Burr's English 4 classes who have constantly done superior work on themes are Doris Atzeff, LaVonne Custance, Carol Harader, Tod Kubay, Stephen Laymon, Janet Kelly, and John Powers.

Wanda Millrancy, Ray Linsky, and Robert Osborne earned the highest scores in Miss Pohlmeier's period 2 English class on a test covering Part 3 of "Julius Caesar."

Mrs. Fleck's Art 2 classes have recently been working on a puppet project. The assignment is to create puppets with paper mache' and to put on a puppet show at their completion with the script written by the members of the class.

Scoring the highest over a quiz about parasitic and free living worms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class is James Mittelstadt.

Those who received the highest scores on a recent quiz in Miss Smith's French 4 period 6 class are James Harrold, Joan VanOsedale, Wilodean Wilson, and Rosalind Wilson.

Those who obtained good spelling scores in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 2 class are Paul Cuel, Martha Cain, Willard McNutt, Steven Quinn, and Donna Sheets.

Mr. Robert Ruckel, manager of the Lincoln Bank on Rudisill, will talk to Mrs. Ashe's general business class about banking.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are David Aubrey, Barbara Gantz, Katie Mishler, Nancy Shilling and Margree Terry.

The following students earned perfect grades on a recent spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class: Susan Bevington, Kay Heemsoth, Barbara Stevens, and Bob Symonds.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class are Ann Flickinger, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Jim Trulock.

Earning high grades on a chapter test in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 7 class are Debby Decker, Marya Reiber, Ann Petrie, Larry Lee, Mary Keegan, Sue Horth, Barb Gantz, Sally Franklin, David Fairchild, Mary Wilson, Logan Smith, Karen Simmons, and Bonnie Russell.

Carol Brooks, Jo Elyn Good, and Nina Szweczenko received 100's on Mr. Petty's latest test in his Algebra 2 period 1 class.

Obtaining the highest scores in Mrs. Luse's period 4 Trigonometry class on a recent test are Barton Bailey, Karen McFarland, David Meek, Tom Turfinger, and Bob Wasson.

Earning high scores on a test over the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 3 class is Sherry Strawser.

Mrs. Keegan's dance classes are learning routines to "Pennsylvania Polka" and "Dance with the Dolly" for the Spring Show.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 classes had their first cooking experience recently. They prepared a snack consisting of broiled tuna buns and hot chocolate. The girls are now demonstrating some techniques of table setting and general good manners.

Mr. Fetter's Physical Geography 2 classes are now studying land forms and in particular, draft plains in relation to Indiana.

Students in Mrs. Ellett's Home Economics 6 period 1 class recently gave a live infant a bath.

Mike Bauer, Jill Bieber, and Joyce Racquet earned 95 per cent in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 2 class on a test covering axioms and postulates.

Claudia Adams and Steve Campbell earned the highest scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 1 class on a test covering the literature book unit, "Land of the Free."

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class are Ken Davis, Kathy DeVore, Diane Hall, Karen McFarland, Karen Ponader, and Bob Wasson.

Receiving a perfect score on a test over gerunds, given in Mr. Coats' period 3 English 8 class is Barbara Uhl. Other high scorers are Karen Fine, Kaylene Gebert, Kathleen Knettle, David Meek, Barbara Spier, and Gary Tinkle.

Mr. Morey's English 5 classes are now studying Geoffrey Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales."

Receiving a perfect score on a test over gerunds, given in Mr. Coats' period 3 English 8 class is Richard Parke. Other high scorers are Fred Schoen, Shirley Davis, and Dayne Harader.

BOTANY BOOKWORMS . . . Studying the varied facets of botany, Gwen Yordy examines an onion skin under a microscope; Tom Watson dissects a rose; and Bonnie Strehlow studies her book. This course includes a study of every aspect of plants.—Photo by Jones

Dick Wiebe and Charles Brine-man scored 100 per cent in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 1 class on a test covering areas.

In Mr. Gernand's second period Algebra 1 class John Austin, Jesse Brown, Donald Grider, Russell Grose, Brain Haycock, Diana Nordblom, Ellen Sitianus, and Maurice Snyder received grades above 90 on a test over solving equations. Carol Rice and Benita Houser are the only ones to receive a perfect score.

Scoring 100 per cent in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 2 class are Sue Borgmann, Charlie Golden, Barb Nelson, and Ned Stewart.

Mrs. Keegan's girls gym classes are having scooter races and playing tug-o-war.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are David Aubrey, Barbara Gantz, Katie Mishler, Nancy Shilling and Margree Terry.

The following students earned perfect grades on a recent spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class: Susan Bevington, Kay Heemsoth, Barbara Stevens, and Bob Symonds.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class are Ann Flickinger, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Jim Trulock.

Earning high grades on a chapter test in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 7 class are Debby Decker, Marya Reiber, Ann Petrie, Larry Lee, Mary Keegan, Sue Horth, Barb Gantz, Sally Franklin, David Fairchild, Mary Wilson, Logan Smith, Karen Simmons, and Bonnie Russell.

Carol Brooks, Jo Elyn Good, and Nina Szweczenko received 100's on Mr. Petty's latest test in his Algebra 2 period 1 class.

Obtaining the highest scores in Mrs. Luse's period 4 Trigonometry class on a recent test are Barton Bailey, Karen McFarland, David Meek, Tom Turfinger, and Bob Wasson.

Earning high scores on a test over the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 3 class is Sherry Strawser.

Mrs. Keegan's dance classes are learning routines to "Pennsylvania Polka" and "Dance with the Dolly" for the Spring Show.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 classes had their first cooking experience recently. They prepared a snack consisting of broiled tuna buns and hot chocolate. The girls are now demonstrating some techniques of table setting and general good manners.

COLONIAL
Restaurant
E-2000

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Haag Drug, Inc.
5016 Old Decatur Rd.
Reg. 98c
45 R.P.M. Records 84¢
Complete Selection of Long-Play Albums

Martha Moore obtained an A+ on a test over verb tenses in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 7 class.

Scoring 100 per cent on a quiz in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 3 class are Ed Gaterman, Mike Havlin, Howard Lowden, Ann Mol, Bob Quick, and Jan Robson.

On a fifty word vocabulary review in Mr. Sterner's Latin 4 period 6 class, the following students scored above 95: Stan Black, Paul Boergert, Ken Clauser, Barb Rea, Bev Flanigan, Doug Hansen, Martha Hoard, Steve Laymon, Barb Nelson, and Phyllis Pierson.

Receiving high scores on demonstration speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are Diane Gebhard, Ann Shilling, Margee Terry, and Lydia Sutto.

Sally Henderson scored 98 on a quiz over chapters one to three in the workbook, "About You," in Mr. Reichert's second period civics class.

Peggy Schmidt earned the highest grade on a test covering the Industrial Revolution in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 7 class.

Mary Fremion, Sue Lohman, Dave Platz, and Julie Wadlington scored 100 or above on a recent flower structure quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 5 class.

Receiving high scores on demonstration speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class are Diane Brown, Pam Buzzard, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Henry Persons.

Receiving perfect grades on a test covering advanced factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 1 class are Bob Cushman, Sandra Figg, Dennis Laue, Linda Martin, Steve Perriguy, Richard Robbins, and Nina Szweczenko.

The following boys in Mr. Holt's period 4 gym class have been chosen student leaders for the spring semester: Dave Tipton, Jim Ostermeyer, Rick Lump, Frank Butcher, Elbert McKinney, and Bill Speck.

Joanne Rose, Mike Tompkinson, Rita Waikel, scored 90 or above on a cell quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 1 period 3 class.

Scoring high on a test over acids and bases in Mr. White's General Science 2 period 2 class are Keith Lantz, John Esslinger, and Ed Warren.

Sue Jorgensen earned the highest score on a test on the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's period 4 Health 2 class.

Students having the highest test averages in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 1 period 6 class are Peter Tsuleff, Nancy Beard, and Bob Bartel.

Excellent book reports were made by Pat Cooney and Sue Klingerman in Miss Burr's English 4 period 2 class.

Mrs. Ellett's home management classes have been planning the ideal bedroom.

Highest grades on a test covering complicated factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 7 have been earned by Tim Easton, Walt Hess, Susie Knox, and Louisa Porter.

Having finished their work dealing with the short story, the students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 3 class were given a test, and the following pupils scored high grades: Loretta Grider, Jim Hawkins, Rosy Karst, Steve Myers, and Pat Oglesbee.

Tony Webb, Cynthia Koch, Steven Miller, and Carol Ormiston received A's on theme content in Mr. Knigge's English 4 period 7 class.

Mrs. Armstrong's modern dance classes have learned the Irish lilt and are working on the finale to the Spring Show, "Back Home Again in Indiana."

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 6 class are Ken Leakey, Victor Lewandoski and Connie Vallence.

Suzanne Freemman received the highest score on a test on the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 7 class.

Elaine Chipko, Suzan Tancey, and Susie Weinraub earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 5 class on a test covering the literature book unit, "Colonial Time."

The students in Mr. Drummond's period 2 music appreciation class are studying symphonies by Mendelssohn and Haydn.

Receiving high grades on a chapter test in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 2 class are Sally Bash, Sharon Carrel, Marilyn Cole, Janet Davies, Lissa Hoffman, Carol Harader, Martha Lanning, Jenny Manth, Ann Mol, Wanda Ripple, and Elaine Snow.

Receiving high scores on demonstration speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are Diane Gebhard, Ann Shilling, Margee Terry, and Lydia Sutto.

Sally Henderson scored 98 on a quiz over chapters one to three in the workbook, "About You," in Mr. Reichert's second period civics class.

Peggy Schmidt earned the highest grade on a test covering the Industrial Revolution in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 7 class.

Mary Fremion, Sue Lohman, Dave Platz, and Julie Wadlington scored 100 or above on a recent flower structure quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 5 class.

Receiving high scores on demonstration speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class are Diane Brown, Pam Buzzard, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Henry Persons.

Receiving perfect grades on a test covering advanced factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 1 class are Bob Cushman, Sandra Figg, Dennis Laue, Linda Martin, Steve Perriguy, Richard Robbins, and Nina Szweczenko.

The following boys in Mr. Holt's period 4 gym class have been chosen student leaders for the spring semester: Dave Tipton, Jim Ostermeyer, Rick Lump, Frank Butcher, Elbert McKinney, and Bill Speck.

Joanne Rose, Mike Tompkinson, Rita Waikel, scored 90 or above on a cell quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 1 period 3 class.

Scoring high on a test over acids and bases in Mr. White's General Science 2 period 2 class are Keith Lantz, John Esslinger, and Ed Warren.

Sue Jorgensen earned the highest score on a test on the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's period 4 Health 2 class.

Students having the highest test averages in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 1 period 6 class are Peter Tsuleff, Nancy Beard, and Bob Bartel.

Excellent book reports were made by Pat Cooney and Sue Klingerman in Miss Burr's English 4 period 2 class.

Mrs. Ellett's home management classes have been planning the ideal bedroom.

Highest grades on a test covering complicated factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 7 have been earned by Tim Easton, Walt Hess, Susie Knox, and Louisa Porter.

Having finished their work dealing with the short story, the students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 3 class were given a test, and the following pupils scored high grades: Loretta Grider, Jim Hawkins, Rosy Karst, Steve Myers, and Pat Oglesbee.

Tony Webb, Cynthia Koch, Steven Miller, and Carol Ormiston received A's on theme content in Mr. Knigge's English 4 period 7 class.

Mrs. Armstrong's modern dance classes have learned the Irish lilt and are working on the finale to the Spring Show, "Back Home Again in Indiana."

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Storey's period 6 class are Ken Leakey, Victor Lewandoski and Connie Vallence.

Suzanne Freemman received the highest score on a test on the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 7 class.

&lt;

IN LIKE A LION!

OUT LIKE A LAMB!

| SUNDAY                                                                                                                                           | MONDAY                                                                                                                                                                                  | TUESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                           | WEDNESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | THURSDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                              | FRIDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | SATURDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                                                                  | Art's Standard Service4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025Atlas Tires—Batteries—AccessoriesPick-Up and DeliveryS&H Stamps                                                    | Experience is what keeps a man who makes the same mistake twice from admitting it the third time around.—Terry McCormick                                                                                      | OXFORD COFFEE SHOPMeet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town1502 OXFORD                                                                                                                                      | 1A committee of one gets things done.—Joe RyanMasque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36Lettermen, Room 112                                            | 2South Side Barber ShopFIVE BARBERSAppointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments.Across from Main Entrance of South Side.Harold Henry, Proprietor3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502GAA Tumbling | 3Dill &amp; Dill Insurance1127 S. Clinton A-1119All Forms of Insurance Over 26 Years of ServiceLawrence G. DillClifford D. DillRegional TournamentDistrict Speech Meet |
| 4And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.—I Peter 4:8                  | 5Mallough Roth AssociatesRealtors232 W. Wayne A-6396GAA TumblingBoys' Rifle Club, RangeWranglers, Room 112Hi-Y                                   | 6Schmidt's PharmacyEd Schmidt, R.Ph.Your Neighborhood Health Center4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626Camera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, Range | 7ASH WEDNESDAYAstro-Physics Section, Room 96Vesta Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61                                                                                         | 8Greiner'sH-2124 2802 S. CalhounLawn Boy MowersToro MowersEvinrude OutboardsGrumman BoatsJr. Academy of Science, Room 76Safety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Room 112  | 9Unhappiness is in not knowing what we want and killing ourselves to get it.—Don HeroldGAA Tumbling                                                                                                                                                          | 10Munro's Standard ServiceFree Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing.Southgate Plaza H-5300Semi-State Tournament                                       |
| 11Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels un-awares.—Hebrews 13:2 | 12I believe in the discipline of silence, and could talk for hours about it.GAA RehearsalPhilo BanquetHi-YBoys' Rifle Club, Range                               | 13Oxford PharmacyHanna at OxfordPhone H-1373High School SuppliesGene Yoder, Prop.Meterites, Room 112Girls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96           | 14"Honesty" is the best policy!The next best is—A Policy Written ByYoung-Punsky Co.415 Central Bldg.Insurance BrokersArt Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120 | 15Klaehn Funeral Home420 W. Wayne A-0228Ambulance ServiceMasque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36GAA Rehearsal                        | 16RENT A TYPEWRITER fromNEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co.723 South Clinton A-7395Girls' Physical Education Department Spring Show                                                                                                                          | 17State Tournament                                                                                           |
| 18                                                         | 19BABER'S JEWELRY801 S. CalhounA-7306 — E-4197GAA SoftballWranglers, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, Range                                         | 20Broadview Florist &amp; Greenhouses5801 Winchester Road S-3146Camera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, RangeSocietas Latina, Room 112             | 21First Day of SpringVesta Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61Astro-Physics Section, Room 96                                                                                         | 22Top Hat Dry CleanersThree Locations1309 Oxford1604 Sherman4215 Bluffton Rd.Safety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Room 112                                                         | 23Middle Age is that perplexing time of life when we hear two voices calling us, one saying, "Why not?" and the other, "Why bother?"—Sydney J. HarrisGAA SoftballLettermen's Banquet                                                                     | 24Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc.When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.E-3011 1015 Taylor                                                         |
| 25The Golden Rule is of no use whatever unless you realize it's your move.—Quoted by Leo Aikman                                          | 26Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home50 Years of Continuous Service2423-27 Fairfield Avenue H-2334Philo, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Softball | 27Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six YearsKeefer Printing Co.A-1484Meterites, Room 112Girls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96    | 28City Carriage Works709 E. Washington A-0155Art Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120                                                                                         | 29A closed mind is an enigma indeed. Nothing ever goes in—but odd things are forever coming out.—Laurence DunphyMasque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36 | 30Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co.1207 N. Harrison A-7175"Now It's Pepsi—For Those Who Think Young!"GAA SoftballWorkshop, Room 162                                                                                                                 | 31Keep on going and the chances are you will stumble on something, perhaps when you are least expecting it. I have never heard of anyone stumbling on something sitting down.—Charles F. Kettering    |

LIONS SHOULDN'T STOP YOU FROM PATRONIZING THESE ADVERTISERS

Seventy-Five Pupils Selected To Honor Society

'Neptune' To Reign At Banquet For Latin Students Tomorrow

RULERS OF THE SEA ... Stirring up all the fish and food for the Latin banquet are the members of "Neptune's Den." Standing are David Allen, Bill Mueller, and Harold Disler, left to right. Kneeling are, left to right, Stanley Moreo, Paul Mittelstadt, and Janet Kelley.—Photo by Jones

Societas Latina, Latin Club, will present its annual banquet, "Neptune's Den," tomorrow in the cafeteria from 6:30 until 8 p.m. Tickets costing $1.75 may be purchased from any Latin Club member.

Patsie Dorton, in charge of decorations, is planning with her committee to decorate the cafeteria as an ocean floor. This effect will be carried out through the use of sea shells, nets, Roman columns, murals depicting Roman events, and mobiles of fish hanging from the ceiling.

To start the program, certain Latin customs will be portrayed. Then Lyall Morrill will give an offering to the gods to keep all evil from the banquet. Bill Mueller will perform the Festival of Liberalia, which symbolizes a boy becoming a man and a Roman citizen.

AFTER THE FESTIVAL OF LIBERALIA, Paul Mittelstadt, as King of the Drinking or Rex Bibendi, will decide how much water to put in the "wine." A dinner of deviled eggs, cottage cheese salad, fish, peas, sheet cake, nuts, apples, and grape juice will then be served.

The entertainment will consist of a dance entitled "The Dance of the Water Carrier" done by a group of girls. Also an acrobatic demonstration will be given by a group of boys.

Ellen Williams, Linda Moody, Anita Ferber, and Marcia Disler, accompanied by Karen Ponder as the "Five Maidens" will sing "The Song of the Iopas." Larry Botz and Brad Zieg as the Two Magicians or the Duo Magi will also perform.

Mr. Ora Davis will be the feature speaker. His speech is entitled "The Benefit to Be Gained From the Study of Latin."

INVITED GUESTS ARE Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker.

Patsie Dorton is chairman of the decorations committee; Maxine Hecht, chairman of food committee; Fran Krandell, publicity committee; Kathy Walsh, invitations; and La Vonne

CAP To Host Ball: Proceeds To Assist In Cadets' Training

The general public is invited to the second annual Civil Air Patrol Ball, which will be in the Indiana National Guard Armory Saturday, March 24. Tickets may be purchased from any CAP member for $3 a couple. Proceeds from the dance will be used for the advancement of the cadet program of the Civil Air Patrol's Group Three, which covers seven units in Indiana, consisting of Warsaw, Fort Wayne, Marion, Kendallville, Angola, Plain Township, and Auburn.

Other events on the Civil Air Patrol's schedule include drill-team competition, and an operational test on emergency ground rescue as well as the weekly Saturday drills at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The CAP members will spend two weeks in an encampment at Bunker Hill Base in June or July.

Drill-team wing competition will be drawn from Fort Wayne, Marion, and Plain Township squadrons. Eighteen cadet drill teams from throughout the state will compete. On May 12 the regional competition will be in Channahon, Ill.

At the drills 18 members of male and female drill teams perform orientation flights. The drills include competition with other teams using formal rules and exhibitions among other members. Stan Black, Cadet third class, stated that new recruits are needed for the squadron. The CAP headquarters are in Texas.

Members of CAP from South Side are First Lieutenant Dave Brumm, Cadet Commander; Second Lieutenant Connie Reed, Staff Sergeant Larry Davis, Staff Sergeant June Fuller, Cadet First Class Steve Laymon, Cadet Second Class Rick Fuller, Cadet Third Class Paul Green, Cadet Third Class Stan Black, Cadet Third Class Dave Beltz, and Cadet Third Class Pat Johnson.

Merit Program To Offer Exams To 178 Juniors

One hundred seventy-eight juniors will be taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, to be administered by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor, Saturday at 8 a.m. in the cafeteria.

The NMSQT is a three-hour test of educational development prepared especially for the National Merit Scholarship Corporation by Science Research Associates. The emphasis of the test is on broad intellectual skills—on understanding of and ability to use what has been learned rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

There are five individual tests that cover English usage, mathematics usage, social studies reading, natural science reading, and word usage.

APPROXIMATELY ten thousand top-scoring students across the nation are named semi-finalists. The semi-finalists will be listed in a booklet to be distributed to the colleges, universities, and other scholarship agencies, thereby bringing all semi-finalists under consideration for various scholarship awards.

The names, addresses, and scores of all semi-finalists are sent to the colleges they name as their first and second choices when they take the NMSQT. The colleges, however, are not informed of the order of preference indicated by the semi-finalist.

A second group, totaling approximately twenty-five thousand students, will receive Letters of Commendation and become eligible for special scholarships.

OTHER HIGH-SCORING students who meet certain qualifications may be eligible for special independent scholarship programs. These students will be notified directly of such offers of assistance.

Students who plan to complete their high school work in 1963 and enter college the same year are eligible for the scholarships to be awarded in the eighth annual program.

Generally, these students are second-semester juniors or first-semester seniors, but all students who are eligible may take the 1962 NMSQT, regardless of their high school classification.

IN ADDITION to scholarship consideration, each student who takes the NMSQT receives, through his school, a complete report of his test results.

As a participant, he may obtain a better idea of his standings among many thousands of students at his grade level across the country. He may also learn more about his strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the examination and about his chances for success in college.

Meterites Write Stories To Enter Annual Contest

On the agenda for Tuesday's Meterite meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room is the annual short story contest. Any girl of the club may enter, and ribbons will be awarded to the girls with the best stories.

"All stories must be original, although the girls may use previous themes," stated Mrs. Florence Emshwiller, sponsor of the club.

Girls who have signed to present a story are Mary Benadway, Nancy Ormsby, Judy Rogers, Barb Nelson, Judy Ruhl, Kathy Klas, Sue Jorgenson, Debby Decker, and Sally Henderson.

Edward R. Murrow To Present Speech At Press Conclave

Mr. Edward R. Murrow, Director of Public Information for the United States, will be the main speaker at the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention luncheon on March 17 in New York City.

Attending from South Side are Jenny Manth, Sue Kelley, and Sandy Thorn, staff members, and Mr. James Rohrabach, adviser.

These Archers will travel to New York City Tuesday by train. They will be accompanied on the trip by Mr. Dean Speicher, publications adviser at Highland High School, Highland, Ind., and three of his students.

After arriving in New York, the girls will attend classes concerning the various aspects of journalism on Thursday and Friday. Instructions and pointers will be given to the advisers while the students are attending these classes.

The seminar will end with a luncheon Saturday noon which will provide opportunity for looking back on the work accomplished during the week. The main speaker at the luncheon will be Mr. Edward R. Murrow. Sue Smith, managing editor, will act as Times general manager for Jenny Manth during her absence.

Boy Riflers To Meet

A regular meeting of the Boys' Rifle Club will be Monday at 3:30 p.m. on the rifle range. There was no meeting last Monday because of the faculty meeting.

Lissa Hoffman, Bill Kleifgen Assume Lead Positions In Senior Class Play

Bill Kleifgen

Lissa Hoffman

Steve Pratt

Ten seniors have been cast to fill the major positions for "A Murder Has Been Arranged," this year's senior class play written by Emyln Williams, which will be presented on April 13 and 14 in the school gymnasium.

Those chosen for parts by Mr. Robert Storey, speech instructor and play director, are Caron Fine, Susan North, Lissa Hoffman, Martha Lanning, Charlotte Powell, Logan Smith, Bill Kleifgen, Henry Persons, Steve Pratt, and Jeff Roth.

Playing the leading roles are Lissa Hoffman, as Beatrice Jasper; Bill Kleifgen, assuming the role of Jimmy North; and Steve Pratt, who will portray Maurice Mullins.

Other supporting members of the cast and the parts they will play are Caron Fine, Mrs. Wagge; Susan North, Miss Groze; Martha Lanning;

Mrs. Arthur; Charlotte Powell, the role of a ghost-like, dumb woman; Henry Persons, Cavendish; and Jeff Roth, Sir Charles Jasper.

Logan Smith will serve as the assistant director for the production.

The play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," is a ghost story, written in three acts, whose setting is shifted to fit the surroundings in which it is presented.

Female characters in the cast are Miss Groze, a pretty, well-dressed, but hard-looking lady about thirty years old; Mrs. Wagge, a fat, middle-aged cook; Beatrice Jasper, a pretty young girl; Mrs. Arthur, a domineering middle-aged woman; and a ghost-like and slim woman.

Jimmy North and Maurice Mullins, two young men, are the leading male characters. Cavendish is a pleasant-natured band conductor; and Sir Charles Jasper is a mild, professional gentleman, whose hair is slightly greyed.

The plot involves a dinner-party which was to be conducted at the exact spot, where 55 years before a murder had been committed. After the clock strikes 11 p.m., Sir Charles Jasper was to receive an inheritance of two million pounds. However, Maurice Mullins, Sir Charles' closest relative, was to inherit the money if Sir Charles died before the 11 p.m. hour.

Those who wish to work backstage in such capacities as make-up, props, lighting, costuming, or prompting should sign up for these positions this week in Room 190.

Reading rehearsals for the play began Monday with the actual blocking commencing yesterday.

HONOR MEMBERS ... Tagged for membership in National Honor Society are front row, left to right, Diane Fredrick, Dick Parke, Sharon Carrel, Bonnie Russell, Cheryl Summers, Lydia Sutto, Sue Kelley, Lissa Hoffman, Louise Jackson, and Jim Feustel. In the back row are, left to right, Gary Tinkel, Bill Borgmann, Steve McDonald, Barton Bailey, Bill Wilder, Bill Kleifgen, Allen Sheldon, Dave Meek, Fred Schoen, and Dave Flanigan.—Photo by Watters Studio

Elmhurst Crushes Squad By 200-165 On Quiz Program

South Side Archers 200 to 165 Sunday on I&M's "Hi-Quiz" program on WANE-TV.

Participating for Elmhurst were Bill Snead, Sue Kimmel, Barb Exner, and Phil Johnston. The Archer participants were Judy Ruhl, Lex Smuts, Christine Fruechtenicht, and Lyall Morrill.

The first two questions of the first quarter were missed by South Side and picked up by Phil Johnston, who scored 60 points. Then Judy Ruhl scored ten points; Phil Johnston answered the next question, scoring 25 points. Then Lyall Morrill answered the challenge question on government organizations, and South Side received 20 points. The first quarter ended 85 to 30, Elmhurst leading.

CHRIS FRUECHTENICHT answered the first question of the second quarter, and South Side received 20 more points. The next two questions were missed by both teams. The fourth question of the second quarter was answered by Archer Lex Smuts; South received 30 points.

On the first two questions of the third quarter South Side scored 40 points. The questions were on humidity instruments and iron and steel.

The first question of the last quarter, concerning the moon's diameter, was correctly answered by Phil Johnston who scored 20 points. The next question was missed by both teams. Then Sue Kimmel of Elmhurst scored 35 points. Judy Ruhl answered the next question, and South Side received 25 points. The premium question was on the names of different poems.

PHIL JOHNSTON scored another 20 points for Elmhurst, and Lex Smuts answered a question on the Warsaw Compact which gave South 20 points. The fourth quarter ended and South Side was defeated 200 to 165.

On April 8 South Side will again compete in a consolation game. The winner of the consolation game will meet the winner of the upper bracket on April 13. The winner of this game will be the tournament champion.

Teenage Philharmonic Concert To Show Growth Of Overture

"Open Sesame," the Magic of the Overture will be the theme for the third Philharmonic Teenage Concert to be performed Sunday, March 11 at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Concordia Senior College.

Teenagers from all the junior and senior high schools in the city and county will have the opportunity to hear the world's best loved masterworks, which will demonstrate the development of the overture.

THE PROGRAM OF "Open Sesame" the Magic of the Overture has been specifically designed by the Philharmonic director, Mr. Igor Buketoff.

Hi-Y Club Initiates 14 New Members

Fourteen new members were formally inducted into the Hi-Y Club at Plymouth Congregational Church Monday. Those inducted into the club are Steve Bill, Andy Christon, Richard Clark, Kenneth Fehman, Wayne Garison, Jim Lantz, Jim Plummer, Tucker Schiebel, Jim Smith, Mike Stalter, Walter Staelpe, Jr., Bernie VanOsdaile, Dave Yaney, and Mike Zehender.

Wayne Garrison acted as the active candidate for the group of new members as he scored the highest grade on the test covering many aspects of Hi-Y. New members applying for membership must complete a service project for the YMCA, perform some type of entertainment in a group during a regular Hi-Y meeting, and take a written test over material concerning Hi-Y and its functions.

The officers performed the induction ceremony with the help of a few active members. The Reverend Larry Loving, associate minister of Plymouth Congregational Church, gave the message. Reverend Loving's message followed the vows and pledges the new members took. His message was based on the purpose of Hi-Y and the vows the new members had just taken. Reverend Loving concluded his message by saying, "Put your life where your mouth was tonight."

Following the induction, punch and cake were served by the officers' parents in honor of the new members and their parents.

Hi-Y is planning the Best-Girl Banquet and a car wash. Next week's meeting will be in the Youth Assembly Room of the YMCA starting at 7:30 p.m. The entertainment will feature the Reverend Larry Loving speaking on "Death."

Scholarship Grants Chemistry Awards

Information concerning the scholarship program offered by the Dow Chemical Company has been received in the Senior Guidance Office. Awarded in the field of chemistry, the scholarship assures the recipient $2,000 over a four-year span.

The Dow Scholarship in Chemistry is offered by the Dow Chemical Company to reward one student each year for outstanding achievement and promise of continuing excellence. High school seniors residing anywhere in the United States are eligible to apply. Applications will require the submission of a completed application form and a confidential evaluation of the high school record by the principal.

Other needed information is participation in major programs such as the Science Talent Search or the Indiana University High School Science Student Institute with high-ranking recognized tests.

The remaining requirement is that the applicant must have indicated Indiana University as his choice of schools.

Interested seniors should contact Mr. Weicker, senior guidance counselor, in the Senior Guidance Office immediately since the applications must be in the hands of the proper officials by next Thursday.

Seniors Receive Honorary Tags For Good Work

Outstanding Students To Represent School In Nation-Wide Club

Seventy-five seniors were pinned with the traditional green and white ribbons Tuesday signifying their selection as members of the Promethean Chapter of the National Honor Society. Chosen for their outstanding character, scholarship, leadership, and service to the school, the seniors were tagged between first and fifth periods.

Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal; Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director; Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor; and Miss Marsha Klaehn, head secretary and a 1960 member of National Honor Society, accompanied the group. As each member was tagged, he joined with the group to continue through the school pinning new members.

MR. SNIDER STATED that at the time National Honor Society was begun recognition was only given to students outstanding in athletics and scholarship. Many people felt that leadership, service, and personal character should also be recognized; and therefore, in 1928 National Honor Society was established at South Side.

Only 15 per cent of the senior class may receive this honor, and all must academically rank in the upper one-third of the graduating class.

Early last semester a list of eligible seniors was distributed to all teachers. After making their recommendations, teachers sent these lists to a special committee of teachers who then selected those students to be tagged.

Those seniors selected and a few of their outstanding activities are Brenda Arnold, Philo; Barton Bailey, DeMolay and treasurer of Hi-Y; Sally Bash, Totem and Assemblies Workshop; Carol Jo Becher, Vesta, orchestra, and band; Jo Ellen Bobay, Totem office manager and modern dance; Marilyn Black, Red Cross Club; Bill Borgmann, Hi-Y, Totem, and Assemblies Workshop;

DEBBY BROOKE, class officer and Totem; Sharon Carrel, cheerleading, class officer, and Totem; Mike Carter, boys' quartet and DeMolay; Judy Chapman, Totem, head secretary for Concert Choir, and Assemblies Workshop; Cindy Christman, Library Club and Times; Marilyn Cole, Honorary Arts and Totem; Dennis Crill, accom-

(Continued on Page 3)

Mr. R. Nelson Snider To Talk About Humor At Philo Banquet

SMILING IRISH EYES ... While Tonya Hines, invitation chairman, at the blackboard, composes an invitation to Philo's "A Banquet, Begorra!" Monday at 5:30 p.m., left to right, Peggy Brase and Barrie Spears, decorations co-chairmen, work on decorations, directed by Kaylene Gebert, program chairman.—Photo by Jones

Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will deliver "The Anatomy of Humor" at the annual Philo banquet, "A Banquet, Begorra!" on Monday at 5:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Tickets cost $2, and reservations may be made today for the last time in Room 154 after school.

Lissa Hoffman, president, will act as toast-mistress for the dinner; and Julie Breidenstein, secretary, will give the invocation. The banquet traditionally has an Irish theme because the dinner comes during the week of St. Patrick's Day.

The decorations will include Irish little people on the tables, and on the lattice behind the head table, a rainbow with a pot of gold and the name of the banquet. Barrie Spear and Peggy Brase are co-chairmen of the decorations committee. Members of that committee are Karen Miller, Karen Walker, Jackie Kuhns, Gaynell Musser, and Nancy Nordeen.

THE PROGRAMS for the dinner were designed by Kaylene Gebert, chairman of the program committee. They will include the menu, the program for the evening, a list of the invited guests, and also the winning limericks of the contest at the February 20 meeting of Philo.

Members of the program committee are Ann Golden, Bonnie Smith, Suzanne Link, Pat Bailey, Sharon Stettner, Karen Miller, Sally Malough, and Karen Finrock.

Tonya Hines is in charge of writing and sending invitations to the members of the English Department, the deans, and the office staff. Members of her committee are Janet Dinius, Janet Calvert, Ann Raatz, Keyes Schmidt, Ruth Sprunger, Betsy Stephenson, and Linda Neff.

The officers of the club are working with the various committee heads. Ann Golden, treasurer, and Erin Rose, vice-president, are over-seeing the work of the decorations and program committees. Julie Breidenstein, secretary, has arranged the menu.

ANN GALLMEYER is in charge of reservations; and Lissa Hoffman, president, is directing the work on the dinner. Mrs. Evelyn Spray, English instructor, is the sponsor of the club.

Martha Dixon, program chairman, is planning the entertainment. All the guests at the affair will sing the traditional Philo songs; and a group called "Erin's Colleens" will also perform.

Martha and Tonya Hines will dance the Irish jig. Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, will accompany the group on the piano.

"All the officers and committees have been working hard to make the banquet a success. The program will be very interesting and entertaining; so I am looking forward to the dinner," stated Lissa.

Pupils Possess Qualities Of Service, Character, Leadership, Scholarship

SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP . . . Chosen as members of National Honor Society on Tuesday are, left to right, front row, Babette Jones, Brenda Arnold, Pat Lee, Jane Ladig, Roberta Twitchell, Sue Horth, Sandy Miller, Sally Bash, Marilyn Cole. Second row, Deborah Brooke, Jenny Manth, Anita Ferber, Kaylene Gebert, Frank Lewis, Diane Hall, Sarah Finch, Mark Hagerman. Third row, Caron Fine, Ann Golden, Dick Waterfield, Terry Newendorp, Lyall Morrill, Ken Leakey, Howard Miller, Evert Mol, and Mike Carter.—Photo by Watters Studio

CHARACTER, SERVICE . . . Among the 75 new members of National Honor Society at South are, left to right, front row, Linda Novell, Elizabeth Hostetler, Cindy Christman, Judi Hollister, Dayna Harader, Sandra Yaggy, Jo Ellen Bobay. Second row, Carol Jo Becher, Barb Uhl, Sally Franklin, Mary Keegan, Martha Lanning, Tamara Vyhovsky, Barb Spiers, Marilyn Block, Karen Simmons. Third row, Bill Mueller, Ann Petrie, Dian Leath, Jeff Roth, Tom McMahon, Larry Lee, Ellen Lowe, Sue McGinnis, and Dennis Crill. Students absent when the picture was taken are Sandra Thorn, Robert Ramage, Ellen Williams, and Judith Chapman.—Photo by Watters Studio

(Continued from Page 1)

panist for Concert Choir; Jim Feustel, Hi-Y and Junior Academy of Science;

Anita Ferber, Latin Club, band, and orchestra; Sarah Finch, Times, Totem, and Assemblies Workshop; Caron Fine, Philo; Dave Flanagan, assistant faculty editor for Totem and Hi-Y; Sally Franklin, Totem music editor and Wranglers; Diane Fredrick, Totem associate editor, class officer, and Wranglers' past president; Kaylene Gebert, Times, Philo, and Pegasus; Ann Golden, Philo, Times, and Totem; Mark Hagerman, Lettermen, Hi-Y, and class officer;

Diane Hall, Wranglers and Assemblies Workshop; Dayna Harader, Junior Academy of Science and Library Club; Lissa Hoffman, Philo president, Times and Totem; Judi Hollister, Junior Red Cross and Assemblies Workshop; Sue Horth, Assemblies Workshop, Times, and Totem; Elizabeth Hostetler, head secretary for Concert Choir; Louise Jackson, Art Club and Junior Academy of Science;

BABETTE JONES, Totem editor and cheerleading; Mary Keegan, Totem and Philo; Sue Kelley, Times and member of the Publications Board; Bill Kleifgen, Hi-Y, Times, and Totem; Jane Ladig, Assemblies Workshop and Totem; Martha Lanning, Masque and Gavel president, Assemblies Workshop, and Wranglers; Ken Leakey, Lettermen, basketball, and DeMolay;

Artists To Initiate

New members will be initiated on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in Room 26 at the next meeting of the Art Club. Also on the schedule is a puppet show which will be given by the Art II students. Participating in the show will be Cynthia Jackson, Rise Procie, Louise Jackson, Nancy O'Connell, Leslie Frobe, and Sherry Strawser.

Fine Arts Foundation To Begin Operating Campaign For Funds

The Fort Wayne Fine Arts Foundation is conducting its fourth Operating Fund Campaign to get financial support for its member organizations from February 12 to March 12. The neighbor to neighbor solicitation is March 4 through Sunday and the goal is $105,000.

Anyone interested in taking part in this solicitation has been asked to call Mrs. Bruch Rohn, chairman of the south side of the city, at E-9856, or Mrs. C. H. Rinne at K-1471. Each person participating in the drive will have a street to solicit. Contributions may also be mailed to the Fine Arts office at 232½ West Wayne Street.

The Fort Wayne Fine Arts Foundation would not be possible without the annual Operating Fund Drive. The member organizations that will benefit from the drive include the Fort Wayne Art School, the Fort Wayne Art Museum, the Fort Wayne Ballet, the Civic Theatre, the Festival Music Theatre, the Historical Society, the Fine Arts Festival, the Arts Foundation, and the Philharmonic Orchestra.

The Fort Wayne Fine Arts Foundation was founded in 1955 to develop, strengthen, and enrich the cultural life of the Fort Wayne area. In November, 1956, the Foundation began full time operation with a staff of an executive director and a secretary.

THE FOUNDATION functions in three principal areas which include financial, promotion-administration, and building development. One of the major purposes of the Foundation is the accumulation of endowment funds for the Fine Arts.

Programs have been planned to win public recognition and support for the Fine Arts program in Fort Wayne. Festival programs, in addition to the spring-time Fine Arts Festival, were produced in 1959 and 1960 which featured concerts, ballet, art, architectural exhibits, theatre-in-the-round, historical exhibits, puppetry, art classes for the public, and jazz concerts.

An important factor in the formation of the Fine Arts Foundation was the idea of a Fine Arts Center which would serve as a community house for the arts.

One of the member organizations, the Fort Wayne Art School provides art programs for individuals of all ages, basic art education for degree students, and vocational training and recreation at night classes and Saturday school.

The Art Museum has a treasure of art shown at free exhibits, art gallery talks, special museum attractions for children, Museum Showcase programs, and Art Lending Service for members.

THE FORT WAYNE BALLET includes a School of Ballet for children, a resident ballet company, and a full season of ballet productions.

The Civic Theatre includes the Civic Playhouse for adults and The Children's theatre for youngsters and teen-agers. There is a creative dramatics program for youngsters, and a seminar workshop for adults.

KNIPSTEIN Pharmacy

1527 Oxford St.

Davis Beauty Salon

Tom and Marilyn Davis
Carmen Silvius

Styling • Permanent
Waving

4039 S. Wayne K-9824

Pontiac Florist

914 E. Pontiac
H-2223

Rogers Friendly Markets

We Give
S & H
Green Stamps

Every bite
a delight

"Fresh up"

Gym, Dance Classes To Give American Panorama At Show

PRIVATE EYES??? . . . In costume for one of their routines, the Modern Dancers are left to right, front row, Sandy Meeks, Jo Ellen Bobay, Barb Spiers, second row, Sydney Schinbeckler, Marcia Anderson, back row, Sharon Burr, Wanda Ripple, Sue Weinraub, Nadia Vyhovsky, Marcia Hughes, Joan Van Osedale, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, Leanna Morris, B. D. Hartley, Debbie Decker, Barb Fischer, Joyce Spindler, Pat Bobay, Janet Wening, Nancy Loughheed, Sandy Farmer, Vicki Bradley, and Pat Johnson.—Photo by Jones

A panorama of the United States, entitled "Coast to Coast," is the theme of the annual Spring Show to be presented in the main gym on March 16 at 8 p.m. by the girls' gym and dance classes under the direction of Mrs. Alice Keegan and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, physical education instructors.

The Advanced Dance group is preparing a modern jazz dance called "Private Eye," using the theme song from the television show "77 Sunset Strip." The costumes consist of black felt berberies, black leotards, and black jazz pants, with a white formal, tuxedo-type blouse accented with a black tie and black buttons. Varied formations and difficult jazz movements are to be presented in this dance number.

The second dance to be performed by this group is a calypso dance adapted to the song "Jambalaya." It reflects the South American influence which appears in present-day ballroom dances. The costumes for this dance will present a colorful array of very elaborately ruffled sleeves on calypso blouses, black leotards, jazz pants, and calypso hats.

Members of the Advanced Dance Group are Marcia Anderson, Jo Ellen Bobay, Pat Bobay, Vicki Bradley, Sharon Burr, Debbie Decker, Sandy Farmer, Barbara Fischer, B.D. Hartley, Ann Henderson, Marcia Hughes, Pat Johnson, Jane Knettle, Nancy Loughheed, Leanna Morris, Sandy Meeks, Wanda Ripple;

SYDNEY SCHINBECKLER, Joyce Spindler, Barbara Spiers, Joan Van Osedale, Nadia Vyhovsky, Susan Weinraub, and Janet Wening. The girls accompanying this group for practice and for the show are Diane Petznik and Fran Krandel.

The dance classes will be dressed in costumes representing some of the states and several countries of the world.

Mrs. Keegan's class will execute modern dance movements with hand-clapping and finger-snapping to the tune "St. Louis Blues," while dressed in black leotards, tights, and slippers with blue skirts and blue berets.

To the music "Dance with a Dolly with a Hole in Her Stocking," the girls will perform a rag doll dance. The dancers will be costumed in red

(Continued on Page 6)

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With
Dyna-Vision

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

What you want

is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Phone: T-1141

25
WALLET SIZE PRINTS
99c
On Double-Weight Paper
3818 S. Calhoun

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick
Camera Shop

407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

"We carry all makes of portable typewriters"
Sold on the rental payment plan
See Us Before You Buy . . . And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY
WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

3213 DECATUR RD.

FREE!

ALL TRANSISTOR
Pocket Portable Radios

EVERY WEEK...

AT Gardner's
DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at
Gardner's every time you eat there.
Beat the odds...register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS

Gardner's...DOWNTOWN

Gardner's...by the COLISEUM

...for the original...the best
...the one and only
GARDNER HAMBURGER

WIN THIS RADIO!

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go...
but GO GARDNER!

Kelly Cindermen Promise Strength In Broad, High Jumping, Relays

Bandemer, Mol, Schlademan Rate As Experienced Runners

Although losing a state championship hurdler, Carl Johnson, two good shot-putters, Jim Dawson and John Somers, and several fine runners, this year's edition of Coach Robert Gernand's track squad will probably prove to be a powerful aggregation. But with the usual tough schedule ahead, the Archer thinlies will have to work hard to come out on top.

The 100-mile dash, mile run, and shot-put now appear to be of doubtful status. As usual the relay teams look strong. The 440 boasts a lot of depth, and the 880 looks promising with experienced Senior Evert Mol in fine shape. The hurdle events, both high and low, will most likely round out successfully also.

Leading the Kellys in the 100-yard dash for the third straight year is Senior Karl Bandemer. He combined with Tom Duff last year to form a very formidable running combo in both the 100 and 220 dashes. As a sophomore Karl was clocked at 10.1, and he improved last year to a very good 9.9. Karl was kept from the finals of last year's State Meet by a sore back but appears to be over this trouble now. Karl will also run in the 220, another event which he dominated last year.

HELPING "BANDY" in the 100 and possibly taking over when he moves to a 440 berth late in the year are Juniors Bob Lohman and Rick Werling. This race is a question mark, however, as Werling's best time last year was an 11.1 or 11.2.

Lohman did have a good 10.4 timing last season. Other boys in the 220 may be Lohman or possibly some of the quarter-milers, depending on who can come through more consistently.

This year's 440-yard dash group is filled. Tom Frazell, Tom Shine, Karl Schlademan, Dale Hilsmer, and Evert Mol have all turned in 53-second or better times. Though usually an 880 man, Mol could help out here.

Bandemer, depending on his progress, may very possibly switch to this event as the season progresses. He turned in a fine 49-second time for this race with a running start last year. Frazell, Schlademan, and Shine all boast considerable experience from last year. Hardwood standout Dale Hilsmer has also looked very promising.

WITH A 2:02 TIME to his credit last spring, Evert Mol will be South's mainstay in the 880. He looked very good at the tail-end of last year, and could break two minutes this season particularly if he cuts another seven seconds off his time as he did last year. Other runners in this event are now uncertain; however, some of the fletcher milers will most likely be aiding Mol in this race.

In the other distance event, the mile, South has no experienced runners of varsity stature returning. Junior Stu Schmitz, a cross country standout, is leading the group. Senior Al Schellie, also a two-miler, will be competing for a varsity spot also. Both these boys have good endurance and should do fairly well.

From the underclass ranks are Sophomores Ken Ellingwood, Jim Moore, and Steve Meyers. Having run cross country, all are experienced in distance running but may not convert easily to the mile. Ellingwood was very good as a cross country man but may be a year or two from being a really top-notch miler. Schmitz will also run the 880 as he had a good 2:09 clocking last spring.

IN THE FIELD EVENTS South is minus their one-two shot-put punch but otherwise was not seriously weakened by graduation. The high jump looks fairly promising with senior quarterback and forward Tom McMahan, and Juniors Gary Probst and Dave Blanton, all basketball players.

This high-jumping trio is led by Probst who reached 5-8 last year. Both McMahan and Blanton have managed 5-6 previously. These boys should improve and be able to help with most competition.

In the other jumping event, it looks like McMahan again along with Juniors Dale Hilsmer and Ed Johnson,

Weston Company Division Offers $4,000 Scholarship

The Wabash Fibre Box Company, a division of the Weston Paper Company, is offering the Weston Wabash Scholarship, worth $4,000, to all boys graduating from Allen County high schools.

The recipient of the scholarship will be selected by a committee of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges on the basis of scholarship and outstanding qualities.

Applications for this scholarship may be obtained from Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal.

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

The

Corner House

Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Coaches Name Top Thinlies, Hope For Good Track Squad

TRACK TRAINERS . . . With the track season about to begin, Mr. Robert Gernand, varsity coach, and Mr. Charles "Porky" Holt, reserve trainer, examine equipment. They are preparing the teams for the first meet against Culver Military Academy on March 16.—Photo by Jones

Guiding the varsity track team through another season will be Mr. Robert Gernand, veteran track and football mentor. His coaching experience dates back to 1948-49 when he coached baseball, football, track, and basketball at Pigeon, Mich. Next came a coaching assignment at Stephenson, Mich., where he coached the same four sports.

A return stint in the Marines followed, covering the years 1949-54. After five years in the service, Mr. Gernand came to South Side as an assistant basketball and football coach. He took over the reins as head track leader in 1959.

MR. GERNAND FEELS that Central and North Side will have the toughest all-around line-ups and Elmhurst will be strong in some fields.

His top boys will be Karl Bandemer, 100-yard dash and possibly quarter mile; Tom Frazell, quarter mile and mile relay; Evert Mol, 880; Nate Norment, hurdles; Jon vanOosten, hurdles; Gary Probst, high jump; Tom McMahan, broad jump; Dale Hilsmer, broad jump; Ed Johnson, broad jump; John Weaver, pole vault; Sid Sheray, shot put; and Don Sievert, shot put.

THE TALENTS OF such men as Jim Dawson, Carl Johnson, and Bob Bolyard, who are all '61 graduates,

Semi-State Pairings Involve 16 Teams

Pairings for the Semi-State round of the Indiana high school basketball tournament next Saturday (first games at 12:30 p.m., second games at 1:45, championship games at 8:15):

At Indianapolis (EST)
Connersville vs. Madison
Anderson vs. Muncie Central
At Evansville (CST)
Seymour vs. Eminence
Jasper vs. Evansville Bosse
At Fort Wayne (EST)
Elkhart vs. Fort Wayne Central Huntington vs. Kokomo
At Lafayette (EST)
Attica vs. East Chicago Washington
Knox vs. Lafayette

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Game:
TOLEDO MERCURYS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS

Sunday, March 11
7:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Coaches Evaluate Underclass Teams In League Games

Intra-scholastic basketball officially came to an end last week as the underclassmen on the varsity, reserve, and freshman teams took part in the annual intrasquad contests.

The purpose of the games was to give the coaches an opportunity to size up their material for next year. Besides observing the general tone of play, the coaches also kept written records of each player's scoring, fouls, errors, shooting percentage, assists, and offensive and defensive rebounds.

The large number of underclassmen that played this year made possible the formation of six teams which were placed in either an "A" or "B" league. The "B" league consists of the freshman team and a few players who are hopeful of making the team next year. The team, including Jim Long, Lynn Hoover, Mike Vogt, Bill Kinsey, Dan Junk, and Greg Riley, captured the three game set.

THE "A" LEAGUE is composed of four teams which played a three night round robin. Champions of this quartet was the team consisting of Willie Files, Jerry Klaehn, Dave Meyer, Dale Hilsmer, and Bob Lohman. In second place was the team of Don Hilsmer, Dave Blanton, Dave Banet, Bob Williams and Ricky Meeks. These teams played an extremely close game for the championship, and a 30-foot jump shot by Bob Lohman that swished the cords at the final buzzer gave his team a one point victory.

Following the final game of the round robin, the juniors and sophomores clamped the lid on the season with an interclass grudge battle. Though the sophomores played well in the first half and actually had a lead of two points, the power of the juniors came to the front in the third quarter; and they romped to a 64-33 victory.

FOLLOWING IS A scoring summary of the junior-sophomore battle:

| Individual scoring: |    |    |    |
|---------------------|----|----|----|
| Juniors             | G  | F  | T  |
| Probst              | 7  | 1  | 15 |
| W. Files            | 5  | 4  | 14 |
| Lohman              | 1  | 3  | 5  |
| Meyer               | 2  | 3  | 7  |
| Dale Hilsmer        | 7  | 1  | 15 |
| Zimmerman           | 1  | 1  | 3  |
| Blanton             | 0  | 1  | 1  |
| Klaehn              | 2  | 0  | 4  |
| Totals              | 25 | 14 | 64 |
| Sophomores          | G  | F  | T  |
| Williams            | 1  | 1  | 3  |
| Banet               | 2  | 0  | 4  |
| Don Hilsmer         | 3  | 0  | 6  |
| Meyer               | 1  | 4  | 6  |
| Robinson            | 2  | 0  | 4  |
| Lowden              | 1  | 0  | 2  |
| Munson              | 3  | 0  | 6  |
| Rolf                | 1  | 0  | 2  |
| Totals              | 14 | 5  | 33 |

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Coney Island

WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

Representative To Speak

Mr. Edward M. Swanson, representative from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich., will speak to interested seniors concerning the college in Room 102 at 8:30 a.m. today.

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See
JASPER
Engine &
Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway E-7671

MASTERPIECE

OF EATING ENJOYMENT

ALL-AMERICAN MEAL

MILK SHAKES...20¢

McDonald's

FRENCH FRIES...10¢

HAMBURGERS...15¢

ALL FOR 45¢

McDonald's DRIVE-INS

3-LOCATIONS-3

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East

NO. 2 California Road

NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison

SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

Half the tourney season has passed and only the "sweet sixteen" have more than careless spectator's interest in the tournament goings-on at this point. The Regional survivors, representing about one thirty-fifth of the squads entered originally, are more than faintly reminiscent of last year's Semi-State group.

At the Coliseum, Elkhart is paired off against Central, which replaces Berne as the Fort Wayne Regional champ. The afternoon game pits Huntington and the state's number one team, Kokomo, still employing the services of 6-8 veteran Jim Ligon, despite his infraction of training rules.

Elsewhere, such familiar names as Connersville, Madison, Anderson, and Muncie Central—all in the Indianapolis bracket; Seymour, Jasper, Evansville Bosse, East Chicago Washington, and Lafayette bring to mind powers of past seasons. Of course, three of last year's final four are already listed as missing in action. Southport and Logansport were both ousted by slight margins in last Saturday's final games. Indianapolis Manual couldn't cut through its tough Sectional; so Kokomo, the 1961 champion, alone is left.

To the local spotlight, Archer fans were happy to see that the talents of a couple of Kellys were recognized in the All-City squad selections. Ken Leakey and Dale Hilsmer, South's leading scorers, were both placed on the ten-man team. North Side center Mark Krieg was the only repeater from last year's squad.

As for wonder-squad selections, the recent picks of All-Americans showed a decided disregard for positions, most noticeably leaving a vast number of deserving, but short, guards out of the voting. The first squad lists three centers and two forwards, none of whom measured under 6-6. All, of course, are excellent players; but it's a shame that the sharp-shooting, play-making, back-court men seem to have dropped out of the picture.

As the hardwood season is all but wrapped up and recorded for posterity, the nation's attention switches to the spring sports: baseball, track, tennis, and golf. Already Archer thinlies and clay-court men are hard at work preparing for the rapidly approaching beginning of the schedule.

Although South plays host in only three track meets this season, nine of their meets will be run in the city; so Kelly fans will be able to get out and show their enthusiastic approval of the Bowmen who placed third in the state last year.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

FRUIT JUICES and PUNCHES—Delivery Service—Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY

Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.

FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE

Phone A-1354 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Spring Term March 19

* Business Administration & Finance
* Secretarial Science
* Professional Accounting

With I.B.M.

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA AUTO DRIVING SCHOOL . . .

Dual Controlled Training Cars
Manual or Automatic Transmission
Professional Instructors
Convenient Door-to-Door Service
Individual Instruction

H-3303

Trackmen Retain Top Performers In Relays, Lose Depth In Areas Of Shot Put, Distance Runs, Sprints

Coaches Pick Archers As Threatening Team In 1962 Track Season

Although South Side's Sectional and Regional champion cinder squad was stripped of some of its top track performers in the school's history, they still can boast of many top-notch performers returning from last year's squad and will definitely be the team to beat in the city.

South, along with usual track power North and always tough Central, will again rule the roost in the city while the other city schools will have to take a "back seat" teamwork for the most part. The Archers lost their depth in the sprints, distances, and shot-put; but they have some good returners and new prospects which should again make South a state power.

South's greatest work-horses, all '61 graduates, were Al Rainbolt, Tom Duff, Bob Shine, Jim Porter, Jim Dawson, and Bob Bolyard, the latter two the owners of new South Side track records in their respective events, the shot-put and the quarter-mile. Last year the Archers posted the top city times and distances in six events. This year, South should have a big job ahead if they hope to repeat an unbeaten regular season.

However, the Archers have a big nucleus returning, headed by sprinters Karl Bandemer, Tom Shine, Evert Mol, Tom Frazell, and Karl Schiade-man as well as their top hurdler, Nate Norment, all members of last year's state crew. The Archers, if they live up to expectations, should defend their Sectional and Regional titles and should again be probable State contenders.

Long track power and former track king in the Fort Wayne area, North Side, will be facing a rebuilding year although they will still pose a threat in certain fields. Coach Rolia Chambers, entering his thirty-fifth year of coaching cinder aggregations, realizes his team's position but the fine mentor will probably produce a team capable of making a little noise.

THE REDSKINS WILL start this spring almost from scratch, after losing Brad Bendure, who posted the state's top hurdle times, and Denny Krueger and Steve Reader, the Redskins' quarter-milers who posted the top mile relay times last spring, a fabulous 3:26.3 clocking. They also lost their other hurdlers, Miller and Cummings, the former placing second in the low hurdles at the State finals last May.

North will find its greatest power in the distances and should produce some of the city's top performers in the half and mile. Steve Konow and Gary Meyers, both members of North's 1961 Sectional cross country champs, will provide a good mile combination. Both ran well under the 4:40 mark last season.

In the half-mile, North will have Jack Smith returning; the fleet-footed cinderman will probably be one of the city's top half-milers. His best time last year was a fine 2:01.1. Additional strength will be given to the half-mile team by Ted Summers, Tom Konow, and Bill Hudson, the latter being a hopeful prospect for an outstanding year.

The Redskins will be fair in the sprints with Ramsburg in the century and furlong, but they will be no match for South's Bandemer. Bill Pool should be a top quarter-miler, but there is no depth right now in the sprints.

North's biggest problem is producing some top-notch performers in the field works, but at the season's outset this hope is improbable. Coach Chambers said that he didn't expect as tough a team as last year's and cited South as the team to beat.

CENTRAL, DESPITE key losses in State half-mile champ Henry King and Sectional broad jump winner and high jumper J. C. Lapsley, will have a fairly strong team returning, a squad capable of giving the Archers a big threat. The Tigers will be fairly strong all-around, with their strong points in the hurdles and sprints.

Returning for the Tigers is Preston Underwood, who finished fourth in the 220 in Sectionals last year and who should be a tough contender this spring. The Bengals will have one of the city's top hurdlers in Bob Hubbard, who along with South's Norment, should be the hurdlers to watch for. The Tigers should also be fair in the high jump and broad jump with Junior Jim Goodson.

Central Catholic, Elmhurst, Luers, and Concordia will probably not be grave threats as teams but should produce some good individuals before the Sectional. Coach Walt Bartkiewicz's Irish will be nothing on the cinders compared to their basketball season.

Last year the Irish were also weak but had a few outstanding performers, notably Ed Bobay who vaulted 12 feet four inches, Chuck Vosterwalt, who high jumped around six feet, and Mel Vachon, who broke his school's hurdlers records in times of 20.8 and 15.1. The Irish also lost Bob O'Reilly and will have to rely on Bill Nancarrow, who ran a 10.1 for his best 100-yard dash time last spring.

C.C. WILL HAVE A more dismal outlook on the cinders than last year. Unless they came up with some exceptional sophomores they will probably never have any standouts capable of contending in the Sectional this May. Elmhurst's track story will depend on whether or not their sprinters come through. The Trojans should be somewhat better than last season since they lost only two seniors of notable value. They might come through in a few events.

Their biggest hope is in the half-mile with veteran Reinhold Mueller who posted times of 1:59.8 twice last season and who should make a strong

Faculty Plays Pupils In Volleyball Match

On the lighter side of South Side's athletic program is the faculty volleyball team. Eight teachers, Mr. Charles Holt, Mr. Preston Brown, Mr. Robert Davis, Mr. Raymond Quance, Mr. Richard Ober, Mr. Glen Stebing, Mr. Dave Fell, and Mr. Ralph Boling, made up this year's squad that plays intramural contests.

All except Mr. Fell and Mr. Boling completed last season when the faculty posted a sparkling 8-1 record. However, in 1962 it has not fared as well, losing to the Meat-Eaters and the Sophomore Rejects and beating only the Champs.

Lack of enough tall men to serve as spikers is the main problem for the team and its captain, Mr. Holt. The intramural group actually boasts a height advantage over their opponents. Mr. Gernand was a key performer last year because of his spiking talents, but he has been unable to participate this season.

His loss leaves only Mr. Brown to bolster the front-line corps. He and Mr. Boling, the only other adequate spiker on the faculty team, both played much volleyball when they attended Ball State. Each feels that competing against students is a lot of fun and good conditioning.

Mr. Holt is perhaps the most experienced player in the group. He played on Ball State's team against other colleges and also YMCA groups. In addition, when he was in the service, he also found time to practice the sport.

Mr. Davis Jr., Mr. Ober, and Mr. Stebing are all avid volleyball fans. They played in high school, Mr. Davis playing here at South Side, and at the intramural level in college, too. Mr. Quance and Mr. Fell claim no organized team experience.

bid at state this year. Another big hope is high jumper Terry Baker who cleared the six-foot marker last year and should easily surpass that mark this season. The Trojans are weak in the sprints and field events.

Luers has everyone back since this is their first senior year, but they shouldn't be too much trouble. Joe Lebrato is fair in the half-mile but outside of that there is no big strength. They will have John Tholen and Mike Burns back in the dashes.

CONCORDIA ALSO will have to do a lot of experimenting this year before they produce some Sectional hopefuls. They lost their key dashman, Gary Novak, and will be looking for some new depth in the sprints. They will be fair in the distances with McCallister and Tom Doehman in the broad jump; the Cadets shouldn't be too much of a problem, if any. So, from the outset of the track season, it appears as though South will be the team to beat; but there should be some trouble with North and Central.

Racketmen To Begin Matches In April; To Confront Marion

When the snow melts and the nets go up at the city parks this spring, the Archer netmen will be back in full swing. This year Coach Everett Havens will lead his team through 16 dual matches and two tournaments.

South Side is the host in the first tourney, and this is the Archers' second year having the event. Participating along with South are Central Catholic, Central, Concordia, Huntington, Goshen, and Muncie. Then on May 13 the Burriss Singles Tourney will be played, and teams from around the state will compete in it.

INDOOR PRACTICE HAS started, and Coach Havens has his boys sprinting, jogging, and running on steps in order to get them into shape. This type of workout will probably continue until spring vacation when the tennis nets are erected.

The only two returning lettermen are Jim Lantz, junior, and Al Purdy, junior. Both have seen much tennis action and will be the aces this year. Jim McMahon, Matt Cornacchione, Pat Fisk, and Lex Smuts will add to the teams strength.

In commenting on the team, Mr. Havens said that his main trouble is the lack of depth. If a few boys can come along, their chances as a team will be greatly improved.

THE FOLLOWING is the season schedule:

|       |                            |   |
|-------|----------------------------|---|
| April | 11 Marion                  | H |
|       | 12 Peru                    | T |
|       | 17 Central Catholic        | H |
|       | 18 Concordia               | H |
|       | 19 Central                 | H |
|       | 21 Muncie Central          | H |
|       | 26 Bluffton                | T |
|       | 26 Howe Military           | T |
|       | 27 Huntington              | H |
|       | 29 South Side Doubles      | H |
| May   | 1 Goshen                   | H |
|       | 3 Central Catholic         | T |
|       | 8 Goshen                   | T |
|       | 9 Central                  | H |
|       | 10 Bluffton                | H |
|       | 11 Burriss                 | T |
|       | 13 Burriss Singles Tourney | T |
|       | 16 Concordia               | T |

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

GOLLER'S
DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

GLADIEUX
OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME"
FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3351

NICKLES
BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0453 1725 South Anthony

Billfold Special
25 Billfold Prints
99c

No Copy Charge If You Do Not Have Negative.
Offer Expires March 31st
HOWARD'S
3813 S. Calhoun

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-5916 K-1909

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Ravens Croft Beauty College
Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using
AUDIO VISUAL AIDS
Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring,
Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning.
WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE
Call A-7403
and make an appointment to visit the area's finest.
1114 So. Calhoun St. Across from the Cathedral

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

NIGHT LEAGUERS... Intramural basketball champions in the night league, front row, left to right, are Bill Kleifgen, Paul Johns, Allen Sheldon, and, back row, left to right, Bill Borgmann, Dave Meek, Howard Miller, and Mark Hagerman. Team members who were absent when the picture was taken are Bart Bailey, Bob Hendricksen, and Bob Ramage.—Photo by Jones

Volleyball, with the new heavyweight champion decided, is almost through with competition, and badminton is moving along steadily. Giant volleyball and the annual free throw tourney is to be started this week.

In volleyball, the Meat-Eaters won a 2-15, 15-7, 15-8 decision over the Teachers with Sid Sherry leading the attack. Sherry tallied 11 points and Skevos Pavlou scored seven for the Meat-Eaters. The Teachers were led by Mr. "Porkey" Holt with seven successful serves and Mr. Richard Ober with six. The games with the Teachers are always very interesting and draw many excited fans.

The Phone-Tacks then routed the Mountaineers, 15-2, 15-8. Bill Borgmann paced the victors with 11 points and Dale Smith added six. Leading the Mountaineers was Al Purdy with four points.

A balanced attack by the Jumpin' Jiminies led to a 15-8, 15-9 triumph over Seewald's Seals. Jan Doran, Ken Hill, Bob Holloway, and Brad Zieg scored seven, five, four, and four points, respectively, to lead the winners. The Seals were led by Vic Seewald and Gary Shank with six points each.

The Phoneys II blanked the Tiptons in one game, 15-0, and rolled over them in the second, 15-7, to post an easy victory. Dan Dawson sparked the Phoneys II with nine points and Jim Maxson chipped in with six. Joe Thorpe led the hapless Tiptons with five points.

The Wildcats then shaded the Bachelors, 17-15, 15-7. Jim Maxson sparked the Wildcats as he came through with 13 points. Skip Gertman also scored six points for the victors. Leading the Bachelors were Larry Lyman with five points and Bob Camps with four.

The Clods led by Louie Baughman, edged the Twisters, 15-10, 7-15, 4-3. Baughman made ten points and Dan Junk added six to the Clods' scoring. Dan Loughlin totaled 12 and Dave Fleming chipped in with six for the lasing Twisters.

The Champs then climaxed the noon league heavyweight crown by turning back the Sophomore Rejects, 13-15, 15-3, 15-4. Al Sheldon and Jerry Klahn each scored an amazing 14 points and Larry Hinderer added seven to pace the Champs. Bill Joy led the Rejects with 12 points and Dale Engle chipped in with five.

Members of the Champs are Gary Tinkel, Mari Platupe, Dave Haslup, Al Sheldon, Al Schlie, Jerry Klahn, Larry Hinderer, and Dave Meek. Members of the runner-up Rejects are Jim Barker, Don Hilsamer, Ted Rolf, Dave Banet, Dale Engle, Dick Robinson, Bill Joy, Tom Meyers, and Jim Littlejohn. In the only other scheduled game, the Spikers forfeited to the Leftovers.

Entered thus far in noon league heavyweight giant volleyball are Bob Hact's Bachelors, Jerry Thomas' Peoples' Choice, Gary Hensch's Baker's Dozen, Charlie Packer's Tweeds, Paul LaClair's Apes, Walt Halley's Shorts, and Ed Gatterman's YO-Men. Lightweight teams are Doug Henschen's Scrubs, Carl Foust's Deadbeats, and Tom Parrish's Dukes II. The only night league team so far is Richard Burnside's Dynamos.

Badminton doubles are now entering with the following teams entered: Blossom Dunlap, Gustafson-Woods, and Budowski-Bodkin in noon league lightweight; Foust-Meeks, Grose-Gushoff, and Almandinger-Blauvelt in noon league middleweight; and Tinkel-Stedje, McKinley-Paris, Hact-Lambert, Engle-Matlock, La Clair-Miller.

Joy-Schneider, Halley-Hullinger, and Junk-Hoover in the noon league heavyweight division. Night league teams are Horn-Barnside, Botz-Fames, Carlo-Grodrian, Roebel-Woodside, and Berrot-Bohlander in lightweight; Piercy-Lepper, Shambugh-Wooding, McCord-Reinhold, Mack-Grube, Poiry-Seewald, J. Garrison-Grodrian, and Miller-W. Garrison as middleweights; and Dawson-Bakalar, Powers-Petty, and Wolfe-Busch entered as heavyweights.

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY
4232 S. Calhoun Phone K-1864
SERVICE IN DRUGS

DID YOU KNOW?
The Purdue University Fort Wayne Center offers:
1. Two years of regular University work.
2. A two-year degree in engineering technology.
3. An opportunity to live at home and save.
4. Accredited university courses.
5. Day and evening classes so that you can earn while you learn.
Call A-3171 for more details
Summer session starts June 18.
Fall semester starts Sept. 12.

Calling all students...
time to order your
BABER
CLASS RINGS
Phone A-7306... E-4197
BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

Central Tigers Defeat Angola, Ligonier For Regional Crown

Central's Tigers continued their winning ways in the 1962 IHSAA basketball tournament by annexing the Fort Wayne Regional crown at the Coliseum last Saturday. Winning both of their games by wide margins, the Tigers experienced only a minimum of difficulty in defeating Ligonier 92-56 and Angola 59-45.

The championship game was very close for 19 minutes of playing time. The Hornets gained their only lead of the game when that much time elapsed; but the Tigers then outscored them 17-6 in the rest of the third quarter, and the Hornets never got closer than seven points.

With the exception of this outpouring and a five point spurge in the last seconds of the game by the Tigers, the game was very even. The Hornets played very deliberate ball in the first half giving the resulting score.

THE 21-17 SCORE at the half was slightly reminiscent of the score of the Huntertown-North game in the Sectional which found Huntertown ahead 15-12 at the half. The Tigers took control in the third quarter and their running, fast-break offense was too much for the Hornets, who closed the season with a 21-4 record.

The Tigers advanced to the championship game by trouncing Ligonier's Red Raiders, who were appearing in a Regional Tournament for the first time since the 1930's. The Tigers allged to eat up this piece of glory for about half of the first quarter, at which time the teams were tied at 8 to 8; but the Bengals accounted for the remaining eight points scored in the period.

All ten players broke into the scoring column for the Tigers with five of them in double figures. Preston Underwood led the attack with 19 points; Archie Smith chipped in 15; Cletus Edmonds and Jim Martin each collected 14; and Sam Kelsey added 10.

ANGOLA PULLED ONE of the biggest upsets in the state by stopping Berne in the first afternoon game. The Bears had come into the tourney as the favorite of most experts, but the Hornets were not to be denied.

Pulling even on a free throw with just seconds left in regulation time, the Hornets scored the first two baskets in the overtime period and controlled the rest of the game to avenge an earlier 20-point loss to the Bears.

Ken Robinson was again high point man for the Hornets, but three of his teammates were the real heroes. The Hornets entered the fourth quarter three points down, but Mike Sapp, a 6-11 guard, sank five consecutive field goals to bring the Hornets within one point of the Bears.

THEN FRED BACHERT sank one of two pressure packed free throws to send the game into an overtime. Forward Gary Page then took over to score all of Angola's six points in the extra stanza, while the Bears could accumulate only five.

Erv Inniger of the Bears led all scorers with 22 points; Gary Haegger chipped in with 20 to be the only other Bear in double figures.

Other regional championship games in the area found Elkhart defeating South Bend Central 66-62, Huntington besting Oak Hill 69-58, and Kokomo trouncing Noblesville 83-69. Elkhart and Central meet in the first game of the Semi-State here Saturday, and Huntington and Kokomo collide in the second game.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE
202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Gerig Super Service
MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

DIGGS-H4286
R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun
U Fountain School Supplies
G Vitamins
S Prescription Specialists

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.)
American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells
Only $34.95
SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE
3820 South Calhoun H-2100

pedwin slugger
Just one look tells you this trim new Pedwin is the season's pennant-winning style... a shoe that'll have you batting a thousand on every occasion. Try it on soon.
$10.95

pedwin.

121 W. Wayne St.

Sophomore Sharon McEachern Trains Horses During Summer

Sharon McEachern has many hobbies, but one of her favorites is horseback riding. Sharon does much riding during the summer. She has attended several camps where horseback riding is the main sport. This summer Sharon hopes to attend Trails End Ranch for Girls near Estes Park, Colorado, which is on the outskirts of Denver.

She became interested in horses when her father and another doctor owned a small pony farm in Hamilton. Sharon spent many of her week ends at this farm. By practicing, Sharon developed her riding skills and also her liking for horses.

During the winter, Sharon is very busy with school work. As a sophomore, Sharon is taking English, Latin, general history, and geometry. In her spare time, she bowls and ice skates. In school Sharon is active in many clubs. She belongs to Meterites, Assemblies Work shop, and she also writes stories for the Times. Outside of school, she is a member of First Presbyterian Church and also the Westminster Fellowship group.

In the summer, besides going to camp, Sharon takes riding lessons at Lane Stables with her brother and sister. At the summer camp she learns how to groom a horse, clean the stables, and also how to saddle a horse properly. She was also taught in great detail the small points of equestrian riding.

Sharon McEachern

While being interviewed, Sharon stated, "I feel that horsemanship teaches a person responsibility, good posture, and self-control."

Gym Classes To Give

(Continued from Page 3)

skirts, blouses accented with bibs, and ribbons for the hair.

WITH PARTNERS, THE girls will present the "Pennsylvania Polka." The dancers will be dressed in brightly colored full skirts, matching blouses accented with white aprons, black cummerbunds, and head scarfs.

Mrs. Armstrong's dancers will begin with an exercise routine, working against the force of gravity in sit-ups and leg lifts. Costumed in black leotards, tights, slippers, and appropriate disguises, the girls will dance to the tune "Roses from the South."

After the exercises, the class will present an Irish folk dance to the music "The Irish Lilt." While holding their arms at their sides throughout the routine and producing rhythmic patterns by the feet, the girls will wear black dance outfits with Kelly green skirts.

An interpretive dance in Western style will follow. Using an arrangement of tunes from the show "Oklahoma," the dancers will convey the various thoughts and moods expressed in the song.

ALL DANCE CLASS members will be combined in the finale in a circle formation and will show all of the costumes represented in the show with the final "Back Home Again in Indiana."

The following girls appear in the show: Linda Babbitt, Sheila Dailey, Leslie Edwards, Cheri Elam, Karen Franks, Christine Fruechtenicht, B.D. Hartley, Martha Hoard, Jean Holley, Marcia Hughes, Judy King, Karen Klaehn, Kathy Klas, Jane Knettle, Monica Kramer, Rosie Kreidt, Maria Marshall, Judy McKay;

Linda Miracle, Ann Mol, Barbara Nelson, Vicki Palmer, Sarah Petrie, Barbie Rae, Sheila Reynolds, Susan Seigel, Nancy Stewart, Nadia Vybovsky, Karen Walker, Kathy Walsh, Janet Wening, Rochelle Werling, Marcy Winder, Sharon Wright;

Tierney Batdorf, LaVonne Custance, Judy Davis, Charlotte Dinius, Cynthia Duncan, Joyce Dunn, Joyce Farmer, Lois Gallimore, Carol Gater, Dot Gudakunst, Cheri Hahn, Linda Hake, Ann Henderson, Karen Hess;

JANET JOHNSON, Sandra Moese, Julie Neuenschwander, Nancy Ormsby, Connie Richardson, Barbara Ross, Janice Robson, Sherry Spencer, Joyce

Army, Navy Strive For New Weapons At Combat Centers

United States Army and Marine Corps training is designed to do many important things for the protection of the country. The United States Navy's Training Device Center stimulates the conditions of modern warfare. In this way, millions of dollars and hundreds of lives are saved.

This Center was built near Port Washington, N. Y., to further combat training. The Center brings its inventive skill to bear on all the Armed Forces' most critical training problems.

The Center's catalogue of achievements is staggering. One of these important achievements is that Naval signalmen have for two decades kept themselves sharp in the use of the blinker code.

A $15 MILLION three-story building will soon be completed at the Navy's New London, Conn., Submarine School. This will house exact copies of the attack centers of three nuclear submarines.

In these centers, submarine commanders and crews will be trained in the handling of every conceivable type of undersea maneuver.

Radar (based on radio waves in air) and sonar screens (devices used to reflect sound waves under water) will show all the complex maneuverings involved in modern sea warfare. Models of enemy ships, cut to perfect scale, will be armed with the very latest anti-submarine weaponry. Through their periscopes, attacking commanders will actually see, in color and in exact perspective and proportion, the problems they will face in combat.

THE CENTER'S AIM is to find the fastest, safest, most thorough, most economical way to train a man for battle. In pursuing that mission, the Center's training-device magicians have saved the Armed Forces millions of dollars.

Under the expert eyes of the Center's Naval research scientists, combat marksmanship is given a rigorous test. A dummy of a three-dimensional infantryman to the knees is joined to a low-silhouette, three-wheel vehicle operated by remote control.

The console operator can cause this experimental machine, called the mobile target, to move at speeds from a slow crawl to a fast run, and to assume various combat positions.

MADE OF STYROFOAM, the target doesn't splinter when hit. A bullet hole is quickly repaired by brushing it over with a mixture of resin and hardener. A hidden detector inside records and transmits up to seven hundred hits a minute to the instructor operating it.

The mobile target is used to teach men how to sharpen not only the marksmanship, but also the reflexes and emotional responses which the modern rifleman needs when he starts to shoot.

TRAINEES ALSO learned how vigorous wartime flying may be. A skilled enemy is hurled at them in detailed silhouette. The novice aerial fighter will fly through lightning-streaked storms and violent turbulence. Finally, he can handle whatever conditions he encounters with confidence.

Since 1945, the Training Device Center has developed simulators for many of the more complex first-line United States combat aircraft.

Experts at the Training Device Center are deeply involved in the Space Age. Pilots of the newest aircraft are tested against the enormous forces that will crush in on them as they are hurled beyond the earth's atmosphere. They also developed the "human disorientation device" which spins a man around both vertical and horizontal axes simultaneously, to determine how much such tumbling he can take in space, before losing his ability to function properly. If he can judge by past performance, the first man on the moon will feel quite at home.

Al Hoagland Hunts, Competes In Target Meets For Archers

Although South Side students take pride in their "Archer" title, Al Hoagland, junior A, is one of the few Archers who follows through with the title. Even though he became interested in archery when he was ten years old, Al did not begin to work at it seriously until two years ago. He never took lessons but learned from his father who is also interested in archery.

Al Hoagland

Al not only competes in contests with his bow and arrows but also uses them for hunting deer and rabbits and fishing. One of the contests in which he participates is the field meet on one Sunday of each month at Isaac Walton Park, sponsored by the Waltonian Bull Hunters, of which he is a member.

IN THE FIELD competition the contestants must walk through a wooded course and shoot at animal targets. Other types of rounds are the Chicago, American, and Broad-

IIB Bonnie Holubetz To Enter Profession Of Clothes Designing

Desiring a profession in which she can express her own views, Bonnie Holubetz, junior B, has chosen fashion designing for her career.

Drawing and designing fashions ever since the age of ten, Bonnie has used her talent by making some of her own clothes. She has talked to experienced fashion designers, further enriching her knowledge of drawing designs that should be attractive to a prospective buyer.

Bonnie states that making a design requires a great deal of thought. "I draw about 10 to 15 designs before I really get the one I want," she said.

ALTHOUGH DESIGNING is Bonnie's chief interest, she also enjoys sewing because she can then put her designing ability to immediate use.

Bonnie's extra-curricular activities at school include choir and Assemblies Workshop. She also enjoys swimming, ice-skating, and playing the piano.

A member of the Zion's League of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ and Latter Day Saints, Bonnie states, "I believe that in order to live fully one must follow his religion." She also sings in her church choir.

EVERY SUMMER Bonnie goes to Wisconsin. Last summer she also went to Cassopolis, Mich., where she attended the senior high camp sponsored by her church.

After she graduates from South Side, Bonnie plans to attend Grace-land College in Lamoni, Iowa, where she will major in home economics. After college, she will go to a school that teaches fashion designing.

South To Host Sectional Meet, 19 Students To Enter Divisions

HEAR YE! HEAR YE! ... Calling the District Speech Meet, to be hosted by South Side, to order will be members of Wranglers. Acting as hosts and hostesses are, in the front row, Margee Terry, left, and Diane Fredrick. In the back row are, left to right, Barb Nelson, Logan Smith, and Tom Erb.—Photo by Jones

When South hosts the Sectional Speech Meet Saturday, 19 Archers will compete in the speech contest; while 16 pupils will help with odd jobs. After the Sectional Meet, winners will continue competing in Regional and State competition.

Starting at 9 a.m. there will be two preliminary rounds. Contestants will be rated either up or down donating good or bad performance, respectively. Two downs eliminates a contestant from the meet. If five people compete in one round, two ups will be given; and if six people are in the round, three ups will be given.

THIS IS THE first time in over ten years that a speech meet has been at South Side. Regionals this year will be at Elkhart on March 31, and State will be at Ben Davis High School in Indianapolis.

Those attending from South will be Sue Horth, Diane Hall, and Sally Franklin in girls' extemporaneous speaking; Barb Nelson, Lissa Hoffman, and Christine Fruechtenicht in poetry; Ken Davis, Margee Terry, and Patsie Dorton in oratorical; Debby Decker, Pat Slater, and Marti Morell in radio; Margee Terry, Phil Spray, and Barb Nelson in original; Pam Buzzard and Shari Busche in humorous; and Diane Fredrick and Logan Smith in dramatic. The third contestant in dramatic and humorous will be determined by the results of the Peru meet last week.

OTHER SCHOOLS participating in this meet will be North Side, Elmhurst, Central, Howe Military, New Haven, Huntertown, Leo, and Kekionga Junior High School.

Logan Smith is in charge of making the signs which will be hung in the gym to divide it into congregating areas for each school. Margee Terry is in charge of making the posters which will hang on the walls in the main hall. The results of each round will be displayed under these posters.

Because the Merit Scholarship Tests will be taken in the cafeteria that morning, the new section of the school will not be used for the meet. Those taking the tests will not be able to compete in the speech meet, but they may help as messengers or office workers in the afternoon.

ZINN SERVICE STATION

615 East Pontiac H-5249

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

DON SCHMIDT ACCORDION SCHOOL

Certified by Amer. Accordion Assn. Private Instruction & Accordion Band RENTAL PLAN—SALES—SERVICE 828 Oxford H-9606

ROEHM MARINE SERVICE

Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer 4392 Bluffton Road Telephone Sherwood 3203

ERIE-HAVEN READY MIXED CONCRETE

H-2214

JOHNS EQUIPMENT CO.

Distributors for Weil Sewage Ejectors, Aurora Pumps, Skidmore Vacuum Pumps
1010 Fort Wayne Bank Bldg. E-4434

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford H-2185

Beaver Beauty Salon

1112 Home Avenue H-3363
MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator
Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

FASHION WISE LISSA HOFFMAN Insists on ADLER WOOL SOCKS

Lissa Hoffman

attractive, popular, and style-wise South Side High School senior, insists on ADLER SC WOOL SOCKS. She states: "I can depend on Adlers to compliment every outfit I wear. They're so white, stylish, and wear far better than any others I've ever worn. And, besides, you don't have to worry about runs or snags either!"

AVAILABLE AT:
C. & H. Shoe Company
Hutner's Paris
J. C. Penny Company and fine stores everywhere

Two Pupils Portray St. Lucia In Annual Swedish Celebration

'LAND OF THE MIDNIGHT SUN' . . . Modeling her Norwegian necklace, whose charms represent different items of the land, Nancy Nordeen, left, acclaims her Scandinavian ancestry to Carol Forsgren. Both are members of the Scandinavian Club and have participated in the traditional Festival of Light.—Photo by Lowden

Just two months ago, on December 13, Junior A's Carol Forsgren and Nancy Nordeen participated in the annual celebration of the Pageant of St. Lucia, at the Christmas banquet of the Scandia Club, to which they and their families belong.

The Scandia Club, which has only two meetings a year, one commemorating Midsummer's Day, June 24, which is the celebration of the longest day in Sweden by dancing around the maypole, and here, by a Smorgasbord, and the other meeting celebrates the day of St. Lucia, December 13.

The club admits members who have come from one of the Scandinavian countries, or who are of Scandinavian descent. The club being a fairly new one, having only been organized about thirty-two years ago, charges no dues,

Choir To Perform
South Side's Concert Choir will sing March 14 at Ben Geyer Junior High School. The program will begin at 8:20 a.m. and will last for thirty or forty minutes.

Several numbers will be sung; the boys' quartet will perform; and there will also be a solo.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974

CARRY OUTS

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith Phone H-1297

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists

H-5307

Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

FORT WAYNE BEAUTY COLLEGE

1327 S. CALHOUN E-3204

ENROLL NOW FOR SPRING AND FALL CLASSES

ADVANCED HAIR COLORING, CUTTING, AND STYLING

BUDGET PLAN

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

Science

Engineering

General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

Mortician Arranges Funeral Services; Applicant Finishes Courses Of Anatomy

At the very sound of the word "mortician" everyone seems to shudder, but actually he is a necessary and respected member of every community in the world. The public rarely stops to think what the mortician's duties, schooling, and the jobs he performs include.

The mortician prepares the deceased for burial. He takes care of most of the arrangements for the funeral, obtains burial permits, notifies relatives and newspapers, and plans with the clergyman for the services.

His jobs include preservation and restoration of the deceased person, sanitation in order to protect the living, and the consolation of the mourners. Comforting the mourners is his biggest job.

THE MORTICIAN'S job is to preserve the body of the deceased from decay by injecting a preserving fluid into the arteries. He restores the body by preparing a life-like representation of the person. Mortuary science has developed many skills that make it possible for the mortician to recreate a natural appearance, even after accidental death or prolonged sickness. Naturalness is the effect for which the mortician strives.

American embalmers and funeral directors receive their licenses from their individual states. A person usually doesn't stop to think how much schooling a mortician must have to earn these licenses.

Adults Reveal Tales About Past Schools

Because changes have taken place both socially and economically during the last two decades, standards of education have increased. A high school diploma has now become essential in obtaining most jobs. These were some of the replies the parents of a few Archer students gave when asked, "How do you think high school has changed since you've attended?"

Mrs. Everett Vallance: There is a great deal more guidance and counseling done now in high school. Because of this counseling, more students are getting into the right courses. As a result, not so much time is wasted in school.

Mrs. Clyde Brumm: Drivers training is a wonderful addition to our education system. Students have more homework now and many more opportunities if they are serious enough to take full advantage of high school training.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burdick: When we went to high school there were no study periods during the day, and we could pick the hours in which we attended classes. Also methods of teaching include more current events now than they ever did before.

Christine Fruechtenicht Skates, Skis, Performs In Civic Plays

Happiness is not the sole end in life, character is, is the advice which follows Christine Fruechtenicht follows in her daily life. This Kelly lass is a member of South's "Hi-Quiz" sophomore quartet which has defeated all opponents from other city high schools.

Her daily interests include science, the theater, and sports. "Science has always been interesting to me, and I hope to develop my knowledge further in the future," states Christine. She has entered a number of her experimental projects in the local science fairs.

Among her exhibits have been a spark-la-coil, an electric motor, salt crystals, and a structure of the hydrocarbon atoms. In last year's recognition ceremonies at South, she received an award for science.

ACTIVE IN THE theater, Christine belongs to the Civic Theater Dramatic Organization, in which she has had

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

CUPP, Inc. Engineers and Contractors

For

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

.. after eating one of our new hot fudge ice cream cake desserts, a student said,

"WOW"

What will you say?

Agat's BIG BOY

2440 W. Washington Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun S. Calhoun at Berry

Requirements vary, but most states require an applicant to complete courses in biology, anatomy, and related subjects in an accredited school of mortuary science. An applicant must pass a state examination and serve as an apprentice before he receives a license. A college education is a decided pre-professional advantage.

THE EARLIEST morticians were the Egyptian priests who specialized in the preservation of the body and soul. They believed that the soul needed a body in order to survive in the next world. For this reason they built elaborate tombs, such as the pyramids, and furnished them with great care.

Denison University Encourages Pupils To Grow In Knowledge

For college-bound students looking for a small university in a small-town environment, Denison University in Granville, O., is a school worth considering.

Denison is a co-educational institution located 27 miles east of Columbus. The school was started in 1831 as a literary and theological institution with Baptist support. From the time of its founding, Denison has clearly stated that its purpose is to help the student become a mature and well-informed person through a course of liberal arts and sciences.

In 1959, there were 755 men and 675 women enrolled, making an enrollment of 1,430 students. The enrollment now is 1,486. This number represents students from 35 states and 11 foreign countries.

THE CAMPUS occupies 350 acres on College Hill. On the crest of the hill are the academic buildings, the library of 104,000 volumes, the chapel, and the hospital. Nearby are athletic fields and Fraternity Circle, and near the foot of the hill is Sorority Circle.

Women occupy seven residence halls and men, two. Men are allowed to live in one of the ten fraternity houses when they are sophomores, but women in sororities continue living in the residence halls.

Students at Denison operate their own organizations with much freedom and are members of policy-making committees for activities and social life. Scheduled on the calendar are sorority and fraternity dances, art exhibits, musical programs, and dramatic productions.

DENISON'S SCHOLASTIC schedule offers a liberal arts education with basic preparation for majors in 26 fields and secondary school teaching. The degrees of Bachelor of Arts and

The customs of the funeral, the service, and the burial vary greatly among people and nations. The Greeks believed that the souls of the dead had to be ferried across a river. They placed in the mouth of the dead a coin called an "obolus." The coin was supposed to pay the dead person's way across the river into the next world.

The Romans introduced their funeral customs into England when they invaded that country in 55 B.C. The English adopted some of these customs such as wearing black, walking or driving in a procession, and raising a mound over a grave. These later became American customs. Mortuary science today has developed and modernized these customs derived from the ancient nations.

Bachelor of Science are offered. Also, a Bachelor of Science in education, Bachelor of Music, and a Bachelor of Fine Arts are offered.

The university also has an engineering plan with Carnegie Tech, a forestry plan with Duke University, and a Junior Year Abroad, and an exchange program.

Denison offers a personalized education. The teacher-student ratio is one to thirteen.

Approximately two hundred ten scholarships for grants-in-aid totaling $71,000, of which almost two-thirds are based on family need, are available. Nearly one-fourth of the students earn part of their expenses.

Pupils Agree Peace Main 'Gap' Between Dictator, President

There is a very important question in everyone's mind in this day and age. Can communism and democracy go hand-in-hand? Many people think the question itself is absolutely ridiculous because of the very vital nature of the topic. But there are many opinions pro and con as to the possibility of its existence. A number of students gave their opinions of the question.

Delores Shadowens: No, because the meaning of peace in communism is different than the peace in democracy. As Mr. Ronald Gersmehl, English teacher, explained: "The communist peace is to gain the whole world, and peace in democracy is to live in love and content with one another."

Joyce Cossairt: There is quite a large "gap" between our way of life and the communist way of life. I only mean this politically. There are many good Russian people who have the potential to be free but are clouded by propaganda. The American people live with an "open mind" as far as politics are concerned and are informed by our government of any changes in our policy. Here is the gap which separates communism and democracy.

David Schele: Definitely not! Mainly because the communist ideology has no place in it for co-existence. The second major reason is religious groups. The communist pseudo-religion of dialectical materialism (which drives them to world conquest just as strongly as their greed) denies the existence of a Creator and the inherent divinity of man. Although the various religions that recognize a Supreme God (in one form or another) may tolerate each other, they cannot tolerate a decadent force bent on the liquidation of all of them. It is, therefore, as much or more of a religious duty as of a national duty to eradicate this social disease from the earth.

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery Complete Motor Aid Service Wheel Balancing

SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Maley Brothers Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at 631 W. Jefferson A-6371

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Roger Vorholzer Heads YFC, Plans To Attend Bible College

Serving as president of the Youth For Christ organization and being vocalist in several vocal groups are included in the activities of Roger

Roger Vorholzer

Vorholzer, senior. Besides presiding at the Youth For Christ meetings, Roger is the chaplain of his singing group and conducts the devotional period.

Roger is president of the area council, which is composed of the officers of the 20 different Youth For Christ clubs in the city, and is a member of his youth group at Emmanuel Baptist Church.

ROGER, WHO ENJOYS singing, has won several awards in contests during the past two years. He placed first in the Fort Wayne Youth For Christ talent contest in 1960-61.

Last year, he took third place in the state Youth For Christ contest with his selection, "Never Alone." This year Roger won a gold medal in the local and also in the state NISBOVA competitions singing Joyce Kilmer's "Trees."

Roger especially enjoys sacred music and belongs to several vocal groups that sing only this type of music. He sings in an ensemble composed of 14 young people from the various Fort Wayne schools; this ensemble sings at Youth For Christ rallies. He also sings with the "Emmanuel Aires" from his church, and he belongs to the Concert Choir at school.

"Music helps me to express what I believe and also inspires me to live what I believe," stated Roger.

ROGER HAS SPENT two of his summers as a counselor at Bair Lake Bible Camp near Three Rivers, Mich. Golfing, bowling, playing basketball on his church team, and working on cars are a few more activities that Roger enjoys.

"I feel that I am here on this earth, because God has put me here to do a job; and I feel that I should put forth my capabilities in an effort to meet His goal," was Roger's closing comment.

After he has been graduated, Roger will attend the Fort Wayne Bible College. He plans to continue his career in the field of music.

Archers Read Books For Fun, Enjoyment

Do teenagers ever pick up a book just for the pleasure of reading it? Many people read books as a pastime; others read because it is required of them. Students express ideas on reading books for pleasure.

Pat Scheib: Are you kidding? But I am waiting for the day (a long wait, I think) that I do so.

Margie Lampel: Yes, when I don't have anything else to do, and the title seems to be interesting enough to find out what it is about.

Sharon Stettner: It is very rare especially if the book exceeds four hundred pages.

Mike Tomkinson: Yes, to look at the pictures, but never to read it.

Patty Somers: Yes, for the pure enjoyment or because the book looks interesting; however, this happens only during summer vacation.

Marcia Kuhn: No, I read books for their educational value and information.

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine

Phone H-9440

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Jocquel Supply Co.

Four Generations of Service of All Types Building Material

2206 Broadway H-3141

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011

1015 Taylor

Hall's Drive-Ins

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your job in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Aquarium-Gazers Raise, Sell Tetra Fish, Crescent Moons

AQUARIUM ADMIRERS . . . Observing the life of the aquarium are fish enthusiasts Don McKinley and Marti Morell. Both own their own tanks which contain such tropical fish as black mollies, swordfish, and guppies. Two other fish hobbyists were absent when the picture was taken.—Photo by Jones

Diagnosis—"fishitis." Inflicted with this incurable disease, Denver Druesedow, Greg Rozelle, Donald McKinley, and Marti Morell have become aquarium-gazers.

Denver Druesedow, a junior, has a ten-gallon aquarium and two ponds in his backyard for summer use. His collection includes neon tetras, zebra fish, pencil fish, and a glass ghost shrimp. Denver started his hobby three years ago and never tires of raising fish. This summer he plans to raise fish in the ponds to sell. His other interests are camping, building models, and working on his model train.

GREG ROZELLE, a sophomore, also has a ten-gallon aquarium. His contains neons, cardinal tetras, guppies, tropical catfish, and black mollies. His aquarium is balanced, for it needs no air filter and little care. The aquarium hobby was passed from father to son, and Greg finds the fish just as interesting to raise as his father did.

Greg said, "Fish are beautiful creatures to watch, and it's fun to watch them progress."

Donald McKinley, has a ten-gallon and a 15-gallon tank. The smaller one contains tetras, swordfish, angel fish, and neons. The other has guppies. Both have a filter, cleaner, and heater.

Donald started this hobby a year and a half ago. He finds that the fish and equipment are expensive, but that fish are fun to watch and raise. "Tropical fish raising is the second leading hobby in the United States," he said. "They take such little time and trouble."

MARTI MORELL, a post-graduate, has a ten-gallon tank full of black mollies, golden crescent moons, and

Students Increase Failures By Fears

"Oh no, not this question. I didn't go over this very well. What will I do? I'll fail for sure now." How many times have these thoughts run through students' minds while taking a test?

Students find themselves doing poorly on tests, because their minds are filled with fears of failure, of letting their parents down, or of losing standing among friends.

If fear does have a hold on students' minds, they are unable to think; and they are more apt to fail, which is the very thing they fear. One way to get rid of these fears is to crowd them out by thinking other thoughts.

The student must make up his own mind as to what needs to be done, and then he must do it. He will achieve self-confidence by knowing the subject well, so the study he does previous to a test should be carefully planned. The student should also plan beforehand how he is going to take a test and then let nothing interfere.

While taking a test, a student should concentrate on one question at a time, reading it carefully before looking for tricky statements. On an essay test a student should plan carefully what he intends to write, budgeting enough time for each question.

When he is finished a student should give the test a final reading, correcting grammar, spelling, and punctuation. This will rid the test of careless errors and improve the grade. Students who have fears of failures should keep these points in mind; but the most important thing to remember is to have a clear mind to think through each problem.

Council To View Film

"The Case of Officer Hall I. Brand," a movie about traffic safety will be shown at the Safety Council meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 182. The film is being furnished by the Safety Council of the Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Mr. Ivan A. Martin.

Any interested student may come to this meeting as well as the regular Safety Council representatives.

COLONIAL Restaurant
E-2000

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818
CALHOUN
ST.

818
CALHOUN
ST.

New Deuterium Gas To Generate Power For Future Energy

One can imagine himself 500 years in the future, nestled cozily before a warm fire, watching his meal being cooked over it. That fire is also the only source of heat and light for his family. The coal mines are empty, the oil fields are milked dry, every useful river is harnessed by power dams, the desert consists of solar generators, and we still need more power.

This is a plausible situation if our resources continue to be used at their present pace. Man could go back from where he started. Electricity could be a luxury, and the good things of life could be only for the very rich.

A number of scientists all over the world have begun research on this power resource problem. This program is aimed at developing a new method of generating power that is so plentiful it will last practically forever.

THE ATOMIC ENERGY Commission has named their program Project Sherwood. Laboratories engaging in this research are located at Los Alamos, Oak Ridge, the University of California, Princeton University, and several other places. The scientists in all of these laboratories know in a general way just what method should be used in generating this new power. They also know what the fuel must be.

But they don't know how to start the combustion, and they don't know how to contain it after it has started to burn. This fuel is deuterium, or heavy hydrogen, which is in ocean water. When two atoms of deuterium combine under the proper conditions, a large amount of energy is given off.

A container of deuterium gas which has been heated to a temperature of at least a hundred million degrees is needed. At this temperature the atoms are dashing about so violently that in their collision they are likely to stick together. They then give off much energy, making the gas even hotter. This heat can now be removed and used to operate steam turbines and electrical generators. The electricity can then be used in all the many ways in which we use it.

NOBODY AT THE present time can say definitely that we will ever be able to use deuterium to generate power. The reason is that a container doesn't exist which will hold this multi-million-degree-hot gas. If such a machine could be built, no one knows if it would even work; because at the present time, everything is guesswork based on scientific fact.

It is quite certain that a fusion generator must be a very large construction. Therefore the system will be strictly for huge central power generating stations, located all over the world; and the electricity will be transmitted by wire to the individual user, where it will heat, cool, and turn the wheels of machinery.

If scientists can harness this deuterium power for future use, man won't have to worry about relieving the age of the cave-men, dependent on fire alone for warmth and light. He can continue searching for new and better means to supply the vast amount of power needed today.

Alumnus Receives Honor

Eric Hoekstra, graduate of 1961, was presented the Handbook of Chemistry and Physics at a recent assembly by Dr. Richard Conklin, professor in the Physics Department at Hanover College. This book was given by the Chemical Rubber Company to the freshman who has the highest semester average in physics.

At South, Eric was a member of the Junior Academy of Science, Service Club, and National Honor Society.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Independent DePauw University Gives Broad, Liberal Schooling

DePauw University is a co-educational school which endeavors to give its students a broad and liberal education.

These are the words which best describe DePauw. Located in Greencastle, Ind., 40 miles west of Indianapolis, the independent institution has an enrollment of approximately twenty-two hundred students.

The university is more than one century old. It was founded by frontier Methodist preachers, and in 1837 the school was named Indiana Asbury University. In that year the cornerstone was laid for the first building.

TODAY THERE ARE 18 academic buildings, six residence halls, a student union hall, an administration building, a health center, a publication building, and others for the upkeep of the school.

Besides the residence halls for student housing, 13 national social fraternities and ten sororities have houses on the campus.

DePauw is composed of the Asbury College of Liberal Arts, the School of Music, and the School of Nursing. Through these three schools, a student may specialize in art, science, business training, foreign service, home economy, journalism, library work, music, nursing, public administration, radio and television, religious education, secretarial training, and social work.

DePauw's pre-professional program offers a bachelor of arts degree which can lead to a major in dentistry, engineering, forestry, law, medical technology, medicine, and ministry.

GRADUATE WORK is also offered in the arts, teaching, and music. DePauw offers a four and five year program to prepare students for teaching. Certificates may be gained for elementary and secondary school teaching.

DePauw's nursing school is a four year program. The first two years are based on a general education with emphasis on nursing education. After those two years on campus, students take two years of professional nurses' training at the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis.

Extra-curricular activities at DePauw revolve around athletics, debate, dramatics, radio, choir and choral groups, a symphony orchestra, a concert band, a journalist program, academic and departmental clubs, religious organizations, and honorary societies.

THE UNIVERSITY offers many services for students for testing, guidance, placement, and health.

Dancers To Rehearse

In order to rehearse for the Spring Show, all participants will meet Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. If any of the girls in this group has a club meeting that night, they should be excused for rehearsal.

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP

COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Adolph's Auto Service

4220 South Clinton H-4152

KESSLER Super Market

"The Store for Quality and Personalized Service"

3102 BOWSER AVE.
Corner of Bowser at Eckart St.

21st Year in Business

Junior Sharon Bass Leads Yells, Hopes For Medical Future

If a person wants something badly enough, he has to work for it and then he will succeed, is the philosophy of Sharon Bass, junior. Sharon has proved this philosophy in many ways. As a cheerleader Sharon said, "I enjoy cheerleading very much and wish the student body would also, because then I feel there would be better student participation." Other activities Sharon enjoys are watching basketball, swimming, and ice skating.

Sharon Bass

Sharon also participates in school activities such as Assemblies Workshop, Choir, Philo; and she has earned her first service pin.

This summer Sharon would like to work at the State School to prepare herself for her future work as a physical therapist. She would also like to work at Parkview Hospital in training for her job. Although sure of her work, Sharon has not yet made up her mind as to which college she would like to attend after graduation.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Problem Teenagers Desire Acceptance, Form Normal Ideas

Every teenager has some type of problem. If a person were to meet an "unruffled" teenager he would know something was wrong. One way of summing up many teenage problems is by the saying, "I know I should, but I don't feel like it." The three "I's" in this sentence each have a different meaning. The problems of a teenager occur so often that they soon become characteristic and normal.

Many teenagers feel that they know all that there is to know. If someone tells them something, they automatically say, "I know." This doesn't mean that the teenager is being deceitful. Obviously, he does not like to admit his limitations; but he also thinks he knows more than he does. So he is bound to run into trouble when reality contradicts his ideas. This teenager has an ambitious picture of himself, and he's eager for acceptance and signs of approval. He likes to keep busy and participate in as many activities as possible.

There are also many teens that are always saying "I should." This "I should" is the voice of their conscience. These teenagers sometimes act as if they had post-hypnotic orders. They have no minds of their own and generally do things as they have always been done. The "I should" teens are fearful people who cannot cope with their drives.

Last are the "I don't feel like it" teenagers. These teens generally feel they can do what they want when they want to. Everyone does as he likes at some time or another, but these teenagers go out of their way looking for an easier way to do things. They want rights but not responsibilities. Everything they have or do is taken for granted. They never seem to appreciate the good that they always have.

3717 S. Clinton St.

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

Featuring New Fall and Winter Formals and Cocktail Dresses

K-2530

2426 S. Calhoun

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.

and

Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers

PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

McKay Electric Co.

Contractors

ELECTRIC WIRING
and FIXTURES

7671 Bluffton Road

S-4151

Young men . . . see our new

Slim Blades slacks

Now HIS Blades slacks live up to their name . . . they're slim and sharp, and have narrow 13-inch bottoms! What's more, the front and back pockets are hidden from sight. Fine face cotton gabardine or woven cheeks, sizes 29 to 36. 5.98

W&D Squire Shop, Men's Store

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street

H-1171

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

818
CALHOUN
ST.

818
CALHOUN
ST.

Principal, Senior Guidance Counselor To Lead Inquiries At Parent Session About College Finances, Examinations

Discussion To Center Around Requirements For Future Freshmen

To make information concerning the choosing and entering of college available to the parents of junior students is the purpose of the meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Mr. Jack E. Weicker, senior guidance director, will conduct the meeting.

Mr. Weicker stated that 20 years ago a student could easily enter a school such as Indiana University by simply filling out an application form and taking a few orientation tests. Testing programs such as the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, the Scholastic Aptitude Test, and the American College Testing Program were not in existence. Forced by the population explosion to become more selective, colleges in the last ten years have raised admission standards to a new high. Today testing program scores, high school records, personal character, and extra-curricular activities are all used by admission boards to determine that best candidates for acceptance.

MATERIAL ON REPORTED costs at typical colleges and a printed discussion of the College Board testing program will be distributed to all parents in attendance preceding the meeting.

Contrary to present-day opinion, all students should not plan on a college career, Mr. Weicker will discuss who does need this further education. He shall then instruct parents on the proper method of helping their college-bound sons or daughters select a college.

A segment of the program will be devoted to explaining the various scholarship and loan fund programs available at almost every school for students who require financial assistance. Commercial banks, insurance organizations, and the National Defense Educational Act all provide means of financing an education.

MR. WEICKER WILL also include a discussion on student employment in this section of the program. Many parents wonder about the advisability of working while at college and how much income can be depended on from this means.

"It is one of the purposes of the Senior Guidance Office to launch youngsters successfully into a college career, and I am hopeful that college-bound students may find considerable aid by bringing their questions to the office at any time," stated Mr. Weicker.

Following the actual presentation by Mr. Weicker, there will be a period for questions. Both Mr. Weicker and Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will be on hand to advise parents on their son's or daughter's future.

Indiana Music Club Offers Scholarships To Michigan Camp

A total of $900 in scholarships to the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich. will be offered by the Indiana Federation of Music Club as a part of its effort to encourage the study, performance, and appreciation of music.

Three partial scholarships of $300 each will be awarded to deserving high school musicians. The scholarships will be applied toward eight weeks of summer study at the camp.

ALL HIGH SCHOOL members of the National Federation of Music Club are eligible for the scholarships. Students may apply for the scholarships through their piano, voice, or any orchestral instrument training. High school students auditioning must be able to enroll for the full eight weeks at the National Music Camp.

Auditions are scheduled for Saturday in the Odeon of Jordon College of Music, Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind. Students interested in auditioning must apply by writing Mrs. Cary Cook, 3523 Balsam Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind.

Additional information concerning the auditions may be obtained from Mrs. Cook, the state president of the National Federation of Music Club.

TO PLACE SPECIAL emphasis on American music and to promote American creative talent, Music Federations of Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan will join in sponsoring a symposium at Ohio State University March 23 to 25.

Orchestral works of composers from the three states will be performed by a 60-piece orchestra. The symposium provides an opportunity for young composers to present their compositions to publishers and music critics. In Fort Wayne the Fort Wayne Morning Musicians is among Indiana's 115 music organizations which will participate in this symposium.

Seniors To Rent Gowns

Seniors wishing to rent caps and gowns must pay the $2.50 rental fee in the general office by March 30. Each invitation for graduation will cost an additional ten cents, according to Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal.

MEETING OF JUNIORS' PARENTS . . . In preparation for the annual meeting for parents of juniors on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria, Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, standing, and Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor, study a notebook containing information about colleges.—Photo by Jones

Eighty-Nine Students Practice Cheers For First Elimination

Eighty-nine students interested in becoming cheerleaders met in Room 118 on March 6 to receive a schedule and instructions from Miss Helen Puhmeyer, the cheerleading adviser. The applicants were divided into nine squads with a varsity or reserve cheerleader in charge of each.

The first squad, led by Babette Jones, varsity yell leader, consists of Claudia Adams, Annie Eldridge, Barb Fischer, Alice Fruechtenicht, Sharon Lynch, Sheila Reynolds, Connie Spencer, Linda Stanger, Sharon Thiele, and Susan Weinraub.

Sharon Carrel, varsity, will instruct Suellen Borgmann, Christine Fruechtenicht, Susan Jorgensen, Rise Prociase, Carol Uhrick, Cynthia Wallace, Susan Kay Wiedelman, Carmen Wilson, Willodean Wilson, and Sharyan Yerger.

PAMELA ASHTON, Linda Babbitt, Bonnie Callahan, Karen Franks, Jackie Heckman, Ann Henderson, Jean Holley, Nancy Loughhead, Mary Sherlock, and Cherylene Nahrwald will be under the direction of Sharon Eitman, varsity cheerleader.

Marla Habecker, varsity, will be in charge of Mary Bade, Lydia Budowski, Deborah Decker, Paul Girdner, Sheila Gehring, Sally Henderson, Bonnie McGrath, Ruth Russ, Mary Alice Truby, and Linda Weaver.

Betty Barnes, Kathy Grady, Marcia Hughes, Susan Lawry, Maria Marshall, Julia Merchant, Ann Mol, Marda Munson, Nancy Stewart, and Judith Zimmers will be in the group led by Sue Harrod, reserve.

Nancy Robinson, reserve, will instruct Patricia Bobay, Marva Evans, Martha Hoard, Roberta Hoffert, Marcia Leath, Leanna Morris, Cheryl Nadelny, Pamela Richardson, and Judith Shomo.

Sharon Bass, reserve, will be in charge of Marcia Anderson, Patricia Bailey, Kathy Branning, Jessie Frost, Carolyn Hogue, Dorothy Kessler, Patty Phelps, Julie Rhinehart, Ann Weber, and Margie Winder.

PATRICIA CASH, Elaine Edwards, B. D. Hartley, Sharon Ann Karst, Jane Kneffle, Claudia Neat, Judy Rogers, Cheryl Trulock, Mary Ann Waldrop, and Janet Wening will be instructed by Martha Dixon, reserve.

Barbara Rea, reserve, will instruct Kenneth Clauser, Jacqueline Kessler, Kathy Klas, Tricia Miller, Phyllis Pierson, Louisa Porter, Judith Putman, Susan Robinson, Paulette Schmidt, and Rosalind Wilson.

Following the practices, which will continue until April 16, the first of two eliminations will be April 17, at 3:30 p.m. in Room 118. At this elimination, candidates will try out with four other candidates in their squad.

The notification of the remaining candidates will be on the center hall bulletin board on the following Thursday. The remaining candidates will practice until the final elimination, May 15, at 3:30 p.m. in Room 118. At this elimination, candidates will

Two Graduates To Take Academy Entrance Exams

Fourth District Representative E. Ross Adair has announced that Steven E. Pohl, '61, is one of the two district candidates for the Naval Academy appointment. Before his admission to the academy, he must pass the service school's entrance examinations.

Steve was a member of National Honor Society and on the four-year honor roll.

Jeffrey S. Clark, who was graduated from South Side in 1959, is one of the 11 candidates competing for the one District appointment to the Air Force Academy. The appointment will be made after the 11 boys complete the academy physical and mental examination. The candidate scoring the highest will be granted admission to the school this July.

try out in pairs; and ten girls will be chosen, five varsity and five reserves.

THE TEN, WHICH will be chosen by the three top officers of each class and members of the faculty, will be notified by notes sent to their homes on May 17. Slacks and gym shoes will be the clothing required for both eliminations.

Any candidates absent from practices are automatically disqualified unless their absence slips are shown to their squad leaders. Candidates absent from eliminations are automatically disqualified with no exceptions.

The routine for each candidate at the first elimination will be the same. One verse of "Over Hill" will be demonstrated by all. "Now, Hey, Hey," and "We're With You Team" are the two cheers to be given. Each squad may vary in its choice of chants on which the candidates will also be judged. The try-outs this year will not emphasize extra gymnastics.

Seniors To Order Cards From Homeroom Agents

The last orders of senior name cards will be sent by the English Department to the Stylemaster Card Company tomorrow and again in about three weeks. Name cards which range in price from 85 cents to $2.45 per 100 cards, may be used in graduation announcements and for trading with other seniors.

Homeroom agents are Bill Borgmann, 182; Cindy Christman, 72; Karen Dowty, 68; Elizabeth Ellis, 8; Joanna Goble, 146; Diane Hall, S-2; Brenda Arnold, S-1; Ona Ake, 10; John Nickles, S-4; Delores Shadowens, 2; Vicki Miller, 30; Steve Pratt, 82; Dian Leath, 91; Mike Stedje, 52; Susan Hines, 75; Elaine Snow, S-5; Mike Leaman, 118; Denny Truitt, 28; and Bill Wilder, 108.

Mr. Robert Kelly, Susan Klaehn, Martha Lanning To Act At Civic

Instructor, Two Pupils Present Comedy Roles In Children's Theater

Mr. Robert Kelly, business teacher, Martha Lanning, senior and Sue Klaehn, sophomore, have been chosen to play the Joker, Carlo, Bella, and Old Woman, respectively, in the production of the Children's Theater, "Leonardo's Flying Machine," which will be presented at the Civic Playhouse on March 24 and 25. The humorous play concerns the fifteenth century efforts of Leonardo Da Vinci to put a man into space.

Sue will be the Old Woman who opposes Leonardo's efforts to make his flying machine. Sue has appeared in a previous production of the Children's Theater last January when she played the Witch of the West in the "Wizard of Oz."

At school, Sue has been active in the Assemblies Workshop and has served as publicity chairman for Meterites. She is also a Times writer.

MARTHA LANNING will be playing her first part in a Children's Theater production. As Bella, one of Leonardo's helpers, she will portray the famous inventor and painter in his effort to launch his machine. Martha is an active member of Assemblies Workshop and has been a participant in a production of Masque and Gavel. She is also a writer and columnist for the Times.

Mr. Kelly's interest in the theater dates back to 1955, his senior year at North Side. "My Best Foot Forward," the senior play of that year, gave Mr. Kelly the opportunity to play Greenie, the West Point Cadet, a role very

Gym, Dance Students To Present 'Coast To Coast' Show Tomorrow

Eleven Orators To Advance To Regional Meet

Winning at the sectional speech meet Saturday at South Side were 11 Archers. They are now entitled to advance to regionals, which will be at Elkhart High School on March 31.

Winners were Diane Hall, first, and Sue Horth, sixth in girls' extemporaneous; Phil Spray, first, Margee Terry, fourth, and Barb Nelson, sixth in original oratory; Margee Terry, first, and Patsi Dorton, third in oratorical interpretation;

Shari Busch, third in humorous; Debby Decker, third in radio; Christine Fruechtenicht, third, and Barb Nelson, fifth in poetry reading; and Diane Fredrick, fifth, and Logan Smith, sixth in dramatic interpretation.

ONLY FIVE RIBBONS were awarded in each division, but the first six participants will go on to the regional contest.

South won third place in the sweepstakes. Other winners were Howe Military, first; New Haven, second; North Side, fourth; and Central, fifth. Every person in the meet attended two preliminary rounds. He was rated either up or down, the top two speakers in each round receiving the up rating. Two downs knocked the person out of competition. Those who had not received two downs by the end of the preliminary rounds advanced to a semi-final round.

Archers who made semi-finals but failed to make finals were Martha Lanning in dramatic and Jim Bailey in boys' extemporaneous. Since only five people made the finals in each division, those who received a sixth place rating did not participate in the final round.

EACH SEMI-FINAL round had two judges. Those who competed in semi-finals and still didn't have two downs went on to the final round. Three judges rated the final rounds.

Other Archers who participated in the meet were Sally Franklin, girls' extemporaneous; Lissa Hoffman, poetry; Vicki Miller, oratorical; Pat Slater, and Marti Morell, radio; and Pam Buzzard and Pam Pansky in humorous.

Since the meet was at South, Mr. Robert Storey, sponsor of Wranglers, and Logan Smith, club president, presented the ribbons to all winners.

Music Teacher Promotes Six Pupils To Small Band

As a result of recent try-outs, six instrumentalists have been promoted to the small band, according to an announcement by Mr. Robert Drummond, director of instrumental music.

Those promoted are sophomores Dudley Wass, Doug Hansen, Mike Young, Claryn Birk, and Nita Martz; and freshman Sue Freeman. Mike Young and Nita Martz play the trumpet; Doug Hansen and Dudley Wass, the clarinet; and Claryn Birk and Sue Freeman, the flute.

The small band is composed of a group of selected musicians. It is designed to have balanced instrumentation, and is thus able to perform more difficult music.

Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong

Mrs. Alice Keegan

Lettermen, Teachers To Attend 'Football' Supper On March 23

The annual Lettermen's Banquet, "Football," will be March 23 at the Plymouth Congregational Church from 6:30 to 9 p.m. All lettermen and their parents have been invited. As is traditional, each lettermen will be the guest of a teacher.

A dinner consisting of roast beef, potatoes, beans, cole slaw, and milk or coffee, will be served by the women of the church.

Honored guests will include Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal; Mr. Lester Grile, superintendent of schools, and his wife; Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; and Mr. Ora Davis, past sponsor of the Lettermen's Club.

"FOOTBALL," The theme of the banquet, will be carried out by small goal posts and football players on each table. Behind the speakers' table will be a six-foot statue of a football player.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Reverend Armin Oldsen, religious teacher at Concordia Lutheran College. Mr. Robert Germand, head football coach, will also speak.

A South Side teacher will tell of each teacher inviting a lettermen to be his guest at the banquet. Then Tom McMahan, post graduate, will thank the teachers for inviting the lettermen.

Ten senior girls were chosen by Larry Lee, head of the serving committee, to serve at the banquet. They are Diane Fredrick, Debbie Brooke, Sharon Carrel, Susie Horth, Susie Phillips, Sue Perry, Sue Harrod, Shirlene Eitman, Mary Keegan, and Judy Merrill.

OTHER COMMITTEE chairmen are Ken Leukay, decorations; Dave Meek, invitations; and Tom McMahan, programs.

The decorations committee consists of Karl Bandemer, Chuck Parker, Dave Platz, Nate Norment, Dick Johnson, and Evert Mol.

Members of the program committee include Tom Fraxell, Jerry Scherrer, Martin Plutpe, Dave Meyer, and Bill Rastetter.

Those working on the invitations committee are Sam Carter, Steve Cook, Steve Meyers, Henry Persons, and Sid Sherry.

BOB CAMP, Ed Johnson, Tom Shine, Jim Wolfe, Don Sievert, Mike

Beltz, and Richard Koch make up the clean-up committee.

Planning the banquet menu are Dale Hilsmer, Bob Lohman, and Allen Purdy.

Aiding Larry Lee on the serving committee are Stu Schmitt, Jim Lantz, and Karl Schlademan.

Mark Hagerman is the general coordinator for the banquet; and Mr. Richard Ober, club sponsor, is the general chairman.

Students To Enter Original Materials In Writing Contest

All students at South are eligible to enter the Pegasus writing contest, which is being sponsored by The South Side Times. A first-place article will be chosen from each of the three divisions: essay or editorial, short-story, and poetry.

Entries must be submitted to Roberta Twitchell or Tamara Vyhovsky, editors, in Room 16 before 4 p.m. on April 9. No articles will be accepted after that date, and no works will be returned to the author.

Each winning writer will earn a prize of $3, and his entry will be published in the spring 1962 edition of the literary magazine. Articles will be judged by Miss Lucy Osborne and Miss Mary Graham, English instructors; Mr. James Rohrabugh, publications adviser; and the Pegasus editors.

ALL ARTICLES MUST be original, and punctuation will be disregarded. The author's name and class standing and a title must appear on every article; and each entry should be typed, if possible. There is no limit to the number of articles that each student may submit.

Although all three winning compositions will be printed in the Pegasus and will be identified as winners, every article that is entered will be eligible for publication. However, the editors reserve the right to edit all articles.

"Because there are students with writing ability who are reluctant to submit their articles to the Pegasus, I feel that the writing contest is offering them a challenge; and they can earn recognition and rewards," stated Roberta Twitchell, editor-in-chief.

"I certainly hope that these persons and others will enter the contest and will take sufficient time to write articles using the very best of their abilities," she continued.

PERSONS WHO DO not wish to enter the contest but who have articles that they wish to submit for consideration should give them to their English, foreign language, or social studies teacher before March 28. These articles need not have been written during the present semester.

The Pegasus staff includes Barbara Uhl and Janet Brenn, editorial staff; Beth Burnett and Barbara Nelson, copy staff; Bob Englehart, art editor; Ken Lowden and Steve Jones, photographers;

Sonya Flagg and Marcia Kuhn, typists; Lane Grile, circulation manager; and Sandra Farmer, Sue Harrod, Ann Henderson, Ann McCallister, Leanna Morris, Nancy Redding, Celeste Rieman, and Sharyan Yerger, circulation assistants.

Mr. John Clark To Give Cake Pointers For Vesta

Speaking at the Vesta meeting in the Greeley Room at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday will be Mr. John Clark of Scott's Bakery. Mr. Clark will bring samples of cakes decorated by Scott's and will give demonstrations of cake decorating. After the demonstration, he will answer questions.

Members of Vesta Club are still selling South Side stationery to earn money for their treasury. The stationery costs 50 cents for a package containing 25 writing sheets and 25 envelopes. Each sheet has the South Side Archer emblem in the upper left-hand corner of the paper. This stationery may be purchased from any member of Vesta Club or from Mrs. Lois Murphy, club sponsor and home-economics teacher, in Room 79 before school.

Arrangements To Emphasize National Motif

GAA Letter Members To Help By Ushering, Distributing Programs

Under the direction of Mrs. Alice Keegan and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, gym instructors, the gym and dance classes will give their annual spring show, "Coast to Coast," in the school gym, tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The dance classes will begin the program with two numbers, "Pennsylvania Polka" and "Oklahoma." Working on mats, the tumblers will then perform "Tumbling Tumbleweed."

The dance classes will portray two more interpretations, "New Orleans Presents Exercise in Disguise" and "Dollies From Dallas."

"Chicago Scooters" will be a game presented by the gym class, followed by "77 Sunset Strip," an interpretation by the modern dance group.

Two more performances by the dance classes will feature "St. Louis Blues" and "Boston Fancy." Tumblers on the trampoline will follow with their number, "From Outer Space."

THE MODERN DANCE group will next present "Calypso From Mexico," and the gym classes will give "Hoosier Schottische." The finale will feature "Back Home Again in Indiana."

GAA letter girls and GAA members will usher before the beginning of the program. Virginia Kachianian and Bella Dyson will sell tickets at the box office, and Ann Hechler and Sandra Heidrich will take tickets at the door. Dorothy Kessler and Pat Abbott will pass out the programs, while Nancy Byers and Janice Nahrwald usher on the upper level. Messengers for the evening will be Claudia Herberger and Loretta Kimmel.

Mr. Earl Sterner, Latin teacher, will head the ticket sales in the box office, and Mr. Ernest Walker, Business Department head, will make the programs. Bill Wilder and Dick Parke will be in charge of the lights and public address system, and Charlotte Powell will help with the advertising.

Frances Krandell, Diane Petznik, and Susan Mowery will serve as pianists for the dancing and the games, and Sherry Fox will play the drums for the tumbling.

In the "Chicago Scooters," which will feature scooter stunts and cage ball games, the girls will wear their regular green gym suits, with white anklets and white gym shoes.

THE FOLLOWING girls from Mrs. Alice Keegan's classes will participate: Group 1, Period 1, Lois Palmer, Rosalind Wilson, Gloria Phillips, Jackie Kessler, Doris Hesser, Karen Thompson; Group 2, Period 1, Donna Cartwright, Linda Cattehall, Kathy Butler, Carol Brooks, Carol Lake, Carol Quinn, Patricia Cash, and Katy Branning;

Group 1, Period 2, Cynthia Koch, Willodean Wilson, Anne Merkland, Connie Kumer, Marilyn Gerke, Margie Hubbard, Claudia Neat, and Nan Wallace; Group 2, Period 2, Janet Foote, Sue Haycox, Margaret Shirley, Geraldine Davis, Sandra Figg, Shirley Henson, Nancy Markin, Jessica Holmes; Group 1, Period 3, Darlene Bauer, Vicki Jobs, Joyce Bates, Vicki Mu-

(Continued on Page 3)

Seniors To Obtain 25 Assistanceships At State University

All upperclassmen who rank in the upper 10 per cent of the senior class, who have successfully passed the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, and who maintain a 78 per cent cumulative average are eligible to apply for one of the 25 Indiana University Residence Hall Assistanceships. These assistanceship applications must be filed by March 31 in the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aids, Maxwell Hall, Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind.

Other requirements include financial need stated in a confidential letter by parents, interest and ability to work with students in a library situation, willingness to learn library procedures, capacity to work 15 hours per week while carrying the required course load, and touch-typing skill with a high degree of accuracy.

Recipients of Residence Hall Library Scholarships serve as librarians in one of the seven Halls of Residence Libraries. While on duty the student circulates materials, processes books, types catalogue cards, shelves materials, and maintains order in the library. An instruction manual outlines in detail the prescribed procedures and policies.

The rate of $1.05 per hour for 15 working hours per week covers total cost of board and room in a Residence Scholarship dormitory. The work time is credited toward the student's board and housing account each semester. An interview appointment with the librarian in charge of Halls of Residence Libraries must be made by June 1 following an award of a Residence Scholarship.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINERS . . . Rehearsing for the presentation of "Leonardo's Flying Machine" at the Children's Theater. Martha Lanning, who plays Belle, standing, left, and Sue Klaehn, in the role of the Old Woman, right, pretend to be killing Mr. Robert Kelly, enacting Carlo.—Photo by Lowden similar to his part in the "Golden Fleecing," one of last fall's productions of the Civic Theater.

THE THEATER, WHICH became Mr. Kelly's avocation during his college years, has continued to interest him after his graduation. At college he played in "Pulver," "On the Town," "Teahouse of the August Moon," and "The Boyfriend." The role of Carl, the delivery boy, in "Bells Are Ringing" was his first play for the Civic Theater.

Activities Of Track Team Offer Spectator Interests

The fact that high school track meets generally enjoy a far lower attendance than football and basketball games is something of a mystery. It would be difficult to conceive of a sport with activities more adaptable to the wants of the spectator.

Although football and basketball, which must be acknowledged as the two most popular high school sports, offer their respective spectator advantages of rugged bodily contact and intricate teamwork which track is unable to match, there are a number of ways in which track is much better from a spectator's standpoint.

For one thing, since nearly all track and field events stem from natural human actions which were familiar to even the primitive caveman, track is without doubt the oldest of the modern sports.

As a natural result, a great deal of tradition has both evolved from the sport and grown with it. This tradition serves two purposes: it provides an incentive for the participant and a provision of interest for the onlooker. South Side has a tradition in track worthy of any student body's pride.

The variety offered by track and field constitutes its most important advantage. In fact, this is track's real claim to fame in appropriating adherents to the sport and is the attraction in which it transcends other sports.

From the shot-put with its typically muscular entry to the mile run which features the thin and relaxed athlete, there is a field of interest for any fan—from the casual follower to the loyal devotee.

In none of the meets in which South takes part will there be a charge for admission. This presents an obvious, yet often overlooked, advantage over most athletic events.

Although many aspects of track are highly dependent upon teamwork, even a mediocre team can be worth watching because of a few outstanding aspirants.

If Peter Snell would consent to run on an obscure track team in Scrubsville, South Dakota, their football team would understandably get less backing than their squad of thinlies. This is a quality which makes track doubly exciting: individuals as well as teams are pitted against one another.

The measurement of ability in track is entirely quantitative. A track team's score doesn't depend upon the ability or lack of ability of their opponent, as it does in most sports. This aids the fan in making an objective comparison of competitors in the race against time and distance.

In addition to the meets to occur at South Side, the Archer fan will be interested in the North Side Relays, the Sectional Meet, and the Regional Meet. All three of these major contests will take place on North's track, one of the best in the state. These meets promise to be especially interesting to the spectator, since they provide both an abundance of competition and closer scheduling than the dual meets.

School support is always, to a certain extent, a factor in a team's success. How great a factor this will be in the victories of our 1962 track team depends upon the enthusiasm of the student body.—By Larry Norman

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class March 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition Contest sponsored by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager.....Jenny Manth
Managing Editor.....Susan Smith
Copy Editors: Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Maltough, Sharyn Yarger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitchell.
News Editor: Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor: Peggy Schmidt
Editorial Editor: Bill Wilder
Boys' Sports Editor: Stuart Schmitt
Girls' Sports Editor: Janet Maltough
Make-Up Editors: Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett
Picture Editor: Betty Adams
Photographers: Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist: Leanna Morris
Business Manager.....Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager: Sue Moyer
Advertising Manager: Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager: Nancy Redding
Outside Circulation Manager: Nancy Redding
Circulation Assistants: Liz Weikert, Doris Atwood, Roberta Twitchell, Erb, Bob, Nancy Yarger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet
Faculty Adviser: James Rohrbaugh

MINOR STAFF

News Writers: David Flanigan, Ann Flückinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Schlow, Marge Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atwood, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Conner, Rosalee Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Ann Weber, Virginia Braden, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Karen Frank, Christine Fruechtel, Sharon Harby, Steve Lowden, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ruse, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Weikert, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooks, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers: Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strohlow, Debbi Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suelien Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Hord, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sally Farmer, Kay Williams, Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Smith, Vicki Suterlin, Becky Harnch, Barb Bousard, Cheryl Gray, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Robinson, Karen Frank, Sue Smith, Jennie Braden, Marlene Johnson, Karen Frank, Dian Bright, Ruth Ruse, Julie Rinehart, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikert, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McGinnis, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGlinchey, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Nancy Mills, Sharon Karst, Myra Robinson, Doris Atwood, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Kettler, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yarger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bate, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladle, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janet Spruncker, Alice Habegger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooks, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers: Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruechtel, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stanley, Sue Hord, Sue Elwood, Kay Ladig, Paul Mittelstadt, Steve Lowden, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Board, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Kristyne Kriegerow, Diane Seifert.
Copy Readers: Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Combsman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Jane Dinius, Karen Snavely, Marge Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooks, Karen Frank.
Boys' Sports Writers: Bill Kleifgen, Bob Lehniger, Steven Lowden, Joe Foto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowden.
Ad Solicitors: Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Robinson, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Karen Hines, Mary Brown, Judy Shadle, Barb Bradford, Julie Venechewander, Karen Flinck, Nancy Spruncker, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Geris, Kay Fala, Harriet Orstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Moske, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janice Spruncker, Karen Frank.
Typists: Jennie Braden, Martha Board, Rosalee Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Bate.
Cartoonists: Julie Wadlington, Judy Godman, Diane Orms, Don Morris, Bob Englehart, Ray Juncal.
Classroom News Editor: Celeste Rienen
Point Recorder: Steve Leitz
Mailing Manager: Vicki Adams
Auditor: Kristyne Kriegerow
Copy Retainer: Allen Purdy
Exchange Editor: Marcia Kuhn
Credit Manager: Charlotte Powell
Assistant Credit Manager: Sonya Plazek
Librarian: Sonya Plazek
Paper Dissiminator: Chuck Bodenborn

St. Patrick's Day Proffers Occasion For Festive Mood

There was an old saying in the Emerald Isle, "St. Patrick's day, we'll all be gay," and this is certainly true not only for the Irish but for all Americans.

On March 17, it has become an old American custom to wear something green—perhaps a blouse, tie, or socks—to honor Patrick, Ireland's patron saint.

During this festive mood, the houses and halls are gaily decorated with flags, dolls, clay pipes, harps, and of course shamrocks.

Since the shamrock plays such an important part, annually tons of shamrock plants, with "a bit of the old soil clinging to them," are flown across the Atlantic for March 17.

Ireland's patron saint was supposed to have first introduced the shamrock as well as Christianity to the pagans. Holding the Shamrock aloft and showing the three leaves growing on one stem, he demonstrated the mystery of the Trinity. Thus the pagans came to believe and since that time the shamrock has been the national emblem of Ireland.

On this day reserved for the Irish, they have parades from one coast to the other. The most famous is perhaps the one in New York with St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue being the central point of this observance.

For many blocks, this famous street is packed. There are bands, with pipers playing the old Irish tunes; regiments of soldiers; mounted police; and the various Irish organizations. This is one of New York's attractions.

As the various emblems like the shillelah and shamrock are again brought out of storage, St. Patrick's Day is celebrated on the only day set aside for the Irish, March 17.

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Larry Lee... age, 17... hair, black... eyes, brown... height, five feet, nine inches... course, college... favorites: food, filets... color, Kelly green... fad, twisting... sport, cross country, track... subject, English... pastime, visiting with friends... TV show, "Candid Camera"... record, "Exodus"... singers, Mike Carter, Kingston Trio... actor and actress, Dick the Bruiser, Elizabeth Taylor... book, "Exodus"... future plans, law... pet peeve, shirt tails that won't stay in.

Tamara Vyhovsky... age, 18... hair, light brown... eyes, hazel... height, five feet, seven inches... course, college... favorites: food, shrimp... color, blue... fad, plated skirts... sport, skating... subject, chemistry... pastime, reading... TV show, "Gunsmoke"... record, "A Summer Place"... singer, Pat Boone... actress, Natalie Wood... book, "War and Peace"... future plans, college... pet peeve, people that make snap decisions.

Ken Leakey... age, 17... hair, brown... eyes, blue... height, six feet, two inches... course, college... favorites: food, T-bone steak... color, blue... fad, doing the twist... sport, basketball... subjects, Spanish, English... pastime, basketball... activity, Lettermen's Club... TV show, "Wide World of Sports"... record, "The Twist"... singer, Chubby Checker... actor, Alan Ladd... book, "The Count of Monte Cristo"... future plans, college... pet peeve, trying to study with the TV blaring.

Mary Schilling... age, 18... hair, brown... eyes, blue... height, five feet, two inches... course, college... favorites: food, steak... color, blue... fad, kilts... sport, swimming... subject, economics... pastime, basketball games... activity, Times... TV show, "Dr. Kildare"... record, "Town without Pity"... singer, Johnny Mathis... actress, Sandra Dee... book, "Gone With the Wind"... future plans, college... pet peeve, the locker room.

Bill Branstrator... age, 17... hair, brown... eyes, blue... height, five feet, ten inches... course, college... favorites: food, pizza... color, metallic blue... fad, spending money... sport, football... subject, chemistry... pastime, a New Haven girl... activities, Hi-Y, DeMolay... TV show, "Ben Casey"... record, "The Twist"... singer, Johnny Mathis... actor, John Wayne... book, "Quo Vadis"... future plans, college... pet peeve, telephone calls.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Engaged are Judith Schaffer, '68, and Roger Bruck, '68. Judy was graduated from International Business College and is employed by North American Van Lines, Inc. Roger is attending Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind. The wedding will be June 9.

Serving on committees for the annual Indiana University Sing recently performed on the Indiana University campus were Judy Robinson, '60, and Jody Reiff, '61.

Recently married were Judith Hauser, Columbia City, and Joseph Roth, '67. Judy graduated from Ravens-Croft Beauty College. Joseph is a graduate of Purdue University and an apprentice brick layer.

Sue Pfeifer, '61, has pledged Delta Gamma Social sorority at Purdue University where she is majoring in home economics.

Planning a summer wedding are Mary Lou Treese, '61, and John Klopfenstein, '61. Mary is employed by the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. John is employed by Wayne Rubber and Hydraulics.

Kay Huffman, '60, and Pam Stech, '60 recently received their caps at a special capping ceremony at Indiana Central College. The caps signify that the girls have completed their first semester of work in the nursing program.

Hoards Haze Harried . . .

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

South took State in '58. Who'll come through in '62?

This Saturday evening will mark the season's official end of "Hoosier Hysteria." Good luck to all those still in contention for the coveted crown, and congratulations to the winner. While we're on the subject of basketball, congratulations are in order for Kenny Leakey and Dale Hilsmer, who were named to the All-City basketball squad. Receiving honorable mention were Gary Probst and Mart Platupe.

Also, at its end is the "speech meet season." No telling what might have happened if it had lasted longer. At the recent Peru meet, not only was the school evacuated when the fire alarm sounded and the fire trucks came; but also several members came home a few cents poorer as a result of paying for parking tickets.

Pam Punskey, looking lovely in Bob Wasson's hat, must have made a good impression on the Peru police force because she only had to pay for one of her tickets, while Bob had to pay for both of his. You know, the firemen never did find a fire! Oh! The trials and tribulations of a speech coach!

BY THE WAY, HAVE you noticed that on two speech meet week ends, Fort Wayne has had two quite sizeable fires? Hmmm. A perfect alibi.

Congratulations to the members of the National Honor Society, who were tagged last Tuesday. How did it feel to be first, Dave Flanigan?

Congrats also to Karen Ponder and Phil Spray who have placed first in the Wranglers dramatic and original oratory contests, respectively.

WHY SHOULD Sue Horth, Lissa Hoffman, Caron Fine, Charlotte Powell, Karen Simmons, H. Persons, Bill Kleifgen, Steve Pratt, and Jeff Roth all be wearing sun glasses around school?

1. They are trying to avoid a glare. 2. Assistant director Logan Smith has ordered them to travel incognito as the stars of the senior play.

They're not the only theater personalities around. Martha Lanning and Sue Kleish have been cast in the Children's Theater Production of "Leonardo's Flying Machine."

Fast! Jani, wake up! Poor Jani Brenn has a terrible habit of falling asleep while taking notes in class. We've heard of sleepwalking and sleepwalking, but sleepwriting? This is ridiculous!

Some people will do anything for attention, won't they, Nancy Lougheed and Judy Rogers? The school bus is

Small Snaps

This girl is in her sophomore year. She helps with Assemblies Workshop here.

"Hey, Baby" is her favorite tune; She likes to hear Johnny Mathis croon.

In her hair she likes to wear bows. Dancing to modern jazz she too knows.

Pizza is a favorite food; She also thinks butterscotch sundaes are good.

She's in the Meterite organization. Baby sitting's her occupation.

When she leaves South Side High, At a secretarial school she'll apply. The picture which you now do see Was taken when Miss Sunbeam was she.

If her name you cannot get, The ad section is your best bet.

Live Like Movie Stars

John Kennedys Invite Millions To Help 'Restore' White House

By Sandy Thorn

To say that the John Fitzgerald Kennedy family is in the public eye more than any other family residing in the White House is indeed an understatement. The Kennedys have taken the country "by storm"—or so to speak. Hardly a day passes without the appearance of either Jack or Jackie on the television set or in the newspaper.

If Mommy and Daddy are too busy, little Caroline charms photographers with her precious smile, blonde hair, and play. On special occasions, 14-month-old John Jr. even enters the family picture. He, too, charmed photographers when he celebrated his first birthday. The two White House releases included the one picture where little John was in his mother's arms; and the other showed him playing with a small, colorful rooster toy.

The headline "From Shirley Temple to Caroline Kennedy—America Falls in Love Again!" appeared on the March cover of "Photoplay" magazine along with headlines about Sammy Davis, Jr. and Liz and Eddie.

Sandy Thorn

Jackie graced the cover holding Caroline. Then on the inside, Caroline was compared to Shirley Temple.

This wasn't the first time that Jackie was featured on the cover. She appeared earlier in the year. At that time, the editors, apparently feeling that it was necessary, explained why Mrs. Kennedy was deserving of the publicity. Stories have appeared in every issue of Photoplay since.

SINCE THE beginning of 1962, stories have been written about "Did Jackie Throw Frankie's Clan Out of The White House" and "Do The Kennedys Twist At The White House." Peter Lawford, who for a long time received little publicity, now appears in practically every issue—and in at least one of the pictures his brother-in-law or Jackie appears too.

Mr. President receives his share of the magazine coverage also. He appears on the latest cover of "Gentlemen's Quarterly," a magazine dealing with the latest in men's fashions. He was wearing a trimly tailored dark grey suit. The magazine said about the picture, "The President has inspired a new style trend, as the two-button suit will testify. The President's shoulders are broad; he needs a minimum of shoulder padding. Since he wears a 40 jacket but has a 33 waist, some waist suppression is inevitable."

Mrs. Kennedy has been quoted as saying that she believes the First Family should be a part of the American scene. They should share their experiences with the country. She is doing exactly that. The First Lady and her husband are "just another American family" rather than the President's family which is secluded in the White House.

To further encourage ideas, Mrs. Kennedy became the first housewife in the nation to take over 45 million people through her house. The housewife—the First Lady—escorted Charles Collingwood and CBS viewers through the residence at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. And as an added attraction, the American public met her husband, who incidentally wasn't drying dishes in the kitchen.

JACKIE DID A marvelous job on the hour-tour. She went through the White House telling of how she and her advisory committee have redecorated the White House. She presented some not-so-presentable rooms, but all the time she made her point in her more-than-charming way. She rattled through names as if she were

Big-Mouthed Volume, Beatrice, Relates Occurrences At Library

The library—an establishment devoted to studying and furthering one's education. That which is studied and the education which is furthered, however, does not always deal with school work! This is the true story of a night at the library as told by Beatrice, the Big-Mouthed Book.

Well, folks, the first brilliant people to cross over the portals were Sue Moyer, Dale Hilsmer, Jane Augspurger, and Ken Leakey. They looked as if they were really going to work. Hah! Maybe they were going to do some work, but I sure don't know at what!

Next I saw Honey-K Martindale and John Addington slowly approaching. They were very determined to study and were soon writing furiously. However, as I gazed down upon their papers, I saw that they were writing notes to each other. Such hard work!

JUDY EVANS and Bev Figel arrived soon afterwards, and sure enough Dave Wallace and Mike Roach (C.C., '61) nonchalantly waddled in five minutes later. They all settled down to do some serious studying; but, of course, they soon ended up studying each other.

Meanwhile, Pat Bobay, Tom Shaefter ('61), Marian Johnson, Rick Bear, Judy Schumm, and Dave Eaton had strolled in. The girls seemed to be feeling quite exuberant; and after chasing each other around the library, they began to dance on the tables. It took quite a while, but the boys soon restrained them and dragged them out.

Jane Ladig, Bill Kleifgen, Kaye Gall, and Bob Lohman waited in, sat down, and threw open their books. However, because Bill had to remind everyone that he was queen (as was shown in the Times' January 12 issue), he began modeling for Jane and Kaye.

acquainted with every President from Washington and Lincoln on; and to her every First Lady, particularly Dolly Madison, was important.

She proudly told of the various contributions from each First Lady. At one time, she told of Mrs. Eisenhower's china and of her own glasses, which she described as "simple, but elegant." And, in her own modest way, she overlooked the fact that she herself is doing more than any other First Lady in restoring and improving the White House.

She simply revealed in one room that she and Jack hadn't changed the room with the exception of painting it white, but as she talked of her committee and her studies of the various pieces, the interested viewers realized that even the white paint was important because Jackie wanted this.

At one time when she and Collingwood moved from the Red Room to the Blue Room, Collingwood said (for no other reason than he needed to make conversation), "Oh, this has a very different feeling from the Red Room." Jackie replied without hesitating, "Yes. It's blue."

THUS, CONTROVERSY enters. Some people enjoy the movie-like atmosphere around the President's family; others long for the "good old days" when the President was in the picture but the family remained in the background. However, one must consider the difference in families and the difference in social activities.

In comparison to past Presidents, Kennedy is young. Jackie is also young—as is their family. In previous years, grandchildren ran on the White House lawn, but now Caroline and John Jr. (when he reaches the "running" age) add to the perfect picture. Certainly Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have a completely different set of friends, as well as many different interests.

The American public has a habit (and all habits aren't bad) of placing another family on a pedestal and worshipping them. Actually, if the common family were to copy some of the Kennedy traits, they would emerge as better citizens. The Kennedys have tremendous cultural interests—and not just for the sake of having cultural interests.

MRS. KENNEDY HAS certainly set the trend in hair styles and clothes. She is a typical, modern American wife. She remains simple. During her recent television escorting appearance, she appeared in a simple outfit and low-heeled shoes. For others, this would have been the time to put on the flashy formal, the dangling earrings, the spike heels. Instead, Mrs. Kennedy appeared very comfortable and ready to take her guests through her home. Thus, the viewers were comfortable and ready to accept what she had to say.

Jack is also common. He began his term by saying, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but rather what you can do for your country." He himself is a walking advertisement of this. He did this before he was President and he is now "doing" for his country.

It would be difficult for the First Family to stay out of the picture. However, the Kennedys have accepted the challenge and have added a fresh start with zest when dealing with the public. To them, the American people are important. Likewise, the Kennedys become important to the American people.

They have received more publicity than other First Families—but they deserve it. They should not be ridiculed when their picture appears in the newspapers or on magazine covers—there is a deeper reason why it appears. They are in the Hollywood lights—but they are also the First Family. They are to be respected.

Big-Mouthed Volume, Beatrice, Relates Occurrences At Library

At that, Bob sweetly knocked him out. Then Dian Leath and Fred Locke ('61) appeared and quickly apprehended "Roaring Robert."

SUSIE KNOX AND Dave Fishbaugh transported Bill out on a stretcher. Meanwhile, Jane and Kaye studied quietly. After all, they are used to such goings on with Bob and Bill!

Home from college, Dick Fletemeyer (Illinois) and Bill Edwards (Ball State) came down to re-acquaint themselves with the old grounds. With them were Linda Seibel and Sally Newell, who were carrying the boys' books. Such gallantry! Oh well, the boys aren't home all the time.

The next group that I noticed was composed of Barb Bussard, Carl Hike, Sue Smith, and Ken Lowden. They were sitting at a far table intelligently blowing huge bubbles with their grape bubble gum. This continued until Liz Ellis and Ron Heger ('61) walked by and Ron popped one of Carl's bubbles so that it spread all over his face. Beautiful!

WHEN SID SHERAY and Judy Gill (B.L.) arrived, Sid immediately plopped Judy down with Sue Perry and Martha Dixon. Then he joined Tom Wright and Karl Bandemer, and the three of them ran around the library to keep in shape for track. That was okay; but when Sid began to throw books as if they were shot-puts, the commotion was put to an end.

Next a pack of serious seniors, Barb Spiers, Mike Stedre, Diane Hall, and Don Sievert, came in; and believe it or not, they actually began to study! I'll bet those were really enriching, eh, brains?

Ah well, another hard night is now over. Everyone is gone, but they will be back tomorrow. Have pity on me!

Tumblers To Perform At Spring Show In 'Tumbleweed,' 'Space' Presentations

Girls To Demonstrate Cradles, Mule Kicks On Mats, Trampoline

"Tumbling Tumbleweed" and "From Outer Space," the themes of the Advanced Tumblers' performance, will highlight the Spring Show, "Coast To Coast" tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the main gymnasium.

In their presentation of "Tumbling Tumbleweed," the girls will be attired in two-piece leotards of red, green, and gold. The group will open in back rolls and forward rolls. As the girls travel back and forth across the floor, they will show a variety of fish flops, cartwheels, and headstands.

Continuing the program, the girls will perform roundoffs, cartwheel flips, head flips on mats, and chair stunts. The chair stunts, headstands, tip-ups, shoulder-backs, and seat-floors will be presented by three girls.

After the chair stunts, individual specialties will be shown. Six girls will perform chest-chin balances and ear-shoulder stands. Jenny Slater, senior, will do a folded-leg headstand. Front and back chest rolls will be performed by three girls at a time. Diane Nordblom, Roberta Hofherr, and Virginia Rose will do walk and turn splits.

JENNY AND ROBERTA will walk on hands and will present inside-outs. Virginia will join them to do a forearm stand. Jenny and Roberta will do head slides and turns. Roberta will remain on the floor while Diana and Virginia accompany her for front and back walk-overs.

Jenny will end the specialties by performing a back roll into a headstand. The group will enter again and perform head touches to the mat from the knee to a no-handed back-bend. Monkey walks, monkey gallops, inside-outs, bear turns, and a group pyramid will end their performance. During the tumbling act Sherry Fox will play on the drums.

For the trampoline act, "From Outer Space," Margie Long will begin

TUMBLING TEN . . . Executing one of the pyramids in their routine for the Spring Show, tumblers are left to right, bottom, Diane Nordblom, Roberta Hofherr, Sharon Karst, Margie Long, Bonnie Post, Toni Sorensen, Virginia Rose, on the top row, Jenny Slater, Virginia Porter, top, Lydia Budowski.—Photo by Jones

by attempting a high jump on feet, a straddle jump, and a ballet drop. A knee drop, foot slap, and back drop will be done by Diana Nordblom.

Sharon Karst will perform a seat drop, one-half twist to back drop, and a forward flip to seat drop. Louise Porter will present a mule kick, knee flip forward, and a seat drop to front drop. A backdrop, knee clasp, and front drop will be attempted by Lydia Budowski.

ROBERTA HOFHERR will perform a seat drop, one-half twist sideward to a front drop, one-half turntable, and back somersault. A back-drop, forward somersault to back-drop, back-drop to front-drop, pike jump, full turntable, and a one-and-a-forth forward somersault will be attempted by Toni Sorensen.

Virginia Rose will do a knee-drop, seat-drop, front-drop, back-drop, one-half twist to front-drop, swan and jackknife. Jenny Slater will do a cradle, backward somersault to seat-drop, full twist to front somersault, and swivel hips. Knee-drop to set-drop, backover to feet, and forward somersault to feet will be attempted by Bonnie Post.

The tumblers, under the direction of Mrs. Alice Keegan, physical education instructor, have been learning various stunts since early November when the group was organized. After several try-outs, the ten girls picked for the group are Margie Long, Diana Nordblom, Sharon Karst, Louise Porter, Lydia Budowski, Roberta Hofherr, Toni Sorensen, Virginia Rose, Jenny Slater, and Bonnie Post.

Television Programs In Month Of March To Concern History

March will be the scene of many interesting and educational television programs. On Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Channel 15 will present "Accent" featuring "The Challenge," the story of the duel fought between Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr.

"Kidnapped," starring Freddie Bartholomew and Warren Baxter, will be spotlighted on "Sunday TV Theater" at 3 p.m. on Channel 33. At 6 p.m., on Channel 15, "Twentieth Century" will present "The Women Get the Vote," a historical portrait of a Nineteenth Century woman struggling for legal recognition of her rights.

A discussion of foreign trade, presented in co-operation with the League of Women Voters, will be introduced on "Searchlight" at 6 p.m. on March 25 on Channel 33. At 6 p.m., "Twentieth Century" will show "Get the Graf Spee," an account of the sinking of the German submarine in the Montevideo harbor.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

THE FOURTH SHADOW

4301 S. Hanna
Open After 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday
COFFEE HOUSE DANCE LOUNGE
Thursday, March 15—"Cris-Cross and the Cruisers"
Vocalist: Ron McKee
Friday, March 16—"The Clefts"
LIVE ENTERTAINMENT EACH EVENING
Cover Charge: 50c Monday-Thursday; $1 Friday and Saturday

ALLEN DAIRY

MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

McDonald's
ALL AMERICAN MEAL
MILK SHAKES...20¢
FRENCH FRIES...10¢
HAMBURGERS...15¢
ALL FOR 45¢
DRIVE-INS
3-LOCATIONS-3

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison
SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!

Five Indiana Universities Plan High School Science Institutes

One hundred fifty-one colleges, universities, and research organizations have announced programs offering opportunities for science training for high ability high school students during the summer of 1962. Approximately seven thousand five hundred students in the nation will take part in the program, co-sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Qualifications for these programs will be based on scholastic ability, science motivation, and the completion of specified high school courses in science and mathematics. Most of the applicants are expected to be juniors, though a limited number of sophomores and seniors will be accepted. Costs of the instruction and some of the students' expenses are paid by the National Science Foundation.

FIVE INDIANA universities will take part in the program dealing with

Thursday, March 15
Biology Experimenters, Room 91, 3:30 p.m.
Math Section, Room 74, 3:30 p.m.
GAA rehearsal, boys' gym, 3:30 p.m.

Friday, March 16
Girls' Physical Education Department Spring Show, 3 p.m., main gymnasium.

Saturday, March 17
State Basketball Tournament

Monday, March 19
Wranglers, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Hi-Y, YMCA, 7 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA softball, girls' gym, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, March 20
Camera Club, Room 70, 3:30 p.m.
Girls' Rifle Club, range, 3:30 p.m.
Societas Latina, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Botany Section, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, March 21
Vesta Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.
Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.
Chemistry, Room 4, 3:30 p.m.

various sciences. Following are summaries of each program offered in Indiana:

Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., will conduct a seven-week workshop for juniors in chemistry, mathematics, or physics. The program requires that the participant be able to commute to the university each day. Applicants should forward inquiries to Dr. William H. Bessey, Department of Physics.

Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., offers two separate programs. A multiple sciences program that includes research as well as classroom work. It is available from June 17 to August 10 to juniors. Applicants should contact Professor Paul E. Klinge, co-ordinator for School Science, for further information.

Also offered by Indiana is a geology program to be conducted at a field station in Montana. This program is devoted entirely to research and is available to juniors only. Applications should be addressed to Dr. John B. Patton, Department of Geology.

MANCHESTER COLLEGE of North Manchester, Ind., offers an eight-week chemistry program to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Interested persons should write to Dr. Harry R. Weimer, Department of Chemistry.

Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind., will offer a program of life sciences. The eight-week course includes research and is open to juniors. Letters should be directed to Dr. R. C. Dehson, Department of Entomology.

The University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind., will conduct a program of mathematics for seven weeks. The program is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Thomas Thieme To Represent South Side As Junior Rotarian

Thomas Thieme, post-graduate, has been chosen by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, to attend meetings of the Fort Wayne Rotary Club as South Side's Junior Rotarian for March. Each Monday he is to be the luncheon guest of the Rotary Club at the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint students with the principles

Tom states, "I am very happy at being chosen for this opportunity to represent South Side as Junior Rotarian."

In the past, Tom has performed in two of our annual talent shows. He plays the guitar and is a member of two private bands, the Cris-Cross-Cruisers and the Thunder Men. His favorite hobbies include playing the guitar and piano, and collecting guitar recordings. Tom prefers water sports to any other activities.

For the future, Tom plans to attend Indiana University to study to become a sociology teacher. At present, Tom is attending Indiana University Extension.

Tom Thieme

Students To Skate For 'Tops On Ice'

Archers Barbara Stevens, Christine Fruechtenicht, and Steve Lyst will participate in the ice show, "Tops on Ice," at 2 p.m. on April 8 at the Allen County Memorial Coliseum. The show is a project of the Fort Wayne Ice Skating Club.

Tickets costing $2, $1.50, and $1 for the performance may be obtained from members of the Fort Wayne Ice Skating Club or by writing "Tops on Ice," Allen County Memorial Coliseum, 4000 Parnell Avenue, Fort Wayne, Ind. There are no reserved seats.

"Around the World," the theme of the ice show, is under the chairmanship of Mr. Walter Lupke. The music and costumes of the ice show will represent six nations of the world. The show will consist of 200 students and adults of Fort Wayne. Featured at the show will be guest skaters of national prominence.

Girls To Present Annual Show

(Continued from Page 1)

sure, Judy Shono, Mary Stults, Pat Sharpin, Mary Ann Waldrop, Sherry Strawser, Sue Robinson, Carol Martin, Geraldine Fugate, Cheryl Beard, Diane Fouls, Jerry Fugot, and Cheri Spangle; GROUP 2, PERIOD 3, Suzi Knox, Carolyn Mielke, Janet Miller, Candy Greiner, Valentina Harabosky, Kitty Fay, and Joleen Crumrine.

The following girls from Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong's gym classes will also take part in the games: Period 4, Group 1, Vicki Culp, Kay Crozier, Linda Churchward, Julia Merchant, Janice Bates, Darlene Richard, Christine Reid, Diane Aiken, Helen Dandridge, and Elaine Laisure;

Period 4, Group 2, Sharon Barker, Sally Byers, Marcelle McMillan, Sandy Clouse, Linda Metzger, Cheri Nadolny, Sylvia Ehrman, and Sylvia Zielke;

Period 6, Group 1, Beva Dougherty, Sandy Burton, Louisa Porter, Laurel Skinner, Mary Jane Rice, Mary Marker, Judith Putman, Cheryl Trulock, Edith Burgess, Suzette Glass, Sherry Fox, Donna Wikel, Carol Smith, Betty Barnes, and Linda Freiburger;

Period 6, Group 2, Carol Channell, Kathy Wyss, Janis Pfeuger, Carol Riley, Pauline Gomez, Anita Downing, Pam Richardson, Sue Eme, and Sharon LeFever;

PERIOD 7, GROUP 1, Sandra Reed, Laura Graham, Elizabeth Breedlove, Karen Dimmick, Sue Sales, Paulette Christman, Georgianna Ray, Barbara Galloway, Marianne Wickliffe, and Cheryl Johnson;

Period 7, Group 2, Jo Ellen Good, Phyllis Bixby, Jean Ferris, Linda Lowery, Sharon Lynch, Judy Preston, Jo Ann Richter, Darlene Neireiter, Pat Miller, Donna Brandenburger, Sue Eversman, Sandra Meyer, Anna Dekker, Bonnie Callahan, and Diana Tyler;

The girls who will be in the "Hoosier Schottische" will wear summer dresses and white anklets. Those participating from Mrs. Alice Keegan's gym classes are as follows:

Period 1, Group 1, Carol Emerick, Juanita Elzey, Liz Weikart, Julie Rhinehart, Bev Planigan, and Carol Orniston;

Period 1, Group 2, Donna Cartwright, Linda Gatchell, Bonnie Post, Patty Van Patten, Rosemary Reidenback, Margo Betz, Wyann McMillan, Estela Martin, Cheryl Brady, and Sue Boylan;

PERIOD 2, GROUP 1, Ann Weber, Janis Sprunger, Miriam Schachter, Harriet Ochstein, Nan Wallace, Margie Hubbard, Mary Sherlock, Marilyn Gerke, Judy Perdue, Jackie Heckman, Mary Ann Roush, Paula Kline, Linda Grimmer, Jackie Figel, Julie Rhinehart, Liz Weikart, Maxine Hecht, Jennel Jacks, Sandra Gentile, Sue Gimmell, Sandy Orniston, Donna Ostrom, Sandy Channess, and Sharon Davis;

Period 2, Group 2, Lynelle Dill, Mar-

COLONIAL Restaurant
E-2000

Mark's CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282
This week's Small Snaps is Londa Rabbitt.

For March Only
25
WALLET SIZE PRINTS
99c
On Double-Weight Paper
3818 S. Calhoun

Hutner's Paris
RUDISILL CENTER • DOWNTOWN • NORTHCREST
Rudisill Center Only
Shop Friday Night Until 9

As seen in seventeen

Look what's clicking . . .
Twosome in Ticking!

Look like a living doll in striped ticking from head to foot . . . it's the teen-age fashion scoop of the year! Carefree Sneaker Dress in red or navy stripe, sizes 7 to 15 . . . matching Denim-mites to keep you on your toes. Real wild, real wonderful! Be first to go on a ticking kick!

Sneaker Dress, $11.98      Denim-mites, $3.99
Hutner's Paris, Rudisill Center Only

Cindermen To Open Track Season Against Culver Thinlies Tomorrow

Team Favored To Repeat Win; Foes Lack Strength In Sprints

Opening their 1962 track season tomorrow evening at the Culver Military Academy, the cindermen have high hopes of starting in the direction of another unbeaten campaign. After practicing nearly four weeks, Coach Bob Gernand's squad is ready for the test, in which it is favored to win.

Culver has already begun its track season, the most recent meet being with North Side of Fort Wayne in which the Redskins downed the Cadets by a 58 1/2-50 1/2 count.

Last spring South's harriers defeated the Cadets by a 57 1/3-42 2/3 score, a meet in which the Archers dominated everything but the field events. Although both squads were hit by graduation, Culver will probably feel it the most tomorrow evening.

CULVER'S LONE stand-out from the 1961 squad is Bill Borkenstein, who has been a great asset for Culver over the hurdles. In last week's meet against North, the native Fort Wayneer topped both hurdle events in respectable times, .61 for the 45-yard high and .59 for the 45-yard lows.

Since the departure of Nate Norment who is presently college-bound (Ball State), the Archers will be weaker in the hurdles. However, Senior Jon vanOosten, along with Juniors Mike Tomkinson and Dave Platz, should give Borkenstein some good competition.

The Cadets are rather weak in the sprints and distances, a fact which should spell out a big victory for the Archers. In the dashes South's veteran cindermen Karl Bandemer and Bob Lohman or Rick Werling should provide a winnig gone-two punch over Culver's top sprinter Swennumson.

However, Lohman has been working out for only two weeks; and Swennumson might break up the South combination. Bandemer and Duff shared the 100 and 220-yard victories last year for South in much better times than were recorded in the North-Culver meet last Friday.

RANSBURG WON THE 40-yard dash for North in 4.6, followed by Swennumson, who came back in the furlong and nipped North's Yoder in a fair .25.7 clocking. Bandemer is presently in excellent shape and Coach Gernand might very well run him in the quarter and the 220 rather than both dashes.

Bandemer will be concentrating on the quarter this year and will run the 100 when needed. Tomorrow's race might give some indication of his potential in the 440.

Along with Bandemer in the 440-yarder will be Karl Schladenman, Tom Frazell or Tom Shine in all probability, with Dale Hilsmer and Evert Mol as possibilities. Regardless of which runners Coach Gernand uses, South should be easy victors. Bill Pool of North posted the winning time last week in a .51.2 clocking, Culver's Gretzinger tying for second in the event.

IN THE DISTANCES South will be minus Al Rainbolt; but on the other hand, Culver will be without their stand-out distanceman, Jim Tucker. Last year's meet gave the fans quite

Cindermen To Face 14 Teams In Meets

| Date  | Teams                   | Place                            |
|-------|-------------------------|----------------------------------|
| March |                         |                                  |
| 16    | Culver..... (indoor)    | Culver (Varsity and Reserve)     |
| April |                         |                                  |
| 3     | Elmhurst.....           | here (Varsity and Reserve)       |
| 4     | Elkhart.....            | here (Varsity and Reserve)       |
| 9     | Kokomo.....             | Kokomo (Varsity and Reserve)     |
| 13    | Central, North, C.C.... | North (Varsity)                  |
| 17    | C.C.....                | C.C. (Varsity and Reserve)       |
| 21    | North Side Relays....   | North (Varsity)                  |
| 24    | Muncie Central.....     | Muncie (Varsity and Reserve)     |
| 28    | Delphi Relays.....      | (Varsity)                        |
| 30    | Bishop Luers.....       | here (Varsity and Reserve)       |
| May   |                         |                                  |
| 3     | Central.....            | Central (Varsity and Reserve)    |
| 5     | Lima Relays.....        | (Varsity)                        |
| 11    | Sectional.....          | North Side (Varsity)             |
| 15    | North Side.....         | North Side (Reserves)            |
| 18    | Regional.....           | North Side (Varsity)             |
| 22    | Huntington.....         | Huntington (Varsity and Reserve) |
| 26    | State.....              | Indianapolis (Varsity)           |

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield
CARRY OUTS
H-8974

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . .15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . .15c

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

Just three more days and all that will be left of the 1961-62 basketball season will be the memories and records. One team, either Kokomo, Madison, East Chicago Washington, or Evansville Bosse, will stand atop the heap of some 600 aspiring Indiana high schools who have since been eliminated in the tourney.

The lineup for Saturday at Butler Fieldhouse consists of perhaps the strongest foursome to appear there in recent years. Madison's Cubs are, of course, unbeaten in 25 outings. They have proven by whipping Connersville and Anderson last week that, easy schedule or no, they truly are a state power. For three years they have chalked up undefeated seasons, only to trip in the tourney. Maybe they'll find that the third time's the charm.

Kokomo has been dumped just once, but the Kats just aren't jelling as well now as they were earlier in the season. Coach Joe Platt is definitely worried about the decline of his squad, but he hopes that they will hold out for the rest of the week to take all the marbles for the second straight time.

It is my opinion that no matter how much of a show that Jim Ligon puts on, Kokomo will need help from Hawkins, Trueblood, and Burt if they even want to get to the night game. With 6-8 defensive star Rich Mason of the Senators covering him, the Goose will have to put out full-time to keep the Kats going.

Bosse, as expected, has come roaring through its Sectional, Regional, and Semi-State with not a whole lot of opposition. Jasper gave them a scare, but Jerry Southwood and Gary Grieger pulled their team through.

Although disappointed by their ousting by Madison, the Anderson Indians are already eagerly looking forward to next year, and understandably so. Four of the Indian starters are sophomores and the fifth is a junior. Much of the bench strength is composed of juniors, too; so watch out for Anderson the next two years. They'll be tough!

College basketball passed out of an era Saturday, too. The incomparable Ohio State aggregation has finally, after three years of inimitable ball playing, been dissolved. Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek, and Mel Nowell bowed out admirably in their college finale.

Another great Midwestern star, Terry Dischinger, capped his career successfully as he poured in 30 points to collect his third straight Big Ten scoring championship, finishing five points up on Jimmy Rayl this season. The "Disch" ended three seasons of collegiate ball with nearly a 30-point average.

South begins its track season tomorrow at Culver in Plymouth, Ind. It's a short trip; so let's all get out and root for our Sectional champion track team and boost them on to another successful season. Remember, they finished third in the state last year; let's show our appreciation for that fine performance and our anticipation for a repeat of it.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street
A-3313

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . .15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . .15c

Sport Dashes
By Terry Newendorp

Just three more days and all that will be left of the 1961-62 basketball season will be the memories and records. One team, either Kokomo, Madison, East Chicago Washington, or Evansville Bosse, will stand atop the heap of some 600 aspiring Indiana high schools who have since been eliminated in the tourney.

The lineup for Saturday at Butler Fieldhouse consists of perhaps the strongest foursome to appear there in recent years. Madison's Cubs are, of course, unbeaten in 25 outings. They have proven by whipping Connersville and Anderson last week that, easy schedule or no, they truly are a state power. For three years they have chalked up undefeated seasons, only to trip in the tourney. Maybe they'll find that the third time's the charm.

Kokomo has been dumped just once, but the Kats just aren't jelling as well now as they were earlier in the season. Coach Joe Platt is definitely worried about the decline of his squad, but he hopes that they will hold out for the rest of the week to take all the marbles for the second straight time.

It is my opinion that no matter how much of a show that Jim Ligon puts on, Kokomo will need help from Hawkins, Trueblood, and Burt if they even want to get to the night game. With 6-8 defensive star Rich Mason of the Senators covering him, the Goose will have to put out full-time to keep the Kats going.

Bosse, as expected, has come roaring through its Sectional, Regional, and Semi-State with not a whole lot of opposition. Jasper gave them a scare, but Jerry Southwood and Gary Grieger pulled their team through.

Although disappointed by their ousting by Madison, the Anderson Indians are already eagerly looking forward to next year, and understandably so. Four of the Indian starters are sophomores and the fifth is a junior. Much of the bench strength is composed of juniors, too; so watch out for Anderson the next two years. They'll be tough!

College basketball passed out of an era Saturday, too. The incomparable Ohio State aggregation has finally, after three years of inimitable ball playing, been dissolved. Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek, and Mel Nowell bowed out admirably in their college finale.

Another great Midwestern star, Terry Dischinger, capped his career successfully as he poured in 30 points to collect his third straight Big Ten scoring championship, finishing five points up on Jimmy Rayl this season. The "Disch" ended three seasons of collegiate ball with nearly a 30-point average.

South begins its track season tomorrow at Culver in Plymouth, Ind. It's a short trip; so let's all get out and root for our Sectional champion track team and boost them on to another successful season. Remember, they finished third in the state last year; let's show our appreciation for that fine performance and our anticipation for a repeat of it.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street
A-3313

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . .15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . .15c

Ten Boys Selected Outstanding Cagers In Semi-State Games

Kokomo's record-breaking Jim "Goose" Ligon, who pumped in 47 points against Elkhart in the Fort Wayne Semi-State title game Saturday, leads a star-studded All-Semi-State team. Also included on the select first squad, though somewhat overshadowed by the Wildcat ace, are teammate Erwin Cox, Elkhart's Coley Webb and Roger Kollat, and Central's Nate Banks.

Second-team picks are Mike Shumaker and Bob Minniear of Huntington, Bill Bickel and Tom Lantz of Elkhart, and Clete Edmonds of Fort Wayne Central. Thus, each participating school placed at least two boys on the top ten.

Ligon more than made up for his dismal afternoon showing against the Vikings in which he made a mere seven points by pouring in 47 to lead the Wildcats to their second straight Semi-State crown. The 6-7 senior was literally a one-man show as he dumped 20 of 30 field goal attempts to repeatedly keep Kokomo in the game.

His skill in maneuvering for easy lay-ups and his accuracy in scoring even with two or three men closely guarding him was nothing short of amazing. His scoring by quarters was 12, 12, 14, and eight; and this total broke the one-game local tourney scoring record of 43 made by South Bend Central's John Colman in 1957.

COLEY WEBB WAS the big gun in stopping Central in Elkhart's first game. This 6-5 center wound up with 26 points, including two three-point plays in the last minute of play to break the Tigers. Against Kokomo he scored 17 points and also rebounded well.

Erwin Cox was Kokomo's leading scorer with 20 points against stubborn Huntington. However, he really saved the day for the Wildcats in the title game with his long-range bombs in the second half to keep the defense from concentrating solely on Ligon and to push the Kats ahead to stay.

Probably the most courageous performer of the tourney was Blue Blazer Roger Kollat. Weakened by the flu the previous week, this six-foot, high-scoring forward played his heart out and tallied 17 times against Central.

Though he played only the last half of the game, Central's Nate Banks was the star in his team's unsuccessful uphill battle against the Blazers. Only a sophomore, Banks flipped in five of eight field shots and finished his short stint with 12 points.

HUNTINGTON placed two men on the second team. Bob Winniear was largely responsible for holding Kokomo's Ligon to only one field goal in the second afternoon game. Mike Shumaker, a 5-6 sophomore, often ran circles around the over-towering Wildcats and tallied 15 points, five more than teammate Minniear.

Elkhart also had two on the second string, Bill Bickel and Tom Lantz. Bickel had 17 points in the championship battle, Lantz had 16 counters.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Quintets To Enter State Finals, Kokomo Kats To Defend Crown

Four teams travel to Indianapolis this Saturday as the 61-62 basketball season draws to a close. In the first game of the afternoon session at the Butler Fieldhouse, unbeaten Madison will challenge Evansville Bosse; and an hour and a half later in the second contest, East Chicago Washington will test the strength of the Kokomo Kats.

Last year's state champ, Kokomo, is probably the best bet in this evenly matched State tourney. Having defeated the Elkhart Blueblazers 73-70 in the Fort Wayne Semi-State, the Kokomo Kats advanced to their second strait Semi-State victory including five such victories in the school's history.

Their star player, Jim (Goose) Ligon, scored 47 points in the night game for the single game scoring record. He hit 20-30 in the field and 7-9 free throws which surpassed by four points the old record set in 1957.

ALTHOUGH THEY WON, Coach Joe Platt's Kats were not able to pass the Blueblazers by more than seven points in the four quarters of the game. Coley Webb was high point man for the Blueblazers with 17 points, but his efforts still left his team three points behind at the final gun.

In the Indianapolis Semi-State 14,900 people saw Madison pick up its twenty-fifth strait win by defeating Anderson 91-81. Although Anderson starts four sophomores, they were able to tie the score 14 different times and boast Sophomore Ed Fuller as the second high scorer of the game with 26 points.

Larry Humes starred for Madison hitting 18 field goals and five free throws for 41 points. Larry Chatham won the afternoon game for Madison by pumping in four long shots near the end of the game to pull ahead to beat Connersville, 73-64.

Jerry Southwood led Evansville Bosse to a 77-57 romp over Seymour by scoring all but 47 of his team's points. Bosse, which was ranked number six during the regular season, barely squeaked by Jasper in the afternoon action. Lockyear, a Bosse junior, scored two free throws to win the contest in the last four seconds, 70-68.

THEN IN THE NIGHT game with a home crowd attendance of 12,000, Evansville was out-scored in only one quarter, winning their Semi-State Title. Southwood played a good defensive game by holding its opponents to only four points in the second half while scoring 30 points for himself.

The Lafayette Semi-State Champ was decided in the last three seconds of an overtime. East Chicago Washington Senators defeated Lafayette Jefferson 67-66. Robert Miles' final 15-foot shot won the game for the Senators after a 63-63 tie in regulation play.

This victory and the victory over Attica in the afternoon give East Chicago a 27-1 record and their third Semi-State crown. Their top scorers, Mason with 19 and Miles with 18, helped their team to another shot at the State title which they captured in 1960.

|                | G | OA   | DA   | AM   |
|----------------|---|------|------|------|
| Madison . . .  | 7 | 76.7 | 52.9 | 23.8 |
| Evansville . . | 8 | 76.1 | 59.6 | 16.5 |
| Kokomo . . . . | 7 | 81.3 | 56.3 | 25   |
| Washington . . | 7 | 76.3 | 62   | 14.3 |

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE? GET AN EARLY START
ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School
Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government.
Classes start June 18 and end August 12.
Phone A-3171 for more details and a schedule.

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield
H-6141

A NATIONAL COLLEGE QUEEN® FASHION

more colors per foot
— and a stacked heel, to boot!
Plus Scotchgard® protection for its plushious Pigmillion leather. Double your glow with a handbag to match! It's Sandler's "Swatchbook" Set
$5.00 Plus Tax
$8.95
You may be a National College Queen, win $5,000 in prizes. Come in for free entry blank!
SANDLER OF BOSTON
TAE Shoe Co.
121 W. Wayne St.

THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.
Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?
COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET
TELEPHONE E-0305

Favored Kokomo Captures Crown Over Elkhart In Semi-State Finale

Kats' Jim Ligon Sets Tourney Tally Record By Scoring 47 Points

Kokomo's Wildcats won the Fort Wayne Semi-State Tournament as expected, but they were pushed to the hilt to do it. Though they bested Huntington by a wide, 67-53 margin, they were pressed for most of the first half of the game by the Vikings until a scoring spree of ten consecutive points put it away for the Kats. The finale was close all the way, and only another scoring spree with about a minute left saved them from possible upset.

Saturday night's game can be described in two words, Jim Ligon. The "Goose" was a giant on both ends of the floor as he controlled the defensive backboard and set a new Semi-State record by scoring 47 points. His output was especially phenomenal in the first half as he scored all but six of Kokomo's points.

The nominal support that Ligon got in the first half was the cause for Kokomo's first-half troubles. Much greater balance by the Blue Blazers gave them a three-point lead of 34-31 at half-time.

The Blazers, with most of the Coliseum crowd behind them, broke quickly from the gate and owned a 10-6 lead mid-way through the first quarter. The Wildcats, setting the pattern for the night, rallied to pull ahead at the first pause, 17-16.

COLEY WEBB of the Blazers sank a free throw at the start of the second stanza to tie the score, and the score was tied three more times before the underdogs scored seven consecutive points for their biggest lead of the night. Kokomo then hit four in a row to pull within three points at half-time.

The first few minutes of the third quarter were played at a stand-off, but the Wildcats finally caught up at 40-40. The score was tied three more times, but the Wildcats grabbed the lead, 56-54, at the end of the quarter and never trailed.

The fourth quarter consisted of a vain pursuit by the Blazers attempting to catch the Kats. They stayed within one or three points for about half of the quarter. Then the turning point came as the Blazers' Tom Lantz charged on a lay-up that would have again narrowed the gap to one point. Wildcat Erwin Cox sank two foul shots and the Kats were home.

The only player to reach double figures besides Ligon for Kokomo was Cox, who accumulated 13. Elkhart had great balance in getting 17 from both Bickel and Webb, 16 from Lantz, and 12 from Kollat.

The big surprise in the afternoon game was Ligon's lack of scoring. The big center got into early foul trouble and only picked up seven points in the entire game. Fortunately for the Kats, they had other players to take up the slack. Cox led the attack with 20 points, and Trueblood and Eisert each added 14.

THE KATS WRAPPED up the game with two scoring spurts on either side of the half-time break. Ten points in a row, just before the buzzer, broke the game open; and another gradual spurt in the third period put the game on ice. The Vikings tried hard to make a comeback in the fourth quarter, but they only succeeded in chopping two points off the Wildcats' 16-point margin.

In the other afternoon game, Fort Wayne's entry, the Central Tigers, were defeated by a 61-58 score. The game was a carbon copy of the game played earlier in the year between the same two teams. Central fell far behind in the first half, trailed 28-19 at the half, rallied in the third quarter, grabbed the lead in the fourth quarter, and then threw the game away in the last minute.

Central had a three-point lead with 46 seconds left and had possession of the ball when two errors and two fouls gave six points and the game to the Blazers.

Coley Webb was the main thorn in the side of the Tigers as he scored 26 points. Roger Kollat added 17. Jim Martin was high man for the Tigers with 14 points; Nate Banks, who was the sparkplug in the Tigers' third-period rally, wound up with 12 points as did Cletus Edmonds.

The champion Wildcats now move to Indianapolis where they will play East Chicago Washington in the second afternoon game of the final round.

Stu Schmitz Earns Award

Stu Schmitz, former sports editor, has won the Writer of the Week award for his article on page 5 of the March 8 issue, entitled "Trackmen Retain Top Performers In Relays, Lose Depth In Areas of Shot-Put, Distance Runs, Sprints."

International Motor Trucks
Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto
& Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

All-City Cage Squad Includes Kenny Leakey, Dale Hilsmier

Kenny Leakey

Dale Hilsmier

Kenny Leakey, senior, and Dale Hilsmier, junior, have been selected as members of the All-City basketball team by the city high school coaches. Receiving honorable mention are Martin Platapu, senior, and Gary Probst, junior.

The leading scorer for the Archers this year was Ken Leakey. Besides being the top Green scorer, he placed fifth in the ranking of city averages. His success may be due to his amazingly accurate long shots.

Ken started the season with 23 points against Concordia and 26 points against Huntington. He led all scorers in the North Side contest with 16 and pumped in 20 points to beat Luers. His overall average was a fine 13.6 points per game. He collected a total of 286 points this season in 21 games.

Ken had other talents besides scoring. Although playing a guard position is not specifically a rebound position, he snared many valuable rebounds. Ken also ranks as one of the best defensive players, due to hours of practice.

Although Ken is exceptional in basketball, he also lends his talents in many other sports. During the winter Ken displays his talents in the field of ice hockey. During the summer he works on the baseball field. He has played in the Little League and Pony League, and last year he played in the Junior Federation.

KEN STARTED PLAYING basketball at Harrison Hill. There he played two years before coming to South. As a freshman, he played basketball and ran track. As a sophomore, he acquired a position on the varsity squad. He had his best season this year and had the thrill of winning the Sectional last year.

Ken feels the toughest competition

Philip Spray Wins First-Place Trophy

Winning the original oratory contest at the last Wranglers' meet were Phil Spray, first; and Tom Erb and Barb Nelson, tied for second. Diane Saalfrank and Margee Terry also participated.

Phil will have his name inscribed on the school trophy and also receive an individual trophy of his own.

A take-off on "Keep Talking" will be the program for the meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. The moderator will begin a story which the contestants must pick up in the middle. The object is to fit in as many of the words given to the contestants ahead of time as possible.

Participating will be Jim Bailey, Pam Buzzard, Vicki Miller, Jan Reynolds, Sharon Hardy, and Pat Slater.

Allen Wood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

FIRST CHURCH OF GOD
Piqua and Wildwood Avenues
SPECIAL SERVICES
March 18-April 1
7:30 p.m.
REV. CARL H. BINKLEY
Evangelist

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenhorn

In giant volleyball action the Tweeds won from the Bakers Dozen on a forfeit; the Bachelors crimped the People's Choice team, 15-2, 15-6. Hart led the winners with 17 points.

In the noon league, the Apes beat the Shorts; and the Deadbeats suffered defeat at the hands of the Scrubs, the score being 23-6. Ricky Meeks scored all the points for the victorious side. The Meat-Packers stopped the Yo-Men with a score of 14-9. Unable to make a go of it, the Ducks 11 tasted defeat twice as the Nihilists beat them in two rather one-sided games, 15-7, 15-2. Dave Yaney, Mike Weinraub, and Jim Lantz had the most points for the victors.

Regular volleyball play went as follows: The Knights 120-6 won the best two out of three as they defeated the Mountaineers, 15-6, 13-15, and 15-4; the Ying Yanks found the Dukes of Earl to be a bit too much as they toppled, 15-6, 11-15, and 16-14; and the Phonics 11 downed the Nics, 16-14 and 15-9. Dave Fairchild boosted the losers with eight points, and Greg Rozelle did the same for the winners, giving them ten.

The Leftovers ended up in the loss column as the Jumpin' Jimineys handed them a 15-10 and 15-7 defeat; the Free Loaders lost two to the Nics, both scores being 15-13; the Villous Variets really trounced the GAA All Stars, 15-6, 15-4; the Spartans 4 came up with two more wins by edging the team of Porky's Fans, 15-12, 15-6.

The Dukes of Earl, aided by the magnificent playing of Mike Lepper, Don Carlo, Duane Duncan, and Mike Stalter, put the Screamin' Demons down, 16-6, 15-9; the Bahhhs, without a great deal of trouble, beat the Fleas, 15-8, 15-11.

The Teachers' volleyball team, composed of Mr. Richard Ober, Mr. Preston Brown, Mr. Robert Davis, Mr. Ralph Boling, Mr. Dave Fell, Mr. Glen Stebing, and Mr. Don Reichert, fought bravely in a losing cause as they went down to defeat against the Champs with scores of 15-13, 15-3. The Teachers seemed to be becoming rather tired as the second game began, as the score indicates.

Results in badminton singles are as follows: Robert Almandinger defeated Bob Williams, 15-7, 15-6, and 15-6; Dave Reidenbach won over Glen Crozier, 15-5, 15-13; Carl Foust won from Dave Rodenbeck. Steve Petty blanked Fred Plothe, 15-0, 15-0; Bob Hart edged Bill Matlock, 15-7, 13-15, and 15-13; Doug Hansen met defeat at the hands of Tom Wooding, 15-5 and 15-7;

Bob A'Hearn squeezed by Jim Harold, 15-13, 15-9; Bill Roebel found victory hard to obtain as his opponent, Mike Young, emerged victorious, 15-8, 16-14; Gary Tinkel triumphed in a tremendous match over Mike Stedje, 21-16, 21-16; Bob Hawkins won the best two out of three from Bill Joy, 12-15, 15-11, and 15-11; and Ricky Meeks is the noon lightweight singles champion for the 1962 spring badminton season.

Fifty boys entered the night league free throw tourney and thus far half of the boys have been eliminated.

The wrestling tourney has started and will continue until spring vacation. The average attendance has been about thirty. Winners will be announced at a later date.

The bowling tourney will take place during spring vacation at the Village Bowl. The cost will be $1 per person. The specific day and times are to be announced later.

Ricky Meeks won the lightweight bowling crown in the fall tourney with a three-game total of 484; Jim Long took middleweight honors with a 471 score; and John Addington overcame his heavyweight opposition with a top total of 592.

The annual ping-pong tournament will start after spring vacation and will be in Room 118.

Girl Riflers To Practice

The Girls' Rifle Club will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. on the range to continue practice shooting.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

What you want is a Coke

"Coke" is a registered trademark. BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

FREE! EVERY WEEK...
AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS
Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds... register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND WIN THIS RADIO!
TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS
Gardner's... DOWNTOWN
Gardner's... by the COLISEUM
...for the original... the best
...the one and only
GARDNER HAMBURGER

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St. Phone E-2337

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service
QUICK CHICK
5213 DECATUR RD.

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

FREE! ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND WIN THIS RADIO!
This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

Thinly Karl Bandemer To Train For Dashes, Quarter-Mile Run

Returning as one of the outstanding veterans of a "good era" in track at South Side, Karl Bandemer, 17-year-old senior sprinter, has come on strong as a 100 and 220 man since his freshman year. His success last spring included a very good 9.9-second 100-yard dash.

As a freshman coming from Highland Junior High, where he ran track and played basketball, Karl seemed to "lack something" since his best 100-yard dash times were in the 11's. His fine promise as a sprinter did not emerge until his second year when he turned in a season best of 10.1, as well as running a very good 220.

Karl Bandemer

IN HIS JUNIOR YEAR, "Bandy" rated as the leading member of a fine

one-two sprint punch, which garnered South many points during the season. His best 100 was a 9.9-second dash, which he ran five times, and his best 220 time was 22.4 second in the Sectional. Karl also qualified for the finals at the State meet, but he had to withdraw because of a recurring back injury. He is also a mainstay of the half-mile relay squad.

While rating the 100 as both his favorite and best race at the present time, Karl did admit that some thought the quarter-mile may be his strongest future event. The reason for this was Karl's unofficially timed 48-second lap as a member of the mile relay squad at the AAU open meet last spring. This also classified as his greatest thrill and accomplishment.

Karl has been working out since Christmas and had also run some fall. Karl stated that he felt he was working into shape pretty well but that he had only done conditioning and starts so far, poor weather keeping the whole team on the inside. Feeling that he could improve over last year, Karl also stated that he had "better improve."

CONCERNING This year's squad, "Bandy" feels that if everyone is sincere and buckles down to work, South can have a good team. Karl also believes that this team has the potential to be as good as that of last year and the ability to win the Sectional. Looking forward to the Green's first meet at Culver tomorrow, Karl considered the season outlook pretty good.

Besides has participation in track, Karl both water and snow skis when possible. He is presently vice-president of Hi-Y.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

FRUIT JUICES AND PUNCHES
—Delivery Service—
Bowls, Ladies & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

I&M Hi-Quiz
SUNDAY 5:30 p.m. on WAKE-TV, CH. 15
The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.
This Sunday:
Tournament Round
Concordia vs. North Side
INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

Four Camera Enthusiasts Shoot Action, Landscape, Life Scenes

DARKROOM DEVELOPING . . . As Steve Bill and Gaynel Musser, right, process a picture in developing fluids, Bernard Stier and Paul Leopold, back, left to right, use the bellows and lenses to produce and enlarge the image of a negative on the board below.—Photo by Jones

From developing pictures in their own dark-rooms to competing in photo contests, Archers Gaynel Musser, Paul Leopold, Steve Bill, and Bernard Stier enjoy photography as a hobby.

Gaynel, a junior, became interested in photography last spring when her father joined the Co-ed Camera Club of Fort Wayne.

They share a darkroom containing the usual darkroom equipment. The Archer photographs anything from landscapes to animals. She entered the South Side Camera Club's contest and won first place in the animal division.

"I FEEL THAT photography is a phase of art. It's a way of being an artist without being able to draw," commented Gaynel. She intends to continue photography only as a hobby.

Paul, also a junior, became interested in photography when he was a freshman. A man in his neighborhood started him in the hobby. Paul, too, has his own darkroom. In the recent Camera Club contest, Paul placed first with his picture of an eclipse. He has won second prizes in previous contests.

Paul, treasurer of the Camera Club, intends to continue photography only as a hobby. "It's a crowded field," he said. The Archer photographs just about anything. The competition keeps him interested. "It's fascinating how prints are made," he concluded.

Steve Bill, a junior, started his photography hobby about three years ago in Boy Scouts. He hasn't done too much in the way of photography recently, but enjoys taking home movies.

"I LIKE HOME MOVIES especially, because I can take the pictures

Census Enumerators Endure Frustrations During 1960 Season

How many American families have bomb shelters? Do more people own two cars than in the past 20 years? Where is the center of population in the United States? These and other pertinent questions have been answered by a large-scale process known as the census.

The basic purpose is to get information on where people live and to determine the appointment of seats in the Congress. However, much other valuable information is obtained from the decennial census.

Current man-power figures are required by military planning committees. Planners of public works, distributors of goods and services, and manufacturers who must know the labor potential all need information about population growth.

THE CENSUS REQUIRED the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors. When it came to recruiting enumerators, mostly housewives and the unemployed applied because the pay was modest for the demanding short time work. Each category of workers from supervisors and lower, received special training.

The job took a great deal of physical stamina, but it was an exciting two weeks for the census takers, affording them glimpses into many ways of life. They met many emergencies such as finding dead bodies, houses on fire, and gas breakages.

They were bitten by dogs and confronted by impassable language barriers. They encountered family fights and were invited to share meals. They even received offers of marriage.

Classes which complicate the count are drifters, migratory workers, sales men, and other workers who move quickly from place to place. However, effective means have been worked out to get in touch with most members of these groups. In the count, a few citizens who were overlooked were urged to report to the nearest district office.

YEARS OF PREPARATION preceded the actual count. Even while results of this census were being tabulated, more efficient procedures were being devised for the next census. Bureau officials met with statisticians and other groups to discuss new questions which may go into the schedule, or modifications that will produce information in a time of change.

Thanks to the use of electronic machines, the 1960 census cost ten per cent less than the previous one. The returns were also tabulated earlier. There machines were a great time-saver since the initial steps had been on a person to person basis. It is possible that future census-taking will be done without door-to-door enumerators.

Date Standards Help Establish Friendships, Develop Maturity

Suppose Sue is lucky enough to have a date for every school dance and party. After one party is over and another evening is completed, she wonders how she rates. She wants to know if her partner thinks, "Well, I'm glad that's over!" or "Wow!"

Whether Sue's date was a "dream" or a "creep," she got herself into it, and it would be up to her to try to give the other person a nice time. It's just as easy to have fun as it is to sit around and sulk. The evening lasts only a few hours, so she should try to make the best of it, and show some thoughtfulness toward that other person.

In making a date it's up to the boy to try and find the girl he really likes, regardless of what anyone may say. He should either ask her on the phone or in person, but he should be sure the date is set far enough in advance to give her enough time to get organized. If she's already busy he shouldn't take it as an insult; but try again in a few days.

IF SHE DOESN'T accept the invitation in at least three of four tries, then he should find a new phone number.

Tri Kappa Sorority Offers Scholarships For Careers In Art

The four local chapters of Tri Kappa Sorority are sponsoring a $550 Fine Arts Award again this spring. Additional awards totaling $1,000 also will be awarded for exceptionally fine arts endeavors. Junior and senior students who are interested in preparing for careers in art are eligible to compete. Any person interested in an area of applied design, such as commercial or costume design, home decoration, or window display work as well as art teaching in elementary and secondary schools and graphic arts, are eligible for this award.

THE FOUR SCHOLARSHIPS representatives of Tri Kappa, are Mrs. Mildred Luso, mathematics teacher, Alpha Associate Chapter; Mrs. Lewis Knight, Gamma Lambda Chapter; Mrs. Gaylord Leslie, Beta Associate Chapter; and Mrs. Jay Thomas, Gamma Associate Chapter.

These representatives have arranged for local competition to determine which Fort Wayne students possess the most technical skill and originality.

APPLICATIONS for the competition have been sent to Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art teacher. Seniors Louise Jackson, Art 4; Judy Godman, Art 8; and Susan Martin, Art 8, are applying.

Judging will be conducted at the Indiana Bank on March 24, the final decision being made no later than March 30. The names of the judges will be announced in the near future.

Baby Sitting Occupation Ranks As Number One Among Teens

Rating as the number one occupation among teenage girls, the art of baby sitting prepares the young woman for her future role as a wife and mother.

Since World War II baby sitting has boomed across the United States. Today 20 million American children are under the age of five. For them approximately one million teenage sitters are employed.

When these girls accept the task of caring for a child, they automatically become nurse, psychologist, and playmate. This role acquires a certain knowledge about the basic points of baby sitting.

ON ARRIVAL AT the house, the sitter's first step is to become acquainted with the children and learn where the rooms and the telephones are. The parents of the children are responsible for giving the sitter a list telling where they will be, the phone number, and any other special instructions about the children's care.

After she is in charge of the children, she should amuse them with various toys, books, or games. The children, if kept busy, will usually respond well and behave for the sitter. If not, she must have the patience to understand that she is still strange to the children; and they are not accustomed to her.

At times, the children do not "follow the script" of a quiet evening at home. In this case, the best bet is for the sitter to stay calm and not become flustered. Here are several typical situations that the sitter doesn't count on:

IF THE BABY JUST cries, it is usually for a good reason. He is likely to be hungry, wet, lonely, or uncomfortable. She should find out the source of his trouble, and feed him, change him, or soothe him by holding him or singing to him.

If a child wants to phone his parents, she may let him. This happens especially with the new sitter. At an early hour, most doctors contend that there is nothing wrong with a 3 to 4-year-old, or even an older child phoning his mother and father.

If a child runs and hides, she should make a game of it by turning his shyness into a source of fun. Playing peek-a-boo will work, especially with the 2-and-3 years-old.

IF THE CHILD HAS a temper tantrum, the sitter should stay with him and permit him to do what he wants—within reason. Tantrums usually end fairly quickly. On rare occasions, a baby will hold his breath and actually seem to turn blue. If this happens it will be necessary to call the parents.

Although every sitter should know the basic rules of safety, emergencies are the exception rather than the rule. Babies really are durable creatures. Seldom do they present the major problems in sitting; more often the problem is the parents themselves. Friction with parents can be avoided if the problems are discussed beforehand. Many parents consider sitters as household helpers who should perform other tasks besides baby sitting. The exact scope of duties should be discussed before the sitter accepts the job.

Sitters should not be offended if the parents ask a series of questions and seek references. Responsible parents simply will not leave their children in the hands of a stranger without getting some idea of that stranger's competence.

J.A. Titles Marbou Company For Month

Marbou Products, a Junior Achievement company sponsored by Bowman, has been named Junior Achievement Company of the month according to Mr. Ivan Doseff, executive director of J.A.

At the same time Mr. Doseff revealed that sales for the 24 J.A. companies up to January 31 reached $8,564. Sales ranged from a high of $1,294 to a low of $69 and mid-year profit and loss statements submitted by the companies showed 15 operations working at a loss. The J.A. Bank also showed a net profit.

Three months of the program remain in which each of the small companies has a chance to obtain a profitable basis.

Honorable mention companies for February are Novelteen, sponsored by the General Telephone Company; Non-Ferrous Fabricators, sponsored by the Indiana Rod and Wire Division of Phelps Dodge; Wandico, sponsored by Wolf and Dessauer, and Mendeco, sponsored by the Kroger Company.

Officers of Marbou, the J.A. Company of the month, are Mike Heminger, Concordia, president; Leota Haristy, Elmhurst, treasurer; Jean Ann McGinley, South Side, secretary; Brian Anderson, New Haven, production vice-president; Victor Seewald, South Side, sales vice-president.

Ivan Doseff stated, "While being financially successful is important for a J.A. company, the major benefit from J.A. is the practical experience and education the achievers gain from running their own companies."

Date Set For Application

All students attending Indiana University at Bloomington in the fall must have their entrance application in by July 15.

Registrar Mr. Charles E. Harrell stated "Ninety per cent of the students usually apply by this date anyway." He also stated that about four thousand new freshmen are expected to enroll at I.U. in September.

HAPPY ST. PATRICK'S DAY!

Reber South Wayne Market

3002 South Wayne Ave.
H-9783

Jim Kelley Buick

1819 S. Calhoun
K-6211

Pontiac Florists

914 East Pontiac
H-2223

Keefer Printing Co., Inc.

714 W. Washington
A-1484

Fort Wayne Engravers

120 West Superior
E-0505

Cupp, Inc.

2124 Fairfield
H-6141

D. J. Brandenberger, Inc.

4839 S. Lafayette
H-2245

Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home

2423 Fairfield
H-2334

South Side Lumber

4928 S. Hanna
K-2468

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Rd.
S-3146

You'll Have the Luck of the Irish When You Patronize These Advertisers

Seniors Nominated For Quill And Scroll Society

Barbara Spiers

Jenny Manth

Bill Wilder

Susan Hines

Ann Golden

Terry Newendorp

Sue Kelley

Dian Leath

Roberta Twitchell

Dick Parke

Diane Fredrick

Ken Lowden

Sandy Thorn

Kaylene Gebert

Babbette Jones

Sue Horth

Sixteen seniors from the publications staffs have been nominated for Quill and Scroll, an international journalism society for high school journalists. The announcement was made by Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser.

Nominated are Barbara Spiers, Jenny Manth, Bill Wilder, Susan Hines, Ann Golden, Terry Newendorp, Sue Kelley, Dian Leath, Roberta Twitchell, Dick Parke, Diane Fredrick, Ken Lowden, Sandy Thorn, Kaylene Gebert, Babbette Jones, and Sue Horth.

Each new member selected will receive a gold pin at the annual Quill and Scroll banquet, which will be May 16. He will receive a year's subscription to "Quill and Scroll," the society's magazine.

To qualify for a chapter, a high school must publish a newspaper, a yearbook, or a magazine which is considered to be sufficient merit by the society's executive council. Schools in which students gather under direction to write and edit news for a town or city newspaper are eligible.

QUILL AND SCROLL society is a world-wide organization having over three thousand five hundred chapters and a membership of over ninety-one thousand.

To qualify for membership a candidate must be a graduating senior in the upper third of his graduating class, have been a member of the publications staff, have shown superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor, and have been a member of the major staff on one of the publications, the Times, Totem, or Pegasus.

Of the students nominated, Mr. Rohrabough said, "These students have been recommended to the Quill and Scroll society because of their outstanding work on publications. Certainly, they have devoted much time in making The South Side Times, the Totem, and the Pegasus what they are."

Quill and Scroll was organized by a group of high school newspaper advisers including Miss Rowena Harvey, former South Side publications adviser, for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievements in the field of journalism.

The 16 journalists upon acceptance into Quill and Scroll will be eligible for the Rowena Harvey Trophy to be awarded each year to an outstanding senior in the field of publications. This is the highest award which the department gives to a student. Times, Totem, and Pegasus personnel are eligible to win it. However, the recipient need not be a Times general manager or a Totem editor. Any worthy student having done his job well is capable of winning this trophy.

THE ROWENA HARVEY trophy was awarded last year on Recognition Day to Robert Shine. Bob was general manager of the Times from February 6 to March 31.

Barbara Spiers is currently a circulation manager on the Totem. Jenny Manth is currently general manager of the Times; she was formerly a Pegasus editor. Bill Wilder is now serving as editorial editor on the Times. Sue Hines is currently a Totem circulation manager. Ann Golden is serving as a Times copy editor and a Totem assistant class editor.

Terry Newendorp is sports editor on the Times and Totem. Sue Kelley is currently a make-up editor for the Times; she was formerly the Times' business manager. Dian Leath is the present picture editor for the Totem, and Roberta Twitchell is presently the Pegasus editor and make-up and copy editor for the Times. Dick Parke is the Times circulation manager.

Diane Fredrick is currently the Totem associate editor. Kenny Lowden is the Times, Totem, and Pegasus head photographer. Sandy Thorn was formerly the Times general manager. Kaylene Gebert was formerly the Pegasus associate editor and is now a Times copy editor. Babbette Jones is this year's Totem editor, and Sue Horth is this year's Totem senior class editor.

Principal To Attend Convention Of NCA

Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, is one of the six Allen County high school principals who will attend the 68th annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NCA), March 26-29, in Chicago.

The NCA is a voluntary accrediting organization for 450 colleges and universities and 3,600 secondary schools in 19-state area.

AMONG THE MORE than four thousand presidents, deans, principals, and teachers expected to attend throughout the membership schools, are Mr. Paul Spuller, principal of Central High School; Mr. O. Dale Robertson, principal of North Side High School; Mr. Loren S. Jones, principal of Leo High School; Mr. Maynard Henwood, principal of New Haven High School; and Mr. H. F. Brkman, principal of Concordia High School.

The accrediting agency, whose member institutions teach over three million high school and college students, will study its role in improving American education.

A TOTAL OF 133 speakers, panelists, and discussion leaders will address the educators.

Mr. Snider, who is the treasurer of NCA, will read the treasurer's report during the business session. Mr. Snider stated, "The North Central Association, as well as many others, has done, and is still doing, a tremendously fine piece of work among the educational institutions."

Banker To Talk At Philo On Humor In Daily Life

Mr. Vernon Sheldon, manager of American Federal Savings and Loan Bank, will speak to the members of Philo Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room on "Humor in Daily Life," according to an announcement by Lissa Hoffman, president.

Mr. Sheldon has been a noted speaker in this area for many years. He has taught public speaking at the YMCA and various schools, and many organizations have heard him speak," stated Martha Dixon, program chairman.

Other officers of the club are Erin Rose, vice-president; Ann Golden, treasurer; and Julia Breidenstein, secretary. Mrs. Evelyn Spray, English instructor, is the sponsor.

Safety Council To Meet

A report on the progress which the Allen County Teenage Safety Council is making in preparation for the Car Road-e-o, May 12, will highlight the business meeting of the Safety Council tonight at 3:30 p.m. in Room 182. Anyone who plans to participate is urged to attend.

Lettermen's Dinner To Feature 'Football' As Theme Tomorrow

'FOOTBALL' FEAST . . . Studying the "strategy" for the Lettermen's Banquet, "Football," are, left to right, John Weaver, Don Sievert, Henry Persons, Dale Hilsmer, Ken Leakey, seated, and Larry Lee, standing. The banquet will be Friday at 6:30 p.m. with Reverend Armin Oldsen as the guest speaker.—Photo by Lowden

"Football" will be the theme of the annual Lettermen's Banquet tomorrow at Plymouth Congregational Church from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Reverend Armin Oldsen, religious instructor at Concordia Lutheran College, will be the guest speaker.

All Lettermen, who will be the guests of South Side teachers, and their parents were invited. Honored guests are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grile, superintendent; Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal; Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; and Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director and past sponsor of the Lettermen's Club.

The menu of roast beef, potatoes, beans, cole slaw, rolls, and milk or coffee will be prepared by the women of the church.

THE DINING ROOM will be decorated with drawings of footballs, goal posts, and players. At the head table, a large football with "South Side High School '62" will be flanked by helmets with flowers coming from them.

At the other tables will be football players and goal posts with a player kicking a football over the goal post. An enlargement of a football player and the goal post behind the head table will finish the decorations.

Mr. Robert Gernand, head football coach, is a featured speaker; and Mr. Samuel Jackson, social studies teacher, will speak on behalf of the faculty. Mr. Wayne Scott, head of the athletic department, will also speak at the banquet; and Tom McMahan, post-graduate, will respond for the Lettermen.

THE STRING ENSEMBLE, composed of Rosemary Tappes, Jack Seigel,

Martha Lanning, Dian Leath, Doris Atzoff, Bonnie Smith, and Kathy DeVore, will also perform at the banquet. Diane Fredrick, Debbie Brooks, Sharon Carrel, Susie Horth, Susie Phillips, Sue Perry, Sue Harrod, Sharon Eitman, Mary Keegan, and Judy Merrill will serve.

The decorations committee is headed by Ken Leakey. Assisting him are Karl Bandemer, Chuck Parker, Dave Platz, Nate Norment, Richard Johnson, and Evert Mol.

Working under Tom McMahan, program chairman, are Tom Frazell, Jerry Scherrer, Martin Platupe, Dave Meyer, and Bill Rastetter. Sam Carter, Steve Cook, Steve Meyers, Henry Persons, and Sid Sherry are working on the invitations committee under the chairman, Dave Meek.

CLEAN-UP COMMITTEE chairman is John Weaver. His assistants are Bob Camp, Ed Johnson, Tom Shine, Jim Wolfe, Don Sievert, Mike Beltz, and Richard Koch. Jon van Oosten, food chairman, Dale Hilsmer, Bob Lohman, and Al Purdy have planned the menu for the banquet. The serving committee is headed by Larry Lee. His assistants are Stu Schmitz, Jim Lantz, and Karl Schlade-mann. Mark Hagerman, president, is the co-ordinator for the dinner; and Mr. Richard Ober, science instructor, is the sponsor of the club.

Y-Teens To See Skits

The meeting of Y-Teens today in Room 112 at 3:30 p.m. will feature a regular business meeting and humorous skits. A few of the members will act out the skits while another member narrates them.

Three Pupils Attend Meetings Of Columbia Press Convention

Representing the South Side Times, Sue Kelley, Jenny Manth, and Sandy Thorn, Senior A and post grads, respectively, attended the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association convention at Columbia University in New York City last week.

The South Side journalists accompanied by Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser, with Mr. Dean Speicher, publications adviser at Highland High School, Highland, Ind., and four of his students, Judy Brannan, Sue Ripley, Corinna Kaarila, and Pat Peterson left Fort Wayne March 13.

Arriving in Grand Central Station at 9:05 a.m. the next morning, the convention delegates moved to the Taft Hotel, where they unpacked and then set out for a walk to Times Square.

That afternoon the girls went to the St. James Theater where they saw the play, "Subways Are For Sleeping." Wednesday evening they attended the movie "West Side Story."

THURSDAY MORNING the Archers were able to secure tickets for "The Price Is Right" starring Bill Cullen. That afternoon they attended classes on different phases of journalistic endeavor.

Sandy Thorn had the honor of introducing the leader of her class, Mr. Sigmund Sluska, who was formerly the president of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

On the agenda for Thursday evening was the play "Camelot" starring Julie Andrews, Robert Goulet, and William Squire.

Friday morning Sandy appeared on the National Broadcasting Company's "Today" program along with 11 other newspaper editors who were attending the press convention. They were given an opportunity to ask questions of three of the members of the "Today" cast.

ALSO THAT MORNING the girls took a tour of New York City, stopping at the United Nations Building and the Empire State Building.

In the afternoon Sue Kelley introduced Mr. John Hohenberg, the secretary of the Advisory Board on the Pulitzer Prizes, who led the discussion in the class she attended. Jenny also introduced the speaker in her group, Mr. Walter I. Benak, the adviser of The Herkies Highlander, the school newspaper in New Hyde Park, New York.

Friday night the South Siders visited Radio City Music Hall, where they saw the "Rockettes" perform, and also saw the movie "Rome Adventure."

AFTER DOING SOME shopping and seeing part of the St. Patrick's Day Parade, the girls attended the final meeting of the press seminar, which was a luncheon in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. At this session Mr. Edward R. Morrow, head of the United States Information Agency, spoke to approximately five thousand students who attended the convention about the importance of journalism in the modern world.

During the convention the Archer delegates attended classes concerning various aspects of journalism, with Mr. Rohrabough leading one class on the editorial content of the newspaper and a class for advisers in the area of staff organization of a school newspaper. Leaving New York City at 5:05 p.m. Saturday afternoon, the South Siders returned to Fort Wayne at approximately 6:45 a.m. Sunday morning.

Accountants To Give NMAA Scholarships To Winning Students

Speaking on "What Is Education," Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will give the main address at a special educational dinner meeting at Hall's Guest House tonight at 6:30 p.m. The dinner is being given by the North-eastern Indiana Chapter of the National Machine Accountants Association. Tom Liby, senior A, will attend as a representative from South Side in a scholarship contest sponsored by the NMAA.

Highlighting the evening's activities will be the presentation of two $100 scholarships in the field of data-processing to two high school students. Mr. Richard Kirkley, branch manager of the IBM Center in Fort Wayne, will award the scholarships.

These scholarships will provide for a week of training at the Detroit IBM training center in June, where the winners will learn the basic principles of machine accounting.

The winners are to be chosen on the basis of the results of a competitive examination which the candidates took last Thursday. One business student from the city schools and New Haven was nominated by his school principal to compete in this contest.

DeMolay To Vote

The agenda for the meeting of DeMolay Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Egyptian Room of the Masonic Temple will feature the voting in of new members.

"At the last meeting we installed 14 boys. From South Side were Kerry Blauvelt, Rodger Meadows, Ted Neal, Fred Rothert, Charles Ryan, and Steve Smithers," stated Mr. Emery Tucker, adviser of DeMolay.

Cheryl Summers Wins County, State DAR Best Citizen Contest

Cheryl Summers, senior A, is the winner of the DAR State Contest and her winning essay, "A Republic If You Can Keep It," will be sent to the national contest in Washington, D.C.

As recipient of the DAR Best Citizen Award at South Side, which is presented annually to the senior girl best fulfilling the requirements of the Daughters of the American Revolution, sponsor, Cheryl became one of 22 school winners throughout Allen County.

To qualify for the award, the recipient must be dependable; be of serious character; and have a good record in school.

Cheryl Summers

vice to her school and community; have leadership qualities; and show patriotism.

On March 5 all the county DAR school representatives attended a tea at the Chamber of Commerce where each was presented with a certificate and pin.

THE 22 SCHOOL representatives took a test which covered questions concerning international situations, the federal government, state history, and questions concerning the community; and each representative wrote a 300-word essay. From this test, a board of DAR members chose Cheryl as the Allen County winner.

Cheryl's test was sent to Indianapolis along with the other 91 tests from the other county representatives for the selection of the state winner. As the state winner, Cheryl will receive a trip to Washington, D.C. and a $100 bond. The award will be made at Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind., on May 26. The national winner will be chosen at a later date.

Cheryl is the first senior girl from this district to be chosen as the Indiana state winner.

In school she is vice-president of the senior class, copy editor on the Totem, a member of the National Honor Society, Philo, Service Club, and 1500 Club.

CHERYL WAS FORMERLY the Teen Page editor for the Journal-Gazette, on the editorial staff for the Winter '61 Pegasus, a member of the Red Cross Club, Times, Meteries, and on the social council for the class of '62 as a junior.

Cheryl plans to further her education at either the University of Illinois at Urbana, Ill. or the Wayne State University in Detroit, Michigan.

"I feel very honored and still amazed to have won the state contest. I consider this a great honor and I'm proud to serve as South's DAR Citizen," stated Cheryl.

Past DAR Best Citizens are Sharon Ruhl, '59; Penny Hunt, '60; and Marjorie Havens, '61.

South Side Times Earns Recognition Of Columnist

Jack Sheridan, columnist for the "Printing Monthly" magazine, recently favorably criticized the South Side Times in the February issue of the magazine.

Mr. Sheridan said, "It is a genuine pleasure to pick up a newspaper like the South Side Times. Its technical excellence is apparent at first glance. Then, upon discovering that it is a product of high school boys and girls, one's admiration is multiplied."

"Typography and make-up are such as to put many a professional weekly in the shade. Headline construction, placement of halftones and art, selection of type faces, etc., all demonstrate that unusual skill and talent have been applied."

"The able editorial staff is balanced by an equally capable business staff, judging by the advertising content, which amounted to 111 individual ads in the edition we have just looked over. These ads run from one column one inch to 20 inches."

Mr. Sheridan concluded by commenting, "The South Side Times is an all-around first-class job."

Senior To Attend Convo

Caron Fine, senior, will attend an executive meeting for District 2 of B'nai B'rith Youth Organization in Cincinnati tomorrow through Sunday. Caron, being the District BBG corresponding secretary, was chosen with six other girls and seven boys to attend. One of the other girls is a senior at Fort Wayne North Side, and the rest of the students are from eight states, ranging from Ohio to Wyoming.

During the meeting they will plan the district convention to take place this summer at the University of Illinois in Champagne.

Success In Studies Calls For Good Mental Habits

Although every person on earth is different from every other one in some respect, all people have something in common—habits. They may be bad or good, conspicuous or unnoticeable; but they exist. Habits apply to the routine pattern of every-day life, one's reaction to certain situations and one's way of doing things—things such as eating, talking, laughing, relaxing, and even studying.

Probably and rightfully a freshman's study habits differ from those of a senior. One reason is the difference in the material studied, and another is the fact that a senior has had more time to find which way of studying is best for him.

Despite these differences, it is evident that any type of study has definite needs. Adequate space gives freedom of movement, enough room for supplies, and a place for writing. The study area must be adequately lighted, and it should be comfortable. It ought to be free from distracting noises and objects.

Having taken care of all physical requirements, a student needs to consider other factors. A reasonable amount of time is essential, but care should be taken that it is allotted wisely and that too much is not spent on one subject. To make the best use of one's time, it is necessary to concentrate on one thing at a time so that it is the most important thing at that time.

These are some of the most important study habits; there are others which improve these and make them more efficient, but they are developed on one's own. Good study habits not only improve grades but also save time.—By Janet Dinius

Physical Fitness Courses Surpass National Normal

That United States youth aren't up to par in the area of physical fitness in relation to the youth of other countries is a statement which has been almost completely acknowledged.

Among other statistics and facts supporting this assertion is an especially embarrassing report of one survey which compared a large number of British high school students to their American counterparts. According to this report, the average British girl surpasses the average American boy on most of the basic fitness tests. With data such as this, the U.S. has begun a large-scale renovation of physical education programs in public schools.

South Side is not among those schools which must admit to a lack of emphasis on physical fitness. The physical education department, in addition to fulfilling basic requirements, has developed a system of self-testing whereby students are encouraged to emulate current record-holders and to better their own past records.

Also, South's intramural program is an institution which is virtually unique in high school athletics. As an intermediate stage between interscholastic sports and gym class activities, this program answers a definite need. Students are invited to participate in over twenty intramural sports throughout the year.

South Side's program in this area is more than adequate and one of which we can afford to be proud.—By Larry Norman

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Mary Karriek . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, baby blue . . . fads, knee socks, short skirts . . . sport, football . . . subjects, sociology, botany . . . pastime, writing letters . . . TV show, "Hennessey" . . . record, "Unchained Melody" . . . singer, Everly Brothers . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . book, "The Scarlet Letter" . . . future plans, IBM training.

Alan Schlie . . . age, 17 . . . hair, red . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet, two inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, chili . . . color, brown . . . fad, sweatshirts . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, economics . . . pastime, playing basketball . . . activity, Hi-Y . . . TV show, "Untouchables" . . . record, "Drums Are My Beat" . . . singers, Kingston Trio . . . actor, Red Skelton . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, Purdue University . . . pet peeve, girls who go with boys in college.

Peggy Saalfrank . . . age, 18 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, lavender . . . fad, twisting . . . sport, water skiing . . . subject, speech . . . pastime, writing letters . . . TV show, "Adventures in Paradise" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actresses, Sandra Dee, Connie Stevens . . . book, "Exodus" . . . future plans, beauty college . . . pet peeve, people who are friendly in the summer but not in the winter.

Dave Hasiup . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, six feet, one inch . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, Swiss steak . . . color, blue . . . subject, sociology . . . fad, sweatshirts . . . sport, basketball . . . pastime, basketball . . . TV show, "Mr. Ed" . . . record, "Drums Are My Beat" . . . singer, Dion . . . actor, Red Skelton . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, business college . . . pet peeve, girls that smoke.

Sue Perry . . . age, 17 . . . eyes, green . . . hair, blonde . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, cheese toasties . . . color, blue . . . fad, shoes . . . sport, skiing . . . subject, English . . . activity, Totem . . . pastime, twisting . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, Lettermen's Album . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . book, "Ghosts" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who have "exact same" thing, and people who "refer back."

Babette Jones . . . age, 18 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . subject, math . . . sport, water skiing . . . pastime, homework and Totem work . . . activity, knitting . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . records, any of Andy Williams' . . . singer, Andy Williams . . . actor, Tony Curtis . . . book, "Advise and Consent" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who have "exact same" thing, and people who "refer back."

Teenage Drinkers Lose Adult Rating. Affect Future Lives

Presenting itself as a side effect of a society with more leisure time than ever, the problem of drinking among high school students has become more and more evident.

The teenager who partakes of alcoholic beverages, which are usually served at parties unsupervised by adults, often boasts to friends of his of having been "stoned" or "tubed up." He seems to take pride in being able to make such a statement, and gradually what was once an occasional thing becomes a habit.

Such a person should take stock of himself and realize the effect of alcoholic beverages on his health, both mental and physical, and on those with whom he comes into contact.

DRINKING NOT ONLY is harmful to a person's body, but it also lowers considerably his rating with adults who may observe him in an inebriated condition.

The main fault with drinking among high school students is that they drink to get "drunk" rather than engaging in the act for the purpose of enjoying the beverage. This fact alone denotes the difference between the average European who partakes of such fluids at nearly every meal without becoming inebriated and the American high school student.

The largest danger presenting itself to the person who is a "social drinker" among the high school crowd is what might occur as a result of such ingestion. Quite often the person finds himself in conditions such that moral violations are hard to prevent. In this case the student may find it difficult to control his emotions.

ALSO, "SOCIAL DRINKING" on the high school level may lead to alcoholism in the person's later years. Such involvement presents problems of an economic, health, and social nature to the citizens of the country.

During 1959, according to a report released by Parke Davis and Company, there were some five million four hundred thousand alcoholics in the United States, who consume a majority of the more than two hundred twenty-five million gallons of liquor sold each year.

Not only is the alcoholic affected, but an estimated four other persons become involved with the problem from a group consisting of the alcoholic's family, friends, and employer. Interpreted this way alcoholism involves approximately twenty-five million persons.

Thus, the person who believes in partaking in alcoholic beverages during his high school days may find himself involved with serious medical and social problems in his present as well as future life.

Signals Suspend Speeder . . .

"What walk-and-wait lights?"

Good Safety Practices Preserve Lives, Denote Teen As Mature

By Peggy Schmidt

The somber scream of the ambulance hushed the traffic as it sped toward the hospital. Behind it lay the disheveled hulk of a once shining hot rod. Perhaps the driver would never live to see the crippled forms of his victims. But few cared—as usual, he was just another teenager with a lead foot on the gas pedal.

How often such needless happenings, whether of a less or more serious degree, occur! How often they are hurriedly dismissed with the excuse "it was a teenager's fault!" Are teens incapable of accepting the responsibilities and limits of their freedoms? More than likely they simply do not stop to consider the reasons for being safety conscious.

The preservation of life is the most important reason for following the patterns of safety. Life is a blessing which must be protected to be possessed. Taking life for granted leads to carelessness, and carelessness is not free. Its use must be paid for sooner or later.

FREQUENTLY ITS payment is life. Just as often, carelessness demands an arm or an eye, the ability to hear or to walk. Life with such restrictions as the loss of these is hardly life. It is torture which makes each day a day of pain and punishment both mentally and physically for the violator of safety rules.

The teenager who adopts sound safety practices finds himself protected for the present and prepared for the future. Fire drills and air raid training, basic safety preparations, may seem unnecessary; but they will save lives when disaster strikes.

MORE PRIVILEGES are awarded to the teenager who displays good safety habits. He is recognized as an individual to be trusted. He may be given the keys to the family car on more occasions or allowed more personal independence. In addition, he will be the job-seeker considered for positions requiring employees of capabilities plus caution.

It is a teenager's duty to be safety conscious. The teen is the pace-setter for the actions of those who are younger and, many times, those older. As he enters the adult world of complexities and dangers, he is on his own. It is expected of him to guard his own interests and well-beings.

The math-minded teenager finds that safety is economical! Equipment lasts longer and requires fewer repairs when used in a prudent manner. Insurance rates and gasoline bills are less costly for the safe driver. Hospitality payments and first-aid charges are fewer in number to the person who avoids injuries.

SAFETY PRACTICES bring maturity and respect to the teenager. It is action, not age, that titles an individual as childish or adult. The label of "just a reckless teenager" generally bestowed upon every adolescent, can only be erased by examples of safe habits.

Then too, the safety-minded teenager naturally has more friends. No one seeks the companionship of a person who is likely to endanger the lives and futures of those around him. No one can be at ease realizing his associate has no regard for safety.

So it is that all teenagers face the decision of "to have or not to have" safety sense. Placing the pro's and con's of the question on the golden balance will provide an obvious answer. The rest is up to the teenager.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Recently married were Judy Christman, '58, and Tom Cooper, '60. Judy is a senior in secondary education at Miami University, a member of Gamma Phi Beta Sorority, and a member of Sigma Delta Pi honorary. She spent one year studying at the University of Madrid, Spain. Tom attended Oberlin Conservatory and now is studying at Indiana University.

Judy Tigres, '59, a Ball State junior, has been appointed senior rush adviser of Delta Zeta Sorority. Judy is majoring in elementary education.

Engaged are Mary J. Holly, a graduate of Mt. Carmel High School in Cincinnati, O., and James Kindler, '56. Jim is a graduate of Purdue University and is employed by Allen Homes.

Nancy McCarron, '59, is serving as one of the participants on the committee for the "Entertainment Festival" at Ball State. The festival is to feature local campus talent and is to be presented March 24.

Planning a wedding for June 16 are Brenda Stahl, '57, and Stephen Stewart, Garrett High School graduate. Brenda teaches at the Port Wayne Finishing School and is employed by O'Rourke & Company, Inc., as a receptionist and secretary.

Tom Bolyard, '59, is serving on a committee for the "Little 500" week end of May 11 and 12, at Indiana University. Tom is also a member of the varsity basketball squad, occupying the forward position.

Setting September 8 as their wedding date are Pamela Seabold, '55, and Thomas Reith, a Central Catholic graduate. Pam was graduated from Indiana University's School of Dental Hygiene and is employed in the office of Dr. William Kunkel, III.

Attaining the Distinguished Rating for work at Purdue University are Marjorie Havens, '61, freshman in science; Steve Leininger, '60, sophomore in agriculture; Sue Menze, '60, sophomore in science; Bill Stelhorn, '61, freshman in engineering; and Nancy Swaim, '61, freshman in science.

Jim Carter, '61, was named to the Dean's List for the first semester at Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Planning a June 23 wedding are Pamela Coughlin, a North Side graduate, and Tom Esterline, '57. Both are employed by the Perfection Biscuit Co. The wedding is to take place in the St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

Recently married were Jean McCoy, '58, and Edward Day at the Anthony Wayne First Church of God. The couple will reside in Fort Wayne.

Engaged are Mary Anne Keenan, '60, and Donnelly P. McDonald. Mary graduated from Indiana University and presently is serving as a dental hygienist in San Francisco. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority and Sigma Phi Alpha honorary. Mr. McDonald is a graduate of Notre Dame College of Arts and Letters and is president of the Peoples Trust and Savings Co.

To be wed August 25 are Joanne Stever and Dale Hiller, '63. Joanne is a graduate of Bowling Green State University and is employed by H & S Pogue Co., Cincinnati. Dale was graduated from Purdue University and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. He is employed by the National Carbon Co., Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

Knows Failure

John H. Glenn's Personality, Success To Encourage Weak

By Sandy Thorn

The tumultuous storm is over. "Hurricane Glenn" has returned to Cape Canaveral. Americans are now "back in orbit" after a week following every move of Lieutenant Colonel John Herschel Glenn, Jr. Hero worship never hit a higher peak.

But, as Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "Who of us could endure a world, although cut up into five-acre lots and having no man upon it who was not well fed and well housed, without the divine folly of honor, without the senseless passion for knowledge outreaching the flaming bounds of the possible without ideals the essence of which is that they never can be achieved?"

John Glenn reached—and, in return, he received the laudation of the entire country as well as the free world. When the astronaut addressed the Congress, the Supreme Court (which, incidentally, was too busy to attend the President's State of the Union address in January), the Cabinet, the military brass and the diplomatic corps, he said, "I'm certainly glad to see that pride in our country and its accomplishments is not a thing of the past. I still get a real hard-to-define feeling when the flag goes by."

Sandy Thorn

When introduced to Sir Harry Howard, Lord Mayor of Perth, Australia, the city that had turned on all its lights as Glenn orbited overhead, Glenn's humor again brought great respect from millions of Americans. Glenn quipped, "I was a little bit worried when I saw the Lord Mayor show up. I was afraid he might have brought the light bill with him."

Glenn wasn't a newcomer to challenges. In 1957 he sniped the Marines into letting him attempt to beat the speed of sound from coast to coast. Glenn failed by nine minutes. Kennedy noted the failure in praising Glenn's achievement. Said Kennedy, "Some years ago, as a Marine pilot, he raced the sun across this country—and lost." "Time" magazine points out that President Kennedy was "confused" because Glenn could not have raced the sun even if he had wanted to, since he flew from west to east."

THERE ARE MANY interesting facts in Glenn's past. For example, in 1957, he teamed with 10-year-old Eddie Hodges, star of "The Music Man," and won $12,500 on the television program "Name That Tune."

However, as Glenn pointed out, he is only one of many working on a very important assignment. There were two successful astronauts before Glenn. Alan Shepard and Gus Grissom fell in the shadow of Glenn's "Friendship 7." However, unless human nature takes another course, Glenn will be the "forgotten hero" the next time. As a representative, Glenn beamed as a great American citizen. His every word was quoted, and Glenn made every word "count."

The entire work corps at Cape Canaveral deserves recognition, as do countless others who assisted in the space program. Everyone realized that there was a job to be done—and they did it. No one "hogged" the show—individuals combined efforts.

Success of the strong induces imitation by the weak. John Glenn is strong—he's "A-O-K."

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Happy Spring!

The natives are restless at this time of year. Maybe that's why so many unusual things have been happening.

What's an Aku Aku? All those who are curious should just ask Tom McMahon. He's an authority on the subject and even carries his own private Aku Aku around with him in order to scare Jane Ladig and Louise Jackson. The poor girls are still in a state of shock.

Say! Have you heard about the next space shot? They're going to send fifteen cows up and call it the "Heard Shot 'Round the World."

What were all those people crowded around the gym entrances for last week after school? The track boys certainly aren't that handsome in their beautiful outfits. Oh, the girls were practicing for the Spring Show. Some people, like Kitty Fay, try to sprain their ankles by kicking giant volleyball too hard so they don't have to take part in the show. It didn't work, did it, Kitty?

These gym classes are certainly producing muscular girls. Joleen Crumine, Nina Derkach, and Sharon Hardy left class to help lift Mrs. Armstrong's car off the ice.

Lots of people don't appreciate classical music, but Bill Borgmann hates it so much that he contracts the flu so that he won't have to go to a concert. Bill has fully recovered by now though, and he's trying out for cheerleading.

Charge! Crash! Please watch where you're running, Becky Baughman. You might knock somebody down.

Bonnie Strehlow is sure to never that he was in space all that time and never once received a banana pellet.

SHARING HIS experiences during the four hours and 56 minutes "in orbit," Glenn told the press, "I don't know what you can say about a day in which you have seen four beautiful sunsets." Later he added, to the amusement of the listeners, "This could have been a bad day all the way around."

Describing yellowish-green particles outside his cabin, John said that possibly the capsule was giving off electrically charged particles of water or gas vapor that were attracted to each other and built up the specks. He then related that he had told Project Mercury Psychiatrist George Rapp about the particles. Slightly turning his head and raising his voice, John said that Rapp asked, "What did they say, John?"

When introduced to Sir Harry Howard, Lord Mayor of Perth, Australia, the city that had turned on all its lights as Glenn orbited overhead, Glenn's humor again brought great respect from millions of Americans. Glenn quipped, "I was a little bit worried when I saw the Lord Mayor show up. I was afraid he might have brought the light bill with him."

Glenn wasn't a newcomer to challenges. In 1957 he sniped the Marines into letting him attempt to beat the speed of sound from coast to coast. Glenn failed by nine minutes. Kennedy noted the failure in praising Glenn's achievement. Said Kennedy, "Some years ago, as a Marine pilot, he raced the sun across this country—and lost." "Time" magazine points out that President Kennedy was "confused" because Glenn could not have raced the sun even if he had wanted to, since he flew from west to east."

THERE ARE MANY interesting facts in Glenn's past. For example, in 1957, he teamed with 10-year-old Eddie Hodges, star of "The Music Man," and won $12,500 on the television program "Name That Tune."

However, as Glenn pointed out, he is only one of many working on a very important assignment. There were two successful astronauts before Glenn. Alan Shepard and Gus Grissom fell in the shadow of Glenn's "Friendship 7." However, unless human nature takes another course, Glenn will be the "forgotten hero" the next time. As a representative, Glenn beamed as a great American citizen. His every word was quoted, and Glenn made every word "count."

The entire work corps at Cape Canaveral deserves recognition, as do countless others who assisted in the space program. Everyone realized that there was a job to be done—and they did it. No one "hogged" the show—individuals combined efforts.

Success of the strong induces imitation by the weak. John Glenn is strong—he's "A-O-K."

get cold soup in the cafeteria. She runs around testing everyone else's with her finger before buying any for herself. Hope it's warm enough for you today, Bonnie.

Vic Churchward has another problem. Not only does he secretly wear glasses, (nobody tell!) but he now is also being teased about being left handed. Don't worry, Vic. Some of the nicest people in the world are left handed.

Another lefty, Sue Gerig, now insists on using left-handed knives when she eats.

Maybe you should go on a diet, Dave Flanigan. He's getting so fat that he breaks furniture when he sits on it. While he, Steve Pratt, Jack Sanderson, Mike Fervada, Fred Rothert, and Jim Ostrogonski were rehearsing with Diana Ornas, Martha Dixon, Tonya Hines, and Sharon Bass for the Talent Show, Dave's piano bench collapsed beneath him.

Research theme time is here again for English six students. Haven't you noticed the sparse attendance on certain days?

Have fun at the Lettermen's Banquet, everyone—especially the gals who are serving and playing in the string ensemble.

Poor Sue Phillips can't remember whether her middle name is Jean or Jane. It happens to be Jean so of course she ordered her senior name cards with Jane on them.

Thought for the Day:

Spring has sprung
The grass has riz
Where last year's Careless driver is.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know anything about President Grover Cleveland?

Answer. He was born Stephen Grover Cleveland on March 18, 1837. He was named for Stephen Grover, the minister of the First Presbyterian Church at Caldwell, N. J., Cleveland's home town. Early in his youth, Cleveland dropped his first name, Stephen. On November 4, 1884, Grover Cleveland was elected President of the United States. Prior to being elected President, Grover Cleveland served as sheriff of Erie County, N. Y.; mayor of Buffalo; and governor of New York. As sheriff, he carried out all the duties of the office personally, including hangings. James Buchanan and Grover Cleveland were the only bachelors elected President. While Buchanan remained a bachelor, Cleveland married Frances Folsom on June 2, 1886, thereby becoming the first President to be married in the White House. President Cleveland tried unsuccessfully for a second term in the White House in 1888. Although he received a plurality of popular votes, he did not carry the electoral college vote. In 1892 Cleveland again ran for the Presidency. This time he succeeded, becoming the first man to serve two non-consecutive terms as President of the United States. President Cleveland had another first in his second term. His daughter, Esther, on September 9, 1893, became the first child of a President to be born in the White House. When Grover Cleveland looked over the roster of the Fifty-Third Congress, which took office with him on March 4, 1893, he found that George Washington was the Christian name of eight Congressmen. They were the George Washingtons Smith, Fithian, Ray, Houk, Hulick, Wilson, Shell, and Murray.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| The South Side Times                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Founded October 6, 1922                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Member of the Better Business Bureau                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| MAJOR STAFF                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| General Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Jenny Manth                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Managing Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Susan Smith                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Copy Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Malough, Sharyn Yarger, Beth Nelson, Roberta Twichell                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| News Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Kathy DeVore                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Feature Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Sally Sweet                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Editorial Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Bill Wilder                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Boys' Sports Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Terry Newendorp                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Girls' Sports Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Janice Nahrwald                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Makeup Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Sue Kelley, Roberta Twichell, Beth Burnett                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Pierre Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Janet Brenn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Photographers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones, Leanna Morris                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Head Typist                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Barb Altevogt                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Business Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Sue Moyer                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Assistant Business Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Pat Bailey                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Advertising Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Pat Bailey                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Circulation Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Pat Bailey                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Circulation Assistant                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Nancy Redding                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Circulation Assistant                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Liz Weikart, Doris Atzell, Roberta Twichell, Tom Erb, Sharyn Yarger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Family Adviser                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | James Rohrbach                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| MINOR STAFF                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| News Writers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | David Flanigan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Margie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzell, Peggy Grace, Larry Brown, Ted Cooney, Ronnie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Coutsance, Karen Francis, Christine Fruehenthal, Sharon Hardy, Sue Lowman, Jan McClain, Sue McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Haus, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Jean Hettfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Letts                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Feature Writers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Hoff, Sueellen Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Marcia Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Sutterlin, Becky Harsh, Barb Boudard, Cheryl Crisiz, Jan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Shugart, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Joanne Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Franka, Dian Briehl, Ruth Ross, Julie Ringhart, Sue Bergmann, Liz Weikart, Sue Weirbach, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Harrie McCombs, Marla Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGlinchey, Judy Rhodie, Beth Bradford, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubinow, Doris Atzell, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Glenn Erwin, Jane Kettelle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yarger, Rosell Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bode, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladle, Gail Brumm, Karen Shavey, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunzer, Alice Haebeger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn |
| Editorial Writers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruehenthal, Sally Adams, Mary Bonduway, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stansbury, Sue North, Sue Kline, Carole Ladle, Paul Middleton, Steve Lowman, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Linda Ford, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haebeger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriwotow, Diane Frank                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Copy Readers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Cushman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Shavey, Margie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Frank                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Boys' Sports Writers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Bill Killegan, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowman, John Polo, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Ad Solicitors                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Cynthia Sander, Barb Nelson, Alice Haebeger, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Finrock, Janis Sprunzer, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Lorraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Fals, Harriet Ochstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janice Sprunzer, Karen Francis, Christine Fruehenthal, Martha Board, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Robl, Mary Bode                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Cartoonists                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Julie Wadlington, Judy Goodman, Diane Ornas, Don Morita, Bob Enclhardt, Ray Juncal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Classroom News Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Celeste Riemer                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Point Recorder                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Steve Letts                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Mailing Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Vicki Adams                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Audio                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Krystyna Kriwotow                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Copy Returner                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Allen Purdy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Exchange Editor                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Marcia Kuhn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Credit Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Charles Powell                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Assistant Credit Manager                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Sonya Flax                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Librarian                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Sonya Flax                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Paper Disinfectant                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Chuck Bodenborn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |

Committees Chosen To Work For Senior Class Production

MURDER AND MAYHEM . . . In a rehearsal for "A Murder Has Been Arranged," the senior play to be presented April 13 and 14, Logan Smith and Jeff Roth, standing, left to right, and Caron Fine, seated, practice their lines, as Sue Horth talks on the phone. —Photo by Jones

Working behind the scenes as stage crew for the senior class play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," are Dave Flanagan, Jim Feustel, Lyall Morrill, and Bill Wilder. The costume committee consists of Sally Franklin, Sharon Todd, and Diane Gebhard.

In charge of properties are Nancy Stauffer, Suzanne Link, Dayna Harader, Pam Buzzard, and Cynthia Russell. Aletha Staught and Barbara Gantz compose the make-up committee.

The publicity committee consists of Cheryl Summers, Brenda Arnold, and Martha Lanning. In charge of printing and selling tickets are Mark Hagerman, Bill Borgmann, and Dave Meek. Debby Brooke, Sally Franklin, and Jane Ladig are in charge of making up the programs given out at the door.

MUSIC AND invitations will be headed by Diane Fredrick and Sally Bash. Tonya Hines, junior class president, is in charge of obtaining 20 ushers from the junior class. Larry Lee, senior class president, is the general co-ordinator.

The tickets for the play are 75 cents for seats in the stands and $1 for seats on the floor. Posters for the play will be made by Miss Ruth Fleck's art classes.

The seniors will meet in the gym on March 29 for a meeting to promote ticket sales. This short meeting, lasting the homeroom period, will consist of a short part of the play given by the cast.

COMMENTED LARRY LEE, "This year's play promises to be an enjoyable performance. Every student owes it to himself to attend. We seniors especially should remember that this is our sole money-making class function, and it is up to us to make every effort to back our production."

The play is set for the evenings of April 13 and 14. The play will begin at 8:30 p.m. Playing the lead roles are Lissa Hoffman, as Betrice Jasper; Bill Kleifgen, portraying Jimmy North; and Steve Pratt, who portrays Maurice Mullins.

Other supporting members of the cast are Caron Fine, Mrs. Wagge; Susan Horth, Miss Groze; Karen Simmons, Mrs. Arthur; Charlotte Powell, the role of a ghost-like woman; Henry Persons, Cavendish; and Jeff Roth, Sir Charles Jasper.

Colleges Offer Summer Studies To Secondary School Students

Information about summer institutes at American colleges for high school sophomores and juniors can be obtained from Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor, in Room 102. The programs are listed below.

The Carnegie Institute of Technology will conduct eight-week workshops in the field of engineering. Sophomores and juniors who have done superior work in mathematics or science are eligible for the courses in chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, and metallurgical engineering.

The University of Southern California offers a program of actual college experience for juniors. The program involves two courses that carry transferable college credits with them.

Each student will take a "core" course called "Great Issues and Ideas in the Growth of Western Civilization" at USC. In addition, each student will be allowed to make selections of a course in his field of interest. The program is limited to 30 students from the country.

THE UNIVERSITY of Pittsburgh offers a similarly constructed program with a different curriculum. Students are encouraged to take two of the courses titled "Great Dramatic Literature," "Introduction to Government and Politics," or "Explorations into Geology." If only one of the above courses is selected, a course in English composition, mathematics, or foreign languages may be substituted.

The Applied Technology Division of Purdue University will offer for the second time a course in Highway Technology for high school students. The program is open to June graduates who will be 15 years old by September 1, 1962. It carries with it a guaranteed job with the Indiana Highway Department upon completion in August.

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY of St. Louis will conduct a five-week course on the values, purposes, and meaning of American freedom for juniors. The course includes a full program of sports and cultural and social activity as well as the subject matter.

The Grinnell Behavior Science Institute is a seven-week course in experimental psychology. Applicants should have a good background in natural sciences and mathematics. A well-rounded program, it is open to students who are now either junior A's or senior B's.

Cryptographers Use Electric Equipment To Decipher Codes

The ancient science of cryptology, aided by modern electronic equipment, is a vital weapon in the cold war.

In a sensational disclosure at a press conference in Moscow last fall, two United States cryptographers, Benjamin F. Mitchell and William H. Martin, said, "The United States successfully reads the secret communications of more than forty nations." Discovering this, every nation changed its codes and ciphers.

Deciphered Japanese messages, for example, turned the tide of World War II in the Pacific. American secret writers broke the principal Japanese naval code, discovering information on the size, course, and timetable of the fleet.

WHEN BRITISH experts broke down the German Code 13040 from a dispatch signed "Zimmerman," the Kaiser's foreign minister, they read of a plot in which Mexico was promised her "lost territory" in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona in reward for fighting against the United States.

Ciphers are as old as writing itself. The ancient Egyptians used three types of ciphers in their hieroglyphics. Jeremiah wrote Sheshach for Babel, using the system of reversing the alphabet; A for Z, B for Y.

TO UNLOCK the secrets of a seemingly incomprehensible mixture of letters, the cryptanalyst begins with the observation that a language uses some letters, letter combinations, and words more than others. In English, for example, "e" is the most common letter; "th" is the most common word pair; and "the" the most frequent three-letter word.

Consequently, most nations use more compact ciphers for the bulk of their messages. Since these ciphers, though secure, are not theoretically unbreakable, ciphering organizations stay in business. As long as they do, there is always the chance that a seemingly meaningless group of letters may some day spell victory or defeat in the cold war.

Filtration Plant, Storage Tanks Assist In Supplying City Water

Although most people take water for granted, Fort Wayne has spent over $12 million on its water system since 1879.

The very first water system consisted of just a pumping station. The reservoir and a system of water distribution mains were completed and placed into operation in the year 1881, costing approximately two hundred fifty thousand dollars.

Deep driven wells were first used to supply the water needs of the Fort Wayne community. In 1891 a second pumping station was built to supply the needs of the people. Between 1891 and 1930, 17 additional pumping stations were constructed to supply the increasing demands for city water.

THROUGH THE YEARS, the rock well water supply became limited. The question of a new supply was called to the attention of the general public for consideration following several years of a water shortage during the summer seasons around 1930.

Following a survey, it was decided that the city should select a new source of water. The St. Joseph River was selected as the best spot. As a result of this the St. Joseph River Dam, and the pumping station at the north end of Anthony Boulevard were constructed.

The raw water supply main was moved from this station to the downtown station and the Three River Filtration Plant located at the junction of the St. Mary's and St. Joseph Rivers. This water system was financed by two million, three hundred

Larry Lee Speaks To Pupils, Parents At Kekionga School

Larry Lee, senior class president, spoke at the Eighth Grade Student-Parent Educational Planning Conference at Kekionga Junior High School March 13.

Larry was chosen by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, to speak about the curriculum in general at South Side. Larry emphasized that those who had thought of going to college should sign up for the college course right away. If they suddenly decide to go to college and are not on the college course, they may be disappointed if they are turned away.

LARRY ALSO SPOKE of the extra-curricular activities and the opportunities through the clubs at South. He talked about the Times, music programs, and athletics, both intramural and varsity. However, he also emphasized the hazards in high school, those of social life and extra-curricular activities interfering with studying.

Other speakers at the meeting were Mr. Hugh D. Rice, principal of Kekionga; Jim Niemeyer, president of the National Forensic League and representative from Elmhurst; and Mr. Robert G. Cowan, assistant in personnel for the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

FOLLOWING the meeting, the students and their parents discussed with the homeroom teacher any questions they had concerning high school.

Larry stated, "I was really impressed by the large crowd. The parents were so concerned about seeing their children set definite goals in high school and the future."

'Take 6' Plan Offers Short Military Duty

Indiana's National Guard offers a "Take 6" program for qualified young men who want to complete their military service while working in their civilian occupation or while attending college.

Applicants spend six months on active army duty and complete their military obligations by attending weekly drills and an annual two week summer camp under the Thirty-eighth Division's "Take 6" Program. Educational opportunities and new skills are available for young men entering this program. Guardsmen can earn a full day's pay for attending the weekly evening sessions in hometown armories. The quotas for the six month training program total 375 for March and 210 for April.

Seniors can find out the procedure for entering college within one year after leaving high school and have their military service behind them.

Indiana's National Guard "Take 6" program can aid young men in the retirement of their military obligation. Additional information may be obtained from the National Guard Armory.

Workers Array Library Board With Announcements Of Events

KEEPING POSTED . . . Junior Nancy Robinson, left, and Karen Ponader, librarians, prepare the library bulletin board for the month of March. Special books, events, and seasons, are announced. This month the books vary from "Aku-Aku" to "A Hawaiian Reader." —Photo by Lowden

Juniors Nancy Robinson and Karen Ponader, library assistants, have decorated the bulletin board in the library for special seasons and events occurring during this semester.

Nancy and Karen have both been working in the library for two years. The girls started working on the idea of a library bulletin board early this year, and have carried out several successful ideas.

At Christmas time the bulletin board was decorated with greenery and branches forming wreaths and snow flakes were outlined with gold. During Book Week the bulletin board showed an intellectual Jack-in-the-Box.

Plans for the month of April center around a comical chicken popping out of his egg to show the coming of the Spring and Easter seasons. Plans for the month of May are still being made.

The bulletin board is now decorated for the month of March. The letters of the word March are shown at the top with footprints around the border and jackets of new books in the center.

THE NEW BOOKS are "A Hawaiian Reader" by A. Grove Day and Carl Stroven, "The World of Rome" by Michael Grant, "Canadian Short Stories" compiled by Robert Weaver, "What We Must Know About Communism" by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, "Old Ramon" by Jack Schaefer, "My American Heritage" collected by Ralph Henry and Lucille Pannell, "The Illiad of Homer" retold by Alfred Church, "The Mountain Road" by Theodore White, "The Making of the President 1960" by Theodore White, "Fifty Centuries of Art" compiled by Francis Henry Taylor;

"The Long Haul" by D.A. Raynor, "Head High Ellen Brody" by Elisabeth Friermood, "Fifteen Decisive Battles of the United States" by O.E. Armstrong, "McCall's Book of Everyday Etiquette" by Margaret Bevans, "The Lady of Arlington" by Hermet Kane, "Born Free" by Joy Adamson;

"The Beard's New Basic History of the United States" by Charles and Mary Beard, "Party Fun" by Harpers and into the Silk by Ian Mackerlay, "Aku-Aku" by Thor Heyerdahl, "Silver Fruit" by Patricia Campbell, and "Masters of the Modern Short Story" by William Faulkner.

"A HAWAIIAN READER" is the history of Hawaii covering its primitive times to the present day. This book tells the story of a people who advanced from the Stone Age swiftly to a pivotal position in the last war in less than 200 years through exploration and exploitation. It gives the impressions of sailors and missionaries as they first traveled through the unexplored land and accounts of their struggle to develop a civilization. "The World of Rome" is an account of the historical and cultural aspects of the Roman way of life from 133 B.C. to 217 A.D. This is the story of the period when they made their greatest impact on the world as an empire.

"The Making of the President 1960" is the story of the early, even childhood preparations made by President Kennedy to explore the aspirations of his possible competitors in the election for the presidency.

"BORN FREE" gives the reader an idea of the association between man and wild beasts in Africa. The story is written by the wife of an African game warden and taken from personal experience.

"Fifteen Decisive Battles of the United States" tells the story of battles at St. Simon's Island, the Plains of Abraham, the Campaign of Quebec, the Victory on Lake Erie, the Battle of San Jacinto, the Battle of Buena Vista, the Siege of Vicksburg, the Battle of Gettysburg, Admiral Dewey at Manila Bay, the Battle of Belleau Wood and the Argonne, Midway and the Coral Sea, and the bombardment of Germany.

"The Lady of Arlington" is a novel on the life of Mrs. Robert E. Lee.

"Canadian Short Stories" is a collection of some of the best short stories in Canada. It strongly emphasizes the contemporary writings, especially stories written after 1920. The stories show unity in the pervading loneliness and melancholy with which they typify the Canadian writers.

"THE MOUNTAIN ROAD" is the story of the burning of East China by an American demolition unit stationed there in 1944.

"What We Must Know About Communism" is "an amazingly complete and compact analysis of the Communist conspiracy from its origin to the present time," states the Saturday Review. Americans called it "a convincing analysis of the real nature of our Communist enemy."

"Old Ramon" is the story of a shepherd who was put in charge of his patron's boy for a season. The boy learns from him about sheep, rattlesnakes, wolves, sandstorms, and coyotes, realizes how to overcome fear, ease tension, face death and responsibility, and understand the difference between being alone and being lonely. The book also has many illustrations.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Real Estate & Insurance Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-5916 K-4909

FREE! EVERY WEEK... AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds... register often!

ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios

1962

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND WIN THIS RADIO!

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

easy does it... in robinette. FLIPS

Robinette FLIPS... light-hearted, light-footed brushed pigskin casuals that are designed for teen-age taste. And they're treated with Scotchgard Leather Protector to resist water, dirt and stains. Try a pair of Robinette FLIPS.

$7.95

TAE Co. Inc.
121 W Wayne St.

I&M Hi-Quiz

SUNDAY 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday: Tournament Round Elmhurst vs. C.C.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

OPEN BOWLING 9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Track Team Records First Victory By Two-Point Margin Over Culver

Thinly Jon VanOosten Scores Double Win In Hurdle Events

South Side scored a victory by a narrow margin last Friday evening over Culver Military Academy. The 55½-53½ Archer victory came on the last race of the night. South, after losing the eight-lap relay, came back in the 12-lap relay with a 3:06.5 time to take the race and the meet. This team was made up of Gunther Bauer, Nate Norment, Tom Frazell, and Karl Bandemer.

Jon vanOosten was the only double winner of the night for South. Jon won both hurdles events; he took the high sticks in 6.1 seconds while posting a 5.7-second time in the lows. Both of these events were run over a 45-yard course with Jon twice edging out Bill Borkenstein, Culver's fine veteran hurdler.

Karl Bandemer won the 40-yard dash in 4.7 seconds, but again the longstrided Bandemer suffered on the curves of the small Culver track and suffered defeat in the double lap 220-yard dash. He was edged by Culver's Sweeney in 25.6 seconds. Bandemer was hindered by this same track last year and was beaten by Archer Tom Duff. Bob Lohman took third place in both the 40 and the 220 this year to help push the Kelly score up over the top.

TOM FRAZELL WAS the only Archer to show in the 420-yard dash. Tom ran the course and finished first in 51.7 seconds. Evert Mol was beaten in the 880-yard run by Culver's Carpenter. The time, 2:13.5, was beaten by two of South's own reserves and Mol has posted better times in practice, as low as 2:06. Junior Stuart Schmitz also proved a disappointment to the Green. Stu has also posted better times than he did in this race.

Sophomore Ken Ellingwood ran a fine mile for the Archers on Culver's very difficult track. Ken ran the grueling distance in a good time of 4:56.7 to take first; he was followed by Culver's Canlin and Steve Meyers from South Side in those respective positions.

In the field events South lost some ground. Sid Sheray won the shot put event, as was expected, with a put of 45 feet four inches, slightly less than he was supposed to throw to be able to win the event. Don Sievert pulled a second place in this event. Gary Probst tied for first in the high jump with a jump of 5 feet 6 inches with Schluchter of Culver.

PROBST LATER CLEARED 5 feet 7 inches but after his three regulation jumps had been used. He will probably have to jump higher later in the season to take many blue ribbons. Schluchter also beat out John Weaver in the pole vault with a leap of 10 feet 6 inches. Dale Hilsamer kept the Archer thinlies from being completely blacked in the broad jump. Dale tied for third place behind Keehn's (Culver) winning jump of 20 feet 3½ inches.

Culver's eight-lap relay team took that event in 1:58.6. South, however, retaliated and swept the 12-lap relay, probably the most dramatic and crucial race of the meet. The team turned in the winning points that were

12A Bill Kleifgen Enjoys Clubs, Sports, Plans Medical Career

"A well-rounded individual" is Bill Kleifgen, senior, who is a member of several clubs, special classes, and a participant in intramural sports activities.

This year finds Bill acting as editor of boys' intramural activities for the Totem. Also, he has been a sports writer for the Times. These positions have offered him a chance to keep in close contact with the coaches, players, and sports in which he enjoys both watching and participating.

This avid sports fan not only likes to watch football, baseball, and basketball; but he participates in all three. He is active in intramurals and is a member of the First Presbyterian Church's undefeated basketball team. Bill also serves his church as an acolyte.

HE TAKES PART in the Chemistry Club, Hi-Y, and donates three periods of his school day to the Service Club.

However, all these extra-curricular activities do not hinder the school work of this individual. Bill is in special calculus and English classes. Chemistry and government are also included in his academic schedule. Bill states that math and chemistry are his favorite subjects.

Traveling has occupied some of Bill's past summers. Last summer he went on a canoe trip to Minnesota and Canada with Mr. Robert Weber.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

The
Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Tracksters Train

John Weaver, Sid Sheray Aid Kelly Thinlies In Vaulting, Put

Pole vaulting for his fourth season on the Archer squad, veteran John Weaver will return this year as the number one vaulter. Although John didn't win any of the earlier meets last season, he improved rapidly in the last few encounters.

His best vault in a big meet was performed in the North-South-Central Triangular where he cleared the bar

Filling the large shoes of departed Regional shot-put champion Jim Dawson, '61, is the monumental task that faces Junior A Sid Sheray. Kept in the background by the one-two punch of Dawson and John Somers, Sid has gained his experience from a year on both the freshman and reserve track teams and now looms as the number one candidate for the varsity posi-

John Weaver

Sid Sheray

at 10-6. Later John vaulted 11 feet in a reserve meet, but this was after the Sectional competition was completed.

John is showing much promise this year and has been working in and out of doors. His event requires much "extra strength," which John acquires by doing calisthenics, working on the ropes, and running.

After the regular events of a track meet are over, he participates in the shot-putters relay. In this event John and the Archer shot-putters challenge the opposing team's field event men to a race, and in this way he gets extra running practice.

During the other athletic seasons, John is a guard on the football team, a member of the church basketball team, a snow ski "king," and a hockey player. In football John was chosen to the second-string All-City squad. He is also active in Lettermen's Club and has earned two letters.

Concerning this year's squad, John feels that it can be as good as last year, but this will only be done if all work hard.

tion. His best heave in competition has been 46-7.

Showing his versatility in sports, Sid also wields his muscular frame on the football team as a fullback. Again having performed on the freshman and reserve teams, Sid moved up to the varsity and became the first-string offensive fullback.

Coming to South Side, he chose these sports as the best of those in which he competed in junior high. At Forest Park and Harrison Hill, he participated in baseball, basketball, and track.

Sid feels that this year's edition of Archer thinlies has a great deal of potential and with normal improvement expected of the inexperienced members of the team, it should be able to take the Sectional crown in May. He expects North Side to be the Archers' roughest opponent.

Sid will participate in the same events as a senior next year. Looking past that to college, he hopes to play football.

Three Pupils Find Enjoyment In Collecting Model Airplanes

To the tune of the roar of an engine, Steve Clem, freshman; Kevin Shinabery, freshman; and Jeff Freeman, sophomore, buy, build, fly, and collect model planes.

Their planes range considerably in type and size. Most planes have a 10-60-inch wing span, but some models flown have a 60-80-foot woodless area and will stay in the air for as long as 15 minutes.

STEVE HAS BEEN flying airplanes for three years. He stated that he enjoys making them, and has constructed seven, although three of them have been demolished. One of Steve's most difficult and unusual accomplishments was that of putting four fuel tanks on one plane. He has made several planes that stay in the air for more than five minutes.

Kevin Shinabery has just finished making his second plane. He enjoys flying them in combat, about twenty feet in the air. He has been doing this for about a year. Once Kevin completes the three-to-four-day assembling process, he flies the planes in such places as Ward School and McMillan Park.

JEFF FREEMAN has been making planes for three years. He began the hobby because he likes to build things. He has made eight different planes, of which seven are scales, and the other is combat. Combat planes will go more rapidly than scaled planes, which are authentic models scaled to a small size.

One of Jeff's most memorable experiences occurred when one of his planes stalled and slipped backward, made a 90-degree turn, and came crashing to the ground in his direction. At present, Jeff is busy building a plane which is scaled to the rivets.

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

The Archers started out the new track season with a bang last Friday in their two-point squeeze past Culver in an indoor meet. Hurdler Jon vanOosten was a double winner for South, copping the highs and lows. His hurdle times were very good for an indoor meet this early in the season; but, as a whole, the rest of the times and distances weren't outstanding.

The next track meet will be the Elmhurst match on April 3 at South's stadium. The next day, Elkhart's Blue Blazers, who have a much poorer contingent of thinlies than roundball handlers, will pay a visit on the Kellys' home ground. South ought to be able to win both these meets without much trouble.

As for the finale of the past high school basketball season, all that can be said is that it was great. Bosse really put up a "dogged" fight to prove that Kokomo coach Joe Platt's impossible reasoning was false.

Platt, it will be remembered, made the statement that all four squads were so good that no one of them could win two games. What's more, Coach Jim Myers' Bulldogs were rated by the press as the underdogs. None of this really meant much to the down-staters as they slipped past Madison and East Chicago to rack up the championship and a 28-2 record.

The high-class final four really put on a fine show, or rather, three fine demonstrations of Indiana basketball to the 14,000 in Buller Fieldhouse and the countless others perched beside their radio or television sets. Their final records, Madison 25-1, Washington 26-2, and Kokomo 25-2, are the finest ever compiled in the championship quartet. Also, the squads are probably the four best assembled at one time.

The All-Finals first five consisted of Bobby Miles, East Chicago; Gary Grieger, Bosse; Jim Ligon, Kokomo; Larry Humes, Madison; and Gene Lockyear, Bosse. Miles led all scoring for the day, tallying 62 points in two outings. The other boys were less spectacular, but still proficient, in their outputs. Lockyear and Grieger led the champs with 24 and 22 in the night game. Ligon potted 25 for Kokomo, and Humes netted 22.

The NCAA and the NIT tournaments are underway again, with an apparent clash between the top two teams in the country in the offing. Cincinnati's Bearcats walked off with the Midwest Regional NCAA title, and the mighty Buckeyes of Ohio State once again thrilled the crowds at Iowa City, Ia., while taking the Mideast Regional crown. The Bucks will take on Wake Forest, the Eastern winner, tomorrow night in Louisville. The probable result will be a clash between the Bearcats and Buckeyes for the national championship.

Major league baseball begins the 1962 season in just three weeks. The Grapefruit and Cactus circuits are in full swing with fine weather aiding all squads. Once again the Yankees perch atop the American League standings, closely pursued by the White Sox and Senators. Los Angeles, Chicago's Cubs, San Francisco, and the new National League entry, the Houston Colts, are scrambling for the top of their heap.

Of course, all of this action usually means nothing, except to Cub fans who may never again this year see their team in first place. The odds-makers have again labeled the Yanks and Dodgers the teams to beat; but, fortunately, Las Vegas does not yet control the successes of baseball clubs throughout a 162-game schedule.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Hall's Drive-Ins

Track Reserves Conquer Culver By 71-34 Score

The reserve track team opened the season with an easy victory over Culver Military Academy in the only indoor meet of the season. The Green won by a healthy 71-34 margin.

John Hite and Phil New captured the high and low hurdles, respectively. John won the high hurdles with a time of 6.5 seconds while Phil took second place. Exchanging positions, Phil won the low hurdles with a time of 6.4 seconds; and John took second.

In the mile run, Glen Crosier took first place, and Kelly Jim More took second place. The winning time was 5:12.7. The half-mile event saw Mike Weinraub taking a first with a time of 2:17.5 and Dave Brumm getting second.

Gunther Bauer took first place in the 440. Rick Werling then won the 40-yard dash with a time of 4.8 seconds.

In the field events the Green also took honors although they did not participate in the pole vault. Bill Kinsey and Larry Dawson took first and second places, respectively, in the shot-put. The winning heave was 41-¾. Graves and New were first and second in the high jump, the winning leap being 5-2. Graves then took second place in the broad jump with a 17-6½ leap.

CAP Squad To Host Annual Cabaret Ball

The public is invited to attend the second annual Civil Air Patrol Ball, sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol Group 3, next Saturday at 9:30 p.m. at the Fort Wayne National Guard Armory. The purpose is to advance aerospace training for those cadets in Group 3, which includes the squadrons of Fort Wayne, Kendallville, Angola, Plain Township, and Marion.

The semi-formal dance will be cabaret style with guests seated at their own tables, and soft drinks will be served. Door prizes will be awarded during the evening. Male cadets will be in uniform, and special guests will include commanders of the Army Reserve Centers.

Woody Neff's orchestra will provide music for the dance.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Troy
LAUNDRY

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista

Lodge Motel

"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South

5720 Bluffton Road

S-4950

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Ingeborg's
Beauty
Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.

Ft. Wayne, Ind.

K-3305

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!

Teenagers And the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY

WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER'S

Berry at Calhoun

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your job in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Evansville Bosse Captures State, Conquers East Chicago By 84-81

John Wilson Scores 16 Of 20 Foul Shots, Wins Trester Award

A skilled Evansville Bosse squad emerged victorious in what was one of the most talented and well-balanced group of teams ever assembled for the State Tournament at Indianapolis, Ind.

Displaying red-hot shooting in both the afternoon and evening contests, Bosse ousted the previously undefeated Madisons and went on to edge East Chicago Washington in the evening, 84-81. Down by eight points at one time, Bosse came storming back in the closing minutes to shatter the hopes and hearts of East Chicago.

For a day of basketball, one couldn't have asked for a much better show in the offensive department. All the scores were in the 71 to 83 range. However, the defensive skills shown in the tournament consisted mainly of fouls; in the first afternoon contest, 51 fouls were registered.

Six players fouled out of this ill-fated afternoon battle, one player managing four of his five fouls in the third period alone. Because the three games were decided by four, one, and three points, respectively, the fans as well as the players received a lot of thrills.

The recipient of the coveted Trester Award was John Wilson of Evansville Bosse. A member of the National Honor Society, president of the School Council, and a National Merit Finalist as well as a member of the state championship team, Wilson seemed a deserving holder of the award. He also turned in an unparalleled performance from the foul line during the afternoon getting 16 points, all from the charity stripe.

MEMBERS OF THE All-Star team from Saturday's games were Bobby Miles of East Chicago, Gary Grieger and Gene Lockyear of Evansville, Jim Ligon of Kokomo, and Larry Humes of Madison.

The final game, which pitted a rested Bosse team against East Chicago, proved to be an exhibition of fine basketball. Refusing to become rattled under terrific pressure, Bosse's Bulldogs went about winning the state championship with almost a business-like air. Although the game was always close, the Bosse boys never seemed to doubt their ability to win.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was 18-17 in favor of Washington. Both teams were red-hot in this stanza and popped away at the basket pretty much at will. As was the case in the afternoon, Bobby Miles was the field general for the Senators. Ahead by eight points at half-time, 44-36, East Chicago was beginning to look like the new state champs.

In the third quarter, East Chicago still remained in control of the situation, possessing an eight-point lead several times and ending the quarter with a six-point spread. In the fourth period, however, Bosse began to move. They were aided by a very tired Rich Mason of Washington.

With the score 63-57 going into the final eight minutes, Bosse outscored Washington 9-2 in the first two minutes to lead 68-65. Mason converted on a tip-in to make the score 67-66 in favor of Washington. This was the last time they were to lead. Going ahead with just three minutes gone on a long one by Grieger, Bosse led during the last five minutes to wrap up the gold rings.

With a five-point lead and four and one-half minutes remaining, Bosse began a sort of possession game, maintaining their lead by sinking pressurized foul shots. A fine all-court press in the closing minutes failed to daunt Coach Meyers' boys as they fashioned a three-point victory over East Chicago.

BOSSE HIT AT A .539 clip, 34 for 63 in the evening. During the fourth quarter of that same game, they made nine for ten from both the field and the free throw line for a fabulous .900 percentage.

Washington shot for a fine .427 percentage but wasn't hot enough to pull out the finale. High scorer for the evening game was East Chicago's fabulous 5-11 guard, Bobby Miles, with 30 points. He was followed by Blanchard and Mason with 17 and 15 points, respectively. Lockyear, Grieger, and Southwood combined for a total of 64 of Bosse's points, getting 24, 22, and 18, respectively.

In the opener of the day's festivities, Bosse ousted undefeated Madison by a 79-75 score in a game that was very much less interesting because of the proclivity of the boys for committing fouls in an attempt to stop the opposition.

The Cubs were out-rebounded by Bosse and were trailing by seven points, 59-52, when their big center, Larry Humes, was the victim of two quick and poor calls by referees. This sent him to the bench with 7-07 remaining and sounded the death knell for Madison.

Shortly thereafter Larry's brother Howard and Gail Good were also lost on fouls. These three untimely occurrences broke Madison's resistance, and they fell, 79-75. The closeness of the final score was only accomplished because of five points Madison got in the final seconds of play.

THE FIRST QUARTER found Bosse leading 19-13, mainly on the strength of an eight-point performance by Gary Grieger. Gary hit the nets with four long 20-footers to stun the Madison guards. In the second quarter, Grieger added six more points on three more long jumpers to help Bosse to a 29-21 half-time lead.

Bosse faced an all-court press at the end of this period which mainly gained the Madison boys a few more fouls. Center Ken Rakov did a fine job off the defensive boards. At the half Bosse led 35-33 mainly because of an effective fast break and the ability to slow down and set up good plays when the need arose.

The third quarter was Madison's in playing but Bosse's in points. Bosse did nothing but push, hack, and elbow this period but still managed to maintain a 54-48 quarter lead. In the fourth quarter Madison ran into foul trouble early. Bosse also lost three men but these boys were more easily accounted for than Madison's losses.

Bosse hit for a great .544 percentage on 25 of 46 from the field while Madison could only manage a .446 clip. Larry Humes led all scorers with 22 points, while Cheatam and Perry combined for 26, Perry getting 12. Bosse had fine balance with Lockyear scoring 19; Grieger, 17; Wilson, 16; and Southwood, 12.

The second afternoon game matched number one ranked Kokomo and East Chicago Washington, the latter dropping the Kats 74-73. These two teams both have been outstanding offensive outfits during the tournament. Kokomo had averaged 81 points and Washington 76 per contest.

The Kokomo boys, whose talents seemed to have been declining during the tournament, were victims of a spirited comeback by East Chicago who almost lost on a technical foul called on their coach, Mr. Johnny Baratto.

IN THE FIRST quarter, Bobby Miles scored Washington's first four points before Jim Ligon gained two for Kokomo. This was a forecast of the scoring duel that was to take place between these two boys in the second stanza.

Thus, with Ligon really moving out and the rest of the Red and White hitting very well, Kokomo retained a huge 22-12 lead at the first stop. However, the second quarter saw a scoring duel between Ligon and Miles, which Miles won 19-15. East Chicago also all but grabbed the half-time lead, trailing only 36-35.

The third period was a disastrous one for East Chicago. They dropped to a 13-point deficit and seemed to be eliminated. Then in the fourth quarter they began to move out. Miles, Mason, and Rivers combined to shove Kokomo's lead to four. Then East Chicago went into an all-court press and pulled to within one point. The lead then saw-sawed during the final three minutes but left Kokomo down by one, 74-73, with the ball at the 37-second mark. They stalled to within nine seconds of the buzzer and set up Ligon. Mason tied up Ligon on the shot, and Kokomo got the tip. In the last frantic seconds Rurt of Kokomo missed a corner shot and a follow-up before the final whistle sounded.

Once again Miles grabbed scoring honors with 32 points. He was followed by Ligon with 25, and Mason with 19. Burt got 15, while Rivers and Hawkins each got 13.

City Tracksters Set Top Marks In Last Season

During the last track season, some of the best marks in the state were set in Fort Wayne, many by Archer thinlies. Stand-outs included Karl Bandemer, Bob Bolyard, Henry King, Brad Bendure, Al Rainbolt, Carl Johnson, J.C. Lapsley, Ed Bobay, and Jim Dawson.

Karl Bandemer scratched up two of the best times in the city and continued victorious throughout the sectional and regional run-offs but was unable to compete in the state competition. Karl, a junior last season, was the owner of a 9.9-second time in the 100 yard dash and a 22.4-second 220-yard dash time. In good shape this year, Karl is expected to better his past performances.

Another South Sider, Bob Bolyard, set the city mark in the 440-yard dash. Bob's best time was a breezy 50.4-second mark for the distance. Bob copped the crown for this event in the sectional but was not able to climb to regional glory.

CENTRAL'S HENRY KING held the best city time for the 880-yard dash. After progressing through the sectional and regional ranks, Henry posted a 1:56.2-minute for a state championship. Henry ran with his competition all year until he met the stiff competition at the state meet and took off like a streak to gain his victory.

Miller Al Rainbolt set, not only the city's best time, but also the best time in the state. The Archer ran the grueling four lap race in a remarkable 4:28.3-minutes. Al went through sectional and regional competition without too much difficulty and could have done well in state if he had not been boxed in well back in the pack.

Both the hurdle events were hung up by North Side's Brad Bendure. Brad held both conference and sectional records. His best time in the low sticks was 19.4-seconds and for the highs 14.3-seconds. Brad had beaten South's Carl Johnson in previous competition but due to an injured back was not able to run in the state meet. Johnson ran a fine race of 14.7 seconds in the highs there to gain a state championship medal for himself.

Central's J.C. Lapsley had the best city mark in the broad jump at 21 feet one inch. Lapsley had a good mark in sectionals, but against tougher jumpers he fell in the regionals. Central Catholic's Ed Bobay took the sectional first in the pole vault and had the best city mark at a height of 12 feet four inches. Ed was not able to get out of the regionals with this jump. However.

JIM DAWSON, A first place man all season, had the best city mark with a heave of 55 feet nine and one half inches. He was followed closely by John Somers all year and was not defeated until the state meet.

The relays were led by North Side and South Side last year. Both schools had two good teams usually marking victories in the mile and half-mile relays against other schools. North's mile relay team composed of Denny Kruger, Steve Shimer, Bill Pool, and Steve Reader marked up a best performance time of 3:26.3-minutes for the four lap exchange run.

South's half mile relay team held the best mark in this event with a 1:31.2-minute run. The team, many of whom will return this year, was made up of Karl Schlademman, Karl Bandemer, Nate Norment, and Tom Duff.

Even with these outstanding records to fight against, it is very possible that most of these marks will fall.

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St. Phone E-2337

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica Custom-Built Cabinets

1013 Wells E-2865

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery Complete Motor Aid Service Wheel Balancing

SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith Phone H-1297

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974 CARRY OUTS

THE FOURTH SHADOW

4301 S. Hanna

Open After 7 p.m., Monday through Saturday

COFFEE HOUSE

Thursday, March 22—Vic Rigby; "Criss Cross and the Cruisers"

Friday, March 23—"The Clefts"; Bob Slawson

Saturday, March 24—"The Sentinels"; Bob Slawson

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT EACH EVENING

Cover Charge: 50c Monday-Thursday; $1 Friday and Saturday

Track Managers, Mike Beltz, Dan Bercot Keep Meet Scores

RECORDING RACE RECORDS . . . Serving as track managers, Junior Mike Beltz and Sophomore Dan Bercot work at their desk. Among their duties are caring for track equipment, keeping records of times in both practice and final runs, and reporting to the squads on their opponent's standing.—Photo by Lowden Gathering equipment, running errands, getting the results of events, keeping score, and knowing first-aid and training rules are some of the tough and time-consuming jobs of track managers Mike Beltz and Dan Bercot. Their job is very important in the construction of a good track team.

Mike Beltz, a junior A, has been a track and football manager for two years and has earned his first letter. Although being a manager takes much time and hard work, Mike enjoys this job immensely.

Mike feels that this year's track team is good but that it's hard to tell if the team will live up to its capacity

Mr. Gunnar Elliott Promotes, Broadcasts Area Sports Events

One of the most dedicated sports fans in this area is Mr. Gunnar Elliott, head of the Aaleco Corporation in Fort Wayne and long-time enthusiast and active participant in sports in the Midwest. Mr. Elliott has a long history of officiating, announcing, and arranging sporting events, dating back to 1924.

Early that year he made arrangements with local radio station WOWO to broadcast a professional basketball game between the Kansas City Kaycees and the New York Coltics. The popularity of this very first play-by-play reporting of a basketball contest was so great, that Mr. Elliott continued to report the action live for games in the immediate vicinity of Fort Wayne.

Soon, with the co-operation of the radio station, he struck upon an idea that brought remote reports of contests all over America. By initiating this use of telegraphic play-by-play accounts of important games, Mr. Elliott helped to boost the popularity of that infant sport that now holds such an enchanting grip on the whole of Hoosierdom.

AS THE 1924 HIGH SCHOOL basketball tournament approached, Mr. Elliott and WOWO hit upon another idea, the play-by-play description of the entire Sectional Tourney, to be followed by detailed telegraphic reports on the action in the Regionals, Super-Regionals (now Semi-State), and State games.

Through the co-operation of the heads of the participating schools, WOWO obtained exclusive rights for the entire 1924 tourney. This station has aired a detailed report of every Indiana State Tournament from that time and has broadcast the championship contest since 1925. At that time the games were played in the State Fairgrounds Coliseum. They were switched to the present site of Butler Fieldhouse when that structure was completed in 1931.

The Sectional set-up was a little different in those days than it is at present. There were 16 teams competing in the Fort Wayne branch of the tourney; but only two schools, Central and South, were representa-

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments 4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129 BETTE HABIG, Owner

For March Only 25 WALLET SIZE PRINTS 99c On Double-Weight Paper 3818 S. Calhoun ice cream cake desserts, a student said, .. after eating one of our new hot fudge

"WOW" What will you say?

Agar's BIG BOY

2440 W. Washington Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun S. Calhoun at Berry

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenhorn

Giant volleyball play went as follows: the Mighty Few won from the Bakers' Dozen on a forfeit; the Nihilists beat the Scrubs, 15-11. Steve Jones and Mike Beltz led the way in scoring for the winners. Chris Raptis scored all of the points for the losers; the Tweeds romped over the Peoples' Choice team with scores of 15-3, 15-10. High-point men for the victors were Henry Persons and Charlie Parker. Bob McKinney had the majority of points for the losing side.

The champs suffered defeat at the hands of the Meat-Packers in two one-sided games, 15-10, 15-2. Sid Sherry and Ed Johnson added the scoring touches in behalf of the victorious side. Paul LaClair was the big man on the losers' side.

The Bachelors trounced the Bakers' Dozen, 15-10. A rather unusual thing happened on both teams, all points scored by one man on his respective team. Bob Hart for the Bachelors and Lynn Hoover for the Bakers' Dozen.

The Meat-Packers rolled over the Bachelors, 15-10, 15-2. The Bachelors seemed to tire toward the end of the first game, as evidenced by the second game's score.

The Deadbeats handed the Dukes II a setback with the tremendous playing of Mickey Miller and Carl Foust. However, Morrie Snyder boosted the downed team with his splendid scoring.

In badminton singles action Steve Petty won from Dave Reidenbach, 21-10, 21-17; Gary Tinkle walked over Dale Engle, 15-4, 15-2; Jim Long gave Gary Tracy two identical defeats, both 15-11; and Steve Shambaugh emerged victorious from two matches with Tim Grodrian, 15-8, 15-14.

Dick Burns and Bob Horn ended up in the loss column in badminton doubles as they met the team of Dave James and Larry Botz. The scores were 15-3, 19-17.

The intramural wrestlers saw action as Don Potter pinned Bob Horn at 1:42 of the first round; Bob Bryant pinned Bob Stanford at 1:00 of the third round; Dan Bishop won from Steve Miller on points, 8-2; Dave Smith overcame his opponent, Steve Campbell, also on points, 8-6; Art

Lohm and Jim Maxson found each other too tough as they wrestled to a draw; and Fred Plothe defeated Ron France.

Members of the fly-weight division in wrestling are Mark Lowens, John Grodrian, Don Potter, and Joe Zollinger; bantam-weight members are Dick Burnside, Tom Fryback, Bob Bryant, Morrie Snyder, and Bob Stanford; Dan Bishop, Steve Campbell, Steve Miller, John Rastetter, Bill Roebel, and Dave Smith are members of the feather-weight division;

Bill Paris is in the light-weight division; boys in the middle-weight division are Jim Crenshaw, Jim Maxson, Steve Bill, Art Lohm, Phil Baker, and Bob McKinley; and heavy-weight members are Denver Dreusadow, Len Adams, Fred Plothe, Ron France, and Dan Holloway.

In other wrestling action, Don Potter won from Joe Zollinger; Bob Horn beat Mark Lowens; Bob Stanford defeated Dick Burnside; Morrie Snyder gave Tom Fryback a setback; Bob McKinley handed a defeat to Jim Crenshaw; and Art Lohm took his match with Bob McKinley.

The night-league free-throw tourney has been completed and the light-weight divisions winners are: John Grodrian, first; Don Potter, second; Steve Butz, third; Bill Charleston and Ed Warren, fourth; and John Gustafson, fifth.

The middle-weight victors are Mike Lepper and Shelley Sherry, first; Tom Fryback, second; Gary Shank, third; Tim Grodrian, fourth; and Steve Shambaugh and Tom Mack, fifth.

Heavy-weight champions are Loren Hinderer, first; Bob Hawkins and Bob Markilton, second; Dan Junk and Tom Marshall, third; Dave Reidenbach, fourth; and Dave Fishbaugh and Skevos Pavlou, fifth.

Ping-pong singles have just started and results will be announced at a later date.

The Bowling Tourney at the Village Bowl will start on April 6 and continue through spring vacation.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS 4204 S. Clinton Street

Rausch 708 S. CLINTON ST. JEWELER

Phone: T-1141

LOCATED CALHOUN AT JEFFERSON

Authentic IVY . . RICHWEAVE SUIT Wool Worsted With Dash

45<sup>95</sup>

35 to 42 Regular 36 to 42 Long

This all-wool worsted suiting can be depended upon for a "just pressed" look, no matter how "hard" you wear your RICHWEAVE Ivy Suit, and the "contour collar" assures perfect fit where you want and need it most—in the neck and shoulder area. Try it on to be convinced.

Look Smart For Easter

Palm Beach RICHWEAVE

Psychiatrists' Treatments Aid Mentally Ill Persons

Americans think that mental disorders are things which happen to "somebody else." Yet, mental and nervous disorders are far from rare in this country.

It is a proven fact that almost 50 per cent of all the beds in hospitals in the United States are occupied by mental patients, and it has been estimated that one out of every ten babies born today will be hospitalized for mental illness at some time during his lifetime.

Psychiatry is the branch of medicine which specializes in the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of mental illness or personality disorders. A psychiatrist is a physician with special training to do these jobs.

People who have the idea that the psychiatrist only helps those who are mentally sick, are being misled. The doctor also helps people stay mentally well. Since psychiatry is one of the newer branches of medicine, many psychiatrists are scientists seeking new knowledge. Discoveries comparable to those of Harvey, Pasteur, and Koch still wait to be made.

HOWEVER, MENTAL illness is never easy to accept. Many people have the attitude that there is something mysterious or even disgraceful about it. Much of this stems from a lack of knowledge about the nature of mental and emotional disorders. Although it has been called the nation's number one problem, it is amazing that only in recent years has there been some real understanding of the nature and cause of mental illness.

Yet, many people still ask, "What is mental illness?" Mental illness is caused by two reasons. Most mental problems arise from the fact that the personality of an individual determines how he acts and reacts, what makes him unhappy and what gives him satisfaction, and how much he can "take" and stay on an even keel.

Every personality is a mosaic based upon constitutional endowment, remote, and recent experiences. If the basic emotional needs of the individual are not met in infancy and childhood, the personality may be affected. In later life, or under special stress, this can cause serious trouble.

Physical symptoms which have no organic cause, personality traits that make it difficult to get along with others or to succeed in school or work, or complete loss of the ability to function as a rational human being often takes place. However, some cases of mental illness are caused by an organic defect sometimes present at birth, sometimes brought on by disease or injury.

THE PSYCHIATRIST is trained to understand these problems and their causes; thus, he will be able to help them in two ways. He helps parents and others who deal with children learn how to meet the basic emotional needs of children, thus, helping to prevent future mental disorders. He also studies and treats people who have already developed mental and emotional difficulties.

A good psychiatrist, like a good detective, must be interested in following an every clue that may help the underlying causes of his patient's difficulty. The patients are then treated according to their needs. In the hospital, the psychiatrist usually works in co-operation with other mental health workers—clinical psychologists, psychiatric social workers, and psychiatric nurses.

The psychiatrist, being head of the team, informs them of the patient's problem, the course of treatment; and then they plan the kind of care that each one will give. If the hospital has an outpatient clinic, the psychiatrist may also see patients who need the use of the hospital's facilities, but who do not need to be admitted.

A great majority of the psychiatrist's patients may be private ones whom he sees in his office. These are persons with intense personal problems, but who are not so ill that they need to be hospitalized. In general, the psychiatrist uses psycho-therapy on these patients. Psycho-therapy is based on a verbal communication with the patients as opposed to use of drugs, surgery, or physical measures such as electro or insulin shock or hydrotherapy, which are used in the hospitals.

THE PROFESSION of psychiatry calls for the highest form of personal qualifications. First of all the prospective psychiatrist should have an interest in people and an understanding of them. He must have the ability to win the confidence and trust of the patient with whom he deals. This calls for honesty, moral integrity, and sincerity of purpose.

Other important qualifications are open-mindedness and freedom from prejudice. Along with these, he needs an analytical mind, one that is capable of objective judgement and emotional stability.

The young person, besides having all these qualifications, should be a good student because the training period is long, and the courses are hard. Good health and physical stamina are needed to undergo the long period of preparation for this work.

In high school, the college preparatory course should be taken. One then should pay close attention to the choices of premedical and medical schools. A letter to the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association, 535 North Dearborn Street, Chicago

10, Ill., will bring him information on the approved premedical and medical schools that one should attend.

FOUR YEARS of premedical school are recommended although most medical schools will accept a student with only three years. Authorities all agree that the extra year helps to broaden the premedical student's background. The premed courses should include biology, physics, inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, and social sciences.

DR. HERBERT TRIET, local psychiatrist, expresses his views on his profession.

To be accepted by a medical school, a student must rank high in his class. Then age, personality, college grades, premedical courses, and scores made on medical aptitude and ability tests are all weighed carefully. Many medical schools include instructions in some psychiatric courses throughout the four years.

After completing the four year course in a medical school, the would-be psychiatrist must spend at least one year as an intern in an approved hospital. The student should serve an internship that includes some psychiatric as well as general medical experience.

To obtain a license to practice, a doctor must pass a state examination. To be eligible, he must have graduated from an accredited medical school; many states also require at least one year of internship. Then he must pass an examination of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology to be certified as a specialist in psychiatry.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to take the examinations one must have, in addition to medical schooling and internship, three years of residency training at an approved hospital and at least two additional years of approved experience in institutional work or private practice.

After the great amount of training, fourteen years to be exact, the psychiatrist is usually compensated by the high wages he earns. An average psychiatrist earns $15,000 a year while top notch ones earn up to $50,000 a year. It should also be kept in mind that his expenses are much lower than those of other types of specialists.

There are numerous employment opportunities for psychiatrists. Many serve on the staffs of state and private hospitals, clinics, medical schools, research institutions, and health departments. There also are opportunities to serve as consultants or full or part-time employees of social welfare agencies, courts, school and university counseling services, and industry.

Federal agencies employing large numbers of psychiatrists include the armed forces, the V.A., and the Public Health Service. Of course, many psychiatrists are in private practice.

THERE ARE BOTH advantages and disadvantages of a career in psychiatry just as there are in any job. The advantages include rewards and satisfaction in knowing that one has not just treated a disease, but a whole man when a patient is cured.

The first disadvantage is that the psychiatrist often has patients whom he can do very little to help. He is also faced with the frustrating problem of not enough staff to give proper care to the large number of patients. Then, too, it takes many years of hard studying and training plus great financial expense to become a psychiatrist.

Psychiatry is a new and growing field. It is definitely not overcrowded and offers an unusually fine opportunity for a career of service to mankind. There is a tremendous need for more people to do research in the field of mental health and to provide treatment for the mentally ill.

More and more public funds are being made available to support research in psychiatry, still much work needs to be done. At the present time, the number of psychiatrists in practice cannot begin to meet the needs in this field. The demands for more people to obtain the needed education and training for this medical specialty will continue to be great.

FRUIT JUICES and PUNCHES—Delivery Service—Bowls, Ladies & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

Studies Show Helps, Problems Resulting From Speed-Up Plan

Studies prove that special school speed-up plans may be both an advantage and a disadvantage to the American students. Through the use of these plans, thousands of public school pupils will be able to finish school in fewer years and enter college at an earlier age.

Today accelerated programs are of much more use than the old method of skipping a grade in school. A recent survey shows that seven out of ten secondary schools with an enrollment of 600 or over offer some type of accelerated program.

Gifted children as young as four years old may be allowed to begin kindergarten on the basis of psychological and physical examinations.

In some cities the schools are divided into "levels" instead of grades. After the child has mastered the work on one level, he proceeds to the next level. In this manner a child can complete six years of schooling in just five years. In some cases, junior high schools allow the children to finish three year courses in just two years.

ADVANCED-PLACEMENT courses enable selected students to take college-level courses on some subjects during their last two years in high school. This may permit them to enter college as a sophomore. Some colleges even accept a limited number of applicants at the end of their junior year in high school, if they meet entrance requirements.

However, there is the feeling that accelerated children often have social difficulties, mainly in high school, when a year or two can make a great difference in physical maturity. This problem may be eliminated if the students are carefully chosen, with the aid of teachers, parents, and guidance counselors.

MANY THINK advanced children are not pushed too hard. However, despite their heavy schedule, they are often school leaders in sports, and other extra-curricular activities. There is not much need for worry about unqualified children being placed in these classes, because the people in the community are very careful with their selections.

The success of these programs depends upon three factors. First, the students must be carefully chosen, depending upon emotional and physical maturity as well as intelligence. Second, the teachers must be carefully selected. Third, the school and the community must be willing to pay the cost in both time and money.

Inflexible Stereotyping Causes Faulty Judging, Understanding

Are all teenagers "wild"? Do horn-rimmed glasses reflect a person's intelligence? Are criminals usually dark complexioned?

Intelligent reasoning would answer these questions with a "no," but most people use stereotyped judgement to associate teenagers with "wildness," horn-rimmed glasses with intelligence, and criminals with dark complexions. Why do people depend on stereotypes? The answer is simply that they live with it from the time they are born.

Early in life a child watches television westerns. The "bad guy" has a mustache and dark hair. In a short time, children are able to spot the "good guys" from the "bad guys."

AS TEENAGERS, the same evidence of prejudice is seen. There are movies, magazines, and books which give stereotyped pictures of people.

For example, Columbia University points out that fewer than ten per cent of magazine-fiction heroes belong to a group from members of minority national or religious groups although these groups represent 40 per cent of the United States' population.

Adults continue to prejudice people by the pictures set in their minds. The mother-in-law and teenager are two examples. Also, the adult often votes for a man who looks like a candidate should look like to him and buys what someone in his place in life should own.

Stereotyping saves mental effort. A person doesn't have to take the trouble to learn about someone or something since he already has formed a picture in his mind.

THIS LEADS to not really observing and understanding people. Also, the person who depends on these mental pictures loses the art of being himself and of being an independent and unique character.

How does one get rid of stereotypes? The process to erase the pictures is slow, but needs to be followed.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c

FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

This week's Small Snaps is Sheryl Hall.

School Improvements Require Curriculum, Teaching Changes

Many controversial opinions appear as to how the secondary schools should be improved and what measures should be taken to increase their worthiness. Some individuals and groups believe only special students should be selected to continue study. Others say that in quality education the students must be required to work harder and have more difficult courses. Most groups have decided that carefully-considered changes are necessary to pioneer the concepts which quality education must have. The four new improvements in education of public high schools are new ideas in class size, the roles of teachers pro-

Students List Lost, Misplaced Articles

In this world of hectic living, people often become absent-minded, constantly losing things and forgetting about special dates, appointments, and responsibilities. Many Archers share this dilemma as revealed by the following statements.

Greg Lantzer: I forget my comb.
Carol Kherle: What my Mother tells me to do.
Ron Martz: I try to forget Bonnie (joke).

Linda Dollarhite: I consistently forget to iron.

Margie Lampel: I don't know I just forgot.

Bonnie LeFevra: I frequently forget names and dates.

Llana Elmore: I forget to come to school once in a while.

Sherry Powell: I forget to remind myself not to forget things.

Marilyn Hansen: I forgot I'm not supposed to talk in school.

Carolyn Burns: You mean what do I remember?

Connie Vallance: I forget the most when I should forget the least.

Rhonda Koehm: I forget to turn on the lights when I'm driving in the dark.

Purdue Plans Housing

Available for student use at Purdue University in September, 1962, will be 14 co-operative housing units, each accommodating between 25 and 40 students. Cost of room and board will be $50 per month.

Maintenance expenses will be reduced because each resident will give five hours of service per week, and the new program will give students an opportunity to display their leadership.

Applications of women must be submitted by April 2; blanks may be obtained in Room 102, the senior guidance office.

essionally, the curriculum, and the utilization of school funds.

The class size in a school should vary with the purposes of instruction. Many types of lecture, examination, or background classes can be conducted as well with a 100 students as with 15. Yet discussion groups should be small so each person can take part actively. The purposes of education are to develop individual responsibility and to teach students to make decisions and to discuss ideas with others. Both these require different sizes of classes.

A PERSON IS LIKELY to become more responsible if he is in a large class and has to take care of himself. On the other hand, the chance to express his own ideas comes only in a small informal class group. A teacher's time is too organized and limited to effectively teach and help students. Thus to improve the quality of this type of education, the standards of class size must be changed.

Teachers are trained to teach, yet a survey shows that one-third of the work done by teachers could be done by others. General aids could supervise the halls, cafeteria, and study rooms. Assistants could correct themes and test papers. Clerks could do the clerical work. Teachers could then spend more time with their pupils, and other adults could take over many jobs teachers do in the present system. Mechanical aids are also being designed to accelerate and enrich the learning of high school students. It is believed that another one-fourth of teachers' time could be saved here.

THE GREAT GROWTH of knowledge today presents another problem of secondary schools. The number of years a person attends school cannot be increased nor can the whole knowledge be taught in that time. Schools must choose what knowledge is most important. The curriculum should be based on what American youth needs and uses today.

If it were possible to organize the subjects in steps instead of semesters, a person could progress at his own rate of learning. Then education in high school would serve the student instead of rule him. A person should have some language, mathematics, science, art, and history each year; but he should be free to pursue his special interests also.

Teachers should be paid according to their skill and not how long they have gone to school. The space in school should be used to the greatest advantage. The utilization of funds in quality education would be arranged to benefit the students.

Accident-Prone Persons Reveal Guilt Feelings, Inner Conflicts

Accidents kill about ninety-three thousand Americans of all ages every year and are the leading cause of death in the age group from one to 36 years of age. Accidents kill more children than does any disease. The serious injuries that accidents cause annually run into the millions.

Yet health and safety authorities say that more accidents need never happen, and that 80 to 90 per cent of the mishaps that cause death or serious injury are avoidable.

If a person has seeming genius for mishaps, he is what scientists call accident-prone. Actually they are action-prone. The accident-prone person is a severe form of the accident-habit person.

PEOPLE WHO ARE quick-minded, impulsive, quick to marry and divorce, very healthy, impetuous, and who feel consciously or unconsciously hostile to authority are the ones who are most accident-prone. Not only are there inner conflicts within the person, but outside pressures that bring about conflicts as well.

Accident-proneness isn't a matter of evil fate or a jinx taking over, but it is the person, and his own attitude. Often the accident-prone person may have a deep sense of guilt about something. If a teenager dislikes his parents' demands, he will do exactly what his parents tell him not to do, therefore the beginning of a sense of guilt arises.

Before an accident occurs, often the person has had a conflict with a parent, teacher, or anyone else that may show authority.

Other accident-prone people may have a conflict between a strong conscious desire to be brave and grown-up, coupled with a wish to remain younger and be protected and sheltered.

Pupils State Views On English Spelling

It is often said that the English language is one of the most difficult to spell and understand. Students are often plagued with spelling mistakes on their themes and assignments. When questioned, Archer students' opinions varied as to whether to keep our present way of spelling or to change to the phonetic system.

Nate Norment: I think the present way should be changed. The phonetic system would be easier.

Larry Lee: Ideally, it should be changed, but it never will be.

Jim Ellingwood: Yes, it should be changed, because the English system is complicated and often misused.

Bob Miller: Yes, it should be changed, but it probably won't be.

Mary Jo Kraus: I think the phonetic system would be even more confusing.

Carol Forsgren: No, I have had enough trouble learning to spell the English.

Ray Juncal: Like who speaks this jazz anyway.

Yvonne Wilson: Yes, it should be changed so that one can spell easily.

Janet Stanton: I think it would be a good idea as it would aid in spelling and pronunciation not only for us, but for foreigners who are learning the language.

Horis Atzoff: I think it should be changed because it would enable one to spell more easily; consequently, valuable time could be spent on other subjects.

Girl Riflers Earn Badges

To earn their badges is the present goal of the Girls' Rifle Club. They will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. on the range.

Hutner's Paris
RUDOLPH CENTER • DOWNTOWN • NORTHCREST

Shop Friday night until 9

Be the prettiest gal at the Prom.

Choose your dress now from our wide and wonderful new collection in the Formal Shop

Every day counts . . . because while we have hundreds of heavenly formals to choose from, smart girls are selecting theirs right now, while the crop is the creamiest (and the dreamiest)! Put yours in Layaway if you like . . . better to be safe than sorry! Long or short formals from

17.98 to 45.00

Downtown Only, Formal Shop, Second Floor

Register for FREE PRIZES!

Still time! Drawing will be held Saturday, April 7. Nothing to buy. You may be the lucky high school girl to win one of these:

COMPLETE FORMAL OUTFIT (dress, shoes, gloves, jewelry, purse)

COMPLETE Bobbi Ray FINISHING COURSE (25 weeks, worth $150)

Register in the Formal Shop on our Second Floor

Archers' Grades, Kites Climb Upward In Spring Breezes

Obtaining the highest grades on a test over chapter 23 in Mr. Smith's General History 2 period 4 class are Karen Ashe, Sheila Meyers, Jeanne Rondot, and Kaye Shady.

Paulette Lantz is the only student who earned a perfect score on a 100 word theory test in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 4 period 2 class.

Those who obtained the highest grades on a test over chapter 23 in Mr. Smith's General History 2 period 1 class are John Wenrenberg and Gary Tracy.

Mr. Morey's English 6 classes have just completed their first book reports which they wrote as themes.

Liana Elmore, Fran Hudlow, Marjorie Kubay, and Gloria Phillips scored the highest grades on a brain network and nerve test in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 1 class.

Debbi Burr scored the highest grade on a test on the brain and nerve network in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 6 class.

On March 5 Mr. Fell's General History 2 classes had a current events debate on the subject of capital punishment.

Scoring the highest on a test over nouns, pronouns, verbs, and adjectives in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 2 class are Jody Shank, Ken Witzmann, Louis Fields, Dan Charters, James Stillwell, Willard McNutt, Judy Harden, Sandra Haneline, Martha Cain, James Ostermeyer, and Linda Arney.

Mr. Morey's English 5 classes have just completed their first book reports, writing them as themes.

Receiving the highest score on a test about parasitic and free living worms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 3 class is Mary Sherlock.

The following students have achieved high grades in Mrs. Murphy's Home Management 3 class which is learning to draw room and furniture plans to scale: Joyce Politt, Patty Bailey, Susie Lee, Gloria Phillip, Carolyn Vorndran, and Ann Arnold.

Mrs. Armstrong's gym classes are playing cage ball and working on relays.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 1 class who have finished their third instrument exercise drawing and have started their first geometric construction drawings are Mike Tomkinson, Richard Ramsey, Bob Miller, Tom McMahon, Max Brown, Steve Boerger, Dave Becher, Thomas Muha, Steve Hartwig, and Leonard Adams.

Achieving top grades on the first grammar test in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 7 class are Oma Ake, Carol Moilanen, Don Sievert, and Joe McClure.

On a unit test in Mrs. Welty's Latin 2 period 1 class Elizabeth Richter made a perfect score while Marilyn Gerke and Jane Hetfield scored above 95 per cent.

Terry Borne, Fran Krandell, and Mary Ann Roach got 100's on a test in Mr. Petty's Geometry 2 period 6 class.

The following students in Miss Ayers' period 2 business law class received scores in the 90's on a recent test: Mark Closs, Cliff Greiner, Patricia Miller, Jerry Smith, Jim Smith, and Phil Waltz.

Susan Jorgensen made the only 100 per cent on a unit test covering products and factoring in Mr. Cramer's three Algebra 2 classes.

The students who scored 90 or above on a recent complements test in Mr. Compton's English 1 period 1 class include the following: June Blessing, Sandra Duff, Alice Fruchtenicht, Linda Harding, Susan Jorgensen, Dan Merica, and Tom Parrish.

Receiving high grades on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 3 marketing class are Karen Hathaway, Jim Ellingwood, Nancy Norden, Margaret Ranso, and Lyle Culbertson.

Jerry Dunlap, Sandy Farmer, Stanley Nelson, and Vicky Wismer have done excellent work on adjective clauses in Miss Burr's English 3 classes.

Receiving high grades on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 1 marketing class are Carolyn Burns, Duane Dunken, and Mary Arnold.

Students receiving high grades on Mr. Petty's latest test in his Algebra 2 period 4 class are Jackie Kessler and Mary Sherlock.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 6 marketing class are Nancy Baron, Pam Walker, and Nancy A'Hearn.

Nancy Bowman, Nancy Welch, Sally Mallochio, and Don Nobles scored 90 or above on a recent flower structure quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 1 class.

Scoring grades of 90 or higher on a recent flower structure quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 7 class are Cindy Jackson and Iris Smith.

Receiving a high score on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 2 marketing class is Nancy Lagemann.

Stan Black, Eric Knabe, and Barbara Nelson earned the highest scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 7 class on a test covering German and Italian unification.

Mr. Rohrabough's Journalism 2 period 1 class has been concentrating upon improving their writing skill by writing news, features, and editorials for the Times. In addition to these story assignments the class has been performing the various other journalism duties, such as folding and rolling papers for outside circulation.

Sue Lohman received the highest grade in the class on a test covering the Industrial Revolution in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 3 class.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 3 period 2 class who have finished their first lateral development drawings and have started their first radial development drawings are Ralph Adkinson, Merlin Overman, Jim Smith, and Tom David.

Receiving high scores on demonstration speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class are Erin Rose, Ken Leakey, Connie Vallance, and Sid Sherry.

Alice Habbegger wrote a perfect 100 word theory test in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 2 period 3 class.

In Mrs. Welty's Latin 2 period 3 class Sharon Stettner and Jim Evans scored high on a recent test.

The following boys in Mr. Holt's period 7 gym class are student leaders for the spring semester: Duane Goodwin, Bill Oberkiser, Gene Rowlinson, Bruce Baldwin, Tom Durnell, and Marvin Zimmerman.

Dance classes directed by Mrs. Keegan have learned the finale to the Spring Show, which is danced to "Back Home Again in Indiana." They are also practicing a modern routine to "The St. Louis Blues."

Receiving excellent scores on a test over verb tenses in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 2 class are Carol Westerman, Roger Allmandinger, Laurel Skinner, and Vicki Culp.

Michael Ball, Nancy Enz, Laura Graham, and Clark Marquart scored high grades on a recent test over complements in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 2 class.

On a test over multiplication and division of whole numbers, Roseann Wagner, Gary Blauvelt, Diana Faulks, Val Budowski, and Dan Belsehner scored high in Mr. Germand's Math 1 period 6 class.

Mr. Kelly's Personal Typing classes have just completed the keyboard and now are studying continuity in typing.

Phil Geller, Bob Hawkins, Joe Koch, Carole Peters, Mike Rogan, and Bonnie Tescula received high grades on a test in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 6 class dealing with the short story.

Students in Mr. Stebing's driver training classes have been given a 1962 Buick, four door. Special, hard top to be used as the driver training car for the rest of the semester. Students are currently driving in Foster Park on the ice.

Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 1 class finished their work on the Pre-Romantic Age, and the students who scored highest over this work include Linda Germand and Karen Miller.

Jeff Roth presented his hour-long book report, "The Skin of Our Teeth," in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 6 class. He used accomplices in his audience to illustrate Thornton Wilder's innovations in theatrical technique. These included Dale Smith, who answered Martha Lanning's plea to save the human race during the Ice Age, by breaking up the theater seats and carrying them to the stage for firewood.

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL.

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Tim Easton received 90 per cent on a test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 7 group.

Scoring the highest grades on a test over Celtic Mythology in Mr. Sterner's Latin 4 period 6 class are Stan Black and Phyllis Pierson.

Having a spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class, the following students earned 100 per cent: Linda Chaney, Kay Heemsoth, Sandra Houseman, Thomas Libby, and Flora Reynolds.

Receiving excellent scores on a test over verbs in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 1 class are Carol Westerman, Barbara Vorndran, Cynthia Johns, Linda France, Vicki Culp, Marjorie Long, Carolyn Mielke, Tom Rogers, Susanne Gemmill, Walter Hess, Harold Disler, Roger Allmandinger, Diane Aiken, and Keith Parrot.

Students who scored 90 or above on a recent test over the Constitution in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 2 class are Diane Smith, Sheldon Sherry, Sondra Stouder, and Erin Rose.

Sandy Farmer, Steve Laymon, and Marlene Ringenberg received perfect scores on a chapter test in Mr. Collyer's period 3 General History 2 class.

Mr. Scott's gym classes are now playing giant volleyball. As soon as warm weather comes, they will venture outside to play softball.

Joy Locke and Christine Reed received the highest scores on a test on building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 4 class.

Terry Alvey, David Beard, Connie Gross, Larry Holtrey, Steve Lyst, Rob Steinkamp, Steve Vaughn, and Margy Winder made A's on a test over triangles in Mr. Sage's Geometry 1 period 6 class.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 4 period 3 class is studying kitchen planning.

Students earning high grades in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 3 class are Sue Lohman, Johnny Kosska, and Rick Werling.

Tom Mack, Bill Paris, Sandra VanDolah, and Keith Beghtel earned the highest scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 6 class on a test over verb tense.

Those who scored the highest grades on a recent review quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 2 period 7 class are Glen Bollman, Barb Fischer, and Steve Hoopengardner.

On a quiz over chapters five through eight in the workbook "About You" in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 2 class Alvin Silvers and Barbara Vorndran scored 100 per cent.

Scoring high grades on an identification test of the human skeleton in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 7 class are Tom Rogers, Linda Harding, Dick Robbins, and Clark Marquart.

Receiving the best grade on a unit test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 4 period 4 class is Barbara Spiers.

Scoring the highest grades on a test over Unit 1 in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 4 class are Steve Miller, Jeanne Rondot, Alan Carpenter, and Monica Brautach.

In Mr. Motz's period 7 group 1 gym class the winning volleyball team is Durnell-Oberkiser, while in group 2 it is Littlejohn-Witzmann.

Those scoring highest on a test in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 2 period 5 class are Alice Fruchtenicht, Ralph Bolman, and Steve Mills.

Ellen Stanbery is still maintaining the highest average in Mr. Arnold's period 3 U.S. History 2 class.

Scoring 90 or above on a recent test in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period class are Dick Goshorn, John Powers, and Nancy Stewart.

Mr. Smith's Art 2 period 3 class is working on space modulators and studies.

Bonnie Russell received an A— on a word group test taken in Mr. Coat's period 3 English 8 class.

Obtaining the highest scores on a test over the human skeleton in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 5 class are Sandra Burton, Janet Miller, and Nita Quinn.

Because they were the first members of Miss Osborne's English 8 period 7 class to finish the summary of the introduction to "The Scarlet Letter," Linda Anitbus, Don Sievert, and Pam Hines received special awards.

Pat Bobay and Susie Lee achieved A's on work in Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 3 period 2 class, while Lois Lerch acquired an A—.

Scoring high grades on a review on regular verbs in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 7 class are Debby Decker, Sally Franklin, Barbara Gantz, Sandi Hadley, Bruce Hilby, Mary Keegan, and Larry Lee.

Those who received the highest scores on a recent review test in Miss Smith's French 4 period 6 class are Suzanne Link, Willowdean Wilson, Joan VanOsedale, and Jim Harrold.

Students scoring 90 or above on a recent test in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 2 class are Charlie Golden, Marian Johnson, and John Stewart.

Mr. Coats' English 8 classes have started giving their hour long reports. Reports have also been given on ballads and epics.

In Mr. Motz's period 4 group 1 gym class the winning volleyball team is Dawson, while in group 2 it is Doran-Ensley.

Ken Leakey, Max Brown, and Steve Griffin received special awards for being the first students to complete the summary of the introduction to "The Scarlet Letter" in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 4 class.

Darla LeFevra earned the only 100 per cent on a quiz covering chapters five to eight in the workbook "About You" in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 1 class.

Doris Hesser made the highest score on a test on habits in Miss Crowe's Health 1 period 1 class.

Judy Zimmers, Karen Walker, Donna Squires, Greg Rozelle, Sally Morris, Denise Jones, Doug Henschen, and Steve Hambrook received above a 90 on a literature test taken in Miss Arber's period 2 English 6 class.

Kay Heemsoth and Martha Jacobs received high scores on a geography test over industry, transportation, and population which was taken in Miss Ayer's period 3 geography class.

Bill Cartwright and Jon vanOosten received high scores on a test over industry, transportation, and population which was taken in Miss Ayer's period 1 geography class.

Sandra Bates and Ted Boeck received high scores on a geography test over industry, transportation, and population which was taken in Miss Ayer's period 7 geography class.

Those keeping good notebooks in Mr. Berg's period 7 citizenship class are Nancy Enz, Janice Bates, Margo Betz, Linda Martin, and Elizabeth Richter.

Roberta Hoffer received the highest score on a literature exam taken in Miss Arber's period 4 English 6 class.

DID YOU KNOW?
The Purdue University Fort Wayne Center offers:

1. Two years of regular University work.
2. A two-year degree in engineering technology.
3. An opportunity to live at home and save.
4. Accredited university courses.
5. Day and evening classes so that you can earn while you learn.

Call A-3171 for more details
Summer session starts June 18.
Fall semester starts Sept. 12.

MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

ALL-AMERICAN MEAL

MILK SHAKES...20¢
McDonald's FRENCH FRIES...10¢
ALL FOR 45¢
HAMBURGERS...15¢

McDonald's DRIVE-INS

3-LOCATIONS-3

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison

SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!

Miss Fleck's period 7 Art 2 class is studying still life in 3D, showing the effects of apples and oranges. They are also working on puppet shows.

High grades on a recent citizenship quiz taken in Mr. Berg's period 3 class are Sandra Figg, Linda Gatchell, Diane Gilliom, Russell Grose, Cheryl Nadohuy, Carol Rice, Joe Ule, and Patrick Ward.

In Mr. Motz's period 1 group 1 gym class the winning volleyball team is Trice-Black, while in group 2 it is Woods-Holloway.

Receiving the highest grades on their unit 6 test in Mr. Pipino's U.S. History 2 period 3 class are Matt Cornacchione, Anita Kimball, Allan Mason, and Ann Shilling.

Carol Foragren has earned her 50 ribbon in Mr. Boling's Typing 2 period 7 class. Rhonda Roehm has earned her 40 ribbon in the same class.

Mr. Hauk's biology periods 2 and 6 classes are dissecting crayfish.

Sheila Eddy and Glenda Kayser have earned their 40 ribbons in Mr. Boling's Typing 2 period 3 class.

Judy Doherty, Sandy March, and Sandra Petrie made A's on work handed in for Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 1 period 1 class. The following people achieved A—s: Sharon Barker, Nancy Enz, Nancy Frenz, Sandra Petrie, and Carol Stanger.

Those who received the highest grades on their unit 6 test in Mr. Smith's U.S. History 2 period 6 class are Tom Shine, Lex Smuts, Dave Rodenbeck, Judy MacGieham, Sylvia Hileman, Janet Deihl, and Dave Brumm.

Earning the highest grades in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 4 class are Mary McDonald and Kathryn Martin.

During their study of quick breads, which they have completed, Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 classes baked blueberry muffins, coffee cake, cheese biscuits, and cinnamon rolls.

Linda Stanger and Janet Stanton scored high grades on a test on building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 3 class.

Bob Bartel, Nancy Beard, and Mark Close earned high grades in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 1 period 6 class.

Those who obtained the highest grades on a test over Unit 1, "Our World Has Roots in the Distant Past," in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 1 class are John Wehrenberg, John Austin, Tom Tracey, and Maurice Snyder.

Joanne Rose, Peggy Schmidt, and Mike Seltentright earned the class's highest grades in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 7 class.

Charles Brineman received the highest grade in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 1 class on a test covering angles of circles.

Phil Waltz, Mike Tompkinson, Bob Miller, Richard Ramsey, Tom McMahon, and Steve Hartwig have completed geometric construction drawings in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 1 class.

Barbara Gantz, Nancy Stauffer, and Margee Terry received high scores on a test over the last half of chapter 8 which was taken in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Judy Zimmers earned the highest grade on a test in Mr. Collyer's General History 2 period 7 class.

Linda Price and Paul Scheidemanth scored high on a unit test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's period 1 English class.

Receiving high scores on a review over regular verbs in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 2 class are Sharon Carrel, Carol Harader, Lissa Hoffman, Shirley Davis, and Caron Fine.

JoAnn Dixon, Susie Know, Vicki Mosure, and Linda Welch made A's on work handed in for Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 1 period 6 class.

The following people made A—s: Betsy Adams, Phyllis Bixby, Billie Clark, Laura Graham, Susan Nettrour, and Kathleen Petty.

In Mr. Motz's period 6 group 1 gym class the winning volleyball team is Pavlou-Muha, while in group 2 it is Petty-Hoover.

LaYonne Custance received the highest grade in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 5 class on a test covering angles of circles.

Mr. Smith's art classes have completed work on design progressions and color value. They are now painting in the cubistic school.

Jo Elynn Good received the class's highest score on a test covering factoring in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 1 group.

Steve Campbell, Linda Johnson, and Chris Raptis earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 1 class on a test over verb tenses.

Bill Colby, Rosalie Curtis, Richard Gantz, Robert Hoffer, Victor Seewald, and Elizabeth Weikart received perfect scores on a chapter test taken in Mr. Collyer's period 2 General History 2 class.

Laura Graham earned the highest score on a test on building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 7 class.

Receiving high grades on a recent test on capital letters in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 2 class are Linda Becher, Tim Easton, Judy Koehl, and Linda Thornburg.

Billie Burgo received the highest grade in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class on a test covering angles of circles.

Kathy DeVore, Diane Hall, Karen Ponader, and Bob Wasson received high scores on a test over the last half of chapter 8 which was taken in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Wanda Ripple, Bill Kinsey, Mike Zerminski, Andy Christon, and Harry Luchenko scored high on a test given by Miss Crowe to her U.S. History 1 period 1 class.

In Mr. Motz's period 2 group 1 gym class the winning volleyball team is Shank, while in group 2 it is James-Steinkamp.

Beverly Dougherty received the highest grade on a test on building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 1 period 6 class.

Patricia Phelps and Beverly Dougherty got perfect scores on a test covering the Industrial Revolution, in Mr. Collyer's General History 1 period 4 group.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 1 class who have finished geometric construction drawings are Scott Wilson, Steve Campbell, Herb Fuller, Steve Hamilton, Walter Hess, Larry Ingram, Dave Linsky, and Dennis Murphy.

Mr. Stebing's driver training classes are working on turn signals and trying to smooth out turns. They are also working their way into downtown traffic.

Receiving 100 per cent on a quiz over chapters five to eight in the workbook "About You" in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 6 class are Judy Curtis, Jo Elynn Good, Linda Lummas, and Pat Waltenburg.

Receiving the highest grades on a test over the identification of the human skeleton in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 3 class are Carol Channell and Mark Lowens.

International Motor Trucks
Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories
International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

Apparel for Men and Growing Boys

Shop Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays until 9...

Sign of a winner!
Farachex

by FARAH OF TEXAS

Subtly patterned checks make a sure winner of these wash 'n wear slacks tailored in Farah's traditional quality. The lean, clean look is a favorite, too. Inside waist adjustments.* In Brown and Olive.

STUDENT SIZES $4.98

MAIER... Gentlemen's Attire

Rudisill at Calhoun Rudisill Center H-0781

British Tony Webb Compares London, England, To America

Hoping to see as much of this country as possible is the main desire of Junior Tony Webb. Tony, who entered South at the beginning of this semester, has just recently come to the United States from London, England.

Working for a time as an electric typewriter mechanic enabled Tony to see many English cities, among which were Southampton, Hull, Birmingham, and Bristol. He has also visited Cardiff, Wales, Bologna, and France.

TONY AGREES THAT the United States has a much higher standard of living than England. He prefers our American schools, and he strengthens this statement with his following comment: "In America there are more opportunities in education, and one tends to learn more." However, he believes that American and British schools are equally strict. After he is graduated from South, Tony hopes to attend an American college.

Tony prefers shopping in America to shopping in England, because one can get around much more easily in the American stores. Another convenience of American living that Tony especially enjoys is our system of central heating in the homes. On the whole, Tony thinks that American life is very carefree, casual, and extremely desirable.

IN COMPARING American sports to English sports, Tony prefers the American, because here there is a greater variety. His favorite sport is still English football, which is quite different from American football, because the players never touch the ball with their hands. Tony also enjoys American basketball, a sport which he just saw on television.

Tony's favorite hobbies are wood-working, ice-skating, and popular music. He especially enjoys wood-working, having made an electric guitar, a coffee table, a tea cart, and a magazine rack. In England, he took special woodworking classes in the evening.

At the Fort Wayne Art School, where she attends classes Monday through Friday, Miss Sheri DeYoung, '61, will speak to the Art Club at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in Room 26. The talk is entitled "College Art and the Way It Is Approached."

At the Fort Wayne Art School, Sheri has learned pictorial composition, design, basic drawing, life drawing, laboratory in materials, and the history of art.

As the past president of Honorary Arts and the art director of the Spring 1961 Pegasus, Sheri has had much experience in this field. She also received the Sigma Eta Art Cup Award along with an Art Department Plaque Award.

Officers elected for this semester of Art Club are Louise Jackson, president; Barrie McCombs, vice-president; Cindy Jackson, secretary; and Bruce Brown, treasurer. These officers have recently announced their plans for the coming semester.

An Easter Workshop will be featured in April for which each member will be required to make something. Also for April, the club will take a field trip to either the Fort Wayne Art Museum or the Lincoln Life Building. Later in the spring, the members and the officers will have their annual club picnic at Foster Park.

Tony Webb

Club Features Art Of Sheri DeYoung

Displaying her art work from the Fort Wayne Art School, where she attends classes Monday through Friday, Miss Sheri DeYoung, '61, will speak to the Art Club at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in Room 26. The talk is entitled "College Art and the Way It Is Approached."

At the Fort Wayne Art School, Sheri has learned pictorial composition, design, basic drawing, life drawing, laboratory in materials, and the history of art.

As the past president of Honorary Arts and the art director of the Spring 1961 Pegasus, Sheri has had much experience in this field. She also received the Sigma Eta Art Cup Award along with an Art Department Plaque Award.

Officers elected for this semester of Art Club are Louise Jackson, president; Barrie McCombs, vice-president; Cindy Jackson, secretary; and Bruce Brown, treasurer. These officers have recently announced their plans for the coming semester.

An Easter Workshop will be featured in April for which each member will be required to make something. Also for April, the club will take a field trip to either the Fort Wayne Art Museum or the Lincoln Life Building. Later in the spring, the members and the officers will have their annual club picnic at Foster Park.

Pupils Believe Love Important In Home

"Home is where the heart is." Archers who were polled on what they felt were important qualities in the home were often in accord with this statement.

Jim Lawson: Children make a happy home.

Nancy Lageman: It is a building of affection, security, and understanding upon a sound foundation of love.

Sue Lee: I think togetherness is the first step towards a happy home. When a family works and plays together, they will be forming a more closely bound relationship.

Sandy Lindeman: Children, togetherness, security, and relationship—these things make a happy home.

Dennis Cook: A good environment and happy surroundings make a happy home.

Terry Alvey: A happy medium.

Wayne Garrison: A mutual understanding of children, parents, and a religious background.

Beth Bradfield: A close relationship and a warm, loving environment.

Radiation Fallout Creates Fear, Worry Among American Public

Since most bombs today are not clean, the questioning results of their fallout is creating a period of superstition. All nuclear-weapons tested up to this time have had invisible radioactive debris sifted down to the earth and became a part of it.

Scientists have tried to appraise the hydrogen-bomb debris since 1954. From tests scientists can now determine fallout's global distribution and the speed at which it is swept from the stratosphere. They are now able to appraise its potential danger more accurately than they could two years ago.

After a nuclear explosion takes place, the matter disappears and is changed into energy. This change takes place either when two light nuclei are joined or when a very heavy nucleus is split.

Radioactivity comes from fission. Fission provides the explosive force for an atom bomb, and fusion powers the hydrogen bomb. The fusion process produces little in the way of dangerous radioactivity products.

In the fission process the shattered remains of the uranium nucleus are unstable and seek to come back into the configuration or ordinary non-radioactive elements. This is done by nuclear rearrangements involving the emission of energetic radiations or high speed particles.

IN THE ATOM BOMB there are over two-hundred different types of radioactive elements formed, which range in radioactive lifetime from less than one second to thousands of years.

Strontium is formed in about five per cent of the fission events. Strontium in this form is relatively harmless when it attacks the body from the outside, but it is dangerous to the body internally.

The "lifetime" of the different materials is measured in terms of their "half-life." This is the time it takes for one-half of the original amount to disappear.

If the activity is short-lived, their effectiveness can be reduced by keeping the bomb debris out of the part of the earth and its atmosphere in which animals and plants live.

There is also a biological lifetime of radioactive materials. The biological half-life is the time it takes for one-half of a radioactive contaminant to be eliminated from the human.

Strontium-90 a long biological half-life, because it gets into the bones of human beings. Cesium is not as dangerous, because it stays in the system for about one hundred forty days.

RADIATION IS measured by "curies" and "roentgens." A gram of tissue could absorb 500 roentgens without a rise in temperature of so much as 2/1,000 of a degree Fahrenheit. A single living cell is either damaged or killed when it is irradiated. When too many cells are killed, the organ they belong to dies. If certain organs die, the organism dies. Cell damage can also lead to cancer or leukemia. In productive cells the damage can be more extensive because man's genetic memory is stored in these cells. Radiation exposure can also cause a shortening of life.

For each strontium unit in the bone there will be between two and six cases of leukemia per year per 100 million people. The latest series of tests has caused an increase of three to nine cases of leukemia for each 100 million of the population per year.

Prior to 1961 about ninety-two million tons of fission energy have been released from the bomb testings. The debris distributed depends upon the altitude at which the bomb was exploded, the time of the year, and the latitude.

Most of the debris from the smaller bombs goes to the lower atmosphere. The debris of the large bombs is pushed into the stratosphere where it stays much longer.

BOMBS TESTED BY Russia in the fall near the far northern latitudes will deposit their debris in the spring near the mid-North Temperate Zone.

The United States tests made near the equator stays in the stratosphere longer. These tests have some of their debris in the Southern Hemisphere, but they seem to peak at the mid-Temperate Zone latitudes.

In the United States, the Midwest generally shows the most of the soil radioactivity. The northern part of the country shows more radioactivity than the South. Rains bring a great deal of the radioactivity from the skies.

Plants take strontium-90 and cesium-137 into their leaves directly and absorb some of it through their roots. Milk levels of strontium-90 are expected to reach a new high since the cows will feed on this grass in the spring pastures. Over half of the strontium-90 in the milk seems to have come from the soil.

MOST OF THE SOVIET bomb debris passed north of us in its first swing around the globe. The United States would have been exposed to much higher levels from Soviet tests if wind patterns and Russian testing practices did not coincide.

The two large Russian tests were at very high levels. Because of this, the iodine-131 will have decayed before it returns to the earth. Although 20 or 30 percent of the Soviet fission products came back to the earth quickly, there is a great deal of debris up in the sky; possibly two tons.

The debris is being diffused through the stratosphere 50,000 to 100,000 feet above the earth, and is slowly being driven southward.

This spring cold air masses carrying quantities of radioactive debris will settle out in the North Temperate Zone. This April the United States may have the heaviest fallout it has ever known.

Penny-Wise Female Fashions Wardrobe Around Basic Color

The girl who has no basic color scheme in her wardrobe must have considerable money in order to be well-dressed. She needs many more accessories than the girl who plans each season's clothes around what is still usable in her existing wardrobe, who has accepted the idea that certain basic colors are becoming to her and to which she should adhere if she wishes to dress well on a modest budget.

Basic colors are black, blue, brown, and gray, possibly green and wine. On the first four a good wardrobe can be built, allowing for much variety. The last two, as basic colors, are more limiting.

It is the interchangeability of accessories, not a large number of skirts and dresses, that makes interesting variety in the wardrobe. Many extravagantly well-dressed girls and women follow the basic plan, sometimes never varying the basic color from season to season.

AS A GIRL'S TASTE in clothes develops, she should turn to certain accent colors because they flatter her. Eventually she is guided almost unconsciously to these colors. She should have decided early which of the basic colors go best with the accent colors she likes to wear, and she should buy her shoes, bags, belts, coats, and hats in basic colors that will complement or match anything she buys.

The "best dressed" isn't "most dressed." Suitability to occasion and to the person herself count more than quantity. A small hard-working wardrobe, with skirts and dresses and blouses that can be mixed or matched, is better looking and less expensive than a wide variety of clothes that never seem quite at home when put together.

A new skirt, a date dress, a pair of slacks should be purchased as they are needed to keep the balance of the wardrobe. They can be economically chosen according to wardrobe plan, not because they're cute, the "latest," or on sale.

WHAT IS WORN should be right for that type of person. In small towns social events are different than in the big cities. Schools have their own clothes customs. One shouldn't play follow-the-leader but should think of being suitably and appropriately dressed.

With the simple styles today and the countless fabrics available, one is able to sew wonders with a little practice. The pattern is the basic foundation of good sewing, and it gives step-by-step sewing instructions.

The question of fit is one reason teenagers often sew for themselves. Even with all the special size ranges available in stores, individual figure problems are smartly solved by clothes made at home. Another plus to those who sew a fine seam is that individuality can be expressed while having clothes in the color combinations most becoming to oneself.

Two Sophomores To Journey To Girl Scout Senior Roundup

Journeying to the Girl Scout Senior Roundup, "Honor the Past and Serve the Future," in Button Bay, Vt., Toni Heathman and Margaret Shirley, will meet with about eight thousand five hundred other scouts from the world on July 18-31.

The scouts will learn to live and work together and will trade "swap articles" with other groups. Representatives from the local Limberlost Council are taking articles representing

Both girls are planning to go to Camp Logan during August as Counselors-in-training.

Toni has found advanced scouting to be interesting, fun, and inspirational, and hopes to make scouting her vocation in some way.

Margaret stated, "I am very glad I continued with senior scouting, for it has proven to be very rewarding. However, I plan to make my career in the medical field."

In school, Toni is a member of Junior Red Cross, Assemblies Workshop, and the band. She is also a member of MYF at the Simpson Methodist Church. Margaret is active in the YWCA, Biology Club, and GAA and is a member of the MPY at Simpson.

Fupils Reveal Views On Astronaut's Fate

Since Colonel John Glenn has performed successfully three orbital flights, it appears that he will have no further space adventures for a few years. He has created excitement and enthusiasm of the public toward the space program. However, he has also become a world-wide symbol of the United States. Students have expressed about whether or not Astronaut Glenn should be removed from Project Mercury and used as a goodwill ambassador.

Cheri Hahn: No! Mr. Glenn knows all the details of Project Mercury and is experienced. He can help the future astronauts.

Nancy Ormsby: Yes! After watching Col. Glenn on television, I feel he would be a fine person for this job. He has the talent of public speaking and a wonderful personality.

Kathy Branning: No! I think Mr. Glenn should remain on Project Mercury. He has had the experience of an orbital flight, and he can tell other astronauts of the feelings and experiences, an explanation no one else could give. He is very valuable to the United States in the Mercury project.

Jon Poto: No! He should continue his space flights instead of traveling in foreign countries.

Sue Moyer: No! Just because he flew around the Earth a few times doesn't mean he is qualified to serve as a goodwill ambassador. It's true that he is popular, but it takes more than that to be a goodwill ambassador.

Mike Levy: No! He has been trained in his job as a scientist and would not make a practical or effective ambassador.

Dave Moody: No! He is one of a selected few who has been trained for such a job, and his talents should not be wasted on being an ambassador.

Sue Weinraub: No! He has a lot of knowledge from his trip; and he should, therefore, help the scientists continue safe space exploration.

Toni Heathman, left, and Margaret Shirley sending Mad Anthony Wayne and Johnny Applesed and will demonstrate basketball, displaying "Hoosier Hysteria."

Girl Scout roundups occur every three years, and the girls are chosen by scouts, according to their leadership qualities and past experience.

TONI AND MARGARET applied last fall for the roundup, and went to Camp McMillen to obtain training and to learn their outdoor skills.

Margaret began scouting when she joined a Brownie troop in Springfield, O., with her mother as leader. Toni also started scouting by joining a local Brownie troop. Both girls stated that they decided to continue with scouting after seeing the 1959 roundup films.

In her troop, Toni has earned all her badges from Brownies, her first-class rank, and midshipman rank. She has completed her five-point child care programs. She is currently serving as vice-president of Troop 231 and will act as assistant patrol leader of the group that is going to Vermont.

MARGARET HAS also earned her Brownie badges, all her outdoor badges, and others, such as the cooking badge. Like Toni, she has earned her midshipman rank in Mariner scouting and has completed her child care and office aid programs.

Sunshine Unveils Sparkling Bargains

During The . . .

PERFECTION VARNISH

2833 James St.

H-3171

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Road

S-3146

CLAUSER STANDARD SERVICE

1701 S. Anthony Blvd.

A-0503

ROSS RADIO

236 West Main

A-2433

DALE'S DRIVE-IN

U.S. 24 West at Covington Road

K-8451

Fort Wayne Window Cleaning & Building Maintenance Corp.

1802 S. Harrison

H-1115

"Let Us Lighten Your Panes"

SEVEN-UP BOTTLING CO.

3107 Brooklyn Ave.

K-5477

KLAEHN FUNERAL HOME

120 West Wayne

A-0228

AB'S DRIVE-IN

Clinton at Rudisill

H-5306

MAIN AUTO SPORT SHOP

214 West Berry

A-2139

Also Located At Stillman's Grand Leader At Southgate

PLAZA APOTHECARY

3610 Brooklyn

H-2351

Eleven Students To Compete In Regional Oratory Contest

TRAVELING TALKERS... Preparing their speeches for the Regional contest at Elkhart Saturday are left to right kneeling, Debby Decker, Margee Terry, Diane Fredrick; standing, Barb Nelson, Diane Hall, Shari Busch, Jim Bailey, and Patsi Dorton. Divisions range from humorous and dramatic to original oratory and extemporaneous.—Photo by Lowden

Eleven speakers are eligible to compete in the Regional Speech Meet Saturday at Elkhart High School, Elkhart, Ind., because they placed in the top six in their respective divisions in the Sectional Meet March 10. Competitors will be Diane Hall and Sue Horth in girls' extemporaneous speaking; Phil Spray, Margee Terry, and Barb Nelson in original oratory; Debby Decker in radio; Diane Fredrick and Logan Smith in dramatic; Barb Nelson in poetry;

Twenty Pupils To Tour Boston With Pilgrim Fellowship Group

PILGRIMS' PILGRIMAGE... Planning the bus trip for the members of Pilgrim Fellowship of Plymouth Congregational Church are the officers of the group. In front are Tom McMahan, left, president, and Ann Brase, treasurer. Standing are Pat Lee, left, representative to the Benevolence Board, and Martha Lanning, vice-president.—Photo by Lowden

Twenty South Side members of the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Plymouth Congregational Church will journey to Boston by Bus starting Monday and return on April 7. The Archer travelers will be Karl Bandemer, Ann Brase, Peggy Brase, Susan Burlage, Tom Blossom, Julie Briedenstein, Martha Dixon, Sharon Eitman, David Fairchild; Doug Hansen, Becky Harch, Martha Lanning, Patricia Lee, Tom McMahan, Jim McMahan, John Powers, Fred Slater, Ellen Stanbery, Joyce Spindler, and Betsy Stephenson.

THE FIRST NIGHT will be spent near Buffalo, New York. Leaving early the next morning, the group plans to arrive at the Framingham Conference Center in the late afternoon.

In the evening, Rev. Harold Worthley, a graduate student doing a thesis on Congregational Church history at the Harvard Divinity School, will give a presentation of background material on Boston and Harvard.

On Wednesday morning, the group will go on a walking tour of King's Chapel and Old South Meeting House.

IN THE LATER afternoon, the group is scheduled to tour the denominational headquarters. Here, the Congregational Library is located.

On Thursday, they will tour Harvard Divinity School facilities, the "Yard," the Widener Library, which is second largest in the country; and Agassiz Museum with the famous glass flowers. Then in the afternoon they will visit Plymouth Rock.

Forty-One Students To Attend Annual Journalism Convention

'LIKE THIS'... Nancy Redding, third from left, shows Dick Parke, Bill Wilder, and Beth Burnett, left to right, how to perform their parts in South Side's talent number for the talent show at the Northeastern Indiana Journalism Convention at Valparaiso University on April 7.—Photo by Lowden

Forty-one journalists from South Side will attend journalism classes at the annual Northern Indiana Journalism Seminar which will meet on April 7 at Valparaiso University.

Attending the convention from South Side will be Jenny Manth, Sandy Thorn, Babette Jones, Diane Fredrick, Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Lane Grile;

KEN LOWDEN, Leanna Morris, Terry Newendorp, Kathy DeVore, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett, Barb Altevogt, Pat Bailey, Janet Brenn, Kaylene Gebert, Dian Leath, Mike Seaman, Sarah Finch, Nancy Redding, Sharyan Yergler; Sally Mallough, Sonya Flagg, Steve Jones, Tonya Hines, Barb Spiers, Susi

The South Side Times

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 25

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, March 29, 1962

Price Ten Cents

'Hi-Quiz' Team To Face Luers In Round Robin

Chosen by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, to represent South Side in WANE-TV's I&M Round Robin "Hi-Quiz" program are Lyall Morrill, senior; Lex Smuts, junior; and Judy Ruhl and Christine Fruechtenicht, sophomores. Bill Wilder, senior; and Janet Brenn, junior; are the alternates.

South, having been defeated by Elmhurst on March 4, will be competing on April 8 at 5:30 p.m. against Bishop Luers in the lower bracket of the tournament. The winning team will compete against the winner of the Central-Concordia game on April 29. The losing team will be eliminated from the tournament.

ALL THE HIGH schools are still in the contest. The schools that are defeated while playing in the upper bracket drop down to the lower bracket to compete. Then in the final game the winner of the upper bracket competes with the winner of the lower bracket, the winner becoming the winner of the Round Robin tournament.

"I hope I can live up to the confidence placed in me and be an asset to the South Side 'Hi-Quiz' team," stated Christine Fruechtenicht.

Christine is a member of Assemblies Workshop, Wranglers, vice-president of Meteries, a Totem agent and a news and editorial writer for the Times.

Singing in occasional choir, working in the library, and being the treasurer of Meteries are Judy Ruhl's outside activities.

LEX SMUTS, A member of Wranglers and Designers' Associated, said, "I am looking forward to representing South Side again and hope to do better this time."

"The team was as disappointed as the student body by the loss to Elmhurst, and we will certainly put forth our best effort to win the next match," stated Lyall Morrill.

Lyall is president of the Junior Academy of Science, a copy editor for the Totem, a member of the Math Club, Physics Club, Chemistry Club, Latin Club, and Hi-Y.

Pupils To Submit Compositions For Magazine Writing Contest

The Pegasus writing contest, sponsored by The South Side Times, will end on April 9 at 4 p.m. No entries will be accepted after this time. All material must be submitted to Roberta Twitchell or Tamara Vyhovsky, editor and associate editor, respectively, before or after school in Room 16.

All students, regardless of class standings, presently attending South, are eligible to enter this competition. A first-place article will be chosen from each of the three contest divisions: poetry, essay or editorial, and short story.

Each winning author will earn a prize of $3. Articles will be judged by Miss Lucy Osborne and Miss Mary Graham, English instructors; Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser; and the Pegasus editors.

The bases for the judging will be originality and thought; and for the purposes of judging only, punctuation will not be a factor. The author's name and class standing and a title must appear on every article; and each entry should be typed, if possible. There is no limit to the number of articles each student may submit, but no articles will be returned.

ALL THREE WINNING themes will appear in the spring Pegasus and will be identified as winners; however, every article that is entered will be eligible for publication. The editors reserve the right to edit all articles whether it be a winner or not. English, foreign language, and social studies instructors will accept writings of students who do not wish to enter the contest but who have articles they wish to submit for consideration before 3:20 p.m. today.

"I would like to encourage everyone to enter the contest, especially the underclassmen who do have literary talents but who, as yet, have not had the chance to prove them," stated Tamara Vyhovsky, associate editor.

"Also, I emphasize the fact that it is not imperative that compositions submitted to the Pegasus be written

Nate Norment To Major In History At Ball State

Nate Norment, who completed his senior year in January is attending Ball State Teachers College. He arrived on the Muncie campus March 21, the beginning of the third quarter.

Since Nate would like to teach history, he will major in the social sciences and minor in education. Presently, he is taking psychology, English, orientation, and World Civilization.

While at South, Nate was an active participant in athletic events. He played football for four years and basketball for two years; he participated on the track team for three years. He was also a member of intramurals and a Letterman.

Grade Period To End

The second grading period will end tomorrow; letter grades will be issued April 10. School will be dismissed tomorrow at the end of seventh period for spring vacation; students will return to school April 9.

South Side Times, Pegasus Earn Superior Awards From Columbia

Tom McMahan To Play Music For Workshop

Tom McMahan, post-graduate, and Allen Steere, '61, will perform at a public performance of the Performers' Workshop Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Trinity English Lutheran Church. The selection to be performed by Tom, Allen, and Mr. Bill Kirk, a future piano soloist with the Philharmonic, is "Horn Trio" by Brahms.

Tom will play the French horn; Allen, the violin; and Bill Kirk, the piano.

Tom has been a member of the band and orchestra throughout his high school years. He has been a class officer and has participated in sports activities, being a member of the Letterman's Club.

Tom is a member of National Honor Society and Hi-Y and presently plays French horn with the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra.

Allen Steere is presently studying at Columbia University in New York City. He is concert master of the Columbia Symphony Orchestra. While at South, Allen played violin with the orchestra for four years. He was a member of Hi-Y and Assemblies Workshop. Allen was a Junior Rotarian and a member of National Honor Society.

The program will be the sixth of a series of eight programs put on by the Performers' Workshop for the purpose of presenting seldom heard pieces of music. The Performers' Workshop is composed of amateur performers who meet and play for each other.

The seventh concert will be on May 19, at the Concordia Senior College auditorium. The eight and final program will be at the Trinity Episcopal Church on June 2.

during this semester. Which articles will be used depends upon the thought and methods of expression applied to them," she concluded.

THE THIRD EDITION of the magazine will be distributed in homerooms on May 18, and the sales campaign will continue from April 16-27. The first Pegasus, in spring 1961, was edited by Barb Steiner and Joan Stanton, '61. Jenny Manth and Kaylene Gebert, post-graduates, led the 1961 fall publication.

The present staff includes Barbara Uhl and Janet Brenn, editorial staff; Barbara Nelson and Beth Burnett, copy staff; Bob Englehart, art editor; Ken Lowden and Steve Jones, photographers;

Sonya Flagg and Marcia Kuhn, typists; Lane Grile, circulation manager; and Sandra Farmer, Sue Harrod, Ann Henderson, Ann McCallister, Leanna Morris, Nancy Redding, Celeste Riemann, and Sharyan Yergler, circulation assistants.

College To Sponsor High School Day

Indiana State College will conduct its annual High School Day for college-bound seniors, juniors, and their parents on April 7. The day is designed for students and parents to become orientated with the Indiana State College buildings, grounds, and educational opportunities.

The day's program will begin with a welcome by President Raleigh W. Holmsted. Next, the students and their parents will attend two lecture classes discussing college life.

After eating in the Student Union Cafeteria or Grill, the guests will be entertained by productions from Indiana State's 1962 Campus Revue. The day's program will be concluded with tours of the housing units and the academic buildings.

The departments that the students will be able to visit are art, library science, foreign languages, mathematics, English, physical education for men or women, special education, industrial education, home economics, nursing, social sciences, science, elementary education, speech, music, and business.

Interested students should sign up for the program in the senior guidance office.

Hosts for High School Day are Alpha Phi Omega, men's service honorary organization; the Indiana Student Education Association; and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education organization.

Lettermen To Vote

An election of fall officers will highlight the Tuesday, April 10, meeting of the Lettermen's Club in the Greeley Room at 7:30 p.m.

Running for an office are Denny Berryhill, Dale Hilsmer, Bob Lohman, Dave Meyer, Dave Platz, Gary Probst, Bill Rastetter, Stu Schmitz, and Sid Sherry.

The members will vote for four boys; the top four boys receiving votes will be president, vice-president, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms, respectively.

MEDALIST, TYPOGRAPHICAL AWARDS... The South Side Times and the Pegasus have earned medalist ratings and the Times' typography, printing, has received a first-place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Sue Smith, left, and Barb Altevogt are reading the award certificate.—Photo by Lowden

Seniors To Sell Play Tickets; Juniors To Usher For Shows

Homeroom representatives in charge of selling tickets for the senior class play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," to be April 13 and 14 are as follows: Room 182, Marilyn Block; 72, Marilyn Cole; 68, Karen Dowty; 8, Caron Fine; 146, Sally Franklin; 24, Elizabeth Hostetler; 10, Barton Bailey; S-2, Robert Hendrickson; S-1, Brenda Arnold; S-4, Bob Ramage; 2, Bonnie Russell; Room 30, Linda Newell; 82, Tom Plesniak;

Pat Lee, 91; Don Sievert, 52; Dayna Harader, 75; Elaine Snow, S-5; Paul Johns, 28; Tamara Vyhovsky, 28; and Bill Wilder, 108.

All seniors will be provided with tickets to sell, which will be on sale tomorrow. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

USHERS WERE chosen from the junior class. Those for the evening of April 13 are Ann Gallmeyer, Sharon Bass, Sally Mallough, Julie Wadlington, Nancy Robinson, Sue Lohman, Marla Habecker, Ann Shilling, Tonya Hines, Dorothy Dildine, and Kaye Gall. Others are Pat Fiske, Dave Brumm, Lex Smuts, Steve Gard, Al Mason, Ed Freed, Jerry Klaehn, John Knight, Dave Rodenbeck, and Jon Poto.

Ann McCallister, Jani Brenn, Sue Berk, Diana Ormas, Martha Dixon, Rosemary Capps, Barb Altevogt, Diane Petzilik, Carole Ladig, and Sue Burdick will serve as ushers for the night of April 14. Others that same night are Stu Schmitz, Tom Shine, Gary Probst, Tom Erb, Mike Weinraub, Bob Lohman, Bob Wasson, Ken Davis, Bill Cupp, and Sid Sherry.

The play is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m. on both evenings. The orchestra will play before the play begins and after the first act. Tickets are 75 cents for seats in the stands and $1 for seats on the floor.

THE LEADING CHARACTERS for "A Murder Has Been Arranged" are Beatrice Jasper, played by Lissa Hoffman; Jimmy North, portrayed by Bill Kleifgen; and Maurice Mullins, played by Steve Pratt.

Other supporting members of the cast are Caron Fine, Mrs. Wagge; Susan Horth, Miss Groze; Karen Simmons, Mrs. Arthur; Charlotte Powell, the ghost-like woman; and Jeff Roth, Sir Charles Jasper.

Biology Experimenters To Visit Scientific Museums In Chicago

GO WEST, EXPERIMENTERS!... is the cry of Stan Moreo, Mary Ann Waldrop, and B. D. Hartley, standing, left to right, and Victor Seewald and Janet Kelley, seated, who are preparing their cameras and checking the agenda for the Biology Experimenters' trip to Chicago on Wednesday.—Photo by Lowden

To increase their knowledge in biology and to supplement their club and class work, members of the Biology Experimenters Club and a few students from biology instructor Mr. Nicholas Pipino's classes will travel to Chicago on Wednesday during spring vacation.

Leaving South Side by ABC bus at 6 a.m., the group of 41 students will arrive in the Windy City at approximately 11 a.m. Mr. Pipino and Mr. Robert Waldrop, father of Mary Ann Waldrop, will accompany the group which will be met in Chicago by Mr. John Roberts, who is a student teacher under Mr. Pipino.

The Chicago History Museum, located at the south end of Grant Park, is the first stopping place for the group. One of the renowned scientific museums of the world, it houses a vast and constantly growing collection of exhibits on anthropology, zoology, botany, and geology.

NEXT, THE CLUB members will visit the John G. Sheild Aquarium in which 10,000 specimens of fish representing 350 species can be found. Special attention is given to reproducing the appearance and conditions found in the natural habitat of specimens.

The Adler Planetarium, the first planetarium in America, is the third destination of the group. In its center hall are reproduced in a few minutes the intricate phenomena of the heavens by means of a highly complex projection instrument on a lumen screen shaped in the form of a dome.

The last place on the agenda is the Lincoln Park Conservatory which is part of the famous Lincoln Park Zoo.

Leaving Chicago at approximately 5 p.m., the group will stop at the Glass House Restaurant on the Toll Road for their evening meal. The students are expected to return to Fort Wayne by 11 p.m.

"I AM LOOKING forward to the trip very much, and it should be very enjoyable. We have had no difficulties in planning our schedule, and we're anticipating a successful day," stated Stan Moreo, head of the Biology Experimenters.

The cost of the trip is $5.50. This amount covers the cost of the bus and insurance, and it is thought that part of this money will be refunded to each student after the trip.

Reservations may still be made with Stan as a few seats remain on the bus. Those members of Biology Experimenters who have signed up are Stan Moreo, Vic Seewald, Janet Kelley, B. D. Hartley, Tim Easton, Mike Easton, Greg Church, Larry Boutes; Phil Baker, Dave Triplett, Mary Ann Waldrop, Ed Kimble, Nancy Westrick, and Paul Spicer.

Seniors To Rent Gowns

Tomorrow is the last day for seniors to rent caps and gowns and to order graduation announcements, and no payment will be accepted after that day. The charge for caps and gowns is $2.50, and each announcement costs ten cents.

Three Students Attend Sessions Of Press Convo

Paper, Literary Book Receive Commendation For Printing, Format

On the basis of its editing, headlines, make-up, and staff organization, The South Side Times was awarded the medalist rating at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association meetings March 14 to 17 in New York City.

The Times was the only school newspaper in Indiana to be accorded the medalist rating for typography in its classification, which was based on the enrollment of the school being between one thousand five hundred and two thousand five hundred.

The Corydon Central Pantheite was the only other newspaper in Indiana to win an award similar to that of the Times, although it was in the classification of schools having an enrollment of between five hundred and seven hundred fifty students.

ALSO WINNING A medalist rating, the highest rating given by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, was the Pegasus, South Side's literary magazine. It was given the rating for its format.

Attending the convention at the time that the awards were made were Jenny Manth, Sue Kelley, and Sandy Thorn, seniors; and Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser.

Issues of the Times which were judged in the competition were those from the Christmas issue of 1960 to the same issue of 1961. General managers of the paper during that period were Bob Shine, '61, Linda Silverman, '61, and Sandy Thorn, post-grad.

Dr. Joseph M. Murphy, director of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and the staff of judges selected the Times for the medalist rating for the thirty-seventh consecutive year.

MR. LESTER BENTZ, director of Quill and Scroll, international journalism honorary, also praised the Times, saying that he used it in the journalism curriculum at the University of Iowa.

Editors of the Pegasus considered by the CSPS judges were the spring 1961 and winter 1961 magazines. Barbara Steiner, '61, was editor-in-chief of the spring volume, assisted by Joan Stanton, '61, associate editor.

Jenny Manth and Kaylene Gebert were the editor-in-chief and associate editor, respectively, for the winter 1961 edition of the literary magazine.

High School Project At Purdue To Help Graduating Students

High School Day at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind., designed to supplement the guidance programs in their schools for students planning to continue their education at the university or college level, will be conducted on Saturday, April 14.

All students, along with their parents and high school teachers or counselors, are invited to attend. A special invitation is extended this year to sophomores and juniors.

THE DAY'S PROGRAM is designed to provide these students and their parents with information relative to requirements and opportunities in specific career areas. It will also present first-hand information on the opportunities available to them at Purdue.

The format for the day will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. in the ground-floor lobby of the Edward Eliot Hall of Music. At 10:30 a.m., the session will open with a lecture entitled "Preparation for College." This will be followed by a symposium in which faculty members from various subject-matter areas will discuss "Educational Opportunities."

AT NOON, THE students, teachers, and counselors will be guests at a luncheon in the university's Residence Hall. Conducted tours will be made of the housing facilities.

Two sessions of career conferences, each in areas of the student's choice, will occur in the afternoon. In these meetings, professors and counselors in each particular area will discuss the admission requirements, opportunities in that field, factors involved in career selection, costs, and other related items.

The program is sponsored by the Office of Admissions with the co-operation of all schools, divisions, and departments of the university.

Choir To Entertain

About one thousand five hundred people will hear the choir sing at the Masonic Temple at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow for the Ladies' Night Banquet open to the families of the Summit City Lodge members.

The choir will begin its standard show program featuring the soloists and the quartet.

Morals Serve As Guides For Life Peace, Purities

By Peggy Schmidt

High on the list of familiar phrases doled out by doting parents to teenagers is the expression "What is your generation coming to?" Time and again these well-meant words fail to render the intended effect. But the observant teen must admit that a marked moral decline has taken a strong grip upon the character of many adolescents.

It is apparent in the sessions of juvenile court, where teens face sentence for every crime imaginable. It is seen in the streets of the city, where hot rods make daily runs down the "main drag."

The dictionary defines a moral practice as "that which is proper and right." This, however, is saying very little. Many different balances exist for weighing good and bad. Basically, morals are determined by three means of specifications: commandment, conscience, and common law.

Commandment and law are very definite. There can be no question as to the evil in committing a cruel murder or just a petty theft.

Conscience, however, is elusive; it allows itself to be blurred and suppressed by desire. Moreover, it changes with time and personal training. What is considered by one era to be a moral sin may be looked upon with acceptance by another. What is held in disgust by one individual may be completely proper to another. How, then, is one to know whether the dictates he follows are just?

The answer is not easy. Generally, such qualities as honesty, kindness, justice, loyalty, temperance, tolerance, and co-operation are felt by all to be sound moral convictions. The difficulty lies in determining the expressions used to carry them out.

If commandment and law are heeded, little is left to be decided by conscience. But what does remain must be judged on the basis of instinct and inborn tendencies of virtue.

The realization arises that it is impossible for humanity, with all its shortcomings and limitations, to be wholly moral. The teenager finds it discouraging to pursue an end that cannot be reached.

Morals are not simple to live by; they are demanding and relentless. They seem to cancel freedom of choice and make a slave of their patron. Why, then, should man attempt to accept them?

Man's purpose in life is to discover the sacred peace and purity of trying to be moral. The much-worn maxims are, after all, truthful. Good is indeed triumphant over evil; good does receive reward and evil, punishment.

Moral education begins in the home. No child can be expected to practice ethics when he finds his parents cheating on tax forms and telling falsehoods. He cannot be punished for going astray when he is merely imitating the actions of his elders. Character building is furthered by the church, by the schools, through extra-curricular activities, wholesome books, magazines, and television.

Most teenagers reach high school with a fairly good idea of right and wrong. Here, in a world of new freedom and responsibility, their convictions are put to the test. The temptation is great to let eyes wander and pencil follow during an examination.

Who can resist such a little thing as disobeying a traffic sign when the coast seems clear? Surely it can't be too wrong to sneak into a movie theater without purchasing a ticket. And who would notice if just one candy bar were quietly taken from the shelf?

But there are no two ways about morals. They can't be stretched. In the words of James Russell Lowell:

"In vain we call old notions fudge,
And bend our conscience to our dealing;
The Ten Commandments will not budge,
And stealing will continue stealing."

Creativity In Teens Points Out Parallel To Seed In Nature

During the last ten years, Americans have become aware of the importance of well-balanced diets. Nutrition experts are continually striving to improve and invent healthful menus. Newspapers and magazines provide the public with numerous suggestions for the betterment of American eating habits.

Some of the zeal and fervor which is spent in this endeavor should be extended to a field which is dying of nutrition. This is the failure of teenagers to employ creative ability.

Cultivation of creative ability is much like the cultivation of wheat. The seed is the basic desire to create. Contrary to popular belief, this desire does not always descend on the head like a tongue of fire. It usually lies dormant and unstirred within the soul.

The stimulus which causes it to awaken and form roots can be a trivial event. A phrase in daily conversation, a casual glance at a newspaper photograph, or a fragment of a television show could be the kindling spark.

WHEN THE CREATIVE desire has been germinated, it may sprout in various forms. The wish to write original prose or poetry, the urge to find a way for a car to gain more speed, and the vanity which prompts girls to attempt to invent new hairdos are examples of the varied branches of creative ability.

The fact that one does not become creative overnight must be emphasized. Worthwhile creation, like strong vigorous growth, takes time to properly blossom. When a brain-storm invades the surface of the mind, one should not immediately begin to act impulsively.

Ideas must be allowed to take shape slowly. Their shapes may be quite flexible during the formation processes. New thought channels could change the entire formation of an original formation of an idea.

There is no definite formula which insures the success of all creative efforts. Different types of creation requires different techniques and procedures. A mechanic seeking a way to increase engine acceleration will find little help in examining the landscape which provides the artist with inspiration.

SUCCESSFUL FARMERS are believed to possess green thumbs. However, those who produce average yields must be given credit. Like farmers, no two people possess the same degree of creative ability. All men cannot be Mozarts, Hawthornes, or Diers. God has endowed each man with a particle of imagination. Each man must honestly attempt to recognize this particle and employ it to its fullest capacity.

Weeds are the prominent killers of wheat, and fear of individuality is the chief destroyer of creative ability. Fear of the consequences of nonconformity stifles and smothers the creative urge in a number of teenagers. There is no drug to cure this threatening plight. The join-the-crowd instinct, creativity's worst enemy, will not be exterminated in a few days or weeks. Like weeds and crab grass, it must be continually fought and suppressed.

A bumper crop of teens who utilize creative ability will require inexhaustible quantities of patience, initiative, and hard mental and physical labor.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Carolyn Dinis, '59, a junior at Purdue University, has been initiated into Delta Phi Delta, a national art sorority, and Theta Sigma Phi, a national journalism honorary. Carolyn is majoring in art and design.

Dan Frump, '59, a junior at the University of Dubuque, will participate in an experiment involving an exchange of students between Dubuque and Johnson C. Smith University, an all-Negro Presbyterian liberal arts college in Charlotte, N. C. The exchange is to take place the first week in April. Ten students from each school will spend a week visiting the classes and activities of the other. Dan is majoring in business and history.

Chuck Jellison, '60, has been elected social director of Wright Quad, men's residence center at Indiana University. Chuck, now governor of his unit, is a sophomore in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Priscilla Ratican, '59, has been selected as rush co-ordinator of Pi Beta Phi sorority at Ball State College. She is majoring in elementary education.

Engaged are Judy Herbst, '60, and Dave Anderson, '60. Judy attended Indiana University Center and is employed by North American Van Lines. Dave is attending Indiana University Center and is also employed by North American Van Lines.

Planning a June 16 wedding are Diane Spencer, '61, and Ronald Schwartz, '61. Diane is one of the office secretaries at South. Ron is employed at Rogers Market in Wayne-dale.

Steve Marshall, '61, has been named to the dean's list at Rose Polytechnic Institute.

Sharon Sprunger, '58, has been named an honor student for the first semester of the 1961-1962 academic year at Wheaton College in Illinois.

Marie Rohn, '61, a freshman at Denison University, Granville, O., was elected student representative of Alpha Phi sorority.

Initiated into Delta Gamma sorority at Indiana University was Julia Carr, '60.

Planning a wedding to take place June 30 are Barbara Sprunger, a New Haven graduate, and David Eicher, '58. David is attending Fort Wayne Bible College and is employed by the Public Library of Fort Wayne and Allen County.

Spring Succumbs Students

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Spring is really here and along with the beautiful "convertible weather" we can also be expecting Paul Slick's car full of passengers out for some Spring air. It may not be a convertible, but . . . well, it doesn't have a top (unless you call chicken wire protection from April showers).

Al Purdy: I have a sore arm. Chuck Bodenhorn: Well, it's probably from stick-shifting your turn signal too much.

Notice how neat and orderly the ingenious "hook-together" chemistry desks have been looking lately? Diane Fredrick and friends are to be thanked for the tidy appearance. At least there are no complaints from Jo Ellen Bobay and Al Sheldon because they can't get away from each other—even if they wanted to.

When Judy Merrill is baby-sitting she turns off the television set and watches violence among the kids. Hope her employers don't read this, but they probably know already.

Thanks to Alexander Graham Bell, communications still exist between the Hotel Taft in New York and Columbia University. Although Sue Kelley admits that "tempus fugit" (that means "time flies"), she still denies that she talked for an hour on a half on the phone.

Her phone booth (alias her hotel suite) was freezing, so Sue tried to heat it by filling the bathtub full of hot water, but she created so much steam that poor Sandy Thorn couldn't brush her teeth before going on the "Today" show. Later, the three girls ate, changed clothes, and ran eight blocks to "Camelot," all in 35 minutes. Let's just say that Jenny Manth was the only organized one that night.

Latest device: Watertight cans without bottoms—for those who have artificial flowers.

Cleanliness counts! That's according to Martha Hoard. She must have seen a bit of dust on the bus floor on the way home from school for she gave the whole floor a thorough sweeping.

Cheri Hahn would like a donation of an emergency sewing kit. Why? Well, let's just say she had a slight (?) mishap that required a needle and thread.

As the melodic (?) strains of "Fanny" and "Camelot" drift from Room 50, we seem to hear another—not so melodic—sound. In fact, it sounds like Ann Arnold snoring! She's fast asleep in a cello stall. For all those wondering, a cello stall isn't quite like an animal stall—almost though!

Will someone please volunteer to instruct Ann Golden and Dave Allen in funnel fundamentals? It's kind of hard to pass chemistry when you don't even know that water will leak out of the funnel, isn't it?

Talk about buttering up a teacher—Dave Meek uses apples instead of butter and sends them (accompanied by sweet messages) to his favorite teacher—no offense, Sharon Graffis. Dave, we really think your gift would have been appreciated more if you hadn't gotten hungry and taken that bite out of it!

"Yes, doctor. Please come right away. Yes. Now he thinks he's a ballerina. Carmen, I think. It's really too bad that it had to happen. Diane Sanderson always enjoyed ballet so much, but—using his program for a fan? And dancing in his chair? Oh, well. It was funny then.

Thought for the Day: Don't forget to attend the Senior Play.

Whoosh!!!! "Did somebody get the license number of that truck?" queries Sue Phillips as she pulls herself up off the ground. Watch out! Here he comes again. Why, it's no truck—it's Bruce Hilby leading a pack of tracksters around the gym catwalk.

Senior Summary

Prominent Persons

Bruce Hilby . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, ten inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, spaghetti . . . color, blue . . . fad, crawl-track . . . sport, diving . . . subject, English . . . pastime, diving . . . activity, diving . . . TV show, "Perry Mason" . . . record, "The Wanderer" . . . singers, Kingston Trio . . . actor, Rock Hudson . . . book, "Pioneer Go Home" . . . future plans, business . . . pet peeve, stale gum.

Sarah Finch . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, hazel . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, fried clams . . . color, mint green . . . fad, circle bracelets . . . sports, swimming, skiing . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, writing letters . . . activity, Times . . . TV show, "Candid Camera" . . . record, "Tenderly" . . . singers, Connie Francis, Andy Williams . . . actor, Jerry Lewis . . . book, "Magnificent Obsession" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, alarm clocks.

Mary Fredrick . . . age, 18 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, green . . . fad, twist . . . sport, water skiing . . . subject, trigonometry . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Midnight in Moscow" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . book, "Hawaii" . . . pet peeve, over-bearing people.

Karl Bandemer . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blond . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, Swedish pancakes . . . color, blue . . . fad, kilts . . . sports, track, football . . . subject, algebra . . . pastime, water skiing . . . activity, H-Y . . . TV show, "Life of Riley" . . . record, "The Beerbarrel Polka" . . . singer, Frankie Yankavitch . . . actor, Glen Ford . . . book, "Screwtop Letters" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, girls who talk too much.

Elizabeth Hostetter . . . age, 17 . . . hair, auburn . . . eyes, hazel . . . height, five feet . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, baby blue . . . fad, hair bows . . . sport, ice skating . . . subject, choir . . . pastime, sewing . . . activity, choir . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "She'll Never Love Him Like I Do" . . . singers, Kingston Trio . . . actor, Richard Chamberlain . . . book, "Gone With The Wind" . . . future plans, college (I.U.) . . . pet peeve, two-faced people.

Joyce Stocks . . . age, 18 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, breaded veal steak . . . color, red . . . fad, submarines . . . sport, swimming . . . subject, concert choir . . . pastime, reading . . . activity, exercising imbeciles . . . TV show, "Hawaiian Eye" . . . record, "Nut-cracker Suite" . . . singer, Frank Sinatra . . . actor, Charlton Heston . . . book, "Atlas Shrugged" . . . future plans, X-ray technician . . . pet peeve "Who is John Galt?"

Cookie Gives Clue Week Affords Fond Memories To Archers In New York City

By Sandy Thorn

It all started with a fortune cookie! That sounds like a beginning for a murder mystery; however, it describes the beginning of a wonderful week which undoubtedly afforded more memories than any one week in my 18 years.

On March 11 late dinner at a local Chinese restaurant and ordered fortune cookies. My message was "Fortune is ahead of you." As far as Sunday evening was concerned—it was. The Fort Wayne Komets won their last home game of the season, with goalie Reno Zanier scoring a convincing shutout.

Monday whizzed by and then came Tuesday—the day that Mr. Rohrabugh, publications adviser, Jenny Manth, Sue Kelley, and I left for New York City and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention. Classes dragged and at 4 p.m. the four girls from Sandy Thorn Highland, Ind., and their adviser, Mr. Dean Speicher, arrived. The train left the station at 6:33 p.m. with seven excited girls aboard.

We were too excited to sleep and everyone was waiting to see Pittsburgh at night. We passed by the colorful steel industries at 12:11 a.m. Wednesday. Finally, it was at our doorstep—New York City. We hailed a taxicab driver (who wasn't as delighted as we were) and were off to the Taft Hotel.

After returning from lunch, we met Allen Steere, '61, who is attending Columbia University. After everyone in the lobby stared at our reunion, we left Allen to attend "Subways Are for Sleeping," starring Orson Bean. On Wednesday evening we saw "West Side Story," starring Natalie Wood, George Chakiris, Rita Moreno, and various other members of the "Sharks" and "Jets."

"WEST SIDE" IS one of the greatest motion pictures ever. "Unique" is a fitting adjective. The acting—great; choreography—superb; and music—tremendous. All of the girls are anxiously awaiting the movie's showing in their hometowns. After the movie, there was a "wild" search for a picture of the "Sharks" leader, played by Chakiris.

"The Price Is Right" was on the agenda for Thursday morning. After a 15-minute briefing by the announcer, we applauded when the "Applause" sign was shown, yelled "Freeze," "higher," or "lower" at appropriate times, and "ooohed" and "aahhed" when the prizes were shown. We "ooohed" because "each prize was supposedly a Cadillac for each of us"—Miss Kelley wasn't impressed. The Archer delegates best represented their school when the announcer asked the audience to talk throughout the program "to make the home viewers feel relaxed."

After the television show, we climbed onto an infamous New York subway. After that experience, I know three Fort Wayne girls who will rarely complain about a ride on a city bus. We journeyed to Columbia University for classes at the convention. We listened and took notes and then awaited the wearisome trip back to 50th Avenue. While waiting on the subway corner, Jenny and I renewed some acquaintances made this summer at Northwestern University while attending a five-week journalism institute.

We then learned a lesson on Thursday night. When in New York and desiring to attend a play, don't (under any conditions) order a flet mignon "well done." There we were at 8:20 p.m. in the restaurant, wearing school clothes, two blocks from our hotel—waiting for our meat. After about four gulps (no one remembered what the food tasted like), we ran to the hotel, "changed" clothes, and ran cross-country to the theater for the tremendous 8:30 p.m. production, "Camelot." The popular production stars Julie Andrews, William Squire, and Robert Goulet. But most of us remember Robert Goulet, and one girl responded afterwards, "I'd buy another ticket just to see Robert Goulet."

"CAMELOT" IS BY far the most colorful and spectacular play I have ever witnessed. The trio of Alan Lerner, Frederick Lowe, and the late Moss Hart have certainly staged a "triumph" in anyone's book. Mr. Squire is apparently a capable replacement for Richard Burton—he portrays King Arthur well. Miss Andrews is perfect and, in my humble estimation, Monsieur Goulet cannot be replaced by Sir Lancelot.

Thursday evening was perfect—but I was already dreading my morning appearance on the "Today" show. Jenny and I hiked to the NBC Studio early on Friday morning and then took the elevator to the eighth floor where the nine other panelists were waiting. We were greeted by a handsome NBC pageboy who wanted us to sing our school's Alma Mater. I must admit that I don't remember ever singing our Alma Mater at 7:15 a.m. but that's beside the point. South was well-represented though and my voice was never better—later the pageboy said, "Well, I can understand why no one sang loudly; I never liked my Alma Mater very well either."

I was placed in front of a camera ready to ask my question of Frank Blair, Louise King, and Jack E. Leonard. My question, "What is the extent of censorship in the television industry?" was answered by Mr. Blair. It was an enjoyable experience, although I'm sorry that I forgot to pull my ear for certain friends whom I promised I would. I just thought it would look a little "out of place."

WHEN WE ARRIVED back at the hotel, there was a telegram waiting for us from the crew in Room 16. Our Times friends noticed that I hadn't pulled my ear but had other consoling comments. We then headed for our sight-seeing tour with two guides, Mr. Rohrabugh and Mr. Speicher. We first went to the United Nations Building. While we were seated in the various assembly rooms, I couldn't help thinking of the late Dag Hammarskjöld, who had dedicated his life to the organization and its aspirations. I also thought of the millions who pass through the rooms, and it seemed as if "Peace" were written on the walls. The UN is one of the most beautiful buildings in the world, and it contains many precious contributions from its member nations.

Then there was Rockefeller Plaza and the Empire State Building. The view from the top is still unbelievable. Friday night came after an afternoon at Columbia University again attending class sessions. Mr. Steere joined us on our subway ride back downtown and then attended the show at Radio City Music Hall with us. The Rockettes were terrific and lived up to all expectations; the stage show was also excellent and the movie, "Rome Adventure" starring Troy Donahue, was wonderful.

Shopping and the St. Patrick's Day parade was in store on Saturday. We walked up and down the aisles of Saks Fifth Avenue—what a "department" store! We also had a good view of New York's "finest"—what a police force! They move in troops of 20 (probably for protection's sake). In the afternoon we "strolled" (three blocks out of our way) to the Waldorf-Astoria for the final event of the convention—a banquet.

THERE WE REVIEWED the week's happenings and realized how fortunate we were to attend. We listened as Edward R. Murrow told us of the importance of journalism. Later, we applauded with great pride as the honors accorded The South Side Times were announced.

We returned to the hotel, collected our luggage, and went to the train station where we left for home—a four-lettered word which sounded pretty welcome to our aching feet. We arrived back in the Summit City five minutes ahead of schedule.

The week wasn't over for me. It had all started with a Komet game and the final game of the Komets' regular season was an appropriate climax. I rushed home and then traveled to Indianapolis to see a great Indiana rivalry. The Komets won 11-5 and the league's "Rookie of the Year" never played better. It was a wonderful hockey season and a wonderful week filled with abundant memories. Unfortunately, "Tempus fugit."

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. President Theodore Roosevelt was first to do many things. Do you know what some of them are?

Answer. On February 16, 1903, Theodore Roosevelt appointed George B. Cartleryan secretary of commerce and labor, the first man to hold that office. Then in November, 1906, he became the first President to visit a foreign country during his term of office. He traveled to Panama on the USS Louisiana. After visiting Panama, he went to Puerto Rico. Furthermore, Roosevelt was the first President to ride in an automobile. He was a passenger in a purple lined Columbia Electric Victoria in a trip through Hartford, Conn., on August 22, 1902. Twenty carriages followed the Presidential auto during its tour of the city. After his term of office, Roosevelt again pioneered when he took a ride in an airplane on October 11, 1910, at St. Louis, Mo. He was a passenger in an airplane piloted by "Archie" Hoxsey. Roosevelt was the first of the Presidents to ride in an airplane. Then in 1906, Theodore Roosevelt was the first American recipient of a Nobel Prize. He was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for his services in concluding the treaty of peace between Russia and Japan at the end of the Russo-Japanese War.

Question. Do you know what Conelrad stands for?

Answer. Conelrad stands for Control of Electro-magnetic Radiation. The term was coined by the Air Defense Command for a system of broadcasting whereby civil defense news, messages, and instructions will be sent out on a.m. radio in the event of a threatened air attack or emergency.

Question. Do you know what the "prescription for a man" is?

Answer. Two men, scientist C. E. M. Jond and Dr. T. E. Lawson, of London, have worked out a "prescription for a man." It is "Enough water to fill a ten-gallon barrel; enough fat for seven bars of soap; carbon for 9,000 lead pencils; phosphorus for 2,200 match-heads; iron enough for one medium-sized nail; lime enough to whitewash a chicken coop; and small quantities of magnesium and sulphur."

Question. Do you know when the Post Office Department was established?

Answer. Congress in 1789 created the office of Postmaster General. He was without the status of a department head and was not given Cabinet status until 1829, in Jackson's administration. Up to that time the Postmaster General's office was considered a unit within the Treasury Department, even though the Postmaster General was directly responsible to the President.

The South Side Times
Founded October 6, 1922
CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International
Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of October 3, 1917. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.
Published weekly by the South Side Times High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription cost semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
General Manager . . . . . Jenny Manth
Managing Editor . . . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Weider, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally McLaughlin, Sharyan Yerger, Bart Nelson, Roberta Twichell.
News Editor . . . . . Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor . . . . . Sally Sweet
Editorial Editor . . . . . Bill Wilder
Boys' Sports Editor . . . . . Terry Newendorp
Girls' Sports Editor . . . . . Janice Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors . . . . . Sue Kelley, Roberta Twichell, Beth Burnett
Picture Editor . . . . . Janet Brenn
Photographers . . . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist . . . . . Leanna Morris

BUSINESS MANAGER . . . . . Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager . . . . . Sue Meyer
Advertising Manager . . . . . Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager . . . . . Dick Parke
Outside Circulation Manager . . . . . Nancy Redding
Circulation Assistants . . . . . Lis Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twichell
Tom Erb, Sharyan Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet, James Rohrabugh
Family Adviser . . . . . James Rohrabugh

MINOR STAFF
News Writers . . . . . David Flanigan, Ann Pickering, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Margie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Cooney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Anna Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Karen Frank, Christine Froehntreich, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Jane McClain, Jan McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rusten, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenhorn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers . . . . . Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Borzmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wolfman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Rose, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Satterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Miller, Marlene Moore, Elizabeth Ringelberg, Mary Harrold, Sue Smith, Jeannie Broden, Marian Johnson, Karen Frank, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rinchert, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Sue Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McCubbin, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Nancy Mills, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubino, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinis, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Egan, Jane Kettie, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyan Yerger, Rowland Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bade, Cynthia Duncan, Cecily Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carole Lutz, Gall Drumm, Karen Savely, Kay Bradley, Jan Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schiller, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Froehntreich, Sally Adams, Mary Bondway, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Stansbury, Sue Orth, Kay Kleinh, Carole Lutz, Paul Hiltelstein, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinis, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brown, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Smallcraft.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gehlert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Miskin, Christie Cunnison, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Douz Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinis, Karen Savely, Margen Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franklin.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Killegan, Bob Leisinger, Steven Lowens, Ben Poto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenhorn, Mark Lowman.
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Sailer, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Ringelberg, Beth Bradford, Julie Neuenachewander, Karen Flinckoff, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Lorraine Ford, Sue Goritz, Kay Falls, Harriet Gehlert, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank.

This miss likes to twist and roller skate. She thinks that dancing the limbo is great. She is in her senior year. Rock and roll music she likes to hear. The popular, humorous nickname of "Moose".

By her friends is in use. Scalloped potatoes is a favorite food. She thinks their flavor is real good. When in each state she does go. She collects a ring as a memento. When she leaves South Side High To be a legal secretary she'll try. If her name you'd like to know, The ad section is where to go.

Shari Busch Cops Teen Title, To Enter National Competition

"I CROWN YOU . . . Shari Busch, Teen Queen," proclaims Jack Powell, disc jockey, on WANE-TV's Dance Date. Shari will now compete in the national Miss Teen Contest in California. Her court are from left to right, Kris Irons, Marcia Gonzales, Nora Lytton, and Margie Grieser.—Photo by Lowden

Crowned Teen Queen on Dance Date on WANE-TV, Wednesday, March 21, Senior Shari Busch, accompanied by her mother, will fly to Pacific Ocean Park, Santa Monica, Calif., for the National Miss Teenage U.S.A. Contest, April 17-22.

The winner of the national contest will receive a two-week, all-expense-paid vacation to Hawaii. As a local winner she was given a bouquet of red roses plus prizes from various Fort Wayne stores.

WHEN ASKED HOW she felt about winning, Shari said, "Being crowned queen was one of the biggest thrills of my life—a dream come true! I hope I am as lucky in California."

Margie Grieser, senior, was also a finalist. Semi-finalists from South Side were Leanna Morris and Joyce Cosairt.

Applicants were judged on a two-minute extemporaneous talk on "The biggest challenge a teenager has to face and what he has to do to accept it," and each one's talent. Shari gave an eight-minute humorous declama-

Pupils To Act In 'Tops On Ice' As Travelers Throughout Globe

"Tops on Ice" will be presented at 2 p.m. on April 8 in the Allen County Memorial Coliseum. South Siders who are participating in the show are Sophomore Christine Fruechtenicht and Senior Barb Stevens. These skaters are members of the Fort Wayne Ice Skating Club which is sponsoring the show.

"Around the World" has been chosen as the theme for the 1962 "Tops on Ice." The project is under the direction of Mr. Walter Luyke, chairman. Skaters will wear costumes representative of six nations around the world and will skate to music originated in various parts of the globe. Two hundred students and adults in Fort Wayne will participate in this project.

Tickets for the event may be obtained from any member of the Fort Wayne Ice Skating Club or by writing "Tops on Ice" at the Allen County Memorial Coliseum, 4000 Parnell Avenue, Fort Wayne, Ind. Furnishing tickets for South Side are Barb Stevens, Chris Fruechtenicht, and Sophomore Steve Lyst. The tickets are priced at $2, $1.50, and $1. Children under 12 are admitted at half price. No seats will be reserved.

In charge of choreography for the show is Coliseum professional Mr. Harry Barton.

Adult dancers will participate in a French promenade in a sidewalk cafe setting. Their costumes will consist of black, knee-length skirts slit on one

Artists Schedule Picnic, Easter Workshop, Trip

The Art Club will meet on April 11 at 2:30 p.m. in Room 26 for a program of an Easter workshop at which the members of the Art Club will make favors.

Puppet shows, given by the students who are members of the Art Club and taking art at South will be featured at the remaining meetings this year.

The officers of the club are planning the annual spring picnic in May. For one of the future meetings, the Art Club plans a field trip to either the Fort Wayne Art Museum or the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company.

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Seniors Sally Gilbert, Cheryl George, Susan Johns To Enter Sewing Contest

Seniors Sally Gilbert, Susan Johns, and Cheryl George are participating in the student division competition of the 1962 Fashion Sewing Contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Vogue Pattern Service. An eligible Federated Club from Allen County, working in co-operation with home economics departments will act as local sponsors for the student competition.

Each girl entering the contest must make what she considers the "Ideal Dress-Up Costume for the High School Student" bringing to bear each girl's sewing skill and fashion knowledge in the hope of creating the winning entry.

Sally's princess-style dress is made of a silk synthetic blend print in green, with kimono sleeves, a six-gord skirt, and a midriff piece set in at the waist. The dress is topped with a plain green jacket with three-quarter length sleeves, a small reversible collar and a flared back. The dress is lined with silk organza. She will also make a matching belt and hat.

Susan is sewing a plain, basic dress in mint green synthetics with a nubby finish, no sleeves, a round neck, and a sheath skirt. The jacket has elbow-length sleeves. Cheryl has not yet chosen her dress.

THE LOCAL STUDENT winner will receive $5 and will be eligible to represent the participating school at the district judging. The district winner will compete for state and National honors, the grand prize at the national level being a $1,000 scholarship.

History Of City's Architecture Shows Style Of Greek Revival

The history of Fort Wayne, architecturally speaking, is the history of Greek Revival—with a Hoosier flavor.

Although an observer will not find a pure Doric or Ionic order represented, the basic style on which the Summit City was founded was, to every intent and purpose, Greek Revival. Architecture was imported from the East as America expanded its frontier. Until the rivers brought the great steady flow of families to Fort Wayne, only a primitive Colonial style architecture existed.

EARLY SETTLERS, aside from General Anthony Wayne and his now-famous fort, carved living quarters from the forest as best they knew how—complete with little or no architecture or construction knowledge.

Popular in the East during Fort Wayne's boom period, Greek Revival made inroads here in the form of the old Ewing house and Hanna homestead. The Ewing structure is an excellent example of Greek Revival architecture; the Hanna homestead is somewhat illegitimate.

It must be taken into consideration, however, that the Hanna home was constructed by a country carpenter who didn't understand Greek Revival style. This is proved by the contract between Samuel Hanna and Henry Williams, the builder.

AT ONE POINT in the agreement, mention is made of the use of Doric columns to support the ceiling and piazza. However, with the end of the Civil War came the gradual disappearance of Greek Revival.

Replacing it was Richardsonian Romanesque, a design that originated in North Italy and Southern France and was popularized in the States by a Boston architect named Richardson. Although it lasted in popularity about ten years, it was in direct contrast to the Gothic.

The Richardsonian Romanesque can be found in the Bass Mansion (now St. Francis College) heavily constructed of stone and thick concrete to make it nearly as fireproof as possible.

It was from the Gothic style that two new forms of architecture grew. They were Victorian and Queen Anne. These two forms were combined with ship. Additional scholarships of $500 and $250 will be awarded to the national second and third prize winners, respectively.

The main purpose of this community-centered contest according to Mrs. Fred Hagadorn, contest chairman, is to encourage young students to develop a deeper appreciation of homemaking skills. The satisfaction gained from creating her own wardrobe, from selecting an appropriate and becoming pattern, choosing practical yet fashionable fabrics, and using sewing skills to create her costume will provide an important experience in a teenager's learning and growing.

Appropriateness of the costume for dress-up occasions, workmanship, fashion effect, and becomingness to the wearer will all be considered in the judging. To illustrate the last points, students will have an opportunity to model their own costumes when the local judging takes place.

The competition is open to students in grades 9-12 who are studying home economics at the present time, or who have had at least one full year's course in home economics in the participating school. To "make a contest," it is required that there be a minimum of three students from each school.

ONLY AMATEURS are eligible in this contest. One costume may be submitted by each contestant and must be made from a pattern.

Each costume must be made in its entirety by the student who submits it as her entry. Any costume entered in this contest must be com-both Romanesque and Gothic, and sometimes, Greek Revival, to give residences a non-descript glow.

SOON AFTER World War I, the electric period of style came into use, which still remains today. There was, however, no definite style used here.

Although commercial buildings were designed in modern styles as far back as 1930, residential homes picked up the new trend soon after World War II.

While contemporary and modern architecture caught fire in the mid-40's, some clients had local architects design homes in the Cape Cod, Cotswold, French Provincial, and Georgian Revival styles.

Other styles can be found, such as the Renaissance Revival (court house) and the Classic Revival (Lincoln Tower). On the other hand, however, the new Concordia College is one of the best examples of the emergence of modern architecture designed by Aero Saarinen.

Members To Tour Villa

To tour St. Vincent's Villa, members of the Senior Red Cross Club who have turned in their permission slips for the trip before April 11 are to meet in Room 12 at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 11.

The tour of the buildings and chapel will be conducted by one of the staff of the Roman Catholic orphan's home. "All members who attended St. Vincent's Villa last year enjoyed it very much," stated Alice Ashton, past president of the Red Cross Club.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE? GET AN EARLY START
ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School
Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government.
Classes start June 18 and end August 12.
Phone A-3171 for more details and schedule.

Mr. John Roberts To Serve As Biology Student Instructor

Mr. John Roberts will perform the duties of a student teacher at South Side from March 19 to May 4 under the supervision of Mr. Nicholas Pipino, biology and botany instructor. Mr. Roberts, who was graduated from West Lafayette High School in Lafayette, Ind. in 1955, will receive his Bachelor of Science degree from Purdue University in June. He is majoring in biological science and minor-ing in English.

Mr. John Roberts

WHILE AT SOUTH, Mr. Roberts will observe Mr. Pipino's botany and biology classes and a few chemistry and English classes.

Mr. Roberts is the father of one girl. He enjoys playing chess, hunting, fishing, cave exploring, gymnastics, swimming, and reading.

Mr. Roberts has worked on the Purdue University agronomy farm, with Lockheed aircraft in Burbank, Calif., and as an assistant teacher at Purdue.

HE PLANS TO WORK for his Master's degree, specializing in limnology or fresh water ecology, and to teach high school biology in the coming years.

Mr. Pipino stated, "I feel very fortunate to have a student teacher who is attending Purdue University, my alma mater, and who is a former classmate of mine. Since Mr. Roberts specializes in rotifers, I hope that my classes and I can learn much more about them."

Fifteen Archers To Participate In Music Little League Series

Fifteen students will participate with instrumentalists from all city schools in the Musical Little League Series over radio station WOWO on April 10 and 17 from 9:30 to 9:45 p.m.

The program for April 10 will be devoted to demonstrations of the trombone and tuba. The history of instruments and highlights in music will be discussed, and recording excerpts will be played.

All the schools will again participate the following week. This particular session will be devoted to demonstrations of the various classes of instruments and types of ensembles—string, woodwind, brass, and percussion. Examples of a brass choir, a French horn quartet, and a mixed quartet consisting of two trumpets and two trombones will be presented.

The brass choir will present two selections by Johann Sebastian Bach, "From Heaven above to Earth I Come" and "Now Thank We All Our God." The French horn quartet will play Wagner's chorale from "Die Meistersinger." Haydn's "The Spacious Firmament on High" will be presented by the mixed quartet.

Students from South who will be participating are Al Purdy, Steve Pratt, Terry Smith, Ken Davis, Warren Burns, Jim Ostrogina, Bruce Baldwin, Joyce Dunlap, Jack Seigel, Tom McMahan, Sondra Stouder, Bev Flanagan, Linda Becher, Jon Brown, and John Powers.

Senior Thomas Liby Wins IBM Summer Scholarship

Thomas Liby, senior A, is the winner of a one-week schooling period at the IBM Educational Center in Chicago, Ill., or Detroit, Mich. Tom received the honor from the Northeastern Indiana Chapter of the National Machine Accountants Association.

As South Side's representative, Tom took an aptitude test at the Lincoln Life Building on March 21 along with the other high school representative from Fort Wayne and New Haven. As one of the winners of this honor, Tom will attend the Data Processing School for one week in June.

Daughters Plan Party

Job's Daughter will have their annual Easter program Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Egyptian Room of the Masonic Temple. The decor will include large bunnies in top hats hanging on the walls. Easter egg nests will be given away as favors.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

THE FOURTH SHADOW
4301 S. Hanna
Open After 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday
COFFEE HOUSE
Thursday, March 29: Wes Lambolley from Purdue
Friday, March 30: Red Tressler, Bob Slawson
Saturday, March 31: Criss (ross and The Cruisers, Bob Slawson
LIVE ENTERTAINMENT EACH EVENING
Cover Charge: 50¢ Monday-Thursday; $1 Friday and Saturday

don't be a square—wear SQUARE-TOE U.S. KEDS®

You'll love our square Keds—because they taper to slim your foot, then square off to shorten it! And because they not only look terrific, but feel divine—thanks to those exclusive Keds lasts, and those famous Keds comfort features. In all the latest colors, in Narrow and Medium widths for best fit. Be the first in your crowd to "wear the square!"

LOOK FOR THE BLUE LABEL®
US Keds®
The Shoe of Change
SQUARE-TOE GRASSHOPPER with gingham back 4.95
TAE CO. 121 W Wayne St.

FREE! ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios
EVERY WEEK...
AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds... register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS
Gardner's... DOWNTOWN
Gardner's... by the COLISEUM
...for the original... the best
...the one and only
GARDNER HAMBURGER

WIN THIS RADIO!
This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

Kelly Cindermen To Face Elmhurst Team, Rebuilding Elkhart Squad During Vacation

Trojan Thinlies Show Strength In High Jump, Distance Runs

South Side will meet Elmhurst next Tuesday in their second meet of the season. The Trojans, not able to place in the Sectional meet last year, should not present too much opposition for the Archers.

Elmhurst seems to lack competent personnel in all events except the high jump and distance races. Last spring they had a poor 5-6 record, and they don't seem to be in a position to improve much on that mark this year.

The Red and White Coach, Mr. Doug Spenser, stated he had quite a few promising sophomores and some upperclassmen who had never competed before. These boys would be the big question mark in the formulating of this year's squad and could prove very valuable.

In the high hurdles, to oppose Archer stickman Jon vanOosten, Elmhurst has hardwound standout Terry Baker. Baker, only a junior, ran some last year, and holds the school record in the highs with a 16.1 clocking. He is backed up by Senior Stan Ketzler. However, Ketzler may not even have his required ten practices in by the April 3 meet and will not pose much of a threat.

Unfortunately for the Trojans, they are weak in a category which is the Green stronghold, the dashes. Elmhurst is represented by two juniors, Wendall Wise and Jerry Nickolson, neither of who have ever competed. These boys lack exceptional speed and experience, and should prove easy pickings for veteran dash man, Karl Bandemer.

WISE AND NICKOLSON also lend their questionable talents to the 220-run, making the visitors outlook in both these races extremely bleak. Bob Lohman, Bandemer, and possibly Rick Werling should be able to sew up these events for South.

In the quarter, while South has Karl Schladerman, Tom Franzell and possibly Tom Shine, Elmhurst can depend on Dean Cutshall and John Gres. Cutshall, a muscular piston-type runner, has a 54.2 second best while Gres has never competed in this event. South can run Bandemer, if he doesn't run the 100. Dale Hilsnir, and Evert Mol in this race if necessary. The half-mile is, however, a different story.

Archer Evert Mol will have to turn in a much better performance than he did against Culver in order to defeat Reinhold Mueller. Mueller ran a fine 1:59.8 in the Sectional last year, finishing second. For help in this event "The German" braus has another senior, Bill Jackson. Unless things change radically this event looks like one of the best races of the afternoon.

To match South's sophomore milers Elmhurst can only muster Seniors Dave Waldrop, with a best of 4:44, and Don Johnston. Already Ken Ellingwood has run a 4:56.7 on the small Culver oval and should be able to match Waldrop reasonably well. South will probably also run sophomore Steve Meyers, who finished third at Culver.

The low hurdles, with Jon vanOosten of South the outstanding participant, should prove to be a point getter for the Green also. The Trojans have only senior, Dave Mueller, with a best of 23.4 seconds, to pit against "Big John."

THE RELAY TEAMS, due to Elmhurst's all around lack of experience and talent, will be weak and poorly seasoned. South Side's traditional strength in this area should prove easily decisive.

In the field events the high jump could prove a boon to Trojan thinlies. They have jumping-jacks Terry Baker and Gary Hite. Baker leaped 6-0 last year, taking second in Sectional. Hite has a best of 5-9. However, neither of these boys have had much practice thus far; and it may take them till the mid-season mark to pose much of a threat to other city jumpers.

South's Gary Probst has already gone over the bar at the 5-6 mark and should at least place well in this event. The broad jump is also moderately strong for Elmhurst. They have John Gres and Hite in this event. Hite made 19.7 last year and could prove tough competition for Hilsnir and anyone else Coach Gernand chooses to use in this event.

IN OTHER EVENTS Elmhurst's pole vault situation is sad. They have two boys, Clay Adams and DeWayne Northcutt, who hit 10-6 very irregularly and will have trouble here. Weaver should take this event for South.

The shot put might well prove another point getter for the Green. Elmhurst can field on Terry Hively, with a best of 41 feet, and Bill Cutshall. Cutshall is a big lad who threw the shot 39 feet as a freshman but didn't put last year. He could be dangerous but lacks needed form.

Overall it looks as if the Archer thinlies will have no trouble avenging South's defeat at the hands of Elmhurst in the recent basketball Sectional.

12A Evert Mol Leads Thinlies In 880 Events

Evert Mol

One of the steady returning competitors to this year's track team is Evert Mol, senior A. One of the members of last year's Regional championship team, Evert will be a mainstay in the half-mile run and the mile relay team.

Evert was one of the Archers' steadiest performers last year. After posting a personal low of 2:09 in the 880 in South Side's second track meet last year, Evert improved in each meet until he lowered his time to 2:03 in last spring's Sectional track meet.

LOOKING TO HIS personal competition this season, Evert stated that he expects his greatest challenge from Rheinhold Mueller, the Elmhurst cross-country and half-mile specialist.

In a meet early last year, Evert upset the Elmhurst star in the same meet in which he posted his 2:09 mark. Evert also placed well in the Kokomo meet last year, as well as the Delphi Relays and the North Side Relays.

A very devoted track participant, Evert has been a member of the South Side track team for the four years he has been at South Side. He also was a performer on the cross-country team for one year. His athletic endeavors in junior high included track and baseball at Harrison Hill.

EVERT THINKS THAT the Archers will not have the depth that they had last year, but that the experience they have promises a good season. He feels that the Archers will probably be the best in the city again and should, therefore, have an excellent chance in the Sectional. He expects the Archer's toughest opponent to be North Side's Redskins.

Homerooms Bank $328.55

With 39 homerooms banking a total of $328.55 on March 20, Miss Helen Pohlmeier's Room 188 deposited $116.90. Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 banked $21.20; while Mr. Ronald Gersmehl's Room 66 was third, with $15.

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See
JASPER
Engine &
Transmission Exchange

3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

lookout

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Elkhart Faces Losing Season, Lacks Necessary Relay Power

Having lost their fame as a track power, the Elkhart Blueblazers are trying to rebuild this year. In the Archers' victory over them last season it was apparent that they lacked the necessary speed, losing the contest in a 80-29 landslide.

Their best events are on the field where they could pick up points in all four sports. Their junior high jumper, Chester, cleared six feet last season; and another junior, Reams, pulled himself over the pole at a good 11 feet and three inches.

The next two field events are dominated by seniors, Terlep in shot put and Harper in the broad jump. Terlep threw the ball 51-6 last season; and if he can repeat that performance against South, he will probably pick up some points for his team.

FINDING SOMEONE to replace Bob Scott's shoes is probably the team's biggest job. Last year Bob was the whole team running everything from a two minute half-mile to a fast sprint.

The only boy returning this year with an exceptional time in his event is senior miler, Eseeu, who rounds the track four times in 4:46.2. Their sprint times aren't fast enough for many points, so most of the work will lie on the shoulders of the middle distance and distance runners. Johnson had a 2:13 half-mile as a freshman and will probably do better this year.

Harper will pull from the broad

Golf Team To Meet Decatur On April 18

The 1962 edition of the South Side golf team has 15 matches scheduled for this season. Led by Mr. Warren Hoover, coach, the squad will boast of just one returnee from last year's highly successful aggregation.

All matches played in town will be at Brookwood Golf Course. The city tourney and Sectional Meet will also be at Brookwood. Two meets with Garrett, one here and one there, have not yet been assigned definite dates.

| Date  | Team                                 | Place     |
|-------|--------------------------------------|-----------|
| April |                                      |           |
| 18    | Decatur                              | .....here |
| 19    | Triangle with Elmhurst, Kendallville | .....here |
| 27    | Muncie                               | .....here |
| 30    | Elmhurst                             | .....here |
| May   |                                      |           |
| 1     | Central Catholic                     | .....here |
| 4     | Marion                               | .....here |
| 7     | Decatur                              | .....here |
| 10    | Auburn                               | .....here |
| 11    | Marion                               | .....here |
| 15    | City Tourney                         | .....here |
| 16    | Auburn                               | .....here |
| 17    | Muncie                               | .....here |
| 18    | Sectional                            | .....here |

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.
E-3011 1015 Taylor

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenhorn

In volleyball games, the Jumpin' Jimmies won from Porky's Fans on a forfeit and the Phone-Tacks lost to the Dukes of Earl, 15-13, 15-4, and 15-6. Star players for the Dukes of Earl are Mike Stalter, Ken Fehman, Rob Bryant, and Gary Turpchinoff. Although in a losing cause, Dale Smith and Bart Bailey played fine volleyball.

The GAA All Stars won over the Screamin' Demons on a forfeit; the Phone-Tacks, aided by the excellent playing of Dave Tipton, Dale Smith, Bill Borgmann, and Jim Feustal, easily defeated the Mountaineers, 15-2, 15-8. Al Purdy starred for the losers.

Giant volleyball games were captured by the Apes over the Meat Packers on a forfeit and the Yo-Men over the Tweeds, 15-10, 10-3. Bruce Baldwin had all the points for the Yo-Men. The Champs walked over the Bachelors, 15-1, 15-3. Bill Joy and Dave Meek boosted the victors; Ed Warren led the losers.

The Mighty Few squeezed by the Bakers Dozen, 15-7, 9-11. Bill Bergman, Mike Hofer, and Ron Reynolds trounced the Meat Packers, 15-4, 11-8. Bill Joy and Jerry Klaehn paced the winners.

The Scrubs pounded the Deadbeats, 15-2, 15-9. John Grodrian and Rick Meeks obtained all the winners' points. Micky Miller and Tom Biggs gained all tallies for the defeated team. The Deadbeats bounced back and edged the Dukes II, 15-9, 17-15. Micky Miller and Carl Foust were the top scorers on the winning side. Maurice Snyder and Boris Gosheff did their best in behalf of the losers.

The Teachers, with Mr. Charles "Porky" Holt, Mr. Robert Davis, Mr. Raymond Quance, and Mr. Richard Ober doing most of the scoring, suffered defeat at the hands of the Meat Packers. High-scoring players for the winners were Bob Lohman, Skevos Pavlou, and Sid Sherry.

In a giant volleyball championship game, the Scrubs crimped the Nihilis, 15-5, 10-5. Rick Meeks and Chris Raptis scored the most points for the champions. Mike Beltz and Dave Yancy gave their all in a losing championship attempt.

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Headquarters For OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818 CALHOUN ST. KOEBER'S 818 CALHOUN ST.

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGNERS PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROTYPE
DIES
WAX
STEREOS

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

What you want

is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

Four Pupils Play Chess, Game Requiring Skill, Quick Thinking

Chess, a popular hobby of at least four avid Kellys, is a game that requires skill and quick thinking rather than luck. Mastering the sport is actually an accomplishment.

Chess is played on a regular check-board and both players begin with the same pieces, two rooks, two knights, two bishops, eight pawns, a queen, and a king. The object of the game is to trap the king, or get him in checkmate.

ANNUALLY, in November, the school has an intramural chess tournament. The first time a player is defeated, he falls into the "losers" bracket. The final championship games are between the winner of the consolation games and the grand winner. To win the championship, the player must win two out of three games.

Brad Zieg, 11B, won the freshman-sophomore tournament this fall. Playing chess since he was five years old, Brad was runner-up in his division at the Reservoir Park. Brad stated that he tries to establish his power in the center and practices the queen's pawn opening.

Larry Botz, a freshman, has been playing chess for six years. His specialty is an opening move which he relies on to win. It's a three-move checkmate which involves a pawn, the queen, and a bishop.

MIKE YOUNG, sophomore, also enjoys playing chess. Playing since the seventh grade, Mike feels that he is weak on offense and to win one must play the game defensively.

Dick Astrom, freshman, won all the games in the consolation round and was runner-up for the championship in last fall's tournament. He learned to play from his father six years ago. Dick stated that he plans to enter more tournaments in the future because they are good experience.

Graves & Hageman, Inc.
Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Remember To include
Town Talk
BUTTER BREAD
on your shopping list

Coney Island
WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

KOEGEL JEWELERS
Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway E-7671

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP
Sunny Schick Camera Shop
407 West Washington Phone A-9119

Kats To Present Stiff Competition In Annual Dual Meet At Kokomo

Dennis Jones Leads Opposition's Milers With Fastest Record

Hoping to repeat a victory over the Wildcats of Kokomo, Archer cindersmen will journey to the latter's track on April 9 to compete in the annual dual meet. This year the Archers travel to Kokomo's "poor" track to face a fairly tough Kokomo crew. Last year the Archers defeated the Wildcats, 57-52, winning every running event except the half-mile and inflicting a first dual-meet loss of the season on Kokomo.

Although the Wildcats at this writing have not competed in any meets with the exception of the Hoosier Relays, they will no doubt give the Archer cindersmen quite a hard time this year. Kokomo's track is considered a very poor one, and the Wildcat boys will have an advantage in that respect. Several of the cinder prospects having just returned from the basketball scene, Kokomo is probably not at full strength and by meet time will not be at their peak.

Kokomo's top men are Bob Bagley, Bob Graff, Charles Jewell, and ex-Archer whiz Dennis Jones. Recently in the Hoosier Relays, these boys teamed up to grab the distance medal in the record time of 8:29.6, erasing the old meet record of 8:32.5 posted by Hobart in 1955. Bagley ran the first leg, the 880; Graff and Jewell ran quarters, and Jones blazed the mile trail in the last leg.

RETURNING FOR the Wildcats this season on the hurdles is Joe Kelly, a senior who sported times on the highs and lows last season of 16.0 and 21.5, respectively. Although they haven't seen too much hurdle competition on the varsity scale, Juniors Jim Marverum and Erwin Cox, who was a member of Kokomo's tremendous basketball squad this year, will be pushing Kellys this year.

Coach Bob Bushong's tracksters are somewhat weaker in the dashes than South, who in all probability will see Bandemer in both the century and furlong. Kokomo's top returnee is Senior George Arns. His best '61 times were 10.8 for the 100 and 21.6 for the 220, which will be far short of victory time if Bandemer competes in the dashes. In the 440, the Wildcats have some fair depth with Tom Burt, who posted a '61 best of 54.2 as well as Graff and Jewell who ran quarters well under that mark in the distance medley at the Hoosier Relays. Graff also runs the half-mile, his best time last year being a commendable 2:02.7 clocking.

In the mile run, ex-Archer Dennis Jones will be the big hope for the Wildcats. Presently Jones' best time is a blistering 4:28.1 four-lapper. Jones was disqualified in the Regionals last season but will no doubt be one of the state's top contenders this season.

IN THE FIELD events Kokomo will have Jim (Goose) Ligon in the high jump, the Goose's best leap being a fine 6-0 height. In the pole vault Kokomo boasts of Erwin Cox, who as a sophomore last season reached the 12-3 barrier.

Throwing the shot for the Wildcats is Dan Barns, who manages a fair 45-foot put. Arns is Kokomo's 21-foot broad jumper, his best '61 jump being a 21-foot one-inch distance. All in all this meet sizes up to be a highly contested battle.

Dean To Participate In State Conference

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, will attend the annual state convention of the Indiana Association of Women Deans and Counselors at the Inn at Turkey Run State Park tomorrow and Saturday. Mrs. Ellen Povalac, program chairman, has planned a Three-R's meeting: Renovate, Refurbish, and Refresh.

Friday Miss Van Gorder will attend an evaluation meeting for officers and committee chairmen. Later that same afternoon, she will attend a meeting to learn about Turkey Run State Park under the direction of the part naturalist. Following dinner Miss Van Gorder will hear Indiana Speaker Lieutenant-Governor Richard Ristine talk on "After College What?"

Saturday morning, Miss Van Gorder will have breakfast at the Topical Table. Following devotions, there will be group meetings for 45 minutes, after which the panels will change rooms, giving the audience a 15 minute break to become better acquainted. Panel discussions are Independence of Guidance Service at the Various Levels, and Retirement Ahead.

Luncheon speaker will be Miss Doris Seward, Dean of Women at the University of Kentucky, who is treasurer for the NAWDC. She will speak on modifying our procedures and philosophy on terms of modifications in student cultural outlook. The group will adjourn at 2:30 p.m.

Jenny Manth Cops Title

Writer of the week for her story, "Seniors Nominated for Quill and Scroll Society," in the March 22 issue of the Times is Jenny Manth. She will receive a 100-point bonus for her article and is eligible for the Times Writing Trophy to be awarded on Recognition Day.

PROMISING PERFORMERS . . . With the track season underway, thinly sprinters left to right Tom Wright, Tom Frazell, Rick Werling, Eddie Johnson, and Bob Lohman practice for future meets. Already in the victory column is the Culver encounter, which was won 55½ to 53½.—Photo by Jones

Robert Lohman Assists Thinlies As Sprint Man

Bob Lohman, a veteran athlete at South Side, will again lend his talents to an Archer aggregation. Bob has been out for track three years and has been very successful.

Bob is a sprint man and has run varsity for two years. During his sophomore year, Bob posted a time of 10.4 seconds for the 100-yard dash, a very commendable time for any track man.

Bob was also a member of the track team that journeyed to the State track meet at Indianapolis last spring. Running a leg in the half-mile, Bob marked up a time of 22.8 seconds for his 220-yard distance. This year in the one meet that has been run at Culver Military Academy, Bob placed third in both the 40 yard dash and the 220-yard dash on the small track.

Bob is not a one-sport man by far. He was a starting end on the football team and played guard on the first team most of the basketball season. As an end, Bob showed his speed to many opposing teams and was on the receiving end of a McMahon-pass that accounted for the first Archer score of the season.

Bob Lohman

ON THE HARDWOOD, Bob used his speed and co-ordination to handle the ball and set up plays quite well. At the end of the Columbia City game, Bob sank the final baskets that pulled a close Archer victory out of the fire.

Bob keeps in shape during the summer by swimming at the Port Wayne Country Club, and serving as a counselor at Camp Charlvoy. Bob used to race competitively for the club and has beaten some of the city's more prominent swimmers. He raced the 50-yard free style, the 100-yard free style, and the back stroke.

Bob feels this year's team should be good, but probably will not size up to last year's team's records.

THE RELAYS WILL be weaker than last year. South could probably have one good relay team this year and not the dual power of last year's teams according to Bob. The high jump supposedly will be stronger than last year's jumping.

"South should be the strongest team in the city overall. North has good distance men and quarter milers and Central has good sprinters and hurdlers. Central is always a potential threat and could prove tough," state Bob when asked about city teams.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE
202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Gerig Super Service
MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY
WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

The state of Ohio was in its greatest glory last Saturday; but the capital, Columbus, received a rude, unwelcome shock. The Ohio State Buckeyes, almost unanimously rated number one in the nation throughout the entire season and beaten only once previously, were decisively whipped by the Bearcats of Cincinnati in the NCAA Tournament finale. On the same day, Dayton copped the National Invitational Tournament in New York by nipping powerhouse St. John's of New York.

The defeat of the Bucks by the Bearcats for the second year in a row in the NCAA Tourney adds considerable prestige to the second-ranked team in the country and gives cause for meditation in those who have proclaimed the Ohio State squad the greatest college basketball team in history.

When OSU coach Fred Taylor's team grabbed the tournament championship two years ago, the squad was composed of all underclassmen. With Junior Larry Siegfried and sophomores Jerry Lucas, "Hondo" Havlicek, and Mel Nowell, Ohio State was in an enviable position. And, of course, they lost but six games in three full years of play and were the number one team each of those years. However, the promising Buckeyes lost 70-65 last year and once more this year to fail to capture the NCAA crown again.

Paul Hogue, Cincy's 6-9 center who played brilliantly in the tournament, placed on few all-star squads in the country; he nevertheless sparkled on offense and defense against both UCLA and Ohio State.

The Fourteenth Hoosier Relays were run in the I. U. fieldhouse in Bloomington last Saturday, also; and some eye-popping times and distances were recorded by some of the 1,300 athletes from the 92 schools entered in the meet. Only North Side represented the Fort Wayne area.

Some of the top teams as far as the points went in the meet were some future Archer foes, to be faced later on this season. Hobart displayed strength in sprints and relays, besides copping first in the hurdles. Delphi came through with flying colors in the two-mile and mile relays; Muncie Central showed up pretty tough in the field events, particularly in the pole vault where Jim Boyce cleared 12 feet two inches, a fine mark at this point in the year; and, naturally, North Side performed well in the long relays.

Some of the finer marks were a :06.3 time in the 60-yard dash, a 54-plus shot-put, a 22-9 broad jump, a 3:31.7 mile relay, a 6-6 high jump, and an 8:20.2 two-mile relay. Our tip on the dashman to watch in the state is Roy Thurman of Indianapolis Wood, winner of the 60-yard dash and anchor man on Wood's winning sprint relay team.

The advent of the warmer weather has been nicely timed to coincide with the first big swing into spring sports. Next week the track team faces three foes, two of them at South's stadium; the tennis squad squares off in its first two matches; and the golf eliminations get underway.

The three different teams shape up quite differently, ranging from the strong, much-experienced track and racket squads to the golf team where only one member from last year's octet is returning.

All in all, though, it looks to be a favorable spring for athletics at South. The specific outlook for next week: The Kellys should trounce Elkhart and Elmhurst with virtually no rugged competition except in spot events. Kokomo poses a much tougher problem with the Kats probably taking the field events and at least one relay. Anything more than that they will have to fight tooth and nail to get.

Sports Announcer To Speak

Hi-Y vice-president Karl Bandemer announced that Mr. Hillard Gates, sports director for WKJG, will be the guest speaker for the April 9 meeting of Hi-Y at the YMCA at 7:30 p.m. in the Youth Assembly Room. Mr. Gates will show films of his trip to the Olympic games in Rome in 1960.

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets

1013 Wells E-2865

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

See our lovely selection of formals and cocktail dresses.

K-2530

2426 S. Calhoun

Phone: T-1141

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—

T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford

H-2185

Racketmen To Challenge Peru, Marion In Opening Encounters

The 1962 edition of the Archer tennis squad, led again by Coach Everett Havens, moves into its first action by facing the Marion High School clay-courtiers on April 10. The Kellys figure to have a strong, young, yet experienced team ready; but the Giants have not quite developed a powerhouse quintet at this time.

Coach Havens can rely on some good returnees from last season, not one of them a senior. In the first and second slots will be Al Purdy and Jim Lantz, both juniors with two years of experience. Purdy played in the number two and three positions and Lantz in the four spot last season.

OTHER TOP PROSPECTS with rackets are Juniors Matt Cornacchione, Terry Smith, John Knight, Pat Fiske, and Lex Smuts. All except Smuts were on the squad previously and participated in matches as sophomores.

Cornacchione, Smith, and Smuts will probably start against Marion, with the line-up still not settled because of possible shake-up during spring vacation. Knight and Fiske will probably move into either doubles action or one of the bottom three posts as the schedule progresses.

Some of the other finer young talent to be looked over by Coach Havens includes four sophomores: Jim McMahon, Ricky Meeks, Paul Cochran, and Bruce Baldwin. Meeks, out for his first time, and McMahon, who was on the squad as a frosh, show considerable promise in their agility and quickness, even though they do each lack a little polish.

All in all, it shapes up to point the way to a bright future in tennis for the Green, who last year owned a fine winning record.

AS FOR THE OPPOSITION, Marion's Coach Jules Walker doesn't have much to say about his corps. Last year's Giant crew chalked up one of their poorest slates ever, and almost the entire group graduated. Only Joe Foust, a senior this semester, returns from the top five. Two other boys, Phil Resnick and Ron Hans, were lower down on the list; but they figure prominently in this season's plans.

Marion has been practicing indoors since the end of the Regional tourney, turning to the outdoors with the ushering in of warmer temperatures. Coach Walker has about twenty hopefuls to choose from, but his prospects for a good year are again slim. Marion's first meet is the tenth against South and their faring in that match will tip off the plausibility of success in the final 13 outings of the Giants.

After the Bowman dispose of Marion on April 10, they will probably have to face the strongest netters in the entire state, Coach Joe Saint's Peru Aces. Finishing last season with one of the top teams in Indiana, Coach Saint can count on returning lettermen to again bolster the squad.

THE TENNIS TEAM will soon be testing their skill against a tough and experienced Peru team. In the last meeting between the two teams, Peru defeated the Green very easily. This year Peru has another fine team, so the Archers will have to be in top condition to squeeze out a victory.

Peru has several experienced players who are returning from a successful season last year. The most outstanding player on the team is Senior Jerry Bradley. He proved his ability last year by winning the runner-up title in the State Jaycees Tournament.

Two more outstanding players are Danny Russner and Kenny Oyler, seniors. Last year at the Muncie Burris tennis tournament, all three of the boys took a first place in their respective divisions.

Biologists To Meet

Biology Experimenters will meet in Room 91 at 3:30 p.m. today to make kymograph studies of insect activities. They will also study the physiology of animals.

Health, Biology Classes To Learn From Movies

"The Other City" and "The Traitor Within" are two movies which will be presented to health classes during the week of March 29, according to Mr. Ralph Boling, business teacher.

Both of these films, which are releases of the Cancer Society, will be shown to classes conducted by Miss Edith Crowe, Mr. Preston Brown, and Mr. Doris Yoder, health teachers.

In addition, Mr. Nicholas Pipino's, Mr. Max Hank's, and Mr. Richard Ober's biology classes will view "Reptiles and Their Characteristics," "Frog Anatomy," and "Amphibians," on April 10. While the first of these movies deals with the natural habitats and general characteristics of reptiles, the latter two are concerned with the dissection and life processes of the frog.

Billfold Special

25 Billfold Prints

99c

No Copy Charge If You
Do Not Have Negative.

Offer Expires March 31st

HOWARD'S

3813 S. Calhoun

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

DIGGS - H-4286

R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun

U Fountain
G School Supplies
S Vitamins
Prescription
Specialists

SUNDAY

5:30 p.m.

on

WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:

Tournament Round
C.C. vs. North Side

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

LOCATED
CALHOUN AT JEFFERSON

Authentic IVY . .

RICHWEAVE SUIT

Wool Worsted With Dash

45<sup>95</sup>

35 to 12 Regular
36 to 42 Long

This all-wool worsted suiting can be depended upon for a "just pressed" look, no matter how "hard" you wear your RICHWEAVE Ivy Suit, and the "contour collar" assures perfect fit where you want and need it most—in the neck and shoulder area. Try it on to be convinced.

Look
Smart For Easter

Palm Beach
COMPANY
RICHWEAVE

Crime Detection Career Provides Excitement, Satisfaction In Combatting Corruption, Lowering High Crime Rate

TRACKING DOWN THAT MAN . . . To discover a person who commits a crime, the criminologist follows certain steps. First, in the left picture, police Detective Sergeants Robert Smith, left, and Richard Lockhart, look through "mug shots," pictures of lawbreakers from which the victim tries to make an identification. Another step is completed in the center photo by Mr. Lockhart, who is dusting a gun for fingerprints. Also, the policemen take fingerprints of suspects; in the right photograph, Patrolman Maryon Ainslie, left, and Mr. Cook are demonstrating this process.—Photos by Lowden

Our country is confronted today with the worst era of lawlessness in its history. One should consider these shocking facts: every four minutes that tick off the clock, another human is the victim of a murder or assault. Every 46 seconds a burglary is committed, and each hour of the day and night 33 more automobiles are stolen from their owners. In the time taken to read this paragraph (about 20 seconds), a serious crime has occurred in one of the fifty states.

The human suffering caused by these lawbreakers cannot be expressed by words or figures. The financial cost, $22 billion every year, is staggering.

Presently, an army of more than 325,000 law enforcement officers are fighting that war in our federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies. It is a large force, but not large enough.

New recruits, well trained and unswerving in their devotion to justice, are critically wanted and needed. To these young people, the law enforcement profession offers a life of challenging, dedicated service to community and country.

LAW ENFORCEMENT is a rapidly growing field. Employment, on all levels of police administration, has more than doubled in the past 20 years. Women have begun to enter the field, and colleges and universities have opened training programs to meet the demand for police women in juvenile or women's division departments all over the country.

Police administration is the science of public protection. It has become a recognized profession, demanding well-trained and competent people. They apply the principles and methods of police administration to help people understand that respect for law is fundamental freedom.

Enforcement is but one of the two facets of this service that awaits new-

'Fool's Day' Stems From Tales, Jokes Of Ancient Peoples

The annual Feast of Fools, the ancient April Fool's Day, was originally the first day of the New Year. Persons who refused to accept the law for New Year's beginning on January 1 were ridiculed by the public, and often "New Year's gifts" were sent to them on April 1.

England has observed April Fool's Day ever since the 1600's. An old legend is that King John of England, wishing to pass through the town of Gotham, found it barricaded.

When the king's messengers were sent to learn the reason, the people pretended to be insane because they believed that the land over which the king passed would become crown property. The messengers found them drowning eels in ponds, enclosing a cuckoo and the bush it sat upon, and rolling cheeses downhill to market.

In 1860 several hundred Londoners were invited to attend the "Annual Ceremony of Washing the Lions" at the Tower of London; but when they arrived in crowds, they realized it was only an April Fool's joke.

April Fool's Day has been a popular practice in the United States for many years. But Americans are not the only people who enjoy playing absurd, harmless jokes on April 1. Today it is also observed in France, Portugal, Mexico, and India.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon
617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

This week's Small Snap is Martha Grimme

comers in the profession. The other part lies in that equally broad and vital area—the prevention of crime. Officers work closely with the thousands of dedicated teachers, social workers, recreation leaders, and church workers to raise standards of personal morality among our people and to keep our nation clean, decent, and vigorous.

Besides giving these lay workers a place, crime prevention also offers a number of specific opportunities to people skillfully trained. There is a broad field for the scientifically-minded young person who wishes to specialize in ballistics, fingerprinting, communications, or any of the other fascinating and diverse fields that are now an integral part of law enforcement.

The opportunity for advancement to positions of great trust and responsibility is available to qualified personnel. From today's recruits must come the law enforcement executives of tomorrow, the officials who plan, co-ordinate, and administer departments of law enforcement agencies or the agencies themselves.

These officials attain the respect and admiration of neighbors, friends, and fellow citizens. It is also unquestionably true that officers who move into high-ranking positions are also leaders in community life.

MANY PEOPLE DO not realize that this vital work is a profession. The main reason is that law enforcement has moved into an entirely new era. Gone are the days when the new recruit was sent into the street with no more equipment and training than a badge, a stick, and a list of rules. Today the field is highly specialized, calling for a keen intelligence to master and apply the complex techniques now employed in crime detection and prevention.

As a result, the nation's law enforcement agencies are attracting young people of high caliber, many of them college graduates. Studies have actually shown that the education background of America's police officers today is higher than at any other time in history.

It is important to understand why a career in criminology and crime prevention now appeals strongly to the above-average person.

First, cleanliness attracts cleanliness. An aroused public conscience has rooted out, and is continuing to expunge, corruption wherever it is found infesting our police departments. While some bad apples remain, the ugly aura of scandal that made law enforcement work unsavory in the past has all but disappeared today.

SECOND, LAW enforcement now offers the same intellectual challenge that other scientific pursuits. This is true in as much as the profession has become far more technical. One of the police officer's most potent weapons is the scientific crime laboratory.

Pupils Named To Band

Mary Crowder, Bob Quick, and Jim Powell have been promoted to the small band, a group of selected musicians, according to Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director.

These sophomores received their promotions as a result of recent try-outs.

tory. There, the heel-print, the tool-mark, or the microscopic paint chip can provide the essential bit of evidence linking the criminal to his crime.

Third, the increasing emphasis on crime prevention has added a new dimension to the profession. An individual has the satisfaction of knowing that while he helps protect his community, he is also keeping other humans from making tragic wastes of their lives.

No matter where his duties may take him, a law enforcement officer knows that his prime objective is to prevent the crime from happening at all. Indeed, special bureaus charged with crime prevention have been set up all over the country.

Fourth, there is the realization that those qualified by experience, performance, and academic training can win promotions to positions of command including assignments at the very top levels.

The need for law enforcement will exist as long as there are people. Today the demand far exceeds the supply. Career opportunities can be found in federal investigation, state and city police departments, correction work, industrial plant protection and private agencies.

IN A TYPICAL police department of a large city there are many different police jobs. People work in approximately 15 separate sections of the city police administration.

The occupational classification within the police department starts with the chief of police, deputy or assistant chief of police, inspector, captain, lieutenant, sergeant, and finally the patrolman. The detective is employed by city, state, and federal government agencies.

Some specific phases of police work in which a person can specialize are scientific criminal investigations, crime prevention, traffic problems and control, criminal law, and personal identification.

Qualifications necessary for personnel of police departments vary from place to place. Requirements are not rigid in small towns. But all states and larger cities make more specific demands. Some may require that the applicant be a legal resident of the city or state.

Other requirements include good physical health, an age limitation ranging from 21 to 35, a height of not less than 5-8 and not more than 6-5, and a weight varying from 135 to 230 pounds according to height. Often an aptitude test and other examinations must be passed in addition to an oral interview. His past record must be able to withstand a searching investigation.

THE POLICEMAN OR deputy sheriff makes investigations as a re-

Established 1876
K LA EHN FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

A MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

ALL-AMERICAN MEAL

MILK SHAKES...20¢
McDonald's FRENCH FRIES...10¢
ALL FOR 45¢
HAMBURGERS...15¢

McDonald's DRIVE-INS

3-LOCATIONS-3

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison
SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!

John Powers Collects Stamps, Serves As Equipment Manager

Twenty years from today, "Who's Who" might list in its columns of fame the name John M. Powers, the noted philatelist, or stamp collector. Whether or not this statement comes true, crystal ball gazers can see that John Powers is an avid collector and active student.

This sophomore boy's room at home is filled with the results of a hobby of collecting stamps, gems, and coins.

His precious and semi-precious gem collection has been obtained from a trip to Florida. John brought the rocks back as souvenirs and started a new hobby. Since that time, other gems have come from Africa and from a trip to the Michigan sand dunes.

John started to collect United States and foreign stamps six years ago when his father gave him a large part of his collection.

HIS LAST COLLECTION is one of coins which John started four years ago. Bank rolls have supplied John's six blue penny albums with American pennies. A special box holds unusual coins from his penny, nickel, and dime collection.

John is an active member of South Side's band. The tuba has been his instrument since the sixth grade at Harrison Hill. One of his favorite musical events is marching in the Veterans' Day parade each year.

Two other activities claim John's time. He belongs to the Youth Fellowship at the Plymouth Congregational Church. He is also equipment manager for South Side's athletic events, taking care of towels, uniforms, and other equipment.

THE EXPLORERS is another outside interest that gives John a chance to live close to nature. This group of Scouts takes canoe trips, hikes, and winter camp-outs.

John's favorite study is mathematics, and he plans to choose a career such as electronics. The University of Michigan might be his place of study later on.

John feels that science and math should be stressed more in schools. He plans to take four years of math and two of science. He said, "It is important that the American youth get interested in science and math in order to keep the U.S. a high-ranking world power."

Sitting Figures Vary From 'Stiff-Boards' To 'Book Balancers'

As any Archer looks around his classroom, he can't help noticing the awkward, if not amusing, sitting positions many people take.

First, there is the "sloucher." He is the person who hides behind his book, fearing the teacher will call on him.

NEXT HE ENCOUNTERS "Book Balancing Billy." This chap juggles a book on one knee and a paper on the other. He can't use his desk because that is supporting the arm on which he is balancing his chin.

Then there is always the "back-stiff-as-a-board" type of person. Sometimes he surely must wonder what would happen if the back of the desk were removed.

Also, there is the person who uses the skirt of the girl in front of him as a doormat. It's only when he finally gets her dry cleaning bill that he realizes what he has been doing.

OF COURSE, HE can't overlook "Stumping Sam." Sam reclines in his desk with his feet in front of him. He is so far away in Dreamland that he can't realize that everyone is stumbling over his feet.

The "octopus" raps his legs around the desk in such a fashion that it is hard to distinguish one from the other.

And finally, there is the person who perhaps epitomizes all students. This is the boy or girl who sits on the edge of his desk during the period waiting for the bell to ring.

Designers To Meet

In order to finish their projects by June 9, the members of the Designers' Associated Club will continue work on their entries for the Fisher Body Contest at the meeting April 11 at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
1037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

DEIHL'S Cities Service
CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.
Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.
Private and Industrial Catering
Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188
4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

Wm. A. Didier & Sons Incorporated PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Graduating Seniors . . . During Your Spring Vacation

See Lincoln Life for Job Opportunities

Spring vacation is the ideal time for senior students to apply for the job they would like to have following graduation. Members of the Personnel Department will be happy to discuss job prospects with you.

Plan to visit the Lincoln Life Personnel Department, Calhoun Street entrance, anytime between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., April 2 through April 6.

Openings for messengers, file clerks, typists, stenographers and general clerks will be available to good students who are planning to work permanently following their graduation. No special skills required for many of the beginning positions, just a willingness and ability to learn.

THE Lincoln Life NATIONAL Life INSURANCE COMPANY

Its Name Indicates Its Character

Archers Achieve High Grades To Earn Coveted Vacation

Scoring high grades on a test over motion in Mr. White's period 1 Physics 1 class are Bryan Bixby, Mike Ewald, and Andy Christon.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 2 period 7 class who have started their reverse drawings in isometric are Evert Mol, Craig Miller, Tom Ables, John Weaver, Curt Venderly, and Joe Thorpe.

Larry Brown and Marian Johnson scored the highest grades in the class on a quiz covering the chapter on the Industrial Revolution in Mr. Collyer's General History 2 period 6 class.

Pat Oglesbee made the highest grade in her class on a test in Mrs. Ellett's period 4 home management class.

Jackie Kessler and Mary Sherlock received near-perfect scores on Mr. Petty's latest test in the Algebra 2 period 4 class.

Jessie Frost, Steve Locker, Jerry McCormick, Don Stevens, and Kathy Walsh scored A's on a test over triangles in Mr. Sage's Geometry 1 period 3 class.

Jim Osburn and Erin Rose received high scores on a test over the last half of chapter 8 taken in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Dick Astrom, Valentina Harabosky, and Kerry Miller made the highest grades on a test in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 2 period 7 class.

Those who scored the highest grades on their Unit 6 test in Mr. Smith's U.S. History 2 period 2 class are Sue Burdick, Sharon Chase, Helen Martindale, and Gwen Yordy.

Scoring the best grades on a unit test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 4 period 1 class are Cynthia Christman and Linda Newell.

Karen Franks and Ed Gaterman are the only students who scored above 90 on a recent test in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 7 class.

Those who scored the highest grades on a literature test in Miss Smith's English 1 period 5 class are Gary Hullinger, Don Belschner, and Steve Clem.

Those making the highest grades on a vocabulary and grammar test in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 4 period 3 class are Jeff Bloom, Marcia Hughes, Deborah Love, Margaret Shirley, and Jan Reynolds.

Mike Easton, Dan Fortney, Brian Haycock, Jack Powell, Charles Roemer, Gary Stair, and Mark Lowens made the highest scores on a test in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 7 class.

Mike Comer made the highest grade on a test in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 4 class.

Students in Mrs. Fleck's Art 2 period 7 class are working on a futuristic drawing project. Each member of the class has selected a drawing he would like to develop into a series of closely related action pictures. The series will be cartoon-like in nature.

Students who made grades of 90 or above on a test in Miss Ayer's period 7 commercial geography class are Sharon Dickey and Betty Ensey. Curt Venderly made the only 100.

Making perfect scores on a test in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 6 class are Mike Bauer and Ron Everson.

Dayna Harader, Bill Kleifgen, Evert Mol, and Terry Newendorp made the highest scores on a test on oxidation and reduction in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 1 class.

Rhonda Roehm and Nancy Welch made the highest scores on a flowering plant life history quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 1 class.

On a series of tests covering eighteenth century literature in Miss Osborne's Special English 8 period 3 class Ann McCallister, Peggy Schmidt, and Janet Deihl earned the highest grades.

COLONIAL Restaurant
E-2000

Marks CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

The students in Mr. Drummond's music appreciation class are learning to recognize musical compositions by the period in which they were composed.

Susan Moyer and Jane Augspurger made the highest grades on a test in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 2 class.

Oral reports on members of the Constitutional Convention were given by Don Smith, Rosemarie Gramel-spacher, Carole Peters, and Ken Lot-hamer in Mr. Block's U.S. History 1 period 1 class.

Students receiving highest scores on a test of general business organization in Mr. Peirce's Economics 2 period 1 class are Jim Feustel, Linda Chaney, Tom Liby, and Shirley Davis.

Receiving the highest scores on a test on oxidation and reduction in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 6 class are Bill Mueller and Jim Walker.

Joleen Crumrine, Maxine Hecht, and Nancy Loughheed scored highest on a vocabulary and grammar test in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 4 period 1 class.

Receiving high scores on a test over light and wave motions in Mr. White's Physics 2 period 5 class are Dave Eaton, Mary Esslinger, Karen Snively, and Carol Becher.

Bill Borgmann and Lissa Hoffman made the best grades on a test on oxidation and reduction in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 4 class.

Those scoring highest on a flowering plant life history quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 1 period 1 class are Babs Fitzgerald, Judy Schunn, Ann Shilling, and Julia Wadlington.

Ann Petrie and Diane Fredrick scored the highest on a recent unit grammar test in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class.

Students having given hour-long book reports in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class are Richard Freeman, Bruce Hilby, and James Moss-hamer.

In Mr. Gersmehl's English 6 period 3 class Larry Matthews scored in the upper 10 per cent of the class on a final exam over the drama, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

Beth Burnett, Betsy Adams, and Kathy Menze earned the highest scores on a test covering modern drama in Miss Graham's English 7 period 2 class.

Receiving the highest scores on a test in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 2 class are Richard Astrom, Jim Evans, Richard Rutkowski, Mike Sienkiewicz, and Mike Vogt.

June Dominy, Karen Hathaway, and Lyle Culbertson received top scores on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 3 marketing class.

Tom Thieme is typing 56 words per minute in Mrs. Ashe's period 1 personal typing class. Bella Dyson and Barb Spiers are typing 46 words per minute.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 classes are studying and preparing quick breads. They will be baking special variations of biscuits, muffins, and doughnuts.

Students in Mr. Rohrabough's Journalism 2 period 1 class have been collecting classroom news and preparing news and feature stories for the paper. In addition to this creative writing, they have been collecting ad money, rolling and folding papers for outside circulation, and typing copy.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL
It is pure
It's CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

For March Only
25
WALLET SIZE PRINTS
99c
On Double-Weight Paper
3818 S. Calhoun

Scoring highest on a test on oxidation and reduction in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 3 class is Dick Waterfield.

Julie Breidenstein brought in special material on Abraham Lincoln for use in Miss Crowe's U.S. History 2 class.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test on oxidation and reduction in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 7 class are Jim Feustel and Dan McCroskey.

Karl Bandemer, Judy Evans, and Julia Hutchens scored A's on a test over the book, "Cry the Beloved Country" in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 2 class.

Karen McFarland and Sandy Karst earned the highest scores on a test in Mr. Peirce's period 7 Economics 2 class.

Judy Curtis earned a 99 per cent in the period 6 class on Mr. Reichert's test over chapters 1-4 in the Citizenship 2 workbook, "About You."

Students who made grades of 90 or above in Miss Ayers' period 1 commercial geography class are Chuck Parker and Henry Persons.

Joe Lepley, Tom Watson, Tom Stephan, and Elaine Cole got the classes' highest scores on a test covering heredity and environment in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 2 period 3 group.

On a test covering modern drama in Miss Graham's English 7 period 7 class highest grades were turned in by Karl Krause, Rosemary Capps, Barb Altevogt, and Jack Seigel.

Ted Bocoek, George Wilkins, and Johnny Smith got the highest scores on a test covering heredity and environment in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 2 period 6 class.

Those who received the highest grades on a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's trigonometry class are Barton Bailey, Karen McFarland, David Meek, Tom Turlinger, and Bob Wasson.

Mr. Block's Government 1 period 6 class is having a panel discussion on the compromises of the Constitutional Convention.

Those who have received the highest scores on a daily test in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 2 class are Sue Burdick, Kaye Gall, Ann Galmeyer, Gary Probst, John Rupel, and Mike Stalter.

Oral reports were given on our great inventors; Edison, Fields, etc. by Jim Wolfe and Ralph Erhardt in Mr. Block's U.S. History 2 period 5 class.

Earning the only grade above 90 per cent, Anita Ferber scored 94 on Miss Osborne's 135-point grammar test in the English 8 period 6 class.

Receiving high scores on one-act play reports given in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class are Kathy DeVore, Marsha Disler, Diane Hall, Karen McFarland, Karen Ponader, and Bob Wasson.

The students who made the highest grades on a test over the Constitution in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 4 class are as follows: Tom Marshall, 90; Joan Lambert, 83; Kate Meshler, 80; and Susan Burlage, 80.

The people in Miss Edith Crowe's health classes have brought their health and weight charts up to date this week.

Those scoring the highest grades on a quiz about annelid worms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 2 class are Carol Channell, Mike Comer, and Mark Lowens.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

LAUNDRY

7up
"Fresh up"
It is pure
It's CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Beauty Salon
Distinctive Individual Hair Styling
A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers
• Open Evenings •
2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

Receiving high scores on a test over the workbook, "About You" in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 2 class are Sally Henderson, 99; Lydia Budowski, 96; Sheryl Johnson, 95; and Don Belschner, 95.

The following students made A's in Mr. Sage's Geometry 1 period 3 class on a test over triangles: Steve Locker, Cathy Walsh, and Don Stevens.

Receiving high scores on a test over phrases taken in Mr. Coats' period 7 English 8 class are Marilyn Cole, Mike Ferverda, David Meek, Barbara Spiers, and Barbara Uhl.

Mr. Reichert's citizenship classes are discussing the chapter titled "Friendship" in the workbook, "About You."

Students in Mr. Hostetler's period 5 concert choir class have been preparing songs for the Easter assembly and various singing engagements at churches in the city.

Brice Overman was the only person to make a perfect score on a test over family budgets given by Mr. Gernand to his Math 1 period 3 class. Others who scored high on the test are Sandra Clouse, Tom Furnish, Susanne Gemmill, Steve Griebel, Tonda Hume, Georgianna Ray, Tom Ropa, and Carol Westerman.

Lynda Barnhill, Karen Dimmick, Connie Gross, Jean Holley, Larry Holtrey, Steve Lyst, Vicki Palmer, Bob Steinkamp, Steve Vaughan, and Diane Wilcoxson have achieved A's on a recent triangle test in Mr. Sage's Geometry 1 period 6 class.

Receiving high scores on a test over phrases, taken in Mr. Coats' period 3 English 8 class are Shirley Davis, Terry Hoff, and Fred Schoen.

On a test over chapters 1-4 of the workbook, "About You," in Mr. Reichert's period 1 Citizenship 2 class, Pat Heiber scored 99; Linda Grimmer, 98; Tom Easton, 96; and Kathy Hughes, 95.

Receiving high scores on a test taken in Miss Fortney's period 1 Algebra 3 class are Mary Jo McDonald, Allan Mason, Gary Probst, Cheryl Summers, and Curtis Holly.

Bonnie Callahan received the highest score on a recent quiz about annelid worms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 5 class.

Tricia Miller, Rae Ann Mote, Barbara Fischer, and Marilyn Fishman, accompanied by Sue Mowery and directed by Mrs. Keegan, have learned the "Water Carrier Dance" for the Latin Club's banquet.

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony
"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Charlotte Powell is doing outstanding work in Mr. Kelly's period 5 personal typing class.

Jim Feustel, Tom Plesniak, Al Sheldon, Jo Ellen Bobay, and Bob Wenger received the highest scores on a test taken in Miss Fortney's period 2 trigonometry class.

Those who wrote exceptionally good book reports in Mrs. Emshwiler's English 2 period 3 class are Chip Bolman, Carol Brooks, Sandra Barton, Marilyn Gerke, James Mittelstadt, and John Wehnerberg.

Stuart Schmitz received 100 on a test taken in Miss Fortney's period 7 Algebra 3 class. Others receiving high scores are Ann Chenoweth, Louis Culbertson, Bob Leininger, and Gaynel Musser.

Receiving the highest scores on a recent test over a French story in Miss Smith's French 2 period 2 class are Frances Hudlow, Carol McVay, Lynda Barnhill, and Paul LaChair.

John Belling, Ron Bultemeier, and Curtis Holly received the highest scores on a test taken in Miss Fortney's period 3 Algebra 3 class.

The students who made the highest grades on a test over the Constitution in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 2 class are as follows: Diane Smith, 95; Sondra Stouder, 93; Sheldon Sherry, 93.

Sandra Ellis and Ken Leakey recently made grades above 90 on a unit test in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 4 period 2 class.

Those who received the highest scores on a French unit test in Miss Smith's French 2 period 7 class are Mary Sherlock and Janet Diehl.

Ellen Stanbery is maintaining the high average in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 3 class.

Scoring the highest grades on a 135-point grammar test in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class are Bill Mueller, 100; Bill Wilder, 90; Jim Walker, 90; and Mary Keegan, 90.

Scoring the highest grades on a daily quiz in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 3 class are Vic Churchward, Anita Kimball, Allan Mason, and Karen Miller.

Mr. Scott's gym groups have chosen teams for giant volleyball and are beginning to play.

The following students in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class have given excellent reports on the growth of science and invention: Janice Robson and Linda Bevington.

Students in Mr. Rohrabough's Journalism 1 period 1 class have begun preparation for their semester reading projects. Each student is to read two of the following books and write a detailed report on it: "The Ugly American," "Status Seekers," "The Lonely Crowd," "The Organization Man," "Hidden Persuaders," "Nation of Sheep," "Profiles and Courage," and "While England Slept."

Real Estate & Insurance Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Receiving high scores on a daily quiz in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 6 class are Pat Abbott, Dave Brumm, Janet Diehl, Sylvia Hileman, John Knight, Judy MacGiehan, Dave Rodenbeck, Pam Serrano, Nancy Welch, and Dave Yaney.

The following students in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class have given excellent reports on the growth of science and invention: Patty Van-Patten, Tony Trice, and Joleen Crumrine.

The students who made the highest grades on a test over the Constitution in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 1 class are as follows: Tom Erb, 98; Tim Grodian, 93; and Jack Seigel, 93.

Those who scored the highest grades on a recent test over annelid worms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 7 class are Pat Johnson and Clark Marquart.

Steve Chapin and Mike Hamm earned the best grades in Mr. Havens' period 1 business problems class on a test covering chapter 19.

The following students in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 1 class have given excellent reports on the growth of science and invention: Bruce Baldwin, Louis Fields, Dave Hunsche, Fran Krandell, and Bill Powlan.

Receiving the highest scores on a test about annelid worms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 3 class are Richard Astrom, Tim Easton, Ron Everson, and Mary Sherlock.

The following students in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class have given excellent reports on the growth of science and invention: Jim Abramson, Tom Blossom, Janis Sprunger, and Kathy Klas.

The following students in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 7 class have given excellent reports on the growth of science and invention: Barb Nelson, Stan Black, and Patty North.

Jeff Bloom, Marcia Larson, and Dave Reinhold have had their pictures taken for the Totem because they had the highest grades in Mr. Morey's English 5 classes on a recent literature test.

Receiving high scores on one-act play reports given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class are Pam Buzzard, Kathy Houser, Ann McCallister, Sue Moyer, and Diane Saalfrank.

Scoring high grades on a French unit test in Miss Smith's French 2 period 3 class are Rosemary Capps, Sue Gerig, Mile Comer, and Sally Anderson.

LaVonne Custance earned 100 per cent in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 5 class on a test covering circles.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner
FRUIT JUICES and PUNCHES
—Delivery Service—
Bowls, Ladies & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . 15c

See Our Exciting New Spring Formals . . .
Many Lovely Styles and Colors to Select From.
Sizes 6 to 16. $25.00 to $49.98
Put Yours in Layaway Now!
The Bridal Shop
3707 S. Clinton H-0477
STORE HOURS: Monday through Friday 10 to 9
Saturday 9:30 to 5:30

APRIL 1962

APRIL SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS

OBSERVE THE TIMES CALENDAR

| SUNDAY                                                                                                                             | MONDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | TUESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | WEDNESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | THURSDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | FRIDAY                                                                                                                                                                                     | SATURDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 They who have steeped their souls in prayerCan every anguish calmly bear.The Sayings of Rabia IV | 2 Broadview Florist &amp; Greenhouses5801 Winchester RoadS-3146 Spring Vacation                                                                                                   | 3  Spring Vacation                                                                                                   | 4 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home50 Years of Continuous Service2423-27 Fairfield AvenueH-2334 Spring Vacation                                                                                                                                               | 5 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six YearsKeefer Printing Co.A-1484 Spring Vacation                                                                               | 6 Munro's Standard ServiceFree Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing.Southgate Plaza H-5300 Spring Vacation         | 7 Each pure and gentle deed of mercy bringsAn honest recompense, and from it loomsThat sovereign Knowledge of thy duty done—A joy beyond all dignities of earth.Herman Miller                                                        |
| 8 The highest reward that God gives us for good work is the ability to do better.                            | 9 Schmidt's PharmacyEd Schmidt, R.Ph.Your Neighborhood Health Center4001 South Wayne AvenueH-0626 GAA SoftballPhilo, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, Range | 10 BABER'S JEWELRY801 S. CalhounA-7306 — E-4197 Issue GradesLettermen, Room 112Meterite, Room 112Girls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96                   | 11 Any man more right than his neighbor, constitutes a majority of one.Henry Thoreau Designers' Associated, Room 120Art Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112                                                                                           | 12 Greiner'sH-2124 2802 S. CalhounLawn Boy MowersToro MowersEvinrude OutboardsGrumman Boats Masque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36 | 13 OXFORD COFFEE SHOPMeet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town1502 OXFORD GAA SoftballWorkshop, Room 152Senior Play | 14 Dill &amp; Dill Insurance1127 S. Clinton A-1119All Forms of InsuranceOver 26 Years of ServiceLawrence G. DillClifford D. Dill Senior Play                                                                         |
| 15                         | 16 Klaehn Funeral Home420 W. Wayne A-0228Ambulance Service Wranglers, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Softball                                              | 17 RENT A TYPEWRITER fromNEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co.723 South Clinton A-7395 Societas Latina, Room 112Camera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, Range | 18 "Honesty" is the best policy!The next best is—A Policy Written ByYoung-Punsky Co.415 Central Bldg.Insurance Brokers Vesta Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61Astro-Physics Section, Room 96 | 19 Nature has given us two ears but only one mouth.Benjamin Disraeli Y-Teens, Room 112Safety Council, Room 178Jr. Academy of Science, Room 76                                                 | 20  Easter AssemblyGood Friday Vacation P.M.                    | 21 Three Rivers Lumber Co.1431 FrancisA-8461                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 22                         | 23 Error is a hardy plant; it flourisheth in every soil.Martin Tupper PhiloHi-Y Best Girl BanquetBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Softball                                    | 24 Oxford PharmacyHanna at OxfordPhone H-1373High School SuppliesGene Yoder, Prop. Meterite, Room 112Girls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96               | 25 Seibel's Superior Coal Co.919 WellsE-8141 Art ClubRed Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120                                                                                                                                       | 26 Mallough Roth AssociatesRealtors232 W. Wayne A-6396 Masque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36                                                     | 27 Nothing astonishes men so much as common sense and plain dealing.Ralph Waldo Emerson GAA SoftballWorkshop, Room 152Sophomore Party      | 28 South Side Barber ShopFIVE BARBERSAppointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments.Across from Main Entrance of South Side.Harold Henry, Proprietor3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502 |
| 29 A friend may well be reckoned the masterpiece of Nature.                                                  | 30 Somers Bakery220 E. WallaceH-2261 GAA SoftballWranglers, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, Range                                                                    |  If we had just one generation of properly born, adequately educated, healthy children, developed in character, we would have Utopia itself.Herbert Hoover                                                  |  Dur-Enamel PaintsDur-Enamel Co., Inc.When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.E-3011 1015 Taylor                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                    |  Art's Standard Service4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025Atlas Tires—Batteries—AccessoriesPick-Up and DeliveryS&amp;H Stamps                               |  I believe that every right implies a responsibility; every opportunity, an obligation; every possession, a duty.John Davison Rockefeller, Jr.                                                                                                      |

COME ON OUT AND

PROMOTE THESE ADVERTISERS!

Pegasus Staff To Open Spring Drive With Goal Set At 1800 Subscriptions, To Distribute Literary Edition May 18

Students To Purchase
Booklets For 35 Cents
From Representatives

With a goal of 1,800 subscriptions, the Pegasus circulation staff will open the sales drive for the 1962 Spring Pegasus Monday and will continue it through April 27.

The Pegasus may be purchased from homeroom representatives for 35 cents; however, no promissory notes will be accepted. The Pegasus will be distributed to the purchasers on May 18. In preparation for the campaign, all Pegasus agents will meet in the study hall tomorrow at 3:30 p.m.

This, the third edition of the literary magazine, is composed of original works of students in the categories of poetry, short story, and essay or editorial.

Roberta Twitchell, editor, and Tamara Vyhovsky, associate editor, are leading the staff which is now preparing the Pegasus for publication. The other members of the staff are Barbara Uhl and Janet Brenn, editorial staff; Barb Nelson and Beth Burnett, copy staff; Bob Englehart, art editor; Ken Lowden and Steve Jones, photographers; and Sonya Plagg and Marcia Kuhn, typists.

The circulation staff will be led by Lane Grile, circulation manager, assisted by bookheads Sandy Farmer, Ann Henderson, Celeste Riemen, Nancy Redding, Ann McCallister, Leanna Morris, Sharyan Yerger, and Sue Harrod.

The homeroom representatives are as follows:

|                                      |    |
|--------------------------------------|----|
| Book I, Sandy Farmer, head           |    |
| S-1 Alice Ashten                     | 26 |
| S-2 Kaylene Gebert and Ann Golden    | 29 |
| S-4 Sandy Miller and Sue Phillips    | 24 |
| S-5 Sandy Thorn                      | 29 |
| 2 Bonnie Russell                     | 21 |
| 4 Sharyan Yerger                     | 26 |
| 8 Sharon Eltman                      | 29 |
| 10 Joyce Lockwood and Becky Baughman | 29 |
| Book II, Ann Henderson, head         |    |
| 12 Joyce Dunlap                      | 32 |
| 14 Nancy Stewart                     | 29 |
| 22 Celeste Riemen                    | 27 |
| 24 Cabette Jones                     | 29 |
| 26 Peggy Schmidt                     | 27 |
| 28 Joyce Stocks                      | 25 |
| 30 Dick Parke                        | 28 |
| 32 Barrie Spear                      | 30 |
| 34 Sue Robinson                      | 31 |
| Book III, Celeste Riemen, head       |    |
| 36 Sue Burdick                       | 27 |
| 44 Nancy O'Connell                   | 31 |
| 45 Sharon Graffis                    | 29 |
| 46 Leanna Morris and Eileen Mayle    | 21 |

PEGASUS CAMPAIGNERS . . . Crossing the threshold to begin the spring Pegasus campaign on Monday is the circulation staff, left to right, front row, Lane Grile, manager, and Nancy Redding; second row, Sue Harrod, Ann McCallister, Sandra Farmer, Celeste Riemen, and Sharyan Yerger; and, third row, Ann Henderson and Leanna Morris.—Photo by Jones

|                                      |    |
|--------------------------------------|----|
| 52 Karen Simmons                     | 26 |
| 54 Diana Ornas                       | 29 |
| 56 Rita Hessert                      | 31 |
| 58 Sue Lawry                         | 31 |
| 60 Larry Brown and Suellen Borgmann  | 31 |
| Book IV, Nancy Redding, head         |    |
| 61 Sue Seibel                        | 22 |
| 62 Karen Miller and Karen Minkin     | 29 |
| 64 Nancy Enz                         | 31 |
| 66 Suzette Glass and Sally Henderson | 33 |
| 68 Brenda Dull                       | 21 |
| 70 Tom Erb                           | 22 |
| 72 Cindy Christman                   | 28 |
| 74 Ann McCallister                   | 26 |
| 76 Susi Hines                        | 24 |
| Book V, Ann McCallister, head        |    |
| 76 Patty Somers                      | 24 |
| 77 Barb Nelson                       | 32 |
| 80 Charlotte Dinis                   | 33 |
| 82 David Riemen                      | 23 |
| 84 Linda Weaver                      | 29 |
| 88 Joann Dixon                       | 31 |
| 90 Phyllis Pierson                   | 32 |
| 91 Kathy Knettle                     | 31 |
| 92 Doug Hansen                       | 34 |
| Book VI, Leanna Morris, head         |    |
| 94 Julie Merchant                    | 29 |
| 96 Christie Cousinsman               | 34 |
| 98 Gwen Welling                      | 26 |
| 108 Bill Wilder                      | 26 |
| 110 Sharon Karst                     | 29 |
| 116 Sally Sweet                      | 29 |
| 118 Sue Horth                        | 26 |
| 120 Nancy Redding                    | 33 |
| 138 Carole Ladig                     | 31 |

|                                       |    |
|---------------------------------------|----|
| Book VII, Sharyan Yerger, head        |    |
| 140 Tonya Hines                       | 27 |
| 142 Beverly Flanigan and Karen Franks | 33 |
| 144 Jane Knettle and Marian Johnson   | 29 |
| 146 Diane Fredrick                    | 25 |
| 150 Sharon Lynch and Sandra Clouse    | 28 |
| 152 Nancy Augspurger                  | 35 |
| 154 Joyce Spidner                     | 32 |
| 156 Sue Weinraub and Liz Weikart      | 34 |
| 172 Rosie Capps                       | 21 |
| Book VIII, Sue Harrod, head           |    |
| 174 Ann Gallmeyer                     | 30 |
| 176 Sam Carter                        | 25 |
| 178 Martha Hoad                       | 31 |
| 182 Ann Brase                         | 29 |
| 184 Margo Betz                        | 29 |
| 186 Linda Thornburg                   | 25 |
| 188 Liz Richter                       | 30 |
| 190 Ann Fickinger                     | 32 |

City's School Press To Move Machines To Merle J. Abbott

Operation of the School Press will be transferred to the basement of the Merle J. Abbott School sometime during the summer vacation months, according to an announcement made by Mr. Lester L. Grile, superintendent of the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

The move will allow the printers considerably more room in which to work and will permit accommodation of the printing shop's increasing work load.

At present the School Press prints weekly newspapers for North Side, Central, and South Side High Schools as well as monthly papers for the following schools: Franklin Junior High, Northwood Junior High, Portage Junior High, Harrison Hill, Kekionga Junior High, Lakeside Junior High, Ben F. Geyer Junior High, and James H. Smart Elementary.

RESIDES THE newspaper printing the community school's press does work on the yearbooks for North Side, Central, and South Side High Schools as well as those of the junior high schools. It also prints the Pegasus, South's literary magazine; The Intercom, the publication of the Fort Wayne Community Schools; and office and teacher forms for the entire community school system.

The new shop will occupy a previously unoccupied basement area adjacent to the kitchen and dining area. A floor-to-ceiling wall, with glass panels, will enclose the printing area for both safety and sound purposes.

The new site will also have an area for future offset press operations, parking facilities, and a private entrance.

EQUIPMENT TO BE moved from South Side this summer includes three presses, two linotype machines, and a paper cutter. The location presently occupied will be transformed into one or two classrooms.

Mr. James Rohrbach, publications adviser for the Fort Wayne Community Schools, will continue his duties as adviser and as supervisor of the press for the Fort Wayne Community School System.

Meterite Club Gives $100 For Purchase

Meterite Club is donating $100 to the English Department for the purchase of a record player and seven records.

Six of the records, which are Shakespearean, have been recorded by the Old Vic Players of London, England. These Shakespearean records will be used by the English classes in the study of Shakespeare's works. The seventh record, to be used for speech work, deals with the tracing of English pronunciation.

Sue Klachin, president of Meterites, explained that the club had accumulated a substantial treasury and voted to make the purchase when the need was brought to the attention of the group.

"All members of Meterites are very glad that the organization can be of service to South Side," concluded Sue.

Seniors To Present Mystery Story As Class Play Tomorrow, Saturday

Seven Students To Visit Purdue For Conferences

Five juniors and two sophomores will attend the annual high school day conducted by Purdue University Saturday. Juniors Karen Snively, Victor Churchward, Becky Harsch, Rosalie Hall, Sylvia Hileman, and Sophomores Ann Henderson and Jane Knettle will participate in a program on the problems and opportunities involved in college life.

Arriving between 9 and 9:30 a.m., the Archer representatives will join in a get-acquainted session with musical entertainment provided by the Purdue choir. The session will open with a lecture entitled "Preparation for College."

CONTINUING IN THE general theme of the day, providing students with information relative to college requirements and opportunities in various career fields, a symposium will be conducted by faculty members from various subject-matter areas on the topic, "Educational Opportunities."

Though centering their talk on Purdue, the educators will give the students valuable information that will be applicable to any institution of higher learning.

At noon the students will be given a free luncheon in the university's Residence Hall. The mid-day break will also include tours of Purdue's housing facilities on campus.

ALL STUDENTS will then be split throughout Indiana, will then be split into small groups as each attends two career conferences of his choice. In these discussions, the students will learn about admission requirements, opportunities in particular fields, factors involved in career selection, and other related items.

The program is sponsored by the Office of Admission with the co-operation of all schools, divisions, and departments of the university.

Five Students Win High Piano Rating In Music Festival

Bill Mueller, Dan McCroskey, Sue Penland, Sandra Yaggy, and Karen Ponder won superior ratings in the piano division at the Indiana Federation of Music Club's Junior Festival at Ball State Teachers College on March 25.

Senior Bill Mueller, who won his fourth superior rating in the contest this year by playing "Concerto in A Minor" by Edward Grieg, stated, "Playing the piano is an extremely interesting and challenging hobby. Through good music the performer passes on to his listeners an intensity of emotion and depth of perception which are unattainable through mere speech or even poetry."

"Music provides a soul-stirring inspiration and expression which are necessary parts of life itself," Bill has been playing the piano for ten years. In the NISBOVA contest in 1959, he won city and state recognition. Bill is the current president of the Morning Music Guild.

DAN McCROSKEY, senior A, also won a superior at the contest by performing "Hillbilly" by Morton Gould and "Ballade" by Brahms. He entered the contest through his teacher, Dan is past president of the Loren Yaggy Piano Club. "Playing in a contest keeps me practicing and brings out my best playing. The judges' comments are also helpful," commented Dan.

Sue Penland played "Romance in F Sharp" by Schumann, and Gershwin's "Prelude No. 2" at the contest. This was Sue's second superior rating for this contest, and she has also won city and state recognition in the NISBOVA contests.

SANDY YAGGY, senior A, played "Scherza" from the "Sonata in B Minor" by Chopin, "Passacaglia" by Copeland, and Beethoven's "Concerto No. 3" in the contest. She has been playing the piano for 15 years and tries to practice at least four hours a day.

"Playing in the contest is good experience for those who wish to go on playing. The criticism of the judges is a great help." She has won 16 superior ratings in state and local contests.

"LePolenchenelle" by H. Villa-Lobos and "The Firefly" by Antone Bilotte were the selections played by Karen Ponder, junior A. Karen has played for eight years and is also a member of the Morning Musical Guild.

"The piano has helped me to better appreciate finer music, and I plan to continue playing throughout my whole life," stated Karen. She has won other state and local superior ratings in NISBOVA contests.

Senior To Display Ability

A distillation experiment by Bill Borgmann, senior, will highlight next Wednesday's meeting of the Chemistry Section in Room 4 at 3:30 p.m.

"A MURDER HAS BEEN ARRANGED" . . . Practicing for the Senior Play are left to right Lissa Hoffman, Bill Kleifgen, and Charlotte Powell, portraying Beatrice Jasper, Jimmy North, and a ghost-like woman, respectively. The play will be presented at 8:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday nights.—Photo by Jones

Pupils To Enter Contest, Submit Writings To Teachers' Council

Four juniors were recently chosen to compete in an English contest sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Mary Fremion, Ann McCallister, Peggy Schmidt, and Marjorie Terry were selected by Mr. Marvey Knigge, Miss Mary Graham, and Mr. Ronald Gersmehl to submit samples of their writing to a state committee, which will judge them with other contestants from the state.

Even though the awards carry no cash value, they do help the winners and runners-up in gaining scholarship aid, and in being admitted to the college of their choice.

STUDENTS ARE nominated as juniors. If a student wins, he will receive a scroll plus a recommendation to colleges and universities and to scholarship donors. Also a certificate of recognition will be given to each school's department of English from which an award winner or runner-up is selected.

In the selection of the school's nominees, the student must be able to write clearly and effectively, and to reveal in his writing the ability to think for himself.

He is also required to take a test which will, in effect, be a measurement of what he knows about writing. The nominee must show an ability to read exceptionally well and to listen and speak well. Then too he must want a college education.

TO BE ELIGIBLE, the nominees must write a 250-300 word autobiography and submit a sample of his writing. Later he will be asked to write a paper on a subject designated by the NCTE.

The NCTE will notify all winners.

Kelly Graduates To Sing In Palm Sunday Concert

James Clauser, '57, Grant Osborne, '60, Stephen Morley, '61, Timothy Ranes, '61, and Barbara Steiner, '61, will sing in the A Cappella Choir Concert on Sunday at 3 p.m. in Founders Memorial Auditorium, Fort Wayne Bible College.

The program to be presented by the choir on Palm Sunday consists of anthems, spirituals, and hymns. Some of the selections the choir will sing are "Beautiful Saviour" by Christian, "Jesus, Priceless Treasure," by Noble Cain, "Shorn Lamb" by Wanesborough, and "Shall I Crucify Him?" by Tullar.

Sue Kelley, Senior A, To Serve As New Times General Manager

Sue Kelley, senior A, has been appointed the third Times general manager, effective with the April 26 issue. The appointment was made by Mr. James Rohrbach, publications adviser.

Sue has previously served as an ad solicitor and business manager on the Times. She is currently a copy editor and a make-up editor. She is also a member of the Board of Publications. She was recently selected to National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll.

She is also vice-president of the 1500 Club, having earned her gold-jeweled pin. Last spring on Underclassman Recognition Day, Sue was the recipient of a certificate of award for her outstanding work in publications.

SUE IS ACTIVE in the Service Club, earning her first pin and serving three periods during the day. She was formerly treasurer and high point cup winner of Meterites, treasurer of Assemblies Workshop, and a member of 36 Workshop and Philo.

Outside of school Sue is secretary-treasurer of the Walther League at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, where she is also a member of the choir. In school she is on the college course and is taking trigonometry, Chemistry 2, English 8, and developmental reading.

Hi-Y To Give Honors At Best Girl Banquet

Featuring Dick Haupt, folk singer, and surprise entertainment, the Hi-Y Club will present its annual Best Girl Banquet to honor a lady of the faculty and the members' best girls at 6:30 p.m. on April 23 at the Colonial Restaurant.

Costing $2.25 each, the tickets may be purchased from Bart Bailey, ticket chairman, Frank Lewis, Bob Weiss, Mr. Robert Weber in Room 76, or any committee head.

The meal will consist of either swiss steak or roast turkey served with potatoes, salad, vegetable, rolls, dessert, and coffee or milk. Each girl attending will receive a rose bud corsage.

TERRY NEWENDORP will act as toastmaster for the evening. Lyall Morrill will speak on "What Hi-Y Means to Me," and Ken Davis will give an account of the activities for the year, entitled "Hi-Lights of Hi-Y," as this is Hi-Y's last event before the close of the school.

Tom McMahon, Hi-Y president, will present this year's best girl with a scroll and an orchid corsage. Bill Borgmann will give the invocation.

Bob Weiss is serving as general chairman of this year's banquet. Bart Bailey is chairman of the tickets; he is being assisted by Bob Weiss, Frank Lewis, and all chairman heads. Fred Schoen, helped by Alan Schlie, is getting the programs printed and assembled.

THE DECORATION committee will consist of Rick Vanderford, chairman, Steve Bill, Andy Christon, and Dave Fleming. Publicity is being handled by Steve McDonald and Ken Lowden.

Bob Weiss has invited the guests, which include Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, Mrs. Robert Weber, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heiny. Mr. Heiny is the youth director for the YMCA.

Totem To Take Pictures

All Times agents and bookheads are to have their pictures taken for the Totem today at 3:30 p.m. They should assemble immediately after school at the north door of the school.

in other departments during three years has qualified her for this demanding position. While lending a staff of over three hundred members is not an easy task, I believe Sue is capable of doing the job."

MR. ROHRBAUGH went on to say, "Jenny Nanth, present general manager, has performed her job in an outstanding manner. I extend, along with the entire staff, my congratulations to Jenny for a job well done."

Other major staff members include Sue Smith, managing editor; Kathy DeVore, news editor; Sally Sweet, feature editor; Bill Wilder, editorial editor; Terry Newendorp, boys' sports editor; Janice Narwald, girls' sports editor;

Roberta Twitchell and Beth Burnett, make-up editors; Jani Brenn, picture editor; Ken Lowden, Dave Triplet, Steve Jones, Joe McKibben, and John Arnold, photographers; Leanna Morris, head typist; Barb Altevogt, business manager; Sue Moyer, assistant business manager; Pat Bailey, advertising manager; Dick Parke, circulation manager; Nancy Redding, outside circulation manager; and Sally Sweet, Doris Atzeff, Liz Weikart, Roberta Twitchell, Tom Erb, Sharyan Yerger, Sally Adams, and Lane Grile, circulation assistants.

Pupils To Present Discussion Of Communist Agencies On TV

COMMUNIST DECEIVERS . . . In preparation for their panel discussion concerning communist-front organizations on WKJG-TV Sunday at 5 p.m., left to right, seated, Sue Horth and Sharon Carrel, and, standing, Jim Feustel and Dave Flanigan study the book, "Masters of Deceit," by J. Edgar Hoover.—Photo by Jones

Sharon Carrel, Sue Horth, post-graduates, Dave Flanigan and Jim Feustel, seniors, will discuss communist-front organizations on WKJG-TV Sunday at 5 p.m.

In preparation for the discussion, the Archers are reading J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit," which deals with the communists in America. The Archers will review the chapter on subversive clubs or groups masking as cultural or educational societies, which are controlled by communists.

Acting as moderators for the group, Judge Harold Korn, Superior Court 2, and Gayle Maloy, WKJG news-broadcaster, will lead the discussion.

IN APPRAISING the benefits she is receiving from her study of the topic, Sharon commented, "Preparing for the program has been an eye-opener for me in realizing how close and real the dangers of communism are to the youth of America."

She further stated that others can also be informed on the subject not only by watching this program but also by reading "Masters of Deceit."

Sharon, a member of the National Honor Society, is presently taking Personal Typing, French 4, and Concert Choir. She has been a variety cheerleader, copy-editor for the Totem, and a senior class officer.

Sue Horth feels that her participation in extemporaneous speech meets has given her the opportunity to become acquainted with the Ameri-

Seniors Anticipate Pranks Of Higher-Educated Pupils

College activities, both curricular and extra-curricular, are eagerly anticipated by a majority of those high school seniors who are planning a post-high school education. One type of activity is enthusiastically awaited, although it is often looked down upon as immature and unnecessary. I refer to the revered college stunts and pranks.

Starting with the consumption of live goldfish in the 1920's, these endeavors have become increasingly more industrious as each semester has passed. Stuffing coeds into telephone booths has grown old. Now such stunts as Volkswagen-stuffing and bed-pushing are being added to the list. One object of these "sports" is to set a record. (One Volkswagen-stuffing record is 27; bed-pushers try to compile more than 200 miles.)

The problem seems to surround the dubious merit of the activity. Specific drawbacks cited are the waste of time and the potential danger to the participants. But while many college administrators frown on the jocular contests and pranks, when under their jurisdiction, some of these individuals feel that the activities are basically beneficial.

The obvious reason the administrators cite is that they allow students to "let off steam" which has been absorbed through tedious bookwork. As these activities claim more and more attention daily, schools are forming definite policies, promoting or banning the subject.

High schools aren't bothered by the problem since the stunts are campus-bred and often associated with fraternities and sororities. It's probably safe to say that few faculties are regretful of the fact that high school pranksters seldom go beyond the stage of "kick me" signs.—By Larry Norman

Air Raid Warning Sirens Show Feelings Of Populus

The younger generation has grown to be hard, calloused, and numb! Modern teens are becoming less emotional about the happenings which occur in our fast-moving world.

A sharp example of this emotional absence can be illustrated by examining the common reaction to the weekly wailing of air raid sirens.

Are people startled when they hear the shrill, shrieking scream of the siren? If they are busy or engrossed in their work, the sound may be entirely unheeded.

Those who hear the blasts may ignore them completely. They know that the signals are representative of a vast barrage of army maneuvers; therefore, they need not become worried and flustered.

It would be unrealistic, unwholesome, and unwise to have hysterical fits each time the air raid sirens sound. Though the blasts are only warnings, it must be realized that someday they might be the means to save our lives.

This complicated warning system is symbolic of the alertness of the American nation. However, if each person ignores the thought of the potential these signals may carry, the sense of alertness in the United States will become paralyzed and will gradually die. The absence of alertness makes enemy attack not only possible but feasible.—By Diane Saalfrank

The South Side Times
 Founded October 6, 1922
 CSPS: Medalist; Quill and Scroll; International
 Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
 Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 15, 1922.
 Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
 General Manager.....Jenny Manth
 Managing Editor.....Susan Smith
 Copy Editors Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Mallough, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitcheil.
 News Editor.....Kathy DeVore
 Feature Editor.....Sally Sweet
 Editorial Editor.....Bill Wilder
 Boys' Sports Editor.....Terry Neundorff
 Girls' Sports Editor.....Janice Nahrwald
 Make-Up Editors.....Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitcheil, Beth Burnett
 Picture Editor.....Janet Brenn
 Photographers.....Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
 Head Typist.....Leanna Morris
 Business Manager.....Barb Altevogt
 Assistant Business Manager.....Sue Meyer
 Advertising Manager.....Pat Bailey
 Circulation Manager.....Dick Kiser
 Outside Circulation Manager.....Nancy Redding
 Circulation Assistant.....Liz Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Robert Twitcheil
 Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grife, Sally Sweet.
 Faculty Adviser.....James Rohrbough

MINOR STAFF
 News Writers David Flanagan, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Marjorie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Cooney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Kari, Jan Koyndor, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Dorman, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Cautance, Karen Franka, Christine Fruehlich, Sharon Hardy, Sharon Kari, Jan Koyndor, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbom, Allen Fordy, Steve Letts.
 Feature Writers Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Sueellen Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marjorie Huelken, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mole, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Kris Rose, Vicki Sutterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simmons, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeanne Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Franka, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rinehart, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Sue Weinraub, Judi McKay, Barry McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jean Ann McGilley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miller, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubino, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dineen, Jan McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jean Knettle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bude, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Charle Letts, Gail Brown, Karen Savelly, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunger, Alice Haegeger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
 Editorial Writers Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capas, Christine Fruehlich, Sally Adams, Nancy Ormsby, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stansbery, Sue North, Sue Klehn, Carol Ladie, Paul Mittelstaedt, Steve Lowens, Janet Dineen, Kay Bradley, Marcia Kuhn, Ann Henderson, Gail Brown, Alice Haegeger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriwotow, Diane Saalfrank.
 Copy Readers Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanagan, Karen Minkin, Christine Cloutman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Kathy Dineen, Karen Savelly, Marjorie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franka.
 Boys' Sports Writers Bill Klieffner, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jim Poto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Neundorff, Chuck Bodenbom, Mark Lowens.
 Ad Solicitors Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Haegeger, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miller, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Flitrock, Janis Sprunger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Constance Ford, Sue Gerber, Kay Felt, Harriet Gotsch, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Flannell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Franka.
 Treble Jeanne Braden, Marjorie Harrod, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps.
 Cartoonists Julie Waddington, Judy Goldman, Diane Orms, Don Merics, Bob Englehart, Ray Juncal.
 Classroom News Editor Celeste Riesen
 Point Recorder Steve Letts
 Mailing Manager Vicki Adams
 Copy Returner Krystyna Kriwotow
 Exchange Editor Marjorie Kuhn
 Circulation Manager Charlotte Powell
 Assistant Credit Manager Sonya Platz
 Librarian Sonya Platz
 Paper Disintegrator Chuck Bodenbom

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Marjorie Bloom . . . age, 18 . . . hair, black . . . eyes, gray-green . . . height, five feet, one-quarter inch . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, liver . . . color, red . . . fad, clothes . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, Mike . . . activity, Junior Achievement . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Joey" . . . singers, Kingston Trio . . . actor, Paul Neuman . . . book, "Jane Eyre" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, Denny Cook.

Jean Hatfield . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, hazel . . . height, five feet, two inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, ice cream . . . color, red . . . fad, clothes . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, journalism . . . pastime, Times . . . activity, Times . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Johnny Angel" . . . book, "South Pacific" . . . future plans, business college . . . pet peeve, two-faced people.

Jenny Slater . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, baby blue . . . fad, clothing . . . sports, swimming and ice skating . . . subject, speech . . . pastime, Jim Adair . . . activity, school clubs . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Our Concerto Of Love" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Rock Hudson . . . book, "Jane Eyre" . . . future plans, beauty college . . . pet peeve, the boys on Hanna!

Ginny Kachiemani . . . age, 17 . . . hair, auburn . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, strawberry pie . . . color, blue . . . fad, clothes . . . sports, ice skating and basketball . . . subject, French . . . pastime, going to the library . . . activity, Luther League . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Too Young to Love" . . . singer, Paul Anka . . . actor, Troy Donahue . . . book, "Cheaper By The Dozen" . . . future plans, beauty college . . . pet peeve, Mike Heminger (Concordia).

Dan McCroskey . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, gray . . . height, six feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, red . . . fad, The Twist . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, doing chemistry problems . . . activity, Math Section TV show, "The Untouchables" . . . record, "Duke of Earl" . . . singers, "Limelights" . . . actresses, Gina Lola-bridgia . . . book, "Guns of Navarone" . . . future plans, college (I.U.) . . . pet peeve, snobs.

George Wilkin . . . age, 18 . . . hair, dark brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, six feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, mint ice cream with chocolate syrup and nuts . . . color, magenta . . . fad, trouble . . . subject, chemistry . . . sports, basketball . . . pastime, poker . . . TV show, "Doctor Kildare" . . . record, "Nutcracker" . . . singer, Elvis Presley . . . actor, Yves Montand . . . book, "The Education of Hyman Kaplan" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who do naughty things.

Sandy Bates . . . age, 18 . . . hair, auburn . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, pink . . . fad, knee ticklers . . . sport, swimming . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, bummin' around . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Hey Baby" . . . singer, Bobby Rydell . . . actor, Troy Donahue . . . book, "Exodus" . . . future plans, business college . . . pet peeve, people who chew ice cubes.

'Degree Mills' Give Fake Honors, Cheat Prospective Students

Is anyone interested in "buying a college degree?" Unethical correspondence schools or "degree mills" are a major concern to the Federal Trade Commission today. The commission refers to them as "one of the cruelest methods practiced on low-income Americans—the theft of time, money, and hope by false promises."

Every year these schools, around two hundred, cheat thousands of unsuspecting people into patronizing the school. Favorite prey of the degree mills are women who wish to become practical nurses.

The schools operate on a fairly standard method. They advertise promising college degrees. Then the victim or "student" must pay a fee to the school. Some schools give the person the degree upon payment but most of them issue instructions. However, the instructions are generally too easy and incomplete. Some schools, for example, require only a thesis or a completion of tests. Often they aren't even graded.

SOME OF THESE schools award standard academic degrees, but many of them award fictitious degrees, such as "Doctor of Naturopathy" and "Doctor of Metaphysics."

These schools continue to prosper despite the fact that the government deplores them. There are only four states that have laws prohibiting them; so when a mill is forced to close in one state or section, it can simply move to another. However, the Federal Trade Commission has taken action against more than four hundred fake mills.

Every citizen who desires to take correspondence courses should beware of these schools. There are several cautions one may take to avoid them.

FIRST, HE MUST not enter a n school that offers a degree simply through correspondence. Every law school requires at least one year of study on the campus or at extension centers to receive a degree.

Second, one must watch out for schools that will prepare one for professions that generally require a college education.

Third, one must check with the Better Business Bureau about the school in which the person is interested.

Aiming Archer Assassinate . . .

Bacteria Assist Man As Drugs, Hinder Him As Disease Causes

"Good heavens, Johnny! Just look at the germs. Go wash those hands!" Johnny, after some unsuccessful protest, lumbers off in the direction of the bathroom where he will turn under the cold water, hold his hands under it for a split-second, and then streak the clean guest towel with gray.

Upon his return, if Mother forgets inspection, he will slip quietly into his place at the table. But if she should remember to look at his hands, he undoubtedly will make several more round trips until finally Father goes with him. When the scrubbing is finished, he will come back to dinner with hands 99 and forty-four one-hundredths per cent clean.

Was all that necessary? Could Mother really see the germs? Must all bacteria be destroyed because they are harmful?

THE COMMON IDEA is that bacteria are a hidden and sinister scourge lying in wait for mankind; yet their definition does not suggest anything that deadly. They are "typically one-celled microorganisms, chiefly parasitic or saprophytic," according to Webster.

In truth, for every bad bacterium there are scores of good ones. The very existence of man depends upon the activities of bacteria. Bacteria determine the fertility of the soil from which all living things take their nourishment.

The beginnings of bacteriology ran parallel to the development of the microscope. In 1590 Jansen made the first compound microscope; but Anton Van Leeuwenhoek, a Dutch naturalist, was probably the first to see microorganisms.

In 1683 he sent a paper to the Royal Society in London describing what he called animalcules.

IN 1762 M.A. PLENCIZ developed the theory of infectious disease. With improvements in the microscope, F. Ehrenberg in 1830 grouped bacteria as to their 16 species and four genera, while Cohn continued with their classification.

Since early times, it has been found that bacteria can be used as antibiotics and antiseptics. They are helpful in the making of certain foods because they bring about fermentation. Bacteria play a large part in making the soil suitable for various crops.

Also, it has been proven that bacteria are the cause of certain diseases. This information led to discoveries in preventative medicine, such as Pasteur's small pox inoculation.

OTHER SCIENTISTS then realized that plant disease also could be treated by bacteria. Erwin F. Smith of the U.S. Department of Agriculture was especially interested in this phase of bacteriology.

From just a glance at the past, maybe Johnny would have understood his mother's concern about his dirty hands. He might have gotten out his microscope and become intensely interested in bacteriology.

More likely, the next time Johnny half-washes his hands he'll be thinking of who hit the most home runs in major league ball last year. That's something his mother doesn't know.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Joan Stanton, '61, has been elected secretary of her pledge class of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority at Indiana University.

Recently pledging the Purdue Chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta was Nancy Swaim, '61. Alpha Lambda Delta is a national scholastic honorary for those women attaining a five and five-tenths index, based on a six point system, during their freshman year.

Married recently at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church were Sandra Trulock, '61, and Donald Korte. The couple will reside in Fort Wayne.

Engaged are Pamela Coughlin, a North Side graduate, and Thomas Esterline, '60. Both are employed by the Perfection Biscuit Company.

Recently married were Sue Stafford, '60, and Ritchie Ireland, II. The couple will reside in Columbus, O., where both are students at Ohio State University.

Planning a May 19 wedding are Barbara Smith, a C.C. graduate, and Raymond Pickell, '69. Barbara is employed at Parkview Hospital. Raymond is employed by Aide Investment and Discount, Inc.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know what a guyot is and where one is found?

Answer. A guyot is an undersea mountain. Ocean-floor exploration has shown that in addition to undersea ridges and mountain ranges, there are many old cone-shaped mountains with flat tops. These are called guyots. At one time they were probably volcanoes which rose above the surface of the sea, forming volcanic islands whose surfaces were eroded by weathering until the island became quite flat. Then, finally, the ocean bottom sank, carrying the whole volcanic cone down with it and submerging the island completely.

Question. Do you know how the hand sign for "O.K." came into being?

Answer. It is not known just when or how this particular gesture got started. However, some think it to be a variation of a very old gesture of approval described by the Roman rhetorician, Quintilian, who died in the year 95 A.D. This gesture was made with the forefinger of the right hand joining the middle of its nail to the extremity of its own thumb, and moderately extending the rest of the fingers. This sign, with the slight change to a greater closure of the other three fingers, was employed by Neapolitans in the nineteenth century to signify "good."

Question. Do you know how the term "seat" came to be used on the stock exchanges?

Answer. At one time, the members of the New York Stock Exchange had desks at which they sat to transact the business of buying and selling stocks and bonds. However, as the number of members and quantity of business increased, it became increasingly impractical to continue the use of desks. When the desks were abandoned, the term "seat" was retained. The seat is purchased by a member of the exchange and is his property, with the exchange reserving certain rights.

Question. Have you ever heard of the gem alexandrite? It has an interesting color situation; do you know what it is?

Answer. Alexandrite is a brilliant variety of the mineral chrysoberyl. It was first discovered in the Ural Mountains in 1833 and named in honor of Czar Alexander II of Russia. Alexandrite absorbs yellow and blue light rays to such an extent that it appears emerald green by daylight and columbine red by artificial light. Chrysoberyl consists of beryllium aluminate. It was considered a precious stone by the ancients and was called "Oriental Topaz," a name now used for the yellow sapphire. Today it is only considered a semi-precious stone. Three varieties of chrysoberyl are used as gems. They are alexandrite, mentioned above; a plain yellowish-green variety which is sometimes incorrectly called chrysolite; and a green variety called symphane which is the best-known and most valuable variety of cat's-eye.

Question. Do you know what instrument introduced the musical bow to the western world?

Answer. An ancient stringed instrument called the rebab served to introduce the bow to the western world. It has also been considered by some to be the ancestor of the violin. The ancient rebab had a pear-shaped or boat-shaped body, one to three strings, no neck, and a vaulted back. It was sometimes plucked and sometimes played with a bow. The name is now used for various stringed instruments played with a bow.

Women Present Facts

Local League Informs Citizens With 'Spotlight On Government'

By Sandy Thorn

During my school days I have lost little sleep over the question of who selects the books we study daily in classrooms. However, if anyone is interested, I would like to suggest an 88-page booklet for use in social studies classroom discussions. I nominate the League of Women Voters' contribution, "Spotlight on Government."

Compiled by the League of Women Voters of Fort Wayne, "Spotlight" was edited by Mrs. Neil A. Robson, women's editor of the Journal-Gazette. The editing committee includes Mrs. Walter Turner, Mrs. Alan Lord, Mrs. Fred Rye, Mrs. William Rastetter, Mrs. William Bloch, Sandy Thorn and Mrs. Richard Kent. Miss Sue Hively, also of the Journal-Gazette, Women's Department, created the cover and the illustrations on the inside.

In the preface, Mrs. Robson states, "The League of Women Voters of Fort Wayne was established in 1952. Thus, 'Spotlight on Government' represents not only a concentrated year-long effort by a large group from our membership, but also the experience and knowledge we have gained through studying, analyzing, and working with local government over the past 10 years."

She continues, "Government by counties, townships, and towns is the oldest sub-division of political democracy on earth. But paradoxically it is the least known, despite the fact that it is closer to home than state and federal government."

"WE ARE WELL aware that the task of being an informed citizen is increasingly complex as government becomes more intricate and the tempo of change is accelerated. In 'Spotlight on Government,' we believe we have surmounted the difficulties inherent in writing about a government which is never static.

"In everyday language, it describes some of the operations of our local government and the services which are provided by our tax dollar. We do not criticize, nor do we praise. We are certain that each time a copy of 'Spotlight on Government' is read, we shall be close to our ultimate goal; the informed citizen who will act."

The League may never reach their goal, but as Mrs. Robson says, each time a person reads "Spotlight"—or for that matter, just reads a portion or uses it as a reference—the citizen will become better informed. The organization has presented the material—it is up to the citizen to act accordingly.

The publication has 17 different main topics: Background and Structure, Election Timetable, Popular Control of Government, Allen County Commissioner and Councilmanic Districts, General Administration, Public Library of Fort Wayne and Allen County.

Financial Administration, Tax Assessment, County Courts and Law Enforcement, Court Procedure, Health Department, Department of Public Welfare, Education in Allen County, Township Government, Fort Wayne, City Court, and How to Address Your Government Officials.

THE ELECTION TIMETABLE is a chart showing all of the officials from the President down to the Township Assessor and when and how many will be elected in the years 1962, 1964, and 1966. If in doubt as to who is elected when—here's the answer in black and white.

If a good excuse existed before—now there is no excuse when the topic of registration presents itself as a confusing problem. Now, citizens will know when they are registered and the excuse "I didn't know I wasn't registered" won't be valid.

The structure of Allen County Government is confusing, but the League has made a good attempt to clarify the situation. "Spotlight" presents a page showing who is elected and appointed and by whom. The two pages devoted to the Allen County Commissioner and Councilmanic Districts is much "closer to home" than the Indiana Government workbook used presently in government classes.

The general functions and powers of the Board of County Commissioners are discussed under General Administration. Certainly some vagueness will be cleared up under the topics Highway Department, County Surveyor, County Recorder, County Attorney, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Purchasing Agent, Board of Public Records, Allen County Plan Commission, and the Alcoholic Beverage Board.

SUCH RELATED subjects as the Irene Byron Hospital, the Allen County Memorial Coliseum, Allen County Extension Service, Allen County Home, Power Plant and Laundry, Printing Department, Johnny Appleseed Memorial Park, and the Historical Society are also presented.

While the Financial Administration remains a little hazy, the information presented by the League is concise and understandable. Within this section, the County Council, County Board of Tax Adjustments, County Board of Review, Accounting and Auditing, County Auditor, and County Assessor are discussed.

Information is presented on the Allen County Circuit Court, Juvenile Courts, Probation Department, Superior Courts, Judges, Jurors, Grand Jury, Petit Jury, Officers of the Court, Prosecuting Attorney, Coroner, Sheriff, County Jail, Sol A. Wood Home, and the Law Library.

The next 14 pages take the reader through the Health Department, the schools, and down to the Justice of the Peace. Then comes the prize—Fort Wayne Government. Here it reveals information on the Mayor, Common Council, and procedure in passing an ordinance.

The Board of Public Safety, Police Department, Fire Department, Weights and Measures, Board of Public Health, Board of Zoning Appeals, Board of Aviation, and the Fort Wayne Humane Commission are presented to the citizen who reads "Spotlight," along with countless other topics.

BACK TO THE original proposition—remember, the one where I suggested that the booklet be used in social studies classrooms. I still propose it. The book costs 50 cents, but possibly if the book were to be purchased as a "group deal" by the school system—a price could be arranged. Whatever the case, the League isn't getting rich from the sales.

The League is attempting to break even on the effort. It isn't a money-making scheme. It's a get-acquainted with your local government scheme. And, the majority of citizens can use the opportunity, fall for the scheme, and become—as a result—a better-acquainted American. Congratulations to Mrs. Robson and the League of Women Voters of Fort Wayne on a job well done.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Spring—the time when a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of . . . tulips, chemistry, salts, door knobs, and pea shooters. Spring seems to have turned Larry Lee's thoughts to playing basketball with sixth grade girls.

Well, back to the old grind after a much-needed vacation. Leanna Morris

Small Snaps

South Side Athletic Department Third String

Maybe the Paramount Theater should be warned of a couple of pilferers, namely, Dave Platz and Paul Slick. These boys have made quite a haul from the demolition of the theater.

South Side Academy Awards Nominees: Kitty Fay and Patty Phelps for their roles in "Fool Phil," a production staged on their church fellowship trip.

Another traveler, Jim Bailey, certainly tried to live in style by taking full advantage of room service at the hotel at which the group stayed.

Thinking that Bob Wasson might miss them over the week end, several of his North Side friends let him know that they were leaving by calling him from the church before they left—at 6:30 a.m.

Great admiration goes to all those who sleepily stagger into the 7:30 a.m. calculus class and especially to their recent visitor, a dog.

To Linda Seibel and Betsy Adams, basketball season is over. They've still got the fever—they walked to school from Hall's dribbling basketballs.

We've heard of people being stingy with their food, but Marg Winder wins the championship. To keep her French fries from Tad McKay and Steve Irmscher, she climbed into the trunk of the car and rode home merrily munching her morsels. Or were you put there, Marg?

Thought for the Day: Think.

Four College Pupils To Help Teachers In Fields Of English, Chemistry, Shop

Instructors To Assist During Two Months, To Receive Degrees

Miss Karen Yenna, Miss Ieva Astrida Lusis, Mr. Norman McBride, and Mr. James Collier are performing the duties of student teachers at South from March 26 to May 25.

Miss Karen Yenna will be a student teacher for Mr. L. M. Harader, English instructor. Miss Yenna, who was graduated from Kokomo High School, Kokomo, Ind., in 1958, will receive her bachelor of science degree from Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind., in June. She is majoring in English and minoring in history.

She enjoys reading, water skiing, and swimming and has worked as an assistant to an English professor and as a receptionist in Rogers Hall at Ball State.

Teaching 96 hours and observing 48 hours is required of Miss Yenna as a student teacher. She plans to continue her education at Tulane University in New Orleans, La., after her graduation.

"I have found the students and faculty at South to be very friendly," stated Miss Yenna.

MR. NORMAN MCBRIDE, who was graduated from Ossian High School in Ossian, Ind., in 1958, will assist Mr. Robert Davis, chemistry instructor. Mr. McBride will receive his bachelor of science degree from Ball State Teachers College in June. His majors are chemistry and physics, and his minor is math.

Mr. McBride belongs to Sigma Zeta, a science national honorary fraternity, and Kappa Delta Pi, a national education honorary fraternity. He has traveled throughout eastern United States and Canada. He enjoys hunting, fishing, swimming, and working with electronics.

Mr. McBride will observe some physics, math, general science, and biology classes while at South. "I am looking forward to my student teaching work at South Side. The students seem quite friendly," stated Mr. McBride.

Assisting Miss Mary Graham, English instructor, as a student teacher is Miss Ieva Astrida Lusis. Miss Lusis was graduated from Monroeville High School in Monroeville, Ind., in 1958. She will graduate from Indiana University in Bloomington in June, receiving her bachelor of arts degree. She is majoring in English and minoring in German.

Miss Lusis belongs to Delta Phi Alpha, an honorary sorority. She enjoys reading and sewing. Miss Lusis plans to travel to Germany this summer where she previously lived for seven years.

"I HAVE HEARD that South Side is the best school in Fort Wayne, and I am certainly impressed. I know that I will enjoy teaching here," stated Miss Lusis.

Mr. James Collier, who was graduated from Elyria High School in Elyria, O., in 1950, is a student teacher under the supervision of Mr. Raymond Quance, industrial arts instructor. Mr. Collier will receive his bachelor of science degree from Ball State Teachers College in June. He has also attended Indiana Tech and Indiana University.

Students To Present Easter Play Sunday

Three South Siders, Margee Terry, Bob Wasson, and Karen Simmons, are members of Wesley Players who will present an Easter play, "Sift As Wheat," on Palm Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Wayne Street Methodist Church. The play is open to the public; admission is free.

The Wesley Players, connected with the Wayne Street Methodist Church, are a group of adults and youths who put on annual Christmas and Easter plays.

Mrs. Lois Keller is the director of the group. She also wrote the play, "Sift As Wheat," which is about Peter, the temptations he faced and his denial of the Lord at the time of the crucifixion.

Margee Terry plays Deborah in the first scene, and Mary Magdalene in the last three scenes. Bob Wasson portrays John and Karen Simmons is the mother of John Mark. Other parts in the play include those of Peter; James, the brother of John; John Mark; and Peter's wife, Lydia.

The Wesley Players will also present their play for the youth at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. The play will be sponsored by the Associated Churches of Fort Wayne at 2 p.m. on Good Friday.

MORRISON DRUGS

Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY

4232 S. Calhoun

Phone K-1864

SERVICE IN DRUGS

FORT WAYNE BEAUTY COLLEGE

1327 S. CALHOUN E-3204

ENROLL NOW FOR SPRING AND FALL CLASSESADVANCED HAIR COLORING, CUTTING, AND STYLING

PLACEMENT SERVICE

BUDGET PLAN

Candidates To Present Cheers For First Elimination Tuesday

The first elimination of candidates for cheerleading will be next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 118. All candidates are to try out in groups of four or five, wearing slacks and gym shoes. Judges will be the three top officers of each class and members of the faculty. The notification of the remaining 30 candidates will be posted on the center hall bulletin board on Thursday.

This year's candidates will be selected on the basis of their performance of three cheers and a chant. One verse of "Over Hill," "Now, Hey, Hey," and "We're With You Team" will be given by each group trying out. All groups select their own chant which is to be given four times. Gymnastics will not be stressed. Successful candidates for the final elimination are to meet in Room 118 on April 24 at 3:30 p.m.

THE FIRST SQUAD, led by Babette Jones, varsity, consists of Claudia Adams, Annie Eldridge, Barb Fischer, Sriela Reynolds, Connie Spencer, Linda Stanger, Sharon Thiele, and Susan Weinraub.

Sharon Carrel, varsity, will instruct Suellen Borgmann, Christine Frueh-tenicht, Susan Jorgensen, Rise Pro-prise, Carol Uhrick, Cynthia Wallace, and Carmen Wilson.

Patricia Ashton, Linda Babbitt, Bonnie Callahan, Karen Franks, Jackie Heckman, Ann Henderson, Jean Holle, Nancy Loughheed, and Cherylene Nahrwald will be under the direction of Sharon Eitman, varsity cheerleader.

Betty Barnes, Marcia Hughes, Susan Lawry, Maria Marshall, Julie Merchant, Ann Mol, Marda Munson, Nancy Stewart, and Judith Zimmers will be in Sue Harrod's group.

Maria Habecker, varsity, will be in charge of Mary Bade, Lydia Budowski, Deborah Decker, Paula Girdner, Sheila Gehrig, Sally Henderson, Bonnie McGrail, Ruth Russ, Mary Alice Truby, and Linda Weaver.

NANCY ROBINSON, reserve, will instruct Patricia Bobay, Marva Evans, Marcia Leach, Martha Hoard, Roberta Hoffert, Cheryl N. Adolny, Pamela Richardson, and Judith Shomo.

Sharon Bass, reserve, will be in charge of Marcia Anderson, Patricia Bailey, Kathy Branning, Jessie Frost, Carolyn Hogue, Dorothy Kessler, Patty Phelps, Julie Rhinehart, and Ann Weber.

B. D. Hartley, Sharon Karst, Jane Kuttel, Judy Rogers, Cheryl Trulock, Mary Ann Waldrop, and Janet Wening are in Martha Dixon's group.

Barbara Ren, reserve, will instruct Ken Clausner, Jackie Kessler, Kathy Klas, Tricia Miller, Phyllis Pieson, Louisa Porter, Judith Putman, Susan Robinson, Paulette Schmidt, and Rosalind Wilson.

Upperclassmen To Apply For Last Scholastic Test

The last opportunity for juniors and seniors to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test is May 19, and applications for the test must be received by the College Entrance Examination Board before April 21. Applications may be acquired from Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor; and there is a fee of $5.

The purpose of this test is to help the students get into college. Mr. Weicker stated, "I would like to remind the juniors that they might wish to take the test this May if they are hoping to get into college under the early decision plan, or they may take it now for practice and take it again in December."

THE COMPTOMETER SCHOOL

Day and Night Classes Forming

305 Central Bldg. A-7217

ROEHM MARINE SERVICE

Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer

4392 Bluffton Road

Telephone Sherwood 3203

ZINN SERVICE STATION

615 East Pontiac H-5249

ERIE-HAVEN

READY MIXED

CONCRETE

H-2214

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street

H-1171

Dean Of Girls To Participate In Annual Counselors' Convo

Participating in the convention of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors at Chicago, Ill., this week, Miss Pauline Van Gorder,

Miss Pauline Van Gorder

dean of girls, will attend social luncheons, special discussions, and a special tour of parts of Chicago as well as regular business meetings.

Miss Van Gorder is accompanied by deans from Elmhurst and North Side high schools and will stay at the Palmer House. Yesterday she registered before attending the meeting and social hour. Today she will participate in the discussion at group meetings and a state association meeting.

Tomorrow Miss Van Gorder will attend a business meeting followed by a meeting on "Student Values."

MISS VAN GORDER will next take the Northern Tour. She will ride on the express way to Evanston Township High School.

B'nai B'rith Elects Heads

Sue Berk, junior, was recently elected to serve as president of the B'nai B'rith Girls. Also, Susan Weinraub, sophomore, was elected as program vice-president. Miriam Schacter, sophomore, will serve as projects vice-president. Other South Siders elected to serve the organization were Sophomore Karen Minken, recording secretary and Junior Harriet Ochstein, treasurer.

Steve Russ, sophomore, will be installed as president of the congregation's AZA boys.

Real Estate & Insurance

Robert H. Carto &amp; Associates

3414 South Calhoun Street

H-8916 K-4909

High School and then to New Trier Township School. Driving down the Sheridan Road past the famous Bahai Temple and National College of Education, the group will arrive at Northwestern University where they will be guests for tea.

Returning via the Outer Drive, they will see Loyola University, Mundelein College, the Navy Pier, Aquarium, Planetarium, and Field Museum. She will conclude the day with concurrent sessions in which authors of recent professional books will be questioned by panels of NAWDC members.

Miss Van Gorder will participate in the discussion about "Guidance for Today's School." Moderator for this panel is Dr. Edith Lawton, guidance director at Darien Connecticut High School.

THE GROUP WILL attend breakfast meetings of alumnae groups Saturday. A business meeting and conference for deans with representatives of the National Panhellenic Conference will follow this.

The afternoon will begin with another general meeting. Next will be interest group meetings in which Miss Van Gorder may join the meeting in specific techniques of interviewing. The annual banquet of the association with the title "Greater Than the Sum of the Parts" will conclude the day.

Sunday morning a service of inspiration with music by the Northwestern University Chapel Choir will be featured. After another general session, Miss Van Gorder will attend the annual luncheon of the association. The convention will conclude with the meeting of the old and new executive boards.

Club To Elect Officers

The election of new officers will be on the agenda for Tuesday's Latin Club meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

At the last meeting, there was a verbal quiz with the boys competing against the girls; the girls were victorious. On the girls team were Marcia Disler, Fran Krandell, Janet Kelley, Kathy Walsh, and Maxine Hecht. The boys' team consisted of Bill Mueller, David Allen, Stan Moreo, and Harold Disler.

Davis Beauty Salon

Tom and Marilyn Davis

Carmen Silvius

Styling • Permanent

Waving

4039 S. Wayne K-9824

Hartzler's Sport Shop

Complete Line of Sporting Goods

3704 S. Calhoun

KOOL

GNIMOC NOOS

EHT TSEB e52

REGRUBMAH UOY

REVE TIB OTNI

S'XOF ECI MAERC

8083 HTUOS NUOHLAC

ENOHP 3915-H

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

Science

Engineering

General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

FREE!

EVERY WEEK...

AT Gardner's
DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at
Gardner's every time you eat there.
Beat the odds...register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS

Gardner's... DOWNTOWN

Gardner's... by the COLISEUM

...for the original...the best

...the one and only

GARDNER HAMBURGER

ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

Team Continues String Of Dual-Meet Wins With Victories Over Trojans, Blue Blazers

Thinlies Triumph In Six Races To Overpower Elmhurst 72-37

South Side continued a string of 14 dual-meet victories by defeating Elmhurst in the season's first outdoor meet. The Trojans, much improved over last year's team, fought hard, but their only large scores against the Archers were in the distance and field events.

It was perfect track weather, and the times were good for an opening meet. The century was clocked in 10.1 seconds; and the mile was a fast 4:44.9, as South won six of the seven individual events and both relays. In the field events Elmhurst captured two of the four events, which gave them only three first places for the meet.

Jon vanOosten started the Green's victory by winning the high hurdles. He was followed by another Archer, Dave Blanton, as he cleared the barriers in 15.7 seconds.

Sophomore Ken Ellingwood put on a good show for the crowd as he blazed off to a 4:44.9 in the mile race, beating Waldrop of Elmhurst by one tenth of a second. Steve Meyer and Stu Schmitz finished in the next two places for the Archer squad. All three of these boys can be counted on to improve and win points at Sectional time.

AFTER THE LONGEST race, the shortest race, the 100-yard dash was captured by another Archer thinly.

Karl Bandemer scooted through the century in 10.1 seconds, ranking himself as a top state competitor early in the season.

Tom Frazell and Tom Shine racked up first and second places, respectively, in the 440 for the Archer cause. Although they finished two seconds apart, they still completed the race well ahead of the Elmhurst contenders with Frazell winning the race in 52.6 seconds.

In the two-lap race the Archers had to settle for second, third, and fourth places as Reinhold Mueller of Elmhurst left the pack and completed the course in 2:04.8. Everet Mol, Ellingwood, and Mike Weinraub followed in that order with a 2:08, 2:09, and 2:09.2, respectively.

Bandemer captured the next short sprint by whipping through the 220 in 23.4 seconds. His running mate, Dale Hilsmer, came in next giving his team second place points.

THE BARRIERS WERE set up at the low hurdle height, and Jon vanOosten won the last individual event in 22.1 seconds.

In the field events the Archers won the high jump and the shot put. Gary Probst cleared the bar in the high jump by 5-7 to tie Baker of Elmhurst in height, but Gary won on the number of misses. Sid Sherry blasted the shot put 46-3, and Dave Pritchard finished second for the Archers throwing the ball three feet less than Sid. Both Gary and Sid are juniors and can be expected to improve greatly in their events this and next year.

Two Elmhurst boys vaulted over the bar at 10 feet, and John Weaver took third for South in this event at 9 feet. Dale Hilsmer captured third in the broad jump as he leaped 19-3 1/2.

South ran away with the relays as they won both the mile and half-mile events. Mol, Hilsmer, Tom Shine, and Tom Frazell each ran a 440 with the baton as they clocked off a 3:38.9 victory. Then the 220 men, Tom Wright, Gunther Bauer, Mike Tomkinson and Bandemer captured the 880-relay in 1:38.1 seconds as they contributed five points and made the final meet score 72 to 37 for the Archers.

Harrier Tom Shine Adds Speed, Ability To Dashes, Relays

Junior Tom Shine will again add his speed and ability to an Archer athletic squad with the advent of a new spring track campaign. Tom has run the 440-yard dash during previous seasons and to date this season, has done the same.

Tom ran on the mile relay team that represented South at the State finals.

Tom Shine

last year. Tom ran a good quarter-mile and cited representing South in the State finals as one of his greatest sports thrills.

Some of Tom's better times are a 52.2-second quarter in the Regionals last year on a leg of the winning mile relay team; and a 52.8 open quarter in the Lima Relays.

Tom has placed second twice this year to South's Tom Frazell in the two meets. Tom is not, by far, a one-sport man as he lends his talents to both the football and basketball aggregations. Tom has participated in the three major team sports at South for all his three years. On the gridiron Tom aided the team at the quarterback position as he ably backed up All-City quarterback Tom McMahon.

During the basketball season Tom saw limited action. During his appearances he amazed the fans with his alert playing and incredible passes. Accurate shooting showed Tom to be a possible regular starter for next year's team. During South's crushing defeats at the hands of the North Side Redskins, Tom showed excellent shooting, especially in the final moments of play.

Tom got his previous experience at Harrison Hill as a three-sport man. Tom was active in baseball, basketball and track for the Hawks.

Harriers Squeeze Past Elkhart Under Bad Weather Conditions

Fighting against miserable weather, results of a depleted team, and an Elkhart team very strong in field events, South Side pulled out a slim 54-54 1/2 victory over the Blue Blazers. The meet, run at the Archers' stadium a week ago, presented some close races and a great deal of chilly, rainy weather. The weather was so poor that a couple of runners ran races with warm-up sweatshirts on. Only a few fans braved the weather for the spring vacation meet.

The Kellys needed two relay victories at the end of the meet to offset the Blue Blazers' advantage established in the field events. Karl Bandemer won both dashes with help from Tom Shine. The only other double winner was "Big Jon" vanOosten in the highs and lows. The triumph left South with a 3-0 record and a tough Kokomo meet coming up.

IN THE DASHES Bandemer came through quite well. He copped a first—both with a 10.4 in the century on a slow track and a 23.8 in the furlong. He ran well and didn't have a close finish in either race. In the 220 Shine helped a great deal by grabbing a hard-earned second in front of thick-legged Gary Harper. The 440 was also successful for South as Tom Frazell took first with a good 52.9 time. He was followed by Gunther Bauer, who snatched second barely edging blazer quarter man Williams.

The 880 presented a disappointment for Archer Everet Mol, as he was barely defeated by Billing of Elkhart. Billing took the race in 2:08.4, just beating "Dutch" to the tape. Sophomore Ken Ellingwood followed Mol in for a third place finish. The mile run was the most thrilling race of the day as Ken Ellingwood came from nearly 100 yards behind going into the last turns to win by about three yards in 4:42.2. Leading the pack all the way, Eskew of Elkhart set a fast pace which deprived him of the needed kick and came in second. Steve Meyers, also a cross country veteran, took third place behind Eskew.

IN THE HURDLES Jon vanOosten copped both events. He won the lows by default, however, after being nudged by an opposing hurdler. He ran the 180-yard lows in 21.8 and the 120-yard highs in 15.8, followed closely by Trindle and Wise of Elkhart in the highs. These two boys had a good battle for second place, but didn't seriously threaten "Big Jon" for first place.

The field events were "bad news" for South as Elkhart used these to pile up a lot of points. In the broad jump they took the first two places with Harper and Middleton. Shine being the only Archer to place with a third. The distance here was a fair 20 feet for the winners. Archer Dale Hilsmer did not enter this event.

The high jump was equally vexing to the Archers as they managed only a tie for third, while Blue Blazers Chester and Middleton stole the event at a height of five feet seven inches. Graves of South was the only Kelly to place in this event with both Tom McMahon and Gary Probst absent.

POLE VAULTING was very poor with a four-way tie for first among Archer John Weaver and three Elkhart boys. The height was a discouraging 9-6; however, the bleakest of the field events for South was the shot-put. The Blue and White took all three places, the winning put being 51-7 1/2. The poor weather didn't seem to hamper the three big Blazer putters.

Because of the field events, South needed victories in both relays to cop the meet. This was accomplished very handsily as Bauer, Mol, Shine, and Frazell took the mile relay in 3:37.8. Next Tomkinson, Wright, Dale Hilsmer, and Bandemer won the 880-yard relay in 1:36.7. They weren't pressed extremely hard either.

Gray LAUNDRY

DON SCHMIDT
ACCORDION SCHOOL
Certified by Amer. Accordion Assn.
Private Instruction & Accordion Band
RENTAL PLAN—SALES—SERVICE
828 Oxford H-9606

Paul Says:

One man with courage makes a majority. — Jackson

HESS INSURANCE AGENCY

General Insurance
132 E. Berry St. (2nd Floor)
Port Wayne 2, Indiana
Phones: E-2424—Res. H-8928

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

We're off! In a fashion befitting the defending Sectional track champs, the Archers have rolled into high gear in the 1962 track season. South has shown up very well in most running events so far, with both returnees and new faces turning in fine performances and clockings. The big test, of course, comes tomorrow at Northrop Field in the meet with Central and North.

Acc sprinter Karl Bandemer surprised a lot of people in the city with his 10.1 time in the 100 in the Kellys' first outdoor meet this spring. So far, only Bill Nancarrow of C.C. has approached Bandy's time, with his 10.3 last week end; but Dale Yoder of the 'Skins and Pres Underwood of Central are pressure runners and ought to give Karl a hard time.

Two terrific hurdle races are in the offing Friday, pitting Tiger Bob Hubbard and Bowman Jon vanOosten in the highs and adding Redskin Jim Fleenor in the lows. Hubbard's best time in the high sticks is but one-tenth of a second better than vanOosten's, with Fleenor six-tenths of a second ahead of Jon in the lows.

The relays ought to be picture races, providing some of the nicest running and closest competition of the spring. North owns the lowest times so far; but under pressure, anything might happen. More smart stepping will be seen in the 440 as Tom Frazell and North's Bill Pool lock up in a head-to-head duel. Both have identical 52.6 clockings. A surprise for the fans and opponents might be in store, however, with the possible insertion of Bandemer in this event for South.

The Central Catholic meet next Tuesday ought to be easy picking for the Bowenders. The only bright spots for the Irish are Nancarrow's sprinting and Dubois' high jumping and broad jumping. The 440, mile, hurdles, pole vault, shot-put, and relays are all headaches for Coach Bartkiewicz; so Coach Robert Gernand may be able to experiment a little in some of those events.

It's interesting to note some of the AAU's best times, as clocked by colleges all over the nation, and compare them to some of the recent local times. Some fine running was witnessed in the Texas relays on Saturday, with such marks recorded as a 3:09 mile relay and a 1:23.6 half-mile relay by Texas Southern, a 45.2 440-yard dash by Abilene Christian's Earl Young, and a 1:49.6 half-mile and a 4:03.9 mile by Bill Dotson of the Kansas Jayhawks.

These fine times ought to stir up some interest in the forthcoming AAU meet that is annually staged at Northrop Field.

I suppose that I ought to go out on a limb, along with most other baseball fans, who are at their height of hopefulness at this time of the year. I could go into lengthy explanations for my pennant picks, or I could refer to a glorious past record of correct hits and, therefore, back up my choices with the claim of experience.

Unfortunately, my guesses are very seldom right, particularly in the National League, where I can't base my judgment on the law of averages. I can only finish with the remark that the players' polls have been wrong before, too.

National League

1. Los Angeles
2. San Francisco
3. Milwaukee
4. Chicago
5. St. Louis
6. Pittsburgh
7. Cincinnati
8. New York
9. Houston
10. Philadelphia

American League

1. New York
2. Detroit
3. Chicago
4. Baltimore
5. Cleveland
6. Minnesota
7. Boston
8. Los Angeles
9. Washington
10. Kansas City

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP
Sunny Schick Camera Shop
407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

"We carry all makes of portable typewriters"
Sold on the rental payment plan
See Us Before You Buy . . . And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

The Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Port Wayne, Indiana

VIBRATO COFFEE HOUSE

1308 Broadway
OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY

Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches
COME AS YOU ARE

get blades
man, blades

sharp!

sharp!!

sharp!!!

Another
Sensational
H.I.S.
SLACK
Idea

$5.95

Blades are long and lean, with narrower-than-narrow 13-inch bottoms and no cuff in sight. Concealed pockets front-and-back; you can't SEE 'em, but they're there! Tricky?—and how!! Of fine-faced Gabardine cotton in light blue, bone, pewter; sizes 28 to 38 waist.

Calhoun at Jefferson
Phone A-4478

Stellhorn Hardware

2010 Fairfield
H-2337

Adolph's Auto Service

4220 South Clinton H-4152

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

See our lovely selection of formals and cocktail dresses.

K-2530

2426 S. Calhoun

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS

4304 S. Fairfield
Phone K-4542

1213 Wells Street
Phone E-2067

Guaranteed Workmanship
EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING
ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.

and

Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers

PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

Thank
You!

WE'RE GROWING TO MAKE MORE ROOM FOR YOU!

(P.S. Please pardon the mess!)

Agar's BIG BOY
2440 W. Washington
Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun
S. Calhoun at Berry

Thinlies To Compete With Tigers, Redskins Tomorrow, To Run Against Irish Tuesday

Evenly-Rated Teams To Battle In Annual Triangular Meeting

By Steve Lowens

The biggest track meet of the season as far as city schools are concerned takes place tomorrow afternoon when South Side, North Side, and Central engage in their annual triangular meet at Northrop Field.

As is the case annually, there is no outstanding favorite in the field. All three teams have several outstanding performers returning from last year's team as well as outstanding newcomers. Coach Rolla Chambers of North Side remarked that while he could pick no certain victor, he thought that the Archers' experience gave them the best chance.

Though none of the teams have met face to face yet, they have had two common foes. Both Central and North have faced Warsaw. Both breezed to easy wins, Central by a score of 60 1/3 to 48 1/3 and North by a count of 78-31. North also defeated Elkhart in a quadrangular meet at Notre Dame, accumulating 102 points to the Blazers' 80%. South managed to squeak by the same club, 54 1/2 to 54 1/2.

Taking the events individually, the 100-yard dash looms as possibly the best race of the day. The Archers' Karl Bandemer is the favorite on the strength of his domination of the city for the past two years and his 10.1 clocking in his first outdoor meet this year.

KARL WILL GET a stiff challenge from at least two other performers. The Redskins' Dale Yoder possesses a 10.3 mark in this event and Central's Preston Underwood, winner of a first trial heat in last year's section, has a best time of 10.5 so far this year.

Both teams are quite deep in sprinters. North Side will pick from either Herb Summers, John Ransburg, or Greg Brosius as its second entry. Central's other sprinters are Bob Underwood and Dick Brooks. All of these runners are also available for the 220 dash.

A two-man race shapes up in the 440-yard dash. Both Tom Frazzell of South and Bill Pool of North have recorded times of 52.6. Central's top entrant in this event, Art Wims, falls short by almost four seconds with a 56.5 time. Other men to watch in this race are Central's Sam Griffin and

Netters To Play Against Central In Series Meet

The tennis squad will meet Central on Tuesday at Lafayette Park for its third contest of the season. The Central team is not an outstanding team but the Green will have to play hard to win this City Series contest.

All of Central's top five players are returning from last season. Most of these five boys are not seniors and will be returning next year.

The top five boys for Central are Roger Platt; John Hopkins; Bob Bean, who played on the basketball team; Dave Gaskill; and Jim Krewson. Platt, Hopkins, and Gaskill are sophomores, Krewson is a junior, and Bean is the only senior.

Roger Platt is by far the most outstanding player on the Central team. Last summer Platt won the city junior championship while collecting a total of seven trophies. He won the city commerce tournament and went to Columbus for the State tournament. Here he was beaten by the winner of the tournament.

Although Central is not an outstanding team, it is expected to break even. It has ten matches and will be likely to win about five.

FRUIT JUICES and PUNCHES
—Delivery Service—
Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge
HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Ed Parrish
Servicenter
Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne
H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

DID YOU KNOW?
The Purdue University Fort Wayne Center offers:
1. Two years of regular University work.
2. A two-year degree in engineering technology.
3. An opportunity to live at home and save.
4. Accredited university courses.
5. Day and evening classes so that you can earn while you learn.
Call A-3171 for more details
Summer session starts June 18.
Fall semester starts Sept. 12.

Track Team Posts Times, Distances For Three Meets

South Side's tracksters have posted several fine times in the running events in their first three meets this year. Karl Bandemer and Tom Frazzell each have chopped off time on their bests this season and now own note-worthy efforts. Following is a complete list of Archer bests this season by events:

100-yard dash—Karl Bandemer. Time—10.1 vs. Elmhurst.
220-yard dash—Karl Bandemer. Time—23.4 vs. Elmhurst.
440-yard dash—Tom Frazzell. Time—52.6 vs. Elmhurst.
880-yard run—Evert Mol. Time—2:08.6 vs. Elkhart.
1-mile run—Ken Ellingwood. Time—4:42.2 vs. Elkhart.

120-yard high hurdles—Jon van Oosten. Time—15.7 vs. Elmhurst.
180-yard low hurdle—Jon van Oosten. Time—21.8 vs. Elkhart.
Broad jump—Dale Hilsmer. Distance—18-6 1/2 vs. Culver.
High jump—Gary Probst. Height—5-7 vs. Elmhurst.

Pole vault—John Weaver. Height—10-0 vs. Culver.
Shot-put—Sid Sherny. Distance—46-3 vs. Elmhurst.

1-mile relay—Günther Bauer, Evert Mol, Tom Shine, and Tom Frazzell. Time—3:37.8 vs. Elkhart.

Half-mile relay—Mike Tomkinson, Tom Wright, Dale Hilsmer, and Karl Bandemer. Time—1:36.7 vs. Elkhart.

GAA Tumblers Gain Participation Points

Tumbling season has ended for the GAA freshman and upperclass tumblers. Tumbling points have been received by various GAA members for participation in tumbling.

Tumblers receiving 100 points are Lydia Budowski, Roberta Hofherr, Sharon Karst, Margie Long, Louise Porter, Bonnie Post, Virginia Rose, Toni Sorensen, Pat Abbott, Jan Bates, Joleen Crumrine, Lynn Downing, Pam Ensley, Marsha Good, Linda Grimme, Laura Graham, Valentina Harabosky, Claudia Herschberger, Doris Hesser, Linda Hicks, Margaret Hubbard, Dodie Kessler, Jackie Kessler, Loretta Kimmel, Cynthia Koch, Judy Koop, Julie Merchant, Janet Miller, Martha Moore, Darlene Neireiter, Janis Plueger, Judy Preston, Judy Putman, Beth Randall, Flora Reynolds, Jo Richter, Cheri Spangler.

Nan Wallace, Judy Zimmers; 75 points, Diana Nordblom, Jenny Slater; 66 points, Phyllis Bixby, Cheri Davis, Jean Ferris, Marcella Plandrus, Leslie Froese, Alice Fruchtenicht, Suzanne Glass, Sue Haycox, Sally Sanderson, Joan Lefevra, Linda Lowery, Mary Marker, Sue Richter; 50 points, Laurel Skinner, Margaret Shirley; 50 points, Elaine Edwards; 33 points, Linda Churchward, Carol Doehman, Jo Elynn Good, Jane Hahn, Joellyn Hilgemann, Darlene Kissinger, Charlene Kissinger, Suzie Knox, Nancy Markin, Lynn Baby, Sandie Reed, Sue Robinson, Mary Stultz, Mary Ann Waldrop, Linda Walsh, Nancy Westrick, and Kathy Wyss.

THE SHOT-PUT for all teams is being done by relative newcomers. Redskins Barry Donovan, Jim Griffith, and Bill Peters as well as Archers Sid Sherny and Tiger Clete Edmonds have all heaved the shot over 45 feet.

The pole vault should be dominated by North. Both Steve Furst and Dave Lucas of that team have reached 11-6. No one on either of the other teams has reached 11 feet as yet.

The mile relay figures to be a contest between South and North. North's best time of 3:55.1 is less than four seconds faster than South's best, while Central has not bettered 3:56.6.

The half-mile relay should see all three teams together at the wire as they are all within five seconds of one another.

COLONIAL
Restaurant
E-2000

For
• Film Developing
• Film and Flash Bulbs
• Records
• Sheaffer Pens
• Papermate Pens
• Pen Repairing
• Greeting Cards
• Russell Stover Candy

Come to
HOWARD'S
Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

Central Catholic Squad Lacks Balance, Shows Dash Power

By Bill Kleifgen

Without much balance or experience, Central Catholic should be a victim of almost every city school with South as no exception. Because there are only three seniors on the squad and no indoor track facilities, they face the

Veteran Allen Purdy Considers Concordia As Squad To Defeat

Allen Purdy

Having been on the net team for all three years, Junior Letterman Al Purdy will lend his tennis talents again this year to the Archer cause.

Al is a good court man and handles himself especially well in defensive play, which he cites as his best and most enjoyable part of the game. Al feels that one of the areas in which he most needs improvement is his net game.

ALLEN ATTENDED Harrison Hill before coming to South Side, where his tennis career began. Playing in the Fort Wayne Park Summer League, he won the Northern Indiana Center Tournament.

To add to his achievements in the tennis world, Al has captured many awards and honors for both himself and his school. Last year in the State Jaycees Tournament, Al was runner-up only to Concordia's tennis great, Gary Novak. Two years ago Al attended the National Competition at Kalamazoo, Mich.

Al is also active in the intramural athletic program and has played on both volleyball and basketball teams with some success.

ALTHOUGH SOUTH's net team seems weaker than last year's team, Al thinks that with luck the team can have a winning season. "Peru and Concordia will be the toughest opponents we will run up against this year; but all the teams we face will be strong," stated Al, when asked about competition.

Al plans to attend college and study zoology.

added disadvantage of having few proven competitors and being in poorer physical shape than other city runners because of a late, slow start in the spring.

Already 0-3, the Irish have lost meets to Elmhurst and Mississinewa by decisive margins. The latter was a lopsided 76-33 stomping administered by a gleeful hometown wrecking crew. With the losses coming at the hands of these schools, the Gold and Purple doesn't stand to improve its record much this year against anybody, least of all other city schools.

In the century C.C. has football standout Bill Nancarrow. He ran a 10.1 hundred a week ago and also has a 10.3 to his credit. He could give Bandemer a good run but probably will finish second to the Archer veteran. The 220 could also be a good race with Irish Krause and Flood competing with Bandemer and probably Shine of South. However, "Bandy" should come through once again unless something unforeseen develops.

THESE SHORT DASHES are the Irish strong points; however, and if not taken seriously, the Gold and Purple would be only too happy to set the Kellys back on their heels. The 440 was a point getter for C.C. at Mississinewa with Quandt and Charais finishing one-two. Unfortunately, the winners time was a slow 56.1, over three seconds off Frazzell's best time so far.

After the dashes C.C. has little to offer in the way of competitors in either the 880 or the mile. The 880 could see two Archers, Evert Mol and Ken Ellingwood, ahead of C.C. man Trevino. It is in these endurance events that the inability of the C.C. boys to train inside makes itself especially evident. In the mile C.C. could place no one under five minutes in their first three meets and stand to be severely beaten by Sophomore Ken Ellingwood.

In the hurdles C.C. has only Palmer. Other Irish stickmen are mostly undeveloped or undiscovered. Jon van Oosten should have little trouble with any of the Irish, and South could manage two of the first three combinations of some sort in both these events. Dubois and Holt do the broad jumping for C.C. but in such a manner as to render themselves just as adequate.

THE "MUSCLE EVENTS" should prove to be South's also. C.C. has not been able to find a pole vaulting replacement of near the statue of departed Ed Bobay and thus suffers seriously in this event. The shot is not much better, as their best so far is in the 41 to 42 foot range which shouldn't seriously challenge Kelly putters. Sitko put the shot 41.4 ft. at Mississinewa followed by Nancarrow.

NICKLES
BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Mary Ann's
BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

DAN'S
BARBER SHOP
1307 Oxford
QUICK SERVICE
—TWO BARBERS—
HAIRCUTS—Any Style
For Men or Women

Hi-Quiz
SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15
The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.
This Sunday:
Tournament Round
Central vs. Concordia
INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenhorn

In regular volleyball action the Phone-Tacks, aided by the magnificent playing of Bill Borgmann, Jeff Roth, and Dale Smith, defeated the Villains Varsity, 13-15, 15-8, and 15-13. Top scorers for the losers were Terry Newendrop, Howard Miller, and Bill Kleifgen.

The GAA All-Stars trounced the Phone-Tacks, 15-7, 15-5. Mike Zehender, Tom Wooding, and Vic Churchward boasted the winners. Dave Reinhold and Jim Maxson played good volleyball for the losers. The GAA All-Stars took one from the Knights 12-6 on a forfeit.

The Phone-Tacks overpowered the Ying Yongs, 15-7, 15-5. Jim Feustal, Bart Bailey, and Dave Smith starred for the victors, and Jim Hawkins gave it a good try for the defeated team. The Dukes of Earl handed the Villainous Varsity another loss, 15-4, 15-10. Duane Duncan, Mike Stalter, and Gary Turpino came up with most of the victory points. Terry Newendrop and Steve Pratt scored highly in a losing cause.

The Spartans gave the Jumpin' Jimminies a setback, 15-9, 15-5. Jesse Brown, Jim Lawson, and Gary Geissler championed the victors' cause. The losers were backed by Dave James and Harry Drake; the Phone-Tacks edged the Dukes of Earl, 15-7, 15-13. Bart Bailey had twelve straight points in behalf of the winners. The losers' team was headed by Ken Feibman, Gary Turpino, Mike Stalter, and Duane Duncan.

The new losers' bracket champions are the Phone-Tacks, who nipped the GAA All-Stars, 16-14, 15-2. Jeff Roth and Dale Smith played well for the winning team as did Dave West and Steve Shambaugh for the losers.

Results of giant volleyball games are as follows: The Apes crimped the Bachelors, 16-14, 9-3. High point men for the winners are Bob Markleton and Paul LaChair. Bob Hart and Larry Dawson aided the losing side. Again the Apes emerged victorious as they defeated the Mighty Few, 14-12. Paul LaChair starred for the victors, and Mike Hofel for the losers.

The new noon light-weight giant volleyball champions are the Scrubs, who creamed the Nihilis, 3-15, 15-7, 7-3. Dan Diewald had most of the winners' tallies. Mike Beltz and Steve Jones pushed over most of the losing team's points; the Scrubs again defeated the Nihilis, 15-5, 10-5.

Chris Raptis and Rick Meeks backed the loser's efforts; and in more championship action, the Champs trounced the YO-Men, 8-15, 15-3, 8-4.

Jerry Klachn and Bill Joy boosted the winning side. Paul Cochran did the same for the defeated squad.

In ping pong (heavy) singles play, Paul Boegert won from Bob Hart, 17-21, 21-9, 21-7; John Addington defeated Paul Boegert and Jim Lambert, 21-14, 21-10 and 21-10, 21-12; Ron Everson put Russ Wickham down, 21-13, 21-3; Ron Everson handed a loss to George Mueller, 21-11, 21-6;

Bob Stanford was defeated by Steve Summers, 21-4, 21-2; Sam Carter creamed Fred Plotto, 21-14, 21-8; Tom Rogers lost to Jim Crenshaw, 21-18, 21-10; Steve Putman stopped Jack Fanning, 21-4, 21-14; Robert Hawkins emerged victorious from his match with Jon Brown, 21-12, 21-19; Dave Munson nipped Robert McKinley, 21-15, 21-13;

Don Dawson ripped Dave Munson, 21-10, 21-8; Robert Hawkins overcame Steve Putman; Sam Carter stomped Jim Crenshaw, 21-5, 21-10; Don Dawson beat Robert Hawkins 21-11, 21-12; John Addington edged Ron Everson, 21-15, 22-20; Don Dawson squeezed by Sam Carter, 21-18, 21-17; and in the championship game, Don Dawson handed defeat to John Addington, 21-12, 21-11.

Ping pong (middle weight) singles went as follows: Tom Mack trounced Jim Harrold, 21-8, 21-11; Bob Bryant beat Jack Garrison, 21-13, 21-16; Roger Allmandinger edged Dave Reinhold, 21-16, 21-15; Bill Ausderan defeated Tim Grodrian, 21-15, 21-15; Steve Shambaugh squeezed by Larry Davis, 19-21, 21-6, 21-19; Doug Hansen pounded Richard Rutkowski, 21-10, 21-8; Steve A. Miller lost to Mike Lepper, 21-1, 21-4;

Tom Wooding barely won from Vic Seewald, 21-19, 21-17; Mike Lepper stopped Tom Wooding, 21-16, 21-11; Steve Shambaugh downed Doug Hansen, 21-6, 21-10; Bill Ausderan eliminated Roger Allmandinger, 21-13, 21-13; Bob Bryant lost to Tom Mack, 21-17, 21-12; Bill Ausderan crimped Tom Mack, 21-7, 21-14; Mike Lepper got by Steve Shambaugh, 21-16, 21-19; and in this division's championship match, Bill Ausderan shaded Mike Lepper, 21-17, 23-21, 21-18.

Herman Klingler's
WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

DON STROEBEL'S OXFORD
MARATHON

MOTOR TUNE-UP BRAKE SERVICE
FREE PICK-UP and DELIVERY
COURTESY CAR AVAILABLE
TIRES—TUBES—BATTERIES—ACCESSORIES
Winter and Oxford H-5243

Marks' Motto:
The same jolting that shakes the little rocks to the bottom brings the big ones to the top.
3818 S. Calhoun

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service
QUICK CHICK
2415 DECAVUE RD.

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . 15c

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.
Private and Industrial Catering
Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

Smith's South Side TV & Appliance
3820 S. Calhoun H-2100
RCA Victor 6-Transistor Radio
NOW 1495

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS
Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.
BRING THEM TO—
T & T TAILORING
525 Oxford H-2185

Every bite a delight
KORBER'S
SINCE 1935
818 CALHOUN ST. 818 CALHOUN ST.

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS
818 CALHOUN ST. 818 CALHOUN ST.
KORBER'S
SINCE 1935
INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Speakers, Vocalists To Present Program For Easter Assembly

ASSEMBLY ASSOCIATES . . . Planning for the Easter Assembly are left to right, front row, Sue Horth, Sue Burdick, back row, Sue Phillips, Jane Ladig, and Ken Davis. The theme will center around happenings on the night before and the morning of Easter.—Photo by Jones

"From the dark of Good Friday to the light of Easter morning" is the theme upon which the Easter Assembly will be centered on April 20 at 8:26 a.m. in the gymnasium. The program will be presented by a series of speakers and a group of choral speakers seated on the floor in the form of a living cross.

Seated at the foot of a hill with the three traditional crosses on it, the speakers will each give excerpts from the old Easter story, Edwin Arlington Robinson's poem "Calvary" will be presented as well as a special Easter story, read by Ken Davis, to close the program.

WRITING THE SCRIPT for the assembly is a committee headed by Betsy Adams and Sue Horth and composed of Peggy Schmidt, Ken Davis, and Ann McCallister. In charge of presentation are Sue Klaehn and Sue Phillips. Sue Burdick and Patsi Dorton are planning the stagecraft for the assembly, and their assistant is Bill Borgmann.

As in previous years lilies are being purchased for the assembly; and these may be bought by students, teachers, or parents from Assemblies Workshop after the assembly.

Anyone interested in buying lilies should contact Sue Burdick, head of stagecraft, to place their order.

May 8 has been selected as the date for the Assemblies Workshop annual banquet. The students working on this event are co-chairmen Tonya Hines and Nancy Loughed;

International Motor Trucks
Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

ALLEN DAIRY

Phone: T-1141

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Ravens Croft Beauty College

Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring, Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning.

WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE

Call A-7403

and make an appointment to visit the area's finest.

1114 So. Calhoun St. Across from the Cathedral

Spring Calls For Fashion Femininity, Ruffle Frills, Pastels, Little-Boy Look

Spring! That glorious time of the year when a young man's thoughts turn to baseball and a young woman's thoughts turn to fashion. Every year when the delightful season of spring rolls around, the feminine set finds it necessary to be acutely aware of the latest fashion trends, including the most fashionable color combinations, and the most stylish of the season's creations.

If fashion is running true-to-form, it will present a line of fashion this year that is in most ways completely different in line and composition from the styles of only a year ago.

Moreover, it will have succeeded in selecting and subtly elaborating upon or perhaps simplifying particular styles that have proved to be a favorite of the buying public.

EVEN BY THE late winter months fashion had begun the task of setting forth the season's best. By December of last year certain trends in the spring line had already made their debut. For example, in the line of coats the baby look was evident.

This baby look was carried out by the creation of the coat on the A-line, often featuring a flared back that further emphasizes the semi-fitted look which has already proved to be popular.

Frequently this line of outdoor wear includes features such as the three-quarter length sleeve, stand-up collar, and other attractively unusual accents such as front and back smocking. This smocked effect is also a further accentuation of the baby look.

DRESSES FOR THIS season have already taken upon an identity that is this season's own. The feminine look is definitely back, as is shown in the very frilly creations that have been appearing in department stores from New York, where most fashion trends in this country originate, to Los Angeles.

Ruffles adorning the sheerest of white blouses or the smartest darker evening apparel are definitely a characteristic of this season's look. The school girl wears ruffles on blouses to school; the old woman wear them as accents to suits or even for more frilly formal wear.

Another outstanding look for this season is the low-slung belt look. Although this is decidedly not the ultra-feminine look, it offers the little-boy fashion an opportunity to appear on the fashion scene.

FASHIONS THAT ARE created with a waistline that is cut to rest on the hip-line are in the form of sports outfits frequently consisting of jersey shirts and flared skirts, tailored

Wranglers To Give Humorous Contest, Select New Officers

Wranglers' members will present a humorous speech contest Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Those participating will be Shari Busch, Ann Brase, Pat Slater, Pam Buzzard, Charlotte Powell, Jackie Kuhns, and Martha Dixon.

The winner of this contest will have her name inscribed on the humorous trophy.

At the March 19 meeting, members played the "Keep Talking" game as it is played on television. Competing on Team "A" were Jim Bailey, Jan Reynolds, and Phyllis Pierson. Sharon Hardy, Pat Slater, and Vicki Miller were on Team "B."

Two people, one from each team, competed at a time. Each of them was given a slogan that he fit into a story. The story was started by Debby Decker, program chairman. Then, each of the participants added to this story alternately.

If the people telling the story were able to fit the slogan into the story, their respective teams received one point. And if the opposite team was able to tell what the slogan was, they received another point.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

ensembles, and even formal evening wear!

Dresses too have conformed to fashion's demands for the baby-look, and designers have offered various styles that help to carry out this particular effect. Flirtatious baby petticoat dresses delicately tucked or prettily flared have helped to bring out the chivalry in men this spring.

Many of the new designs this season are a counterpart of the princess style, which is marked by the flare into the A-line beneath the bustline. Bibs of these dresses are often decorated with several rows of ruffles, with tucks, or with minute pearl buttons.

"SMOCK-TOPPLETS" ARE perfect partners for slacks and for skirts this spring. Smocked tops of embroidered white eyelet or pale pastel shades are destined to be a hit on the market.

This style seems to be a shadow of last season's long-lined overblouse. These crop-tops are certainly a reflection of the little-girl look with their delicately frilled yokes which are often topped with small bows.

Pastels are a hit again this year, both in fabric and make-up. Pale pinks, blues, and yellows are appearing widely. Gingham and polka dots are also favorites to help to carry out the frilly feminine look. Dresses in diminutive patterns of flowers also add a fresh touch.

OFTEN DESIGNERS have found it appealing to line lightweight spring

Sophomores Select Committees For 'Mardi Gras Magnifique'

Centered around the theme, "Mardi Gras Magnifique," the Sophomore Party from 8:30 to 11 p.m. on April 27 in the boys' gym will feature 45 minutes of class entertainment, followed by dancing with Bob Sievers, disc jockey.

Decorations for the party will center around a French theme. Street scenes and sidewalk cafes will help create an atmosphere similar to the one that prevails in New Orleans during Mardi Gras time.

"The appropriate dress for the Mardi Gras will be Sunday clothes," stated Ricky Meeks, president of the sophomore class. He also reminds everyone that this is not a date affair.

Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong and Mr. George Collier are the class advisers for the party. "The various committees are working hard to make the party a success," said Mrs. Armstrong.

THE HOMEROOM representatives appointed for the party include Jim Barker, 152; Pat Bobay, 12; Paul Boeger, 60; Cheri Hahn, 110; LaVonne Cushman, 96; Sharon Graffis, 46; Dan DeWald, 80; David Garvin, 142; Dudley Wass, 14; Linda Hake, 92; Martha Hoard, 178; Edward Kimble, 144; Nancy Loughed, 58; Judi McKay, 90; Patty North, 77; Vicki Phillips, 90; Ruth Russ, 120; Cheryl Scott, 154; Suzi Steegman, 34; Barrie McCombs, 98; Russ Wickham, 156.

The decorations committee headed by Andy Christon and Dick Robinson is composed of Joyce Spindler, Karen Miller, Val Evans, Pat Wallace, Patty North, Anne Plottmesch, Barb Rea, Kay Wellman, Pat Frazier, Julie Rhinehart, Shiela Reynolds, Kathy Klas, Karen Franks;

Phyllis Pierson, Steve Simmons, Tim Meyers, Jon Lyon, Dale Bloom, Steve Bill, John Stewart, Rick Brown, Jim Long, Ben Smith, Mike Young, Ron France, Marcia Hughes, Barb Fischer, Steve Smith, Nancy Westrick, Carmen Wilson, Nancy Ormsby, Sue Weinraub, and Nadia Vyhovsky.

Dick Robinson is also in charge of the checkroom. Serving with him on this committee are Ted Rolf, Howard Lowden, Skip Gatterman, Barbara Krauskopf, Judy Zimmers, Janice Roese, Margaret Cox, Pat Cooney, and Geraldine Fugate.

PAUL COCHRAN is in charge of the music and also head of the entertainment committee. This group includes Larry Brown, LaVonne Cushman, Karen Dimmick, Judy Ruhl, Jim Abramson, Ken Ellingwood, Dave Fairweather, Nancy Stewart, Gary Giessler, Christie Cousman, Vicki Phillips, Dave Fairchild, Becky

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Calling all students . . . time to order your

BABER CLASS RINGS

Phone A-7306 . . . E-4197

BABER'S

Berry at Calhoun

Typography Provides Career Of High Wages, Short Hours

'PUTTING THE PAPER TO BED' . . . Printers for the Fort Wayne Community Schools, left to right, Jerry Romary, Maurice Forkert, Frank Reed, Don Moore, and Don Campbell prepare to set copy for a school newspaper. To choose printing as a profession, a person should have much skill with machinery.—Photo by Jones

Printing is an art that serves all arts and it has become so much a part of American life that it seems to be produced automatically. Page layout, however, is a major factor in all publications, whether they are national magazines or small lots of single sheet programs.

Typography is the name given to the art of arranging type for printing. The typographer who practices this skill either does nothing else, or he may combine this specialty with some other aspects of the printing art. Taste, talent, and training are necessary for the successful typographer. Enthusiasm for the work is essential, and mental awareness is also a great determining factor.

Women are welcome in the field of printing, although many are not engaged in it. Printing was and still is a superior trade. It offers short hours, high wages, and steady work throughout the year. It also gives one more opportunities for rapid advancement and self-employment after the trade is thoroughly learned.

"NO PRINTERS ARE ever bored" is a saying printers often repeat because this is an occupation in which one can have the thrill of seeing type come alive; of getting into print the news that within a few hours will have the community buzzing; or one can have the sturdy satisfaction of turning out a masterpiece of a well-done copy.

Printing has a hunger for many different types and kinds of talent. A printer can be a scholar, an artist, a businessman, or a craftsman. In the United States the printing industry gives employment to more than 750,000 people.

The printing industry is stable. Layoffs and hard times are not to be expected. Employment tends to be less affected by declines in business than manufacturing employment as a whole, and printing salaries range from $32.50 a week to $25,000 a year.

PEOPLE OFTEN ASK whether this field offers opportunities to go into business for themselves. It gives splendid chances for these opportunities. The way into printing has many paths, and a high school education plus on-the-job training is sufficient for prospective craftsmen, such as compositors, lithographers, pressmen, and binders.

An apprenticeship must be served before one can become a full-fledged journeymen, but for high positions in printing, and if one plans to go into business for himself, he should have a college education.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-9794

CARRY OUTS

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista Lodge Motel

"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY

Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.

Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.

FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center

AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS

5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Hall's Drive-Ins

PHOTOGRAPHY

OFFSET LITHO

LETTERPRESS PLATES

ELECTROS

DIE CASTING

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Archers Recover From Spring Fever To Earn High Grades

Good reports on animals were given by Susan Jorgensen, Alice Fruechtenicht, Sharon Thiele, Jim Fletcher, and Kerry Miller in Mr. Hawk's Biology 2 class.

Sharon Bass and Carole Ladig made the highest scores on a flowering plant life history quiz in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 7 class.

Hour-long book reports were presented by Tom Irmischer, Mike Stedje, and Tom Turlinger in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 6 class.

High scores were made by Carol Norman, Ken Dill, and Mickey Donahoe on a test over chemistry in Mr. Hawk's general science class.

Receiving the highest grades on a test on flowering plant life history in Mr. Weber's Botany 2 period 6 class is Jim Welty.

Scoring 90 or above on a theory quiz in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 1 period 6 class are Linda Dollahite, Virginia Rose, Alice Habegger, Martha Scott, Bev Sievers, and Bonnie Strehlow.

John Stewart and Roberta Hofherr scored above 90 on a recent test over the Argonauts in Mrs. Welty's Latin 4 period 7 class.

Scoring highest on a test on the cell types in Mr. Weber's Botany 1 period 3 class are Don Dawson, Steve Evans, Steve Jugloff, Sherry Powell, Joanne Rose, John Rupel, Tucker Schiebel, Jim Smith, and Sandra Gustafson.

The only students making 90 or above on a test over trihedral and polyhedral angles in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 3 period 6 class are Mike Schoen and Mike Kermisnik.

Bob Quick, Janet Kelley, and Judy Zimmers scored above 90 on a test over the story of the Argonauts in Mrs. Welty's Latin 4 period 6 class.

David Aubrey, Margie Terry, and Roger Vorholzer received the highest scores on News Magazines, extemp speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Carol Forsgren, Rhonda Roehm, Virginia Rose, and Bonnie Strehlow made perfect papers in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 1 period 6 class.

Joyce Ake has been awarded a "70" ribbon in Mr. Boling's Typing 4 class. Three "50" ribbons have also been awarded.

Ken Leakey, Erin Rose, and Sid Sherry received the highest scores on news magazines extemp speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Receiving scores of 93 or above on a 25 word test in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 4 period 2 class are Sue Johns, Sandy Karst, Lydia Sutto, and Karen Swygart.

Dan McCroskey gave an excellently organized report entitled "Consumption" in Mr. Wilson's period 2 economics class.

Tom Wooding gave an excellent report about Commodore Vanderbilt in Miss Crowe's period 6 U.S. History 2 class.

Kathy DeVore, Marcia Disler, Diane Hall, Karen Ponader, Sharon Todd and Bob Wasson received the highest scores on News Magazines extemp speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Warren Burns and Dayna Harader scored highest marks on a recent test over consumptions in Mr. Wilson's period 6 economics class.

Al Brown gave an excellent report in Miss Crowe's period 3 U.S. History 2 class. He reported on Samuel Adams, "Father of the American Revolution."

Mrs. Fleck's Art 2 period 7 classes are writing the scripts for puppet shows. Each student is responsible for the presentation of a show featuring the hand puppet he made in class.

High grades were earned by two students, Lyall Morrill and Babs Jones, on a recent test on consumption, in Mr. Wilson's period 5 class.

Bob Bartel, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Allen Schlie received high scores on a test over the last half of chapter 8, taken in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class.

Maloley Brothers
Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES
INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE
Phone A-1354 Fort Wayne, Ind.
Summer Term June 11
* Business Administration & Finance
* Secretarial Science
* Professional Accounting
With I.B.M.

Debbie Brooke, Barbara Spiers, and Barbara Uhl received A-'s on a word group test taken in Mr. Coats' period 7 English 8 class.

The following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class earned perfect scores on a spelling test: Jill Bieber, Terry Borne, Mike Byrd, Rosalie Curtis, Kathy Grady, Jane Kenerette, Nancy Liby, Jean Longardner, Janice Robson, and Marcy Winder.

The students in Mr. Smith's Art 1 period 2 class have completed an exploration of color and are now making monodrian type paintings.

The students in Mr. Drummond's period 2 Music Appreciation class are studying symphonies composed by Tchaikovsky.

Scoring high on a test in Mrs. Ellett's period 3 home management test is Sue McGinnis.

Perfect scores on a test covering the Industrial Revolution were earned by Sandy Farmer, Steve Layman, and Marlene Ringenberger in Mr. Collyer's General History 2 period 3 class.

Mr. Peirce's sociology classes are studying living together in communities.

Richard Gantz and Steve Moreo achieved A's on a test over triangles in Mr. Sage's Geometry 2 period 4 class.

In Mr. Motz's period 3 group 1 gym class the winning volleyball team is Smith-VanRyn, while in group 2 it is France-Wegner.

Students in Mrs. Fleck's Art 4 period 1 class are working on a project involving futuristic drawings. Such drawings upon completion will resemble cartoon-type drawings because of the similarity of the way in which both are done.

The students sketch drawings of an object in its different stages of motion, so that when the pages with these consecutive drawings are flipped rapidly the eye perceives a fluently moving image.

In addition to these futuristic drawings the students have been working on their still-life projects. They are making detailed sketches of such objects as fruit arrangements, flower vases, and similar objects.

Students in Mrs. Fleck's Art 2 period 7 class have finished the production of their puppet shows in which their hand puppets made of paper mache were displayed. Students worked on the scripts for these plays in groups of two or individually.

Fifth period Concert Choir is concentrating on songs, religious in nature, in preparation for the Easter Assembly.

On March 30 the out-going choir had an engagement to sing at the Summit City Lodge.

Students in Mr. Rohrabough's journalism classes have been performing the duties that are routine Times work. These duties include such things as typing copy, copy-reading, writing heads, and ad collecting.

Other jobs performed by the journalism class are folding papers, wrapping for outside mailing, and typing addresses for the advertisers.

Barbara Gantz made the only A+ on a test over verbals in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class.

Aletha Staigh wrote the most original and imaginative familiar essay in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 2 class.

Suzanne Link and Roberta Twitchell wrote the best personal essays in Mrs. Spray's English 11 period 4 class.

The students who scored 100 per cent on a recent test in Mr. Ober's Chemistry 1 period 3 class include Barb Altevogt, Karl Krause, and Jack Seigel. The students who earned 99 per cent include Bill Cupp and Sandra Slouder.

Coney Island
WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783
Dur-Enamel
Paints
When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.
Dur-Enamel
Company, Inc.
E-3011 1015 Taylor

Martha Hoard and Bob Holloway received A's on a weekly news test given in Mr. Collyer's period 6 general history class.

On a test of mood, tense, and voice of verbs the following students in Miss Pohlmeier's period 2 English class earned the highest scores: Willie Fields, Mike Hullinger, Bill Matlock, and Robert Osborne.

Writing excellent letters of application in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 7 class are Sharon LeFever, Bonnie Post, Donna Coleman, Connie Kummer, and Martha Moore.

Billie Burgo and Beverly Flanagan earned the highest scores in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class on a test covering angles and circles.

Matt Barnes, Janet Bauer, Frank Butcher, John Esslinger, Graham Grove, Beth Randall, Nila Schmidt, Bob Williams, and Barbara Shadle made A's on a test over appositives and nominatives of address in Miss Burr's English 4 period 3 class.

CURIOUS CHEMISTS . . . Bill Mueller, second from left, and Dave Lipp, third from left, working on experiments, seem to be taking full advantage of the personal attention they are receiving from Mr. Norman McBride, student teacher, left, and Mr. Richard Ober, far right, in the chemistry laboratory.—Photo by Lowden

The students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 1 class have finished their interpretations of poetry, and the students who excelled include Tonya Hines, Karen Miller, and Nancy Robinson.

Mrs. Armstrong's gym classes are playing recreational games.

John Stewart received a grade of 100 per cent on a test covering chapter 22, "The Industrial Revolution," in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 6 class.

Charles Golden and Karen Walker earned the highest grades on a test covering chapter 22, "The Industrial Revolution," in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 3 class.

Karen Franks earned the highest score in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 2 class on a test covering chapter 22, "The Industrial Revolution."

Marcia Ringle is maintaining the high average in Mr. Arnold's period 1 sociology class.

Those who received the highest scores on a composition in Miss Smith's French 2 period 2 class are Linda Barnhill and Frances Hudlow.

Receiving the highest grades on a recent daily quiz in Mr. Smith's U.S. History 2 period 2 class are Sharon Chase, Mary Fremion, Kaye Gall, Ann Gallmeyer, Gary Probst, and Gwen Yordy.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING
IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS
AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO
CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA
AUTO
DRIVING
SCHOOL . . .
• Dual Controlled Training Cars
• Manual or Automatic Transmission
• Professional Instructors
• Convenient Door-to-Door Service
• Individual Instruction
H-3303

The following students earned the highest scores in Mr. Morey's English 4 period 4 class on a literature test: Rick Brown, Sandra Ellis, Clifford Hoshaw, Marda Munson, and Ray Tinkel.

Scoring highest on a test over the measurement of arcs and angles in Mr. Cramer's Geometry 2 period 6 class is Mary Graham. Other scoring high on the same test are Bill Hanke, Phil New, and Jim Hawkins.

Those who received high grades over a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's General Math 2 period 4 class are Nancy Dominy, Marcella McMillan, Janet Miller, and Joe Ule.

The students who earned 100 per cent on their weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class are Judy Blombach, Thomas Liby, Kay Heemsoth, Carol Link, and Bob Symonds.

Sarah Finch, Mary Keegan, and Eugene Galyagher have given recent hour-long book reports in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class.

CURIOUS CHEMISTS . . . Bill Mueller, second from left, and Dave Lipp, third from left, working on experiments, seem to be taking full advantage of the personal attention they are receiving from Mr. Norman McBride, student teacher, left, and Mr. Richard Ober, far right, in the chemistry laboratory.—Photo by Lowden

Richard Astrom, Larry Botz, Jim Mittelstadt, and Richard Rutkowski made perfect scores on a test on the senses in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 2 classes.

Those who obtained grades of ninety or above on a test about Protozoa through Arthropods in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 7 class are Nina Shevchenko, Dick Robbins, and Clark Marquart.

Scoring high on a vocabulary test in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 1 class are Jane Hetfield and Ron Everson.

The students who have earned high grades on their work concerning lyrical and narrative poetry in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 6 class are Jerry Frain, Carole Peters, Mike Rogan, and Jim Wolfe.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

STEPHENSON
DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

GLADIEUX
OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME"
FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Students in Mrs. Fleck's Art 2 period 7 class have been working on still life sketches. Their project is to produce realistic sketches of such still life models as apples, oranges, and vases.

The puppet shows which the students put on with the hand puppets they made have been completed.

David Aubrey, Barbara Gantz, Diane Gebhardt, Jackie Koontz, Lydia Sutto, and Margie Terry received the highest scores on full length play reports given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Students in Mr. Berg's period 7 citizenship class who made the highest scores on a recent test are Nancy Enz, Diana Nordblom, Janet Miller, Beverly Malone, and Linda Martin.

The best test papers in Miss Crowe's U.S. History 2 classes were written by Ann McCallister, Mike Levy, Tom Wooding, Stu Schmitz, Janet Dinius, Mike Zehender, Jean Ann Roemer, and Nancy Sprunger.

Ellen Stanbery is maintaining an A average in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 3 class.

Those receiving high scores on a test over Africa taken in Mr. Collyer's period 7 General History 2 class are Bob Holloway, 93; Judy Zimmers, 90, and Pat Sharpin, 94.

Students who made the highest scores on a recent test over elections and political parties in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 2 class are Kathy Petty, 89; and Rosey Capps, 88.

Jane Hetfield, Louisa Porter, and Elizabeth Richter made perfect scores on a 35 word vocabulary test in Miss Welty's period 1 Latin 2 class.

Those receiving high scores on a test over Africa taken in Mr. Collyer's period 7 General History 2 class are Rick Meeks, 100; Jane Knettle, 100; Roberta Hofherr, 97; and Joyce Dunlap, 93.

Steve Shambaugh and Nancy Robinson have earned high averages in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 7 class.

Scoring the highest grades over a test about Protozoa through Arthropods in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class are Jim E. Bailey, Larry Botz, Valentina Harabosky, and Julia Merchant.

Scoring 90 and above on a test over common fractions given by Mr. Gernand to his period 6 math class were Linda Arney, Stan Beer, Val Bodowski, Janice Cerveris, Janet Poote, Diana Foulks, Roseann Wagner, and Gary Blauvelt.

In Miss Grimshaw's Spanish 2 period 3 class, three people made grades above 93 on a unit test. They are Pauline Gomez, Donna Brandenberger, and Darlene Richards.

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Munro's Standard
SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

The top average in Mr. Arnold's period 4 sociology class is being maintained by Nancy Byers.

Those receiving high scores on a test over Africa in Mr. Collyer's period 6 General History 2 class are Tod Kubay, 90; Mike Havlin, 90; and Christine Fruechtenicht, 93.

Jeff Bloom, Frank Butcher, and Dave Fairchild made the highest grades on a test over the Constitutional convention in Mr. Block's U.S. History 1 period 1 class.

Tod Kubay earned the highest score in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 5 class on a test covering angles and circles.

Obtaining the highest grades on a recent daily quiz in Mr. Smith's U.S. History 2 period 3 class are Nancy A'hearn, Matt Cornacchione, Anita Kimball, Joe Murphy, and Ann Shilling.

Janice Robson and Barbie Rea received excellent grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class on a test covering the Industrial Revolution.

Those who made A's on a test over appositives and nominatives of address in Miss Burr's English 4 period 2 class are Donna Brandenberger, Linda Evisizer, Pauline Gomez, James Harold, Jackie Kessler, Bonnie McGrail, Estella Martin, and Dave Munson.

Those who did excellent jobs on a map about the expansion of the Roman Empire, in Mr. Smith's General History period 4 class are Rick Fuller and Monica Brautzsch.

On a review test of verb complements the following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class earned perfect scores: Gary Hensch, Jane Knettle, Nancy Liby, Janice Robson, and Judy Ruhl.

Writing excellent letters of application in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 1 class are Janet Miller, Richard Burnside, Carolyn Mielke, Kerry Blauvelt, Barbara Vondran, Vicki Culp, and Harold Disler.

On a review test of verb complements the following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 5 class earned perfect scores: Bruce Brown, Chuck Golden, and Dick McVay.

Stan Black, Barb Nelson, Steve Simmons, and Sarah Petrie received excellent grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 7 class on a test over the Industrial Revolution.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

Mike Wolf and Jim Adamson made reports on Cuba in Mr. Block's U.S. History 2 period 5 class.

Maxine Hecht and Denise Jones earned excellent grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class on a test covering the Industrial Revolution.

Those who received grades of 90 or above on a test about Protozoa through Arthropods in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 2 class are Carol Channell, Mike Comer, Mike Eastom, and Sheila Gehring.

Jim Ridden and Dick Weibke received the highest grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class on a test covering the Industrial Revolution.

Those scoring highest on a test over the legislative branch of the government in Mr. Block's government 1 period 1 class are Barb Altevogt and Beth Burnett, Karl Krause, Sue Smith, and Karen Finrock.

Sandy Steger and Mary Karrick are receiving the top averages in Mr. Arnold's period 6 sociology class.

Scoring the highest on a recent daily test in Mr. Smith's U.S. History 2 class are Rita Waikel, Tom Shine, Dave Rodenbeck, Sally MacClain, Judy MacGieham, John Knight, and Janet Deihl.

Bill Powlen and Fran Krandsell received excellent grades in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 1 class on a test covering the Industrial Revolution.

Phillip Baker earned the highest grade in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 1 class on a test covering angles and circles.

Jon Lyon, Maxine Hecht, and Janis Sprunger made the highest grades on the Argonauts in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 4 period 4 class.

Hank's Gulf Service
Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon
617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

you're
FLAT HAPPY
... and so are we!
We've Sandler flats galore — more even than you saw in Seventeen!
Sandler flats to ride a bike or take a hike in . . . to sit, flit or knit in . . . to run, sun, have more fun than anyone in!

Sandler
121 W. Wayne St.

Frank Lewis Enjoys Collecting Rare, Historical Guns, Knives

Reliving the escapades of storybook character, Blue Beard the Pirate, Frank Lewis, senior A, has collected a number of guns, swords, and knives. Many such as the Springfield rifle used in the Civil War at Vicksburg by his great-grandfather have significant value.

In addition, Frank possesses a Japanese flare rifle used in World War II, a German Nazi dagger also used in World War II by one of the Hitler Youth Movements, a American bayonet used in the Spanish-American War, and a knife made of deer hoof.

"A collection of this type can be quite expensive," Frank commented. A .16 gauge shot gun is the most valuable of his collection being priced at $150. The entire collection is worth approximately $500.

FRANK BEGAN HIS assorted collection at the age of nine when his uncle presented him with a .22 rifle. Since then the majority of his weapons have been gifts.

Keeping the collection in good condition requires much care. Swords and knives need a light-base oil to prevent rust. The guns also should be cleaned.

"One should not keep a gun collection unless he has thorough knowledge of belonging to such organizations as the South Side Rifle Club and National Rifle Association."

Frank is considered to be an expert rifleman of the National Rifle Association.

Amid this rainbow of color, is a favorite for everyone. Almost every color in the spectrum and its variations are claimed as a favorite by someone, somewhere.

As each states his favorite color, he is revealing something about himself. A person's color preference or his dislike of certain colors is an admission of his emotions, tendencies, and character.

What about that person in the next seat; does he have a favorite color? Ask him. Chances are his answer will be red. Red is a color with universal popularity. Those who claim red as their favorite color are extroverts. They are impulsive and passionate. Love of red indicates strong emotions. It may represent virtue; but on the other hand, it may indicate evil.

Red is the color of blood and fire. It is the color of action. It is stimulating; it can actually increase the blood pressure and the pulse rate. That may be why terrors use red capes to madden the bulls.

RED IS FAVORED mostly by brunettes whose ancestors probably hail from tropical, sunny climates. A person who loves red is always vigorous, sometimes moody, and often abrupt. He is poised, sympathetic, and easily swayed.

Lovers of red are an optimistic lot. They dislike monotony. They enjoy sports, but are not particularly skilled in the game. To those who like red, life is meant for happiness. As for the variations of red, those who admit to a passion about maroon are really red-lovers with a damper on. Those who like maroon are ambitious. Wine, burgundy, and maroon are all considered red. A person favoring any of these colors is usually a trifle self-conscious; as a result, they are less reckless and are often more likable than those who favor their sister color, red.

Pink reflects the gentler qualities of red. It implies love, affection, interest and warmth without the intensity of red.

A third variation of red is orange. Those who like orange are sociable and are able to get along with all people, rich or poor. People in this category have an easy tongue and an easy smile.

ORANGE LOVERS make rather fickle friends. They make good companions, but not of the permanent variety. Most people who claim orange as their favorite color are destined to remain bachelors.

Rivaling red for first place in the popularity race is blue. What does blue indicate? A close look at the characters of blue-lovers reveals that since they are sensitive to others and themselves, they are a nice lot and others respect them. These are steady individuals that maintain an even balance. They don't fly off the handle without a great deal of provocation.

Those who favor blue are on the cautious side—overly-cautious at times to the point of obstinacy. They are conscientious; and since they are a patient, hard-working lot, they get things done. They can't be bothered with people they consider to be fools, but they are very loyal to their friends.

People in this class would be nearly perfect if it were not for one or two small traits that mar their personality. They are rather conceited and are very good at self-justification, which makes them a bit boring.

Most of their opinions and beliefs are very inflexible. In fact, they are often classified as "know-it-alls." They enjoy being admired for their wisdom, even though it is not actually there.

LOOK AT THAT PERSON in the purple sweater. Is he a genius, artistic, temperamental, witty, observant, or creative? People who claim purple, as their favorite color often are considered "way-out."

Purple is not a particularly popular color. It is the one chosen by the rare, creative, and artistic few. It is a color chosen by people with finely-keyed senses.

People in the purple category are apt to fall into depths of despair and grief about the sufferings and misfortunes of humanity. But these same people are the kind who "let George do it." Rarely do they do anything themselves to allay the sufferings of others.

Being artistic, they need a method of self-expression. They are vain. They seek fame. But, they are lazy, too lazy, in fact, to bother about their own problems. They just follow the line of least resistance and hope for the best.

Purple people are easy to live with. They are extremely tolerant, even though they occasionally enjoy a good argument.

The pale relative of purple, lavender, is most often chosen by girls as their favorite color. Girls who identify themselves with this color are usually feminine but aloof. They are of the delicate, clinging-vine variety.

THEY ARE REFINED, and often because of this, are considered egg-heads by their friends. They read good books and enjoy fine music. The one flaw in the lavender personality is that they are not as tidy as they appear on the surface.

Remember that stern, straight-backed mathematics teacher in the fifth grade? She was one who made everyone stay after school until he knew the multiplication tables through twelve. Think back. What color did she wear? Chances are it was brown.

The brown-loving people of the world are the sturdy characters; substantial, reliable, and dependable. They are the unchanging ones. They provide no surprises. Day after day they remain their calm, sure, capable selves. Nothing ever disturbs them or their well-ordered routine. They are law-abiding and extremely capable in money matters.

Brown-lovers are almost as in-going as red-lovers are out-going. They tend to hover far in the background. They seem to be slow thinkers, but to them there is always a method to be followed. They love responsibility to the point that they shoulder the troubles for others. The one unusual characteristic of these brown-lovers is their tendency to play all sorts or practical jokes on their friends.

Probably more realistic than any of these single units is one that combines the characteristics of several related colors rather than one. But, whatever the case, the colors indicated by a person as his favorite reveal undeniable truths about his character.

Person's Favorite Color Tells Emotions, Moods, Tendencies

If it is true, as the adage says, that love makes the world go round, color certainly makes it spin faster. Color is everywhere: dirty green walls, brown linoleum floors, red bricks, blue skies, and somewhere, beneath all that snow, green grass.

Amid this rainbow of color, is a favorite for everyone. Almost every color in the spectrum and its variations are claimed as a favorite by someone, somewhere.

As each states his favorite color, he is revealing something about himself. A person's color preference or his dislike of certain colors is an admission of his emotions, tendencies, and character.

What about that person in the next seat; does he have a favorite color? Ask him. Chances are his answer will be red. Red is a color with universal popularity. Those who claim red as their favorite color are extroverts. They are impulsive and passionate. Love of red indicates strong emotions. It may represent virtue; but on the other hand, it may indicate evil.

Red is the color of blood and fire. It is the color of action. It is stimulating; it can actually increase the blood pressure and the pulse rate. That may be why terrors use red capes to madden the bulls.

RED IS FAVORED mostly by brunettes whose ancestors probably hail from tropical, sunny climates. A person who loves red is always vigorous, sometimes moody, and often abrupt. He is poised, sympathetic, and easily swayed.

Lovers of red are an optimistic lot. They dislike monotony. They enjoy sports, but are not particularly skilled in the game. To those who like red, life is meant for happiness. As for the variations of red, those who admit to a passion about maroon are really red-lovers with a damper on. Those who like maroon are ambitious. Wine, burgundy, and maroon are all considered red. A person favoring any of these colors is usually a trifle self-conscious; as a result, they are less reckless and are often more likable than those who favor their sister color, red.

Pink reflects the gentler qualities of red. It implies love, affection, interest and warmth without the intensity of red.

A third variation of red is orange. Those who like orange are sociable and are able to get along with all people, rich or poor. People in this category have an easy tongue and an easy smile.

ORANGE LOVERS make rather fickle friends. They make good companions, but not of the permanent variety. Most people who claim orange as their favorite color are destined to remain bachelors.

Rivaling red for first place in the popularity race is blue. What does blue indicate? A close look at the characters of blue-lovers reveals that since they are sensitive to others and themselves, they are a nice lot and others respect them. These are steady individuals that maintain an even balance. They don't fly off the handle without a great deal of provocation.

Those who favor blue are on the cautious side—overly-cautious at times to the point of obstinacy. They are conscientious; and since they are a patient, hard-working lot, they get things done. They can't be bothered with people they consider to be fools, but they are very loyal to their friends.

People in this class would be nearly perfect if it were not for one or two small traits that mar their personality. They are rather conceited and are very good at self-justification, which makes them a bit boring.

Most of their opinions and beliefs are very inflexible. In fact, they are often classified as "know-it-alls." They enjoy being admired for their wisdom, even though it is not actually there.

LOOK AT THAT PERSON in the purple sweater. Is he a genius, artistic, temperamental, witty, observant, or creative? People who claim purple, as their favorite color often are considered "way-out."

Purple is not a particularly popular color. It is the one chosen by the rare, creative, and artistic few. It is a color chosen by people with finely-keyed senses.

People in the purple category are apt to fall into depths of despair and grief about the sufferings and misfortunes of humanity. But these same people are the kind who "let George do it." Rarely do they do anything themselves to allay the sufferings of others.

Being artistic, they need a method of self-expression. They are vain. They seek fame. But, they are lazy, too lazy, in fact, to bother about their own problems. They just follow the line of least resistance and hope for the best.

Purple people are easy to live with. They are extremely tolerant, even though they occasionally enjoy a good argument.

The pale relative of purple, lavender, is most often chosen by girls as their favorite color. Girls who identify themselves with this color are usually feminine but aloof. They are of the delicate, clinging-vine variety.

THEY ARE REFINED, and often because of this, are considered egg-heads by their friends. They read good books and enjoy fine music. The one flaw in the lavender personality is that they are not as tidy as they appear on the surface.

Remember that stern, straight-backed mathematics teacher in the fifth grade? She was one who made everyone stay after school until he knew the multiplication tables through twelve. Think back. What color did she wear? Chances are it was brown.

The brown-loving people of the world are the sturdy characters; substantial, reliable, and dependable. They are the unchanging ones. They provide no surprises. Day after day they remain their calm, sure, capable selves. Nothing ever disturbs them or their well-ordered routine. They are law-abiding and extremely capable in money matters.

Brown-lovers are almost as in-going as red-lovers are out-going. They tend to hover far in the background. They seem to be slow thinkers, but to them there is always a method to be followed. They love responsibility to the point that they shoulder the troubles for others. The one unusual characteristic of these brown-lovers is their tendency to play all sorts or practical jokes on their friends.

Probably more realistic than any of these single units is one that combines the characteristics of several related colors rather than one. But, whatever the case, the colors indicated by a person as his favorite reveal undeniable truths about his character.

Juniors To Feature Middle Ages Theme For Dance In May

"A Knight to Remember" will be the theme of the Junior Prom, May 4, from 8:30 until 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

The cafeteria will be transformed into a medieval castle with music provided by Jimmy Stier and his orchestra.

Tonya Hines, junior class president and ticket chairman, has announced that tickets will go on sale May 1. The homeroom agents for the prom are Ellen Stanbery, Room 116; Janet Calvert, Room 22; Sharyn Verger, Room 4; Barb Altevogt, Room 172; Jon Poto, Room 54; Jani Brenn, Room 36; Ann Gallmeyer, Room 174;

ANN MCCOY, ROOM 74; Leanna Morris, Room 46; Carole Ladig, Room 138; Anita Kimball, Room 140; Tom Erb, Room 70; Linda Seibel, Room 61; Martha Dixon, Room 190; Carol Davis, Room 176; Bob Wasson, Room 76; Sharon Bass, Room 6; Barrie Spear, Room 32; and JoAnn Rose, Room 26.

Heading the publicity is Ken Davis. Jerry Klahn is responsible for chaperones, invited guests, and programs. The orchestra was obtained by Gary Probst, who will also supervise the organization of the cloakroom.

Nancy Robinson heads the refreshment committee and Rosemary Capps is in charge of decorations. Chairmen for the decorating committee have been selected.

RHONDA HOEHM is serving as chairman of decorations. In charge of walls are Karen Miller and Ellen Stanbery. Poles and carpentry are being devised by Annell Hoover and Dave Tipton. The castle entrance is being planned by Julie Wadlington with carpentry headed by Jon Poto.

Sue Burdick will supervise the decorating of the tables for refreshments. She will be assisted by Nancy Norden. Bandstand decoration is the job of Babs Fitzgerald, while Mike Houser is in charge of lighting. The throne will be built by Bill Rastetter and decorated by Julie Breidenstein.

Julie especially enjoys doing pencil

Sorority Picks Julie Wadlington To Submit Art In State Contest

Julie Wadlington, junior, was one of the three winners in the Tri Kappa Fine Arts Contest of March 24. Julie won $20 and is eligible to enter the state contest, which offers $500 for education as a prize. This contest will take place on May 12.

All entries submitted, with an endorsement from their high school art teacher, a maximum of three two-dimensional pieces of art. Julie submitted an oil painting and the cover of the Christmas issue of the Times. Judging was based on all pieces submitted.

THE ARCHER LASS has had work shown at the Southgate Beauty Shop, Means Buhl, and at the First Presbyterian Church.

She has done some art work for the Times, was the winter 1961 Pegasus art editor, the 1962 Totem art editor, and has done work for different school dances and events.

Julie especially enjoys doing pencil

sketches of people. She has done some portraits for commission. While in Mexico, she saw many art pieces but liked the murals best. Her favorite artists are Diego Rivera and Siquiero Orozco. She has visited art museums in Chicago and Cincinnati.

THIS JUNIOR attended the Fort Wayne Art School for a semester of oil painting, and was awarded a scholarship in the eighth grade for a semester at St. Francis College in Fort Wayne.

Julie would like to go to college and attain a liberal arts education, and then perhaps attend an art university.

12B Leanna Morris

Cops Runner-up Spot In Traveler Contest

Leanna Morris, senior B, was chosen first runner-up in the Miss American Traveler Contest on April 5 at 9:45 p.m. in the Oak Room of Hotel Van Orman. Eleven candidates who were selected by Bobbi Ray from the Fort Wayne Finishing School entered the contest.

The girls were judged on their poise, personality, and beauty as they modeled bathing suits and floor-length formal. Judges for the event included dealers who had shown their trailers at the recent exhibit at the Coliseum; Mayor Paul M. Burns; Mr. Hilliard Gates, sports broadcaster; and Mr. Jack Gray, news broadcaster.

Leanna stated that she was "very surprised to have been chosen" since she had only entered one similar contest previously while most of the contestants had had more experience.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See JASPER

Engine & Transmission Exchange

3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

EASTER

Resurrection Of Christ Promises Mankind Eternal Salvation

By the General Manager

The story began in a stable, a very lowly and humble place. The event was the birth of a baby boy, not an ordinary baby; but one that would eventually become conqueror of Satan and ruler of the world. He was a baby who would become ruler, unlike Alexander the Great or Napoleon, who became rulers through their battles and condemnation and execution of enemies, through His love and forgiveness for His enemies.

In appearances this baby was like all others. He had no blemishes or oddities to mark Him as being different from others; but yet, He lived on earth unlike other grown men with a purpose so profound that even man today finds it hard to comprehend and acknowledge this Man and His purpose.

The Man, of course, is Jesus Christ, the Son of God. His purpose in human life, to forgive, love, and die for the children God the Father loved so much, in order that they might be saved from their sins.

The life of Christ from His early days in Joseph's carpentry shop to His final days of degradation, which led to the ultimate death on the cross, was one of purpose and devotion. From Christ's days as a young boy, He was constantly fulfilling the Father's Commandments and "going about His Father's business" in preparation for the world's greatest gift to mankind, salvation through His Crucifixion.

Throughout His early life, Christ, setting examples for God's children to follow, showed man his great needs for loving, trusting, believing in, and obeying the Father. Although extremely poor in worldly possessions, Christ possessed the greatest riches in the world, the love, devotion, and belief in God and His Word.

Christ preaching God's Word showed on His journeys throughout the Holy Land that the Father was a just and forgiving Father; yet when the Father offered this Son as His proof that he loved His children, His children refused and mocked this love.

Man refused to acknowledge this Man who taught him to be humble, repent of his sins, and ask for forgiveness. Man in his conceit and self-pride refused to admit that this young Man who performed miracles and preached about forgiveness and a mysterious eternal life after death was not the earthly king who would deliver him from worldly perils but the King of the Life Eternal.

Man unable to admit his acts of sins and ignorance denounced Christ, and with Him, His Father and the Holy Spirit, the Trinity. So Christ to fulfill His Father's will suffered the humiliation and agony of His death on the Cross.

Mocking Him, man, knowing Christ proclaimed Himself a king, gave Him not a crown of jewels but one of thorns. Man scorned Him not believing that He would redeem mankind from its falling away from God the Father. But God was a merciful Father and, in spite of man's scorn and denunciation of Him and His Son, forgave him.

Christ because of His Father's love for His children suffered to save man from eternal damnation. Man's only requirement for salvation was to love and believe in the Trinity.

It would seem that with the death of this Man, Christ, the story which began so long ago in a stable would end with almost a complete failure in purpose. However, this story unlike most others doesn't end with the death of Christ but begins with His death.

Christ after death rose and once more appeared to His Father's children to help them believe His Father's promise, that if man believed and loved God he too would live eternally in heaven.

The resurrection of Christ fulfilled His mission on earth which was to save man from His sin. But still, man continues to doubt.

It is for the reason of the resurrection that this story doesn't end on Mount Calvary, for the resurrection is man's promise from the Father that Life Eternal is His greatest gift, this gift coming after this worldly life.

Yes, the story of Christ, the story of Easter, is a never ending one. Man should be thankful that he can always and ceaselessly turn to God to ask forgiveness and to seek love and salvation through Christ.

Let us remember this Easter Sunday and throughout the year that God has given us His dearest token of His love, Christ; let us give Him our love as a small and humble return for His devotion.

Dear God, help us always to remember that Thou gave Thine only Son that we may have salvation and eternal life in heaven. Help us too, O Lord, to fill our hearts with the joy and abundant trust in the glory of Thy love. Let us be quickened to a newness of faith and life through Christ's death and resurrection. Thine is the glory, the honor, and the praise for now and evermore. In Christ's name we ask this.

Amen

Quitters Sacrifice Diploma To Fulfill Money Desires

There are few words to describe that warm, secure, satisfied feeling teens experience when they earn their first pay check. The most menial jobs seem wonderful and important. Gas station attendants, stock boys, waitresses, and clerks are so thrilled with new responsibilities and a sense of financial independence that they become drunk with power and the desire to earn their own money.

These strong feelings and other emotional factors cause some youngsters to lose their due sense of worth. They think that the payroll outweighs the need of proper education in their distorted material evaluations. They are too willing and eager to sacrifice a high school diploma for a small weekly pay envelope.

There are certain facts that must be squarely faced. Clerks and baby sitters are temporarily more secure than those who continue their educations. They drive cars while their friends walk to school. They wear the latest styles while their pals are sporting last year's outfits. Their leisure hours are not interrupted. In fairness, these facts must be admitted.

However, most of those who quit school do not realize that these gains are only temporary. Because these teenagers rushed into the adult world before they were adequately armed with all-important education, they are unable to obtain more skilled occupations and higher wages.

Basic education is the building stone of a strong nation. The America of tomorrow will be built by the teens of today. The future molders of our country must be equipped to meet and solve their challenges. Education is the fundamental ammunition with which to face.—By Diane Saalfrank

Classroom Listening Aids In Quest For Knowledge

Although some people seem unaware of the fact, listening and hearing are two different things. Hearing is the result of listening and also the result of chance.

It is amazing how certain people have the knack for hearing what they're not suppose to. This ability is sometimes overworked in the classroom.

According to a little pitcher with big ears, a successful class is one in which he or she learns who is going with whom, who's wearing what to the next dance, what the top speed is for a certain car, or who just went down the hall.

Of course, there is the possibility that with all this newly-found knowledge the pupil has avoided participating in class discussion, thereby receiving a low recitation mark for the day; and he probably does not have the assignment. Also, he most likely has bothered those around him.

For the above reasons it is necessary that a good listener screen out background noises which might divert his attention. But this alone is not sufficient; he must then concentrate on what is being said in class.

Classroom explanations of problems are also very helpful as long as the student pays attention and comprehends what is being said and done. In order to do that he must be listening.

Certainly a good student is aided by listening to the right thing at the right time.—By Janet Dinius

Mythological Gods Function As Basis To Name Flowers

Spring is here, and soon flowers will be in bloom. It is interesting to note that the ancient mythology of the Greeks and Romans contributes some of these names. The dionthus was sacred to the Greek god, Zeus, because its name means literally, "the flower of Zeus." The first part taken from Dios, meaning of Zeus, and antheos, meaning flower.

The centaur received its name from the centaur Chiron. He was supposedly very smart and discovered the medicinal properties in the centaury.

One of the modern spring flowers is the hyacinth. It is named after the youth Hyacinthus, who was accidentally slain by Apollo, a Roman god. When Apollo saw what he had done, he caused flowers to spring from the blood of the youth.

Palaon, the Greek god of healing, gave his name to the spring flower, peony.

Resemblances, real or imagined, to animal shapes also account for some flower names. Dandelion is derived from the French dent de lion, or the lion's tooth. The nectar or spur of the delphinium suggests the shape of the dolphin; so the flower takes the name from the Greek delphis, meaning dolphin.

The carpel of the geranium suggests the ill of a crane, so the plant was named after the Greek geranos crane. The snapdragon is so called because its flower is fancifully likened to the face of the dragon.

The helianthus is a sunflower named from the Greek helios, meaning flower. The heliotrope is one that turns toward the sun. At one time a young girl fell in love with the sun god, Apollo. However, he did not love her, so she pined away into a flower that turned to always face the sun.

From the Greek anamos, meaning wind, there is the windflower, anemone; and from the Greek aster, meaning star, comes the starflower's name, aster.

The Chrysanthemum, a fall flower, means the golden flower. It is taken from the Greek chryso, meaning gold, and anthemion, meaning flower.

Gladiolus is a Latin word meaning a small sword, and the name was given to the plant because of its sword-shaped leaves.

A bed of iris in bloom is extremely beautiful and colorful, so it can easily be understood why they are named after the Latin word iris, meaning rainbow. The narcissus is named after the beautiful youth Narcissus, who desiring to see his reflection, looked in the water of a fountain and was changed into a flower.

The red varieties of phlox comes from the Greek word phlox, meaning flame; the Rhododendron, meaning the rose tree, comes from the Greek rhodon, meaning rose, and dendron, meaning tree.

Flowers are indeed wonderful gifts from nature. It is no wonder why so many beautiful mythological stories are retold about the meanings of their names.

Trips Tangle Teenagers . . .

Aren't these field trips wonderful, pupils?

Christ's Suffering On The Cross Illustrates Brotherly Love, Faith

By Peggy Schmidt

Slowly, sadly, He trudged the dusty road to Calvary. His strong form was bent beneath the burden on his back, the cross of the criminal. But the greatest weight upon the condemned Christ, the weight hardest to bear, was the seeming failure of his boundless mercies.

He had given His prosecutors love, understanding, comfort, and the path to salvation. He had fed His murderers, taught them, clothed them, and healed them. His kindness was being repaid with the demands dictated by callous indifference and selfish wickedness.

But this was not the end. The cross brought life, not death to Christ. For on the third day the risen Lord appeared again among his brothers. This gave birth to a family of churches which would encircle the globe and join all nations in a bond of faith.

THIS, THE STORY OF Good Friday and Easter, is a familiar part of the religious training instilled upon the Christian peoples. To the teenager it is an exciting drama, though perhaps a trifle stale and time-worn. It is annually recalled to accompany the purchase of a new Easter outfit and a memorable holiday dinner. It heralds a vacation from school and a special church service.

Such an attitude toward the most glorious and meaningful time of the church year certainly can give small support to the moral development and religious growth of the teenage generation. The real story of Easter is a tale of triumph and a source of inspiration and spiritual strength to all who accept it.

THE INITIAL IMPORTANCE of the cross lies in its established as an example of true faith. The Christian principles of forgiveness and love have never brought forth in more spectacular form than in the willingness of a common man to endure unjust punishments inflicted by ungrateful sinners.

The fate of a Christian during the time of Jesus was imprisonment, death in the lion's den, or worse. The early believers took from the death and resurrection of the Savior a guide to maintain their religion and to suffer the attacks against it.

Christians today in some occupied territories are threatened with the firing squad. Christians everywhere are numbered with such personal crosses as poverty, temptation, disease, physical handicaps, and mental obstacles such as prejudice, hate, and jealousy. Christ's death is their mainstay, too.

THE CROSS, THEN, serves as a universal example of love, hope, and faith for all peoples of all times. Christ's crucifixion should also be recognized as a mirror for the sin which hides within all men and seeks to destroy their capacity for good. Jesus was put to death not by ordinary criminals and murderers, but by common citizens.

These people were unconsciously ruled by prejudice and narrow-mindedness just as mankind today passes judgments and acts without seriously considering the complete question.

A third aspect of the cross is revealed in Corinthians II, which says "In Christ, God was reconciling the world to Himself." Man is totally imperfect; constantly he breaks the commandments of God.

IN STRAYING FROM THE ways of righteousness, he forfeits his claim to eternal life. But the Lord is forgiving: He is willing to restore the strayed sheep to His fold if the wrongdoers are truly repentant.

The cross is symbolic of this reconciliation of the Lord's children to Him. Indeed, man could commit no greater crime than to murder the Son of God. Therefore, when the Father offered the return and everlasting presence of that Son to the murderers, He gave absolute proof of His mercy.

Finally, the cross is a sign of triumph. Paul states, "He (God) disarmed the principalities and powers and made a public example of them, triumphing over them." Calvary was a battlefield on that dark Friday so long ago.

THE IMPIOUS FORCES contained man were striving desperately to conquer the good forces possessed by God. The conflict lasted three days; on Easter morning the Lord showed Himself victorious.

The main battle is over, but skirmishes are carried on now, for evil is still making attempts to undermine its superior. So it remains for the people of today to recognize the triumph of the cross if they are to choose the ranks of virtue over wickedness.

The Easter story is thus extended to guide and influence the teenager and his contemporaries. Those who fail to regard Easter as a time for contemplation, self-improvement, and humble prayer have blindly eluded the significance of the most gripping and influential episode of history.

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Joyce Cossairt . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, red . . . fad, knee socks . . . sport, dog races . . . subject, speech . . . pastime, modeling . . . activity, Wranglers . . . TV show, "The Dick Van Dyke Show" . . . record, "West Side Story" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Doris Day . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, I.U. Center . . . pet peeve, unfair judgment of people.

Steve Chapin . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, six feet, four inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, olive . . . fad, drinking milk . . . sport, football . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, driving . . . activity, Mofa . . . TV show, "Calvin and the Colonel" . . . record, "Nutcracker" . . . singers, The Platters . . . book, "Moby Dick" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who try to play solo drums, and can't.

Bev Figei . . . age, 18 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, seven inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, fish . . . color, red . . . fad, kilts . . . sport, water skiing . . . subject, English . . . pastime, watching television . . . activity, Junior Red Cross . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Crying in the Rain" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Troy Donahue . . . book, "Mila 18" . . . future plans, business college . . . pet peeve, people who call other people dumb.

John Addington . . . age, 18 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, black . . . height, five feet, nine inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, smoked oysters . . . color, red . . . sport, bowling . . . subject, art . . . pastimes, art, bowling, spending money . . . TV show, "Bullwinkle" . . . record, "Annie Get Your Yo-Yo" . . . singers, Coasters . . . actress, Kim Novak . . . book, "Knut Rockne" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeves, girls with rattled hair, boys with fuzzies around their mirrors.

'Crasher' Stuns Casey Academy Awards Presentation Honors Industry's Thousands

By Sandy Thorn

"Oscar," the only little fellow in the world who is really "worth his weight in gold" was booked as the show stopper on April 9 at Santa Monica's Civic Auditorium—scene of the Motion Picture Academy's 1961 Academy Awards presentation. And even those who work with production all year failed to prophesy that a 35-year-old New York taxicab driver would steal the show.

Regardless, all added to make this year's program the best ever. It wasn't one person who stole the show—it was a group, a dedicated number of men and women in the motion picture industry. Everyone had one thing in common—movies. They either starred in them, worked behind the scenes, or enjoyed them.

When compliments are being dished out for the program's success, one cannot forget the great master of ceremonies, Bob Hope. Hope was never more charming and more witty. If his gag writers deserve credit for his spectacular humor, so be it. Looking to the future, it is hard to imagine an Academy Awards presentation without the great Hope.

BOB'S LAST statement, seemingly unrehearsed, was priceless. During the two hours, he spoke fluently of how it feels to be a loser. He constantly told of his losing an Oscar in 1938, and while he makes pictures every year, they aren't Oscar successes. After all of the awards had been presented, and all the joys and disappointments were over, a still-witty Bob said, "Now if you'll excuse me, I'll go join Sid Luft and Eddie Fisher at the losers' table!"

But even Bob, a veteran of making on-the-spot ad-libbed comments, seemed surprised and slightly horrified when a man walked on the stage to present an award. That's the story; but it wasn't quite that well-planned, when Vince Edwards, otherwise known to millions as Dr. Ben Casey, and Shelley Winters were making awards.

A man, dressed in a tuxedo for the occasion, walked in front of "Dr. Ben," interrupting him, and said that he had an award to make to Bob Hope. He then handed Miss Winters a small-type "Oscar," supposedly the one which Hope didn't get in 1938. Even Dr. Casey couldn't handle the operation! After some sputtering, Miss Winters and the Monday-night hero left the stage.

Hope was bewildered, but gracious in accepting the award. He then made comment that the theater needed fewer guards for the trophies and more guards for the stage doors.

THE "CRASHER" was Stan Berman, a cab driver who has made gate-crashing his hobby for some 20 years. He later posed for photographers and told of his other experiences. Berman wasn't quite as out of place at the Academy's presentation as he was when he sat next to a man by the name of John Fitzgerald Kennedy at the 1961 Presidential Inaugural Ball.

Competition usually means a one thing—there's a winner and a loser. Maximilian Schell walked off with the award for best actor of 1961. Sophia

Loren won in the actress department, although she wasn't there. Schell won for "Judgment at Nuremberg" and Miss Loren's efforts were applauded for "Two Women."

"West Side Story" was the big winner, capturing 10 awards of the 11 nominations it received. Besides being named the best picture of the year, "West Side" starred two newcomers who walked off with the top awards as best supporting actor and actress.

HANDSOME George Chakiris, who played a street gang leader of the Puerto Ricans, and Rita Moreno, his sweetheart, won the respective awards. Seated together in the audience, both were elated but had little to say when they won.

There was loud cheering each time "Maria," theme song from "West Side Story," was played and another of its mammoth crew accepted an award. One of the press associations covering the presentation reported that Dr. Casey and Richard Chamberlain, more famously known as Dr. Kildare, received the biggest ovations.

Such was not the case. Jerome Robbins, receiving an honorary award for years of service, received a larger hand. But it took two earlier "Queens" of Hollywood to "bring down the house." A radiant Rosalind Russell stood while the crowd of 2,500 applauded, only to be topped by the still-beautiful and charming Joan Crawford.

MISS CRAWFORD began to talk several times before the crowd stopped. And it seemed appropriate that she was the person selected to receive the award for best actress, in Miss Loren's absence.

During this one night, the industry recognizes everyone working in the huge business. It isn't a night just for the stars. Awards are presented for music, costuming, sound and effects, short subjects, documentaries, and staging, just to name a few.

As expected, it was an evening filled with "cracks" about "Cleopatra," foreign movie stars, the censors, and the seemingly endless jokes about Elizabeth Taylor's "I Led Five Lives." All seemed natural and appropriate for the occasion.

Some say that the Liz Taylor jokes are "off color" and shouldn't be used for such things. But everyone seems to enjoy jokes that are timely and the majority like to hear "cutting jokes." Also, there's an old saying, "If the shoe fits, wear it." Anyway, who asked for it?

THE STARS WERE cheered as they went into the theater—some were cheered more loudly as they returned home, others not as much. There were winners and there were losers, but everyone won in his own way. For, to every person who attends movies, there is a favorite star and a favorite show.

In this crazy world, everyone doesn't like the same thing (thank goodness). So, thousands were happy as, for example, Chakiris was honored; others thought that Montgomery Clift should have won "for sentimental reasons." Many were elated with Schell's award, others thought Paul Newman was "the only choice." It's a mixed-up situation—but a tremendous, wonderful motion picture industry.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

The spring activities are finally settling down more than a week after our return to school. Florida tans are peeling and fading; members of Plymouth Congregational Church's youth group have returned from their trek to Boston; and the excitement of the Senior Play is over.

But, wait! Two more exciting events are on the agenda in the future. In the very near future, two weeks and one day, is the Junior Prom, "A Knight to Remember." Junior gals are frantically trying to snag that Sir Gallahad for a night, as well as a night to remember.

In the not-so-near future, at least according to the stadium sign-board, the Archers basketball squad will be playing Elmhurst and Madison Heights on January 19 and 20. Remember to keep those dates free!

Maybe Kenny Lowden has learned never again to fall asleep on a bus when Sarah Finch is anywhere in the vicinity. On the way to the Valparaiso Press Convention the slumbering photographer got a gorgeous make-up job—complete with eyeshadow and lipstick—before he woke up.

Once again, South's talent number, this time a take-off on "Gunsmoke," took the rest of the delegates by storm. Tom Erb can now be known as "Chester" in view of his stupendous performance, and Pat Bailey is still limping around after no one caught her in her "faint."

On the way home, the Archer delegation was entertained by Barb Altevogt's playing the guitar while everyone else, especially Barb Spiers and Nancy "Doc" Redding, sang along.

Has everyone noticed Sue Perry's fancy new hair-do? It's compliments of our own Mary Jane Tobey, who has gone into her own business. Other customers are Janet Davies and Linda McMurtry.

It's easy to lose things, but Diana Hess has everyone beaten. She lost the Scottish Rite Auditorium at the time the choir was to have a concert during vacation.

Another champion, this time in acid-dropping in the chem lab, is Dian Leath. That was a nice skirt, wasn't it, Dian?

Meow! Meecoww! No, it's not a cat; it's Ann Brase, who is known for her ability to sound like a cat. She picks the best times and places to exhibit her talent, such as, while viewing an extremely sad part of the movie "West Side Story."

The band room has had many improvements lately. First, new lights were installed; and then the furniture was rearranged. But now Tom McMahan has decided to further decorate the room also by tacking Carol Shredon's dance class outfit upon the wall.

The latest function of trig class is hanging people, right, Stan Aifeld? Happy Easter!

Thought for the Day: Laughter is the best medicine.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Married were Susan Wallheiser, '56, and Dr. William Temple, who recently was graduated from Columbia University. Sue is a registered nurse at the University of Chicago Hospital, where her fiancé is practicing medicine.

The announcement of the engagement of Rodka Shady, '60, and J. Stuart Kahner, North Side graduate, has been made. Rodka is employed by Fort Wayne Drug Company, Inc.; Stuart is a sophomore at Indiana University.

Returning in early May to the United States after military service in Orleans, France, is Bryan Boggess, '55. Bryan was graduated from Purdue University and will return to the position of merchandising sales representative for Texaco, Ind. Bryan's brother, Bill Boggess, '58, is a senior at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Carol Purdy, '60, was on the Dean's scholastic honor list of the College Conservatory of Music of Cincinnati, O., for the 1961-62 semester. Carol is a sophomore majoring in violin.

Sandra Landree, '60, is a member of the spring pledge class of Angel Flight at Purdue University, a coed auxiliary of the Air Force ROTC which functions as a service organization to the Arnold Air Society, the Air Force honorary. Sandra is a sophomore in the School of Science, Education, and Humanities and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority.

Recently married were Rita Hessay, '61, and Michael Baron. The couple are honeymooning in Virginia and will reside in Fort Wayne.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know how perfume oil is extracted from flower petals? Answer. Glass plates are spread with a thin layer of fat, and then covered with succeeding layers of the flower petals. When the fat has absorbed and become saturated with the oils, it is removed from the glass, melted, and filtered. This process results in floral pomades or ointments of varying strength, the number of the pomade corresponding to the number of times the fat has been treated with fresh petals. Extracts are obtained by subsequent treatment of the pomade. This very old process is called enfleurage.

Question. Do you know what factors determine whether a mineral is considered a gem stone or not?

Answer. Of the 1,500 mineral species, only about one hundred have all the attributes required in gems. Gem stones must have the qualities of splendor or beauty, durability, and rarity. Splendor in a gem depends upon transparency, brilliance, luster, and color. Luster depends on transparency, refractivity, and crystal structure of a mineral. Durability is determined by hardness or toughness. Rarity is a major factor in determining the value of a gem. There is no sharp division between precious and semi-precious gems. Diamonds, rubies, sapphires, and emeralds are usually classed as precious stones, and the others as semi-precious.

Question. Do you know the origin of the St. Patrick's Day parade in New York City?

Answer. This particular celebration is a rather unusual remnant of the Revolutionary War. The first parade on record was on March 17, 1779, when a British band and Irish-born Lord Rawdon, a British army colonel, led a parade of 400 "Volunteers of Ireland" from Lower Broadway to a restaurant on the Bowery. Here he provided them with a St. Patrick's Day feast, in appreciation of their having enrolled in British service against Washington and his men.

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879, Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1102, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the South Side Times High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager . . . . . Jenny Manth
Managing Editor . . . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Barrett, Janice Brenn, Sally McLaugh, Sharyan Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitchell
News Editor . . . . . Kathy DeVore
Editorial Editor . . . . . Sally Sweet
Boys' Sports Editor . . . . . Terry Newendorp
Girls' Sports Editor . . . . . Janice Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors . . . . . Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Barrett
Picture Editor . . . . . Janet Brenin
Head Typist . . . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones, Leanna Morris
Business Manager . . . . . Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager . . . . . Sue Meyer
Advertising Manager . . . . . Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager . . . . . Nancy Redding
Circulation Assistant . . . . . Lila Weikart, Doris Aifeld, Roberta Twitchell
Tom Erb, Sharyan Yerger, Sally Adams, Lila Griss, James Rohrbach
Faculty Adviser . . . . . James Rohrbach

MINOR STAFF

News Writers . . . . . David Flanagan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Marce Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Aifeld, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Conney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karet, Jan Raynor, Nancy Robinson, Penny Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barros, Sue Bortmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Karen Franklin, Christine Fruentlicht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan Bradley, Sally McClain, Jim McGill, Larry Newman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Beth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lila Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooks, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Parly, Steve Letts
Feature Writers . . . . . Mary Jane Reiff, Suelien Bergmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lennine, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Moir, Barb Ross, Sue Palmer, Diane Smith, Erin Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Betty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Harvett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Frank, Dian Brecht, Ruth Ross, Julie Rinschert, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Sue Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Harrie McCumba, Marie Anderson, Cheri Maha, Jean Ann McGlinley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karet, Myra Rubin, Doris Aifeld, Charlotte Davis, Jan Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyan Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Wade, Cynthia Duncan, Betty Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Leach, Gail Brown, Karen Bessley, Gail Bradley, Janis Spranger, Alice Haegeger, Mary Schillinger, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooks, Marcia Kuhn
Editorial Writers . . . . . Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruentlicht, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudway, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stenberg, Sue Orth, Sue Klesch, Carol Leach, Paul Mittlestatter, Steve Lowens, Jan Henderson, Gail Bradley, Marla Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brown, Alice Haegeger, Lynette Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriwotow, Diane Saalfrank
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanagan, Karen Minkin, Christie Hunsberger, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Julie Shadle, Beth Bradford, Julie Neuenchwander, Karen Finckow, Nancy Spranger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Chosens, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerrie, Kay Falk, Harriet Gotsch, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Fennell, Janice Spranger, Karen Frank, Trudy
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Kileforn, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jan Foto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Butler, Barb Nelson, Alice Haegeger, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Julie Shadle, Beth Bradford, Julie Neuenchwander, Karen Finckow, Nancy Spranger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Chosens, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerrie, Kay Falk, Harriet Gotsch, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Fennell, Janice Spranger, Karen Frank, Trudy
Trotlets . . . . . Joanne Braden, Martha Hoard, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Kohl, Mary Wade
Cartoonists . . . . . Julie Wadlington, Judy Goodman, Diane Orms, Dan Merila, Bob Englehart, Ray Juncal
Classroom News Editor . . . . . Celeste Rieken
Point Recorder . . . . . Steve Letts
Mailing Manager . . . . . Vicki Adams
Assistant Credit Manager . . . . . Krystyna Kriwotow
Exchange Editor . . . . . Allen Parly
Credit Manager . . . . . Marcia Kuhn
Assistant Credit Manager . . . . . Charlotte Powell
Paper Distributor . . . . . Sonya Piaz
Literary Editor . . . . . Steve Piaz
Chuck Bodenborn

Hi-Y Members To Honor Teacher As 'Best Girl' At Banquet Monday

Barton Bailey Serves As Ticket Chairman; Guests To Get Roses

To honor Hi-Y's best girl, the Hi-Y Club will host its annual banquet Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Colonial Restaurant.

Tickets for the banquet next Monday cost $2.75 each. The tickets may be purchased from Bart Bailey, ticket chairman, Frank Lewis, Bob Weiss, Dave Tipton, Mark Hageman, Bob Wasson, or Mr. Robert Weber in Room 76.

"Ticket sales will end at 4 p.m. tomorrow," stated Bart.

Terry Newendorp will act as toastmaster for the evening. Lyall Morrill will speak on "What Hi-Y Means to Me," and Ken Davis will give an account of the activities for the year, entitled the "Hi-Lights of Hi-Y," as this is Hi-Y's last event before the close of school.

THE MEAL WILL consist of either Swiss steak or roast turkey served with potatoes, corn, salad, rolls, pie, and coffee or milk. Each girl attending will receive a rosebud corsage.

Tom McMahan, Hi-Y president, will present this year's best girl with a scroll and an orchid. Bill Borgmann will give the invocation.

Persons attending will be entertained by Dick Haupt, local folk singer, and surprise entertainment.

Bob Weiss is serving as general chairman of this year's banquet. Bart Bailey is chairman of the tickets; he is being assisted by Bob Weiss, Frank Lewis, and all committee heads. Fred Schoen helped by Alan Schlie is getting the programs printed and assembled.

THE DECORATION committee will consist of Rick Vanderford, chairman, Steve Bill, Andy Christon, and Dave Fleming. Decorations will be in light pastels and purples. Publicity is being handled by Steve McDonald and Ken Lowden.

Bob Weiss has invited the guests, which include Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, Mrs. Robert Weber, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heiny. Mr. Heiny is the youth director for the YMCA.

PICASSO AT WORK . . . Potting the finishing touches on a part of the decorations for the Hi-Y Best Girl Banquet are, left to right, Andy Christon, Bob Weiss, Alan Schlie, and Steve Bill. The banquet will be Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Colonial Restaurant.—Photo by Lowden

Interesting Teenagers, Adults Develop Good Listening Habits

It is believed that youngsters who listen with purpose and show strong concentration make better students and, later, more interesting adults. These students are few though, for studies have shown that most children hear only half of what is said by teachers because of daydreaming.

In order to teach a child to listen, parents are told at PTA meetings to stop just pretending to listen to their tykes. They are asked to play "listening games" with their children whenever possible.

The techniques in class vary with the age of the children. First-graders are told to close their eyes and listen for the number of times the teacher bounces a ball. Or they close their eyes and listen to the usual sounds that can be heard: footsteps, a pencil sharpener, a plane over head, a rattling window.

Third-graders fingerprint while listening to directions, follow square dance calls, and listen to bird calls.

FIFTH GRADERS LEARN to hear small details one after another, such as travel directions. They receive daily assignments only once, and also hear news broadcasts from which they are taught to separate facts from opinion.

The teacher might read a newspaper story to the class and they listen without taking notes. Later, the teacher might ask questions and the children answer by recalling specific facts.

Sometimes the teacher tells a story in a foreign language, and the children pick out words that sound like English. Or she may clap her hands to a certain rhythm; and the children, listening closely, do the same rhythm pattern.

During the day the children will keep "listening papers" on which they write the teacher's directions. She may, during English class, break in and say, "Draw a small circle in the upper right hand corner," or "Put the word 'little' in the lower left hand corner."

IN THE GAME "Take a Trip," one person says, "I'm going to take a trip, and I will take my shoes." The next person says, "I'm going to take a trip, and I will take my shoes and socks."

Each following player then repeats all the articles that have been mentioned and adds one of his own. If he names an article out of place or omits one, he is out of the game or pays a forfeit.

In another game, "Look and Listen," a group of items is placed on a tray; and each child looks at them. Then the tray is taken away, and each one is to write down a list of the objects or with eyes closed identify each object when dropped on the floor by the teacher.

In the game, "Add a Word," one player starts a sentence. It may begin with the word "The." The next player might say, "The bug," and the following, "The bug that," and so on.

These are ways which a person may teach a child to listen. A listening child will become a better student gradewise.

Philo Members To Give Cuttings Of Noel Coward

Cuttings from plays of British author Noel Coward will be part of the Philo program Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, according to an announcement by Ann Petrie, chairman of the program.

A study of Mr. Coward's life will also be presented with some of his poetry. Tamara Vyhovsky, Karen Simmons, and Barb Uhl will be some of the girls acting in the cuttings.

This program will complete Philo's study of humor in literature. Final plans will be made for the Mother-Daughter tea on May 7.

Officers of the club are Lissa Hoffman, president; Erin Rose, vice-president; Ann Golden, treasurer; Julie Breidenstine, secretary; Martha Dixon, program chairman; and Ann Gallmeyer, sergeant-at-arms.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Dur-Enamel Paints
When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.
E-3011 1015 Taylor

Margy Winder Visits Paris, Frankfort, Stratford-on-Avon

Sightseeing and visiting her brother in the Army, Sophomore Margy Winder toured Europe last summer accompanied by her parents and other brother Jack, '61.

Before departing from New York City, Margy rode to the top of the Empire State Building, saw the play, "The Sound of Music," and shopped at some of the stores on Fifth Avenue.

They left on the "S.S. Nieuw Amsterdam." On board, Margy enjoyed such sports as swimming, tennis, and shuffleboard; go to places, such as beauty salons and theaters and attend parties, in particular her father's birthday party.

Class Honors

(Continued from Page 3)

of the Four Year Honor Roll. Alphabetically listed with activities, they include Robert Acker, orchestra; Brenda Arnold, Philo and National Honor Society; Barton Bailey, Hi-Y treasurer and National Honor Society; Carol Jo Becker, Vesta and National Honor Society; Jacquelyn Berry, Girls' Rifle Club president; Jo Ellen Robay, National Honor Society and Totem; Susan Bumgardner, Assemblies Workshop secretary and Service Club second pin; Sharon Carrel, class officer, National Honor Society, and cheerleader;

Linda Chaney; Anita Clayton; Marcia Disler, Latin Club president and Wranglers; Patricia Dorton, Latin Club and Assemblies Workshop; Anita Ferber, National Honor Society, band, and orchestra; James Feustel, National Honor Society and band; Karen Fine, National Honor Society, Service Club third pin, and Philo;

David Flanagan, National Honor Society, band, and orchestra; Sara Franklin, National Honor Society and Totem; Diane Fredrick, Totem associate editor, class officer, Wranglers president, National Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll; Kaylene Gebert, National Honor Society, Pegasus associate editor, Times, and Quill and Scroll;

Judith Godman, Honorary Arts president and Times artist; Ann Golden, National Honor Society, Times, Quill and Scroll, and Service Club third pin; Diane Hall, National Honor Society; Dayna Harader, National Honor Society and Know-Your-City vice-president; Gaylene Hilsamer, Concert Choir; Richard Hirschberg;

LISSA HOFFMAN, National Honor Society, Philo president, and Totem; Susan Horth, Assemblies Workshop president, National Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll; Sandra Karst; Mary Keegan, National Honor Society; Kathleen Knettle; Dian Leath, Totem; National Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll; Larrie Lee, National Honor Society and class officer;

Frank Lewis, National Honor Society and Chemistry Section president of the Junior Academy of Science; Thomas Liby; Paulette Lontz; Stephen Lowens, Times; Jennifer Manth, Times General Manager, Pegasus editor, National Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll;

Karen McFarland, Junior Academy of Science; Susan McGinnis, National Honor Society; Thomas McMahan, sports, Hi-Y president, National Honor Society, band, and orchestra; David Meek, National Honor Society and Lettermen's Club; Vicki Miller, Art Club vice-president;

Lyall Morrill, Jr., National Honor Society, Junior Academy of Science president; Linda Newell, National Honor Society and orchestra; Terry Newendorp, National Honor Society, Times, and Totem; Robert Ramage, Hi-Y president and National Honor Society; Bonnie Russell, National Honor Society;

KAREN SIMMONS, National Honor Society, Totem, and Library Club president; Barbara Spiers, National Honor Society, Totem, and Quill and Scroll; Phillip Spray, Assemblies Workshop; Cheryl Summers, National Honor Society, Philo, and class officer; Karen Swygart; Gary Tinkel, National Honor Society;

Roberta Twitchell, National Honor Society, Pegasus editor, Times, and Quill and Scroll; Barbara Uhl, Pegasus and National Honor Society; Tamara Vyhovsky, Pegasus associate editor, Safety Council president, and National Honor Society; Richard Waterfield, Hi-Y and National Honor Society;

William Wilder, Times, Quill and Scroll, and National Honor Society; and Ellen Williams, National Honor Society. Ann Petrie maintained an average above 90 during her two years at South. Her outstanding activities include the Totem and National Honor Society.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . 15c

Assemblies Workshop Directs 'Outdoor Circus' Talent Show

"GOOD-BYE CRUEL WORLD . . . We're off to join the circus." Entertainers are feverishly rehearsing for the circus Talent Show on May 1, including Martha Dixon, Diana Ornas, and Tonya Hines, left to right, who are performing their dance, while Sharon Bass shows their costumes.—Photo by Lowden

The theme for the annual talent show, May 1, will be centered around an outdoor circus. Rosie Capps is the general co-ordinator of the talent show. In charge of presentation are Jane Ladig and Kathy Klas.

The writing committee headed by Sue Horth and Peggy Schmidt, consists of Kay Bradley, Elaine Cole, Ann McCallister, Lissa Hoffman, Bonnie Russell, Sue Phillips, and Nancy Loughead.

The stagehand committee, with Dave Fleming as the head, is made up of Dave Eaton, Dave Tipton, and Al Mason.

STAGECRAFT IS HEADED by Jane Ladig, Ellen Stanbery, and assistant, Dave Fleming. Under these people, Nancy Robinson, Ann Mol, Patty Bailey, Kitty Fay, Sue Borgmann, Kay Bradley, and Mary Jane Reiff head committees.

Nancy Robinson's group, in charge of the panda bear booth, consists of Janet Deihl, Marlene Ringenberg, Virginia Erwin, Ann Rantz, and Nancy Ormsby.

Carole Ladig, Gail Brumm, Judy Conley, and Annell Hoover, under the direction of Kay Bradley, are in charge of the center ring.

The fortune telling booth is to be taken care of by Ann Mol and Sue Borgmann, committee heads, with Nancy Redding, Barb Nelson, and Sharon McEachern as the committee members.

KITTY FAY IS IN charge of the target booth with Patty North, B. D. Hartley, Karen Franks, Cheryl Lee, and Mary Beadway constituting the committee.

Mary Jane Reiff chairman, with Rhonda Roehm, Harriet Ochstein, Linda Babbitt, and Patty Phelps, are to decorate the hot dog stand.

Another booth committee, headed by Pat Bailey, consists of Sue Moyer, Cynthia Russell, and Betsy Adams.

SAT Deadline Nears

Final deadline for juniors and seniors to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test is May 19, and applications for the test must be received by the College Entrance Examination Board before Saturday. Applications may be obtained from Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in Room 102. There is a fee of $5.

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

Graduation Day

For this very important day, a teen looks her best in a fresh-as-springtime dress from W&D's crisp, sparkling collection! Cotton eyelets, sheers, broadcloths or piques . . . prettily detailed and fashioned. Sizes 5 to 15. 14.98 to 25.00

W&D Young Miss Shop, Second Floor

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
WHEN YOU ARRIVE
YOUR ORDER READY
Complete Catering Service
QUIK CHICK
2213 DECATUR RD.

Thinlies Snap Dual-Meet Win String, Bow To Kokomo, Lose To North In Triangular

Karl Bandemer Wins Sprints; Tom Frazell Takes 440 Event

North Side's Redskins, showing none of the ailments of a team reportedly rebuilding, showed tremendous depth in breezing to an easy victory over South and Central in a meet run at Northrop field last Saturday. Placing at least two men in the top four finishers in 12 of the 13 events, winning the half-mile relay, and taking second in the mile relay, the Redskins amassed a total of 79 1/2 points. South Side's Archers took second with 42 1/2 points, and Central's Tigers recorded 30.

Two individuals, Karl Bandemer and Tom Frazell, provided almost all the excitement produced by the Archers. Bandemer was the only double winner, taking both sprints. Tom Frazell won an extremely close quarter-mile, edging North's Ed Haught by a hair at the wire. These two combined with Tom Shine and Evert Mol for the Archer's only other victory, the mile relay.

Bandemer's victories were the most impressive of the whole meet. Aided by a strong wind at his back and closely pursued by North's Dale Yoder, the Archer sprinter sped to a time unequalled in the state, 10 seconds flat. In the 220, Bandemer, on the inside lane, had to buck more wind than any of his opponents, but he still out-distanced his closest pursuer by two yards, winning in 23 seconds flat.

THE 440, WON BY FRAZELL, was the most exciting race of the meet. The Archer appeared to have an easy victory as he rounded the final turn; but Haught made a last gasp sprint, and his lungs almost caught the sprinter Frazell. The finish was so close that most of the spectators were unsure of the victor till confirmed by the track-side announcer.

The mile relay was also exciting but the outcome practically assured when Bandemer started the anchor leg with a five-yard lead. North's depth showed in the first two legs as they held about a ten-yard advantage at the end of two laps.

Frazell, the usual anchor man, caught his Redskins rival on the final turn of his lap, and Bandemer held the advantage for the Archer victory. Aided by Bandemer's 61.5 leg, the team recorded a time of 3:29.8, the best outdoor mark recorded in the state.

Kelly, City Cindermen Record Year's Best Times, Distances

Archer tracksters own three of the city's best efforts this season. Ace sprinter Karl Bandemer has the top local time in the two short dashes plus a share in the best mile relay time posted so far. Following is a list of, first, the South Side best efforts and, second, the city-wide bests:

Archer Records
100-yard dash: Karl Bandemer, Time—10.0, versus North and Central.
220-yard dash: Karl Bandemer, Time—23.0, versus North and Central.
440-yard dash: Tom Frazell, Time—52.2, versus North and Central.
880-yard run: Evert Mol, Time—2:08.6, versus Elkhart.
1 mile run: Ken Ellingwood, Time—4:38.6, versus Kokomo.
120-yard high hurdles: Jon van-Oosten, Time—15.1, versus North and Central.
180-yard low hurdles: Jon van-Oosten, Time—21.2, versus North and Central.
Broad jump: Dale Hilsmer, Distance—18-5, versus Culver.
High jump: Gary Probst, Height—5-9, versus North and Central.
Pole vault: John Weaver, Height—10-6, versus Kokomo.
Shot put: Sid Sheray, Distance—46-3, versus Elkhart.
Mile relay: Tom Shine, Mol, Frazell, Bandemer, Time 3:29.8, versus North and Central.
Half-mile relay: Mike Tomkinson, Tom Wright, Hilsmer, Bandemer, Time—1:36.7, versus Elkhart.

tured the first three places. Ken Ellingwood of South provided the only opposition to Gary Meyers, Bob Esterlin, and Tom Kownow of North, who finished in that order.

TRAILING BY TWENTY yards, with one lap remaining, Ellingwood sprinted into second place at the top of the back stretch, but he could not keep up the pace and finished fourth. North picked up the first two places in the half-mile when Central's Charles Davis, who had led most of the race, tired on the final turn of the last lap and was passed by Ted Summers, the victor, and Jim Fallor, the red ribbon winner. Archer Evert Mol trailed these three all the way to place fourth.

Central's Bo Hubbard won both hurdle races over South's Jon van-Oosten, with Jim Fleenor of North also sneaking in ahead of vanOosten in the lows. Hubbard's times were 15 flat for the highs and 20.1 for the lows.

Central's Al McKinney was the only thinly to break North's first place grip in the field events. Jumping into a stiff wind, McKinney flew to a fine 20-8 leap in the broad jump. Barry Donovan was the first Redskin to pick up a blue ribbon, as the shot putters finished ahead of the other field events. Larry Dawson and Dave Pritchard of South picked up third and fourth places in this event.

STEVE ESTERLINE of North won the high jump with an effort that raised him one inch above Archer Gary Probst. The winning height was 5-10. Redskins' Dave Lucas and Steve Furste tied for first place in the pole vault at 11 feet.

The Archers suffered a bad break in the half-mile relay when they juggled the baton on the second exchange and finally made the exchange outside the legal zone, thus being disqualified. Trailing at this point by about ten yards in third place, they continued the race and finished unofficially second.

The Redskins won the reserve meet conducted simultaneously in almost the same fashion. They won all the running events and one of the relays to accumulate 89 points. South finished with 39 and Central with 28.

The Archers' only victory was the mile relay. The script for this race was the same as its counterpart in the varsity meet except that Tigers finished second. The Archer thinlies won in the last two laps.

Golfers To Play Against Comets, Elmhurst Today

The 1962 Archer golf team, led by Mr. Warren Hoover, coach, will make its second start of the season today in a tough triangular meet against the Elmhurst Trojans and Kendallville Comets. The team consists of the eight boys who survived Saturday's playoff at Brookwood Golf Course.

Later this season the team will be reduced to five men and, eventually, four. The only returnee from last year's fine group of golfers is Junior Jim Mann. Jim had some good scores last year and may be the best prospect this year.

Last Saturday, Dick Waterfield, senior, and Mann tied for top honors with 84's. There were three deadlocked in third place with 86 scores. They were Jeff Roth, senior, and Larry Schneider and Tom Galland, juniors. Ed Freed, junior, shot an 88 for sixth place.

THE ONLY SOPHOMORE, Jim Littlejohn, was seventh; and Rick Kneisley, senior, was eighth, with scores of 89 and 92, respectively. Par for the Brookwood course is 72.

When asked what kind of a season this Archer squad might have, Mr. Hoover replied, "Fair. At present, the scores are too high to say good."

However, some of the boys think they may shoot much better rounds than they did in the cold wind at a frozen Brookwood course. Mr. Hoover picked Elmhurst, a team the Archers will have to reckon with five times, to be by far the strongest opponent.

ALL THE MATCHES played in town, and the City Tournament, will be at Brookwood Golf course. However, South will travel to Elkhart for the Sectional meet. Garrett, Bishop, Luers, and Concordia have not yet been assigned definite dates on the schedule.

The following is the 1962 golf schedule:

| Date     | Team                                            | Place |
|----------|-------------------------------------------------|-------|
| April 18 | Decatur, there                                  |       |
| 19       | Triangular with Elmhurst and Kendallville, here |       |
| 27       | Muncie Central, there                           |       |
| 30       | Elmhurst, here                                  |       |
| May 1    | Central Catholic, here                          |       |
| 4        | Marion, there                                   |       |
| 7        | Decatur, here                                   |       |
| 10       | Auburn, there                                   |       |
| 11       | Marion, there                                   |       |
| 14       | Elmhurst, here                                  |       |
| 15       | City Tourney                                    |       |
| 16       | Auburn, here                                    |       |
| 17       | Muncie Central, here                            |       |
| 18 or 19 | Sectional, Elkhart                              |       |

Scientists Write Essays

The Junior Academy of Science will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 76. The Chemistry Section will be in charge of the meeting.

All members are currently writing scientific essays to be published in the Academy Newsletter. Club directors and Mr. Robert Weber, botany instructor, will select the best essays. To be read at the Junior Academy of Science picnic May 8.

McINTOSH Auto Radio Service

101 S. Clinton E-3281

SPALDING BASKETBALLS

SPECIAL PRICED
REG $8.45 NOW $6.45
SALE ENDS, APRIL 28

HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP

3704 SOUTH CALHOUN

Junior Gary Probst To Boost Cindermen In Hurdles, Relays

Junior Gary Probst for the second year is boosting the Archer track squad in the high jump event, running the high hurdles, and weaving his long-legged speed into the relay teams for which South is renowned.

Gary's number one event is the high jump in which he is one of the top contenders in the city this year. Gary cleared five feet nine inches in very stiff competition.

Gary Probst

This 6-2 junior A has also run the high hurdles several times this year with very respectable times for a newcomer. Gary, a dubious relay man at the beginning of the season, is now one of the best half-mile relay men on the team, with his best 220-yard time for a relay being 23.5 seconds.

With the rest of this season to go, Gary feels that he can reach six feet in the high jump and improve times in both the hurdles and relays.

Not a one-sport man by far, Gary, during the winter months, spends many hours on the basketball court. This winter his great spring probably enabled him to be the most valuable rebounder on the team. Gary played reserve ball his sophomore year and was also on the freshman squads of basketball and tennis.

Gary feels that Kokomo has been South's toughest opponent to date, with Elkhart possibly pulling in a close second. The North Side Relays should make a good meet, according to Gary, where the team as a whole can really see what the possibilities for this year are. Gary thinks that South should come out with a win from that meet.

"As a whole the team looks good," stated Gary. "We have good potential but lack strength in the field events from last year's team. On the track we are about equal to last year's squad."

Along with his busy sports career, Gary serves as vice-president of the Junior Class and is a member of the Lettermen's Club. After high school he plans to attend either Stanford or Duke Universities to study engineering, and is undecided about continuing his sports career.

Jon VanOosten Reigns Victorious In Hurdles For Unbeaten Season

An Archer dual-meet win string dating back to May 18, 1960 was abruptly snapped April 10, as Kokomo's thinlies far outclassed the Archer field and scored a decisive 65-43 1/2 victory on their home cinders.

This meet marked the Archer's first loss of the 1962 season and ended South's bid for another unblemished campaign. Although the Archers were at a disadvantage, missing the services of their veteran sprinter Karl Bandemer, who was doctoring a sprained ankle received during practice, they did a commendable job on the cinders.

South capped firsts in four of the seven individual races as well as sweeping the relays. The field events were a sadder story as only Gary Probst's third-place tie in the high jump prevented a clean sweep by Kokomo.

PROBST'S JUMP. A fine 5-9 leap, was his high school best and is one of the city's best leaps this season. Although he didn't place, pole vaulter John Weaver cleared the bar at 11-6, his season best in vaulting against two Kokomo vaulters who tied at the 12-foot mark.

Tom Shine showed his versatility on the cinders by filling in for Bandemer in the sprints. Shine was nipped at the tape by Kokomo's Frier in the 100, the winning time a mediocre 10.9. He came back later, however, and scored a 24.1 victory in the furlong, followed by Frier in second place and Dale Hilsmer of South in third.

Quarter miler Tom Frazell again breezed to an early victory by defeating teammate Gunther Bauer in a fine 52.4 clocking. Frazell also ran the anchor leg of the mile relay in fine time.

Denny Jones proved to be a little too strong for South's sophomore distance man Ken Ellingwood as the ex-South Sider coasted to a tremendous 4:38.6 clocking, undoubtedly one of the state's best this season.

"ELLI," WHO IS KNOWN to be a strong finisher, couldn't quite make up the high margin which Jones built up during the first three laps. Ellingwood's time was a fine 4:38.8, his season's best, and in third place, Steve Myers of South recorded his best, a good 4:46 time.

Kokomo 880-men Graf and Jones teamed up to take first and second respectively in their event. South's Evert Mol, who lost the lead in the last 20 yards, settled with a third. Graf's winning time of 2:04.5 was just enough to edge Jones and Mol's, who ran his season's best time, a 2:06.2.

Jon vanOosten remained unbeaten in his specialties this season, the high and low sticks. vanOosten claimed easy victories in both races, although his times were not quite as good as he has posted this year. "Van" ran the highs in 15.9 and the lows in 21.8, the highs being 2 shy of his season's best.

South also grabbed the relays, Bauer, Mike Weinraub, Mol, and Frazell teaming up to post a 3:40.4, far shy of South's times of last season.

Archer Netmen Lose To Peru, Giant Squad By Large Margin

Anticipating an easy repeat of last year's effortless victory, the overconfident Archer netmen soon found themselves upset 5-2 by a band of vastly improved Marion Giants on April 10 at Matter Park, Marion, Ind.

With the addition of a highly-regarded Cleveland prep player, Bill Weber, who recently moved to Marion, plus the weeding out of various bits of "dead weight," Giant mentor Mr. Jules Walker has transformed a chronic losing team into a respectable unit.

In the number one singles, Junior Jim Lantz, who probably will prove to be one of the Archers' toughest singles players this season, ran headlong into Weber. Lantz showed his senior rival a pressing net game and a tremendously improved serve, but Weber, a lefty, used a little more variation and consistency to upend the Archer. The final score was 6-1, 5-7, 6-3.

JUNIOR AL PURDY played the second singles match against Steve Young, a senior, and, once again, consistency told the tale. Young made few errors and showed Purdy a weird, reverse spin service to cop the affair 6-2, 6-7, 6-3.

Juniors Lex Smuts and Terry Smith won South its only two points of the match. Smuts, who likes to play a defensive, extremely consistent brand of tennis, nearly drove his Giant counterpart to insanity with his consistent returns of seemingly impossible shots. Showing terrific stamina, Smuts literally wore out Gene Ray of Marion to a tune of 1-6, 8-6, 7-5.

Terry Smith got the other Archer glory by easily rolling by his outclassed opponent, Steve Miller, by a score of 6-3, 6-4. Smith, showing great improvement, failed to let Miller's occasional spirited rushes upset him and won easily.

Sophomore Rick Meeks, playing his first varsity match, put on a creditable first-time performance and gave his more experienced foe, Don Hann, plenty of sweat before running out of gas and bowing 4-6, 6-0, 6-4. Little Rick shows a lot of promise as well as a bundle of natural ability; but in this case, as in most, experience counted heavily.

IN THE DOUBLES competition, South once again ran into a brick wall. The number one doubles team for the Green, Lantz and Purdy, tangled with Weber and Young and came out on the losing end of an 0-6, 6-3, 9-7 count.

Starting out like a "house afire," the Archer boys looked as though they were prepared to make a royal rout of the affair by blanking the home forces 6-0 in the first set and leading 3-0 in the second.

Purdy's usually reliable serve began to falter resulting in numerous double faults while Lantz began having his problems at the net. The end result was the loss of six straight games to even the score at a set apiece.

In the third set, Weber's serve, which had been off in the first two sets, began to function; and the Marion boys squeaked by the demoralized Archers, 9-7. The darkness which rapidly enveloped the area did little to assist either team.

The number two doubles team of Smuts and Smith fought the Giant's Ray and Miller to a standstill before South chose to forfeit because of darkness.

Peru Defeats South
Archer Racquetmen ran into a little more than they could handle April 11, at Lafayette Playground. Playing host to the Peru Tigers, one of, if not the best team in the state, South lost by a final score of 7-0. This was a duplicate of last year's score.

In the number one singles, Archer Allen Purdy tangled with the runner-up in the state Jaycees Tournament last year, Jerry Bradley. Displaying an invincible net game as well as an unbreakable service, Bradley won by a score of 6-3, 6-1.

While not the strongest point of his game, Bradley's ground strokes were all sliced considerably and each one drew Purdy far out of position. This enabled Bradley to advance to the net for the "kill."

IN THE SECOND singles match, Jim Lantz was opposed by Peru's Junior Danny Rasser. Like the rest of his Tiger teammates, Rasser showed a strong service and a killing net game. Lantz, however, wouldn't concede to him. Charging the net himself, Jim forced his foe into many striking errors, but the Peruvian showed a little more service consistency and won by a final count of 6-3, 6-4.

The number three singles found Junior Lex Smuts battling one of Peru Coach Joe Saine's personal prodigies, Frosh Mike Eikenberry. Eikenberry, a tall and lanky six-footer, showed why he is considered one of Peru's hottest prospects in years.

Having perfected the difficult Australian twist serve and being a near master of the overhead slam, Eikenberry had little trouble disposing of his stubborn and determined Archer opponent, Smuts. Lex attempted his fine defensive tactics and had moderate success until Eikenberry commenced rushing the net and killing some of Smuts' lobbs. The final was 6-2, 6-0.

THE FOURTH ARCHER, Junior Terry Smith played inconsistently, but nonetheless powerfully against Kenneth Oyler, also a junior. Smith playing with painful hand injury recently suffered in a car mishap, gave Oyler a fight succumbing to the usual Peru-type net game and "big" serve. The score was 6-2, 6-0.

Archer Matt Cornacchione also found the going a little rough. Playing Rich Dobler, Cornacchione ran into another of Peru's unsung, but nonetheless terrific netman. Dobler, also six feet and, like Bradley, a starter on the Tiger basketball squad, used his height to his advantage. Setting himself at the net, Dobler used his long reach and giant stride to become literally impassable. The final was 6-1, 6-0.

South showed up for the doubles, but little else. Purdy and Lantz, once again playing the first match played Bradley-Rasser team and were soundly thumped 6-0, 6-0. The number two doubles match sent Dennis Laue, a freshman, and Bill Hanke, sophomore, of South against Eikenberry and Dan Reed. The inexperienced Kellys were little match for the smooth working Tiger duo, but gained much-needed, valuable experience. They lost 6-0, 6-0.

Boy Riflers To Practice

Boys' Rifle Club members meet Monday at 3:30 p.m. on the rifle range to practice shooting positions.

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

FREE! EVERY WEEK... AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds... register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS

Gardner's... DOWNTOWN
Gardner's... by the COLISEUM

...for the original... the best
...the one and only
GARDNER HAMBURGER

WIN THIS RADIO!

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

SANDLER OF BOSTON'S CIRCE... the spellbinding skimmer! Slip it on, you'll think your foot has taken wing. From nothing heel to new fingertip toe, it's enchantingly you! As seen in Ingenue.

White, Black, Red
$8.95

Tracksters To Battle In North Relays, Muncie Meet

Redskins Loom As Favorites; Archers To Face Seven Teams

Saturday is the ninth running of the North Side Relays. With the advent of this meet, some of the best teams and individual track competitors in the state will face off on the cinders.

Probably the greatest team prowess in the relay meet will be held by the three big teams, Lima Senior, South Side, and North Side. According to North's towering defeat over the Archers last week, the Northerners seem to be the strongest.

Lima Senior of Lima, O., is always strong and should be tough again this year. One of the most outstanding boys they will bring and probably one of the best in overall ability is 6 feet 2 inch senior Larry Barrington.

Barrington was an all-Ohio football player, occupied a lead position on Lima's state finalist basketball team, and is good in practically every event in track, besides being a top student. He is one of three lettermen back from last year's squad and will probably clear over 100 feet in the pole vault here Friday. He can also broad jump as he went 21 feet 10 inches as a junior and he can run the hundred about 10.1 seconds.

LIMA WILL NOT USE Barrington in the broad jump however, as they have two boys who have been better than 20 feet consistently this season. Being strong in the field events, Lima can also boast a 52-foot shot putter in the person of Rufus Brassell; he also runs the highs in 15.5 seconds.

Roy Johnson, their number one hurdler, runs the high sticks in 15.2 seconds. The other running events are weak but do place a 53 second quarter man and fair relay teams on the cinders. Due to bad weather and the state basketball finals, Lima has had only about two weeks of practice and participated in two dual meets.

Senior Tom Frazell Runs Quarter Mile For Varsity Squad

Adding a great deal of experience to the varsity track team this year is Tom Frazell, senior A. Tom is the best quarter-mile on the Green team this year, and he is proving to be one of the best in the city.

Tom's success as a track man may be due to his many years of practice. At Harrison Hill he ran track during the seventh and eighth grades. Then he came to South as a freshman and proved to be a very good prospect. Tom has now completed four years of football and is now in his fourth year of track. This is his third year as a varsity runner.

Tom already has chalked up a very good time of 52.1 seconds for the quarter-mile event for this early in the season. His best time last year was a very good 50.8. Besides the 440, Tom was on the State mile relay team last year.

He thinks the track team is very good this year and predicted that South will win both the Sectional and Regional tourneys again. Tom has decided to attend college at Purdue University next fall where he plans to participate on the track team.

Real Estate & Insurance

Robert H. Carto & Associates

3414 South Calhoun Street

H-8916 K-4909

3717 S. Clinton St.

CRESTWOOD

another outstanding community by Shirmeyer

Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northcrest Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.

8 MODEL HOMES OPEN DAILY IN CRESTWOOD

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

It was a shame that last Saturday's weather wasn't nicer so that the triangular at North couldn't have been run in greater comfort; but the citizens of Fort Wayne did, nevertheless, get a fair inkling of some low-flying to come. Bandemer's 10.0 century was aided by the wind; but it was clearly evident that he holds a fine edge over Yoder of North in the dash, and probably over the rest of the sprinters in the area. His 23.0 in the furlong was a work of beauty, unaided by the wind.

Bob Lohman's good showing in the 100 and excellent job on the anchor-leg of the 880 relay, despite his lack of conditioning, mark him as a fine dash prospect for South later in the season.

The excellent times in the hurdles are at least partially attributable to the brisk tail wind; but Hubbard of Central already owned a time of 15.1 in the highs and a 20.8 in the lows, nearly equal to the 15.0 and the 20.0 clocked Saturday.

South's only winner besides Bandemer and the mile relay crew was 440-man Tom Frazell, who lasted just long enough to squeeze out Haight and Pool of North in a respectable 52.1. Tom also ran the third lap of the mile relay, overcoming South's deficit to give anchor-man Bandemer a lead to work on in his leg.

Overall, Archer running showed up well; and if the 880 squad had not been disqualified, the Green would have finished scant points behind the Red. In the field events the Bowmen failed to take a first, three ribbons going to the Redskins. Probst's 5-9 high jump missed first by just an inch, but elsewhere the Bowmen failed to come close.

The final score, 79 1/2-42 1/2-30 seems a lot more decisive than the meet actually was, since South copped four firsts in running events, North three, and Central two.

The golf and tennis teams have begun competition, the linksmen just having been determined last Saturday. As yet, the clay-courtiers are having difficulties, as they have lost decisively to Penn and Marion. With a long schedule ahead, however, they appear to have a bright future.

Coach Hoover's golf squad, now consisting of eight men, is led by Junior Jim Mann, the only returner from last season's crew. They move into action tonight at a triangular meet with Kendallville and tough city competitor Elmhurst at Brookwood Golf Course. Elmhurst, one of the toughest foursomes in the state last season, figures to be nearly tops again this year with veterans returning and new faces doing well.

As for next week's North Side Relays, the picture shouldn't change substantially from the outcome of Saturday's triangular. The other city schools won't present much competition for the "big three" who participated last week. Culver doesn't appear to have much chance to come up with any winners, but Lima always comes through with some good relay crews and may challenge the powerful Archer and Redskin baton passers.

North is the defending champion, the last relays being run in 1960. Last year's mighty Bowbender aggregation didn't have a chance to claim the title since the relays were washed out altogether. South hasn't participated since 1959.

Isaac Knapp Society To Give Scholarship To Dental Assistants

The Isaac Knapp District Dental Assistants Society is offering a scholarship award for the local Dental Assistants' Course to senior girls who may be interested in becoming a dental assistant, but cannot afford to do so on her own.

The 36-week course meets two evenings per week from 7 until 9 p.m., beginning in September in rooms provided by the Fort Wayne Community Schools. Only 20 students will be accepted; applications should be made in the spring or early summer.

The course has been prepared by a committee of three dentists. The textbook used is the "Dental Assistant" by Dr. John C. Brauer, head of the School of Dentistry at the University of North Carolina.

The cost of the training is covered in the $75 registration fee. This fee includes instruction, textbook, necessary consumable supplies, films, and supplementary materials.

Applicants are required to make an acceptable score on a general abilities test. A high school graduation or equivalent experience is also required. The duties of the Dental Assistant involves standing for lengthy periods, and those persons having physical handicaps are discouraged from entering the school. A personal interview with a member of the Dentist's committee determines the final selection of class personnel.

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See JASPER Engine & Transmission Exchange

3504 S. Calhoun H-1221

Ed Parrish Servicer

Automotive Specialists

H-5307 Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

'Bearcat' Squad To Display Skill In Field Events

South Side's cindermen travel to Muncie, Ind., Tuesday to face a strong Muncie Central Bearcat track squad in a tuneup for their big outing Saturday at Delphi. Coach eGrand's tracksters haven't competed with Muncie since April 11, 1960, when Muncie far out-classed the Archers by a convincing 78 2/3-30 1/3 score. Last season the meet was postponed due to the weather.

At this writing the Bearcats have participated in only one meet, a close 54 2/3-54 1/3 victory over Anderson. So undoubtedly the Archers who have already competed in six prep meets, should have somewhat of an edge, but the Bearcats who posted some pretty fair times and distances against Anderson's Indians will nevertheless provide some keen competition for South.

Coach Mel Wilson's top hurdler Bob Oigman was a double winner in the hurdle races with fine first-merit time of 15.7 for the highs and 21.2 for the low sticks. Archer hurdler Jon vanOosten has times slightly better than Oigman's and the two trackmen should give the onlookers quite an interesting battle.

IN THE SPRINTS, the Bearcats have fairly good strength and South's ace sprinter Karl Bandemer will again have to turn in his usual performance for a double victory. Bearcat sprinter Lenard Gross placed second to Anderson's Gorce in the previously mentioned meet, the winning time being a mediocre 10.5, one-half second shy of Bandy's best recorded in last week's North-Central triangular.

However, Gross who copped the furlong against Anderson in a fine opening meet time of 22.8 will give Bandy a rugged race in view of the fact that Bandemer's best clocking for the event this season is 23 flat.

South will also find Muncie's distance men trouble, although the Archers should find themselves capable of keeping pace with the Bearcats. Bearcat miler Dan Merremman finished third in the Anderson meet in a race won in a Ken 4:46.2 clocking.

South's Ken Ellingwood, who has posted a far better 4:38 time promises to be the favorite while Merremman should give him a good battle as well as South's other miler Steve Myers whose best this season is 4:45.

MUNCIE WILL PROBABLY claim a victory in the half unless South's top 880 man Evert Mol is able to whittle his best of 2:06 down to about 2:02 or 2:03. H.C. Cross of Central finished second to Anderson's Beazley in a tremendously fast 1:59.1 clocking, which is one of the state's fastest times recorded thus far.

South's Tom Frazell, whose quick easy stride enabled him to post the state's top time in the 440 last week against North and Central should find Muncie's quarter milers Jim Parkman and Howard little trouble but they might force "Fraz" to a better time. Tom Shine will probably cop a second or third for South.

The field events might be South's "season downfall," as the Bearcats this season have good depth in the field and will probably heavily out-score the Archers.

In the Anderson meet Central took a clear sweep of the broad jump Jim Boyce copping the event with a 20-7 vault. Boyce also is Muncie's top pole vaulter winning in the Anderson meet with a 12-7 vault. Previously, he reached the 12 foot level indoors.

CENTRAL DOESN'T have excessive depth in the vault and South's John Weaver might very well cop a second or third in the meet. In the shot put Charles Brady is a 46-9 putter thus far and receives assistance from teammate John Hartley.

Archer Sid Sherry has already had a 46-foot plus heave this season and might easily place well in the competition. High-jumper Gary Probst appears to be a fairly sure bet to cop his event as the Bearcats to date have their best jump under the 5-6, whereas Probst has skinned the 5-9 level twice this season, and nearly made the 5-10 mark in the North-Central triangular.

South appears to have the best mile relay foursome while Muncie appears to have the winning half-mile relay crew. Coach Gernand might shift his relay personal again in order to cop both relays. He might run his quartet of Shine, Mol, Frazell, and Bandemer but might very well switch Bandy to the half-mile relay.

Designers To Meet

The Designers' Associated Club will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120 for its regular business meeting and a discussion of a project to supplement their work in the Fisher Body Contest.

COOLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102

4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364

Fort Wayne, Indiana

South's Tennis Team To Meet Bluffton, Concordia In Matches

Although weakened by the loss of their big star last season, Bob Purkiser, the Bluffton Tigers will, nonetheless, be plenty rugged and should supply the Archer racketeers with all the opposition they can use when these two teams square away at Lafayette Playground on Monday at 4 p.m.

The first three positions are fairly well determined, but insufficient data has prevented any conjectures as to the four and five men.

In the number one slot for the Tigers will be Mike Flowers, a senior. A big, well-coordinated athlete, Flowers possesses a great deal of court knowledge to go along with his tough service making him almost unbeatable on one of his hot days.

The second singles man will be Randy Edington. Edington, also a senior, has terrific speed coupled with a strange slice which he puts on the ball. This combination causes plenty of sweat on the side of the opponents.

The number three Tiger is Steve Hart, another senior. Hart, a skinny six-footer uses his long reach to its best advantage when he frequently rushes the net for slams and quick volleys. Unfortunately, like the preceding two, Hart is rather streaky and given to fits of depression when the going gets rough.

Much to the dismay of several of the Archers, Senior Mike Tewell chose not to go out for tennis this season in pursuit of academic excellence. Tewell, the Bluffton "court jester" pulled many big upsets last year while, at the same time, hamming it up quite a bit.

While not as tough perhaps as some of the Purkiser-led Tiger teams of the past, they are sure to be in top notch physical condition and in high spirits when their coach, Robert Hurler, leads them against the Archers.

South To Face Concordia Boasting an all veteran team, the Concordia Cadets should prove plenty tough to handle when they square off against the Archer netmen tonight at Lafayette Playground. Coach Don Reinking has almost the same team with which he captured the City Series crown last season. The only member missing is Gary Novak, now attending Western Michigan University.

In the number one position will probably be Junior Dave Weidenhofer. An incredibly well-conditioned athlete, Weidenhofer blends terrific stamina with a wealth of natural ability to overcome many foes.

THE NUMBER TWO performer will be Duke Dow. A steady performer

GAA Members Play In Softball Contests

The softball season began in GAA on March 19 when teams and captains were chosen. Team captains are Jackie Kessler, Team 3; Pat Abbott, Team 1; Dodie Kessler, Team 2; and Beth Randall, Team 4.

Jackie Kessler's team defeated Beth Randall's team, 5-2, and Pat Abbott's team bowed to Dodie Kessler's team, 4-3.

MEMBERS MAKING home runs during the game were Judy Zimmers, Margie Hubbard, Jane Hahn, Janet Hicks, Jackie Kessler, Beth Randall, Cynthia Russell, Cheri Davis, Mary Marker, Pat Abbott, Jenny Slater, Dodie Kessler, Virginia Kachiameris, and Claudia Herschberger.

The umpires for this game were Marsha Good, Shirley Listenberger, and Judy Koop. Mrs. Alice Keegan, GAA sponsor, kept score.

Team 1 defeated Team 3, 11-1; and Team 2 won victoriously over Team 4, 5-3, in GAA softball games on March 26.

GIRLS WHO MADE home runs are Sue Eversman, Toni Sorensen, Judy Koop, Pat Abbott, Cheri Davis, Jeanne Hoelle, Joleen Crumrine, Loretta Kinmel, Jane Hahn, Sharon Karst, Jenny Slater, Janice Robson, Dodie Kessler, Mary Ann Waldrup, Beth Randall, Kaye Symonds, Nan Wallace, and Sherry Powell.

Mrs. Alice Keegan kept the score, while Jan Spuller, Shirley Listenberger, Pat Abbott, and Mary Marker umpired.

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick Camera Shop

407 West Washington

Phone A-9119

COOL GNIMOC NOOS

EHT TSEB e52

REGRUBMAH UOY

REVE TIB OTNI!

S'XOF ECI MAERC

8083 HTUOS NUOHLAC

ENOHP 3915-H

The "Council Shop"

DOWNTOWN & NORTHCREST

New for Spring

COUNCIL SHOP

BLACK

The "Council Shops" both Downtown and Northcrest have wide selections of smartly styled SUITS for Spring. Favored this season are fashionable Blacks. Select yours in either year 'round weight fabrics or Summer-weight All Wool Worsteds . . . Downtown and Northcrest.

Year 'round Worsteds $45.95

Summerweight Worsteds $39.95

Other suits $29.95 to $59.95

Patterson Fletcher

Science Courses Help Pupils Gain Understanding Of World

"SCIENCE IS BUT THE STATEMENT OF TRUTH FOUND OUT" . . . And this truth is being taught in each of the five science sections—botany, chemistry, biology, physics, and physical geography. The picture on the far left shows Botanists left to right Sally Mallough, Ruth Sprunger, Cindy Jackson, and Nancy Bowman on a field trip. The next picture views Bill Borgmann working on a chemistry experiment. In the third picture Biologists left to right Dick Astrom, Valentina Hara-bosky, Mary Sherlock, Jim Mittelstadt, and Jim Easton measures the amount of radiation on a rat. In the following photo, Physicist Mike Levy repairs the tim-

ing system of a navy clock. In the last picture physical geography students left to right Judy Davis, Jan McClain, and Ed Sanborn use instruments and cloud shapes to determine the weather as Mr. Jerry Fetters, instructor, watches.—Photo by Jones

Teaching a basic knowledge of a specific science, the aim of the Science Department is to help the student gain a better understanding of the world around him, better study habits, and a clear concept of science.

Biology, botany, chemistry, general science, physical geography, and physics are the six subjects taught by the Science Department. Mr. Richard Bussard, Mr. George Davis, Mr. Jerry Fetters, Mr. Max Hawk, Mr. Richard Ober, Mr. Nicholas Pipino, Mr. Robert Weber, and Mr. Dorcas Yoder are the instructors.

Approximately nine hundred students are now studying under the guidance of these eight teachers. Every student must have at least one year of a certain science or two credits in one type of science to graduate.

Having been established in 1801, biology is now an accepted branch of science. The biology implies exactly what it means, that it deals with two subjects, plant life and animal life. As it is taught to two hundred freshmen and sophomores by Mr. Ober, Mr. Pipino, and Mr. Yoder, the purpose of biology is to acquaint the student with an introduction and the basic fundamentals of general plant life, or botany, and general animal life, or zoology.

THE TIME NECESSARY for study is about thirty minutes a night, four nights a week. This does not include the time needed for review of the material for tests.

The methods used to present biology to the student include class discussion, lectures, and laboratory. The student also may do reading and projects aside from classroom work.

Biology is taught as a two-semester course with the study of plants occupying the first semester; and animal study, the second.

"At South, botany is taught as primarily an eleventh grade laboratory science. It, along with physics and chemistry, is taught on the college preparatory level and is one of the three science offerings applicable on the college preparatory curriculum," stated Mr. Weber, botany instructor.

Botany is offered as a two-semester, cursory investigation of general plant life.

THE STUDIES OF the course in the textbook include an introduction to

'Munching Morty,' 'Artful Art' Impede Custodial Services

One sees many things and many people's habits around South Side. Down the hall is Artful Art; he is forever doodling on the walls.

When one finds telephone numbers and names on the walls, he can be sure Art was there. He doesn't care who has to clean it up, just as long as there is a clean place for him to doodle on the next time.

TRAILING RIGHT behind him is Blotting Lydia. She is forever using a kleenex to blot her lipstick and then throwing it down for someone else to pick up. If it weren't for Neatful Letty, the whole school would be drowned in kleenex.

Here comes Munching Morty. Everytime one sees him, he is eating an apple. He believes in the saying, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." One knows when Morty has been around, there are apple cores lying all around.

He has a co-worker with him. His name is Sloppy Joe. He's not really sloppy; it's just that he is careless at lunchtime. Instead of throwing his paper away, it is inevitably found all over the cafeteria floor.

IT SEEMS HIS friends at the next table start throwing paper at him, causing a fight which ends with mounds of paper on the floor.

These four types of people make it very difficult for custodians to clean a school of great size. Of course, for every person with bad habits, there is one with good habits.

botany; the plant cell; food relations in plants such as photosynthesis, respiration, digestion, and assimilation; plant structure—morphology and anatomy; water relations;

The soil; natural cycles; growth and movement; vegetative reproduction; sexual reproduction; flowers, fruits, and seeds, ecological relations; genetics; evolution mechanics; plant classification and a special study of certain members of the plant kingdom.

In addition to the textbook matter, a small amount of field identification study and outside reading is done as a background aid to class discussion.

"An average of one hour a night for homework must be done for the student to apply himself effectively," continued Mr. Weber.

"This student will not only gain a wealth of factual botany information, but will leave with a much clearer concept of science as an attitude of approach in life."

"HE WILL HAVE gone much further toward understanding the intricacies of structure and function in life, as such, because comparisons are often made between plant structures and meiotic function, and those with animals. The botany student will come to realize his organic nature more than he ever has before.

"Many pleasant hobbies can grow from the learning in the botany course—gardening, microscopy, plant photography, collections of leaves or seeds, and experimental growth study," concluded Mr. Weber.

Techniques of presentation employed are, primarily, lectures and class discussions. For visual effects the uses of demonstrations of experi-

Art Club To Tour Lincoln Life, To Study Paintings, Furnishings

Art Club members will take a field trip to the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company of Fort Wayne on Wednesday at 4 p.m. Mrs. Jean Horton of the personnel department will conduct the Kellys on a 60-minute tour of the building.

The members of the Art Club will be shown every floor of the home building, from the executive offices on the top floor to the cafeteria and dining room in the sub-level.

SPECIAL ATTENTION will be given to the Lincoln museum on the first floor and also to the glass-encased rooms containing the electronic computers.

While touring the building, the Kellys will study the harmony of the decor, which is achieved through the various color combinations of the furnishings and settings. Paintings, rugs, wallpaper, lamps, and vases all blend together in their color harmony.

Nineteen of the pictures are by the following artists: Homer Davisson, Russel Oettel, Noel Dusendachon, Forrest Stark, John Ross, Louis Bon-sib, Ernest Feine, and Ruth Gibson.

IN COMMENTING ON the trip, Louise Jackson, president of the Art

Y-Teens To Meet

The next meeting of the Y-Teens Club will convene in Room 112 at 3:30 p.m. today. At this meeting members will decide whether to continue with the club or to disband. This is a very important meeting and all members are urged to attend.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

COLONIAL
Restaurant
E-2000

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street

H-1171

I & M Hi-Quiz

SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
Tournament Round
Elmhurst vs. C.C.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Maloley Brothers

Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Calling all students . . .

time to order your

BABER CLASS RINGS

Phone
A-7306 . . . E-4197

BABER'S

Berry at Calhoun

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"

Phone E-0455 1723 South Anthony

Lowrey Organs

Kimball Pianos

Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

Hall's Drive-Ins

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems. No obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your job!

*Part of a complete unit. May we be of service?

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Brenda Arnold Works In Lab As Hospital Technical Helper

HOMO SAPIEN HEMATOLOGIST . . . As a technical aide in the Lutheran Hospital, Brenda Arnold, post graduate, has concentrated her work on hematology, the study of blood and blood-forming organs. Her main jobs include removing patients' blood and taking blood counts.—Photo by Lowden

Brenda Arnold, post graduate, is working as a technical aide in the laboratory at Lutheran Hospital. A technical aide is trained on the job to perform technical procedures. They have little or no background knowledge of this work.

Brenda has always been fascinated with the atmosphere of a hospital. Biology and chemistry, the major basis of medical technology, have been her favorite subjects in high school. She was a nurse at Parkview Hospital for two years.

As a technical aide, she assists the medical technologists by performing the technical procedures and tests in the lab. So far, Brenda has been trained to perform urinalysis. Doing EKG's, or electrocardiographs, are also a part of her work.

FRENDLY WORK in hematology, the study of blood and blood-forming organs, consists primarily of drawing the patient's blood, and making a blood count. Aides also answer the

Vocabularies Prove Important To Pupils In Composition, Life

From "aardvark" to "zymurgy", there are thousands of words which make up the English language. Since earliest times the means of communication has been speaking. Everyday one comes into contact with many people; and therefore, a good vocabulary is of greatest importance.

A wide vocabulary is important not only to students in writing themes and term papers, reading essays and stories, and understanding foreign languages; but to people in many professions.

OF COURSE ANYONE who does any writing such as newspapermen, poets, and authors, make the greatest use of a varied vocabulary. People whose profession depends on their speaking, such as ministers, teachers, and interpreters in foreign countries, must be able to make good use of words.

Businessmen need it in their everyday contacts with people in contracting business deals. Also, in specialized fields such as medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and various fields of science in which Latin abbreviations are used, the men and women must first have a clear understanding of the English language before trying to interpret a foreign one.

Often a person's success, no matter in what he is engaged, depends on his ability to express himself and communicate with others.

MANY WAYS HAVE been developed to aid people in building a better vocabulary. Vocabulary cards can be purchased which will be of great aid in this procedure. Local newspapers even carry daily articles giving one word to add to a person's vocabulary. If this is carried out a person can add 365 words to his vocabulary per year. Likewise on a daily basis one can go through the dictionary choosing words to learn.

In today's schools a greater effort is being made to extend the student's vocabulary in English classes and even developmental reading classes. Therefore, with all these methods of vocabulary building, there is no excuse for the poor vocabulary evident in most Americans.

Local Realtor Aids Pupils By Kibbourne Scholarships

The Kibbourne Scholarships, provided by Mr. Edgar H. Kibbourne, local realtor, are being offered to high school seniors who will graduate from any of the Fort Wayne Public Schools. The requirements for eligibility are that the student must have good grades, an active membership in a church, and a need for aid.

Applications may be obtained in the general office. No set amount of aid is given by the scholarship; it is given according to the extent of the person's need.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
R-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Last-Minute Visitors Find Beauty Parlor, Weariness In South

Amusement, astonishment, perplexity, enragement, dumb-foundedness—the reactions of a stranger who visits Kellyland during the last five minutes before the 3:20 p.m. bell would be as variable as the waves in the ocean.

During the seventh hour, students, realizing that their school day is drawing to a close, become especially fidgety. In the last few minutes of the period, girls begin to reach for their purses to get out their lipstick and comb. Boys search through their pockets for their car keys.

As books close, pencils drop, paper rustles, feet move, and intense whispering begins, interest in the lesson wanes. Trying to discern how many minutes remain, students plague their neighbors wearing watches with "What time is it?" In the midst of all this, the poor teacher is trying to explain his lesson.

At the same time in the study hall, noise reaches its peak. All but a few industrious pupils quit their work, putting their paper away. Books are closed and piled neatly on each desk. Weary heads usually rest on the stacks. The silence which has slowly rolled in is instantly shattered by the bell. A stampede forms toward the locker room. Any visitor would be forced to take cover in a corner or on a desk. In a matter of seconds, only a few students remain.

By this time, other classrooms are void of students. At the end of his visit, the stranger might wonder at the teenager's fast moving world and at the teacher's patience. He could also express the hope that the students are usually more attentive and well-behaved. At any rate, what he saw can serve as an example of foolishness to each student.

KYC Lists Schedule For Last Meetings

Sharon Chase, president of Know-Your-City Club, recently announced the club's spring plans. During the first part of May the club will take a field trip to either Saint Francis College or Concordia Senior College.

Later in May, a representative of Taylor University will speak at a meeting and give the Know-Your-City Club members information on college opportunities and advancements.

On May 16 the club will have nominations for future officers. The election of officers will take place at the club's annual spring picnic May 29. Committees consisting of entertainment, food and refreshment, and clean-up will be selected at future meetings.

The present officers of Know-Your-City Club are Sharon Chase, president; Ann Chenoweth, vice-president; Judy MacGiehan, secretary; and Bonnie Byers, treasurer.

Mr. Richard Block, social studies teacher, is the sponsor.

Co-operative Education Merges Academic, Practical Experience

Among the problems facing high school graduates today are the problems of financing a college education and being able to choose the right vocation. Both must be considered carefully before a definite decision is made. One wrong decision can take years to correct.

In 1906 a new idea was presented. A young boy who is now a professor started working at the age of 15 and continued to do so, alternately with his education. When discovering that this was a successful plan, he, as a professor, tried it on his students. This was the birth of co-operative education, which is simply a plan of alternating a set number of months of academic study with a like period of experience in business.

When a student follows this program, a regular schedule is customary. An instructor teaches a course for a set period to one class. When this period is completed, jobs are found for each student according to his interest or ability. During the time the student is working, he customarily keeps in contact with his co-operative college.

THIS MAY BE DONE through a visit with the faculty adviser from the college. From his working experience, which is alternated with his academic education, a student may discover that a particular job isn't suited to him.

Thus, changes in courses or in vocations may be made for the next period for working. When his specified period for working is completed, each student returns and continues his academic studies while other students are sent to acquire similar experiences.

The advantages of this plan are being discovered by many students today. They are finding that a co-operative education gives a student a chance for maturity not only in the academic world but also in the business world.

THIS PLAN ALSO provides for a student's gradual acquaintance with the problems of a job. If a particular vocation has been chosen by a student, this plan offers him an opportunity to change to a more suitable job before it is too late.

A student is not only receiving the advantage of several years of on-the-job experience, but he is also adding to his finances. With this extra income, one may earn enough to be a self-supporting student. If the extra income is saved, one may get a good start in the business world on his own.

It may be said that a co-operative education practically guarantees a head start in the business world; for special demands are being made for co-op students.

Present-Day Instruction Plans To Apply Teaching Machines

New trends in today's teaching range from the pigtail set to the crew-cut crowd. Now, in kindergarten through third grade, a single unit plan is growing in favor. With such a plan the youngsters are grouped on the basis of age, physical development, social maturity, reading and arithmetic skills, or a combination of these factors.

The children pass through a series of "levels" until the course is completed. The average time required to cover the work from kindergarten to third grade is four years; for the slower student, five years is common. With this plan a student does not have the grim prospect of failing a grade if he is somewhat slower than many of his classmates.

Team teaching is now being tried in several schools in Alabama and Kentucky. In New York, schools can borrow funds from the state to build fall-out shelters. Other schools are stepping up their disaster drills and laying more stress on continuous teaching of civil defense principles.

THE MOST DRAMATIC new teaching method, television, began this fall in many Midwestern schools. Instructions from an airplane were started in Indiana and are said to be the greatest thing since "McGuffey's Reader."

More than one hundred ninety-six million dollars has been used to improve the teaching of math and language in the past three fiscal years. In foreign language, electronic language laboratories which include booths with recording and play-back equipment now number about three thousand. In Hawaii 75 per cent of the schools are equipped with language laboratories. Enrollment in math and science courses has increased greatly since the many improvements have been installed.

Courses on Communism are now being taught in Florida and in Dallas, Tex., where the schools are required to offer instructions about political movements.

Teaching machines, notebooks, and books, set up so that the student can learn by himself, are now experimental. A team might consist of four teachers sharing about four thousand square feet of classroom space and one hundred fifteen children. In the team, one teacher might be a specialist in math and science, another in language, a third in social studies, and a fourth in creative arts. One teacher would be the leader with responsibility for the overall program.

School designs are also changing with the trends. Buildings are now being built without windows and with air-conditioning. Having no windows reduces outside noise, cuts heating and building costs, prevents smashing of school windows, and can more easily be adapted to fall-out shelters.

ANOTHER POPULAR trend in school building is a "school within a school." This is a building with separate wings for grades ten, 11, and 12. In order to cut down congestion and impersonality, each wing has its own principal, guidance director, and clerical staff. In the campus-type school, there are separate buildings for the various courses just as on a college campus.

Civil defense planners are looking to the use of underground schools which can be adapted as shelters. Schools are now being built with their own shelters and plans are being made in other schools to take the students. Improved methods of teaching English, literature, and composition are being tested in Midland, Tex. Supplementary English instruction was used in Washington and is now in popular use all over the country.

Those are the highlights of new school and teaching plans today. An overall feeling of challenge seems to be taking place in many sections of the country.

Pupils Plan Sleep, Studies To Occupy Twenty-Fifth Hour

In the late, late hours when the hands of the clock are rapidly drawing closer to midnight, students often wish that they had just one extra hour to do whatever they please. Students have answered the question, "If there were 25 hours in a day, what would you do with the extra hour?"

Logan Smith: I would finish what I had been doing when the twenty-fourth hour ended.

Ann Arnold: Use the extra hour praying; to pass the mid-terms for which I had studied 24 hours.

Mike Carter: I'd do what I haven't done for months now—sleep!

Sharon Chase: I'd look for a date to the Junior Prom.

Jan Reynolds: Save it, so I'd have seven extra hours over the week end.

Steve Petty: Live it up!!!

Nan Wallace: Be with someone I like a lot.

Nina Derkach: Listen to Ernie Ford records.

Fran Hudlow: Study.

Nanci O'Connell: Eat.

Carol Harader: Read a good book.

Marlene Ringenberg: There are a lot of things that could be done, but after thinking it over, I guess I would just waste it.

Louise Jackson: S-L-E-E-P!!!

Easter Lily, Dogwood Blossom Symbolize Reverence, Honor

A true symbol of the reverence of Easter is the sight of a lily waving in the breeze, for white lilies are regarded all over the world as symbols of purity and innocence.

Many years ago Christians adopted this flower as the sign of the Resurrection and Easter because of its purity. The angel Gabriel has been pictured by many artists as descending from Heaven to the virgin Mary with a spray of lilies in his hand to announce the coming of the Christ Child.

When attending Easter Sunday services, women throughout Christendom wear white lilies. Easter dinner tables and church altars are graced by the presence of these flowers, and gardens in summer convey a special meaning to the passers-by if they see the lilies blossoming.

PRACTICES OF gathering the branches of the mountain ash on Good Friday and putting them on the door posts as a protection against evil are very widespread. The tree is especially credited with powers against witches, the plague, and snake bite, for the serpent of Evil is conquered by the sacred tree.

God's Friday or Great Friday is very rich in folk and flower customs. In northwestern Europe these customs are particularly associated with the mountain ash tree; and it is possible that this goes back to the Norse mythology of Yggdrasil, the fabulous ash tree at the center of the world.

International Motor Trucks
Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories
International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Established 1876
KLA EHN FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

7up

"Fresh up"

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East

NO. 2 California Road

NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison

SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!

12B Jack Seigel Plays Piano, Violin, Baritone For Relaxation

Jack Seigel, 12B, is one of the outstanding musicians at South Side. Jack is an accomplished player of the violin, piano, and baritone. He devotes a great deal of his school time and his free time in developing his musical talent. Jack has been in South's band and orchestra for three-and-a-half years.

Jack Seigel

Jack began taking violin lessons five years ago from a Fort Wayne teacher, although he had experimented in playing the violin at home for quite some time before taking actual lessons. He is fascinated with the violin as a musical instrument, and practices diligently at home every evening.

He has won gold medals for the past two years in the local NISBOVA contests and also won a gold medal for his violin playing in the state contest this year in Indianapolis.

IN ADDITION TO the violin, Jack has been playing the piano for over seven years. He takes lessons regularly from a local piano teacher and Mr.

Hugo Gottsman, concert master of the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Also, Jack won gold medals for piano work in the state contest this year, and in the NISBOVA this year and last year. Jack has found the piano to be his favorite instrument. When he is playing, it is easy to lose all ideas of worry or discouragement.

Likewise, Jack has been taking baritone lessons for the past five years. His work in the South Side Music Department has greatly helped him to develop this talent. He feels the baritone is different and challenging to play.

Jack is now taking English 7, Special Mathematics 6, Chemistry 1, Government 1, band, and orchestra. Jack is also music president of Honorary Arts and a member of the math and physics sections of the Junior Academy of Science. He is especially interested in the fields of science and mathematics.

Recently Jack appeared on "Hi-Quiz" representing the junior class. He felt this was a rewarding experience.

Girls' School Offers Foreign Study Plan At Paris University

High school girls looking for a liberal arts education at a reputable women's college should consider Hollins College at Roanoke, Virginia. At Hollins, every girl gains a well-rounded education and learns to accept responsibility, without being deprived of opportunities to join in the extra-curricular activities and social life of the college.

Hollins College offers an educational system that is both flexible and demanding. There are 19 majors, divided into four categories from which each student may choose. They include the humanities, the social studies, natural sciences and mathematics, and the fine arts.

THE COLLEGE ALSO offers many special academic programs for its outstanding students. For instance, approximately 40 sophomores have the opportunity to study at the University of Paris for a year.

The college also offers many activities and facilities for the enjoyment of the student. There is a full athletic program which provides sports such as archery, bowling, golf, riding, and tennis. The college committee plans for bridge tournaments, movies, the freshman dance, and concerts.

The beautiful 400-acre campus of the college has five buildings, among them a large library, the Little Theater, and a gymnasium that includes a swimming pool, playing fields, and tennis courts.

EVERY STUDENT who lives in the dormitory pays a fee of $2,300 a year. Additional fees are for applied music courses, horseback riding, and a student government fee of $30.

The college states its purpose thus: "Through the years, liberal arts education has proved the best preparation for a future not necessarily directed to a single goal. Hollins adds the advantages of a small residential college devoted to quality education for women."

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Marks

CAMERA SHOPS

Phone H-1197

Marks' Motto:

A filing cabinet is a repository where papers are lost alphabetically.

3818 S. Calhoun

Gladioux Men's Wear Says

GET THE BREAKS

in the rich good taste of

GLACON/COTTON WASH & WEAR SPORT COATS

Your appearance gives you the inside track when you wear clothing of Gladioux quality and character. Featherweight for summer comfort. Go the limit in style and good taste, for only

$25

Gladioux Men's Wear

926 S. Calhoun

JIMMY TON

MAN

Archers To Gather High Scores During 'Easter Grade Hunt'

Billy Burgo received the highest score in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class on a mid-semester test.

Marilyn Parke was the only person in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 1 period 6 class to achieve a high grade on her mid-semester test.

Students in Miss Crowe's period 6 group 2 health class who scored high grades on the test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality," are Carol Channell, Malinda Cunningham, Martha Moore, Debbie Munk, Janis Pflueger, Carol Riley, and Judy Miller.

Karen Walker made an excellent poster consisting of a quotation from Horace titled "A Monument More Lasting than Bronze" in Mr. Hellman's Latin 4 period 6 class.

Jon Lyon earned the highest grade in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 1 class on a mid-semester test.

On a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality," in Miss Crowe's period 1 group 1 health class, Carol Emerick, Judy Harden, and Marjann Kubay received the highest scores.

Those receiving high scores on a test over the British Empire, in Mr. Collyer's period 6 General History 2 class are Larry Brown and Dave Banet.

Aileen Booty, Cheryl Brady, Leslie Edwards, Marcia Larson, and Bonnie Post scored the best grades on a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality," in Miss Crowe's period 1 group 2 health class.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 4 period 3 class has been planning meals. They made "Basic Seven" charts and have told what the best meals they eat in one day should include. They are keeping a score chart of what they eat for a week, and soon they will buy, prepare, and serve a meal.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Chapters 23-27 in Mr. Haven's period 1 business problems class are Tom Helton and Barbara Smith.

Receiving the highest grades on the final test over the workbook "About You" in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 6 class are Jo Ellyn Good, Judy Curtis, Nita Quinn, Linda Loomis, and Anthony Rydell.

Ken Davis, Marcia Disler, Diane Hall, Karen McFarland, Linda Moody, Karen Ponder, and Bob Wasson received the highest scores on a mid-semester test in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

On a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality," June Blessing, Sandy Duff, Donna Foulis, Lupe Gomez, Sandy Marsh, Linda Stanger, and Pat Walton earned the highest grades in Miss Crowe's period 3 group 1 health class.

On a test covering "The Scarlet Letter" in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 7 class, Oma Ake and Bob Symonds earned the best scores.

Those receiving high scores on a test over the British Empire in Mr. Collyer's period 2 General History 2 class are Pat Bobay, Richard Gantz, and Jon Lyon.

In the period 3 group 2 health class of Miss Crowe, Alice Fruchtenicht, Suzi Knox, Val Harabosky, Janet Miller, and Candy Greiner earned the highest scores on a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality."

Dick Astron, Elizabeth Richter, Nina Shevchenko, and Gary Stair received high grades on a recent test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 6 class.

Receiving the highest scores on a test over a French story in Miss Smith's French 2 period 7 class are Bob Cushman, Joan Brooks, Anell Hoover, and Helen Martindale.

Mrs. Keegan's gym classes are playing deck tennis and paddle tennis.

Receiving high scores on a test over "America Sings" in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 7 class are Michael Vogt, Carol Channell, Ellen Rice, and Nancy Markin.

Those receiving high scores on a test over the British Empire in Mr. Collyer's period 3 General History 2 class are Steve Laymon, Marlene Ringenberg, Doug Hansen, and Sandy Farmer.

On a literature test in Miss Osborne's English 6 period 3 class, Janet Brenn, Ann McCallister, Lex Smuts, and Margee Terry earned the highest scores.

On the final test over the workbook "About You" in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 1 class, Pat Heiber, Linda Grimme, Sandra Graue, Pam Richardson, Darlene Neireiter, and Darlene Richard were the high scorers.

Terry Usher is doing advance assignments in Miss Graham's English 6 period 6 class.

Mrs. Armstrong's gym classes are working on recreational activities such as deck and paddle tennis, shuffleboard, bowling, badminton, and ping pong.

Scoring high on a test over building better habits, in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 1 group 2 class are Janet Gerig and Rosemary Reidenbach.

Mrs. Sellott's Home Economics 6 period 1 class is having play school for children.

Having finished their work on dramatic interpretations of poetry, the following students have excelled in Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 7 class concerning this work: Dianne Ball, Jackie Kuhns, Ann McCoy, Joyce Politt, Karen Snively, Ruth Sprunger, and Ellen Stanbery.

The top three typists for the last two weeks on 10-minute tests in Mr. Walker's Typing 4 period 3 class are Elizabeth Hosteller, 55.6; Ellen Lowe, 51.5; and Paulette Lontz, 49.7.

Barbara Heinisch scored highest on a test on building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 3 group 2 class.

David Bauserman, John Belling, Ron Bultemeier, Ken Davis, Nancy Robinson, Steve Shambaugh, and Mike Zehender received 100's on a test over factoring taken in Miss Portney's period 3 Algebra 3 class.

Carol Bratt, Sue Burlage, Dottie Dildine, and Pam Foust have earned high grades on material concerning lyrical and narrative poetry in Mr. Cowdrey's English 2 period 3 class.

Students presented recent hour-long book reports in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 6 class are Pat Lee, Dian Lenth, and Sandi Hadley.

Bob Hendrickson is the only student in Mrs. Spray's two developmental reading classes who has made perfect scores on all the vocabulary tests.

Victor Churchward, Janet Diehl, Jerry Klachn, Gary Probst, Karen Walker, and Mike Weinraub received 100's on a test over factoring taken in Miss Portney's period 1 Algebra 3 class.

Ken Lenkey and Sid Sheray received the highest scores on full-length play reports given in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Students in Mr. Berg's period 3 citizenship class who made the highest scores on a recent test are Russell Grose, Sue Nettrout, and Kay Crozier.

Making the highest score on a test over building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 4 group 2 class is Margo Betz.

Receiving the highest grades on Miss Osborne's test covering epics in the English 8 period 1 class, Warren Burns, Richard Fremion, Bill Mueller, and Karen Simmons earned 100 per cent; Mary Keegan and Bill Uhrick, 98.

Dance classes, under the direction of Mrs. Keegan, are learning folk dance steps and arm movements.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS
818 CALHOUN ST.
KOEBERS
818 CALHOUN ST.

Pam Buzzard, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Diane Saalfrank received the highest scores on full-length play reports given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class.

Those scoring highest on a test over building better habits in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 6 group 2 class are Carol Channell, Jane Hetfield, and Sharon LeFever.

Marcia Disler, Diana Hall, Karen McFarland, and Bob Wasson received the highest scores on full-length play reports given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class.

Receiving high scores on a test over motion in Mr. White's period 5 Physics 2 class are Peggy Schmidt, Karen Snively, and Dianne Ball.

Ramona Cornelius, Lynette Downing, and Dianne Gilliam scored highest on a test over building better habits, in Miss Crowe's Health 2 period 7 group 2 class.

In Mr. Motz's period 2 group 1 gym class, Dick Astron scored seven out of ten hits on a volleyball serving test.

Students who made the highest scores on a recent test over elections and political parties in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 1 class are Tom Erb, 99; Tim Grodrian, 92; Betsy Adams, 91; and Jack Seigel, 89.

Making the best outside book report in Miss Smith's English 1 period 5 class about Adolph Hitler is Dan Belschner.

Those receiving high scores on a test over Africa taken in Mr. Collyer's period 4 General History 2 class are Beverly Daugherty, 97; Greg Rozelle, 95; and Richard Goshorn, 97.

In Mr. Motz's period 4 group 1 gym class Mike Rossetol scored seven out of ten hits on a volleyball serving test.

Mr. Drummond's period 2 music appreciation class is studying symphonies composed by Berlioz.

Louis Culbertson, Anita Forber, Jean Morris, and Stuart Schmitz received 100's on a test over factoring taken in Miss Portney's period 7 Algebra 3 class.

Those receiving high scores on a test over Africa, taken in Mr. Collyer's period 3 class, are Doug Hansen, 100; Steve Laymon, 100; Nan Wallace, 90; and Marlene Ringenberg.

Steve Bill, Susan Seigel, and Mary Ann Waldrop made the best scores on a test over loci in Mr. Cramer's Geometry 2 period 6 class.

Students in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 2 class who have maintained high averages for the first half of the semester are Rosie Capps, Sue Gerig, Diane Smith, and Sondra Stouder.

Janice Robson was awarded the classes' highest mark on a recent mid-semester exam in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class.

Lynn Morrill gave a good summarization article on the income tax system in Mr. Wilson's period 5 economic class.

Mr. Walker's Typing 4 period 3 class are typing regular office problems such as form letters, tabulation, centering, proofreading, and detailed letters. Each student does the problem as he thinks it is to be done.

Charles Moore earned the highest grade in Mr. Storey's English 6 period 3 class on a grammar test.

Steve Shambaugh is maintaining the highest average in Mr. Arnold's period 8 sociology class. He also made an excellent report on the life of Warren G. Harding.

Ann Flickinger, Larry Lee, and Diane Saalfrank received the highest scores on a mid-semester test in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Chapters 1-10 in Mr. Haven's period 6 BOM class are Art Kurtz and Tom Marshall.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE?
GET AN EARLY START
ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School
Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government.
Classes start June 18 and end August 12.
Phone A-3171 for more details and a schedule.

Students in Miss Perkins' French 6 period 6 class were dissatisfied with the ending of the novel "Les Oberle," therefore, they wrote another ending of their own in French.

Obtaining high grades on boardwork in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 2 period 7 class are James Cress and Steve Poiry.

Nancy Lagemann received the highest score on a test over advertising in Mr. Kelly's period 2 marketing class.

Students in Miss Ayers' period 1 commercial geography class who scored 90 or above on a recent test are Bill Cartwright, Sheila Eddy, Carolyn Martin, Charles Parker, Henry Persons, and Jon vanOosten.

Obtaining the highest scores on a recent test in Miss Smith's French 4 period 6 class are Ron France, Suzanne Link, and Willodean Wilson.

Nancy A'Horn, Mary Barretta, and Pam Walker received the highest scores on a test over advertising in Mr. Kelly's period 6 marketing class.

June Dominy received the highest score in Mr. Storey's English 6 period 1 class on a grammar test.

In Miss Crowe's period 7 group 2 health class Pam Ensley, Jo Good, Sandra Graue, Sharon Lynch, Darlene Neireiter, Susan Nettrout, Dianne Gilliam, and Judy Preston scored the highest grades on a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality."

Bill Mueller earned a 100 in Miss Young's Math 8 period 3 class on a test over differentiation.

Suzanne Boylan, Sally Byers, Jo Ann Dixon, Pat Hieber, Liz Richter, and Judy Zimmers received the highest grades on the test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality," in Miss Crowe's period 4 group 2 health class.

Making the highest scores on an insect identification test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 7 class are Clark Marquart and Lynn Wilson.

In Miss Crowe's period 8 group 1 health class, Beverly Dougherty, Cheryl Krudop, and Darla LeFeve scored the highest grades on a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality."

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Chapters 1-10 taken in Mr. Haven's period 2 BOM class are Barbara Heinisch, Katie Mishler, and Jim Welty.

Pauline Gomez, Darlene Richard, and Donna Brandenberger scored high grades on their mid-semester tests in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 1 period 3 class.

Those students having good science projects in Mr. White's General Science 2 period 7 class are Linda Gatchell, Jane Hetfield, Dan Saalfrank, and Janet Baner.

Mary Ann Waldrop made the highest score on a test over circles, angles, and arcs in Mr. Cramer's Geometry 2 period 6 class. Others making high scores on the same test are Frank Butcher, Steve Bill, Claryn Birk, John Leonard, Phil New, and Martin Plante.

Travel-Rite Travel Bureau, Inc.
Reservations—
Foreign and Domestic
• Domestic
• Air
• Steamship
• Hotels
• Cruises
NO SERVICE CHARGE
215 E. Washington E-0241

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE?
GET AN EARLY START
ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School
Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government.
Classes start June 18 and end August 12.
Phone A-3171 for more details and a schedule.

Mrs. Keegan's gym classes are learning the basic techniques on the trampoline.

Having a recent test on punctuation in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 3 class, the following students received high grades: Dorothy Dildine, Claudia Herschberger, Mike Lauber, and Steve Myers.

In Mr. White's General Science 2 period 2 class, those students having good science projects are Dick Ahlersmeyer, Cheryl Beard, and John Esslinger.

Barbara Gantz is the only student who scored 100 per cent on a recent test on verbals in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class.

Students who scored 90 or above on a recent test over the Constitution in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 1 class are Tom Erb, Jack Seigel, Tim Grodrian, and Betsy Adams.

The following students received high grades on a recent punctuation test in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 6 class: Denver Bruesedow, Mike Dunn, Bob Hawkins, Joe Koch, Bill LeFeve, Clark Roberts, and Bonnie Tescula.

Receiving high scores on a unit test in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 2 class are Sharon Carrel, Carol Harader, Lissa Hoffman, Jenny Mantb, and Wanda Rippel.

Those who scored the highest grades on a test about mollusks and echinoderms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 3 class are Tim Easton, Ron Everson, Paul Fresse, Dave Munson, and Mary Sherlock.

Students in Miss Graham's English 6 period 6 class have been studying Romantic Era poetry and other writings of that period. Their studies include analysis of the individual styles of William Keats, Lord Byron, and William Wordsworth.

Those who received the highest grades over a quiz about capitalization in Miss Smith's English 1 period 5 class are Steve Clem, Cheryl Johnson, Steve Kratzman, and Don Belschner.

Scoring high grades on a unit test in Miss Perkins' French 4 period 7 class are Debby Decker, Sue Horth, Larry Lee, and Ann Petrie.

Janice Cerveris, Linda Freiberger, Rick Fuller, Albert Soil, Marianne Wickliffe, and Sandra Gentit received high grades on a recent literature test in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 3 class.

Linda Chaney earned the highest grade on a recent test in Mr. Peirce's Economics 1 period 1 class.

Four boys in Mr. Polite's Drafting 4 period 6 class who are doing architectural drafting have finished their first drawings, which involve wall sections and corners. Each one is working on a complete set of house plans. They are Don Sievert, David Peltz, Glen Linsky, and Rick Kabisch.

Receiving high grades on the final test on "David Copperfield" in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 6 class are Margo Betz, Dick Astron, Mark Lowens, and Kerry Miller.

Those who obtained the highest scores on an insect identification test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class are James Mittelstadt and Jim Evans.

Paul Dolde, Pat Dunn, Stuart Schmitz, and Kaye Call made 95 or above on a grammar review test in Mr. Knigge's English 6 period 3 class.

For
• Film Developing
• Film and Flash Bulbs
• Records
• Sheaffer Pens
• Papermate Pens
• Pen Repairing
• Greeting Cards
• Russell Stover Candy
Come to
HOWARD'S
Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

Dianne Aiken, Linda Churchward, Billie Clark, Joy Locke, Christine Reid, Darlene Richard, and Lynn Wilson earned the highest grades on a test over Chapter 19, "Surveying Your Personality," in Miss Crowe's period 4 group 1 health class.

Mr. Jackson's U.S. history pupils are currently studying the advancement of parties and politics in America between 1880 and 1900.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 3 period 2 class who have started intersection and development problems are Dave Zuber, Jim Smith, Merlin Overman, Tom David, Frank Cary, Jerry Blessing, and Ralph Adkisson.

Dan DeWald, Mike Havlin, and Marvin Zimmerman received A's on a weekly news test given in Mr. Collyer's period 5 general history class.

High grades in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 1 group were earned by Bob Cushman and Nina Szweczenko.

Scoring high on a final over "David Copperfield" in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 1 class are Carol Channell, Mike Comer, Sherry Fox, and Pam Richardson.

On a unit test covering eighteenth century literature, Dave Eaton, Anita Kimball, Al Mason, Sue Lohman, Nancy Peterson, and Ann Shilling made grades of 92 or above in Mr. Knigge's English 6 period 6 class.

Gunther Bauer and Darwin Romey are the only students in Mr. Stebing's period 3 driver training class who passed the test for an operator's license.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 1 class who have finished sketching problems and are working on orthographic projection are Dick Ramsey, Bob Miller, Tom McMahon, Steve Hartwig, and Steve Birkenbue.

The girls in Mrs. Keegan's dance classes have selected folk dances to teach to other members of the classes.

Those scoring high on a test on the Argonauts in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 4 period 3 class are LaVonne Custance, Marcia Hughes, Denise Jones, Fran Krandell, Debbie Love, and Sarah Petrie.

Receiving good scores over a vocabulary test in Mrs. Emswiller's English 2 period 3 class are Carol Brooks, Robert Cushman, Marilyn Gerke, Jo Ellyn Good, James Mittelstadt, Rise Procie, and Fred Rothert.

Highest scores on Mr. Peirce's latest quiz in his Sociology 2 period 3 class were earned by Joe Lepley and Elaine Cole.

Obtaining grades of ninety or above on a test about Protozoa and Arthropods in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 3 class are Richard Astron, Tim Easton, Paul Fresse, and Mary Sherlock.

Those who did well on translations from a French story in Miss Smith's French 4 period 6 class are Sandy Ormiston and Ron France.

Ellen Stanberry is maintaining the high average in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 3 class.

Carolyn Scherer, Dave West, and Ellen Stanberry have earned the greatest number of research points in this class.

KOEGEL JEWELERS
Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway
E-7671
This week's Small Snaps is Sydney Schinbeckler.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

PROM TIME?
RENT YOUR FORMAL WEAR
★ WHITE JACKETS ★ BLUE ★ CHARCOAL
TUXEDO TROUSERS — FORMAL ACCESSORIES
SPECIAL RATES FOR STUDENTS
RUSSELL'S TUXEDO RENTAL
215 W. WASHINGTON BLVD.
OPEN EVENINGS TILL 9 — FREE PARKING

Compiling the best epic notebook in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class are Dennis Crill, Frank Lewis, Bill Mueller, Susan Perry, Karen Simmons, and Bill Wilder.

Those who received grades of 100 per cent on a test about mollusks and echinoderms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class are Mike Ball, Valentina Harabosky, and Jim Mittelstadt.

Ann Flickinger, Nancy Robinson, and Steve Shambaugh are maintaining the high averages in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 7 class. Steve Shambaugh and Skevos Pavlou have many research points.

Carol Doehrmann, Patrick Frazier, Monna Heemsoth, and James Knapp earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class on a test covering the literature book unit "The Outer Limit."

Those who obtained the highest grades on a map study of the Persian wars in Mr. Smith's General History 2 period 1 class are Debbie Munk and Judy Preston.

Rick Kneisley, John McMillen, and Nate Norment earned the highest grades in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 1 period 4 class.

Scoring the highest grades on a test about mollusks and echinoderms in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 2 class are Carol Channell, Mike Comer, and Mark Lowens.

Nancy Baron, Loretta Grider, Pam Walker, and Nancy A'Hearn received top scores on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 6 marketing class.

Mr. Stebing's driver training classes are working on turns and signals. The snow and ice gave them good winter driving experience.

Mr. Petter's Physical Geography 2 classes are studying laboratory work involving the study of topographic maps by studying various land forms, such as river made plains, alluvial fans, etc.

Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 classes have completed the workbook "About You" and will have a test covering it.

EASTER GREETINGS

Blessing's Shoe

2818 S. Calhoun
K-2512

Cripe Agency, Inc.

404 Gettle Bldg.
A-1416

Korte Bros., Inc.

335 Murray
K-4941

Harrison Hill Barber Shop

3803 S. Calhoun
K-9519

Fort Wayne Engraving Co.

120 W. Superior
E-0505

Burns Body Shop

308 S. Harrison
E-2413

Klaehn Funeral Home

420 West Wayne
A-0228

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Rd.
S-3146

Mosher Motor Sales

3726 S. Calhoun
H-0467

"The Best for Less"

Jasper Engine & Transmission Exchange

3502 S. Calhoun
K-2606

Cleary, Quinn, & Hicks Real Estate Company

3235 S. Calhoun St. K-6286
Clean—Quality—Homes

Ross Radio

236 West Main
A-2433

Florentine Floral Shoppe

1906 Broadway
A-7487

Davis Beauty Salon

4039 South Wayne Ave.
K-9824

National Mill Supply, Inc.

207 E. Columbia
A-2331

Dur-Enamel

1015 Taylor St.
E-3011

Dale's Drive-In

U.S. 24 West at Covington Road
K-8451

Tom Berry Music Co.

213 West Wayne
E-1947

Plaza Apothecary

3610 Brooklyn
H-2351

Sandpoint Greenhouse, Inc.

2222 Sand Point Road
S-4133

"Everything in Flowers"

Students To Perform Talent Acts In Assembly With Circus Theme

Tom Erb To Portray Ringmaster; Program To Emphasize Singing

Being centered around an outdoor circus, the talent show, to be presented on Tuesday, will begin with all the participants singing and feature Tom Erb as the ringmaster.

Separate acts will be put on by Pat Slater, Virginia Rose, and Bill Kleifgen, and Martha Lanning. Groups consisting of Judy Merrill, Sarah Finch, Diane Fredrick, and Sue Horth, and of Fred Shoen, Mike Carter, Tim Grodrian, Steve McDonald, and Dennis Crill will perform also.

Bruce Baldwin, Paul Cochran, and Steve Jones compose another choral group. Diana Ornas, Martha Dixon, Tonya Hines, and Sharon Bass will also perform.

BARBIE REA, Maria Habecker, and Alice Fruechtenicht will present a dancing act. Ken Davis, Tim Grodrian, and Jack Sanderson; Karen Miller, Ellen Stanbery, Judy Conley, Jack Sanderson, Tim Grodrian, and Dave Brumm will compose two other groups.

Mike Carter and Tim Grodrian are singing in the show; and Brian Bennington, Dave Zimmerman, Tom Thiem, and Dan McCroskey will present another act.

Those with walk-on parts are Bill Borgmann, John Poto, Larry Lee, Frank Lewis, Dave Lipp, Dave Fleming, Annell Hoover, and Dave Tipton.

In charge of presentation are Jane Ladig and Kathy Klas. The writing committee, headed by Sue Horth and Peggy Schmidt, consists of Kay Bradley, Elaine Cole, Ann McCallister, Lissa Hoffman, Bonnie Russell, Sue Phillips, and Nancy Lougheed.

THE STAGEHAND committee, headed by Dave Fleming, consists of Dave Eaton, Dave Tipton, and Al Mason. Stagecraft is led by Jane Ladig, Ellen Stanbery, and assistant Dave Fleming. Under these students, Nancy Robinson, Ann Mol, Patty Bailey, Kitty Fay, Sue Borgmann, Kay Bradley, and Mary Jane Reiff head committees.

Nancy Robinson's group, which is in charge of the panda bear booth, consists of Janet Deihl, Marlene Ringenberg, Virginia Erwin, Ann Ratatz, and Nancy Ormsby.

Carole Ladig, Gail Brumm, Judy Conley, and Annell Hoover, under the direction of Kay Bradley, are in charge of the center ring.

The fortune telling booth is to be taken care of by Ann Mol and Sue Borgmann, committee heads, with Nancy Redding, Barb Nelson, and Sharon McEachern as the committee members.

KITTY FAY is in charge of the target booth with Patty North, B. D. Hartley, Karen Franks, Cheryl Lee, and Mary Beaudway constituting the committee.

Mary Jane Reiff, chairman, with Rhonda Roehm, Harriet Ochstein, Linda Rabitt, and Patty Phelps, are to decorate the hot dog stand.

Another booth committee, headed by Pat Bailey, consists of Sue Moyer, Cynthia Russell, and Betsy Adams.

In the talent show, there will be students portraying clowns, acting as animals in the parade, and selling cotton candy.

THE CIRCUS IS IN TOWN! . . . Three members of the Keys Quartet, left to right, Fred Schoen, Mike Carter, and Tim Grodrian stimulate their vocal chords in a practice session for the annual Assemblies Workshop Talent Show Tuesday, the setting being an outdoor circus.—Photo by Lowden

Hi-Y Selects Math Instructor, Miss Mabel Fortney, Best Girl

Miss Mabel Fortney, mathematics instructor, was named best girl at the annual Hi-Y banquet Monday at the Colonial Restaurant.

Miss Fortney, who has been chosen Hi-Y best girl twice before stated, "I was pleased to be chosen again. I am very flattered that I was chosen."

Miss Fortney belongs to Delta Kappa Gamma, American Association of University Women, and became a member of the Quarter Century Club last year. This club is composed of teachers who have taught at South Side for 25 or more years.

INVITED GUESTS at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, Mrs. Robert Weber, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heiny. Mr. Heiny is the youth director at the YMCA.

Miss Fortney was presented with an orchid corsage and a scroll by Hi-Y President, Tom McMahon. A rosebud corsage was given to each girl attending.

Tonightmaster for the banquet was Terry Newendorp. Ken Davis gave an account of the year's activities which was entitled "Hi-Lights of Hi-Y." "What Hi-Y Means to Me" was the title of the speech presented by Lynn Morrill.

Entertainment was presented by Dick Haupt, local folk singer.

BOB WEISS was general chairman. The ticket committee consisted of Bart Bailey, head; Frank Lewis; and

Miss Mabel Fortney

Dave Tipton; Mark Hagerman; and Bob Wasson.

Fred Schoen and Alan Schlie were in charge of preparing and printing the programs.

Decorations were made by Rick Vanderford, chairman; Steve Bill; Andy Christion; and Dave Fleming. Ken Lowden and Steve McDonald were in charge of publicity.

String Ensemble To Play

The String Ensemble will perform Friday night at 6:30 p.m. in the Chatterbox Room of the Hotel Van Orman for the State Mortgage Bankers' Association.

The members of the ensemble include Kathy DeVore, pianist; Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, and Jack Seigel, violinists; Linda Newell, violist; and Bonnie Smith, cellist.

The ensemble played last Monday at the Hotel Van Orman at a banquet in honor of Ambassador Bourghiba, who is Tunisia's representative to the United Nations and the son of the President of Tunisia.

Pupils To Compete For Art Scholarship

Seniors John Addington, Gary Harold, Susan Martin and Judy Godman, from the classes of Mrs. Ruth Fleck and Mr. Leon Smith, will compete for a scholarship given by the Fort Wayne Art School for the full $215 tuition of one semester.

The students entering the contest must have a "B" or better average with recommendations from two teachers, one preferably an art teacher, and the other the principal or guidance director. The application should be sent to the director of the Fort Wayne Art School not later than noon on Tuesday.

In a portfolio, which must be prepared by May 5, should be a still life sketch involving a number of objects and a draped cloth; a landscape or architectural sketch; at least one sketch of a utensil, tool, a piece of furniture, a piece of equipment or a figure; and at least one design for a poster, a book cover, a record cover, or textile.

In addition, no more than four works of the applicant's choice should be submitted for review by the scholarship committee. If sculpture, ceramics, metalwork or other 3-dimension projects are included, they may be represented by photographs. Also included should be a statement from the art teacher saying that the work is entirely the student's own.

On May 5 all who plan to compete should go to Scholarship Day from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and must stay the whole period. During that time a service of projects will be accomplished under the supervision of the regular staff of the Fort Wayne Art School, and will be reviewed and evaluated by the scholarship committee.

The portfolio must be submitted at the beginning of the day. A public announcement of the scholarship awards will be made at the final Art School assembly on Friday afternoon, June 8.

Company Offers Jobs

Graduating senior girls seeking employment at the Lincoln Life Insurance Company will have the opportunity to apply on Saturday. Normally closed on Saturday, the personnel office of the Lincoln Life will remain open to receive applications.

Barbara Nelson Enters Contest, Wins Trip East

Barb Nelson, sophomore, has won a trip to the East from June 19 to July 5, sponsored by the Odd Fellows and Queen Esther Rebecca lodges. The qualifications were being a sophomore or junior in high school and a relative of a lodge member.

The entrants were interviewed and five finalists were chosen to compete with speeches on "The Importance of the United Nations for Peace."

ABOUT FORTY students from various Odd Fellows Lodges will leave by bus on June 19. The first stop will be Washington, D. C. The group will visit other scenic parts of the east, then will spend a week in New York City.

While in New York, they will see plays and go sightseeing, including a visit to the United Nations. They will see parts of the United Nations that the tourist never sees, because the Odd Fellows is the only lodge in the world permitted to see certain parts of it. On the way back they will stop at Niagara Falls and Detroit.

When asked how she felt about winning the trip, she said, "I feel very honored to have been chosen to represent this Odd Fellows Lodge on the trip."

Barb will appear on Bob Hill's morning show and "The Ann Colone Show" when she returns to Fort Wayne in July.

ON THE COLLEGE prep course, Barb is taking English 4, Latin 4, General History 2, and Math 4. Her extra curricular activities are Times and Pegasus copy editor and room agent. Wranglers point recorder, past president of Meterites, orchestra, library club, Assemblies Workshop, Luther League, and choir.

Barb has earned her pin and guard in Wranglers and has won seven ribbons this year in speech meets in original oratory and poetry.

Fund Offers Grants To Help Education For PRR Relatives

The Thomas J. Foley Educational Scholarship is available to children of Pennsylvania Railroad employees of Fort Wayne. Written applications should be filed on or before May 5. These applications may be obtained by anyone interested by applying to the Fourth Floor Trust, Department of The Peoples Trust and Savings Company, 913-915 South Calhoun Street, who will review the applications shortly after May 28.

A prompt decision will be made so that the student or students chosen will have ample time to prepare for the fall term of college. Any scholarship award will continue for a period of four years provided the record of the student continues to merit the approval of the committee.

A committee of three persons, consisting of the Judge of the Superior Court No. 2 in Allen County; Mr. Lester Grile, superintendent of the city schools; and the president of the Peoples Trust and Savings Company will make the selection. This selection will be made on the following considerations: good high school records, real and persistent desires for a college or university education, and abilities to acquire college education without the benefit of the fund herein created.

In addition to 12 scholarships benefiting the children of Pennsylvania Railroad employees, there are now offered, commencing with the September, 1962, college terms, additional scholarships. Each scholarship provides for payment not to exceed $800 per year to any one person. In the discretion of the committee, this $800 may be given to one person or shared by more than one. Boys and girls selected to receive the benefit herein shall have the right to attend the college or university of their choice.

This scholarship fund was created in memory and in honor of Thomas J. Foley, a prominent railroad official, by his late sister, Miss Celia Foley, of Fort Wayne. Miss Foley, a life-long educator, will be remembered as being identified with the Miner School of Fort Wayne, Ind., where she served as principal for many years.

South Side Drivers Commit 7 Violations

South Side students were charged with seven traffic violations out of a total of 17 violations committed by city high school students during the month of March, according to an announcement by Officer Robert Waldrop, high school liaison officer.

Two South Side students were charged with reckless driving; two with speeding; one had no operator's license; one ran a stop sign; and another blocked an intersection.

Elmhurst drivers committed four violations followed by Central Catholic with three; North Side, two; and Central, one. Concordia and Bishop Luers completed the month of March without a chargeable violation.

Since the beginning of the school year, high school traffic violations total 128. "This marks a decided increase over the same period of time last year," stated Officer Waldrop. As of March 31, South Side has 45 violations; North Side, 32; Central Catholic, 16; Elmhurst, 9; Concordia, 8; and Bishop Luers, 6.

Sophomores To Present 'Mardi Gras Magnifique'

A NEW ORLEANS TREATMENT . . . is given to the Sophomore Party, "Mardi Gras Magnifique," to be presented in the main gymnasium tomorrow from 8:30 to 11 p.m., as, left to right, Andy Christon, Dick Robinson, Rick Frazier, Nancy Lougheed, and Patty Bobay prepare designs for the scenery.—Photo by Lowden

School PTA Donates Money, Selects Next Year's Leaders

Newly elected officers of the Parent Teachers Association are Mr. and Mrs. John Rhinehart, president; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Capps, 1st vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hemmer, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Wollman, secretary; and Mrs. D. D. Robinson, treasurer.

The out-going officers include Mr. and Mrs. V. K. McMahon, president; Dr. and Mrs. Patrick Russ, 1st vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Havard; 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Howard McVay, secretary; and Mrs. Lowell Redding, treasurer.

Mrs. Rhinehart has previously served as the president of the PTA at Harrison Hill Junior High School, and she served as the PTA hospitality chairman last year at South Side. Mrs. Capps previously served as the secretary of the PTA at Harrison Hill, and Mrs. Robinson served on the membership committee last year at South Side.

The total amount of money taken in from dues and donations was $1,443.25. Donations were given to the PTA this year instead of having a chili supper.

Outside of the necessary operating expenses, the PTA gave $300 to the Fort Wayne Educational Foundation, $100 to the State PTA Scholarship Fund, and $200 to the Welfare Fund.

OUT-GOING president Mrs. McMahon stated, "I want to thank all my past officers, committee chairmen, and Mr. Snider and Miss Van Gorder for their co-operation." The new officers met this week with Mr. Snider and Miss Van Gorder to plan the program for the coming year and select new board members.

Mrs. Rhinehart, the new president, said, "We hope that we all do as fine a job as the McMahan and other officers did last year."

Wranglers To Plan Election Of Officers

Election of officers and an extemporaneous speaking contest will highlight the Wranglers' meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

Winners of the humorous contest at the last meeting were Pat Slater, first; Sheri Busch, second; and Martha Dixon, third.

Others who participated in this contest were Pam Buzzard, Ann Brase, and Jackie Kuhns.

Tom Erb and Marge Terry will compete for next semester's presidency, and a campaign speech will be given for each at the beginning of Monday's meeting. The election of officers will follow. The rest of the slate of officers has not been released.

Competing in the extemporaneous contest will be Lex Smuts, Jim Bailey, Kathy DeVore, Sue Horth, Diane Hall, and Sally Franklin.

Dance Groups, Guitars To Set 'Beatnik' Mood

Talent Acts To Show City Of New Orleans During Festival Time

"Mardi Gras Magnifique," the sophomore class party, will bring New Orleans to the boys' gym tomorrow night from 8:30 p.m. to 11 p.m.

The talent show will be presented as a street scene from the old French quarter of New Orleans. French cafes and a beatnik den will line the street.

Ann Mol, who will portray a Swedish cleaning woman, and Jim McMahon, a "little old man," will start the action on the street scene.

"Antoine's Sidewalk Cafe" will be the next center of attention. Monica Kramer will play a number on her accordion and Mrs. Keegan's dance class will perform "Saint Louis Blues."

Pam Ashton, Claudia Adams, Jill Bieber, Pat Clooney, Tricia Miller, Barb Fischer, Cheryl Nahrwald, Judy Rogers, Cheryl Scott, and Sandy Stigal will be the performers.

"I'm an Old Cowhand" will be sung by Martha Hoard and Debby Decker. Children in the scene will be Rick Meeks, Nancy Stewart, Mary Beaudway, and Cheryl Lee. Roberta Hoffert will then do a solo acrobatic routine.

Playing their guitars, Paul Cochran and Bruce Baldwin will sing a group of folk songs. Beatniks in this scene will be Phyllis Pierson, Christie Cousman, Tom Myers, and Charlie Golden.

"Lucky Pierre's Place" will feature a floor show with the advanced dance group. Dancing in "Jambalaya" will be Marcia Anderson, Pat Bobay, Vicki Bradley, Debby Decker, Sandy Farmer, Barb Fischer, Ann Henderson, Pat Johnson, Jane Kettle, Nancy Lougheed, Sandy Meeks, Wanda Ripple, Joyce Spindler, Joan Van Osdale, Nadia Vybovsky, Sue Weinraub, and Janet Wenig.

Donna Squire will sing "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans," and Sue Mowery will play a piano solo, "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue."

"The Can-Can Dance," a special comedy number will feature Rick Bear, Chuck Buge, John Rastetter, Jim Anderson, John Grodrian, Joe McKibben, Larry Brown, and Rick Meeks. Following the can-can dance, Kenny Clauser will sing "When I Fall in Love."

While Bill Hanke, Steve Hoopengardner, and Bruce Baldwin play the piano.

(Continued on Page 3)

Pegasus Agents Sell 630 Magazines, Set 1800 Goal For Spring Publication

Edition To Emphasize Original Compositions From English Classes

The Pegasus circulation staff completed the first week of the sales campaign with six hundred thirty subscriptions. Closing the campaign May 4, the agents are seeking a goal of 1800 subscriptions.

The Pegasus may be purchased from any home room agent for 35 cents. The literary magazine is to be distributed to the subscribers on May 18.

The 1962 spring edition of the Pegasus is composed of original works of South Side students.

The circulation staff is headed by Jane Grile. She is assisted by Book agent, Sandy Farmer, Ann Henderson, Celeste Riemen, Nancy Redding, Ann McCallister, Leanna Morris, Sharyn Leiger, and Sue Harrod.

The home room agents and the number of subscriptions they have to sell are as follows:

| Book I, Sandy Farmer, head     |    |
|--------------------------------|----|
| S-1 Tamara Beatty              | 25 |
| S-2 Kaylene Gebert             | 25 |
| S-3 Ann Golden                 | 31 |
| S-4 Sandy Miller               | 25 |
| S-5 Sue Phillips               | 18 |
| S-15 Sandy Thorn               | 26 |
| S-16 Bonnie Russell            | 19 |
| S-17 Gwen Yordy                | 22 |
| S-18 Sue Berk                  | 23 |
| S-19 Sharon Bitman             | 28 |
| S-20 Joyce Lockwood            | 24 |
| S-21 Becky Haugman             | 24 |
| Book II, Ann Henderson, head   |    |
| S-12 Joyce Dunlap              | 20 |
| S-13 Nancy Stewart             | 16 |
| S-14 Celeste Riemen            | 18 |
| S-24 Bette Jones               | 25 |
| S-25 Peggy Schmidt             | 25 |
| S-26 Joyce Stocks              | 17 |
| S-27 Dick Parke                | 14 |
| S-28 Barrie Spear              | 20 |
| S-29 Sue Robinson              | 19 |
| Book III, Celeste Riemen, head |    |
| S-36 Mary Ellen Bowman         | 20 |
| S-37 Nancy O'Connell           | 31 |
| S-38 Sharon Graffis            | 29 |
| S-39 Gunther Bauer             | 29 |
| S-40 Leanna Morris             | 18 |
| S-41 Eileen Mayle              | 18 |
| S-42 Karen Simmons             | 19 |

LITERARY PURCHASERS . . . During the second week of the spring 1962 Pegasus sales campaign, 600 subscriptions have been sold. Anxious to make their sales, left to right, Ann McCallister and Sue Hines are receiving money from Joe McKibben, Mary Shilling, and Sue Harrod.—Photo by Lowden

| Book VI, Leanna Morris, head  |    |
|-------------------------------|----|
| S-94 Julie Merchant           | 30 |
| S-95 Christie Cousman         | 25 |
| S-96 Gwen Welling             | 12 |
| S-108 Bill Wilder             | 15 |
| S-110 Sharon Karst            | 25 |
| S-116 Sue Horth               | 16 |
| S-120 Nancy Redding           | 14 |
| S-138 Carole Ladig            | 16 |
| Book VII, Sharyn Yeager, head |    |
| S-140 Tonya Hines             | 28 |
| S-142 Marilyn Fishman         | 28 |
| S-144 Jane Kettle             | 25 |
| S-146 Diane Fredrick          | 17 |
| S-150 Sharon Lynch            | 30 |
| S-152 Nancy Augspurger        | 37 |
| S-154 Joyce Spindler          | 19 |
| S-156 Sue Weinraub            | 19 |
| S-172 Pat Bailey              | 20 |
| Book VIII, Sue Harrod, head   |    |
| S-174 Ann Gallmeyer           | 20 |
| S-176 Sam Carter              | 17 |
| S-178 Martha Hoard            | 24 |
| S-182 Jenn Braden             | 19 |
| S-184 Margo Betz              | 27 |
| S-186 Linda Thornberg         | 27 |
| S-188 Pamela Richardson       | 22 |
| S-190 Ann Flickinger          | 22 |

Quarter Century Club Plans Banquet To Honor Teachers

PRACTICING THE PINNING . . . Meterite girls practice pinning new Quarter Century Club members in preparation for the ceremony at the banquet. Left to right are Cheryl Lee, Mrs. Alice Keegan, Sue Klaehn, Miss Lucy Osborne, Mary Beaudway, and Mr. Dorsa Yoder.—Photo by Lowden

To honor all teachers who have taught at South for 25 years, the Quarter Century Club will present its annual banquet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Women's Club. Miss Mary Crowe, president; Miss Olive Perkins, vice-president; and Mr. Ora Davis, secretary-treasurer are in charge of the banquet.

New members who will be honored are Mrs. Alice Keegan, physical education instructor; Miss Lucy Osborne, English teacher; Mr. Stanley Post, business teacher; Mr. Ernest Walker, business teacher; and Mr. Dorsa Yoder, health and biology instructor.

The program entitled "Friendship 90" will be given by members of Meterites, who will also pin roses on each member while Sue Smith, sophomore, sings "Only a Rose" and Fran Krandell, sophomore, accompanies her on the piano.

Members of Meterites who will be participating are Sue Klaehn, Christine Fruechtenicht, Cheryl Lee, Judy Ruhl, Mary Alice Beaudway, Charlotte Dinius, Lynelle Dill, Alice Fruechtenicht, Sally Henderson;

LaVonna Custance, Pat Cameron, Janet Kelley, Fran Krandell, Sue Smith, Mary Graham, Martha Hoard, Karen Franks, Kathi Klas, Ruth Russ, Doris Atzoff, Sally Adams;

Barb Bussard, Debby Decker, Linda Ewitsizer, Lois Gallimore, Sherry Seneuer, Ann Gobel, Carol Lake, Barb Nelson, Nancy Ormsby, and Barb

Pegasus Volume Contains Works Of Archer Pupils

The poets' inspiration, Pegasus, spreads his wings and mounts to the sky. The Pegasus campaign is under way!

The spring issue of South Side's literary magazine is now on sale for 35 cents. Certainly it contains some of the best endeavors of the students including short stories, essays, and poetry.

It is embellished with the art work of students also. Not only have its two previous issues been acclaimed by local readers, they have received the medalist rating, a recognition of excellence from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association at its recent convention at Columbia University in New York City.

Writings in the magazine cover a wide range of topics. Copy has been submitted from English, foreign language, and social studies classes. The works also vary in mood from the humorous and ridiculous to the sad and reflective.

There is something in the Pegasus for everyone; and since its contributors are in grades nine through 12, the Pegasus represents a respectable cross-section of South Side's literary attempts.—By Janet Dinius

Invasion Of Communism Depends Upon Ignorance

Each generation contributes new words and phrases to American society. During the troubled thirties, while Hitler and Mussolini steadily gobbled power, the terms Nazism and Fascism bred fear of dictatorship, poverty, and loss of political and personal freedom in the hearts of humanity throughout the world. Today, the words communism, communistic, and communist produce the same, hideous, universal reactions in the souls of mankind.

Yes, the term communism constantly crops up in daily conversations. Emphatic articles warn people of the evils of communism. But what is communism?

Before communism can be understood, Americans must be awakened to the fact that they are providing the Russians with a deadly device to promote the growth of communism. Smug, literate Americans boast about the quantities of wisdom they possess. They are merely proving the old adage that "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

The framework of communism is based on fourteen points. Eight of the principles are also incorporated in the beliefs of capitalism. Americans must thoroughly know and understand the wide differences between capitalism and communism if they wish our nation to remain a free and democratic country.

However, a complete understanding of factual information is not the entire safeguard from communistic invasion. Each person must honestly and efficiently evaluate his beliefs, hopes, desires, and aspirations, using the principles of capitalism and communism as possible means to obtain these goals.

America will not be free from the fear of communism until each individual is convinced that capitalism is the only method by which people can live safely, securely, and profitably. This national conviction can stem from careful study of facts and personal evaluation of goals and philosophies.—By Diane Saalfrank

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

|                                                               |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|--|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| General Manager.....                                          |  | Sue Kelley                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Managing Editor.....                                          |  | Susan Smith                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Copy Editors                                                  |  | Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Malrough, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twichell.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| News Editor                                                   |  | Kathy DeVore                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Feature Editor                                                |  | Sally Sweet                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Editorial Editor                                              |  | Bill Wilder                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Boys' Sports Editor                                           |  | Terry Newendorp                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Girls' Sports Editor                                          |  | Janice Nahrowald                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Make-Up Editor                                                |  | Robert Twichell, Rachel Burnett                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Picture Editor                                                |  | Janet Brenn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Photographers                                                 |  | Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Head Typist                                                   |  | Leanna Morris                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Business Manager.....                                         |  | Barb Altevort                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Assistant Business Manager                                    |  | Sue Moyer                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Advertising Manager                                           |  | Pat Bailey                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Circulation Manager                                           |  | Dick Parke                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Outside Circulation Manager                                   |  | Nancy Redding                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Circulation Assistant                                         |  | Liz Walkart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twichell                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grile, Sally Sweet. |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Faculty Adviser                                               |  | James Rohrbach                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| MINOR STAFF                                                   |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| News Writers                                                  |  | David Planigan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Streiblow, Marcee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brate, Larry Brown, Pat Conner, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Gustane, Karen Frazee, Christine Fruehnticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Souther, Karen Walker, Liz Walkart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Feature Writers                                               |  | Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Streiblow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suslen Borkmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrell, Martha Lanning, Marisa Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Rose, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Hussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Sharon Lowery, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Franka, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinckers, Sue Borgmann, Liz Walkart, Susie Weinsrub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubin, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinitia, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yerger, Rosilind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Biele, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Cecile Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Savelly, Kay Bradley, Janice Sprunger, Alice Haberger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Karen Kuhn. |
| Editorial Writers                                             |  | Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Cappe, Christine Fruehnticht, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudway, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue North, Sue Kishan, Carole Ladig, Paul Mittlest, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Mary Da Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haberger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Salffrank.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Copy Readers                                                  |  | Kaylene Gebert, Dave Planigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Consmann, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Savelly, Marcee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franka.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Boys' Sports Writers                                          |  | Bill Kleifgen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Foto, Bill Raxlester, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Ad Solicitors                                                 |  | Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Haberger, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Finckow, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Olla, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerie, Kay Falb, Harriet Gebstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Pinnell, Janice Sprunger, Kay Franka, Tysia.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Cartoonists                                                   |  | Julia Braden, Martha Hoard, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Biele.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Classroom News Editor                                         |  | Celeste Riemann                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Point Recorder                                                |  | Steve Letts                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Mailing Manager                                               |  | Vicki Adams                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Auditor                                                       |  | Krystyna Kriworotow                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Copy Returner                                                 |  | Allen Purdy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Exchange Editor                                               |  | Marcia Kuhn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Credit Manager                                                |  | Charlotte Powell                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Assistant Credit Manager                                      |  | Sonya Flasz                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Librarian                                                     |  | Sonya Flasz                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Paper Dissiminator                                            |  | Chuck Bodenborn                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Alice Ashton . . . age, 18 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, college-stenographic . . . favorites: food, sweet potatoes . . . color, green . . . fad, short skirts . . . sport, football . . . subject, shorthand . . . pastime, writing letters . . . activity, Junior Red Cross . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "When Sunny Gets Blue" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Elizabeth Taylor . . . book, "Anna Karenina" . . . future plans, secretarial work . . . pet peeve, society boys that act smart.

Sally Franklin . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pepper-mint ice cream . . . color, baby blue . . . fad, calling boys on the phone . . . sport, swimming . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, throwing stones at someone's window . . . activity, tennis . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Can't Help Falling in Love" . . . singer, Pat Boone . . . actress, Eva Maria Saint . . . book, "Exodus" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who always want to kiss me.

Charlie Hohman . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, eleven inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, Goecamo's pizza . . . color, black . . . fad, 4 a.m. phone calls . . . sport, baseball . . . subject, physics . . . pastime, building pyramids . . . activity, bowling at Berry Lanes . . . TV show, "Popeye" . . . record, "Wiffenpoof Song" . . . singer, Fabian . . . actress, Haley Mills . . . book, "Lady, Be Loved" . . . future plans, marry an heiress . . . pet peeve, girls who use vulgar language.

Logan Smith . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, red . . . fad, hair ribbons and bows . . . sport, swimming . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, Wranglers activity, speech meets . . . TV show, "Hawaiian Eye" . . . record, "The Ernie Ford Show" . . . record, "Young World" . . . singer, Kingston Trio . . . actor, Troy Donahue . . . book, "Tale of Two Cities" . . . future plans, career in speech . . . pet peeve, snobs.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Engaged are Judy Kontz, '61, and Dale Fries, a graduate of Ossian High School. Judy attended Franklin College where she was a pledge to Delta Delta Delta sorority. Dale attended Indiana University Center.

Home not long ago for spring vacation from Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., was Penny Hunt, '60. With her came her roommates and friends.

Planning a June wedding are Diana Meyer, '61 and Reginald Shull, a Concordia graduate. Diana is attending Indiana University Center.

Planning a fall wedding are Sondra Kaade, '60, and Robert Miller, a Central Catholic graduate. Sondra is employed by Addressograph-Multi-graph Corp. Bob is a junior at Xavier University in Cincinnati, O.

Allen Steere, '61, is studying liberal arts at Columbia University. Last summer he studied at the Galamian Meadowmount School of Music in New York State. Allen is the concertmaster of the Columbia University Orchestra.

Marjorie Lynn Havens, '61, has pledged the Purdue Chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta. Alpha Lambda Delta is a national scholastic honorary for those women attaining a 5.5 index based on a 6.0 system for their freshman year.

Recreation Balance Promotes Excellence In Activities Of Man

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. All play and no work makes Jack an even duller boy!" Modern teens should give special consideration to this time-tested maxim.

In our present mode of life, one can readily find sources of recreation. Golf, tennis, swimming, dancing, checkers, sewing, listening to records, and talking on the phone are representative of the endless host of activities with which spare time can be filled.

THE ENTIRE American population, including teenagers has become extremely pleasure-conscious. Each year, thousands of dollars are spent for recreational purposes. Thousands of people spend millions of hours pursuing their favorite recreational interests.

Are these thousands of dollars and millions of hours being squandered wastefully? Are teens becoming so entangled in pleasure seeking that they are making unnecessary and harmful sacrifices?

One who pursues his recreational interests wisely and moderately will gain invaluable benefits. Proper doses of recreation relax both physical and mental strain. Work can be accomplished more accurately and efficiently when people are free from the stresses of tension and pressure. Moderate amounts of recreational activity can serve as excellent releases from tension and pressure.

HOWEVER, ONE WHO plays more than he works finds himself becoming sluggish, nonchalant, and indifferent to his assigned tasks.

Recreation can serve another vital purpose. Hobbies can develop into professions. Those who build model cars may someday be designers for the automobile industry. Those who dabble in painting may make outstanding contributions to the world of art. Possibilities are limitless.

Abundant recreational sources are a great advantage to all Americans. When used well, they will bring temporary relaxation and countless, invaluable rewards.

Students Study Selections . . .

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Congratulations to Bill Mueller and Habetta Jones, the valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the class of 1962. Just think seniors, only 41 more days until graduation! (and that includes weekends)

A stranger walking into the general office several weeks ago would probably have been extremely alarmed when he saw "Murder Has Been Arranged" lettered on the activity sign. Congratulations for a job well done to all who participated in the senior play. Here are our special awards:

For Best Couch Jumper-over: Bill (Jimmy North) Kleifgen.

For Best Silent Screen Performance: Charlotte Powell.

For Looking Glamorous in White: Beatrice—oops, Lissa Hoffman.

For Dying Effectively: Jeff Roth.

For Puffing Smoke: Steve (Morris "the Dragon" Mullins) Pratt.

For Almost Breaking Through Bill Kleifgen's Block: Sue Horth.

For Changing Her Hairstyle (and color) Quickly: Caron Fine.

For Taking Over The Orchestra: H. Persons.

For Acquiring Quite An Accent: Karen Simmons.

For Peering In Unexpectedly (no cue or clue): an unknown jantior.

For Keeping The Audience Aware Of The Time: Nancy Stauffer, backstage.

Research theme time is school-skipping time (but really Mrs. Stuart, the flu is going around!) But Walt Stueple's excuse must have been legitimate — he returned to school on crutches.

Warning! Don't trust Bill Borgmann. He's a car thief! Really, he's not, but the police thought differently when they asked to see his registration.

Here are a few chain reactions you can try:

1. If you want to see Bob Bartel go into a tailspin, merely remark, "This is true."
2. If you want to hear a funny joke, see Karen "Felix" Finckoff.
3. If you want to make Debby Brooke happy tell her she looks fat today.

Congratulations to Barb Nelson, the recipient of a seventeen-day trip to the United Nations, and the eastern United States and Canada. (We should take up a collection for her to offer.)

"Senioritis" has struck again; Martha Lanning, Sue Kelley, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, and Brenda Arnold decided to go on a spree. First, Martha, alias the headless horseman, went horseback riding a la Miracle Mart pony.

Then, the group decided to become beatniks to the tune of $12.32 at a local coffee house. Oh well, it must have been fun; but cokes only cost a dime at Hall's.

Hank Kernahan has taken over Larry Lee's habit of running into things; but really an awning must be as easy to hit as a tree. (P.S. Larry, where is it that you get your beagles?)

Found: One moth-eaten red and white stuffed dog. Owner may contact Chuck Hohman.

Thought for the day: Everybody needs a Pegasus! That means you and you and you.

Couples Add Outstanding Talents To Track Squad, Create Stunts

Track meet season has indeed arrived with a flourish; our stars are really talented this year. Although the new faces have added great speed and skill to the team, they have changed the sport somewhat.

Now, instead of running the 100-yard dash, Leanna Morris, Jim Dawson, (Colorado State University), Linda Seibel, and Dick Fletemeyer, (Illinois) skip over the distance in about ten minutes. Linda usually wins, because she has so much talent in this field. Actually she gives her opponents sleeping pills provided by Mary Jane Tobey and Steve Burton, ('61), and they fall asleep in the middle of the track.

Sue Moyer, Dale Hilmier, Martha Dixon, and Karl Bandemer have devised a new version of the 220. Because the girls did not like to run on the cinders, they began to gallop across the infield instead. This way they naturally beat the boys. It did not seem fair; but when Tom Shaeffer, ('61) protested on the boys' behalf, Pat Hobay immediately quieted him down.

SINCE JANET BUNSOLD, Steve Leitz, Karen Miller, and Vaughn Correll, ('61), joined the relay teams, they have been winning honors all over the state. Their new method is sure tops! The boys toss the girls around the oval until the distance covered equals a mile. This is much easier than running and does not take as long either. Gail Woodruff and Bud Stout (Bowling Green) are always present with a stretcher in case an accident should take place.

The half-mile relay has also been improved by Karen Miller, Tony Zych (C.C.), Kay Falb, Dick Emerick (Freemont), Patty Somers, and Joe Emmerson (Hanover). They decided to be brilliant and thought it would be effective if they turned somersaults around the track instead of running. Such relaxation!

THE FIELD EVENTS have acquired many new characteristics. The pole vault, usually won by either Barrie McCombs or Gary Gemmer (Central) seems to have been turned into a jungle gym. Barrie started this when she became stuck while vaulting and climbed up the side and flung herself over. Karen McClymonds, and Hob Evans (Roanoke, '61) caught on; but Barrie and Gary are the most talented.

Judy Schumm, Dave Eaton, Sue Perry, and Tom Wright now throw balloons instead of shot puts. They are so much lighter, and the helium-filled ones go so far. This event fascinated Ruth Russ and Jim More so much that they set up their own balloon factory and made the supplies for the track meet. They also received front row seats in appreciation. What a reward!

The track meets are always climaxed when Sue Gerig, Steve Morley ('61), Sandy Farmer, and Dave Fleming glue on their wings and fly over the broad jump like the legendary Pegasus. It is really a marvelous sight until Dave inevitably loses his wings and flops to the ground. Oh well, something always has to happen.

Small Snaps

The girl in the snap is a sophomore this year.

All kinds of music she likes to hear. When she was just a little tyke, she collected figurines she did like. This collection each year has grown, and all types of statues she now does own.

For Meterites she has worked and planned, Giving the club a helping hand. She does work for the Times, Writing articles and rhymes. She loves to dance to all the trends, Doing the twist with all her friends. If her name you cannot get, The ad section is your best bet.

NBA Creates New 'World'

Each Sport's 'Underdog' Gains Support Of Cheering Americans

By Sandy Thorn

In any sport, no matter what or where, there is a common favorite . . . the so-called "underdog." The "underdog" team is the one that never wins, possibly it's the "clean" team; but at any rate it's the team where winning odds are "possible, but highly improbable."

Usually, the "underdog" team draws a fair share of support. All those who aren't supporting the favorite and everyone who doesn't care naturally supports the team that doesn't quite have what it takes. This is the American spirit — pull for the guy that hasn't got a chance.

While it is the "underdog" who frequently loses—don't let it ever be said that the "underdog" hasn't a chance. Take the lightweight champion fight last weekend. Champion Joe Brown entered the match with 8-5 odds to keep the crown. Brown had defended his title 11 times before he met Carlos Ortiz. But it was a jubilant Ortiz that left the ring with the crown. The favorite lost.

IN WRESTLING, the fans support the "clean" competitor. For example, cheers are for Wilbur Snyder when he wrestles Dick the "Bruiser." And even if the "nice" guy turns villainous for a short time, it's alright as long as he wins. When the "bad" guy pulls hair, there are boos—let the hero pull hair, there are screams of delight.

Racing—whether stock cars, automobiles, racers, horses, or anything else—always calls for the "black horse" or the "underdog"—much money is gambled on an "unknown." But the followers shake the stands with support for the jockey and horse or the racer and driver unknown.

Each Memorial Day, as the famous Indianapolis "500" rolls around, thousands hope that a new driver will gain the crown. Thousands are secretly—many openly—rooting for one who no one thinks will win.

Undoubtedly, football is the same way. Unfortunately, one cannot be an avid follower of every sport and thus, it's hard for this person to even "drop names" when the pigskin sport is discussed. It's hard for the reporter to distinguish between the "always a winner" squad and the "underdog." Wish I could, but must admit that even for "name dropping" purposes, the only name that comes to mind is Joe Bellino—who, unless my memory doesn't serve me correctly—led a Navy onslaught a season or so back. One question—was he an "underdog?"

ONE DOESN'T have to be an enthusiastic baseball fan (although to read some articles, one would believe that every American is an avid baseball fan), to realize that there is an "underdog" favorite. When speaking of the season and the World Series, one always hears: "Oh, yeah, the Yanks will win the pennant again." The real talk always comes over which team will be in second place and then which fellows will end up in not-so-coveted basement.

The Yankees can be eliminated from all "underdog" talk. A few years back, it probably would have been the "Bums"—remember, the Brooklyn Dodgers? Baseball fans the country over celebrated when Johnny Podres and Duke Snider (know a little about baseball) led the Dodgers to the pennant. Then the Dodgers moved to Los Angeles, and instead of mourning just because the team lost—former Brooklyn fans, simply mourned.

But there's a new "underdog"—talk about being under. How about the New York Mets? As of this writing, the team has played nine games and the loss column has recorded nine losses. Even Casey Stengel can play the "underdog"—he can taste defeat, as can the New Yorkers.

Oddly enough, the Mets have been accepted by the New York fans. They seem to welcome the loser instead of the annual winner. Often they have little to cheer about, but they are out at the ballpark to cheer if and when they get an opportunity. They like the change—and even the Mets will win sometime. They're bound to—consider the odds in their favor when it comes to winning at least one game during the season. So, it seems to be the New York Mets when it comes to the "underdog" favorite or the hot-dog eating baseball fans.

HOOSIERS ARE well-acquainted with the crowd favorite when it comes to the Indiana High School Basketball Championship. A small community, Milan, gloated several years ago when their representative team took the crown. This accomplishment has inspired many since. Remember 1958? South Side brought back the crown and all the glory, but remember the "people's choice," Springs Valley?

Archer fans were disgusted at everyone cheered for the small town. Why did they? The fans didn't think the team had a chance. And, as everyone from South Side knows, they didn't! And if one questions this for even a minute—stop and think about toourney time at the Memorial Coliseum. When it's a city school versus a county school, who do the non-partisan fans cheer—the county school, the "underdog"—the one "who doesn't have a ghost of a chance."

"Name dropping" isn't necessary when hockey is discussed. This reporter can enter the discussion with an "open" mind—about as open as a clam shell when the clam is still inside. As the Yanks can be eliminated in baseball, the Montreal Canadians can "usually" be eliminated when hockey is the topic.

But, there's an exception to every rule (or so someone once said) and this year was an exception. The Canadians did well all season but the "underrated" Chicago Blackhawks knocked them out of competition in the first round of playoffs. And it appears (at least at the time of this writing) that the battle between the Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs will be a close one.

If an "underdog" exists—and in my humble opinion, it does—the winner would probably be the hapless New York Rangers. They made it to the first round of playoffs, but Toronto had little sympathy.

"UNDERDOG" HONORS in the International Hockey League would have to be divided between Toledo and Indianapolis—and some will argue that the Fort Wayne Komets are worthy of recognition in the race. But Komets fans had little time to pull for the "underdog" crews; most fans were to busy trying to pull the Komets through as winner. Supposedly, Toledo and Indianapolis qualify because of their "shortage" of money. The Komets qualify because of their "shortage" of money as a result of helping the "underdogs."

So, supposedly, it's Montreal, the Yanks, and oh yes, the Boston Celtics who can immediately be named "definitely not underdogs." The "fabulous" Bob Cousy (writer's note: quotation marks are used to quote anything which is not original and when using other's material—"fabulous" isn't my adjective) and his Celtics captured the National Basketball Association's crown for an unprecedented fourth consecutive time.

But the "underdog"—the Los Angeles Lakers—gave it all they had. Maybe the term "underdog" doesn't apply to the great bunch of guys that battled the Celtics right down to an overtime in the final playoff game. The Lakers weren't favored, but they were favorites, except in Boston.

FORT WAYNE followers of the NBA didn't think of the Lakers as the "underdog"—they were the team coached by the ever-popular former Fort Wayne Piston Fred Schaus. And there's no better time than the present to question the fact that the NBA winner is the world champion. Since when did the world include only Boston, Los Angeles, Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Syracuse, New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, and Minneapolis?

In this world of extreme competition it is worthwhile noting that the American roots have time to support the "expected loser." For a short time each day, a group of people cheer for the person of a team that isn't the best—but for the "underdog." Speaking of the NBA, why aren't the St. Louis Hawks and Bob Pettit considered "underdogs?" Long live the "underdog!"

IN WRESTLING, the fans support the "clean" competitor. For example, cheers are for Wilbur Snyder when he wrestles Dick the "Bruiser." And even if the "nice" guy turns villainous for a short time, it's alright as long as he wins. When the "bad" guy pulls hair, there are boos—let the hero pull hair, there are screams of delight.

Racing—whether stock cars, automobiles, racers, horses, or anything else—always calls for the "black horse" or the "underdog"—much money is gambled on an "unknown." But the followers shake the stands with support for the jockey and horse or the racer and driver unknown.

Each Memorial Day, as the famous Indianapolis "500" rolls around, thousands hope that a new driver will gain the crown. Thousands are secretly—many openly—rooting for one who no one thinks will win.

Undoubtedly, football is the same way. Unfortunately, one cannot be an avid follower of every sport and thus, it's hard for this person to even "drop names" when the pigskin sport is discussed. It's hard for the reporter to distinguish between the "always a winner" squad and the "underdog." Wish I could, but must admit that even for "name dropping" purposes, the only name that comes to mind is Joe Bellino—who, unless my memory doesn't serve me correctly—led a Navy onslaught a season or so back. One question—was he an "underdog?"

ONE DOESN'T have to be an enthusiastic baseball fan (although to read some articles, one would believe that every American is an avid baseball fan), to realize that there is an "underdog" favorite. When speaking of the season and the World Series, one always hears: "Oh, yeah, the Yanks will win the pennant again." The real talk always comes over which team will be in second place and then which fellows will end up in not-so-coveted basement.

The Yankees can be eliminated from all "underdog" talk. A few years back, it probably would have been the "Bums"—remember, the Brooklyn Dodgers? Baseball fans the country over celebrated when Johnny Podres and Duke Snider (know a little about baseball) led the Dodgers to the pennant. Then the Dodgers moved to Los Angeles, and instead of mourning just because the team lost—former Brooklyn fans, simply mourned.

But there's a new "underdog"—talk about being under. How about the New York Mets? As of this writing, the team has played nine games and the loss column has recorded nine losses. Even Casey Stengel can play the "underdog"—he can taste defeat, as can the New Yorkers.

Oddly enough, the Mets have been accepted by the New York fans. They seem to welcome the loser instead of the annual winner. Often they have little to cheer about, but they are out at the ballpark to cheer if and when they get an opportunity. They like the change—and even the Mets will win sometime. They're bound to—consider the odds in their favor when it comes to winning at least one game during the season. So, it seems to be the New York Mets when it comes to the "underdog" favorite or the hot-dog eating baseball fans.

HOOSIERS ARE well-acquainted with the crowd favorite when it comes to the Indiana High School Basketball Championship. A small community, Milan, gloated several years ago when their representative team took the crown. This accomplishment has inspired many since. Remember 1958? South Side brought back the crown and all the glory, but remember the "people's choice," Springs Valley?

Archer fans were disgusted at everyone cheered for the small town. Why did they? The fans didn't think the team had a chance. And, as everyone from South Side knows, they didn't! And if one questions this for even a minute—stop and think about toourney time at the Memorial Coliseum. When it's a city school versus a county school, who do the non-partisan fans cheer—the county school, the "underdog"—the one "who doesn't have a ghost of a chance."

"Name dropping" isn't necessary when hockey is discussed. This reporter can enter the discussion with an "open" mind—about as open as a clam shell when the clam is still inside. As the Yanks can be eliminated in baseball, the Montreal Canadians can "usually" be eliminated when hockey is the topic.

But, there's an exception to every rule (or so someone once said) and this year was an exception. The Canadians did well all season but the "underrated" Chicago Blackhawks knocked them out of competition in the first round of playoffs. And it appears (at least at the time of this writing) that the battle between the Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs will be a close one.

If an "underdog" exists—and in my humble opinion, it does—the winner would probably be the hapless New York Rangers. They made it to the first round of playoffs, but Toronto had little sympathy.

"UNDERDOG" HONORS in the International Hockey League would have to be divided between Toledo and Indianapolis—and some will argue that the Fort Wayne Komets are worthy of recognition in the race. But Komets fans had little time to pull for the "underdog" crews; most fans were to busy trying to pull the Komets through as winner. Supposedly, Toledo and Indianapolis qualify because of their "shortage" of money. The Komets qualify because of their "shortage" of money as a result of helping the "underdogs."

So, supposedly, it's Montreal, the Yanks, and oh yes, the Boston Celtics who can immediately be named "definitely not underdogs." The "fabulous" Bob Cousy (writer's note: quotation marks are used to quote anything which is not original and when using other's material—"fabulous" isn't my adjective) and his Celtics captured the National Basketball Association's crown for an unprecedented fourth consecutive time.

But the "underdog"—the Los Angeles Lakers—gave it all they had. Maybe the term "underdog" doesn't apply to the great bunch of guys that battled the Celtics right down to an overtime in the final playoff game. The Lakers weren't favored, but they were favorites, except in Boston.

FORT WAYNE followers of the NBA didn't think of the Lakers as the "underdog"—they were the team coached by the ever-popular former Fort Wayne Piston Fred Schaus. And there's no better time than the present to question the fact that the NBA winner is the world champion. Since when did the world include only Boston, Los Angeles, Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Syracuse, New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, and Minneapolis?

In this world of extreme competition it is worthwhile noting that the American roots have time to support the "expected loser." For a short time each day, a group of people cheer for the person of a team that isn't the best—but for the "underdog." Speaking of the NBA, why aren't the St. Louis Hawks and Bob Pettit considered "underdogs?" Long live the "underdog!"

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know from what the garden carrot was developed?

Answer. The cultivated carrot is generally believed to have been developed from the wild variety, many centuries ago. The plant has been cultivated for perhaps 2,000 years in some parts of the Orient as well as in Europe. The root of the wild carrot is not edible; it is thin, woody, and strongly flavored. The wild plant matures in one year, while the cultivated plant takes two years for the process. The thick, fleshy part of the root which we use as a vegetable is formed during the first season of the cultivated plant's growth.

Question. Perhaps you have at some time heard the press referred to as the "fourth estate," do you know why?

Answer. An "estate" is a class of people vested with distinct political power, whose concurrence is necessary for legislation to be adopted. In feudal Europe there were three estates, the clergy, the nobles, and the commoners. Edmund Burke, British statesman, referred to the press gallery of the House of Commons as the "fourth estate."

Question. Do you know what the origin of the dollar sign is?

Answer. It has been shown to be the gradual evolution of the Mexican sign "Ps" (pesos, piastres, pieces of eight) written with the "s" on the "P." The sign was used long before the adoption of the U.S. dollar in 1785. It was written after the numerals by Spanish-Americans, and therefore numerals by English colonists accustomed to the "L" mark. Some twenty countries use the sign to denote local currency.

Question. Do you know what "scann" actually means?

Answer. In colloquial English, the verb now means to run one's eyes over something hastily. For example, one scans the Times to find the answer to Small Snaps or scans the sky to see whether there are storm clouds. More correctly, to scan means to examine with care or point by point, as one scans a contract before signing it.

Question. After having worked with corollaries in geometry some persons have perhaps wondered how the word "corollary" came to its present meaning.

Answer. "Corollary" is derived from the Latin word "corollarium" meaning "price of a garland." Later, it also came to mean "a gift of flowers" and from this came to refer to any gratuity or gift. A corollary is a proposition that follows from another that has been proved. This requires little or no proof or effort and may be taken for granted. Thus a corollary is a "gift."

Juniors Prepare For Medieval Prom; Jimmy Stier's Orchestra To Entertain

'Knight To Remember'
Costs $2 Per Couple;
Decor Includes Castle

Dancing to the music of Jimmy Stier's orchestra, juniors will have their "Knight to Remember" Prom on May 4 from 8:30 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

A medieval atmosphere will prevail with the front of the cafeteria being transformed into an old castle by Julie Waldington and Jon Poto, committee chairmen. Dancers will walk under stone archways to enter the main ballroom. Swords and shields will decorate the windows and gaily colored flags bearing various coats of arms will hang from the ceiling.

The columns in the cafeteria will be decorated to represent turrets of the castle. A canopy of cheesecloth will be draped down the entire center aisle. Bill Rastetter and Julie Breidenstein are working on the throne which will be located at the end of the center aisle. Members of their committee are Cynthia Snider, Sharon Stettner, Sue Smith, Corinne Silvers, Jackie Kuhns;

CRYSTINA KRIWOROTOW, Marsha Gronauer, Becky Harsch, Pat Drake, Sharon Chase, Sue Lee, Bonnie Smith, Ann Shilling, Sue Burlage, Gail Brumm, Connie Fugate, Lynne Fraser, Sondra Stouder, and Susan Motter.

A knight's coat of armor will be standing by the throne. Shrubs, a waterfall, and various other medieval decorations are being planned.

The refreshment room will be converted into an old-fashioned inn with stone walls and other decorations. The tables will be covered with white paper and center pieces will consist of bowls of fruit. Sue Burdick and Nancy Nordeen are co-chairmen of the refreshment room.

THEIR COMMITTEE consists of Janet Brenn, Cindy Jackson, Ann McCallister, Erin Rose, Linda Seibel, Marla Habacker, Kaye Gall, Barrie Spear, Diane Brown, Donna Rudasky, Wanda Willraney, Eleanor Dekker, Dawn Truex, and Linda Snider.

Tickets will go on sale May 1 and may be purchased from any home-room agent. Tonya Hines, junior class president, is general ticket chairman. Ken Davis is in charge of publicity. The orchestra was secured by Gary Probst, and Nancy Robinson is in charge of refreshments. Rosemary Capps is chairman of the decorations committee and Rhonda Roehm is her assistant.

Chaperons and guests will be invited by Jerry Klaehn and his committee, consisting of Sue Berk, Nancy A'Hearn, Mary Arnold, Kathy DeVore, Carol Peters, Mary Macker, Bill Tucker, Carl Hike, and Marcia Evislizer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klaehn, Mr. and

DANCE IN THE DIM CAFE . . . Discussing the ideas for decorations for the Junior Prom, "A Knight to Remember," are, left to right, back row, Bill Rastetter, Julie Waldington, Jon Poto, Dave Tipton, Annell Hoover, and Mike Houser, and front row, Nancy Nordeen, Pat Bailey, and Sue Burdick.—Photo by Lowden

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weber, and Mr. Dorsa Yoder.

The programs are also being planned by Jerry Klaehn. Juniors assisting him on this committee are Pat Bailey, Bob Camp, Matt Cornacchione, Judy Conley, Mary Jo MacDonald, Janet Dinius, Sue Lohman, Pat Somers, Mary Jane Reiff, and Virginia Rose.

THE INVITED guests include Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grile, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, Mr. Robert Petty, Mr. Richard Sage, Miss Edith Crowe;

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Emshwiler, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Feasel, Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Fleck, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Furst, Miss Mary Graham, Mr. Samuel Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Quance, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redmond;

Miss Mary Reiff, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker,

Library Club Elects Officers For Autumn

Rhonda Roehm, junior, was elected to serve as president of Library Club. Chosen to serve as vice-president was Karen Ponader, also a junior. Secretary for the group will be Mary Crowder, sophomore; and point recorder will be Junior Harriet Ochstein.

Resides being in Library Club, where she earned her second pin for service, Rhonda is a member of Assemblies Workshop and Walther League at Emmaus Lutheran Church. Commenting on her election, Rhonda said, "I am most happy to have been chosen and hope I can serve as well as the previous presidents have."

Karen has earned her second pin in Service Club and is a member of Wranglers and was also in Meterites during her freshman and sophomore years. Karen has also earned her second pin in Library Club for 160 service points.

Library Club, Tatum agent, playing in the band, and being a member of the First Christian Church are among the activities of Mary, who has earned her first pin in the club.

With her first pin for 75 points, Harriet is also a Times agent, a Peg-aus agent, treasurer of B'nai B'rith Girls, and has earned her bronze Times pin.

Library Club is an organization made up of all students who service in the library, and pins are awarded on the basis of the number of hours of service. The officers' job consists of planning two club picnics, one in the spring and another in the fall.

Math Section To Observe Computers At Lincoln Life

A field trip to the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company today at 3:30 p.m. will climax this semester's activities of the Math Section. The trip will last about an hour.

"We will see their computers and also look at the actuarial department where percentages are computed," stated Dan McCroskey, president of the club.

Purdue Center To Enroll Pupils In Summer Salesmanship Class

Purdue University Center is offering an eight-week course in salesmanship from July 18 to August 10.

Enrollment will be accepted after the course begins. However, it is preferred that they may be received by July 16 since all late entrants will be required to make up cut classes. Any student may enroll in the course; a high school diploma is not required.

The course will include lectures on the fundamentals of salesmanship and the relations of the salesman to economy and to the product he is selling.

ONE MAJOR point of the course will be to show the salesman how to find prospects to buy his product and to follow them up by seeing that he has overcome all the buyer's objec-

Sophomore Party

(Continued from Page 1)

"Twist," the patrons of "Lucky Pierre's" will join in the dancing.

At "La Fette's Den" Mrs. Armstrong's advanced dance group will do another number called "Private Eye."

Paul Cochran and Bruce Baldwin will sing more folk tunes, and their number will be followed by a parade. Participating in the parade and singing "I Gotta Be a Football Hero" will be Barb Fisher, Judi McKay, Sue Weinraub, Marcia Anderson, Nancy Ausburger, Karen Miller, Cheri Craigs, Pat Bobay, and Kathy Branning.

Sue Klaehn and Kathy Klas will do a janitor act and Rick Bear will be the master of ceremonies of the floor show.

Paul Cochran, who heads the entertainment committee, will be aided by Larry Brown, LaVonne Custance, Karen Dimmick, Judy Ruhl, Jim Abramson, Ken Ellingwood, Dave Fairweather, Nancy Stewart, Gary Glessner, Christie Counsman, Vicki Phillips, Dave Fairchild, and Becky Richert.

Also helping on this committee will be Margaret Shirley, Joe McKibben, Maria Marshall, Ann Mol, Sue Klaehn, Kathy Klas, Kathy Branning, Pam Ashton, Martha Hoad, Ken Clauser, Phyllis Pierson, Cheryl Scott, Cheri Hahn, Nancy Lougheed, Jessie Frost, Nancy Westrick, Ann Weber, and Mary Ann Waldrop.

In addition to the street scene with its sidewalk cafes and posters, there will be floats and a paper mache dragon hanging from the ceiling.

The decorations committee includes Jim Barker, Pat Bobay, Paul Boengert, Cheri Hahn, LaVonne Custance, Sharon Graffis, Dan DeWald, David Sarvin, Dudley Wass, Linda Hake, Martha Hoad, Edward Kimble, Nancy Lougheed, Judi McKay, Patty North, Vicki Phillips, Ruth Russ, Cheryl Scott, Suzi Steegman, Barrie McCombs, and Russ Wickham.

Rick Meeks heads the refreshment committee. He will be assisted by Pat Bobay, Jim More, Doug Hansen, Roberta Clauser, John Powers, Sue Wiedelman, Greg Busnuck, Don Hilsenier, Jim Lambert, and Gunther Bauer.

The talent show will be followed by dancing to the music of disc jockey Bob Sievers. Dave Banet was in charge of the ticket sales for the party.

COLLETT'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

Phone: T-1141

MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

McDonald's DRIVE-INS 3-LOCATIONS-3

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison
SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT

Vesta's Mother-Daughter Tea To Emphasize Maypole Theme

TEA PARTY POSIES . . . In preparation for Vesta Club's annual Mother-Daughter Tea on Wednesday in Room 112 at 3:30 p.m., left to right, Eleanor Dekker, Ruth Sprunger, Carol Uhrick, Barbara Buckles, Sharon Stettner, and LaVonne Custance plan to make paper flowers for decorations.—Photo by Lowden

Singing for the Vesta Club's Spring Mother-Daughter Tea at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Greeley Room will be the Key Quartet, Tim Grodrian, Fred Schoen, Mike Carter, and Steve McDonald, with accompanist Dennis Cull, seniors.

Next year's officers will be named during the business meeting.

Nominees for the fall semester officers are Sharon Stettner and Alice Habegger, president; Ann McCoy and Marilyn Parke, vice-president; Yvonne Wilson and Sharon Graffis, secretary; Joyce Pollitt and Gwen Yordy, treasurer; and Mary Barretta and Carol Uhrick, sergeant-at-arms and point recorder.

INVITED GUESTS are Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal; Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor; Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director; and the mothers of the members.

With the basic color being yellow, the tea will feature the decorations on the bulletin boards.

A maypole with yellow streamers extending from it will be placed in the center of the bulletin board. On the end of each streamer a green, pink, yellow, or white flower will be placed on a white doily.

AT OPPOSITE ends of the bulletin board, there will be yellow lattice work decorated with flowers. The table decorations will consist of yellow spring flowers and yellow and white candles. Pineapple punch and white layer cake will be served.

In charge of the refreshments are Ruth Sprunger, chairman, Barb Buckles, Connie Reed, Vicki Moser, and Mary Shrader. Alice Habegger is in charge of issuing invitations, assisted by Mary Barretta, Vicki Suetterlin, Marcia Gronauer, and Beth Bradford.

Sharon Stettner and Eleanor Dekker are in charge of the entertainment. Members of the decorations committee are Nancy Stauffer, chairman, Carol Jo Becher, Judy Shadle, Eleanor Dekker, and Gwen Yordy.

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

GOOD

HOT DOGS . . . 15c
SLOPPY JOES . . . 25c

FOX'S ICE CREAM

3808 S. Calhoun Phone H-5193
Formerly Dixie Ice Cream
Under New Management

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232
WHEN YOU ARRIVE
YOUR ORDER READY

Complete
Catering
Service

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

sharp! is the word for our new NEEDLE-TOE U.S. KEDS®

The point is, they couldn't be more pointed. Or more fashion-right. For our new Keds not only have that slim, slenderizing toe—but a host of new '62 colors—plus all the hidden features that make "Keds" the word for "comfort." So, why not drop in today? Pick up your pair of the sharpest shoes in town! In Narrow and Medium widths for perfect fit.

$4.95
To Size 11

Thursday, April 26
Biology Experimenters, Room 91, 8:30 p.m.
Math Section, Room 74, 8:30 p.m.

Friday, April 27
GAA Softball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Assemblies Workshop, Room 152, 3:30 p.m.

Youth For Christ, Greeley Room, 3:30 p.m.
Sophomore Party, Boys' Gym, 8:30 p.m.

Monday, April 30
Wranglers Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.

Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Softball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, May 1
Carnet Club, Room 70, 3:30 p.m.
Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Talent Show
Botany Section, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.
Quarter-Century Club Banquet

Women's Club, 6:30 p.m.
Astronomy Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, May 2
Vesta Mother-Daughter Tea, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.
Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.

Chemistry Section, Room 4, 3:30 p.m.

HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP

(Across from Azar's)

Baseball Shoes $6.50
Baseball Gloves $6.95 up
Baseballs 75c

3704 South Calhoun

H-8925

Free Parking in the Back

The
Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Redskins Win Relays; Three Records Tumble

Thinly Karl Bandemer Runs In Five Races, Obtains Track Award

By Jon Poto

Last Saturday one of the most interesting meets in the recent history of the North Side Relays was run. Three long-standing records fell and some other very good performances were marked on the books. Lima's Tom Barrington completely shattered the pole vault record which stood since 1958, when he slid smoothly over the bar at 13 feet four inches.

It was expected when Barrington's merits were announced last week that Richie Miller's record of 12 feet two inches would be easy prey for Lima's big boy, Bill Chavis' broad jump record of 21 feet 3 1/4 inches which stood since 1954 finally was beaten by more than a foot when Al McKinney of Central made a leap of 22 feet 4 1/4 inches.

Jon vanOosten was third in the high hurdles behind Hubbard of Central whose winning time was 14.9 and Rufus Brassell of Lima Senior who also took first place in the shot-put. Jon took third place in his heat and was beaten by the same two people in the finals.

GARY MEYERS of North Side turned in one of the two top mile times in the state in the relay meet. The time was 4:29.1 and teammate Steve Konow was about two seconds behind. Former South Sider Dennis Jones holds the best time in the state with about a 4:27. Steve Meyers and Charlie Golden placed third and fourth for South, respectively. Both of these boys turned in good times in the grueling four-lap race.

Karl Bandemer took the 100-yard dash as was expected, but the winning time, 10.3 seconds, was somewhat short of the time hoped for. Bandy was pushed by both Lima's Barrington and Central Catholic's Nancarrow. Karl's trail heat was clocked in 10.1 seconds. South's Tom Wright took fourth in his heat but finished back in the pack in the finals. Mike Dennis of New Haven pulled out a fourth place for his team.

Rufus Brassell of Lima copped first place in the shot-put with a heave of 51 feet 6 1/2 inches. North's Jim Griffith edged second place over Archer Sid Sheray. Griffith had a best put of 47 feet, 2 1/2 inches while Sheray, with his best put so far this year, tossed the iron ball 46 feet 11 1/4 inches. North's Donovan pulled out a fourth place to add another point to North's total.

In the high jump Archer Gary Probst jumped five feet 10 inches but tied with four other competitors. Although the points were equally divided among the four, Gary could have had a clear second place had he not had misfortune at a lower height. The winning jump was by Bruce Hazelett of New Haven with a leap of six feet even. Hazelett, until this time, had never cleared over five feet seven inches.

BARRINGTON'S pole vault record jump of 13 feet four inches led the vaulting field with North's Steve Furst leap of 11 feet nine inches being second and a three-way tie at 11-6.

In the relay events South started off the afternoon with a fourth place in the two-mile relay. Stu Schmitz got the Archers off to a good start but could not stay up with Elmhurst's Reinhold Mueller who ran about a two-minute half. Crosier and Weinraub kept the Archers in the race as North and Lima battled for fourth. Somewhere both North and Culver got ahead of South and all anchorman Ken Ellingwood could do was keep position and cross the line fourth.

In the medley relay South's team of Mol, Lohman, Frazell, and Ellingwood turned in a second place to North Side's hard-running team. Evert Mol did not run one of his better races and did not turn in his true value all afternoon. The rest of the team had commendable times but could not close the small gap. North's winning time was 8:01.4.

THE SHUTTLE hurdles event was a big disappointment to Kelly fans as South failed to make the finals in this event. Jon vanOosten ran a fine 13.2 second leg but the rest of the times were very mediocre. Culver took the first place a full second off the record set by North Side in 1960. Central, Lima, and North Side rounded out the top four places.

The varsity mile relay was a clean win for South as Tom Shine led off and put the Archers ahead at the exchange. Evert Mol took the second leg and ran his quarter in a fair time but not up to par. Bandemer ran the third leg in 50.5 seconds and really looked good. Tom Frazell was off about a step ahead of North Side and Tom matched Bandy's time to sew up the victory. North Side was second, followed by New Haven and Elmhurst. South's winning time was 3:28.9.

In the varsity half-mile relay South placed first in its heat but ended up with only the fourth fastest time in this event. Karl Bandemer, anchored this event and was noticeably showing the effects of three hundreds, and a 440. Culver placed first with a 1:32.7, followed by Central second and North third.

Bandemer came away with the most outstanding athlete award for his afternoon's efforts.

Running Events

Special Mile: 1. Gary Myers, North Side; 2. Steve Konow, North Side; 3. Steve Meyers, South Side; 4. Charles Golden, South Side. Time—4:29.1.

120-yard high hurdles: 1. Bob Hubbard, Central; 2. Rufus Brassell, Lima Senior; 3. Jon vanOosten, South Side; 4. Herb Banks, Central. Time—14.9 seconds.

100-yard dash: 1. Karl Bandemer, South Side; 2. Tom Barrington, Lima Senior; 3. Bill Nancarrow, Central Catholic; 4. Mike Dennis, New Haven. Time—10.3 seconds.

Field Events

Shot-put: 1. Rufus Brassell, Lima Senior; 51 feet, 6 1/2 inches; 2. Jim Griffith, North Side, 47-2 1/2; 3. Sid Sheray, South Side, 46-11 1/4; 4. Barry Donovan, North Side, 46-1 1/2.

High jump: 1. Bruce Hazelett, New Haven, 6 feet even; 2. Tie among Dave Exelstine, North Side; Terry Baker, Elmhurst; Gary Probst, South Side; and Fred DuBois, Central Catholic, 5-10.

Broad jump: 1. Al McKinney, Central, 22 feet, 4 1/4 inches; 2. John Keehn, Culver, 20-8; 3. Roosevelt Dods, Central, 20-2; 4. John Gres, Elmhurst, 19-10 1/2. McKinney set new Relays record, replacing 21-3 1/4 made by Bill Chavis of South Side in 1954.

Pole vault: 1. Tom Barrington, Lima

Tennis Squad Loses To Concordia, Wins One Singles Contest

Capturing only one singles match, the Archer netmen met defeat at the hands of the Concordia Cadets. Matt Cornacchione was the Archer's only winner against a much superior Concordia team.

Jim Lantz led off for South against basketball player Dave Widenhoffer of the Cadets. Dave was able to defeat Jim, 6-1, 6-1, in both games and gave Concordia its first match.

A traditional duel followed as Al Purdy of the Archers challenged Duke Dow. The first game fell into Duke's hands after a long battle by a 7-5 score. He was able to win the second game from Al with less trouble, giving Concordia its second match.

Lex Smuts, one of South's most greatly improved players, battled Cadet Bill Russell in the third match. This match was by far the hardest fought of the day, but Bill was able to win 2 out of 3 games and defeat Lex.

Kruzey of Concordia won the next event from South's fourth man, Terry Smith. Then Matt Cornacchione saved the day for the Archers as he came through in the last singles match with a victory. Matt defeated Cadet Neal Weber in two decisive games by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

The last two events were the doubles matches. Jim Lantz and Al Purdy teamed up to play Dave Widenhoffer and Duke Dow. The Cadet team recorded another victory in this event, 6-3, 6-4.

Then Lex Smuts and Terry Smith fought Bill Russell and Kruzey. This proved to be a better contest, but the Cadet netmen were again the winners, defeating Lex and Terry, 7-5, 6-4. This final match made the total score 6-1 Concordia.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Senior, 13 feet, 4 inches; 2. Steve Furst, North Side, 11-9; 3. Tie among Dave Lucas, North Side; Don Osdale, New Haven; and Clay Adams, Elmhurst, 11-6. Barrington set new Relays record, replacing 12-2 by Rich Miller of South Side in 1958.

Relays

Two-mile relay: 1. Elmhurst (Reinhold Mueller, Don Johnston, Bill Jackson, Dave Waldrop); 2. North Side; 3. Culver; 4. South Side. Time—8:20.9. Medley Relay (880, 220, 440, mile): 1. North Side (Ted Summers, John Ransburg, Bill Pool, Dave Esterline); 2. South Side; 3. Elmhurst; 4. Central. Time—8:01.4.

Shuttle hurdles relay: 1. Culver (Dodd Stacy, John Sullivan, Joe Schlueter, Bill Borkenstein); 2. Central; 3. Lima Senior; 4. North Side. Time—55.8 seconds.

Varsity Mile relay: 1. South Side (Tom Shine, Evert Mol, Karl Bandemer, Tom Frazell); 2. North Side; 3. New Haven; 4. Elmhurst. Time—3:28.9.

Jim Mann, Junior A, Sparks Golf Squad, Uses Chipping Skills

Taking over the number one position on South's golf team this year is Junior Jim Mann. Overshadowed last year as a sophomore by five talented seniors, Jim was still an instrumental part of the team that compiled a fine 12-1 record last spring.

Jim Mann

Jim played for the Archers for the first time after gaining a large amount of experience on his own. He has played steadily since he was nine years old, and usually shoots in the 70's and low 80's, his best score being a 72 for 18 holes.

Looking at the individual aspects of his game, Jim thinks that he does his best work pitching and chipping around the greens. He feels that the area in which he needs to improve most is his putting.

Since the team lost good men because of graduation, Jim expects the Archers' inexperience and youth to hurt them in their early encounters. By the time Sectional tournament time approaches, however, he feels the Archers should again be in contention for the title. Jim expects Elmhurst Trojans to be the Archers' toughest competition during the season.

Looking forward to his future golf career, Jim expects to compete again next year and then hopes to continue in collegiate golf.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Travel-Rite Travel Bureau, Inc.

Reservations—
Foreign and Domestic
• Domestic
• Air
• Steamship
• Hotels
• Cruises
NO SERVICE CHARGE
215 E. Washington E-0241

Archer Netmen Whip Central, C. C. For First Two Victories

Enjoying the taste of victory number one, the Archers continued their winning ways in capturing their second win of the year, a 6-1 rout of vastly improved Central.

Junior Jim Lantz once again started in the number one singles spot and this time walked off with a fairly easy triumph over a game played with Tiger Sophomore Roger Platt by a final tally of 6-2, 6-3.

In the second singles, Junior Al Purdy walked over another tough competitor, Bob Bean, 6-3, 6-0. Bean showed a remarkable amount of poise and stamina, but Purdy's experience won it for him.

John Hopkins of Central provided the opposition for Lex Smuts in the number three singles. Smuts, the member of the Archer corps having won the most games thus far took a hard-fought 6-4, 6-3 decision.

A FINAL COUNT of 6-4, 6-3 was the only evidence of Archer Matt Cornacchione's conquest of Tiger Dave Gaskill. Matt used a very consistent net attack to somewhat effortlessly dispose of his downtown rival.

In the final singles action, Sophomore Archer Bill Hanke, playing in his first varsity match mowed down Central's Bob Krewson by a score of 6-4, 6-2. Hanke looked very impressive in posting one of the finest first-time efforts within the recollection of Coach Everet Havens.

The doubles were just a rerun of the singles action with the Purdy-Lantz team scoring their second victory as a unit for this season. They topped Hopkins and Platt 6-2, 6-2. The second doubles were a little different. Bean and Gaskill caught Archer netmen Smuts and Cornacchione, and trimmed them 6-4, 6-4 for the only Tiger point of the afternoon.

South's record now is even at 2-2 with victories over Central Catholic and Central with losses coming at the hands of Peru and Marion.

Battling hard, the Archer racketeers finally pulled out their first victory of the 1962 campaign with a 5-2 triumph over Central Catholic on April 16 at Lafayette Park.

Jim Lantz, playing the top spot, ran into a real tough competitor in Tom Radders of the Irish. Radders, a well-conditioned, all round athlete, had a little more "zing" in his strokes and pulled out the victory by a final margin of 6-4, 6-3.

ALLEN PURDY PLAYED the number two position and ran into a little trouble before conquering Bob Hello 7-5, 6-2. This was Purdy's first singles win of the year.

Lex Smuts once again played the third position and rather easily subdued Mark Schaefer by the score of 6-3, 6-1.

In the number four singles, Archer Terry Smith showed real determination in fighting Danny McVay of the Irish to a standstill in a two hour and 45 minute marathon. The score was 10-8, 2-6, and 9-8 in favor of Smith when the match was stopped because of lateness of the hour.

Sophomore Jim McMahan looked very impressive considering it was his first varsity effort, and dragged his experienced foe, Ronnie Pausig into "overtime," a third set, before succumbing, 6-3, 5-7, 8-6.

In doubles, the Purdy-Lantz team ran into tough competition before finally upending the Irish team of Badders and Steve App, 6-4, 6-2.

New Haven Whips Freshmen, Sweeps Field Events, Hurdles

New Haven spoiled South Side's freshman track team's debut in a meet staged on April 11, at New Haven as the Bulldogs vanquished the Green by a score of 84 1/3 to 24 2/3.

The meet began with the high hurdles, which were won by Hendricks of New Haven in 19.7. However, South picked up both second and third as Dick Fields and Bob Kinsey ran times of 20.4 and 20.9, respectively.

Although Hendricks had almost no rest between the races, he came right back to win the 100-yard dash with a time of 11.3. Dick Robbins copped second for South, running it in 11.6; while Snyder finished third for New Haven.

THEN CAME ONE of the few bright spots for the Archers. Russ Grose, the team's best miler, put on a great show of stamina as he withstood the fast pace and sprinted to beat out Shenfeld by a few yards.

In the 440, South's Tom Muha took an early lead and kept it throughout most of the race; but it proved to be too much, and he couldn't hold up against the sprints of Sauer and Williams from New Haven. He finished a close third at 59.6. Sauer's winning time was 58.4.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons Incorporated PRINTERS

Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!

Teenagers and the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Archer Thinlies Defeat Irish In Dual-Meet By 70-39 Score

On April 17, the Archer thinlies attended a dual-meet with Central Catholic at the Irish track. As expected the Gold and Purple were very weak, and the Greenmen looked to their own ranks for most of the real competition. The Kellys copped the meet by a 70-39 score in what might have been called "experimentation day."

This term means that Coach Robert Gernard didn't run "Big Jon" vanOosten in the low hurdles, nor Karl Bandemer in the furlong. Instead he placed "Handy" in the 440 which he won, as well as trying out other newer and more inexperienced combinations in various races to see the possible future prospects. Only these factors kept South's margin to a commanding 31 points.

Gary Probst came through with a fine 5'10" high jump. South also managed to get some points in the field events which have been infamously hard on the Green so far.

IN THE CENTURY Bandemer won easily in a rather slow 10.2 seconds. He was followed across the line by two Central Catholic lads, Nancarrow and Krouse. Bob Lohman and Tom Wright finished fourth and fifth, respectively, for South. Bandy had little trouble with Nancarrow as it was thought he might.

The 220 proved an unusual situation for the Archers. Bandemer, who did not run, thus breaking his winning streak for the past three years, left South with a second and third.

In the one-lap race Bandemer, who hasn't been running the dash before but who may be continuing to do so, won in a close race to the tape with Tom Frazell, the regular in this event, has been dominating it all season. The time was a slightly slow 53.0 seconds. Charais of C. C. finished a close third.

The half-mile found South Side veteran Evert Mol taking the race by about a yard over Sophomore Ken Ellingwood. Once again the time was not very similar to last year's times; but this was due in part, at least, to the poor conditions. Trevino of the Irish finished third in this event.

THE MILE FOUND South with another one-two punch. This time in the form of two underclassmen, Glen Crosier and Charlie Golden. Both of these boys ran well, finishing one-two with a winning time of 4:57.2. Third was taken by Mauch of C. C.

The high hurdles found "Big Jon" vanOosten winning in a pretty good 15.5 time. Jon won this race by a big margin and had a good time despite the fact that he hit a couple of hurdles. It seems the "sticks" were not placed correctly on the track and consequently several boys fell over the hurdles.

Even though he won the highs easily, Jon abstained from running the lows, allowing South Sider Phil New to finish first. Junior Mike Tomkinson, also of South, finished second. Both of these boys did well, having been overshadowed by vanOosten previously. Palmer of C. C. finished with a third place in the lows and second in the highs. Reitzing of the Irish finished third in the highs.

The field events were a little brighter than usual on this day. Probst jumped very well, clearing the bar at 5'10". Boedeker of C. C. was second, while Senior Tom McMahan finished third. The high jumping pit was an interesting and productive place for South. McMahan, who also finished second in the broad jump, was beaten by Hart of Central Catholic, but only by two inches.

Hilsmer of South came in third with a jump of 18'10". In the pole vault Weaver won the event by clearing ten feet. This showed improvement on his part over several previous performances. He was followed into the pit by Geusching and Trevino of the Irish, who were not up for the event.

THE SHOT PUT found Sitko of Central Catholic with a first at 45 ft. five inches followed by Sheray of South. Don Sievert was third for South in an event dominated by the Archers last year.

The 880 relay was bad news with Tom Wright, Bob Lohman, Ted Rolf, and Gary Probst being defeated pretty decisively. However, this is an unusual combination and can't really be taken seriously. The time was 1:37.2 for the C. C. squad of Krause, Flood, Charais, and Nancarrow.

The mile relay was interesting in that South ran two teams. The race was close between them, looking as if it might end in a dead heat until Frazell lunged at the tape, defeating the other anchor man, Bandemer, by inches.

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.

333 S. Clinton A-8411

Real Estate & Insurance

Robert H. Carto & Associates

3414 South Calhoun Street

H-8916 R-4909

Downtown and Northeast

4-PIECE FORMAL ENSEMBLE

Dinner Jacket
Tuxedo Slacks
Cummerbund
Tie

Very Specially Priced

$29.95

Complete

FOR THE PRICE OF A FEW RENTALS, you can OWN YOUR OWN lightweight Formal Ensemble. Have it for all occasions. You'll soon save plenty and enjoy the feeling that "this is mine." Very specially priced. Exactly right in style, comfortable lightweight and tailored to FIT you perfectly. Regulars, Shorts, Longs, and Extra Longs.

FREE!

ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios

EVERY WEEK...

AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds...register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS

Gardner's... DOWNTOWN

Gardner's... by the COLISEUM

...for the original...the best

...the one and only GARDNER HAMBURGER

WIN THIS RADIO!

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

*EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Thinlies To Face Luers In Easy Contest, To Defend Delphi Relay Crown Saturday

Hobart Poses As Prime Threat In Shuttle Relay, Sprint Events

Although a somewhat weaker entry than last season, the Archer cinder-men will enter the Delphi Relays at Delphi, Ind., Saturday with a good chance of successfully defending their 1961 championship.

From all indications it appears as though Hobart will again be South's prime barrier, the Archers posing a graver threat to its other opponents this season. Frank Kurth's Purple and Gold have the makings of a state contender this season, although from the realistic point of view Roosevelt of Gary has only to wait for the state finals to be recognized as state track champions of Indiana.

Returning for the Brickies is veteran hurdler Jim Grudzenski, who thus far this season has posted times of :14.7 on the highs and :20 flat on the low sticks. In last year's state finals at Indianapolis, Grudzenski skinned the high barriers for a second place finish and is well on his way to win higher goals this year.

ALTHOUGH THEY lack a state champion and one of their school's finest milers in history in the name of Jim Marler, Hobart again has good material in the name of Bernie Claxton who so far has a fine 4:35 clocking to his credit. In the dashes, Hobart has tremendous speed in crack sprinter Sam Kozyna, who has posted a :10 flat hundred and a comparable time in the century but will find the victory going quite hard to come by.

Jon Erchstrand is Hobart's top 440 man with a :32.5 clocking, and South's fine mile relay team headed by Bandermer and Frazell with :50.5 clockings should find a victory if starters Shine and Mol maintain their usual form.

Hobart enters the meet with the most challenging mile relay team for the Archers, their best being a 4:34 flat. They should have the top half-mile relay teams, however, with their 1:32.8 clocking; but if South can juggle their personnel, a winning combination may be found.

HOBART SHOULD have a good shuttle relay team, provided they have some depth to back up Grudzenski and also should have a pretty good two-mile relay quartet, their top 880-man Mike Houts is capable of a 2:02.2 clocking.

In the field events Hobart is fair all around but they have no real standouts, which might be of some help to South's field men. Their high jumper Chuck Hamilton has hit the 5-10 mark which is definitely not out of Archer Gary Probst's reach, provided he has a good day. Their shot putter Ernie Ray has thrown a 48-foot toss, only a foot better than Archer Sid Sheray, and their broad jumper Bob Gruehler has had a 20-6 leap which is in all probability too far out of reach for South's jumpers.

Incidentally, Hobart has only two seniors among that bunch mentioned above and should be a team to look for next year as one of the state's powerhouses.

ANOTHER ENTRY which might make some noise individually rather than team-wise is Lafayette Jefferson. The Bronchos are rather weak in the hurdles and dashes but might very well have a fine two-mile relay team. Their top 880 man Ken Stene, a sophomore, has posted a 2:04.7 clocking already this year.

Lafayette will also be weak in the other relays unless they have good enough balance to load one or two of their relays in order to come up with some strong runs. They are also weaker than favored South and Hobart in the field events, although they lay claim to a 50-6 shot putter in the name of Gage Grover.

Other teams in the Class "A" division, the one in which South is entered and in which they are defending champions, are Gary Andean, Peru, Frankfort, Chesterton, and Gary Calumet.

ANDREAN, IN ITS FIRST year as a school, is naturally weak and will probably not be much of a contender, unless they compose one strong relay from their weak aggregation in comparison to South and Hobart.

Peru will also find themselves short of good material and will be faced with a similar problem unless they come to life by surprise.

Frankfort and Chesterton are usually fair aggregations so no doubt they will enter some fairly good relays but as a team championship, Gary Calumet will also be a team to watch for and could very well be a slugger for co-favorites South and Hobart.

This Saturday marks the twenty-

HAPPY HUMPTY DRIVE-INS

"For Your Eating Pleasure"

Fairfield at Packard

Anthony at Pontiac

Bluffton Road, Waynedale

U.S. Highways 27, 33, 224,

Decatur

ninth running of the annual affair which includes the standard field events, special mile, high hurdle races, and five relay attractions.

The meet will be the last of its kind for South this season due to the cancellation of the Lima Relays and should give some good indications of Sectional entries for Coach Bob Germand. The meet is comparable to North Side Relays and for the avid track fan is a most colorful meet.

Golfers To Play Against Trojans, Central Catholic

The golf team will make its fourth start Monday at Brookwood Golf Course against city opponent Elmhurst. The Archers have already downed the highly rated Trojan squad in their first meeting April 19. A pre-season favorite, Elmhurst, is off to a poor start and should fall victim to the Archers for a second time this season.

Elmhurst has two seniors returning from last year's fine team, which placed second in the Sectional and twelfth in the State meet. They are Tom Horton and Dave Foreman. Both are expected to be outstanding golfers on this year's squad. Another senior, Bob Johnson, competed in the Sectional for the Trojans, but did not travel to the State meet.

BRV DENIG is the other senior on the team. Two juniors, Steve Shockney and Jeff Borne, and a sophomore, Alan Roman, round out the squad. The Elmhurst linksmen were dealt a damaging blow when a very promising sophomore, Greg Hartwell, moved to Florida.

Coach Nick Werling believes this year's team is not nearly as strong as last year's squad and expects more than the two losses in 1961. Coach Werling also stated that Central Catholic and South Side are probably the strongest city squads this year.

South Side will probably face their toughest city opponent Tuesday in a surprising Central Catholic links squad. Central Catholic has won its first three meets against Decatur, Elmhurst, and Garrett. South has also defeated Decatur and Elmhurst.

Coach Joseph Daniel considers this a rebuilding year because three of the four members of the team are underclassmen.

COACH DANIEL received a pleasant surprise in freshman sensation Russ Kunfer, who has been the medalist twice in three outings. The other medalist so far is Steve Hensler, a sophomore. The Irish have two let-terms back from last year's golfers to add experience to the team.

One is all-city basketball player Steve Krull, who is a junior. Mike Martin, a senior, is the other let-terms. Mr. Daniel hopes to finish one game above .500 this year.

Camera Club Lists Plans For Remaining Meetings

Mr. Richard Sage, sponsor of Camera Club, has recently announced the club's plans for this semester's remaining meetings. All members are urged to attend these last few meetings for the purpose of learning more about next year's program.

Since the Tuesday meeting of Camera Club has been cancelled, the two remaining meetings are on May 15 and May 29. At the May 15 meeting, there will be a photography contest.

Contest rules are all pictures submitted must have been taken this semester, the pictures may be of any category, and the contestant may submit any number of photographs. Plans are still in progress for the May 29 meeting.

Recently elected club officers are Dave Aubrey, president; Joe Thorpe, vice-president; and Paul Leopold, secretary-treasurer. The officers which were replaced by the previously mentioned officers are Gene Gallagher, president; Paul Leopold, vice-president; and Terry Borne, secretary-treasurer.

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451

4133 New Haven Avenue

Fort Wayne, Indiana

NEW "JET FLAME"

FUEL OIL

It is pure

It is CLEAN

It's uncracked

It's more uniform

It causes less carbon

It is fresh

It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Marks' Motto:

When you help someone else up a hill, you're much nearer the top yourself.

3818 S. Calhoun

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenborn

VOLLEYBALL VICTORS... Intramural volleyball champions are, left to right front, Dale Smith, Bill Borgmann, and Frank Lewis. In back are, left to right, Bob Hendricks, Bart Bailey, and Dave Smith. Among their competitors were the Teachers, a new team consisting of members of the faculty.—Photo by Jones

Giant volleyball action saw the Spartans Four defeat the Dynamoes, 15-11, 13-2. Mike Saalfrank and Gene Stier boosted the winners while Brian Haycock aided the losers.

The bowling tourney was completed during Spring Vacation and here are the results: in tenth position with a three game total of 356 is Dave James; Ken Witzmann is in ninth place with a 357 three game total; Steve Quinn with his 355 is in eighth place; a 368 total puts Jim Carnahan in seventh position; Bill Roebel's 369 wins for him sixth spot.

Fifth place position goes to Brent Zeir with his 378 total; Ron Koenig, who had the lightweight division's highest single game of 193, is in fourth position with a three game total of 389; a 403 series earns the third position for Bill Speck; Dick Astrom has the runner-up spot with a 424 total; and John Grodrian is the new lightweight division's champion with a three game series totaling 484.

The lightweight division's winners are Jack Garrison in tenth place with a three game total of 379; ninth position belongs to Bill Ausderan with his 389 total; Jim Harrold owns the number eight spot with his 422 total; a 423 series earns Larry Pennell seventh place; Tom Wooding has sixth position and a 428; Steve Shambaugh is fifth with 438.

John Grandstaff takes fourth place with his 447; Ned Krouse has a 454 for third spot; Tim Grodrian comes in second with a 509 series; and, with a series totaling a sensational 605, a record for this school, and also the highest single game total of 246, is Tom Galland. Tom is in first place in the lightweight division. His bowling, some of the best seen at South, is as high as some of the better men bowlers. Congratulations, Tom!

Bill Joy owns tenth place in the heavyweight division with his 425 series; the number nine position belongs to Ken Lowden for his three game total of 429; Steve Reidel is in eighth position with a 430; Jerry Thomas and Don Dawson are tied for seventh place with series totals of 433; a 452 earns Dan Hearnay sixth spot.

Doug Trier, with his 457 total, gets the number five place; Louie Baughman has fourth position with a 482 score; a 483 puts Terry Bodine in the third spot; Steve Petty is in the runner-up slot with a series totaling 522; and, for the second straight year, John Addington is the heavyweight division's champion. John has a series total of 586 and also this division's highest single game, 211.

HOME JUICE CO.
FRUIT JUICES & PUNCHES
Punch Bowls, Ladles, and Cups
1816 Reidmiller St. E-6483

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15¢
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15¢

Kellys To Gain Wins In Mile, Relays, Sprints

Knights' Don Lunquist To Challenge Bowmen In Area Of Pole Vault

South Side's thinlies should have easy pickings when they face the Bishop Luers Knights in a track meet Monday at South's stadium. The Knights have fared very poorly in dual meets so far, compiling an 0-3 record.

They have been defeated by Central Catholic, Huntertown, and Concordia. C.C. is the only common foe of the two teams, the Archers owning a large margin of victory over the Irish.

Individually, the Knights have only one performer who has a better mark than an Archer. He is pole vaulter Don Lunquist, who has reached the 11-foot mark in competition. This is about half a foot higher than his nearest Archer competitor.

ASSUMING THAT ARCHER Coach Robert Gernand does not decide to experiment with some of his lesser known barriers, the Archers should be easy victors in most of the other events. The one possible exception could be the 180-yard low hurdles where Knight Robin Russell has a time within a few tenths of a second of Archer Jan vanOosten. VanOosten has more than a half-second advantage over Jim Still of the Knights in the high hurdles.

The Archers' veteran sprinter Karl Bandermer should have no Knight within ten yards of him at the finish of the 100-yard dash. Knight Mike Burns' time of 10.9 compares poorly with the Bowbenders' 10.0. The situation is similar in the 220, Burns having recorded a best time of 23.9 to Bandermer's 23.0.

Continuing their mastery of the running events, the Archers have two men far ahead of any Knight in the quarter-mile run. Both Bandermer and Tom Frazell have been running close to fifty-two seconds in this event while their probable opponent, Tom Blasing, has a best time of 56.0.

In the mile run, Archer Ken Ellingwood has about a quarter of a minute advantage over his competitor, Steve Ottenwiler. Everet Mol has recorded a comparable margin in the half-mile.

THIS COULD BE ONE of the few meets in which the Archers do well in the field events. In the shot put, Sid Sheray has achieved a distance five feet better than Jim Kambsen of Luers. Reserves Larry Dawson and Dave Pritchard also should beat out their Knight competition.

Rapidly improving Archer Gary Probst's leap of 5-10 in the high jump placed him four inches above Jim Still of Luers. Tom Blasing has the Knights' best broad jump, 18-5.

The Archer's relay teams should also be able to fashion easy victories. The half-mile relay could be fairly close, the Knights being only five seconds slower than the Archers; but the Green's time of 328.9 in the mile is more than twenty seconds better than the Red and Black.

Though Coach Gernand will probably experiment in some of these events, the Archers should still have the larger number of blue ribbons at the end of the meet.

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371
This week's Small Snaps
is Cheryl Lee.

SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.

on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
Tournament Round
Concordia vs. Bishop Luers

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

Congratulations to Karl Bandermer, voted outstanding athlete of the North Side Relays, as well as to the fine Archer aggregation which took second place last Saturday, behind the host Redskins. North took the laurels for the eighth time in the history of the event dating back to 1951. Only South and Lima have disrupted the chain of North Side victories.

Firsts were chalked up by Bandermer in the 100 and the mile relay squad, who knocked off .9 seconds from their previous low to record a 3:28.0. Bandy's century was 10.3 after a 10.1 qualification heat. Members of the relay team were Tom Shine; Everet Mol; Bandermer, who clocked his 440 in 50.5; and Tom Frazell, who also checked in a 50.5. South placed in all other relays except the shuttle hurdles and in all other events except the pole vault and broad jump. Sid Sheray let out to 46-11 1/4 in the shot put and Gary Probst cleared 5-10 in the high jump for the Bowman's field points.

A couple of outstanding individual performances were turned in by Lima's one-man team, Tom Barrington, who vaulted 13-4, best in Indiana this year, and Central's Al McKinney, who flew 22-4 1/2 in broad jump.

Some mighty fine times were recorded elsewhere in the state Saturday. East Chicago's fabulous Bernie Rivers tore through the century in 9.7 at the Goshen Relays to hack off a .1 second of the previous low this season. In the same meet, Gary Roosevelt, defending State champions, astounded the audience with a 3:20.3 mile relay, a good four seconds lower than their indoor time which had been leading all other Hoosier crews.

With that flashy time and Clay Leek's 19.7 in the low sticks, as well as the overwhelming power of Roosevelt in all other events, the 1961 champs appear to be ready to cop the 1962 title. Victims of Roosevelt might this year, including rough little Hobart, claim that the Gary crew is even tougher than they were last season. They are undefeated as yet, with decisive margins of victory against all competition.

That speedy mile relay of Roosevelt's isn't too far away from the NCAA standard of 3:11 set by Texas Southern last Saturday. The terrific Texans, who have set at least one new record in each meet they have run this year, capped the Kansas relays with finality and are now preparing for the big time—the Drake relays tomorrow and Saturday.

Already the Houston sprinters own better records than the established time in five events, the 440 relays, 880 relays, the mile relay, the two-mile relay, and sprint medley relay. Anything can happen though. Later Abilene Christian, sailed in as favorites and slumped out with but one victory to their credit.

The Kelly racketmen and golfers are performing well, now that warm weather has arrived. The netters have survived perhaps the toughest part of the schedule without too much damage, only losses to Marion, Peru, and Concordia, three of the top squads in the area.

Peru has one of the finest groups in the state. The Arrow-fingers' links tourers have tallied a 3-0 slate, counting a triangular victory over Kendallville and Elmhurst. Rick Kneisley has posted medalist scores twice, a 38 against Decatur and a 39 in the triangles. Jim Littlejohn tied him with a 38 in the first meet, followed by Jeff Roth's 39.

The next big test comes next Monday as the Bowbenders meet the Trojans again. If the Green can take this one, too, they'll be well on their way to the city title.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2330 Fort Wayne, Indiana

DID YOU KNOW?

The Purdue University Fort Wayne Center offers:

1. Two years of regular University work.
2. A two-year degree in engineering technology.
3. An opportunity to live at home and save.
4. Accredited university courses.
5. Day and evening classes so that you can earn while you learn.

Call A-3171 for more details

Summer session starts June 18.

Fall semester starts Sept. 12.

Rent Your

TUXEDOS

For the "Prom"

morell men's wear

SOUTHGATE PLAZA

PH. K-8181

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Stewart W. Trulock John J. Morell

Retailing Business Offers Opportunity, Challenge To Persons With Initiative

Creative Abilities Aid Advertisers, Buyers In Specialized Fields

The total personal income of the people of the United States from October 1960 through September 1961 was about $420 billion. According to the Department of Commerce, $217 million of this income was spent for retail purchases.

Taking into consideration the big chunk of money that taxes take out of personal income, then it is immediately evident that retail sales account for more than seventy per cent of the people's "disposable income."

Retailing in the United States is a "big industry." There are over one million seven hundred thousand individual retail establishments, or 42 per cent of all our business organizations. Approximately eight million men and women distribute the goods and services of American production to the consumers of the United States through these individual stores.

Retailing is a challenge to the creative technological genius of the United States to create new products and new methods of bringing these products to the consumer. In order to please the buyer, Dupont invented nylon. Then came the new "miracle fibers," the expanding uses for plastics, television, automatic washers and dryers, and all the daily conveniences of modern living.

THE TREMENDOUS capacity of American mass production would be meaningless if the product could not be efficiently and profitably distributed. In order to keep the markets open for the manufacturer, the retailer must also fill the vital role of anticipating the consumer's needs. Finally, by using his initiative in merchandising and advertising, the retailer must sell the product to the prospective buyer.

Retailing, whether in a small store, a chain store organization, or in a department store, offers a wide variety of career opportunities for both men and women.

There is a career for the man who wants to be his own boss; for the one who prefers to work in a big organization; for the one who would like to be a jack-of-all-trades; or for the one who wants to be a specialist.

Before seriously entering the retail field, one should first decide on the opportunity that is desired. Since experience in retail training is always transferable, it is often advisable to take the opportunity that offers training.

In the small store or in the individual chain store outlet, the retailer tends to be a jack-of-all-trades; he may do his own record-keeping, hire an employee, and pay the bills, as he continues to fulfill his foremost responsibility—selling merchandise to the public.

The functions for operating a small store and a large concern are basically the same; but, as the large concern expands, efficiency necessitates specialization in one type of work.

EFFECTIVE merchandising is the primary goal of every large store, because to buy and to sell effectively are the keys to success. A merchandising career can very well begin at the salesman level, learning the basic steps in selling and customer contact. Responsibility for the merchandise stock of a department may lead to the position of assistant buyer.

BEHIND THE SCENES . . . Playing a big part in the large retailing industry are the sales personnel in the retail stores. Mr. Robert Hutter, right, is acquainting Susi Meierding with some new merchandise before she shows it to a customer.—Photo by Lowden

The key executive in effective merchandising is the buyer. A buyer must know his customers' needs, anticipate their wants, make sure the merchandise will sell at a profit, increase the volume of his department, and know his competitors' goods.

A buyer must have the qualities of enthusiasm, energy, and intelligence, the instinct of a good trader, and the ability to get along well with people and to organize his own time.

Merchandising provides limitless opportunities for a career. Most store presidents come from this group.

The second field of specialization in a large store is that of store operations. Broadly, this specialty calls for supervisory and organizing skills, customers' services, receipt, warehousing, and delivery of merchandise, and for buying and keeping up operating equipment and supplies for the store.

EXPERIENCE AND ability in any of these lines may eventually lead to positions of store superintendents, warehouse managers, heads of customer service, maintenance superintendents, delivery managers, work-room managers, and receiving supervisors.

Those who have special abilities in writing, illustrating, drawing, and window or fixture displays will find a good career in sales promotions. The advertising department of a department store tries to pre-sell the public to the idea of shopping at the store.

The creative department of sales promotion is also responsible for good public relations between the store and the local public. To achieve good will, the store will sponsor all sorts of civic activities and worthy causes.

The personal department of retailing establishments offers good opportunities to those who are interested in employment, training of employes, wage and salary administration, merit ratings, employee counseling, and management-labor relations.

ANYONE WHO WORKS in the personnel department must be interested in people as individuals, and he must respect them as such. He must understand human behavior, and he must be tactful, patient, and objective.

He must have administrative ability, and he must be able to put people at ease. Personnel management plays a very important role in retailing, because personnel is responsible for the selection, training, placement, advancement, and welfare of the employees.

The controller's division of a store is responsible for its financial soundness. This division keeps a strict record of the accounting and finance, maintains a close check on receipts and expenditures, prepares the payrolls, and determines tax obligations. The credit managers control credit sales, which are approximately 54 per cent of the total volume of store sales.

An applicant for a career in control work must qualify on four points: he must have adequate training in mathematics and accounting; he must understand and be able to interpret financial and economic data; he must have administrative ability; and he must have a sense of economy.

As the nation's second largest industry, retailing offers a challenging opportunity to the high school student, whether as a permanent future career or as a possible summer or part-time placement.

Three Students To Model Clothes In Fashion Show

Junior Sharyan Yarger, sophomores Rosalind Wilson, and Carmen Wilson will model clothes for the beach, the playground, school, Sunday, "after-five," and street wear at the second annual fashion show, "Symphony in Fashion," to be presented at McCulloch Center on Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Two of the escorts for the models will be Junior Tyrone Porter and Bob Bryant, senior. Decorations will be centered around a garden arrangement with soft music in the background. Punch will be served.

Immediately following the show, high school students will attend a record hop until 11:30 p.m.

Tickets for the fashion show and record hop may be purchased for fifty cents from Sharyan Yarger, co-chairman of the event, and Yvonne Wilson, publicity chairman. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Persons Using Good Grammar Increase Friendships, Grades

"You seen her today? Ain't that there dress she's wearin' the keenest?" asked one girl of another as they were walking in the hall.

The other girl then replied, "Yes, but there is two or three others around school; and anyhow it's mighty long on 'er. Say, will ya wait on me after class 'cause I gotta talk to the teach? I'm in a jam over the reports 'at was due yesterday." "O.K. I'll see ya later on."

Examples of the slovenly English used in the conversation above can be heard in many places throughout the day. Many teenagers and even adults think that as long as they are not in an English class or in the presence of an English teacher, the type or form of English they use does not matter.

These people are wrong. Although they do not realize it, people are always forming opinions of them. The highness or lowness of the opinion rests upon their tongues. People are judged by their words and deeds; and, if their words and deeds do not convey the same ideas, others will know that either there is something lacking in the person's background and education or the person just does not care.

Many jobs are lost by people who use bad English. Often an employer will award a job to the person of best appearance and speech.

SEVERAL REASONS can be given for poor English. The first reasons are that the person has had no formal training, has had insufficient schooling, or that poor English is used at home. Another is if the person becomes lazy; he then "gets into a rut," a habit very difficult to break.

The final reason is evident if a teenager or a child tries to impress his peers by using poor English thus becoming the center of attraction which is exactly what he wants. This showing off soon turns into habit.

The first example can sometimes be corrected by the person, but since he has had no training, it is usually advisable to receive some form of teaching. If the other two types have not practiced the bad English very long, they most likely can correct it by themselves through perseverance, if they have the will to do it.

What is bad English? Bad English is the use of words, phrases and sentences that are either spoken or written which are not correct in either form or usage, depending on the level of usage. Different levels of usage and what is proper to one level may not be proper to another.

Literary English is the highest level. It is only used in novels, short stories, histories, biographies, magazine articles, formal letters, formal essays, and public speeches. Slang, vulgarisms, and localisms are never used. Although idioms are sometimes used, colloquial expressions are in bad taste.

Colloquialism is the other main level of English. The word colloquial comes from two Latin words meaning "to talk with." It suggests the informal, free, and easy conversation between friends when they cut off their dignity. Colloquial expressions are also used in informal letters and essays.

SLANG IS USED BY millions of people, and will continue to be used as long as languages exist and people have a sense of humor.

Idioms are another form of colloquialism. They mean one thing but are understood for another. For instance the familiar, "How do you do?" is an idiom. Other examples include: in the long run; call in question; side by side; to make good; run for office; a red letter day; and yours truly (used at end of a letter). Idioms are used to make one's English more natural, individual, forceful, sparkling, and effective.

The last forms of colloquialism are the vulgarisms and illiteracies, which are wholly unauthorized words and phrases that are used by ignorant and uncultured people.

Some vulgarisms are: hadn't ought to; hain't; him; for his; kinder; for kind of; that there; this here; quite some; and fix up, meaning dress elegantly. Anywhere; nowhere; learn, meaning teach; any double negatives such as can't hardly; this a ways; couldn't of gone; between you and I; I give him; and he come, done, seen, or run for he came, did, saw, or ran are some examples of illiteracies.

When a word is termed colloquial, it does not mean that the word should be condemned, but that it should put a person on notice to be careful in the use of it.

The best way to determine if a word is good English and of standard usage is to note if it is used by reputable speakers and writers of national renown at the present time. If the word or phrase fits all of these qualifications, it is of standard usage.

Summer School To Offer Driver Training Classes

Drivers education and training class sessions for this summer at Central High School will be first session, June 11-June 22; second session, June 25-July 7; third session, July 7-July 26; and the fourth session, July 29-August 4.

The cost of the complete course is $17.50. The Aetna car phase is $16 and the book phase is $5. In order to qualify for student insurance plans, as well as a driver's license, a student must complete both phases.

During the fourth session only the Aetna car phase will be taught. This session is for summer school students who can take the book work during one of the other three sessions from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Registration may be made between April 23 and May 4. Any student who is a senior or 16 years of age or older should register between April 23 and April 27. Any student who is 15 years old should register between April 30 and May 4.

Eight students will be enrolled in each of the first three sessions and six in the fourth. Tuition must be paid at the time of registration. No adjustment in scheduling, or no refund of tuition will be made after May 29. All checks should be made payable to the Book Department of the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Miss Olive Perkins Crochets Bandages For Leprosy Colonies

Miss Olive Perkins, Spanish and French teacher, was at a friend's house when she noticed that the friend was knitting. Upon her inquiry as to her purpose, her friend replied that it was a bandage to be sent to Doctor Albert Schweitzer, who is in Africa.

Miss Olive Perkins

Her interest having been aroused, Miss Perkins was soon knitting bandages. These bandages, which may be of white, or any light pastel color, are knitted of regular crochet cotton, and may be of any length, from 36 inches to 90 inches, by three inches wide.

Women belonging to the World Fellowship organization of the YWCA contribute these home-made bandages, and they receive no pay for this work. Bandages from Fort Wayne, along with the ones from other cities across the country, are sent to leprosy colonies in Mississippi and Africa and other countries.

These bandages are very helpful at these leprosy colonies, and especially so at the colony operated by Dr. Schweitzer.

Doctor Schweitzer is the well-known Nobel Prize winner and medical missionary who almost single-handedly established, equipped, and maintained the hospital in Lambarene in French Equatorial Africa. The hospital wages a continual fight against leprosy, sleeping sickness, and other tropical diseases.

Miss Perkins knits bandages when she feels that she needs to relax. Miss Perkins stated, "The knitting of the bandages is fine pick-up work. I don't feel like I'm wasting time while being of service, and I am helping those people who are less fortunate than myself."

Top Three Speakers To Travel To Finals Of State Tourney

Sue Horth, Phil Spray, and Barb Nelson will compete in the state finals of the speech tourney Saturday at Ben Davis High School, Indianapolis, Indiana.

These three were ribbon-winners at the Regional competition at Elkhart High School on April 7. Sue received a first place in girls' extemporaneous speaking; Phil copped a second place in original oratory; and Barb earned a fourth place in poetry.

Shari Busch received a sixth place in humorous which makes her an alternate in the state competition.

Each contestant will compete in two preliminary rounds receiving either an "up" or "down" rating, the former denoting the best speakers. Those who have at least one "up" after the preliminary rounds will advance to the semi-finals.

Astronaut To View Effort

"Sixty Hours To The Moon," a one-hour ABC News presentation, will be telecast by Channel 21 Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Lt. Col. John Glenn, Astronaut Alan Shepard, and leading space scientists will thoroughly examine U.S. efforts to land on the moon by 1967 and to go beyond. This special program will reveal the perils, problems, and prospects of future space efforts.

COLONIAL Restaurant E-2000

KLA EHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Oberlin College Offers Students Liberal Arts, Science Training

Oberlin College, a privately-supported college, is located at Oberlin, Ohio, a small village of 8,198 inhabitants. Oberlin was the first co-educational school on the college level, being the first in the United States to award college degrees to women in 1841.

Oberlin is a liberal arts school. It has a college of arts and sciences, a conservatory of music, and a graduate school of theology. The Theological Seminary was the first to be established and in 1865 the Conservatory of Music was added.

IN 1960, 1,760 STUDENTS were graduated from the College of Arts and Science, 2,452 from the Conservatory of Music, and 183 from the Graduate School of Theology.

The library on the campus contains more than 550,000 volumes and a large collection of pamphlets and government documents.

Oberlin offers astronomy, botany, chemistry, geology, geography, physics, psychology, zoology, and physiology laboratories.

OBERLIN MAINTAINS courses of study in the field of religion, physical sciences, biological sciences, psychology, the social sciences, languages, math, logic, literature, the fine arts, music, and philosophy.

The Forensic Union at Oberlin is an organization under the department of speech, which provides training and experience in discussion and debate of current public questions.

Musical opportunities include concerts, art interests, physical education, a speech clinic, and recreational and athletic organizations.

The Committee on Admissions considers not only the scholastic standing, but also qualities of character and personality, leadership, maturity, breadth of interest, and seriousness of educational purpose.

Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Divinity, Bachelor of Music, Master of Arts, Arts in Teaching, Master of Religious Education, and Master of Sacred Theology are the degrees available.

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-6048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

PROM TIME?

RENT YOUR FORMAL WEAR

★ WHITE JACKETS ★ BLUE ★ CHARCOAL
TUXEDO TROUSERS — FORMAL ACCESSORIES

SPECIAL RATES FOR STUDENTS

RUSSELL'S TUXEDO RENTAL

215 W. WASHINGTON BLVD.

OPEN EVENINGS TILL 9 — FREE PARKING

Nobbson 928 S. Calhoun

Prom Enchantment

NOBBSON offers you the largest selection of full length and ballerina length formals in Fort Wayne. Choose from a wide variety of fabrics, colors and styles; all designed to make you the "Belle of the Ball."

Ballerina Length from $17.98
Full Length from $29.98

Sizes 5-15 or 6 to 18

Archers On The Go Philo Members To Sponsor Annual Mother-Daughter Tea

TEA TIME! . . . In preparation for the annual Philo Mother-Daughter Tea Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, left to right, Jackie Kuhns, Sally Mallough, and Ann Galmeyer, members of the decorations committee, collect wrapped favors.—Photo by Triplett

Philo members will host their mothers at the annual mother-daughter tea Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Thornton Wilder's play, "A Happy Journey," will be presented; and officers for next fall's semester will be elected.

Seniors having over three hundred points will receive certificates and the Jo Falla Reed Cup will be presented to the senior with the highest number of points. According to the constitution of the club, the president cannot receive the cup.

HELPING PLAN AND direct the work for the tea are committee chairmen Sally Mallough, favor; Mary Jane Reiff, food; Bonnie Smith, invitations; and Sharon Bass, serving. "A Happy Journey" is the story of Ma and Pa Kirby and their two children, Arthur and Caroline, who journey from Newark, N. J. to Camden to visit their married daughter.

The play is outstanding in that the American home and scene are dramatically drawn while the figure of the mother stands out as a brilliant piece of portraiture.

MEMBERS OF THE cast are Sue Lohman, the stage manager; Sally Sweet, Ma Kirby; Annette Hoover, Arthur; Martha Dixon, Caroline; Karen Miller, Beulah; and Bonnie Smith, Pa Kirby. Sue Burdick is directing the cast.

Candidates for the office of president are Sue Burdick and Ann Galmeyer. The girl with the second highest number of votes will be the vice-president. Candidates for treasurer are Karen Finckoff and Martha Dixon; and Peggy Brase and Erin Rose are running for secretary. Kay Fals and Karen Miller are the candidates for sergeant-at-arms; and Sally Mallough and Pat Bailey are running for program chairman.

Local Ballet Company To Give Show; Three Students To Star

'BATTEMENT A' LA SECONDE' . . . Accompanying Marla Habacker in this dance step in their routine are Alice Fruechtenicht, left, and Barbie Rea. They will present "The Ceremony of Carols" at the Schenectady, N.Y., Ballet Convention Friday through Sunday as part of the Fort Wayne Ballet Company.—Photo by Jones

Twenty-Six Delegates To Attend Ball State Journalism Conclave

ROAD TO BALL STATE . . . will be followed by members of the Times, Totem, and Pegasus staffs Saturday when they attend the Eastern Indiana High School Journalism Convention at Ball State Teachers College. Studying for the classes are, left to right, Ken Lowden, Barb Nelson, Sue Smith, Leanna Morris, and Roberta Twitchell.—Photo by Jones

Twenty-six members of the Times, Totem, and Pegasus staffs have been chosen by Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser, to attend the Eastern Indiana Journalism Day Conference at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind., on Saturday.

Archers who have been selected are Sue Kelley, Jenny Manth, Sue Smith, Beth Burnett, Barb Altevogt, Roberta Twitchell, Barbara Nelson, Dick Parke, Ken Lowden, Leanna Morris, Bill Wilder, Dave Triplett, Jon Poto, Chuck Bodenhorn, Pat Bailey, Kathy DeVore, Sally Sweet;

Nancy Redding, Doris Atzoff, Lane Grile, Ann Henderson, Ann McCallister, Sandy Farmer, Stu Schmitz, Bonnie Smith, Ann Golden, and Tonya Hines. Alternates are Sue Moyer, Celeste Reimen, and Sonya Flagg.

THE DELEGATES WHO will attend with over 700 students and advisers from the state, will leave South on Saturday at 7 a.m. and will arrive at Ball State at 3:30 a.m. The group will return home by 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening.

The 66 workshop sessions will include 70 speakers and more than two hundred college students. Some of the topics of the sessions are "Cool Columns," "Best Road to a Good Job in Journalism," "Newswriting, The Backbone of a Newspaper," and "New Themes Under the Sun."

Mr. Harrison Salisbury, who was recently appointed to the position of national editor of the New York Times, and a Pulitzer prize-winning foreign correspondent will be the principal speaker at the general session.

THE ANNUAL journalism conference is sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma National Fraternity, the Journalism Division of the English Department, and the Indiana High School Press Association.

Jenny Manth, former Times general manager, is the editor of a special issue of the Times which will be distributed at the conference. Writers for the issue are Sue Smith, Beth Burnett, Ann Henderson, Sue Burdick, Ann McCallister, Doris Atzoff, Barbara Nelson, and Kathy DeVore.

The South Side Times

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 29

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, May 3, 1962

Price Ten Cents

Junior Maidens, Jousters To Enter Court, English Inn Decorated In Medieval Theme

Seventeen Pupils To Compete In Annual JRC Art Exhibition

To promote an understanding of youth in other countries through art work sent abroad, seventeen students who have shown talent in their art classes are submitting their works to be judged in the Junior Red Cross Art Exhibition. This exhibit consists of paintings which depict the personal experiences of students at home, church, and school and reflect the lives of American youth.

Contributions from South Side are "Rocking Chair" depicting the influence of President Kennedy on the furnishing of the American home, done in pencil by Ray Linsky; "Fireplace and Chair," showing the living room of her home, done in pencil, and "My House Exterior," done in pencil by Jane Ladig;

"Girl at Fountain," a fashion illustration in pencil and wash, by Karen Ponader; "Terrace Modern House," done in pencil, by Judy Firestone; "The Old Barn," in pencil and also "The North Door," showing part of South Side in an ink wash by Dave Pritchard; and "Modern American House," also done in an ink wash, by Jim Smith.

ENTRIES OF THE Art 4 students are "Orchestra Concert Soloist," in pencil and charcoal, by Nancy Bowman; and "The Lone Camper," in an ink wash, by John Crick. From Art 2, "Skin Diving," a futuristic painting in water color and ink, by James Leiter.

From Art 5 are "Cat," in watercolor and ink, by Margaret Canso; and "Clowns," in opaque watercolor, by Marvinna van Skyock; and "Woods and Stream," showing a scene in Garrett, Ind., done in watercolor, by John Ogleson.

From classes of Art 7 are "Art Room," showing an imaginary view of Room 26 at South Side, done in tempera, by Jerry Fruechey; and "Sunday at Snow Lake," showing swimmers at one of the Indiana lakes, done in watercolor by Pat Demmer.

ART 8 contributions are "Simpson Methodist Church Choir," painted in watercolor by William Cartwright; "Contemporary Living Room with Fireplace," in watercolor, by Judy Godman; and "Indiana Twilight," in watercolor, by Susan Martin.

The exhibition is open to any student in grades seven through twelve whose school is enrolled in Junior Red Cross. The program is sponsored by the Junior Red Cross National Art Education Association.

Film strips, sample pictures, and brochures are available at the Junior Red Cross office, or for further information regarding the exhibition, students may call A-5446.

THE ENTRY may be of any permanent media, but it will be disqualified if it smears. Pictures may be sent mounted or matted. If necessary, the cost of matting or mounting will be paid by the Junior Red Cross Service Fund.

The entry may be designed especially for this exhibit or may be a class project. All entries must be in the Junior Red Cross office by May 20.

Last year 66 pictures were submitted from eight Fort Wayne schools. A local exhibit was conducted in the Fort Wayne Art Museum. Three South Side students' paintings were selected with 121 other works from 3,000 submitted last year for special recognition and were sent to 37 foreign countries to portray American life.

Those three students are Terry Bennett who painted "Trinity English Lutheran Church"; Gil Perry, "India Ink Drawing of Myself as a Golfer"; and Peggy Lee, "Design in Tempera and Ink Preparing Pineapple from Fruit to Sherbert Dish."

Sixteen Pupils Earn 'NOMA' Certificates

Having perfect papers in spelling or math, 16 South Side stenographic and clerical practice students of the business department were recently awarded certificates by the Fort Wayne Chapter of the National Office Management Association.

Those with perfect papers, spelling 100 words correctly on two tests, are Jacquelyn Berry, Marilyn Block, Linda Chaney, Jeanne Davis, Elizabeth Hostetler, Susan Johns, Sandy Karst, Thomas Liby, Paulette Lontz, Ellen Lowe, Susan Martin, Nancy Nichols, Karen Swygart, and Robert Symonds.

Also awarded special certificates for spelling 100 words correctly, therefore having one perfect paper, are Joyce Ake, Tamara Beaty, Judy Blombach, Louise Brown, Diane Gebhard, Kaylene Gebert, Kay Heensoth, Sandra Heidbrink, Vicki Miller, and Marsha Ringle.

Thomas Liby and Karen Swygart were the only two business students to complete two perfect math tests concerning business problems. They were awarded certificates by NOMA signifying their math scores.

Receiving 100 per cent on one of the two math tests were Kaylene Gebert, Paulette Lontz, Sue Perry, and Flora Reynolds. One incorrect answer on either of these tests disqualified the student from receiving the NOMA certificate.

Mr. Ernest Walker, head of the business department, stated, "We have never had so many of the business department students honored by NOMA with spelling or mathematics certificates as this year."

Band, Choir, Orchestra To Present Final Music Assembly Wednesday

Sacred, Novel Music To Comprise Program For Students, Parents

Participating in the final music assembly of the year on Wednesday, May 9 in the gym will be the orchestra, band, and choir. Students will also be asked to hum along with the choir.

The orchestra, which will begin the program with selections from "Camelet," a current Broadway production, will also play a medley of tunes by Lerner and Loewe.

Tom McMahan, post-graduate, will perform a French horn solo, "The Intermezzo," by Reinhold Gliere.

UNDER THE direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, director of instrumental music, the band will play "Semper Fidelis," a march by John Philip Sousa; "Si Tracadero," by Harold Walters; and the "United States Overture," by Paul Cavalle.

In the "United States Overture," the band will play the following American folk tunes: "Home on the Range," "Red River Valley," "Dixie," and "Yankee Doodle." "Si Tracadero," a Latin American mambo, will feature student participation.

THE CHOIR will sing "Let There Be Peace," by Hawley Ades and "Let Not Your Song End," by Noble Cain.

Mr. Lester Hostetler, director of vocal music, explained that the numbers to be offered by the choir will be both secular and sacred in arrangement. "Let Not Your Song End" has

KNIGHTS TO REMEMBER??? . . . Finishing some of the decorations for the Junior Prom are Juniors, left to right, Jon Poto, Stu Schmitz, Ed Freed, Dave Rodenbeck, and Dave Platz. "A Knight to Remember" will be tomorrow from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.—Photo by Triplett

Four Students Plan Speeches For Honor Society's Banquet

Service, scholarship, leadership, and character will be the main topics of the speeches presented at the National Honor Society Banquet May 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will be the toastmaster.

After Tom McMahan, senior, presents the invocation, Mr. Douglas Lawrence, past graduate and architect, will welcome the guests. Each new member of National Honor Society will receive his pin from his sponsor teacher.

The first speech on service, "To Strive," will be presented by Jenny Manth. Bill Wilder's topic, "To Seek," is based on scholarship. Larry Lee will speak on leadership, his speech entitled "To Find."

The last of the four speeches will

Journalism Banquet To Honor Students Of Quill And Scroll

Taking place at the Colonial Restaurant on May 16 beginning at 6:30 p.m. will be the annual Quill and Scroll Banquet with Jenny Manth, post-grad, as toastmistress and Leanna Morris, senior II, and Nancy Redding, sophomore A, as co-chairmen of the talent.

Punch will be served from 6:30 to 7 p.m. followed by a dinner of Swiss steak, baked potatoes, tossed salad, green beans, coffee, tea, or milk, apple or cherry pie, rolls and butter.

Entertainment for the evening will include a guest speaker and three acts furnished by the underclassmen. Also, the major staff positions for the Times, Pegasus, and Totem for next year will be announced.

Invited guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grile, Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, and several underclassmen.

Quill and Scroll members are Barb Spiers, Jenny Manth, Bill Wilder, Susan Hines, Ann Golden, Terry Newendorp, Sue Kelley, Dian Leath, Roberta Twitchell, Dick Parke, Diane Fredrick, Ken Lowden, Sandy Thorne, Kaylene Gebert, Babbette Jones, and Sue Horth.

Pillars, Castle To Emphasize Ancient Theme

Jimmy Stier's Music To Entertain At Prom, 'Knight To Remember'

Juniors will return to the medieval period tomorrow night from 8:30 until 11:30 p.m. as they enter the cafeteria transformed into a castle for their "Knight to Remember" prom. Music will be provided by Jimmy Stier's orchestra, secured through the efforts of Gary Probst.

The medieval atmosphere will immediately prevail with the front of the cafeteria being changed into an old castle wall by Julie Wadlington and Jon Poto, co-chairmen of the entrance committee. Those assisting them are Ed Freed, Bob Piercy, Stu Schmitz, Dave Rodenbeck, Terry Alvey, Al Mason, Ray Juncal, Louis Culbertson, Don Carlo, Dave Platz, Mike Levy, Dave Brummi, Tom Galland; Jack Whitten, Larry Barnett, Larry Davis, Tom Wooding, Tucker Schiebal, Pat Fiske, Tim Grodrian, Jack Sanderson, and Dave Fleming. This group will also be in charge of making a fountain which will be located just inside the entrance way.

A CANOPY OF cheesecloth will be draped down the entire center aisle of the cafeteria, leading to a royal throne. A knight's coat of armor will be standing by the throne, Julie Breidenstein and Bill Rastetter are working on the throne.

Members of the junior class helping them are Cynthia Snyder, Sharon Stettner, Sue Smith, Corinne Silvers, Jackie Kuhns, Krystyna Kriworotow, Marsha Gronauer, Becky Harsch, Pat Drake, Sharon Case, Sue Lee, Bonnie Smith, Ann Shilling, Sue Burdick, Gail Brumm, Connie Fugate, Lynne Fraser, Sondra Stouder, and Susan Molter.

Other decorations in the main ballroom will include swords and shields on the windows and various coats of arms hanging from the ceiling. The columns in the cafeteria are being turned into turrets of a castle. Shrubs and other greenery will complete the decorations.

THE KNIGHTS AND their ladies will be served punch in Room 118 which will be decorated to represent an old English inn. Nancy Nordene and Sue Burdick are co-chairmen of the refreshment room.

Those assisting them are Janet Brenn, Cindy Jackson, Ann McCallister, Erin Rose, Linda Seibel, Marla Habacker, Kaye Gall, Barrie Spear, Diane Brown, Donna Rudasky, Wanda Willraney, Eleanor Dekker, Dawn Truex, and Linda Snyder.

Table centerpieces for this room will be old-fashioned bowls of fruit sprayed with gold. Sophomore girls will aid the junior class by serving at the Prom. Those serving include Nancy Redding, Ginny Barnes, Sharon McEachern, Karen Franks, Julie Rhinehart, Marsha Anderson, Kathy Klas.

(Continued on Page 3)

Pupil To Participate In Summer Session Sponsored By JESSI

Gaynel Musser, junior A, has been accepted for the Junior Engineers and Scientists Summer Institute at DePauw University from June 17 to 30.

The purpose of JESSI is to acquaint students with the major scientific fields and to prevent students from choosing the wrong field as a vocation.

JESSI is an effort to have the students gain an understanding of the areas encompassed by science and engineering; the program of studies the students must pursue to earn a bachelor's, master's, and a doctor's degree in the science or engineering areas of his major interest;

The study demands on students who pursue scientific or technical programs; career avenues for graduates in the sciences and engineering; and the need for a strong academic subject foundation in high school, particularly in English, mathematics, and science.

Jessi follows a set schedule Monday through Saturday. The students attend classes in groups of 25 to 30 members from six to seven hours daily. It is planned that all students will be out of doors following the afternoon classes.

During the interim Sunday, students may attend services in the churches of their choice. An off-campus outing is planned for one day during the session.

"I think it will be good experience because it will help me make up my mind as to what vocation to enter," commented Gaynel upon being accepted.

At the present time, Gaynel is studying English 6, U.S. History 2, Algebra 3, and Physics 2. Her extracurricular activities include Assemblies Workshop, Philo, and playing flute in the band. Gaynel is also vice-president of the senior high youth group at West Creighton Avenue Christian Church.

IN THE LAST REHEARSAL . . . For the final Music Assembly of the year, left to right, Martha Lanning, Rosie Capps, Nancy Stauffer, Kent Hagerman, and Bruce Baldwin, members of the orchestra, diligently practice. The assembly will also include members of the choir and band.—Photo by Lowden

a serious mood as well as a brighter mood. A serious and thoughtful mood will be shown in "Let There Be Peace."

A VOCAL QUARTET comprised of Mike Carter, Tim Grodrian, Fred Schoen, and Steve McDonald will also sing; Dennis Crill will play the piano for the group.

During the assembly, graduating

Habit Of Smoking Affects Personal Health, Wealth

The average high school student possibly seeking a thrill or trying to gain self-confidence often turns to the occupation of smoking. What he does not fully realize is the utter futility of this "habit-forming" pursuit.

This recreational pastime like a drug needs to be financed. Taken separately it may not amount to a great sum, but added up it might be seen in a different perspective. Smoking thus seems to be a waste of a person's money.

Another important and possibly the most important factor of all is the deterrent effect this habit has on a person's health. It has been stated often and emphatically that though smoking is not the sole cause of cancer of the lungs, it does contribute to it.

Others have stated that because of their nervousness they cannot possibly stop smoking. To this one may not have a solution or answer, but it could be found.

Often high school students will smoke in order to prove to themselves and to others that they are responsible adults. They may also be trying to achieve a new stature in school, among friends, or at home. This could be done in other ways than smoking. Then other times they might start smoking "because everyone else is doing it."

Those students do not stop to think how it affects their appearance. The girls do not stop to think how unfeminine and infamous it seems. This pursuit only gives them a doubtful appearance.—By Krystyna Kriworotow

Advent Of Summer Events Harms Nutritional Routine

The advent of summer presents a host of problems to the teenage world. The crux of many of these dilemmas is improper eating habits. Several factors contribute to the formation of unwise eating trends.

Swimming, tennis, golf, and pleasure drives consume many pleasant hours. Why rob yourself of some of this enjoyable time eating well-balanced meals? You can pick up a malt and hamburger at a drive-in. No use going home and spending an hour eating meat, fruit, and vegetables. Do teens really need the healthful vitamins these foods supply?

With the arrival of warm weather, many girls become figure-conscious. Hoping to acquire slimmness, they decide to cut down on their food intakes. However, the rich, chocolate malt is a temptation they can't resist. They drink the malts and sacrifice that important slice of morning toast.

Tennis rackets, golf clubs, and track shoes appear the minute the snow thaws. Boys discover they need muscles and quick energy. It is a known fact that sugar supplies this energy. They gobble cokes, candy bars, and cake. They gain the energy, but they also acquire excess weight.

Improper eating habits also induce bad complexions. Millions of dollars are spent each year to attempt to clear pimples and blemishes. Freeing the diet of fat and sugar may bring more pleasing results than the application of creams and ointments.

Well-balanced meals are necessary for healthful maintenance of the body.—By Diane Saalfrank

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager.....Sue Kelley

Managing Editor.....Susan Smith

Copy Editors.....Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Malouff, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twichell.

News Editor.....Kathy DeVore

Feature Editor.....Sally Sweet

Editorial Editor.....Bill Wilder

Boys' Sports Editor.....Terry Newendorp

Girls' Sports Editor.....Janice Nahrowld

Make-Up Editors.....Roberta Twichell, Beth Burnett

Picture Editor.....Janet Brenn

Photographers.....Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones

Head Typist.....Leanna Morris

Business Manager.....Barb Altevogt

Assistant Business Manager.....Sue Moyer

Advertising Manager.....Pat Bailey

Circulation Manager.....Dick Parke

Outside Circulation Manager.....Nancy Lanning

Circulation Assistants.....Liz Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twichell

Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet.

Faculty Adviser.....James Hohnsbaugh

MINOR STAFF

News Writers.....David Flanigan, Ann Filckinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Hotelling, Bonnie Strehlow, Marcee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Conroy, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Kargi, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Custance, Karen Franks, Christine Fruentichell, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McGlin, Sally McGlin, Jan McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Smither, Karen Walker, Lisa Hatfield, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.

Feature Writers.....Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Brooke, Mary Jane Relf, Suzellen Borzmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Horches, Nancy Gredley, Sandy Farmer, Kay Weidman, Rae Ann Mota, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Susterlin, Becky Harsch, Herb Bussard, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Harretta, Sue Smith, Jennie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Frank, Dora Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rhinhardt, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judy McKay, Barrie McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGlinley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kargi, Myra Rutino, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McGlin, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Kettie, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Moyer, Mary Bode, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carolyn Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Savelly, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schilline, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.

Editorial Writers.....Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruentichell, Sally Adams, Mary Benadway, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Horth, Sue Kishin, Carole Ladig, Paul Mittelstadt, Steve Lowens, Kay Dineen, Kay Hark, Katha Hoard, Annel Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Saalfrank.

Copy Readers.....Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flankican, Karen Minkin, Christie Counaman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Savelly, Marcee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franks.

Boys' Sports Writers.....Bill Kilefgen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Poto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.

Ad Solicitors.....Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradford, Julie Neuenchwander, Karen Finrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerlic, Kay Fulk, Harriet Ochstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jan Pinnell, Janis Sprunger, Karen Frank.

Typists.....Jennie Braden, Martha Hoard, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Bode.

Cartoonists.....Julie Waddington, Judy Godman, Diane Orms, Don Merica, Bob Englehart, Ray Joneal.

Classroom News Editor.....Celeste Riesen

Point Recorder.....Steve Leitz

Mailing Manager.....Vicki Adams

Editor.....Krystyna Kriworotow

Editorial Editor.....Allen Purdy

Exchange Editor.....Marcia Kuhn

Credit Manager.....Charlotte Powell

Assistant Credit Manager.....Sonya Flarg

Librarian.....Sonya Flarg

Paper Dissimilator.....Chuck Bodenborn

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Bill Mueller . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blond . . . eyes, blue . . . height five feet, eight inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, strawberry sundae . . . color, blue . . . sport, hiking . . . subjects, chemistry, math . . . pastime, piano . . . activity, Music Club . . . TV show, "Huntley-Brinkley Report" . . . record, "My Favorite Chopin" . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, medical doctor . . . pet peeve, teachers who favor certain pupils.

Janice Bodkin . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, two inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . fad, hair bows . . . sport, swimming . . . subject, Spanish . . . pastime, loafing, reading . . . activity, Booster Club, YFC Club . . . TV show, "Hawaiian Eye" . . . record, "Can't Help Falling in Love" . . . singer, Elvis Presley . . . actor, Troy Donahue . . . book, "A Man Called Peter" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, grouchy people, and people who look through other peoples' purses.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Recently Sally Gelow, '61, was initiated into Alpha Tau chapter of Delta Gamma at Butler University. She received one of four awards given to pledges.

Susan J. Parady, '58, has been placed on the Dean's List at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, O. This honor is accorded only to the students who have earned a quality point average of 2.3 or above in the previous semester based upon a three point maximum.

Jack Winder, '61, is on tour with the Glee Club of the University of Michigan. The group is traveling through the East and has planned several stops.

Dwight Flowers, '57, has been awarded by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation a fellowship for graduate study in city planning. Next September he will enter Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., to begin a two-year course which will lead to the degree of Master of City Planning.

Dwight will receive the Bachelor of Architecture Degree June 16 from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where he will have completed a five-year course in the College of Architecture and Design. He is a member of Trigon Fraternity; Tau Sigma Delta, honorary fraternity for architecture and allied arts; and Phi Kappa Phi, honor society all at the University of Michigan.

Teen Independence Requires Fairness, Practical Judgment

The Fourth of July is nationally commemorated with speeches, parades, and gigantic fireworks displays. The reason for this elaborate celebration stems from the fact that Americans live in an independent nation.

However, do American teens really have adequate grounds for participating in the gala events on July Fourth? Have these youngsters been deprived their rightful share of independence? Have they been fastened to the apron-strings of parents, teachers, and society?

Attempting to answer the question simply, one should compare independence to something tangible. A large, fragrant, chocolate cake will symbolize independence. A group of teenagers is permitted free access to the cake. These people eat gluttonously, and some unwanted and unpleasant reaction is inevitable and inescapable.

A SECOND FACTION is given moderate portions of this rich dessert. Discretion and wisdom are used by these young people. Their hunger is satisfied and they live happy, well-balanced lives.

Other teenagers are thrown occasional tidbits of cake. Their appetites are whetted, but their hunger and ever-expanding needs are never quite appeased.

A fourth group is strictly forbidden to touch the cake. They glance wistfully and hungrily at the luscious confection, but they must leave it untouched.

THE RAVENOUS, unwise eaters represent those who live completely independent of guidance and supervision. Well-adjusted, contented individuals are symbolized by those who are provided with moderate portions of cake. They link wisdom with discretion.

Those given only crumbs of cake, like those given fragments of independence, become angry and rebellious, resort to surreptitious acts or open mutiny. Never having tasted the sweetness of independence, those who are completely starved may lose their entire quantity of initiative. They become down-trodden and dispirited.

Independence is a vital element for living normal, contented lives. When fairness and common sense are guideposts for parents and teens, American youth can live happily and semi-independently.

Prom Perplexes Pairs . . .

Search Through Record Albums Reveals Tunes By Kelly Singers

Occasionally, one has the opportunity to spend a few restless moments browsing through the record albums offered for sale in local shops. The following is a listing of some of the current popular tunes starring South Side performers which were found during such a leisure period.

"Hey, Baby!" (Come home soon.) Babs Jones and Tom Merkert (Purdue)

"Chip, Chip" (always hungry) Sharon Eitman and Jim Ellingwood

"Her Royal Majesty" (his queen) Louraine Ford and Chuck Houer (Purdue)

"Midnight in Moscow" (was sure dark) Janet Waning and Tom Rear

"All of This for Sally" Sally Bash and Tom Turfinger

"Crying in the Rain" (so you will have a good excuse for running mascara) Dianne Ball and Kenny Kleinrichert

"Young World" (but it is growing) Gaylene Hilsmer and Larry Gerig

"Good Luck Charm" (a lovely birthday present) Sydney Schinbeckler and Steve Campbell

"Don't Break the Heart That Loves You" (it is very brittle) Leslie Green and Dave Richards (N.S., '61)

"Slow Twistin'" (only 60 mph) Diane McClure and Tom Shirmeyer

"I'll See You in My Dreams" Louise Brown and Terry Hoff

"Come Back, Silly Girl" (as if she left) Annell Hoover and Dave Tipton

"Love Me Warm and Tender" Jane Ladig and Bill Kleifgen

"Patty Ann" (Joan really) Patty Somers and Joe Emmerson (Hanover)

"The Roach" Bev Pigel and Mike Ronch (C.C., '61)

"Four O'Clock Stomp" (what are they doing up at that hour?) Ruth Russ and Jim More

"Where Have All the Flowers Gone?" (to make a corsage, of course!) Cheryl Lee and Rick Werling

"What's Your Name?" (I really should remember) Marla Habecker and Mike Fer-verda

"Mashed Potatoes" (ummm good!) Sue Lawry and Mike Tomkinson

"Teen Queen" (he crowned her) Kay Carrier and Johnny Tholen (B.L.)

"Soldier Boy" Susie Bumgardner and Bob Ramage (U.S. Army)

"Walk on the Wild Side" (much more exciting) Carole Ladig and Gary Tinkel

"Johnny Angel" Mary Keegan and John Somers (DePauw)

"Please Don't Ask About Barbara" (I might get carried away) Barb Spiers and Mike Stedje

"Let Me In" (I'll be good!) Sharon Grafias and Dave Meek

"I've Got Bonnie" Bonnie Russell and Mel Mossburg ('60)

"She's Got You" Joan Lambert and Steve Sharp

"Dear One" Sandy Farmer and Dave Fleming

"Roses and Lullipops" (how romantic!) Nancy Norden and Don Eisen-aucher ('61)

"Ballad of Thunder Road" (as he comes home) Sue Harrod and Harrison Lane (Hanover)

"She Can't Find Her Keys" (what an excuse!) Janet Bunsold and Steve Leitz

"Pop-Eye" Cindy Snider and Bob Gifford (Purdue)

"Nutrocker" Barrie McCombs and Gary Gemmer (Central)

"To Love Someone" (is a riot) Karen Miller and Tony Zych (C.C.)

"Twistin' the Night Away" (do they ever stop?) Sharon Carrel and George Gil-mour

"Dream Baby" Londa Babbitt and Shel Sheray

"Rocks of Reno" Erin Rose and John Von Gun-ten ('61)

"I Want to Love You" Linda Newell and Joe McComb (N.S., '60)

"Annie Get Your Yo-Yo" Ann Henderson and Jon vanOos-ten

"I'm Blue" (the color she blushes) Jo Ellen Bobay and Al Sheldon

"You Are Mine" Eileen Mayle and Curtis Holley

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know the history of the flag of the Vice-President of the United States?

Answer. The flag of the Vice-President was originated in 1936. The flag adopted then was like the President's but with the colors reversed. On November 10, 1948, a new design was approved. This flag, which is used today, is white, with a modified form of the eagle and shield of the Seal of the United States in its center in natural color, encircled by thirteen blue stars.

Question. Do you know how the superstition of bad luck resulting from walking under a ladder was started?

Answer. There may have been two origins for this superstition. In some ancient nations the "head taboo" required that nothing be suspended or passed above the head. In Christian nations the triangle has always been symbolical of the mystic number three, and of the Trinity. A ladder against a wall forms a triangle, which is broken by anyone who passes under the ladder. In ancient times, to do so indicated defiance of the Trinity. Punishment by "bad luck" was therefore considered likely to follow.

Question. Do you know why 33,000 foot-pounds was chosen as the unit of horsepower?

Answer. In the 1780's, James Watt, the Scottish inventor, measured the power of horses and found that a strong draft horse could exert continuously 22,000 foot-pounds a minute. To this he added fifty per cent for good measure and thus established 33,000 foot-pounds per minute as the standard horsepower rating for his engines. A foot-pound is equivalent to the energy expended in lifting one pound avoirdupois one foot against the force of gravity.

Question. Do you know when false teeth were first made?

Answer. Dental historians believe that partial dentures of a bridge-work type, made of soft or rolled gold, were in use in Etruria as early as 700 B.C. and may have been made prior to that time. The Etruscans are known to have used detached natural or enamel teeth held in place by wires attached to the teeth in the mouth. Ancient records do not contain any reference to a full set of artificial teeth. This type of dentistry apparently was not developed until the early part of the eighteenth century.

Question. Do you know how the term "green thumb" originated?

Answer. The term may have originated, perhaps in Scotland, in reference to professional gardeners. Their thumbs grew green from the moss constantly encountered on greenhouse pots and in the soil. However, any good gardener is likely to have green thumbs; as anyone who works much around plants gets into the habit of using his thumbs to press down, in potting and planting, and to thin out or weed plants. "To have a green thumb" has thus come to have the denotation of having the inborn or acquired knack of making things grow.

Roses Forget To Bloom

Khrushchev Celebrates Birthday During 'Rough' Times In Russia

By Sandy Thorn

Which must concede to Old Father Time first—the leader or his country? Somehow, that question is reminiscent of the ever-ponderous thought about whether the chicken or the egg came first. Maybe the solution to the chicken and egg problem is one which will never be answered, but the question concerning the leader or his country can be answered—and will be. Time is the essential factor when considering the problem.

Amid toasts and cries of "Mnogie letai!" (Many years of life), Nikita Sergeevich Khrushchev turned 65. Khrushchev celebrated his birthday in a quiet manner in contrast to the manner in which the late Joseph Stalin celebrated his "big" day. To acknowledge a Stalin birthday, a majority of the Russian people would pay respect with drunken merry-making.

Having reached what is considered in the United States to be the "past retirement" age, Khrushchev continues to "chug" along. He is powerful, sharp-witted, and still very necessary in Russia's proposed plans. However, from recent indications, Mr. K is not ready for the "many years of life" that he was wished two weeks ago at his birthday party.

It is beginning to look more and more as if the man who vowed to "bury" the West (and continues to vow this weekly on a certain television commercial) will be tucked away under the ground long before Russia resolves its troubles with the rest of the Communist bloc, with the West, and with its own overcommitted, over-regimented economy.

AN INDICATION of Khrushchev's health picture became evident when the birthday celebration was more calm than usual. Nikita had little to celebrate as he was under physician's orders to take it easy and not celebrate.

Mr. K, four years younger than the mighty Stalin when he died, suffers from high blood pressure and a heart condition. Rumors still persist, especially in Moscow, that the leader suffered a stroke in recent months. Twice, after absences that were officially attributed to flu, Nikita told his friends that he suffered a more serious ailment.

It has been noted that Mr. K has greatly curtailed his social calendar. He is unable to drink alcoholic beverages and has been placed on a strict diet. This was the man who only a short time ago was pounding his shoe and fist wildly on a table at the United Nations. This is the present-day man who no longer seems compelled to act the life and soul of his party at diplomatic functions.

Even American Khrushchev-followers can see the decline in his power. The front-page headlines of the newspapers, the top news on the daily broadcasts on television and radio, and the general talks between laymen are no longer concerned with Mr. Khrushchev's antics. If anyone has taken over, it's Fidel Castro.

NEEDLESS TO say, the Soviet leader still has a goal, he still wants to rule the world. Somehow, he isn't going about it the same way as he did several years ago; he isn't forceful, demanding, vigorous.

It appears as if the one-time "bad" guy has returned to behind-the-scenes work. He has virtually lost power to a man with the three v's (vim, vigor, and vitality), John Fitzgerald Kennedy. If nothing more, these latest happenings disprove the old tale that older men are the better leaders. A young man is presently gaining the respect of the country.

Even the hero himself is apparently worried about his health. When addressing the fourteenth Congress of the Young Communist League, Mr. K assured, "I am working overtime, according to Soviet law I already have the right not to work. Where must I spend the energy? Must I take it to the grave with me? No. All the energy must be put into work for the welfare of society."

In actuality, health isn't the only problem confronting the controversial man. Khrushchev himself was responsible for motivating the United States to end its own three-year moratorium on nuclear testing. For some time Mr. K looked at the world "through rose-colored glasses" when it came to space triumphs. However, he was forced to take a general admission seat when an American by the name of John Glenn went into orbit. Why? The United States presented the facts—the material was presented to the rest of the world.

KHRUSHCHEV HAD hoped that Khrushchevism would join Marxism-Leninism. However, his glittering hopes for Communism's future seemed impossibly remote to most Russians. This blow in the face was, in itself, enough to give Mr. K high blood pressure.

It is apparent that agriculture is not a thriving business in the Soviet Union. Americans who visit the country note that Russia must come far to even be in competition with the United States. Khrushchev, hoping to better the situation, presented a blueprint for agriculture. Following his suggestions, it was doubted that the inefficiency of Russia's farm system will ever be overcome, more less in its leader's lifetime.

Even the peasant-born Khrushchev doesn't seem to realize the problem. The peasant workers on the farms refuse to work harder without having more income. Thus, Russia suffered a more critical food shortage this past winter than any other time since the early postwar years. Mr. K is hoping to solve the problem with more tractors and more fertilizer. A look at his economy and a weekly increase in the workers' paychecks would be a much more helpful.

The new nations, particularly throughout Asia and Africa, are availing the Soviet Union. Russia's foreign aid program has dwindled considerably. Even the Russian people, who usually believe that the economy in their country must come first, resent this loss of power.

IT APPEARS that it has finally happened—people have become too concerned over other things and have forgotten Mr. Khrushchev and Russia. Apparent current-events interest is in Cuba; however, just as many others are concerned with the Twain and others are too worried about Roger Maris' poor start to have time to think about anything outside Yankee land.

After a quick review of several of Mr. K's defeats during the past few months, one doesn't question his having a stroke. It's quite a jump for the man who was running everything to be regarded as "the poor sick man." Maybe his health doesn't even enter the picture, but the fact that his power is in jeopardy should cause some concern.

Will his country wait on him to pass out of the picture or will Mr. K linger after his country has died? Presently, "everything's comin' up roses" is hardly an appropriate slogan for either Nikita Khrushchev or his country.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Well seniors, only 33 more days until your prom . . . that means about a month left in which to round up a date, right girls? Cheers to all who will be attending the Junior Prom tomorrow and boos to those who refused to get a date.

Even though the Easter bunny has merrily hopped down the bunny trail ages ago, it still remains a mystery how H. H. Persons' nephew found 74

Small Snaps

This boy in the back is in his junior year.

The Kingston Trio he likes to hear. Baseball, football, basketball. He equally enjoys them all. At the YMCA you may see him. Taking a refreshing swim. He thinks a Thunderbird is really neat;

Pizza he really likes to eat. A veterinarian he'd like to be. Though he's not decided definitely. If his name you do not know, The ad section is where to go.

Easter eggs when he was supposed to find only a dozen. How can you help but believe in the Easter bunny with concrete proof like that?

Buzzing Hall's in style with their Schwinn Corvets were Becky Baughman and Susi Hines. Linda McMurtry was right behind with an English racer. Those "wheels" were certainly the envy of everyone's eyes as the girls proudly announced that they were working out for the "little 500" (at least that sounds better than "try to lose weight").

Karl Schladerman has formed a girls' track team. Any girl above the age of thirteen who owns her own track shoes and who will run a mile for a ribbon is eligible. The team meets every Friday from eight until twelve p.m.

Tip to big brother Stan Alfeld: sister Barb has learned your secret about setting the clock back! Keep that up and there will be only 364 days in a year.

You Florida-guys had better take care of your tans or you'll be surpassed by Sally Adams and Kitty Fay. They've set up their own Fort Lauderdale by the picnic tables behind the choir room.

Some more bicyclers, Linda Seibel and Betsy Adams have a habit of picking very unfortunate times to go on their journeys—like when it rains.

There are physics experiments and there physics experiments but Janet Calvert and Jon Poto take the cake. Physics?

Why look! There's an angel. Nope, it certainly isn't — it's Bob Bartel wandering the streets of Fort Wayne with a fellow acolyte. Of course, they wore their robes.

Orchids to Sue Perry and Sarah Finch. Why? Because they attended McDonald's on its opening day.

Go to the Junior Prom.

Thought for the Day: Spare me the doughnut for thou canst eat the (w)hole.

Homeroom Agents Sell 1000 Pegasus; One Day Remains In Campaign Drive

Junior Peggy Schmidt Gains Bonus In Points For Quantity Of Sales

With just one day left in the Pegasus circulation campaign, the homeroom agents have sold 1500 subscriptions for the literary magazine. Peggy Schmidt in Room 26 was the first agent to receive a 100 per cent homeroom.

The Pegasus may be purchased from any homeroom agent for 35 cents. The literary magazine will be distributed to the subscribers on May 18 during homeroom period.

Composed of works submitted by the student, the magazine is edited by Roberta Twitchell and Tamara Vyhovsky, editor and associate editor, respectively. The other members of the staff are Barbara Uhl and Janet Brenn, editorial staff; Barbara Nelson and Beth Burnett, copy staff; Bob Englehart, art editor; Ken Lowden and Steve Jones, photographers; and Sonya Flagg and Marcia Kuhn, typists.

The circulation campaign is headed by Lane Grile, circulation manager. She is assisted by Sandy Farmer, Ann Henderson, Celeste Riemen, Nancy Redding, Ann McCallister, Leanna Morris, Sharyn Yerger, and Sue Harrod, bookheads.

'BLUE CHIP' STOCK BROKERS . . . Tabulating the increasing sales of the Pegasus brokers, left to right, Sharyn Yerger, Ann Henderson, Sally Sweet, Celeste Riemen, and Sue Smith change the board. The goal for the campaign, which ends tomorrow, is 1,800 subscriptions.—Photo by Lowden

Sophomores Present Talent Acts At Party

With a French theme, "Mardi Gras Magnifique," the Sophomore Class Party, last Friday in the main gym from 8:30 to 11 p.m., featured a talent show, presented as a street scene from the old French quarter of New Orleans.

Cheryl Lee and Mary Alice Beaudway wrote the script for the talent show and Cheryl Lee and Becky Richert prompted the cast. Cheryl Lee was also in charge of the props for the talent show.

Mary Alice Beaudway and Mary Jane Rice made the scenery for LaFite's Den, a beatnik den, on the New Orleans street. Scenery for Lucky Pierre's Place was provided by Ann Weber and Judy Ruhl; Susan Lawry and Sue Klingerman were responsible for Antoine's Sidewalk Cafe scenery.

Floater designers and decorators were Patty Wallace, Joe McKibben, and Ned Stewart. Martha Hoard and Paul Cochran designed the programs and had them printed.

Those decorating the refreshment room were Barbara Bussard, Virginia Erwin, LaVonne Custance, Barbara Ross, Jean Longardner, Ann Goebel, Nancy Libby, Paula Girdner, Cheryl Spangle, Rochelle Werling, and Elaine Chippo.

Thursday, May 3
Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30 p.m.

Y-Teens, Mother-Daughter Tea, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Lettermen, Room 112, 7 p.m.

Friday, May 4
GAA Softball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Youth For Christ, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Physics Club, Room 94, 3:30 p.m.

Grade Period Ends

Junior Prom, Cafeteria, 8:30 p.m.

Monday, May 7
Philo Mother-Daughter Tea, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.

Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

GAA Softball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, May 8
Meterites, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Grades Issued

Wednesday, May 9
Art Club, Room 26, 3:30 p.m.

Red Cross Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Designers' Associated, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Music Assembly

Counselors To Participate In Shofft Camp Program

Counselors in training and senior and junior leaders of Shofft Day Camp will participate in an overnight program at Franke Park tomorrow and Saturday. The scheduled activities begin at 6 p.m. tomorrow, and the group will disband at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Those persons wishing to attend must attain permission blanks from Mr. Dennis Gerlock, camp director, at the Jefferson Center.

The chief purpose of the program is rehabilitation. Camping techniques and procedures will be reviewed. Camp counselors and junior and senior leaders will also do some minor repair work at the camp.

Grade Period To Close

Tomorrow is the last day of the grade period. S and U grades will be issued next Tuesday.

Youth For Christ Club Earns Honors In Quiz, Talent Meet

Youth for Christ members from the city participated in talent and quiz contests at Harrison Hill on April 21 at 7:30 p.m. Preliminary rounds of the contest were conducted at First Brethren Church, and the winning candidates were selected to be judged at the Harrison Hill contest.

A Bible Quiz team of six members representing South topped teams representing other schools by answering the most questions about books of the Bible correctly. Archers who participated on the Bible Quiz team are Jerry Dunlap, Joyce Dunlap, Roger Vorholzer, Gary Harold, Sally Boyer, and Elizabeth Ellis.

Other talent divisions included an instrumental solo and group contest; a vocal solo and group contest; a preacher boy contest, where each participant was asked to preach and then was judged on his speaking and thought; a gospel pianist contest; a song leading contest; and a dramatic contest consisting of humorous and dramatic readings.

WARREN BURNS, PLAYING a trombone, was a first-prize winner in the instrumental solo contest; Sally Boyer, in a flute quartet; Sue Penland, in the vocal group division; and Roger Vorholzer, in the vocal solo and song leading contests.

These winners are eligible to compete in a state contest which will be conducted at Berne, Ind., on May 26. Winners will then be judged in a regional contest and finals at the yearly YFC convention at Wenonah Lake in Warsaw, Ind.

Reverend Gerald McGraw, pastor of the Deatur Missionary Church, was the principal speaker for a youth conference at the Fort Wayne Bible College from April 27 to 29. The conference theme was "Choose Your God."

ABOUT SIX HUNDRED people attended the conference. Due to limited accommodations, the conference was open to ninth-graders and above for on-campus accommodations.

Karen Ponader To Play In State Music Contest

Junior Karen Ponader has been named a district winner in the solo contest for young musicals and will compete for a state award at the annual state convention of the Indiana Music Teachers Association in July at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind.

Performing the Hayden "Sonata in C Major" on piano, Karen took second place in the district competition on April 21 in the auditorium of the Bible College.

The top two winners from the district IMTA auditions will compete in Bloomington; then, the top two performers from this competition will go to the national auditions at Chicago in March, 1963.

Karen, a student of Mr. Loren Yaggy, won a gold medal for her piano playing in the state music contest in Indianapolis on February 17. She has also earned four superior ratings in NISBOVA contests. Having studied piano for eight years, Karen won a superior rating recently from the National Federation of Music Clubs at Ball State Teachers' College.

Physics Club To Meet

Wave motion will be discussed by the members of the Physics Club tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 96.

FRUIT JUICES
Regular Delivery
Punches for all Special Occasions
Punch Bowls, Ladies, and Cups
HOME JUICE CO.
1816 Reidmiller Road E-6483

Students Receive Scholarships Of Three Types From Purdue

Archers Jim Feustel, Dian Leath, Brenda Arnold, David Smith, Jo Ellen Bobay, and Terry Newendorp have been awarded scholarships to use at Purdue University.

Purdue has awarded three types of scholarships: state, alumni, and special merit. The state scholarships are provided by state governmental funds to further scientific interests. The alumni scholarships are awarded by the Purdue Alumni Association treasury. Special merit scholarships are honorary, and their amount varies according to the financial situation of the student selected.

JIM FEUSTEL HAS been awarded a state and an alumni scholarship to Purdue totaling $240 yearly. Jim will major in engineering and will use this in some way in his future profession.

At South Side, Jim is a member of Hi-Y, Boys' Rifle Club, Junior Academy of Science, Astro-Physics Club, Chemistry Club, Band, Totem agent, National Honor Society, and Four Year Honor Roll.

Jim is now studying Economics 1, Chemistry 2, Trigonometry 1, and English 8.

Dian Leath also received a state and alumni scholarship valued at $240 a year. Dian will major in chemistry and biology to prepare for a profession as a medical technologist.

During her four years at South Side, Dian has been active in Honorary Arts and Orchestra; served as Totem picture editor; is a member of Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society and Four Year Honor Roll; and received her first Service Club pin. Out of school, Dian is a member of Methodist Youth Fellowship.

POST-GRAD. Brenda Arnold has earned a special merit scholarship. Brenda will major in chemistry and biology at Purdue, and will study as a hospital lab technician for her fifth year of college. Brenda hopes to become a medical technologist.

Brenda has been treasurer of Philo; earned her third Service Club pin and bronze Library Club pin; and has been a member of Sr. Red Cross, Assemblies Workshop, Meterites, National Honor Society, and Four Year Honor Roll. She was recognized for Latin in her freshman year and by the National Anthology of High School Poetry in her junior year. Out of school, Brenda is a member of Christian Endeavor at Immanuel Baptist Church, Nurseries at Parkview Memorial Hospital, and works as a lab technician at Lutheran Hospital.

On the college prep course, Brenda is now taking calculus and personal typing and services in the chemistry lab.

PURDUE'S STATE scholarship has been awarded to Archer Dave Smith amounting to $185 yearly. Dave will major in engineering and hopes to become some type of engineering scientist. Dave, attending South Side for his freshman and senior years, has been a member of Boys' Intramurals and Wrestling. Out of school, he is vice-president of his company in Junior Achievement and serves in the Naval Reserve. Dave is employed at H and T Manufacturing Company in Albion, Ind.

One of the honorary special merit scholarships was won by Jo Ellen Bobay. She will major in math at Purdue University and will either teach or work for IBM.

JO ELLEN WAS A member of the Totem staff as office manager, Modern Dance, Assemblies Workshop,

THE INVITED guests include Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grile, Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sage, Miss Jeanne Smith;

Miss Edith Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Emshwiller, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fessel, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Furst, Miss Mary Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Quance, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redmond;

Miss Mary Reiff, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weber, and Mr. Doris Yoder.

The programs are also being designed by Jerry Klaehn. Juniors assisting him on this committee are Pat Bailey, Bob Camp, Matt Cornacchione, Judy Conley, Mary Jo MacDonald, Janet Dinius, Sue Lohman, Pat Somers, Mary Jane Reiff, and Virginia Rose.

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Reward your Mother's Kindness the Truly Thoughtful Way surprise her with her very own Family Crown Pin only $8.00 Plus tax
THE B. DAVID FAMILY CROWN PIN Tells the Story of Her Life so differently . . . and so beautifully with each child's simulated birthstone as a jewel in her crown.
Allow four or five days for delivery.
South Side Jewelers
2709 S. Calhoun H-1162

Three Pupils Win Recognition For National Poetry Anthology

Three poems written by South Side students have been selected by the National Council of English Teachers to appear in the summer issue of the "National Poetry Anthology," according to Miss Mary Graham, English teacher.

The winning poems were written by David Brumm, Janet Dinius, and Margee Terry. These three students are members of Miss Lucy Osborne's Special English 6, period 3 class.

Poems entered in the contest were to be original and written during the school year, either as a class assignment or as an outside project. The poems could be on any subject and in any poetic form. There were no specific rules for the contest except that a maximum of 20 lines was preferred.

The winning students have been presented certificates of recognition, and on Recognition Day, each will be presented with a copy of the "National Poetry Anthology."

The poems composed by the anthology winners are as follows:

Sonnet 1
By Margee Terry

Life has its sorrows and its joys combined. Each day must have its tears, each night is sad. For sadness so of heart as well as mind; At times it seems that all the world is bad.

But joy has ways of screaming through the tears, And all dark clouds dispersed by rays of sun; And God comes in to calm your many fears, To bring those sunny days quite full of fun.

Sweet joy is like a summer day in June, The coldness of your heart is gently warmed.

The warmth of day replaced by shining moon, Which sends its gleaming beams; each one is charmed.

As long as God creates us in His form

Janet Dinius Wins Award

Janet Dinius has been named Writer of the Week by Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser, for her editorial concerning the Pegasus, literary magazine. Janet is eligible to win the Writing Trophy on Recognition Day.

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL.

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street H-8916 K-4909

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

HAPPY HUMPTY DRIVE-INS
"For Your Eating Pleasure"
Fairfield at Packard
Anthony at Pontiac
Bluffton Road, Waynedale
U.S. Highways 27, 33, 224, Decatur

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

the Sandler'skimmers
have fashion by the toes!
Which one is Fashion? Every one!
Square, fingertip, taper, crescent toe . . .
Sandler shaped them all
just for you, the girl in-the-know!
(As you saw them in Ingenue!)
8.95
White, Black, Red
TAE CO. 121 W. Wayne St.

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
HAMBURGERS . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . 15c

Tracksters Take Second Place In Class 'A' At Delphi, Trounce Muncie By Ten Points

Half-Mile, Mile Relay Teams Cop Victories Over Opponents

South Side's track squad placed second out of eight teams in the Class "A" competition Saturday at the Delphi Relays. Due to there being three classes of competition, A, B, and C, the meet was exceptionally long. At the end of the day South was 14½ points behind Hobart, who was expected to be tough, with 66½ points.

The Archers won the half-mile relay. The team, composed of Tom Shine, Dale Hilsmer, Karl Bandemer, and Tom Frazell, copped first in this event on a very poor track. The time was 1:37.

Archer Golf Squad Trounces Knights, Loses To Muncie

South Side's powerful Archer linkmen overwhelmed the Knights of Bishop Luers in the latter's first outing in high school golf, April 23, to the tune of 7-1. Jim Mann led the Archer victory posting a 41. Steve Swanson was low for Bishop Luers, carding at 43. Jim Mann was followed in the Archer cause by Dick Waterfield with a 42, and Larry Schneider with a 43.

Jeff Roth carded a 45, Rick Kneasley, a 46, and Jim Littlejohn recorded a 50 to round out South's scoring. Bishop Luers shows little promise this year and will be losing some seniors from the squad. This means the Knights will probably give little dangerous opposition in city or state meets for several years.

However, last Friday, the Archers traveled to Muncie and met a very surprisingly powerful Bearcat team and absorbed a sound licking. Larry Taylor and Rod Carpenter posted 77 to lead Muncie Central to a 12½ to 24 victory over South Side in their dual golf match. It was South Side's first loss after five straight victories.

Jeff Roth was low for the Archers, carding a 79 over the Delaware County Club course. Roth was followed by Jim Mann with an 80. Rick Kneasley, Dick Waterfield, and Larry Schneider followed with an 82, 85, and a 94, respectively. After the two 77's Muncie's scoring was followed by a 78, an 81, and a 90.

All five of these boys are very good, and the first four form a very formidable squad. Coach Warren Hoover marked Central Catholic as the strongest city foe; and Auburn, a team which recently whipped Central Catholic, as our strongest all-over opponent. The Archers return to action Monday against Elmhurst at Brookwood.

South will probably not meet Muncie again as previously scheduled. If the Bearcat squad traveled to Fort Wayne, they could only play a nine-hole meet. The Muncie coach would rather play in an 18-hole meet and is trying to arrange that with another school. This would cancel a second Archer-Bearcat meeting at Brookwood.

THE SPRINT MEDLEY team from South Side took another second for the Green. Participating in this event were Karl Bandemer, Tom Wright, Tom Frazell, and Dale Hilsmer. South Side's two-mile relay turned in a very poor time due to inclement weather.

Evert Mol led off and had the best 880 time. He was followed by Stu Schmitz who held the Archers' number three spot. Glen Crosier replaced Ken Ellingwood to run the third leg, and Mike Weinraub tied Schmitz's time to anchor the race. This Kelly team placed third in spite of the failing time.

South seemed to be prone to third places as the shuttle hurdle relay team scored in that place also. Jon vanOosten led the team as he ran his 100-yard leg of the event in 11.1 seconds. The other members of the team were Mike Tompkinson, Tom McMahon, and Gary Probst.

Probst was not performing up to par as were many of the other Archers. Gary pulled out a third place similar to other events and seemed to be aided little by the fresh country breeze. Gary missed five feet eight inches which turned out to be the winning height.

SHOT-PUTTER Sid Sherry took the usual third place for South Side with a heave of 46 feet. These places added up to South's points, which totaled 52. Hobart, the winner in Class "A" competition, had a point total of 66½ points.

In Class "B" defending champion Delphi won by six points over West Lafayette who had 34 points. Carroll, with 56 points easily doubled second place Boswell's 26½ points to walk over all competitors in the one-year-old "C" division.

Central Tigers Trounce Frosh In Cinder Tournament 79-30

South Side's freshman track team lost its second straight meet Wednesday, April 18, to Central on a chilly, windy day at South Side Stadium. Although the Archers fared well in the field events, they could not keep up with the swift Tiger sprinters as Central swept all of the running events but the mile to win by a 79-30 score.

Mike Vogt put on a one-man show in the field events as he won the broad jump, pole vault, and placed second in the shot put. A leap of 18-2 won the broad jump for Vogt, and Fields took second with a jump of 17-5.

In winning the pole vault, Vogt vaulted 9-6. Steve Butz won the red ribbon in the event with a vault of 8-1. Meredith of Central placed third with a 7-6 effort.

Copping the shot put was Duvall of Central with a heave of 36 feet. Vogt was a close second at 35-5. Archer Dan Junk placed fourth.

HERMAN WILLIAMS and Vanpel of Central earned eight points for Central in the high jump. Williams' jump of 4-9 was three inches better than his teammate and Elbert McKinney of South, the Tiger being awarded second for having missed the height only once to the Archer's two.

The Archers' only other victory came in the mile run. Russ Grose took this event with a fine sprint in the last lap to overhaul the pacesetter, Lynn Hoover of South. Tielker of Central also sneaked in ahead of the Archer, finishing a scant .6 seconds better. Grose's winning time was 5:17.6.

THE REMAINING running events were rather dismal from the Archers' point of view, the Tigers taking the first and second place in all the others. The only Archer to come close to a first place finish was Tom Muka, who finished a mere .4 behind Fast.

Third place finishes were picked up by Terry Mullins in the half mile run, Dick Robbins in the 110-yard dash and the 250, and Bob Kinsey in the high and low hurdles.

Travel-Rite Travel Bureau, Inc. Reservations—Foreign and Domestic • Domestic • Air • Steamship • Hotels • Cruises NO SERVICE CHARGE 215 E. Washington E-0241

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE? GET AN EARLY START ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government. Classes start June 18 and end August 12. Phone A-3171 for more details and a schedule.

HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP (Across from Azar's) Baseball Shoes $6.50 Baseball Gloves $6.95 up Baseballs 75c 3704 South Calhoun H-8925 Free Parking in the Back

Storm Cancels Archers' Meet Against Luers

The Archers nearly lost everything that wasn't bolted down in the stadium, including spectators, last Monday; but not because of any fancy running on the part of Bishop Luers' Knights. The cause for all the confusion was the violent wind that swept the track clean of hurdles, timers, and runners. The meet was postponed until tomorrow night after school, only the high sticks having been completed on Monday.

The Knights have still not collected a win in their outings and don't pose a serious threat to the Bowmen. The only probable winner for the Red and Black is pole vaulter Don Lunquist, who has gone 11 feet.

In all other events, the Kellys own decided advantages on the basis of previous records. The hurdles appear to be safely in the hands of Jon vanOosten and Dave Blanton, who ought to handle Robin Russell and Jim Still of the Knights with ease. Neither of the invaders have times closer than a half-second from "Big Jon's" better times.

THE DASHES ARE safely in the hands of veteran sprinter Karl Bandemer who holds about a one second advantage in the century and furlong. Bandy's best times are 10.0 and 22.8 in the dashes, while Mike Burns has gotten down only to 10.9 and 23.9. Tom Shine may be able to handle Burns in the 220 to allow Bandemer to run the 440.

In the quarter, both Tom Frazell and Bandemer far outclass all their contenders. Their times around 61.0 easily whip Top Blaising's best of 56.0. The times in this race probably won't be as low as might be expected if the competition were a little faster.

The mile and 880 wins should also be easy pickings for South as Ken Ellingwood in the four-lapper and Evert Mol in the half lap claim to counts about 15 seconds quicker than Steve Ottenwieler of the Knights has recorded.

AS IN THE CASE of the C.C. meet, the Archers figure to do well in the field events. Sid Sherry will easily outdo Jim Kambsenie in the shot, with South perhaps even taking the second and third spots with Dave Pritchard, Larry Dawson, and Don Sievert.

Gary Probst should take the high jump without difficulty, with Blanton possibly following him up. Jim Still's best for Luers is just 5-6. The broad jump should be interesting with Blaising owning an 18-5 leap.

Coach Gernand's crew shouldn't have much trouble in the latter events either, since they were good enough to cop the Class "A" competition at Delphi, and Luers has just barely gotten under 3:50 in the mile relay.

Senior A Ron Heathman Receives Sports Awards

The Police Athletic League (PAL) Sportsman's Award and the State Golden Gloves were won by Ron Heathman, senior A, in the boxing division.

Ronnie was presented with the PAL Sportsman's Award on Tuesday, April 24 at the FOP Hall where he received a small trophy. A large trophy on which his name is engraved will be kept by PAL and will be on display at the J. C.'s Home Show at the Coliseum. In February Ronnie won the State Golden Gloves in Muncie and was presented with a letter jacket.

NICKLES BAKERY "Service to Your Home" Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

GARY LAUNDRY

FREE! EVERY WEEK... AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds... register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS Gardner's... DOWNTOWN Gardner's... by the COLISEUM ...for the original... the best ...the one and only GARDNER HAMBURGER

Jon VanOosten Aids Varsity Track Team In Hurdles, Relays

The only returning hurdler with any experience this year is "Big Jon" vanOosten. A veteran of four years of athletic competition of one kind or another, this 12A has been a valuable asset to Archer coaches in all three major sports. Taking part in the second year as a varsity member of the track team Jon has confined his activities to the hurdle races and a little mile relay team work.

Jon vanOosten

Though not out for track as a freshman Jon came out as a sophomore and ran reserves with reasonable success. Last year he ran the hurdles for South in the Sectional meet, placing well considering his lack of experience compared to other veterans in the races. His best time both this year and overall in the high hurdles is 15.1 seconds.

In the lows Jon ran a 20.8 race earlier this year. He feels that his best and favorite race is the high hurdles. He is no doubt aided in this event by his 6-5 stature. Jon stated that he could probably improve his high hurdle time a little this year if he gets some more work on his quarter-mile form and endurance.

As an eighth grader at Hoagland School, which he attended only for the spring semester, Jon did not go out for athletics due to his recent arrival from Japan. In the Far East, Jon said he played touch football, engaged in a little alley basketball, and did a lot of enjoyable swimming.

In other athletic activities at South Jon played two years on the varsity football team. This year he earned a position as either a starting end or tackle position. His height was particularly helpful in giving the quarter-back a good target. This height also aided him in basketball, where he played two years of reserve ball and one of varsity.

Jon feels that our toughest meet so far was the North, South, Central triangular contest. As to the meet in which he himself performed the best, Jon placed the Muncie Central meet at the head of the list. However, he classed the team's best effort as the Elkhart meet which South won by a quarter of a point with much of the team's strength depleted by spring vacation trips.

Jon feels that the team prospects are good and that there is no reason for South not to win the Sectional on total points if everyone gets down to work.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY 2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Miller's Standard Service Rodisill and Calhoun Fort Wayne, Ind. H-5292 K-8048 Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios

1962... MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS Gardner's... DOWNTOWN Gardner's... by the COLISEUM ...for the original... the best ...the one and only GARDNER HAMBURGER

Cindermen Beat Muncie Central By 59-49 Score

Karl Bandemer Wins Sprints; Relay Squad Captures Mile Contest

The Archer track squad upset Muncie Central on the Bearcats' track and field, by winning six first places to beat Central 59-49. Karl Bandemer was one of the better performers of the day and the only double winner for the Archers by winning the 220 and the 440.

Ken Ellingwood ran away with the mile; Jon vanOosten flashed through and won the high hurdles; Gary Probst tied with a Muncie boy at 5-10 in the high jump; and the Archer mile relay team broke the tape first in capturing the sixth blue ribbon for South.

Gross of Muncie won the 100-yard dash against Tom Frazell and Dale Hilsmer from the Green and White. Hilsmer and Frazell were pulled from the 440 and ran the 100-yard dash to establish their time in this event. Dale finished third while the first-place Muncie Bearcat sprinted the distance in 10.5.

In the next short sprint, the 220-yard dash, South placed first and second with Bandemer and Frazell, respectively. Gross, who ran the 100-yard dash for Muncie, crossed the line third. The two Archers might have found it difficult to run the event since the race was on a straight-away instead of the curve which they are accustomed to.

KARL BANDEMER and Tom Shine finished first and second, respectively, in the quarter-mile run. Karl ran this event in a fast 51.9 seconds and Tom finished right behind Karl.

In the 880-yard run Stu Schmitz showed his ability and improvement as he rounded the 440 track twice to finish with a 2:07 time. His best time before this was 2:09. Evert Mol, followed by Mike Weinraub, finished for the Archers; but they were beaten by Murinan of Muncie who ran a 2:05 first place.

Sophomores Ken Ellingwood and Steve Meyers finished first and second, respectively, for the Archers as Ken hit the distance run in 4:40. Unlike most of his races, Ken wasn't challenged too much, and, therefore, he settled in to a better pace than usual, but he didn't reach his fastest time which has been 4:30.

Jon vanOosten captured the high hurdles in 15.9. Clearing the barriers after him was Dixman of Muncie and Dave Blanton from South. Jon ran a much smoother race than usual as he didn't hit many hurdles. In the low hurdle event he was nipped at the wire by a Bearcat but the time was very fast as the Muncie boy won the event in 20.6 seconds.

MUNCIE DID A much better job in the field events while the Archers were only able to tie for one first. Boyce won the broad jump for Muncie as he pleased the crowd with a 21-3 leap to the pit. Don Hilsmer scored the Archers' only points in this event by placing third.

Sid Sherry is finally starting to roll as he put the ball for second place in the meet. Two Muncie boys, Brady and Hartley, captured the first and third positions with Brady giving a 48-5½ heave.

Cardone's Pizza "To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment" 2020 Fairfield CARRY OUTS H-8974

GASS' LADIES SHOP Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

The Bowmen displayed their better-than-average relay power last Saturday in the Delphi Relays but failed to successfully defend their 1961 Class A title, as hustling Hobart slipped in with the win by 14 points. South copped the mile and half-mile relays, took second in the sprint relay and third in the two-mile and shuttle hurdle baton exchanges.

Hurdlers Jon vanOosten and Dave Blanton finished three behind Hobart's Jim Grudzinski in the high sticks. The Hobart whiz came in second to Carl Johnson at State last year.

The revamped 880 relay team of Tom Shine, Dale Hilsmer, Tom Frazell, and Karl Bandemer finally took a big win in fine time. The mile relay crew consisted of the same boys with Evert Mol substituting for Hilsmer.

North Side literally flexed its muscles as it squeaked past South Bend Adams in the Eastern Division Northern Indiana High School Conference trials by virtue of Dave Lucas' 11-9 pole vault. With his second place the "Skins" came to win with a one and one-half point margin over Adams. The NIHSC finals are to be run in Elkhart on Saturday. North and Adams both qualified eight individuals and two relay squads as they dominated the trials. The outstanding mark coming out of the meet was LaPorte's Saffell's 14.7 in the high hurdles. That ties the state low.

The Western NIHSC elimination saw Gary Tolleston run away from Froebel, Gary Mann, Valparaiso, and E. C. Washington, although Bernie Rivers of Washington again held the spotlight. For the second week in a row he clipped one-tenth of a second off his previous low in the century. Now he is down to 9.6.

He also stopped the clock at 21.0 in the furlong, fastest in the state this year. Gary Roosevelt doesn't belong in the conference so it won't have a chance to take the title. Last Saturday Roosevelt ran off with the Kokomo Relays, outpointing the runner-up Wildcats 70-39.

At the Drake Relays, Texas Southern accomplished only a part of what it set out to do, but still showed up well as it set three records in capturing four of six college relay events. New lows were set in the distance medley, sprint medley, and one-mile relays by the Houston flashes. More disappointing were John Uelses' poor vaulting show and the 9.5 hundred won by Bobby Hayes of Florida A. and M.

In Philadelphia on Saturday, NYU finally came through with some victories to edge out Morgan State and Villanova. Its key wins came in the sprint medley and the mile relay, which it clocked in a 3:12.9 time. Villanova took the 880 relay in 1:25, Michigan the two-mile relay in 7:37.8, and Abilene Christian the 440 relay in 41.6.

"BROASTED CHICKEN" PHONE K-8232 YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE Complete Catering Service

QUICK CHICK 5213 DECATUR RD.

Gladioux Men's Wear Says

MAKE YOUR MARK in our re-styled Gladioux Sport Coats

The world's largest maker of popular-price clothing helps you make your mark—with sport coats that look like twice the price. Fine quality Dacron-Cotton and lightweight wool fabrics in patterns and colors that have real country club character. Make it your business to see them now.

$25

Gladioux MEN'S WEAR 926 S. Calhoun A-6496

Cindermen To Encounter Central In Final Contest

Kelly Runners Boast Strength In Mile Relay

Central's Herb Banks, Bob Hubbard Threaten Kellys In Hurdle Runs

With hopes of ending the regular season on a good note, South Side's Archers will entertain Central's Tigers at South's stadium today in their final tune-up before the Sectional Run May 11. South who has had a respectable season thus far hopes to be in top shape for today's meet to give indications that they will be quite capable of successfully defending their Sectional title.

It will be Coach Bob Gernand's first chance of determining last-minute decisions for Sectional unless he runs off intra-squad time trials next week. South's regularly-scheduled entrance in the Lima Relays was cancelled when Lima Senior called the entire relay off due to conflicting arrangements.

Last season South nipped the Bengals by a 57-52 tally enabling them to keep their unbeaten status. Today from all indications it looks as if South should be victorious, although not by too much of a margin. Central has good material this year, although not quite enough balance to cope with South.

COACH PETE WILLIAMS has hurdle ace Bob Hubbard back this season, the fleet-footed hurdler being the top hurdler in the area and one of the state's finest. Hubbard showed his smooth style in a quick 14.9 seconds in the highs two weeks ago in the North Side Relays and brought his team from a distant third to a second-place finish in the shuttle relays with some quick stepping in the anchor leg.

The Tigers also have Herb Banks in the hurdles who is capable of a third-place finish perhaps against South. South's Jon vanOosten is the main hope against Hubbard, and rapidly improving Dave Blanton might also pick up points for the Archers in the highs.

Archer speed merchant Karl Bandemer will probably again add two more blue ribbons to his massive collection with victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Central's Pres Underwood is Central's top speedster, but he will probably find Bandy a little too fast to the wire. Karl will probably anchor one of the relays also, probably the mile crew.

In the middle distance, the quarter, Tom Frazell, yet to be bettered by an opponent this season, and much-improved Tom Shine will probably try to better their existing season marks, while Central's Wims, a 58-second 440 man will attempt to keep pace with the Archer cindermen.

THE DISTANCES might be the area where South picks up some big points. Ken Ellingwood and Steve Meyers could very easily finish one-two in the mile run, since Whett, the Bengals' top miler, has boasted of times in the low 4:50's, while South's top two have both run the four-lapper in 4:45 or better. El's best being a fine 4:38 clocking.

In the 880 Evert Mol, Stu Schmitt, and Mike Weinraub should, between them, outscore Central's "line" 880 man Curry who has clocked in around the 2:07 mark. Mol has had a 2:00; and Weinraub, a 2:09.

Central has fair strength in the field events. Al McKinnie, Central's best broad jumper in the school's history, has reached the 22-4½ mark, a record-shattering distance posted in the North Side Relays this season and is always good for at least 21 feet or better, despite conditions.

The Tigers also have another 20-foot leaper in Roosevelt Dodds. South's Sid Sherry should find the victory going easy in the shot as should Gary Probst in the high jump, while John Weaver might come up with a victory in the pole vault.

Boy Riflers To Meet

The Boys' Rifle Club will meet on the range Monday at 3:30 p.m. Results from the meeting on April 23 are sitting, David Bergwall, 82; kneeling, Jim Walker, 79, and Dave Schele, 80.

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenhorn

All gym classes have completed their self-testing. The boys doing the best in the individual tests will receive points toward their intramural letters. Boys in third place get one point, boys in second place get two points, and boys in first place receive three points.

The following are self-testing results: Cross country—Steve Myers, 1:38, first; Jerry Young, 1:45, second; and Bill Speck, 1:46, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Tom Romanowski, 1:43, first; Bob Williams, 1:44, second; and Russ Wickham, 1:44, also second; in the heavyweight division, Charles Golden and Larry Schneider, 1:46, first; Dave Engle, 1:47, second; and Steve Shambaugh, 1:48, third.

Football pass—Mike Horman, 139 feet, first, Steve Locker, 132, second, and Jerome Clark, 124 feet, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Willie Kidd, 165 feet, (a new record), first; Bill Colby, 150 feet, second; and Steve Hamilton, 149 feet, third; and in the heavyweight division, Howie Lowden, 164 feet, first; Mike Files, 149 feet, second; and Larry Schneider, 145 feet, third.

Basketball shoot—Jan Doran, 38, first; Bill Speck, 36, second; and Ron Van Ryan, 34, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Willie Kidd, 38, first; Byron Fromm, 34, second; and Bob Holloway, 34, also second; and in the heavyweight division, Steve Petty, 40, first, Dale Engle, Charles Brine-man, Dan Junk, and Bill Kinsey, 38, second, and Matt Barnes, 36, third.

Agility run—John Gustafson, 22.4, first; Jim Lawson, 22.5, second; and George Barfell, 22.7, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Mike Saalfrank, 21.6, first; Willie Kidd and Chip Bolman, 22.1, second; and Art Blauvelt, 22.4, third; and in the heavyweight division, Don Hilsmer, 21.2, first; Duane Goodwin, 22.1, second; and Paul Cochran, 22.4, third.

Vertical jump—Jerry Dunlap and Stan Beer, 25 inches, first; Al Carpenter, Jim Fletcher, Ron Proctor, and John Leonard, 24 inches, second in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Willie Kidd and Mike Vogt, 30 inches, first; Gary Arnold, 27 inches, second; and Mike Laughlin, 26 inches, third; and in the heavyweight division, Dave Tipton and Mike Files, 26 inches, first; Paul Cochran, Bill Colby, and Dave Fishbaugh, 25 inches, second.

Jump, step, jump—Don Potter, 23-7, first; Tom Blossom, 23-2, second; and Gene Stier, 23 feet, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Willie Kidd, 27 feet, first, Mike Vogt, 25 feet, second, and Ned Krouse, 24-9, third; and in the heavyweight division, Gary Hensch, 25 feet, first; Paul Cochran, 24-4, second; and Bill Colby, 24 feet, third.

Chin-ups—Gayle Zimmerman, 20, first; Jim Carnahan, 16, second; and Don Potter, 14, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Bob Williams, 19, first; Mike Vogt, 17, second; and Rick Ramsey, John Grandstaff, and Jim Denner, 14, third; and in the heavyweight division, Everett Mathieu, 13, first; Bob Williams, 11, second; and Charles Golden, Bill Bischoff, Tom Durnell, Dave Fishbaugh, Skevos Pavlou, Bill Colby, and Larry Malles, 10, third.

Balance board—Steve Irmischer, 12, first in the lightweight division, in the middleweight division, Bryon Fromm, 11, first; and in the heavyweight division, Rick Bear, 34, first, and Paul Cochran, 11, second.

Basketball dribble—Jim Lawson and Jerry Machamer, 10.0, first; Don Potter, 10.1, second; and Jon Lyon, 10.2, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Mike Lepper, 9.6, first, Willie Kidd, 9.7, second; and Greg Arnold, 10.0, third; and in the heavyweight division, Dave Fishbaugh, 9.1, first; Jerry Thomas, 9.9, second; and Duane Goodwin, 10.2, third.

Rope climb—Jim Ostermeyer, 7-6, first; Ned Krouse, 7-7, second; and Don Potter, 8-0, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Willie Kidd, 8-0, first; John Grandstaff, 8-3, second; and Rick Ramsey, 8-5, third; in the heavyweight division, Walt Halley, 6-8, first; Tom Durnell, 7-2, second; and Skevos Pavlou, 7-5, third.

Squat balance—Jerry Adams, 1:07, first; Jim Abramson, 1:03, second; and Tom Blossom, 1:02, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Keith Lantz, 1:40, first; Jon Brown, 1:16, second; and Madison Hogue, 0:48, third; and in the heavyweight division, Skevos Pavlou, 1:55, first; Doug Groves, 1:35, second; and Jim Crick, 0:54, third.

Standing broad jump—Jim Fletcher, 7-9, first; Jerry Machamer, 7-6, second; and Tom Blossom, 7-5, third in the lightweight division; in the middleweight division, Willie Kidd, 8-3, first; Mike Vogt, 8 feet, second; and Ted Rolf, 7-10, third; and in the heavyweight division, Tom Durnell, 8-6, first; Bill Colby, 8-2, second; and Jim Barker, 8 feet, third.

The following are noon-league badminton doubles champions: in the lightweight division, Tom Blossom and Jerry Dunlap, who defeated Val Budowski and Steve Bodkin, 21-9, 14-21, 5-2; in the middleweight division, Carl Poust and Rick Meeks, who beat Jim Long and Dan DeWald; and in the heavyweight division, Larry Schneider and Bill Joy, who edged the team of Bill Matlock and Dale Engle, 15-13, 15-13.

The noon badminton singles champions are: Rick Meeks, who put Jerry Dunlap in the loss column, 13-15, 16-11, 15-10, in the lightweight division; Roger Allmandinger, who squeezed by Jim Long, 11-15, 17-15, 15-11, to gain the middleweight title; and Gary Tinkel, who eliminated Bob Hawkins for the heavyweight crown.

The night-league badminton doubles championships go to: Don Carlo and John Grodrian, who bested Dick Astrom and John Arnold, 21-17, 21-18, in the lightweight division; Steve Shambaugh and Tom Wooding, who trounced the team of Doug Hansen and Paul Cochran, 15-1, 15-2 in the middleweight division; and Jim Wolfe and Fred Busche, who won from Don Dawson and Ron Bakalar on a forfeit to receive the heavyweight honors.

The following boys are night-league badminton singles champions: in the lightweight division, Mike Young, who squeaked by Larry Botz, 10-15, 15-3, 15-10; in the middleweight division, Steve Shambaugh, who blasted Tom Wooding, 15-4, 15-0; and in the heavyweight division, Steve Petty, who won from Larry Schneider.

In heavyweight night-league giant volleyball action, the GAA All Stars bowled to the Variets, 15-2, 12-11. All of the winners' points were scored by Bob Hendricksen, Mark Hagerman, and Bill Klieffen. Dave Knight scored all of the losers' tallies in the second tilt, which was an extremely well-played and close battle.

Last fall's golf championships went to: Tom Blossom with a 96 in the lightweight class; Jim Littlejohn with a 77 in the middleweight class; and Dick Waterfield in the heavyweight division.

Don't forget to sign up for these events coming up soon on the intramural program: Spring golf, May 10, 11, 12 at Foster Park; the track meet, May 15, in the stadium; and tennis and horseshoes, May 19, at Packard Park.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Racketmen Crush Howe Team, Fall To Vikings For 3-5 Record

TENNIS PARTICIPANTS . . . Comprising this year's tennis team are, left to right, in front, Pat Fiske, John Knight, and Jim McMahon. Behind are, left to right, Jim Lantz, Terry Smith, Matt Cornacchione, and Lex Smuts. Al Purdy was absent when the picture was taken.—Photo by Lowden

The Archers racked up victory Number 11 on Wednesday, April 25, when they whitewashed a rebuilding Howe Military team by a score of 7-0. Howe, using mostly underclassmen, was no match for the rising South Siders as they dropped all five singles and both doubles.

Al Purdy finally came through with a decisive victory in the Number One singles contest as he clobbered Robert Swan. The Cadet was simply no match for Purdy as the Archer kept blasting away at the weak backhand of his opponent, then rushing to the net. The score was 6-0, 6-2.

Steve Snapp proved no match for Kelly Jim Lantz and went down to a 6-2, 6-1 defeat. Lantz, showing much service improvement, capitalized upon the short lobs of Snapp for many smashes.

Lex Smuts had a little trouble disposing of Robert Burke, but finally did pull off a methodical 8-6, 6-2 win. Smuts patiently played out the long volleys and quick net exchanges while waiting for his opponent's errors, which became more numerous as the match progressed.

Terry Smith kept the South string alive as he mowed down Dave Hardy by a 6-1, 8-6 tally. Smitty, who ran wild over Hardy in the initial stanza, began to tire in the second set, but he hung on for the triumph.

In the final singles, Matt Cornacchione completed the Archer sweep of the singles with a 6-0, 6-2 trouncing of Cadet Al Brown. Matt continued to show why he is probably the most improved member of the squad as he rolled over Brown.

The doubles proved to be just more of the same. Lantz and Purdy finally caught fire in the second set and went on to whip Burke and Hardy 4-6, 6-2, 6-1. Smuts and Smith easily beat Swan and Brown 6-4, 6-3 to put the wraps on the whitewash job.

Hoping to even their season's record at 4-4, the Archer racketmen traveled to Huntington to tangle with the Vikings at Memorial Park Thursday, April 26. However, the local boys were prepared for the invasion and turned back the Green attack by a score of 4-3.

Purdy once again played in the top singles slot and promptly lost to Huntington's city champ, Don Draper. Draper, who last year whipped all comers to cop the city men's crown, played a very consistent, hard-serving game to eliminate Purdy 7-5, 6-2.

The Archer hopes rose in the second singles as Jim Lantz rolled over Bob Ross 7-5, 6-0. Jim used his net game to a tremendous hit and whipped Ross with steady volleys and smashing over heads.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

605 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3361
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

Tennis Team To Play Bluffton, C. C., Muncie In Big Matches

This next week will be a busy one for Coach Everett Havens' tennis crew, as they sail headlong into three big matches. Tonight the Kellys advance against the Irish netters of C.C.; and on May 7 and 9, they collide with Bluffton and Muncie Central. Carrying somewhat less than a 500 percentage, the Green will be out to collect all three victories.

The Irish, already having fallen once to the Bowbenders, do not pose much of a threat to South, although their spirit could throw a scare to the Archers. In the last meeting, with South victorious 5-2, Tom Badders played in the number one slot for C.C. with Rob Hollo and Mark Schaefer in the next two positions.

Badders has proven himself a strong lead-off player, but the other two have their troubles at times. Danny McVay, Ron Pausis, and Steve App fill out the active roster. App is actually a better player than sixth ranked and often participates in the doubles with Badders or Hollo.

Next Monday the terrific Tigers from Bluffton will stalk into Lafayette Park to try to devour the Archers for the second time this year. They probably will run into some more trouble as they meet the Archers here in Fort Wayne and come up against the top four Kelly netters. In the 5-2 defeat at Bluffton, South was the representation of Lantz, Purdy, Smuts, and Smith as Coach Havens decided to give the second string experience.

The top three posts on the Tigers are held by basketballers Mike Flowers, Randy Eddington, and Steve Hart. Flowers hasn't been playing regularly, and the other two have preformed in streaks. Both Eddington and Hart, despite their experience, have been hard pressed to come up with victories in their singles matches. In the doubles, they are still a fine combo.

The fourth, fifth, and sixth players Jon Faulkner, Mike Byrnum, and Ron Anderson—have seen a lot of action this spring and are fine players. They have reinforced the Tiger tennis picture for the future.

On Wednesday South journeys to Muncie to fight the Bearcats of Central. Coach Ed Olsen has a large, young crop of netters that is developing into a strong crew at Muncie Central. The only senior in the group is number one man Jim Stevenson. All others have some experience, yet are still underclassmen. Sophomore Phil Ward holds down the second spot while Dick Hochstetler and George McCoy, juniors, occupy the third and fourth positions.

BOYS WANTED

TEENAGERS 15 AND OVER

To look your smartest for the Spring Parties, the Prom, and especially for Graduation—you want this keen Natural Shoulder Worsted Suit, especially designed for Teenagers! Parents like our easy price, too:

$45.95

Palm Beach RICHWEAVE

It's At

Calhoun At Jefferson

Hall's Drive-Ins

EMPA S I S

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

SUNDAY

5:30 p.m.

on

WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:

Tournament Round C.C. vs. Concordia

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRO COMPANY

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.

FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Deatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

GOOD

HOT DOGS . . . . . 15¢
SLOPPY JOES . . . . . 25¢

FOX'S ICE CREAM

3808 S. Calhoun

Phone H-5193

Formerly Dixie Ice Cream
Under New Management

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

This week's Small Snaps is Dave Yaney

Lake Forest Strives To Cultivate Mind For Improving Judgment, Competence

Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill., accepts as its primary purpose the cultivation of the mind in its ability to abstract to judge, and to reason so that the student may grow in understanding, insight, and wisdom.

Through the application of this policy, Lake Forest expects its students not only to attain a desire for learning, coupled with a high competence, during their four collegiate years, but also to retain this desire throughout their entire lives.

Chartered in 1857 with the initial purpose of training young men for the ministry, Lake Forest College instituted a collegiate department, which now offers the degree of Bachelor of Arts, instead. Although it is affiliated with the Presbyterian Church, the college is not sectarian in its teaching.

It asks only that the differences in religious points of view be in harmony with the ideals of Christianity. Courses in religion, primarily the study of the Christian religion, are part of the curriculum and each student must complete six semester hours of work in religion as a part of his program.

LAKE FOREST COLLEGE provides the basic training for graduate and professional schools, and it is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and by the University of Illinois. It is also approved by the Association of American Universities and by the American Association of University Women.

The college campus consists of ninety-three acres, divided into the North, Middle, and South Campuses and Farewell Athletic Field. A library containing over sixty-six thousand books and periodicals is also located on the campus.

The cultural activities on campus include six convocations each semester, and a program of concerts, plays, art exhibits, and selected domestic and foreign movies.

The general admission policy of the college is that the character and personality of a student as well as his scholastic ability are vital factors for his success in college.

Prospective students are urged to make arrangements for personal interviews with the admission counselors, and application for admission should be filed before February 1 of the calendar year in which the student plans to enter. When filing his 16 units of secondary school credits, the applicant must also present a recommendation from his principal.

ALL CANDIDATES for admission to the freshman class are required to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test administered by the College Entrance Examination Board. In some cases, applicants must also take College Board Achievement Tests in English, foreign languages, sciences, and social studies, and submit the English Writing Sample, if necessary.

Lake Forest College also has a military program, the Reserve Officer Candidate of the Navy and the Platoon Leaders Class of the Marine Corps. Upon completion of this program, both men and women are eligible for a commissioned rank in the Reserve Corps. Students are also affiliated with the reserve program of the Army, Air Force, and National Guard.

Various student activities are open to all men and women on the campus. All students automatically belong to the Student Association, which functions through its governing board, the Student Congress.

There are five fraternities, five sororities, an Independent Men's Club, and an Independent Women's Club on campus. The Panhellenic Association enforces the regulations for the sororities and the Inter-Fraternity Council deals with the problems of the fraternities.

The Women's Self-Government Association in co-operation with the Dean of Women establishes and enforces rules for the discipline and social life of resident women.

THE MUSIC GROUPS, which are open to all who are interested, include the Lake Forest College Choir, the Men's Chorus, the Men's Quartet, the Madrigal Singers, the College Band, and the Lake Forest Chamber Symphony Orchestra.

The Department of Speech sponsors intercollegiate debate teams for men and women. Lake Forest participates in intercollegiate debate tournaments, the State Extempore Speaking Contest, and the State Oratorical Contest.

Intercollegiate sports are open to any male student who can qualify for a team. Lake Forest is a member of the College Conference of Illinois. Inter-collegiate competition is also carried on with similar colleges in Wisconsin, Michigan, and Indiana. Intramural sports offer extensive programs for both men and women.

Edited and managed by students, the college publications include the following: The Stentor, college weekly; the Forester, college yearbook; Tusitala, a magazine for student writing and art work; and the Student Handbook, listing college rules and information.

THERE ARE TWO honorary societies on campus. The Iron Key, a local honor fraternity for men, recognizes scholarship and leadership; and Kappa Alpha, for women, recognizes scholarship, campus activities, and co-operative spirit.

Upon his arrival on campus, a freshman is assigned to a member of the faculty who will be his official advisor the first year. After a freshman has been admitted, he or she will be assigned to a dormitory reserved for freshmen.

All freshmen are given a physical examination upon entrance. A freshman must also have a certification of his physical condition from his family doctor and a smallpox vaccination within the last five years.

Lake Forest maintains the College Health Office with a physician and a registered nurse in attendance at specified hours. A consultant psychiatrist is also available through the Health Office.

THE COLLEGE ALSO has a broad coverage accident and sickness insurance for its students. All dormitory residents are automatically covered; non-resident students may also apply for the insurance.

Applications for financial aid by new students must be filed with the Director of Admissions. A brochure describing available financial aid may be obtained from this office.

Students who wish to do part-time work may register with the placement office. All students must have the approval of the Dean of Students Office before they can be employed.

The college has certain short and long term loans to students at low interest rates. The college also participates in the loan program of the National Defense Education Act.

Entering freshmen may obtain application blanks from the Director of Admissions. A number of scholarships from the interest on the college's endowed funds may also be awarded.

A comprehensive fee of $1,800 covers the costs of tuition, laboratory fees, student activity fee, health fee, health and accident insurance premium, room, linen service, and board for the resident student for the school year.

A NON-RESIDENT student must pay a comprehensive fee of $1,000 to cover the cost of tuition, laboratory fees, student activity fees, and health fees.

When sending in his application to the Admission Office, the prospective freshman must include an application fee of $10.

Upon notification by the admissions office of his acceptance, the student makes a deposit of $50, which is applied against his first semester account. An additional $50 is necessary to confirm the room reservation; this also is applied against the student's first semester account.

A general deposit of $25 is necessary to cover damage, traffic fines, library fines, and the like. This deposit is made at the time of first enrollment.

Students To Take Test

Junior and senior students who have maintained an A— or above average in English will be given the opportunity to take a standardized English test on May 9 in the cafeteria at 3:30 p.m.

Each participating individual will be able to learn his score and discuss it, but only the names of the top scorers of the senior and junior classes will be announced publicly. The winners will then be honored on either the senior or underclassman recognition days, June 1 and June 4, respectively.

COLONIAL
Restaurant
E-2000

Lowrey Organs
Kimball Pianos
Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

Maloley Brothers
Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Allen Dairy
Phone: T-1141

MASTERPIECE
OF EATING ENJOYMENT
ALL-AMERICAN MEAL
MILK SHAKES...20¢
McDonald's FRENCH FRIES...10¢
HAMBURGERS...15¢
ALL FOR 45¢
McDonald's DRIVE-INS
3-LOCATIONS-3
NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison
SOON: NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!

Adviser Publishes Article

Suggesting ways for high school publication advisers to build up circulation of student-produced publications, Mr. James Rohrabach, adviser of South Side's publications and Supervisor of Publications for the Fort Wayne Community Schools, wrote an article for the March edition of "The Bulletin," a quarterly magazine, published by the Columbia Press Association, devoted to the interests and problems of faculty advisors of school newspapers, yearbooks, and literary magazines.

In his article, Mr. Rohrabach explained the methods and techniques used to successfully sell the Times, Totem, and Pegasus at South Side.

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2636 South Anthony H-3381

Superstitions Give Powers To Apples To Repel Doctors

The multiplicity and variety of superstitions seem to have no end. Superstitions are not confined to "naive and glib" people but pervade the thought and activities of the wise, the discriminating, and even the formally educated. They cross oceans with emigrations, and defy the full light of reason.

A superstition, like a weed, grows on the finest lawns of better knowledge, persisting alongside the most cultivated areas of the mind. When some crisis comes into one's life, he readily recalls some relevant superstition and summons it to his aid.

Many superstitions have been connected with the eating of certain foods. A common superstition is that fish is a "brain food." An early Swedish-American belief was that an almond in rice pudding drawn by a guest's spoon will bring good luck.

MOST PEOPLE ARE familiar with the old saying, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." This saying carries some grains of truth in that a much-needed mineral, potassium, is found in an apple.

Among the North Carolina legends is one that says that a cake will turn out ill unless it is baked while the sun is going up. It is considered good luck to stop the clock during this process. The first cake taken from the oven should not be cut but broken; otherwise, all subsequent cakes baked on the same day would be soggy.

Another superstition is that eating bananas will make a person fat. Taking the last piece of bread on a plate or throwing bread away is considered bad luck. Breaking bread into crumbs at the table is a bad sign of impending poverty. Eating bread crusts is believed to help make rosy cheeks and curly hair.

IF BUBBLES APPEAR in a cup of coffee, one should immediately attempt to trap them in a spoon and consume them. If this is successfully done one may expect some surprise money.

New Englanders thought that putting onions on their chest would relieve lung infections. Tea was considered good for sore eyes by some. They also believed that mashed potatoes would heal burns. Eating watermelon was believed by some people to reduce fever and was considered poisonous by others.

If a bald-headed man washes his hair with sage tea, he will supposedly grow a new crop of hair. Many believe that if milk is eaten with fish, it causes poison. To dream of eggs is an omen of trouble. Superstitious people also think that water is fattening even though it does not have any calories.

Students Participate In Civil Air Patrol As Training Cadets

"Double to the left flank, double to the right flank, triple to the rear, march!" The average teenager probably would find little meaning in this order, but to Junior Dave Brumm and to Sophomores Stan Black, Steve Layman, and Rick Fuller this command is just another part of their Civil Air Patrol training.

The purposes of the nation-wide CAP training programs are to provide aerospace education for America's young adults, to train search and rescue squads for use in times of disaster, and to make available a nationwide radio network.

In Fort Wayne 60 adults and teenagers are in the Composite Squadron, and from this squadron seven boys compose the cadet competition drill team. On this team Dave Brumm serves as drill instructor; Stan Black is a cadet basic; Steve Layman is a cadet first class; and Rick Fuller serves as a cadet second class.

The seven-man exhibition squad, commonly known as the snap squad, practices on Saturdays. On April 1, they attended the Indiana wing of the Civil Air Patrol drill competition in Anderson, Ind. After watching the competition, they put on a snap drill exhibition and won first place.

Tan uniforms, white helmets, belts, scarves, and braids compose the outfits of the squad. Future plans of the squad are to develop into a ten-man team with a four-man color guard, to march in parades, and to put on exhibitions.

Girls To Elect Officers

Election of new officers for the fall semester of the Moterite Club will take place Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 112. This semester's officers are Sue Klahn, president; Christine Fruehtricht, vice-president; Cheryl Lee, secretary; and Judy Ruhl, treasurer.

Nominated by Janet Kelley and her committee were Sally Henderson and Nina Schevchenko for president, Alice Fruehtricht and Sherry Strawser for secretary, and Sue Jorgenson and Mary Ann Harper for treasurer. The girl not receiving the presidency will become vice-president. All members are urged to attend the meeting and vote.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

What you want
is a
Coke
DRINK
Coca-Cola
"Coke" is a registered trademark
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY IN

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Students Disagree On Original Ideas In Human Lifetime

A noted psychologist once said that a person gets only one truly original idea in his lifetime. When several Archers were confronted with this statement, they eagerly expressed their opinions. If they disagreed they were asked to illustrate some of their original ideas. These are their replies.

Beth Randall: I disagree, I believe an average person has more than one original idea, or how would the world continue being in existence?

Carol Shedron: I disagree. Most inventors have had more than one truly original idea.

Virginia Erwin: I feel that the things that are done today are the basis for the future, and stemmed from the past. Therefore, I think that no one can have a truly original idea. It must have come from something else.

Rick Brown: There are always new ideas which seem to be created by some present day genius, but these "new" ideas are far from original. Original ideas began and ended long ago. New ideas are always based on an earlier idea.

Karen Miller: I disagree, because of all the people of the world today and long before, I don't think there are enough truly original ideas for each person to have his own.

Jim Abramson: I disagree, because no one has a truly original idea. At times people will think they have thought of something original, but really, their idea has its beginning from other person's ideas.

Dayna Harader: I think people get ideas which fit their own situations, but aren't truly original ideas to others.

Sharon Chase: I think a person has more than one idea original to himself, but he might not know whether it is truly original or not.

Judy Zimmers: Every person is different so everyone in the world should have at least one original idea.

Marlene Ringenberg: I disagree. Inventors had to get more than one original idea or they could not be called inventors.

Jan Reynolds: Definitely not, some people get many original ideas, while some never have one. We would still be living in the dark ages if everyone was limited to one idea.

Carol Harader: The ideas thought up now are not new. There had to be a beginning and I think all ideas today stem from others.

Pupils Relate Views On Awarding Grants

Each year high school seniors from all over the country are awarded scholarships for the colleges of their choice. Some are athletic scholarships, some are merit scholarships, and some are based on the need of the family. But the real question is "Is it right for scholarships to be offered on the basis of the need instead of solely on merit?" The following Archers have expressed their opinions on this subject.

Dave Reidenbach: I think scholarships should be awarded by both of these standards. If a person has money and brains, he does not need the scholarship. However if a person has the brains but not the money, he should have the scholarship.

Gaynel Musser: I believe that scholarships should be awarded to people who have both ability and need. In my opinion, many people who could afford college on their own are given scholarships, keeping deserving students from getting the chance to go to college.

Steve Shambaugh: I think that the awarding of scholarships should be based primarily on merit. Moreover, I certainly believe that anyone who scores well enough on the various examinations offered to high school students should at least be given a partial scholarship regardless of financial need.

Mary Sherlock: I think scholarships should first be awarded to students worthy through efforts made in studies, then to satisfactory and better students who may be unable to fully pay for an education.

Lex Smuts: I believe scholarships should be awarded on both merit and need — perhaps more so on merit. I see no reason why a capable student should be denied a scholarship if he can use it; nor do I see the need to give a person a scholarship just because he is poor if he cannot succeed in college.

Sharyan Yerger To Participate In Annual Girls' State Session

Sharyan Yerger, junior A, has been chosen to attend the annual Girls' State Workshop at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., from June 30 to July 8.

Girls' State is the name given to convocations of high school juniors.

Mrs. Margaret Howell, chairman of the Girls' State in Fort Wayne, stated "All expenses for Girls' State will be paid by the American Legion Auxiliary."

Commenting on being chosen, Sharyan said, "I feel very honored to have been chosen to participate in this workshop. I'm sure that I will be greatly benefitted from the experience."

Sharyan is presently studying Latin 6, Speech 2, English 6, Special Math 6, and Physics 2 on the college preparatory course.

She is a bookend and a copy editor for the Times and a bookend for the Pegasus this semester. Sharyan is a member of Wranglers in which she has won a fourth place ribbon in dramatic interpretation. She takes part in Physics Section of the Junior Academy of Science, and she was a member of the Junior "Hi-Quiz" team.

Sharyan will depart for Bloomington by bus and return by bus after two weeks of campaigning for offices, social gatherings, and mock elections. During the workshop, the girls will stay in the Indiana University dormitories.

All participants in the program must be active in school clubs and have a high scholastic average. Four hundred junior and senior B girls will participate in the session.

Artists To Present Show Of Puppets, Attend Picnic

Puppet skits will be presented by members of the Art Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art instructor at the meeting Wednesday in Room 26.

Louise Jackson, president, stated, "We will not have the election of officers for next semester because the club will be reorganized."

A picnic is scheduled for May 23 and committees will be selected May 6 at the officers' meeting. On April 25, the members toured the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company Museum and viewed various sketches.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!
Teenagers And the WANT
AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Year Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Marks' CAMERA SHOPS

Phone H-4197

PICTURES of COUPLES

WILL BE TAKEN AT THE JUNIOR PROM

All Pictures Will Be Taken in DIRECT COLOR

PRICES:
1—3x5 (in folder) ..... $1.50 ea.
Billfold Size ..... 50c ea.

SPECIAL OFFER:
2—3x5 (in folders) ..... Only
2—Billfolds ..... $3.50

Pictures Will Be Mailed Within 15 Days

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

Sharyan Yerger To Participate In Annual Girls' State Session

Sharyan Yerger, junior A, has been chosen to attend the annual Girls' State Workshop at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., from June 30 to July 8.

Girls' State is the name given to convocations of high school juniors.

Mrs. Margaret Howell, chairman of the Girls' State in Fort Wayne, stated "All expenses for Girls' State will be paid by the American Legion Auxiliary."

Commenting on being chosen, Sharyan said, "I feel very honored to have been chosen to participate in this workshop. I'm sure that I will be greatly benefitted from the experience."

Sharyan is presently studying Latin 6, Speech 2, English 6, Special Math 6, and Physics 2 on the college preparatory course.

She is a bookend and a copy editor for the Times and a bookend for the Pegasus this semester. Sharyan is a member of Wranglers in which she has won a fourth place ribbon in dramatic interpretation. She takes part in Physics Section of the Junior Academy of Science, and she was a member of the Junior "Hi-Quiz" team.

Sharyan will depart for Bloomington by bus and return by bus after two weeks of campaigning for offices, social gatherings, and mock elections. During the workshop, the girls will stay in the Indiana University dormitories.

All participants in the program must be active in school clubs and have a high scholastic average. Four hundred junior and senior B girls will participate in the session.

Artists To Present Show Of Puppets, Attend Picnic

Puppet skits will be presented by members of the Art Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art instructor at the meeting Wednesday in Room 26.

Louise Jackson, president, stated, "We will not have the election of officers for next semester because the club will be reorganized."

A picnic is scheduled for May 23 and committees will be selected May 6 at the officers' meeting. On April 25, the members toured the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company Museum and viewed various sketches.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Marks' CAMERA SHOPS

Phone H-4197

PICTURES of COUPLES

WILL BE TAKEN AT THE JUNIOR PROM

All Pictures Will Be Taken in DIRECT COLOR

PRICES:
1—3x5 (in folder) ..... $1.50 ea.
Billfold Size ..... 50c ea.

SPECIAL OFFER:
2—3x5 (in folders) ..... Only
2—Billfolds ..... $3.50

Pictures Will Be Mailed Within 15 Days

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

Sharyan Yerger To Participate In Annual Girls' State Session

Sharyan Yerger, junior A, has been chosen to attend the annual Girls' State Workshop at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., from June 30 to July 8.

Girls' State is the name given to convocations of high school juniors.

Mrs. Margaret Howell, chairman of the Girls' State in Fort Wayne, stated "All expenses for Girls' State will be paid by the American Legion Auxiliary."

Commenting on being chosen, Sharyan said, "I feel very honored to have been chosen to participate in this workshop. I'm sure that I will be greatly benefitted from the experience."

Sharyan is presently studying Latin 6, Speech 2, English 6, Special Math 6, and Physics 2 on the college preparatory course.

She is a bookend and a copy editor for the Times and a bookend for the Pegasus this semester. Sharyan is a member of Wranglers in which she has won a fourth place ribbon in dramatic interpretation. She takes part in Physics Section of the Junior Academy of Science, and she was a member of the Junior "Hi-Quiz" team.

Sharyan will depart for Bloomington by bus and return by bus after two weeks of campaigning for offices, social gatherings, and mock elections. During the workshop, the girls will stay in the Indiana University dormitories.

All participants in the program must be active in school clubs and have a high scholastic average. Four hundred junior and senior B girls will participate in the session.

Artists To Present Show Of Puppets, Attend Picnic

Puppet skits will be presented by members of the Art Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art instructor at the meeting Wednesday in Room 26.

Louise Jackson, president, stated, "We will not have the election of officers for next semester because the club will be reorganized."

A picnic is scheduled for May 23 and committees will be selected May 6 at the officers' meeting. On April 25, the members toured the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company Museum and viewed various sketches.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Marks' CAMERA SHOPS

Phone H-4197

PICTURES of COUPLES

WILL BE TAKEN AT THE JUNIOR PROM

All Pictures Will Be Taken in DIRECT COLOR

PRICES:
1—3x5 (in folder) ..... $1.50 ea.
Billfold Size ..... 50c ea.

SPECIAL OFFER:
2—3x5 (in folders) ..... Only
2—Billfolds ..... $3.50

Pictures Will Be Mailed Within 15 Days

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

Sharyan Yerger To Participate In Annual Girls' State Session

Sharyan Yerger, junior A, has been chosen to attend the annual Girls' State Workshop at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., from June 30 to July 8.

Girls' State is the name given to convocations of high school juniors.

Mrs. Margaret Howell, chairman of the Girls' State in Fort Wayne, stated "All expenses for Girls' State will be paid by the American Legion Auxiliary."

Commenting on being chosen, Sharyan said, "I feel very honored to have been chosen to participate in this workshop. I'm sure that I will be greatly benefitted from the experience."

Sharyan is presently studying Latin 6, Speech 2, English 6, Special Math 6, and Physics 2 on the college preparatory course.

She is a bookend and a copy editor for the Times and a bookend for the Pegasus this semester. Sharyan is a member of Wranglers in which she has won a fourth place ribbon in dramatic interpretation. She takes part in Physics Section of the Junior Academy of Science, and she was a member of the Junior "Hi-Quiz" team.

Sharyan will depart for Bloomington by bus and return by bus after two weeks of campaigning for offices, social gatherings, and mock elections. During the workshop, the girls will stay in the Indiana University dormitories.

All participants in the program must be active in school clubs and have a high scholastic average. Four hundred junior and senior B girls will participate in the session.

Artists To Present Show Of Puppets, Attend Picnic

Puppet skits will be presented by members of the Art Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art instructor at the meeting Wednesday in Room 26.

Louise Jackson, president, stated, "We will not have the election of officers for next semester because the club will be reorganized."

A picnic is scheduled for May 23 and committees will be selected May 6 at the officers' meeting. On April 25, the members toured the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company Museum and viewed various sketches.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Marks' CAMERA SHOPS

Phone H-4197

PICTURES of COUPLES

WILL BE TAKEN AT THE JUNIOR PROM

All Pictures Will Be Taken in DIRECT COLOR

PRICES:
1—3x5 (in folder) ..... $1.50 ea.
Billfold Size ..... 50c ea.

SPECIAL OFFER:
2—3x5 (in folders) ..... Only
2—Billfolds ..... $3.50

Pictures Will Be Mailed Within 15 Days

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

Archers Score High In Classroom As Grade Period Ends

Doug Fox, John Powers, and Victor Seewald received A's on a weekly news test given in Mr. Collyer's period 2 general history class.

Students who scored high on a recent test over the Constitution in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 4 class are Tom Marshall, Joan Lambert, Sue Burlage, and Kate Mishler.

Mr. Scott's gym classes are currently playing a vigorous schedule of giant volleyball, and they are planning for and looking forward to warm weather so softball can be started.

Those scoring highest on a test over relative pronouns in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 2 period 7 class are Dick Astrom, Valentina Harabosky, Sue Jorgensen, Jim Mittelstadt, and Kerry Miller.

Earning high grades on an objective test about epics in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 6 class, Mike Stedje scored 100; Linda Newell, 100; Steve Mueller, 98; Karen McFarland, 98; Anita Ferber, 98; Steve Lowens, 96; Dave Lipp, 96; and Sally Gilbert, 96.

Gym classes, guided by Mrs. Keegan, have been graded on trampoline stunts.

The students in Mr. Brown's health classes are currently studying the effects of alcohol on the human nervous system.

The students in Mr. Drummond's Music Appreciation 1 period 2 class are studying symphonies composed by Stravinski and Petrouchke.

Those receiving high scores on a test over the British Empire taken in Mr. Collyer's period 7 General History 2 class are Walter Nestor, Carol Harader, Chuck Hager, Susan Seigel, Dave Triplett, and Judy Zimmers.

Dan Ellis, Ken Leakey, and John Weaver scored the highest grades on a test over "The Scarlet Letter" in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 4 class.

Steve Campbell, Herb Fuller, Mike Hurlinger, Dave Linsky, and Dennis Murphy have completed their sketching problems and are now working on orthographic projections in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 4 class.

High scorers on the final test over the workbook "About You" in Mr. Reicher's Citizenship 2 period 2 class include Harry Drake, Ramona Cornelius, Sally Henderson, Cheryl Brady, Lydia Budowski, Richard Robbins, and Barbara Vondra.

Stanley Black turned in the finest mid-semester exam paper in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 7 group.

Tom Stophan is the only student in Mr. Stebing's period 7 driver training class to have passed the test for an operator's license.

Steve Lowens earned a 92; Steve Pratt, 91; Mike Stedje, 91; and Tom Watson, 90 on an essay test over epics in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 6 class.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 2 period 7 class who have completed isometric drawings and are working on oblique drawings are Tom Ables, Mike Dunn, Joe Thorpe, Lex Snuts, Steve Putnam, Evert Mol, Craig Miller and Ron Heathman.

Hans Wegner is the only person in Mr. Stebing's period 6 driver training class to have passed the test for an operator's license.

Gary Tinkle is the only student in Mr. Stebing's period 4 driver training class to have passed the test for an operator's license.

Barbara Gantz, Jackie Kuhns, Ann Shilling, Lydia Sutto, and Margee Terry received the highest scores on a mid-semester test in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Diane Hall, Barbara Spiers, and Ellen Williams have an A+ average on their speed tests in Mrs. Ashe's period 1 personal typing class.

David Reidenbach, with the help of Jim Plummer made a tape recording of a Radio Moscow broadcast he got on a short wave radio recently. Jim played the tape to Miss Crowe's period 1 U.S. History 2 class.

The following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 5 class earned the highest grades on a review test of verbals: Bruce Brown, Nina Derkach, Wylann McMillan, Nancy Ormsby, Marlene Ringenberg, Steve Russ, and Susie Weinraub.

Receiving high scores on a test over light in Mr. White's General Science 2 period 2 class are John Esslinger, Keith Lontz, and Ron Procter.

Miss Iena Lusis has arrived from Indiana University to work as a student teacher with Miss Graham's classes.

The following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class received the highest grades on a test over verbals: Beverly Flanigan, Judy Ruhl, Janice Robson, Karen Miller, Terry Borne, Alan Ferber, and Jane Knettle.

Henry Persons is going to represent South Side High School at the conference on international affairs in Cincinnati, O. He is a student in Mr. Wilson's Government 2 class.

Making high grades on a test about zoological classification and insects, in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 5 class are Sandra Burton, Bonnie Callahan, Davis Hessert, and John Wehrenberg.

The best outside reports in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 3 class were turned in by Nancy Baron, Linda eGrund, Patty Menze, and Nancy Peterson.

Bill Wilder, a student in Mr. Wilson's period 6 economics class gave an excellent report on corporation control in the United States.

Steve Campbell and Steve Petty received the highest scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 1 class on a review test of verb complements.

The finest outside reading reports were given by Jerry Klaehn, Cheryl Hager, Alice Habecker, and Judy Conley in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 7 class.

Mr. Walker's Shorthand and Typing 4 classes are taking dictation then transcribing it in typing class. They are working with carbons and learning how to turn out letters in good form.

Those who obtained the highest grades on a test about zoological classification and insects in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 2 class are Mike Comer, Dan Fortney, Mark Lowens, and Cherylene Nahrwald.

Billie Burgo, Beverly Flanigan, and B. D. Hartley earned the highest grades in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class on a test over the locus of points.

Mary Jo McDonald and Sally Sweet turned in the best outside reports in Mr. Jackson's U.S. History 2 period 4 class.

Those making perfect scores on a test over habits and reflexes in Mr.

Yoder's Health 2 period 6 class are Bob A'Hearn, Richard Ahlersmeyer, Jim Bailey, Mike Bauer; Paul Freese, Paul Green, Russell Grose, Tom Muha, and Keith Parrot.

Mr. Walker's Shorthand 4 and 2 period 2 and 6 classes respectively are taking dictation tests every Wednesday to test their shorthand abilities.

Dick Wiebke, Paul Pratico, and Tom Durnell earned the highest grades in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 1 class on a test over the locus of points.

High grades in Mr. Petty's General Math 2 period 2 class were earned by Jo Ann Richter and Patty Wallace.

The following students in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 7 class received the highest grades on a grammar review test: Nancy Beard, Alvin Brown, Andy Christon, Sharon Grafis, Bill Kinsey, Wanda Ripple, Pam Walker, and Mike Zerminski.

Nancy Byers has the high average in Mr. Arnold's period 3 sociology class.

Ginny Brown, Charles Golden, Mary Graham, and Karen Walker scored high grades on a recent unit test in Mr. Fensel's General History 2 period 3 class.

Lydia Sutto is maintaining the high average in Mr. Arnold's period 6 sociology class.

Those who wrote good book reports in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 2 class are Linda Army and Letha Belcher.

Scoring the highest on a test over chapters 22 and 23 in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 2 class are Mary Fremion, Ann Gallmeyer, Sue Burdick, Gary Probst, and Monda Tucker.

Martha Jacobs has the top average in Mr. Arnold's period 1 sociology class.

Willie Fields and Bill Matlock received the highest scores in Miss Pohlmeier's period 2 English class on a test of verb complements.

Judy McKay and John Stewart received the highest grades in Mr. Fensel's General History 2 period 6 class on a unit test.

In Mr. Fensel's General History 2 period 7 class several students scored high grades on a recent unit test. They include: Alan Ferber, Nancy Keller, Deborah Love, Jim McMahan, Phyllis Pierson, Steve Riedel, Donne Squires, and Nadia Vyhovsky.

Thomas Liby and Kay Heemsoth scored the highest grades in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class on the weekly spelling test.

Receiving the highest grades on a test about zoological classification and insects in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 7 class are John Arnold, Jack Fanning, Lynn Hoover, Clark Marquart, and Dick Robbins.

Mrs. Keegan's dance classes have completed folk dance techniques and steps.

Those receiving above 90 on a laboratory report dealing with flowers in Mr. Weber's period 7 Botany 2 class are Dian Bright, Rosalie Hall, Cindy Jackson, Carole Ladig, Martha Lanning, Nanny Sprunger, Betsy Stephenson, and Celeste Riemen.

Obtaining the highest grades on a recent quiz about zoological classification and insects in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class are Jim Bailey, Mike Ball, and Val Harabosky.

Making high grades on a test over light in Mr. White's General Science 2 period 7 class are Dan Saalfrank and Jane Hetfield.

Highest grades in Mr. Peirce's Sociology 1 period 3 class were earned by Mary Merrill, Judy Pio, Tom Watson and Joe Lepley.

Receiving the highest scores on a test over chapters 22 and 23 in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 6 class are Janet Deihl and John Knight.

Those receiving above 90 on a laboratory report dealing with flowers in Mr. Weber's period 6 Botany 2 class are Ann Arnold, Annell Hoover, Karen Miller, Nancy Nordeen, Walt Stuelpe, Mikie Tieman, Dawn Truex, Jim Trulock, Jim Welty, and Bill Whitmer.

Mr. Brown's Health classes are currently studying the effects of alcohol and narcotics.

Barb Spiers and Tom Thieme are typing over 50 words per minute in Mrs. Ashe's period 1 personal typing class.

Nancy O'Connell received the highest score on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Edith Crowe's group 1 period 1 health class.

Susan Moyer and Bob Wasson received the highest scores on a test over Cyrano de Bergerac taken in Mr. Coats' period 1 English 7 class.

Monna Heemsoth and Tom Mack earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 6 class on a test over verb complements.

The following people have received 90 per cent or above in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 1 class on a test over prepositional phrases: Dick Ahlsmeyer, Sandra Duff, Michael Easton, Alice Fruechtentich, Susan Jorgensen, Daniel Merica, Mary Sherlock, Sharon Thiele, and Bruce Wearley.

Students in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 4 class who have maintained high averages for the first half of the semester are Joyce Pollitt, Larry Barnette, Sarah Dickey, Tom Marshall, Katie Mishler, Barbara Nahrwald, and Pam Punskey.

Nancy Enz, Laura Graham, Valentina Harabosky, Susan Nettrour, Nita Quinn, and Beverly Strawser earned 90 per cent or above on a recent test over prepositional phrases in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 2 class.

The following students made high scores on a test over habits and reflexes in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 7 class: Dave Fishbaugh, Dan Fortney, Mike Ropa, Fred Rotherth, Dan Smith, Gary Stair, Joe Ule, and Tony Rydell.

High grades were earned by Fran Krandel and Carol Harader in Mr. Petty's Geometry 2 period 6 group.

Dale Bloom, Jeffery Bloom, Dan Jones, and Tania Shevchenko earned the highest grades in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 2 class on a grammar review test.

Those who received the highest grades on a test over chapters 22 and 23 in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 3 class are Vic Churchward, Nancy A'Hearn, Matt Cornacchione, and Anita Kimball.

Mrs. Armstrong's gym classes are having individual and dual games, such as paddle tennis, deck tennis, bowling, shuffle board, ping pong, badminton, and quoits.

Those who made high scores on a test about zoological classification and insects in Mr. Pipino's period 3 class are Dick Astrom, Tim Easton, and Ren Everson.

Barbara Heinisch received the highest score on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 health class.

Mrs. Ellett's home management classes periods 3 and 4 are beginning the unit on food management which they will study until the end of the semester.

Jo Ellen Bobay received the highest score on a test over Balland Epic Hour-Long taken in Mr. Coats' period 3 English 8 class.

Lynn Wilson, Sue Jorgensen, and Joy Locke received the highest scores on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Crowe's period 4 group 1 health class.

Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 1 class had a test over habits and reflexes; the following students made the highest scores: Val Budowski, Richard Fields, Donald Grider, and Larry Ingram.

Margo Betz, Suzanne Boylan, Ellen Aice, and Judy Zimmers received the highest scores on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Edith Crowe's group 2, period 4, health class.

Mike Carter, David Meek, Barbara Spiers, Barbara Uhl, and Jim Welty received the highest scores on a test over Balland Epic Hour-Long taken in Mr. Coats' period 7 English 8 class.

Those receiving A+ scores on a map of Asia made in Mr. Collyer's general history period 7 class are Charles Hager, Pat Sharpin, James Reynolds, and Susan Keigel.

Susan Johns, Ken Leakey, and Ginny Moore received the highest scores on a test over chapter 8 taken in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Those receiving high scores on a map of Asia in Mr. Collyer's General History 2 period 3 class are Susan Laymon, A+, Doug Hansen, A; Linda Hicks, A; Tom Wells, A; and Marlene Ringenberg, A.

Ann Flickinger, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, and Jim Trulock received the highest scores on a test over chapter 8 taken in Mr. Storey's period 4 class.

ARCHERS, HAVE A WONDERFUL TIME AT THE JUNIOR PROM!

Plaza Apothecary

3610 Brooklyn

H-2351

Klaehn Funeral Home

420 West Wayne

H-0228

Dale's Drive-In

U.S. 24 West at Covington Rd.

K-8451

Featuring Instant Gardening

E. J. Plant Shoppe

4902 Hanna Street

K-4435

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Rd.

S-3146

DeRemer Florists

7111 S. Anthony

H-3145

Doswell's Flowers

301 West Main

A-1183

Florentine Floral Shop

1906 Broadway

A-7487

Oxford Coffee Shop

1502 Oxford

K-3301

Sandpoint Greenhouses, Inc.

2222 Sand Point Road

S-4133

"Everything In Flowers"

Ross Radio

236 West Main

A-2433

MAY--JUNE

OBSERVE THE TIMES CALENDAR

| SUNDAY                                                                                                                                                 | MONDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                             | TUESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | WEDNESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | THURSDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | FRIDAY                                                                                                                                                                            | SATURDAY                                                                                                                                                                           |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 5 The only reward of virtue is virtue; the only way to have a friend is to be one.—Ralph Waldo Emerson                      | 6 The magic of the tongue is the most dangerous of all spells.Eugene Aram                                                                                                               | 7 Talent ShowQuarter-Century Club BanquetGirls' Rifle Club, RangeCamera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 | 8 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six YearsKeefer Printing Co.A-1484Vesta Mother-Daughter Tea, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61Astro-Physics Section, Room 96 | 9 Klaehn Funeral Home420 W. Wayne A-0228Ambulance ServiceSafety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Mother-Daughter Tea, Room 112Lettermen, Room 112                                                                                                                            | 10 Junior PromGAA SoftballGrade period ends               | 11 Art's Standard Service4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025Atlas Tires—Batteries—AccessoriesPick-Up and DeliveryS&amp;H Stamps              |
| 12 A mother is a mother still, The holiest thing alive.Samuel Taylor Coleridge                                              | 13 Seibel's Superior Coal Co.919 Wells E-8141Philo Mother-Daughter Tea, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Softball                                 | 14 Great men gain doubly when they make foes their friends.Edward Lytton                                                                                                                                                | 15 Music AssemblyArt Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120                                                                     | 16 We may be personally defeated, but our principles never.William Lloyd Garrison                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 17 Broadview Florist &amp; Greenhouses5801 Winchester Road S-3146GAA SoftballPep SessionTrack Sectional                     | 18 What we anticipate seldom occurs; what we least expected generally happens.—Henrietta Temple                                                         |
| 19 Mother's Day                           | 20 Youth is a blunder; manhood a struggle; old age a regret.—Benjamin Disraeli                                                                                                          | 21 BABER'S JEWELRY801 S. Calhoun A-7306 — E-4197Camera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, RangeSocietas Latina, Room 112                                      | 22 Three Rivers Lumber Co.1431 Francis A-8161Quill and Scroll BanquetVesta Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61Astro-Physics Section, Room 96                                               | 23 South Side Barber Shop FIVE BARBERSAppointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments. Across from Main Entrance of South Side.Harold Henry, Proprietor3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502Safety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Room 112 | 24 Beauty without grace is the hook without the bait.—Henry Thoreau                                                                                    | 25 Golf SectionalTrack Regional                               |
| 26 The sight of a white church above thin trees in a city square amazes my eyes as though it were the Parthenon.—Amy Lowell | 27 RENT A TYPEWRITER fromNEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co.723 South Clinton A-7395Philo Picnic, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Recognition          | 28 Meterite RecognitionGirls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96                                                | 29 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home50 Years of Continuous Service2423-27 Fairfield Avenue H-2334Art Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120                                                             | 30 Greater is he who is above temptation than he who being tempted overcomes.—Amos Alcott                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 31 Oxford PharmacyHanna at Oxford Phone H-1373High School SuppliesGene Yoder, Prop.GAA SoftballIvy Day                 | 32 "Honesty" is the best policy! The next best is—A Policy Written ByYoung-Punsky Co.415 Central Bldg.Insurance Brokers           |
| 33 God, I can push the grass apart And lay my fingers on Thy heart.—Edna St. Vincent Millay                                 | 34 Sorrows remembered sweeten present joy.—Robert Pollok                                                                                                                                | 35 Mallough Roth AssociatesRealtors232 W. Wayne A-6396Camera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, Range                                                         | 36 Memorial Day Vacation                                                                                                                                                    | 37 Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc.When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.E-3011 1015 TaylorSafety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Room 112                                                                                               | 38 GAA SoftballSenior Recognition AssemblySenior Grades | 39 Munro's Standard ServiceFree Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing.Southgate Plaza H-5300                    |
| 40 Senior Baccalaureate                   | 41 Greiner'sH-2124 2802 S. CalhounLawn Boy MowersToro MowersEvinrude OutboardsGrumman BoatsUnderclass Recognition AssemblyLettermen Golf Meet | 42 Transistor and Auto Radio RepairS. W. Electronics3134 Broadway H-2975Senior Dance                                                                                                              | 43 OXFORD COFFEE SHOPMeet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town1502 OXFORDGrades IssuedCommencement                                                                                                                 | 44 A wise old owl sat on an oak, The more he saw the less he spoke; The less he spoke the more he heard; Why aren't we like that wise old bird?—Edward Hersey Richards                                                                                                                                | 45 Schmidt's PharmacyEd Schmidt, R.Ph.Your Neighborhood Health Center4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626End of Year!!!           | 46 Dill &amp; Dill Insurance1127 S. Clinton A-1119All Forms of Insurance Over 26 Years of ServiceLawrence G. DillClifford D. Dill |

PATRONIZE THESE ADVERTISERS!

Mr. Robert Adams To Present Talk At Quill And Scroll Society Banquet; Jenny Manth To Act As Co-ordinator

Adviser To Give Pins To Members, Reveal Major Staff Positions

Featuring a talk by Mr. Robert Adams, promotions director for the Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc., the Publications Department will present its annual Quill and Scroll Banquet Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Colonial Restaurant. Mr. Adams' talk will concern the importance of journalism and the promotion of journalism in today's world.

Punch will be served from 6:30 to 7 p.m., the dinner following. The meal will consist of Swiss steak, tossed salad, baked potatoes, green beans, rolls, cherry or apple pie, and coffee, tea, or milk.

Following the talk by Mr. Adams, a surprise talent show with Tom Erb as master of ceremonies will be given. The major staff positions of the fall semester for the Times, Totem, and Pegasus will be announced. Also, Quill and Scroll pins will be given to the members of Quill and Scroll.

THE MEMBERS of Quill and Scroll include Sue Kelley, Jenny Manth, Sandy Thorn, Babbette Jones, Diane Fredrick, Barb Spiers, Bill Wilder, Kenny Lowden, Ann Golden, Kaylene Gebert, Dian Leath, Terry Newendorp, Roberta Twitchell, Susie Hines, Sue Horth, and Dick Parke.

To be chosen for membership in Quill and Scroll, one must be in the upper third of the graduating class, must not have received more than two separate deductions, and must have served as a member of the major staff for one of the publications.

ALSO ONE MUST be a member of the Times staff for at least two consecutive years with one of these to include the senior year, or a member of the Totem major staff during the senior year. Persons working on the Times must have earned the gold pin by April 10 of the senior year, and members of the Totem must have earned the silver pin by April 10 of the senior year.

The invited guests are Mr. Lester Grille, superintendent of the schools, and his wife; Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, and his wife; and Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls.

Orchestra, Quartet To Present Concert

Mr. Hugh Price, principal of Kekionga Junior High School, has invited the South Side Orchestra to play at Kekionga Tuesday afternoon.

The orchestra will play the following selections from Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe productions: "I Talk to the Trees" from "Paint Your Wagon"; "Thank Heaven for Little Girls" from "Gigi"; "On the Street Where You Live" from "My Fair Lady"; and "Camelot." Harold Rome's "Fanny" will also be played by the orchestra.

Monica Kramer, sophomore, will perform "Three Coins in a Fountain" and "Minute Waltz" by Chopin.

The Choral from "Die Meistersinger" by Wagner will be played by the French Horn Quartet. Post-grad Tom McMahan, Senior Sondra Stouder, Sophomore Beverly Flanigan, and Freshman Linda Becher comprise the quartet.

The string orchestra will perform the following compositions: "I'm in the Mood for Love" by Jimmy McHugh and Dorothy Fields and "Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing" by Paul Francis Webster and Sammy Fain.

Mr. Robert Drummond, director of instrumental music at South Side, will conduct the orchestra.

Music Department To Present Annual Spring Concert May 18

MUSIC MAKERS . . . Practicing for the annual Spring Concert are Sue Phillips, Sue Burdick, Fred Schoen, Bob Wasson, Steve McDonald, and Dennis Crill. The event will feature numbers by the band, orchestra, and choir and will be presented May 18 in the gym.—Photo by Triplett

Members of the Music Department will present their annual spring concert May 18 at 8 p.m. in the gym.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, director of instrumental music, the orchestra will begin the evening's program with "I Talk to the Trees" from "Paint Your Wagon" by Lerner and Loewe and selections from "Fanny," which was composed by Harold Rome and arranged by P. J. Lang.

A French horn solo will be performed by Tom McMahan, post-grad. The school band will play "Semper

BANQUET BOOSTERS . . . Planning the talent for the annual Quill and Scroll Banquet are Junior Leanna Morris and Sophomore Nancy Redding, chairmen, and Senior Jenny Manth, toastmistress. The event will be Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Colonial Restaurant.—Photo by Triplett

Senior A Philip Spray To Act As Junior Rotarian For May

Philip Spray, senior A, has been chosen by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, to represent South Side as Junior Rotarian for May. As Junior Rotarian, he will attend the luncheon meetings of the Fort Wayne Rotary Club each Monday at the Fort Wayne Chamber of Commerce. Phil will listen to speakers and meet other representatives and club members.

Phil Spray

The purpose of the club inviting the school representatives is to help the students gain knowledge and understanding of the club's activities, so that they would want to join the club when they become businessmen of the community. The club is also international in scope so the students can gain knowledge of international news and affairs.

Librarian Attends Convo

Miss Willodeen Price, librarian, attended the Indiana School Librarians Association spring conference at Indiana State College, Terre Haute, Ind., on Friday and Saturday.

The theme of the conference was "School Library Development in Indiana." Registration began on Friday at 9 a.m. and the convention continued through Saturday noon.

Phil, upon being selected by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, stated, "I am honored and pleased to be Junior Rotarian for my school."

Phil is an active member of Hi-Y, Wranglers, and Assemblies Workshop. In the past, he has participated in school assemblies. He won the first place in the state speech contest, "Voice of Democracy," with his speech, "I Speak for Democracy." Phil is also an active member of the First Presbyterian Church and its youth group.

Phil's favorite hobby is speech. He also spends much of his time farming and enjoys sport car rallies.

In the future, Phil plans to attend DePauw University to become a lawyer.

Teachers To Give Recognition Tests, Honor Achievement

Recognition tests will be given to outstanding students enrolled in each department of the school.

The results of the tests determine who will receive honors at the Recognition Day Assembly.

For students taking French 2 the test will be given by Miss Jean Smith, French instructor, Monday immediately after school in Room 22. This test is voluntary, and the two or three that score the highest will be recognized.

The French 4 test, which is also voluntary, will be given by Miss Olive Perkins, French and Spanish instructor, Monday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 90.

Those students taking Spanish 2 and having an "A—" or above average are eligible to take the test to be given by Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw, Spanish teacher, tomorrow in Room 92.

Any of Mr. Nicholas Pipino's biology students who wish to take the biology recognition test are to go to Room 91 immediately after school Wednesday.

The Business Department, although it is giving no test, will recognize the outstanding students in the department. All those who were awarded NOMA certificates in English and math will be recognized. Also, the three fastest Shorthand II and 4 students; the three best typists in clerical, stenographic, and merchandising branches; and the three outstanding in clerical practice will be recognized.

The test for mathematics students will be given next Wednesday or Thursday. A top student from each area of mathematics will be recognized.

The Social Studies Department tests will be given next Tuesday immediately after school in Rooms 32, 108, and 110. The top students from general history, United States history, Government 1 and 2, economics, and sociology will be recognized.

Besides the test score, a voting board consisting of social study teachers will choose the winner. General aptitude will also be included. Mr. Wilson department head stated, "All those who want to take the test must be in the proper room on time, because no one will be permitted to start late."

Sharon Stettner To Serve As Vesta's Fall President

Sharon Stettner, senior B, was elected president of the Vesta Club for the fall semester. Although the elections were completed three weeks ago, the results were withheld, by tradition, until the Mother-Daughter Tea on April 25.

Other officers to be installed in September are Ann McCoy, vice-president; Sharon Gaffis, treasurer; Joyce Pollitt, secretary; and Mary Barrett, sergeant-at-arms.

Upon being elected Sharon said, "I'm very thrilled and honored at being elected and will try to accomplish as much as the previous Vesta presidents have."

Faculty Members To Host Pupils At National Honor Dinner Tonight

Pupils To Take Placement Tests For Recognition

For the purpose of recognizing and rewarding students who have done outstanding work in certain fields, the three-hour Advance Placement Tests will be given at South on Monday and Tuesday to six seniors.

Taking part in the examinations are Lyall Morrill, English and math tests; David Schele, math; Jeff Roth, English and math; Bill Mueller, math; Phil Spray, English and math; and Dan McCroskey, math.

The tests offer the student an opportunity to establish himself on the college level and to demonstrate his willingness to work on more advanced courses in college. If he receives a satisfactory standing on the test, the college of his choice may give the student credit in that subject or grant him special placement in that field.

The Advance Placement Examinations are conducted by the College Entrance Examination Board as a part of its program to stimulate more advanced study in high school and to raise the level of learning in college.

Students who have participated in the excellent courses in high school are eligible to take the tests in the following fields: physics, French, Spanish, chemistry, English, mathematics, European history, American history, intermediate German, advanced German, biology, Latin 4, and Latin 5.

An entrance fee of $5 plus $10 for each test must be paid by the student. If a student is unable to take an examination, the fee for the test will be refunded. However, the entrance fee will be returned only if the participant fails to take any of the tests for which he has registered.

Principal Reveals Results Of NMSQT

Results of the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test which juniors took on March 10 are now available in the office according to Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal.

Of the 147 juniors who took the test, fifty per cent placed in the top ten per cent of all those who took the test across the nation. Eighty-one per cent placed in the top twenty per cent of those in the nation. Only three students' scores were in the bottom half of the scores of those who took the test in the United States.

Fourteen members of the junior class ranked in the 99 percentile, which would give them a chance for being semi-finalists if their scores in each section of the test are equally high.

Of those taking the test at South, 54 students ranked higher in English than in mathematics; 17 students received the same scores over both sections of the test; and 87 placed higher scores in the mathematics test than in the English.

The NMSQT is a three-hour test of educational development prepared to rate a student's broad intellectual skills, understanding of, and ability to use what has been learned rather than just knowledge of facts.

There are five individual tests that cover English usage, mathematics usage, social studies reading, natural science reading, and word usage.

Approximately ten thousand top-scoring students across the nation are named semi-finalists. From this group the NMSQT finalists are chosen on the basis of the results of their NMSQT test and their college board exam combined. These students are considered for various scholarship awards. A second group, totaling about twenty-five thousand students, receive Letters of Commendation and become eligible for special scholarships.

Final Candidates Practice For Cheerleading Tryouts

Candidates for the final elimination of cheerleading tryouts on Tuesday are Marcia Anderson, Pat Bobay, Kenneth Clauser, Debbie Decker, Marva Evans, Alice Fruechtenicht, Martha Hoard, Jean Holley, B. D. Hartley, Kathy Klas, Dorothy Kessler, Susan Lawry, Nancy Lougheed, Tricia Miller, Ann Mol, Phyllis Pierson, Julie Rhinehart, Patty Bailey, and Pam Ashton.

These twenty candidates and the five present undergraduate cheerleaders, Martha Dixon, Sharon Bass, Barbara Rea, Nancy Robinson, and Maria Habeker, will be divided into three groups. Each group will be led by one of the present senior cheerleaders, Sue Harrod, Sharon Carrel, Sharon Eitman, or Babbette Jones.

These twenty-five candidates will be judged in twos by the three top officers of each class and members of the faculty on their poise and ability to do "Greet," "A Basket," and one verse of the "Fight Song." Instead of a chant, the candidates will individually demonstrate a "S" jump and one "C" jump in the cheer "Sink it."

Five varsity and five reserve cheerleaders will be chosen. The successful candidates will be notified through individual notes sent to their homerooms on May 17.

'ALSO ON THE MENU' . . . at the National Honor Society Banquet are speeches to be given by Seniors Jenny Manth, Cheryl Summers, Larry Lee, Bill Wilder, and Tom McMahan. The banquet will be given at 6:30 p.m. today in the cafeteria. Photo by Triplett

Orators Plan Spring Banquet, Select Tom Erb As President

The South Wayne Baptist Church will be the setting for the Wranglers' annual spring banquet on Monday at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale for $1.85 in Room 190, or they may be purchased from any of the club officers.

Patsi Dorton is general chairman of the banquet and working with her are Debby Decker and Ann Brase, decoration chairman; Margee Terry, program chairman; Rosie Capps, invitations chairman; and Barb Nelson, ticket chairman.

WORKING ON THE program committee will be Sharon Hardy, Jan Reynolds, and Karen Ponader. On Rosie's committee are Joyce Cossairt and Doris Atzeff. Pam Buzzard and Phyllis Pierson will be helping with the tickets.

Logan Smith, retiring president, will act as mistress of ceremonies. The invocation will be given by Phil Spray and the senior farewell by Diane Fredrick.

Karen Ponader, Martha Lanning, and Rosie Capps are planning a musical number in which Martha and Rosie will play violins accompanied by Karen on the piano. Shari Busch will give her humorous declamation entitled "I Want To Be an Actress."

Two weeks after the banquet, Wranglers Club will have its annual picnic. The picnic will conclude the club activities for the school year.

OFFICERS FOR NEXT semester were elected at the last meeting. The officers will be Tom Erb, president; Margee Terry, vice-president; Rosie Capps, secretary; Lex Smuts, treasurer; Karen Ponader, publicity chairman; Barb Nelson, program chairman; and Phyllis Pierson, point recorder.

An extemporaneous contest took place at the last meeting. Winners were Sue Horth, first; Lex Smuts, second; and Jim Bailey, third. Sue received an individual trophy and will have her name engraved on a permanent trophy. Others who participated were Sally Franklin, Kathy DeVore, and Rosie Capps.

Each contestant was given a magazine article and 30 minutes to prepare a speech lasting from five to seven minutes.

Steve Pratt Accepts College Scholarship

Steve Pratt, senior, has been awarded a $400 scholarship to Washburn College. This scholarship will be renewable on the basis of grades maintained. Nominees were judged on the basis of high school academic averages and performance on the Scholastic Aptitude Tests.

Steve will major in liberal arts and may specialize later in chemistry.

While at South Side, Steve has been a member of band, orchestra, and Honorary Arts Club. He was make-up editor and news editor of the Times. Steve has earned his gold pin for Times and his second Service pin. He also participated in the senior play.

He is now studying economics, Chemistry 2, Physics 3, English 3, Special Math 8, and concert band. Also, Steve was recently recognized as a National Merit finalist on the basis of his SAT scores.

Four Students To Give Talks About Qualities

Service, Scholarship, Leadership, Character To Supplement Theme

Faculty members will host the 75 new National Honor Society members at the annual National Honor Society Banquet in the cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. tonight.

Toastmaster for the banquet will be Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal; and the invocation will be presented by Senior Tom McMahan. Mr. Douglas Lawrence, noted architect and past graduate of South Side, will welcome the guests. Each new member will be the guest of a faculty member, who will present him with a National Honor Society pin.

A piano solo will be presented by Sandra Yaggy, after which the first of four student speeches will be given by Jenny Manth on service, "To Strive." "To Seek" is the topic of Bill Wilder's speech on scholarship. Larrie Lee will speak on leadership, entitled "To Find." Cheryl Summers will speak last on character, "Not to Yield."

MUSIC WILL BE presented by a boys' quartet of Seniors Fred Schoen, Mike Carter, Steve McDonald, and Tim Grodrian, junior. Dennis Crill will accompany them. Choir members who are also National Honor Society members will also sing. The banquet will close with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Mrs. Ruth Fleck's art class is helping plan the decorations. Behind the head table, the words service, leadership, character, and scholarship will be placed. Each table will then carry out the theme of one of the words. Mrs. Fleck is being assisted by Mr. G. R. Davis, chemistry instructor; Jane Ladig, post-graduate; and Louise Jackson, senior.

Mr. Lowell Coats, English teacher, is chairman of the banquet; and he and Mr. Lester Hostetler, choral director, are working on the program. Miss Mary Edith Reiff, Latin instructor, is planning the menu; while decorations are under the direction of Mr. Davis and Mr. Charles Holt, physical education teacher. Ex-officio officers of National Honor Society are Mr. Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor; and Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director.

THE MENU WILL consist of a fruit cup, roast beef, baked potato, green beans, jello salad, coffee or milk, and cherry pie a la mode.

New members of National Honor Society are Brenda Arnold, Barton Bailey, Sally Bash, Carol Jo Becher, Jo Ellen Bobay, Marilyn Block, Bill Borgmann, Debbie Brooke, Sharon Carrel.

(Continued on Page 3)

Quarter Century Members Choose Three Officers For Next Semester

Mr. Ora Davis

Miss Mabel Fortney

Miss Pauline Van Gorder

Assuming the positions as officers of the Quarter Century Club for next year are faculty members Mr. Ora Davis, president; Miss Mabel Fortney, vice-president; and Miss Pauline Van Gorder, secretary-treasurer. The Quarter Century Club consists of all teachers who have taught for 25 years or more at South Side.

The new officers were announced during the annual Quarter Century Banquet on May 1 at the Fort Wayne Women's Club. Out-going officers are Miss Mary Crowe, president; Miss Olive Perkins, vice-president; and Mr. Ora Davis, secretary-treasurer.

The program for the banquet included the invocation by Mr. Clair Motz, physical education instructor; and the welcoming of the new members by Miss Olive Perkins, French instructor; Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director; Mr. Earl Sterner, Latin instructor; and Mr. Paul Sidel, mathematics instructor.

MRS. ALICE KEEGAN, girls' physical education instructor; Miss Lucy

Osborne, English instructor; Mr. Stanley Post, business instructor; Mr. Ernest Walker, business instructor; and Mr. Doris Yoder, health and biology instructor, were named as the new members of the club.

Following the dinner, Meterite Club members pinned roses on the club members and presented their program entitled "Friendship 90."

Mrs. Grace Welty, Latin instructor, presented the new officers; and Mr. Lester Hostetler, vocal music director, led the guests in the singing of the Alma Mater.

MEMBERS OF Meterites who participated are Sue Klachn, Christine Fruechtenicht, Cheryl Lee, Charlotte Dinius, Lynelle Dill, Alice Fruechtenicht, Sally Henderson.

LeVonne Custance, Pat Cameron, Janet Kelley, Fran Krandell, Sue Smith, Mary Graham, Martha Hoard, Karen Franks, Kathy Klas, Ruth Russ, Doris Atzeff, Barb Bussard; Sally Adams, Debby Decker, Linda

Evilizer, Lois Gallimore, Sherry Spencer, Ann Gobel, Carol Lake, Barb

Nelson, Nancy Ormsby, and Barb Ross.

CHAK-TER MEMBERS of the club are Elizabeth Demaree, Adelaide Fiedler, Ward Gilbert, Elma Gould, Rowena Harvey, Louie Hull, R. Hazel Miller, Crissie Mott, Earl Murch, Maurice Murphy, Benjamin Null, Delivan Parks, Martha Pittenger, Beulah Rinehart, Mabel Thorne, and Lloyd Whelan.

Other members and the date of their becoming members of the organization are Ora Davis, Herman Makey, Mary McCloskey, and Pearl Rehobert in 1948; Albert Heine, Emma Kiefer, and Olive Perkins in 1949; Mary Crowe, George Anna Hodgson, and Gertrude Oppelt in 1950;

Emma Shoup, R. Nelson Snider, and Wilburn Wilson in 1951; Susan Peck in 1952; Rose Mary DeLancey, Russell Furst, Jake McClure, Lucy Melien, Paul Sidel, and Grace Welty in 1953; Nell Covatt, Earl B. Sterner, and Pauline Van Gorder in 1954;

C. A. Bex and Edith Crowe in 1955; and Mabel Fortney in 1961.

Honor System Practices Anchor Democratic Life

As true democracy must be founded upon education, true education must be backed by democracy. With this principle as a pattern for the purification of learning, citizens of the free world seek to improve institutions of education.

The structure of democratic teaching is built upon the moral blocks of the honor system. However, the strength of this framework depends upon the ethical constancy of these blocks.

The honor system, when regulated by the dictates of conscience, is indeed democratic. Students are expected to work individually on assignments and projects, as well as on examinations. A class instructor may leave the room while his pupils are taking a test, trusting the exam papers will be independently completed.

The honor system encourages the student to develop his natural ability to learn. Presented with a problem, he must find a source of answer himself and solve his riddle without aid. Since he is deprived of such crutches as crib-notes and inter-student cheating, he must learn the material and relate it to past and future experiences. As he becomes more accustomed to independent thinking and learning processes, he finds it fairly simple to progress and maintain his academic level as subject matter increases in volume and difficulty.

Moral standards are developed and stabilized by the honor system. To survive on this system, the student must concentrate on honesty. The instructor is no longer standing by to make sure the lesson is learned by proctoring the exam.

It is up to the pupil whether or not the work is done fairly. An assignment for fulfilled honesty damages the store of knowledge until the student is completely at the mercy of his comrades for help. When this help is not given, the dishonest student is lost.

Not only is his scholastic record undermined, but also his moral strength. When he abides by the honor system, he acquires high ethical standards that will be applied to situations in later life.

The honor system is not democratic when it is not followed. One person breaking the rules of honesty erases the equality of opportunity held by all students. He places himself on a different plane than the rest. Though cheating may seem to give him unfair advantages, it brings on a larger scale unfair disadvantages.

He is no longer able to compete with the honest scholars; he has no real knowledge, only learning on paper. He not only damages himself, but also damages the American principles and standards. Moreover, he may encourage others to weaken their own characters.

The American system as a whole is represented by the honor system. The people are all offered the same advantages; all are equal and free to make use of their opportunities and to advance according to personal effort.

The questions arise, do the democratic benefits of the honor system outweigh the destruction done to the weak-willed individual and to those around him? Are teenagers capable of following the system? Should the honor system be adopted simply because it is more American?

Many universities and a few high schools have answered "yes." But the real decision must be made by the students themselves in view of their own maturity, purposes, and goals. By Peggy Schmidt

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

Dave Mangerum . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, hazel . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, lobster tail . . . color, black . . . sports, golf . . . subject, English . . . activity, golf . . . pastime, loafing . . . TV show, "Bus Stop" . . . Singer, Elvis Presley . . . record, "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" . . . actress, Natalie Wood . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, graduation . . . pet peeve, girls who have to be in early.

Jean Beer . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, chicken . . . color, blue . . . sport, baseball . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, talking on the telephone . . . activity, Vesta, Girls' Rifle Club . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "She Cried" . . . singer, Paul Anka . . . actress, Connie Stevens . . . book, "Scarlet Letter" . . . future plans, nurses training . . . pet peeve, girls who smoke.

Dennis Cook . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, ten inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, shrimp . . . color, light blue . . . fad, boys' tennis shoes . . . sport, golf . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, playing records . . . activity, Junior Achievement . . . TV show, "American Bandstand" . . . "Route 66" . . . record, "Let Me In" . . . singer, Ricky Nelson . . . actor, George Maharas . . . book, "Tale of Two Cities" . . . future plans, college.

Test Of Intelligence Requires Knowledge Of Kelly Twosomes

"Boy, what a test that was! Yikes! I've never taken one quite like it. That was a whopper!"

"Man, like you said it."

As the students charge through the classroom door, let's hop in and take a peek at this horrible test. Oh, it's a survey on human, especially teenage, relations. Here it is:

Match these columns:

1. Ann Gallmeyer
2. Sue Lohman
3. Sue Berk
4. Linda Babbitt
5. Sally Bash
6. Mikie Tieman
7. Kathy Klas
8. Mary Keegan
- A. Ted Rolf
- B. Lee McClymonds
- C. Tom Tunfinger
- D. Bob Cumins (N.S.)
- E. Ken Lowden
- F. John Somers (DePauw)
- G. Rick McLean (N.S.)
- H. Shel Sheray

Fill in the blanks:

1. Nancy Augspurger enjoys the company of a certain junior named Dave . . . . .
2. Karen Miller likes to ride in a black Ford convertible belonging to . . . . . Correll ('61).
3. Dian Leath had a new key made to fit . . . . . Locke ('61).
4. Marian Johnson and Janet Wenig like . . . . . better than giraffes.
5. Lane Grile enjoys Joe . . . . . (B.L.) better than perfume.

True or false:

1. Dian Bright never meets Bill Honeck (N.S.) at the library.
2. Jean Gentis (Elmhurst) and Mike Seaman recently had an anniversary.
3. Janis Sprunger and Jim Welty never walk home together.
4. Jo Ellen Bobay enjoys riding in a blue convertible driven by Allen Sheldon.

Multiple choice:

1. What do Sue Harrod and Patty Somers have in common?
  - a.) Both sell used trading cards.
  - b.) Both are members of the STEBMMAS (Society to Buy Mitch Miller a Shaver).
  - c.) Both have a strange liking for a couple of males at Hanover College.
2. Who thought Bill Kleifgen did a wonderful job in the senior play?
  - a.) Gertrude Greedle
  - b.) Jane Ladig
  - c.) Wilma Worm
3. Who is Sharon Carrel's favorite twist partner?
  - a.) George Gilmour
  - b.) Joey Dee
  - c.) Chubby Checker
4. What does Mike Ferverda like to do in his spare time?
  - a.) His homework
  - b.) Serenade Marla Habecker with his drums.
  - c.) Practice his Chinese.

Essay:

1. Explain in no less than three paragraphs what Dorothy Dildine and Linda Kattness have in common with Mike Thomas (B.L.) and George Smith (Central).
2. What methods are employed by Martha Dixon and Sue Lawry to keep up with speedsters Karl Bandemer and Mike Tomkinson?
3. Describe the way in which Tom Wright and Sue Perry get to sit together in the library.

Death Penalty Becomes Topic Of Controversial Discussions

A source of contention and in-decision for the American public has long been the question of capital punishment. This perplexing problem has continued to harass not only the public but the American legislatures including that of Indiana.

Certain groups believe that the system of capital punishment is too faulty to be part of the national life of the United States. The abolitionists base their attitude on the following arguments:

It is not deterrent. They support this view by pointing out the slight effect on the crime rate which the death penalty has had in the various states and in the various countries that have abolished it. In fact, in most of these states the murders have increased.

It is irrevocable. Many times the person is convicted and executed only to be found innocent later. This also brings shame and suffering on the innocent relatives of the condemned.

Juries now find or rather refuse more often to convict in the first degree murder cases. In states which have abolished capital punishment there is a higher percentage of convictions, trials are speedier and cost the state less.

Capital punishment is also an advertisement of murder due to the publicity involved. The newspapers give wide publicity to the morbid, dramatic details of the execution. Often this has a demoralizing effect on the American public.

It is especially demoralizing to the various prison officials and prison inmates. A large majority of the prison wardens as well as the psychiatrists deplore the effect of capital punishment.

During the major part of world history, the people have believed human life to be a very precious thing; and many people feel that the belief in this ideal should forbid the state to imitate the murderer. The modern community should reform the offender. The anti-abolitionists feel it is unreasonable and uneconomic to expect the state to feed and clothe convicted murderers for the rest of their lives. They also contend that it would not be deterrent to abolish capital punishment, feeling that the murders would be more frequent.

Of course, no one can decide for a person, so this issue will continue to be debated, expounded, and argued upon until public opinion has set the course for the government to maintain.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Eligible for membership in Phi Eta Sigma at Indiana University are Craig Holmes, '61, and Dick McGaw, '60.

Nick Roembke, '60, has pledged Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. Nick is a sophomore in the School of Secondary Education and has been chosen narrator of the fifteenth campus Walter Spikes Show.

Judy Christman Cooper, '58, has been initiated into Aletheoi, English honorary, and Kappa Delta Pi, national educational honorary, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

New freshmen enrolled at Ball State Teachers College for the spring semester are Nate Norment, '62 post graduate, and Joanna Goble, '62 post graduate.

Chuck Weinraub, '61, a pre-med student at Johns Hopkins University, has been re-elected president of the class of 1965.

Barbara Curits, '58, received straight A's during the winter quarter at Ball State College.

Pledging Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary for freshmen women at Purdue University are Majorie Havens, '61, and Nancy Swaim, '61.

Dan Oesch, '60, has been named to the Union College of Kentucky varsity tennis team for this year.

Planning a wedding for June 23 are Helen Robinson, '60, and Don Campbell, '59. Helen is employed by the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp. and Don is employed by the School City Press.

To be married May 26 are Joy Walling, '60, and Clifford Mossoney. Joy is employed by Indiana & Michigan Electric Co.

Engaged to be married on May 12 are Diane Frump, '61, and Neal Hessler, a Central Catholic graduate. Diane was graduated from Fort Wayne Beauty College.

Ron Flickinger, '60, has been selected advertising manager for the coming year of the "Killikill," the school paper, at Heidelberg College in Tiffin, O. Ron is a sophomore and belongs to the Excelsior Society.

Keith Warner, '46, has been given a National Science Foundation grant in mathematics for the 1962-63 school by the Illinois Institute of Technology of Chicago. Keith has been an instructor in River Forest, Illinois, for the past three years and will begin the new course of study in September of this year. After graduation from Ball State in 1950, he took advanced work at DePauw University, Chicago, and at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Small Snaps

This boy is in his post-grad year. When he's graduated from here, at Purdue he'll study for his career; He plans to be an engineer. He enjoys souping up his car, So he can travel fast and far. He likes to eat a Swedish Meat Ball, And spends time playing basketball. On water skis he's very brave. He likes to ride every wave. Developmental reading does improve The speed at which his eyes can move Across every line of print. If for his name you need a hint, The ad section will give a clue That surely will enlighten you.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know what the difference is between "top-grain" and "split" leather?

Answer. When hides are tanned, the skin side, on which the hair or fur grew, is known as the top-grain. Many hides are thick enough to be split into several layers, and as there can only be one top-grain side, the other layers are known as splits. Thus the designation "top-grain" means a premium leather, used for the manufacture of the best grade of articles.

Question. The American Indians had a name for each month's moon. Do you know what they are?

Answer. According to one tradition, the names given to the moons, or months, by some Indians were: January, the Cold Moon; February, Hunger Moon; March, Crow Moon; April, Grass Moon; May, Planting Moon; June, Rose Moon; July, Thunder Moon; August, Green-corn Moon; September, Harvest Moon; October, Hunting Moon; November, Frosty Moon; and December, Long-night Moon.

Question. Do you know what "to cut the Gordian knot" means?

Answer. "To cut the Gordian knot" means to solve a difficult problem by a single bold action. "Gordian knot," meaning an extreme difficulty or a very tight or indissoluble bond, was named for Gordius, a peasant who was the legendary founder of Phrygia, an ancient Asia Minor country. An oracle had foretold that the country's future king would come in a wagon, so when Gordius arrived in a wagon the Phrygians made him king. In gratitude, he dedicated his wagon to the god Zeus. Its pole was tied with an intricate knot, and the belief spread that whoever could untie the knot would rule all Asia. When Alexander the Great reached Phrygia on his career of conquest, he failed to untie the knot, but cut it apart with one blow of his sword, and then went on to conquer Asia.

Question. Did you know that at one time men carried muffs?

Answer. Historians of costume say that muffs were once popular with men as well as women. In England they were carried even by army and naval officers during the latter half of the seventeenth century. One of the famous men who followed this fashion was Samuel Pepys. On November 30, 1662, his diary records: ". . . first did wear a muffle, being my wife's last year's muffle; and now that I have bought her a new one this serves me very well . . . in the month . . . of great frost."

Conservative Exaggerates Goldwater Changes Approach, Ridicules JFK's Administration

By Sandy Thorn

Some genius once said, "You can't believe everything you hear." Shortly after that questionable remark, someone else said, "You can't believe everything you read." Well, it was a combination of the two that led me to believe that Barry Goldwater is interested in being more than a Senator.

In fact, the Arizona Senator has changed since I heard him last July. When I heard him he was a Conservative and a man who strongly believed in standing at attention for the American flag. He wasn't tooting his own horn—he was blowing for the country. The handsome Senator wasn't ridiculing President Kennedy; he was emphasizing the need for Americans to support their country.

Some ten months later, on his appearance in Fort Wayne, he had changed. Senator Goldwater was staging a personal battle against the administration. Admittedly, he was speaking to a Republican (at least in the majority) crowd, and when I saw him he was speaking to a mixed group.

Possibly, the evening "started off on the wrong key" when Indiana Senator Homer E. Capehart said, "There has been only one time in my life when I agreed with Harry Truman. That was when he said John Kennedy was a boy and should not be President of the United States."

DEMOCRAT, REPUBLICAN—what have you—can look at the history of the past year and laugh at Capehart's remark. If Kennedy is a little boy—he's handling the playground equipment pretty well for his age. This country is in the hands of a leader—not a "little boy."

Then the payoff came when Goldwater, whom I strongly supported after hearing him in July, said that he wasn't running for President . . . at least at the moment. According to Goldwater, he "would rather be a state Senator." Sure, I would rather be back in kindergarten. Why must even the staunch Republicans tear down the Kennedy administration?

There can be all of the talk in the world about a democracy and about the great citizens of the United States. But just how great are the citizens who publicize the failures and short-fallings of the government? Does Mr. Goldwater actually believe that the Republicans would be perfect? That's a powerful seven-lettered word, and it takes much more to achieve it than to spell it or pronounce it.

If the Arizona Senator isn't "thinking" of running for President, I miss my guess and I'll accept the laughs and "I told you so's." Does any other Senator travel from state to state? It certainly appears as if the popular Conservative is on the joy ride and is just beginning his campaign ahead of the others. Granted, he is a top Republican and a leader of the Senate, but does he make all of these trips because he "would rather be a Senator?" It is still beyond me to believe that the only reason he came to Fort Wayne was because his column "How Do You Stand, Sir?" appears three times a week in The News-Sentinel.

Just who will be the candidate for the Republican party? Undoubtedly, it won't be a person who comes out of the clear blue sky. The candidate will be someone who is known. And, as far as my magic "8" ball is concerned, the three most popular contenders are slowly "running themselves out of office."

RICHARD NIXON is supposedly out of the race and has entered into a Governor's race. However, it seemed that he "was out" long before he threw his hat into the ring for the California Governor's position. He lambasted the administration far more than was necessary, and consequently, added a "seventh crisis" to his best-selling book.

Goldwater appeared to be in contention for the "empty rocking chair"; but after many appearances such as the one in Fort Wayne, he may as well go back to the retail business. However, one thing must certainly be considered—he is liked by the Republicans and apparently the Republican Party can put a man in office. But I can remember "the good old days" when the Honorable Senator was also liked and respected by many Democrats and middle-of-the-roads.

Back in July, I couldn't have cared less what party Mr. Goldwater supported. I was impressed with his American spirit—his idea of getting the citizens to sing the National Anthem and have it mean something. This was good—he received the cheers of everyone for he was supporting a common interest, the country. Everyone could praise him for he was speaking of the United States government, American citizens, and the beautiful nation.

EVEN IN HIS popular book, "Conscience of a Conservative," Mr. Goldwater speaks to the American citizen in general—not the Republican or Democrat. Certainly, he ridicules the government—but he speaks of the government as a whole; he doesn't point his finger at a particular person. Citizens need to be reminded that they are Americans and that they have many opportunities not afforded in other countries; but, they don't need to be told that Kennedy and his men are missing the boat.

Such exaggerated statements as (referring to President Kennedy), "He can say what he wants to about wanting to make up with business, but there is a loaded pistol on the President's desk, ready to be pointed at the head of the business or businessman who doesn't fall in line." Who's kidding the American people? The best available question is "Well, does President Kennedy have a license to carry a gun?" Was Senator Goldwater speaking to an assembled group of well-informed citizens or a group with the average I.Q. of a third grader?

The Conservative Senator had all of the answers; he knows what to do. This prompts the question, "Then why isn't he doing it?" He's a Senator. After all, this nation isn't run by one man—at least that's what the books say. To read any social studies text, one gets the impression that the Congress and the Senate take their part.

Alright, the Republicans aren't in control, but they still have their say. It isn't a "puppet government." Apparently the voting public didn't believe that the Republicans had all of the answers—they supported a man, who now—according to the Arizona representative—is running an "irresponsible" New Frontier.

ONE CONSOLATION — everyone can be thankful that each person has a right to his own opinion. Probably, the majority of those who attended the rally departed believing every word that Mr. Goldwater said and saying "He'd make a good President—he should be the leader." However, Mr. Gallup wasn't waiting outside the Parnell Avenue entrance to take one of his fabulous polls. And, to be on the safe side, there were probably some Republicans who disagreed with what he said.

The only point and my only reason for concern is that he was tearing down the present administration and slamming the President of the United States. And, the other thing, Mr. Goldwater was a disappointment in my books. He's changed, but then he's a politician.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Announcing the Rosemary Capps Birthday Issue of this column. As a birthday present she will long remember, everyone has the privilege of paddling her at least seventeen times today.

Brian Bennington, Tom Thieme, and Dave Zimmerman's act for the talent show went over especially big because the participants got a chance to twist . . . thank goodness Larry Lee didn't rip his pants that time like he did at I.U.

Linda McNulty is suffering greatly (?) from poison ivy, but she won't tell anyone how she got it.

Since the latest fad is tipped and frosted hair, of course everyone has to do it; however, the meeker souls have discovered that gold hair spray works almost as well, oh Sarah Finch, Sandi Hadley, and Cindy Christman? Sorry to do Marjane Tobey out of anyone's jobs, but really she doesn't mind because the spray comes off on your comb.

Wanted: Information on the identity of a girl who has had plastic surgery on her knee. Contact Steve Pratt.

Have you ever tried to eat a full dinner in five minutes? Champions at this are members of string ensembles whose meals at banquets are invariably served late. This is especially difficult for Jack Seigel, who instead of having a stomach, has a cave according to Kathy DeVore.

Screach! What's that garter snake doing crawling across the floor of Room 60. O.K., Bill Cupp, quit denying that you were the one who left it there after class.

High on the list of best-selling novels is "1,001 Ways to get Soaked at a Car Wash," by Ann Moll. It helps to wash your car in the rain, doesn't it Bob Bartel?

Cafeteria highlights—Martha Lanning daintily sipping spinach juice through a straw.

Chemistry lab highlights—Gail Woodruff setting her table on fire; and Chuck Parker collecting his dimes for "service work."

Thought for the day: National Honor Society members, enjoy your banquet tonight.

The South Side Times
Founded October 6, 1922
CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International
Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.
Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
General Manager . . . . . Sue Kelley
Managing Editor . . . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Malouhev, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitshell
New Editor . . . . . Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor . . . . . Sally Sweet
Editorial Editor . . . . . Dick Parke
Boy's Sports Editor . . . . . Terry Newendorf
Girls' Sports Editor . . . . . Janice Nairnold
Make-Up Editors . . . . . Janet Brenn
Picture Editor . . . . . Roberta Twitshell
Photographers . . . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist . . . . . Barb Altevogt
Business Manager . . . . . Sue Moyer
Assistant Business Manager . . . . . Pat Bailey
Advertising Manager . . . . . Nancy Redding
Circulation Manager . . . . . Nancy Redding
Outside Circulation Manager . . . . . Nancy Redding
Circulation Assistants . . . . . Liz Weikart, Doris Atzef, Roberta Twitshell
Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grile, Sally Sweet, James Robraugh
Faculty Adviser . . . . . James Robraugh

MINOR STAFF
News Writers . . . . . David Flanigan, Ann Fickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Steinhilber, Marcee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sue Kelley, Doris Atzef, Peggy Bracer, Larry Brown, Fay Cooney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Harner, Rosalie Curtis, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Karen Franks, Christine Fruehnticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jan McColl, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Josh Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Letts.
Feature Writers . . . . . Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Steinhilber, Penny Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suelien Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Eric Vicki, Vicki Swisher, Becky Harach, Barb Bussard, Cheryl Cralle, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCullister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenber, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jean Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Liz Weikart, Sue Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Harris McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jenny Ann McGinley, Judy Shadley, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubinio, Doris Atzef, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Krwin, Jane Karielle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wiles, Sharyn Yerger, Karen Franks, Nancy Russell, Carol Ladig, Gail Crumm, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kohn.

Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCullister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruehnticht, Sally Adams, Mary Beardsley, Cheryl Lee, Sally Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Harrod, Sue Klehn, Carol Ladig, Paul Mittelstadt, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Karen Board, Annell Hoover, Gail Brown, Alice Harach, Cheryl Cralle, Dick Parke, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriwowitz, Diane Szalfrank.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Cuzzman, Honey-K. Martindale, Tony Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Marcee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Franks.

Boy's Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Kleifgen, Bob Leinsinger, Steven Lowens, Jon Poto, Bill Hastetter, Terry Newendorf, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.

Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Salder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Ringenber, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Finck, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Lorraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Falt, Harriet Ochstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Franks, Jennie Braden, Martha Board, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps.

Typists . . . . . Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Hade.
Cartoonists . . . . . Julie Washington, Judy Godman, Diane Orms, Dick Merica, Bob Englehart, Ray Jencal.
Classroom News Editor . . . . . Celeste Elemen
Point Recorder . . . . . Steve Letts
Mailing Manager . . . . . Vicki Adams
Auditor . . . . . Allen Purdy
Copy Returner . . . . . Marcia Kohn
Exchange Editor . . . . . Charlotte Powell
Credit Manager . . . . . Sonya Flag
Assistant Credit Manager . . . . . Sonya Flag
Librarian . . . . . Sonya Flag
Paper Distributor . . . . . Chuck Bodenborn

AROUND KELLYLAND

by DAN MERICA

THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO DO; WE PLAYED ALL THE RECORDS A DOZEN TIMES!

WE PLAYED CARDS AND IT WAS TOO MESSY OUTSIDE TO PLAY BASKETBALL!

MAN, THERE'S NOT ONE SINGLE THING TO DO!

Workshop Members To Give Dinner, Install Officers, Honor Upperclassmen

Show Business Theme To Highlight Excerpts From All Assemblies

To install new officers and honor the graduating seniors, Assemblies Workshop will sponsor a banquet Tuesday from 6 to 9 p.m. at the home of Miss Ann Arber, sponsor of Assemblies.

General co-ordinators for the banquet are Nancy Loughhead and Tonya Hines. Cynthia Russell and Elaine Cole are the chairmen of the decorating committee. Assistants are Betsy Adams, Mary Beaudway, Leslie Green;

Jean Hatfield, Sheila Gehring, Ann Henderson, Sharon Lee, Cherylene Nahrwald, Maria Marshall. Others are Leanna Morris, Marlene Ringenberg, Rhonda Roehm, Peggy Schmidt, Margy Winder, Annell Hoover, and Dave Tipton.

HEADING THE entertainment committee is Karen Miller, with Peggy Schmidt and Leanna Morris as her assistants. Ruth Russ, Christine Fruechtemich, and Nancy Redding compose the food committee.

Marian Johnson is in charge of the program. Her committee consists of Nancy Stewart, Maria Marshall, and Ann Mol.

The members of Assemblies Workshop are to make reservations with Nancy Redding to find out what they are to bring for the potluck. Each person is to bring his own place setting.

DINNER DECORATORS . . . Painting decorations for the Assemblies Workshop Banquet are, left to right in front, Harriet Ochstein and Patty Phelps, in back, Mary Jane Reiff and Londa Babitt.—Photo by Jones

THE MENU WILL consist of sloppy joes, potato chips, salads, desserts, relishes, baked beans, and beverages. The theme is centered around a show business. Excerpts from the various assemblies will be presented.

Nominees for next year's officers are Peggy Schmidt and Ellen Stambury, president or vice-president; Sue Klaehn and Pat Slater, secretary; Betsy Adams and Jon Poto, treasurer; Dave Fleming, Sue Burdick, Annell Hoover, and Nancy Redding, sergeants-at-arms; and Ann Mol and Marti Dimius, publicity chairmen.

Out-going officers are Sue Horth, president; Rosie Capps, vice-president; Susie Bumgardner, secretary; Sue Phillips and Sharon Eitman, sergeants-at-arms; and Sue Harrod, publicity chairman.

Faculty Members

(Continued from Page 1)

Mike Carter, Judy Chapman, Cindy Christman, Marilyn Cole, Dennis Crill, Jim Feustel;

Anita Ferber, Sarah Finch, Caron Fine, Dave Flanigan, Sally Franklin, Diane Fredrick, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Mark Hagerman, Diane Hall, Dayna Harader, Lissa Hoffman, Judi Hollister, Sue Horth, Elizabeth Hostetler, Louise Jackson, Babette Jones, Mary Keegan, Sue Kelley, Bill Kleifgen, Jane Ladig, Martha Lanning, Ken Leakey, Diane Leath;

LARRIE LEE, Pat Lee, Frank Lewis, Ellen Lowe, Steve McDonald, Sue McGinnis, Tom McMahon, Jenny Manth, Dave Meek, Howard Miller, Sandy Miller, Evert Mol, Lyall Morrill, Bill Mueller, Linda Newell, Terry Newendorp, Dick Parke, Ann Petrie, Bob Ramage, Jeff Roth;

Bonnie Russell, Fred Schoen, Allen Sheldon, Karen Simmons, Barbara Spiers, Cheryl Summers, Lydia Sutto, Sandy Thorn, Gary Tinkel, Roberta Twitchell, Barbara Uhl, Tamara Vyhovsky, Dick Waterfield, Bill Wilder, Ellen Williams, and Sandra Yaggy.

Teenage Safety Council To Give Road-E-O Saturday At Coliseum

Testing road knowledge and driving skill, a Car Road-e-o is being sponsored by the Allen County Teenage Safety Council Saturday from 9 until 12 a.m., at the Coliseum parking lot.

There will be a written test followed by a test of driving which will include normal driving knowledge and car-handling ability. The winner of each division (boys' and girls') will, along with a certain group of runners-up, receive a trophy, attend a special banquet, and be honored in the newspapers and on television.

VARIOUS CIVIC leaders in the community will judge this event. Among these are Mr. Harry Amstutz, county commissioner, and Mr. Wilmer Messman, vice-chairman of the Traffic Division. Captain Bob Bender, of the Fort Wayne Police Department, will serve as dispatcher for the Road-e-o. Sue Burdick, junior, who serves as publicity chairman of the council, will be acting as course steward at the contest.

Under the direction of Mrs. Frieda Summer, public safety chairman, six women from the Insurance Women's Association of Fort Wayne will score the written tests taken by participants in the contest. Others who will assist with the Road-e-o are Officers Robert

Coaches To Present Teams At Assembly

To highlight the last pep session of the year tomorrow in the gym at 8:20 p.m., pep talks and an introduction of the teams will be given by Mr. Everett Havens, the tennis coach, by Mr. Warren Hoover, the golf coach, and by Mr. Robert Gernand, the track coach.

The school song, the "S" yell and the "Victory Chant" will start the pep session and will be followed by "We're from South Side" led by all the cheerleaders. The reserves will continue with "T-T-T-T" adding an "S" to the spelling to include the track, the tennis, and golf teams. "Now, Hey, Hey" by the varsity will proceed the introduction of Mr. Havens and his team. The band will then lead in "Over Hill."

Sue Harrod will then introduce Mr. Hoover with his golf team. After "S-O-U-T-H" Babs Jones will introduce Mr. Gernand. As a farewell cheer, the senior cheerleaders will do "Great," and the undergraduate cheerleaders will accompany them in response.

To conclude the pep session, the band and the cheerleaders together will lead "VI," "Good Luck," and "Go Archers."

Sue Harrod, reserve, Sharon Eitman, varsity, and Babette Jones, varsity, are in charge of this pep session.

Rifle Club To Meet

The Boys' Rifle Club will meet at 3:30 p.m. Monday on the range. Scores from the April 30 meeting were prone, Dale Smith, 99, and sitting, Dave Bergwall, 83 and 84.

Waldrop of the School Safety Division, Fort Wayne Police Department, and Robert Endres of the Indiana State Police.

Although application blanks for participating in the Road-e-o were due by April 30, anyone may come to the Coliseum Saturday to observe the proceedings.

THE ALLEN COUNTY Teenage Safety Council was organized in March of 1960 for the purpose of promoting all types of safety in the city and county schools.

The Courteous Teen Driver Award has been presented to two South Side students, Tom Frazell and Bill Branstator. The purpose of this award is to recognize and commend a courteous teenage driver of each city and county school. Students are selected on the basis of recommendation from their parents, teachers, and friends, as well as the safety council and the principal who select the final winner.

Red Cross Banquet To Include Speech, Initiation Of Officers

The annual banquet of the Senior Red Cross Club will be May 21 in the Senior High Department of the Simpson Methodist Church, beginning at 6 p.m. Reservations can be made for $1.50.

Sherry Hall will be the mistress of ceremonies. Invited guests are Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mrs. D. E. McFadden, director of Red Cross youth programs; Mrs. Irma Hampton, who is affiliated with the West Side Neighborhood Center; and Mr. John Arnold, club adviser, and his wife.

Chairman for the banquet is Rosalie Hall, junior A, with Bev Figel, senior A, working as co-chairman. Members of the committee are Pat Bailey, Sylvia Hileman, and Sarah Petrie. Rosalie stated, "The decorations will be in red and white, with a flower centerpiece on the main table."

Prepared and served by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Simpson Methodist Church, the dinner will include swiss steak, mashed potatoes, green beans, salad, rolls, coffee, milk, and dessert.

Highlighting the banquet will be the talk of Mrs. McFadden, "Opportunities for Youth in Summer Red Cross Work," and the initiation of new officers. Nominees for president are Sophomores Susan Weideman, Billie Burgo, Toni Heathman, and Junior Rosalie Hall; secretary, Sophomores Elaine Chipko and Denise Jones; treasurer, Senior B Pat Bailey and Sophomore Karen Walker; and sergeant-at-arms, Sophomores Judy Doherty and Anita Downing.

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Senior Bonnie Smith To Serve As Delegate To Church Convo

Bonnie Smith, senior B, will attend the tri-annual convention of the Churches of God in North America. The delegates will convene in Hagerstown, Maryland, from May 14 until May 18.

Bonnie was selected at the Indiana

Bonnie Smith

State convention last August to be the Indiana delegate to the Maryland convention. She will be accompanied by seven ministers and laymen from Churches of God in Indiana. Delegates from all over the nation will be there.

Spending Sunday night in Pennsylvania, Bonnie will reach Hagerstown on Monday afternoon. The convention will start with a worship service on Monday evening. Bonnie will live with one of the Hagerstown residents during the convention.

On Monday night the worship session will be entitled "This Jesus Hath God Raised Up Whereof We Are Witnesses." Tuesday night the session will concern the witness of the Elders. "The Witness of the

Linda Moody To Speak

At the Astronomy Club meeting on Tuesday in Room 98 at 3:30 p.m., Senior Linda Moody will give a speech on plasma.

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.

333 S. Clinton A-8411

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick Camera Shop

407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

Church" is the title of the Wednesday night worship session.

On Thursday night the worship will portray "The Witness of Individuals." The delegates will convene for two devotional services each day plus the evening worship services.

The purpose of the convention is to decide the business of the Churches of God in North America for the next three years. Officers and Board members will be elected during the convention.

If time permits, Bonnie will visit some of the historical sites and shrines in Maryland. On the return trip through Pennsylvania and Ohio, the Indiana representatives will visit churches in the area.

Bonnie is active in school activities as a copy reader for the Times. She is also in the band, orchestra, Philo and various church organizations.

Class Officers Select Senior Prom Theme

"A Touch of Elegance," has been chosen as the theme of the Senior Prom by the Senior Class Officers. The dance will be on June 6 in the gym from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., with Woody Neff and his orchestra presenting the music.

The invitations and program printing committees are under the direction of Sharon Carrel, and Cheryl Summers is heading the publicity. Ticket chairmen are Mark Hagerman and Bill Borgmann. Bart Bailey is in charge of the food committee, while Bill Wilder heads the cloak room committee. Dave Meek will serve as clean-up chairman.

Decorations are headed by Cheryl Summers, Diane Fredrick, and Debbie Brooke; and Senior Class President Larrie Lee, will serve as general chairman of the dance.

Class sponsors are Mr. Samuel Jackson, social studies instructor; Mrs. Mildred Luse, mathematics teacher; and Mr. Alfred Hemmer, social studies teacher.

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists

H-5307

Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

SUNDAY

5:30 p.m.

on

WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:

Hi-Quiz Championship Round
C.C. vs. North Side

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY

MILK

Youth Employment Service Aids Pupils Through Job Placements

Any undergraduate student of South Side who is 16 to 18 years old, and is interested in obtaining a summer job may pick up his application for the Youth Employment Service as early as Monday and continuing throughout the summer at the local office located at 315 East Washington Street.

All applications must include the signature of a parent or guardian and at least two references. Students are urged to have the applications completed and turned into the Employment Security Division by May 25, and report to the Employment Security Division office on May 26, 9 to 12 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. for an interview.

Every interested student will have a personal interview. This is the only Saturday when the Employment office will be open, and there will be 14 trained interviewers there especially for helping interested young people.

Richard P. App, Manager of the Fort Wayne Office of the Indiana Employment Security Division, said that the Youth Employment Service, YES, will be sponsored by the Employment Security Division. Neither applicant nor employer need pay any fee, and Mr. Robert H. Fitzpatrick, who has been the director of YES in past years, will again head the service.

When the service was started in 1954 it had 343 placements; last year it had 750 participants with 912 placements. On June 6 at Central High School, typing and shorthand tests will be given at 2 p.m. to all students interested in office work.

Of the 912 placements last year, some were in office work which included typing, shorthand, filing, stenography, and receptionist. Other types of jobs were sales clerks, stock boys, carry-out boys, and dental and restaurant helpers all for the teen who is 16 or over. Those under 16 may be called upon to do yard work such as mowing lawns, raking leaves, painting, and inside house work.

Some teenagers may prefer other jobs such as baby-sitting, door-to-door selling, taking surveys, or some other type of domestic work. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and the placements will begin on June 11.

Mr. Robert H. Fitzpatrick stated, "I think the Youth Employment Service is a very important project for the teenagers, the community of Fort Wayne, and the citizens." He also said, "In my years of association with young people, I have found them to be very co-operative and to show great capabilities for working."

"I also expect YES to continue successfully for many summers to come," Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that applying for a job through YES gives the young person valuable experience concerning securing employment. "I expect," he stated, "YES to be a very important part of the life of young teenagers."

Junior Artist Wins Tri Kappa Contest Toward Education

Julia Wadlington, junior, was one of the three winners of the Tri Kappa Fine Arts Contest of March 24. Saturday she will participate in the state contest at the John Harron Art Institute near Indianapolis, Ind.

Julie won $20 in the previous contest and is eligible to win $500 toward an art education in the state contest.

Three pieces of art work must be submitted, and they must be two-dimensional. The oil paintings must be framed and the others matted. There must be five letters of recommendation with an autobiography by the entrant.

The pieces that won Julie the right to compete in the state contest consist of an oil painting and the cover of the Christmas issue of the Times.

Julie has had work shown at the Southgate Beauty Shop, Means Buhl, and at the First Presbyterian Church. She has done some art work for the Times, was the winter 1961 Pegasus art editor and the 1962 Totem art editor, and has done work for different school dances and events.

She attended the Fort Wayne Art School for a semester of oil painting, and was awarded a scholarship in the eighth grade for a semester at St. Francis College in Fort Wayne.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald
Res. K-1188

4235 Fairfield
Bus. H-9661

Join The Crowd At Azar's

... for eatin' treats that can't be beat! Come as you are and eat in your car or order by phone and take 'em home.

Azar's BIG BOY

2440 W. Washington
Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun
Calhoun at Berry

Featuring INSTANT GARDENING!

E. J. PLANT SHOPPE
and GARDEN STORE

Hanna at Pettit

Annual and Perennial Plants

GOLD STAR GAS RANGES ARE COVERED BY THE FAMOUS GOOD HOUSEKEEPING GUARANTY

You can buy with confidence when you buy a

GAS RANGE!

The GAS Company
NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Archer Track Team To Defend Sectional Title

North Side Squad To Present Opposition, Rates As Favorite

Defending champion South Side will pursue their third consecutive Sectional title tomorrow evening at Northrop Field in the forty-sixth Sectional Track and Field Meet. Although they find themselves somewhat weaker this year, the Archer thinlies have a good chance of inscribing their names in the record book again. Arch-rival North Side figures to be South's keenest opponent, Coach Rolla Chambers and his Redskins taking the role of favorite.

The Fort Wayne Sectional is one of 16 set up throughout the state. It is the initial step in the IHSAA elimination for the State finals in Indianapolis, Ind., on May 26. Fort Wayne's Sectional will include schools from Allen, Adams, and DeKalb counties, although as usual the championship is usually decided by a city school, the county teams contributing at the most outstanding individuals.

Last season South compiled a total of 57 points to run away from on- comers North and Central with 33 and 32½ points, respectively. Balance proved the key for the Archer cinder- men last year as they accumulated the bulk of their points with a one-two finish in both dashes and the shot-put, a first in the quarter and mile events, second-place finish in both hurdle events, and another blue ribbon in the mile relay.

TOMORROW EVENING'S big meet, which is scheduled to be run rain or shine, should be another fine show of high school track talent. In the dashes South Side, led by speed king Karl Bandemer, should dominate again. "Bandy" won his specialty, the 100-yard dash, last year in a quick 9.9 clocking, his career best.

Central has good material in Preston Underwood, who gave Bandemer quite a scare last week in a dual meet; and New Haven has good dash strength in Mike Dennis, who copped a third last year.

SOUTH WILL figure quite highly in middle-distance and the 440, as they have Bandemer and Tom Frazell entered in the competition. Both have bettered the 50.5 mark, which undoubtedly will separate the men from the boys tomorrow evening; but North has a pretty good man, Bill Pool, who has registered a season's best of 51.5.

However, if Waldrop participates in the mile he will probably be somewhat less of an 880 contender since he has had poor luck in his doubling up this year. Gary Meyers of North, who has reported times of 4:29 or better along with running mate Dave Esterline, should bring North a winning one-two finish in the four-lapper; although the Archers' Ken Ellingwood, who has been clocked in 4:33, is capable of busting up the "inseparable twosome."

ONE OF THE strangest outcomes of tomorrow's competition to an avid Fort Wayne track fan will be the probable disappearance of a North Side hurdler from the winning laurels. In the past North has been blessed with such great hurdlers as Bendure and Hallenbeck but this year they will be forced to rely on their top man Fleenor who at best will get a third.

Central will probably dominate the hurdle events with ace Bob Hubbard who has this season skimmed the highs in 14.9 and the lows under the 20-flat mark. South's Jon vanOosten will probably pose as a big threat for Hubbard, as "Big Jon" has come close to the quick hurdlers this season.

As usual the relays are the most exciting races of the program, and this year will be no exception with North and South again the probable "two-team race." South will probably set a mile relay team of Mol, Shine, Frazell, and Bandemer up against North's equally balanced foursome of Bradley, Painter, Haught, and Pool. These

Archer Racketmen Claim Second Win Over Irish By 6-1

Tangling with the Irish for the second time this season, the Archers ran headlong into a spirited Central Catholic crew and were hard pressed to make it two straight over their downtown rivals last Thursday, May 3, at the Tennis Center. South won by a deceiving score of 6-1.

Coach Havens elected to play Al Purdy in the number one position for this match and it proved a good decision as the Archers squeaked past Bobby Hollo by a final of 6-1, 4-6, 7-5. A bit overconfident after winning the first set so decisively, Purdy started to coast after building up a 4-1 lead in the second.

JIM LANTZ ran into similar trouble. Playing a stereotype of Hollo, Sophomore Danny McVey, Lantz became bewildered with the frequent lobs and drop shots of his opponent and soon erred. Lantz, who much like Purdy, enjoys a hard-hitting net game, hit many shots long and, as a result of his failure of ground strokes, also had service problems. The scores were 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Lex Smuts mowed down Mark Schaeffer of C.C. in the number three singles with very little difficulty. Abandoning his usually conservative style, Smuts tried out a net game and it met with favorable results. Schaeffer, finding out that there is very little as frustrating as a good net man as an opponent, soon got slightly frustrated and began to error frequently. The score was 6-3, 6-1.

DISASTER STRUCK IN the Archer camp in the fifth singles. Terry Smith went to battle with Ron Pausig and promptly found himself dealing with the business end of a sledge hammer.

The doubles were a pleasing proposition from the Archer point of view. Purdy and Lantz got sweet revenge on their singles foes, Hollo and McVey, as they ran wild over the Irish duo 6-1, 6-1.

South Downs Bluffton The Archers evened their season's record at 5-5 as well as gained revenge on the Bluffton Tigers when they upended the Bengals 4-3 on May 7 at Lafayette Park.

Junior Al Purdy played number one man and disposed of Blufftonite Randy Edington 6-0, 4-6, 6-0. Purdy started off like a house afire, clobbering Edington soundly in the initial stanza.

Jim Lantz was in the second slot where he eliminated Jon Faulkner, a recently-promoted reserve, by a count of 6-1, 6-3. While he expressed his discontentment with the "feel" of his shots, most of the spectators were in agreement that this was one of Lantz's finest performances.

Next Lex Smuts tangled with Mike Bynam in the third spot. Bynam, playing his first varsity year, fell prey to the consistency of Smuts. Lex soon found out that this fellow had problems connecting with three solid shots in a row, and he exploited the glaring lack of consistency by a popular "return-everything" game. Smuts' sophomore counterpart's offense quickly fell apart at the seams and Bynam was liquidated 6-1, 6-1.

Racketmen Bow To Concordia, Muncie Central In Tournament

South Side played host to the second annual South Side Doubles Tourney on Saturday, April 28, and once again the Bowmen ended up out of the running. Play started at 9 a.m. with the first division doubles at the Tennis Center and the second division playing on the Lafayette Playground courts.

In the opening game of first flight play, Muncie Central's Jim Stevenson and Bill Polk tangled with Randy Edington and Steve Hart of the Bluffton Tigers. Although streaky at times, the Bearcats showed a little more fire power at the net and at the service line to pull off a 6-2, 6-2 victory.

The next match pitted Fort Wayne Central, represented by John Hopkins and Gary Gemmer, against Goshen's Rog Golden and Ed Hartzler. The Tigers were simply outclassed by these two Goshen stars and fell hard, 6-0, 6-0.

South, with Purdy and Lantz, was scheduled to play C.C. in a third match, but Tom Badders of the Irish could not make it because of a bout with tonsillitis. South won by forfeit.

IN A FINAL FIRST round match, Duke Dow and Dave Weidenhofer of Concordia's Cadets had all they could handle when they met Don Draper and Bob Ross from Huntington. The boys from Huntington showed a lot of power and finesse in dragging Concordia into a third set before bowing 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

The second-round matches were Muncie Central-Goshen and South-Concordia. Goshen and the Cadets just kept on rolling as they squashed their opponents. Goshen whipped Muncie, 6-2, 6-1; and Concordia survived the loss of the first 12 points to trip up South, 6-4, 6-0.

Unfortunately for Goshen, Concordia practices regularly during inclement weather on the gym floor at Concordia Senior College. With much more confidence than their Redskin counterparts, Dow and Weidenhofer sprung to life and pulled off a 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 triumph in a very controversial championship. Thus, Concordia was the first division victor.

IN THE SECOND flight, the Cadets were not so fortunate. Their team of Jim Hansen and Bill Russell was upset by those Huntington upstarts, Terry Bridge and Roger Ross, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

In another reversal of form, Central's Dave Gaskill and Bob Bean upended Bluffton's Jon Faulkner and Mike Bynam, 6-3, 9-7.

South finally got a genuine victory as Lex Smuts and Terry Smith trimmed Bob Hollo and Mark Schaeffer of C.C. 6-1, 4-6, 6-4. The Archers looked rather spotty in this one and cast some shadows upon the South hopes in the next round.

Finally, in a real cliff-hanger, George McCoy and Dick Hochstetler of Muncie Central eliminated Goshen's Fred Hostetler and John Corpron, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

SLICK'S

Who Laundry
Shirts Best? H-3232

Miller's Standard Service

Radisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind. H-5292 K-8048

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Washing
Battery and Tire Service

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind. K-3305

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

Headquarters For OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818 CALHOUN ST.

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO— T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford H-2185

6-1, 10-8. Hochstetler, a superbly conditioned athlete who not only played starting guard on the Bearcats, but is also the first-string quarterback on their pigskin crew, carried most of the load in this one.

The second round found Central absorbing a 6-0, 6-2 clobbering from Huntington and Muncie eliminating South, 6-1, 6-2. That set up a Huntington-Muncie Central final.

Tom Wright Helps Thinlies In Sprints, Half-Mile Contests

Ace sprinter Tom Wright runs the century, 220-yard dash, and a leg of the half-mile relay for the Archers. His speed adds to the ability of an already fine half-mile relay team.

Tom Wright

which will prove a tough competitor in the Regional competition. Tom also picks up extra points for South as their number two sprinter. His best hundred times have been around 10.9 seconds.

In previous seasons Tom put his talents to work as a pole vaulter for the Archer squad. Since this is his first season as a varsity sprinter, he has come a long way and can be expected to improve even more.

Tom contributed his speed to the football team this fall. He played offensive half-back for the Archer's varsity squad and proved to be a good ball carrier. In the summer Tom works out with weights, swims, and skis; and in the winter he enjoys skating and hockey.

Real Estate & Insurance Robert H. Carto & Associates

3414 South Calhoun Street H-8916 K-4909

Wm. A. Didier & Sons

Incorporated PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Links Squad To Play Three Dual Matches With Auburn, Giants

A complete home-and-away series and the "home" half of another two team exchange are on the cards as South Side's golf team prepares for three dual matches with two teams in the next few days.

The Archer's opponent tonight will be Auburn; the match will be played on their home grounds. Wednesday they will come to Fort Wayne for a return engagement at the local Brookwood Golf Course.

South and Auburn have not met before this season, but the teams have played three common opponents. Both teams have played and defeated Garrett, Elmhurst, and Central Catholic by fairly wide margins.

Auburn, with an 8-0 record, has also defeated Huntington, Angola, Kendallville, and Elkhart, the latter in a triangular meet with Central Catholic. They have defeated Garrett and Kendallville twice.

In Auburn the Archers face a team with a fair amount of experience. Of the first five, four have had one year of experience in interscholastic competition. They are Andy Meyers and Dave Long, seniors, and Mark Shaw and Paul West, juniors. The fifth one, Pat Welch, is a freshman. Together, these five players have won a total of 37 individual matches and have only lost three.

Tomorrow night's match will pit the Giants of Marion against South Side's linksmen. The teams met last Friday in Marion, and the Giants came away with an 8-7 victory. Besides this meeting, the teams have played a common opponent, the Muncie Central Bearcats, at Muncie.

The home links should again be a deciding factor in this match. While not making alibies, several members of the team commented that a different type of grass than they were accustomed to bother them in Marion.

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Established 1876

KLA EHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

QUICK CHICK
5213 DECATUR RD.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Purdue University Fort Wayne Center offers:

1. Two years of regular University work.
2. A two-year degree in engineering technology.
3. An opportunity to live at home and save.
4. Accredited university courses.
5. Day and evening classes so that you can earn while you learn.

Call A-3171 for more details
Summer session starts June 18.
Fall semester starts Sept. 12.

A MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

ALL-AMERICAN MEAL

MILK SHAKES...20¢
McDonald's FRENCH FRIES...10¢
ALL FOR 45¢
HAMBURGERS...15¢

McDonald's DRIVE-INS

4-LOCATIONS-4

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison

NOW OPEN!! NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!!

FOR "GRADS" AND TEENAGERS 15 or OVER

A Golden classic for the Class of '62, and for every young fellow who's out for the Prom and other Spring affairs—our Natural Shoulder Worstedsuits rate tops! Regulars in 35-42, Longs 36-42.

$45.95

Paln Beach RICHWEAVE

It's At

Calhoun At Jefferson

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Coney Island WIENER STAND

131 West Main A-0783

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

ALLEN DAIRY

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT Dining Room

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Miller's Standard Service

Radisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind. H-5292 K-8048

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Washing
Battery and Tire Service

Phone: T-1141

ALLEN DAIRY

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT Dining Room

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Kellys Defeat Tigers By Narrow Margin, Trounce Bishop Luers With 89-20 Score

South Thinlies Conquer Central In Dual Meet By Four Points

South was forced to divide its mile relay squad and take both relay events last Thursday in order to edge the Central Tigers 56½ to 52½ in a dual meet at South's stadium. The meet was close all the way even though the Archers had a ten-point bulge at one time. This lead soon melted away and a see-saw battle with varying differences of two and three points developed.

The times were generally not outstandingly good. This was caused both by a slow, somewhat wet track, and an off day for some of the runners. Central's sophomore speedster, Preston Underwood, was in fine shape and appears a likely heir to Bandemer's position as the city's best sprint man.

Another underclassman from the mid-town school, Bob Dodds, turned in a good performance in the broad jump, leaping 20-8. There were two double winners, South's Bandemer in both the 100 and 220, and Central's Hubbard in both hurdle events. Tom Frazell turned in good quarter at 52.7 seconds, and Tom Shine ran a fast quarter in the anchor leg of the mile relay.

However, Hilsmer did a good job in the hundred. The 220 found the same three boys placing one-two-three. Once again Bandemer had a real race on his hands as Underwood pressed him right to the tape before losing a very close race. The winning time was 23.5. This one-three punch gained South a good six to three point margin over Central in both of these races.

THE 440 WAS ALSO an excellent point-getter for South as Tom Frazell finished first, running his usual graceful, seemingly effortless race. He was followed by Tom Shine who led during the beginning of the race but could not maintain the pace he had set for himself. Both Shine and Frazell ran well, the running time being 52.7. Dodds of Central was the only one to place for Central in this event.

The 880 proved to be the only sure foot race in which South lost on total points. Tigers Arvy and Davis were up for this race and they finished one-two. Archer Evert Mol, suffering from some malady, was unable to break the Central combination and came in third.

The hurdles were generally bleak for South as Hubbard of Central repeated his double defeat of vanOosten. In the high "Big Jon" was running pretty well until he hit the last hurdle and nearly fell. Because of this he finished last in the race. Hubbard was first, followed by Herb Bougs also of Central.

Dave Blanton of South finished third to gain the only points for South in this event. The time was 16.2. In the low vanOosten met with better fortune but a still better Hubbard. However, Jon pushed Hubbard to the tape, finally finishing second with Herb Bougs, third. It looked as if Jon might cup the event but Hubbard poured it on in the stretch and edged him. The time was a fairly good 21.3 seconds.

IN THE MILE Ellingwood of South finished first as was expected. The only Central man to finish was Tom Whit, who finished third. Steve Meyers of South took second and Charlie Golden, also of the Green, was fourth. Ellingwood's winning time was 4:45.2.

The base of most of South's problems in winning the meet can be found in the field events. Central outscored the Archers by about nine points in the field. The broad jump was particularly discouraging as Central placed two boys in front of Green. The 880 team, still took the event with a 5-8 jump, and Groves of South and Harris of Central tied for third at 5-2.

Both of these boys did very well and are underclassmen, pointing to much better jumps in the future. South's only mighty spot here was Sophomore Don Hilsmer's 19-5½ jump. In the other leaping event, the high jump, Walter Pickett of Central won at 5-9. Probst of South was second with a 5-8 jump, and Groves of South and Harris of Central tied for third at 5-2.

THUS IT WAS that in order to win South needed both relay events and a first or second in the pole vault. The weakened mile relay squad, with Bandemer and Frazell performing with the 880 team, still took the event without too much difficulty. Millers Ellingwood and Myers led off and at the half-way mark South trailed by about ten yards.

However, Evert Mol put the Green about even, and Tom Shine ran away from the Central anchor man to finish with a very close race. The half-mile relay squad won also but there was a time near the finish when the outcome, at least to some of the fans, looked doubtful.

Mural Men

By Chuck Bodenhorn

Results of softball games are the Daisies and the Goosehounds fought to a 3-3 tie; the Ying Yongs trounced the Under Dogs, 13-2; the Diamond Demons, aided by Ron Bakalar's home run, bested the Champs, 9-8. Steve Evans was the winners' pitcher and Steve Mueller was the loser.

The Diamond Demons' catcher was Dick Bellam as was Tom McMahon for the Champs. The Wonders edged the Diamond Demons, 9-8. Larry Schneider had a home for the victors. The Little Braves, with George Paris as their pitcher, Don Dawson as their catcher, and a home run by George Paris, defeated the Henschmen, 12-7. The beaten team had as their pitcher Gary Hensch Ron France, as their catcher, and home runs by Gary Hensch, Doug Hensch, and Phil Baker.

Softball teams entered in the lightweight division are the Millers, Mickey Miller, captain; the Bachelors, Gary Shank, captain; the Daisies, Mark Lowens, captain; the Goosehounds, John Gustafson, captain; the Bums, Boris Goshell, captain; Nihilis, Dave Yaney, captain; and Big Wheels, Louie Baughman, captain.

The following teams with their captain's name are in the heavyweight division: Wonders, Denny Berryhill; Mugs, Ricky Lump; Champs, Gary Tinkel; Diamond Demons, Don Dawson; Ying Yongs, Bill Ausderan; Under Dogs, William Joy; Henschmen, Gary Hensch; Little Braves, Bob Hart; and Jolly Rogers, Tom Rogers.

Since October 17, 24 boys have been awarded intramural letters. They are Bill Ausderan and Tim Grodrian, third letter; Larry Schneider, Bob Bryant, Tom Wooding, Brad Zeig, Al Schlie, and Dave James, second letter; Mike Young, Dan Bercot, Tom Romanowski, Louis Baughman, John Grodrian, David L. James, Steve Shambaugh, Dave Reidenbach, Jim Carnahan, Fred Plotke, Mickey Miller, Dave Riemen, Dave Reinbold, Ed Gaterman, Bob Horn, and James Harrold, first letter.

The Mugs were defeated in softball by the Wonders, 2-0. Dick Clark pitched for the victors and Mike Voght did the same for the losers. Mike Houser was the catcher for the winners as was Dan Junk for the beaten team. The Bachelors nipped the Millers, 6-5.

Bill Charleston slammed a homer for the Bachelors and so did Terry Usher and Tom Wegner for the vanquished Millers. Gary Shanks and Bill Charleston were pitcher and catcher for the winners. Mickey Miller was the losers' pitcher and Terry Usher was their catcher.

Karl Bandemer Runs 440 Dash With 51.6 Time

Archers Capture, Tie For First-Place Spots In Every Field Event

Karl Bandemer's sparkling time of 51.6 in the 440 dash was featured in a profitable track meet last Friday as the Archers defeated Bishop Luers by a score of 89-20. Using substitutes in almost every event, the Archers captured or tied for first place in every event. Of the events that they won outright, the Archers placed one-two in seven.

Bandemer won the 440 by a comparatively narrow margin over Evert Mol, the regular half-miler. Karl's fine time was an indication that he may choose to compete in this longer event in the tournaments in the next three weeks.

John Hite and Phil New of South provided the greatest excitement in the meet as they produced a dead heat in the low hurdles, a rarity for a running event. Both boys were clocked in 22.7.

Tom Shine, the Archers' regular number two quarter-miler, showed some promise in winning the half-mile in 2:09.2. Considering the soft track and Tom's lack of experience in pacing the event, this was a very good time. Archer Mike Weinraub placed a very good second in this event.

THE ARCHERS were handed eight points in the high hurdles when Jim Still, Luers' only entrant, took a bad spill in crossing one of the first hurdles. He recovered to finish the race but was far behind winner Jon vanOosten and second-place finisher John Hite. VanOosten's winning time was a very good 15.3.

The sprints were also won by substitutes, but their times were a little off the standard. Tom Frazell, the regular quarter-miler, won in a time of 10.7 over Mike Burns of Luers and Sid Shera, the Archers' number one shot-putter.

In the 220, Dale Hilsmer took over for Bandemer and ailing Bob Lohman, and won in a time of 24.0.

With Shera competing in the running events, two of the Archers' lesser known lead-heavers topped the first two places. Dave Pritchard walked off with a blue ribbon for his efforts of 43-4 while Don Sievert placed second. The remaining individual victory by the Archers was captured by Don Hilsmer in the broad jump. His leap of 19-4 surpassed those of Knight Tom Blasing and Archer Dave Banet.

PHIL NEW CAPTURED his second "half-first" place of the day by tying Jim Still in the high jump at a height of 5-7. Steve Groves captured the white ribbon in this event for the Archers.

The Archers won both relays by wide margins over Luers. Jon vanOosten, Ken Ellingwood, Steve Meyers, and Mike Weinraub composed the mile squad that won in 3:50.2 with about a 100-yard advantage over the Knights.

Four Golf Teams To Compete In Fifth Annual City Tourney

With four city schools competing, the fifth annual City Golf Tournament will be conducted Tuesday at Brookwood Golf Course.

The tournament was started in 1958 by Central Catholic's Coach Joe Daniel. He scheduled a meet with Elmhurst, South Side, and Concordia for the same night. When all four teams arrived, Coach Daniel announced that they were attending the City Tournament.

The Central Catholic linksmen won the first and second meets, and the Archer golfers have been victorious in the last two tournaments. This year Bishop Luers will be added to the meet. North Side and Central will not compete because they do not play high school golf.

THE CITY TOURNAMENT will be played under the rules of the Sectional, instead of the normal rules of regular meets. There will be four golfers representing each school, and the foursome with the lowest total score will be the new winner.

The Archers will enter the meet as the highly favored team. Mr. Warren Hoover, the golf coach, believes the Archers will take either a first or a second in this tournament. So far the golfers have built a nine and two record. The four boys to represent South Side will come from a list of five. They are Seniors Jeff Roth, Dick Waterfield, and Rick Kneisley and Juniors Jim Mann and Larry Schneider.

ACCORDING TO Mr. Hoover's calculations, Elmhurst will be the prime opponent. Tom Horton and Dave Foreman, both seniors, are sure starters; and they will cause most of the trouble. The other two boys will be picked from Erv Denig, a senior, Junior Steve Shockney, and Sophomore Al Roman.

Central Catholic will probably be the next strongest opponent. The Irish have defeated Elmhurst and Bishop Luers in dual meets already this year. However, they lost to the Archers by a score of ten to two. Nevertheless, Coach Daniel seems to feel confident; and he is planning on at least a second place finish. He also hopes to press South Side quite hard for first place. In 1961 the Irish finished last in a field of four.

CONCORDIA HAS recorded three victories compared to no losses. However, they have not played a city school; so there isn't too much information on them. The Cadets have two returning lettermen. They are Gary Friend and Terry Theye. Dave Miller and Tom Schoenherr will probably be the other two starters. The new entry this year will be the Knights from Bishop Luers. However, it is expected that it will be a few years before the Knights rise to any glory in this meet. Their record stands at zero to three thus far in the season.

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

Kelly thinlies added two more victims to their list last weeks as they whipped Central and ran rough-shod over Luers in preparation for the Sectionals. South will have a tough team on Northrop Field attempting to defend the 1961 crown; but the North Side Redskins, who demonstrated their power by tying for fourth in the NIC meet last Saturday, will probably take top team honors.

The Archers should be able to boast of several individual stars as well as fine relay teams, but North will have a big advantage in the field events, where it has some good men, most noticeable of which is vaulter Dave Lucas. A virtual rematch of the North-South-Central meet earlier in the season will probably be the result of tomorrow's running. A few individuals, such as New Haven sprinter Mike Dennis, will take some honors; but the bulk of the laurels ought to go to the Tigers, Redskins, and Archers.

In the Northern Indiana Conference meet Saturday some mighty fine times were recorded and some old records broken. Bernie Rivers' hundred was a "slow" 10.0, but his furlong was a respectable 22.3. He captured just half of the team's points. The Gary schools, Tolleston and Froebel, finished one-two; but if Roosevelt had been in the competition, some sparks would really have flown.

Tolleston clipped off a new all-time state record of 3:18.7 in the mile relay, clipping Roosevelt's 3:20 time this year, and the old record of 3:19.0. The national high school record is 3:15. The 880 relay also saw Roosevelt's leading time slashed. Froebel recorded a 1:30.6 to erase the previous low of 1:31.

Individual standouts included brilliant Howard Harris of Tolleston, with a 50.1 quarter; Art Angotti of Gary Mann, who romped in a 4:25.6 mile; Jerry Saffell of LaPorte, who swept the high and low sticks; and Joe Blake of East Chicago Washington, who heaved a 57-4½ shot-put. Incidentally, fifth in the put was nearly 53 feet.

The Bowbenders' links squad has been rolling along in fine shape so far this season, having met disaster only twice in ten decisions, once to Marion and once to Muncie. Against Elmhurst last week, three boys, Jeff Roth, Jim Littlejohn, and Dick Waterfield carded 38's as the Kellys rocked the Trojans for the second time. The main duel in the city now appears to be between South and Central Catholic.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Lowrey Organs
Kimball Pianos
Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

For
• Film Developing
• Film and Flash Bulbs
• Records
• Sheaffer Pens
• Papermate Pens
• Pen Repairing
• Greeting Cards
• Russell Stover Candy

Come to
HOWARD'S
Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne
This week's Small Snaps
is Bob Hendricksen.

Mary Ann's
BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

STEPHENSON
DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Munro's Standard
SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

GLADIEUX
OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME"
FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

What you want
is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Marks
CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

Marks' Motto:
A liar will not be believed,
even when he speaks the truth.
3818 S. Calhoun

Dove's
Beauty Salon
Distinctive Individual Hair Styling
A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers
• Open Evenings •
2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

Gerig Super Service
MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

Graves & Hageman, Inc.
Commercial Floor Covering
Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Maloley Brothers
Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient
Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

NICKLES
BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

RIALTO BEAUTY
SHOPPE
202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

DIGGS-H-4286
R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun
U Fountain
G School Supplies
S Vitamins
S Prescription
Specialists

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROS
DIES, MATS, STEREOS

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC.
EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

COMPLETE PRINTING
FORT WAYNE
ENGRAVING
CO., INC.
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE
PRINTING PLATE
SERVICE

GOLF EQUIPMENT
GOLF SETS (2 Woods, 5 Irons) $34.95
GOLF BAGS $3.95 up
GOLF BALLS 60c up
OTHER ITEMS TO CHOOSE FROM
HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP
3704 South Calhoun H-8925

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Intramural Sports Serve As Fitness Training For All Boys

Mr. Clair Motz Leads Program Of Intramurals

Members Participate In Team Competition, Individual Encounters

In many high schools a small group of selected athletes carry the load of activity and glory before the eyes of a spirited student body; while in the background students rejected from teams, parents, and teachers complain about the lack of enough athletic activities for all students.

In response to this problem Mr. Clair Motz, South Side's full-time intramural director, stated, "A full scale intramural program that encourages boys to participate in all types of sports is the answer to the critics of athletics only for a few."

There are seven steps in organizing a good full scale intramural program. First, there must be a full-time coach with a wide knowledge of sports to serve as director. He challenges all to compete and receives much satisfaction from seeing happiness come to hundreds of boys as they form teams and compete. In addition, the principal of the school must approve the program.

Secondly, the school must have a formulated, printed set of rules to govern the program, such as the number of players per team, eligibility, and the point system to name a few.

A GOOD PROGRAM must realize the necessity for proper recognition and awards such as letters, medals, plaques, ribbons, newspaper articles, yearbook pictures, and words of encouragement and congratulations from coaches, teachers, fellow students, and parents.

Then the program must be "sold" to the students through various media. They include gym class announcements, the school paper, sports columns, special articles, movies, and special honors on recognition day for outstanding achievements during the year.

Also, there is a definite need for competent intramural managers to handle all equipment.

The director or one of his assistants should always plan to be present at every sports event to secure discipline, give advice, back up decisions of the officials, and see that all contestants obey the rules.

The last aspect of a good program is to have weight divisions. This makes

Four Pupils Contend For J.A. Conclave

Finalists in the National Office Management Association's Junior Achievement vice-president competition are Junior Jim Kuker, Ronald Bennett, and Carolyn Burns, and Sophomore Victor Seewald, competing for an expense-paid trip to the National Junior Achievement Conference at Bloomington, Ind.

Jim represents Soya-Pro-Co., sponsored by Central Soya Co.; Ronald, Kitch Kraft, sponsored by Fort Wayne National Bank; Carolyn, Non-Ferrous Fabricators, sponsored by the IR&W Division of the Phelps Dodge; and Victor, Marbon Products, sponsored by Bowmar Instrument Co.

The winner will be judged on general knowledge of company operations, knowledge about the J.A., and ability to communicate. The winner will be announced at the J.A. Unlimited Banquet today.

NOMA judges for the event are Mr. Walt Christensen, special events chairman of American Hoist and Derrick; Mr. Edmund S. Butler, Phelps Dodge Copper Products Co.; Mr. James Griffith, Colonial Mortgage Corp.; Florence Holmgren, Lincoln National Life Insurance Co.; and Mr. Lawrence Pepe, Joslyn Steel.

INTRAMURAL INTERESTS . . . At South, many boys participate in the intramural sports program, which consists of six major activities: tennis, basketball, wrestling, volleyball, ping pong, and cross country. In tennis, upper left picture, left to right, Mike Young and Steve Shambaugh are two of the most outstanding players. They are demonstrating the service position. The outstanding basketball team, upper center photo, consists of, left to right, back row, Larry Koelinger, Al Zimmerman, and Dale Eagle and, front row, Larry Schneider, Bill Joy, and Duane Goodin. Demonstrating for fair competition since each individual is competing against boys of his own size.

THE WEIGHT divisions at South Side are as follows: lightweight, 125 pounds and under; middleweight, 126 pounds to 145 pounds; and heavyweight, 146 pounds and up.

When a student wishes to participate in the intramural program, he first must go to the intramural office and secure a parent's consent card with a doctor's statement of physical fitness. A student is not allowed to compete in any sport unless his parent has signed the card which states that the contestant is physically fit for the various activities of intramurals. After the consent card is turned in, the only other thing required is a good attitude.

For individual events the boy must sign up on the bulletin board before a certain date.

In team sports the captain obtains a team by first securing a team card from the intramural office, then he selects a team and fills out the card with the names of the boys on his team. The team then picks a name for themselves. The various sports have different numbers of players per team.

A BOY WHO IS out for a varsity sport that is similar to the intramural

FRUIT JUICES
Regular Delivery
Punches for all Special Occasions
Punch Bowls, Ladies, and Cups
HOME JUICE CO.
1816 Reidmiller Road E-6493

Remember To Include
Town Talk BUTTER BREAD
on your shopping list

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

The
Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

sport being played is not eligible to compete. For example, a boy playing varsity basketball cannot play intramural basketball, but he is eligible to play any other sport.

The sports of the program include giant volleyball, tug-o-war, fall golf, cross country, fall tennis, tag football, bowling—fall and spring, basketball, volleyball, wrestling, boxing, horse-shoes—fall and spring, chess, ping pong singles, ping pong doubles, badminton singles and doubles, foul throwing, handball singles and doubles, spring golf, spring tennis, track, and softball.

On file in the intramural office is each player's participation card on which all points earned in competition are recorded. The points are given according to the popularity of the sport. For instance, in basketball, a player receives only two points for participation and five extra points if his team wins the division championship, while in cross country a boy can earn 25 points for participation and 20 extra points if he wins the final run.

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?
See
JASPER
Engine & Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

Dur-Enamel Paints
When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.
Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.
E-3011 1015 Taylor

FREE! ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios
EVERY WEEK...
AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS
Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds...register often!
MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND WIN THIS RADIO!
TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS
Gardner's...DOWNTOWN
Gardner's...by the COLISEUM
...for the original...the best
...the one and only
GARDNER HAMBURGER

In individual sports such as ping pong and tennis points are earned as follows: two points for participation and two points for every win plus five points for winning the championship.

LETTERS ARE awarded as follows: the first letter with 140 points, the second letter with 265 points, the third with 390 points, the fourth with 515 points, the fifth with 640 points, the sixth letter with 765 points, and the seventh and last letter with 890 points.

The student who wins the fourth letter has his name engraved on a gold plaque, the fifth letter brings a bronze medal, a silver medal comes with the sixth, and likewise a gold medal with the seventh letter. The sports department awards an average of 35 letters a year for intramurals.

Jocquel Supply Co.
Four Generations of Service of All Types Building Material
2206 Broadway H-3141

REIFF PHARMACY
Complete Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

7up
"Fresh up"

The program was first introduced at South in 1932 by Mr. Louie Briner. He directed the intramural program for 20 years until 1952 when Mr. Motz took over. In 1932, 362 boys participated; while in 1961, there were 692 boys taking part in 2,250 activities. These figures average out to about four per boy.

Mr. Motz concluded by saying, "Every good intramural program must be integrated with the physical education program of the school. The

KOEGEL JEWELERS
Diamonds Watches Watch Repair
1309 Broadway E-7671

Want a Good Job?
Here's a Quick Answer.
Enroll in the
Comptometer School
June Classes Now Forming
THE COMPTOMETER SCHOOL
305 Central Bldg. A-7217

7up
"Fresh up"

FREE! ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios
EVERY WEEK...
AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS
Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds...register often!
MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND WIN THIS RADIO!
TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS
Gardner's...DOWNTOWN
Gardner's...by the COLISEUM
...for the original...the best
...the one and only
GARDNER HAMBURGER

one of the many positions used in wrestling, upper right picture, are, left to right, Dave Smith and Fred Plothe; while Mike Stedje referees. In the lower left picture is the champion volleyball team, left to right, back row, John Esslinger, Glen Billman, and Bruce Fletter and, front row, Jon Gustafson, Ron Woods, and Art Biggs. In a ping pong doubles match, lower center photo, left to right, Tom Blossom and Jerry Dunlap are competing against Dick Astrom and Doug Woodside. Practicing for a meet, the most outstanding intramural cross country runners are, left to right, Bill Ausdran, Brad Zieg, and Charlie Golden.—Photos by Lowden sport is introduced and the fundamentals are taught in the gym class. The players then practice the knowledge gained by participating in the intramural program.

"In the gym self-testing program, the first, second, and third place winners in each test are given intramural points toward their letter. This closely ties the two programs together which we believe is helpful to both programs."

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

GOOD
HOT DOGS . . . . . 15c
SLOPPY JOES . . . . . 25c
FOX'S ICE CREAM
3808 S. Calhoun Phone H-5193
Formerly Dixie Ice Cream
Under New Management

Hop into
Grasshopper
Feather-light, so comfortable, you'll want several pairs of these smart, trim and colorful work-and-play Keds. Cool duck uppers, with a perky single tie. Sturdy soles in contracting white. M and N widths.
Only $4.95
LOOK FOR THE BLUE LABEL®
us Keds
The Shoe of Champions
THE CORNER HOUSE
121 W. Wayne St.

Red Cross Club To Give Banquet; Members To Receive Recognition

Mrs. D. E. McFadden
To Speak About Jobs;
Members To Get Pins

Mrs. D. E. McFadden, youth director of the Fort Wayne Red Cross, will give a speech concerning the opportunities for youth in the Red Cross at the annual High School Red Cross Club Banquet Monday at 6 p.m. at Simpson Methodist Church.

Pins and letters will be awarded to the members. To receive a pin, a member must have 100 project points and 35 leadership points. To receive a letter, a member must have 100 major project points plus his pin. A member may earn major project points by working at the West Side Neighborhood Center.

Installation of the new officers for next semester will also be made. Those nominated for president include Rosalie Hall, Billie Burgo, Susan Wiedelman, and Toni Heathman. The runner-up and become vice-president.

THE NOMINEES FOR secretary are Denise Jones, and Elaine Chipoy; Anita Downing and Judy Doherty are nominated for sergeant-at-arms; and the nominees for treasurer are Pat Bailey and Karen Walker.

The menu will consist of swiss steak, salad, mashed potatoes, green beans, rolls, dessert, and coffee or milk. The dinner, which will cost $1.50 per person, will be prepared and served by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Simpson Methodist Church.

The chairman and co-chairman of the general committee for the banquet are Rosalie Hall and Bev Fiegel, respectively. The committee members are Pat Bailey, Sarah Petrie, and Sylvia Hileman.

SERVING AS mistress of ceremonies for the banquet will be Sherry Hall. The decorations will consist of red and white crepe paper flowers on the tables.

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mrs. D. E. McFadden, youth director of the Red Cross; Mrs. Irma Hampton, of the West Side Neighborhood Center; and Mr. Arnold, club adviser, and his wife are the invited guests.

Staff Issues Times Friday

The Times will be issued during the homeroom period on Friday, May 25, instead of Thursday, May 24. This change is necessary because the 1962 Totem will be distributed on Thursday.

Junior High Pupils To Attend Archer Journalism Workshop

NEW STUDENT TEACHERS . . . Members of the Publications Department will conduct workshops for junior high school students on Saturday and May 26. Studying for their jobs, student teachers are, left to right, Sue Kelley, Sally Sweet, Beth Burnett, Kathy DeVore, and Jenny Manth and, seated, Sue Smith.—Photo by Triplett

To help junior high students prepare better newspapers and yearbooks at their respective schools will be the purpose of the journalism workshop at South Side on May 19 and 26, according to an announcement made by Mr. James Rohrabach, supervisor of publications for the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

The classes will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the various classrooms at South Side. Approximately seventy-five students from the

Two Seniors Win Road-eo Trophies

Richard Vaughan and David Schelen, seniors, were named the winner and runner-up, respectively, in the Allen County Teenage Safety Council Car Road-eo Saturday morning at the Memorial Coliseum. Other winners in the girls' division were Sharon Dew and Lois Knipstein, both of New Haven High School.

The Road-eo was a program designed to honor the safest and most skillful teenage drivers in both the Fort Wayne and Allen County schools. It was sponsored in accordance with the Insurance Women's Association of Fort Wayne which sponsors the group and the various law enforcement agencies.

Richard and David both received a trophy and will be honored again at the Allen County Teenage Safety Council Banquet June 12 at the Hobby House Restaurant.

RED CROSS BANQUETEERS . . . Preparing to sell tickets for the annual Red Cross Banquet, which will feature a speech by Mrs. D. E. McFadden, youth director of the local Red Cross, center, are, left to right, Nancy Byers, Judy Hollister, Linda Newell, and Kay Carrier.—Photo by Jones

Senior John Oglesbee Obtains Bonsib Foundation Scholarship

John Oglesbee, senior A, has been awarded the Bonsib Foundation Award to the American Academy of Art in Chicago, Ill., and William Cartwright, senior, is an alternate for the award. Susan Whitmer, junior, is an alternate for the famous artists' school non-residence course.

Judges in the competition were Miss Mary Zent, art supervisor of Fort Wayne Community Schools; Mr. Norman Klages, sales promotion manager of Lincoln National Life Insurance Company; and Mr. George Alatz, art director for General Printing Co.

THE ENTRIES WHICH John submitted were three oil paintings, a portrait of Patricia Oglesbee, a still-life of fruit, and a landscape of water works painted completely in tones of blue. These were all done last semester. He also submitted a letter telling why he wanted to receive the scholarship.

John is taking a General Business Course at South, and his subjects are English, art, economics, geography, business problems, and sociology. He enjoys bowling, baseball and auto racing.

The scholarship covers only the tuition at the American Academy of Art for one year, which is $700. However, since the course lasts three years, scholarships will be given by companies or wealthy residents of Chicago for the succeeding years.

AT THE AMERICAN Academy of Art, John plans to take either advertising, which would include drawing ladies' hats, men in suits, or women modeling dresses, or auto designing, which are in the overall category of Commercial Art.

On May 3, the winners had a picture taken at the Bonsib Foundation, and they were also interviewed. At a dinner meeting of the Art Directors Club in June, the awards will be presented to the winners, and Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art teacher, will be a guest.

Sally Boyer To Play For Final Symphony At Defiance Sunday

Sally Boyer, junior A, has been chosen to play with the Defiance Symphony Orchestra in its final program for the season. Sally, along with Nina French from Elmhurst and Sue Doorman from New Haven High School, will play with the orchestra in the Defiance Civic Auditorium Sunday at 8:15 p.m.

Having been recommended by her flute teacher, Mrs. James Barrett, Sally will perform with the orchestra on both her flute and piccolo, while Nina will play the bassoon and Sue the oboe.

The program will open with "Caucasian Sketches" by Ippolitov-Ivanov, which will feature a piccolo solo by Sally in the final movement. "Caucasian Sketches" has four main movements, and Sally will play with the orchestra on her piccolo throughout the entire suite.

The program will continue with "The Blue Danube Waltz" by Johann Strauss, "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin, "March from Scipio" by George Frederick Handel, and "Serenade for Strings" by Peter Ilitch Tchaikovsky.

Sally will play her flute with the orchestra during these light classics which have been selected as the orchestra's final offering.

Sally, who has been studying the flute for seven years, has won various awards in music competition. In the NISBOVA district contest, she has won four gold and one silver medal, and in the NISBOVA state contest she has won two gold medals. Sally occupies the first chair in the flute section of the South Side Orchestra.

Pianist To Perform At Music Conclave

Senior Sandra Yaggy appeared with several other Fort Wayne musicians in the program of the forty-second annual convention of the Indiana Federation of Music Clubs at the Marriott Hotel, Indianapolis, Saturday.

Sandra played "Violin Sonata," which she composed last year. She has also written "Cryptograms," a number for a small orchestra, which was performed in a recital at the Student Music Guild at the Morning Musical. Among the piano solos she has written are "Sonata," "The Sea," "Rhapsody," and "Nocturne."

Sandra took her first piano lessons at the age of two and one-half years from her father, Mr. Loren Yaggy. She has also played flute, piccolo, violin, and organ. She stated that she hopes to become a concert performer or a composer.

Among her hobbies are art and creative writing. Sandra considers her music as more than a hobby and thinks of it as a vocation.

While at South Side, Sandra has been a member of the band where she played flute, Masque and Gavel, Honorary Arts, accompanist for concert choir, for the modern dance group, and dance classes; vice-president of the Student Music Guild of the Morning Musical, a student member of the Music Teachers' National Association, National Honor Society.

Sue Smith, 12B, To Attend Convo At I. U. Campus

Sue Smith, managing editor of the Times, has been chosen by Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser, to attend the newspaper workshop at Indiana University from July 8 to July 21.

While at South Side, Sue has been a member of Assemblies Workshop, Wranglers, Philo, and secretary and dance chairman of Meterites and secretary of 1500 Club, having earned her gold-jeweled pin.

SHE ALSO HAS SERVED as feature and editorial editor, feature writer, outside circulation manager, bookhead, room agent, copy reader, and managing editor of the Times. Outside school she is vice-president of Luther League at Trinity English Lutheran Church.

This session, for newspaper editors and business managers only, will be conducted in lecture and laboratory sessions. The laboratory sessions will be divided on the basis of the enrollment of the student's school and the frequency and printing method of the publication he represents.

One section will be for letterpress weeklies, one for letterpress bi-weeklies, one for the less frequently printed papers, and one for mimeographed and offset papers.

Editors will analyze their papers for news coverage, news writing, editing, and make up. They will study editorial writing and headline writing, plan their first fall issue in detail, lay-out tentative plans for features and editorials for the year, and get a perspective of publication problems. They will receive individual attention in conferences with their instructors.

BUSINESS MANAGERS will study both income and expenditures. Subscription rates, percentage of circulation, advertising rates, and methods of distribution will be discussed, as well as printing and engraving costs, money-saving methods, and ways of earning supplementary revenue. Special instructions will be offered on advertising rates, sales, copy, and layout.

Enrollment in this session is limited to one editor and one business manager from each school. Editors will need a complete year's file of their papers, and business managers must have a financial statement and a breakdown of income and costs for the 1961-62 school year.

The students will live in the south-east wing of Wright Quadrangle and will eat most of their meals there. They will attend a Sunday picnic and a play at the Brown County Summer Playhouse.

City Social Studies Group Elects Mr. Richard Block

Mr. Richard Block, social studies teacher, has been elected temporary president of the projected Social Studies Council for teachers in the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

A member of the state council for the past few years, Mr. Block was instrumental in laying the groundwork for the organization which he thought Fort Wayne has needed greatly.

At the organization's meeting, a constitution was written and approved; and a program and temporary officers were selected. The group plans to meet four times each year beginning next fall.

Peggy Schmidt, Sandra Thorn Place Second, Third In Advertising Contest

Bishop Luers' Senior Wins First; Editorials
Relate Original Ideas

Junior Peggy Schmidt and Post-graduate Sandra Thorn have been named second and third place winners, respectively, of the annual High School Editorial Contest sponsored by the Fort Wayne Advertising Club. The winners were announced at the club's dinner meeting at The Holiday Inn Monday.

Students representing the seven Fort Wayne high schools were guests of the club. The Fort Wayne high school English teachers and Mr. Lester Grile, superintendent of schools, also attended.

South Side, Bishop Luers, Central Catholic, Concordia, Elmhurst, and North Side had several students entered in the local contest which is a part of the Advertising Federation of America's sixteenth annual contest. "Advertising and the Free World" was this year's topic.

JUDY DYKHUIZEN of Bishop Luers, as first-prize winner, received a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and an individual award plaque. Peggy Schmidt won second prize, a $25 bond and an individual plaque. As third-prize winner, Sandy Thorn received $15 in cash plus a plaque.

Four honorable mentions of five dollars each plus individual plaques will be awarded. Peggy and Sandy will receive their plaques on Recognition Day. All winners' names will also be engraved on permanent school plaques. The winning entry will be entered

Choir, Orchestra, Band To Give Spring Concert

MUSICAL ARRANGEMENT . . . At the annual Spring Concert tomorrow, the band, choir, and orchestra will present songs from Broadway musicals, marches, and spirituals. Left to right, Steve Pratt, Tom McMahon, Dian Leath, and Linda Newell are practicing for the performance.—Photo by Arnold

Students To Submit Applications To Summer School By June 11

The final deadline for submitting applications for summer school sessions has been set for June 11. Mr. David Cramer, teacher of mathematics, stated that early enrollment is needed for assurance of having a certain class.

The enrollment applications may be obtained from Mr. Cramer, and should be returned, with fees, to him before homeroom or after school in Room 80 as soon as possible. Applications include parent's and principal's signature of approval. Applications may also be sent to Central High School. Any checks should be made payable to High School Summer Session.

The classes will be at Central, and each class will last two hours a day for eight weeks from June 11 to August 3 inclusive. There are two, two-hour sessions each day, one beginning at 8 a.m., the other at 10 a.m.

ONE OR TWO SUBJECTS may be taken. The tuition fee for one subject is $26; for two, $47.

Courses offered in the first session at 8 a.m. are: 8X English; 6X English; 4X English; 2X English; Public Speaking 1; 6, 4, and 2Y English; 6, 4, and 2Z English; Z Government (Civics); 1Z U.S. History; World (General) History 1; Economics 1X,Y; U.S. History; College Algebra; Geometry 1; Algebra 1; Advanced Algebra; General Math; Chemistry 1; Biology 1; Health 1; Physics 1; General Science; Book-keeping 1; Typing 1; Typing 2; and a non-credit note course offered to college bound students as an aid in taking notes.

THE SECOND SESSION at 10 a.m. offers 7, 5, 3, and 1X English; Public

Rooms Deposit $172.80

Three students in Mr. Jack Morey's Room 62 banked $32.95 for first place. Second place was Mr. Jerry Fetter's Room 14 with two students banking $22.50; Mr. Clair Metz Room S-4 took third place with one student depositing $21. Altogether 31 homerooms banked $172.80.

Peggy Schmidt

in the Advertising Federation of America's national contest in which the grand prize winner will receive $500 and an all-expense-paid trip to the fifty-eighth annual Advertisers' Federation of America Convention in Denver, Colo., in June.

Dr. Ralph Broyles, director of Indiana University Center; Mr. Robert Daly, manager of Sears Roebuck and Company; Mr. Robert Johnson, business manager and advertising director of the Fort Wayne Newspapers; and Rev. Stanley Manoski, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, judged the local entries. The 1,000-word editorials were judged on the basis of originality

Speaking 2; 5, 3, and 1Y English; 5, 3, and 1Z English; XY Government (Civics); 2Z U.S. History; World (General) History 2; Sociology; 2XY U.S. History;

Trigonometry; Algebra 2; Geometry 2; Solid Geometry; Chemistry 2; Biology 2; Health 1; Physics 2; General Science 2; Bookkeeping 2; Typing 1; Typing 2; and a non-credit English Composition course offered to college bound students for additional training in writing themes and critiques.

Emma Adams, Principal of the Summer School Session, stated, "Absence, due to illness, must be made up in an afternoon session. Parents and students must agree that there is to be no time out for family vacations or summer camps or such. Careful selection of subjects is very important so that the school term in September will provide continuity of your program."

SHE EXPLAINED THAT the purpose of the Summer School is to give youngsters "opportunities to take courses required for graduation in order that electives might be taken during the regular school term and to make up courses that might have been failed."

There are no residence requirements for enrollments, and enrollments from out of town should be mailed to Emma Adams, Principal, Summer Session, Central High School. Phone No. is E-5127.

YFC Members Sponsor Motion Picture, Singing

A movie entitled "Seventeen" and some group singing will constitute the program for the meeting of the Youth for Christ Club tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

The new officers for next fall are Sally Boyer, president; Carolyn Human, vice-president in charge of management; Joe Zollinger, vice-president in charge of programming; Jerry Dunlap, quiz captain; and Joyce Dunlap, prayer and follow-up captain.

The objective of CAP is to develop a greater sensitivity toward the dependent person, examine thinking about social services in the community, and help motivate later participation in the community. This is attempted through small group discussions, field trips, and movies.

THE FIRST MEETING of the 45 Allen County high school juniors who are participants in CAP took place April 24 at the YMCA, when participants were introduced by the chairman of the evening program, Mr. How B. Minier, president of the Central Labor Council. Afterwards, a mixer-hop for the students was hosted by Jack Powell, of WANE-TV's Dance Date.

On April 28 the members of CAP saw a movie and were led in a discussion of a multi-problem family by heads of Catholic Social Services, Lutheran Social Service, and Family and Children's Service.

TWO FIELD TRIPS are scheduled for the students. On June 7 they will go to the Fort Wayne State School, and on June 9 the students will visit St. Vincent's Villa and the Allen County Home. Films telling the stories of people will be shown at other meetings. Meals at the meetings are provided by the YMCA.

The eight week program will terminate with graduation exercises in which students will be granted certificates signifying the completion of the course.

Lettermen Elect Officers

Pupils To Obtain Tickets At Door For Fifty Cents

Program To Feature Marching Numbers,
Broadway Musicals

Presenting the annual spring concert in the main gymnasium tomorrow at 8 p.m., the band, orchestra, and choir will perform songs from Broadway musicals, spirituals, and marches. Tickets for the program may be purchased at the door for 50 cents.

The Concert Orchestra will open the program with selections from "Fanny" by Harold Rome and arranged for orchestra by Philip Lang and "Paint Your Wagon," by Lerner and Loewe.

The first number from "Fanny" will be the theme song, "Never Too Late for Love" will be the next number followed by "Why Be Afraid to Dance?" which continues the gay and sprightly tempo.

A French horn solo brings out the rhythmic beat in "Restless Heart." The last two selections from "Fanny" will be "Love Is a Very Light Thing" and "Welcome Home."

The orchestra's final number will be "I Talk to the Trees," from "Paint Your Wagon."

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, director of instrumental music, the band will perform "Semper Fidelis," by John Philip Sousa; "Beatrice and Benedict," by Hector Berlioz; and "United States Overture," by Paul Cavale.

In the "United States Overture," the band will play the American folk tunes "Home on the Range," "Red River Valley," "Dixie," and "Yankee Doodle." "Semper Fidelis" will feature the majorettes.

Tom McMahon, post-graduate, will play the finale from Haydn's "Concerto No. 2," on the French horn.

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Lester Hosteller, will sing "Onward Ye People," by Jean Sibelius.

"Let There Be Peace," by Hawley Aides, the next offering of the choir followed by Noble Cain's "Let Not Your Song End."

The fourth and fifth period choir will end the program by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," accompanied by a trumpet trio and a tympanist.

Juniors To Examine City Health Services In Apprentice Group

Ann McCoy, Richard Platt, Jean Ann McGinley, Karen Snavely, and Marcia Good, South Side juniors, are participating in the eight-week City Apprenticeship Program sponsored for the second consecutive year by the Central Labor Council, the United Fund, and the United Chest Council.

This program is designed to give the 45 chosen high school juniors from twelve city and county schools an insight in the operation of the community's health and welfare services.

The objective of CAP is to develop a greater sensitivity toward the dependent person, examine thinking about social services in the community, and help motivate later participation in the community. This is attempted through small group discussions, field trips, and movies.

THE FIRST MEETING of the 45 Allen County high school juniors who are participants in CAP took place April 24 at the YMCA, when participants were introduced by the chairman of the evening program, Mr. How B. Minier, president of the Central Labor Council. Afterwards, a mixer-hop for the students was hosted by Jack Powell, of WANE-TV's Dance Date.

On April 28 the members of CAP saw a movie and were led in a discussion of a multi-problem family by heads of Catholic Social Services, Lutheran Social Service, and Family and Children's Service.

TWO FIELD TRIPS are scheduled for the students. On June 7 they will go to the Fort Wayne State School, and on June 9 the students will visit St. Vincent's Villa and the Allen County Home. Films telling the stories of people will be shown at other meetings. Meals at the meetings are provided by the YMCA.

The eight week program will terminate with graduation exercises in which students will be granted certificates signifying the completion of the course.

Lettermen Elect Officers

Elected as officers of the Lettermen's Club at the April 26 meeting are Senior Bob Lohman, president; Junior Gary Probst, vice-president; Senior Dale Hilsmer, secretary treasurer; and Junior Sid Sherry, sergeant-at-arms. These officers will serve during the 1962-63 school year.

National Flag Symbolizes Guiding Light Of Liberty

She is the guardian of freedom. An army answers her call to arms; the poor and weak come to her for strength; a nation pauses in respect as she passes. She is known to the world as the symbol of America, the guiding light of liberty, the Star Spangled Banner.

Old Glory was born when America was born and will die when America dies. She is significant as a sign of this country's past, present, and future. Significant as an answer to Washington's call for "a standard to which the wise and honest can repair."

America's flag journeyed with the bands of brave pioneers across endless prairies, barren plains, scorching deserts, and ice-locked mountain passes. She fostered 13 faltering colonies to statehood and waited patiently for half a continent to join the little band.

She swelled with pride when planted in growing cities. She felt the sad stain of native blood when her guns challenged aggressors. She bowed at half-mast when her children fell, but stayed aloft to protect her posterity.

The Banner revels in the winds of success as today her charges take joy in the fruits of past accomplishments. She waves in pride over industries, schools, parks, homes, transportation terminals, and government buildings. She soars triumphantly from the decks of ships.

Her future is foreshadowed as she looks upward to rockets shooting above her America. Her tomorrow is founded on a yesterday that has proved her people ready and able to forge ahead and to fight for their beliefs.

Old Glory is the courage, the wisdom, and the power of a nation "under God" devoted to preserving liberty, justice, and opportunity. She represents all that called a community to part with its parent country, all that has moved men to take the oath of United States citizenship, all that has made men willing to die to uphold a constitution.

"O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave" she will wave so long as liberty lives.—By Peggy Schmidt

Burning Of 'Midnight Oil' Slows Student Progress

The high school student, whether from participating in too many activities or from putting off assignments until the last moment, finds himself in the predicament of "burning the midnight oil" completing his daily tasks or studying for an examination at one time or another. What he does not realize or stop to think about is that it will probably hinder instead of help him.

A person that pursues his homework wisely and moderately will gain valuable benefits. His daily assignments or examinations will be done more accurately and efficiently.

One cannot deny that with a test there will be tension and pressure; but if a person knows his material, he will do well. Over-studying, on the other hand, will not accomplish this; for more often than not, a person will be sluggish, confusing facts and names because of fatigue; and studying will have been in vain.

On the other hand, the person will not learn much or receive good grades if he does not study at all.—By Krystyna Kriworotow

Letter To Dog Patch Shows Prom Events For Archer Couples

Dere Mammy and Pappy.

It shore hev bin a offoll long time since I rit yew, but I bin mitey bizz. Thwt I bettir set mizelf down and let yew now whatz goin' on in this here schools.

My gradze ain't too bad but my inglish teacher sez I can't spell too goode. Tol' hym I spelt lotz bettir then Pap. Course thatz cuz Pap can't evin read, mi teacher don't no that.

They had a fantzy prom at sown side a lytle while ago. Called it a nite too remembar. Shore wisht I couda took Daisy Mae, but that woodan bin propere cuz she woodan a gon bearfoote, and she can't find heels long enuf for her big feets. So I jist clumb up a wall and crawled in a winder wher I coud see everything reele goode.

Theme gals shore wore prettee dresses. Pat Wilson's was so ful that Neal Garris, (North Side) had to walk in the grazz. Some gals had to scruch there gonwuse too git down the stayers.

Flowerz on fellahs shore look sillee. Magine pinnin' a smellie roze on yer beste togs. The roses Janet Calvert hed was hewge enuff she couda 'trackted a hole swarm of beez. Tom Erb wantid to git dandelins for Kathy DeVore, but she sed theed make her sneze.

Their wuz this larg sine whichd some ritin on it and a brite lite shinin' ovir it. Wuzn't cloose enuff too reed the werds, but Linda Dollarhite and Guy Mannering wud the tytle sew I heard it. The name of this shindig wuz "A Night To Remember."

Dave Bowersman, Jane Van Buskirk, Gloria Barnes, and Wayne Neigh had a grate tyme tryin' to stab frozen rozes outa thee punch bole, usin' Gloria's nale file.

Marcia Evislizer and Roger Hafflinger (Bluffton) had trubble keepin' the folke form steppin' on her trane. Wyle they wuz dancin, Sussie Berk and Kenny Lowden almost felle ovir it.

I kin sure see why Wayne Arnett is in the Navy. He spent ten minutes trying to tie the streamers of Betty Ensley's drez in a saylor's nod.

A mean lookin' bear woodn't let Margee Terry feed it. Lex Smuta pulled hir hande away jist before the beast bit of hir fynger.

Jack Seigel shore did look funnie when he got hys hed in the cheeze-clawth wich hung near the theozan. Sondra Stender luffed sew harde that her teers smeered her mascara.

Why! Linda Seibel and Bill Rastetter wir tryin' too help them git out, Jane Augspurger broke too of hir fynger nales, and Ken Leakey got his hare all messed up.

Toni Sorrenson was thinkin' aboute trying on thee jewelled crowne, but Tom Galland remindede hir thet the stones might skrach her forehead. Carl Hike and Pam Pansky wir gettin in there carr to go to the affir prom partee when they discovered a flat tyre. Carl got his whyte cote plenteie derty why! he wuz foolin' arond with the jack.

Thatz howe the partee wuz, and I'm gettin' powerfull tired of ritin. Telle everybody in Dawg Pach I miss em, an' I'm stytle yer lytle boy.

Abner Yokum

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Strains of beautiful ukelele music softly drifting over the Esplanade by Sharon Carrel's house proves that summer is just around the corner. It reminds one of floating down the river in the moonlight or something like that. So far the tunes are limited to "Five Foot Two" and "Auld Lang Syne," but no one can tell that the melody is being repeated when Sue Perry joins in on her bongos and Dave Wallace adds to the beat on the spoons.

Another "first" for South Side was shown in the last music assembly. Who can dispute that the Archers are the best "oomph"-ers in town?

The Secretary of the Army is liable to receive some letters of complaint about sending G.I.'s home a day late for the Junior Prom. (Wonder how Liana Elmore's letter is coming along.) Oh well, try again next year.

Sixty-four thousand dollar question: Why is Jon Peto confined to the "dungeon" in the physics lab first period? Only one part of the English Honors Exam stumped Bill Mueller, and that was how to find page 4 in the test booklet.

"Man or manequin," who can make "Marvello" laugh? Al Purdy and Chuck Bodenborn have been saving up their funniest jokes and are determined to win the contest out at Southgate.

Latest fad: Broken bones and crutches. If you don't believe it, observe the band room some fifth period when Tom McMahon and Bill Kinsey are both trying to use the door at the same time. Further proof of the broken bones; however it isn't exactly the fad, is Neil Scheiman who is still in the hospital. (So happy to see Tom Irmischer and John McMillen back in school, though.)

Question:

Why do some people (like Lex Smuts, Allen Purdy, Jim Lantz, Terry Smith, Matt Cornnachione, Jim McNahon, Paul Cochran, Bruce Baldwin, and Bill Hanke) eat great quantities of celery?

a. Onions make them cry
b. They have to pack their own lunches
c. They can't drink water on tennis days

By the way, fans, they could use some loyal school support.

"The British are coming! Poor Bob Wasson is only about 200 years behind schedule, but it's patriotism that counts.

Really, Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Nancy Redding, and Christine Fruechtenicht, you don't have to go clear down to Ball State Journalism Convention to take a rest near a deserted lake. They must have been getting inspired before they wrote a lovely feature because they would never deliberately lie down on the job. (Would they?)

Thoughts for the day: Twenty days until graduation and golf sectionals are tomorrow.

Letters To The Editor

Miss Sandy Thorn
Columnist
South Side Times
South Side High School

Dear Miss Thorn:

That which I state in this letter is purely personal opinion. I care not whether you print it.

You are a fine and capable writer, who is well-informed, is evident. But, like so many of your contemporaries, you appear to be perverted by those clever, socialistic word-jostlers who maintain that the Kennedy Administration can do only good and that to discover a fault in it is a sin of horrendous magnitude.

It is high time that some Americans assumed the responsibility of exposing the extirpation of values occurring in the executive branch of our federal government. I would suggest that Kennedy, the boy, is dismantling the playground equipment (which was once free democracy) and is handing it to his accomplices to reconstruct in his own back yard. And he's doing it in the open now. What is a "planned economy?" A five-year plan.

Let's open our eyes to what's going on! Let's criticize if need be. Do you really mean to say that the Americans know that Kennedy is missing the boat? They do not seem to.

I submit that Mr. Goldwater's statement concerning a loaded pistol on the President's desk was not exaggerated one bit. A man who states that all businessmen are S.O.B.'s is surely not a man who would support their further ventures—he is an irrational, irresponsible hoodlum.

Is Goldwater seeking the Presidency? Perhaps. There is nothing wrong with trying to be President, especially in such a time of need as the present. Is Senator Goldwater making sense? To this question the answer is a definite "yes." You seemed to find no factual fault with what he said. We must remember the Senator was addressing a Republican meeting and not an assembly with mixed convictions.

Somebody's got to get the truth sometime. Face reality. As Mr. Goldwater so simply stated, "Are we to be slave or free?" Are we to have a controlled economy, a submissive foreign policy, and a "leader" who uses the pretense of benefitting the individual while destroying that which makes him an individual? Or are we to return to our role as free, strong-willed, competitive, Americans who take pride in their rights and liberties? There can be only one answer for a true American!

Sincerely,
Steven Pratt
Class of 1962

Editor's Note: While Mr. Pratt is entitled to his opinion, The South Side Times found his letter contained the jargon which he criticized Miss Thorn for using in her column.

Honey To . . .

New chemistry desks that hook together.
Students who come to class prepared.
College boys who write letters.
Intellectuals who benefit from doing their own work.
Beloved frosh who have that certain smile for seniors.

Fasten Your Seat Belts

Grade School Prophecy Reveals 'Aspirations' Of 1962 Graduates

By Sandy Thorn

Graduation from high school is just a few days away. This brings back memories—memories which even extend back to "the good old days" of grade school and junior high. As most will agree, better times were to follow. And for many, even better times are ahead. The four years in high school were considerably short—looking back. Probably, the last week will be the longest.

January 15, 1958, was a very special day as far as a special group of excited freshmen-to-be stood on the stage at Harrison Hill Grade School. These students were to go on to South Side and become the Class of 1962. Of course, this is only a part of the graduating class—a very small portion.

When we reached South, we met other students who graduated from other grade schools. Then, being post graduates, we found ourselves with the class which also graduated in Harrison Hill's June, 1958, class.

Always having the habit of saving everything, I was looking through an old scrapbook and found the two Harrison Hill Beacons which I edited at a "proudly-mounted" spot in the book. Looking through one, I found the class prophecy. What entertainment. Sharon Carrel and Sandy Miller can take credit for the following writing. I thought the particular class, as well as friends, might enjoy it.

"FASTEN YOUR SAFETY belts, please." As our plane left the ground at Baer Field, little did we realize that we would greet all of our former 8A classmates before we returned home.

The plane gained altitude, leveled off, and we made ourselves comfortable with the able assistance of our gracious stewardess, Ann Golden. We chatted for a few minutes and were both surprised and pleased when she told us that our pilot was Mark Hagerman, another one of our classmates.

Ann also pointed out several Harrison Hill graduates on the plane, a few of whom were Marjane Tobey, the famous "Advice from the Lovelorn" columnist; Steve Sharp, the dynamic Senator from Indiana; and the newly married Diane Hall and her husband on their honeymoon.

Our plane taxied down the runway, and the air terminal loomed in front of us. We had reached our destination. At last here was the glamorous Hollywood we had heard so much about. As we entered the building, we paused to buy a few pencils from the poor man on the corner. We stopped for a second glance for there selling pencils was our old classmate, Tom McMahon.

We gave him our greetings and turned just in time to see the famous private eye, Richard Dobson, and his worthy assistant, Richard Adamonis, hurrying to catch the next plane. As we started to leave, whom did we see shining shoes but Dave Anderson. He shined our shoes for a small fee and called an airport limousine for us.

THE BAGGAGE MAN who, to our surprise, was Kenton King, gathered up our bags and ushered us to the

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Joyce Brittenham, '60, will represent Indiana in the student talent contest which is to be held in Detroit on May 19. The contest is to be conducted as part of the convention of the National Student Nurses' Association. Joyce, who attends Indiana Central College, will sing a selection from "Madame Butterfly."

Penny Hunt, '60, a sophomore at Carleton College, has, scholastically been ranked among the top 15 per cent of the women in her class. She was also placed in this rating in her freshman year.

Mike Schiebel, '54, was honored by the Speech and Hearing Department of Ball State Teachers College for being an outstanding student.

Dick McGaw, '60, a sophomore at Indiana University, is a member of a committee planning the annual Freshman Camp at McCormick's Creek State Park in September. This event is a three-day outing for incoming freshmen.

Engaged to be married are Phyllis Redding, '61, and Richard Cahoon, a graduate of Elmhurst High School. Phyllis graduated from Warner Beauty College and is now employed by the Wolf & Dessauer Beauty Salon. Her fiancé is attending the General Electric apprentice school.

Molly Dixon, '61, a freshman at Cottey College in Nevada, Mo., has been offered a $500 scholarship by the six PEO chapters in Fort Wayne to help pay for expenses during her sophomore year. The main function of the PEO is supporting Cottey College.

car chauffeured by Judy Ashman.

Noting the look of astonishment on our faces, she explained that every limousine was driven by a girl and that another one of our pals, Sharon Krakower, earned her living by that means, also.

The ride to the hotel was a pleasant one with weather and scenery to our liking. Our car pulled up to the fabulous Thiemeston Arms, another addition to the chain of hotels owned by Tom Thiem, and the doorman, who was Kenneth Kennedy, greeted us.

By this time we were very hungry so we chose the well renowned Brown Top Hat in which to dine. After we went inside, the head waiter, Roy Stirlen, found us a very good table to view over the whole dining room. We knew that this restaurant was a meeting place for motion picture artists so we kept a sharp lookout for them.

YES, OVER IN THE corner booth sat the famed director and producer, Larry Gerig, surrounded by a bevy of movie starlets known as the "Gerig Girls." And one of them was Janice Pedman. We were getting up to go talk to them when we heard a piercing scream from outside the restaurant.

We ran to the door and found a mass of teenagers shrieking, gasping, and pulling at someone. A friend of ours in the crowd, Peggy Floyd, explained that the rock and roll idol, Roxy Locks, had just stepped out of his convertible. She went on to say that we would remember him as Phil Bennett, from Harrison Hill, and that she had since become his agent and manager. We had a nice talk with Peggy and for a brief moment paid our respects to Phil.

Since it was still early in the afternoon, we decided to visit a movie studio. We hailed a cab driven by Fred Plotte and asked him to take us to one of the closest ones, which happened to be the M.J.M. Later we found out the initials were of the founder-president's name, Mary Jane Miller. We were stopped at the gate by the gate-keeper, Kaylene Gebert.

We talked for a few minutes while she made our identification cards and let us through. We had no more than entered when we were attracted by a director shouting at some cameramen. We recognized his voice as that of Ralph Addikson. We rushed over to see what was happening and were very surprised to find out that the cameramen were none other than Mike Seeman and David Lane.

THEY HAD JUST finished shooting a scene from the new production, "Mouseketeers on Parade." To our amazement, we discovered that six of the Mouseketeers were old classmates: Debbie Turklow, Jenny Manth, Brenda Arnold, Markisha Raymond, and John Nickles. Leading the group in song was their national president, Jim Hill.

As we were walking on, we came upon a group listening attentively to the guide, Susan Bash. Among the tourists were Diane Carpenter, Yvonne Swartz, Carolyn Martin, and Don McKay. They were all gazing intently at a group of stars being made up by Michael Leaman, the famous make-up artist.

The charming movie actress, Trudy Estep, was having her hair done by the famous stylist, Sandy Miller, and standing nearby manicuring nails was Sandy Thorn.

After a tiring day we returned to our hotel to eat before going to a nightclub. We told the desk clerk to awaken us at 6:30 p.m. At 11 p.m., we arrived at the Club Gebert. The owner of the exclusive club, Kaylene Gebert, let us in. As we entered, we left our coats with the hat check girl, Sheri Hall. We were led to our table by the head waitress, Elaine Baxter.

WE SAT DOWN and when we summoned the cigarette girl, we were pleased to find it was Sharon Carrel. We began watching the floor show, and once again we were surprised to see Susan Lewis, Sue Lee, Carolyn Pio, and Elaine Snow. In the next act we heard a beautiful song by Bill Branning followed by the famous dance team, David Wright and Susan Phillips.

We returned to our hotel room exhausted and excited. We called for room service to get a cup of hot chocolate before retiring. We were surprised to hear the familiar voice of Jeanne Davis over the wire. The chocolate was brought to us by the very polite and helpful maid, Mary Ellen Hite. We settled down to relax and reminisce over the day's happenings, a wonderful beginning to what we were sure would be a wonderful vacation!

Thus, ends the class prophecy which appeared in the December 17, 1957, issue of the Harrison Hill Beacon. Did anyone else notice that Kaylene Gebert had advanced from a gate-keeper to the owner of a night club in the course of events? Such were the days at Harrison Hill for a small part of the 1962 graduating class of South Side.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know what two places were named for Easter Sunday?

Answer. They are Easter Island, in the South Pacific, and the State of Florida. Easter Island was discovered in 1722 and is now owned by Chile. Its name in Spanish is Pascua meaning Easter. From the term Pascua Florida meaning Flowery Easter, the explorer Ponce de Leon on Easter Sunday in 1513 chose the word Florida for the name of the flower-filled land he discovered and claimed for Spain.

Question. Do you know how Mount Palomar, the site of an astronomical observatory in California, was named?

Answer. The name is Spanish and means pigeon roost or dove cot. It was the name originally given the mountain by early settlers because it was the home of many thousands of band-tailed pigeons. Palomar appeared on early maps, but the mountain later became known for a time as Smith Mountain, after a man of that name established a ranch there. On December 1, 1901, upon petition of its citizens, the name Palomar was officially adopted by the Board of Geographic Names in Washington, D.C.

Question. Do you know the dates on which the seasons begin this year?

Answer. Spring began on March 20 at 9:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time; summer begins on June 21 at 4:24 p.m., EST; autumn begins on September 23 at 7:35 a.m., EST; and winter begins on December 22 at 3:15 a.m., EST.

Question. Do you know how the Japanese cherry trees came to be around the Tidal Basin in Washington, D.C.?

Answer. On March 27, 1912, the first two of these trees were planted by Mrs. William Howard Taft, wife of the then President of the United States, and by Viscountess Chinda, wife of the Japanese Ambassador to the United States. The rest of the 3,000 trees, the gift of Japan's capital city, Tokyo, were planted by employees of the Office of Public Buildings and Grounds. Earlier, in 1907, 80 Japanese cherry trees imported by Mrs. Taft were planted along the Potomac River.

Question. Do you know when or by whom the umbrella was invented?

Answer. Nobody knows. The umbrella probably originated in hot, sunny climates as a protection against the sun, and was one of the insignia of royalty and privilege. Sculptured remains of ancient Nineveh and Egypt show kings and other potentates walking in processions, umbrellas held over their heads by slaves. The name is from the Latin word umbra, meaning shade. The umbrella was used in Europe as a protection against rain by the early 1700's.

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922. Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Competition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager . . . . . Sue Kelley
Managing Editor . . . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Breno, Sally Mallough, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitchell
News Editor . . . . . Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor . . . . . Sally Sweet
Editorial Editor . . . . . Bill Wilder
Boys' Sports Editor . . . . . Terry Newendorp
Girls' Sports Editor . . . . . Janice Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors . . . . . Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett, Janet Breno
Picture Editor . . . . . Janice Nahrwald
Photographers . . . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seeman, Steve Jones
Head Typist . . . . . Leanna Morris
Business Manager . . . . . Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager . . . . . Sue Moyer
Advertising Manager . . . . . Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager . . . . . Dick Parke
Circulation Assistant . . . . . Nancy Redding
Circulation Assistant . . . . . Lis Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twitchell
Faculty Adviser . . . . . Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grile, Sally Sweet, James Rohrabough

MINOR STAFF

News Writers . . . . . David Flanigan, Ann Flitckinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Margee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Biese, Larry Brown, Pat Conney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cochran, LeVonne Curran, Kate Yerger, Diane Christine Fruechtenicht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers . . . . . Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Danny Dockert, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wellman, Rae Anne, Herb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hansen, Jean Ann McGilgity, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubin, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Cheryl Knelle, Ann Hansen, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Hirth, Sue Flinch, Carol Ladie, Paul Mittlestent, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brum, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Sealfrank.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Goussman, Joyce K. Marindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Flinch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Parke.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Killefzen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Peto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Solder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Blagoberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Flitrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Falt, Harriet Orstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Fionell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladig, Gail Brum, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janice Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schillig, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.

Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruechtenicht, Sally Adams, Mary Broadway, Cheryl Lee, Eddy Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Hirth, Sue Flinch, Carol Ladie, Paul Mittlestent, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brum, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Sealfrank.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Goussman, Joyce K. Marindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Flinch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Parke.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Killefzen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Peto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Solder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Blagoberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Flitrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Falt, Harriet Orstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Fionell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladig, Gail Brum, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janice Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schillig, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruechtenicht, Sally Adams, Mary Broadway, Cheryl Lee, Eddy Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Hirth, Sue Flinch, Carol Ladie, Paul Mittlestent, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brum, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Sealfrank.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Goussman, Joyce K. Marindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Flinch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Parke.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Killefzen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Peto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Solder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Blagoberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Flitrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Falt, Harriet Orstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Fionell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladig, Gail Brum, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janice Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schillig, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruechtenicht, Sally Adams, Mary Broadway, Cheryl Lee, Eddy Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Hirth, Sue Flinch, Carol Ladie, Paul Mittlestent, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brum, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Sealfrank.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Goussman, Joyce K. Marindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Flinch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Parke.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Killefzen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Peto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Solder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Blagoberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Flitrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Falt, Harriet Orstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Fionell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladig, Gail Brum, Karen Snavely, Kay Bradley, Janice Sprunger, Alice Habegger, Mary Schillig, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.
Editorial Writers . . . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruechtenicht, Sally Adams, Mary Broadway, Cheryl Lee, Eddy Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Hirth, Sue Flinch, Carol Ladie, Paul Mittlestent, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Annell Hoover, Gail Brum, Alice Habegger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyna Kriworotow, Diane Sealfrank.
Copy Readers . . . . . Kaylene Gebert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Goussman, Joyce K. Marindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Flinch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Parke.
Boys' Sports Writers . . . . . Bill Killefzen, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Peto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.
Ad Solicitors . . . . . Cynthia Solder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habegger, Marlene Blagoberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Judy Shadle, Beth Brad

Meterites To Present Installation, Annual Recognition Party Tuesday

Graduating Members To Earn Certificates For Excellent Work

Meterites will present its semester Recognition Tea at 8:30 p.m. in Room 112. This tea is presented every semester by the girls of the club to honor those graduating and to install the newly-elected officers.

The officers for the fall semester are Sally Henderson, president; Nina Shevchenko, vice-president; Pat Richardson, secretary; and Sue Jorgensen, treasurer, who will serve for both fall and spring semesters. This semester's officers are Sue Klahn, president; Christine Fruechtenicht, vice-president; Cheryl Lee, secretary; and Judy Ruhl, treasurer.

The sophomore A girls who are graduating are Sally Adams, Virginia Barnes, Mary Beaudway, Suellen Borgmann, Barbara Bussard, LaVonne Custance, Lynelle Dill, Charlotte Dinius, Karen Franks, Christine Fruechtenicht;

LOIS GALLIMORE, Jenny Hamerstein, Sue Klahn, Fran Krandell, Cheryl Lee, Sharon McEachern, Barbara Nelson, Nancy Ormsby, Nancy Redding, Barbara Ross, Judy Ruhl, Ruth Russ, and Sue Smith.

The tea will begin with a poem written and read by Nina Shevchenko. Following her poem will be the installation of the new officers.

Certificates and pins, which are to be taken care of by Barb Ross, will then be presented to the graduating girls. Barb will also present ribbons to the high-point freshmen and sophomores.

AS ENTERTAINMENT, Lois Gallimore, Fran Krandell, and Sherry Spencer will play a flute trio; Julie Rhinehart and Karen Franks will sing a humorous song; and Christine Fruechtenicht will read a poem.

Refreshments will be served after the talent. Punch and cookies are being prepared by Lynelle Dill and her committee, consisting of Sally Adams, Julie Rhinehart, Virginia Barnes, Ruth Russ, Mary Graham, Ann Goebble, Barbara Bussard, Jenny Hamerstein, Fran Krandell, LaVonne Custance, Alice Fruechtenicht;

Christine Fruechtenicht, Sharon Thiele, Linda Stanger, Marianne Harpel, and Sue Jorgensen. Fran Krandell will play the piano while refreshments are being served.

THE TABLE WILL be decorated with a pink tablecloth and gray candles, which are the club's colors. A mother and her children will be pictured on the bulletin board. Sally Adams and Alice Fruechtenicht are in charge of the decorations.

Invitations are being issued to all the mothers by Charlotte Dinius and the girls on her committee: Barbara Bussard, Barbara Ross, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudway, Nancy Ormsby, Carol Lake, Doris Atzoff, Lynelle Dill, Susan Smith, and Lois Gallimore.

All the mothers will be honored, and the past members will be asked to stand. Miss Susan Peck, past sponsor of the club, and Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, are the special guests.

GAA To Honor Members With Award Presentation

GAA members will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the girls' gym, at which all the awards will be presented and the incoming officers announced.

Officers who will be in charge of the GAA meeting are Jan Nahrwald, president, and Beth Randall, point recorder. The awards which will be presented are arm band numerals for 300 points, letters for 1,500 points, and gold pins for 2,000 points.

At the end of the first semester Seniors Virginia Kachlamanis had 2,442 points, and Jenny Slater had 2,503 points. The girl with the most points will have her name engraved on a plaque.

Girls who participate in GAA get points for attendance; major sports which are speedball, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, softball, and track; the minor sports are tennis, ping-pong, and badminton played in tournaments; and individual points are given for hiking, skiing, bowling, and swimming.

DON SCHMIDT
ACCORDION SCHOOL
Certified by Amer. Accordion Assn.
Private Instruction & Accordion Band
RENTAL PLAN—SALES—SERVICE
828 Oxford H-9606

CARRIAGE INN
3717 S. Clinton St.

Beaver Beauty Salon
1112 Home Avenue H-3863
MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator
Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

TEA'S THE TOPIC . . . of the discussion between Kathy Klas, back, Lynelle Dill, left, and Sharon McEachern and Jenny Hamerstein, front. They are planning the program for the Meterite Mother-Daughter Tea on Tuesday at which time awards will be presented. —Photo by Triplett

Four Students Volunteer Time To Work In Summer Camps

Preparing to work at summer church work camps are Junior Kathy DeVore, Junior Pat Slater, Senior Lissa Hoffman, and Sophomore David Fairchild. Pat, Lissa, and David are representing Plymouth Congregational Church, and Kathy will represent Trinity English Lutheran Church. These workers volunteer their time, share in living expenses, and pay for their transportation.

Kathy will work with 17 other campers between the ages of 15 and 24 at the state mental institution in Norris-town, Pa. The work camp will open July 10 and close July 26.

Kathy is being sponsored by the Luther League of America. She was chosen by application on the basis of references and other information.

The purpose of the conference is for the campers to renovate the recreational areas and to have limited contacts with the patients.

THE MORNING program will consist of work projects concerned with the renovation of the grounds. Afternoons will be spent in visiting patients, touring the institution, and working on projects with the patients. Spare time will be spent by touring such places as Philadelphia, Valley Forge, and the surrounding area. Bible studies and church services will occupy the evenings.

At her church, Kathy is a member of Luther League, corresponding secretary of Luther League of Indiana, evangelism secretary for the Northeast District of LLI, service project chairman of Luther League; and she teaches junior high Sunday School.

DURING HER YEARS at South Side, Kathy, a junior, has been a member of Wranglers, has played clarinet in band and orchestra and also piano, and presently is the news editor of the Times, having earned her gold-jeweled pin.

David will work at a camp for emotionally disturbed children at Woodbury, Vt., from June 29 to August 4. David was selected by the youth director of his church. He, along with fellow work campers, will work on projects to repair some of the older buildings and roads.

DAVE IS A member of Wranglers, Know Your City, and Assemblies Workshop at South Side. At his church he is a member of Pilgrim Fellowship.

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!
Teenagers And the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Year Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

lowship, representative to the P.F. cabinet, United Christian Youth Movement president, and Northern Association president.

Pat will attend the Demo Homes Development work camp in Southeast Missouri from July 9 to August 4. She and other camp youth will paint and renovate homes, working in the nine villages located in the development, a non-profit housing agency for farm labor families.

State recording secretary of Pilgrim Fellowship, Pat is a member of Wranglers, having won first place at the Howe Inexperienced Speech Meet and the school trophy for humorous reading; Assemblies Workshop; and is a member of the Chancel Choir of Plymouth Congregational Church.

ALSO, SHE HAS participated in the play, "The Wizard of Oz," and the opera, "Noyes Fludd," and has sung "Alice in Wonderland" at the Fort Wayne Philharmonic. She also is a member of the Morning Musical.

Wadley, Ala., is the location of the work camp to which Lissa has been assigned. Her time will be spent restoring and painting junior college buildings used to house students from low-income families during school months. Lissa will work from June 25 to July 22.

Lissa now serves as second vice-president of Pilgrim Fellowship. At South Side, she has been president of Philo, a member of Wranglers and Assemblies Workshop, and has received her second Service Club pin. She has also been the Totem club editor, a Times feature writer and homeroom reporter, a member of Masque and Gavel, National Honor Society, and four-year honor roll.

Girls' Dean Aids League

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, is serving as a board member of the Allen County League for the Blind for a three-year term. She was elected at the Board's April 26 meeting.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

GOLLER'S
DRY CLEANERS
606 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

CRESTWOOD
another outstanding community by Shirmeyer
Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northcrest Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.
8 MODEL HOMES OPEN
DAILY IN CRESTWOOD

Pupils To Take Part In Pioneer Program Throughout Summer

Outings to the Adirondack Mountains in upper New York State will be taken this summer by youths in the Advanced Pioneer program at the Young Men's Christian Association's Camp Potawatami, Pokagon State Park.

Archers who will participate in this outing are Bob Wasson, Paul Cochran, Andy Christon, Denny Truitt, and Steve Bill. Campers who will attend South Side next year are Tom Gallmeyer and John McAllister.

Boys between the ages of 13 and 18 who have had considerable camping experience are eligible for the Camp Potawatami Advanced Pioneers. This is an extended travel camping group under the supervision of Mr. Robert Weber, botany teacher.

IN THE PAST THIS group has traveled to such places as the Quetico-Superior area in Northern Minnesota for a canoe trip; to the Smokey Mountains for camping, hiking, and climbing on the lower Appalachian Trail; to the White Mountains in New England for hiking, camping, and outdoor adventure on the upper Appalachian Trail; and to the Grand Teton Mountains, Yellowstone Park; Rocky Mountain National Park, and the Grand Canyon for outdoor living plus mountain climbing. This includes a climb up the Grand Teton, the highest mountain in the Teton range.

Firearms and fireworks are prohibited in camp. Campers may not leave the camp grounds without the permission of the director. Swimming is permitted only under supervision at scheduled times.

Parents or guardians must supply campers with blankets, sheets, pillow cases, towels, shirts, socks, underwear, and handkerchiefs. A suggested checklist will be mailed to the camper upon registration.

A REGISTRATION fee of $25 for each trip reserved must accompany an application. The registration fee is included in the camp fee and is not refundable. Checks are to be made payable to YMCA Camp Potawatami and may be mailed or taken to the YMCA, 226 East Washington Boulevard.

On the Adirondack trip, the boys will camp overnight in upper New York State, climb the Green Mountains of Vermont, the White Mountains of New Hampshire, and the Presidential Range. Hiking, climbing, and camping in the mountain area will be featured on the trip.

Interested Archers may register for this trip at the YMCA office or through Mr. Weber in Room 76. A canoe trip to Minnesota is being planned from June 15 to June 29.

Tri Kappa To Give Pins To Top Pupils

For the first time, Tri Kappa awards will be given to the students in the top one per cent of the junior class on Underclass Recognition Day, Monday, June 4.

The Gamma Lambda Chapter will give gold pins engraved "Scholarship" as an incentive for top junior students to continue scholarship during their senior year and to make sophomores work harder to be eligible.

Mrs. Louis Knight is scholarship chairman of Gamma Lambda, and her committee includes Mrs. William Meily and Mrs. Robert Smith.

THE COMPTOMETER SCHOOL
305 Central Bldg.
A-7217

Totem Staff Compiles Yearbook With Color Pages, New Index

HEAP BIG POW WOW . . . Sending up smoke signals to announce the revealing date of the 1962 Totem are Babs Jones, editor-in-chief, and Diane Fredrick, associate editor. All students who purchased the Totem will receive it May 24.—Photo by Jones

Having served as Totem editor and associate editor, respectively, Babette Jones and Diane Fredrick will see on May 24, the day the 1962 Totem is issued, the result of the project they started in the spring of 1961. Since that time the girls and their staff have spent many hours planning the various sections of the Totem and then executing them.

Because of its new and larger size, nine inches by 12 inches, the Totem will have 184 pages and larger pictures. Another new feature will be the group club pictures for the organization section. A special academic section has been added this year, and the faculty section will include only pictures of teachers and some of their activities. Sandra Thorn has compiled an index for the yearbook.

The Totem will open with spot coloring on the first 16 pages, a technique used in two pictures in last year's book. However, unlike the '61 Totem, this book will not contain the class polls pictures. These have been omitted because the editors feel that they show no originality and are outdated.

CIRCULATION FOR this year's annual reached 2,000 subscriptions. Babette announced that a few Totems will be available for students who did not buy one during the campaign. These extra copies will cost $3.75 and will not have the student's name engraved on the cover. The regular cost of the yearbook during the campaign was $3.50.

In contrast with many high school yearbooks, the Totem has only four advertisers, allowing more pages for actual school coverage. Watters Studio, where senior pictures are taken; Keefer Printing Company, Inc.; National School Studios, who take the underclassman pictures; and Lincoln Engravers, Inc., are those businesses which advertise in the Totem.

"THE TIME SPENT on this project has certainly had a number of rewards," stated Babette. "What is most satisfying to me is to assign a picture, write the copy for it, lay it out in its particular section, and send it to the printers where it returns as a finished page.

Diane Fredrick, who works with Babs as associate editor, expressed many of these same views. She also mentioned that she and Babette have learned much in a new field of knowledge. She acknowledged the help which Mr. James Rohrabough, Totem adviser, has given the staff throughout the year.

"ANOTHER FACET of working with the book this year that I liked has been the various journalism conventions which Babs and I have attended. We have met many other yearbook editors and have been given a wonderful opportunity for an exchange of ideas," stated Diane. "Keeping the color of the cover a secret is something which I have thought was rather a frivolous enjoyment but, nevertheless, fun," she continued.

Members of the staff for the 1962 Totem are, in addition to Babette and Diane, Dian Leath, picture editor; Ken Lowden, head photographer; Steve Jones and Mike Seaman, assistant photographers; Terry Newendorp, boys' sports editor; Bill Borgmann, assistant boys' sports editor; Louise Jackson, girls' sports editor; Bill Kleifgen, intramurals editor;

Karen Simmons, faculty editor; Dave Flanigan, assistant faculty editor; Lissa Hoffman, organization editor; Sally Franklin, music editor; Julie Waddington, art editor; Sue Horth, senior class editor; Debby Brooke, junior class editor; Ann Golden, assistant junior class editor; Mary Keegan, sophomore class editor; Bonnie Russell, assistant sophomore class editor; Sally Bash, freshman class editor; and Cindy Christman, assistant freshman class editor.

Copy editors are Lyall Morrill, Cheryl Summers, and Sharon Carrel. The circulation campaign was organized by Susie Hines and Barb Spiers. Their assistants were Sarah Finch, Sue McGinnis, Elizabeth Ellis, Jo Ellen Bobay, Marilyn Cole, Sue Harrod, Sharon Eitman, and Sue Perry.

Kaylene Gebert Gets Philo Honor Award; Club To Have Picnic

Kaylene Gebert, post-graduate, received the Ella Jo Reed Cup at the Philo Mother-Daughter tea May 7. The cup is annually presented to the senior who has earned the highest number of points.

Certificates were also presented to the seniors who have at least 300 points. Receiving them were Brenda Arnold, Elaine Cole, Ann Golden, Lissa Hoffman, Karen Simmons, Cheryl Summers, and Barb Uhl.

New officers were also elected at the tea. Serving next semester will be Sue Burdick, president; Ann Gallmeyer, vice-president; Erin Rose, secretary; Karen Finfrock, treasurer; Sally Mallough, program chairman, and Karen Miller, sergeant-at-arms.

THE CUP WAS presented to Philo by the parents of Ella Jo Reed, now Mrs. Patrick Russ, to honor their daughter, who was active in the club. Mrs. Russ' daughter, Ruth, is a sophomore.

Kaylene has earned 640 points. She was vice-president of the club last semester and associate editor of the fall 1961 Pegasus. Currently she is a Times copy reader and a member of Service and Library Clubs. She is planning to attend Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., in the fall.

The Philo picnic will be Monday at Lissa Hoffman's home 5001 North Washington Road at 5:30 p.m. Cheryl Summers is in charge of the food and Martha Dixon entertainment. New officers will be installed at the picnic.

"MEMBERS WHO WISH to attend the picnic and did not sign to bring food at the last meeting should contact me immediately," stated Cheryl.

Present officers are Lissa Hoffman, president; Erin Rose, vice-president; Ann Golden, treasurer; Julia Breidenstein, secretary; Martha Dixon, program chairman; and Ann Gallmeyer, sergeant-at-arms.

Janice Ferber Wins Grant

Janice Ferber, '61, has won a $125 scholarship to Indiana University to be used either on campus or at an extension. It was issued by the Indiana University Alumni of Allen County.

While at South Side, Janice was a member of the orchestra, Service Club, and Societas Latin. She also won recognition in Latin last year and won the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award.

Adolph's Auto Service

4220 South Clinton H-4152

KNIPSTEIN Pharmacy

1527 Oxford St.

Pontiac Florist

914 E. Pontiac
H-2223

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service
QUICK CHICK
3213 DECATUR RD.

PROM WHITE!
• WHITE JACKETS
• PASTEL COLORS
"FORMAL ACCESSORIES"
SENIORS . . . RENT THE LATEST STYLES
AT
SPECIAL RATES FOR STUDENTS
RUSSELL'S TUXEDO RENTAL
215 W. Washington
E-9816
OPEN EVENINGS FREE PARKING

North Side's Redskins Regain Sectional Title

Archers Place Third, Qualify Seven Thinlies For Regionals

North Side's favored track squad came through with a decisive victory in the Fort Wayne Sectional Meet last Friday evening. The weather conditions were good and some fairly good performances were tossed on the fire.

Mike Dennis, New Haven's stocky, red-headed fireball, took both the sprints in good form. He ripped off the 100-yard event in 10.1 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 22.7 seconds. In the century Wright failed to qualify for the finals for South Side and Tom Shine finished fifth behind Dennis in the climax of this event.

The New Haven winner's hundred time looks fairly good compared to some of the other near Sectional times but looks somewhat weak beside Ben Rivers' "slow" 9.9-second time the same day (Rivers' best mark of the season has been 9.6 seconds.) Dale Hilsmer fought right down to the tape to mark up a fourth-place Sectional berth for him, moving him on to the tough Regional grind next week.

THE 440-YARD DASH proved to be the most exciting race of the night as North Side's Bill Pool challenged both first-place Bandemer and second-place Tom Frazzell with a come-from-behind finish that had all of the more than two thousand fans present standing on the edge of their seats. For the last 20 yards of the race both the South Siders had to run with everything to hold off the Redskins.

Bandy's winning time was 50.9 seconds while Frazzell brought in a 51-second flat time followed by Pool's 51.1 second time to verify the closeness of this race. Bandemer's tremendous effort both against teammate Tom Frazzell and North's Pool completely exhausted the fleet Archer and he finished sixth in the 220-yard dash which followed; he was supposed to win or place high in this event.

The half-mile run showed a very good time with Steve Konow from North placing first in his heat with a 1:59.6 while in the previous heat Reinhold Mueller, Elmhurst's fine distance man clocked off a 2:01 plus. Archers Stu Schmitz and Mike Weinraub both made valiant tries but the competition was too much for both these juniors. Although these times were good, had the two leaders run in the same group the story could have differed.

NORTH SIDE finished one-two in the mile with Gary Meyers turning in one of the better times in the state at 4:29.2. He was followed across by teammate Dave Esterline, Dave Waldrop of the Elmhurst Trojans, and Ken Ellingwood of South in that order. Sophomore Ken Ellingwood did a real fine job on the last lap of the four-lap test especially.

The hurdle contests proved very little contest to Central speedster Bob Hubbard; his times for both the highs and the lows were very fast and with the high sticks proved a little harder as a battle between Jerry Thomas of Garrett and Jim Long of Auburn fought out a battle for second place. Archer Jon vanOosten placed fourth in this run behind Hubbard's 15.0 seconds flat and third behind Hubbard's 20.3 second win and Jim Long's final burst of speed.

North's Barry Donovan copped the shot-put title with a heave of 51 feet 11 1/2 inches, only four inches better than Cadet Don Schoenfeld's 51 feet 7 1/2 inches. Sid Sherry took fourth behind Garrett's Joel Zerns with a put of 48 feet 1 1/2 inches, his best of the year. According to some of the area and state distances, these marks are not too promising.

Jim Long of Auburn was the only athlete to break a Sectional record and he did this in the broad jump. His best leap of 22-5 replaces a record which stood for 14 years of 21-11 1/2 set by Bill Beery of South in 1948. Long also qualified in both of the hurdle events to mark up a good evening's work.

FORMER SOUTH SIDER Terry Baker jumped to the Sectional high jump title as he cleared 5-11 to beat Hazelett of New Haven and Gary

Archer Racketmen Place Fifth In Muncie Burris Invitational

With a creditable performance at the Muncie Burris Invitational Singles Tournament Saturday, the Bowmen managed to cop a total of 5 points and wind up fifth in a field of eight, which is better than their showing in either of the last two campaigns.

The points were distributed in the same manner as in the Fort Wayne Doubles; that is, 1 for each man win-

Junior Terry Smith Helps Racket Squad As Defense Player

Adding to the power of the Archer tennis team this year is Junior A Terry Smith, who is in his third year on the team, having started as a freshman. Terry has played tennis for a total of four years.

Terry considers his strong points to be his sharp forehand drives and his consistency in keeping the ball in play. He is a fine defensive player, and considers his weak points to be only some deep backhand shots and his serve. Although they are probably about normal caliber, he considers them below par for himself.

Terry Smith

When he, as a defensive player, is matched with another defensive player, the going can get rough. After feeling the opponent out, he can usually tell whether to take the offensive or remain with his defensive game. In Huntington last week, for example, Terry was put up against this situation, switched to offense, and won his set, 8-6, 6-2.

TERRY AND HIS partner won the Jaycees Doubles Tournament in 1961 and he took third in the singles in 1961. Last summer he took fourth place in the Park Board Singles Tournament.

Jack Kramer and his professionals have raised quite a stir that tennis is dying out as a spectator sport, and Terry agrees that this is certainly true where South Side is concerned. "Our only spectator is a teacher," he explains. "If we had a bigger crowd, we would try harder to win."

TERRY CONSIDERS his greatest accomplishment in sports learning the art of sportsmanship. If he loses a set, he has learned not to blow sky-high and lose his temper, as losing his temper could lose a set for a player.

McKay Electric Co.

Contractors
ELECTRIC WIRING
and FIXTURES
7671 Bluffton Road
S-4151
This week's Small Snaps
is Avinell Swathwood

ning his first match, 2 for each winning his second, and three for taking the final match. Play was divided into 5 separate groups, depending on a man's position on the squad. The final standings were Jefferson, 15; Muncie Central, 14; Muncie Burris, 10; Kokomo, 7; South Side, 6; Anderson, 3; Marion, 0; and Richmond, 0.

IN THE NUMBER 1 division, Archer Al Purdy tangled with Jon Hodowal of Richmond and came out with a 6-3, 6-2 triumph. In the next round, Purdy met Phil Waid of Muncie Central, a boy whom Purdy had disposed of in three long sets just two days earlier in South' match with the Bearcats. This time Purdy wasted no time or motions and kept that constant net pressure on Waid for a 6-4, 6-2 victory.

The finals of this flight matched Purdy with Steve Philapp from Kokomo, who had advanced to the finals by whipping Rex Emswiler of Burris and Mike Deboy of Jefferson. Purdy was clearly outclassed in the championship. Philapp, a veteran of the championship, used all sorts of deceptive backhand and forehand slice shots to fluster the Archer completely. The final score was 6-4, 6-0.

The second flight found Jim Lantz opposing another Richmond foe, George Davis. Using that net game once more, Lantz found a rather easy 6-3, 6-2 win. The next round found Lantz battling Muncie Central's Jim Stevenson. Any feelings which may have been left over from earlier in the week apparently were gone as the boys played a good, clean game.

LANTZ WAS ALL business in the first set as he crushed Stevenson by a score of 6-3. However, the bottom fell out in the next two stanzas when the Bearcat netters came back for a 6-3, 6-2 victory, which eliminated Lantz. This division was won eventually by Dave Schussler of Lafayette Jefferson.

The Archers struck pay-dirt in the third division. Lex Smith, playing perhaps his finest tennis all year, disposed of Muncie Burris' top man by a score of 6-3, 6-3. Chip Burkhardt, who in the beginning of the year was the first man for Burris, fell hard to the South junior. However, South's glory was short-lived as Smith fell once again to Dick Hochstetler of Muncie Central, 6-1, 6-0. The number three division champ was finally Jim Dykhuson of Jefferson.

Terry Smith carried the South banner into the fourth division battle, and he fought fiercely, although for a losing cause. Playing another Muncie Centralite, George McCoy, Smith went down to a 6-4, 6-8, 6-4 defeat. McCoy was eliminated by John Henderson of Burris, who went on to win the number four title.

South's number five man, Matt Cornacchio, was whipped by Billy Polk from Muncie Central by a score of 6-1, 6-3. Polk went on from there to take the fifth flight crown.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Every bite
a delight

Smith's South Side TV & Appliance

RCA Victor 6-Transistor Radio
NOW 1495

Ravens Croft Beauty College

Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using
AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring.
Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning.

WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE

Call A-7403

and make an appointment to visit the area's finest.

1114 So. Calhoun St.

Across from the Cathedral

Kelly Linksmen To Face Teams In Annual Meet

South linksmen will travel to the Four Lakes Country Club in Michigan either tomorrow or Saturday, depending upon the weather, to compete with about twenty-five teams for the Sectional golf match.

Elkhart will be the host school for the first time in 12 years during which Fort Wayne has been the site for this tournament. Elkhart, Auburn, and South Bend squads are figured to give South the most competition.

The four Archers who will represent South are Seniors Dick Waterfield, Jeff Roth, and Rick Kniesley, and Junior Jim Mann. Having compiled a very fine 13-3 regular-season record, this quartet looks like a good bet to finish at least in the top three teams at the Four Lakes Country Club.

THE SCORING IN Sectionals is done on a straight medalist method, in other words, by adding the four 18-hole scores of the boys for a total. Usually about at 320 will get a team to the state tournament. On this basis South should be able to get into the top 18 in the state.

All of the individuals in this foursome have been well-tested by competition. The most consistent is Jim Mann, who usually shoots around forty. The other three are a little inconsistent, having both very low and rather high scores. Rick Kniesley has the lowest score so far with a 37. He is followed by Jeff, Jim, and Dick, all of whom have had 38.

The linksmen's three losses have been to Muncie Central, a very strong team; Marion; and Auburn. The Green lost to Auburn a week ago, 6-4. However, they were playing without the help of Dick Waterfield and Jeff Roth.

ON THIS BASIS South should be able to beat Auburn when they have the full force. The Sectional foursome, Waterfield, Roth, Kniesley, and Mann, went to Four Lakes for a practice last Saturday. To play well on this course, they need long, straight drives because of the many traps and trees. The greens are large, thus putting a premium on accurate putting.

In preparation for the Sectional, the foursome turned in a good job in the annual city golf meet. With all these things going for them, the job is still up to the individual boys. Golf being the individual game that it is, all these boys must be at their peak in order to do well in Sectionals. One man's bad score can nullify the others' good scores because of the scoring method.

However, all of these Archers are seasoned competitors and appear, at least on the surface, to have a very good chance of grabbing a berth for the match at Indianapolis.

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Lowrey Organs
Kimball Pianos
Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

Varsity Cindermen To Journey To Huntington For Close Meet

The tightest meet of the season comes up next Tuesday when South Side's track team travels to Huntington for its annual mid-tournament encounter with the Vikings.

The Vikings, fresh from a victory in their own Sectional, have competitors equal or slightly better than their Archer opponents in all events except the high hurdles.

The best race of the meet should be the 440, where a repeat of the local section is in prospect. Viking Van Bailey has a best in that race of 50.7. This time was recorded on the same night that Archers Karl Bandemer and Tom Frazzell were chalking up times of 50.9 and 51.0, respectively, in the Sectional.

THE SPRINTS APPEAR to be another event that may need a camera to decide the winner. Bandemer's 22.6 in the furlong compares favorably with Jerry Dimond's 22.5. Dimond will receive another stiff test in the 100-yard dash. His best of 10.4 is about the same as Archer Bob Lohman and Tom Shine.

South's only certain victory appears to be in the high hurdles. Jon vanOosten's time of 15.3 in the Sectional trials is easily better than any Viking, none of whom have been under 16 seconds. In the lows, "Big Jon" will face stiff competition from Norseman Mike Shumaker. Both have had times around 21.5.

The teams will probably split blue ribbons in the distance jaunts. Huntington's Paul Rider captured his section version of the event in 4:35.3 while Archer Ken Ellingwood was placing fourth locally in a time around 4:39. In the two-lap event, the Archers came from behind to beat the Vikings who have run close to 2:07 while Viking counterparts have not been below 2:09.

HUNTINGTON should dominate all field events except the high jump, where Archer Gary Probat should reign victorious. In the broad jump and shot-put, the Vikings own marks about two feet better than the Archers.

The meet should end on an exciting note as both relays figure to be quite close. The Vikings' time of 3:33.3 can be compared to either the Archers' mark of 3:34 in the Sectional or their season best of 3:28.9. The half-mile baton event should be equally close, both teams possessing times around 1:34.

The reserve meet also promises some excitement with the Vikings possibly rating a slight nod over the Archers.

ROEHM
MARINE SERVICE
Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer
4392 Bluffton Road
Telephone Sherwood 3203

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

Belle Vista Lodge Motel

"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Classes To View Films

Movies which have been selected to be shown May 23 for the home economics classes are "Bananas? Si Senor" and "Everyday is Apple Day." Shown May 24 will be "Penny Saved" and "Yours To Keep."

Troy LAUNDRY

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Rausch JEWELER
708 S. CLINTON ST.

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP
COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS
4304 S. Fairfield Phone K-4542
1213 Wells Street Phone E-2067

Guaranteed Workmanship
EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING
ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

DON STROEBEL'S OXFORD MARATHON

MOTOR TUNE-UP BRAKE SERVICE
FREE PICK-UP and DELIVERY
COURTESY CAR AVAILABLE
TIRES—TUBES—BATTERIES—ACCESSORIES
Winter and Oxford H-5243

A MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

ALL-AMERICAN MEAL

MILK SHAKES...20¢
McDonald's FRENCH FRIES...10¢
ALL FOR 45¢
HAMBURGERS...15¢

McDonald's DRIVE-INS

4-LOCATIONS--4

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison
NOW OPEN!! NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!!

COLONIAL Restaurant

E-2000

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.

Ft. Wayne, Ind.

K-3305

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE

4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

"We carry all makes of portable typewriters"
Sold on the rental payment plan
See Us Before You Buy . . . And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIKE? GET AN EARLY START

ATTEND Purdue University Fort Wayne Center Summer School

Accredited classes in: Biological sciences, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, psychology, sociology, speech, and government.

Classes start June 18 and end August 12.

Phone A-3171 for more details and a schedule.

Archers To Defend Regional Championship; Favored North Side Qualifies 13 Individuals

South Plans Show Of Strength In 440-Yard Run, Mile Relay

Fort Wayne is one of the four host cities for the IHSAA Regional Track and Field Meet. This contest will be run at Northrop Field, Friday, May 18; trials will begin at 3 p.m. and finals start one hour later. Track fans can expect to see peak performances at this last step to the State championship which is run one week later.

South Side, defending Regional champion, will have their hands full trying to hold onto the crown as the Fort Wayne North squad has qualified 13 individuals and both relay teams. North has qualified more athletes than any other team in the state.

Randy Needle of Nappanee will be the only Regional champion returning from last year's competition. He scored first places for his team in not only the 100-yard dash but also in the 220 dash. He is just as strong this year as last, and he proved this by winning another double at the Elkhart Sectional. Randy captured the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat and won the 220 in 22.4.

ALL RACES WILL be head-to-head competition in the Regional, which differs from the Sectional procedure of running against the clock. The only trial heats will be in the two sprints and the two hurdles, as the field has been limited in the Sectional competition.

North Side, Kokomo, Elkhart, and Huntington will be represented by both of their relay teams. This gives the teams listed above a decided advantage in over-all scoring, as relay teams score double in points.

North Side holds the best Sectional time of the competing teams in the mile relay. Their 3:27.5 placed them six seconds ahead of other opponents as they had Haught and Pool running first and fourth, respectively, in the four-man lineup. South Side poses the real threat in this event with Tom Frazell and Karl Bandemer as the main 440 men. These two Archers placed first and second in the 440 dash ahead of Haught and Pool.

The Archers failed to qualify a half-mile relay team, so the race will be between Nappanee and Fort Wayne Central. The Central Tigers have Bob Hubbard and Pres Underwood as their main sprinters. Pres won second-place honors in the 220 and anchored the half-mile team. Nappanee will anchor their star sprinter, Randy Widler; their time was 0:0.2 faster than Central's time.

SIXTEEN BOYS will represent their schools in each of the four field events. Blocher of Concord and Cox from Kokomo will be among the best pole vaulters at the meet. Both have been over the 12-foot mark. Warsaw also had two boys, Gothe and Johnston, who cleared 12 feet in their Sectional.

Broad jumpers turned in good performances and the competition will be keen. Jim Long went 22 feet five inches for Auburn; the rest of the boys including Al McKinney of Central, Todd of White's, and Harper of Elkhart are right on his heels.

Gary Dearloff from Roanoke turned the best performance at 6-3½. He and Nixon from Kendallville will be the two best in this event. Baker from Elmhurst will also be a top competitor and Gary Probst will represent the Archers.

Fort Wayne fans will get to see another Sectional best in the Regional as Steve Terlap will represent Elkhart in the shot-put. He has thrown the ball 56 feet 7¼ inches which puts him well ahead of all other challengers. Reeves from Huntington, Donovan from North, and Hollen from Kendallville will be the other top competitors. Sid Sheray will represent the Archers and could place if he reaches his peak performance.

THE LOW HURDLES will be the best hurdle event as the competition will be close. Bob Hubbard from Central, Holman from Plymouth, and Wise of Elkhart should be the top finishers in this event. Wise and Hubbard will again battle for the 120-yard high hurdles; both have been finishing in the same times. John van-Oosten can place high for South in this event and will be one of the top competitors.

But the Archers' best effort should be seen in the quarter-mile as Bandemer and Tom Frazell will race for the first-place finish in this event. The half-mile will also be dominated by Fort Wayne boys with North and Elmhurst represented. Steve Konow of North and Reinhold Mueller of Elmhurst will have the edge in this race, and it will be a real battle to the end of the two-lap course since 12 boys are entered.

Another of the best races of the day will be the four-lap contest. Gary Meyer will represent North Side and Dennis Jones, Kokomo. These two boys can expect to race to the finish as both have been the millers with the best times in the state.

South Side, defending Regional champion, will have their hands full trying to hold onto the crown as the Fort Wayne North squad has qualified 13 individuals and both relay teams. North has qualified more athletes than any other team in the state.

Randy Needle of Nappanee will be the only Regional champion returning from last year's competition. He scored first places for his team in not only the 100-yard dash but also in the 220 dash. He is just as strong this year as last, and he proved this by winning another double at the Elkhart Sectional. Randy captured the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat and won the 220 in 22.4.

ALL RACES WILL be head-to-head competition in the Regional, which differs from the Sectional procedure of running against the clock. The only trial heats will be in the two sprints and the two hurdles, as the field has been limited in the Sectional competition.

North Side, Kokomo, Elkhart, and Huntington will be represented by both of their relay teams. This gives the teams listed above a decided advantage in over-all scoring, as relay teams score double in points.

North Side holds the best Sectional time of the competing teams in the mile relay. Their 3:27.5 placed them six seconds ahead of other opponents as they had Haught and Pool running first and fourth, respectively, in the four-man lineup. South Side poses the real threat in this event with Tom Frazell and Karl Bandemer as the main 440 men. These two Archers placed first and second in the 440 dash ahead of Haught and Pool.

Ken Ellingwood adds depth, ability to Kelly Cindermen

Sophomore thinly Ken Ellingwood adds depth and ability to the Archer track aggregation by running in three different events. In Ken's previous track season he proved to be the freshman team's most dependable man.

Ken Ellingwood

This year he carries the Archers' colors in the mile, half-mile, and runs a leg in the reserve mile relay. Ken, "Elli," is one of South's best country runners, placing twelfth in the Sectional competition. He helped his team to place in the Sectional and fifteenth at the State meet.

KEN'S BEST TIME for the two-mile course is 9:51 minutes. He runs the mile in 4:38 and a half-mile in 2:06. These times cite him as one of the best distance runners in the area.

In other sports "Elli" played football for the freshman squad, and he participated in football at Emmaus Elementary School.

During the summer Ken runs as much as possible. He tries to keep in shape for cross country which starts in the late summer. Between cross country and track he keeps in shape by working out in the gym.

IN MOST OF HIS RACES Ken displays a good kick at the end which helps to improve his time. Although his pace is a little ragged, with practice he will settle down and lower his times even more.

The most important fact is that Ken is only a sophomore and will have two more years to represent South Side. With experience, he should become one of South's greatest distance runners.

Fort Wayne fans will get to see another Sectional best in the Regional as Steve Terlap will represent Elkhart in the shot-put. He has thrown the ball 56 feet 7¼ inches which puts him well ahead of all other challengers. Reeves from Huntington, Donovan from North, and Hollen from Kendallville will be the other top competitors. Sid Sheray will represent the Archers and could place if he reaches his peak performance.

THE LOW HURDLES will be the best hurdle event as the competition will be close. Bob Hubbard from Central, Holman from Plymouth, and Wise of Elkhart should be the top finishers in this event. Wise and Hubbard will again battle for the 120-yard high hurdles; both have been finishing in the same times. John van-Oosten can place high for South in this event and will be one of the top competitors.

But the Archers' best effort should be seen in the quarter-mile as Bandemer and Tom Frazell will race for the first-place finish in this event. The half-mile will also be dominated by Fort Wayne boys with North and Elmhurst represented. Steve Konow of North and Reinhold Mueller of Elmhurst will have the edge in this race, and it will be a real battle to the end of the two-lap course since 12 boys are entered.

Another of the best races of the day will be the four-lap contest. Gary Meyer will represent North Side and Dennis Jones, Kokomo. These two boys can expect to race to the finish as both have been the millers with the best times in the state.

South Side, defending Regional champion, will have their hands full trying to hold onto the crown as the Fort Wayne North squad has qualified 13 individuals and both relay teams. North has qualified more athletes than any other team in the state.

Randy Needle of Nappanee will be the only Regional champion returning from last year's competition. He scored first places for his team in not only the 100-yard dash but also in the 220 dash. He is just as strong this year as last, and he proved this by winning another double at the Elkhart Sectional. Randy captured the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat and won the 220 in 22.4.

ALL RACES WILL be head-to-head competition in the Regional, which differs from the Sectional procedure of running against the clock. The only trial heats will be in the two sprints and the two hurdles, as the field has been limited in the Sectional competition.

North Side, Kokomo, Elkhart, and Huntington will be represented by both of their relay teams. This gives the teams listed above a decided advantage in over-all scoring, as relay teams score double in points.

North Side holds the best Sectional time of the competing teams in the mile relay. Their 3:27.5 placed them six seconds ahead of other opponents as they had Haught and Pool running first and fourth, respectively, in the four-man lineup. South Side poses the real threat in this event with Tom Frazell and Karl Bandemer as the main 440 men. These two Archers placed first and second in the 440 dash ahead of Haught and Pool.

Bearcat Netters Defeat Archers In Close Battle

Battling hard, the Archer racketmen fell 4-2 to Ed Olsen's Muncie Central Bearcat netters on May 9 at Tvey Park, Muncie. Ordinarily there are five singles matches and two doubles contests; but, because of a controversy resulting from some rather questionable calls by both sides, the number two singles was disqualified completely.

Allen Purdy played in the top spot and tangled with a rough little sophomore opponent, Phil Waid. Waid, by slicing baseline shots past the net-rushing Purdy, swept the first set easily by a count of 6-2. However, the next two stanzas found the Archer bound and determined not to let the Bearcat soph pull off a victory. By improving his volleys and overheads Purdy won the next two sets 6-3, 6-3.

The second singles was disqualified by mutual consent as Jim Lantz and Bearcat Jim Stevenson nearly came to blows over disputed shots and calls.

Lex Smuts played Dick Hochstetler in the third singles competition and found Hochstetler a little too tough. Displaying amazing stamina, the Centralite won the first set decisively, then literally squashed Smuts with a barrage of deep forehands and backhands. The scores were 6-4, 6-3.

Terry Smith, known to his teammates as "T.L." or "Smitty," ran into handsome George McCoy, and fell, much like Smuts, by a score of 6-3, 6-2.

In the fifth spot, Matt Cornacchio rumbled up against Billy Polk, a sophomore, and emerged on the wrong end of a 6-3, 6-3 score. Polk raised a few eyebrows and also brought up the question of whether he is a genuine five man, as he slashed numerous left-handed forehands and backhands down the lines then plugged up the only opening, the net, and won handily.

In the doubles the Purdy-Lantz team was upset violently by Hochstetler and a newcomer, Mike Rolf, by a count of 6-1, 6-1.

Smuts and Smith capped another South point as they whipped Lynn Mitchell and McCoy by a relatively easy 6-3, 61 margin.

GAA Softball Teams Play In Two Games

In GAA Softball on April 23, Team 1 and Team 3 tied with a score of 5-5; while Team 2 ousted Team 4, 8-1.

Members participating were Sharon Karst, Janice Robson, Jan Spuller, Cynthia Koch, Claudia Hershberger, Jan Longardner, Estella Matrin, Beth Randall, Mary Ann Waldrop, Elaine Edwards, Kay Symonds, Marsha Good, Cynthia Russell, Nan Wallace; Jeanne Hoelle, Margaret Shirley, Toni Sorensen, Sue Eversman, Pat Abbott, Loretta Kimmel, Joleen Crumrine, Cheri Davis, Judy Koop, Roberta Hoffherr, Cheri Spangle, Margie Hubbard, Jan Nahrwald, Jan Degitz, Vivian Hedstrom, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, Paula Kline, and Jane Hahn. Jan Spuller, Cynthia Hershberger, Pat Abbott, and Judy Koop umpired; and Mrs. Alice Keegan, sponsor, kept score.

Established 1876
KLA EHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP
See our lovely selection of
formals and cocktail dresses.
K-2530 2426 S. Calhoun

TENNIS EQUIPMENT
SPALDING RACKETS .....$4.95 up
SPALDING BALLS.....3 for $1.95
CONVERSE SHOES.....$7.95

HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP
Parking in the Rear
3704 S. Calhoun H-8925

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . .15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . .15c

Gary Tolleston Squad Smashes State Records During Sectional

Although there were not as many all-time state records broken as was expected prior to last week's Sectionals throughout the Hoosier state, there were several tremendous times and distances turned in, especially from the Gary region.

As a matter of fact, only two all-time state records were smashed, Tolleston's mile relay team completing a 3:18.4, erasing their previous record of 3:18.7 set a few weeks ago, an average of 49.6 seconds per man.

Howard Harris of Gary Tolleston, who anchored their mile crew, also took the spotlight by himself after posting a new state Sectional best of 48.8 seconds for the quarter. He has run a 48.5 this season, which is the state's best in track history.

IN THE DASHES last Friday evening Bernie Rivers of East Chicago Washington topped the list of potential state candidates with a :9.9, the only sprinter in the state to top the 10-flat barrier.

Bernie, however, has posted times of 9.6 on numerous occasions and should "improve" with a little added competition. Randy Weddle of Nappanee also turned in one of the state's better 100 times, a score of 10 flat to break the existing Elkhart Sectional record.

Richard Dilling of Gary Mann posted the best 220 time, a fine 21.4, which was far from near-matched in the state.

Another tremendous performance was shown by James Harris of Gary Roosevelt who was clocked in a tremendous 1:58 in the half. Fort Wayne produced a few good times in North Side's in Steve Konow's 1:59.6 and Reinhold Mueller's 2:00 flat.

AS FAR AS teams went, Richmond qualified 17 individuals and one relay; North Side of Fort Wayne qualified 13 individuals and both their relays; while Elkhart will be represented by 12 performers and two relays. Defending State champion Gary Roosevelt qualified only 11 individuals and both relays, but in all probability they will succeed with about the same number after the Regional, whereas most of the others will not.

Gary Tolleston managed to qualify only seven and their mile relay but should make quite a lot of noise with that crack mile relay squad.

Here are the state's best performances in each week's Sectional.
100—Bernie Rivers, East Chicago Washington, :9.9.

GAA Teams 1, 2 Conquer Squads 3, 4 By 3-2 Score

On May 7 in GAA Softball Team 1 and Team 2 combined and defeated Team 3 and Team 4, 3-2. Mary Marker and Shirley Listenberger umpired for this game.

Members of the winning team are Sharon Karst, Jeanne Hoelle, Pat Abbott, Sue Eversman, Dodie Kessler, Toni Sorensen, Claudia Hershberger, Loretta Kimmel, Judy Koop, Cheri Davis, Cynthia Koch, and Estella Martin.

MORRISON DRUGS
Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

HAPPY HUMPTY DRIVE-INS
"For Your Eating Pleasure"
Fairfield at Packard
Anthony at Pontiac
Bluffton Road, Waynedale
U.S. Highways 27, 33, 224, Decatur

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP
See our lovely selection of
formals and cocktail dresses.
K-2530 2426 S. Calhoun

TENNIS EQUIPMENT
SPALDING RACKETS .....$4.95 up
SPALDING BALLS.....3 for $1.95
CONVERSE SHOES.....$7.95

HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP
Parking in the Rear
3704 S. Calhoun H-8925

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . .15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . .15c

Sport
Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

We gave it a good try, but the punch just wasn't there. Last Friday's Sectional Meet was a far cry from last year's as far as South was concerned, but the point totals remained about the same. This year it was North who ran away from the pack, as expected, with Central and the Archers trailing by about the same margin that the Tigers and 'Skins trailed in 1961.

There were a few surprises during the evening, one being sprinting ace Bandemer's failure to successfully defend his 220 crown. He copped his heat in 22.6; but after that gruelling 50.9 440, he just didn't have enough to pour on the speed when he wanted to. Kelly Dale Hilsmier performed well in the sprint, though, taking a fourth.

Mike Dennis of New Haven finally burst into the spotlight after several years of also-ran finishes, by capturing the century and furlong in 10.1 and 22.7. Auburn's Jim Long was the only record-breaker, erasing the old broad jump mark by flying 22-5. Tiger Bob Hubbard was the only other double winner, breezing in the highs and lows.

The hottest Sectional of them all was probably the Calumet area duel in Gary. Roosevelt left with team honors, but Tolleston certainly didn't forfeit that crown. In fact, the Tolleston mile relay crew set a new all-time Indiana best time with a 3:18.4. Roosevelt's anchorman Larry Hood was less than three yards behind Tolleston's Howard Harris at the tape.

Because of the fierce competition, neither team qualified a large number of boys for the Regional where they will clash again tomorrow. North, with 13 individuals and both relay squads, qualified more participants for Friday than any other team in the state.

Comparing Fort Wayne times with some of the lows in the state: Tolleston's Harris took the quarter mile in 48.8 and Evansville Reitz's Jerry Fendrich won his in 50.0; Bandemer's winning time was 50.9, following a 220. Art Angotti, crack miler from Gary Mann covered the four laps in 4:29; and Dennis Jones of Kokomo, a former Archer, took 4:30.6 to win his. North's Gary Myers stretched out to a 4:29.2 at Northrop Field.

The top broad jump in the state was a 22-7. Muncie Central's vaulting ace, Tim Boyce, cleared 13-2½, while Dave Lucas of North and Tom Till of Waterloo made it over at 11-10. Besides the fabulous Gary relay crews, the lows in the mile relay were North's 3:27.5, Tipton's 3:30.6, and South's 3:33. The Archer time here should improve, as the runners weren't pressed last Friday.

The Bowbender tennis team finished fifth in the Burris tournament, with Al Purdy not dropping until the third round of the number one singles. Jim Lantz and Lex Smuts won matches, also.

Reports from the tough Archer golf squad indicate that the Bowmen should do well in the Sectional Meet tomorrow. With the Auburn team previously favored and the Green having given them a real battle without the aid of Coach Hoover's first two players, South is now rated co-favorite in the tournament.

Scouting reports from the top four Archer linksmen indicate that the course for the tourney isn't too rough and ought to fit their games well.

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY
4232 S. Calhoun
Phone K-1861
SERVICE IN DRUGS

Marks' Motto:
Watching television doesn't make one want to be a big shot . . . just a good one.

3818 S. Calhoun

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2121 Fairfield
H-6141

FORT WAYNE BEAUTY COLLEGE
1327 S. CALHOUN E-3204
ENROLL NOW FOR SPRING AND FALL CLASSES
ADVANCED HAIR COLORING, CUTTING, AND STYLING
PLACEMENT SERVICE BUDGET PLAN

Oxford Hardware
Housewares—Gifts—Paint
General Hardware
1508 Oxford St. H-3146

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES

Summer Term June 11

* Business Administration & Finance
* Secretarial Science
* Professional Accounting

With
I.B.M.

The Snack Bar
3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . .15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . .15c

What you want
is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Three Juniors To Participate In Indiana Boys' State Convo

GUARDS OF THE GOVERNMENT . . . To obtain a wider scope of the work of government, Juniors, left to right, Terry Smith, Mike Levy, and Lex Smuts will attend Boys' State. The annual institute will be conducted this summer at Indiana University.—Photo by Triplett

Lex Smuts, Terry Smith, and Mike Levy, juniors, have been chosen to attend the annual Boys' State Workshop at Indiana University in Bloomington from June 16 to June 28.

Boys' State is a convocation of high school junior and senior B boys sponsored by the Lions Club and the

Police Department Reports Violations

The Safety Education Division of the Police Department reports that high school traffic violations are on the increase. Robert Waldrop, high school liaison officer, stated that this is due partly to the warm weather. For the month of April, city high school students committed 35 violations. South Side students were charged with six of the 35 violations.

One South Side student was charged with reckless driving; three with speeding; one with making improper turn; and one with having inadequate equipment.

North Side drivers were charged with the most violations having 14; Elmhurst had five; Central Catholic, four; Central, three; Concordia, two; Bishop Luers, one.

Since the beginning of the school year, high school traffic violations total 163. As of April 30, South Side had 51 violations; North Side, 46; Central Catholic, 20; Central, 15; Elmhurst, 14; Concordia, 10; and Bishop Luers, 7.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

VIBRATO COFFEE HOUSE

1308 Broadway

OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY

Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches

COME AS YOU ARE

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

Science
Engineering
General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

Three Kelly Classes Celebrate Reunions Of 35, 25, 10 Years

The classes of 1937, 1927, and 1952 will have their reunions in June. The Class of 1937 will have its Silver Anniversary Reunion June 9 at Cutters Chalet.

The cocktail hour, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. will be followed by the dinner. Mr. Edward Henselee will serve as master of ceremonies.

The program will follow the dinner and will feature reminiscences of years at South Side. A miniature Totem will be given to each person who attends. It will contain the names of all the graduates, occupation, number of children, and number of grandchildren.

Mr. Don Reichert is the chairman of the reunion. Mr. Homer Miller is in charge of the miniature Totem; Mrs. Charles Billiard in charge of correspondence; and Mrs. David Marck in charge of contacting people.

MR. JOHN DeYOUNG is the publicity chairman. Program chairman is Mr. Harold Seichter; treasurer is Mr. William McLeish.

Mr. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline VanGorder, Mr. Chappell, and Miss Siedler are invited guests.

People who have not as yet been located are Ruth Altemeyer, Max Allen, Jean Aronhalt, Mary Borneman, Mary Jane Campbell, Ava Ewing, Mildred Humphrey, Harold McKay, Jack Miller, and William Mitchell.

Others are David Rendleman, Donna (Roe) Wilson, Lillian Warren, John Williams, Bob Brown, Melvin Bates, Selma Kuttler, Glenna Starlin, and Larry Vuelgonom.

The class of 1952 will have its Tenth Class Reunion June 16 at the Fraternal Order of Police Club. There will be a social hour from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. followed by a smorgasbord dinner. At 9 p.m. there will be a short program consisting of the awarding of door prizes and prizes for the person with the most children, the person who has come the farthest, and others. Following the program there will be a dance with Herman Binkley's band providing the music.

THE MENU CONSISTS of french fried chicken, ham, potato salad, baked beans, jello salad, a relish tray, bread, and coffee.

Mr. Dick Bragg is chairman, and Mr. Robert Ravis is co-chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wuebbenhorst are in charge of reservations. The cost is $6.00 per couple and $3.00 per person.

About two hundred eighty people have been invited. Special guests include the homeroom teachers of the class, and Mr. R. Nelson Snider.

Class members who have not been contacted are Gloria McCrone, Louis Gass, Nancy Good, Richard Graham, Patricia Hiatt, Dennis Jones, and Terry Webster.

The Class of 1927 will have its reunion on June 30 at the Shrine Ballroom. A social period will be from 5 to 7 p.m. followed by a smorgasbord dinner.

MR. HOWARD LONGWORTH is the publicity chairman. Mrs. P. M. Harris is the secretary for the reunion; Mr. William Rastetter is in charge of invitations; Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert are in charge of the reception.

Mr. Sheldon Hine is in charge of entertainment. Mr. Melvin Azar is in charge of making name tags.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koerber, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Schimer, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scheumann. Taking reservations are Mrs. John Lombard and Mrs. Charles Anglin. Thirty or more teachers will be special guests.

Those who have not been contacted are Geraldine Bogart, Oliver Mitman, Carolyn Reed, Ralph Reid, Wendell Sawyer, LaVonne Schulz, Charlotte Scott, Robert Christen, Catherine Thompson, Chrystal Jackson, Mildred Marchand, Paul Marrs, and Wilson McCormick.

Martha Lanning Enjoys Acting, Plans For Future Study Abroad

Martha Lanning, senior, is blessed with the flair for speaking fluently and being able to act along with it. Her plans for a future career are somewhat undecided yet, but acting will be a likely possibility.

Martha is on the college course taking Special English, French, developmental reading, Government 2, botany, and orchestra; and she serves during her free period. She plans to attend the University of Colorado to take liberal arts.

Martha Lanning

One of Martha's interest has always been acting; but until recently, she did not think of it as a possible career. She likes to act for the sheer joy of it and not for the prestige it sometimes brings. Martha would like to travel abroad to study the history of dramatics and different languages.

She loves working before audiences, and she hopes to be able to gain some parts in the Frank Park Open Air Summer Theater or in the Children's Civic Theater this summer.

Most of Martha's time is occupied by school work and school activities. She is active in Wranglers, Assemblies Workshop, Orchestra, and Service Club this year. When she does find a few spare moments, she enjoys reading.

If she isn't reading, she can be found practicing on her violin, which she plays quite well, or writing poetry.

Traveling is one of her ambitions. Sports of all kinds, ice skating, and swimming are also her interests.

Being very active in school activities, she is also active in Plymouth Congregational Church. Martha has been Fellowship Committee Chairman, and State Northern Association President. She has also been Fort Wayne's United Christian Youth Movement president, and was the first vice-president of Pilgrim Fellowship.

Mr. James Rohrabach Wins Journalism Award

For outstanding contributions already made in the field of scholastic journalism since graduation from college, Mr. James Rohrabach, supervisor for the Fort Wayne Community School Press and adviser for South Side publications, was given an award at the Ball State Journalism Convention on May 5. The award was entitled "Outstanding Journalism Graduate of Ball State Teachers' College."

This award was also given to Mr. Rohrabach for his work in administering a complex system of school publications for the Fort Wayne School System and for loyalty shown to his alma mater, expressed through day-by-day participation in journalism activities at the college.

Students Tell Views Concerning Traits Of Excellent Teacher

Everyone knows that a teacher must be a versatile person with many good traits and a meritable reputation, but he also must be a person of high standards and qualities. Of course, it would depend on the person being asked what his opinion is of an ideal teacher; the answers would be varied according to the age, grade level, and I.Q. of the person being interviewed. Here are some Kelly students' answers to the question of "What are the qualities you admire in a teacher?"

Elizabeth Hostetler: I believe respect for the student, honesty in grading, fairness in classroom discussions, no playing of favorites, listening when the student has something to say, and a good personality in and out of the classroom are among the admirable traits of a teacher.

Vicki Adams: I believe the ability to communicate with the students is the foremost important quality a teacher can possess. If the teacher is able to transfer his thoughts and ideas to the pupils in an understanding manner, he is actually bettering his teaching abilities while adding to the student's knowledge. Friendliness, a sense of humor, and an outgoing personality are also qualities that help to compose a good character and background for the teacher.

Jacquelyn Berry: The qualities I admire in a teacher are sincerity—a teacher who is most anxious to help his or her students succeed in the course, consideration for the student, and one who shows no partiality towards certain individuals.

Marilyn Block: I think a teacher should be honest in grading, have respect for the students, and have a pleasant personality both in and out of the classroom. I believe the teacher should be able to communicate easily and make the subject as interesting as possible.

Janet Johnson: The qualities that I admire in a teacher are respect for the student when asking or answering questions, no playing of favorites, a teacher that one can always look to for help, and a teacher with an all-around sense of humor.

Ruth Sprunger: I admire a teacher who has a sense of humor, knows well the subject he is teaching, admits when he's made a mistake, is friendly, makes a class interesting, gives students help, doesn't have favorite pupils, and smiles often.

Four Pupils Enroll; Twenty-Three Leave

During the months of March and April, 16 dropouts, 4 enrollments, and 7 transfers occurred now leaving a total enrollment of 1959, 910 boys and 1040 girls. The students all enrolling in April are David Lee, junior A, from Central Catholic; Keith Babcock, freshman A; Paula Stephane, sophomore A and Gwen Fireweed, senior B.

Those who withdrew are Pamela Huntsman, post graduate; Marjorie Music, sophomore A; Richard Herschberg, post graduate; Bill Syndram, senior B; David Zimmerman, post graduate; Tonda Hume, sophomore A; Porter Pace, senior B; Mike Gaffer, senior B; Laura Carper, senior B; Robert Gargett, junior A; Clint Wearley, senior A; Mike Smith, junior A; Nancy Pfeiffer, post-graduate; Mike Hartsox, freshman A; Phil Geller, senior A; and Silvia Zielke, sophomore A.

The students who have transferred to another school are David Fishbaugh, freshman A, to Leo; Nate Norment, post graduate, to Ball State; Carol Mapes, junior A, to Freemont, Ohio; Linda Campbell, sophomore A, to California; Narcella McMillan, freshman A, to Arizona; Harold Neal, sophomore A, to New Haven; and Tony Webb, junior B, to Detroit, Mich.

Pupils With Directional Names Express Opinions About Titles

'OH, EAST IS EAST' . . . And now the twain have met as left to right Dave West, Patty North, and Carolyn West point out directions for students attempting to find their way through South Side's halls. Donna East was absent when the picture was taken.—Photo by Jones

Although the words "North," "South," "East," and "West" are generally used to denote directions, when they are the last names of persons, unique situations result. This has been confirmed by Patty North, sophomore; Donna East and Dave West, juniors; and Carolyn West, senior.

Patty North commented that people tease her by calling her Patty South. When asked if she would ever change it, she replied, "No, I like it the way it is. It's easy to remember and easier for people to spell."

Instructor, Student Take Roles In Play

Miss Ann Arber, English teacher, and Claryn Birk, sophomore, are now appearing in "Once Upon a Mattress," the final show of the Civic Theater's current season. This show will be presented this week end and next week end.

"Once Upon a Mattress" is a musical comedy adapted from the old fairy tale about the princess and the pea. Carol Burnett starred in its Broadway production.

In this presentation, Miss Arber will portray the mean queen mother who has driven her mate to perpetual silence by her overbearing talk and strives to keep her royal son tied to her apron strings by setting up insurmountable obstacles in the path of all those who would like to marry him.

Claryn will play Prince Number 12 and dance in the chorus.

Miss Arber has appeared in "The Boy Friend," "J. B.," "Death of a Salesman," "Hamlet," "Cyrano," "Mad-Salesman," "Hamlet," "Cyrano," "Madwoman of Chaillot," "Pygmalion," "Visit to a Small Planet," "Streetcar Named Desire," "Auntie Mame," and "The Matchmaker." She won the Anthony Award for her role in "The Matchmaker." Claryn has appeared in "Pal Joey," "J. B.," "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," and in the Children's Theater.

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

KESSLER Super Market

"The Store for Quality and Personalized Service"

3102 BOWSER AVE.
Corner of Bowser at Eckart St.

21st Year in Business

Hall's Drive-Ins

ERIE-HAVEN
READY MIXED
CONCRETE

H-2214

REAL COOL!

Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE
FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

During Prom, Recognition Days, Pupils Maintain Grades

Mr. Wilson's economics classes are studying banking and the money system; they have deferred their discussions for a few days, however, to discuss the present situation of the steel industry.

Erin Rose received the highest score on a magazine extemp given in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Kathy DeVore, Marsha Disler, Diane Hall, Karen McFarland, Linda Moody, and Bob Wasson received the highest score on magazine extemp speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Larry Lee, Ann McCullister, and Diane Saalfrank received the highest scores on magazine extemp speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 4 speech class.

David Aubrey received the highest score on a magazine extemp speech given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Those receiving highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 6 group 1 health class are Carol Channell, Nancy Enz, Pam Richardson, and Kathy Wyss.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 7 group 2 health class are Phyllis Bixby and Bonnie Callahan.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 group 2 health class are Nancy Doherty, Alice Fruechtenicht, Barbara Hennish, and Janet Miller.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 4 group 2 health class are Margo Betz, Suzanne Boylan, Cheri Nodolny, Carol Rice, Ellen Rice, and Liz Richter.

The student receiving the highest score on a test over Building Your Future taken in Miss Edith Crowe's period 7 group 1 health class is Sandra Reed.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future taken in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 group 2 health class are Cheryl Brody, Janet Gerig, and Joycellyn Hilgemann.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 4 group 1 health class are Billie Clark, Vicki Culp, Diane Porter, and Lynn Wilson.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 6 group 1 health class are Sandy Burton and Beverly Dougherty.

Those receiving the highest scores on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 group 1 health class are Linda Arney, Sandra Duff, Diana Foulks, Diana Nordblom, and Patricia Walton.

The student receiving the highest score on a test over Building Your Future given in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 group 1 health class is Marian Kubay.

Those making perfect scores on a test over proportion and proportional segments in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 7 class are Christie Counsman, Karen Franks, Bob Quick, and Jan Robson.

The students who earned a grade of 90 per cent or above in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 2 class on a test covering "David Copperfield" include Allen Booty, Michael Ball, Valentina Harabosky, Joellyn Hilgemann, Louisa Porter, and Beverly Strawser.

Manuel Dominguez, Linda Evisizer, Jenn Holly, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie McGrath, Dave Munson, Roger Post, and Dave Triplett made A's on a quiz over "The Outer Limit" in Miss Burr's English 4 period 2 class.

The students who scored 100 per cent on their weekly spelling test in Mr. Furste's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class include Thomas Beatty, Louise Brown, Kay Heemsoth, Thomas Liby, Carol Link, and Bob Symonds.

Bill Powlen is maintaining the highest average in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 1 class.

Pat Dehner received a high grade on a unit test in Mr. Block's U.S. History 2 period 5 class. This class has completed excellent map and committee work on World War I.

Tony Trice was maintaining the highest average in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class at mid-semester.

Graham Grove and Dick Waltke made A+ on a test over "The Outer Limit" in Miss Burr's English 3 period 3 class. Those making A's on the same test were Janet Johnson, Paul Laclair, Sandra Lamb, Sandra Meyer, and Beth Randall.

Those who received the highest grades on a French composition test in Miss Smith's French 2 period 2 class are Paul Laclair, Carol McVay, and Marda Munson. Also receiving high scores on a recent vocabulary test are Linda Barnhill and Frances Hudlow.

Janice Robson is maintaining the highest average in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class.

Steven Clem, Donald Grider, Russell Grose, Benita Houser, and Maurice Snyder scored above 90 on a test over fundamental operations with polynomials given in Mr. Gernand's period 2 Algebra 1 class.

In Miss Osborne's English 8 period 6 class, students having presented hour-long book reports are Joyce Cosairt, "Medea"; Sally Franklin, "Hamlet"; Mary Shilling, "Othello"; and Steve Mueller, "The Tempest."

Those who have recited all of "To a Waterfowl" in Miss Burr's English 4 period 7 class are Lois Gallimore, Kathy Walsh, and Karen Ashe. Janet Kelley recited four stanzas from "To a Waterfowl" while Doug Hansen recited 51 lines from "Thanatopsis."

Those doing the best memory work on James Cullen Bryant's "To a Waterfowl" are Mary Ann Waldrop, LaVonne Custance, Barb Ross, Larry Lyman, and Tierney Batdorf.

Steve Griebel was the only one to score high on a test over investments, savings, and insurance given in Mr. Gernand's period 3 Math 2 class.

Jean Hatfield received her 50 ribbon in Mr. Boling's Typing 2 period 7 class.

Stan Alfeld received the highest grade on a recent chapter quiz in Mr. Peirce's Economics 1 period 1 class.

Stanley Black and Christie Counsman are maintaining high averages in Miss Graham's English 4 period 4 class.

Peggy Schmidt and Janet Dinius wrote excellent ballads in Miss Osborne's special English 6 period 3 class.

Mary Sherlock received the class' highest score on a recent unit test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 4 group.

Marilyn Hansen received her 40 ribbon in Mr. Boling's period 6 Typing 2 class.

Students who have given hour-long book reports in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class are Marna Reiber, "Medea"; Bill Wilder, "Hamlet"; Elaine Cole, "Othello"; and Steve McDonald, "A Comedy of Errors."

The boys in Mr. Scott's gym groups are playing softball outdoors on nice days.

Those having perfect scores on a test over narcotics in Mr. Yoder's Health 1 period 1 class are Donald Grider, Larry Ingram, and Mike Triplett.

Pat Dunn received her 50 ribbon and Alice Habegger received her 40 ribbon in Mr. Boling's period 2 Typing 2 class.

Barb Altevogt, Beth Burnett, Karl Krause, and Jane Prill made high grades on a test in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 6 class.

Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 classes are beginning a study of local government.

Those who made high grades on the unit test in Mr. Block's U.S. History 1 period 1 class are Dave Fairchild, Dan Smith, and Jeff Bloom.

Mike Zerminski, Alvin Brown, David Reinhold, Tania Swaczenko, Bill Kinsey, and Wanda Ripple wrote the best test papers in Miss Crowe's U.S. History 2 classes.

Robert Knox, Janet Bunsold, and Dick Buchanan made the highest scores on a unit test in Mr. Block's U.S. History 2 period 2 class.

Mr. Cramer's Algebra 2 classes are reviewing the four methods of the solution for quadratic equations, in preparation for a unit test.

The girls in Mrs. Keegan's dance classes are teaching folk dances to other members of the classes.

Miss Burr's English 3 period 6 class is studying thought relationship as expressed by the use of the correct subordinate conjunctions. Excellent work has been done by Mary Lou Dorton, Sandy Farmer, and Linda Kattness.

Mrs. Keegan's gym classes have completed a series of recreational games — badminton, paddle tennis, shuffleboard, candle pin bowling, deck tennis, and ping-pong.

Having a test on "David Copperfield" in Mr. Compton's English 2 period 1 class, the following students scored a grade of 90 per cent or above: John Arnold, Sandra Duff, Alice Fruechtenicht, Candace Greiner, Linda Harding, Susan Jorgensen, Neil McKay, Dan Merica, Thomas Parrish, Sandra Reed, Mary Sherlock, and Sharon Thiele.

Stan Black is maintaining a high average in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 7 class.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Students in Mr. Drummond's period 2 music appreciation class are studying symphonies composed by Strauss, Sibelius, Haydn, and Brahms.

Those who obtained the highest grades in Mr. Smith's General History 2 period 2 class on a check-up test of Chapter 8 are Juanita Elzey, Thomas Williams, Doug Trier, Jeanne Rondot, Kheila Meyers, Steve Miller, and Cynthia Koch.

Kaylene Bleich, John Grandstaff, and Steve Russ were awarded top test scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 6 class on a test over special forms of prepositional phrases.

Obtaining the highest grades on a recent test in Mrs. Luse's period 4 trigonometry class are Beth Burnett, Bob Lohman, Dave Meek, Pam Orchard, and Bob Wasson.

Denise Jones is maintaining the highest average in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class.

Barbara Uhl and Charlotte Powell are typing over 55 words per minute in Mr. Kelly's period 6 personal typing class.

The following pupils in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class received excellent grades on a grammar test over special forms of prepositional phrases: Jill Bieher, Cheri Hahn, Jane Knettle, Karen Miller, Janice Robson, and Judy Ruhl.

Scoring 100 per cent on a test over ratio and proportion in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 5 class are Debby Love and Janet Reynolds.

Tonya Hines performed the main role of a teacher in a French play in Miss Smith's French 2 period 3 class. Clark Marquart obtained the highest grade on a recent dictation test and Mike Young scored high on a French composition test in the same class.

Willie Fields and Loretta Kimmel earned top scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 6 period 2 class on a grammar test over verbals.

Mr. Coats' period 7 English 8 class has completed its hour-long novel reports.

Students in Mrs. Ellett's period 1 home economics class have completed the unit on child care and are now ready to do home care for the sick.

Jim Maxson and Bill Burgo received the highest scores on a test over ratio and proportion in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class.

Those making perfect scores in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 2 class on a test on proportion and proportional segments are Charlie Golden, Barb Nelson, and John Stewart.

Barbara Heemsoth received a 99 on the child care examination in Mrs. Ellett's Home Economics 6 period 1 class.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Mr. Coats' English 8 period 3 class has completed its hour-long novel reports and is beginning its hour-long novel reports.

Paul Dolde, Mary Fremion, Karen Ponader, Sally Sweet, and Tom Wooding made 100 per cent on a series of three spelling tests given in Mr. Knigge's English 6 period 3 class.

Those who received the highest grades in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class on an amphibian classification and frog anatomy test are Jim Evans and Jim Mittelstadt.

Mrs. Armstrong's gym classes are playing softball.

Mrs. Ellett's periods 3 and 4 Home Economics 4 classes have been preparing buffet dinners.

Those who obtained the highest scores on a recent quiz in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 2 class are Sue Burdick, Gary Probst, Kaye Gall, Ann Gallmeyer, and Sharon Chase.

The following students in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class received 100 per cent on a test over proportions: Vickie Bradley, Billie Burgo, Marcia Hughes, Mike Lepper, Jim Watson, and Nancy Liby.

Mrs. Armstrong's gym classes are having field and track, alternating with softball.

Valentina Harabosky made the highest score on a test about mammalian orders in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 1 class.

The following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 3 class earned the highest scores on a test covering special forms of prepositional phrases: Beverly Flanagan, Marian Johnson, Jane Knettle, Karen Miller, and Janice Robson.

Susan Johns and Ken Leakey received the highest scores on special speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

The following students in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 1 class received excellent scores on a spelling review test: Jane Hahn, Ken Hill, Linda Meyers, and Steve Vaughan.

Diane Gebhard, Jackie Kuhns, Margee Terry, and Roger Vorholzer received the highest scores on special speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Tom Ables, Mike Dunn, Ron Heathman, Evert Mol, Craig Miller, and Joe Thorpe have completed their one-point perspective drawings and are starting two-point perspective drawings in Mr. Polite's Drafting 2 period 7 class.

Dan Dentzer and Margaret Ranso received 100 per cent in Miss Pohlmeier's English 6 period 2 class on a spelling review test.

Students who earned the highest scores on a recent test over Congress in Mr. Berg's period 2 Government 1 class are Pat Somers, 94; Sandra Studer, 96; Bob Bartel, 92; Kay Falb, 92; Leanna Morris, 92; Sharon Stettner, 90; Bob Lohman, 90; Shel Shera, 90; and Maryina Van Skyock, 90.

Travel-Rite Travel Bureau, Inc.
Reservations—
Foreign and Domestic
• Domestic
• Air
• Steamship
• Hotels
• Cruises
NO SERVICE CHARGE
215 E. Washington E-0241

Making the best scores on a test over the first ten books of "Julius Caesar" in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 4 period 3 class are Sarah Petrie, Denise Jones, and LaVonne Custance.

Susan Weinraub and Charles Golden earned the highest grades in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 5 class on a test covering special forms of prepositional phrases.

In Mr. Polite's Drafting 4 period 6 class Ross Clark has finished his production illustration drawing of a connecting rod and piston; Fred Plotke has completed his production illustration drawing of a heat valve; Greg Lantzer has finished one of a water faucet; Bob Krugh, a soap dispenser; and Larry Hinderer has finished his bolt and machine screws drawing.

Sally Boyer, Kathy DeVore, Marcia Disler, Karen McFarland, Carole Peters, and Karen Ponader received the highest scores on special speeches given in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Marianne Wickliffe scored 100 on each of four spelling tests in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 3 class.

Those scoring highest on a test over ratio and proportion in Mr. Cramer's Geometry 2 period 6 class are Karen Ashe and Doug Fox.

Kaye Gall, Marla Habegger, Sue Lohman, Judy Merrill, Dave Platz, and Ann Shilling received 90 or above on a test over evolution taken in Mr. Weber's period 5 Botany 2 class.

Linda Becher, Tim Easton, and Darlene Richard received the highest scores on a test over verbs and their usage in Mrs. Sosenheimer's English 2 period 2 class.

Obtainin gthe highest scores on a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's period 4 trigonometry class are Dale Smith, Pam Orchard, Dave Meek, Terry Hoff, and Elaine Cole.

Pat Scheib received 90 per cent on an evolution quiz taken in Mr. Weber's period 1 Botany 2 class.

When students finish their projects in Mr. Quance's woodworking classes their projects will be displayed in the hall near the library. Those projects which are presently on display are Micky Miller's head board and Robert Knox's step table.

Robert Platz scored highest on a test in Miss Ayers' period 5 junior business training class.

Bill Cartwright made the highest score on a recent test over the Midwest in Miss Ayers' period 1 Commercial Geography 1 class.

Mr. Crumer's Algebra 2 classes are preparing for a test over quadratic equations.

Miss Edith Crowe's health classes are studying chapter 23, "Your Invisible Enemies."

Curt Venderley made the highest score on a recent test over the Midwest in Miss Ayers' period 3 commercial geography class.

Those who received A's on a comprehensive English review test in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 4 class are Fred Rothert, Robert Cushman, James Mittelstadt, Chip Bolman, Jo Elynn Good, and Carol Brooks.

The students who made the highest scores on a recent test over the Midwest in Miss Ayers' period 7 commercial geography class are Sandra Bates, Betty Lou Ensley, David Margerum, and Betty Russell.

Al Purdy, John Rupel, Gwen Welting, Joanne Rose, and Tom David received the highest scores on a test over respiration taken in Mr. Weber's period 3 Botany 1 class.

Receiving A's on a comprehensive English review in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 3 class are Jane Hetfield, Janet Gerig, and Richard Rutkowski.

Having had an examination over Romanticism and the Romantic Age in Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 7 class, the following students received high scores: Jackie Kuhns, Gary Probst, Judy Schumm, Karen Snaveley, Ellen Stanbery, and Sharyn Yarger.

pedwin slugger

Just one look tells you this trim new Pedwin is the season's pennant-winning style... a shoe that'll have you batting a thousand on every occasion. Try it on soon.

10.95

as seen in SPORTS ILLUSTRATED

pedwin.

THE CO. SHOE CO.
121 W. Wayne St.

FRUIT JUICES
Regular Delivery
Punches for all Special Occasions—
Punch Bowls, Ladles, and Cups
HOME JUICE CO.
1816 Reidmiller Road E-6483

FREE!

EVERY WEEK...

AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds...register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS

Gardner's... DOWNTOWN

Gardner's... by the COLISEUM

...for the original... the best

...the one and only

GARDNER HAMBURGER

WIN THIS RADIO!

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

1962

Calling all students... time to order your

BABER CLASS RINGS

Phone A-7306... E-4197

BABER'S

Barry at Calhoun

Instructors To Tour Europe, Visit Switzerland, Luxembourg

BON VOYAGE . . . Discussing their trips to Europe this summer are left to right Mr. Glen Stebing, driver education instructor; Mr. George Collyer, social studies teacher; Miss Ann Arber, English and speech instructor; and Miss Jeanne Smith, French teacher.—Photo by Triplett

Planning trips to Europe this summer are Miss Jeanne Smith, French, English, and Latin teacher; Mr. George Collyer, social studies teacher; Miss Ann Arber, English teacher; and Mr. Glen Stebing, driver education instructor.

Miss Jeanne Smith intends to study in Paris, France. For the last two summers she has studied at McGill University in Montreal, Canada, toward her Master of Arts degree in French. The credits she will receive at the University of Paris will transfer to McGill University.

Miss Smith will arrive in London, England, on June 14, after flying from Chicago, Ill. From London she will travel into Italy for two weeks.

FROM JULY 1 until August 15 she will live in a student residence of the University of Paris while she studies grammar courses in French at the graduate school.

June 11 is the date of departure for Mr. George Collyer, social studies teacher, and his wife. They will fly to Stuttgart, Germany, with a De Pauw University tour for a reunion of alumni of that university of which Mrs. Collyer is a graduate.

The Collyers will visit their son who lives in Germany. Eastern France will be the next part of their trip with Denmark and Sweden following. They will return to the United States by plane on July 2.

WITH HER AUNT and mother as travel companions, Miss Ann Arber, English teacher, is planning to spend six weeks in Europe.

Departing in June, they will fly by jet to Germany and later Switzerland where they will visit friends and relatives. After a trip down the Rhine River, Miss Arber said that she hoped to visit Norway and Sweden, also.

Mr. Glen Stebing, driver education teacher, has been chosen as the delegate from the Foster Park Lion's Club to attend the Lion's International convention in Nice, France. His wife will accompany him, they will fly to Nice on June 19.

Southern Methodist University Offers Pupil Activity Program

For students looking for the university with a wide choice of courses, Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, is one school to consider.

Founded in 1910 by a Methodist commission, the university has grown every year since that date, so that today there is a student body of about six thousand. Students come to Southern Methodist from every state and as many as forty countries.

Occupying 160 acres, the school consists of 14 fraternity and 13 sorority houses, dormitories, six libraries, various buildings of the different schools, a stadium, the Coliseum, and buildings for student recreation.

SEVEN SCHOOLS compose the university. They are the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, Perkins School of Theology, the School of Music, the School of Engineering, the School of Law, and the School of Business Administration.

The College of Arts and Sciences offers the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in any department of the college, and a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in mathematics or natural science. Each

Archaeologists Study Remains From Prehistoric Civilizations

Man's prehistoric and historic past is the field of study known as archaeology. The material remains of past civilizations are the major clues in reconstructing the unrecorded cultural history of mankind. The finding, recovery, and interpretation of these material objects or artifacts such as buildings, tools, weapons, and household utensils, become the lifework of dedicated scientists, known as archaeologists.

The archaeologist is interested in reconstructing the daily life and the customary behavior of lost civilizations. In his research work, the archaeologist uses any available historic evidence and combines it with the knowledge derived from the artifacts found in his discoveries.

By relating this information to the fields of anthropology and geology, the archaeologist can trace the history of a civilization.

MODERN ARCHAEOLOGY dates back to the discovery of Pompeii in 1748. Today, half of this Roman city, which had been buried under volcanic ash from Vesuvius nearly 17 centuries ago, is excavated and open to the public. In the 20th Century archaeology has become a science, with systematic techniques of discovery, excavation, recording, preservation, and interpretation.

Since the field work of an archaeologist consists of finding objects and interpreting them, he must first be part of an organized expedition. An expedition includes a field director, field assistants, a recorder, a field architect, a photographer, a restorer, an epigraphist to decipher and interpret inscriptions, and also local diggers.

Usually such an expedition is sponsored by a museum, university, or philanthropic and other interested agencies.

After a site for excavation has been found either by a field survey or air photography, the expedition begins its painstaking work of digging, recording, and preserving discoveries and interpreting their historical significance.

IF A STUDENT wants to do museum work, working as an assistant during summer vacations may help him toward his goal. Vacation or weekend field trips will be especially valuable to a student who wants to do permanent archaeological work. A few universities offer summer field courses, and state and local archaeological societies also provide similar experience for the future archaeologist.

The earlier a student makes up his mind that he wants archaeology as a career, the better it will be for him. Since training involves years of study, much can be done even in high school with a planned program of courses.

Every archaeologist must be able to write well in order to prepare his reports; and he must be able to read in French and German, since there is a wealth of archaeological literature in these languages. If he is interested in field work, he must also know Latin for classical archaeology and Spanish for excavating in Central or South America. Geometry and trigonometry are also important, for the archaeologist must draw maps for his plans of excavating.

ON ADMISSION to college, it is to the student's advantage to consult the adviser for the Anthropology Department. Courses in chemistry, geology, and paleontology are especially useful. History and the history of art are also recommended, and care should be taken to fulfill the pre-requisites for the more advanced courses in the graduate school.

The student should also take typing, photography, freehand and mechanical drawing, and simple surveying.

Most professional archaeologists have spent three to five years in graduate schools and have a Ph.D. Anyone who cannot finance his first six years in college is not advised to enter this field.

A few scholarships and fellowship aids are given to the exceptionally qualified students but usually not until the end of the first year of graduate school.

The rewards of archaeology are greater in personal satisfaction than in salary. About $6,000 to $7,000 a year is all an archaeologist can count on, but a full professorship pays $12,000.

Wesleyan University Provides Pupils With 'Service Careers'

Ohio Wesleyan University, 20 miles north of Ohio's capital, Columbus, is located in Delaware, a city of 13,000 persons. Established under the auspices of the Methodist Church in 1841, Ohio Wesleyan received its charter the following year.

The guiding principle of the charter, which provides that the University "... is forever to be conducted on the most liberal principles, accessible to all religious denominations and designed for the benefit of our citizens in general," continues to be the present rule.

Today Ohio Wesleyan, a distinguished liberal arts college, is called a "service oriented" school, because large numbers of its students prepare themselves for service careers in teaching, preaching, medical missionary work, research in medicine, engineering, science, journalism, government, and education on any level.

The university operates on a two-semester system and awards the following degrees: bachelor of arts, bachelor of fine arts, bachelor of music, master of arts, and master of science.

THE UNIVERSITY IS fully approved and accredited. It is a member of the Association of American Colleges, the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the University Senate of the Methodist Church, and the Association of University Women.

Its departmental accreditation includes membership in the National Association of Schools of Music, approval by the American Chemical Society for professional training of chemists in undergraduate schools, and accreditation by Ohio's Department of Education in the training of teachers for secondary and elementary schools.

Two of the nation's principal honor societies, Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Kappa Lambda, maintain chapters on the campus.

The full-time student body consists of 2,100. Admission is selective, and 650 freshmen are eligible for admittance—325 men and 325 women.

Since Ohio Wesleyan is a medium-sized resident school, it offers the student the opportunity to participate in a large number of campus activities. Among these are the student government organizations, religious activities, musical groups, speech societies, student publications, athletic groups, and professional performances.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT organizations, which promote the application of democratic processes to campus problems, include the Student Council, the Association of Women Students, the Men's Court, the Panhellenic Council, and the Men's Inter-fraternity Council.

The aim of the various religious groups on campus is to foster growth in religious thought of the student.

There is a considerable number of church groups, Christian associations, and also the university Christian Council which constantly strives to cultivate enduring interest in the practice of religious thought and experience.

Musical activities offer extensive opportunities for the participation and enjoyment of the student. These include the A Cappella Choir, Men's Glee Club, Women's Glee Club, Symphony Orchestra, Marching Band, Concert Band, and faculty and student recitals during the school year.

FOR THE STUDENT who is interested in speech work there are the debate teams and the university-owned radio station WSLN. For the one interested in dramatics, there is membership in The Wesleyan Players.

Students who like to work in publications should know that the university has a weekly newspaper, The Transcript, a 300-page yearbook "Le Bijou," and a literary quarterly "The Owl."

Student interest in athletics will find an outlet in varsity sports, intramural sports, and the Women's Recreation Association.

Campus life is further stimulated by the appearance of famous speakers, great artists, famous speakers, and art exhibitions of outstanding quality.

Approximately eighty-five per cent of the women are members of the 12 national sororities and ninety per cent of the men are members of the 14 national fraternities. Many upper-classmen live in fraternity houses, but all women live in university residence halls and use their sorority houses for social purposes only.

STUDENTS CAN AVAIL themselves of responsible and skilled assistance from the personnel services of the university. All students are helped in their program-building by advisers. Counselors are always ready to help any student.

Freshman orientation begins immediately preceding the fall registration; the personal qualifications and abilities of the student are carefully evaluated.

The university maintains a health service for the student's physical well-being. A clinic in Edgar Hall, a student hospital with a staff of registered nurses, and a full-time university physician are available.

Two other services are available to the students. These are the Educational Research and Evaluation Service for anyone interested in appraising himself and the Placement Office, which is available to all seniors and alumni.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test will be given Saturday morning at Central High School at 9 a.m. The test covers grammar and mathematics and will last three hours. Achievement tests will also be given, starting at 1 p.m.

Students To Take Tests

The Scholastic Aptitude Test will be given Saturday morning at Central High School at 9 a.m. The test covers grammar and mathematics and will last three hours. Achievement tests will also be given, starting at 1 p.m.

Journalism Society Increases Number To Sixty Members

Since last fall a number of new members have been enrolled into the ranks of the 1500 Club, a society for journalists who have earned their bronze, silver, gold, or gold-jeweled pins, or who have been presented with the special award. In order to merit these various prizes, an individual must have accumulated 1500 points, 3,000 points, 5,000 points, 10,000 points, or 22,500 points respectively.

Members of the club who have earned their bronze pin include Suelton Borgmann, Jean Braden, Larry Brown, Sharon Carrel, Christie Conneman, Karen Miller, Harriet Ochstein, Phyllis Pierson, Jean Simpson, Doris Atzoff, Cynthia Snider, Sandra Stark, Bonnie Strehlow, Sharyn Yerger, Jean Hatfield, and Jan Reynolds.

Silver pins have been awarded to Susie Phillips, Ann Brase, Janet Brenn, Debby Brooke, Lynelle Dill, Tom Erb, Karen Finfrock, Babetta Jones, Sharon Karst, Susan Korte, Carole Ladig, Honey-K Martindale, Ann McCallister, Cindy Sue Miller, Barb Nelson, Terry Newendorp, Steve Pratt, Nancy Redding, Marna Reiber, Karen Simons, Cindy Jackson, Karen Franks, Bonnie Smith, and Sue Weinraub.

Several members have acquired enough points for their gold pin. Among these are Barb Altevogt, Sue Burdick, Rosemary Capps, Sharon Eitman, Sarah Finch, Diane Froderick, Ann Galmeyer, Kaylene Gebert, Susie Hines, Larry Lee, Leanna Morris, Pamela Pansky, Bonnie Russell, Peggy Schmidt, Beth Burnett, Bill Wilder, Erin Rose, Dick Parke, and Sally Sweet.

Gold jeweled pins have been earned by Kathy DeVore, Ann Golden, Sue Horth, Jenny Manth, Susan Smith, Margoe Terry, Ann Flickinger, Sue Kelley, Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Roberta Twitchell, Pat Bailey, and Stuart Schmitz. Sandy Thom is the only holder of the special award.

Scientists Choose Nominees At Academy Picnic May 8

Junior Academy of Science members nominated officers at their picnic May 8 at Foster Park. Nominees for the office are Janet Kelley, Karl Krause, Stan Moore, Steve Roidel, Jack Siegel, Ann Shilling, and Jim Truelock. Nominations closed Friday and the names of the new officers will be announced at the next meeting.

Lyall Morrill, senior, and Mr. Robert Weber, botany teacher, judged a scientific essay contest. The winning essays and their authors are "The Three Infinity," by Jack Seigel; "Blue Grass," by Dave Triplett; "Language in Culture," by Linda Moody; "Nuclear Reactors," by Dan McCroskey; "Facsimile Process," by Ken Lothamer; and "The Story of Fraction," by Lyall Morrill.

REGISTER

FOR 2 FREE 500 MILE RACE TICKETS

GRANDSTAND "A" BOX SEATS

With Every Purchase of Our Special

5 Hamburgers for $1.05 or

Each Gallon of Vanilla Ice Cream

Contest Starts Monday, May 21st

Drawing Monday, May 28th, 9:30 p. m.

YOU NEED NOT BE PRESENT TO WIN

HAMBURGERS - FRIES - MALTS - SODAS - SUNDAES - HOT DOGS - COFFEE - SLOPPY JOES

FOX'S DIXIE ICE CREAM

3808 S. Calhoun Street

(Under New Management)

H-5193 for Carry-Out

Seniors Attend Dance,
'A Touch Of Elegance'

The South Side Times

Congratulations—
Ivy Day Queen, Court

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 32

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Friday, May 25, 1962

Price Ten Cents

Seniors Select Sue Perry As Ivy Day Queen

Dr. Paul Krauss, Mr. Lester Grile To Speak To Graduates

Addresses To Concern Design For Life, Future Built On Past

Addressing the graduating seniors at the Baccalaureate service and Commencement will be Dr. Paul H. Krauss, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran Church, and Mr. Lester L. Grile, Superintendent of the Fort Wayne Community Schools, respectively.

The Baccalaureate service will begin at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 3, in the school gymnasium. Opening the program will be the prelude played by the concert orchestra under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music instructor.

The processional will follow with the senior class officers leading the graduates. Dr. Krauss will give the call to worship which will be followed with the singing of a hymn.

MR. LESTER GRILE will then read the scripture lesson which will precede the anthem, "Be Still and Know," by Glarum as done by the choir led by Mr. Lester Hostetler, vocal music director.

Dr. Krauss will give the class prayer followed by a hymn and his sermon entitled "A Design For Living." The program will conclude with the giving of the benediction and the recessional by seniors.

There will be room for all who care to attend this service, and so seniors are encouraged to invite their parents and friends.

The Rev. Paul H. Krauss, D.D., is a graduate of Muhlenberg College and the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary. He attended Northwestern University and received his Doctor of Divinity Degree from Wittenberg University.

DR. KRAUSS HAS BEEN a pastor in Pittsburgh, Pa., a Navy chaplain during World War I; and the Secretary of the Division of Student Services of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Since 1920 he has been the pastor of Trinity English Lutheran Church, the largest Protestant Church in Fort Wayne and one of the largest Lutheran Churches in the United States. Dr. Krauss' congregation includes more than 4,200 members.

Commencement exercises will take place Wednesday, June 6, at 8:30 p.m. in the main arena of the Memorial Coliseum. Mr. Drummond will lead the band in the opening number, "Irish Tune from a County Derry."

"University Grand March" will serve as the processional which will be followed with the call to colors and "The Star Spangled Banner." Then Larrie Lee, senior class president, will give the invocation.

The theme of the commencement program is "The present from the past has grown; the future can be made our own." Three members of the graduating class and Mr. Grile will speak on a portion of this theme.

HENRY PERSONS, speaking on "The Past," will begin the series. Following Henry's talk, the choir will sing "Let There Be Peace on Earth." Lissa Hoffman will speak on "The Present;" and Lyall Morrill, Jr. will discuss "The Future."

Following Lyall's speech the choir will sing "You'll Never Walk Alone." The Superintendent Grile will deliver his talk on "Our Own."

Diplomas will be presented by Mr. Ora Davis, dean of men, and Mr. R.

Dr. Paul Krauss

Mr. Lester Grile

Nelson Snider, principal. Seniors will then sing the Alma Mater and recess to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar as played by the band.

MR. GRILE, A NATIVE of Indiana, received the A.B. and M.A. degrees from Indiana University. Before coming to Fort Wayne in 1941 he taught at Gas City and Frankfort. He was with the local school system as a teacher at Bloomington, Hoagland, and Harrison Hill.

Later Mr. Grile served as the principal at South Wayne and at Franklin Schools.

Mr. Grile is a member of the Indiana Association of Elementary School Principals, the National Education Association Department of Elementary School Principals, the Central Lions Club, and Simpson Methodist Church.

Five Wranglers To Attend Class At I.U. Campus

Archers who will attend the fourth annual Indiana Speech and Theatre High School Institute presented this summer by the Indiana University Department of Speech and Theatre are Juniors Tom Erb, Erin Rose, Rosemary Capps, Peggy Brase, and Ann McCallister. These students will attend from July 8 to July 21.

The Institute is designed for high school students who will be seniors in September, 1962, and are recommended by their speech and theatre instructor or their principal. A two-week program for a select number of high school students—providing specialized training in either forensics or dramatics.

The purpose of the forensics program is to develop skills in public speaking, discussion, and debate. Topics for 1962-63 high school debate and discussion questions will be planned. The program will be conducted through classes, research laboratories, individual instruction, public discussions, and a television debate.

TO DEVELOP SKILLS in theater arts, a dramatics program including acting and make-up, costuming, lighting and stagecraft will be emphasized. Insti-tutors will learn through classes, workshops, and individual instruction. The group will rehearse and present plays before audiences for two evenings in the University Theater.

The Institute provides basic courses in forensics and dramatics, training and preparation for high school speech and theater activities for 1962-63, public performances as speaker or actor, opportunity to meet new friends and enjoy new experiences, and two weeks work and play on the University campus.

The Institute staff will include members of the University faculty and visiting high school teachers. Insti-tutors will stay in Wright Quadrangle and eat in its cafeteria.

Institute students will spend Sunday afternoon in Brown County, at a picnic in the park, will see two plays at the Brown County Summer Playhouse, may swim, play tennis or other games, will be welcome at convocations, public lectures and concerts, and may attend square dances on the Union terrace.

ERIN ROSE, WHO has taken one semester of speech, is a member of Philo, Times, where she is a feature writer, room agent, and an ad solicitor and has earned her gold pin. Wranglers, Assemblies Workshop, Concert Choir, Service Club, co-president of Christian Youth Fellowship, and president of the district CYF.

Ann McCallister, in her second semester of speech, is a member of Wranglers, Assemblies Workshop, a Times feature writer, room agent, and a Pegasus bookhead.

Tom is a member of the Times staff where he has earned his silver pin, Assemblies Workshop, and incoming president of Wranglers.

IVY DAY ROYAL COURT . . . Queen Sue Perry is surrounded by her court of, left to right, Sue Kelley, Diane Fredrick, Sharon Carrel, and Debby Brooke. Senior class president Larry Lee will crown Sue during this morning's Ivy Day ceremonies following the traditional parade of the Class of 1962.—Photo by Lowden

Eight Students To Participate In Arts Festival Productions

Eight students will be participating in the Fort Wayne Fine Arts Festival today through Wednesday at Franke Park. Marla Habacker, junior, Barbie Rex, sophomore; and Alice Fruechtenicht, freshman, will be taking part in the Fort Wayne Ballet's presentation on May 26.

Tom McMahan, post-graduate, is participating in the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra on Sunday, May 27. Participating in the presentation by the Fort Wayne Civic Theater are Sophomores Claryn Birk and Christine Fruechtenicht and Seniors Barb Gantz and Aletha Staight.

The opening ceremonies are at 7:30 p.m. today followed by a concert by the Mizpah Shrine Band. On Saturday a Children's Theater performance will be given at 1:30 p.m. in the theater tent. And the outdoor bleachers at 1 and 2 p.m. demonstrations of folk dancing will be given. At 7 p.m. the DeVinney Marionettes will present "The Colorbook Dragon" in the theater tent.

THE FORT WAYNE Ballet Company, under the direction of John Neff, will present at 8 p.m. They will present "Ceremonies of Carols," excerpts from "The Red Shoes," "Pas de Deux" from Graduation Ball, and "Symphonic Variations."

On May 27, the Philharmonic Orchestra will be rehearsing from 1 to 4 p.m. at the News-Sentinel Theater. The rehearsal is open to the public. From 4 to 6 p.m. free lessons for instrumental students will be given by the members of the orchestra. Students must bring their own instruments.

The Philharmonic will present the festival concert at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of Igor Buketoff. Dorothy Escena, pianist, will be the guest soloist; and she will play "Rhapsody in Blue" and other selections. The concert will also feature a performance of the opera "The Golden Medal."

THERE WILL BE A tea and fashion show Monday at 3 p.m. A jazz concert will be given by the American Federation of Musicians Local No. 58 at 7:30 p.m.

On May 29 another tea and fashion show will be presented at 3 p.m. In the evening the Fort Wayne Civic Theater will present "They Lived Happily Ever After." This is an original play written by the fifth-year class of the Civic Theater. This play will be presented again at the Civic Theater on June 23.

Assisting in the presentation of the honors on Senior Recognition Day, Friday, June 1, will be Senior B Susan Smith, the Spirit of South Side; underclassmen will be recognized on June 1. All students will attend the Senior Recognition Day ceremonies; however, seniors will not be required to attend Underclassmen Recognition Day.

Entering to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar, played by the band under the direction of Mr. Robert T. Drummond, newly capped and gownned seniors will be seated on chairs on the gymnasium floor. The procession will be led by Bill Mueller, valedictorian, and Babette Jones, salutatorian.

The class officers, Larry Lee, president; Cheryl Summers, vice president; Diane Fredrick, secretary-treasurer; Sharon Carrel, social council chairman; and Debby Brooke and Mark Hagerman, members of the social council, will follow.

KAREN PONADER, junior, is to be in charge of the trophy table. Juniors Ann Shilling, Ann McCallister, and Erin Rose will pin the ribbons on the recipients of the rewards.

Taking charge of the signature sheets will be Juniors Tonya Hines, Peggy Schmidt, Ann Flickinger, and Julie Breidenstein. Rosemary Capps, Patty Bailey, Beth Burnett, and Barbara Altevogt, senior B's will usher.

The awards to be presented to the seniors are those for scholarship, perfect attendance, Hi-Y Best Citizen, DAR Best Citizen, Kiwanis Best Citizen, Sertoma Award, Sally Stambaugh Award, Lettermen's Trophy, Bausch and Lomb Award; Voorhees Awards, Betty Crocker Award, Davis Cup, Randolph Jacobs,

Students Construct New Trophy Case

Gary Roby, junior A, and David Bunsold, senior A, constructed the trophy case now placed over the north entrance of the gym in their Wood 4 class taught by Mr. Raymond Quance as a project of this semester.

The trophy case, which is approximately 12 feet long and 24 inches high, cost a total of $42. Of the $12. $25 was spent on fir plywood and maple and $17 was spent on the glass.

Trophies now in the trophy case are from the North Side Relays. They are for the shuttle hurdle in 1955, the 880 in 1955, the two mile in 1955, the freshman 880 in 1956, the shuttle hurdle in 1954, the medley in 1957, the medley in 1959, and the freshman relay in 1960.

Festival Music Players To Enact Two Musicals

The 1962 season of the Festival Music Theater will open on July 12 with the first local presentation of "Bye Bye Birdie." This play, which is also scheduled for three performances the following weekend, will be presented in the Franke Park Outdoor Theater.

In addition to "Bye Bye Birdie," the players are also making preparations for "Gypsy," the life story of Gypsy Rose Lee, which will be shown on August 16, 17, and 18 and again on August 22, 24, and 25.

Class Members Choose Speaker For Ceremonies

Mr. Lester L. Grile
To Receive Ivy Plant
From Class Of 1962

Sue Perry will be crowned Ivy Day Queen of the Class of 1962 during the Ivy Day ceremonies today. Members of Sue's court are Sharon Carrel, Diane Fredrick, Debby Brooke, and Sue Kelley.

The queen and her court are the senior girls receiving the most votes from Senior Class members. Larry Lee, class president, was also selected by the members of the class to serve as Ivy Day orator.

The seniors will assemble in the gymnasium at 8:10 a.m. for the formation of the parade. The choir and seniors will follow Sue and her court to the southeast entrance of the building where Mr. Robert Drummond, band director, the majorettes, and the band will join the group.

THE PROCESSION WILL be led by the majorettes west on Oakdale, north on Calhoun, and east on Darrow before the faculty and underclassmen.

The ceremonies will be conducted on a platform located at the northeast corner of the building. The program will commence with introductory remarks by Tom McMahan.

Larry Lee will accept the crown for the coronation from the Crown-bearer Teresa Ann Block and present the Ivy Day oration. On behalf of the Class of 1962, Cheryl Summers, class vice-president, will present the ivy. Following the acceptance of the ivy by Mr. Lester L. Grile, superintendent of schools, Mark Hagerman will plant it.

THE SENIOR CHOIR will perform during the program with Margie Grieser as soloist. The singing of the Alma Mater will conclude the ceremonies. The seniors will then return to their first period classes.

Assisting the queen and her court are Judy Merrill, Brenda Dull, Babs Jones, Sue Horth, Mary Keegan, and Tamara Vyhovsky. Phil Spray is chairman of the committee for decorating the platform. His assistants are Jane Ladig, Steve Lowens, and Jeff Roth.

Queen Sue expressed her happiness of being selected by saying, "It is such a great honor being chosen Ivy Day Queen. The excitement and happiness I feel will always remind me of the wonderful friends I have in my class."

Senior B's Sue Smith, Barb Altevogt, Beth Burnett To Edit Times, Totem

Sue Smith

Barb Altevogt

Beth Burnett

as outside circulation manager, book-head, room agent, and copy reader. She is also a member of the Board of Publications.

On May 19, Sue was one of the student teachers in the journalism workshop at South Side for junior high students, and she will teach again in the school yearbook workshop on May 26. Sue has been chosen to attend the newspaper workshop at Indiana University from July 8 to July 21.

HAVING ALREADY earned her gold-jeweled pin, Sue is also secretary of the 1500 Club. In addition to her work on the Times staff, she has participated in Philo, Wranglers, and Assemblies Workshop; and she was secretary and dance chairman of Me-tettes. She is also a member of the service club and services three periods a day.

On the college course, Sue is taking English 7, Chemistry 1, trigonometry, and Government 1. Outside of school, she is active in her church organization and is vice-president of Luther League at Trinity English Lutheran Church.

In announcing Sue's appointment, Mr. Rohrabough said, "Sue Smith, (Continued on Page 3)

SPIRIT OF SOUTH SIDE . . . for the 1962 Recognition Day ceremonies is Susan Smith, center. Her court includes, sitting, Karen Ponader, left, and Ann Flickinger; left to right, kneeling, Julie Breidenstein, Erin Rose, Tonya Hines, Ann McCallister; and standing, Beth Burnett, Patty Bailey, Ann Shilling, Rosie Capps, Barb Altevogt, and Peggy Schmidt. Photo by Lowden

Cup, Philo Literary Cups, Ella Jo Reed Cup, the Columbian Trophy, The Earl Sterner Leadership Trophy, the Rowena Harvey Publications Trophy, the Times Writing Trophy, the Times Photography Trophy, and the Times High Point Trophy.

Outstanding seniors enrolled in each academic department will also be recognized on the bases of special tests.

DENNIS CRILL WILL provide organ music for both Senior Recognition Day and Underclassmen Recognition Day. The senior assembly will close with the "Alma Mater" and the recessional by the band.

On Underclassmen Recognition Day, the clubs will recognize outstanding members. In addition, the outstanding students in each branch of the academic departments will be recognized.

Assisting with the trophies on June 4 will be seniors Bill Mueller and Lyall Morrill, Jenny Manth, Elizabeth Hostetler, Diane Fredrick, and Babette tion Day and Underclassmen Recognition Day. The senior assembly will close with the "Alma Mater" and the recessional by the band.

On Underclassmen Recognition Day, the clubs will recognize outstanding members. In addition, the outstanding students in each branch of the academic departments will be recognized.

Assisting with the trophies on June 4 will be seniors Bill Mueller and Lyall Morrill, Jenny Manth, Elizabeth Hostetler, Diane Fredrick, and Babette

Jones, will pin the ribbons. Larrie Lee, Ann Golden, Terry Newendorp, Cheryl Summers, Mark Hagerman, and Sharon Carrel, seniors, will take care of the signature page. Elizabeth Hostetler is in charge of arrangements.

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, who is handling arrangements for this year's ceremony, stated, "In the past, Recognition Day ceremonies have always been beautiful and inspiring. This year's ceremony should prove just as inspiring as in the past."

Graduation Offers Moment For Remembering Seniors

As the final days of the school year fall prey to the sweep of the calendar, a time of life and a way of life come to a close for the Senior Class of 1962.

The hours of study, the ball games, the club meetings, and class activities of four high-school years fade into the depths of memory as the light of the future beckons.

The past years have been productive; South Side has done much for the seniors; they in turn have contributed much to their school.

Emerging from the turmoil of tassel caps, starched robes, and gleaming invitations, perhaps the Class of '62 recalls its freshman semesters.

The most self-assured graduate now was then just another frightened frosh attempting to dodge the crowds, trying to find the algebra room, or wondering how to hail that elusive elevator.

The sophomore months brought confidence. Good study habits were undertaken; football lineups were memorized; and extra activities were added to schedules.

Probably the junior year found the students taking things easy and enjoying the prestige of an added year of education. Then came the senior year. Panic! The class discovered there was a lot to be accomplished, goals to be reached, and so little time.

The seniors have met the challenge of high school in true Kelly fashion. Their mark is seen everywhere; their spirit felt by all. The Class of 1962 has set a fine example of Archer determination and loyalty. Academically and socially the desks left empty by their graduation will be difficult to fill; the senior record will be hard to match.

The hard-earned diplomas will lead some of the graduates to higher learning, others to applied learning. But whatever the course of tomorrow, the faculty and underclassmen extend to the seniors most sincere congratulations and best wishes for future good fortune.—By Peggy Schmidt

Membership In Activities Reaps Recognition Failure

Clubs, organizations, and extra-curricular activities all seem to be linked with a key word—recognition; and often they seem to take precedence over responsibilities which should rightfully come first. Both home life and school work frequently suffer.

As an example of unwise use of time for outside activities is the case of the pupil who maintained that he had no time to get his many assignments done. When his teachers inquired as to what he had been doing they found that he had spent all his evenings attending club meetings, working on committees, and doing numerous other things he considered more important than homework.

Well, some people would say that the pupil was justified in what he did, since he was working to gain honors. Of course, his way is not the only way there is to gain recognition. If he had spent half his time on the essential things, he would be known well. As it is, he is known as a person who has spread himself so thin that his true ability doesn't have a chance to show itself.—By Janet Dinius

Archer Couples Play Parts In Happenings About Ancient Castle

Once upon a time in a faraway land, there was a magnificent castle. This castle was actually owned by Kaye Gall and Bob Lehman, but Queen Honey-K Martindale and King John Addington rented it from them.

The parents of the royal pair, Judy Gill (B.L.) and Sid Shera and Linda Newell and Joe McComb (N.S., '60) lived in the castle also. These inlaws always added their helpful ideas to any problems which arose.

The castle was faithfully guarded by Sydney Schinbeckler, Steve Campbell, Leanna Morris, Jim Dawson (Colorado State University), Sue Moyer, Dale Hilsamer, Judi Hollister, and Terry Mills (B.L.), who continuously waddled around always ready to whip out their squirt guns and bean shooters.

Jane Augspurger, Kenny Leakey, Louraine Ford, and Chuck Heuer (Purdue) also aided by making faces.

The members of the royal family were entertained by the court jesters, Bev Fiegel, Mike Roach (C.C., '61), Sharon Eitman, Jim Ellingwood, Susie Baumgardner, Bob Ramage (U.S. Army), Janet Bunsold, and Steve Leitz.

These crazy clowns did everything from turning cartwheels and somersaults to blowing bubbles.

Their hilarious stunts kept everyone highly amused, especially Babs Jones, Tom Merkert (Purdue), Jan Spuller, Tom Marshall, Leslie Green, Dave Richards (N.S., '61), Eileen Mayle, and Curtis Holley, the hard-working janitors. This staff, under the supervision of Judy Evans and Dave Wallace, kept the castle sparkling all the time.

One day a horrible fire-breathing dragon named Gary Tinkel sneaked into the palace and kidnapped Carole Ladig, the beautiful young princess.

He took her off to Tom Shaeffer's ('61) dungeon and there held her captive. Pat Bobay guarded the princess until Louise Brown and Terry Hoff, rulers of the dungeon, came and decided upon the ransom.

Back at the castle Dave Meek and Sharon Graffis were quickly organizing an army. Consisting of Cindy Snider, Bob Gifford (Purdue), Kay Carrier, Johnny Tholen, (B.L.), Annell Hoover, Dave Tipton, Judi McKay, and Tom Neuschwander, this militia set off in search of the dragon and the princess.

Acting as scouts, Joan Lambert, Steve Tharp, Kay Falt, and Dick Emmerick (Freemont) soon found the hide-out. Sue Burdick and Bill Borgmann, the guards, were captured by Liz Weikart and Bob Weiss; and then the army made its way into the dungeon.

After coins were flipped to see who would be victorious, the princess was released and returned with the army to the castle.

That night there was a celebration dinner which was prepared by the chief chefs, Sandy Farmer, Dave Fleming, Nancy Nordeen, and Don Eisenacher. ('61).

The dinner progressed well until Barrie McCombs dropped a plate into Gary Gemmer's (Central) lap and Karen McClymonds spilled milk all over Bob Evans. (Roanoke, '61).

The highlight of the evening was the recitation of nursery rhymes by Patty Menze, Jerry Moring, ('61), Marcia Larson, and Sam Fryback, ('61).

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Recently married were Mary Stuntz, '58, and Daniel Jenkins, a Central graduate. Mary also attended Parkview Hospital School of Nursing and Purdue University Center. She was formerly employed by the Lockheed Missile and Space Company in Sunnyvale, Calif. Dan attended Purdue and Indiana University Centers and served three years in the U.S. Navy. He is now associated with Town and Country Wholesale Food Company.

To be married June 30 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church are Miss Diane Lauer, a graduate of Central Catholic High School, and Mr. Thomas Compton, '48. Miss Lauer also was graduated from St. Joseph's School of Nursing. Mr. Compton received his bachelor's and master's degree from Yale University and was graduated from Union Theological Seminary in New York City. He is presently teaching English at South.

Planning a wedding for June 2 are Linda Woodruff, '60, and Robert Zink. '59. Linda is a graduate of Fort Wayne Beauty College and is employed by Mr. John's Hairstyling Salon. Bob is with the Air Force and is stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, Mich.

Beth Golden, '60, will be one of many students entertaining their fathers during the "Father's Week End" at Wells College, Aurora, New York. Planned for the occasion are an aqueduct, a concert performed by the choir, a clambake, and a one-act play to be presented by the dramatic club.

Ann Plogsterth, '61, who is studying Greek at Wellesley College, is to appear in the Greek Department's production in the original language of "Alceste" by Euripides. Ann is a member of the Greek chorus which in "Alceste" is to represent the fifteen wise men of Athens. The performances are to take place in an amphitheater on the campus.

David Reynolds, '61, was elected to serve on the state council of the Indiana Baptist Youth at the organization's annual convention in LaPorte, Ind. Dave will serve as chairman of the older youth work on the council. He is a student at Indiana University Extension Center, president of the Fort Wayne Association of Baptist Youth, and is employed by Lincoln National Bank and Trust Co.

Twist Tangles Twosome . . .

Seattle World's Fair Points Out Seriousness Of Global Situations

By Peggy Schmidt

Seattle is in the spotlight! Cameras are focused upon her; the press is telling her tale; planes are pointed towards her; and rails run westward to her Pacific home. The world's fair is foremost in the attention of America and the earth.

There have been other fairs, other world fairs; why then is an entire globe centered on Seattle? "Century 21" is not merely another vast carnival which draws the usual crowd of thrill-seekers and money-spenders. This year's world's fair is a presentation of the world situation, intended to awake the nations to their problems and potentials and to join them in peace and progress. The exposition is designed to encourage each visitor to observe his surroundings, to interpret them, and to evaluate them. This is accomplished through a series of interesting and enlightening exhibits.

THE SYMBOL OF the Seattle Fair is the space needle. This six-hundred-foot tower rises on three pairs of steel legs and transports 10,000 spectators a day to a restaurant and panoramic view of Washington at it's top.

In a greater sense, form and plan render it a sign of overall scientific progress. The many scientific exhibits around its supports are typical of the relationship between the scientist and the worker in the free world.

Each exhibit illustrates a principle or mechanical development and, if possible, explains it in terms understandable to all. This is done in an attempt to evoke scientific interest among all types of people and to encourage individuals to investigate the advancements in science.

MARKED STRESS IS placed upon outer space, emphasizing the importance of exploration and spacecraft experimentation.

The fair also devotes much area to displays of industrial progress. Growth and diversification of industry to match national advancement is shown. Trade, communication, and electronics are highly rated.

This division of the fair is a mark of the business strength of our land. It shows the results of a people working toward common betterment and achievement through industry.

PART OF THE fairgrounds brings yesterday to the present. An old world square joins the original Hudson Bay Cabin, Wells Fargo Stage, and other elements of antiquity in reliving the past. This serves as a reminder of the beginnings of the United States, as proof of its success, and as a record on national change.

An equal amount of space is spent on the future. Tomorrow's world is pictured as the most modern civilization since the beginning of time.

Teen Unmindfulness Demands Analyses On Part Of Experts

What causes indifference in teens? To what are teens indifferent? Are teens really indifferent?

It would take a psychiatrist-psychologist-teenager to answer those three questions correctly; but anyone may conjecture. In fact, many people have done just that.

First, teens are sometimes indifferent to others' opinions, whether the others are elders or contemporaries. Either youth believes that it is too important to bother with understanding others or that it is too insignificant to associate itself with them.

Secondly, teens are unmindful of their responsibilities. Duties are often times shirked simply because teens are lazy. Teens are lazy because they live in a relaxed society when it comes to enforcement of rules by moral convictions.

Teens often steer clear of things which are new because they fear change and are afraid to make mistakes. This seems to the other person to be indifference; thus teenagers might not sometimes be fully comprehended or appreciated.

As his been stated before, only an expert can begin to give a correct interpretation.

Houses are filled with countless work-saving devices. Food is highly concentrated and grown in algae gardens. Clothing is constructed of disposable soft paper.

This section represents the promise of future comfort which past efforts have made possible. But the fair brings to mind that tomorrow may be a step backwards if peace between nations is not maintained.

"CENTURY 21" IS A masterpiece in plan and construction. But it is a great triumph, not to a small group of designers, but to the whole country. Its completion is a prime example of the American spirit which joins persons over a span of thousands of miles in collective co-operation.

From Maine to Hawaii, citizens have watched the fair rise and contributed time, talent, or just interest to its building. Now the millions of Americans who have united to build the fair are joining to enjoy it.

The particular efforts of the State of Washington show the diligence of a state in fulfilling an obligation to the rest of the country. Most of the expense for the elaborate fair exhibits was met by the people of Washington.

ENTIRE CITIES DEVOTED themselves to carrying out certain needs of the fair. The citizens of Seattle set about cleaning up their city, preparing the grounds, and publicizing the event.

In addition, the fair is an example of international union for a peaceful purpose. The fair houses buildings from many countries, displaying regional wares and examples of progress.

A visitor to the fair will learn the newest advancements of his own land and where it stands in relation to others. He will gain greater respect for the heritage, culture, and future in many areas.

ON THE OTHER hand, Seattle is a cold war battleground. World powers in their exhibits attempt to sway popular opinion in their own favor. The nation which puts forth the biggest display of social luxury will gain a vast propaganda triumph. So Seattle is also a scene of tension and struggle.

Not to be forgotten is the fact that the world's fair represents, too, a nation at play. Carnival rides are spectacular and large. A special section has been turned into a children's fair, where miniature rides delight the small fry.

In October, the excitement will die as it grew, and the mighty fair will be put to sleep. But the space needle will remain as a monument to the memory of a world's fair dedicated to the improvement of the earth.

Small Snaps

This miss is now a senior R. For the Times she works so diligently. As feature editor she worked with zeal.

Trying to give her page appeal. On the Totem staff of '63. She'll employ her time and energy. Last summer traveling she did go. To California and Mexico.

In Government I her grades are high. For top honors she does vie. Original poems she does create. Trying to keep the meter straight. If her name you can't comprehend, Be sure to look in the ads my friend.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot . . ." (Sniff, sniff!) Well, here we are at the end of the year (almost); and it seems like only yesterday that the first Teens and Tangles column went to press.

Pity the seniors—this is the last time that they will have the privilege of reading it while they are students in South Side. It's been lots of fun, and we probably should devote the whole column to "Seniors Only." But, we won't! Here goes the final effort.

Congratulations to the 1962 Ivy Day Queen (the big secret!) This column slightly prejudiced toward last year's queen, but we extend our heartiest congratulations anyway to the queen and the members of her royal court.

Announcing (one day late)—the 1962 "Totem." Congrats to Babs Jones, Diane Fredrick, and their fine staff for turning out a fabulous year-book!

Since this is the season for laurels to be passed out, we congratulate also: The new "Totem" Co-Editors-In-Chief, Barb Altevogt and Beth Burnett.

Peggy Schmidt and Sandy Thorn for receiving second and third places, respectively, in the advertising essay contest.

All new club officers. Speaking of clubs, is everyone just about exhausted from attending picnics, banquets, and more picnics? Nearly stealing the show from Tonya Hines, Martha Dixon, and Sharon Bass at the Assemblies Workshop picnic were Tim Grodrian and his partner with their hot rendition of the Charleston! We'll bet Mike "Grandpa" Levy never saw anything quite like that in his day.

At the Wranglers' Banquet Karen Ponader could barely reach the piano and had to be elevated by books and pillows only to find that the instrument was several notes out of tune and had the keys stuck.

Entering the band room was quite a shock last week thanks to Sally Boyer, who sweetly turned literally everything upside down.

"Forty-six Easy Lessons in Having a Squirt Gun Battle on a Church Retreat" by Bob Bartel has at least one valuable lesson—use a ketchup bottle full of water instead of a squirt gun.

Sarah Finch and Sally Bash temporarily joined the Camp Potawatomi staff, but we can't tell how.

Seniors, your night to remember (sound familiar, juniors?) can be had on June 5 at the senior prom, "A Touch of Elegance." Don't miss it. As we bid a fond farewell to this issue for the year, we must reflect a bit on the many things that have happened throughout the year.

Remember when: Judy Merrill roller skated to school. Gail Woodruff swam in the McMillen pool without any water being in it.

Marge Winder and her friends buzzed the parking garage on their bikes. Hank Kernohan ran into an awning. Sandy Thorn couldn't brush her teeth before appearing on the "Today" show.

Kitty Faye tried to sprain her ankle so she couldn't be in the Spring Show.

Dave Platz and Paul Slick tore down the Paramount Theater.

Ben Smith ripped his pants at Sectionals.

Neil Schiemman went to the wrong gym for the North Side basketball game.

Sue Perry was the Hi-Y's Queen of Hearts.

Larry Lee's car got tied up with 1,000 feet of string.

Sydney Schinbeckler stole an old lady's cake, ate the frosting, and put it back.

Dave Planigan spilled acid on his shoes.

Peggy Brase got caught eating a sandwich in speech class.

Brenda Dull was the DeMolay Sweetheart.

The Senior boys went on a safari for the Central pep session.

Thought for the day: High school is one of life's most valuable experiences. Give it all you've got!

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Margie Lehman . . . age, 18 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, hamburger . . . color, light blue . . . fad, dangling bracelets . . . sport, bowling . . . subject, home economics . . . pastime, sewing . . . TV show, "The on the telephone" . . . record, "The Gary Moore Show" . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . book, "Nightengale" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, anonymous phone calls.

Bob Miller . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, eleven inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . sport, football . . . subject, drafting . . . pastime, sleeping . . . activity, eating . . . TV show, "Defenders" . . . record, "Uptown" . . . singer, Johnny Cash . . . actor, George Scott . . . book, "Animal Farm" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, short-sighted teachers.

Roberta Twitcell . . . age, 17 . . . hair, auburn . . . height, five feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, Kentucky fried chicken . . . color, blue . . . fad, pari-mutuel tickets . . . sport, The Sport of Kings . . . subject, English . . . pastime, horseback riding . . . activity, publications . . . TV show, "The Defenders" . . . record, "Uptown" . . . singer, Paul Anka . . . actor, Maximilian Schell . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, galleys.

Scott Wilson . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, peanut butter . . . color, black . . . fad, "Levis" . . . sport, baseball . . . subject, sociology . . . activity, golf . . . pastime, building pyramids . . . TV show, "Dick Van Dyke Show" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . record, "Nut Rucker" . . . actor, George Hamilton . . . book, "Battle Cry" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, party poopers.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know who traveled the Oregon Trail by wagon, automobile, and airplane?

Answer. With his bride, Ezra Meeker left Ohio in 1851 in a covered wagon and crossed to the West Coast over the Oregon Trail. Sixty-three years later, he made the journey by automobile, and 72 years later by airplane. He was the founder of the Oregon Trail Memorial Association.

Question. Do you know what the Plimsoil mark on merchant ships is?

Answer. The mark was named for Samuel Plimsoil (1824-1898) British member of Parliament, who was called "The Sailors' Friend." He aroused public concern over the many disasters at sea caused by overloading ships. In 1876, his efforts for reform were rewarded by the passing of the Merchant Shipping Act providing that a circular disc with a line drawn through the center should be placed upon the legal load line of every British vessel. This plan has now been almost universally adopted.

Question. Do you know what the life history of a star is?

Answer. According to one theory, a star is born from a large, non-radiating, invisible mass of gas. This eventually contracts, through gravitation energy, and becomes hot enough to constitute a red giant, visible by the red light it emits. This red giant stage is sometimes termed the infancy of a star. Eventually, as will happen to our sun, its hydrogen will be exhausted and the forces of gravity will again take over. The star will become a faint, old, tightly-packed, white dwarf star, and, in time, a cold, dead, invisible black dwarf.

Question. Do you know what the biggest, the smallest, and the fastest vertebrate animals are?

Answer. The blue whale, also known as the sulfur-bottom whale, is the largest animal that has ever lived. Whales over 100 feet in length have been caught; and their weight can be over 100 tons, far exceeding the size of the largest dinosaurs. The smallest living creature with a backbone is a tiny fish of the Philippine Islands named Pandaka pygmaea. It measures only slightly over one-fourth of an inch in length. The cheetah is credited with being the swiftest four-footed animal, being clocked at 80 miles per hour.

Question. Do you know what mammals lay eggs and what bird is wingless?

Answer. The platypus and the spiny anteater, both native to Australia, Tasmania, and New Guinea, lay eggs. The platypus is probably the oddest of animals now existing on the earth. It has a bill and webbed feet like a duck, and its body is covered with fur. The female spiny anteater has a small pouch on the under surface of her body where the single egg is kept until it is hatched. The kiwi, or apteryx, a native of New Zealand, cannot fly. Its Greek name, apteryx, signifies that it has no wings. There are stumps which can only be seen when its feathers are pushed aside. The bird is almost extinct.

Question. Do you know what is meant by psychology of color?

Answer. Color is said to have much to do with the promoting of mental happiness and inspiration. The various colors or shades are believed to have a decided effect upon one's mental outlook. For instance, spring green is a restful color and denotes freshness, youth, hope, new life. Dark, dull blues are depressing and are apt to produce despondency and melancholy. Browns and tans are somber and quiet unless they are strongly tinged with orange and red, when they become enlivened and express richness and effulgence. Greys are cool and quiet, and suggest the more quiet moods of youth or the calmness and dignity of age.

Question. Do you know what places hold world records for rainfall?

Answer. Cherrapunji, India is champion. It holds most of the records. Over a period of two years, 1,605.05 inches of rain fell, which is equivalent to the height of a 12-story building. Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, holds the record for one day, with 45.99 inches; and Opid's Camp, California, holds the world's record for one minute, with .65 inch.

Question. Do you know why the designs of United States coins are changed so seldom?

Answer. A law passed in 1890 provides that the design of a coin may not be changed more often than once in 25 years, except by act of Congress. There has been little tendency to redesign coins. Congress has, in a few instances, prescribed a coin design, such as that of the Washington bi-centennial 25-cent piece first issued in 1932, which was required to bear the portrait of our first President.

The South Side Times
Founded October 6, 1922
CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll; International
Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Ind., except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription one semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
General Manager . . . Sue Kelley
Managing Editor . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Mallow, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitcell
News Editor . . . Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor . . . Sally Sweet
Editorial Editor . . . Terry Newendorp
Boys Sports Editor . . . Janice Nahrwald
Girls Sports Editor . . . Roberta Twitcell
Make-Up Editors . . . Janet Brenn
Picture Editor . . . Ken Lowden, Julie Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist . . . Barb Altevogt
Business Manager . . . Pat Bailey
Assistant Business Manager . . . Dick Parke
Advertising Manager . . . Nancy Redding
Circulation Manager . . . Liz Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twitcell
Circulation Assistants . . . Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet
Faculty Adviser . . . James Tobrabaugh

MINOR STAFF
News Writers . . . David Flanzan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strehlow, Marge Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Larry Brown, Zai Cooney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Custance, Karen Frank, Christine Fruentlicht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Julie Rinschard, Jean Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenborn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leitz.
Feature Writers . . . Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suelien Bornzmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suttlerlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Hunsard, Cheri Craig, Dan Schwitz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Frank, Doris Atzoff, Karen Staveley, Kay Bradley, Janis Sprunger, Alice Haebezer, Mary Schilling, Vicki Adams, Debby Brooke, Marcia Kuhn.

Editorial Writers . . . Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruentlicht, Sally Adams, Mary Broadway, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Stansbury, Sue Hirth, Sue Klacka, Carole Ladig, Paul Mittlebach, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Eaten, Purdy, Sue Harrod, Annel Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haebezer, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke, Sandy Thorn, Krystyn Krivorotow, Diane Sealfrank.
Copy Readers . . . Kaylene Giebert, Dave Planigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Counaman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Staveley, Marcee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch, Sue Harrod, Debby Brooke, Karen Frank.
Boys Sports Writers . . . Bill Killefer, Bob Leininger, Steven Lowens, Jon Foto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Chuck Bodenborn, Mark Lowens.
Ad Solicitors . . . Cynthia Selder, Barb Nelson, Alice Haebezer, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Julie Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Karen Pinckrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Ols, Cindy Jackson, Linda Sebel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Falt, Harriet Ochstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Eileen Mayle, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janice Sprunger, Karen Frank.
Typed by . . . Joanne Braden, Martha Harrod, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Bado.
Cartoonists . . . Julie Wadlington, Judy Goodman, Diane Ornas, Don Morica, Bob Engelhart, Ray Juncal.
Classroom News Editor . . . Celeste Riesen
Points Recorder . . . Steve Leitz
Mailing Manager . . . Vicki Adams
Auditor . . . Krystyn Krivorotow
Copy Retainer . . . Maria Kuhn
Exchange Editor . . . Charlotte Powell
Credit Manager . . . Sonya Flagg
Librarian . . . Sonya Flagg
Paper Distributor . . . Chuck Bodenborn

Woody Neff's Band To Play For Senior Prom; Decorations To Feature 'A Touch Of Elegance'

Chairmen Plan To Use White, Gold Schemes

Larry Lee To Serve As General Chairman; Tickets To Sell At $2

"A Touch of Elegance" was chosen by the senior class officers as the theme of the Senior Dance to be on June 5 in the gym from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. with Woody Neff and his orchestra.

The theme will be carried out by the use of gold and white colors and decorations. The lights and trees as well as all the other decorations will be arranged to create an abstract atmosphere. The refreshment room and the bandstand will also be decorated to carry out the theme.

Senior class president Larry Lee will serve as general chairman for the dance.

Invited guests are Mr. Lester L. Grille, superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools, and his wife; Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, and his wife; Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls; Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor, and his wife, book rental secretary; Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director, and his wife; Miss Marsha Kluehn and Miss Dian Spencer, office secretaries; all senior homeroom teachers; the parents of the class officers; and the sponsors, Mr. Samuel Jackson and Mr. Alfred Hemmer, social studies instructors; and Mrs. Mildred Luse, mathematics teacher.

TICKETS, COSTING $2 per couple, may be obtained from Brenda Arnold, S-1; Bob Hendricksen, S-2; Bob Ramage, S-4; Elaine Snow, S-5; Bonnie Russell, 2; Caron Fine, 8; Bart Bailey, 10; Elizabeth Hostetler, 24; Tamara Vyhovsky, 28; Linda Newell, 30; Don Sievert, 52; Karen Dowty, 68; Marilyn Cole, 72; Dayna Harader, 75; Tom Plesniak, 82; Pat Lee, 91; Bill Wilder, 108; Paul Johns, 118; Sally Franklin, 146; and Marilyn Block, 182.

Cheryl Summers is chairman of the poster committee. Her assistants are Marilyn Block, Judi Hollister, Pam Buzzard, Marjorie Bloom, Susan Korte, Peggy Lee, Margie Grieser, and Jim Titer. Martha Lanning is in charge of announcements over the P.A. system.

PROM PICKERS . . . Picking shrubs to decorate the gym for the Senior Dance are left to right Howard Miller, Susie Horth, Bob Hendricksen, Debby Brooke, Frank Lewis, and Jane Ladig. "A Touch of Elegance," to be presented on June 5, will display a gold and white color scheme. Photo by Triplet

TICKET CHAIRMAN is Mark Hagerman, and Bill Wilder has been chosen cloak room chairman. Bart Bailey was named chairman of the food committee.

The program committee is headed by Sharon Carrel. She is also chairman of the invitations and chaperone committees.

Diane Fredrick is all-over chairman of the decorations committee. The entrance-way committee is made up of Brenda Arnold and Judy Merrill, co-chairmen. They will be assisted by Dian Leath, Babs Jones, Sally Franklin, Sue Harrod, Miriam Kubay, and Joyce Cossairt.

SUE MARTIN and Sarah Finch are co-chairmen of the centerpiece committee. They are being assisted by Sue Perry, Jane Ladig, Bill Kleifgen, Sally Gilbert, Diane Hall, Keith Snively, Elizabeth Hostetler, Barb Harding, Jenny Manth, Caron Fine, and Linda McMurtry.

Working on the bandstand will be Bonnie Russell and Tamara Vyhovsky, co-chairmen, Linda Newell, Denny Pruitt, Tom Frazell, Becky Baughman, and Mary Keegan.

Adviser Appoints 32 Students To Times, Pegasus Positions

Working next fall under Senior Sue Smith, Times general manager, will be the major staff appointed by Mr. James Rohrabugh, publications adviser, at the Quill and Scroll Banquet May 16.

The new staff includes Kathy DeVore, managing editor; Sally Sweet, news editor; Leanna Morris, feature editor; Chuck Bodenborn, sports editor; Barbara Nelson, editorial editor; Peggy Schmidt, assistant editorial editor; Ann Henderson, head typist; Nancy Redding, circulation manager; Ann Flickinger, Tom Erb, and Ann McCallister, make-up editors; Sally Mallough, assistant editor in charge of make-up; Doris Atzeff, outside circulation manager; Jani Brenn, Doug Hansen, Tonya Hines, and Sharyan Yerger, copy editors; Julie Wadlington, head cartoonist; Pat Bailey, business manager; Sonya Flagg, assistant business manager; and Sue Moyer, advertising manager.

Rosalie Curtis, Janet Reynolds, Sharon Karst, and Celeste Riemen have been named circulation assistants. Four other circulation assistants will be chosen at a later date.

Six Pupils To Serve As YWCA Assistants

Serving as staff members at YWCA Camp at Dallas Lake during the summer will be Sue Korte, senior; Martha Dixon, junior; Mary Ann Waldrop, Sally Morris, and Barb Nelson, sophomores; and Sharon Lynch, freshman.

Sue Korte will be a counselor in training during all the camp sessions. She was chosen for this position on the basis of her grades, character, extra-curricular activities, and skills, such as singing, swimming, and getting along with others.

Barbara Nelson will be at YWCA camp from July 16 to August 3; Sally Morris will be at the camp from July 16 to July 29; Sharon Lynch will attend the camp from July 17 to July 7; and Martha Dixon will be at the camp from August 5 to August 17.

Their duties include assisting the counselors on the waterfront, teaching sports and crafts, working with the campers, helping to teach nature study, and possibly taking the place of a counselor.

Mary Ann Waldrop will be at YWCA camp from June 17 to July 6, and will teach swimming, tennis, and management of small craft.

Judy Godman and Susie Phillips are co-chairmen for decorating the sides. Assisting them will be Margie Bloom, Sue Horth, Gail Woodruff, Sandy Miller, Frank Lewis, Bob Hendricksen, Howard Miller, Bill Borgmann, Margie Grieser, and Elaine Cole.

The refreshment room committee is headed by Lissa Hoffman and Marilyn Cole, co-chairmen. Brenda Dull, Sue Korte, Susie Bumgardner, and Sue Lee are also on the committee.

Senior B's Sue

(Continued from Page 1)

Through her work in various departments, has earned the honor of serving as general manager. I believe Sue is capable of leading the staff and will do an excellent job."

Sue received the news of her appointment with praise for the work of her predecessors and concluded her remarks with this statement, "I am very honored and pleased to have been chosen general manager, and I will try to uphold the standards set by the preceding general managers and by Mr. Rohrabugh."

BARB HAS PREVIOUSLY served as business manager, bookhead, and advertising manager on the Times. She also was junior editor of the Totem.

She is a member of the 1500 Club and has participated in Assemblies Workshop and served as president of Meterites. Barb is also a member of the Service Club, serving three periods a day.

On the college course, Barb is taking Special Math 6, Chemistry 1, Government 1, and English 7.

"I feel certain that we are more fortunate than any previous editors because Babbette has been so very unselfish about offering help and advice to the junior editors. To see our Totem go to press will be a dream come true," stated Barb upon accepting her position.

BETH HAS SERVED as news writer, feature writer, editorial editor, news editor, copy editor, make-up editor, Pegasus copy editor, and Junior editor of the Totem.

She has formerly participated in Meterites, Wranglers, Philo. Assemblies Workshop, and the 1500 Club. Presently servicing two periods a day. Beth is also a member of the service club.

On accepting her position Beth stated, "I had thought that the staff announcement would prove a sad event for both of us: one of us would have to come out on the wrong end. But as things turned out, we both were disappointed; and I am quite delighted. Rain, sleet, or snow, we'll do our best to turn out as marvelous edition as the one Rabs and Diane produced this year."

Beth, on the college course, is presently taking English 7, Chemistry 1, Trigonometry, and Government 1.

In announcing Barb and Beth's positions Mr. Rohrabugh stated, "I appointed Beth and Barb as co-editors of the 1962 Totem because of the knowledge which both of them obtained during their training period. I expect both of them will produce a fine yearbook in 1963."

KYC To Present Picnic

A picnic will highlight Tuesday's meeting of Know Your City Club at Foster Park from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The entertainment will be games planned by Marilyn Parke, junior. Hot dogs and buns, marshmallows, cookies, potato salad, baked beans, and ice cream will be the menu for the picnic.

The food will be furnished by Sharon Chase, president; Ann Chenoweth, vice-president; Judy MacGiehan, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Richard Block, social studies teacher and sponsor of the club.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Retired Instructors, Members Of Faculty Plan June Breakfast

Members of the faculty and retired South Side teachers will have their annual Faculty Spring Breakfast Thursday, beginning at 9:45 a.m. in the school cafeteria. The cost is 75 cents per person.

The menu will consist of orange juice, scrambled eggs, bacon, coffee cake, sweet rolls, preserves, and coffee.

Miss Edith Crowe is the chairman of the program committee. Under her are Miss Edith Reiff, Miss Mabel Fortney, Miss Ann Arber, Mrs. Lois Murphy, Mr. Lester Hostetler, Mr. R. Nelson Snider, Mr. Ronald Gersmehl, and Mr. Earnest Walker.

MISS OLIVE PERKINS is chairman of the hospitality committee; Mrs. Ruth Fleck, Mrs. Agnes Sosenheimer, Mr. Clyde Peirce, Mr. Alfred Hemmer, and Mr. Paul Sidell will aid her.

Mr. Lowell Post is in charge of taking the ticket money. Serving under him are Mr. Richard Sage, Mr. Fred Hellman, Mrs. Florence Emswiler, Miss Lucy Osborne, and Mrs. Frances Stuart.

The decorations committee, headed by Mrs. Alice Keegan, consists of Mr. Earl Sterner, Mr. Ora Davis, Miss Jeanne Smith, Mr. Marion Fessel, Mr. Robert Petty, Mr. Jerry Fetters, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Mildred Luse, Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, Miss Pearl Rehorst, Mr. Jack Weicker, and Mr. Dorcas Yoder.

In charge of making and putting place cards on the tables is Mr. Leon Smith. Assisting him are Miss Virginia Ayers, Miss Helen Pohlmeier, Mr. Clarence Murray, Mr. Donald Reichert, and Miss Mary Crowe.

MISS PAULINE VAN GORDER and Miss Marsha Kluehn are in charge of the invitations to retired teachers and reservations. Miss Willodeen Price is the chairman of the table setting and room arrangements. Helping her are Mrs. Grace Welty, Miss Helen Burr, Mr. Sam Jackson, Mr. Thomas Compton, Mr. Robert Gernand, Mr. Nicholas Pipino, Mr. Raymond Quance, Mr. George Davis, Mr. Clair Mote, Mr. Richard Bussard, and Mrs. Jack Weicker.

The chairman of servers and coffee pourers is Mr. LaVerne Harader. The committee is Mr. Gene Melch, Mr. Thomas Polite, Mr. Richard Block, Mr. Max Hawk, Mr. Robert Kelly, Mr. Pres Brown, Mr. Robert Drummond, Mr. David Fell, Mr. Stephen Berg, and Mr. Russell Furst.

The clean-up committee, headed by Mr. Lowell Coats, consists of Miss Mary Graham, Mr. Everett Havens, Mr. Glen Stebing, Mrs. Marcia Ellett, Mr. Robert White, Mr. Ralph Boiling, Mr. Charles Holt, Mr. Richard Ober, Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw, Mr. W. C. Wilson, and Mr. Marvey Knigge.

Senior Cheryl Summers To Receive State Award

Cheryl Summers, senior A, will receive the State's DAR Best Citizen Award on Saturday, May 26. Cheryl, her parents, and the chapter representatives will attend a meeting in Indianapolis where Cheryl will be given a $100 bond.

After the meeting, her essay will be sent to the national contest. If she wins, her prize will be a trip to Washington D.C.

Cheryl stated, "Everything has happened so quickly since I became South Side's DAR Best Citizen in October. It has not only been a great and unexpected honor, but also an exciting and fun-filled experience."

COLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St.
1037 S. Wayne Ave.
Fort Wayne, Indiana H-2102 H-3364

Post-Graduate Tom McMahan Receives Best Citizen Award

Tom McMahan, post-graduate, is this year's winner of the Sertoma Award and the Kiwanis Best Citizen Award.

The Sertoma Award is an award given annually to a deserving senior boy by the Kiwanis Club. The award is presented on the bases of athletic ability, 20 points; leadership, 10 points; sportsmanship, 10 points; character, 10 points; personality, 10 points; scholastic ability, 10 points; citizenship, 10 points; co-operation, 10 points; extra-curricular activities, 10 points; and good morals, 10 points.

Tom McMahan

The faculty selected the winner from the three senior boys with the highest number of votes received from the members of the senior class.

TOM RECEIVED his Sertoma award at the Sertoma Club Banquet, given for the winners, their principals, and their parents.

The Kiwanis Best Citizen Award is given to a senior who has a high scholastic average, who is prominent in extra-curricular activities, and who participated in athletics. The faculty members of South chose Tom to receive this honor. The Kiwanis Club members will present the Kiwanis Best Citizen Award to Tom at a banquet given in honor of the winners Tuesday.

"Winning the Sertoma Award and the Kiwanis Best Citizen Award is a very distinct honor for Tom. He is to be congratulated for his very fine

Jenny Manth Wins Award

Senior Jenny Manth, former general manager of the Times, was awarded a Certificate of Admission with Distinction from Miami University. The certificate, which she received in March, was presented on the basis of her academic average. Jenny plans to major in English.

"I am very honored and surprised to have received the Kiwanis Best Citizen Award and the Sertoma Award," stated Tom.

TOM IS THE president of his youth group at Plymouth Congregational Church, president of Hi-Y, past Junior Rotarian, a member of band and orchestra, and a member of the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra, in which he plays the French horn.

He was also president of his junior class. He was quarterback on the football squad; a member of the varsity basketball team; and a high jumper, low hurdler, and broad jumper on the track team. He plays on the PAL baseball team during the summer.

He is presently taking Drafting 1, music appreciation, developmental reading, band, and calculus.

Wranglers' Picnic To Include Skits, Officers' Initiation

Highlighting the Wranglers' picnic Monday night at 5:30 p.m. will be the installation of next semester's officers, performed by Logan Smith, retiring president, and a skit by the old and new officers. Foster Park Pavilion 8 will be the scene of the event; 25 cents will be the cost for each person attending.

The incoming officers are Tom Erb, president; Margie Terry, vice-president; Rosie Capps, secretary; Lex Smuts, treasurer; Barb Nelson, program chairman; Karen Ponder, publicity chairman; and Phyllis Pierson, point recorder.

The retiring officers are Logan Smith, president; Shari Busch, vice-president; Margie Terry, secretary; Tom Erb, treasurer; Debby Decker, program chairman; Rosie Capps, publicity chairman; and Barb Nelson, point recorder.

Everyone planning to attend must sign to bring food. Lists are posted on the bulletin board in Room 190. The menu will include hot dogs, potato chips, baked beans, jello salads, desserts, and marshmallows.

Travel-Rite Travel Bureau, Inc.
Reservations—
Foreign and Domestic
• Domestic
• Air
• Steamship
• Hotels
• Cruises
NO SERVICE CHARGE
215 E. Washington E-0241

The
Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

EVENTS TO COME

- Friday, May 25
GAA Softball, girls' gym, 3:30 p.m.
Youth for Christ, Greeley Room, 3:30 p.m.
Ivy Day
- Saturday, May 26
State Golf Meet, Indianapolis
State Track Meet, Indianapolis
- Monday, May 28
Wranglers' Picnic, Foster Park, 5:30 p.m.
Hi-Y, YMCA, 7 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Softball, girls' gym, 3:30 p.m.
- Tuesday, May 29
Camera Club, Room 70, 3:30 p.m.
Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
Botany Section, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.
Know Your City, Room 110, 3:30 p.m.
- Wednesday, May 30
Memorial Day Vacation
- Thursday, May 31
Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30 p.m.
Youth for Christ, Greeley Room, 3:30 p.m.
- Friday, June 1
GAA Softball, girls' gym, 3:30 p.m.
Senior Recognition Assembly
Senior Grades
- Sunday, June 3
Senior Baccalaureate, gym, 7:30 p.m.
- Monday, June 4
Underclass Recognition Assembly
Lettermen Golf Meet, Foster Park, 3:20 p.m.
- Tuesday, June 5
Senior Prom, gym, 8:30 p.m.
- Wednesday, June 6
Grades Issued
Commencement, Coliseum, 8:30 p.m.
- Thursday, June 7
Faculty Breakfast

Journalists To Sponsor Times Picnic On May 31

The Times will have its spring picnic next Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at Foster Park in the third pavilion.

Every member of the Times staff who wishes to attend must sign with Jenny Manth, chairman, by this afternoon. He also must pay 35 cents to cover the cost of the food unless he is a homeroom agent who may attend free.

Paul Says:
Some people think they are worth a lot of money simply because they have it.

HESS INSURANCE AGENCY
General Insurance
132 E. Berry St. (2nd Floor)
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana
Phones: E-2424—Res., H-8928

MASTERPIECE OF EATING ENJOYMENT

ALL-AMERICAN MEAL

MILK SHAKES...20¢
McDonald's
McDonald's
FRENCH FRIES...10¢
ALL FOR 45¢
McDonald's
HAMBURGERS...15¢

McDonald's DRIVE-INS

4-LOCATIONS-4

NO. 1 Hi-Way 30 East
NO. 2 California Road
NO. 3 Jefferson and Harrison
NOW OPEN!! NO. 4 SOUTH CALHOUN at PETTIT!!

REAL COOL!

Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

INDIANA ELECTRIC COMPANY

PROM WHITE!

• WHITE JACKETS
• PASTEL COLORS

"FORMAL ACCESSORIES"

SENIORS . . . RENT THE LATEST STYLES

AT
SPECIAL RATES FOR STUDENTS

RUSSELL'S TUXEDO RENTAL
215 W. Washington
E-9816

OPEN EVENINGS FREE PARKING

Fifteen Teachers To Leave, Retire, Transfer To Other Sections, Schools

Instructors Recommend Students' Co-operation, High Scholastic Ability

Six teachers are leaving the teaching profession and retiring; six are transferring to different schools; two are transferring to different sections at South; and one is leaving because part-time work is not available next semester, according to an announcement made by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal.

Miss Helen Burr, English instructor; Miss Olive Perkins, French and Spanish teacher; and Mrs. Grace Welty, Latin teacher, are leaving the teaching profession.

Miss Burr started teaching English at South in January of 1958. She attained her B.A. degree at Indiana State Teachers College and an M.A. degree at Broadleaf School of English, Middlebury College. She also attended the University of California and the University of Wisconsin.

Upon her retirement from the teaching profession, Miss Burr said, "For many years when I taught junior high at Smart School, I had a keen interest in the high school where most of my pupils went, South Side. I followed their high school days with great interest. Finally, after an interim of several years, I was added to the faculty of a school I had long held in high esteem.

"Though all kinds are here, the earnest, co-operative students are in abundance. My greatest joy has come especially from the work accomplished in grammar and composition with sophomores.

"I shall greatly miss the wonderful spirit of the youth; the daily association with friendly 'Hi,' exuberance, energy, varied interests, and constant new beginnings is what I will miss most. May South Side keep on holding high scholastic standards and high character standards—therein lies the hope for the future."

MISS BURR ALSO stated that she started her teaching profession under Mr. Snider as principal and will conclude it under Mr. Snider.

Miss Perkins, French and Spanish teacher, first taught at South in 1924. She then taught French and a few English classes. Later when Spanish was introduced, Miss Perkins taught Spanish and French only.

She has an A.B. degree from Indiana State Teachers College and an A.M. degree in French from Middlebury College. She also has studied at the University of Wisconsin, the University of British Columbia, and the Sorbonne in Paris, France.

Concerning South Side and its students, Miss Perkins said, "I have enjoyed my teaching here; if I hadn't, I should not have stayed so long. I have found the principals and teachers most considerate and co-operative. Many excellent students stand out in my memory. I have had one advantage not enjoyed by all other teachers; usually I have had a student for four semesters, and I have had quite a number for eight semesters (two years of French, two years of Spanish).

"It has been extremely interesting to me to have young brothers and sisters, and more recently, sons and daughters of my students. It was interesting to compare them with the older students. I must say that they have measured up very well with their older relatives.

"Much as I have enjoyed working at South Side, I am very happy at the prospect of more leisure time when I won't be a slave of the alarm clock."

MRS. WELTY, Latin teacher, is also leaving the teaching profession. She first taught Latin and English when she came to South in 1928. She has a B.A. degree from Indiana University. She has also attended Northwestern University and Colorado University. She has been Y-Teen sponsor for 25 years and Latin Club sponsor for two years.

Concerning the teaching profession and her experience at South, Mrs. Welty said, "I have found teaching a most rewarding experience and would recommend it to any girl. It is not a profession to enter if one does not like to work, for there is plenty of that connected with it.

Teachers are not paid for all the extra hours of overtime spent in grading papers, in parent-teacher conferences, in department meetings, and extra-curricular activities. However, when you receive a letter from a former pupil whom you have not seen for sometime telling you of something you have done or said that has had an influence for good, that is a real reward for hours spent.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed my years at South Side. There is no finer school in which to work or finer people with whom to work."

MR. NICHOLAS PIPINO and Mr. Eugene Melchi will be transferred to North Side High School and Franklin Junior High, respectively.

Mr. Pipino started to teach at South in 1958 when he taught chemistry, biology, and general science. He is presently sponsor of the Biology Experimenters Club. At North Side, he will be teaching three botany classes, one chemistry class, and one biology class.

He attended George Washington University and Purdue University. He has his B.S. degree in education, a Master of Science in education, and is now working on his Master of Science in biology.

Mr. Pipino said, "I enjoyed teaching

Miss Olive Perkins

Mr. Eugene Melchi

Mr. Nicholas Pipino

Mrs. Grace Welty

Miss Helen Burr

Mrs. Marcella Ellett

at South very much. Most of the students are truly scholastic as well as athletic and activity-minded. I felt at South that I could concentrate on one certain subject area and therefore, teach my students more effectively and easily."

Mr. Melchi taught metal and wood since he came to South in 1960. At Franklin he will teach general shop. He will teach general shop.

He attended Ball State Teachers College and has B.S. and M.A. degrees. Upon leaving South he said, "I've enjoyed teaching very much."

MR. PRESTON BROWN, health and boys' physical education teacher, is being transferred to the business and intramural departments because

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-5129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

What you want

is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

DID YOU KNOW?

The Purdue University Fort Wayne Center offers:

1. Two years of regular University work.
2. A two-year degree in engineering technology.
3. An opportunity to live at home and save.
4. Accredited university courses.
5. Day and evening classes so that you can earn while you learn.

Call A-3171 for more details

Summer session starts June 18.

Fall semester starts Sept. 12.

Three Students Win Recognition For Junior Achievement Work

Jim Kuker, Mike Levy, juniors, and Senior Sandy McCombs received awards at the ninth annual Junior Achievement Future Unlimited Banquet at the Scottish Rite Banquet Hall on May 16 for outstanding work in Junior Achievement. Attending the banquet were parents, adult advisers, guests, and members of Junior Achievement companies.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of scholarships and other awards to outstanding Junior Achievement companies and individuals in the 25-company J.A. program in Fort Wayne and Allen County.

Jim Kuker of Soy-Pro-Co Company was given the Vice-President Award, presented by the Fort Wayne chapter of the National Office Management Association.

JIM RECEIVED the award on the basis of application, a written test, and an interview. He won a plaque and will have his name engraved on another to be kept at the J.A. center. Jim is eligible to attend a summer Junior Achievement Conference at Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana.

The Executive Award, the highest progressive award in Junior Achievement, was presented to Mike Levy and Sandra McCombs.

TO EARN THIS AWARD, the Achievers must have earned the Advanced Achievement Award, been in J.A. for two years, have knowledge of free enterprise, demonstrate leadership, and show experience on a written test and in an interview.

Mike served as a member of Dor-

Musicians To Play For Memorial Day

Wearing their gray uniforms, members of the band, led by the majorities, will march in the Memorial Day parade on Parnell Avenue, from State Street to the Coliseum. After the parade, Mr. Robert Drummond, band instructor, will sponsor a picnic at the Number 1 pavilion in Foster Park from 12 noon to 3:30 p.m.

Seniors Tom McMahan and Nancy Stauffer, co-chairmen of the picnic, have chosen the following people as committee heads: Steve Pratt and Martha Lanning, food; Kenny Davis, Bill Hanke, Claryn Birk, Mary Crowder, Sondra Stouder, and Bruce Baldwin, clean-up committee;

Anita Ferber and Carol Jo Becher, table setting committee; and Dave Planigan, official fire starter. Warren Burns and Sharon Todd are in charge of getting sports equipment together for the different games, consisting of badminton, softball, volleyball, and tennis.

On the menu for the picnic are hot dogs and buns, baked beans, potato chips, pretzels, cookies, cake, marshmallows, jello, and soft drinks.

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Want a Good Job?
Here's a Quick Answer.
Enroll in the
Comptometer School
June Classes Now Forming
THE COMPTOMETER SCHOOL
305 Central Bldg.
A-7217

DIGGS - H-4286
R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun
U Fountain
G School Supplies
S Vitamins
Prescription Specialists

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street

H-1171

GOOD

HOT DOGS . . . . . 15c
SLOPPY JOES . . . . . 25c

FOX'S ICE CREAM

3808 S. Calhoun

Phone H-5193

Formerly Dixie Ice Cream

Under New Management

Jeff Roth Receives Scholarship To MSU From Golf Association

Jeff Roth, senior, has been awarded a four-year scholarship to Michigan State University by the Evans Scholars Foundation of the Western Golf Association. Under this scholarship the association will pay Jeff's tuition expenses except for a fee of $30 per quarter, which he will pay to the cooperative house in which he will live.

Jeff Roth

A cooperative house is a fraternity-type house, in which everyone shares the expenses. Only those students live in the cooperative house who have been granted a scholarship by the Western Golf Association.

The Western Golf Association is an organization of country clubs in the Middle West. The association sponsors two or three tournaments annually and has a special golf day in which money for the scholarships is raised.

Approximately one hundred scholarships are awarded annually by the Western Golf Association; winners are chosen on the results from tests of the College Entrance Examination Board, the high school record, and the personal interview.

The association offers full tuition-paid scholarships to Michigan State, the University of Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, and Purdue. It also offers a $500 grant per year to any other college in the United States. A winner of a scholarship has the choice of either plan.

Jeff, who chose a fully-paid-tuition scholarship to Michigan State, plans to major in psychology. Jeff not only won the scholarship from the Western Golf Association but also was offered one from the University of Chicago.

Groups To Sponsor Movie Presentation

"Photoscenic America," a slide and movie presentation of the nation and its people, will be shown today at the Scottish Rite Auditorium.

The wide-screen program for the public will be sponsored by the News-Sentinel, the Co-ed Camera Club, and the Fort Wayne Kodak Photo Dealers and Finishers. Two complete showings will be given at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

"Photoscenic America" features narrative, music, and sound effects. A team of photographers toured continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii for two years taking films to illustrate the story which is a picture story of the land, people, cities, and culture.

To illustrate the script, the photographers lived with Eskimos, leaned out of helicopters over Manhattan, searched for dusty relics, staged a Spanish-Indian war in New Mexico, photographed America's animal life, waited for days for the right sunlight at Grand Canyon;

Watched the hog butchering in Chicago, clipped around glaciers, descended into caves, waded through the Everglades, photographed an aerial jet display while flying at near-sonic speeds, and invaded the homes of typical Americans.

The men who made the films will appear in the show to disclose some of the techniques used. The 90-minute presentation is designed to provide entertainment and to encourage travel and photography. Seats will be on a first-come basis. Admission will be limited to the capacity of the auditorium.

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON

H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service

Washing

Battery and Tire Service

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald
Res. K-1188

4235 Fairfield
Bus. H-9661

Figure-loving Swimsuits at Fun-loving Prices

Youthful maillot suit with lace ruffle. In sizes 32 to 38.

12.98

Sleek

Low-backed

Sheath

of bow-printed faille (acetate, cotton, rubber). Choose black, turquoise, red or pink. Sizes 32 to 38.

6<sup>98</sup>

NO MONEY

DOWN

On Sears

Revolving Charge

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.

Clinton at Rudisill

Open Mon., Wed., Thurs., Fri. Till 9

Two Thinlies, Mile Team Qualify In Regionals

Redskins Capture First Place; Kellys, Tigers Tie For Third

North Side's Redskins tallied 27 1/5 points last Friday afternoon, enabling them to win the contest at Northrop Field which was marked by both the hottest and rainiest weather in the meet's history. The meet was highlighted by two new inscriptions in the Fort Wayne IHSAA Regional cinder meet record, Randy Weddle's new record .09.9 in the century and Centralite Bob Hubbard's 19.4 performance in the low hurdles.

Nappanee's Weddle and Hubbard were the meet's only double winners. Weddle virtually ran away with both dashes winning the hundred by nearly five yards over his closest pursuers, Mike Dennis of New Haven and Bill Nancarrow of Central Catholic, in a record-breaking time of .09.9, giving him sole possession of the coveted record.

Weddle's great victory, in which he actually "conquered" might very well mark him as one of the favorites in this week's state finals, especially since East Chicago Washington's Ernie Rivers will not be in his specialty after becoming the victim of a "charlie horse" in last week's Regional.

In the 220-yard dash, Weddle really won with ease in a sharp time of 22.1 but should find the goings a little tougher down state this Saturday. Albert Surface of Larwill and Weddle's teammate, Robert Wallace, also earned trips down to the state capital, placing second and third, respectively.

BOB HUBBARD earned the majority of Central's 17 points with a double in the hurdles, winning the lows in a record-tying 19.4 and the high sticks in a pretty fair 14.9. Central's fleet-footed cinderman joined North's former hurdle king, Ron Trowbridge, who in 1956 first set the record.

Don Lankford of Tipton and Auburn's Jim Long gained the second and third positions in the lows, while Bob Wolf of Logansport and Walter Wise of Elkhart were the other two qualifiers in the 120-yard high hurdle race.

South's Jon vanOosten, although he was unable to place in the money in the tough competition, finished a fine track year in which he was a credit to the Archer squad.

South really put on a performance in the quarter, as the Archer "Wonderboy," Karl Bandemer, showed just what a great runner he is with one of the best quarter races seen at Northrop Field in many a year, a tremendous 50.6.

Bandemer didn't cap his victory, although until the final stretch of the race when he came from a "hopeless" fourth position and with a tremendous burst of speed passed through his competition to win by about a yard or two. Bandemer and Frazell led the race to the 330 mark when Frazell took a commanding lead followed by Tyler of Angola and Bill Pool of North, but "Fraz" lost ground in the stretch and wasn't able to qualify for state.

"Fraz," however, will be of considerable help in the mile relay, which will be of great importance to keep pace with Roosevelt's mile crew, who just last Friday posted Indiana's best mile relay time of 1:15.7, just five-tenths of a second off the U.S. interscholastic record of 1:15.2 held by Andrews, Tex.

THE MILE RUN was quite a race also, with North's Gary Meyers proving his strength and running know-how to give him a great 4:25.2, his career best and one of the state's best. Dennis Jones of Kokomo, who almost won the same race last year but was disqualified, finished second in 4:26.2 several yards away. Then came Huntington's Paul Rider in 4:29 and Dave Esterline of North in 4:29.2.

Meyers, running strictly by pace, was in fifth in the first half, and then took a lead which he never lost, although Kokomo's Jones ran quite a fast last lap with Meyers in the gun lap, but fell off in the stretch. Both should be two of the best entries in next week's final race of the 1962 track season.

Perhaps the most highly competitive race of the day was the half-mile, a race which actually stunned high school track experts. Hal Sonafank of Peru busted out of the blocks and ran hog-wild in the first lap to take over a 10-yard lead going into the final 440. Most of the onlookers expected the out-of-towner to "peeter out" as most first-lap heroes so often do; but Sonafank went on to win with a tremendous 1:57.7, just three-tenths of a second shy of ex-South Sider Bob Wright's record of 1:57.4, posted in 1955.

BOB GRAFF of Kokomo took a second in a tremendous 1:58.5; Fort Wayne Elmhurst's Reinhold Mueller took third in 1:58.9; and North's Steve Konow was fourth, although he didn't qualify for the State finals.

After a sizzling afternoon, came a torrent of rainfall which evacuated the grandstand and lost most of the rain-soaked fans; but rain didn't stop the track meet as South's quartet of Evert Mol, Tom Shine, Tom Frazell, and Karl Bandemer slushed and waded to a victory in the mile relay in a time of 3:39.1.

The half-mile relay won by North in 1:40.1 was also poor running, but North was able to nose out Nappanee's unexpectedly fast crew.

IN THE FIELD South's Gary Probst and Sid Sherry weren't able to place but surely weren't a disgrace because they ran into some of the best opposition they ever ran into this year. Probst went 5.9 but just missed the six-foot barrier, which was cleared by five contestants and finally won at 6.1, by Tom Willinger of Carroll and Pat Nixon of Kendallville. Sherry went a distance of 48.3, his career best, but four went over 52.4 with Steve Terlipis of Elkhart winning with a heave of 55.6 followed by Rochester's Jack Dauten with a 53.4 put.

Net Squad Loses To Goshen, Concordia, Posts 6-9 Record

South put the wraps on another season as they played Goshen and Concordia last week. Although there were a few disappointments along the way, the Archers did show a lot of hustle and desire. This, coupled with the fact that there were no seniors on the team this season, should be ample evidence as to their ability to improve upon their 6-9 record in the next season.

In the first singles with Goshen, Al Purdy met Roger Golden, last year's state DeMolay champion. Purdy looked as if his game was coming along pretty well as he swiped the first set from his Redskin counterpart by a score of 6-4. Golden came roaring back though, and rampaged right on past the rapidly tiring Archer, 6-0, 6-3.

Jim Lantz hit one of those off-days as he tangled with Ed Hartzler. The extreme heat of the afternoon did very little to aid the play of either competitor. Hartzler seemed to have a little more service consistency as he triumphed, 6-4, 6-3.

In the absence of Lex Smuts, Terry Smith was moved up into the number three position. Smitty did fairly well as Doug Smith provided the opposition. Doug Smith, a six-foot southpaw, was in his sharpest form; and he used that favorite Goshen weapon, consistency, to upend Archer Smith by a final of 6-2, 6-1.

Matt Cornacchione also moved up a notch and tangled with John Corpron. Corpron was playing fairly consistently and using a sharp net game as well; and he ended up on top by a 6-3, 6-1 margin.

PROBABLY THE most interesting match played, from a spectator's point of view, was the Dennis Laue-R-e-d Dumnick affair. Laue looked extremely impressive, considering that he is but a freshman, and he also showed a lot of court know-how as he continued to frustrate his opponent's net rushes with crisp passing shots. The sun took its toll here, though, as Laue, quite exhausted, lost to the Redskin netter, 6-3, 6-1.

Frankly speaking, the doubles were just a comedy of errors. The teams of Purdy and Lantz and Goshen's Golden and Hartzler played somewhat less than spectacularly as the Redskin unit pulled off a 6-2, 6-2 victory.

South showed a little more life in the second doubles, thanks mainly to the efforts of two fresh Archers, Jim McMahon and Mike Young. These boys gave their all, but that wasn't quite enough as they fell to their more experienced foes, Corpron and Smith, by a score of 6-3, 6-2.

The final match score was Goshen 7, South 0. That made it 28-0 in total points covering South's last four encounters with the "Skins."

The Concordia-South match was a real grudge affair. The Archers, tired of being pushed around by their parochial counterparts on the courts of endeavor, were determined to make a "go of it." All week long the boys trained tirelessly and practiced hours on end. However, it was a bit too late, and the Cadets took the match 5-2.

AL PURDY tangled with his arch-rival, Dave Widenhofer, in the first singles. The points "see-sawed" back and forth until, at 4-4 in the first set, Purdy dropped his serve. Capitalizing upon this break, the Cadet proceeded to win his next serve as well as the first set, 6-4.

In the second set, Widenhofer leaped off to a 5-3 match-point lead. The Archer managed to hold on and draw the set event at five-all. Purdy won his next service for a 6-5 lead, but suddenly the floor fell out, and Widenhofer won two straight for a 7-6 lead. The fourth game found Widenhofer winning and copping the match, 6-4, 8-6.

Jim Lantz competed with another Cadet, Duke Dow, in the second singles and played excellently. Displaying a great spirit after losing the first set 6-4, Lantz hung on grimly in the second, constantly keeping the pressure on Dow with net rushes even though the heat had exhausted him beyond a player's normal limit. But, the opponent being Concordia, Lantz was in no mood to walk off the court a loser.

He copped the next set 7-5, making the score one-all. After a brief break the boys went at it again. Dow won the first two games and was leading in the third when Lantz made his move. Drawing to a 1-2 game point margin, Lantz's serve failed him; and Dow took the game and a 3-1 lead. With the sun beating down to a tune of 90 degrees, a lead of two games can be mighty big. Dow made it stick as he took the final 6-3. The final score was 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

LEX SMUTS PUT South on the scoreboard. Battling a veteran, Jim Hansen, Smuts reverted to his "return-everything" type of game. He did this primarily because he knew the Cadet was out of practice. The strategy resulted in numerous Hansen errors and a 7-5, 7-5 Smuts triumph.

Terry Smith played Bill Russell and put on a good battle in the first set before falling 6-4. Then Smith, an otherwise well-conditioned athlete, fell victim to the sun as well as Russell's improved play and lost, 6-4, 6-0.

South's hopes for a team victory went down the drain with Matt Cornacchione's loss to Ken Kruse in three sets. The Archer netter looked terrific in the first set as he apparently could do no wrong. Placing deep shots at Kruse's weak backhand, Matt wrapped up the first set, 6-4. However, the next two outings found the tables turning. Kruse found the range from the left side and put quite a few backhanders away for points. He finally won, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

The doubles, with hope of victory removed, were listless. Purdy and Lantz looked pretty bad as they fell before Widenhofer and Dow, 6-2, 6-2. South scored once again, though, as Smuts and Cornacchione pulled a 6-4, 8-6 defeat of Kruse and Russell.

Charlie Golden Aids Archer Track Team By Running In Mile

Teaming up with Ken Ellingwood and Steve Myers to form a fine nucleus of Sophomore milers is Charlie

Charlie Golden

Golden, 10A. He is looking forward to great improvements next year and should give Ellingwood and Myers much competition.

Charlie's best time was a 4:47.8, run at the Sectional. He placed ninth in the event.

In evaluating this year's team, Charlie feels that the strong points were the sprints, headed by Karl Bandemer, which he thinks won some close meets for us. Also strong points were the mile relay, the quarter mile, both high and low hurdles, run by big Jon vanOosten, and the high jump.

According to Charlie, the most promising prospects for next year's team are Freshman Mike Vogt, a pole vaulter who already can clear ten feet, sophomore broad jumper Don Hilsmer, who in his first year at the event has leaped 18 feet and who Charlie thinks could be the best broad jumper in the city next season, and junior quarter-milers Stu Schmitz and Mike Weinraub.

Schmitz turned in a one-lap effort of 2:06.4 this year. Freshman Russ Grose shows promise but will need more experience before he can make the big time.

Charlie plans to work hard over the summer and should knock seconds from his present best.

He attended junior high at Harrison Hill, although he did not participate in athletics there. Running the half mile last year as a freshman, he was converted to the four-lap event for this season.

Archers Compile Track Record Of 8-2, Place Second In Relays

AND HE'S OFF! . . . As Dale Hilsmer, left, passes off to Tom Shine, the mile relay team chalks up another win with a time of 3:37.8. The thinlies won this meet again Elkhart, 54%-54%, for their third straight victory, the other two being against Culver and Elmhurst.—Photo by Jones

Again this year the Archer track squad has compiled enough victories for a winning season. Losing only to Kokomo and North Side, the South Side thinlies beat eight of their other opponents. These victories were over such teams as Muncie Central, Elkhart, Central of Fort Wayne, and Culver Military Academy.

Other placings include a second at the Delphi Relays; second at the North Side Relays, which boasted a field of over 20 teams; third in a tough IHSAA Sectional meet qualifying a relay team and six men for the Regional; and third in a tough IHSAA Regional meet qualifying the relay team and two boys for the State meet.

The weather was with the team this year, and many of the boys rose to their peak performances. The seniors on the team did much of the heavy scoring, while the juniors and sophomores provided the much-needed depth.

IN THE SPRINTS. Senior Karl Bandemer was still the ace sprinter on the Archer team. Although he dropped these events for the quarter-mile, he still could compete and win these contests when necessary. Tom Wright was the other senior who ran in the 220 and 100-yard dashes. Although this was his first attempt in these events, he made a fine showing for his team.

Dale Hilsmer, senior B, was a good surprise for the Green and White in the sprints. Having changed from the quarter to these contests, he was one of the few Archers to qualify in an individual event. Dale took fourth in the 220-yard dash at the Fort Wayne Sectional.

In the quarter-mile Seniors Tom Frazell and Bandemer provided the one-two punch. Karl and Tom took one-two in the Sectional, respectively, and Karl qualified for the State Meet by finishing first in the 440 with a fine 50-second clocking. Junior Tom Shine and Senior Evert Mol were also on top for South in this event. Both boys won many vital points for the Archers.

STU SCHMITZ and Mike Weinraub took over in the half-mile as they put forth some fine efforts for their team. Both boys show much promise for next season.

Sophomores Ken Ellingwood, Steve Myers, and Charlie Golden were the four-lap boys for the Archers. All three could run the mile in respectable times, and they were tough to beat. Ken placed a good fourth in the Sectional, but it wasn't good enough to send him to the Regional. Ken can turn the four laps in the low 4:30's.

Jon vanOosten was the senior ace in the hurdles. He placed high in meets throughout the season. Close behind him was Junior Dave Blanton. He also

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

In softball, the Demons trounced the Jolly Rogers, 12-1; the pitchers were Steve Evans for the winners and Jerry Thomas for the losers. The Wonders rolled over the Ying Yongs, 9-2. Gary Probst pitched for the victors as did Bill Ausderan for the losers. The Daisies bested the Millers, 6-2.

The pitchers were Dick Astrom for the winners and Mickey Miller for the vanquished; the Nihilis walked all over the Red Wings, 7-1; the Champs handed a defeat to the Under-Dogs, 9-3. Pitching chores were handled by Steve Mueller and Bill Joy; and the Little Braves, aided by George Paris' home run, edged the Big Wheels, who had Carl Cole and Louie Baughman hitting homers, 6-5.

Spring golf has been completed and the results in the lightweight division are Rick Meeks, first with a 98; Tom Blossom, second with 100; and Larry Botz, third with 107. For the middleweights Steve Shambaugh is first with 82; Rick Twitchell and Don Glass tied for second place with 93; and Roger Almandinger hit a 97 for third. Heavyweights were Fred Debler, first with a respectable 77; Bill Joy, 82, second, and Steve McDonald, third, with an 83.

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Allen Wood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway E-7671

Hall's Drive-Ins

Coney Island

WIENER STAND
181 West Main A-0783

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

BEGINNING BRIDGE CLASSES
June 11-August 1—8-week session
Every Thursday Night 7:45-9:30
$6.50 Plus YWCA Membership
Open to Both High School and College Students
Mrs. Pongratz YWCA 325 W. Wayne

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES!

Marks CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1107

3818 S. Calhoun

7up

"Fresh up"

Featuring INSTANT GARDENING!

E. J. PLANT SHOPPE and GARDEN STORE

Hanna at Pettit

Annual and Perennial Plants

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

HAPPY HUMPTY DRIVE-INS

"For Your Eating Pleasure"

Fairfield at Packard
Anthony at Pontiac
Bluffton Road, Waynedale
U.S. Highways 27, 33, 224, Decatur

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL.

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

For

- Film Developing
- Film and Flash Bulbs
- Records
- Sheaffer Pens
- Papermate Pens
- Pen Repairing
- Greeting Cards
- Russell Stover Candy

Come to
HOWARD'S

Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Tolleston, Roosevelt Of Gary Boast Fastest Records In Relays, Sprints

LaPorte's Jerry Saffell Runs High Hurdles In 14.2 Timing

Out of the three Regional contests, after tough Sectional competition the previous week-end, came some of the best Indiana high school track talent that has ever been assembled at one time. The State track meet tomorrow will probably be the site of several new records and many fine times.

Bernie Rivers, East Chicago Washington's ace sprinter, who has run the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds (the best ever in this state), was hampered by a Charley horse and was not able to participate in this event. Randy Weddle of Nappanee and Richard Dilling of Gary Mann both were clocked in 9.9 seconds in the Regional.

Rivers did find a place in the 220-yard dash and could give Gary Roosevelt's Larry Hood a run for his money if Rivers is fully recovered. Hood has a best in Regional at 20.9 seconds which, if matched in State competition, could set a new mark.

Henry King's 1:56.2 state mark in the 880-yard run, which he set last year, seems probable not to stand another season. James Harris of Gary Roosevelt ran a 1:55.6 in the Regional and has recorded very low clockings all season.

The mile record of 4:19.8 set by Steve Hiber of Concordia seems safe, although Steve Meyers of North Side, by beating Kokomo's Dennis Jones, rated a Regional victory and a state best of 4:25.2. These two boys will probably be the top milers in Saturday's meet.

Jerry Saffell of LaPorte has run the high hurdles in 14.2 seconds, equalling an all-time record. Several other boys will have a chance but Saffell will probably run away with the victory.

The low hurdles should be a very good, close race. Saffell and Clay Leek of Gary Roosevelt both have equaled the state record in the low sticks of 19.1 seconds.

Howard Harris, who has run the quarter in 48.4 for an all-time state record, seems to be the best bid for the 440 championship. Harris, from Gary Tolleston, will have a good race, with South's Karl Bandemer, Dave Tyler of Angola, and some competition from other Sectionals.

Sam Williams of South Bend Adams seems probable to take the high jump. He jumped 6-5 in the Regional and has been around that all season. He won't have too much to contend with most likely.

The broad jump and the shot put are probably the most fluctuating events. It seems that one day a person can jump or put and the next day he can't get his steps or action right. The best in the Regional was 22-6 1/2 by Ernest Harper of Gary Roosevelt. The shot record set by North Side alumna Tom Siefort of 57-8 1/4 seems fairly safe. The best in Regional was 55-6 by Steve Terlep of Elkhart.

The pole vault is variable, too, but not as much as the shot and broad jump. The record of 13 feet 6 inches will probably not fall. Paul Griffith of Gary Tolleston set the Regional best of 13 feet but several boys have been over this mark during the season.

Both relay records will probably be beaten or approached. Gary Roosevelt had the best time in the Regional, 3:15.7, approaching a national record of 3:15.2 and way under the record 3:23.4 which Roosevelt set last year. The 880 was equaled in Regional by Gary Roosevelt with a 1:30.6 and could very well be broken.

Steve Myers, IIB, Runs Mile Distance For Archer Thinlies

Steve Myers

Showing tremendous improvement over the last two years is Steve Myers, IIB, running the mile for the South Side track team this year.

Last year Steve ran the mile, alternating victories with Ken Ellingwood, and the half, running with Ellingwood and Jim More.

His best time this year is a 4:45 against Kokomo. His 4:47 against Central missed the winning time by a mere two seconds.

In the fall, Steve runs cross country for the Archers. This year's team finished with a record of 9-3, also coming in second in the Sectional.

Due to the absence of many varsity and reserve members (because of Spring Vacation), he considers the Elkhart meet, which South won by a half point, the roughest team effort.

The meet with Central is also rated as one of the roughest team efforts by Steve. The meet, won by South by four points at 56 1/2 to 52 1/4, was nip-and-tuck up to the relays, which decided the meet, according to him. He placed second to Ken Ellingwood in the mile.

Although there were a few South Side fans at the Central meet, Steve feels that he and the rest of the team could run a better meet if more Archer fans turned out to cheer them on. He notes that there were probably more Tiger fans than South Siders, and, if not, they surely made much more noise.

Golfers Place First In City, Fifth In Sectional Tournament

Archer linksmen copped the Fort Wayne High School Golf Meet by one stroke for the third straight year May 15. Though heavily favored before the match by as many as twelve strokes, as the contest progressed, South lost many of these strokes. With all of South's boys shooting not much higher than their average, Concordia managed to come within one stroke of snatching away the City title.

The final score was 167 total for South and a 168 for Concordia. Junior Jim Mann of South had the third lowest score in the tournament with a 40. Gary Friend and Mike Martin of Concordia and Central Catholic, respectively, both had 41's for the next lowest scores.

IT MUST BE TAKEN into consideration that the scores of most all of the boys in the tournament were higher than usual. Besides Mann, Senior Jeff Roth of South had a 42; Senior Rich Kneisley carded a 41; and Senior Dick Waterfield particularly had a bad day, shooting almost straight bogeys.

Tom Horton, in shooting a one-over par 37, didn't play a particularly spectacular game until the last three holes. On these three holes he shot a very fine three under. On the sixteenth hole, where he got an eagle 3, Horton did have the advantage that the hole was playing short. However, he got a fine four-wood drive, playing the shot just short of a creek.

His second shot was an excellent four-iron blast that put him only about ten feet from the cup. He then putted the ball in for an eagle three. Horton passed the seventeenth hole before getting a birdie on eighteen to finish out a very hot streak at the end.

ALWAYS HAVING been well-known for his power with a golf club, Horton's low score was not particularly surprising. However, his partner on the Elmhurst squad, who also usually gets a fine score, Dave Foreman, didn't come through too well in this meet. This was very unusual because Foreman is well known for his excellent play under pressure. One possible reason for Dave's poor score is the fact that he arrived too late and had little time to warm up sufficiently.

For South Side Jeff Roth was playing number one man; Dick Waterfield number two; Jim Mann, low on the team pole for the day, was playing third; and Kneisley played fourth man. However, all of these boys played a remarkably similar game score-wise. The only differences among them are the better consistency of Mann and the scattered lower scores of the other three. Mann is the most consistently low scorer.

For the day Roth pared four holes, doubled-bogeyed one, and bogeyed the rest. Waterfield, as evidenced by his score, had a bad day. Kneisley finished very hot, even though his start was not exactly impressive. The team's total of 167 was rather disappointing but most important was the victory.

South Side's Archers finished fifth in the Elkhart Sectional Golf Tournament, played at the Four Lakes County Club at Edwardsburg, Michigan, last Friday. South Bend Riley captured the tournament by fifteen strokes over runner-up Elkhart. The winners finished with a 308 total and Elkhart recorded a 328. Mishawaka came in third with a 328. Those three teams qualified for the State Golf Tournament at the Coffin Course in Indianapolis next Saturday. The school scores represent a sum total of four golfers playing 18 holes each.

Port Wayne had one individual qualify for the State meet. Dave Foreman, of Elmhurst, tied for third place in medal competition with a four-over par 37-38-75 and will make the

Few Totems Left

Any person wishing to purchase a 1962 Totem should go to Room 16 to-night immediately after school to sign the waiting list. The cost of the Totem is $3.75. Only a few Totems remain, according to an announcement made by Betty Jones, 1962 Totem editor-in-chief.

GOLLER'S
DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Lightweight Nihils, Heavyweight Varlets Capture Intramural Track Meet Crowns

LETTER EARNERS . . . To earn their letters in the intramural program, the athletes have to participate in many team and individual sports, receiving points. Bill Ausderan, left, and Tim Grodrian recently obtained their third letter.—Photo by Triplett

Rugged competition highlighted the Intramural Track Meet May 15. Winning lightweight teams are the Nihils, 67 points; the Goosehounds, 27 1/2 points; and the Challengers, five points. The victorious heavyweight squads are the Varlets, 44 points; the Champs, 20 points; and Reichert's Rouncers, 19 points.

Phil Waltz of the Nihils took the low hurdles in the lightweight division in the third heat in 15 seconds flat. He was followed by a close race for second place with Ron Woods of the Goosehounds with an 18.4, and Dick Burnside of the Challengers with an 18.5. In the fourth heat in the lightweight division low hurdles, Jerry Dunlap copped first place with his 14.2 time. Jim Lawson of the Goosehounds and Tom Fryback had a real dual for second place, but Jim triumphed with his 16.4. Tom had a 16.5.

In the first heat of heavyweight low hurdles, Mike Files of the Invaders won first position with a 15.2. Gary Turpinoff of the Varlets came in a fairly close second with 15.5, and Hank Kernohan of the Champs achieved the third place with his 15.8. Second heat heavyweight winners are Bob Williams of the Invaders with his 14.2, Steve Pratt of the Varlets, 14.9, and Walt Steuple of Reichert's Rouncers, 15.1.

GENE STEIR of the Goosehounds took first place in the light division's first heat in the 100-yard dash with a rather slow 12.5. Tom Erb of the Nihils came in second with 13 seconds flat, while Bob Horn of the Challengers copped third place with his 13.5.

The lightweight division's championship in the second heat was captured by Tim Grodrian of the Nihils, who set a new record with his 11.3; Jim Lawson of the Goosehounds won second place with a 13.1; and Brian Haycock of the Challengers came in third with a lagging 15.2.

Andy Christon of the Invaders ran like the wind to receive first place honors in the heavyweight division's third heat with 12 seconds flat; Dennis Cook of the Ying Yongs was second with a 12.5; and Dick Ahlersmeyer won third place with a 13 flat time. In the fourth heavyweight heat Mike Zehender of the GAA All Stars was the winner with an 11.5; Willie Kidd of the Invaders was second with his

11.7; and Larry Schneider of the Blanks with a 12.2 was third. In the second heavyweight heat, Steve Pratt of the Varlets with an 11.3 was first; Ed Johnson of Reichert's Rouncers, close behind with an 11.5, was second; and Bernie Van Osedale of the Ying Yongs, with one of

Sophomore Ted Rolf Runs Varsity Track In Half-Mile Relay

Ted Rolf

One of the few sophomores to run varsity track this year is Ted Rolf. He participated in the sprints and the pole vault for his green and white squad. Later in the season Ted also ran on the varsity half-mile relay team.

His time in the hundred has been around 11 seconds flat and this places him as the third best hundred man. His pole vault efforts were confined to the reserve squad; but in the half mile relay, which is the last event of the meet, he ran varsity.

Because he is only a sophomore, he can be expected to improve even more by his senior year. His experience in the Sectional as a member of the relay team will also help him in the future. Next year he will be one of the four runners in this event.

Besides being a track ace, Ted played reserve basketball. He was the starting guard on a winning team and can be expected to play next year.

his slower 100-yard dash times, a 12.1, was third.

IN THE 880-YARD relay, the Nihil team overcame its opposition with a winning time of 1:48.5. The second and third place lightweight teams were the Goosehounds and Challengers. The winning heavyweight squad was the Varlets with a time of 1:44.1. They were followed at a short distance by the Invaders and Reichert's Rouncers.

Ron Heathman captured the 440-yard run with a 64-second time in the lightweight division. Bill Borgmann led his opponents in the heavyweight class with his 60.2.

Intramural fans saw Dave James of the Nihils finish far ahead of his competitors, John Gustafson and Jerry Dunlap, in the lightweight 880-yard run. Dave's winning time was 2:23.8; Rob Camp of the Ying Yongs ran away from his fellow participants, Larry Lee of the Varlets and Bill Ausderan of the Ying Yongs, in the heavyweight 880-yard run. His time was 2:20.1.

Tim Grodrian of the Nihils captured the 220-yard dash crown by sprinting madly away from Byron Fromm and Ron Woods with his first place time of 27.5. Mike Zehender barely got away from Frank Lewis and Dan DeWald in the heavyweight 220-yard dash. Mike's time was 26.2.

Tim Grodrian again tasted victory as he defeated Gene Steir and Art Biggs with his winning running broad jump of 17-7 1/2 for the lightweights. For the heavyweights, Larry Schneider was first with his 18-11. Close on his heels were Ed Johnson and Hank Kernohan.

LIGHTWEIGHT pole vault results were not too exceptional. Ron Heathman vaulted eight feet and Mike Beltz went for seven. Jim Barker, Joe Koch, and Larry Schneider all vaulted eight feet for the heavyweights.

The heavyweight mile relay title was captured by Reichert's Rouncers with a time of 4:10. The Varlets were second with 4:21 and the Champs third with 4:35.

Mike Beltz put the shot the farthest in the lightweight division with a 31-3 1/2 heave. Steve Chapin won the heavy title with a put of 39-8.

Hank Kernohan and Ed Johnson had a duel in the high jump contest. But after making 5-4, Ed was unable to jump two inches higher. Hank did make that and decided to go for the record, which had been 5-7 1/2. He cleared the bar at five feet eight and one-quarter inches, setting a new high jump record.

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.

333 S. Clinton A-8411

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Tracy LAUNDRY

A Future For You At Lincoln Life

In a remarkably short period of time Lincoln Life has become one of the ten largest life insurance companies in the United States. This sound and rapid growth is due in large part to its nation-wide staff of ambitious and alert young men and women.

You are invited to visit our Personnel Department for information about the opportunities currently available for June high school graduates.

- 5-day, 37 1/2 hour work week
- Interesting permanent position
- Air-conditioned offices
- Paid vacations and holidays
- Free insurance

Apply at the Personnel Department 8:00 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. Monday through Friday

THE Lincoln Life NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY

Its Name Indicates Its Character

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See

JASPER

Engine & Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

Varsity Athletic Squads Complete Seasons; Four Of Six Teams Gain Winning Records

Reserve Basketball Squadron Compiles Outstanding Kelly Record During Year

By Steve Lowens

While not setting the world on fire, South Side's varsity athletic teams registered a very successful season with five of six teams registering winning records. The sole exceptions were the basketball squad, which wound up with a disastrous 6-15 record, and the tennis team.

The first team to operate, the football squad, gave South Side fans their biggest thrills and came the closest to claiming a league championship. The Gridders placed second in the city race, losing the championship in the last game of the season.

After losing its section of the annual Jamboree to New Haven 7-0, the Archers took a big step in the city race by whipping the eventual champion, Bishop Luers, 13-2, in the first full-length game of the year.

The Knights' only points came on an intentional safety by Kelly quarterback Tom McMahon when the Archers were deep in their own territory.

EXCELLENT OPENING field running by halfback Nate Norment and the passing of McMahon brought the Archers their two touchdowns and a stout defense kept the Knights out of the Green's end zone.

The Archers lost a heart-breaker to highly-touted Hammond Morton. After the Governors scored an opening quarter touchdown, the stiff Archer defense shut the door.

Taking a firm grip on the city race, the Bowman defeated North Side the following week by a score of 14-7. A 65-yard touchdown jaunt by Norment and a pass from McMahon to Jon vanOosten help up against North's lone seven pointer, and a stiff Archer defense held on in the second half for the victory.

Hoping to clinch the city title, the Archers were frustrated by two bad breaks and played Central to a scoreless tie.

The Bowbenders picked up their first win over an out-of-town team by squeaking by Warsaw 12-6. A McMahon-to-Dave Meyer pass was good for six points and a McMahon-to-Tom Frazell pass on the fourth down was good for thirty yards, six points, and a victory.

MAKING THEIR ONLY out-of-town trip of the season, the Archers lost another heartbreaker to Penn Township of Mishawaka. The host won the game on a 35-yard touchdown pass after time had run out, a penalty having been called on the last play in regulation time.

After a slow start that netted them only one touchdown in the first half, the Bowman unleashed their fiercest offensive display of the season in whipping Elmhurst 25-6. Touchdowns were scored by Nate Norment, Matt Platane, Sid Sherry, and Dave Platz.

Faced with a must-win-to-gain-the-city-title game, Luers having won its remaining city encounters, the Archers lost their final game of the season to an aroused Irish squad which scored the game's only touchdown. The squad wound up the season with a 4-3-1 record.

Four members of the best line in the city and two members of the backfield were All-City selections. Linemen John Weaver, Chuck Parker, Mark Hagerman, and Dave Meyer and backs Nate Norment and Tom McMahon were rated unequalled in the city.

Linemen Jon vanOosten and Don Slevert and backs Ed Johnson and Sid Sherry received honorable mention in this poll. Norment and Hagerman each received honorable mention in the All-State nominations.

CROSS COUNTRY, the "minor" sport of the fall, proved to be better than football as far as win-loss totals were concerned. The fall thirnies recorded nine victories against two defeats in dual meets and lost their only triangular. They also placed ninth in a field of 21 in the Shortridge Invitational.

Victories were recorded over Central Catholic, Warsaw, Huntington, Concordia, Elmhurst (twice), and New Haven (three times). Losses came at the hands of North Side and Marion.

The two milers finished second only to North in the Sectional and then placed eighteenth at the State level.

Sophomore Ken Ellingwood was the most outstanding runner, but the Kelly's victories came from the exceptional team balance. Other members that made the team a success were Bob Camp, Dave Munson, Steve Meyers, Larry Lee, Jim Burton, Jim More, and Stu Schmitz.

Lack of a smooth big man, generally miserable ball handling, and a failure to "get the breaks" added up to the worst season in the memory of the present students as the basketball team compiled a 6-15 record.

FAILURE TO GET the breaks was no more evident than in the Archers' play against city series foes. Of six games, the Archers lost four by a total of 13 points, an average of just over three a game. The other two games were split, the Archers winning one by five and losing the other by 36.

A brilliant two-man show by the stars of the Bluffton Tigers was too much for the inexperienced Kellys, who lost their first game 58-16. Steve Hart with 31 points and Brad Bounds with 16 scored all but eight of the Tigers' points and four more than the entire Archer quintet.

Having faced a two man team, the Archers then watched a brilliant offensive exhibition by one man as they lost their second encounter, 65-51 to Southport.

A foreshadowing of things to come followed as the Archers lost their first city series match to Concordia, 59-55. Holding a 54-53 lead in the fourth quarter, the Archers saw four Cadet free throws drop in and give them their third loss of the season. Ken Leakey's 23 points was the Bowman's highlight of the evening.

Having found Fort Wayne a hard place to come out on top, the Archers ventured out of town and picked up their first win of the season on the home court of the Huntington Vikings. Five free throws, two each by Leakey and Gary Probst and one by Tom Meyers, gave the Archers the win in the last minutes. Leakey's 26 points led the Archer attack.

THE ARROW-SLINGERS finally picked up a win on their home floor by besting the Kendallville Comets 60-48. Tied 37-37 at the end of three quarters, the Archers scored the first eight points of the final stanza to pick up the win. Dale Hilsmer's 21 points led the Kelly offense while Leakey added 17.

During the Christmas holidays, the Archers traveled to Columbia City, where they placed third in the festival tournament. After losing the afternoon contest to Goshen 56-49, the team captured a close consolation contest, 54-53.

Returning to city warfare, the Archers lost their second series battle, this time to Central Catholic by a 55-51 score. The Kellys maintained a six point lead in the fourth quarter, but a flurry of Irish shooting and Archer fouls brought the Archers to their fourth defeat of the season.

Tired by this tense battle and a long trip, the Archers were easy pickings for Michigan City in a game played in the Calumet city. The final tally of this one was 61-40.

The Archers came close but again just missed getting their first city series win as they lost to North Side 47-45. Leakey and Probst led the valiant but futile attempt with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

COMPLETING THEIR third losing streak of the year, the Archers were humbled by Mishawaka, 62-51. Hilsmer and Leakey accumulated 28 points to keep the Archers close for 3 1/2 periods, but the Archers' express ran out of steam at that point and was once more set back.

Following this rather dismal showing, the Archers rebounded for their best showing of the campaign against Bishop Luers. Clipping the nets at a rate of 50 per cent, they gained their highest output of the season: 79 points to Luers 61.

Unfortunately, this winning streak was only good for one game, as the Archers relapsed and fell to Central, 43-40. Holding a 36-34 lead in the final stanza, the Archer defense fell apart to give the Tigers another close victory.

The Archers regained the victory trail for their final win streak of the year, first winning over Madison Heights, 60-41.

The final victory of the year and the only city series victory was recorded over the Elmhurst Trojans. A torrid fourth quarter, foreshadowed by a 54 foot shot by Leakey just before the third buzzer, found Elmhurst passing the Archers with 13 straight points and the Archers rebounding to nullify this outburst for the victory.

THREE DEVASTATING losses followed. North overwhelmed the Kelly's 75-40; Goshen triumphed, 66-44; and Gary Probst, playing his second string for the first three quarters, whipped the Archers, 73-59.

Returning home for their final city series contest, the Archers were handed a setback by the Central Tigers to the tune of 49-41.

The Archers closed the regular season by losing a road contest, 64-59, to Logansport. This was a very close contest, and though the Archers shot and rebounded well, too many fouls turned the contest in favor of the Berries.

The Archers bowed out of the Sectional in the first game, losing to Elmhurst, 51-42. The game was close for three quarters, but the Trojans ran away in the final stanza.

Not blessed with a large number of outstanding individuals, the track team compiled a 7-1 record in dual meets and a second place in a triangular through a fine balance, mainly in the running events.

The results of the season's work was that seven persons and the mile relay team qualified from the Sectional with two individuals and the baton squad passing through the Regional to compete in the State meet Saturday.

THE SEASON BEGAN indoors with the Archers taking a close 55 1/2-53 1/2 victory over Culver. Jon vanOosten was the only double winner for the Archers, taking both hurdles.

The thirnies' second victory was a 72-37 shelling of Elmhurst. Karl Bandemer's time of 10.1 in the century was a state best at this time, and his 23.4 in the furlong was also among the best.

The harriers barely stayed on the victory trail by squeaking past Elkhart, 54 1/2-54 1/2. The Archers were very strong in the running events, but got almost no help in the field events. First place in both relays gave the Kellys their margin of victory.

North Side Redskins indicated their dominance of the city's teams by defeating South and Central in a triangular meet, the Archers finishing second.

Bandemer, aided by a tail-wind, lowered his century time to 10 flat. Frazell won the 440 with a steady race that just survived a last minute lunge by Redskin Ed Haught.

Minus the services of their star sprinter, Bandemer, the Archers lost their only dual meet to Kokomo's Wildcats, 65 1/2-43 1/2.

North captured their own relays, winning with ease. South's Bandemer was awarded the title of outstanding athlete of the meet for winning the 100-yard dash and anchoring the mile and half-mile relay teams.

BACK ON THE VICTORY trail, the Archers captured an easy one over Central Catholic, 79-30. This was an experimental meet for the Archers with several athletes competing in events strange to them.

Competing in the Delphi relays, the Archers took second to Hobart. The Bowbenders captured the half-mile and mile relays. Ken Ellingwood placed second in the mile, and Jon vanOosten took the red ribbon in the high hurdles to account for the major portion of the Archers' points.

Bandemer's 51.9 in the 440 highlighted the Archers victory over Muncie Central, 59-49. Ellingwood reduced his mile time to 4:40.0 and the Archers captured the mile relay.

Returning home, the Archers clipped Central by a close 56 1/2-52 1/2 margin. By splitting up their crack mile relay team, the Archers were able to capture both relays to gain the needed points for victory. The harriers' final victory of the year came over Bishop Luers by a 79-20 score.

Qualifying seven men for the Regional, the Archers placed third in the Sectional meet behind North and Central. Bandemer won an extremely close race in the 440 over Frazell and Bill Pool of North. Only two-tenths of a second separated the three runners.

OTHER QUALIFIERS were Dale Hilsmer in the 220, Jon vanOosten in the high and low hurdles, Gary Probst in the high jump, and Sid Sherry in the shot put. The Kelly mile baton passers placed second to also qualify.

In the Regional last Saturday, Bandemer won the 440 and Hilsmer placed fourth in the 220 to qualify for State. The mile relay squad placed first to qualify. South wound up tied for third with Central.

South's tennis team, composed entirely of juniors, completed the year with a mark of 6-9 in dual meets. Victories were recorded over Central, Central Catholic (twice), Bluffton, and Muncie. Losses were suffered at the hands of Marion, Peru, Concordia (twice), Huntington, Muncie Burris, Bluffton, and Goshen.

Completing another fine year, South Side's golf team wound up with a 13-3 record. The Kelly linksmen won the city tournament and finished fifth in the Sectional. Members of the Sectional team were Rick Kneisley, Jim Mann, Jeff Roth, and Dick Waterfield.

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Dick Waterfield Aids Varsity Links Squad With Irons, Drives

Doing quite well in his first year of varsity golf, Senior Dick Waterfield has played the positions from one to three on the team so far this year.

Dick Waterfield

Dick is one of two seniors on the team without any varsity experience but with a great deal of seasoning otherwise.

Though not a member of South's team in previous years, largely due to the fact that Archerland was gifted with several precocious golfers, Dick has gained a great deal of experience from other sources of competition.

Dick feels that the best part of his game is his long iron shots; while the weakest part is his chipping and approach work around the greens.

HE HAS BEEN instrumental in helping Kelly linksmen win their first four matches practically unchallenged. So far, South has defeated Elmhurst and Kendallville, in a triangular meet; Garrett; Bishop Luers; and a Decatur.

Not completely occupied with golf, Dick is a member of National Honor Society and the Four Year Honor Roll. He has also been an officer of Hi-Y and Latin Club, a member of DeMolay, and a Totem agent. Dick is also a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

ON THE COLLEGE course, Dick is taking trigonometry, English 8, chemistry, and economics. He listed trigonometry as his favorite subject. His other pastimes include intramural sports of all kinds and, of course, golf. Dick plans to attend Denison University in Ohio, continuing his golf at least for recreation there.

In the past, Dick has received several awards for his ability on the links. Two of these were last year's intramural championship, which he won in a play-off match, and the Junior Club Championship at the Fort Wayne Country Club.

Although the golf team plays all its home matches at Brookwood Golf Course, it is also Dick's favorite golf course. He carded the lowest score of his career at Brookwood, getting a 36-38, or 74. This is only three over par on what is one of the toughest courses in the city.

Boys' Rifle Club To Meet

The Boys' Rifle Club will meet on the range next Monday at 3:30 p.m. for the last time this year. The high scorer at the May 14 meeting is Dave Bergwald, shooting in sitting position, who scored an 83.

ALLEN DAIRY

Phone: T-1141

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA AUTO DRIVING SCHOOL . . .

- Dual Controlled Training Cars
- Manual or Automatic Transmission
- Professional Instructors
- Convenient Door-to-Door Service
- Individual Instruction

H-3303

Sport Dashes

By Terry Newendorp

There were lots of spectator thrills in last week's Regional meet; and if none of the athletes catch pneumonia, the Fort Wayne area will be well represented at State Saturday. Double winners at the meet were Central's Bob Hubbard again, in the highs and lows, and Nappanee's flash, Randy Weddle in the dashes.

A few very fine marks were turned in, three of them being tops in the state last Friday. Weddle's 9.9 in the hundred tied Richard Dilling's time for Gary Mann. Dilling has been building himself up for the duel at State with Bernie Rivers of E. C. Washington, but now his only chance to run against Rivers is in the furlong since the Senators' speedster failed to qualify in the 100 due to a Charley horse.

A real surprise at Gary Friday was the new state record in the 220 by Larry Hood of Roosevelt, who has been running anchor leg of the mile relay team which also set a new record last week. The 220 time was 20.9, seven-tenths of a second off the national high school best; the mile relay time was a sensational 3:15.2, five-tenths of a second off the national mark. The Tolleston crew that chased the record-breakers home was under 3:18 also.

The two other marks from Fort Wayne that paced the field were the shot-put of 55-6 by Steve Terlep of Elkhart and the brilliant 4:25.2 mile of North's Gary Myers. That mile battle was really tight, Myers finally outkicking Dennis Jones of Kokomo to come up with the fine time.

Other records, all of them at Gary, were set in the 440, 880, high hurdles, and low hurdles. In all, the Gary Regional saw three new state records set and one tied and three Regional records established. Besides the 220 and mile relay, Howard Harris of Roosevelt cracked his own state record in the quarter, covering the ground in 48.4. Roosevelt's Jim Harris set a Regional record with his 1:55.5 half-mile, finally beating out rival Art Angotti. The time in the 880 at Fort Wayne was a fine 1:57.7 by Peru's Hal Sonafrank.

Hurdles records came as Jerry Saffell of LaPorte took but 14.2 in the highs and finished in a dead heat with Clay Leek of Roosevelt in 19.1 for the low sticks. Both were Regional records, the first tying the state mark. Hubbard covered the same courses in 14.9 and 19.6.

Roosevelt ended up clobbering Tolleston and LaPorte in its Regional as the defending State champs qualified 10 individuals and both relay teams, the most in the entire state, and in probably the roughest Regional, too. Richmond, Indianapolis Wood, and Anderson did well at Indianapolis as did Evansville Reitz in its competition.

South qualified just two men and the mile relay team for State as Tom Frazell missed by just an eyelash of letting the Archers send down two contenders in the 440. As it is, Dale Hilsmer, who finished fourth in the 220 after capturing his trial heat in 23.3, and Karl Bandemer, who copped the quarter, are the individuals going down.

Also, the mile baton exchangers, Bandemer, Frazell, Tom Shine, Evert Mol, and alternates Karl Schlademan and Mike Weinraub, will compete in the meet.

No so fortunate as the track squad was the Kelly golf team that placed fifth in the Sectional and failed to qualify for State. Three strokes less for the whole squad would have tied them for third and sent them down.

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

See our lovely selection of formals and cocktail dresses.

K-2530 2426 S. Calhoun

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT
Dining Room

BAER FIELD
FORT WAYNE
INDIANA

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

The proper lighting in your home is very important for reading and study . . . It protects your eyesight.

PAUL M. BURNS, MAYOR OF FORT WAYNE

Better Lighting

means better grades

Light & Power • Water Filtration • Sewage Disposal

UTILITIES

Graves & Hageman, Inc.
Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Ed Parrish Servicer
Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

NROTC Trains Male College Students For Careers In Navy, Marine Corps

Several programs are offered by the United States Navy to young men in Fort Wayne as methods of fulfilling the requirements of the current military service laws.

An important program available to high school students is the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program, the NROTC.

The purpose of this training is especially to educate highly selected young men for naval careers as commissioned officers of the Regular Navy and Marine Corps.

A plan was established to produce well-trained and educated junior officers to supplement the output of the U.S. Naval Academy. The original NROTC concept of 1926 continues as a Reserve Officer procurement program and is referred to as the Contract NROTC.

This and the Naval Academy are the two most highly competitive officer candidate programs in the Navy and only men reasonably disposed to making a career in the Navy should plan to enter into the regular group.

The Regular NROTC is under the immediate supervision of the Chief of Naval Personnel of the Navy Department. It is a college program for the training and education of regular naval officer candidates.

Successful applicants are appointed midshipmen. United States Naval Reserve by the Secretary of the Navy and will be granted the compensations and benefits authorized by law for a period not exceeding four years.

The Navy pays tuition, cost of textbooks, other fees of an instructional nature, plus retainer pay of $50 dollars per month. During drill periods and summer cruises, the midshipmen wear government-furnished uniforms.

THE RETAINER pay received while in college is not enough to pay all student expenses. Experience has indicated that an additional $300 to $800 per year, depending on the college and the student, is necessary to meet all expenses. Since first-year students are usually advised by the college not to undertake outside employment, applicants should plan to attend a college where expenses will be within their budget.

Each Regular NROTC Midshipman takes naval science courses in addition to the normal studies leading to a baccalaureate degree. Otherwise, students appointed to the Regular NROTC lead approximately the same life as their civilian contemporaries. They make their own arrangements for board and lodging.

In addition to the requirements of gentlemanly conduct, they are subject to naval discipline and must conduct themselves in a military manner at all times while under naval jurisdiction, while attending naval science classes, drills, and exercises, and during summer training periods.

Upon satisfactory completion of naval science and baccalaureate degree requirements, each midshipman, although a reserve in college, is commissioned as a regular officer in the Navy or Marine Corps.

Depending upon the needs of the naval service at the time, graduates of the Regular NROTC are commissioned as ensigns in the Line of the Navy, as second lieutenants in the U.S. Marine Corps, or as ensigns in one of the Staff Corps of the Navy. Each graduate indicates his preference as to branch in which he desires to be commissioned, subject to meeting the professional and physical requirements for that branch.

IN ORDER to qualify for the NROTC program, a boy must be a citizen of the United States who has reached his seventeenth birthday by July 1 of the year he applies and who hasn't yet passed his twenty-first birthday by the same date. Those contemplating a college course which takes five years to complete must have reached their twentieth birthday by the July date.

He must be unmarried, a high school graduate or graduating senior, be without any moral obligations or personal convictions which will prevent him from conscientiously bearing arms and supporting and defending the Constitution of the United States and be true to such obligations as remaining until commissioned completing prescribed naval science courses, drills, and cruises; and accepting a commission in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps if offered.

A summer training period of approximately six to eight weeks' duration is conducted between academic years in college. During the first and third summers a cruise aboard various ships of the fleet provides the practical shipboard training for a future naval career officer. During the second summer period indoctrination in aviation and amphibious warfare is conducted.

The physical requirements demand that a candidate be physically sound, well-formed, and of robust constitution. Vision must be twenty-twenty uncorrected in each eye. Normal color perception is required. Heart, lungs, and hearing must be normal. Weight must be in proportion to height and general build; and the limits of height are 64 to 78 inches.

In order to be accepted for the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, one must apply for and take the Navy College Aptitude Test which is given in December of each year. Local candidates take this test at Indiana Technical College.

After attaining a qualifying score on the Navy College Aptitude Test, the applicant will be requested to report to the Navy recruiting station which he selected at the time of the test, probably in Indianapolis. There he will be given a physical examination, will be interviewed by at least two Naval officers, and will complete the necessary forms for use by the state selection committee.

FROM THE qualifying candidates, state and territorial selection committees will make the final selection of candidates. Experience has indicated that each year many outstanding candidates attain qualifying scores on the Navy College Aptitude Test and pass the rigid physical exam.

Because of the limited quota available in each state, it is not possible to select every qualified applicant for an appointment. The selection committees, after careful consideration of each application, determine those who are best fitted for appointment and eventual careers in the Naval service, within the authorized state quota.

The important thing to point out about this Navy program is that it should be considered by high school juniors as there is a rather early application deadline in the senior year.

More information may be obtained from Mr. Jack Wiecker, senior guidance counselor; from the commanding officer of all NROTC units; from the senior Naval officer at the area U.S. Navy recruiting station; and from the Naval Examining Section of Science Research Associates, Inc., 519 West Sheridan Road, McHenry, Ill.

The United States Naval Reserve offers another opportunity for young men to discharge their military obligation through volunteer enlistment and drill participation while still in high school. This course gives the average young man the opportunity to complete his military service in a minimum period of time, to learn to be an expert technician qualified for civilian employment, and to be ready to return to his home community before his twenty-first birthday.

FORT WAYNE is fortunate to have three Naval Reserve Training Units available to help implement this program. They include two medium surface divisions and a "Seabee" construction unit. Nearly three hundred young men attend drills and rate training one night each week in the Navy and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center which is located at 2502 Dwenger Avenue. The salt water sailors train either on Monday or Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. The "Seabees" train during the same hours on Tuesday. Parents' permission is required for applicants 17 years of age, and reserve training is scheduled so as not to interfere with school activities.

The reservists attend the drills during junior and senior high school years in preparation for two years active duty after graduation from high school, and the completion of the 15 months training cycle. This includes two weeks duty at Great Lakes Naval Station, scheduled so as not to interfere with school activities, usually during the summer months.

More information on this plan may be obtained from a visit to the training center on Dwenger Avenue or by arranging for a home visit by telephoning Commander John W. McCallen, Commanding Officer of the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center at Eastbrook 5810. After an interview and upon evidence of interest, the student will be given an intelligence test to determine his qualifications and an examination to show that he is physically fit and free from any disease or handicap.

Following the completion of the application and the actual swearing in ceremony, the young man receives continuing indoctrination and begins to master the military fundamentals of service life. Among the subjects to be studied in movies and lectures, as well as by practical application, are those things that will instill discipline which leads to responsibility, and which will lead to personal gains in maturity and advancement.

As time goes on the individual will learn to be any of the specialists for which the Navy offers training. These are also fields in which the reservist will be equipped for civilian employment by the time he has finished two years active duty.

At the end of six months, during school vacation, he will take his first two weeks training at the Great Lakes Naval Base, near Chicago, possibly aboard a ship cruising on Lake Michigan. After a strenuous two weeks, he will return to Fort Wayne to take his first examination for advancement. From then on he will continue weekly drills and rate training until he finishes high school, or until completion of the training cycle of fifteen months, if he has finished school. Then, two years active duty follows.

The young reservist will be ordered to a naval shore station first, then on to a school, a ship at sea, an overseas station, or an overseas base in a foreign country. These assignments depend upon the personal interest of the sailor, the needs of the Navy, and the individual's performance of duty.

During this time the person will continue technical training and may decide to enlist in the regular Navy with the plan to make this life his career. He also will have the opportunity to study and apply for one of the commissioned officer training programs, or he may decide to return to his home community at the end of his two years to take up civilian employment.

At that time, as a civilian again, it will be up to the person whether or not he wishes to participate actively in the naval reserve. If he decides to be a permanent civilian, he will be placed upon the rolls of the standby reserve, and will be ordered to duty only in event if war or national emergency called by Congress.

Further incentive to the Navy Reserve program is that each year the Reserve has a quota of 160 appointments to the Naval Academy. Also, there is a new college science program open to naval reservists on active duty. This provides four-year scholarships which are worth from four to six thousand dollars each year.

Junior Linda Dollarhite Enjoys Sewing Curtains For Pleasure

"Cut, sew, iron . . . cut, sew, iron." Such is the manner in which Linda Dollarhite, junior, makes curtains for a home furnishings establishment.

After the idea was suggested by her

Linda Dollarhite

aunt, Linda began this type of work last year. Her aunt first taught her the principles of drapery designing.

The amount of money she earns for each job depends on the time put forth, the size of the window and the material. She works an average of 25 hours a week.

ALL LINED CURTAINS require hand sewing. She feels that making curtains for round windows is the hardest; her favorite type is the short or cafe style length.

"I like this type of work because one can learn so many things. It's hard to pin-point it down to one or two specific items. One learns to identify materials, to sew, and to recognize the various names of materials and patterns. I've always liked to

Students Receive Scholarships To I. U. On Academic Averages

Archers who have been chosen to receive honorary, merit, residence, and state scholarships to Indiana University are Bonnie Russell, Sharon Carrel, Dan McCroskey, Jenny Manth, Diane Fredrick, Karen McFarland, Larry Lee, Susan McGinnis, Karen Simmons, Ellen Williams, and Tamara Vyhovsky.

Bonnie Russell has received a honorary scholarship on the basis of her four-year academic average, character, and leadership qualities.

During her years at South Side, Bonnie has been a member of the Times staff as a room agent and writer and has earned her gold pin. She was Totem assistant sophomore editor and a member of National Honor Society, Assemblies Workshop, Philo, Modern Dance, and Meterites.

ALSO THE RECIPIENT of an honorary scholarship is Jenny Manth. This scholarship is based on grades and sponsored by the college. Jenny plans to major in English and minor in French. She hopes to teach both subjects in a secondary school.

As a student at South Side, Jenny has been point recorder of Meterites; a member of Philo; 36 Workshop; Service Club, earning her third pin; 1500 Club, earning her gold-jeweled pin and special award; Times writer; make-up editor; copy editor; classroom and homeroom news reporter; secretary of the board of publications, and general manager.

Jenny, on the college course, is taking personal typing, Journalism 2, developmental reading, and French 4. Sharon Carrel, receiving a merit scholarship to Indiana University, will study English and a foreign language to qualify for teaching in secondary schools.

Sharon has been a varsity cheerleader, a Times feature and editorial writer, a Totem copy editor, vice-president of Meterites, a member of National Honor Society, and a member of the junior and senior class social councils. On the college course, Sharon is now taking personal typing, French 4, and concert choir.

DAN McCROSKEY, winner of an Indiana honorary scholarship, will follow the pre-med course and will major in chemistry.

Dan has participated in Junior Academy of Science as president of the math section, Boys' Rifle Club, freshman basketball, Know Your City, Service Club, senior play stage crew, band as a tenor saxophone player; was a national merit finalist; received an award from the National Council of English teachers; received a superior rating in a state instrumental music contest; and was a member of the Latin Club.

Diane Fredrick, who has received a state scholarship and the Della Evans scholarship to Indiana University, hopes to become an elementary teacher.

Diane has been active as president of Wranglers, where she has earned her pin and her second guard, secretary-treasurer of the senior class, Totem associate editor, treasurer of Masque and Gavel, and a member of Philo, Meterites, and Westminster Fellowship. Diane is taking English 8, economics, Chemistry 2, and French 4.

KAREN McFARLAND has received a state sponsored scholarship to Indiana. She will use her scholarship to study math to prepare for teaching. Her award was based on SAT results, rank in class, and grades.

Larry Lee, who received a partial fee remission scholarship based on merit, will major in law and hopes to work in politics or government.

Larry has been senior class president and a member of the Letterman Club, varsity track, and cross country teams. Times as copy and make-up editor, sports writer, recipient of his gold pin, DeMolay preceptor and orator, a member of National Honor Society, four-year honor roll, winner of ribbons for extemporaneous speaking, Junior Rotarian, and member of Assemblies Workshop.

SUSAN McGINNIS HAS been awarded the merit scholarship. Susan is Totem office manager, has earned her first Service pin, second Library pin, and is president of her church Luther League. Susan is taking Special English 8, Home Economics 4 and 5, and economics.

Recipient of a merit scholarship, Karen Simmons, will study pre-med and will major in chemistry or zoology. She hopes to serve as a doctor in underdeveloped countries. Karen is in Meterites, Philo, Wranglers, Times, where she has her gold pin, president of Library Club, recipient of her first Service pin, has done dramatic work, and has been a member of the YMCA swim team.

Ellen Williams plans to accept both a residence and a merit scholarship. She plans to work in the college library to pay for her scholarship and will major in English.

Ellen was in Meterites, Philo, Latin Club, Astronomy Section of Junior Academy of Science, church choir at Redeemer Lutheran Church, and president of her Walther League. She is now taking personal typing and economics.

Tamara Vyhovsky, winner of a state scholarship, is a member of Philo. Safety Council president, Allen County Safety Council secretary, Pegasus copy editor and associate editor, Chemistry Section of Jr. Academy of Science, National Honor Society, and four-year honor roll.

Jessie Frost Visits Countries, Makes Friends Around World

Around the world from the island of coconuts to the land of chopsticks has flown Sophomore Jessie Frost. Since her father is in the service and has been stationed at bases in many foreign countries, she has traveled to such countries as Italy, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Thailand, India, and Japan.

Jessie Frost

The Frosts' first trip abroad was to Italy, where they stayed for three years. Upon arriving in Italy, Jessie had to learn the Italian language, which took about two weeks.

Jessie said that they had running water as well as a pump in back of the villa. Beautiful gardens and ponds surrounded the house, and apartments lined the streets. In some open markets, meat and fruits were completely uncovered; therefore, flies caused sanitation problems.

JESSIE VISITED the catacombs, the Coliseum, the Roman Forum, the Arch of Triumph, and the aqueducts. She learned that in the catacombs bodies had been buried and sealed in tombs with favorite possessions. She saw a pool of water near the catacombs where people were baptized.

At the Forum she was told that people gathered to watch the Christians being fed to the lions. The aqueducts were, and still are, used to carry water into the cities through pipes.

SHE SAID THAT the Italian people let their animals stay inside the houses. In the restaurants the people are served wine and water with meals, instead of coffee or milk. The Italians love spaghetti and consider it their main dish. They also have many pizza houses.

After living in Washington, D.C., for four years, the Frosts traveled to the Philippines. The Filipino people live in nipa huts, which are on stilts four inches off the ground. These huts either have thatched roofs or roofs made of scrapped tin.

SHE STATED THAT methods of farming in the Philippines are very old. Water buffalos are used for almost everything. The people keep their animals under their houses, since they are off the ground. There is no running water so the Filipinos still use pumps. Also, very few people have electricity.

LIVING IN THE northern Philippines, the Ifugao tribe is very good at wood carving. The Frosts have some wooden spoons and forks and an ash tray as souvenirs from these people.

From the Philippines Jessie traveled with her parents to Hong Kong for eight days. They stayed in town in a lodge hotel, which had Chinese shops all around it. Jessie said that the poor people of towns and villages send their small children out begging in the streets.

ONE DAY JESSIE visited the British Compound at the top of Mount Victoria, which is on Hong Kong Island. While on a tour, Jessie was able to see Red China across the river. To her surprise, it looked almost completely white.

They then took a trip to Bangkok, the capital city of Thailand. Jessie liked Bangkok the best of any place she visited. The reason for this was that the people there were so friendly.

AFTER A SHORT time the Frosts traveled to India. They visited the Taj Mahal, which was in the process of being sand-blasted. Jessie found some chips of marble, so she kept them as a souvenir. The walls of the Taj Mahal are laid with colored rocks, which form flowers.

In Delhi, Jessie went to a place where the people cremated bodies. After the body has been burnt, it is set aside for three days. Then the relatives throw the ashes into the Ganges River for good luck.

IN JAPAN JESSIE and her parents stayed at Tokyo most of the time. In Kyoto they stayed in a Japanese home, where they had to take off their shoes to enter. They also had their own private garden. The beds were made of straw, which were uncomfortable compared to American beds.

When it was time to eat, a girl would enter and cook the food in front of them. Back in Tokyo, the Frosts got box-seat tickets and went to a stage show at the theater. The evening turned out to be more exciting when the Prince of Japan and his wife entered. They slowly advanced and were seated directly behind Jessie and her parents.

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3232

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY
WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP
Sunny Schick
Camera Shop
407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

Alumni News

(Continued from Page 2)

To be married June 16 are Janet Snyder, '52, and Albert Greenblatt. Janet graduated from Indiana University where she was a member of Phi Mu social sorority. She is presently teaching in Aurora, Illinois. Albert was graduated from Temple University.

Engaged to be married July 28 at the Parkview Church of Christ are Gloria Moennig, '54, and William Carey, a graduate of North Side High School. Gloria attended Indiana University Center and was graduated from Taylor University. She is a member of Chi Alpha Omega, a Taylor scholastic honor society. William is attending Purdue University Center and is a General Electric apprentice.

Allan L. Flowers, '60, has been named to the dean's list at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, Ill. Allan is studying in the Institute of Design where he has maintained an average of better than three points in a four point system.

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—

T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford

H-2185

TENNIS EQUIPMENT

SPALDING RACKETS . . . . . $4.95 up
SPALDING BALLS . . . . . 3 for $1.95
CONVERSE SHOES . . . . . $7.95

HARTZLER'S SPORT SHOP

Parking in the Rear

3704 S. Calhoun

H-8925

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER
GLASS RINGS
Phone
A-7306 . . . E-4197

BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

and the shoe is U. S. KEDS®

Get that slim, tapered toe and "that great Keds feeling!" Pick yourself a pair of our fresh, new Keds—in new 1962 colors—and you're ready for anything! Housework, homework, loafing or living it up—you'll get the comfort and the chic that come only with the famous U. S. Keds! Narrow and Medium widths.

121 W. Wayne St.

DAN'S BARBER SHOP
1307 Oxford

QUICK SERVICE
—TWO BARBERS—

HAIRCUTS—Any Style
For Men or Women

Smith College Offers Courses In Wide Range Of Vocations

Smith College is one of the largest women's colleges in the world; and it has the same high standard of admission, the same breadth in the curriculum, the same emphasis on literature, art, and music as the best colleges for men.

Smith's campus of 206 acres is in Northampton, Mass. The "college plan" type of dwellings, housing 60 to 70 students each, makes it possible for all students to live on campus.

The curriculum at Smith provides a broad general foundation in various fields of knowledge followed by a more intensive study of the major subject.

Smith has a school for social work for training in psychiatric social work. The Smith College Day School and the Elizabeth Morrow Morgan Nursery School provide the students in education the opportunity for observation and practice teaching.

IN ADDITION, SMITH initiated the plan of the Junior Years Abroad for students who plan to major either in languages, economics, government, history, or sociology. The Special Honors program is another incentive to higher scholastic achievement.

Smith College has developed an expanded administrative system which provides a separate dean for each college class. It also has a Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

Application for admission to the freshman class must be made not later than January 15 of the year of entrance. The application must also include a registration fee of $15.

The record of each applicant is evaluated on the evidence of the particular qualities of mind and purpose which an education in the liberal arts demands. The personal qualifications of the applicant must also give assurances of responsibility towards one's community.

The Board of Admissions meets in March and bases its estimate of the applicant's ability, intellectual development, and maturity on her high school record and her rank in her class.

A PERSONAL INTERVIEW is not required, although helpful; but the Director of Admissions welcomes correspondence with the candidate, her parents, and school advisers. A recommendation by the principal and a teacher and the results of College Board examinations must be sent along with the application.

In planning her preparation for entrance to Smith, a candidate must have four credits in English, three to five credits in foreign language, four in mathematics and science, two in history, and the remainder in electives.

Smith further requires the Scholastic Aptitude Test and a total of three Achievement Tests, English and two others chosen from language, social studies, and mathematics or science.

STEPHENSON
DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone II-1297

COLONIAL
Restaurant
E-2000

Maloley Brothers
Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818
CALHOUN
ST.

818
CALHOUN
ST.

PICTURES of COUPLES
WILL BE TAKEN AT THE SENIOR PROM

All Pictures Will Be Taken in DIRECT COLOR

PRICES:

1—3x5 (in folder) .....$1.50 ea.
Billfold Size ..... 50c ea.

SPECIAL OFFER:

2—3x5 (in folders) ..... Only
2—Billfolds .....$3.50

Pictures Will Be Mailed Within 15 Days

WATTERS STUDIO
3121 S. Calhoun St. Fort Wayne, Ind.

And Pay Homage . . . Seniors Remember Good Times Before High School Graduation

By Sandy Thorn

Possibly the worst thing about graduating for some "South Siders" will be leaving the pleasant atmosphere of Miller's during the lunch period. For others, it will be leaving the cafeteria, leaving the morning-get-together in the gym, or leaving the joyous service period. Probably, each person will miss something a little bit different.

Maybe it will be hard to leave a favorite activity, to leave a favorite teacher, or just to leave the soon-to-be empty halls. Regardless of what it is that will be missed, each graduate will miss something — even though some might not admit it. It is very difficult to leave a building that has been a part of a person for four years and for some four and a half years.

Of course, we are leaving more than the building. We are leaving its inhabitants, our classmates, our teachers, our friends, and four years of our lives which will never be repeated. However, we are not leaving everything behind. Our acquaintances are not behind us, they will continue. While miles may separate us, the good times we have had together cannot be destroyed.

And, in reality, we are leaving a part of us behind. For each person has added his character to the high school. Each person will be remembered in one way or another. Maybe it was the suggestion for an assembly, or a speech in speech class, a comment in class, or a small story for the newspaper. Whatever it was, it was a contribution.

WE ARE TAKING with us the knowledge we have acquired within these walls. Also, we have the fond memories of the wonderful times and the not-so-good memories of the bad times. For in each student's life, there were good and bad times. For some, there were more good times and for others there were more bad times. Regardless of which outweighed the other, the majority feel honored that they attended South Side High School.

Now, almost ready to approach the walk down the aisle to receive the coveted diploma, it is hard to think back and remember even a small percentage of the things which have happened. For each day brought something new—a new laugh, maybe a tear, but in the end—more knowledge. Maybe the most cherished memory is something which didn't have a thing to do with school, maybe it's something very ridiculous and trivial, or maybe it's something very wonderful.

Reminiscing is easy, but it isn't so easy to think of the favorite memory, the one thing which stands out as the most cherished memory. For example, was it being named an officer or serving as the officer which was the most cherished moment? Was it setting the new athletic record or winning the much-admired letter jacket? These questions dance through the mind as graduation time nears—the hours can be counted.

Sandy Thorn

JUST TO RECALL some of the events which were part of the lives of many graduating seniors takes some thought and there could be endless additions. Post-graduates had the honor of entering the school in 1958 and what shortly followed . . . the Indiana High School Basketball Championships—the South Side Archers. Remember the joyous celebrations which followed?

And who but the post-grads attended five senior plays during their four years of high school, got five Totems, and attended the Junior Prom when they were seniors? All of these experiences caused laughs, particularly after we got over the insult.

To give a brief run-down of the senior plays, one must return to 1958. The roll call includes "Time Out for Ginger," "Man Who Came to Dinner," "You Can't Take It With You," "Night of January 16," and naturally the greatest production, "A Murder Has Been Arranged." The first four were directed by Mr. James Morey and the last one was headed by Mr. Robert Storey.

Undoubtedly, not another Spring Show will live up to the "Gay Nineties" presented in 1959. Remember some of those fabulous numbers: "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," "By the Beautiful Sea," and "After the Ball." After the ball most of us were in hysterics because of the pennies pitched while we were gayly playing leapfrog on the gym floor.

THE CLASS THEN journeyed to France for the Sophomore Party, "Parisian Promenade." During the eventful junior year was the junior prom and the banquet, "South's World Summit." Remember the great portrayal of Khrushchev by our own Mark Hagerman?

School was only dismissed for accounted holidays and the regular vacations. Although the actual circumstances are a little vague, remember the morning we got out when the plumbing failed? We also got out for fire drills, an occasional civil defense drill, and who will ever forget the infamous bomb scares? Yes, even the bomb scares took their toll. Speaking of times we were dismissed, we did get out long enough to wave at the then Vice-President Richard Nixon as he traveled down Calhoun Street.

We were here in 1959 when the new addition was dedicated. We could then use the girls' gym, the new shop rooms, the athletic rooms, and the cafeteria. And after battling for numerous years, we were fortunate enough to be here when they erected a traffic light at Calhoun and Oakdale. We proudly planted rose bushes by the new addition.

We waited anxiously for each issue of the South Side Times, the greatest high school newspaper in the world. We frantically searched to see if our names made the classroom news page (as freshmen and sophomores). Then, as juniors and seniors, knowing that it wouldn't be there, we began reading the masthead of the Times. We also looked forward to each year's Totem, browsed its memory-filled pages, and signed our "tributes" in each other's book.

THEN THERE WAS the senior year, the Senior Reception, and all of the fun of banquets and senior activities. There was the tension for some as National Honor Society tag day came and relief as it went. There was the fun of being tagged, tagging someone else, and seeing others tagged. There was the pleasure in attending the National Honor Society Banquet with a favorite teacher.

And, for even a smaller group, there was the joy in being named to Quill and Scroll, a wonderful climax to four years of work in publications. There were the laughs at the Quill and Scroll banquet as the "Jimmy" awards were presented. For those engaged in publications, there were the conventions at Ball State Teachers College, Valparaiso University, and Franklin College.

Speech students enjoyed themselves at the various speech contests throughout the state. Each student was able to develop his outside interests by attending club meetings. There were the countless opportunities for boys in sports, both in intramurals and interscholastic events.

FOR THOSE WHO plan to attend college, there was the excitement of filling out applications and the tension while waiting for news of acceptance. Then there was the joy when the letter of acceptance came.

All of these things were a small part of the excitement of high school. Four years is a long time—four years which we will never see again, except through dreams and memories. And thinking back, we are taking much more than we are leaving. In conclusion: "May we always well remember all thy gifts to us so free, and pay homage to thy memory, Hail South Side High School to thee."

Hospital Volunteers Deliver Mail, Work At Information Desk

Parkview and Lutheran Hospitals train girls as Junior Volunteers during the summer months. To be a Junior Volunteer at the Lutheran Hospital, a girl must be 15 years old and a high school student. She must have mature qualities, be above average in school work, want sincerely to be a Junior Volunteer, and must be able to be of service to the hospital at the information desk as a receptionist, in the gift shop, in the playground of pediatrics, in the medical records department, or in the business offices.

Other things which Junior Volunteers do are deliver mail and flowers to the patients, escort patients to the lobby or take them around the hospital in a wheel chair. Light typing, filing and work in the cashier's office are only some of the many duties the Junior Volunteers may perform.

THE GIRLS WEAR pink pinafores and tailored white blouses, low heeled shoes, and a Junior Volunteer name buttons. Girls must buy their own uniforms but the buttons are furnished by the hospital.

To become a Junior Volunteer, a girl must get an application from the personnel department at Lutheran Hospital, have it signed by a high school teacher for a reference, write the reason why the girl wishes to become a Junior Volunteer, and tell the hours and days available.

Each girl who applies is given a personal interview by Mrs. Wilpening, the head of the Junior Volunteers, which lasts approximately thirty minutes.

"For a girl who has never had any hospital experience such as being a patient or a visitor, Junior Volunteers help to show the girls something of nurses in action," stated Mrs. Wilpening. She also said that there is always room for a sincere and interested girl on the staff of Junior Volunteers.

AT PARKVIEW Memorial Hospital, the volunteers are called nursesets. They must be 14 years old and graduated from the eighth grade. A girl must have a B-average, good ratings from teachers and friends, good health and personal appearance, good school attendance and be responsible and co-operative.

There are now 150 (14 South Siders), nursesets at Parkview who do clerical work in the business office, medical records department and laboratory. The girls also deliver and package supplies for the pharmacy, label tubes in the laboratory, fold towels and doctors uniforms, transport patients to the X-ray room by wheelchair.

Fill water pitchers, scrub bathinets, feed some of the patients, help in pediatrics, run errands for the information desk and the nursing station, deliver flowers and mail, and help in the gift shop. In the long term hospital, the girls mostly help to take the patients back and forth from their meals.

THE UNIFORM FOR the girls is a red and white striped pinafore with a white blouse, and low heels, which the girls must buy themselves but can be acquired at Parkview Hospital. Working at the hospital now are girls from every high school and junior high school plus many girls from surrounding towns, cities and townships.

Miss Julia Bowen, head of the nurseset program at Parkview Hospital, stated that girls who work at any hospital get the feel of hospital work and find out that nursing is now as glamorous a profession as it sometimes is told to be.

"We would rather have the girls find out early whether or not they like nursing. It would be terrible for a girl to go all the way through nurses training and then find out she didn't want to be a nurse. Besides wasting many years, the girl would probably hold up some girl who is really sincere about nursing," said Miss Bowen.

Junior Sylvia Hileman Makes Corsages, Wedding Bouquets

Spring not only brings proms, but it also brings Junior Sylvia Hileman, florist, more work due to the number of corsages ordered during this time.

Sylvia, having started work in a florist shop two years ago, has found a job which she enjoys. Her creative-ness made her first year of work without pay a pleasure, and she still enjoys making floral arrangements and corsages.

Sylvia Hileman

During her training period, Sylvia obtained a basic style. Gradually, she added new ideas to the style and is still experimenting in arrangements.

SHE ESPECIALLY likes making bouquets for weddings. Pearls, prayer books, and flowers are brought into the floral shop to be arranged in bouquets. Also, Sylvia goes to the wedding to help the bride.

During the school year, she works on Saturday and Sunday; and in the summer she works full-time.

Sylvia stated, "I like my work because I have a genuine interest in flowers. I like working with art in the form of floral arrangements, in stead of paper and pencil. I also have met people through work in the shops and at weddings." She recommends floral work only if a person has interest and talent.

SYLVIA IS ACTIVE in Philo, Red Cross, Safety Council, her church group, and Junior Achievement.

She was vice-president of her J.A. company, Dew-Mores; and for her work, she received a trip to the Junior Achievement convention in St. Louis last winter for four days.

Sylvia plans to work this summer and to swim, bowl, and play tennis. After graduation, Sylvia would like to attend Taylor University and work part-time in a floral shop.

Stephens College Offers Two Years Of Cultural Inquiry

Stephens College is a two-year college which has as its goal preparing women for living in the changing world of the twentieth century. Stephens does this by directing its entire program toward the growth and development of each student as an individual and as a responsible member of society.

Stephens is located in Columbia, Mo., 120 miles from St. Louis and Kansas City. Columbia is the educational center of Missouri, for two women's colleges as well as the University of Missouri are located in the city. The emphasis on education attracts many cultural events as well as individuals of notable reputation.

Yearly, 1,700 students enjoy Stephens 250 acre property. The 60 acre campus includes fourteen residence halls, classroom buildings, libraries, an assembly hall, playhouse, health center, fashion center, student center, art center, greenhouse, four tenrooms, post office, student store and bank, and administration and counseling offices. An 11 acre lake, riding stables, sports fields, and a golf course make up the 190 acre recreation area.

Culturally, Stephens exceeds many other colleges in the country. During the course of the year, plays, recitals, operas, symphonies, and ballets are given at Stephens. As a part of the extra-curricular life of the campus these events are also attended by students, faculty members from nearby schools as well as the towns people of Columbia.

An Associate in Arts degree is given with the successful completion of two years of studies in art, aviation, business education, child study, home economics, interior design, journalism, physical education, retailing, science, teaching, television, radio, or films.

The individual approach is effective at Stephens in part because of the comprehensive guidance and counseling program. Every faculty member is responsible for guiding and counseling approximately twelve students. Letters to the parents are also sent by the counselors telling of the student's chosen program, progress, grades, and attitude.

A fee of $2,450 includes tuition, room, and all other required fees. This fee may be paid by monthly installment payments which may be arranged through the tuition plan.

The modern era of the college began in 1911 when it was recognized with its attention focused on the education of women in the first two years of college. Since then, Stephens' main purpose of the stimulation and guidance of learning has made it one of the outstanding women's colleges in the Mid-West.

Pupils To Obtain Pegasus In Homerooms Thursday

Composed of original works written by South Side students, the 1962 spring edition of the Pegasus will be distributed to the subscribers on Thursday during homeroom period. The Pegasus campaign closed May 11 with homeroom agents selling 1000 subscriptions.

The magazine is edited by Roberta Twitchell and Tamara Vyhovsky, editor-in-chief and an associate editor, respectively. The other members of the staff are Barbara Uhl and Jani Brenn, editorial staff; Barbara Nelson and Beth Burnett, copy staff; Bob Englehart, art editor; Ken Lovdenn and Steve Jones, photographers; and Sonya Flagg and Marcia Kuhn, typists.

The circulation campaign was managed by Lane Grile, circulation manager, who was assisted by Sandy Farmer, Ann Henderson, Celeste Riemann, Nancy Redding, Ann McCallister, Leanna Morris, Sharyn Yarger, and Sue Harrod.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

Join The Crowd At Azar's

... for eatin' treats that can't be beat! Come as you are and eat in your car or order by phone and take 'em home.

Azar's BIG BOY

2440 W. Washington
Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun
Calhoun at Berry

ENROLL JUNE 11, 12 for SUMMER SESSION CLASSES BEGIN JUNE 13

Begin your college work now. If you have been admitted to I.U., no need to wait until fall. Many courses for beginning college freshmen. Full-time students may carry from 6 to 9 credit hours during the summer session which ends August 10. Two full years of college may be completed at the Fort Wayne Center.

Deadline for Applications for Fall Attendance, July 15

Write or Phone for Bulletin

Fort Wayne Center
1120 S. Barr St.
Phone A-7452

INDIANA University

Marcelle Flandrois Enjoys Life In Paris, Morocco, Montreal

Marcelle Flandrois, freshman A, has lived in Morocco, Africa, for eleven years; Paris, France, for two years; and Quebec and Montreal, Canada, for three years.

This new Archer came to the United States and Fort Wayne about two years ago. She has visited Spain and some of the United States.

During vacation while living in Canada, Marcelle came to the United States, not only for a vacation, but also to improve her English. She has visited New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana.

MARCELLE COMMENTED on life in the various countries in which she has lived. "I love every place that I have lived in. There's so much to remember about each one. In Paris where I lived for some time, I saw all the wonders and beauty of the city."

"Our family traveled by car. I think Casablanca my birthplace is my favorite. The city is beautiful. It is so hard to try to describe these cities. When we lived in Quebec, we had a difficult time because all the people spoke old French."

"I also liked Spain very much when we visited it. I liked the people there the most. They were very helpful and also very religious," she concluded.

MARCELLE BELIEVES that the most difficult thing for her to adjust to in the United States is the different way of life and making friends.

Marcelle stated, "There are many differences between the countries we have lived in and the United States. Teenagers are so much different. They have much more freedom."

"Also, the people of America have life so much easier than in other parts of the world. Here, most families have televisions. In other countries, it is harder to get a TV and other conveniences."

Marcelle feels that the schools in the United States are easier. In previous schools, there was more homework, more things to learn, longer days, and the subjects were harder.

MARCELLE HAS souvenirs from these countries; pictures, post cards, and statues. She corresponds with a girl in Canada and a boy who was a neighbor of theirs in France.

She likes the United States very much. "Fort Wayne seems very small compared to the larger cities we have lived in. However, I like it here because the people are so nice," said Marcelle.

"We have found peace in the United States."

Marcelle Flandrois

States. There is work, good schools, and we can live in safety and freedom," she remarked.

Marcelle plans to travel after graduation. She enjoys water skiing, swimming, ice skating, and dancing.

Boy Scout Council To Present Circus For Area Saturday

The third annual Scout Circus of the Anthony Wayne Area Council of Boy Scouts of America will be presented Saturday in the Memorial Coliseum at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. The five thousand Scouts from the surrounding counties, including Allen, will present a program that will include 10 major events and many supplementary acts.

The grand entry, with all Cub Packs, Scout Troops, and Explorer Troops participating, will be the first number on the program. Next the Cub Packs will display various "Cub Themes," which include such subjects as Indian lore and music. Twenty-one areas on the floor will feature different projects going on in this division.

AN OUTER space "launching" will be presented next by the Cub Pack of St. Mary's Catholic Church PTA, Huntington, Ind. Moon characters represented by Cub Scouts will also be in the scene.

Marksmanship, rope tying, and lashing will be a few of the skills displayed by the Scout Troops in the event called "Scouting Skills."

The Racine, Wisconsin, drum and bugle corps, which appeared at the National Scout Jamboree and other Scout shows, will be a highlight of the program. The bugle corps has appeared from coast to coast.

THE BOY SCOUT TROOPS will follow with demonstrations of physical fitness routines, among which will be push-ups, chin-ups, and rope-jumping. The Explorer Scouts will exhibit disaster preparations, which will show how Scouts can help in case of emergencies.

The last two events of the program will include Scout games and demonstrations of camping and cooking techniques and pioneering equipment.

Job's Daughters Change Last Meeting To May 31

Job's Daughters have changed their June 3 meeting to May 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. This is to be the last meeting of the school year. Initiation of new members will highlight the meeting.

The new fall officers of the Job's Daughters have been elected. They are Honored Queen-elect Ellen Stanbery, junior; Senior Princess Carol Botteron, North Side; Junior Princess Sharon Erler, North Side; Guide Pat Jet, Elmhurst; and Marshal Laura Foulks, Elmhurst.

Saturday, the Job's Daughters are sponsoring a car wash at the Rogers Market on North Anthony. The charge per car is $1.

Sweet Briar College Provides Liberal Arts Education, Study

Women who value learning and desire a sound four-year education in the liberal arts find their search for a suitable college satisfied on the spreading greens of Sweet Briar College in Virginia.

The rolling terrain of Sweet Briar originally belonged to the plantation of Elijah Fletcher, who left Vermont in 1810 to teach school in Amherst County.

Fletcher's estate was willed to his daughter upon his death; she, in turn, left the land and homestead to a board of trustees that they might establish a school for young women "to best fit them to be useful members of society." The old plantation setting is now a place conducive to reflection, self-discovery, and inspiration for education.

SWEET BRIAR students are guided to acquire a foundation in humanistic studies; to develop individual taste in music, literature, and art; and to achieve a reasoned approach to scientific disciplines.

Strong emphasis is placed upon high academic standards for Sweet Briar. It is founded on the principle that "there is no substitute for a keen disciplined search for knowledge." The college courses provide a framework for persons' growth toward intellectual excellence, social responsibility, and spiritual grace.

After four years of study at Sweet Briar, a student can earn a bachelor of arts degree. During the junior and senior years each student places concentration upon one major field of endeavor chosen with regard to her own interests, talents, and aims. This study may be in the field of art, biology, chemistry, economics, English;

French, Latin, history, government, modern languages, music, philosophy, psychology, physics, religion, sociology, Spanish, American history and literature, international affairs, drama, physical math, political economy, pre-medical sciences, or psychosociology.

THE UPPERCLASS programs include a seminar in which individual projects are carried out and evaluated. The Sweet Briar student completes her college years prepared to go directly into business, journalism, government, or teaching.

Residential facilities offer eight living halls and two dining halls. Most freshmen are given double rooms. Each new student becomes a member of the Student Government and receives the guidance of a "big sister." Sweet Briar has no sororities.

An extensive program of concerts, lectures, and cultural organizations extends the student's education. A modern fine arts center joins an auditorium and theater as a facet for extra-curricular activities. Student publications are put out by those interested in journalism; field trips are offered to museums, art galleries, industrial plants, social welfare institutions, government agencies, and historical places.

Religion at Sweet Briar is independent of church affiliation. Chapel services are conducted on Tuesdays and Fridays as well as on Sundays.

THREE THOUSAND acres of land compose the campus itself. The enrollment is presently 590. The faculty includes 68 members, and the comprehensive attendance fee is $2,700. Numerous scholarships are available.

An applicant to Sweet Briar should be able to present a strong academic record with a minimum of 16 units. She is required to have taken four years of English, four years of one or five years of two foreign languages.

Four Pupils Enter State YFC Contest

Four students will participate in the Youth for Christ State Talent Contest tomorrow at Berne, Indiana. This contest is for all area finalists in each of the five categories of instrumental solo and group, vocal solo and group, gospel pianists, boy's song leader, and boy preacher.

From South Side participants are Warren Burns, trombone solo; Sally Boyer, flute quartet; Sue Penland, vocal trio; and Roger Vorholzer, vocal group and boys' song leader.

The winners of the state contest enter the regional contest later in Peoria, Ill. The winners of the regional contest will go on to the international contest at Winona Lake, Ind.

Large selection of new and slightly used formal and wedding gowns to rent or sell. Call Julie Sarrazine for appointment—H-83582 one year of history, one year of laboratory science, and additional elective units in any of these subjects, art, music, or the Bible.

Results of three achievement tests must accompany the application. An early decision plan is available to Sweet Briar. Prospective students are invited to visit the beautiful campus and speak with a member of the Admission Office staff. Advance request may arrange for a Friday night visit to a dorm.

Senior Jenny Slater Earns GAA Trophy For Athletic Talents

High-point senior for GAA this year is Jennifer Slater with 2395 points. Other seniors who have won their letters are Flora Reynolds with 1,682 points and Jan Spuller with 1,658 points. The awards were announced at the GAA meeting in the girls' gym on Monday.

Jenny has participated in GAA for four years and has performed as a majorette. She earned her points in GAA through basketball, volleyball, track events, swimming, hiking, ice skating, and bowling. This summer she will be a life guard at Lawton Park.

The clubs that Jenny is active in are majorettes; GAA; Service Club, servicing for physical education instructors; Mrs. Alice Keegan and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong; Assemblies Workshop; and Junior Red Cross.

She is on the Business course. Her subjects are commercial geography, typing, sociology, merchandising, and speech. In the fall of this year, Jenny plans to attend Ravens-Croft Beauty College.

JUNIORS WHO HAVE won their gold pins are Pat Abbott with 2337 points, Dottie Kessler with 2216 points, and Toni Sorensen with 2236 points. Juniors who have won their letters are Elaine Edwards with 1682 points, Marsha Good with 1503 points, Loretta Kimmel with 1521 points, Mary Marker with 1579 points, and Virginia Rose with 1,678 points.

Sophomores with their numerals are Judy Preston with 450 points, Mary Ann Waldrop with 668 points, Nan Wallace with 479 points, and Judy Zimmers with 540 points. Sophomores who have their letters are Joleen Crumrine with 1,550 points, Jackie Kessler with 1,689 points, and Beth Randall with 1,534 points.

Freshmen with their numerals are Janice Bates with 714 points, Joyce Bates with 624 points, Phyllis Bixby with 416 points, Lydia Budowsky with 500 points, Carol Channell with 325 points, Beverly Daugherty with 328 points, Lynette Downing with 585 points, Pamela Enslay with 615 points, Marcelle Flandrois with 491 points, Leslie Froebe with 496 points, Alice Fruechtenicht with 572 points;

SUZETTE GLASS with 369 points, Joellen Good with 504 points, Laura Graham with 620 points, Candy Greiner with 325 points, Linda Grimme with 618 points, Valentina Harabosky with 575 points, Sally Henderson with 517 points, Doris Hesser with 652 points, Kathy Hughes with 449 points, Suzi Knox with 516 points, Cheryl Krudop with 325 points, Sharon Le Fever with 629 points, Sharon Lynch with 400 points; Nancy Markin with 408 points, Julie Merchant with 558 points, Janet Miller with 625 points, Martha Moore with 510 points, Darlene Neirester with 550 points, Diana Nordbloom with 417 points, Janis Pfueger with 610 points, Diane Porter with 350 points, Bonnie Post with 454 points, Judy Putman with 616 points;

Nita Quinn with 425 points, Lynn Raby with 491 points, Sandy Read with 368 points, Jo Reichert with 575 points, Sue Reichert with 436 points, Mary Ann Stultz with 659 points, and Kathy Wyss with 383 points.

Davis Beauty Salon
Tom and Marilyn Davis
Carmen Silvius
Styling • Permanent
Waving
This week's Small Snaps is Beth Burnett.
4039 S. Wayne K-9824

Wells College Aims Toward Developing Individual Students

To develop the individual student has been the aim of Wells College for women since its founding in 1868. Wells, located in a rural neighborhood of Ithaca, New York, is a school of liberal arts with about 400 students.

The college purposely keeps its enrollment small in order to create a friendly and co-operative spirit among the students, and to allow the faculty to deal with each student. The ratio of students to faculty is eight to one.

The student at Wells is concerned with developing her interests in all subjects. Therefore, the usual course in the first two years is based on English, language, social studies, and sciences.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR years are devoted to courses that the student wishes to study further. Classes are small, and many are conducted in the seminar method. This includes discussions on students' papers and reports. Able students may carry on independent study which receives full academic credit. The Bachelor of Arts degree and Master of Arts degree are offered upon graduation.

Wells College has a 300-acre campus overlooking Cayuga Lake. Buildings consist of a main building, dining hall, student union, library, Mason Hall for music and arts, science hall, auditoriums, art studio, outdoor amphitheater, gym, and six dormitories.

Wells offers its students opportunities to develop their interests through clubs and organizations. The Phoenix Literary Society is an organization for English and Kastalgic for drama.

There is also a science club, French circle, current events forum, German club, social science group, dance group, debate club, outing club, Spanish group, swimming club, vocal group, fine arts club, sailing club, and philosophy club.

ADMISSION IS BASED on secondary school records, entrance exams, intelligence tests, recommendations, and evidence of good health and character.

Courses recommended for entrance are four years of English, three years of a classical language, two years of a modern foreign language, three years of math, one year of history, one year of laboratory science, and two other one-year courses in these subjects.

Wells offers scholarships to assist students who could not otherwise meet the full expense. Character, citizenship, and academic standing are considered in all awards.

Youth For Christ Quartet To Lead Meeting Friday

The Youth for Christ Staff Quartet will be in charge of the meeting of YFC tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

Mr. Paul Robbins, director; Mr. Wes Christian, associate director; Mr. Harold Hatcher, program director; and Mr. Steve Sprunger, staff member compose the Youth for Christ Staff of the Fort Wayne area. The quartet will present several songs after which Mr. Hatcher will play a piano solo.

"Gospel Challenge" is the message that will be given by Mr. Robbins. "This is the last meeting of the year except for our picnic; so I hope all members will attend," stated Roger Vorholzer, president.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun St.
H-8916 K-4909

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

DRINK PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

Bob Wasson, Senior, Enjoys Working For Wesley Players

Bob Wasson, senior B, is a member of the Wesley Players, a group which presents plays in the city. Bob has been practicing for two years, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Keller.

The Wesley Players have given presentations at Trinity Methodist Church and various other places in this locality. They also have traveled in self-expression and also teaches them how to get along with others."

Bob's academic schedule consists of English, speech, trigonometry, and choir. His other activities include choir, Assemblies Workshop, and H. Y. In sports he enjoys golf, swimming, and skiing.

Two Kelly Students Place Sixth, Eighth On Chemistry Test

Seniors Bill Mueller and Lyall Morrill placed sixth and eighth, respectively, in a chemistry test given by the American Chemical Society to students in 33 high schools in North-eastern Indiana.

A preliminary test was given by the Society at South Side on March 30 to approximately thirty-five South Side students. From these the five finalists were chosen to represent South Side in competing against the finalists from the other schools.

ON MAY 18, THE society sponsored a banquet at Cutter's Chalet honoring the top ten winners in the second test. These finalists will receive a certificate.

Bill Mueller is valedictorian of this year's senior class. During his senior year he also served as president of the Student Music Guild of Morning Musicals and received a gold cup for competing in the Junior Festival of Indiana Federation of Music Clubs.

Bill is a member of the Four-Year Honor Roll and National Honor Society. He was a member of last year's and this year's Hi-Quiz Team and served as Junior Rotarian.

LYALL MORRILL WAS the finalist in the National Council of Teachers of English in Achievement Awards Program. He was a semi-finalist in the General Motors National Scholarship Program and a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Lyall served as president of the Junior Academy of Science for this semester and is a member of the Latin Club, Math Club, Physics Club, and Chemistry Club.

3717 S. Clinton St.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2350 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Black is the color

Lightweight for Graduation and all summer long . . . our Madisonaire black 3-button natural shoulder model in Dacron polyester and wool. Sizes 36 to 42 for regulars and longs. Also olive or navy. 49.95

W&D Squire Shop, Men's Store

Grades Issued June 1

The fourth and final grade period will end Wednesday, June 6. Grade cards will be issued to underclassmen the same day. There will be only a half day of school with all of the classes being shortened. Seniors are not required to attend school after receiving their grades on Senior Recognition Day, June 1.

FRUIT JUICES
Regular Delivery
Punches for all Special Occasions
Punch Bowls, Ladies, and Cups
HOME JUICE CO.
1816 Reidmiller Road E-6483

Cole Realty Co.

OFFICE H-4107, H-4108

"Always Deal With a Realtor"
Service With You in Mind!

Multiple Listing Member of Trade-In Corp.
Romane Cole Res. H-2752

FREE! ALL TRANSISTOR Pocket Portable Radios

EVERY WEEK...

AT Gardner's DRIVE-INS

Lucky you! Register free at Gardner's every time you eat there. Beat the odds...register often!

MEET AND EAT AT GARDNER'S AND

TWO NEAT DRIVE-INS

Gardner's... DOWNTOWN

Gardner's... by the COLISEUM

...for the original... the best

...the one and only

GARDNER HAMBURGER

WIN THIS RADIO!

This sharp kit is complete with case, batteries and earphone! G.E.'s newest, neatest "hearing aid" for highbrows, hipsters and cool cats. Drench yourself in music and merriment wherever you go... but GO GARDNER!

Archers Score High As Final Weeks, Finals Draw Near

Richard Gilreath made the highest score on a recent test over contracts in Miss Ayer's period 2 business law class.

Jerry Lagomann, Celeste Riemen, and Tom Watson received 90 or above on a test over evolution taken in Mr. Weber's period 7 Botany 2 class.

Those who obtained excellent grades on a recent spelling test in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 2 class are Lutha Belcher, Martha Cain, Paul Cuel, Lupe Gomez, Willard McNutt, and James Ostermeyer.

The students who have excelled in their diligent pursuit of the Romantic Age and Romanticism in Mr. Cowdrey's English 6 period 1 class include the following: Linda Gernand, Karen Miller, Nancy Robinson, and Dave Rodenbeck.

Receiving high scores on a test over electricity in Mr. White's General Science 2 period 2 class are John Esslinger, Bryon Fromm, and Dick Ahlsmeyer.

Students in Mrs. Flecks' Art 2 period 7 class are working on toothpick sculptures.

Those who made high grades on a recent spelling test in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 7 class are Marcelle Flandrois, Cheryl Krudop, Sharon LeFever, Jerry Machammer, Martha Moore, Judy Putnam, Bonnie Post, Pat Wilson, and Deborah Zollinger.

Mike Dunn, Clark Roberts, Gary Roby, and Mike Rogan are preparing to give reports for background material on "The Spy" in the near future in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 6 class.

Scoring high on a chapter test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 4 period 1 class are Sue Bumgardner and Jan Robson.

Karen Shavley, Jean Ann McGinley, and Mike Weinraub made the highest grades on an essay test concerning the years between 1900 and 1920 given in Miss Crowe's U.S. History 2 period 3 class.

Each student in Miss Perkins' French 6 period 6 class has prepared an oral composition in French describing a concert that they have attended.

Receiving high scores on a vocabulary test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 4 period 4 class are Carol Rocke and Ted Rolf.

Scoring the highest grade on a chapter test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 4 period 4 class is Barbara Spiers.

Jim Bailey, Jim Evans, Janet Gerig, and Don Slane scored high on a Latin 2 vocabulary test given in Mrs. Welty's period 3 class.

Making excellent grades on a recent spelling test in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 2 period 1 class are Roger Allmandinger, Vicki Culp, Anna Decker, Harold Disler, Suzanne Gemmill, Cynthia Johns, Carolyn Mielke, Janet Miller, Tom Rogers, Mike Ropa, Laurel Skinner, Carol Smith, Barbara Vorndran, and Paul Yarman.

The students who are preparing to give reports for background material on "The Spy" in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 3 class in the near future include: Dorothy Dildine, Pat Drake, Claudia Hershberger, and Steve Myers.

Receiving high scores on a vocabulary test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 1 period 1 class are Sue Bumgardner, John Littlejohn, and Linda Newell.

Marla Habecker prepared an excellent research report on the Bolsheviks in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 3 class. Steve Shambaugh, another member of this class, wrote an informative paper on the economic and social events in the U.S. between 1925 and 1929.

The girls in Mrs. Keegan's dance classes have completed their teaching of folk dances.

The students in Mr. Motz's gym classes are organizing into softball teams and practicing track events.

Lois Lerch compiled a report on the effects of the use of marijuana for Mr. Arnold's period 6 sociology class.

Mr. Jackson's U.S. History classes are studying unit 7 in the book which includes Theodore Roosevelt, the "New Freedom", the "Square Deal", and "World War I."

Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 students are studying quadratic equations and factoring.

Mickie Tieman, Dawn Truex, Jim Trulock, Denny Truitt, Jim Welty, and Bill Whitner received 90 percent or above on a test over evolution taken in Mr. Weber's period 6 Botany 2 class.

Those who received the highest grades on a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 2 period 1 class are Lydia Henderson and Gary Gerhold.

Earning the highest score on a recent test is Jeff Freeman in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class.

Tom Liby, Bob Symonds, and Linda Chaney received 100 percent on their weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 2 period 2 class.

The students who made the highest scores on a recent test over Congress in Mr. Berg's period 4 government class are Katie Mishler, Sarah Dickey, Darlene McClure, Pam Punskey, Nancy Miles, Tom Marshall, Joan Lambert, and Joyce Pollitt.

On a quiz over chapter 8 in the text book in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 period 1 class, Linda Grimme scored 100; Kathy Hughes, 100; Darlene Richard, 100; Steve Griebel, 97; Pat Heiber, 97; Stan Beer, 96; and Cheryl Trulock, 93.

Craig Miller and Barbara Buckles received high grades in Mr. Peirce's period 6 sociology class for a test covering the chapter "Mental Health."

The boys in Mr. Scott's gym groups are playing softball on diamonds set up in southeast and northwest corners of the stadium. During inclement weather they play on the diamond in the gym.

Ann Petrie made the highest grades on a test over the epic and drama in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class. Other high grades were made by David Allen, Barb Smith, and Tamara Vyhovsky.

Students who scored high grades on Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 2 quiz over chapter 8 in the text book are Lydia Budowski, Rosemary Reidenbach, Richard Robbins, Dan Belschner, Val Budowski, and Sally Henderson.

Sue Harrod, Dayna Harader, and Jeannie Simpson received the highest scores on hour-long drama reports given in Mr. Coats' English 8 period 3 class.

Mary Fremion, Kaye Gall, Marla Habecker, Karen Ponder, Nancy Sprunger, Sally Sweet, and Tom Wooding have high averages on quizzes covering usage in writing in Mr. Knigge's English 6 period 3 class.

June Dominy received the highest score in Mr. Morey's English 6 period 1 class on a test over subordinate clauses.

Those who received the highest grades on a test about mammalian orders in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 2 class are Carol Channell, Mark Lowens, and Cherylene Nahrwald.

The girls in Mr. Walker's Typing 4 period 3 class are being taught how to operate different kinds of calculators. Some of them are working on the electric typewriters and the dictaphones.

Anita Forber, Larry Lee, and Dave Meek scored the top grades on a test in Mr. Wilson's Government 2 class.

Receiving the highest grades on a test about mammalian orders in Mr. Pipino's Biology 2 period 3 class are Richard Astrom, Ron Everson, Mary Sherlock, and Tim Easton.

Scoring 90 and above on a test over cones and pyramids in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 3 period 6 class are Steve Campbell, Dave Fleming, Sharon Graffis, Steve Leitz, Sheldon Shera, Mike Schoen, and Mike Zerminski.

Philip Baker and Dick Wiebke earned 100 percent in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 1 class on a test covering proportions.

Those who obtained the highest grades in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 3 class are Suzanne Link, Vic Churchward, and Anita Kimball.

Receiving the highest grades on a unit test in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 1 class are Greg Arnold, John Wehrenberg, Steve Smethers, and Susan Karns.

Kaylene Gebert, Barbara Spiers, and Barbara Uhl received the highest scores on hour-long drama reports in Mr. Coats' period 7 English 8 class.

Making the highest scores on a unit test in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 4 class are Steve Miller, Don Grider, and Ted Graham.

Tom Furnish, Brenda Keener, and Pat Miller garnered excellent scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 6 class on a review spelling test.

Mr. Collyer's General History 2 classes are beginning their study of unit 8, "World Conflicts Threaten To Destroy Civilization."

Those who made the highest scores on a recent daily quiz in Mr. Smith's United States History 2 period 2 class are Janet Delhi, Lex Smuts, Charles Moore, John Knight, and Sylvia Hileman.

Those receiving above 90 on a laboratory report dealing with flowers in Mr. Weber's period 5 Botany 2 class are Ross Clark, Liana Elmore, Mary Fremion, Marla Habecker, Judy Merrill, Ann Shilling, Bonnie Strehlow, and Julia Wadlington.

Earning an excellent score on the big mid-semester examination in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class is Denise Jones.

Nancy Byers and David Knepple maintain the top averages in Mr. Arnold's period 4 sociology class.

Jerris Adams, Jim Eiler, and Paul Kayser scored high on a recent test in Mrs. Ashe's General Business 1 period 2 class.

Obtaining the highest scores in Mrs. Luse's period 4 trigonometry class are Beth Burnett, Dave Flanagan, Bob Lohman, and Dave Meek.

Doug Hanson received an A on a weekly test given in Mr. Collyer's period 3 general history class.

Those receiving high scores on a map of Asia made in Mr. Collyer's General History 2 period 4 are Sharon McEachern, Cheryl Beard, Ken Hill, Linda Lowery, and Mary Jane Rice.

Having a test in Mr. Furst's Bookkeeping 3 period 6 class, the following students received 100 percent: Oma Ake, Linda Chaney, Sandra Heidbrink, Thomas Liby, Vicki Miller, and Carol Marlamen.

Billy Burgo, B. D. Hartley, Lynelle Hill, Steve Russ, and Margaret Shirley earned the highest scores in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 7 class on a test covering definitions on the circle.

The following students earned the highest scores in Mr. Morey's English 4 period 4 class on a test covering prepositional phrases: Joan Van-Osdale, Rick Brown, Pat Miller, and Ray Tinkel.

Nancy Byers is maintaining the highest average in Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 4 class.

Scoring the highest grades in Mr. Smith's General History 2 period 4 class over a recent test are Karen Ashe, Monica Brantzch, Doug Tricer, and Linda Price.

George Barfell, Bill Hanke, Cheryl LeClerc, John Leonard, and Steve Petty earned the highest scores in Miss Pohlmeier's English 4 period 1 class on a test covering the literature book unit "The Outer Limit."

Kathy DeVore, Marcia Disler, and Diane Hall received the highest scores on a test over chapter 8 taken in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Mary Sherlock and Sandra Reed scored highest on a recent test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 2 period 4 class.

Dick Astrom, Bill Charleston, Bill Collins, and Bill Marsh made perfect scores on a test over habits in Mr. Yoder's Health 2 period 2 class.

Rick Bear and Paul Pratico earned superior scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 6 class on a test over imperialism in the Orient. Denise Jones made an excellent score on the same test.

Jackie Kulms, Katie Mishler, and Margee Terry received the highest scores on a test over chapter 8 taken in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

The students who earned A's on a recent unit test in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 1 class include the following: Billie Burgo, Debby Decker, David Jackson, Robert Quick, and Ruth Russ.

Judy Curtis received the highest score on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Edith Crowe's group 2 period 7 health class.

Robert McKinley earned a superior grade in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 4 class on a test over imperialism in the Orient. Janice Robson made an excellent score on the same test.

Nancy Enz received the highest score on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Edith Crowe's group 2 period 6 health class.

Kaylene Bleich earned an excellent score in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 2 class on a test over imperialism in the Orient.

Stan Black, Gary Gerhold, and Patty North earned superior scores in Mr. Fell's General History 2 period 7 class on a test over imperialism in the Orient. Steve Simmons, Eric Knabe, and Sue Mowery received excellent grades on the same test.

Carolyn Burns received the highest score on a test over advertising in Mr. Kelly's period 1 marketing class.

Cheryl Brady, Janet Gerig, and Marcia Larson received the highest scores on a test over chapter 18 taken in Miss Edith Crowe's group 2 period 2 health class.

Scoring 90 or above in Mr. Sidell's period 2 plane geometry class are Pat Cameron, Charlie Golden, Barb Nelson, and Judy Rogers.

Making 90 or above on a test over cylinders and prisms in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 3 period 6 class are Steve Campbell, Dave Fleming, Sharon Graffis, and Sheldon Shera.

Seven boys in Mr. Polite's Drafting 4 period 6 class are working on production illustrations. Dave Anderson, Jim Burton, George Townsend, and Ross Clark are doing drawings of the piston and connecting rod. Robert Krugh is making a soap dispenser, and Fred Blothe and Clyde Harte are working on drawings of a steam valve.

Mrs. Keegan's gym classes are practicing softball techniques.

Larry Hinderer received a high grade on a recent test given in Mr. Polite's Drafting 4 period 6 class.

On an essay test covering epics in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 1 class Bill Mueller and Frank Lewis scored the highest grades.

Receiving high scores on a test over momentum in Mr. White's period 1 Physics 1 class are Mike Ewald, Nancy Beard, Wanda Ripple, and Bill Kinsey.

Scoring the highest on a test over nitrogen and sulfur in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 6 class is Bill Mueller.

Charles Brineman and Beverly Planigan scored high grades on a recent test covering imperialism in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 2 class.

Students in Mr. Rohrabach's journalism classes have been writing stories for the editorial feature, and news staffs of the Times. The students are also performing other menial duties such as folding Times, rolling Times for outside circulation, typing copy, and typing addresses for advertisers.

Those who received high grades on boardwork in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 2 period 1 class are Janet Kelley, Sue Klachn, Vicky Phillips, and Greg Rozelle.

Seniors, Enjoy Yourselves at Your Prom!

JIM KELLEY BUICK

1819 S. Calhoun
K-6211

ESHCOFF'S DOGHOUSE

No. 1—3811 S. Clinton
H-5151

KEEFER PRINTING CO.

714 W. Washington
A-1484

BEST WISHES FROM

Hagerman Construction Corp.
GENERAL CONTRACTORS

403 Strauss Bldg.
E-4511

THOMAS TAILORS & CLEANERS

611 Oxford
H-8582

TUXEDO RENTALS

She is as pretty as a picture, in her formal
for the prom

Earth Construction & Engineering, Inc.

3333 Engle Road
H-1101

"We Do Anything In Earth"

PRESCRIPTION SHOP

337 W. Berry
E-5424

PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO.

1207 N. Harrison
A-7175

SUPERIOR FUEL CO.

919 Wells
E-8141

CHALFANT-PERRY FUNERAL HOME

2423 Fairfield
H-2334

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

2426 S. Calhoun
K-2530

"Seniors, Look Prettier In Bea's Formals!"

PATRONIZE THESE ADVERTISERS

congratulations graduates

CURTIS FLOWERS

1109 E. State—A-2194
"For Unusual Corsages"

KLAEHN FUNERAL HOME

420 W. Wayne
A-0228

OXFORD COFFEE SHOP

1502 Oxford
K-3301

DALE'S DRIVE-IN

5825 Covington
K-8451

SOMERS BAKERY

220 E. Wallace
H-2261

CITY CARRIAGE WORKS

709 E. Washington
A-0155

PERFECTION VARNISH CO.

2833 James
H-3171

JIM KELLEY BUICK, Inc.

1819 S. Calhoun
K-6211

ROSS RADIO

236 West Main
A-2433

ALLEN COUNTY MOTORS

500 W. Main
E-0138

MAIN AUTO SPORT SHOP

214 W. Berry—A-2139
Congratulations to the Class of '62

FLORENTINE FLORAL SHOPPE

1906 Broadway
A-7487

ALLEN WOOD PRODUCTS

1013 Wells
E-2865

DOSWELL'S FLORAL CO., Inc.

301 West Main
A-1183

Broadview Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Rd.
S-3146

ABC COACH LINES

116 W. Rudisill
H-3212

PLAZA APOTHECARY

3610 Brooklyn
H-2351

D. J. BRANDENBERGER, Inc.

4839 S. Lafayette
H-2245

WESELOH'S PHARMACY

2302 S. Calhoun
H-6107

JET PARCEL DELIVERY

3505 Kirkfield
T-34200

